8th graders going to Governor Livingston

Pool to open full time on June 24

Playground program moves to Echobrook

The municipal pool will open full time on June 24, William Ditzel, chairman of the Recreation Commission, announced this week. The new shower room and sun deck now under construction, are expected to be completed by that time. Volley ball courts, shuffleboard, a tether ball game and two tennis courts, now being built on land adjacent to the pool site will be ready for use by that time. In addition fireplaces and extra picnic tables will be installed near the pool site, Ditzel said.

The summer playground program, also sponsored by the Recreation Commission, will be moved to the playing field of Echobrook School, which abuts the pool site, this summer because construction of the new addition at Deerfield School is scheduled to start around July. An attempt will be made to coordinate, in some measure, the activities of the playground and the pool so children of members can enjoy both facilities, Ditzel indicated.

The Memorial Day, May 30, target date for the opening of the pool on a weekend and holiday basis still holds, Ditzel said. The shower room may not be completed by that time but its sanitary facilities will be ready for use, so the opening is not apt to be delayed.

Yesterday marked the end of the grace period allowed last year's members to pay their 1967 dues. It will be assumed that those who have not paid their dues are not interested in retaining their memberships, Ditzel said. The rolls will now be opened to those on the waiting list, he indicated.

ROBERT ANDERSON OF 1271 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, will serve as pool manager again this year. Richard Joyce of Rosalie Park will be assistant manager, a post he held last year.

A new appointee, Paul Ney of Elizabeth, will

Deerfield launches 5-session course on sex education

A five-session course on family life and sex education will start tomorrow for the eighth grade students in Deerfield School. The program was approved by the Board of Education Tuesday night on the recommendation of the school superintendent, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan.

Mrs. Jane Hummel, school nurse, Miss Jeanette Sekberg, girls' physical education teacher, Charles Carson, boys' physical education teacher, Ed Sjonell, guidance counselor, will conduct the sessions which will include the showing of films and discussion groups. Dr. Hanigan and the principal of Deerfield, Herbert Brown, will supervise the program.

Dr. Hanigan will give a short introduction to the program before the showing of the first film, "You and Your Family," tomorrow afternoon. His remarks will be directed toward putting the problem of sex education in its true perspective, as part of the human growth and development pattern. The course is offered as information not indoctrination, Dr. Hanigan pointed out. The three churches in the borough have been informed about the program and each of them plans to set up coordinating programs for teenagers, stressing moral and religious values.

Tomorrow's film will be shown to the eighth graders as a group. The students will be broken down into groups of 15 for the discussion period with the girls meeting with Mrs. Hummel and Miss Sekberg and the boys with Carson and Sjonell.

The school board also approved Tuesday night, the launching of an attempt to set up a pilot program in which group piano lessons will be offered to students in the third grade free of charge. Classes will be limited to five or six; students must have a piano in their homes or have access to one for regular practice to be eligible for the class. Response to the offering will determine whether or not the pilot program will be carried out.

Also approved was the school calendar for the 1967-68 year. The calendar calls for the opening of school on Sept. 5.

Red Cross drive way behind goal

A renewed plea for financial support of the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American National Red Cross was made this week by Colin Kennedy, local campaign chairman. Response to the current appeal, which has a goal of $2,500 in the borough, has been very disappointing, Kennedy said. He reminded residents that the Red Cross continues to offer its expanding services to the ever-increasing number of servicemen in the United States, South Vietnam and in 30 other foreign countries. American Red Cross' efforts in behalf of American servicemen throughout the world are supported by volunteer and career workers in local chapters, Kennedy pointed out.

The chairman urged residents to "help us help." Contributions should be mailed to the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter, 321 Elm st., Westfield, 07091.

The 8 Loftus kids -- a package deal! Mother's Day will be interesting for new mom

Mrs. Thomas Loftus of 865 Hillside ave., Mountainside, hasn't the foggiest notion of what plans the eight Loftus offspring have for Mother's Day, but she's convinced that whatever turns the observance takes, things will be well thought out and well executed.

"These kids are fabulous," she insists proudly, "they're so capable and independent." That isn't just a doting mother talking! Slim, blonde Mrs. Loftus, who until a year ago worked on the foreign news desk of the New York Times, isn't at all the typical mother of a large family. She joined the Loftus family in January of last year when she married Tom Loftus, a widower with eight children.

"It was a package deal," she says smiling, "I got a ready-made family."

The delight in the arrangement seems to be mutual. The children--Patrick, 13, Marty, 12, Gary, 11, Kathie, 9, Thomas, 8, Sean, 7, Carol, 5, and Lynn, 3--are all busy, energetic outgoing children.

ALL OF THEM, their maternal parent says, (while insisting that she's not the least bit sentimental) are brilliant, self-sufficient and astonishingly capable.

