Regional High Set To Graduate 325 At Outdoor Commencement

Ceremony Starts At 7; Shifts Inside In Case Of Rain

Three Graduates
To Be Speakers At
Wednesday Event

Approximately 325 students are scheduled to receive their high school diplomas at outdoor graduation exercises scheduled next Wednesday evening in the football field of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights.

The ceremonies, which will open at 7 o'clock, will be shifted to the school auditorium in case of rain.

The graduates will receive their diplomas from three members of the Board of Education: Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, Alfred G. Battaglia and W. Robert Powers. The principal, Frederick Aho, and the Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Randolph Jacobsen, will participate in the exercises.

Three of the graduates, Howard Bimson, Eileen Freeman and Allyn Shepard, will deliver the commencement messages. The speakers were selected on a competitive basis from among those students from the top 15 per cent of the graduating class who submitted original speeches for the judging.

Bimson's topic will be "Before the Parade Goes By," Miss Freeman's "Shoes" and Shepard's "The Memory of Education."

The program will begin with the processional "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the high school band. The Rev. Morell C. Rubey, pastor of the Diamond Hill Community Methodist Church, Berkeley Heights, will give the invocation.

Winston Parker, president of the senior class, will present the class memorial and lead the flag salute.

The high school's Chorale will sing "Choose Something Like a Star" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

At the close of the ceremonies the graduating class and the audience will join the Chorale in singing the Alma Mater.

The Rev. Rubey will give the benediction. The band will play "Bonnie Lassie" as the recessional.

Patrolman Meets Deadline, Moves Into Mountainside

Patrolman John Zamboni, who had been given until Tuesday to move into Mountainside, said he rented a room in the borough on the deadline date. Zamboni, who has been on the force for five years, had been instructed by borough officials that unless he met the residency requirement he would be dismissed from his post.

At the close of Tuesday night's Council meeting, Councilman Gilbert Pittinger, police committee chairman, said he had not yet been informed of any action on Zamboni's part. The deadline ran until midnight, Pittinger said.

Nothing Suitable
Last week, Zamboni pointed to the difficulties of finding suitable rented quarters in the borough. Apartments are virtually impossible to obtain, he said, and even if he could afford to buy a house it would be impractical for an unmarried man to do so.

Zamboni's problem came up for discussion during the public portion of Tuesday's meeting. George Geisenhauer of 318 Old Tote rd. asked the Council if some action could not be taken making it permissible for patrolmen to live outside the community. He described the present residency requirement as "rather ridiculous."

Borough Attorney Nicholas St. John LaCorte said that the borough had already granted two years extension over the three years allowed by state law to Zamboni.

GOP Ladies Are On The Move Busy Trio Active In Community

Two out-of-staters and one native born New Jerseyite make up the distaff side of the Republican slate for local office in Mountainside.

Mrs. Frederick Wilhelms Jr. wife of the mayor who is seeking re-election on the GOP ticket, is the only born-and-bred Jerseyite in the trio. The wives of the two candidates for Councilmen, Mrs. B. Dean Spain who hails from Fort Worth, Texas, and Mrs. Wilfred Brandt, a native of Altoona, Pa., moved into the borough less than four years ago.

Both have traveled hundreds of miles with their husbands in their various job assignments. Mrs. Brandt says she lived in the same house in Altoona, from her birth until 1942 when she married "Bill" Brandt and she has "been moving ever since."

The Brandts lived in Allon, Ill., Hamden Conn., and Baltimore, Md., before coming to Mountainside. That plus the countless station-to-station moves they made while Bill served in the U. S. Navy makes them pretty traveled, she claims.

Attractive, brown-eyed Louise Brandt says her only claim to fame is the fact that she and Janet Blair, of musical comedy, stage and movies, attended the same dancing class for several years back home in Altoona. However her children, Patti, 10, and Susan, 6½, think their mommy's talent with a needle is quite impressive.

Before the children arrived, Louise admits she made all her own clothes in addition to keeping busy with volunteer work for the Y. W. C. A., the Red Cross and wherever she happened to be living at the time. Although she still likes to sew, she now makes only what she describes as "specialties"—first Communion dresses, Santa Claus suits, costumes and draperies.

BOTH GIRLS now attend Our Lady of Lourdes School and most of Louise's time is devoted to their interests and her home. She is, however, an enthusiastic member of the borough's Newcomers Club. It is, she thinks, the most satisfying. Newcomers Club and she has belonged to many. Her hobbies include swimming, dancing and playing bridge.

Mrs. Spain, whose speech still retains an entrancing hint of Texan drawl, is also enthusiastic about and active in the local Newcomers group. She is currently serving on the membership and hospitality committees. Although her older son, Jon, won't enter Governor Livingston Regional High School until next September she is already serving as vice-president of that school's P. T. A. The Spains' other son, Michael, 12, will be in the eighth grade at Deerfield next semester.

Her volunteer work includes serving as a "Pinky Twig" at Overlook Hospital and as a circle chairman in the Women's Association of Community Presbyterian Church.

FOSTER PARENTS ARE NEEDED FOR FOUR CHILDREN

Foster-homes are still needed for four of the 19 children from the port section of Elizabethtown who hope to spend five weeks this summer with Mountainside families.

Mrs. Joseph Juncker, chairman of placement, invites anyone interested to call her at 233-1124.

