Republican Team Squeaks To Victory In Borough

REAL LIVE MODEL — Four-month-old David Reiter looks a little dubious about his role in a baby-sitting course scheduled to open next Tuesday in Deerfield School, Mountainside, under the sponsorship of the Greater Westfield Section, National Council of Jewish Women. David's mother, Mrs. Sydney Reiter of Mountainside, offers an assisting hand to one of the prospective sitters, Ruth Anne Gutman, 12. Mrs. Patricia Foley, librarian at Deerfield School, holds some of the books she will discuss during lecture. (Story on Page 12.)

Dems Term Vote 'Moral Victory' But Shake Heads

Just 20 Votes Keeps Stypa From Place On Borough Council

Mountainside's Democrats gathered Tuesday night at the home of Joseph Stypa, one of their candidates for Borough Council, shaking their heads in disbelief at the loss of the election they thought they had won. They had counted on and received support from many Republican sources. They had counted on the resentment of the voters against the rezoning ordinance that would change present residential areas to restricted commercial classification on their nine-point platform and on the house calls they made during the last weeks of the heated campaign to bring them the victory.

They alternated between frustration that only 20 votes had kept Stypa from a seat on the Borough Council and elation that they had given their political rivals such a tough race.

Moral Victory

"It is a moral victory," the municipal chairman, Chester Allen, stated positively. "They (the Republicans) never thought we'd get that near them."

Allen and several of the party supporters also pointed to the fact that their majority candidate, William Seeds, in his first political race in the borough trailed incumbent Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. by only 112 votes, counting that another "moral victory."

Seeds, Stypa and their running mate, John Wroblewski, took time out from the after-election party to go to the Mountainside Inn to congratulate their victorious opponents.

The defeated trio expressed their gratification at the strong showing their ticket made, pointing out that the local Democratic vote on the local level represented 48.6 per cent of the total ballots cast.

They also expressed their (Continued on Page 12)

Five Districts Go To Slate Of Dems; District 2 Is Key

Wilhelms Tops Slate With 1,544 Ballots; Spain, Brandt Win

The Republican team, led by Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., squeaked to victory in Mountainside's local elections Tuesday despite the fact that three of the borough's five districts went to the Democratic slate.

Wilhelms' home district, District 2, saved the day -- and the election -- for the mayor and his Councilman running mates, B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, by giving them a plurality large enough to overcome the Democratic leads in three other districts.

Joseph Stypa, one of the two Democratic candidates for Borough Council, trailed Brandt, low man on the GOP ticket, by only 20 votes with the absentee votes yet to be counted. Stypa, the Democrats' top vote getter, trailed by 178 votes in the 1964 election.

Tops Local Slate

Wilhelms, the top man on the local slate, collected a total of 1,544 votes compared to 1,432 for his Democratic opponent, William B. Seeds. Spain had 1,528 votes, Brandt, 1,496, and John Wroblewski, the other Democratic Council aspirant, 1,416.

Both sides conceded that the election was a victory, even if a close one, for Wilhelms. "Everybody voted either for or against Wilhelms," one worker said. Voting crossed party lines, a fact strikingly indicated by the tremendous lead given in the borough to the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Wayne Dumont, and the GOP state senatorial hopefuls, Nelson Stamler and John McDonough, compared to the narrow plurality collected by the Republican municipal slate.

Both sides also agreed that the controversial rezoning ordinance which the all-Republican Borough Council has attempted to push through to final passage despite heated public protests was another contributing factor to the narrow margin by which the Wilhelms team won the election in this historically Republican community.

Offset Lead

The Democrats, who took District 4 last year, the first time in history that any district in the borough fell from the GOP ranks, took three districts this year. Seeds topped Wilhelms in Districts 1, 3 and 4. Stypa and Wroblewski polled more votes than Spain and Brandt in Districts 1, 4 and 5. However the heavy plurality given to the Republicans in District 2 offset the slimmer leads the Democrats collected in the other districts.

Republican district leaders who crowded into Borough Hall for the final count after the polling places closed were obviously worried about the outcome.

"Add them up, add them up," one urged (meaning the votes) "I can't wait any longer -- I'm afraid we've lost."

Chester Allen, Democratic municipal chairman, although disappointed by the defeat of his party's candidates pointed out that the Democrats have been showing steady gains in municipal elections in the past few years.

"It's just a matter of time until we win," he said.

Republican Winners Pledge Improvement Of Community

WILFRED BRANDT, B. DEAN SPAIN, FREDERICK WILHELMS

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms, Councilman B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, Republican victors in Mountainside's municipal elections, pledged themselves Tuesday night to work "constantly to improve our community." They also thanked all those who "worked so hard" in the election and the preceding campaign.

Gene Simpson, who served as publicity chairman for the GOP slate, hailed the victory as a "dramatic victory for Fred Wilhelms." The fact that Wilhelms, with a total of 1,544 votes, was top man among the local candidates was indicative of the voters' recognition of "his ability and dedication to the community."

The Republicans, about 150 strong, gathered in the Mountainside Inn for their traditional victory party. The atmosphere was relieved, rather than triumphant, totally unlike post-election parties of previous years when victorious Republicans, secure in a strong plurality, gaily and noisily toasted their standard bearers.

Many old-line Republicans, who were always among the celebrants at victory parties in previous years, were not among the guests Tuesday night. Several of them worked actively behind the scenes for the Democratic slate. Wilhelms and his supporters were not unaware of their defection and they expected it to be reflected in the election returns. No comment was offered on the narrow margin of the victory. "Just say we won," one ardent supporter stated with finality.

Loyal and dissident Republicans and many Democrats agreed with Simpson's evaluation of the election as a "dramatic victory" for Wilhelms. The vote, they agreed, was either "for or against Wilhelms and Wilhelms won."

Musical Program Given At Annual PTA Convention

A musical extravaganza, created and directed by Aden Lewis, coordinator of music in Mountainside schools, Mrs. Frederick Wilhelms Jr., wife of the borough's mayor, and Jack Platt, music director at Newark State College, was the high spot at the annual banquet of the State Parent and Teachers Association.

The production, "Remember When," was presented before over 4,000 PTA delegates and members last Thursday evening in Convention Hall, Atlantic City. Platt served as narrator for the production which coordinated the history of the PTA with the music of the decades since the beginning of the 20th century. PTA singing groups from all over the state participated in the production.

Mrs. Wilhelms, Lewis and Platt travelled all over the state in past months, rolling up a total of over 1,000 miles, to rehearse the various groups. All the narration, coordination and special material was created by the three.

Several Mountainside women participated with the Union County PTA Chorus in its part in the extravaganza, the musical high spots of the 1930's.

Mrs. Charles Brackbill, president of the Mountainside PTA, and Mrs. James Murdock, PTA vice-president for Echobrook School, were the borough's voting delegates at the convention. Several other members attended many of the sessions of the three-day state meeting.

LaCorte Re-Elected To Seat In Assembly

Nicholas St. John LaCorte, Borough Attorney for Mountainside, was re-elected Tuesday to his seat in the N.J. State Assembly.

LaCorte and Frank X. McDermott were the only two Republican Assembly candidates to withstand the Democratic sweep in the state. LaCorte polled 1,864 votes in this borough.

Musical Program Fails To Cast Vote -- 1st Time In 79 Years

George Reynolds of 1434 Fernwood rd., Mountainside, didn't vote Tuesday -- the first time in 79 years that he has missed a general election.

Reynolds, a dyed-in-the-wool Republican who celebrated his 100th birthday last spring, is recovering from a bout with pneumonia, the seventh such siege he has suffered in the last few years.

His nurse, Mrs. Jessica Smaje, said he was still too ill to go to the polls. Mrs. Smaje herself, who has for the past several years accompanied Reynolds to the voting place in Echobrook School, was unable to vote herself because of an injured knee and because she could not leave her patient.

A fervent Democrat, she regretted that she was not able to vote for Richard Hughes for governor.

"Anyway if we both got to the polls, we would just have cancelled out each other's votes," she said, "we've been doing that for years."

Community Drive Hits 30% Of Goal

Contributions to Mountainside's Community Fund Drive have reached approximately 30 percent of the $15,700 goal set for 1965, the chairman, John Keenan, reported this week.

Keenan praised the volunteers who have been working on the drive since it opened on Oct. 23. He expressed the hope that they would continue "their fine work" so the drive can be concluded by next Monday.

The chairman termed the drive so far a "big success" and predicted that the goal will be reached. Industry and residents of the borough have donated generously to the drive, Keenan concluded.

Catcher Torborg, Now Living Here, Speaks At Dinner

Jeff Torborg, catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers who recently moved into his new home at 1375 Chapel Hill, Mountainside, will be the guest speaker tomorrow evening at the father and son banquet in the First Baptist Church of Westfield. The affair is scheduled to open at 6:30.

An active participant in Little League, high school and college athletics, Torborg will tell of his experiences with the Dodgers and of the kind of training and experience that prepared him for the Big League. His big moment of catching Sandy Kousser's perfect no-hit game will also be part of his talk.

The program which is sponsored by the church's Men's Club, will be under the direction of Fred Banes, president. The program will also include a baseball quiz for fathers and sons, a take-off on "Casey at the Bat" and other entertainment.

ECHO PROFILE -- Joseph Farley

At a recent meeting of Mountainside's Borough Council, Councilman B. Dean Spain spoke of the urgent need for new members for the borough's Rescue Squad. Spain warned that the squad may have to cease or curtail its operation if additional residents do not offer to serve.

No one knows the truth of Spain's statements better than Joseph Farley, a member of the squad who was seated in the audience that evening.

