TOP TEAM IN GIRLS' softball displays top form that has brought them undefeated to this point of the current season in the Mountainside Little League. Mrs. Melvin C. Lutgens, manager, in unaccustomed skirts, gives a little extra coaching to shortstop, Joanne Hansen, at bat, LaVerne Nolan, star pitcher, who is all primed to throw one of her winning pitches, and Dale Robertson, catcher.

Primary Election Offers No Contest On Local Level

District 2 Presents Only Minor Conflict In Republican Ranks

A no-contest primary on the local level, the first one in several years for Mountainside's Republicans, comes up next Tuesday. With the exception of the second district, where Dr. Peter Butler is trying to unseat Hedley Weeks as GOP committeeman, all is quiet and uncontested in both the Republican and Democratic ranks.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., who is seeking re-election, is leading the GOP ticket unopposed. His running mates, B. Dean Spain, who was appointed last month to the Borough Council to replace Albert O. Daniels, who resigned, and Wilfred H. Brandt, have no party opposition in their bid for the GOP nomination for the two open seats on the Council.

Spain is currently finishing out Daniel's term which would have expired at the end of this year. William Ditzel, the other outgoing Council member, announced some time ago that he would not run again.

Both Spain and Brandt are newcomers to local politics and newcomers to the borough. Neither has ever sought an elective office in the borough and both moved into the community within the last four years.

Board To Take Master Plan Action Only At Public Meeting, Garrett Says

June 28 Session Is Possible Date, Chairman States

Planners First Study In Detail Transcript Of May 20 Hearing

Any action on Mountainside's proposed master plan will be taken only at a regularly scheduled public meeting, Robert Garrett, chairman of the Planning Board, stated Monday night. The board members must in detail study the transcript of last week's public hearing before any time schedule can be set up for moving towards approval, Garrett said.

The chairman indicated that there was a possibility the board may vote on the master plan at its regular monthly meeting on June 28. However, he emphasized that this will be the earliest date any action will be taken.

Garrett expressed disappointment that discussion at last week's hearing, a continuation of the first public hearing on April 14, was centered principally around the proposed rezoning of the Wilson tract and a landlocked area of approximately 10 acres between Summit Rd. and Central ave. from residential to preferred restricted commercial.

CREWEL EMBROIDERY, the handwork that has adorned the robes and the trappings of royalty through the centuries, is displayed by Mrs. John W. Campbell of Orchard rd., Mountainside. Mrs. Campbell, who is crewel consultant for the Metropolitan Museum of Art, is shown working on a colonial style bed hanging. Pictured also is a wing chair upholstered in crewel cloth which she designed and executed.

Exacting, Almost-Forgotten Art Mrs. Campbell Authority On Crewel

By RITA ZEISS

Mrs. John W. (Peg) Campbell of 1457 Orchard lane, Mountainside, is a consultant in crewel embroidery for the Metropolitan Art-Museum-in-New York City, the Old Gaol Museum in York, Me., the Heritage Museum in Deerfield, Mass., and several others.

Samples of her crewel work, in which she painstakingly and faithfully reproduced some of the famous patterns housed there, are prominently displayed in the Metropolitan Art Museum and the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, Mass.

She has received letters soliciting advice or instructions from every state in the union (with the exception of Hawaii) from Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and other distant spots. Her stock room in the cellar holds threads in approximately 900 different colors and shades. She has become the largest importer of crewel linens and threads in the country.

She is known all over this country and in several parts of Europe as an authority on crewel, yet she became interested in the exacting art only about eight years ago.

Why did she become interested in this form of needlework at that time? The answer is simple, she says. It started with monogramming.

The Campbells' three daughters wanted monogrammed blouses—so, always adept with a needle, she picked up the art quickly. Monograms led to other designs; fanciful flowers were worked on blouses; colorful birds and all manner of other patterns appeared on the girls' sweaters.

The work fascinated her. With characteristic thoroughness, she began a serious study of the form. Books on the art of crewel, many of them rare and out of print, were crowded into the ceiling-high shelves of the den on her first floor. She haunted the art museums, studying in minute detail the rich patterns on display there and in the storage drawers.

Her husband, editor of "Analog," one of the leading science-fiction magazines, and an accomplished photographer, aided her study by taking pictures in infinite detail. His extensive photographic equipment allowed him to zoom in and take close-ups so exact that in the pictures the fine wood thread looks like a heavy hemp rope. This detail helped her to follow with minute exactitude the complicated designs.

The photographs, she reports happily, also brought financial support to the museums, a project very close to her heart. She and her husband did the photography for a book on crewel work published by the Deerfield Heritage Museum. The photographs of work in Deerfield and other museums, enabled her to develop patterns of the treasured designs which are sold to crewel devotees around the country. The entire proceeds from all these projects go directly to the museums.

This phase of her work has a side benefit which she finds deeply satisfying. She had long been disturbed about the commercial production of repetitive patterns taken "out of context" from portions of museum pieces. She finds such patterns unartistic, offensive to her sense of good design. Helping to circulate authentic, complete designs gives her a rich sense of accomplishment.

FOR HER OWN WORK, she develops her own designs or occasionally adapts a favorite museum pattern to the particular piece she is working on.

A colonial arm chair which has been reupholstered in an exquisite crewel cloth which she created stands in their living room. An unusual Victorian chair, upholstered in delicately colored shaded crewel, is in use in their den. She is currently working on a spread and bed hangings for the 17th century four-poster bed in their bedroom.

Subdivision Sent Back To Planners

An application for a subdivision, which has been before the Planning Board since January, was remanded to that body Tuesday night at a special meeting of Mountainside's Borough Council.

Milton Wasch, owner of a tract of land in the Nottingham way area, appealed to the Borough Council after the Planning Board had denied his application for approval to build six homes on the three-acre tract. Wasch, acting through his attorney, Irwin Silverlight, gave the Council maps and information previously filed with the Planning Board.

He also submitted additional maps, similar to one drawn up by Robert Muirhead, which would call for the road for the proposed subdivision to have egress to Rt. 22 rather than to Nottingham way, as provided in the original plans. The Borough Council included the new map in its referral to the Planning Board.

Muirhead is one of a score of Nottingham way residents who protested the subdivision when it originally came before the Planning Board last January.

2 Cote Brothers Are Satisfactory

Ronald and Bruce Cote of Mountainside who were injured early last Saturday morning when their car slammed into a utility pole, were described in satisfactory condition at Overlook Hospital at press time.

The brothers, Ronald, 20, and Bruce, 17, were injured shortly after midnight when the car Ronald was driving skidded and struck a utility pole, knocking power out in the vicinity of Wyoming ave. for two hours.

Both were taken to Overlook Hospital. Ronald was reported to have a dislocated shoulder and rib injuries. Bruce was listed as having scalp lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

The young men are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar O. Cote of 343 Rolling Rock rd.

400 Are Enrolled For Courses In Summer School

Four hundred children have already enrolled in the 1965 session of Mountainside's Summer School which will open June 28 in Deerfield School, Miss Marianne Beckers, programming assistant to the principal, Herbert Brown, announced Tuesday. Many of the children have signed up for two classes, bringing the total class enrollment to 580.

This represents the largest group the Summer School has ever carried on its rolls since it was opened in 1962, Miss Becker said. Registration, which is now open to children of grammar school age outside the borough, is still open in classes which have not reached their maximum.

The outdoor science course, always one of the most popular in the curriculum, has already been filled. Twenty students are in the two classes in this division, which has a maximum of 10 to a class.

The foreign language program, introduced this year, has 22 students in its French division and nine in its Spanish classes. Fifteen is the maximum in these classes.

The pre-kindergarten classes, also introduced this year, have 24 pre-schoolers enrolled. Twenty are enrolled in the post-kindergarten class. The pre-schoolers will attend classes for one-and-a-half hours each day; the post-kindergarten class will run for the full three hours.

Twenty-one first and second graders are signed up for the children's art classes and 28 for the literature course. Twenty children in the third through the fifth grades have enrolled in the art classes and their level and nine in the literature class.

Seventeen will be taking other lessons and 23 will study other instruments. Thirty will take industrial arts and 19 fourth through seventh graders have enrolled in the home economic classes.

Sixteen students on the fourth through the seventh grade level have signed up for the enrichment math course. Twenty-four children from all grade levels are presently enrolled in the speech correction division.

A total of 138 on all grade levels are registered for the basic math courses and 88 for the basic reading classes.

