ATTENTION CLASS: Daily class for Linda Clark, 10-year-old Mountainside child who has been hospitalized since last October, is called to order. Miss Marianne Beckers, a member of the borough schools' faculty, uses projectors, tapes and other teaching aids to help Linda keep up with her fifth grade classmates in Echobrook School.

School's Out -- But Not For Linda!

Hospitalized Child Studies To 'Catch Up' With Class

By RITA ZEISS

Mountainside schools are closed this week but one student has been having classes every day, even on Washington's birthday.

Ten-year-old Linda Clark, hospitalized since last October, is counting on this extra week of bedside classes to help her "catch up" to her fifth grade classmates in Mrs. Aletta Borik's class in Echobrook School.

Her tutor, Miss Marianne Beckers, says Linda's just the gal who can do it!

Miss Beckers, a member of the borough schools' faculty, started bedside instruction for Linda about five weeks ago spending one hour each school day with the child. She is amazed, she says, how much work Linda has made up in that time.

"She is up to class level in English, social studies and spelling," Mrs. Beckers reports, "she is catching up in math — this extra week should do the trick. Linda gets it so quickly."

Linda is unable, as yet, to use a pencil so she uses a tape recorder. Linda studies from tapes too and she also sends messages to her friends via tape. One of her tapes, which told of her progress in her battle against the paralysis that struck her Oct. 30 after a playground accident in Echo Brook Park, was played by Miss Beckers at a recent P.T.A. meeting.

LINDA CAN TALK TOO! She always had the ability to talk, her mother, Mrs. James Clark of Walnut St., explains carefully but because of the tracheotomy operation that was necessary early in her hospitalization she was unable to do so for some time.

She can also form her fingers, the fingers that once could not move at all, into fists. She can lift her knees up from the bed if her mother or nurse hold the back of her knees, she can raise her feet.

She can read her mail, the mail that still pours in daily. Scores of Valentine cards were added last week to the piles of letters and cards which, under Linda's instruction, are all carried home in shopping bags as part of her ambitious plan to "save them forever." She was able to eat, and relish, the candy sent to her in a heart-shaped box, by the attendants in the hospital's parking lot, the same attendants who daily save a space for Mrs. Clark's car.

She studies, she cooperates patiently and perseveringly with the physio-therapist who spends about one-half hour each morning and afternoon helping her regain the use of her muscles. She's gaining a working knowledge of anatomy too — she uses the correct anatomical definitions in reporting to her mother the therapy carried out each day. She knows which exercise benefits which muscle, muscles that until recently she didn't even know she had.

She usually takes her school lessons while lying on her stomach — her treatment requires that she be reversed every hour from her back to her stomach and visa versa. She not only accepts uncomplainingly the rigid regimen laid out for her by her doctors, but keeps her own time schedule to make sure she's in the right position at all times. Her mother and teacher describe her perseverance and patience as "amazing."

SUPPORTS POOL

Citizen's Committee Reactivated By Ross

Herbert Ross, of 1606 Rising way, who organized the Citizen's Committee for a Municipal Pool in 1964, announced this week that he is reactivating the committee to see that over 600 families sign up as members of the proposed municipal pool. Ross has already submitted by mail his check for $80 to cover his family's membership.

He has also offered his services to Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. and the Borough Council saying the "Citizen's Committee for a municipal pool easily can be reactivated to get the needed membership."

Ross, who at one time threatened a march on Borough Hall to push the pool project through, hailed the announced plans for the $300,000 facility to be located in the bird sanctuary adjacent to the playing field of Echobrook School. "The proposed execution of the plan shows, he said, that 'the needs of the community when pointed out by a group of citizens, will be satisfied by their elected officials.'"

He reminded the Council that two years ago when the Citizen's Committee was established for the express purpose of arousing interest in a municipal pool, he was told it would be "utterly impossible to generate enthusiasm in the community and move the Council to action."

The Citizen's Committee, headed by Ross, collected 350 signatures on a pool petition in the summer of 1964. Later the names were submitted to the Recreation Committee as supplementary information after that body received about 800 "yes" answers on a postcard pool survey it conducted in September of that year.

When the Borough Council ran into snags in its attempt to purchase the presently proposed site, Ross urged that other possible sites be investigated so the community "could swim and dive in '65."

Baseball Registration

Mountainside Little League will hold final registration for the 1966 season this Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon in the all-purpose room of Deerfield School, Central Ave. All boys aged 8 to 15, who are interested in playing baseball with the community league are urged to sign up.

ECHO PROFILE - - - John Keuler

John Keuler was 15 when he came to live in Mountainside in 1932. A former resident of Brooklyn, he had lost both his parents and came here to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Peterman. The Petermans lived then in the same house in which Keuler now lives with his wife and two children, Edward, 8, and Eva Lynn, 6.

Keuler and his wife, who were married nine years ago, moved into the house at 161 Locust St., four years ago. Mr. Peterman died some years ago and Mrs. Peterman now remained in California.

Mountainside was a very small town back in 1932 but the orphaned city boy felt instantly at home here. Active in Boy Scouting in Brooklyn, he became interested in scouting here and during his adult years served for 15 years as Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 70 which has since disbanded.

He has started back that same road again — his son, Edward, is a member of Cub Pack 177 and Keuler is now serving as Cubmaster.

The Mountainside Union Chapel, then the only house of worship in the borough, became his church. He and his family still attend services there. Mrs. Keuler is a member of the Ladies Aid.

Keuler didn't attend school after coming to Mountainside — in those days orphan boys were expected — and themselves expected — to go to work.

He had always been interested in electricity. One of the older members of the Fire Department, which Keuler joined as soon as he was old enough, encouraged him to go to night school to study in that field. He attended school in New York City, worked as an apprentice for a while and has for some years now been conducting his own business.