Because of the shortage of help, Farley serves as squad dispatcher four or five nights a week. This means that he must stand by for calls so the cry for help can be answered quickly and efficiently. As dispatcher, he accepts the call from the police and arranges to get the crew for the ambulance. Since the squad averages about 25 calls a month it is quite evident that Farley and his wife have few free evenings for social gatherings.

They and their two children, Bob, 16, and Eileen, 14, had no vacation this past summer. The head of the clan was standing by for the Rescue Squad since the squad's active members, about 13 in number, are badly depleted during the summer months. Farley is hoping to make it up to his family by taking them to the shore next summer -- "that is if we can get new members for the squad."

One week this summer Joe put in 108 hours -- "I had to," he states simply, "else the squad would have folded up."

Farley's worry about the possible curtailment of the squad's services reflects the concern of all the members who have done yeoman's work keeping the ambulance rolling. The Westfield Squad, itself plagued by a manpower shortage, will no longer accept transportation calls outside (Continued on Page 6)

Election Day Dinner Served By Scouts

About 135 people attended the spaghetti dinner served in Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, on Election Day by Girl Scout Cadet Troop 424.

The 28 girls, under the direction of Mrs. Robert White, served a sit-down dinner to their parents and families Tuesday evening in the parish house of the church on Meeting House Lane. Mothers of six of the girls had prepared the meatballs and sauce in advance.

The Girl Scouts went to the church immediately after school to set the tables, arrange the flower center pieces and prepare the salads. They were also responsible for the cleaning up.

Raise Money

According to Mrs. William Shalleross, troop leader, and Mrs. Louis Parent, assistant leader, the dinner was one of several projects planned by the girls to raise money for a three-day sightseeing trip to Washington, D. C.

The Cadets, all seventh and eighth graders, will make the trip the last weekend in April. Accompanied by four adults and two Senior Scouts, they will travel by chartered bus, staying at Rockwood National Girl Scout Camp, Potomac, Md., about 12 miles outside the nation's capital. The bus will take the troop and the accompanying adults on tours through Washington, D. C. Troop 424, one of the most active troops in the borough, spent a recent weekend at Camp Lou Henry Hoover in Swartswood Lake. They were hostesses recently to newly organized Cadet Troop at a campfire held in the parking lot of Community Presbyterian Church.

Two Awarded Pins For Hospital Service

Mrs. Mayera Cohen and Miss Lynne McMurray of Mountainside have been awarded 100 hour pins for volunteer work at the John E. Rannels Hospital for Chest Diseases, Berkeley Heights.

They were among 37 volunteers who were honored at the hospital's third annual awards ceremony Friday at 8 p.m. Dr. Eugene Nargiello, hospital superintendent and medical director, presented the awards.

THE MISTY MAGIC of the Irish countryside... the Upper Lake of the Lakes of Killarney in County Kerry, Ireland (South) where leprechauns abound of course...

A FEMININE LOOK

Commentary on a recent National Newspaper Association Study Mission to the British Isles and Scandinavia

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Third of a Series THE IRELANDS

In the United States we wonder what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, but in Europe one wonders what the prime minister of North Ireland will say to the prime minister of South Ireland. And not only what, but WHEN.

Apparently nothing is said between them as a rule, for when our National Newspaper Association Study Mission Group was in "the Irelands" this summer, there was quite some excitement about a meeting.

The fact that Prime Minister Terrence M. O'Neill of Northern Ireland, which is an integral part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and therefore a member of the Commonwealth, and Prime Minister Sean F. Lemass of the Republic of Ireland in the south, which is completely independent and not a member of the Commonwealth, were to meet gave many people the hope that the two Irelands might begin negotiations for unity.

But instead, it only seemed to be a case of one prime minister saying "hello" and the other prime minister saying "goodbye" and nothing much else.

At any rate, when our Study Mission Group met Captain O'Neill of the North this summer in Belfast, he strongly stated that the only thing that could make all Ireland one united land again was for South Ireland to join the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. He was quite adamant in his opinion and apparently gave no consideration to Northern Ireland, fondly called Ulster, joining the Republic of Ireland, fondly called Eire, to create one independent nation.

We met Captain the Rt. Hon. Terrence O'Neill, DL, MP, at an evening reception in the ballroom of "Stormont", the palace-type parliament building on top of one of the highest hills in Belfast. The "Captain" title derives from service in a regiment during World War II, and the "prime minister" title goes with the position, but actually, since Northern Ireland is a country within the UK, it is more a governorship. Either way, Captain O'Neill was tall, young, gay, gracious, intelligent, and we were impressed.

AS FOR IRELAND (south) we did not meet the prime minister who is a full prime minister, but we did meet the president, Eamon de Valera, who seems to hover over Ireland forever, like an Irish de Gaulle. He was tall too, almost 83, gay, gracious, intelligent and we were impressed. At 82 he is probably the longest-run top level government official in the world, and at 82 he is the host with the most.

We met him at an afternoon reception at his residence and he was absolutely charming. He told one story after another as we were served one Irish whiskey after another. We walked around with him in the garden and a reception room of the residence as TV cameras went around also. He noticed me scanning my camera one time top and considerably offered to go out in the garden to pose, and, guess what — I was out of film!

He also told us about his attempt to get to Texas. "I've been to most every state," he said, "but not to Texas." Then he related how he approached it from the east side and from the west side and that his actual goal was Texas, "but something always prevented me," he said.

As president of Ireland in the south, de Valera stands for independence. The South Irishlanders would "rather fight than switch" also. The only way for Irish unity THEY say, is for Northern Ireland to forsake the United Kingdom status and join the Republic of Ireland in independence.

And so, apparently, never the twain shall meet. Ironically, individual Irishmen seem to yearn for a "single" Ireland, but not one of them seems willing to concede doing it any way but their way. So surely, the twain will have trouble.

There is, however, a provocative little fact hanging about which is subject to much lively discussion. Ireland (south) feels it will be a member of the European Common Market by 1970, but despite its differences with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, it still is closely tied to them commercially and economically, and claims it will not join the Common Market unless Britain does. So, economics being what they are today, both Irelands, may find they belong to the same club, and, economic pressure being what it is, they may also find that in spite of themselves, the economics of the two regions will become increasingly reciprocal — and what will THAT do to togetherness? ? ? ?

AT ANY RATE, whatever way, Ireland — all Ireland — is a charmer: the North of Ireland, the South of Ireland, the people, the places AND the leprechauns. Of course there are leprechauns; do you doubt it? In Ireland you wouldn't. It seems perfectly logical when you are there. Many people thought we had one right on our private bus.

We began our enchanted Irish journey early one morning at Shannon Airport on the west side of Ireland with dense fog, no breakfast, the Leprechaun and Irish Coffee. These last two at least gave us a jolly start for our coach (bus) ride to Kiharney where we arrived at noon. After several days we went on to Blarney, Cork, Dublin and over the east border to North Ireland and Belfast. From Belfast we went to the tip of the north coast to Portrush and then returned toward Belfast to Larne where we caught the steamer to Scotland. We did all this in the same two coaches all the way covering about 500 miles and "suffering" 60 to 70 degree weather conditions in August — and some rain. It was wonderful.

And, as the representative from the tourist bureau who traveled with us as our guide and private leprechaun, said, "it's a fair and bae-yute-teeful land where it is still a man's world — and a woman is free to do as she is told."

And, like it or not, 'tis true, every wee bit of it.

But no leprechaun would talk like that!

That guide must have been a man.

Rutgers Students Display Support Of Policy On Viet

Nearly 60 percent of the 5,700 students at the men's colleges of Rutgers University have signed a petition supporting current U. S. policy in Viet Nam, it was announced this week.

More than 3,250 signatures have been obtained by a small group of volunteers who began circulating the petition at Rutgers a week ago, the announcement said.

The signatures are scheduled to be presented to Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams and the New Jersey Congressional delegation tomorrow in Case's Washington office.

The drive to show support at Rutgers for American actions in Viet Nam was organized and sponsored by officers of the Rutgers-Douglass Youth Citizens for Hughes and the Rutgers-Douglass Young Republicans.

The statement carried on the petition reads: "We, the undersigned students of Rutgers, the State University, support the current United States foreign policy in Viet Nam."

A similar statement has been adopted by a committee of students at Douglass College, the women's unit of the State University, and is now being circulated on the Douglass campus, a spokesman said.

Jersey Beagle Club Has Fall Field Trials

Following the successful completion of its 53rd Annual AKC Licensed Field Trial recently, the New Jersey Beagle Club will hold its next trial beginning Sunday, Nov. 14. The November field event will be for derbies only. All age hounds will not be permitted to run.

In the recent trials, held at its club ground on Hollow rd. in Belle Mead, Skullfork Lou took the field championship over 146 entries. Judging was handled by Paul Hasting and Key Brittingham of Delaware with Art Curren of Cedar Grove as field marshal.

PERILOUS HAVEN

With the coming of cold weather it is natural for people of all ages to spend more time indoors. We come into the house to keep from dying of exposure, but equal or even greater threats to life and limb can and often do lurk within the encompassing confines of home.

Stairways, waxed floors, worn carpets, skidding throw-rugs, flimsy chairs, slippery bathtubs—all can traitorously tempt you! Faulty electrical outlets, appliances, fixtures, and cords can shock the life out of you. Leaking gas pipes or stove flues threaten to asphyxiate you. Poison waits for the unwary one who carelessly dips into disorderly medicine chests or storage cupboards.

$3 Million Ready For Yule Savers

"Checks totalling over $3,000,000, which includes $20,000 in dividends as a bonus, were prepared last week for 21,240 members of the Howard Savings Institution's 1965 Christmas Club," stated Howard President John W. Kress.