Serving on the faculty will be: Mrs. Ina Hodes, Mrs. Carol Lee Garcia, Mrs. Mary Mooney, Mrs. Georgeen Castor, Mrs. Dolores Catullo, Miss Linda Elvise, Miss Maureen Heagney, Mrs. Beekers, Mrs. Mary Jasper, Mrs. Elaine Weibel, Allen Hodges, Mrs. Goldie Kaufman, Mrs. Evelyn Wintling, Mrs. Lois Radding, Mrs. Helen Sutter, Mrs. Virginia Goodspeed, Mrs. Rhoda Gansler, George Pierson, Miss Dorothy Phillips, Mrs. Virginia Faulke, Fred Moebus, Joseph Petrucco, Mrs. Caroline Kueter, Mrs. Frances Hickman, Oliver Young, Mrs. Marilyn Webb, Miss Rosemary Lusk, Miss Kathryn Wood and Mrs. Frances Manderson.

Only 1 Man Injured In Freak 22 Crash

A "freak" chain reaction accident on Rt. 22 Tuesday afternoon involved one truck and a car in the westbound lane and two cars in the eastbound lane. Fortunately only one driver went to the hospital.

Charles Santomeno of Bloomfield, who was driving in the westbound lane attempted to make a turn just before Chapel Island to the eastbound lane, police said. A truck owned by Klein Leasing Service of Marchfield, Wis., and driven by Arthur K. Langtau of Abbotsford, Wis., hit Santomeno's car in the rear, driving it down the ramp of the turn-around into the eastbound lanes, according to police.

A car driven by Mrs. Naomi S. Margolies of Plainfield hit him in the rear, police reported. June Solomon of Clifton, driving behind the Margolies car, hit the rear of that car, according to authorities. The front and rear of the Margolies car were damaged and the front end of the Solomon car.

Santomeno had a bump on his head and was taken to Overlook Hospital. The entire right rear of his car was damaged. The police report indicated there was no damage to the truck.

LIBRARY CLOSES MONDAY; CLUB MAKES DONATION

Mountainside Public Library will be closed all day Monday, a legal holiday, Harry Devlin vice president of the Trustees announced.

A donation of $242 has been made to the library fund by the Mountainside Woman's Club. The donation was presented to Mrs. Hoffarth at the club's annual installation luncheon held recently at Pedellous Restaurant, Watchung.

A copy of "Colleges With Rooms for Students, 1965-66," published by Kiplinger's Report, has been added to the library's reference books. The volume, which is listed dictionary style under state headings, includes colleges with room for entering freshmen and upper classmen who are transferring and for graduates of junior colleges.

9 Month Sentence On Theft Charge

Thomas Edward Waters Jr. of Elizabeth was sentenced to nine months in the county jail last Friday night at a special session of Mountainside's Municipal Court. Waters was found guilty by Magistrate Jacob Bauer on two charges, of unlawfully taking a motor vehicle and of unlawful possession.

Waters was picked up in Mountainside last Thursday by Det. Sgt. James Herrick on information supplied by Garwood police.

The defendant was charged with taking a 1965 sports car last Jan. 11 from Fort Lee Motors, Fort Lee. He said in court that the car was given to him at a race track somewhere in New York.

When the car was taken in by police, it carried a set of license plates that had been reported stolen from the Court House garage on Catherine st., Elizabeth.

ECHO PROFILE - Mrs. Betty Lutz

Betty Lutz of Chipmunk hill, Mountainside, was one of the most vocal—and certainly one of the most attractive—of the fewer than 45 residents who attended last week's hearing on the proposed new master plan for the borough.

Betty, a vibrant extrovert who believes in speaking her mind, does it without rancor, with a cheerful incisiveness that separates the issue from the individual. A difference of opinion is to her simply a difference of opinion—not a reason to become embroiled in an argument or to make an enemy of a friend.

"That's what discussions are for—that's how we can arrive at sound conclusions. You use the best of each one's thoughts or ideas—you talk it over."

"Talking it over," Betty confesses, is one of the many things she enjoys. And debating. She enjoys becoming embroiled in discussions on issues but only, she says, when the participants can stick to the issues and disassociate themselves from personalities.

She feels that this same detachment should be used in elections. Too often people make an election a "popularity contest" instead of judging the competence of candidates.

She insists her ballots always reflect that philosophy.

With a contagious burst of laughter, she says "If my own mother was running for president, I wouldn't vote for her if I didn't think she was competent."

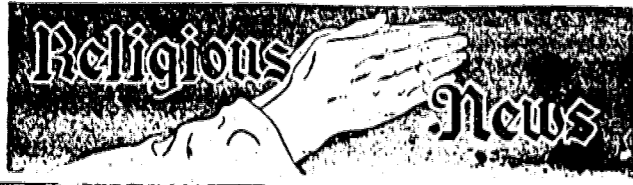

Betty is vitally interested in politics. "If you love your home and you love your town, you have to be. No one has any right to complain about how a community is run unless they get out to public meetings and get themselves heard."

"NINE YEARS in NINE SECONDS"

May 24th, 1956, a one man butcher shop was opened at 715 Mountain Avenue, Springfield, by Gene Rau. Within six short months Gene found it necessary to increase his staff to 3 butchers, and send his wife, Doris, out to make deliveries.

GENE RAU

The time to grow, again came about in May, 1961. This time Gene moved his business up the street to its present location at 763 Mountain Avenue. Gene, now increased his staff to 4 butchers and a deliveryman.

All through the growth of the RAU dynasty one important thought has been kept in mind by Gene Rau... always offer quality meat that is the finest quality of Choice and Prime.
Gene Rau now employs 10 butchers in his "ever" growing or-

Report From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson F. Stamler (R-Un.)

There are at least two rules in elected official learns during his term of office: One is that the task of safeguarding the public through legislation is a never-ending job. The second is that his best helpers in performing this duty are the citizens who have been elected to represent.

What brings this to mind is a letter I received the other day from Jacob Eisen of Mountainside, recognized by his peers as one of New Jersey's leading pharmacists. Eisen asked "what my thoughts were on the possible introduction of legislation which would require the manufacturers of children's aspirin to limit their packaging of this item to quantities of 25."

In presenting his "case" Eisen made the following observations:

"... Pharmacists, physicians and other practitioners who are trained know that every drug that is beneficial to humans also has a potential for harm. Even the most valuable drugs may have side actions that can be uncomfortable or dangerous. Because of its widely unsupervised use, aspirin is particularly dangerous in this respect. As a household remedy aspirin has been in use for many years. It is not unusual for the average users of this drug to use up to eight tablets a day for colds, headaches, arthritis, etc."

"Although few people think of aspirin as a possible poison, large quantities will cause symptoms of salicylate poisoning. As a matter of fact, the New Jersey State Board of Health reports that aspirin caused 802 poisonings last year and estimated that for every case reported there were 15 unreported cases. Since the advent of flavored aspirin, our greatest concern is in the area of accidental poisoning in children. This is a particularly serious problem in children under two years of age because of the profound physiologic alteration it produces, which may lead even to death.

"Childish curiosity coupled with easy accessibility in many households and the candy-like taste of the drug will often encourage children to eat large quantities of flavored aspirin and pass the tablets out to other infants. The child who is initially prodded by parents to eat the 'candy' is likely to become an eager victim of aspirin poisoning.

"Most of these tablets contain 75 mg of aspirin and the directions state that only three-year-old children should take one tablet every three hours and not more than five a day. This clearly indicates the tremendous overdose that a child two or three years of age would get when he would eat an entire bottle of tablets.

"Since hundreds of children die annually from overdoses of children's aspirin and thousands more become ill and the lethal dosage for children is approximately 25 tablets, it would follow that many of these deaths could be prevented by packaging of children's aspirin in quantities of 25 tablets each sealed with an aluminum disc so as to prevent easy access by children.

"Certainly the sale of these 25's in multiple packages so that the unit 'sale' could still remain at 50 tablets is possible with no economic injury to the manufacturer, it would seem that manufacturers would not be adverse to doing this."

Eisen concluded "... We as retail pharmacists sincerely concerned with the health of all, and certainly none more than the young, should take steps to see that children's aspirin tablets be packaged and sold only in packages of 25 or fewer tablets."

It seems that Eisen's theories deserve further study. Certainly, the figures he cites are alarming and a cause for concern by parents and manufacturers.

It is the thoughtful concern of citizens such as Eisen that gives birth to useful and important legislation. Not all citizens can sit in session in Trenton and consequently make themselves heard, but those with something to say can easily voice their ideas and set the wheels of legislation in motion. There is no end to worthwhile suggestions and the legislation which might evolve from them.

Degree Candidate
Jerome T. Ingate of 1398 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, is a candidate for a B. S. degree in general business from Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N. Y., at commencement exercises Sunday, June 6.

Officers Installed By Scout Council

New officers and community association chairmen of the Washington-Rock Girl Scout Council were installed at the ninth annual meeting held recently at the Mountainside Inn. The new president, Mrs. George S. Dunham of Plainfield, succeeds Mrs. John H. Foster of Mountainside.