650 Families Must Sign Before Pool Can Be Built

Official Opening Of Registration Set For Monday

$285,000 Bond Issue Planned By Borough To Finance Project

A municipal pool will be in operation in Mountainside this summer if 650 borough families sign up as members by March 15. The project "will not and cannot be carried out" unless that many residents submit a $20 deposit on or before the deadline date, the Recreation Commission announced.

Registration will open officially next Monday at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School when the Recreation Commission will hold an informational public meeting on the proposed pool.

The pool, if it gains broad support throughout the borough, would be financed through a bond issue of $285,000 with another $15,000 coming from capital outlay. A public hearing on the bond issue, introduced at last week's meeting of the Borough Council has been scheduled for March 8 in Echobrook School at 8:30 p.m.

Family membership, including parents and all children under 21, will be $80 annually plus a $20 initiation fee. Single membership, covering individuals age 64 or under, has been set at $40 a year. Senior citizens, anyone 65 or over, will pay only $15 annually. Initiation fees will be waived for all memberships submitted prior to March 15, the Recreation Commission stated.

Pool Facilities

According to present plans, a rectangular concrete pool, 165 feet long by 50 feet wide, will be constructed on a portion of the present state-owned bird sanctuary adjacent to the playing field of Echo Brook School. The main section of the pool will be three-and-a-half to five feet deep. A diving area, 17 feet deep and measuring 30 by 50 feet, will be adjacent or attached to the main pool. A separate wading pool will also be constructed. Two dressing rooms with shower facilities are planned. Sun decks will be built on the roofs of the dressing rooms.

The borough is currently negotiating with the N.J. State Highway Department for the purchase of 2.7 acres of the sanctuary, which covers about 4.2 acres. The Union County Park Commission has granted the borough's request for permission to build an access road to the pool from Mountain Ave., west of Parkway.

The project will represent a capital investment of about $300,000.

Lourdes Student Places Second In Diocesan Bee

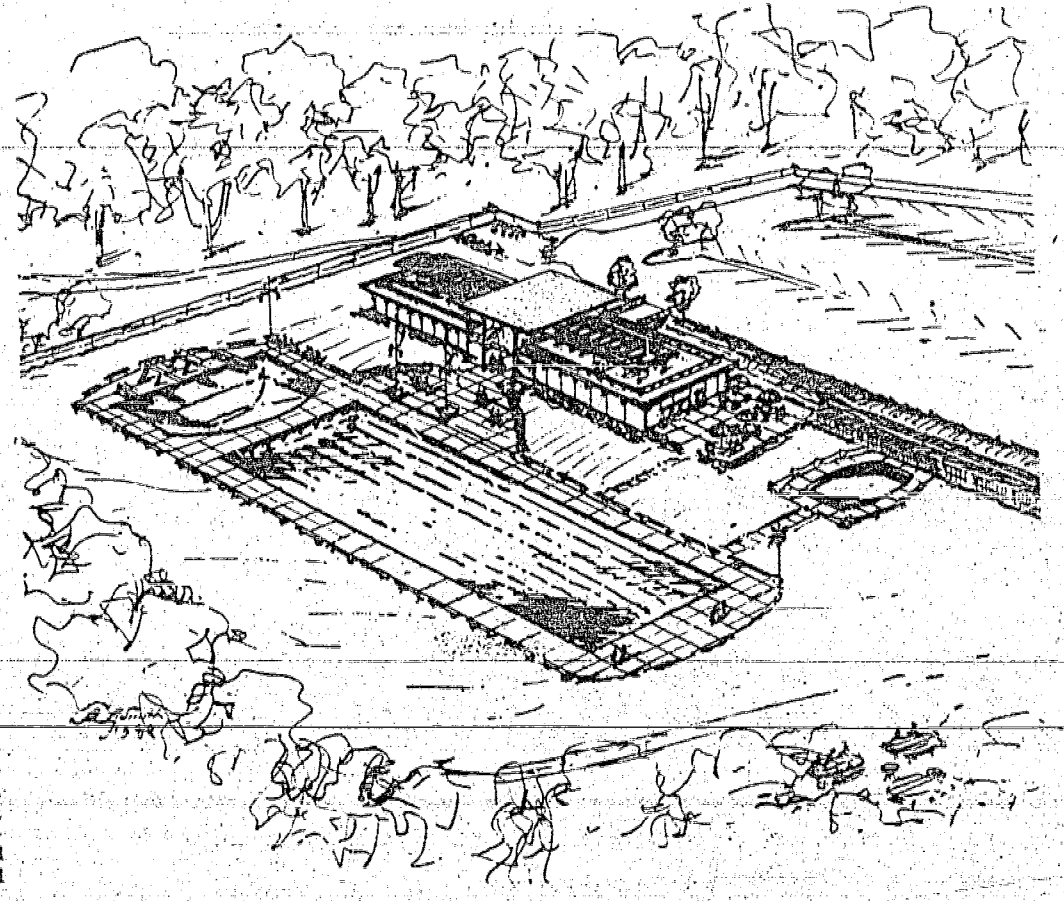

Robert Ludd, an eighth-grader in Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountainside, placed second in a spelling bee held last Saturday in Assumption Church, Roselle Park, under the sponsorship of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Archdiocese of Newark. Ludd was one of 40 finalists from Union, Essex, Hudson and Bergen Counties competing in the event. He received a $25 check as a prize.

The first prize, a check for $50, went to Christine Conteras of St. Nicholas School, Jersey City.

Ludd and another Lourdes student, Patricia Romito, were two of the 10 semi-finalists who represented Union County in the archdiocesan contest for grammar school children. They qualified for the finals in county competitions held Feb. 12 in Linden.