Commented Kress, "This fine record is indicative of the popularity of our reward system of paying dividends on all completed clubs. We will again pay a dividend, in the form of a bonus to all who complete their 1966 Christmas Club accounts." "Furthermore," Kress continued, "thrift does not really end with the payment of the Christmas Club. We are expecting about one-third of these outgoing checks to be returned to us as new accounts or as additional deposits on regular savings accounts. The balance of the funds are expected to be used to 'prepay' holiday or year-end expenses."

The Howard opened the 1966 Christmas Club at all 10 of its offices Monday.

Motorist Injured As Car Crashes Into Utility Pole

A Rahway man was taken to Overlook Hospital Monday morning by Mountainside's Rescue Squad after the car he was driving crashed into a utility pole on Mountain ave. He was treated for minor injuries and discharged.

The injured man, Joseph H. Updegrave, told police he swerved to avoid hitting a dog and struck the pole. He was charged with careless driving.

Wilhelmina Mee of Youkers, N. Y., and Harold R. Dravis of Roselle were involved in an accident Sunday on Rt. 22 near the intersection of New Providence rd. The Youkers woman told police she had stopped for the caution light at the intersection when the car driven by Dravis hit her vehicle in the rear. The Dravis' car was towed to E. & H. Sunoco station. The Mee vehicle was removed under its own power.

Cars operated by Elizabeth H. Wade of Westfield and Charles Lourine of Brooklyn crashed last Saturday in the westbound lane of Rt. 22 near Central ave. Mrs. Wade told police she had pulled into the slow lane of Rt. 22 from Central ave. when Lourine's vehicle hit her in the rear. Lourine told police Mrs. Wade pulled in front of him into the fast lane after turning from Central ave.

An art exhibit, including many award-winning works, is on display this week at Hahne and Co., Westfield, in observance of American Art Week. The exhibit, the third annual one, was prepared by the art department of the Woman's Club of Mountainside.

BEFORE THE BALL: Preparations for the annual dance of the Mountainside Music Association start on the drawing board. The dance chairman, Mrs. Truman Toland, left, supervises fellow members, Mrs. William McCurley, Mrs.

Eugene H. Gilman and Mrs. Robert Hose, in preparing posters to publicize the affair which will be held tomorrow in Deerfield School.

Gets Jail Sentence For Auto Violations

A Warren Township man was sentenced to two months in the Union County Jail by Magistrate Jacob Bauer in Mountainside's Municipal Court last week for driving while on the revoked list. The revokee, David Sproule, was unable to pay the $410 in fines levied against him on two summonses for driving while his license was suspended.

Another revokee, Merle Bancroft of Carteret, paid $250 for driving while on the revoked list, $30 for using fictitious plates and a suspended sentence plus $5 costs of court for driving an unregistered vehicle. Willard Edwards of Newark was fined $205 for driving while on the revoked list.

Olin Barfield of Zellwood, Fla., was fined $122 for eight summonses on various charges including driving his tractor-trailer without proper lights or wiring and driving without proper registration in his possession for either part of his rig.

Others who were fined in the same court session are J. D. Presente of Hillside, failure to keep right, suspended sentence and $5 costs of court Milton Sumkin of Plainfield, passing on right, $15; James Doyle of Jersey City, no driver's license in possession, $15 and $10 contempt of court; Joseph Rodgers of Lewistown, Pa., disregarding traffic signal, $15 and $10 contempt of court; Charles Seagraves of East Orange, no registration in possession, $15.

Also: Academy Contractors of Livingston, no name and address on commercial vehicle, $15; Theodore Marcus of Edison, no re-inspection, $15 and $5 contempt of court; Arthur Lepore of Summit, careless driving, $25; Richard Falk of Flemington, failure to wear corrective glasses, $15 and $5 contempt of court; Rimback Storage Co. of Millburn, no inspection sticker displayed, $15 and $5 contempt of court; Transloric Trucking Corp. of Jersey City, no name and address on commercial vehicle, $15 and $10 contempt of court.

Also: Alfred Hemmensinger of Irvington, no re-inspection, $15 and $5 contempt of court; Frederick Furer of Newark, no registration in possession, $15 and no license in possession, $15; Depen Trucking Corp. of Lakewood, no inspection, $5 and no name and address on commercial vehicle, $15; Russell Watson of Jersey City, no registration in possession, $15; F. & V. Churillo of Brooklyn, plates wired on, $10, driving without lights, $15 and using other plates, $10.

Also: Grove Warehouse Co. of Jersey City, improper display of name and address on commercial vehicle, $15; Robert West of Jersey City, no registration for trailer, $15, allowing unlicensed driver to operate vehicle, $30 and operating a vehicle without a licensed driver, $15; Kenneth Skizay of Scotch Plains, no name and address on commercial vehicle, $15.

Two Mountainsiders Attend Bridgeport

Two students from Mountainside are among the 4,000 full-time students enrolled this year at the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Conn.

They are Barbara J. Buck, 228 Central ave., junior, nursing, and Dolores J. Winter, 1038 Charles st., sophomore, fashion merchandising.

Visiting Days Set For Ice Skaters

A three-day open house will be held this weekend at the new Ralph Evans Ice Skating School located at 215 North ave., Westfield. Visiting hours will be 6 to 8 p. m. Friday and 2 to 4 p. m. Saturday and Sunday.

Refreshments will be held for classes scheduled to start the middle of November. Hosts for the open house will be Ralph Evans, creator of the Evans Method of ice skating instruction, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mapes, who will serve as managers and instructors at the school.

Evans said he has opened this Westfield school to answer the demands of many Union County residents who have become familiar with his teaching methods at the Millburn school he has run for five years.

Pingry 5th Graders To Visit N.Y. Museum

David Minick of 1503 Woodacres dr., Mountainside, a 5th grader at the Pingry School in Hillside, will visit the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York on Friday, Nov. 12.

He will be on a class trip under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas F. Jackson and Mrs. Miller A. Bugliari. The trip will mark the culmination of a study of Green myths.

Features of the visitation will be a film on the Western heritage from ancient Greece and a gallery tour and lecture on art having to do with Green mythology.

Freshman Students

Miss Linda R. and Allen J. Hambacher Jr., both of 1117 Mountain ave., Mountainside, are among 309 students who are freshmen in the Evening Session this semester at Union Junior College, Cranford.

Miss Hambacher is enrolled at UJC as a liberal arts major, while Hambacher is majoring in business administration.

Giannakis Bowls Highest Series

Ernie Giannakis, owner and sponsor of the Mountainside Luncheonette team, came up with the highest game and series of his bowling career last week as he led his league-leading team to a sweep victory over Satellite Diner with a 548 series including a 212 game.

The team finished in 15th place last year under a different sponsor, and is currently referred to around the Men's Bowling League circuit as the "amazins" Luncheonette.

Other three-game victories went to Villani Lift Truck Service over the Mountainside Police and Chrones Tavern over Owens Flying "A." Two-game wins went to Drewettes Nursery, Benninger - Tansey Agency, Mountainside Drug, Mountainside Plumbing and Heating and Westfield National Bank.

Individual honors went to John Karmazyn with a 601 series including a 210 game. Other high games were rolled by Al Savonia, 234, Leon Friedman, 214, Jerry Stern, 211 and 201, Bob McCormack and Charles Honecker Sr., 206, Charles Honecker Jr., 205, Marty Preis, 204, Dom, Lambertia, 203, Sal Severini, 202, and Don Tambini, 200.

Plainfield Man Set To Answer Traffic Violations

George J. Molisee of Plainfield is scheduled to appear in Mountainside's Municipal Court next Wednesday evening to answer charges of careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Molisee was involved in two accidents early last Friday morning when he was driving the wrong way in the eastbound lane of Rt. 22, according to police. His vehicle hit a car driven by Elizabeth Johnson of Newark at 12:10 a. m. near police headquarters but failed to stop. Five minutes later Molisee's vehicle was involved in a head-on crash with a car driven by George Wolcott of Somerville. The crash sent the Wolcott car into the path of a third car driven by Virginia McGovern of 310 Old Grove rd., Mountainside.

Molisee, Wolcott and Winston Mound, a passenger in Wolcott's car, were all taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad. Molisee was released Sunday. Wolcott and Mound are still in the hospital. Wolcott suffered a fractured rib and a possible shoulder fracture. Mound has head injuries and lacerations of the lip.

Neither of the women involved in the two accidents was injured.

Lynn E. Van Voorhies of 10 Bayberry lane, Mountainside, is enrolled as a freshman at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, N. H.

Editor From London To Speak On Jewry

William Frankel, editor of the London Jewish Chronicle, will be the guest speaker next Sunday at the opening lecture of a series sponsored by the adult education committee of five Jewish congregations.

Frankel's talk on "Can European Jewry Recover?" will be presented at 8 p. m. in Temple Beth El, Cranford, one of the participating congregations.

Other congregations participating in the series, entitled "The Changing Patterns of Jewish Life in the Modern World," are Congregation Adath Yisrael of Woodbridge, Congregation Beth Am of Colonia, Congregation Beth Torah of Rahway and Temple Emanu-El of Westfield. Sunday's speaker has served as secretary of the Mizrahi, the religious Zionists; is a former member of the board of deputies of British Jewry, and a member of the executive council of the United Synagogues.

Tickets for the series or for individual lectures may be obtained at the offices of the participating congregations.

Weekend Camp For Local Troop

All second class and higher ranked members of Boy Scout Troop 76 of Mountainside will spend this weekend camping out at Valley Forge, Pa. The Scouts will leave from Deerfield School on Central ave. Saturday at 6:45 a. m. and return around 1 p. m. Sunday to the same spot.

