Wilson Decision Hailed As Victory By Rezoning Foes

Local Officials Offer No Comment; Study Court Opinion First

The announcement of the split decision on the court case of Wilson vs. Mountainside last week was greeted with varying degrees of jubilation by the chief spokesmen of the opposition to any rezoning of the Wilson tract on Rt. 22. Borough officials would offer no comment until they study the complete opinion of the court.

The Mountainside Democratic Club, whose candidates last fall opposed the rezoning from residential to restricted commercial "A" introduced by the all-Republican Borough Council, announced that its members were " Jubilant" at the news that Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller had ruled against garden apartments on the Wilson tract. Russell Cardoni, who heads the club's special study committee on zoning, stated that "it certainly appears that our determination to continue to maintain Mountainside as primarily a single residence community is being supported by the courts."

Likes Decision Harry Swenson, president of the Pembroke Civic Association, a group which has pledged itself to preserving the one-family residential character of the borough, said he was "content with the court's decision." Clyde Van Allen, a charter member of the Pembroke Civic group and an outspoken critic of the proposed rezoning, stated that he is "happy the present zoning was upheld."

Judge Feller ruled that the local Board of Adjustments must grant Wilson a variance to build a new retail store building on the front two acres of his 12-acre tract on Rt. 22 but denied his appeal for the right to build garden apartments on the balance of his land.

Van Allen said that he felt sure the judge's decision on the present Wilson case, which was initiated in 1964, would go "pretty much" as it did since Wilson has held a variance to conduct a retail business on the frontage since 1949. The court "couldn't" stop him from what he already had, Van Allen said. He also indicated that he was "not against Wilson making money—just not at someone else's expense."

The claim of Van Allen and other opponents of rezoning that commercial classification of the rear of the tract would reduce the value of nearby homes was apparently upheld by Judge Feller who said in his 29-page opinion that the "fully developed, high-caliber residential section would unquestionably be harmed to a considerable degree if a variance were permitted for the remaining 10 acres."

Difficult Decision Robert Garrett, chairman of the borough's Planning Board, the body which recommended the rezoning of the entire Wilson tract to commercial restricted "A," said he felt the decision was "a very conservative one" and that the judge had a "very difficult decision to make."

Board Reserves Wieland Decision

Decision was reserved Monday night by Mountainside's Board of Adjustments on the request of the proprietors of Wieland's Steak House for permission to build an addition to their building at 1099 Rt. 22, Mountainside.

Permission was granted to Martin and Grace Shulman to erect an addition to their home at 13 Endor lane.

The chairman, Thomas Ricciardi, announced the decision on the Shulman case after the board went into a closed session.

He said at that time that the decision on the Wieland application would be announced shortly.

The Wieland's plans call for the erection of a masonry and brick banquet hall as an addition to their present building. They propose to purchase an adjacent 1.5-acre lot at 1107 Rt. 22 to accommodate the addition and to provide parking space for 194 cars.

The addition would be slightly over 14,000 square feet and have a maximum capacity of 600.

VERSATILE PTA-ER: Mrs. Florence Degenhardt, chairman of the upcoming fair sponsored by Mountainside's Parent-Teachers Association, displays the many hobbies (rug-loomed, crewl work, etc.) which have gained her local fame. Mrs. Degenhardt, who took up crewl work only last year, is now conducting (by request) a class in the intricate needlework for members of the Foothills Club.

A Rose Is A Rose! Geraniums? Degenhardts' Are Different

By RITA ZEISS

A rose is a rose is a rose is a rose, as Gertrude Stein astutely insisted some years back. That steadfast generic identity extends to the olfactory realm too. In other words—a rose smells like a rose, like a rose, like a geranium.

Not so with geraniums. They smell like apples and lemons and even carry a sulphurous hint of Mount Vesuvius.

Mrs. Walter Degenhardt has proof positive of the versatility of the flowering plant in the more than 30 species of miniature geraniums that line a windowed wall of the family room in her home on Wood Acres dr., Mountainside. One hearty and fragrant plant, aptly called the apple geranium, smells just like the apples grandma used to cut up for pie; another dispenses a delicate lemon odor; another's green leaves are overlaid with a heavy black line that resembles the volcanic lava which gives it its name—Black Vesuvius.

Mrs. Degenhardt, who is serving this year as chairman of the PTA's annual fair which will be held in May, started raising miniature geraniums about a year ago. Before that, she insists, every time she bought a plant it was doomed to certain death. The Degenhardt "black thumb" has now turned green—not only are all the varieties of geraniums thriving but delicate African violets, formerly susceptible to instant wilt in her home, are now thriving, too. Mrs. Degenhardt reports gleefully.

The special observance of Brotherhood Week, which opens Sunday, will be observed by the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside and Temple Emanu-El of Westfield in a traditional exchange of pulpits and inter-congregational participation in worship services.

Rabbi Bernard M. Honan, spiritual leader of Temple Emanu-El, will preach this Sunday in the Presbyterian Church on Meeting House lane. He and members of his congregation, which includes many Mountainside residents, will be received at a reception after the service.

On Feb. 25 the Rev. Elmer Talcott Jr., pastor of Community Presbyterian, will preach at the Temple Service. Members of his congregation will participate in the worship and service.

She is now working on an intricate crewl pattern which will be used to reupholster a Victorian rosewood chair which she is planning to use in her colonial living room. She is interested in antiques, has a few treasured items and hopes to acquire more. She knits, she refinishes furniture and she does her own decorating.

And she gets the whole family in the act, she says grinning.

"Every time I get started on something new, Walter and the kids say 'what now?'"

The "kids," Robert, 14, and Lisa, 10, just do a little fringe work, like making their own luncheon, sandwiches occasionally when their mother is deep in a project, but the head of the house really gets involved.

Mrs. Degenhardt started collecting miniature geraniums—guess who built the series of shelves that hold them? Guess who lined the outer side of the windows with plastic to protect the plants from the wind? Guess who's talking that old rosewood chair apart, inserting new dowels, tying new springs? Guess who gets to cart in antiques home?

And guess who's co-chairman of the PTA fair?

Mrs. Degenhardt, front and center!

He said that registration on both days will be held from 10 a.m. to noon in the all-purpose room at Deerfield School.

ECHO PROFILE—Dr. Henry W. Langhein

There is a pink flamingo painted on a wall in a small rear room. The roof of the sliding glass wall that separates the Florida room from the main section of the Langhein home on Partridge run, Mountainside. The flamingo and some impressionistic palm trees that share the window wall were both painted by the talented hand of the house, Dr. Henry W. Langhein.

These efforts are only a small facet of the many talents of Dr. Langhein, a long-time member of the borough's Board of Health and its current president.

The Florida room, which runs the width of the house and overlooks the wooded area in the rear of the property, was designed and built by Dr. Langhein with a carpenter assisting him only on the rugged jobs too big for one man to handle. The project was a massive one, involving as it did the removal of a portion of the rear wall of the house and

$300,000 Pool Ordinance Introduced By Mountainside Borough Council

Heart Fund Sets Goal Of $2,500; Sunday Canvass

A goal of $2,500 has been set for the 1966 Mountainside Heart Fund Drive, the chairman, Mrs. Ruth Keuler of 161 W. Locust st., announced this week. This is almost $500 more than the amount realized in last year's drive which topped its goal of $1,500 by $575.