Mrs. Mauro Donatelli of 1078 Sunnyslope dr., Mountainside, was appointed association chairman for Mountainside. During her two-year term, Mrs. Donatelli will be responsible for administering and representing Girl Scouting in Mountainside. A Girl Scout leader and neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Donatelli is a member of the Sunny Slope Civic Association.

Mrs. Harold Tulchin of 336 Longview rd., was elected to the council's nominating committee. Mrs. Tulchin is a leader of a Girl Scout troop and a member of the Mountainside Chapter of American University Women.

Master Plan

from the present residential A to residential AA.

The master plan's addition to the industrial zone in the Bristol rd. area behind Summit rd. was challenged by Phillip Santinello of 228 Summit rd. who said the way the map in the master plan is set up "anyone would assume it was always industrial." Santinello also said when the tract in the Bristol rd. area was zoned industrial about 10 years ago the Planning Board praised there would never be a road coming out of the industrial area to Summit rd. The present plans recommend a commerce collector street constructed and connected to Willow rd., presently a dead-end street which leads to Summit rd.

"You're contradicting yourselves," Santinello charged. Garrett, who is presently serving the second year of his first term on the board, told him "things change" and reminded him that the buffer zones would shield his property from industrial encroachment.

"Let me tell you about buffer zones," Santinello answered, "they stink." You go look at the buffer zone behind my property—it's knocked down—there is none."

Hugh Morris of 233 Evergreen court, challenged Mayor Frederick Wilhelms on a statement Morris claimed the Mayor made at the April 14 meeting. Morris asked Wilhelms where he got the figure that the borough had lost $1,000,000 in taxes on the Wilson property.

Reading from the transcript of the April meeting, Wilhelms pointed out that he had not made a statement but "a qualified guess" that the borough had lost approximately $1,000,000 a year in taxes for the past 10 years on ratables that could have been on the site during that time. Half of that sum might be closer to the true figure, Wilhelms reminded the audience, but that's still "an appreciable amount of money that would not be paid for by the homeowner." The transcript also shows that Wilhelms said he did not know how valid his figures were but "that off the top of my head that's my reflection of them."

At the beginning of the meeting, Garrett called the attending residents' attention to the fact that the meeting was held to give a better perspective of the entire proposed plan. He pointed out that the buffer zones in the new preferred restricted commercial would be raised from 20 ft to 30 ft. He reminded them that Judge Milton Feller is delaying decision in Wilson's case against the borough to allow time for an out-of-court settlement.

He cautioned them to judge the alternatives if such an out-of-court settlement is not reached. Wilson is currently suing for a reversal of the Mountainside Board of Adjustment's refusal to grant him a variance to erect a 150-unit garden apartment and retail store on his land.

Wins At Delaware

Frederick Holsaess of Mountainside won fourth place in the mixed calves division in the annual A-Day Agriculture and Science exhibitions held recently at Delaware Valley College, Doylestown, Pa. Holsaess is a sophomore at Delaware, a science and agricultural institution.

Appoint Perkins To Tri-County's Safety Council

The appointment of Everett Perkins of Old Tote rd., Mountainside, as historian of the Essex-Union-Somerset Traffic Safety Council, was announced this week by Henry P. Wester, Council president.

Perkins retired in 1963 after 30 years with the Boyle-Midway Co. of Cranford, household products division of American Home Products, Inc. At the time of his retirement, he was personnel manager.

Perkins and his wife have resided in the borough for 15 years. He had been active in community affairs having served for ten years on the Board of Adjustment, three of those years as chairman. He was not reappointed to the board this year. He has also been active in fund-raising campaigns and other community endeavors and is currently serving as secretary of the Kiwanis Club.

Wester hailed Perkins' acceptance of the post on the tri-county safety body, saying he will "render valuable advice based on his service as a member of the Board of Adjustment and his knowledge of the problems of Rt. 22."

Crewel Artist

took a year of work, the Victorian chair close to a year. She expects the current project to take about three years.

Each portion of the bedspread and hangings is mounted in small embroidery hoops and worked separately. There are, Mrs. Campbell estimates, about 300 different stitches that can be used. She is using what she calls "the truly American stitch," the New England economy stitch. That, she explains, is a stitch which saves on the wool thread, a very important point for the early colonists. This method uses the yarn very skimpily on the reverse side while the display side looks as rich and profuse as the double-sided work classed as European crewel.

For all her projects, Mrs. Campbell uses the finest of linens, imported from the same company which has been making the plumes for the English queens' guards since before the battle of Waterloo. This linen, she points out, like the moth-proof wool she uses to work her designs, will last hundreds of years. Viewed from that perspective, she feels the time spent in the work is minimal.

CREWEL EMBROIDERY, an almost forgotten art when Mrs. Campbell first became interested in it, is enjoying a new wave of popularity. Women's magazines are devoting a great deal of space to the craft. And, as Mrs. Campbell says, "every Tom, Dick and Harriet is becoming interested in it."

She feels this wave of popularity is due to the fact that America is fast becoming a "leisure society," people want to fill their leisure time with something creative, something that will give them a sense of accomplishment.

Men as well as women are working in crewel. An owner of a lumber yard in Mississippi is wearing a crewel vest which he worked himself after it was designed and imprinted by Mrs. Campbell. An ardent amateur gardener, he has flower designs on his. He made another decorated with ducks (also designed by Mrs. Campbell) which he gave to his son who spends a good part of his spare time in the duck blinds. One of the Campbells' sons-in-law is wearing one made for him by his mother-in-law.

The arm chair will soon be shipped to Maine, where their oldest daughter and husband live in a 1700 house.

"It will belong there," its creator says, her hand lightly touching one of the brilliant flowers. "It is like the house—handmade to last through centuries."

The tips of her fingers dusted across her signature, P.M.S., 1964. There was a sense of continuity in the light touch.

ECHO PROFILE

She pointed to last week's hearing on the master plan.

"How many people were there? Less than 50. Just because they think it doesn't immediately affect them. But it does. Anything that happens in a community affects everyone."

Pointing out the picture window of her home, which overlooks Rt. 22 between Lawrence ave. and the Scotch Plains border, she says worriedly:

"See that thick stand of trees across the highway. That's part of a huge estate — what's to prevent the same thing happening there as on the Wilson tract? Chop down the trees, remove the dirt and the next thing we know we could have a gas station — anything — over there."

Betty pointed out that the area visible from her window is just one of many similar large estates in the area, some even larger than the Wilson tract, many of them bordering on the highway.

"So now it involves the Wilson tract — and just the people in that area protest, others don't care. It doesn't affect them. But it does," her voice becomes urgent and insistent "it affects every homeowner. It sets a precedent. One area is rezoned — how can other owners of large tracts be refused the same consideration?"

BETTY and her husband, "Hank," who is now serving as president of the Concord Civic Association, have taken an active interest in borough affairs ever since moving here over four years ago. She served as vice-president in charge of programs for the Newcomers Club and through that activity quickly became acquainted with her new community.

Their children, Robert, now enrolled in Valley Forge College in Pennsylvania, and Wayne, now nine and a student at Beechwood, were another tie into the community. They took school buses — Roberts to Governor Livingston High and Wayne to the borough school — and buses were sometimes late. And guess who was on the phone reporting the delay?

Laughingly, Betty remembers that she became a bus clearing station — concerned parents in the area called her and she relayed the complaints to the school office. Then, in line with her theory of "speaking out," Betty suggested that the complaining parents bypass her and go direct to the school office.

"They were getting sick of listening to me down there, and beside I felt others should become involved directly. Each person should speak for himself."

Two To Graduate From UJC June 5

Two Mountainside residents, Miss Victoria E. Wolny of 1803 Prouse lane and Stephan W. Klute of 372 Dogwood way, are among 83 students who are candidates for associate in arts degrees at Union Junior College's 32nd annual commencement on June 5. The ceremonies are scheduled at 10:30 a.m. in the theatre of the Campus Center, Cranford.

Degrees will be conferred by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, with the assistance of Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean. Dr. Adler G. Hawkins, moderator of the 17th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S. in the U.S.A., will be the principal speaker.

Miss Wolny, daughter of Mrs. Henry Wolny and the late Mr. Wolny, held the Dr. Arthur L. Johnson Memorial Scholarship at Union Junior College. She was a liberal arts major, treasurer of the Day Session Student Council and a member of the Drama Club and Sigma Alpha Pi Sorority. She is a graduate of Westfield High School.

Klute, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Klute, is an engineering major at Union Junior College. He will continue his studies at Newark College of Engineering. He is also a graduate of Westfield High School.

They didn't pass by on the other side.

Martin Magerowski and Francis Vetrecin work as linemen for the phone company in New Brunswick.

One day as they were driving along in their truck, they spotted a car stalled in heavy traffic on a bridge. Smoke was billowing from its hood.