The trip was planned to help the boys gain appreciation of the American heritage by retracing footsteps of the American revolutionary soldier by means of compass and pacing.

At a Court of Review held last Friday night Tim Williams was advanced from second class to first class scout.

Troop 76 is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Mountainside.

794 Given TB Tests, 1,089 Get Chest Films

A six month report of work by the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League for its tuberculosis clinic shows that a total of 794 people have been given tuberculin tests, 1,089 people have had screening chest films, 1,215 people have had diagnostic X-rays, and 711 patients have been seen by the clinic physicians to evaluate their progress and explain their treatment. The Tuberculosis League provides the clinic and case finding services with funds received from Christmas Seal contributions, aided by a grant of $5,000 from the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders,—it was announced this week. The Surgeon General's Task Force on Tuberculosis last year gave the top priority to the availability of clinic services for nonhospitalized active cases, cases inactive less than five years, and contacts of new active cases, and to screening facilities for identifying persons at risk of spreading tuberculosis infection.

The 794 tuberculin tests were given principally to persons known to have been in contact with an active case of tuberculosis, and to associates of young positive reactors to identify the source of infection. Diagnosed through the tuberculin testing and X-raying of reactors were one case of active tuberculosis, and three previously unknown inactive cases. Several children were placed on drug treatment to help prevent their developing tuberculosis, the announcement said.

The 1,089 screening films taken included 292 in the survey of county welfare clients and 797 in the county jail survey. These two screening programs in six months have found six active cases of tuberculosis and two previously unknown inactive cases of tuberculosis.

Because of limited facilities the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League is able to provide diagnostic X-rays only on a priority basis. The priorities are those established by the U. S. Public Health Service and the N. J. State Health Department. The 1,215 diagnostic films taken by the League were for the following priority groups: non-hospitalized active cases of tuberculosis, 97 X-rays; inactive tuberculosis cases under treatment, 137 X-rays; inactive tuberculosis cases for check-up only, 140; contacts of active tuberculosis cases, 262; associates of positive reactors in child health conference, five; referrals from jail screening, 169; referrals from other screening projects and from private physicians, 266, and all other groups, 140.

In the six month period 113 new patients visited the clinic and 95 were discharged to other medical supervision, died, or were lost to follow-up.

Nebulized sputum samples were obtained from 64 patients. The number of persons seen in the clinic has nearly doubled in the past three years, the announcement added.

NSC Will Present 'Messiah' Dec. 3; Public May Join

Handel's oratorio "Messiah" will be presented Friday, Dec. 3, at Newark State College, Union, it was announced this week.

As has become traditional, interested singers throughout the area are invited to join the chorus along with students, faculty, and alumni in the eighth annual performance of this work at the college, a spokesman said. "We cordially invite you and your musical friends to participate in singing this great work as members of our Festival Chorus," Professor Jack E. Platt, chairman of the music department and director of the "Messiah" said.

Rehearsals are scheduled as follows: Tuesday evenings, Nov. 9, 16, and 23, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of the College Center. The final rehearsal will be Nov. 30, starting at 7:30 p.m. with both orchestra and chorus participating on the stage of the college's new auditorium.

Each person is expected to purchase his own copy of the "Messiah." Scores will be available for purchase at rehearsals, he said.

ECHO PROFILE

its own territory, particularly during the day. The lack of manpower and (womanpower) in the local squad may force the local squad reluctantly to take similar measures.

Farley, a slim, quiet man who takes his squad activities as a civic duty, is plainly amazed that more men cannot find time to donate one evening a week to the Rescue Squad. Women, he admits, may find it harder to accept the straight 12-hour duty they are asked to serve one day a week.

However, he points out, it is a "stand-by" assignment. Calls are funneled through the police to the day's dispatcher.

A MEMBER of the Squad for the past two years, Farley has many vivid memories of his work with the unit. The most unpleasant memory is of the day last summer when a teen-age girl drowned in Echo Lake Park after the boat in which she and three friends were riding capsized. Farley was one of the squad members who gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in that incident — his voice still cracks when he speaks of it.

"That's the kind you don't like." Other missions he and his fellow workers dread are the one-way trips to hospitals ailing children have taken in their life.

"That's rough — you know when you're taking them they won't come home — times like that I've cried all the way back — the other fellows do too." The pleasant calls — and, happily, there are many of them, are bringing the patients home again from the hospital.

"Those calls are all good, they make you feel wonderful — bringing them home again."

Farley and his family live in a four-family house on Sylvan Lane. Seriously, with no hint of self-consciousness, Farley says that he feels that his work with the Rescue Squad helps make him feel that he is contributing to the community even though, as a renter, he pays no direct taxes.

"I want to make up for that — not paying taxes — this way I'm contributing something to the community for all it gives me. Good schools for my children, police and fire protection, so many benefits."

Both the Farley children are now in Governor Livingston Regional High School; Bob is a junior and Eileen a freshman.

THE FARLEY offspring, far from resenting the time their father devotes to the Rescue Squad, are themselves interested in and enthusiastic about the work. Both have completed first aid courses for juniors and Bob is also the proud holder of a Red Cross card for completing an advanced course.

The head of the clan has an impressive record in first aid training. In addition to standard and advanced courses, he has attended weekend sessions of the Rescue Training School at Cranberry Lake and special Red Cross advanced first aid course-for-ambulance workers.

Born in New York and raised in Union, he was early trained in community responsibilities. His father used to bring him regularly to township meetings and sessions of the Municipal Court when he was a boy. It's a habit he has continued, he says with a chuckle.

"I attend most of the Borough Council meetings — like to let them know I'm keeping an eye on things."

Before joining the Rescue Squad, he was a member for four years of the Volunteer Firemen. Previous to that he served as Cubmaster for the Cub-Scout Pack of St. James Church, Springfield, and a Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 66, a Springfield troop which he was largely responsible for reactivating.

Farley is the first one to admit that his strong participation in community affairs could not be continued without a patient and understanding wife.

His wife, the former Eileen Losty of Summit, is truly an understanding wife, he says.

"Not too many women would put up with my schedule," he admits.

HE ADMITS, too, that his excuse for not going roller-skating with his wife is not, as he tells her, that he's getting too old — "I just don't have the time."

He and Eileen met at a roller-skating rink which Joe's uncle owned in Springfield. They were married 18 years ago and lived in Summit before moving to their present home nine years ago.

Eileen has found ways to fill the hours while her husband is away. Last year she flooded the back yard and went skating there. She paints in oil and makes unique and artistic little structures from unusual materials — cardboard, toothpicks, match sticks, all manner of items found around the house.

She and the children, both excellent swimmers, spend a lot of time in the summer at Forest Lodge. (Joe isn't usually with them — he's at the Rescue Squad.)

But even Joe is looking forward to a little less rugged schedule this coming summer. He's hoping that a goodly number of civic-minded residents will volunteer to assist the Squad in its efforts.

"We've got to keep 24-hour service going. We can't continue to do so if we don't get help. The need is urgent — we are in dire and desperate need of help."

Those interested are urged to come to the Rescue Squad building or just pick up the phone and call Joe Farley, 273-8928. He's usually standing by.

Tuition Aid Seen Hiking UJC Ratio Of County Pupils

Union Junior College, Cranford, expects to recruit an increasing percentage of its students from Union County in the coming years, Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, reported this week to the Board of Trustees.

Dr. MacKay said about 60 percent of all UJC students are residents of Union County, and in the next three to four years the percentage will increase to 75 or 80 percent. He explained that the increase will result from the new Tuition Aid Plan, which provides financial assistance of $200 per semester for all full-time day session students from Union County.

The Tuition Aid Plan was adopted last spring by the Union County Board of Freeholders and Union Junior College as the first implementation of the state's County College Act.

4 Area Mayors Proclaim B'nai B'rith Birthday

The mayors of Mountainside, Westfield, Scotch Plains and Fanwood met recently in the Westfield Town Hall to proclaim the 122nd birthday of B'nai B'rith, a Jewish service organization.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. of Mountainside, Mayor Russell P. Patterson of Scotch Plains, Mayor Robert H. Mulreany of Westfield and Mayor E. Sidney Hulsizer of Fanwood met with Herbert Ross of Mountainside, president of the Westfield Mountainside Area B'nai B'rith, and Mrs. Ross, president of the Women's Chapter, to commemorate the celebration which will run through Nov. 13. Arthur Sommerfeld, vice-president of the men's group, and Mrs. Susan Markson, vice-president of the area BBW, also joined the group.

An exhibit in Hahn's Department Store in Westfield will mark the kick-off of the B'nai B'rith membership drive in this area. The display will feature a collection of original drawings and engravings by A. Raymond Katz entitled "Symbolic Hebraic Art" and "Dolls For Democracy," a collection of dolls depicting national and international figures who have advanced the cause of democracy and human dignity.

The lodge president pointed to Israel supporters, homes for orphans and the aged, fighting for civil rights for all minority groups, aiding worthy young people to secure advanced education and many other projects, Ross said.

BURNING LEAVES

I thought residents of Mountainside were pretty intelligent; perhaps most are. However, when I go about town this time of the year I wish I had my GI gas mask.

Why do people keep on insisting on burning leaves and polluting the whole area? We talk so much about pollution but do nothing about it. Some people even get the idea that the smell is pleasant. The smoke from burning leaves contribute to the filth in the very air we breathe, just like buses and cigarettes — leaves actually give off deadly gases.

Let's all get real smart and stop burning leaves. Pick 'em up or leave 'em lie there. Our health is more important.