The 15 children, the majority of whom are Spanish-speaking, are scheduled to arrive the weekend before June 28 at their temporary foster homes. Those who are old enough have been enrolled in the borough's summer school. Tuition for the out-of-towners has been paid by the sponsoring family or through donations made by people of all faiths throughout the borough.

Mrs. Juncker and the Rev. Elmer Talcott, pastor of Community Presbyterian Church, issued an urgent plea this week to local families to open their homes "so none of the children will be disappointed."

Arthur H. Winter Sr. of 1100 Saddle Brook rd., Mountainside, is a brave and daring man. His is not the type of courage that collects medals and public honor—his is the unsung variety, the quiet, unpublicized gumption that enables him to undertake a formidable task before which public heroes might very well quail.

Winter is one of six adults who will accompany 75 Boy Scouts on a camping trip in the Rocky Mountains. The camping expedition will be preceded by a five-day trip westward by chartered bus and followed by a four-day return trip on the buses. A total of nine days with 75 boys in the confines of a bus!

If that doesn't strike you as courage, then think on this! Winter and the other adults will, during the campout, eat only food cooked and prepared by the Boy Scouts. That is one requirement of the expedition—the Scouts, most of whom

One hundred and fifty-five eighth graders, representing the largest graduating class in Mountainside's history, will receive their diplomas next Tuesday evening. The graduation will open at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium of Deerfield School.

Jack R. Hildebrand, president of the local Board of Education, will present the diplomas to the graduates. He will be introduced by Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, School Superintendent, and assisted by the principal, Herbert Brown.

The valedictory will be delivered by Donald Kuehne of 1623 Lakespur dr. The class salutatorians, Patricia Timpanaro of 1126 Maple ct. and Jean Heise of 2 Sylvan lane, will also speak.

Prizes will be awarded to members of the graduating class by the local unit of the American Legion, the Mountainside Rotary Club, the area chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Student Council. Mrs. Emily Hoffarth, director of the Mountainside Library, will present the Paul K. Davis Memorial Speech Award.

To Make Awards
Harry Beecher will present the American Legion awards for citizenship to a graduating boy and girl. Mrs. Ralph Hall, president of the DAR chapter, will present citizenship awards to a boy and girl and history and essay awards. William Hummel will present the Rotarians' annual service award.

Ward Rau, president of the Student Council, will present awards to the valedictorian and the salutatorians in recognition of their high scholastic achievement.

Council Moves To Acquire 2 Parcels For Relocation Of Municipal Facilities

Two land acquisition ordinances were introduced by Mountainside's Borough Council Tuesday night in the first step of an overall plan to relocate municipal facilities. The two adjoining sites are landlocked and separated from borough-owned property—which fronts on New Providence rd. and runs toward the rear of properties on Birch Hill rd.—by a 66-foot-wide land strip which has been set aside on the tax map for the construction of a street.

RUFFLED FEATHERS

Pool Plans Take A Legal Dousing

The municipal pool, which Mountainside Councilman William Ditzel said last month would be a functioning facility by the summer of 1966, has vanished at least temporarily in a sea of legal entanglements. Ditzel announced Tuesday night that the ownership of the four-and-a-half acre tract of land for the planned pool which the Borough had been in the process of purchasing from the Child Service Association of Newark is not the property of that organization but instead belongs to the State Highway Department.

The mix-up in the ownership was turned up in the routine search of the property conducted in preparation to completing the purchase.

Ownership of the tract, which adjoins the playing field of Echobrook School, has been something of a mystery since last summer when the borough first inquired into the possibilities of buying it as a pool site. The tax map showed it belonged to the State Highway Department.

Bird Sanctuary
When contacted that agency informed local officials that the property was owned by the Newark Orphan Asylum Association. The highway department had been granted permission by that organization to operate a bird sanctuary there.

Further searching turned up the information that the Child Service Association, after a series of mergers among charitable groups, was the successor of the Newark Orphan Asylum Association. The borough secured a six month option last November on the tract from the Child Service Association. Sometime before May local officials moved to exercise that option which set a purchase price of $3,500.

Ditzel said Tuesday night that an inquiry had been again directed to the State Highway Department on the possibilities of purchasing the land. Wearily, the Councilman said he has no idea if the tract will be available.

Early in May, Ditzel said he hoped to schedule a public hearing in June on the proposed pool. He announced Tuesday night that the pool committee had been ready to recommend the hiring of an architect to design the facility.

The ownership mixup sent all the plans down the drain, he indicated.

The graduating eighth graders are scheduled to observe the traditional class day today at Forest Lodge, Watchung. The students, who will be accompanied by their teachers, will spend the day swimming and in outdoor sports.

Teachers accompanying them will be Mrs. Dorothy Jannone, Mrs. Helen Sutter, Alton Collins, Mrs. Joy McCobb, Oliver Deane and Mrs. Katrina Savage. The graduates and their teachers also went on a bus ride recently to West Point to view the final dress parade of the year at the army academy. They dined at Bear Mountain Inn on the way home.

Finish Spraying Of Shade Trees; To Start Pruning

The initial phase of the 1965 program of the Mountainside Shade Tree Commission has been completed, the chairman, Mrs. Jean Hershey, announced this week. All the trees lining the streets on borough property have been sprayed for leaf eater and aphid control, she stated, and approximately 107 pin oaks and 1058 sycamores have been treated.