The driver was outside directing traffic. His wife and two small children had left the car and were standing on the sidewalk.

The situation was potentially dangerous. Magerowski and Vetrecin pulled up behind and offered help. It was gladly accepted, and the two telephone men towed the disabled car off the bridge and into an area safe from highway traffic.

It was a small, helpful act. The kind that makes us proud of telephone people.

Early Economizing For College Advised By Upsala President

Parents should begin thinking about a college education for their children and its cost years before the actual need presents itself, Dr. Evald B. Lawson, president of Upsala College, declared this week in calling attention to rising college costs and the problem of meeting them. Long range planning, he said, would in many cases eliminate the necessity of borrowing at some later date.

Upsala is one of 12 independent non-tax-supported colleges which are members of the New Jersey College Fund Association currently conducting its annual campaign for financial help from New Jersey business and industry. Part of the funds received are used to help deserving students in need of financial help.

"There is an abundance of literature these days about rising college costs and how people can meet them. One of the latest books on the subject—a very sound one—is 'How to Beat the High Cost of College,' by Claire Cox," Lawson said.

"There are, of course, many whose financial position is such that they can meet college costs in full. It is expected that they should do so.

"But the family of low or medium income has problems to face in this regard. Long-range planning will provide the answer in many instances. It would be well if all parents started a college savings account the very day a child is born into their family, and added to it systematically. Even if this produces only enough funds for the student's first year at college, he will have made a healthy start," Lawson said.

"It is important for parents to recognize this challenge of thinking about college education and its cost years before the actual need presents itself. Institutions offering college education loan plans have done much to alert parents about long-range planning, which in many cases would eliminate the necessity of borrowing at some later date.

"Long-range planning doesn't help, however, in homes where all the earnings must be used to house, feed, and clothe the family.

"For New Jersey's independent, non-tax-supported colleges, the financial need is deserving of help," according to Lawson.

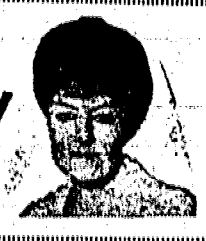

"Occasionally the newspapers publish a story about someone making a grant to a college, remembering that the institution made it possible for him to get a college education when he did not have the necessary funds. If the amount is sizable, the story gets a good headline, Lawson said.

"It would be interesting if a college could compute the amounts given in financial aid to students over the past 25 years. The amount would probably overwhelm us. We would also be overwhelmed by the sum if all of those who had received benefits in this way were to return just 10 percent or 25 percent of the amount they received.

"What a long way this would go toward solving the problem of financing higher education today. Someone has said that 'education is the eternal debt of maturity to youth,'" Lawson concluded.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

PERSONAL TO A 73 Yr. Old Friend:
Your letter was beautiful, warm and gratifying. I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I admire you, dear friend. Not for agreeing with me, but rather for having the strength of your own convictions.

Dear Amy:
I'm 28 years old and—have been happily married for 10 years. I love my husband and like to be loved, but I think my husband is taking advantage of our marriage license by being overly affectionate. The minute supper is over, he wants to make love.

We already have seven children, and I'm about ready to go out of my mind. Would you suggest that he get psychiatric help?

Going Nuts
Your husband doesn't need a psychiatrist, nor do I think he's taking advantage of his marriage license. If your family is completed, you should both visit the Planned Parenthood Center in your community.

For all the years I have been writing this column, I have yet to hear a wife complain about an over-affectionate spouse.

Dear Amy:
I am dead serious about this problem. I don't know where to turn. I do not have a minister I feel I can go to . . . not with my problem! This may be just a wild dream on my part or a deventually it will pass. Everything does, they say. However, at the moment the ache, the hurt, the depression is so deep that I feel I can't stand another day or night of it.

Perhaps it's this stage of life that has crept up on me unaware, I don't know. I have been happily married (very happily) for nearly 25 years. I love my husband dearly, but for some unknown reason, I find myself wanting to get involved with another man. A special man, who incidentally, hardly knows I'm alive. In all my 25 years of marriage, I have never had the inclination to stray; no desire for any other man. I have been perfectly happy as is . . . that is, until now. My husband is so kind and gentle and tries so hard to please me but just can't make the grade.

Do I need a psychiatrist, or what? I go to this man and proposition him? Or do I just bear the intense ache, the deep hurt in silence? What do I do? I'm stymied. My thoughts, all waking thoughts, are of him all the time. It isn't love, not even a drop of affection. Is it just lust, pure and simple?

I hope you don't answer only teenagers 'cause there are those of us older nuts who need help, too!

Desperate

Dear Desperate:
After 25 years of a good marriage, it would be a shame to cause it to crumble for the foolish yearnings an address of your imagination. To degrade your life and the life of your husband with thoughts of such folly is as insidious as the deed itself.

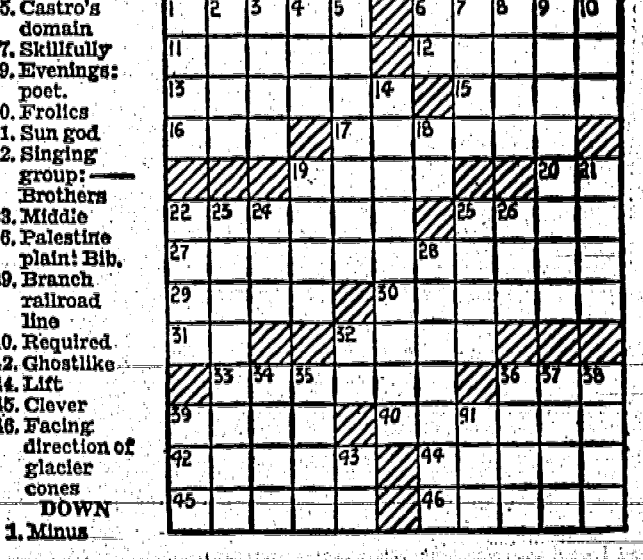

I suggest you interest yourself in useful and satisfying undertakings: good books, organization work or an engrossing hobby. If these suggestions do not dispel your thoughts, I then most urgently hope you will seek counseling from a minister-or-the-Family-Counseling-Service.

Sylvan Pool Treat dissolves instantly in swimming pool water to kill bacteria, can be used just before swimming, never leaves a color or odor, doesn't irritate eyes or skin, is harmless to pool finish and equipment, and comes in breakproof containers. So do many other pool chlorines.

BUT, Sylvan Pool Treat, a lithium base chlorine, doesn't leave a chalky residue that other calcium base chlorines leave. That's what makes it the most important thing you put in your pool. Besides yourself.

Stabilize your chlorine with Sylvan Pool Treat Booster. Cuts chlorine loss to sun and heat, slashes chlorine expense.

after school costs on local property taxes.
Do much more long-range planning and advance purchase of rights-of-way for state and interstate highways.
Railroad passenger train service must be maintained by property tax relief (railroads, like everyone else in New Jersey, pay highest property tax in nation), by increases in funds on service contracts and—where necessary—by state purchase and leasing of new equipment. I favor continued operation under private enterprise with operation and/or control by government authority or agency only as last resort.

of the people will be REDUCED.
New Jersey's fiscal problems can be resolved satisfactorily when the federal government no longer has first claim on our earnings.
2. The Transportation "problems" stem from the inability of the people to pay their own way because of the Federal Income Tax. Government Intervention is the Problem—not the solution. When only PART of our own money comes back, it carries with it Controls. When the States take action to Get The Federal Government Off Our Backs and Out Of Our Pockets, the transportation problems will be resolved.
I am a strong advocate of the FREE ENTERPRISE system.

large sales tax if such a measure were presented to me by the Legislature.
Furthermore, I have publicly stated my receptivity to any other proposals—within the realm of our laws—which the Legislature can devise to meet the manifest needs of New Jersey. No responsible Governor can subordinate the needs of our school children, our taxpayers and rent payers. The institutionalized wards of the State and the millions who use our transportation facilities to any question of political or personal advantage.
2. Within the limited context of our revenue system, my administration has taken substantial action to cope with our transportation problems. We have proposed a revolving fund for advance purchase of highway right of way; we have begun a reorganization and streamlining of the Highway Department administrative structure; we have forged ahead with our interstate highway construction program while permitting ample opportunity for local objections to be heard.
Nevertheless, if we are to undertake the vast construction program that must supplement the interstate system, important new funds must be provided. I have repeatedly requested the Legislature to make such provision. To date, silence has been the response.

In the field of railroad transportation, my administration has come forward with an imaginative new plan to combine available State money with funds appropriated under the federal Mass Transportation Act to maintain and improve the important Erie-Lackawanna service. Should this program be successful, it could serve as a model for other rail service. The actions of this administration point toward an eventual consolidation of the commuter operating functions of the railroads to the benefit, not only of the commuters and the communities in which they live, but to all the taxpayers of the State.
In addition, we have maintained and expanded our program of commuter service contracts and requested funds to undertake a program of purchase of commuter railroad cars, beginning with the Pennsylvania Railroad. This, too, enables us to obtain substantial federal funds under the Mass Transportation Act.