The $2,500 figure represents the minimum amount required to provide the community's share in the Union County Heart Association program, Mrs. Keuler emphasized.

The drive, which will run through February, will reach its high point this weekend when an army of local volunteers will make the annual house-to-house canvass of the borough. Mrs. Keuler reminds all residents that this year's campaign will be a success only if it is supported by "every heart in Mountainside."

Mrs. Keuler's husband, John, is serving as business chairman of the drive. Mrs. Arthur Burlew of Rt. 22 is heart bank chairman and Miss Carol Clark of Summit lane, Heart Sunday chairman.

The drive leaders met last week with the area captains to

A Heartening Coffee

Volunteers in Sunday's door-to-door drive for the Heart Fund are invited to finish their rounds with a stop at Mountainside's Firehouse from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. Coffee and cake will be served during those hours to all the volunteers. The collection envelopes will be accepted at that time, the chairman, Mrs. Ruth Keuler announced. Returns will be tabulated to provide an accurate total for Heart Sunday.

Students Donate To Clark Drive; Fund At $20,303

The students in the Religious School of Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, have donated $70 to the Linda Clark Fund. The amount is the sum of two weeks' collections in their Keren Ami (Fund of My People) which the children voted to give to help the Mountainside child who has been in Overlook Hospital since Oct. 30.

Their contribution helped boost the fund to $20,303 this week, the treasurer, Elmer Hoffrath, reported. This figure does not include the amount realized on the teenage dance held last Friday night for the benefit of the fund under the sponsorship of the borough's Recreation Committee. About 300 teenagers attended that event. Exact returns have not yet been tabulated.

Sandler Heading MEND Drive Here

Ralph Sandler, a pharmacist with Mountainside Drug Store, 899 Mountain ave., has been named chairman of the 1966 MEND Fund for the Mountainside area.

His appointment was announced today by Paul G. DeMuro, chairman of the board of directors, National Foundation for Neuromuscular Diseases, Inc.

The stereo and speakers were set up and installed by Dr. Langhein who admits to a positive passion for all things electronic. His fascination with electronics goes back to his boyhood days in Elizabeth when he gained wide if fleeting and unprofitable fame for an all-electric radio.

BOARD ORGANIZES

School Board Elects Thwing And Britton

Roger W. Thwing was elected president of Mountainside's Board of Education at the organizational meeting held Monday night. The office of vice-president, filled last year by Thwing, will be occupied by Robert Britton who was elected to his first term on the school body last year.

John McDonough was re-named secretary and Charles A. Jerome of Mountainside, will continue in his post as attorney for the board. The firm of Supple, Clooney and Co. was again appointed official auditor and Benninger-Tansey and Co. was re-named insurance agent.

Monthly meetings were scheduled, as last year, on the evening of the second Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be held March 8 at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School. Thwing is expected to announce his committee appointments at that time.

The two newly-elected board members, Grant Lennox and William Biunno, assumed their seats for the first time.

In one of its first official actions, the new school board voted 4 to 1 with two abstentions to grant a request from Our Lady of Lourdes School for the psychological testing of five pupils in the local parochial school.

Britton, Thwing, Biunno and Mrs. Mary Rosenquest voted to approve the request and Bernard Seligman voted against it. Lennox and Walter Rupp abstained.

A member of the board, who supported the measure, emphasized after the meeting that this was simply the granting of a particular request and is in line with the recent ruling of the State's Attorney General that, under permissive state law, public schools may, at the discretion of the school board, offer services to children in private schools.

The testing will be carried out next week by Mrs. Diane Oberlin, school psychologist. The borough's public schools will be on vacation next week so Mrs. Oberlin will have the time to test the five children from the parochial school, the board spokesman said.

The board member stressed that the granting of this request in no way signifies the adoption of a policy on shared time. In this area "no policy has been adopted and no guide-lines laid out."

The drive will close March 12 when a dinner-dance will be held in the Mountainside Inn. Tickets, which are limited to 300, are now available and may be obtained by contacting the publicity chairman, Patrolman Jerome Rice, at Police Headquarters. Tickets are going fast. Rice reported earlier this week. He urged all interested in attending to make their reservations as soon as possible.

STUDENTS DONATE

State Senator Nelson B. Stampler, Sheriff Ralph Orsiccio and several other state, county and local notables will be at the dinner, Rice said.

Mountainside's Police Department will meet the Springfield Police Department March 4. (Continued on Page 3)

Information on the proposed pool, Ditzel said, will be made available in brochures, prepared by Eggers and Higgins of New York City, will be on display at the Feb. 28 meeting. Jackson Smith, the representative of the architect who has been working with officials, will show colored slides of the pool.

600 Families Needed

Ditzel estimated that 600 to 650 families would be needed as members if the pool is to operate as a self-supporting facility. Interested residents should attend the informational meeting prepared to sign up as members; prompt action is needed so the pool can be constructed in time for use this summer, he said.

The validity of a proposed ordinance removing land located near the Mountainside Post Office on Sherwood pkwy. from the business parking zone was questioned Tuesday night by residents of the area. The ordinance, introduced by the Council Tuesday night on the recommendation of the Planning Board, does not specify how the land would be zoned after the change.

Chester Allen, one of the questioners, asked why a change in zoning could not be accomplished in the usual procedure, through a variance sought from the Board of Adjustments. Borough Attorney Nicholas St. John LaCorte and Mayor Frederick Wilhelm Jr. explained that the land had been zoned for business parking in 1955. The land was then, and is now, privately owned. Since the borough has never purchased nor condemned the property, in the intervening years it cannot legally deprive the owner of the use of his land, LaCorte stated.

The Planning Board requested the Council to change the zoning of the involved land since, in its opinion, sufficient parking was already available in the business section of the borough.

A public hearing on the rezoning will be held March 15 at 8:30 p.m. in Echobrook School.

A public hearing will also be held that night on an ordinance authorizing the payment of $7,236.14 to Elson T. Killam Associates, Inc. for engineering services in connection with storm drainage improvements.

Recreation Group Slates Meeting To Inform Public

Hearing Scheduled For 8 P.M. March 1 At Echobrook School

An ordinance appropriating $300,000 for the construction of a municipal pool was introduced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Mountainside Borough Council. The sum of $291,000 would be used for the construction of a swimming and wading pool and accessory facilities. The balance of $9,000 would cover the purchase of 2.7 acres of state-owned land in the bird sanctuary adjacent to the playing field of Echobrook School. Plans call for the project to be self-liquidating.

A public hearing on the proposal has been scheduled for March 1 at 8 p.m. in Echobrook School. The project would be financed by a bond issue of $285,000, with the balance coming from capital funds.

The Recreation Commission, which has been in charge of the project since it was first proposed back in the summer of 1964, will hold an informational meeting Feb. 28 at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School on Central ave.