All of them, even five-year old Carol, take care of their own rooms; taking care includes making beds "without wrinkles," keeping closets clean, bureau drawers in good order and the weekly change of bed linen. They also share other household duties and the older boys cut lawns and shovel snow. Pat, Marty and Gary have a paper route which they operate with an efficiency and independence that is "astounding," their undoting parent says.

Last summer the older boys spent a few weeks in Cleveland visiting their paternal grandparents, Kathie and Tom Jr., who, to avoid confusion, is known as "T.P.," pitched in on the paper route with the same efficiency.

"T.P. would come in and pick the wall phone up (he had to stand on tiptoe to do it), dial like mad, ask for the circulation department, give his route number and then report exactly how many papers he was over or under. Just like that--efficient as you please," Mrs. Loftus reports admiringly.

Profits from the paper route and other paying enterprises (after one dollar weekly deductions for each working member) go into "Lofamco," a corporation established by and for the Loftus children. The fund has now reached a couple of hundred dollars and Pat ("who is just about a genius," to quote his impartial parent) is busily studying the stock market to find a "growth" stock.

KATHIE IS THE teacher in the clan. She can and does explain tough homework assignments to Sean; it was she who taught Carol to make unwrinkled beds. In fact, she manages the two younger girls so well that her brothers are slightly suspicious--they think she may be a witch with Carol and little Lynn in her spell.

Rules are spelled out definitely but cheerfully in the busy household. Each infraction of the rules brings a demerit and three demerits add up to an awful punishment--K.P. on the weekend, a chore that in a house-

ANOTHER CALL FOR RESCUE SQUAD --- Mrs. Nora McCaffrey, secretary of Mountainside's Rescue Squad, is on the alert as Captain Charles Shomo takes another call for ambulance service. The volunteer squad, which has been serving the borough for over a quarter century, has answered a record number of calls for assistance during the first four months of 1967. (Story on Page 4)

District discards switch to Dayton

BY RITA ZEISS

Mountainside's eighth graders will attend Governor Livingston Regional High School in the fall as the result of action taken Monday night by the regional school board. That body had previously proposed to shift the upcoming Mountainside freshmen to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, a proposal that was vigorously opposed by borough parents.

The controversial proposal was not mentioned in the four-point resolution which stated that "by greater utilization of all facilities, so as not to eliminate any of the curriculum at the Governor Livingston Regional High School, no change is made in assignments of students (to that school)."

No explanation was given as to how that "utilization" will be effected.

The abandonment of the plan to shift the local students next September, does not mean that the problem of overcrowding at Governor Livingston has been solved on any but a temporary basis.

That fact was pointed up in the resolution which also called for the beginning of the movement to shift Garwood students, one grade at a time, from the Arthur Johnson Regional High School in Clark to "their future permanent home school," the new David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth.

No such "home school" was designated for Mountainside. The reasons for this are many and complex and include the alignment of the new Rt. 78 which, according to present plans, will take a part of the parking lot at the Berkeley Heights school.

THE PARKING LOT is located on that part of the school site which is nearest Mountainside; the construction of the east-west highway at that point would separate the borough from the regional school. An underpass would have to be built at that point to allow thorough access to the school without undue traffic hazards.

The board president, Avery Ward of Kenilworth, said the board would have to carry out a deep study of the problems in the system before presenting its long range plans to the voters for approval. They will be assisted in that study by their consulting architect, Frederick Elsassner of Union. The designation for a "home school" for Mountainside is part of the board's thinking in its long range planning, Avery indicated.

Both Avery and Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, Mountainside's representative on the regional board, emphasized that the board is faced with "complicated problems" in its attempts to plan for anticipated growth in the system.

One of those "complicated problems" stems from the fact that the regional district's expansion plans, like all such plans from educational districts in the state, must be approved by the State Education Board. The state body looks on the regional district as one unit -- "if there are enough seats in the district for student population, no matter in what school, the state considers facilities adequate," Avery said.

THE PROBLEM WILL get "long, hard

'Dimes' collection totals $927.38; doubles '66 fund

A total of $927.38 was netted in Mountainside's March of Dimes this year, the chairman, Joseph Stypa of 1031 Sunny Slope dr., announced this week. Although the total falls below the announced goal of $1,129.50 for the borough, Stypa pointed out that it more than doubles the amount collected in last year's drive.

The funds were collected from house-to-house canvass, mailed contributions and coin collectors.

Speaking for the March of Dimes, Stypa thanked all those who had contributed to the fund. He had special words of praise for the many residents who assisted in the house-to-house canvass.

Stypa was appointed chairman of the local drive last December. The March began in January, the month officially proclaimed as March of Dimes month.