A shade tree pruning program, begun in 1964, will be continued during the summer months, Mrs. Hershey said. The Borough Council has appropriated $3,500 in the 1965 budget for the Shade Tree Commission, a figure that will cover the cost of the spraying and permit additional pruning in almost one-half of the borough. Trees in that section of the borough north of Rt. 22 and bounded by Summit rd. on the east and New Providence rd. on the west will be included in the program, according to the chairman.

Budgetary limitations last year allowed pruning only in the area north of Rt. 22 and east of Summit rd.

Presently serving with Mrs. Hershey on the Shade Tree Commission are Mrs. Walter Koster and Herbert Seidel.

Ordinances regulating the care and control of premises and prohibiting the parking, leaving, storing or maintaining of inoperable motor vehicles were also introduced.

Public hearings on all three are also scheduled July 20 at Echobrook.

Other Ordinances
The Council also introduced three other ordinances Tuesday night. One would change the speed limit on Mountain ave. to 35 miles per hour and on Summit rd. to 40 miles per hour. This ordinance was tabled at the May meeting when residents in the Summit rd. area protested the change. It was explained at that time that the present limits are unenforceable according to state statute.

Winter, however, is not at all overwhelmed, with the enormity of the task he has undertaken. In fact he's looking forward to it—and he expects it to be fun!

"Boys," he says convincingly "can be a lot of fun if you spend time with them, listen to them and all the while exercise a little discipline."

Winter has been exercising that discipline in Scouting groups for the last six years, ever since his son, "Skip" (Arthur Jr.) joined a Cub Pack in Whippany, where the family lived before moving to Mountainside three years ago.

Parkway Tolls Shift Started This Week

The shift to the left for automatic toll collectors on the Garden State Parkway was started this week.

The New Jersey Highway Authority reported work under way on its program to relocate the 25 cent toll collecting machines from the extreme right lanes of across-the-road plazas nearer the center for each travel direction.

The first switches in the EXACT CHANGE lanes since the Authority set the program are to take place at the Raritan and Asbury Park Toll Plazas along the Parkway's northern seashore stretch before July 4.

Under the program, the 25 cent automatics will be shifted inward at each toll plaza to serve passenger car traffic and only manual collection will be provided in the outside lanes to handle especially the heavier, slower-moving vehicles like house trailers and buses which normally drive to the right and must pay a higher fare, the announcement said.

Manned booths will also be intermingled with the automatic collection units in the inside lanes, sometimes on an interchangeable basis, to serve those needing change or information.

The shift is designed to provide greater flexibility in serving peak direction traffic while eliminating the need for criss-crossing movements within the plaza areas as motorists now weave left and right to reach either manual or automatic lanes, a Parkway spokesman said.

The Parkway-long toll shifting will be accompanied by expansion of the busiest plazas, installation of modernized equipment, and erection of flashing neon EXACT CHANGE signs over the automatic lanes in use. Total estimated cost is $1,675,000.

15th of a Series A DAY IN LIMA

There is a favorite story that people tell in Brasil about their president, Humberto Castello Branco. When the president of France, who is notably tall, met the president of Brasil who is unusually small, President Castello Branco said, "Please sit down, General." And President de Gaulle said, "But I AM sitting down!"

Which brings up a story that people tell in Peru about their president, Fernando Belaunde Terry. The president of Peru, who is neither tall nor small and an architect of some note, "has not got time to sit down," they say. He is too busy drawing plans for Peru.

Even when our National Editorial Association Study Mission Group, which was touring South America, met him one evening, almost the first thing he did was show us scale models of his favorite projects. And he never did sit down.

It is time, President Belaunde says, for Peru to be conquered by Peruvians.

And Peru is something to conquer.

More than three times the size of California, the country contains three distinct geographical areas including the stone curtain to be the largest Indian-populated country in South America. The Andes extend through the entire length of the country reaching a troublesome height of 23,205 feet and separate the coastal area from the Amazon basin area. The lowest pass is even 7,400 feet high.

PROCEEDING INLAND from the Pacific, the first area is the narrow coastal desert, 25 to 40 miles wide, where 27% of the population lives producing over 50% of the gross national product. Intensive irrigation makes possible the country's export crops of cotton and sugar in this rather dry area. Many fisheries are here also.

Next comes the high sierra, the zone of the great Andean cordilleras. This region comprises about 27% of the territory of Peru and 60% of the population including most of the Indians, but produces only 38% of the gross national product. While it contains the chief deposits of mineral wealth, it is in high and difficult terrain and supports few roads and railways.

Last and to the east lies the vast, uncharted hill and forest lands and the tropical jungle lowlands through which the great rivers wind to the Amazon. This area, known as the "montana" occupies more than 60% of the country but it is sparsely populated, largely undeveloped and only partially explored.

The climate runs from temperate and dry on the coast, frigid to temperate in the mountains depending on the elevation, and tropical and humid in the eastern lowlands and jungle.

So the only easy thing about Peru apparently is the coast, and that is too dry for real convenience. But the president has auspicious improvement plans, and Lima, the capital on the coastal area, is a buzzing, handsome, gay, modern city. It was in Lima that we had the most elaborate hotel of the trip. I had two TV's, two rooms, two balconies, and believe it or not, two tubs, two showers, two sinks, and NO hot water! It wasn't because Peruvians do not have hot water, it was because a break, and it was fixed. But it took six men to do it. Not two.

Lima has an estimated population of 2.5 million including its port of Callao, and the country has an estimated 11 1/2 million, the majority of which is Indian and mixed (Mestizo) largely of Spanish descent. It is considered to be the largest Indian-populated country in South America.