Brochures on the proposed pool will be distributed in the mail next week to every home in Mountainside, according to William Ditzel, chairman of the Recreation Commission. The brochures will contain complete information on the proposed pool. Ditzel said architects' renderings, prepared by Eggers and Higgins of New York City, will be on display at the Feb. 28 meeting. Jackson Smith, the representative of the architect who has been working with officials, will show colored slides of the pool.

ECHO PROFILE

He built his all-electric radio, which was the first one ever built, brought him wide publicity in 1917 when he was 13 years old. Then attending Battin High School, he was a member of the Radio Club there. He built the radio on his own, just "tinkering" around. A cub reporter on the Elizabeth Journal came over to the Langheinz home, certain that he would discover hidden batteries in the set. Convinced after a thorough search that there were no batteries, he wrote a story for his paper which was picked up by the wire services and sent all over the world.

The publicity brought the boy-inventor letters from all over the world, most of them asking him for information on the methods he used. He was delighted to send out news of his "toy," as he considered it. He knew nothing about such things as patents; his father, a pharmacist, and his mother knew nothing about radio or electronics—so his "know-how" was quickly and freely dispensed around the world.

SOMETIMES HE speculates on the different course his life might have taken if his invention had been protected by patents for the principles he used in building his electric radio are the same ones on which television and other developments in the electronic field are based.

"I would have been a millionaire if the music, but just think I might now be in David Sarnoff's position—and that I wouldn't want to be because then I would never have met my Thilde."

Thilde is his bright-faced, German-born wife whom he met while conducting his dental practice in Elizabeth. "If I hadn't been there in Elizabeth at just that time, we would never have met and I wouldn't have this wonderful life we share."

Thilde, who had one daughter from her first marriage, and Dr. Langheinz, a widower with one son, were married about 26 years ago. They have lived in Mountainside since then, the first seven years on Prospect Lenore, now majoring in fine

EIGHTH GRADERS NAMED FINALISTS IN SPELLING BEE

Patricia Romito and Robert Ludd, both eighth graders in Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountainside, will be among the 10 finalists in a spelling bee to be held Saturday under the sponsorship of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Archdiocese of Newark.

The competition will open at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Assumption Church, Roselle Park.

Patricia and Robert qualified for the area contest in the county competitions held last Saturday in St. Elizabeth's Church, Linden.

be redeemed through membership payments over the year. The project will be carried out only if enough support is given to it to indicate that it can be operated on that basis, he stated.

The pool site is adjacent to county park lands which will be available, as they already are, for sunning, games and other activities. The borough has gained permission from the Union County Park Commission to construct an access road to the pool from Mountain ave. through undeveloped park lands.

An ordinance changing the zoning of the pool site also was introduced at Tuesday night's meeting. A public hearing on that measure will also be held on March 1 in Echobrook School.

Support Shown

Returns on a postal card survey conducted by the Recreation Commission in September, 1964, showed 650 families were in favor of a municipal pool and were interested in joining one. Four hundred fifteen persons opposed the construction of a pool and the balance of the 1,170 people who responded indicated approval of the pool construction but said they would not be interested in becoming members.

Ditzel, then a Councilman, recommended to the Council at that time that it authorize the construction of the pool. His recommendation was based on that study.

Since that time borough officials have been negotiating to buy the land now proposed as a site. The tax map showed that the full tract, about 4.2 acres, belonged to the State Highway Department. That body said it did not own it but held a revocable permit from the Newark Orphanage Association to operate a bird sanctuary there. The borough then entered into negotiations with the Family and Children's Service Committee of Newark, the successor to the Newark Orphanage Association, to purchase the entire tract for $8,500. A title search then revealed that the land did belong to the State Highway Department. The borough then entered into negotiations with the state. Only a portion of the land is being purchased since the front section of the tract is part of the Blue Star Memorial Drive.

Mayor Wilhelm said Tuesday night that the price of $9,000 was set by the state. "We've bargained-down," he said.

'Sound Of Music' Breathtaking Film

By BEA SMITH
 The walls of the Bellevue Theater, Montclair, reverberate "The Sound of Music," as the wide screen seems to widen even more with the splendid, picture-quality, breathtaking views of Salzburg, and surrounding areas in Austria, especially eye-filling in Technicolor and with a nearly-three-dimensional effect as presented in Todd-AO.

The sweeping, magnificent scenic splendors in the film adaptation of Rodgers and Hammerstein's long-running Broadway stage musical, are equalled only by a superb cast headed by Julie Andrews (in the Mary Martin role), Christopher Plummer, Eleanor Parker, Richard Haydn, Peggy Wood, Anna Lee and the lesser notable youngsters who enact the roles of the seven Trapp children, and such memorable songs as "The Sound of Music," "Do Re Mi," "How Do You Solve A Problem Like Maria," "Sixteen Going On Seventeen," "A Few of My Favorite Things," "Climb Every Mountain" and more, too numerous to mention.

The familiar story of the Von Trapp family, with its governess-nun, Marie (Miss Andrews) is retold on the screen with a mixture of realism and fantasy under the superb direction of Robert Wise, Academy-award-winning producer-director. The Bill and Cora Baird Puppets scene, a true delight, is one the children in the audience will not forget so easily.

"The Sound of Music" has, in fact, something for everyone; it has so much more to offer on the wide-wide screen than it ever could have in the confines of a Broadway theater.

'DARLING' IS HELD IN SECOND WEEK ON CASTLE'S BILL

John Schlesinger, one of the more original of the world's new crop of young directors, is the guiding force behind Joseph E. Levine's new film satire of life and love among the international "jet-set" society, "Darling," which is being held over for a second week at the Castle Theater, Irvington Center.

The adult film, which stars Dirk Bogarde, Laurence Harvey and Julie Christie, tells a story of a beautiful amoral model and her climb to the top of high society. With it, Schlesinger delves into the glossy structure of upper-class life with the same penetrating understanding he has brought to the working class reality of his previous films, "A Kind of Loving" and "Billy Liar."

Still a few good seats left for our Washington's Birthday celebration.

In fact, they're the best seats—the ones inside the Pontiac tigers. We have all lined up to help you live it up on your day off. Economy tigers like our Tempests. Luxury tigers like our Bonneville and Broughams. Swinging tigers like our Grand Prix, our GTO and our Sprint. And lots of other great ones. Or, if you're more in a used car frame of mind, we have some great seats in that department, too. All kinds of nifty one-owner, late-model beauties we were able to persuade their owners to part with. (Thanks to the popularity of our great '66 Pontiacs.) It'll be the Washington's Birthday Open House to end all Washington's Birthday Open Houses. So we hope you'll be there. Time? Whenever you get there, to whenever you've picked out your favorite. See you!

UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

25 YEARS OF

Star-Spangled Security

FOR AMERICANS

1941-1966

★ Twenty-five years ago on May 1, 1941, the U. S. Treasury issued the first Series E Savings Bond to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

★ That purchase, in the words of Lyndon B. Johnson, "set into motion the greatest thrift program the world has ever known."

★ Since that day in 1941, Americans have bought more than $150,000,000,000 worth of Series E and H Savings Bonds.

★ From these savings have come new homes, college educations, dream vacations, paid-up hospital bills, more satisfying retirements.