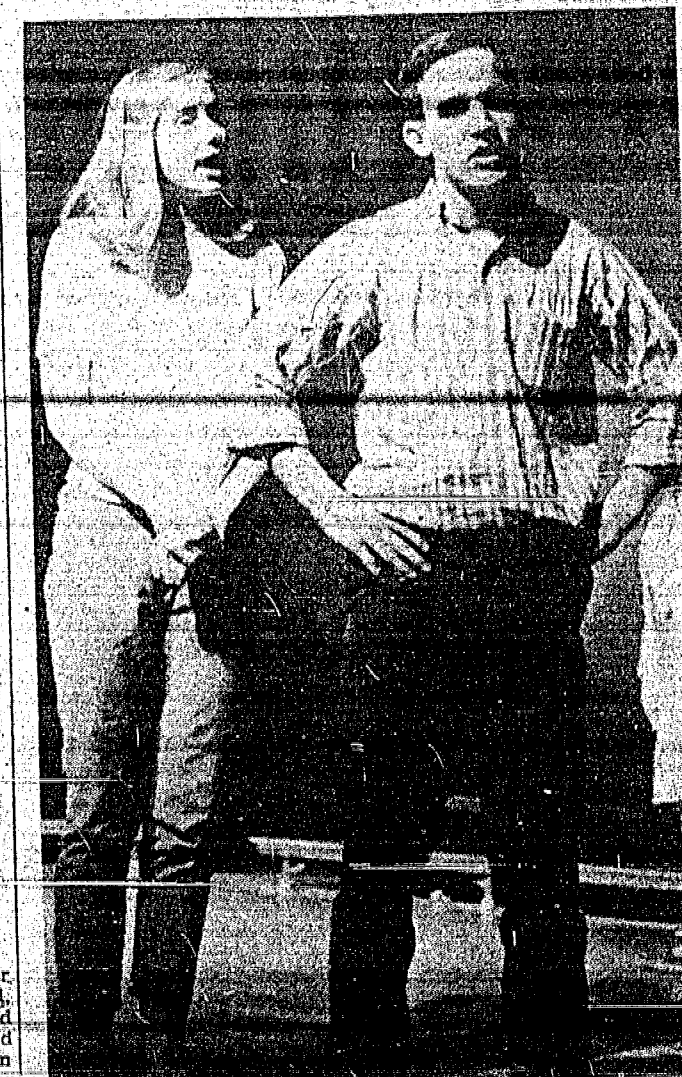

Our Lady of Lourdes, now in its fifth year of operation, was the only school to have two representatives in the finals.

Ludd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ludd of 2 Fawn Ridge. Patricia, who placed 24th in the finals, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Romito of 1176 Ridge Dr.

PROPOSED POOL — Architect's rendering of proposed pool to be constructed as a municipal facility in Mountainside is pictured here. A borough-wide informational meeting on the pool, which would be located near the playing field of Echobrook School, is scheduled Monday in Deerfield School.

'King And I' Opens At Regional 2 Borough Students Will Star

FINAL REHEARSALS — Jacqueline Vincent and Hunter Birkhead rehearse the starring roles they will play next week in Governor Livingston Regional High School's production of "The King and I." Jacqueline, who has the role of "Anna," and Hunter, who has been cast as the King of Siam, are both Mountainside residents.

'Medicare' Enrollment Meeting Set; All Golden Agers Urged To Attend

A "Medicare" meeting, aimed at enrolling persons 65 or over for the new health insurance benefits under Social Security, has been scheduled March 5 at 8:30 a.m. in the Florence M. Gaudineer School, Springfield.

Ralph W. Jones, district manager of the Elizabeth Social Security office, urged all people over 65, who are not now receiving Social Security or railroad retirement benefits, to attend the session. This includes all those in that age group now working and all those who never qualified for Social Security monthly benefits.

Enrollment forms have already been mailed to those now collecting Social Security or railroad retirement benefits; such persons can complete their registration by mail.

Jones suggested that relatives or friends represent those senior citizens who are unable to attend. All applicants should bring proof of age, if possible.

Transportation, which will be provided by the League of Women Voters of Springfield, can be arranged by calling 376-5115 or 376-1897.

Two Mountainside students, Hunter Birkhead and Jacqueline Vincent, will star next week in Governor Livingston Regional High School's production of "The King and I." The show will be presented March 4 and 5 in the auditorium of the Berkeley Heights school.

Birkhead will play the King of Siam and Jacqueline will portray the teacher "Anna" in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Both young people have appeared in other productions at the regional high school. Birkhead portrayed "Sakini," the Okinawan interpreter, in "Feasthouse of the August Moon" presented last November and had a role in last spring's musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." He is presently working on the Drama Club's interpretation of "Spoon River" for the state-wide drama competition in Rider College.

Miss Vincent previously appeared in "South Pacific" and "Annie Get Your Gun." She recently represented Union County in the N.J. State Junior contest held in Elizabeth.

Albert Dorhout will direct the musical. Dorhout directed "Guys and Dolls" in 1964 and "South Pacific" in 1965 at New Brunswick High School where he served as vocal music director for six years. His assistant, Mrs. Carol Forsman, a recent addition to the social studies faculty, served as assistant director in two musicals and directed one while she was a student at Duke University.

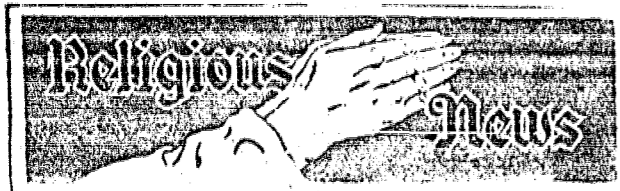

A new Spanish teacher, Miss Jill Donnelly, is doubling as choreographer for the musical. A graduate of Gettysburg College, she performed in two shows there and has had considerable experience in modern dance.

In addition to a cast of princes, princesses, wives and slaves in the Siamese Court, a 15-piece student orchestra is rehearsing under the direction of Walter Roth and Forrest Bartlett. Close to 100 students are working on the backstage committees.

Robert Josen of the art department, with the help of students from the Art Club, designed and will decorate the scenery which is being built by Daniel Gonula and Peter Festante. Lighting and sound effects will be handled by Robert Seyfarth's audio-visual crew with Gary Martin as chairman in charge of the costumes, props and make-up are student committees headed by Carol Mazur, Debbie Douglas and Paula Hunchar.