1913—Celebrating Our 50th Anniversary—1965

Answers to the League's questions

First strict economy must be effected in state government, with Little Hoover Commission to receive adequate funds to study all state operations.
Every N. J. citizen faces dilemma of continuing highest property taxes per person in nation, plus far too many state bond issues (deficit financing) wasting millions of dollars for unnecessary interest charges imposed on our children and grandchildren for needs in our time) or broadening tax base, thus finally requiring non-residents to share substantially in our governmental costs.
PRINCIPAL purpose of broad-based tax is to relieve local property taxes by considerably increased state aid to school districts and for local roads and bridges for college education and to replace repealed business inventory tax. For this purpose, I prefer selective sales (non-residents will contribute more than under personal income tax) exempting all basic necessities of life and many other items.
Triple state aid, as noted above, for municipal and county roads, streets and bridges to keep pace with rising expenses—second heaviest drain

Answers to the League's Questions

1. New Jersey receives from the federal government only $1.00 for each $2.10 taken from its taxpayers. The balance feeds Big Government socialism.
- My tax program conceives of a complete overhaul of the tax and tax, spend and spend Federal and State tax structure—to the end that the total tax bur-

Answers to the League's questions

1. I am opposed to a sales or income tax. New Jersey will end the present fiscal year with a surplus in excess of $34 million. It has available now $40-100,000 for higher education, $50 million for Institutions and Agencies, and almost $500 million for highways. The growing economy of the State will provide sufficient revenues for our needs for the foreseeable future.
- I have supported, and shall continue to support, sound plans for the improvement of mass transportation facilities. I justified the purchase of the Hudson Tubes by the Port of New York Authority, and I shall shortly propose a detailed plan for the further alleviation of the transportation problem.

Olympic Park is preparing for a record crowd on the Memorial Day weekend, says a spokesman for the amusement park, which is located on the Irvington-Maplewood line. The four million gallon swimming pool will be opened starting this weekend.
In celebration of the park's 50th season, the management is offering free admission in 1965 to anyone 50 years old this year.
Three new circus acts will be added Monday: Joe and Sally Novelle's original poodle symphony, the Aerial-Winters, trapeze stars, and Walton and Sina, perch balancers. Answers to the League's questions

1. In conformance with my party's platform pledge of 1961, my administration had placed fulfillment of the State's need for "services essential to a modern and progressive State" in the forefront of its considerations.
- Bearing in mind that this pledge included opposition to "any form of personal income or general sales tax unless it becomes clearly and irrevocably necessary," I proposed in 1963 that we utilize the surplus revenues of the New Jersey Turnpike to meet the State's needs in the areas of education, transportation, institutions and local tax relief. The necessary bond authorization, however, was defeated at the November, 1963 election. Therefore, well aware of the inherent political dangers in such a step, I nevertheless proposed a personal income tax because I felt it would work the least hardship on those least able to pay. Since then, I have indicated that I would sign a

3 ways that our service contract can reduce your oil heat costs

OIL BURNERS, like automobiles, need periodic attention. Our comprehensive burner service contract guards you against heating worries. And it lowers heating costs these three important ways:

1. By making sure your burner is cleaned and adjusted for peak efficiency—to give you maximum heat from every gallon of fuel.
2. By catching little troubles before they can become big ones. A small adjustment or repair now may save you many dollars later on.
3. By insuring you against unexpected repair bills—by helping to protect you against heat interruption.

1—Since 1958 I have annually introduced a bill for a tax convention. I still think it the best approach but it has no support in the Legislature. Next best is a graduated State income tax. A sales tax misleads people and can be too easily raised any time after it is once enacted.

2—Tri-State Transportation Commission approved April 8 is one approach if N. Y. and Conn. move quickly enough. Close liaison with Federal Transportation assistance should be maintained. State subsidies to railroads are only stopgap so imaginative new ideas must be developed by willing cooperation between government and all transportation media.

William P. Hourihan
DEMOCRAT ELIZABETH

Born August 25, 1903. Native and resident of Elizabeth. Graduate of Battin High School and New Jersey Law School. Married — father of four sons. Employed continuously by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) since September, 1922, acquiring extensive experience in business, finance and administrative areas; presently Treasurer of Esso Research and Engineering Company. Served as General Chairman of 1964-65

United Fund Campaign and now Vice President of United Fund.

1 — It is generally concluded that additional funds are now or will shortly be required by the State to finance needed educational aid and to provide new highways and other essential services. I am in favor of first exploring ways of raising additional revenues to meet the State's fiscal requirements by enacting appropriate changes in the existing tax laws.

2 — Definite studies must be undertaken promptly that are aimed at finding an equitable means of underwriting the cost of necessary changes and improvements in our transportation systems. Property owners are already bearing burdensome taxation and can not fairly be expected to be the source of additional funds needed to resolve the State's transportation problems.

1 — After five years in government service, I cannot deny that there are great needs in the areas of Education, Institutions and Agencies and Highway Construction. I don't believe at the present time our funds are being properly collected or spent, and as a result would support a complete Tax Convention.

2 — Significant progress has been made in identifying and isolating problems of transportation in New Jersey at the federal, state and local levels that demonstrates there is no single solution for this complex problem. All levels of government must cooperate. I support constructive legislation such as the Tri-State Agreement.

Nelson F. Stamler
REPUBLICAN UNION

Educated, Public Schools, Elizabeth; West Virginia University, Rutgers Law School; Passed Bar 1933; Deputy Attorney General 1947-1953; elected to General Assembly 1959-1961; elected to Senate 1962; re-elected, 1963; Vice President—Union County Bar Assn.; Member General Council State Bar Assn.; Member National Commission Anti-Defamation League, Bnal Brith; Member of Joint Appropriations Committee 1964-1965; Chairman State County and Municipal Government Committee 1963-4-5. Married, 3 children, 2 grandchildren.

1 — I would support small bond issues to pay for needs or would support a broad based tax dedicated to education. Believe that this would require a Constitutional amendment but I do believe that there is waste in government and prior to the passing of any tax of any sort there should be an attempt made to determine New Jersey's fiscal and service needs for the future.

2 — I believe a New Jersey-New York compact (bill introduced) set up to provide regional transportation solution. If the railroads continue to fail in their service to the public, I would agree that an agency be established to handle the railroad commuter lines.

N. J. Assembly

QUESTIONS asked candidates:
1—What measures would you support to meet New Jersey's fiscal needs?
2—What can be done to alleviate New Jersey's transportation problems?

Loree Collins
REPUBLICAN SUMMIT

Present Assemblyman. Sponsor of legislation to protect teachers from unruly children, to curb teen age drunken driving, to establish a National Foreign Service Academy. Chairman of commission to study problems of youth gaining admittance to college. Annapolis and N. Y. U. Graduate. Publisher.

1 — Support meaningful Little Hoover Commission with teeth. Cut out obvious waste in government, if its findings show we needed additional revenue, a constitutional tax convention should be called with dispatch, so all views can be properly heard and the people themselves can decide on the taxes they want levied which will be with them forevermore.

2 — Problems of Rail Transportation should be removed from the highway department and placed under a new department — The Railroad Department — solely responsible for this function. Pressure should be brought to bear on the Port Authority to take a more active part in financing and managing our commuter services.

1 — The question is based on a premise, true or untrue, that New Jersey requires additional funds. Secondly, the implication of the validity of the premise is followed by "measures would you support". Such an obviously stated question, I presume, is to lead to decisions from the candidate on one of several Broad Based Taxes which the League of Women Voters has espoused. Let me say simply; I am opposed to new taxes.

Philip Del Vecchio
REPUBLICAN SPRINGFIELD

Mayor of Springfield 1962, Township Committee 1962-1965, Civil Engineer, Licensed Professional Engineer New York and New Jersey, Age 44, Married, Seven Children, Veteran Major, 8th Air Force, World War II Officer, New York Construction Firm.

1 — (a) A survey of the State's long-range fiscal demands. (b) A study to reduce duplication of services and expenditures. (c) A Tax Convention to determine an equitable means of deriving revenues. (d) A Planned investment program of public funds to realize maximum return.

2 — (a) A more extensive toll-road system for interstate commercial traffic, the proceeds from which would support: 1. A freeway highway system for local automotive traffic 2. A partially subsidized rail commuter service. 3. A modernization program for existing state highways.

Henry F. Gavan
DEMOCRAT LINDEN

Married, three children, veteran of World War II, graduate of Seton Hall University.

employed as Health Officer of the Board of Health of the City of Linden. Served a 5-year appointment on the John J. Hunsick Hospital Board — 1960 to 1964.