★ Americans still own almost $50 billion in Savings Bonds... $50 billion worth of personal security... security from want... from fear... from loss of independence.

★ $50 billion worth of security from loss of freedom in today's troubled world.

★ Join the greatest thrift program in the world. For your future and your family's future. And your country's future.

Union County mortgage loans held by the Howard Savings Institution of Newark, the largest savings bank in New Jersey, on Dec. 31 totalled 3,449 and amounted to $45,844,255, John W. Kress, Howard president, reported this week. This was an increase of $2,173,796 over the previous year.

"As the largest lender of money for mortgage loans in New Jersey," Kress noted, "The Howard continues to make a significant contribution to the state's economic growth." The institution has granted 37,237 loans, totaling $485,531,126 at the end of 1965, on properties in all of the state's 21 counties.

"Of particular note," said Kress, "is the high percentage of loans granted on one-to-four family dwellings." This totalled 96.72 percent of The Howard's mortgage loans granted in 1965. The balance of the portfolio includes multi-family, industrial, institutional and other loans which ranged, in 1965, from $25,000 to $1.6 million.

The Howard mortgage loan correspondent for Union County is Margaretten and Company, Inc. of Perth Amboy.

County Heart Association Ready For Door-To-Door Campaign Sunday

HEART SUNDAY — Linda Koby of Union, Little Miss Heart of 1966, examines a campaign poster with Mrs. Margaret Menzaco, Linden Heart Fund chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelly, who head drive in Winfield. Volunteers will go door-to-door this Sunday which is Heart Sunday.

ORGANIZING EFFORT — Mrs. John E. Keuler of 161 Locust ave., Mountinside, center, chairman of the 1966 Heart Fund drive in Mountinside, discusses plans for Sunday's canvass with Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union, at right, county drive chairman; Linda Koby, Little Miss Heart; Mrs. Lucille Clauss, drive chairman in Union, and Charles Macella of Roselle.

FIRST CONTRIBUTION — Fred Colucci, Heart Fund chairman in Roselle Park, at left, makes first contribution to canvass which will be held Sunday. Sanford Kessler, chairman in Springfield, points the way.

DOORBELLS WILL RING

Heart Sunday Volunteers Prepare For Annual Drive

The month-long 1966 Heart Fund campaign will reach its high point on Sunday, when Heart Sunday volunteers commence a canvass of residences in Union County, it was announced this week by Matthew J. Rinaldo, Union County Heart Fund chairman.

It is anticipated that all residential visits will be completed and that gifts will be turned in no later than Feb. 28, he said.

The residential canvass will augment the total already collected in the February campaign which is being conducted to support and expand research, education and community service programs of the Union County Heart Association. It is part of the American Heart Association, the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

During the last year for which vital statistics are available these diseases were responsible for 1813 of 3487 deaths in Union County, while in the nation they account for approximately 54 per cent of all deaths each year.

Each Heart volunteer will call at the homes of between 50 and 100 neighbors, distributing helpful information about the heart diseases and receiving contributions for the Heart Fund, said Rinaldo.

Emphasizing the uniqueness of the Heart Cause, Rinaldo pointed out that Heart Fund contributions go to a fight a vast complex of diseases, among them heart attack, stroke, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects.

He urged residents to be generous when the Heart Sunday volunteer calls.

In case of inclement weather, the Heart Sunday canvass will be postponed until Feb. 27.

Phone Book Honors Rutgers

Delivery of 169,000 telephone directories in the Elizabeth area starting next Wednesday is part of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's year-long salute to higher education in the state, the company announced this week.

The cover of the Elizabeth and Vicinity Telephone Directory commemorates the founding in 1766 of Rutgers, The State University, and pays tribute to New Jersey's 42 colleges and universities.

The front cover painting is of "Old Queens," the most famous landmark at Rutgers. The back cover carries the school colors and founding dates of every college and university in the state.

Alphabetical listings in the February 1966 directory increased to 124,000, some 3,500 more than in 1965. Distribution was up, too — 9,000 over 1965.

Telephone directories for other parts of New Jersey can be obtained free of charge by calling any local New Jersey Bell business office. The telephone company has also arranged to use a plastic sling to loop the new directories over the front door knob — customers are not at home at delivery time.

Samenfeld, Mrs. Heald Named To Head County Cancer Drive

Andrew A. Klepchick of 123 Elmwood ter., Linden, president of the Union County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, announced the reappointment of Dr. Herbert Samenfeld of Scotch Plains and Mrs. Robert L. Heald of Scotch Plains as chairman and co-chairman respectively of the 1966 April Cancer Crusade in Union County.

The Society is extremely fortunate in having Dr. Samenfeld and Mrs. Heald serve again as leaders in the fight against cancer. Klepchick stated, "Thanks to the fine efforts of these two people and our community chairman, more funds were raised in Union County last year than ever before in the history of this organization," he added.

Dr. Samenfeld, dean of students at Newark State College, Union, is active in several educational and civic organizations. He is a member of the Scotch Plains — Fanwood Association for good schools and a member of the Scotch Plains — Fanwood Board of Education. A member of the Board of Managers of the Union County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, Dr. Samenfeld, has also served on the Board of Directors of the Union County T.E. and Health League.

Mrs. Heald has been affiliated with the American Cancer Society for 11 years and has served as co-chairman of the Scotch Plains Cancer Crusade. She is the Union County delegate to the Board of Managers of the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society and is secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Scotch Plains Public Library. Mrs. Heald is also a member of the Board of Managers of the Union County P.T.A. and the Scotch Plains — Fanwood Youth Employment Service.