The local chairman reminded residents that funds from the March of Dimes, which played such a big part in helping eliminate polio, are now used to fight birth defects "which each year rob more than 250,000 American children of their birthright; to enter the world healthy and to grow normally."

Residents who have not yet donated to the drive are invited to mail their contributions to Stypa. Checks should be made out to the March of Dimes.

Seeking more donors for May Bloodmobile

Many more donors are needed for the Red Cross Bloodmobile which will be stationed at the Episcopal Church in Westfield on May 24. Mrs. Robert Ohaus, who is serving as chairman of the Bloodmobile, reports that the Westfield Red Cross Chapter has released over 100 pints of blood since last November. Throughout the country, 10 pints of blood are needed every minute, the chairman stated.

Mrs. Ohaus and Mrs. Alvin Pfeiffer, vice-chairman of the Bloodmobile, urge residents to make an appointment to give blood to the Bloodmobile on May 24. Appointments can be arranged for any time between 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. by calling the Red Cross Chapter House, 232-7090.

thinking" during the summer, Avery and Dr. Jones indicated.

The resolution also calls for Springfield eighth grade students who live in the Baltusrol Top Area to attend Jonathan Dayton High School. Baltusrol Top students presently enrolled in Governor Livingston Regional High School may transfer to the Springfield school if they so desire. It also calls for the expansion of the summer school program to "provide offerings appropriate to the present situation."

The resolution, introduced by Dr. Jones,

Summer School opens June 26; location shifted

The Mountainside Summer School will be shifted from Deerfield School to Beechwood School this year because construction of the new addition is expected to get underway at the Deerfield site shortly after the close of the school year. Because of limited space at Beechwood, the summer program will be sharply curtailed, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, school superintendent, announced.

Priority will be given to the basic courses, reading, mathematics and speech correction, and the focus will be on pre-school through grade five. However, some basic and enrichment courses will be offered for upper grade children.

The school will open on June 26 and run through July 28, a total of 24 school days with July 4 as a holiday. Classes will run from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Cost per subject for Mountainside children will be $15 or two subjects for $25. Out-of-town youngsters may pay $30 per subject.

Registration forms are available at all schools and at Dr. Hanigan's office on Rt. 22. Registration will be limited to Mountainside children only until June 1. After that date, classes will be opened to non-resident children. Registration must be accompanied by a check for the full tuition made payable to the Mountainside Board of Education.

Parents of children who are being recommended for basic courses will receive notification and registration forms by mail. Dr. Hanigan stressed that these basic courses are not designed for children who have failed or who have not been promoted. They are designed to eliminate or reduce reading and math deficiencies, he said. The small class groups--minimum of 10, maximum of 15--and sessions of one-and-a-half hours make it possible for experienced teachers to give more individual instruction tailored to individual needs, the school superintendent said.

THERE WILL be seven enrichment courses offered in the curriculum, post-kindergarten class, pre-kindergarten, outdoor science, art, home economics, typing and instrumental music and piano. Industrial arts will not be offered this year because the shop at Deerfield will not be available.

The post-kindergarten class, which will be limited to 20 children, will be scheduled for a double period. The work is designed to give children who will enter first grade in the fall a richer background in language development, pre-reading skills and music and art.

Instruction in the pre-kindergarten class will be planned to introduce pre-schoolers to a regular classroom environment; art, music and rhythms will be stressed. Fifteen children can be accommodated in the first session and 15 in the second class.

The out-door science class will be open to fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Enrollment will be limited to 10 children and classes will run for the double session. Trips to the Great Swamp, the Newark Museum and other spots are planned. A fee of about eight dollars will be charged over and above the $25 tuition to cover the cost of the field trips.

Art classes will be divided into two groups, one for first and second graders and the other for third through fifth graders. Home economics instruction will include personal and outdoor cooking. A minimum tuition

Schools, churches sponsor program on sex education

A community service program on "Sex Education as a Part of Family Life" will be presented May 23 at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School. The program is sponsored by the public school system, the borough churches and the Parent-Teacher Association.

The Rev. Frank McNulty of the Roman Catholic Seminary in Darlington will be the principal speaker. After Father McNulty's presentation, a panel discussion will be conducted by Dr. Jane Spragg, a Westfield physician, DeForest Tinkler, a youth worker from the Westfield Y.M.C.A., and a psychologist.