WE DID NOT SPEND too long a time in Lima. Those of us who went to Cuzco and Machu Picchu, had only one short day there. Yet in that time, we took a tour of the city, dined at the old hacienda Restaurant of the Huancayo Club, saw one of the most memorable club shows I have ever seen — simply eight violins and remarkable lights and a roof garden view — but all beautiful; visited a cultural institute for the teaching of English, Spanish, or Indian dialects — and met the president of the country.

President Belaunde invited us to his presidential palace in the early evening and later a short greeting in a massive marble-lined hall along with some pertinent Peruvian information and refreshments, he took us to the spacious wood-paneled banquet hall and showed us, not food, but his bold and brave new ideas for Peru. Here were his favorite road, housing, hydro-development and electric projects set up in scale models on the tables.

Since Peru has a constant water problem with too little on the coast and too much in the Amazon basin some of the president's most ambitious plans concern water enterprises. Currently there is a massive hydro project underway by the government to bring water from the Amazon area to the coast through tunnels. But strangely enough someone has been there before him. There is always a touch of Inca to everything Peruvian it seems. Very near the new project are old Inca tunnels which were built for the very same purpose and which are being used!

We were also shown miniature model roadway systems, which the president also stresses. He feels that roads would open up new territory for the ever-increasing population and distribute it more evenly. More roads would also improve the agricultural growth and development which Peru sorely needs in order to feed itself.

Greater progress could be made, the president said, if there would be more loans and faster action. Peru is studied to death he said, and while he praised the Alliance for Progress and U.S. AID he claimed it was full of delays and red tape and too slow.

We were also shown — and erved — some full sized models of Peru's favorite social project, the famous Inca roads. There were other cocktails as well, fruit juices and canapes so the meeting turned out to be a party too. The president, who speaks excellent English and used it during the entire visit, shook hands with each of us upon leaving and wished us well. But when he came to me, he said in Spanish, "Are you Castilian?" And at that point, I almost said "si" in excellent Spanish.

PRESIDENT SINCE July 1962 when he was duly elected, Belaunde is 52, handsome, dark-eyed, thickly iron-grey haired and fairly tall. He is a member of one of Peru's old and aristocratic families and walks like a king. Perhaps most notable of all, he is not a military man but an architect and attended the University of Texas. He also served, as an architect, at several U.S. graduate schools and spent some years in the U.S. before coming to Peru. He has a reputation for being emotional in his speeches and adventuresome in his governmental plans but he is considered to be pro-western and the people of Peru seem to have taken to him like a duck to water.

But apparently not the communists. According to a report on the president, "while Belaunde builds, communists tries to tear him down." Moscow, Peking and Havana beam "hours of hate" into Peru via short wave radio, but the communist party itself is illegal in Peru and there are few communists. Peruvians apparently, "are too busy conquering Peru under president Belaunde's Peruvian architecture to listen to foreign voices."

BUT PERUVIANS still have two extremes among themselves to contend with: the "haves" and the "have-nots." There has long been a bitter gap between the wealthy white Spanish minority and the poor Indian and half-breed majority, but President Belaunde hopes to span the gap, not by taking from the rich, but by giving the poor a stake in the country through social reform and self-help programs. Supported by the Accion Popular-Democratica Cristiano parties, Belaunde stands for a reformist platform advocating social reform and economic development along the lines of the Alliance for reform, promotion of community and co-operative enterprise, education reform, adequate planning, decentralization, credit reform, tax reform etc. Belaunde also stresses the opening of jungle areas to the east and the construction of an international highway along the eastern foothills of the Andes, as well as the other highways in the country and the elaborate water supply systems. He has announced his adherence to the Inter-America system and the Latin American Common Market and while he is very nationalistic, he recognizes the need for foreign investment and cooperation even though there has been a dispute with the American-owned International Petroleum Company, the Standard Oil of New Jersey affiliate that operates Peru's richest oil field on the north coast.

Be that as it may, he certainly believes in "foreign investments" at the airport. Generally speaking, upon leaving most countries, tourists are charged an "airport tax" and it usually ranges between one and three dollars, U.S. value, per person. In Peru, however, the airport tax was seven dollars, U.S. value!

There was only one place that was worse, and that was the next stop, Bogota, Columbia. It was $7.50.

Evidently Peru and Columbia take the quip, "keep South America green," quite seriously. Next: Bogota

ECHO PROFILE

Born and raised in Elizabeth, he never had any Scouting experience. Until Skip entered the ranks. His own involvement followed very simply, he says.

"They asked for people who could help out a little and I raised my hand."

He's been helping out more than a little ever since. He is currently serving as a committeeman in Boy Scout Troop 177, is an assistant manager for the Yankees (Skip's team in the borough's Pony League), teaches Sunday School in Community Presbyterian Church and is a member of the Church Session.

His wife, Jennie, sometimes protests a little, he confides, about the many evenings taken up by his extra activities. But her protestations aren't voiced often for basically she fully agrees with Art that, despite the rough schedule, these are the years which he must devote to establishing firm and long-lasting lines of communication with his son.

Very soberly, his pleasant face serious and intent, he explains his thinking.