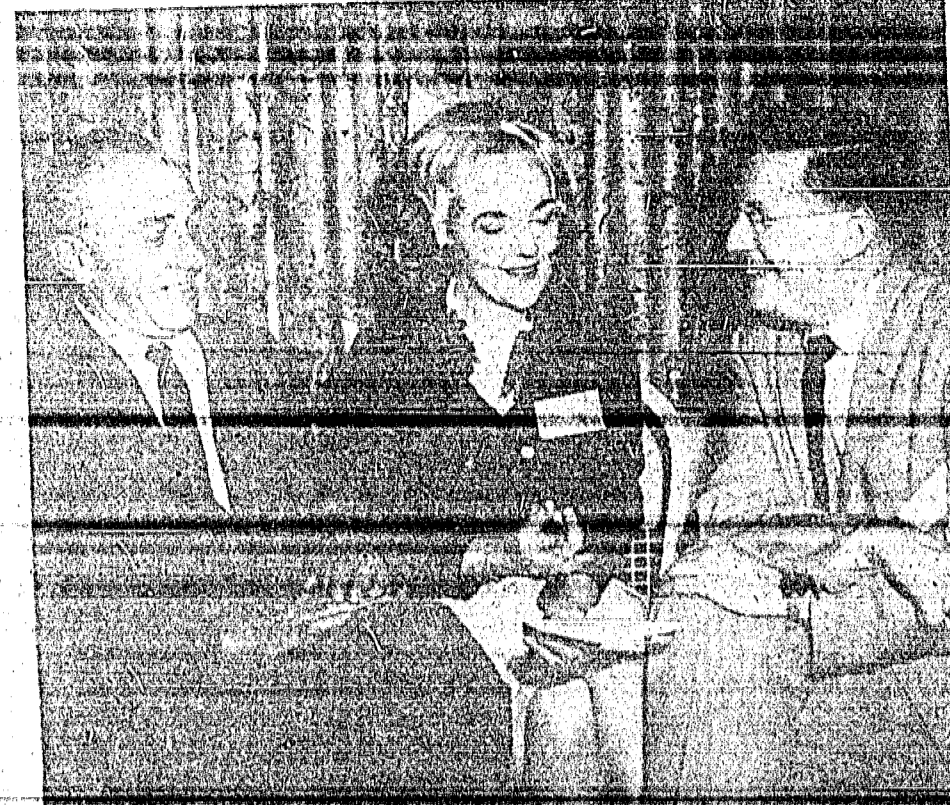

In a statement issued after their reappointment, Dr. Samenfeld and Mrs. Heald emphasized that the April Cancer Crusade is an educational as well as a fund raising campaign. "The recent health test conducted over nation-wide television has reiterated the need for public education in the field of health," stated Dr. Samenfeld.

The American Cancer Society volunteers will leave an educational brochure at each home reached during the April Cancer Crusade. This brochure contains facts that may help to save a life in addition to helping the seven danger signals of cancer.

Traditional Morristown Park Hike Scheduled By Club This Weekend

Two hikes have been scheduled for the members of the Union County Hiking Club for this weekend.

On Saturday, Charles and Gladys Trelease, East Orange, will lead a morning ramble in Garret Mountain Park, Paterson. The hikers will meet at the Garret Mountain Museum area at 9:30 a.m. and will return by noon.

DISCUSS CRUSADE — Andrew A. Klepchick, president, Union County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, discusses the organization's April Cancer Crusade with Crusade Chairman, Mr. Robert L. Heald and Dr. Herbert W. Samenfeld, Ph.D., dean of students at Newark State College.

Princeton Professor To Speak At Meeting
Prof. David Wilkinson, professor of astronomy at Princeton University, will be guest speaker tomorrow at a meeting of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. in the Campus Center theater at Union Junior College, Cranford.

His topic will be "Cosmic Thermal Radiation." Dr. Wilkinson will discuss the measurements made and results of research on cosmic thermal radiation now underway at Princeton. This work is being done as one phase of the study of the "Big Bang" vs. the "Steady State" theory of the origin of the universe, which is creating a stir in astronomical circles at this time.

INTERNATIONAL FREE ART SHOW AT AREA YMCA

A free art show by Children of the World will be presented next Sunday from 2-4 p.m. at the Kenilworth-Roselle Park-Union branch of the YMCA, 218 Salem rd., Union.

Holiday Hours Set For Enrollment For Medicare

The Elizabeth Social Security District Office will be open Washington's birthday, Tuesday, Feb. 22, Ralph W. Jones, district manager, announced this week.