Support Urged

Former Councilman William Ditzel, who now heads the Recreation Commission, this week urged residents to support the pool "if you want it." Referring to the pool survey which was conducted in September, 1964, under his direction, he pointed out that over 600 families indicated at that time they were interested in becoming members of a municipal pool. Now is the time, he said, for them to transfer that interest into positive action.

A representative of the architectural firm of Eggers and Higgins of New York City, designer of the proposed pool, will be at Monday night's meeting to show colored slides of the pool.

COUNT RETURNS from Heart Sunday: Mrs. John Keuler, center, chairman of Mountainside's Heart Fund Drive, assisted by Mrs. John Carris left, and Mrs. Thomas Keuler, counts the first — and disappointing — returns from Sunday's door-to-door drive. Only $172.20 was tallied in the first returns, Mrs. Keuler reported. She urged all residents to send in their contributions to help fight diseases of the heart and blood vessels — the number one killer in the nation.

AAUW WILL HEAR SPEECH GIVEN AT NATIONAL CONFAB

A reading of an address given by Mrs. Pauline Fredericks, the United Nations correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company, will be given at tonight's meeting of the Mountainside Branch of the American Association of University Women. The meeting is scheduled to open at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. Wilfred Hand, 32 Evergreen Ct.

Mrs. Fredericks' speech, which she delivered at the annual meeting of the national AAUW held in Portland, Ore., will be read by Mrs. Nicholas Bradshaw, vice-president of the local group.

A representative of the borough's Board of Education will also speak.

Cub Scout Pack To Hold Its Annual Blue, Gold Dinner, Award Badges

Cub Scout Pack 70 of Mountainside held its annual Blue and Gold dinner last Saturday in the Cranwood Inn.

A demonstration in Judo for sport and self-defense was presented by the Yonezuka Judo School of Westfield. An instructor and two young students took part in the exhibition. Mr. Yonezuka showed the Cubs how with a single Karate chop he could split five boards piled one on the other.

Wolf badges were awarded to Paul DiPiazza, David DiPiazza, Matt Horan, Tom Maschella and Joseph Knodel. Horan also received gold and silver arrows.

Donald Goff, Marc Hoffman, Keith Platoff, Michael Staub, Bo Bossert and Richard Wiltner received bear badges. Mark Klimefelter received a lion badge plus silver and gold arrows.

Den 3 led the opening ceremonies during which grace was said according to the custom of Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths.

Bob McDonald, Jack Zarra and Kenneth Hoffman, members of Boy Scout Troop 76 who serve as den chiefs for Pack 70, conducted the closing ceremonies.

ECHO PROFILE

(Continued from Page 1) THE FIRE Department has been one of the main interests in his life through the years. He has held every office in the department, with the exception of chief, and has served as first and second assistant chief several times. The only post on the department he will not accept as a matter of policy is that of fire inspector. He feels that his line of work excludes him from that area since he would be too open to charges of conflict of interest.

He was one of the charter members of the borough's Rescue Squad, a group which was formed by police and firemen as a service to the community. He is still as active, still as deeply interested in the Squad as he was when it was founded. His enthusiasm has spread to his wife, who is one of the capable female members who man the ambulance during the day.

for all collections from business and industry in the borough. HE HOPES to get a big response from the industrial section, a response big enough to put the drive over its $2,500 goal. He and Mrs. Keuler have a very special reason for working in the annual drive. Three years ago their son developed rheumatic fever. Since that time, Eddie, now a third-grader in Echobrook School, has been supplied by the Union County Heart Association with penicillin, the magic drug that has rescued so many children from the heart damage that used to result from rheumatic fever. Eddie is well on his way to robust health, his activities almost unlimited, his small body, thanks to the Heart Association and penicillin, undamaged by the once-crippling malady.

Small Eva, a blonde, blue-eyed charmer who specializes in wrapping daddy around her finger, is only in the first grade at Beechwood School, but she knows all about heart drives, fire departments, rescue squads and all the other borough projects in which her parents are active.

She's not big enough for Girl Scouting yet but when she is, it's a pretty sure bet that the Keulers will become involved in that program too.

Being involved in community activities is a way of life — a busy way of life — for the Keulers.

Heart Fund Drive Collects $172.20; Far Short Of Goal

Only $172.20 was tallied as of press time in collections made in Mountainside's door-to-door drive on Heart Sunday. The chairman, Mrs. Ruth Keuler, attributed the disappointing results to many factors, principally the failure of many of the volunteers to make their returns at the Fire House immediately after the day's collection ended. The good weather on Sunday also lured people away from home so many doorbells were not answered when the collector called, she said.

Mrs. Keuler expressed the hope that final tabulations, which will be made when all the envelopes circulated by the volunteers are turned in, will bring the local drive over $2,500, the goal for 1966 in the community. Last year the community topped its goal of $1,500 by $375.07 from all sources.

The Heart Fund chairman urged all residents not home when the volunteers called to mail in their envelopes, and so help "control the nation's number one killer — diseases of the heart and blood vessels." She also urged all workers who were unable to complete their calls, for one reason or another, to do so as quickly as possible.

Forty dollars of the total collected Sunday was solicited door-to-door by three teenagers, Debbie Bulew, Angela Churchill and Bernie Harlow, Mrs. Keuler said. The three are members of the "Heart Teens," a group of young people who have been working during February to help boost the Heart Fund.

Other young people who assisted Sunday were Nancy DeChristofors, Kathy Schierele, Eva Keuler, Pat Mooney, Dennis Mooney, James Nock and Laurie Hambacher.

NEWCOMERS SET FASHION SHOW; MEMBERS MODEL

Cruise wear and formal attire will be among the fashions shown by Stan Sommer of Union at the March 9 meeting of the Mountainside Newcomers Club in the Mountainside Inn.