FROM THE TIME a boy is about eight until he is 14 or 15—six or seven years at the most—this is the only time (such a short while) that a father really gets to know his son. These are the years when a boy is seeking to emulate his father, the years when he wants and needs masculine advice and (with a quick grin) the only years he'll take it. So I have to make the most of these years, to build a relationship that will endure the high school years when the old man's opinions aren't apt to bear much weight.

That's why he is spending his vacation camping with the Scouts. In addition to Skip, six other Mountainside boys—Wayne Lemmerhirt, Russ MacKay, David Ochmanek, Joseph Parent, Wayne Rau, Glen Ungarten—are scheduled to make the trip.

Winter is a little worried about young Parent, who now is sporting a cast on a broken leg. They're all hoping the cast will be off before the time comes to leave for the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

The Philmont-bound Scouts and their adult leaders will hold a practice campout June 26 at Camp Watchung, a one-day session aimed at increasing their culinary abilities.

Mrs. Winter and their eight-year-old daughter, Jennifer Gail, will spend some time at the shore while their menfolk are away.

The Winters were married 18 years ago while he was working for his degree at Babson Institute, an educational endeavor he launched upon in 1945 after serving four years in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Now in the sales end of Burroughs Corp. of Elizabeth, Winter feels that young people today have many more pressures than they did in his boyhood days.

"Their time is so allotted—so many hours in school, so many other regulated activities—there's no time for just thinking and dreaming—they get too wound up in immediate things."

The camping trip will provide them with that time, he thinks. There in the rocky hills, sleeping under the high western sky, living in the open, away from

Strikes Barrier, Runs Into Island, Two Men Hurt

Robert Fuchs of Westfield swerved after hitting a barrier in Rt. 22 and hit a dividing island in the eastbound lane last Thursday night. Fuchs and his brother, David, also of Westfield, were taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad where they were treated and released.

Both of the injured parties struck their heads as a result of the impact.

Fuchs told police he was driving in the slow lane behind a tractor trailer when the truck suddenly swerved to the fast lane to avoid road construction work. Next thing he knew, Fuchs said, the barricade was in front of him. He applied the brakes but could not stop and struck the barricade, swerving then to the left to strike the center island.

The barrier was placed in the road by the State Highway Department which was resurfacing the highway in Mountainside that night.

Fuchs was issued a summons for careless driving.

meet the residency requirement. "No more (time) can be granted," he said.

Police Chief Christian Fritz said yesterday he had been informed that Zamboni had rented quarters here. He said he would check out the officer's residency. Chief Fritz added that if the story is true, Zamboni would stay on the job.

Zamboni, who was re-elected president of the local PBA last Thursday night, was the leader and the spokesman in the PBAs recent and unsuccessful attempt to invalidate the procedure last December in promoting Walter Betyerman to sergeant's rank. The PBA had filed a motion for summary judgment in Superior Court against Police Chief Christian Fritz, and the members of last year's Borough Council asking that the promotion be ruled invalid because it violated borough ordinance and state law.

On May 1 Judge Ervin S. Fulp ruled that the borough was within its rights in promoting Betyerman because the local Police Department is not under Civil Service status and so is not controlled by that department's regulations.

Pittenger and Fritz said last week that this was the first time it was necessary to enforce the residency requirement since all the other men on the force moved into the community before the five-year limit expired.

Automotive Studies Planned For Scouts

Two Mountainside boys, Charles Farrell of 1170 Foothill way, and Alex McDonald of 360 Longview dr., were among those attending the first meeting of a recently organized Union County Explorer Scout Post which will specialize in studying automotive mechanics and the automotive business.

The meeting, held in the General Motors Training Center on Rt. 22, Union, was conducted by the post advisor, Peter Kellers of Summit.

Future plans for the new post will be developed with the help of John Traviesas of the General Motors Corp. Post which is designed to give a fundamental knowledge of the repair, marketing, manufacture and other facets of the automobile business and will be conducted by General Motors personnel.

Leonard B. Farrell of Mountainside was elected temporary chairman of community relations and Alexander J. McDonald, also of Mountainside, chairman of public relations at a fathers' meeting which coincided with the Explorers' first session.

Any boy aged 14 to 17 in the area who is interested in joining the new post is urged to contact either of the local committeemen. No previous experience in any phase of Boy Scouting is needed to qualify for admission to the post.

A second meeting is planned next Tuesday night. The place will be announced shortly.

Busy Trio Active In Community

Kansas City and several other places—they moved, she says with some exaggeration, "almost every year."

She's the spectator type of sport fan but she does enjoy bowling, gardening and playing bridge.

Jeanne Wilhelms, who was born and raised in Elizabeth, has been involved in all manner of community activity since moving to Mountainside 13 years ago.

A talented dancer and choreographer, she has achieved local fame in the annual shows presented by the Mountainside Music Association. She served as president of that group and was for five years co-director with Aden Lewis, music coordinator of Mountainside school, of the MMA's variety shows. She is and has been for several years a member of the Union County PTA Chorus, which has performed at the state conventions in Atlantic City.

She enjoys watching Little League games especially when the Tigers are on the field. The Wilhelms' younger son, Kip, 14, plays with the Tigers. The mayor and Councilman William Ditzel manage the team, the Wilhelms' older boy, Rick, is an official umpire in the Babe Ruth League.

Busy Jeanne is currently chairman of the P. T. A.'s library committee, a job that gives her the responsibility of supplying volunteers to assist in the school libraries. She herself serves an average of three days a week in the school libraries.