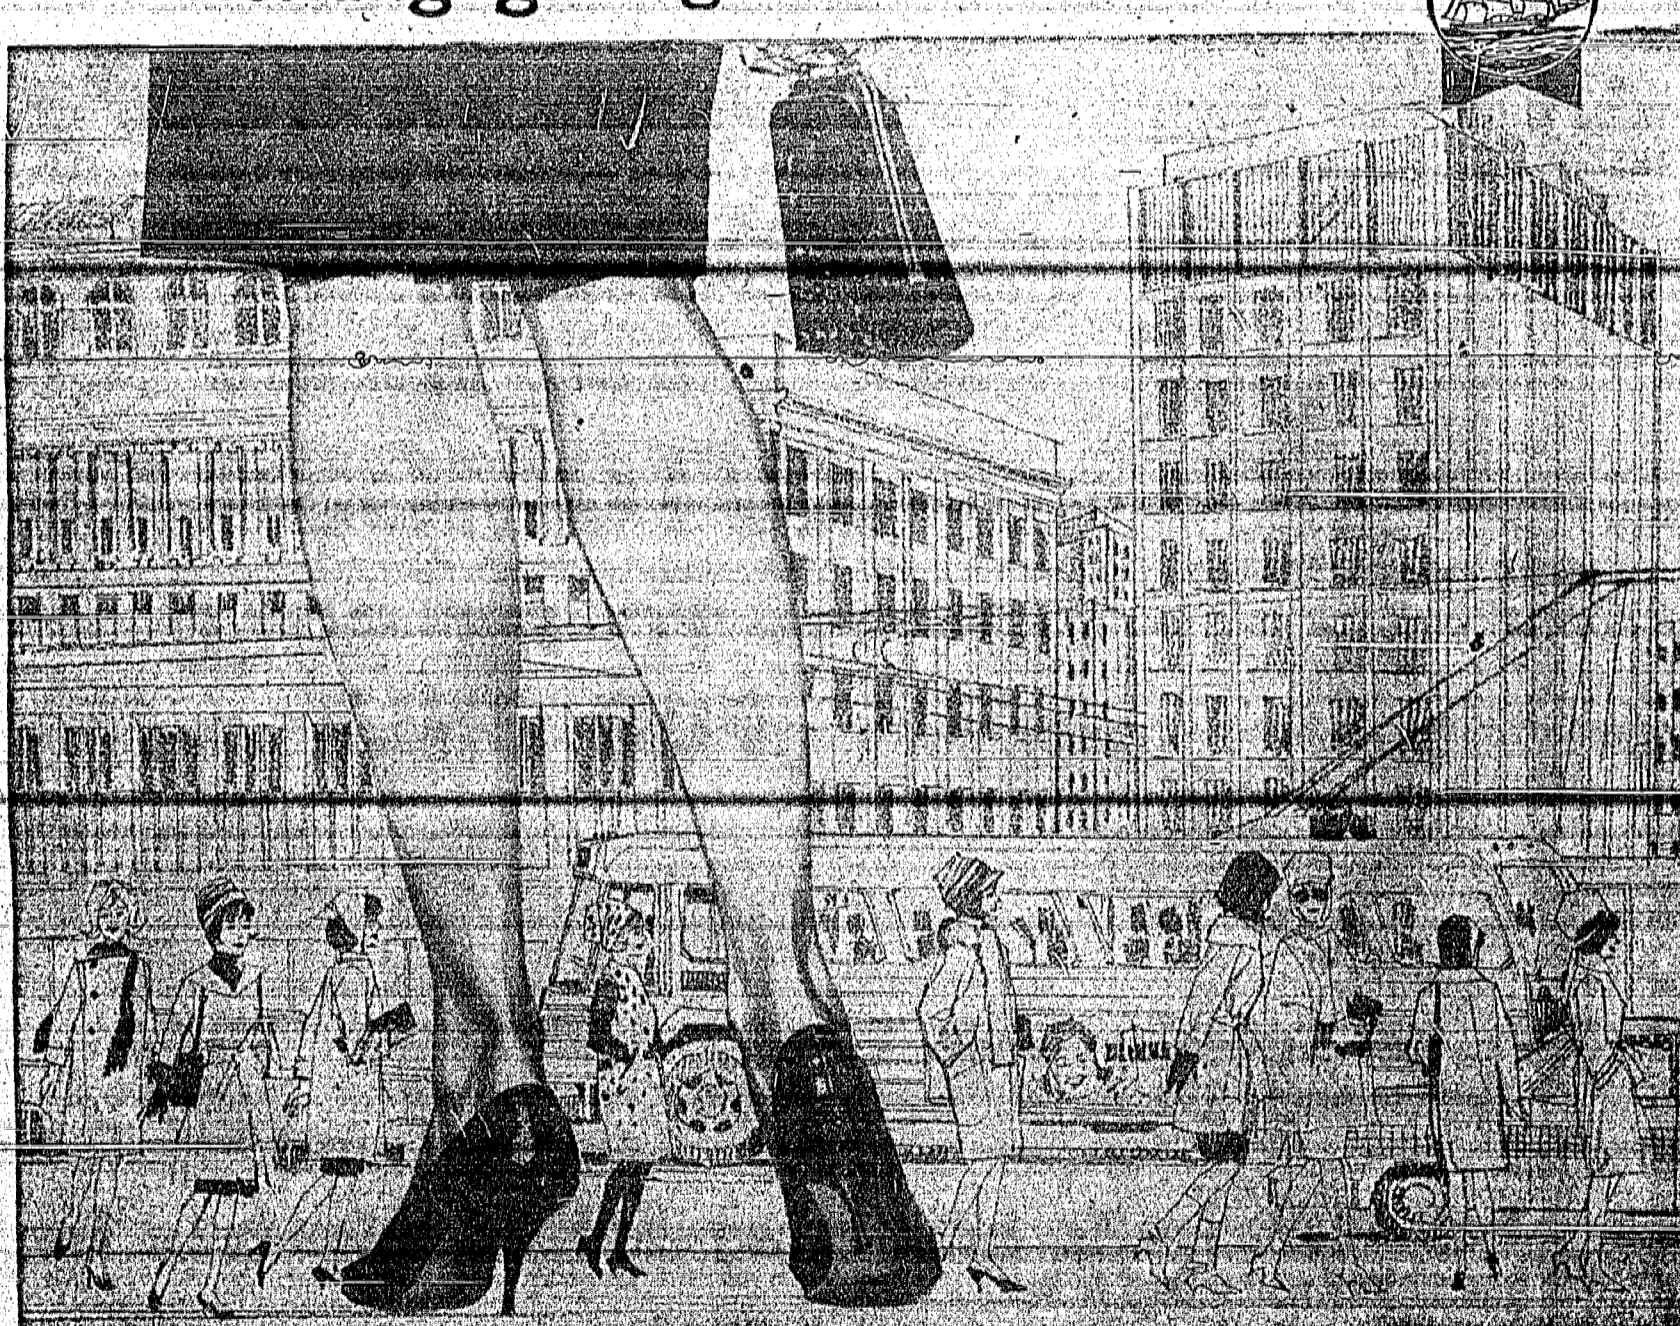

Jones said that Washington's Birthday will give an opportunity to people age 65 and over who are still working to enroll for Medicare. The holiday interviewing hours will also enable sons and daughters to bring parents to the office to file applications for the hospital and medical insurance, he said.

Trailside Center To Present Film

"Our Mr. Sun," a color, sound film, will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watching Reservation, Mountainside, on Sunday at 3 p.m.

The reason, Jones said, for the additional hours is to give everyone age 65 and over the opportunity to register for the Medicare provisions before the deadline of March 31.

A FEMININE LOOK

By TRUDINA HOWARD

(Second in a series of three excerpts from the semi-monthly "France Actuelle" publication of a private association of French businessmen. It gives impressions of America by a group of French youth who saved for several years to tour America last summer.)

FAST, SAFE TRANSPORT

Even though France has one of the largest national per capita car parks in the world, these young people were impressed by the number of autos, and the low-cost gasoline in the U. S. And speaking of nods of approval from the others taking part in the discussion, Jean Claude Tuvic (24-year-old professional photographer and also judo instructor at the American High School in Garches outside Paris) noted, "Despite the automobile density, the traffic moves remarkably fast, thanks to the fantastic network of express highways and coordination of signal lights and straight, one-way streets in cities."

In this line, they all found their bus transport between cities "marvelously comfortable and efficient."

Plenty, and Penury

Martine Jouanda, 18, was excited by the lights of New York's Broadway, "but in daytime," she says, "you see the walls and it is so ugly." Also, in New York and other American cities she visited, she saw "so much poverty" in the midst of so much plenty. Pauline Murray agrees: "In the cities buildings often were dirty, and we did see a good deal of poverty side-by-side with so many riches."

Quite a few, however, voiced disagreement on this. Thus Jean Claude Tuvic: "Poverty in the United States is not flagrant, though certain states seem to have more poor and relatively backward areas than others." Françoise Le Tohic, 21-year-old pharmaceutical student adds, "And those who were poor, were not very poor."

All these French visitors, however, felt strongly that, as one put it, "All Negro quarters we saw were quite bad, and neglected in every way."

Conveniences Worth Getting Used To

The comments next turned spontaneously to what one girl rather ecstatically called "those superb modern conveniences most Americans have." Above all, as one young woman sighed, "the household comforts and efficiencies." Edwige Bossons found the air-conditioning "wonderful," though there was general group muttering to the effect summed up by one young man's "have to get used to it, I guess."

Also, "the swimming pools are sensational — everywhere, and good!" All were impressed, furthermore, by "the full concentration on the job of the life guards."

The telephone system and service were found to be "formidable." Said one young engineering student, wistfully, and with the others nodding agreement, "So easy to send telegrams. And added a girl office worker, "The courtesy of the telephonists!" Said another girl: "The phone service in America is something we couldn't have believed possible from our own experience at home."

Goldbrickers?

They were not, however, greatly impressed by the American production they saw. The automobile factory they visited in Detroit, for example, was disappointing. "It was an old factory," said a technical-minded young Frenchman, "with an old assembly line — the plant and production at the Simca and Renault plants outside Paris, for example, are much more modern." The refinery they saw at Baton Rouge, however, was deemed to have "the same modern machinery and methods as our refineries in France."

Nor were they impressed by the working pace. Sample comments: "Americans do not work very hard, even on assembly lines." And, "In offices they seem to take it easy, with lots of breaks." Added a young business executive, with the group about him nodding agreement: "In our French factories we work much more seriously and carefully. This is not true, however, in our offices. Possibly even American office workers are more serious and productive than ours."

Women's Place And Privilege

The conversation with one group got around to women in America. Said Jacqueline Vasseur, forthrightly, "The American woman is the queen. The men are constantly polite to them and catering to them. And this seems to be true even in families of simplest circumstances."

Another Frenchwoman's comment: "The most shocking thing is the way the American women go out on the streets, and do shopping, in curlers! But I was prepared — a friend who visited America before me had told me that if a young woman in the United States has an evening date, she may even go to work in her factory or office in curlers."

The Way They Dress!

Says Edwige Bossons: "Young Americans do dress strangely. Shockingly, actually, and without any complex about it." Added another young woman: "They certainly are eccentric in their dressing."