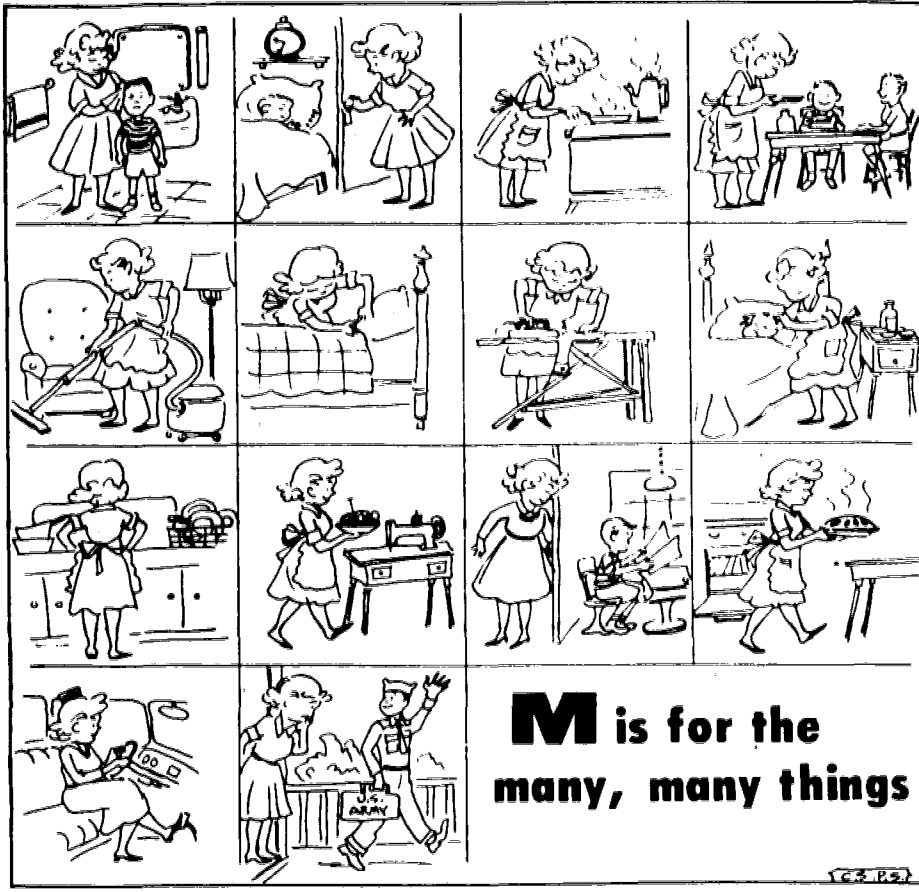

The audience will be invited to direct questions to Father McNulty and the panel members.

This topic is currently receiving local, state and national attention. Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, Superintendent of Schools, pointed out. The borough's public schools and Our Lady of Lourdes School have launched programs on "Family Life Education," including human growth and development, of which sex education is a part. Parents of the students and other members of the community are urged to attend the meeting.

Team from Troop 76 places 1st in canoe race

Ron Johnson and Pat Ricciardi, both members of Troop 76 Mountainside, won first prize for the 12-13 year old division of the Great Canoe Race of 1967. This 20 mile race sponsored by the Colonial District of Watching Area Council, was held on the Delaware River Saturday.

Scoutmaster David Hart of Troop 76 said 114 Boy Scouts and Explorers in 57 canoes started the event and over 20 of these teams dropped out due to the cold, heavy rain that plagued the boys during most of the trip. Scouts were divided into three age groups. Troop 76 entered the team of Johnson and Ricciardi in the 12-13 year old group, Mike Hart and Bob McDonald in the 14-15 year old group, and two teams, Dick Ross and Jeff Williams plus Dick Belfatto and Jeff Ross, in the 16-18 year old group.

These scout canoe teams traveled the 20 mile stretch of river through four sets of rapids and a swift-flowing flume. Adults were stationed in canoes along the entire course of the race, especially in the areas of white water. Scouts Ricciardi and Johnson completed the trip in three hours and 17 minutes, not including the required half hour lunch stop. Their time was three minutes faster than the second place winners in the age group and was only five minutes slower than the fastest time registered by any canoe of the race.

Scoutmaster Hart commended the troop's eight participating scouts for the fine conduct, courage and determination they displayed in overcoming challenges of rough waters and adverse weather. He said they had indeed followed "the rugged road" and were a credit to themselves and Troop 76 and their sponsor, the Mountainside Kiwanis Club.

3 rookies enrolled in Police Academy

Police Chief Carl Ennis of New Providence is serving as director of the Academy which is sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association.

Chief Ennis said he expects between 35 and 40 students from the county's 21 municipalities, the Union County Park Police and the Union County Sheriff's Office to enroll in the upcoming sessions.

The curriculum will include accident investigation, legal means of coping with riots, election laws, coin telephone thefts and effects of the 14th amendment on law enforcement.

Certification for 12 from County Tech

Among the students graduating this year from Union County Technical Institute, Mountainide, are Raymond D. Baumann, Ralph G. Linnick and Henry Nyborg of Union.