Need To Control Unwanted Sounds Sometimes Answered By Gypsum

The greatest demand in our industry today is to control the unwanted sounds that our automated society has produced. Supersonic aircraft, air conditioners, humidifiers, dehumidifiers, electric fans, electric blankets, electric clocks, and everything is automatic, and everything makes noise.

For many years, the means of controlling sound was a problem. Not so today. Now, sound control is one of our greatest opportunities. For simple, fast relief—gypsum wallboard is prescribed.

The public—apartment tenant, homeowner—always has been interested in the control of sound. But this interest has become a fervent demand since the structural trend toward use of lighter materials.

Others vitally concerned with sound are contractors, building officials, architects and lending agencies.

It is very clear that the market is ripe for more sound control in construction. And the gypsum wallboard industry has developed partition and floor-ceiling assemblies second to none in the field of sound control. Product research—by manufacturers—and testing at independent laboratories has developed a wide variety of gypsum wallboard systems with sound transmission class ratings to meet virtually any requirement.

The old problem of sound control in the building industry has become an opportunity with gypsum wallboard. Now, the kind of control owners and architects need is available—and there is no sacrifice in fire protection, speed, durability and quality.

Wasted Space Could Be Closet

Do you have wasted space in your basement? Put that unused space to work by building a closet to store out-of-season clothes. And to make it doubly valuable and functional, make it a moth-repellent cedar storage closet.

An out-of-the-way cedar closet takes the "pressure" off the other closets in the house, makes them less crowded and the garments more accessible. It also provides, during the summer months, excellent moth-free storage for the family's winter woolen garments.

Building a basement cedar closet is not a difficult job. Frequently the studding for one or more walls is already in place. Such is the case if a portion of the basement has been finished or if some shelving has been constructed. It then becomes a relatively simple matter of finishing the framing with 2x4's or 2x2's, then nailing the cedar directly to the framing.

It's a good idea, however, to use some kind of vapor barrier on all outside walls. Be sure, too, that your cedar closet includes a door which closes tightly so that you get the full effect of the cedar. Weatherstripping the door will help.

Cedar lining for building a closet is available at local lumber dealers in pre-packaged bundles containing either random or uniform lengths of lumber. The individual pieces come in easy-to-handle lengths—8 feet is the maximum size—and all are tongue and grooved with matching ends to simplify and speed the installation.

Cedar can be applied vertically or horizontally on a solid backing. If nailed to open framing, it is applied horizontally. In any case, use four-penny finishing nails and set them down about 3/4" from the top or tongue edge.

Do not apply a finish to aromatic red cedar. To do so would only serve to destroy the effectiveness of this unique wood. An occasional dusting and light sanding (about once a year) is the only maintenance required.

Blankets, Rugs 'Dryer Cleaned' In Gas Dryer

You may not realize it, but if you own a gas clothes dryer you can be a "dryer cleaning" expert. That means you don't have to send blankets or small rugs out so often to be washed or dry-cleaned to restore their resilience.

Experts of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommend that you place a blanket into your gas dryer along with a small, damp (not wet) towel, set the dial at low heat and a short time interval, and turn the switch to "on." A brief tumbling will bring new life to your blanket. It will unmat the nap and make it as springy as new.

This "damp towel" technique will also perk up pillows, draperies and bath mats.

In addition, a modern gas dryer can handle any of the new synthetic fabrics, with or without the tumbling action. All that's needed, GAMA points out, is the proper dial setting. Either the instruction manual that comes with the appliance, or the label on the garment, will tell you what the setting should be.

Insurance Should Be 'Remodeled' If Home Improvements Are Made

Earlier this year a homeowner completed extensive remodeling of his home. He enclosed a sun porch, installed wall paneling in two rooms, put wall-to-wall carpeting in three rooms and a new tile floor in the kitchen. He also installed a new furnace and had the house completely rewired.

Less than three months later, fire destroyed everything. The fire was tragic enough, but the cruellest blow was yet to come—for this homeowner had neglected to "remodel" his insurance when he remodeled his home.

His insurance (a policy he'd carried for years) protected his home against loss up to $8,000. The contents were insured for another $2,500. His insurance company delivered a check for the $10,500 total within a few days of the fire.

But the homeowner was still a $5,500 loser. Replacement cost for his home ran more than $11,000 and an inventory of the contents placed their worth at about $5,000.

Walter H. Vernier, executive vice-president of the State Farm Fire and Casualty, says situations such as this are not rare. He estimates that a very important number of the homeowners in the U. S. are under-insured today.

How can you avoid being under-insured? State Farm has these suggestions:

—Go over your fire insurance homeowners policy today with your insurance agent. See that it provides adequate funds for replacing any loss you might sustain.

—Make such a checkup a yearly routine. If any additions or improvements are made, be sure similar additions are made to your insurance coverings.

—Take yearly inventories of the contents of your home. Seemingly minor additions, maybe a new sofa, an dabble-hifi set or even new clothes—increase your personal property value and potential loss. Be sure your insurance on these contents is adequate.

WARM BIRDBATH, ROCK THE CRADLE BY ELECTRICITY

Today there are over 166 electric appliances "helping the American family live better electrically." Believe it or not, such things as electric birdbath warmers and cradle rockers do exist! You can also have an electric back scratcher or foot warmer, depending on your need of the moment.

Even Fido comes into his own with electric dog clippers and electrically heated dog houses. And fishermen and their wives will welcome the electric fish-sealer.

Most of the 166 products are in fairly common usage and the list keeps growing. Ten years ago, who would have thought of the electric toothbrush, pencil sharpener, floor washer or can opener?

Ackerson Law Hall Termed Finest Physical Plant In Land

Ackerson Hall, the new Rutgers University law center in Newark, has been hailed by the school dean, Willard Heckel, as "one of the finest physical plants in the country" for a law school. Completion this fall of the three-story gray building, now occupied by some 385 law school students and the school's staff, marked a milestone in legal education in New Jersey and a giant step forward for the State University in Newark. Ackerson Hall, on a tract of land fronting on Plane st. and in an area once dominated by shabby tenements, is the first building on the Newark-campus built for educational purposes. It will be an integral part of the overall redevelopment of a campus area for Rutgers-Newark. The Rutgers School of Law formerly was housed in the old Newark YMCA building. Other "academic" buildings include a former brewery, a razor blade factory, a barn and an insurance company building, but the new facility has been carefully tailored to include the latest in physical facilities for teaching law. The core of the new law center is the law library, which houses close to 100,000 volumes. Students are able to pore over legal books and documents in a third floor reading room constructed to emphasize an airy, natural light quality. During the day, huge windows with specially tinted glass combine with carefully selected lighting to give students the most pleasant atmosphere possible for study. The second floor of the building is devoted primarily to book stacks, which also take up a sizable portion of the basement. The second floor also contains a vault with controlled atmosphere for the preservation of rare documents. Large classrooms and smaller seminar groups take up the periphery of the library area and part of the first floor and basement. Also on the first floor are the student-alumni lounge, moot court, and offices of the Institute for Continuing Legal Education. Ackerson Hall also contains a pentagonal auditorium which seats 240 but can be divided into three smaller lecture rooms seating 80 each. The hall is named for former New Jersey Supreme Court Justice Henry E. Ackerson, who spearheaded fund raising efforts to help finance the new building soon after serious discussion on it had begun in 1950.

Warinanco To Hold Ice Skating Classes

A complete ice skating instruction program will be offered at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center this season. Instruction will be available for beginners and figure skaters, adults and children, the Union County Park Commission announced this week. Beginner instruction will be offered at the general skating sessions on Saturdays and Sundays, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. This instruction is given by qualified rink guards and is recommended for adults and children who are skating for the first time. The fee for a 20-minute period is $1.50 plus admission to the Ice Center. The instruction staff at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center includes Patricia Gillen of Clark who has an experienced background in the knowledge and techniques of figure skating, and Janet and Raymond Dusman of Elizabeth, former members of the Ice Capades. Group instruction is available for a fee of $18 for 12 lessons held weekly. For women, a "Kaffee Klatch" session will be held on Wednesdays at 10 a.m., beginning Wednesday under the direction of Pat Gillen. For "tots," three to five years of age, Mrs. Dusman will conduct sessions also on Wednesdays at 10 a.m., beginning Wednesday. A series of 12 lessons will be conducted by Dusman on Saturdays, at 1 p.m., beginning Nov. 13, for boys and girls from beginners to advanced figure skating. Another series of 12 lessons will be conducted by Pat Gillen for boys and girls who can skate forward unassisted. These sessions will be held on Sundays, at 1 p.m., beginning Nov. 14. In addition to the above instruction programs, there also will be a special instruction program for Brownies and Girl Scouts consisting of eight one-half hour lessons. These classes will be held on weekday afternoons and on Saturday mornings. The fee is $1 per girl, per session. Application for the instruction programs are now available at the Ice Center. For further information contact the recreation department of the Park Commission.

"She will bring new and fresh material and ideas to use in the kindergarten art program, and every teacher is asked to come prepared with smock and work clothes," an announcement said. Miss Mildred Kramer, kindergarten teacher at the Washington School in Union and Mrs. Gladys King, kindergarten teacher at the Brayton School, Summit, are co-chairman of the program and dinner.

Kindergarten Art Workshop Topic

The Union County kindergarten teachers of the Association of Kindergarten Educators of New Jersey will meet at the Burnet Junior High School in Union from 4 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 30, it was announced this week. A representative of the American Crayon Co. will conduct a workshop during the evening session after the dinner hour.