1 — The question is based on a premise, true or untrue, that New Jersey requires additional funds. Secondly, the implication of the validity of the premise is followed by "measures would you support". Such an obviously stated question, I presume, is to lead to decisions from the candidate on one of several Broad Based Taxes which the League of Women Voters has espoused. Let me say simply; I am opposed to new taxes.

2 — Efficient Rail Transportation is the answer. The Port of New York Authority has both funds and the skill. The Legislature must compel the PA to assume this obligation.

Robert E. Henderson
DEMOCRAT RAHWAY

Born Newark, N. J., raised and educated in Rahway. Married, four sons, Councilman-at-Large, 1954-1958; Mayor since 1959. Former high school football, baseball and basketball star and Captain of the National Championship Y. M. C. A. basketball team. Assistant to the Chairman of Eastern Railroads.

1 — I would support any measures which would make adjustments in the present tax structure, whereby allocations of funds would relieve situations that have come about as the result of little or no taxes in some instances or impose a hardship in other instances.

2 — Funds must be made available in order to maintain the present transportation services. In addition, provisions should be made to modernize present facilities. Where railroads are struggling to maintain services in competition with parallel turnpikes and parkways, Federal and State monies should be allocated in order to thwart the necessity to eliminate services. The population explosion in certain areas warrants more service, not less service.

Donald W. MacDonald
REPUBLICAN SCOTCH PLAINS

Chairman, Westfield Area Young Republicans; Member, Regional Planning Council — Greater Plainfield Area; County Chairman's Campaign Advisory Committee, Congresswoman Florence Dwyer's Campaign Committee; Lifelong County resident; Graduate Rutgers, Lit. B.; N. J. Advertising Manager, Nation's Business Magazine.

1 — Immediate enactment legislation for tax revision convention, endorsed Senator Nelson F. Stamler. No new tax prior to this complete, exhaustive review of New Jersey's archaic fiscal structure, state needs by elected delegates. Federal return to state treasury, proportionate basis — with no strings, a percentage of tax money collected by federal authority. Minimum program estimate $100 million back to New Jersey — state government free to direct use.

2 — Prefer Bi-State New Jersey-New York Transportation Pact. In its absence give newly created Tri-State Transportation Commission opportunity to work. Tax reduction for railroads permitting reduction of state subsidies. Tax convention, federal "Tax Grants" above applicable.

Frank X. McDermott
REPUBLICAN WESTFIELD

Assistant Majority Leader of the Assembly, Four degrees: B.A. & L.L.B. Columbia; Master of Public Administration and Master of Laws, New York University, Attorney, New York and New Jersey. Married; five children. Age 40, World War II veteran.

1 — I would support a program to: (1) Ascertain the State's existing and long range capital needs in the areas of education, transportation and improvement of state institutions and hospitals (2) Develop plans with appropriate price tags to meet these needs. (3) Schedule completion of projects on a definite time basis and financed on either a pay-as-you-go basis or limited bond issues before turning to new tax sources.

2 — There must be a complete overhaul of the State Highway Department's practices and procedures as a first step in solving existing transportation problems. Until order replaces the present administrative chaos, there will be little accomplished.

William M. Weaver
REPUBLICAN RAHWAY

Councilman-at-Large, Rahway; Founder, Trustee, past-President Rahway Y. R.; President, W. M. Weaver & Co., Management Consultants; Board Directors, U. C. Tuberculosis League; B. A., Swarthmore; M. A. Penn State; Second Presbyterian Church; 36 years old; married; four children.

1 — The state must act responsibly to meet its increasing needs for education — particularly colleges for our high school graduates — transportation, and prevention of air and water pollution. This means eficiency in the state's administration, plus rationalization of the tax structure, including if necessary, a broad based tax.

2 — Inefficient, arrogant, highway department administration has given us a highway program unresponsive to the people's needs. This must change. Rail commuter service must be expanded and improved — park and ride stations, fast trains, etc. — by encouraging and assisting private enterprise, or, that failing, by forming a state rail commuter agency.

John R. Weigel
DEMOCRAT ELIZABETH

Lifelong resident of Elizabeth; 33 years old; graduate Finny School; Georgetown; University of Buffalo Law School; member New Jersey and New York Bars; served U. S. Navy; Active Elizabeth's anti-poverty program and urban renewal program.

1 — I favor meeting state needs without increasing the enormous tax burden being shouldered by the homeowner. Overhaul of the present tax structure is needed. Every available source of revenue should be carefully considered. Non-residents who use our services and facilities should share in their cost. Equality of taxation must exist in a framework of ability to pay.

2 — I favor state participation in the federally-financed highway construction program; construction of needed connecting roads; purchase of rights of way for future highway construction; continuation of commuter rail service by the state if necessary; added assistance to defray deficits and improve equipment; regional commuter planning.

George G. Woody Jr.
DEMOCRAT ROSELLE

Age 38, Married, 3 children, Graduate Roselle Schools, McAllister School of Mortuary Science, Owner and Director of G. G. Woody Funeral Home, Roselle, Municipal official 6 years, Member of the Frontiers International Service Club, Second Baptist Church, Navy veteran World War II.

1 — I would support a thorough review of our present tax structure to ascertain whether or not it is sufficient to adequately provide for the needs of the state without new taxes. I believe there are presently untapped sources of revenue available within this structure.

2 — This is perhaps the most complex problem we must solve. It requires much study and review. It is interesting to note that the legislature as now constituted has not taken a positive approach to the problem. However, I will have some suggestions and recommendations during the course of the campaign.

Age 47, Married, 3 children, B. A. Cornell University, LL. B., Rutgers Law, Lawyer 18 years. Ass't Prosecutor, Union County, Cranford. Governing body 7 years, 2 years as Mayor. St. Michael's Church, Past Grand Knight, Knights of Columbus, presently serving as member of N. J. General Assembly and Delegation Leader of the County G. O. P. Delegation.

1 — Support legislation and programs to effect economy in government and a broad base tax to meet continuing needs for expanding the educational, transportation and institutional facilities and opportunities in our state.

2 — 1. Build more highways. 2. Institute a program which will either continue the Railroad Companies in commuter service or create a State Agency to operate the Railroad Commuter Service.

(Continued from preceding page) strive for all possible economy measures within our State Government. Thereafter, if additional funds were required, I would take the question directly to the public by means of surveying the public and would support the mandate of the people.

2 — State Government must support mass transportation legislation so as to move people, goods, and material to and from their respective destinations. Programs calling for more railroad and bus transportation must be expanded so as to relieve highway strain and the economic drain that necessarily follows.

Consideration should be given to industrial planning. Millions of square feet are lying idle because of obsolescence. Through planned programs to plant rehabilitation, much of this can be reclaimed and put to use by new industry. The staggering cost of county health and welfare must be investigated. Taxpayers' millions are poured into this program, but much of it is used slipshod. Checks and balances must be established. Growing problems of mass transportation and commuter needs must be solved.

1 — Closer liaison between local and county governments with particular reference to county budget, an analysis of community needs and eliminating duplication of services.

2 — Scrutiny of county budget regarding use of surplus (now more than $1,000,000) to reduce amount raised by taxation, to make sure surplus and current funds where possible are invested in interest-bearing bonds or accounts.

3 — Full-time vocational-technical high school.
4 — More centralization in county government.
5 — Mass transportation.

Eugene F. Daly
REPUBLICAN SUMMIT

Educated in Summit public schools; employed as Composer by Summit Publishing Co.; active in Newark Typographical Union 103 as advocate of good management-labor relations for 24 years.

Organized labor should be represented on public governing bodies, boards, commissions, institutions, both elective and appointive. Consideration should be given to legalization of a public lottery to provide funds that would relieve real estate from bearing an unfair share of the public tax burden, and to ease burden of proposed sales tax and State income tax.

George J. Forrester
REPUBLICAN ELIZABETH
Born Scotland. Graduate of Yale Business School. Retired Elizabeth Deputy Fire Chief. Candidate for Mayor 1960. Freeholder from 1962 to 1964. Active in Y.M.C.A. and youth work.

Due to population increase all services must be expanded to meet new needs and facilities. Traffic situation, especially in eastern end of county is critical. County jail be expanded. Nursing home facilities for elderly are needed. Complex county operation needs full-time manager responsible to Freeholders to coordinate departmental facilities. Immediate start on Vocational-Tech School. Urgent that planning on county level be implemented to prepare for future.

Age 50. Agency Representative Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. 30 years, past Campaign Chairman United Fund Westfield. Board Member Westfield YMCA. Area Chairman UJA, Captain, Army WW II, Campaign Chairman March of Dimes, Trustee Boy's Baseball League.