He announced that they are among 12 registered apprentices with the State Department of Education and the U.S. Department of Labor who are completing a four-year apprenticeship training program in tool and die making and drafting this week.

Upon completing related instruction and skill training requirements, the apprentices are approved by the Union County Apprentice Coordinator for a certificate from the State Department of Education and the U.S. Dept. of Labor.

During the four-year co-operative training program between the school and the company, the apprentice is draft deferred once he meets the minimal one-year requirement and his performance remains satisfactory with the company and in the school.

"There is an opportunity for high-school graduates to earn while they learn," Baxel said. There are many youths in the county who should take advantage of this opportunity and alleviate the critical shortage that exists in most small companies in Union County for machinists and tool & die makers, he said.

For more information about these opportunities, those who are interested were asked to contact John R. Green, Union County apprentice coordinator, at 233-2211.

HALF-PAST TEEN

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By Mabel G. Stolte, County Home Economist

"Can we go see grandma and grandpa today?" asks Janie, eight, and Johnnie, ten years old. "Yes, I hope they'll be home today," says mother.

Older people have long cherished their privacy as much as their younger counterparts. But only relatively recently, however, have they been able to secure it for themselves.

In the past, housing shortages and the economic realities of age often forced the elderly to live under the same roof with the young. Different viewpoints, experiences and needs made it often an unhappy arrangement for all concerned.

Today, it is usually a matter of choice if the three generations live together. Reports from the Institute of Life Insurance have disclosed the fact that nearly four out of five of the nation's 18 million elders keep their own apartment or house.

These older citizens have been found to be on the move more than ever before. They travel more and pay weekly or daily visits to their married children.

An indication of the government's recognition of the needs of the older citizens for specially designed housing is also evident. F.H.A. mortgage loans provide special consideration for senior citizens. In addition, some 13,155 low-rent homes for older people were completed by local public housing groups in 1965.

For further information inquire at your local bank or public housing office.

Westfield, noted that the check brings the total donated by the Plainfield League to the clinic in the last four years to $17,200.

The clinic, established in October, 1962, to provide follow-up care for discharged patients with special urological problems, is staffed by two urologists, Dr. Arthur Willets of Short Hills and Dr. Robert R. White III of Summit.

The Plainfield Junior League adopted the clinic as its special charitable project in 1963. Since then it has provided funds for the clinic's equipment and laboratory tests from proceeds gained from annual charity balls and thrift sales.

Interns from Overlook Hospital attend clinic sessions to study the relationship of urological work to birth defects. Teaching clinics are also held for students in the Schools of Nursing of Seton Hall and Rutgers Universities and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, and Perth Amboy General Hospital.

According to Mrs. Lorraine Wickware, who heads the clinic's nursing staff, many children with congenital urological defects who were previously unable to attend public schools have, after training at the clinic, been enrolled in those schools.

SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE'S Weekly Feature

By GARY LESSING, Manager

Any of you sports fans remember "The Miracle That Failed?" It happened back in 1959 in a baseball game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Milwaukee Braves (now in Atlanta).

Yes, this game Little Buc pitcher completed a perfect no-hit, no run game—nine innings of it, we should say, because his own squad had yet to score a run and the "perfect game" went into extra innings.

The magic in his throwing kept his miracle in motion through the twelfth inning! The fans were well aware that they were witnessing baseball history. No one had ever pitched a "perfect game" for more than nine innings, and our man exceeded eleven innings!

For those of you who don't remember the game, it was lost by the Pirates in the last half of the thirteenth when an error followed by a long hit spelled defeat for the Pirates.

Did you recall that the pitcher who experienced this heart-breaking climax to his pitching masterpiece was Harvey Haddix? Do you remember if he was lefty or righty?

There's never any problem remembering the name of the finest maker of car tires and the name of the shop where they're available. The tires FIRESTONE, the shop is SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22, UNION. Open daily 9-9, Saturdays 9-4, our phone number is MU 8-5620.

Squad calls reach new high; set rule on non-emergencies

A total of 115 calls for ambulance service were received in the first four months of 1967 by the Mountainside Rescue Squad, 48 more than in the same period last year. In the first four days of May, the Squad answered 25 calls.

The weekend scheduling is necessary, Shomo said, because male members of the Squad are on duty at that time. The new ruling is necessary, Shomo pointed out, because of the sharp increase in emergency and accident cases and because it is necessary to arrange in advance for ambulance coverage with the Springfield or Westfield Rescue Squads while the local rig is out of town.

'Sand Pebbles' next at Bellevue

Steve McQueen stars in "The Sand Pebbles," Robert Wise's adventure drama, which will make its initial New Jersey bow at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, May 24.