Mrs. Norman Gernil, fashion show chairman, announced that club members will model, and Mrs. William Chittit will provide piano accompaniment. Members modeling will include Mrs. George Chaddon, Mrs. Neil Clover, Mrs. Frank Shippone, Mrs. Francis Fitzgerald, Mrs. Russell Mather, Mrs. Leo Moran, Mrs. Gary Pestell and Mrs. Peter Tausig.

Mrs. Clover, membership chairman, announced that a coffee will be held for prospective members Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Karl Heinze, 1204 Wyoming dr.

These events were discussed at the recent meeting of the board of directors at the home of Mrs. Gernil. Mrs. Edward Elste presided and Mrs. Clover was co-hostess.

Academic Honors Go To Nancy Johnson

Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Johnson, 119 Hoekel dr., Mountainside, has been named to the dean's list at Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa.

A graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Miss Johnson serves as secretary for the sophomore class and is a member of the tutorial project at Cedar Crest, a project designed to assist area public school children in need of academic aid.

Bliwise Widens Lead In Women's League

Lead in the Mountainside Women's Bowling League was widened this week by Bliwise Liaguors which now stands at 49½ victories and 22½ losses, well ahead of the runner-up, Jowitt Motots, with 43 wins and 29 defeats.

Standings of other teams follow:

Villani Increases Lead In League

Villani Lift Truck Service increased its lead last week in the Mountainside Men's Bowling League by shutting out Owens Flying "A". The defeat dropped Owens to third place. Drowettes Nursery moved into the runner-up spot by virtue of a two-game win over Mountainside Drug.

Mountainside Plumbing and Heating jumped from seventh to fourth place by sweeping Mountainside Luncheonette while Air-Con Inc. dropped a notch, from fourth to fifth, losing a pair to last place Wilhelms Construction. A sweep victory was also posted by the Mountainside Police over the Mountainside Deli while two-game wins were notched by Benninger-Taney Agency, Flugman Fuel Oil and Bliwise Liquors.

Purolator Promotes Mountainside Man

James D. Abeles, president of Purolator Products, Inc., has announced the appointment of Albert E. Bell of 1268 Poplar ave., Mountainside, as Director of Purchases for the company.

Bell, who joined Purolator 35 years ago, has served as executive engineer and manager of production control. He received his B.S. in Electrical Engineering from New York University in 1931.

St. Paul's Schedules Daily Lenten Services

St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Westfield has announced its schedule of Lenten services. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7 a.m. Mondays through Saturdays during the penitential season.

Morning prayers will be offered at 9 a.m. on Mondays through Fridays and intercessional prayers at 11:30 a.m. Mondays through Fridays. Evening prayers will be said at 8:30 Mondays through Saturdays.

Not another one like it . . .

They say no two fingerprints are alike. It's much the same with banks. Although they seem to offer the same general services, where you bank does make a difference. That's why so many people in the Westfield and Mountainside area rely on The National Bank for all their banking needs. They have found an 'extra measure' of service, convenience and personal attention that makes The National Bank stand out above the rest. Your personal visit will prove the point. Stop by either office soon.

Palace Screenfare Is Macabre Satire

By BEA SMITH
Newspaper advertising blurb on "The Loved One," a recent screen attraction at the Palace Cinema in Orange, have been stressing the fact that this is a "motion picture with something to offend everyone!" And that's a pretty accurate observation.

If Evelyn Waugh followers were slightly appalled by his novel, "The Loved One," imagine what ardent movie viewers of the macabre satires must have felt when Academy-award winning director, Tony Richardson wiped the blood from his hands when he dropped the reins on the final scene from the film adaptation of the book. With a touch of originality and some fanatical, grotesquely-funny material about the weird and unpredictable world of Hollywood studios, by way of scripters Terry Southern and Christopher Isherwood, which Richardson added to the story, "The Loved One" (referring to the dearly departed) holds a viewer in a trance-like stupor, locked in one of the comfortable seats at the Palace.

The excellent cast, combined of Robert Morse (Broadway star who makes his film bow in the picture), as the British visitor to Los Angeles, whose brief stay is one in which he will afterwards spend a lifetime of nightmares; Jonathan Winters (in a dual role as the "Nanette Corner" (she talks like Liz Taylor, even looks like her — sometimes), is enhanced by a host of fine actors of the stage, screen and TV headed by Sir John Gielgud, Rod Steiger, Milton Berle, Tab Hunter, Dana Andrews, Robert Morley, Roddy McDowall and Liberace . . . to name a few.

From film studios, to a fantastic memorial park, to dog cemeteries, to embalming and embalmers, to orbits of eternal

HITCHCOCK FILMS; OPERA FESTIVAL BOOKED AT GROVE

The Grove Cinema, 16th ave. near Grove st., Irvington, is presenting "A Salute to Alfred Hitchcock," tomorrow through Monday, with two of the producer-director's favorite films, "To Catch a Thief," starring Gary Grant and Grace Kelly, and "Psycho," with Anthony Perkins and Janet Leigh.

Every Wednesday and Thursday, two Italian features (with no English subtitles) will be shown. Beginning Friday, March 4, for three days (Friday through Sunday, March 6), an Opera Festival will be presented by Filmaker's Cinema Group. Both features, "Rossini's" and "The Merry Widow," star Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. The following prices will prevail: public, $1.00; members, students and New Jersey teachers, 75 cents. Identification will be required for the reduced rate.

A kiddie show will be presented Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 p. m. featuring Jerry Lewis in "The Delicate Delinquent," Frankie Avalon in "Ski Party," a Three-Stroke comedy and color cartoons. The complete show will finish at 5 p. m.

FEMINE INTEREST — Sue Lloyd provides additional intrigue in "The Ipress File," suspense drama, starring Michael Caine, now on screen at Art Theatre, Irvington Center.