And the American young men? "Not very good taste in dressing" summed up the general conclusion, though one Frenchman added: "It was surprising to see how many American men, young and older, wear ties, and how many wear white shirts."

Good Old Family Life

Contrary to a rather prevalent impression in France, these young people give top marks to American family life. Says 18-year-old Dominique Courtin: "American home life is closer and more relaxed than books and movies had led me to believe."

Mme. Vasseur, with three children of her own, was even more approving: "As soon as young Americans marry, they get the best, including modernly equipped kitchens. They manage this somehow, maybe on credit, and this seems a very good idea. Also American families play games and sports together and quite other than we had been led to believe, they do many things together as a family. They're pals together. Another thing we noted was that the typical American father is much closer to his son than the typical French father."

Federal Tax Facts

INCOME TAX ERRORS

A large number of simple errors were revealed in the 1965 Federal income tax returns filed during January.

Joseph M. Shutz, Director of the New Jersey District of the Internal Revenue Service, states that these repetitive errors delay refunds and cause unnecessary correspondence with taxpayers.

Shutz suggests that each taxpayer (1) copy his Social Security Number directly from his social security card onto his tax return, (2) print his name and address clearly, (3) use the correct tax table in figuring his tax, (4) check all arithmetic, (5) total itemized deductions on page 2 and (6) sign the return. Both husband and wife should sign a joint return and both of their social security numbers should be included.

Your tax return will be processed sooner if you use the pre-identified tax form, or the label from it on the tax return which you file.

Finally, the District Director suggests that you do not mail your return immediately after preparing it. Put it aside for a day or two and give it a final review before sealing and mailing it.

Although employers are required to mail W-2 Forms (Withholding Statements) to all employees on or before Jan. 31, many taxpayers have called Internal Revenue offices to report that they had not received them. Director Shutz advises taxpayers to be sure that their employer has their current address. Some taxpayers have moved without notifying past employers. He says:

"Try to get a Form W-2 from your employer. If he has gone out of business, contact him or the present owner of the business."

If you do not succeed, prepare your 1965 income tax return from the best information available, and file it before the April 15 deadline. Attach a note to your return explaining why the Form W-2 is missing.

Finally, if your tax return comes out even or if you have a refund coming, mail it to the Internal Revenue Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

PRESSURE FOR HIGH MARKS

The pressure for good marks is building up at this time of year.

It is true that the student with high grades does have advantages. When he finishes high school, the good marks make it easier to be admitted to college or a technical school. This is also true for many employment opportunities.

Each child is an individual and reacts differently to situations — often not the same way his parents react. While some people work better under pressure, others go to pieces.

It's wise to encourage children to work for as good grades as they can get, but too much pressure is dangerous. Usually a child will come close to working up to his ability.

When he does not, there will be a reason. Try to find what is holding him back, so the situation can be changed.

Sometimes a counselor (school or private) can get at the root of the trouble better than the parent. It may be that the parent is pushing the child to achieve more than he is capable of mastering.

When the parents and the school work together with the child, there is less danger of pressuring the youngster for high marks.

Even though children often need to be spurred on to do their best, be satisfied with their best. Further pressure can result in ill-health and unhappiness which is not the result you desire.

SKATING CHAMPS TO BE STARRED IN BENEFIT SHOW

Funorama-on-Ice 1966, the first of its kind presented each spring by the Essex Skating Club of New Jersey for the benefit of The Hospital Center at Orange, will be held April 30 and May 1 at the South Mountain Arena, West Orange, according to Alexander B. Lyon Jr. of Short Hills, general chairman.

Among this year's headline performers are Nobuo Sato, the Japanese skater who performed in world championship competition at Colorado Springs in 1965; and Miss Petra Burka, 19, of Toronto, a world champion in figure skating for 1965.

Also in the cast of national stars are Gordon R. McKellen Jr., 12, of Reading, Pa., silver 1965 Lake Placid International free skating champion and Lorna Dyer and John Robert Carpl, of Seattle, Wash., who finished third in the World Dance Championships in 1965.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Carolyn Yuknus, County Home Economist

The custom touches that a home sewer adds not only give an outfit a special finish but add an individual signature. Couturier touches are usually a little more time consuming since most of them require hand sewing.

For example, the bound edge of a hem is really a couturier touch and can be easily accomplished. To bind the edge of a hem use either bias binding or self bias cut from the lining material. One edge of the bias can be machine stitched on the inside so that when the bias is folded over the raw edge of the hem the machine stitching does not show. Then the other edge of the bias strip is hand sewed in place. Finally, the bound edge of the hem can be catch stitched in place to the garment.

The same binding principle can be used to attach a lining to the facing edge of a jacket. Or instead of using a flat binding, use the bias to cover a fine cording. Then insert the cording between the edge of the lining and the facing. Or a note of contrast can be added in attaching a lining to a jacket by using fine lace or other trimming in place of the matching bias binding.

The bottom edge of a skirt lining is usually hemmed free from the garment. A straight hem is quite serviceable but a couturier touch will make it even nicer. A narrow rolled hem on this edge can be further finished with a shell stitch that gives a finished scalloped look. Or use the satin stitch cam in an automatic stitching machine to make a decorative edge on a skirt lining.

Arrow tacks and sash stitching are both couturier touches that are best completed by hand. Arrow tacks are well placed at the top of a skirt slit or ends of pockets. Either visible or invisible sash stitching can make a neat

ASK AMY... by Amy Adams

Dear Amy: I have been engaged for five years to a swell fellow. We are both 36 (never been married before). I have been wracking my brain trying to decide what to give him for Valentine's Day. We met on Valentine's Day six years ago. He has just about everything. Any suggestions on what to give him?

Dear Andrea: Yes... an ultimatum!

Dear Amy: My children sent me a gorgeous poinsettia plant for the holidays. I would like to keep it always but I don't know how to care for it. It looks like it's dying, and I need advice.

Dear Mrs. R. J. W.: My plant expert is on vacation, and I'm as green as grass on poinsettias. So I'm throwing it open to my green thumb readers. I'll print their replies as soon as they arrive... sit tight.

Dear Amy: My husband died Aug. 31, 1965. We were a close couple and loved each other more than life itself and I have mourned him so. My neighbors, one in particular, have bugged me ever since about getting over this. She thinks I'm foolish not to have sent Christmas cards out this past season. I had told her I was not sending any and that I hoped no one would send me any, either. I made it known to everyone, but lo and behold, her Christmas card arrived anyway. I was so disgusted, I took and threw it in the garbage.

I would like to know what was correct if I was wrong or if she was? If you were not up to sending cards this past year, that was your prerogative, however, to have rejected those of your friends and family was in poor taste and unkind.

Complete directions for the above finishes and many more can be found in the commercial work books published by various pattern companies. These books are ready references for both practical and fancy finishes.

SUFFICIENT LIGHT REDUCES FATIGUE FOR HOUSEWIVES

Well planned lighting at the principal work centers of your kitchen reduces fatigue. When there's sufficient light, you don't work in your own shadow, wasting energy to see what you're doing.