Consideration must be given to the relationships between the local community and the County government which serve the same people. We should form non-partisan study groups reaching the untapped talents of Union County residents to report to the Board of Freeholders on various subjects such as methods of budget control in County operations, so that the Board of Freeholders may maintain the principles of good government and financial responsibility that our Union County residents deserve.

DEMOCRAT ELIZABETH

Life-long resident of Elizabeth, Retiree of Standard Oil Co., Bayway Refinery, Councilman Seventh Ward 1932-38. Favored area approach to enormous local problems during the Depression years of social upheaval and innovation. WW I Navy veteran.

During the next three years the drastic implications of the Supreme Court one-man-one-vote decisions for county government must be worked out. Increasingly the Federal government has pre-empted the functions of local government if not directly then through its financial support of most local programs. The major problem for us is to develop and strengthen harmony between the cities and the suburbs as the marginal service-needing populations of the cities attempt their share of the American Dream in the county suburbs.

Past president of Jewish Community Center Athletic Council. Member of ongregation Ahavas Achm B'nai Jacob.

With the State of New Jersey nearing a crisis in the field of higher education, there can be no more important program than the immediate erection of adequate facilities to provide for the educational needs of students throughout the County. Both the proposed technical institute and a community-college program offering transfer curriculums cannot be delayed. The overall plan should also include adult education and community service programs designed to service the training needs of local industries.

The establishment of a good vocational school system in Union County to ensure proper schooling for those students who are in need of mechanical skills. Also, greater attention should be given to the rising costs of and still never have enough?

Chances are, your heating system was designed to produce enough hot water only when running full blast. In summer it "idles" along. Water heating is chillingly slow. One shower empties the tank. The water gets lukewarm toward the end of the dishes. You wait between washer loads until the furnace huffs and puffs up some more hot water. Why stand for it? An efficient, properly-sized automatic gas water heater gives you a never-ending torrent of hot water. All year long. Economically. For dishes and showers and laundry. And luxury.

AAUW Install Slate At Annual Luncheon

Mrs. Harold Tulchin was installed as president of the Mountainside branch of the American Association of University Women at a luncheon held recently in Wieland's Steak House, Rt. 22, Mountainside.

Special guest at the affair was Miss Linda Bauer, winner of the branch's 1965 scholarship. Miss Bauer, a student at Rutgers-Newark, was one of two college students in the borough who received awards last year from the local AAUW.

Other officers installed are: recording secretary, Mrs. Roy Lutz Jr.; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Siefken. A silver steak stand was presented to Mrs. Paul Krystow, former president of the branch, in recognition of her "outstanding leadership."

A skit, "Pioneers in Progress," directed by Mrs. Tulchin, was presented. Appearing in the skit as famous women in history were Mrs. Nicholas Bradshaw, Mrs. Martin Shulman, Mrs. William Crom and Mrs. A. R. Rehbock.

It was announced that the national AAUW will give 96 fellowships to women scholars from the United States and 31 foreign countries in the coming year. The awards, which include eight partial and summer extension study grants, will amount to approximately $300,000.

Gilbert Garrison Was 56 At Death

Gilbert Garrison, 56, of 373 Creek Bed rd., Mountainside, died May 18 at home following a long illness. Born in Cheswald, Del., Mr. Garrison lived in River Edge, N. J., for seven years before coming to Mountainside nine years ago. He was vice-president of the Preston Trucking Co. in Jersey City and a member of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Springfield.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Mary McVeigh Garrison, at home; his mother, Mrs. Rachel D. Garrison of Smyrna, Del.; a brother, Carlton C. Garrison of Laurel, Md., and two sisters, Mrs. Francis Neylan of Dover, Del. and Mrs. Conrad Schmidt of Springfield, N. C. Services were conducted Saturday morning at Gray's Funeral Home, 31 East Broad st., Westfield.

Present 'La Traviata'

The Opera Theatre of Westfield will present Verdi's "La Traviata" Friday and Saturday evenings in the Scotch Plains High School. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. E. J. Bannigan, 150 Harrison ave., Westfield. Curtain time both nights will be 8 o'clock.

Butler Supports Sandman In Bid For Governor

Dr. Peter E. Butler of Mountainside, president of the Republican Conservative Action Club, this week called for voters "to throw off the gravy train" by the election of Senator Charles Sandman, a candidate for governor. Butler is opposing the incumbent, H. M. Weeks, for the Republican district leader post in District two.

Butler, speaking for the GOP Conservative Action Club which last week passed a resolution opposing any new state taxes, charged that Governor Hughes and "his big spenders want to spend themselves into perpetual re-election at the expense of the taxpayer."

Hughes and the pro-tax lobby, Butler said, always list education, roads and institutions as reasons for new taxes. "These," he stated, "are not reasons at all, but slanted statistics, upside-down logic and half truths."

Butler claimed that New Jersey is third in the United States in the amount expended per pupil and that many "educational experts claim that present buildings could accommodate four times the present number of students. If the state colleges would change to a trimester year and schedule evening and Saturday classes as part of the regular program."

He also charged that lack of funds is not the reason for the failure of the state highway department to build roads for at the present time "it has $300,000 available for this purpose." Not one cent of the $50,000,000 voted in the 1964 bond issue has been let out on contract for the building of institutions, Butler concluded.

License Suspended

Theodore A. Hacker, 60, 1023 Prospect ave., Mountainside, has had his driving privileges revoked for 30 days, effective May 4, under the state's excessive speed program, the Division of Motor Vehicles announced this week.

MISS DONNA DOLBIER

Reigns As Queen At Cotillion Ball

Miss Donna Dolbier of Mountainside reigned as Queen of the Cotillion at the senior dance of Laselle Junior College, Auburn-dale, Mass. The affair was held recently at Glen Ellen Country Club, Mills, Mass.

The Cotillion Queen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dolbier of 1627 Larkspur dr., is a 1963 graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, where she was Snowflake Queen at the senior dance.

Miss Dolbier is scheduled to graduate from Laselle Junior College on June 6. She is majoring in executive secretarial work.

Troop 76 Takes Ribbons, Honors In Camp Events

Members of Boy Scout Troop 76, which is sponsored by the Mountainside Kiwanis, won two ribbons in competitions held last weekend at the 29th annual district camporee of District 76. The troop members and their fathers participated in all ten competitive events.

The local troop took first place ribbon for tower building, an event sponsored by Bernard Buck, one of the troop fathers. Participating scouts were Robert "Buck" Dan DeSessa, Jim Dwyer, Mike Hart, Jeff Ross and Glen Warkala.

A third place ribbon in compass and orienteering also went to the local troop. Participating in this event, which was sponsored by Jack Carnes, were Curtis Carnes, Berni Harlow, Robert Cardoni, Joe Lorber, Peter Saloom and Don Winnicki.

The troop also received second place award in the elimination event for signalling and honorable mention in the stretcher bearer race, fire building and water boiling.

Thirty-two boys from Troop 76 and 16 and their dads attended the camporee.

MISS C. G. CLEAVELAND

Miss Cleaveland Receives Degree

Miss Christine Gae Cleaveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy A. Cleaveland of 369 Summit rd., Mountainside, was graduated recently from Gordon College, Wenham, Mass. She majored in elementary education at Gordon.

Miss Cleaveland was active in the Gordon College Girls' Trio and Gordon College Touring Choir.

In the fall she will teach at the Allen W. Roberts School, New Providence.

BEAVER ALUMNA AT REUNION OF CLASS OF 1915

Mrs. Joseph W. Valentine of 1458 Fernwood rd., Mountainside, was one of 11 members of the Class of 1916 who attended a 50th year class reunion at Beaver College, Glenside, Pa., on May 15. There were 65 in the graduating class at Beaver in 1915.

Mrs. Valentine, who moved to Mountainside last year from Westfield where she had lived for 41 years, was accompanied on the trip by a classmate, Miss Frances Pierce. All the 50 year alumnae were presented with orchids at a luncheon.

The two found that their old school had not only changed but moved, from Jenkintown, where it was located in their college years, to nearby Glenside. Beaver is now a four-year liberal arts school, was a two-year college in the early part of the century.

NCE Student Named To Honor Society

John Bernet of 1071 Charles st., Mountainside, was among 150 Newark College of Engineering undergraduates who were officially welcomed into national honor societies at a dinner last week.

The program was held at Thomm's Restaurant, Newark, and was sponsored by NCE's Honor Societies Council. Bernet became a member of Phi Eta Sigma.

Foothill Meets Thursday; Plans For Next Season

The Foothill Club of Mountainside will meet next Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the Mountainside Inn. A program, "Lady Be Lovely," will be presented by Miss Betty Best, a representative of a commercial laundry company.

The newly installed president, Mrs. John Suski, was hostess recently to the members of the executive board.