SOLEMN OCCASION — Julie Andrews is a lovely bride in "The Sound of Music," motion picture adaptation of the Rodgers and Hammerstein hit Broadway musical about the von Trapp family prior to World War II. Filmed in Todd-AO and Technicolor and co-starring Christopher Plummer and Eleanor Parker, film is currently in its 30th sensational week at the Bellevue Theatre, Upper Montclair.

MONEY MATTERS: Five years ago Barbra Streisand was earning $50 a week at a Greenwich Village Club. Her contract with CBS-TV (which airs her second special on March 30) guarantees her a minimum of $5,000,000 over a ten-year period . . . The Rolling Stones, whose recent tour of the U.S. netted them two million dollars, received one of the highest fees ever paid by "The Ed Sullivan Show" on their recent live appearance . . . Jim Henson, who used $600 in real money for a stunt on the "Tonight" show with his "Muppets," expected, after having the money scattered all over the stage, to lose some of it. However, after gathering the lucre, Jim counted $600.75! . . .

Westfield Man Held On Weapons Charge

A Westfield man, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was ordered held for the Grand Jury Monday evening by Mountainside's Magistrate Jacob Bauer. Bail was set at $1,000.

The man, Charles D. Potter Jr., 22, was arrested last Saturday by Sgt. Walter Seteman in Chrones Tavern on Mountain Ave. Seteman was accompanied to Chrones by Sgt. Richard Showlin and Officer Joseph Walton of the Westfield Police after Potter's mother reported to Westfield Police that her son had taken two guns from a collection in their home.

Potter's mother told police her son had been drinking when he came in the house about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He told the police he had planned to take the guns to a pawnbroker to get money for more whiskey.

Fred Sleckman, Kin Of Wilhelms, Dies Suddenly

Freddy Sleckman, father of Mrs. Jeanne Wilhelms, wife of Mountainside's mayor, died suddenly last week while entering a Montclair theater with a group of friends. Funeral services were held Saturday.

Sleckman, a well-known orchestra leader for many years, was known for his efforts on behalf of the hospitalized, underprivileged children, the handicapped and the infirm. He was once described by U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. as a man who devoted his life "to giving instead of getting."

Long-time Mountainside residents remember him as the orchestra leader, who, when he played for many community functions, specialized in the "whoops-a-daisy" as a sure fire "get-acquainted" number.

In addition to Mrs. Wilhelms, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Rose Monahan Sleckman of Elizabeth; three sons, Richard of Stratford, Conn., Fred Jr. of Lakewood and John P. of Rahway; a brother, Frank in Bermuda and 13 grandchildren.

Museum Art Center Sets Exhibit At UJC

Three area residents will be among the artists who will exhibit at Union Junior College, Cranford, March 1 through 15. The show will be sponsored by the newly formed Trailside Museum Art Center.

Area participants are: Harry Devlin of Mountainside and Eugene Gauss and Dorothy Kelly of Union. The exhibit will be held in the Nicholas Tomasulo art gallery at the college.

Mrs. Hannah Hoffman, chairman of the exhibit, announced that the display will also feature a collection of works from throughout New Jersey. Included will be sculptures and graphics as well as oil and water paints.

Visitors were invited to view the exhibit without charge Monday through Fridays from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m., and Sundays from 3 to 5 p.m.

Of additional interest to viewers will be demonstrations given by professional members. On Sunday, March 6, at 3 p.m., Herbert S. Wyllie of South Plainfield will give a demonstration in oils. On Sunday, March 13 at 3 p.m., three artists will give simultaneous demonstrations — Mrs. Hannah Hoffman of Elizabeth in pastels, and Mary Ellen Sikket of Piscataway and S. Allyn Schaeffer of Roselle in oils.

The Trailside Museum Arts Center is one of the activities of the Trailside Museum Association Inc. The association, a non-profit organization, also provides aid to the Trailside Nature and Science Center, which is owned and operated by the Union County Park Commission. Advisor to the Arts Center is Mayor Wesley N. Philo of Cranford.

listening to tapes or watching television. The TV, a portable, was a gift.

The amount collected in the fund drive is a constant amazement to her. "They've collected over $2,000," she told her mother in wonderstruck tones. Her mother, knowing how vast that sum seemed to her, didn't tell her that another zero belonged on the figure.

"People have been so good, so generous," Mrs. Clark says feelingly. In addition to their monetary generosity, all the concerned friends, known and unknown, have sustained Linda and her parents with their prayers.

Mrs. Clark says that she and her husband credit Linda's amazing progress to prayer. "It has been like a miracle," she says softly. "We feel that much of it is the result of prayer."

Prayer for Linda has literally gone around the world. Missionary friends of the Clarks, who are members of the Mountainside Union Chapel, have prayed constantly for her in their posts in Tennessee, Alaska, the Philippines and Nigeria.

Linda herself is making plans for the great day when she goes home. First thing on the agenda, she insists, will be a party. Asked who will be there, she says "everybody."

Her parents do not know at this point when that great day will be. But they are sure, just as sure as Linda is, that it will come. Linda has already decided on the outfit she will wear home — a plaid skirt, a white blouse and a blazer — all new, of course.

Just as new as the world will be the day Linda comes home!

Lenten Sermons Continue At Noon

The second of the weekly noon Lenten devotional services will be held Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, Westfield. The pastor, Rev. William E. Cober, will preach "On Needing Supports," based on the theme "Our Needs — Christ's Answer."

The service opens at 12:05 and at 12:30 p.m. a "soup and sandwich" lunch follows in Fellowship Hall. A free-will offering will be taken for the lunch.

Both the service and lunch are open to all who choose to come.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Carolyn Yukius, County Home Economist

A painted piece of furniture can add an attractive note of color to a room as well as be an inexpensive way to salvage some old beat-up furniture. In starting a painted furniture project remember one important principle — if any type of furniture finish, whether it is paint, varnish or shellac, is applied over an existing finish along with old wax, dirt and dust, the new finish has nothing to hold on to, and the first good bump or bang will chip off the new finish.