Produced in Panavision and DeLuxe color, and shown on a regular reserved seat performance, 10 times weekly (with matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday), the 20th Century Fox motion picture concerns Americans caught in the Orient during the 1920s.

Co-starring with McQueen are Richard Attenborough and Richard Crenna, who portray American Navy personnel, and Candice Bergen (who makes her film debut in "The Group"). She will be seen as a young teacher in China on an important mission.

The Bellevue's long-playing, record-breaking current attraction, "The Sound of Music," continues for a last week.

'Loves Of Blonde' arrives at Ormont

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
I am happily married to a splendid man, or I would be happily married if it were not for my jealousy of his first wife. I'm obsessed by the feeling that perhaps he does not love me as much as he loved her. He talks about her seldom, but when he does, I get so green-eyed that I am fairly crazy and sometimes refused to talk to him for days.

Do you think I'm foolish in being jealous over her? She's deceased.

Just Plain Jealous
Dear Jealous:
Very foolish! It's the LIVE ones you have to worry about!

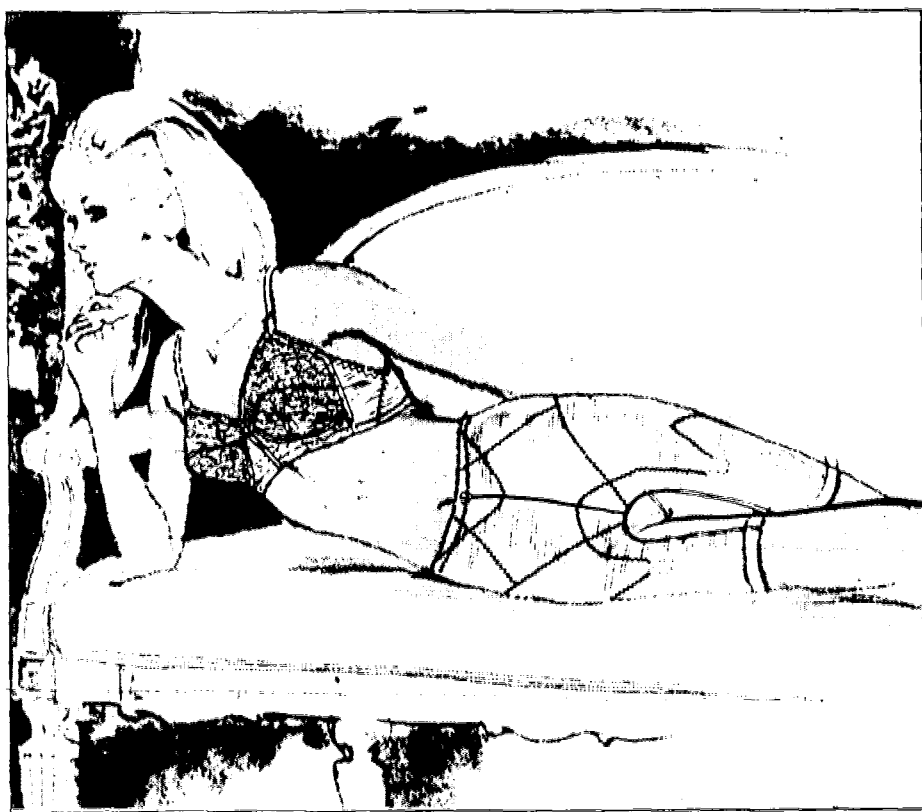

Dear Amy:
Recently while dining in a restaurant, my husband and I couldn't help overhearing a man berate his wife. My husband said some men feel big when they "mouth off" to their wives, but in the eyes of most, they are really very ignorant. His philosophy gave me an idea, one always reads articles on "How to keep your husband happy," but how about "How to keep your wife happy." After all, where can a man find a baby sitter, a maid, a cook, a seamstress, a nurse, a companion, and further, someone to make excuses for them when they want "out." All this adds up to a WIFE . . . and she should be kept happy.

Here are my rules, and surprisingly, my husband agrees:

1. Talk to your wife. You'd be surprised that she CAN hold a conversation.
2. Act like a man, not a braggart.
3. Don't act like you are doing her a favor when you take her out. Probably some of the chicks you've been seen with couldn't hold a candle to your wife.
4. When you see someone you know, you don't have to table-hop and leave your wife. It's poor manners. Besides, you're not so popular or they would be over at your table . . . including your wife in their conversation.
5. Last of all, the "Booby Prize" goes to the Don Juan who looks around to see if he can pick anything up at a later date . . . and makes it so obvious.

A Lucky Wife & Husband

Gallery of Homes planned by realtors

William A. Boyle Jr., president of The Boyle Company, Elizabeth and Chatham realtors, has announced his firm's appointment as the exclusive franchised agent for "The Gallery of Homes" for Eastern Union County and Eastern Morris County territories.