All her civic activity is in line with her basic philosophy, Jeanne points out. She and Mayor Fred, whom she married 20 years ago, both agree on the importance of the community service.

"Both Fred and I," she says, "have always felt a responsibility to serve the community."

All organizational and social news items, photographs, and articles other than those of a spot news nature must be in our office by Friday to insure publication in the next issue. Remember to use the columns of your community newspaper to tell your story.

Operator Lorraine T. Cross: tracer of missing persons

Mr. H. W. Haldeman wrote us: "On Thursday morning of this past week I was in Camden on business and received a call from my secretary advising me that my sister out in San Francisco had called me at the office to say she was rushing to the hospital—her husband had just been involved in a very serious accident. Unfortunately in her distraught condition, she failed to give my secretary the name of the hospital before she hung up, so I had very little information to go on.

"I called the local operator and told her my problem, saying I could give her nothing but my brother-in-law's name and that he must be in an emergency ward somewhere in San Francisco. She was most cooperative, and assured me she would do everything possible. To make a long story short, this remarkable young lady of yours, had me connected to the doctor in the particular hospital who was in charge of the case in no more than 20 minutes. Armed with such meager information as she was, I think this was an outstanding example of efficiency and service!

"I trust that you will be able to see that she receives a 'well done' for her excellent detective work over the long line. I am always appreciative of special service—this I believe was a most outstanding example!"

At New Jersey Bell, all our operators know we believe in giving that extra bit of special service. After all, the best possible phone service—that's our job.

Witnesses Hold 3-Day Assembly

The concluding lecture of the three-day assembly of the Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday at Johnson Regional High School, Clark, was attended by about 50 members of the Springfield Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses and four Bible study groups from Springfield, Summit and Chatham.

"What Can Be Done About It?" was given by Joseph D. Wengert, traveling district supervisor for the Watchtower Society in Brooklyn.

Felice Episcopo, presiding minister of the Springfield Congregation, explained that the attendance figure of 1,892 and the ordination of 24 new ministers were examples of the success of the weekend assembly.

Members of the local congregation plan to attend the annual district assembly Aug. 24-29 at Yankee Stadium.

Senator Williams Reports

By Sen. Harrison A. Williams

The 89th Congress presents a paradox. It is moving rapidly on legislation, yet prospects for a reasonably early adjournment this year seem to have vanished.

The explanation of this paradox is that the Congress is attempting to move much more in the way of major legislation this year than in the past.

Much of the impetus is coming from the White House. President Johnson has sent to the Congress no less than 86 messages this year.

And, with healthy Democratic majorities in both houses plus considerable cooperation from the Republican minority, the emphasis has been on moving legislation, rather than time-consuming maneuvering.

In fact, the only bill on which there has been prolonged debate is the Voting Rights Bill. In that instance, the Senate imposed cloture after five weeks. In years past, we were unable to shut off debate on a civil rights bill for months and months.

The Voting Rights Bill has passed the Senate and has been reported out of Committee in the House, where it seems assured of passage. However, because of differences in the two versions, it will have to go to a conference between the two Houses.

One of the most time-consuming bills of every Congress is the Housing Bill. It takes time to consider that measure because so many programs are encompassed in it.

We have just completed subcommittee hearings on the bill in the Senate and the full Banking and Currency Committee will soon take it up.

There have been numerous amendments offered, including some of mine. I am attempting to improve the Federal Open Space Act, which was part of the Omnibus Housing Bill of 1961, by increasing the federal contribution from a maximum of 30 percent to 50 percent and liberalizing the conditions under which the grants can be made.

Here's a box score on some of the other major legislation:

Medicare—passed the House, hearings completed in the Senate; Appalachia—enacted into law; Elementary-Secondary Education—enacted into law; Higher Education—approved by subcommittee in the House, hearings under way in the Senate; Water Pollution Control—passed both houses, ready for conference; Air Pollution Control—passed the Senate, no action in the House; Foreign Aid—passed the House, reported out of committee in the Senate; Presidential Succession—passed both Houses, in conference.

Also, Minimum Wage—hearings under way in the House, no action in the Senate; Legislative Reapportionment—hearings completed in the Senate, no action in the House; Farm Bill—hearings under way in the House, no action in the Senate, and Excise Tax Reduction—passed the House, reported out of committee in the Senate.

On some of the bills which I am sponsoring or co-sponsoring, here is the record to date:

Immigration—hearings under way in both Houses; Repeal of 14 (b) (right to work)—hearings under way in the House, no action in the Senate; Flood Insurance—passed the Senate, passage expected in the House; Protect American Businessmen Against the Arab Boycott—hearings under way in the Senate, a version of the bill was passed in the House; Patent Pirating—hearings under way in the Senate, no action in the House, and Migratory Labor Bills—hearings anticipated soon in the Senate, bills have not reached the House yet.

something different. Father wanted to go fishing. Mother wanted to visit places of historical interest. Joe wanted to go camping. Sally yearned for the seashore. Tom wanted to "see the sights" of New York City. All were accomplished on weekends. Then after Labor Day, this family was so pleased with the good times had, they immediately started talking about plans for next summer. They felt they had just begun! And their planning was made greater fun because they had become better acquainted through sharing and enjoying the summer weekend experience together.

SUMMER WEEKENDS
Fishing, camping, a tour to historic spots, the seashore, the sights of New York—it doesn't sound possible to weave these all into one vacation, but one family did just this—during summer weekends.