Therefore, in painting a piece of furniture, it is worth while to remove the old finish first. The best way to do this is with a good paint and varnish remover or a lot of sanding.

With the old finish off, next fill or patch cracks, holes or missing veneer with either wood putty or spackling compound. After drying, smooth the repaired area so that it is even with the other surface.

Next, paint the surface with an enamel undercoat. This dries in a rough finish and provides an even better surface for the final coats of paint to stick to.

Following the undercoating one or two coats of a desired color of semigloss paint can be applied. A light sanding and careful dusting between coats will produce a durable, smooth surface.

Some people like to antique a painted surface. This technique mellows the effect of the painted piece and produce a more subtle color.

An antique glaze can be purchased ready mixed or can easily be made by mixing one part turpentine, four parts varnish, two parts boiled linseed oil (purchased marked "white") and a small amount of desired colors in oil. Very little glaze is needed because a little bit goes a long way.

Use an old nylon stocking rolled up in a ball to apply the glaze over one area of the painted surface at a time. Use another nylon ball or clean paint brush to wipe most of the glaze off. Leave a little more glaze in turnings or carvings to give a third dimension appearance.

After the glaze has dried thoroughly, apply a thin coat of sealer or white shellac to the entire surface.

If a painted piece or antiqued piece is too shiny when you are finished, rub the entire piece down with powdered pumice and crystal clear oil to reduce the shine. Wipe off the pumice and oil with a piece of wool or flannel. The result is a beautiful, durable piece of painted furniture.

SBA Official Cites Volunteer Group

"SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Executives, is a program of the Small Business Administration which has proven to be of great value to small business owners in our region," according to Andrew P. Lynch, regional director of the Newark Regional Office of the Small Business Administration.

He said that over 100 retired executives have volunteered their services and are available for counseling small firms without charge.

Any firm having less than 25 employees is urged to avail itself of the many and varied talents of these volunteers, Lynch stated. To receive SCORE assistance or the many other free services of the SBA, visit the office at 10 Commerce Court, Newark, or call 645-2434, he said.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By PHYLLIS GREER

RUNAWAY FOR A REASON

"Why did you run away, Johnny?"

Johnny ran away for a reason, but he says he doesn't know why. Johnny's mother really should ask herself why Johnny ran away. She might be able to determine the reason if she looked carefully at the situation.

First she would want to ask herself whether Johnny was running away from something, or running to something.

To find out if he is running away from something, she will have to carefully think over what situation may be baffling him.

To find out if he is running to something, she must try to find out what may be lacking in his life.

If he is running away from something, could it be because he feels unwanted at home? Even though his parents do love him, perhaps they are not demonstrative. Perhaps they are stern. Maybe the family never plays together.

He might not like school. This would usually result in playing hooky, but is a possibility for further investigation.

He might run away to escape from himself. Perhaps the standards at home or at school are so high that he can't meet them. He knows he is expected to live up to them, but he really can't. He feels that he is a failure, and he is disgracing his family.

Harder to solve is the problem of runaways who are running TO something. This is usually because they want more excitement in their lives. They want more opportunity for self-expression, more independence, the things that parents are most reluctant to allow their children to have. Yet this is a part of growing up.

Permitting self-expression, but only at the cost of parental disapproval is a very small gain for the child.

Overnight hikes, camping experiences, having workshops and tools, belonging to young people's groups such as 4-H clubs — all help satisfy the youngster's desire for excitement and self-expression.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: I have a very good friend of Japanese decent whom I have known all my life as he has lived on the family property since I was a child.

Recently there was a death in my family (after a long illness) and in my troubles, he took over all the responsibilities. There wasn't a thing that he didn't do in his quiet but efficient way. I would like to repay him in some way for all his kindness but I don't want to hurt his feelings in any way since I feel he is quite sensitive. I have thought of handing him a check, but I wish you could suggest some better way to repay by "debt" to him.

Please help me if you can. I always look forward to your writings and enjoy them very much.

M. C.

If he's as nice and as thoughtful as you say, I'm sure there will have no objections to him dating their daughter.

Address all letters to:

For a personal reply enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Dear M. C.: A check or money in any way, shape or form is in my opinion improper... unless the gentleman in question is in dire need of money.

If this is not the case, I suggest you give him a personal gift in the form of anything that you know he would wear, use or enjoy.

Dear Amy: I recently met a man who seems well-mannered. We do not know each other very well since we met just about a week ago. He asked me if my parents would mind if he could see me, which shows that he was thinking of them as well.

My parents don't approve because they don't know him or his background. Therefore, they won't let me go out with him.

I had full intentions of introducing him to my parents. Would you please give me your opinion as to whether they should let me date him or not. I'm 20 and no "kid".

Wondering

Dear Wondering: It would be a nice gesture on your part (with your parents' permission) to invite the young man to your home for the purpose of meeting your parents.

Local Chapter Will Join In ORT Day Observance

Members of the Springfield Chapter of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training) will join in the nation-wide observance of ORT Day on March 9. Special programs are planned by some 66,000 members in 300 chapters.

ORT maintains a network of vocational training schools in Jewish communities throughout the world.

In a recent proclamation on ORT Day 1966, President Johnson declared that ORT has undertaken "a laudable mission, and you have performed it with distinction."

"Your programs to aid refugees, displaced persons and victims of other misfortunes have benefited not only the individuals for whom you have provided training, but have aided immeasurably in bringing about general social progress."

"You are further to be commended for the broad scope of your activities as reflected in the network of vocational schools you have established in 22 countries and on five continents."

"Education and training are priorities in today's world. They help to shape the kind of society we have and determine the future which is before us."

"Your emphasis on this fact places you in the vanguard of organizations serving citizens and nations alike."

Mrs. Saul Black of 815 Mountain ave., Springfield, ORT Day chairman, commented, "The ORT program assumes new importance each passing day, not only in our own nation but in highly industrialized and developing nations of the free world as well."