What is good lighting in a kitchen? Mrs. Cleo M. Cottrell, extension home-management family economics specialist at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, Rutgers University, says it's good general lighting plus added light at specific work areas.

With fluorescent lighting, use three 20-watt or two 25-watt tubes shaded with glass or louvers for general lighting. Or a 150-watt incandescent lamp bulb in a 12-inch enclosing globe will give enough general illumination for most kitchens.

Over the sink, a shielded ceiling fixture can be used with a 150-watt standard bulb. Or you can use fluorescent tubes shielded so the light will not glare in your eyes.

A well-lighted range will help you see what's cooking. Shield this light, too, so you are not conscious of the light itself — just the ease of seeing it affords you.

Light at work counters minimizes fatigue. The New Jersey State University specialist recommends a 20-watt shielded fluorescent tube for each 25 to 30 inches of counter space. When attached on the underside of the wall cabinet near the front edge, they flood your work counter with a soft light. The shaded tube will not be too bright, even when you sit down and look directly at the fixture.

Deadlines for late copy is Monday at noon. NO COPY WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION in our next issue after Monday noon.

HOME OF THE WEEK:

Partridge Hill Features "Estates" Of 1 1/2 Acres In Watchung Mountains

"The Willow" split level model at Partridge Hill sells for $33,500. The 4-bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home is one of several models available at the Warren Township community.

Nestled in the hills between the first and second Watchung Mountains in Warren Township, the homes of Partridge Hill are spaciouly set on "estate-sized" lots of 1 1/2 acres. The generous sized lots and the location high in the hills are responsible for the success story of sales at Partridge Hill, according to Thomas Zaninelli, realtor, sales agent for the tract. Some 40 homes have been sold there since Labor Day with only 5 lots still available.

Spaciousness, too, is apparent in the six basic models — in room dimensions, well-planned traffic pattern, closet and storage space. The homes feature 3, 4, and 5 bedrooms with 2 1/2, 3 baths. All homes are prepared for central air conditioning and central vacuum system. Despite the country surroundings, all lots are improved with city sewers, water, natural gas, and curbs.

Prices range from $29,900 to $36,500 for the basic models at Partridge Hill. On exhibit are:

THE MAPLE — a 2-story home with a 33 foot covered porch. This model offers four bedrooms including a master bedroom 18x13 with a walk-in closet.

The first floor has a living room 23 ft. in length, formal dining room, a 20-ft. kitchen-dinette with adjoining laundry room and lavatory, and a paneled family room. A full basement and a two-car garage is included in this model which sells for $36,500.

THE DOGWOOD — a Cape-Ranch blends the convenience of ranch style with the expansion possibilities of the Cape Cod. A living room with formal dining room, family room, kitchen, dinette, laundry, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths are all conveniently arranged on the ground level. Second floor offers space for two additional bedrooms and bath. The Dogwood sells for $29,900.

THE WILLOW — a split-level, the Willow offers four bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. The master bedroom features a wall-length closet. The living room with optional fireplace overlooks the formal dining room on a lower level off the kitchen-dinette area. Model also includes a family room, 2-car garage with storage space, and laundry room. The model is priced at $33,500.

Among the other models at Partridge Hill are THE POPLAR, ranch-and-a-half of Dutch Colonial farmhouse design. Three bedrooms are at ground level with expansion possible for two bedrooms and bath. Home sells for $33,500. THE SYCAMORE is a 2-story home with 4 bedrooms and 2 baths on the second floor and is priced at $33,900. THE LAUREL bi-level features a "sunken" living room and a raised dining room with outdoor dining balcony. The home has three bedrooms with an optional fourth bedroom at a lower level off the recreation room.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

TIME TO PLANT!

Here's a garden job that shouldn't wait much beyond the third week in February if you want to keep on schedule. Plant petunia seed now. With an active green thumb and lots of luck your plants should be ready for the garden by mid-May.

Next week it'll be snapdragon planting time. Growing plants from seed on the window-sill is an adventure no gardener should miss. Your green thumb may come through the experience battered and bruised, but at least you'll have a keener appreciation of the sturdy, garden-ready plants you can buy from your florist or supply center next spring.

GREEN THUMB CHALLENGE

Rutgers specialists recommend as a general rule that you try to raise your own plants only of special or rare varieties that your florist may not have for sale about Memorial Day. This means checking now to find out what he will have.

It's a sure bet that you'll never find a plantsman who has any intention of growing all varieties of petunias, of which there are at least 350. (A committee-making plans for Rutgers flower-vegetable field day next Aug. 5 came up with this amazing total after scanning seed catalogs. Petunias will hold the spotlight at the event.)

If you'd like to know more about annual flowers, including the best way to start plants and grow seedlings, you can get a copy of the free U.S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, "Growing Flowering Annuals."

Ask your county agricultural agent or send a card to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, Rutgers University, New Brunswick 08903. Just mention "Annuals."

CLASS HELD FOR TUTORS

Action Program To Aid Disadvantaged

The young man enthusiastically waved his hand for attention. When the teacher called on him he blurted: "I think we should head 'Playboy'!"

"Fine, let's list that on the board for now," replied the teacher blandly. "What else do you think we should read our class time doing?"

The scene was a classroom in the Rutgers Graduate School of Education. The teacher was Laurence Hopp, director of the Rutgers Educational Action Program, an experiment in working with educationally disadvantaged children run by the State University with federal funds. The young man was a Rutgers student taking part in the final evening of a ten-session training program for prospective REAP tutors.

Hopp and the college students were role-playing, or acting out, some of the attitudes the tutors might confront while working with the seventh and eighth grade students who participate in REAP.

Hopp was demonstrating how a teacher can channel and utilize a student's interests, even seemingly unlikable ones. "If a teacher is really good, he can use practically any starting point to get to his subject matter — the important thing is to take account of the pupil's need for attention and recognition and to use his emotional needs as a lever to get him to take an interest in his own education," he said.

"The youngsters you're learning to deal with," he told the tutors, "are acting-out kids, not middle class children who have been carefully taught to repress their impulses and to think of the future. These kids have already had difficulties because they don't think very well of themselves. "We think we know some ways to get these kids to learn to like themselves and to lead them to use their vigor in creativity rather than in destruction."

THERE ARE 120 youngsters from New Brunswick and Franklin Township, selected in cooperation with the school systems in those towns, who take part in REAP.

The project began during the summer of 1964 with 60 children and enrolled an additional 60 last summer. The youngsters attend a seven-week summer program on the Rutgers campus and also are provided with special auxiliary services throughout the year. REAP provides tutors for those who want special help with their school work, runs workshops for parents to bring them closer to their children and operates a Saturday program of cultural enrichment.

In recent weeks it has opened REAP centers in Franklin Township and New Brunswick where students in the program can come for tutoring and evening recreational activities.

In addition, careful records are kept of the school and behavior performances of the students involved and of their participation in REAP, as the effectiveness of various parts of the REAP program can be analyzed.

The basic aim of the program is to create changes in the way the children think of themselves, in the belief that such improved self-images will create happier children with improved behavior.

"We're not trying to change these kids into nice bland vegetables like us," Hopp emphasized, "but we do want to harness their vitality and turn it toward non-destructive purposes."