The Friday-night-to-Monday-morning summer weekend provides many opportunities for families to have fun together, to build memories that will carry throughout a lifetime. While most persons dream of fun and travel as part of a longer vacation, it is amazing how many varied activities can be made a memorable part of summer weekend pleasure.

Short trips are always the first possibility for these summer weekends, and in New Jersey we are fortunate in having enough varied geography to suit all family members. One local family of five talked over vacation plans and came to the conclusion that each member wanted to do

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
For many years my husband has corrected me every time I point to an object to which I want to draw attention. I am very demonstrative and poetic license rules my emotions. Is it considered poor manners to point a finger toward the object of your enthusiasm?

Dear Amy:
More times than not! It is improper to point at people. It is also improper to point at any object which would draw attention to yourself. Accept your husband's criticism. Draw his attention to the object of your enthusiasm verbally rather than pointedly.

Dear Amy:
Do you ever make personal appearances?
Also, if a reader writes you with a problem, would you consider it proper if they continued writing to you as time goes by as other problems arise or to make comments?

Dear Amy:
How do you change a man who talks too much? The man in question is my husband. Now that summer is almost here, he'll be sitting out on the terrace and talking up a storm to our neighbors like he does every year.

Dear Amy:
I am only in the 7th grade but I must make an important decision in a couple of months.

Dear Amy:
I have kept up a warm correspondence for years and we have become good friends as the following letter (one of many) indicates.

Since I wrote to you at Christmas time, my "gem" has indeed turned into a sparkling "precious stone." For my birthday on January 25th, she said "yes," and we became engaged on St. Valentine's Day. We are planning to be married very soon.

I felt I should bring you up to date with these latest happenings so that you may know why you might not hear from me in the future . . . not because I have forgotten, but because of circumstances. Many thanks for your nice little notes of reply which you have been so kind as to remember me with, and may the Lord bless you and guide you in your chosen vocation.

So may I again say "many thanks," and remain as you have said, a friend.

Sincerely,
Lonesome No Longer
C. C. W.

Dear Embarrassed:
If you have been fighting over this for years, and he still suffers from chronic indiscretion, there is little you can do to stop him. Persevere, my dear. The day is bound to come when he puts his foot in that big mouth. Then your troubles will be over . . . and his will start.

Any suggestions?

Two different girl friends are trying to talk me into going to two different high schools. When one girl tells me about her school, I think "That school is the one for me." Then when the other girl talks about her school, I want to go to that one.

It is a battle between St. Steve's and Augustine's. What should I do?

Dear 7th Grader:
The intelligent approach in making the right decision is to discuss it with your advisor. Then visit both schools and decide which one appeals to you the most and make your choice. Girlfriends can be helpful, but in your case, you seem thoroughly confused.

BAKING RESULTS DEPEND ON PANS, EXPERT STATES

Best results every time are not a matter of luck in baking. Nor do they depend solely on a good recipe and good ingredients. The baking pans you use are important too, says Mary W. Armstrong, senior Union County home economist.

When making a cake it helps to use just the right sized pan or pans. A cake recipe that is right for a nine inch square pan two inches deep will not give the best results in a larger shallower pan or in a smaller deeper pan.

Apart from the appearance of the finished cake, the cooking time will need adjusting. Use of too small capacity pans such as cup cake pans, layer cake pans or Turkshhead pans will surely cause overflowing and consequent difficulty in removing the cake intact from the baking pan. Besides, extra work in cleaning the oven will also result.

Regulation cookie sheets or jelly roll pans are essential to making perfect cookies, she said. Pans with too high sides interfere with even browning and round pans are apt to crowd or misshape the cookies, besides using oven space inefficiently.

Some top-stove pots and pans heat better if the bottoms are not kept polished because black absorbs heat, and shiny tin or aluminum reflects heat away. In the case of cookie sheets, however, a bright and shiny surface reflects heat so that cookies do not become too dark on the bottom before browning evenly on top, the economist said.

Cookie sheets should be the right size for the oven for best results. Select sheets or pans that will allow at least one inch and a half space on all four sides when placed in the oven.

The space allows the heat to circulate and brown the cookies. Without the circulation, cookies around the edges of the pan are likely to become too brown.

Don't overlook teflon pans for baking muffins and cup cakes if you really want to save work. It's a real joy to lift the gems out whole and simply rinse out the pans and wipe them dry, she said.

A teen-age social club and swim classes will be offered again this year at the Olympic Park pool, said the spokesman. The circus acts, beginning Monday, will include the Co-

Wallpapers Help Add Or Subtract Room Proportion

Room too small or too large? Use wallpaper to help you create a look that seems to add or subtract space.

Another good way to add a spacious feeling is to cover one wall with a scenic mural. There are country meadows, seascapes, views of the Orient, quaint pastorial scenes of ancient Greece, Colonial villages with tree-lined streets...

To pull the room down in size, choose darker colors in a close, all-over design for the walls, and a deeper tone for the ceiling.

enjoy our 50c Family Tour, our prescription for a sure "cure" for the "relocation blues." So start "er up and begin.

Take Five Enjoy a smoke and then proceed to 45 Wilson Avenue (North Plainfield) near the high school. It's a delightfully cheerful and (darn pretty) ranch. Front patio, fireplace, beautiful kitchen, large bedrooms and an A-1 condition. $22,900.