Women Of Methodist Church Schedule Joint Meeting, Bazaar, 'Call To Prayer'

The members of the Wesleyan Service Guild will be guests of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

There will be a short business meeting for the regular WSCS members at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Jiro Mizuno of Japan. Mrs. Mizuno will accompany her husband. The talk and slides will be on Mr. Mizuno's work in Mexico.

At present, Mr. Mizuno is a Crusade Scholar at Drew University and has been accepted as a missionary candidate of the Methodist Church for service in Hawaii. He has received his M. A. in Christian education at Seagriff College.

Hostesses for this evening will be Mrs. Nellie Marshall, Mrs. Martha Coe, Mrs. Julia Hershey, Mrs. Mildred Richards and Mrs. Wilma Schenack.

Members were asked to bring their Christmas gifts for the Methodist Homes to the November meeting or send them to the church by Nov. 28 and to be sure the outside of the gift is marked for either male or female, with sizes where necessary.

Mrs. Nellie Marshall has expressed thanks to all who helped with donations and services for the hat and food sale.

The Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church will have a church bazaar next Friday, Nov. 12, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. The bazaar tables will have Christmas cards, napkins, general greeting cards, white elephant, food and baked goods, candy, Christmas door-knob cozies, aprons and many other items.

There will be a snack bar from 11:30 to 3 which will have soups and assorted sandwiches, hot dogs and hamburgers, chicken salad, coffee, tea and cake. A pot roast dinner will be served at 4, 6 and 7 p.m. Menu for the dinner consists of tomato juice, pot roast, noodles, string beans, cole slaw, coffee and apple cake. All tickets must be purchased in advance. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Paul Schreiber (MU 6-1677) or Mrs. Erwin Keller (MU 6-2914) no later than this Tuesday.

Donations will be accepted for the white elephant, plant, food, and fancy work tables, a committee spokesman stated.

The Ladies' organizations of the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church will sponsor their annual "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary. Ione Lombardi, local preacher, will be the speaker for the evening.

Jewish Women Give Award To Mrs. Reed Next Tuesday

Mrs. Martin C. Reed of 1363 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, will be presented with the "Hannah G. Solomon Award" in recognition of her outstanding contribution to children and youth at next Tuesday's paid-up membership luncheon of the Greater Westfield Section National Council of Jewish Women.

The section president, Mrs. Bernard Robbins of Westfield, will make the presentation at the luncheon to be held in Temple Sharey Shalom, Springfield.

The award, named in honor of the founder of the National Council of Jewish Women, is one of over 200 scheduled to be presented this month by N. C. J. W. Councils all over the country in line with the biennial theme, "A Woman's Place Is In The World."

Mrs. Reed, president of the Youth Family Counseling Service for the past three years, was selected for the honor by a committee staffed by Mrs. William Gutman and Mr. Sydney Reither, both of Mountainside; Mrs. Reuber Ackerman of Cranford and Mrs. Frank Elby of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Her selection was based on her many civic and service contributions including her long service as a board member to the Youth and Family Counseling Service. A member of social service agency's executive board for several years before assuming the presidency, Mrs. Reed is credited with playing a significant and meaningful role in the growth of the Youth and Family Counseling Service.

Mrs. Reed is also presently serving her third term on the N. J. Employment Security Council, is vice-president of the Consumers League of New Jersey, director of the National Consumers League, board member of the Westfield League of Women Voters and a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

In the past she has been active in Girl Scout Work, as a Red Cross instructor and director, and a public member of state minimum wage boards. She was the state representative to the White House Conference on Aging in 1959.

She is married to Dr. Marion C. Reed. They have one son, who is now living in Germany, and two grandchildren.

NSC Psychologist Speaks To PTA On 'Environment'

Dr. Bertram Vogel, psychologist and professor at Newark State College, Union, will speak on "Environment and the Modern Child" at tonight's meeting of the Mountainside Parent-Teachers Association. The session is scheduled to open at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of Deerfield School on Central ave.

Dr. Vogel's talk is the first in a series planned to carry out the P.T.A.'s theme for the year, "Understanding of the Child's Environment," according to the program chairman, Mrs. Herbert Seidel.

"We will develop a main idea, 'Meeting the Challenges of a Changing World,' by investigating the varying relationships of the child to his home and parents, to his school and community and even to the world at large," Mrs. Seidel stated.

Refreshments will be served to teachers and parents after tonight's meeting.

Mental Health Conference Set For Union County Clergymen

The Eighth Annual Mental Health Conference for Clergymen will be held Monday at the Woman's Club of Westfield, 318 So. Euclid ave., Westfield. It was announced this week by Thomas P. Prout Jr., president of the Union County Association for Mental Health, and Mrs. Walter R. Good, chairman of the Conference Committee.

All clergymen in Union County have been invited to attend. The discussion will center around the topic of ministering to the mentally ill and their families.

The morning session will be devoted to a discussion of how the clergyman can help the severely disturbed. There will be presentations made by three members of the staff of the Marlboro State Hospital: Declan O'Scanlon, M.D., clinical psychiatrist; Linus B. Root, M.D., clinical psychiatrist, and Rev. John H. Fowler, protestant chaplain, Prout said.

Following the luncheon session, there will be a discussion of the respective roles of the clergy and clinic in helping the mentally ill and their families. For this session there will be presentations by staff members of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic: William E. Ganss, M.D., medical director; Benjamin H. Haddock, M.S., executive director; Alfred M. Rubenstein, M.A., chief psychologist, and Barbara A. Straker, M.S., chief psychiatric social worker.

"This educational program is another one in the wide range of activities of the Union County Association for Mental Health aimed at developing a better understanding of the problems of the mentally ill.

"It has been demonstrated that the clergy form a very important group in the community dealing with this nation's most serious health problem—mental illness. The clergyman, while carrying out his duties is often in contact with many members of the community and is called upon to advise and counsel, in addition to his role as a religious leader. It becomes increasingly important that the clergyman be able to recognize psychological difficulties and be prepared to handle them.

"We are extremely grateful for the cooperation of the two most important treatment agencies in developing this program for the clergy," it was stated by Mrs. Good, Conference chairman. Marlboro State Hospital and the Union County Psychiatric Clinic have extended their interests in working with the mentally ill of our county. Both of these agencies have reached out into the community in order to develop better understanding of the nature of the problems of the mentally ill," Prout said.

Following the workshops, the Conference will be concluded by a presentation by Benjamin S. Eitinger, executive director of the Union County Association for Mental Health and chairman of the Mental Health Planning Committee on the next steps in the implementation of the planning report for Union County.

10-Year-Old Girl Remains Critical In Swing Mishap

Linda Clark, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark of 154 Walnut ave., Mountainside, was in critical condition at press time in Overlook Hospital, Summit, where she was taken Saturday afternoon after she was injured in Echo Lake Park.

Linda, a fifth grader in Echo-brook School, was playing with two friends, Patricia McDowell of 176 Walnut ave. and Geraldine Debbie of 160 Locust ave., in the Mountainside section of the county park, near Rt. 22, when she was hit in the forehead by a swing.

Mountainside Police and the Rescue Squad were summoned by the child's mother after the McDowell girl informed her of the accident.

According to the Union County Park Police, who were called in by the local police, Linda suffered a fractured vertebrae of the neck.

'Sitters' Training Course Slated At Deerfield School

A "baby-sitters" training course, sponsored by the Greater Westfield Section, National Council of Jewish Women, will be given on Nov. 9, 10, and 16 in the all-purpose room of Deerfield School, Mountainside. This course will run from 3:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the three days and is open to all seventh and eighth grade students.

In order to receive a "Qualified Baby Sitter's" Certificate, students must attend all three sessions, and pass the test given at the end of the third session.

Registration will be held on Nov. 9, immediately before the opening session. There will be a 50 cent registration fee. Written permission from a parent is required.

The sessions have scheduled talks by qualified speakers in many fields. Question and answer periods will follow each class.

On Nov. 9, Dr. Mary Armstrong, Senior Home Economist of the Union County Home Economic Extension Service, Rutgers University, will speak on "Baby-Sitting—Opportunity and Challenge"; Miss Patricia Foldy, Deerfield School Librarian, will speak on "Choosing and Reading or Telling a Story"; Mrs. William Gutman, a Section member who is also vice-president of Deerfield PTA and a Y.E.S. founding member, will speak on the Youth Employment Service.

On Nov. 10, Dr. Theodore Lawrence, Mountainside school physician, will speak on the handling of minor emergencies or illness; Miss Dorothy Driscoll, senior staff nurse of the Westfield Visiting Nurse Association, will conduct a practice session on the basic facts of child-care, such as feeding and diapering of babies; Mrs. Sidney Reiter, of Mountainside, a section member and mother of five, will speak of "The Responsibilities of the Baby-Sitter" from the mother's point of view.

On Nov. 16, Police Chief Christian Fritz and Fire Chief Henry Porter will speak about "Safety in the Home," and discuss the responsibilities of the sitter to employer and self.

This course was successfully completed last year by over 80 children in Westfield. The sessions have been repeated within the past month in both Springfield and Westfield, where they met with great success.

Chairman of the program is Mrs. Leon Salz of Mountainside. Assisting her will be Mrs. Joseph Indick and Mrs. Hunter Wilson.

Opera Theatre Slates 'Carmen'

The Opera Theatre of Westfield will perform the opera "Carmen" (in French) for students from all schools in this and surrounding areas, on Nov. 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the Fanwood-Scotch Plains High School.

The performance will be conducted by Maestro Alfred Stipigni, well known symphony conductor presently with the Hartford, Conn., Opera Company.