The Gallery of Homes, a picture gallery of illuminated three dimensional photographs, is being shown by leading realtors in major cities and towns throughout the country and in Canada. Each office contains a gallery of homes with a living room atmosphere which affords the homebuyer the opportunity of selecting suitable homes before inspection, therefore saving valuable time. The galleries also permit personalized referral of transferees to other galleries where the brokers are personally known to each other. In addition, they will be of service to builders because of the additional display of their homes.

Boyle is presently having alterations made in his Chatham and Elizabeth offices and he expects to start a sales seminar at the In-Town Motor Lodge, in Elizabeth, for the purpose of hiring additional personnel for his expanded sales staff.

The two galleries, one in Elizabeth and the other in Chatham, are expected to be formally opened in late spring or early summer.

Motorcycle show to open Saturday

He reported that three new Hondas will be among the models on exhibit. They are the CL-90, the new Trail 90 and the new Student Rally cycle.

A booth will be set up at the show by the International Services Plan, a motorcycle insurance company. The American Motorcycling Association will be represented and a booth will be set up for information on forming or joining Honda Motorcycle Clubs.

This boy has just graduated from high school . . . and he's looking for a job to "help out" the family. He'll never make college . . . even though his father and mother had saved for it. Why? Because his kid sister needed a costly operation a couple of years ago . . . and it wiped out the college money. His parents had figured this could never happen to them (although 1 out of 3 families face a doctor/hospital bill every year) . . . and so they didn't have protection like New Jersey Blue Cross and Blue Shield. They "saved" annual premiums every year until all at once the kid sister needed the operation. That's how they gambled away their son's education. When he raises a family, chances are high he'll invest in Blue Cross and Blue Shield. His boy will go to college . . . Will yours?

Besides his fund-raising work for United Fund, Curtis has been a leader in one of the Fund's major agencies, the Eastern Union County Boy Scout Council. He currently serves on both the long-range and capital fund steering committees.

Charles A. Walano, president of United Community Services, which conducts the United Fund drive, noted that last year the campaign came close to its $670,000 goal.

He praised the "dedication and deep interest" shown by the new chairman in community welfare and his "hard work" for the Fund as a captain in industrial solicitation.

"We greatly need people with the dedication and concern that Mr. Curtis has shown," Walano said. "We also need the kind of warmth and personality and sincerity of heart that everyone who meets him immediately realizes. A person who is liked and respected, and also has real leadership ability, makes a tremendous leader for the campaign we are now preparing for."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About 1,000 Americans are killed by accidental electric shock each year. To help combat this toll, the U.S. Public Health Service's Injury Control Program has developed an electric shock prevention demonstration to educate the consumer public about the safe use of electricity.

Dr. Richard E. Marland, chief of the Injury Control Program, part of the newly organized National Center for Urban and Industrial Health, said the number of electrical shock accidents is on the increase. He sees a need to expand consumer education programs and for manufacturers to design safer appliances.

Teenage showmen give comedy skit at PTA's 'fiesta'

Two Mountainside entertainers, "Skip" Rooney and "Flip" Zigmar, will present a slapstick comedy show Saturday in conjunction with the annual PTA Fair in Deerfield School. The show is scheduled at 3:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room of the school.

"Skip," a 1966 graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, and "Flip," now a senior at that school, are both professional showmen. "Skip," currently a disc jockey on Radio Station WSAS in New York City, worked last year as a writer for Soupy Sales, a TV playhouse. "Flip" appeared with Celeste Holmes in a musical production at Palm Springs, Fla. The boys have been entertained at various events throughout Union County, present benefit shows regularly at the Children's Specialized Hospital and are currently doing a comedy sketch for Station WSAS.

Other new features at the fair, which has a fiesta theme, will be a "pinata," a paper animal which will spill out names of future pen pals in Brazil and a refreshment stand that will feature chili-con-carne. Handicrafts, new and used jewelry, home baked goodies and other articles will be offered for sale.

Mrs. Robert Osbarh of 1312 Stony Brook rd. and Mrs. Paul Smith of 1138 Maple ct. are chairmen of the annual event.

CANTOR ISRAEL I. WEISMAN

Cantor to entertain at general meeting of chapter of ORT

Cantor Israel J. Weisman of Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will present a program of popular operatic selections, light classical songs and show tunes at the general meeting and 13th annual installation of officers of the Springfield Chapter of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training) tonight at 7:15 in Temple Beth Ahm. He will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Polly Williams, temple organist.

Cantor Weisman studied at the Hebrew Union College School of Sacred Music. # Statewide high school of arts proposed in area

Stopping quickly depends on speed

Multiply your speedometer speed by one-and-a-half and you will find out approximately how many feet you are traveling in a second. At 40 mph you are traveling 60 feet-per-second. It would take you about nine car lengths to stop at that speed. If the road was dry and you had average reaction time.