Next stop for gas, buy the kids a soda (and), then scoot on over to North Plainfield's tree-lined East End, and slide by this handsome, part-stone front, 3-bedroom, 7-room, 10-year-old Georgian Colonial. Screened porch, paneled den, fireplace, full dining room and the kitchen is chef's delight. $22,900.

And while you're in the area, ride over to Park Avenue and into Cedarbrook Park and 20 Cedar Court. You'll find a 6-room Split-Level, 6-year-old, 2 1/2-bath Colonial with an on a "private" street surrounded by park. Imagine! Hundreds of acres of "own" lawn and you'll even have to cut the grass. $23,900.

And Yet West to 226 Monroe Avenue and a top-value 4-bedroom older Colonial residence (exterior to be painted) and asking only $19,900.

A Quick Step North over the highway into the green hills of Watchung and a 20-year-old, 10-year-old Georgian Colonial. Screened porch, paneled den, fireplace, full dining room and the kitchen is chef's delight. $22,900.

On the Way home, stop at 502 Watchung Avenue (Watchung) and look up. This is a 4-room, 2 1/2-bath, modern mansion combining custom construction with delicate beauty. Each room is spacious and comfortable. There's a spectacular family-game room with fireplace. $32,900.

Tired Yet? If so, make your last stop 390 Watchung Avenue, North Plainfield. Model located on GALETS TER. ONE BLOCK FROM GALLOPING HILL RD. For information, Call Model, 289-5121, Even. MU 7-3495.

Suggestion Before you begin your "tour" it would be worth-while for you to stop at our office for a "Guide" (sales representative). If you prefer doing it alone, you may stop anyway and pick up one of our special "Tour Kit" for house hunters. It includes a map, a game book (to keep the children occupied), a pen and pencil (for notes) and a few other "do-dads." We're most pleased to be able to offer you this service. If you should wish to inspect an interior or two, please call us. We'll uniform up, grab our listing book and guide your tour. By the way, (as a general comment), when riding by, give careful consideration to each one. Just don't pass up a good one. Happy Hunting (and drive carefully).

HERE YOU GO! East End, North Plainfield, beautiful area—Four Bedroom Colonial with center hall, living room, formal dining room, large bright kitchen, large front porch can be easily converted into a 2-family; excellent condition! Will take G.I. or F.V.O. Only $17,900 Gallagher - Mortara REALTORS 80 Watchung Ave., No. Pld., PL 7-1232

LEON GRUBER

Leon Gruber, proprietor of Gruber's Stores for Men and Boys in Irvington and Union and a third clothing shop in West Orange, celebrated his 40th anniversary in business last week with a dinner for his employees at Goldmans Hotel, West Orange.
 Singled out for service honors at the affair were two veteran employees of the Irvington Center store, Edward Parent and Milton Krauss. Both received engraved gold wristwatches for their 30-year tenure.
 Gruber established the business in 1923 in a small shop on Clinton Ave., at Passaic Ave., Newark, selling only men's hats and caps.
 His business growing rapidly, Gruber decided to expand and in 1932 moved to his present location at Irvington Center, adding men's haberdashery to his line. In a few years clothing was also added.
 In 1948 Gruber opened a second shop at Union Center and this store too soon outgrew its facilities.
 In 1958 a third shop was

Five-Year Program Scheduled At School

The Union-County Technical Institute has agreed to set up a five-year program for state highway department employees on a three-night-a-week basis. The program will give participants the same status as if they were attending a junior engineering college, it was announced this week.

Leonard W. Simmons, of Roselle, president of the Union County Vocational Board of Education, which manages the institute, pointed out that the agency has been operating an evening three-year program for the highway department employees just below the level of engineer.

State Highway Department representatives recently conferred with the institute about a plan of setting up the five-year program as well as establishing new classes for northern New Jersey and one each for Central and South Jersey.

The institute has had a class of 18 students over a three-year period of operation of the course, Simmons said. He said, "The course opens a door into a new engineering block for the students."

Courses include elementary and advanced drafting fundamentals, highway drafting, surveying, chemistry, soil mechanics, strength of materials, concrete testing, asphalt testing, mapping and computing, geology and contracts and specifications.

The five-year program also includes eight mathematics courses, four physics courses and three in human relations.

The new program, like the present one, will be conducted with the approval and cooperation of the State Highway Department and the New Jersey Civil Service Commission, Simmons reported.

The tournament is open to residents of Roselle, Roselle Park, Rahway, Clark, Cranford, Hillside, Union, and Elizabeth, and will have men's singles, men's doubles, and women's singles events.

Frank Stuber, Elizabeth, won the men's singles championship in 1964; Stuber and Cephas Monnett of Rahway won the men's doubles championship; and the women's championship was won by Mrs. Ruth W. McFall of Union.

Entry forms are now available at the Warinanco Park tennis courts.

Entries will close at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, June 22, with George T. Cron, superintendent, of recreation, the Union County Park Commission, Box 275, Elizabeth.

Net Clinic To Open At Roselle July 6

A six-session summer tennis clinic will be conducted by the Union County Park Commission at the Warinanco Park tennis courts, Roselle, beginning Tuesday, July 6 at 10 a.m.

The classes are open to boys and girls, from eight to 16 years of age, who desire to learn to play tennis or to develop a better game. The classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 to 11 a.m. until Thursday, July 22, session 7 until mid the day.

The instruction program will be given by Bill Wertheimer of Cranford, who played on the tennis team at Lafayette College.