Plans for the coming club year were outlined and Mrs. Leo Palumbo, program chairman, discussed at some length the many programs scheduled next year.
The social activities chairman,
Mrs. Ronald Grant, announced get-acquainted "coffeees" will be held Sept. 29 at the homes of various board members.

Mrs. Frank Tritschler of 1050 Ledgewood rd. was hostess at a cocktail party for members of the outgoing board and their husbands. After dining at the Halfway House, the group continued the party at the home of the Walter Degenhardts.

Union Firm Gets Road Work Job

A contract for work on five-and-one-half miles of Mountainside's roads was awarded to Pressure Asphalt Inc. of Union at last week's meeting of the Borough Council. Pressure Asphalt's bid of $30,116.20 was the lower of the two bids submitted. A bid of $31,101.52 was submitted by Dosch-King of Whippany.

The awarding of the contract was questioned during the public discussion portion of the meeting by William Seeds, Democratic candidate for mayor, who asked if the Council had approved the contract without any discussion.

Councilman George Coughlin, who heads the road department, said the matter had previously been "discussed in detail" and that he and Borough Engineer Robert Koser had spent four weekends inspecting the roads and arriving at an estimate of costs. The submitted bids came very close to that figure, Coughlin said.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms told Seeds that the bids had been "amply and adequately reviewed" by the Borough Council, the road committee and Koser. He added that the cost of the work "fell well within the budget."

The National Award and the Council award were accepted by the representatives, consisting of Mrs. Simon Heischuber, David Weinstein, Bernard Schwarz and president Martin Karp.

Mrs. Nathan Ostroff, retention chairman, was awarded a trip to Washington where she will visit the B'nai B'rith headquarters.

The annual Strawberry Festival will be held June 16 in the Garden of Jules Terry home, 26
Shelley rd. A social afternoon of cards and mah jong with dessert is planned.

MISS FLANAGAN'S TROTH IS TOLD TO RENNELAER MAN

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V.
Flanagan of 288 Old Tote rd., Mountainside, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Gertrude, to John Brunner, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C.
Brunner of Murray Hill.

Miss Flanagan is presently attending Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y. Her fiancé is a student at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, also in Troy.

A fall wedding is planned.

In Operetta Cast

Betty Newman of Springfield will be in the cast Monday morning of the kindergarten presentation of the operetta
"Hansel and Gretel" at the Kent Place School, Springfield.

Shayer Receives Early Promotion

Robert W. Shayer Jr., whose parents live at 6 Spring Brook rd., Springfield, received a promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 following completion of basic combat training at Fort Dix.

Shayer was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of proficiency in firing the M-14 rifle, his score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership capabilities.

The early promotion program is the result of a new Department of the Army policy to recognize and provide incentive to outstanding trainees. The 22-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of Springfield Regional High School and a 1964 graduate of Villanova University.

Fine 1958 Offender; 5 Pay For Contempt

Fernandez Behl of Newark was fined $13 in Mountainside Municipal Court last week on charges that dated back to March 31, 1958. He also drew a total of $25 in contempt charges for failing to answer the original summons.

A fine of $8 and $10 in contempt was levied against Behl by Magistrate Jacob Bauer on a charge of having no registration in his possession and a $5 fine and $15 contempt charge for disregarding a red light on Rt. 22.

Four other violators were found guilty of contempt for not appearing to answer charges made against them. Knights Auto Body Inc. of Jersey City paid $10 for contempt charges and a $10 fine on a charge dating back to March 3 for having an overdue inspection sticker.
Herbert L. Bulkeley of Plainfield drew a $10 contempt charge and a $5 fine on a summons issued Jan. 28 for not having his vehicle inspected. A charge of passing on the right on Rt.

22 dating back to Sept. 14, 1964, cost Charles D. Hughes of Plainfield $15 in fine and $10 in contempt. John Burylo of Trenton paid $10 contempt and $10 fine on a summons issued
Feb. 3 for not having his vehicle inspected.

Other fines levied were: Friedrich Furer of Plainfield, $8 for disregarding traffic light; Norman Mendelsohn of Scotch Plains, $10 for unsafe moving on Rt. 22.

Charges were dismissed against Kathleen Balling of Westfield for careless driving;
William J. Mulholland of New Providence, Anita T. Brady of N. Plainfield and Robert Parano of Plainville, Conn., all for disregarding traffic signal.

Woman Wins 'Honor' 'Put Hubby Through' NCE

The coming months should be a "breeze" for Mrs. Joan D. Ventura of 127 Providence rd., Mountainside, who was among the 132 wives of students at Newark College of Engineering who were awarded honorary Ph.T. degrees Sunday in acknowledgment of their work in "putting hubby through" NCE.

On hand for the occasion,
the 15th annual Ph.T. program at NCE, was a record size audience of 216 children and the 132 husbands who will receive their degrees on June 10.

Each of the wives received a bouquet of flowers and a parchment diploma which reads: "Newark College of Engineering confers upon (the recipient) the honorary degree of Ph.T., certifying that she is a graduate from the trial and tribulation of putting her husband through Newark College of Engineering, and is entitled to all of the rights and privileges thereunto appertain-ing."

Wives of NCE officials conducted the Ph.T. ceremonies.
The diplomas were signed by Mrs. Robert W. Van Houten, wife of the college president.
Five women were singled out for special honors. These wives raised particularly large families while their husbands studied for degrees. The special citations usually go to wives of evening students who generally take eight years to complete the four-year day program.

The annual Ph.T. program is sponsored by the college's chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

SERVED BARBECUED CHICKENS
While broilers are year round fare for American consumers, the opening of the outdoor season gives special emphasis to their use. Broilers are top choices for picnics, cookouts, and barbecues. Quick-cooking broilers are good selections, too, for indoor kitchens during warm weather.

Output of broilers in 1965 has increased once more over the previous year. Eight billion pounds of broilers, live weight, will be produced for the eating pleasure of everyone and the thrift satisfaction of food shoppers. For increased supply once again is causing lower prices. Even with some price advances, broilers will continue to be a low-cost-per-serving meat choice throughout the summer.

In barbecuing broilers, select broiler halves of one pound each or slightly larger. Place halves over fire after the flame has died down. With a long handled fork, turn every 5 or 10 minutes, depending on the heat from the fire. Baste broiler halves at each turning with barbecue sauce. Basting should be light at first and heavy near the end of the cooking period. Cooking time will be about 1 hour. Test for doneness by pulling the wing or leg away from the body. If the meat splits easily, and there is no red meat in the joint, then it is time to eat. Try this Barbecue Sauce Recipe:

Barbecue Sauce Recipe (enough for 10 halves)
1 cup cooking oil
1 pint cider vinegar
3 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon pepper
1 egg

Beat the egg, then add the oil and beat again. Add other ingredients and stir. The recipe may be varied to suit individual tastes.

I'LL DO IT FOR A NICKEL.
"Johnny, take the garbage out for Mother!" Johnny replied, "I'll do it for a nickel!"
"What has happened here? Does this conversation mean that Johnny is necessary, that he won't help his mother, or that his time is too valuable to work for nothing?"
In some circumstances, it could mean all these things. But the real meaning of such an answer is that there has not been any consistent training in the assumption of home duties.

This training is necessary for character building, for developing independence and co-operation, and for that important feeling of "belonging to the family."

Johnny's answer points up the fallacy of paying children for home chores. Usually sooner rather than later, the youngster bargains about the money paid for his work. Sometimes if he doesn't need or want the money then, he refuses to do the chore.

New College Board Chairman

Hugo B. Meyer of Summit, president of the US Fiber & Plastics Corporation, Stirling, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of Union Junior College at its annual meeting Monday.

Edward Aborn of Fair Haven, president of Tenco, Inc., Linden, was elected vice president, succeeding Meyer.

Warren W. Hakey of 72 Denham rd., Springfield, former superintendent of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, was re-elected secretary.

Meyer, who joined the college's Board of Trustees in 1962, is a past president and a director of the Summit YMCA and a trustee of the Pingry School in Hillsdale.

Aborn is a member of the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield. He is a director of several banks.

Meyer is the ninth man to serve as board chairman in the 32-year history of Union Junior College.

Newcomb Appointed To Coordinate Drive

Boyd Lawrence Newcomb Jr. has been appointed campaign coordinator for the Union County's GOP candidates for State Assembly. The announcement was made this week by Assembly Delegation leader Nicholas St. John LaCorte of Cranford.

Newcomb, who has been prominent in Young Republican activities in Union and Middlesex counties, was chairman of the Westfield Area YR in 1959-61. In 1961, the Westfield group won an award as one of the top 10 YR clubs in the nation. In 1961-62, he served as Union County YR chairman.

Newcomb is currently the Scotch Plains delegate to the Union County Republican Executive Committee, and has served as a County Committee member since 1962.