But, if the road is slippery and your brakes are not up to par and if you're not in good physical condition, the stopping distance could be twice as long. Ask yourself the question—can I stop in time?

Newark State College in Union has joined the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers in preparing a proposal for establishing a statewide specialized high school for the performing and visual arts somewhere near the NSC campus.

The proposal, which will be submitted to the Division of Vocational Education of the State Education Department, will call for building the first high school in the state designed particularly for youngsters gifted in the fields of the arts. The school would offer instruction in dance, drama, music and other arts as well as "a minimum" of regular academic subjects, according to Dr. Eugene G. Wilkins, NSC president.

Planning for such a school is still in the tentative stage and, even if state approval is received, opening of the program is 18 years away.

As a pilot program for the specialized school, the State PTA and NSC will present a plan for dance instruction for talented high school youngsters to the state late this month. Under the pilot program, which Dr. Wilkins said is expected to start in February, 1968, about 25 high school juniors living within commuting distance of NSC would attend dance classes at the college five afternoons a week and Saturday mornings, while attending their own schools on weekday mornings.

THE PILOT PLAN is being prepared by a study committee whose members are Dr. Elaine Raichle, director of art in the Irvington school system and cultural arts chairman for the State PTA; Jack Platt, chairman of the music department at Newark State and State PTA music chairman; Dr. William Brooks, coordinator of the arts for the State Department of Education, and Dr. Wilkins.

A college spokesman said the committee is scheduled to present a proposal to the Division of Vocational Education of the State Department of Education by May 29 that will seek $40,000 for the pilot program in dance and $3,500 for a planning grant. An additional $20,000 for the pilot program is expected to be sought from other sources.

The committee met recently at NSC with representatives from the arts and the State Department of Education to form an advisory board. Board members are: Frank Carrington, director of the Paper Mill Playhouse; Geoffrey Platt Jr., director of the New Jersey Symphony; Fred Daniels, director of the Garden State Ballet; Dr. George Conrad, chairman of the art department at Glassboro State College and a member of Governor Richard Hughes' Art Council; Morton Margolies and Dr. Margaret Blair, representatives of the Division of Vocational Education, and members of the study committee.

According to a report presented by Dr. Raichle last week, "the establishment of a specialized high school for gifted youngsters in the performing and visual arts would have the education of professional entertainers and artists as its primary purpose. In addition, teachers in the arts might be trained there. A four-year high school operating 12 months of the year would provide continuous arts education in theater, music, drama and art at a critical period in a student's life."

"THE TIME AND energy demands of an academic high school makes the four high school years a strain and usually discourage a potential artist. Many find they cannot continue the many hours of practice necessary to the perfection of an art and follow the study and work schedules of their present schools."

The report suggests the following reasons for the selection of the Newark State campus area as the location for the facility:

"1. The Newark State College Theatre for the Performing Arts is already part of the plant and an additional facility would not have to be provided.

"2. Highly talented faculty members could be used as resource teachers in the high school. Newark State for years has produced highly qualified teachers in the fine arts and will soon be producing music teachers. (A music major is planned for the coming year.)

"3. The performing and visual arts high school would provide a place for arts demonstrations and observation for future teachers. Proximity to New York City opens up rich possibilities for first hand study of the performing arts in that metropolis."

A student body of about 400 students is planned. It was suggested that the high school students could use the college cafeteria but that a dormitory might be needed for students who live too far to commute.

The possibility of purchasing additional land for the construction of a classroom and rehearsal facility was discussed.

Knights start out with 1-hitter in St. James Little League

St. James Little League baseball action was started last week, after bad weather forced postponement of the April 25 schedule. The first night's results showed the Knights of Columbus team, last year's Minor League winners, start the season with a victory over Spring Enterprises. Brian Mullen and Michael Kocur combined to pitch a one-hitter as the Knights won, 7 to 1, Mike Palmer of Spring Enterprises hit a long double with a man on, putting men on second and third. The score on an infield grounder by Russell Corcoran was the losing pitcher.

run. Gregory Johnson, catcher for the winners, also hit a home run. May 4 action saw Unico battle the Knights of Columbus to a 2-2 tie in a pitchers' battle. Brian Mullen and Michael Kocur again shared the pitching for the Knights. Norman Huntley, manager of the Knights of Columbus, appears to have a tough pitching combination. Brunner Excavating defeated Spring Enterprises in an extra-inning game, 6 to 4. Mike Palmer of Spring hit a home run with a man on in the first inning. Managers of both the St. James Major and Minor leagues have been requested to submit game information as instructed, as soon as possible, after the Thursday night game.