"ORT's international vocational training system plays a vital role in creating individual happiness and productivity, in establishing national stability, in promoting world-wide progress, in combating juvenile delinquency and in furthering human peace and accord."

The chapter announced that anyone interested in joining ORT should speak to the membership chairman, Mrs. Matzell Weiss, 364 Milltown rd., 376-8674.

Highlights of the local ORT Day observances will be a general meeting of the Springfield

Chapter Thursday evening, March 10, at Temple Beth Ahm. Chapter members will model fashions by Epat of South Orange. A representative of the ORT speakers' bureau will discuss the group's activities. Mrs. Sidney Rosenkrantz of 45 Christy Jane is program chairman.

League Stresses Election Tuesday On Redistricting

The Springfield League of Women Voters this week urged all voters to exercise their vote in Tuesday's election of delegates to the forthcoming New Jersey constitutional convention.

This constitutional convention which will convene on March 21, was termed "of great concern to all citizens of the community."

The delegates chosen will be charged with revision of the state constitution, to be approved or rejected by the people in a referendum at the general election in November, 1966.

The League statement declared: "We urge you to vote. Votes are counted as mandates from the people. The number of votes behind a delegate or party provides the strength and power to carry decisions. The number of votes behind a delegate or party indicates the voters' wishes, loud and clear."

"No vote is a vote for the other party."

"The League of Women Voters stand, which is the result of months of study and consensus, is to support the United States Supreme Court decision on the 14th Amendment, equal protection clause, which is for the 'One Man, One Vote' concept."

"This would mean reapportionment of both legislatures in its fullest sense, and no amendments to the United States constitution to change this concept."

"Please remember the vote is the only mandate of the people. Don't throw it away. Use it. Get out and vote March 1 for your candidates."

A FEMININE LOOK

By TRUDINA HOWARD

"All young American people engage in sports. This is good, because it gives them a good sense of teamwork and cooperation." This aroused universal agreement among the others in the discussions at the Maison. They were general complaint that in France the school and other formative influences are all centered on individualism, and there is a lack of training and experience in teamwork and cooperative effort and achievement.

Parochial Outlook? There were, naturally, some political questions and discussions. One comment: "The surprising thing for me was to find that some Americans were quite vehemently opposed to President Johnson and his policies. I suppose we in America supported their present Government, and on their side, too, they seemed to assume that all of us would be in support of our present Government."

The French young people seemed disappointed in the content and level of their discussions on political matters with Americans. Blurted out 18-year-old student Philippe Fosseux, "Americans seem intelligent, but I think we French are better educated." To which there was a chorus of assenting comment that, as one said, "We really did not find them very well educated or informed, though many apparently have college degrees. Above all, they seem poorly informed about foreign countries and affairs."

One girl remarked she was astonished that in all her time and conversations in the United States, she never heard Americans discussing Vietnam—to which there was confirmation of similar finding by quite a few of the others.

In this line, there were these additional frank comments from two of the young men and two of the young women: "Americans seem to have a very poor sense of geography." And, "They apparently have no sense of orientation in the world." And, "Americans give no individual indication of being very curious about the rest of the world. I have to say, however, that taxi drivers ask many questions." And half-sarcastically, half-sympathetically: "They don't really seem to think much, or see much beyond the United States. Probably this is because they have so much right there." Good Understanding, Houses, Ketchup

The question was, "What would be the first thing to come to your mind as to the usefulness of your visit to the U.S.?" Sample answers:

"I really didn't learn anything basically new as, like most of the rest of us, I have always interested myself in things American. But I did get to know the United States and Americans first-hand, and therefore to appreciate them and their family life more, and to get some ideas for conveniences in my own life here."

"A much better understanding of the United States, not only its riches and conveniences, but also its problems and efforts." "I found Americans more likeable than I had been led to believe. I found they keep young in body and spirit even in middle and advanced age."

"Our visit was not a long one, really, therefore our opinions have to be to some extent superficial. But certainly I can say I saw the kind of house I want to have one day."

Every one of us, from the houses we saw and homes we lived in as guests, began drawing plans for our own ideal house."

"I met some very nice and good people and am corresponding with them."

The Regret What was their biggest disappointment? To unanimous agreement of those in the group with her, a young woman replied: "Not to get across the country to California. Actually, we'd have to make four voyages to really know America, and we want to know it all!" FINIS

When no one can get to work... an amazing number of telephone operators do.

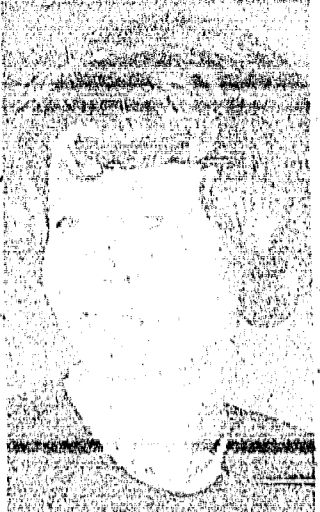

They'll walk for miles when no one on wheels can move. Why do they do it? Because they know they're needed. They know the whole community is depending on them for telephone service. Especially in times of emergency.

At the phone company, we call their attitude the "spirit of service." Maybe it sounds old-fashioned. But it's real. And we're proud of it. Just as we're proud of all the operators who help make your telephone service something that you can always rely on.

Balanced Diet Achieved During Lent

By ANNE L. SHEELEN, County Home Economist
Once again the Lenten Season is upon us. Keep in mind that even while adjusting to the type of food eaten during this period, the body still needs a nutritionally balanced diet. The nutrients received from food keep the body functioning properly and supply the energy needed to carry on the day's activities. Through careful planning and a wise selection of food, a balanced diet is easily achieved while still complying with certain religious restrictions for food during Lent.

Each day the adult diet should include: two glasses of milk or another dairy product; two servings of a protein source, such as meat, fish, poultry, or eggs; four servings of a fruit or vegetable; and four servings of a grain product, such as bread, cereal, spaghetti or noodles.