Tickets in Mountainside may be obtained from Mrs. Arthur K. Olson, 232-7420, or Mrs. Donald Blecke, Deerfield School.

'Moral Victory'

thanks to all who worked for them during the campaign and issued the following prepared release:

Thank Workers

"Mr. Seeds and his running mates, Joe Stypa and John Wroblewski want to thank all the people who worked so hard for our cause and the citizens of Mountainside who were so generous in their support of our slate.

"Naturally, we are disappointed that we didn't win, but we hope our campaign was successful in sharpening the issues for all the people in this community. Our borough needs many important things and our interest in these things and our efforts in their behalf will not diminish with the end of this campaign.

"We are most concerned about the outcome of the new rezoning amendment which our opponents supported. At the same time, their campaign literature promised to maintain the one-family nature of the borough. We sincerely hope they (the Republicans) will strive to keep Mountainside residential and we stand ready to do all we as a constructive "loyal opposition" to preserve that character of the community.

"We will also be interested in continuing to work toward a new library, swimming pool, better drainage control and other services which Mountainside needs—and deserves—promptly. Our dedicated support of these programs will continue.

"We are, of course, particularly gratified at the strong showing our ticket made, representing, as it does, a victory in three out of five districts and a total Democratic vote for the local ticket of 48.6 per cent. This is a vote of confidence, it also denotes a trend, one we hope to continue to build upon."

Mission Circles To Meet Nov. 11

The Circles of the Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Westfield according to the following schedule: Circles 1 through 4 will meet at 1 p. m. and Circles 5 at 3 p. m.

Circles 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Banes, will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Ayer, 770 Knollwood ter., Westfield.

Circle 2, led by Mrs. William O. Van Biarcum, will meet in the Fireplace Room at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Claude W. Longstreet, and Mrs. Fred E. Jones.

Circle 3 with Mrs. Ernest Johnson as leader, will meet at the home of Mrs. James R. Gormley, Perth Amboy.

Circle 4, Mrs. C. Ray Crispin, leader, Ellen Doughty, 552 Arlington will meet at the home of Miss ave., Westfield.

Circle 5, led by Mrs. Theodore Balling, will meet at the home of Mrs. Angstrom, 1393 Winslow ave., Union.

Community Day Set Tomorrow

The local chairman of World Community Day, Mrs. J. J. Baseler, urges all church women in this area to attend the World Community Day observance tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Garwood. The service is sponsored by the United Church Women of Westfield and Vicinity.

Miss Elizabeth Lee, of the Speakers' Service for the United Nations, will discuss "The United Nations Today." Music will be provided by the A Capella Choir of the host church.

A portion of the offering received at the service will be sent to the World Council of Churches to pay part of the salary of Miss Margaret Jabor, director of the Refugee Service of the Council.

Children's Service Holds Fashion Show

The Children's Service committee of the Family Children's Society of Eastern Union County, is holding the second of a two-day annual luncheon and fashion show today, at the Chantier in Millburn. The fashion show will be presented by Halne and Co. Eight hundred women are expected to attend.

Mrs. Nicholas Badami, chairman of the benefit, is assisted by Mrs. Joseph Kasparek and Mrs. Sewall Sawyer of Union.

The committee holds three main fund-raising projects each year. A fall luncheon and fashion show, a Christmas appeal letter, and a special project sponsored by each town in the spring.

The Children's Service Committee, which was organized in 1934 to support the work of the Family and Children's Society in the county, raises funds to support its foster home program, to support the services given by the society to unmarried parents, to couples interested in adoption and to children in need of a permanent home through adoption.

The group consisting of 84 active members from Union County has raised more than $12,000 for the society this past year through its fund-raising events.

The Union Township members of the Committee are: Mrs. Howard R. Collins, Mrs. Daniel G. Covine, Mrs. Arthur E. Jorgensen, Mrs. Joseph W. Kasparek, Mrs. John McKenna, Mrs. E. W. Nulton, Mrs. Frank M. Pitt, Mrs. Ronald H. Post, Mrs. D. M. Procopio, Mrs. Sewall C. Sawyer and Mrs. Richard H. Thiele.

 they are grown up. They want adult independence, freedom, and responsibility.
 Yet at the same time, teenagers do not have the wisdom of experience that accompanies adulthood. In most instances, they must learn through their own experience and not by the experience of parents or other adults. Too often parents resist allowing teenagers to learn from mistakes.

HOW OLD IS OLD ENOUGH?
 How many times do we hear a teen-ager's mother say, "You're old enough to know better?" Almost as often, we hear her say, "You're not old enough to do that!"

Adolescence is confusing to adults and also to adolescents. Teenagers feel more grown up than they ever will again. They constantly struggle to impress parents and other adults that Young people are not emotionally mature and are not as sure of themselves as they pretend to be. At times, they actually retreat into childhood because of the need for security. At these times, they want parents to treat them as children.

Until much more is known about the age of adolescence, the confusion and mistakes will remain. But these need not be serious. Young people need freedom to grow into adulthood. They need freedom for independence, for experience, freedom to be "almost adult." And at the same time, they need parental love and security whether, at the moment, they feel like an adult or a little child.

THEFTS TRIPLE

Auto thefts in the United States have nearly tripled since 1948, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were 163,400 cars stolen in 1948 and 466,805 in 1964. Authorities stress that the best way to safeguard your car against thieves is to lock it and take the key with you.

hot oven (425° to 450° F.) or until soft. Remove from oven, cut in halves lengthwise, scoop out inside. Mash, add butter, salt and pepper and milk. Refill shells; bake five to eight minutes in very hot over (450° F.).

ON COOL DAYS, HOT POTATOES EVEN AS SALAD ARE WELCOME

Potato prices are back to near normal. This is good news for the average housewife who knows that potatoes are nutritious and filling. A bountiful potato crop is the reason for the lower retail costs.

Potato prices normally are at their lowest point in late October and early November. The cost has sometimes been as low as two cents per serving for fresh white Eastern potatoes. But last fall prices were far higher because of short supply.

Western potatoes are often higher in price than Eastern potatoes because of the transportation costs. Currently the cost of the variety known as "Idaho Bakers" is about double that of locally grown potatoes. Both Maine and Long Island, however, are now growing more of this variety correctly called "Russet Burbank."

Storage space and temperatures may limit the amount of potatoes you purchase at one time. It is, however, usually more economical to purchase more than a few pounds at a time, especially for a large family. Potatoes keep best in a cool dark, well ventilated place.

The best reason for buying potatoes in any quantity, is however, their popular appeal prepared in a wide variety of different ways. The old standby such as mashed potatoes, baked potatoes, scalloped potatoes, home fried and French fried potatoes, and cream of potato soup are still popular. Some less usual potato dishes are hot potato salad, potatoes au gratin, and baked stuffed potatoes. The hot potato salad is even easier to make than the typical summer picnic version made and served cold.

Hot Potato Salad
 6 medium sized potatoes (boiled in their skins)
 1 small onion, chopped
 1 tablespoon chives and/or parsley
 2 slices bacon, diced
 4 tablespoons mild vinegar
 4 tablespoons bacon fat or salad oil and bacon fat
 Salt and pepper

Cook potatoes, peel, dice and keep warm. Fry diced bacon until crisp; drain (save fat). Combine vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper with bacon fat; heat to boiling. Add onion, chives and bacon to potatoes. Pour dressing over potatoes, cover and keep warm until ready to serve. Garnish with parsley.

Potatoes Au Gratin
 1 1/2 cups milk
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 tablespoons butter or other fat
 1/4 pound cheese, grated
 4 cups cooked diced potatoes
 1 cup buttered bread crumbs
 1 teaspoon salt

Prepare a sauce with the milk, flour, fat and salt. Add the cheese and stir until melted. Place the potatoes in a shallow, greased baking dish. Pour the cheese sauce over them and cover the top with the buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 20 to 30 minutes or until the crumbs are golden brown and the potatoes are thoroughly heated.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes
 3 large flat potatoes
 1 tablespoon butter
 Salt and pepper
 3 tablespoons hot milk
 Bake potatoes 45 minutes in

Ask Amy
 BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
 Our daughter (16) has dated a couple of nice boys recently. Now she has a boy on her mind who is a graduate of high school. She thinks she likes him, would like him to come to the house and also date him.

The trouble is: he had been involved in a sex affair during the time he was in grade school, involved in petty thefts and is of a different religion. Most of his teachers have said he was a problem boy in school.

With these things against him, how is this situation handled? Do we tell our daughter not to date him . . . or allow it?

Does a 16 year-old really know how she feels about certain boys?
 Troubled Parents

Dear Parents:
 A 16 year old girl THINKS she knows how she feels about boys . . . but her feelings are to oversee her friendships. The wrong ones can be damaging.

Do not permit her to date this boy unless he has changed and his present behavior patterns are acceptable to you. And don't take just anyone's word for it, find out for yourself!

Dear Amy:
 I am writing you in the hope that you could tell me where to write regarding something I have been wanting to do but haven't the vaguest idea of how to go about it. I would like very much to write to any of our service men who are serving in the war in Viet Nam. I am thinking especially of those men who may have no one to write to them, or any of these wonderfully brave men risking their lives daily to fight the spread of a "world without peace" who would like to correspond. Perhaps in some small way it would aid in their morale to hear something other than the ravages of war.

Receiving "letters from home," to me, would be a most precious thing. It seems this is the least we can do to keep up the morale of these men and give them something to look forward to. So, Amy, if you know to whom I could write to get the names of some of our fighters for peace, I would greatly appreciate it.
 Miss J. M.

Dear Miss J. M.:
 I'm glad you asked as I have received many requests from many wonderful people wanting the same information. I have been informed that the Y.M.C.A. has groups of girls who write to servicemen situated all over the world. Contact your local chapter.

Good luck, good writing, and God Bless you!

Dear Amy:
 Help! Help! My poor house! I have a dear friend (?) and a good neighbor who truly in a time of need is always ready to help, but she has four children who get into everything the minute she hits the front door. The 3 year old boy starts pounding on the piano, then moves on to my son's $80.00 typewriter and finishes by pulling apart his room. The other children wind up in my daughter's room, playing with and banging everything in there.

The mother hears and sees nothing of what's going on! We just finished remodeling our house; new furniture (the best we could afford) plus a new rug (after 12 years), but she doesn't stop her youngest children from coming in with grape pop (horrors!) or peanut butter sandwiches (shudder!) dripping everywhere.

I used to go over and have coffee with her every day for 11 years and she did the same . . . but truly my nerves won't stand it now when I see her children ready for action in my house.

What am I to do without hurting her? I get numb and can't speak when they are running rampant. I don't blame anyone but myself for not speaking up . . . but after 11 years of friendship, the words won't come out.
 A Nervous Neighbor

Dear Nervous:
 How right you are! And you have no one to blame but yourself. Treat her children as your own . . . stop them and scold them. I'm sure your neighbor will get the message. And if she isn't tuned in on your frequency, you can learn to live without her . . . and her destructive brood.

Legion Auxiliary To Attend Post Dance; Unit 35 Juniors Hold Initial Meeting

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Connecticut Farms Unit No. 35, Union, will attend the social event of the officers of Post No. 35 at the American Legion Memorial Home tonight, following the post business meeting.
The program will feature a film, "Safari in Africa".
Auxiliary members attended the Post's annual Halloween dance Saturday evening at the Legion Hall, it was announced by Mrs. Alfred Stein, president.

Ticket chairmen were Mrs. Robert Walsh, Mrs. Robert Wacker, Mrs. Calvin Walek and Mrs. Robert Garguilo.
Members who served as hostesses at the Official Women's Hospitality Center at the World's Fair received a large certificate from the New York World's Fair Corporation in appreciation for their volunteer services. The official recognition was personally signed by the corporation president Robert Moses.
Kenilworth residents, who are members of the auxiliary and junior membership of Unit 35, are participating in various projects. Junior activities chairman, Mrs. Robert Wacker, reported that the juniors had their first meeting of the season recently where nomination and election of officers took place.

Elected to serve for one year were Eileen Walsh, junior chairman; Lynn Walek, junior vice-chairman; Laura Wacker, treasurer; Brenda Milner, sergeant at arms; and Sue Ellen Walsh, color-bearer. Other Kenilworth members of the group are Sarah La Costa and Donna Milner.
The Juniors are planning to attend a state-wide "Junior Rally", Nov. 13 at the American Legion Hall, Flemington, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The girls also are busy working on a project of counting coupons for the County Auxiliary chairman who is their leader, Mrs. Wacker.
Mrs. Calvin Walek of Kenilworth, past president of Unit 35, and current Union County Auxiliary president, conducted the group's first monthly meeting recently at the American Legion Hall in Westfield.

A seminar on "Communications" will be conducted by the National Secretaries Association Union County Chapter, on Nov. 13 at Union Junior College in Cranford.

Speakers will be Miss Kathleen Mallon, editor of Ciba Corporation employee publications in Summit; Dr. Phillip Shaak, associate professor at the Rutgers School of Business, and Dr. A. Angus Austen.

Cartoonist Haery Devlin, creator of "Rags" and formerly on the staff of the Elizabeth Daily Journal, will entertain with his pictorial anecdotes.
Miss Leonora R. Burnett of Westfield, is seminar chairman and Mrs. Gertrude Moren of 16 Stiles st., Elizabeth, is accepting reservations.

Company Announces Quarterly Dividend

The Fisher Scientific Company, which has a major installation at 1070 Lousons rd., Union, has announced a quarterly dividend of five cents per share, common stock, payable Dec. 10, 1965, to shareholders of record on Nov. 20.
This is the newest addition to a continuous 61-year dividend for the firm, the world's largest manufacturer-distributor of laboratory apparatus and high-purity chemicals.

Director To Lecture About Latin America

A program entitled "Land of the Manana" will be presented at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, by Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, on Sunday at 3 p.m.
Dr. Moldenke will lecture and show slides of a trip he made in 1948 traveling over 21,000 miles in Latin America, visiting and botanizing in Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Curacao, Venezuela, Trinidad, British Guiana, Surinam, French Guiana, Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina.

OUR CLASSIFIED SECTION GETS RESULTS

... and we get the nicest letters about it ... one lady even wrote a poem!

Dear Sir:
I wish to express my happiness and results through advertising with our home town paper. I had many nice and courteous people call me and I received prompt results.
I am so happy that I coined this little ditty:
"Be like the owl who's wise ...
Use your hometown paper to advertise."
With sincere appreciation, I remain

This Sunday's Lesson Sermon: Scriptural readings on Adam and Eve and Cain and Abel are examined in Christian Science church services this week. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions."

A theme of redemption is brought out in some passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook: "The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow — thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 259).

'Progress Program' Campaign Resumes At Overlook Hospital

The $6,500,000 "Progress Program" for Overlook Hospital has opened its 1965-66 campaign season with a gift of $115,000 from the Overlook Women's Auxiliary, first installment of the Auxiliary's $200,000 pledge to the hospital building fund.

Mrs. David S. Loudon, president of the Women's Auxiliary presented the check this week to Overlook's director, Robert E. Heinlein.

"Overlook greatly appreciates this splendid contribution toward its new wing," commented

Heinlein. "The Women's Auxiliary has undertaken many fund-raising projects to raise this money and we appreciate the devoted work of its 2,200 members."

At the same time, it was announced that Overlook has passed the $2,500,000 mark in its goal of $6,500,000 for the new wing. "The campaign reopens this year with an even bigger challenge," said Heinlein. "The first year of any campaign skims the cream off the top. Now we must go deeper. The 'Progress Program' for Overlook represents an outstanding program for a community hospital. We need the help and support of everyone to see it to a successful conclusion."

Construction on the new wing is already well under way, with foundations laid and framework on the first floors beginning. The deck parking structure alongside the future new main entrance on Beauvoir ave. is complete and in use. Completion of the new wing is scheduled for early 1967.

Mrs. Loudon announced that the Women's Auxiliary gift will go primarily toward a new coffee and gift shop in the new wing. Substantially larger than the present hospital shop, the new shop will be decorated by the design firm of Designs Unlimited, Inc.

A separate dining room will be provided for the hospital's doctors, who now number over 250 on the medical staff. The main coffee shop area will offer many more tables for group seating as well as expanded counter service. The gift shop will have spacious display cases, enabling many new items to be carried in the shop.

The Women's Auxiliary plays a double role at Overlook, providing and staffing many services such as the coffee and gift shops, beauty shop, television rental and baby photos, which the hospital would be unable to provide without volunteer help. The profits gained from these services are then returned to patients in the form of essential and life-saving equipment, or contributions to the hospital's development program as is this current gift.

Many other fund-raising activities such as luncheon-fashion shows, bazaars, Trivett cookbook, bridge parties are held outside the hospital by Trivett groups in the 14 communities served by Overlook.

The Auxiliary provides many free services for Overlook patients as well, such as the book cart, diversional therapy cart, pediatric play cart, and pinkie dolls, augmented by volunteer hours in virtually every department of the hospital.

Summit YWCA Schedules Features For Annual 2-Day 'Winter Market'

The Summit YWCA's annual two-day all-association fundraising event, "Winter Market," scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 17 and 18, will take over the entire YWCA building on those two days. Thousands of adults, teenagers, and young children from many communities are expected to come to shop and enjoy the many special features for all ages.

The downstairs of the YWCA will be devoted to Santa and festivities to delight the hundreds of youngsters who attend. Many of the special children's attractions require previous reservations, which should be made as soon as possible by calling the YWCA at 273-4242 a spokesman said.

The traditional marionette theater show this year is to be "Aladdin," and will feature live performers as well as puppets. All of the familiar characters, Aladdin, Zobeida, the magician, the Sultan's daughter, may be seen performing on both days of the winter market at 10:30, 3:15 and 4:15 in the basement of the Central Presbyterian Church, across the street from the YWCA. Children under three years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

Another "Winter Market" tradition, luncheon with Santa, will be enjoyed by children between the ages of three and six. Luncheons with the gentleman are scheduled for both days of the mart at 11:30, 12:15 and 1 p.m. A picture may be had to commemorate his visit. Reservations are also required for the luncheons.

The children's portraits will be done this year by a professional portrait artist, Mrs. Frederick Eberhardt. A sample of her work is now on display at the YWCA. Reservations to have a child's portrait sketched may be made by calling Mrs. Keith Mount at 464-5497.

Churchmen Plan Children's Party

"Feasting, films and fun" will highlight the annual Men's Club father, son and daughter banquet scheduled for Saturday evening in the Parish House of the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield. The festivities will get under way at 6:30 p.m.

A spaghetti and meatball dinner will be cooked and served by the members of the Men's Club. Three prize-winning films, "Chocolate Town, USA," "Hawaii Calls" and "Winning Baseball," will provide the entertainment for the guests of honor — the sons and daughters of Men's Club members.

Reservations for the dinner may be made through the church office.

Leonard Heller, president of the group, has as his committee working on the dinner Walter Anderson, Thomas Geddes, Francis Sammond, Fred Stackfieth, Stanley Kroeger and Gunther Lindenfelser.
