Asks aid combating vandalism at school

Opening of pool, tennis courts set

Mountainside's community pool and its two new tennis courts will open next week, weather permitting. The pool will swing the gates open for the first time this year on Tuesday, Memorial Day, for one day. It will reopen the next weekend. The pool will be open each weekend during June and open for the season on June 24. The tennis courts are expected to be open officially by next Thursday.

Hours for the pool will be from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. The tennis courts will open at 8 a.m.; play will continue until dark.

Last year's pool director, Robert Anderson, and many members of the life-guard squad will be on duty on Memorial Day. The full squad will be on hand on the weekends.

The tennis courts, which are located adjacent to the pool property and to the rear of Echobrook School, will be open to all residents of the borough, not just to pool members. Residents are required to obtain permits to use the courts. The permits will be available without charge after June 1 at Borough Hall or at the community pool.

WILLIAM DITZEL, CHAIRMAN of the Recreation Commission, said the permits will be good for a year "provided the regulations established by the Commission are met by the permit holders."

Rules will be posted at the tennis courts, at the pool and in Borough Hall.

The rules stipulate that tennis shoes must be worn, that no more than four people use a court at the same time, and that no person may play for a second consecutive hour or "any part thereof" if others are waiting for the court.

The system will be basically an "honor system," Ditzel said. Those found violating the regulations will be required to surrender their permits for the balance of the year, he stated.

Players will not be able to reserve the courts in advance.

Ditzel explained that the Recreation Commission "will not be able to administer a reservation or sign-up system for individuals or groups since this would practically require the commission to employ someone for that job. The only exceptions to this rule will be a request from the Board of Education for use in the schools' physical education program or from the summer recreation program that is under the supervision of the Recreation Commission."

THE PERMANENT NEW bath house, now under construction at the pool site, may not be entirely completed by next Tuesday, Ditzel said. Some finishing touches, such as painting, etc., are still to be finished but this will not hinder the opening of the pool. The work will be completed in June, well in time for the start of the season on June 24, Ditzel said.

Volley ball courts, a shuffleboard and a tetherball game will be ready for use at the pool site by Tuesday. Fireplaces and extra picnic tables are being installed on county park land adjacent to the site.

Cautions zoners on variance for Mindowaskin co.

A variance to allow the construction of an office building on the front portion of the land occupied by the Mindowaskin Pool could lead to "a motel and pool" on the site in a few years, an embattled resident warned the Mountainside Board of Adjusters Monday night.

The objector, Frank Torma of 167 Sunrise pkwy., reminded the members of the zoning board that owners of the land, the Mindowaskin Holding Corp., have already received two variances for the property and he predicted that, should pool membership decline over the next few years, that the company would "be back (before the board) crying poverty" and seeking to erect a motel.

Torma pointed out that the planned building, which, if present plans are approved, will be erected on tiers to allow for under-the-building parking, bears great similarity to motel construction.

As an alternative to the requested variance, he suggested that the board grant a variance for a regulation-style two-story office building subject to the removal of the pool from the site.

Torma argued that this would be an "equitable decision" since it would allow the owners good return on their property but would bar "multiple use" of the property.

TORMA WAS CHALLENGED by Irvine Johnstone, attorney for the holding company, who asked why Torma appeared as an objector at so many meetings of the zoning board and Planning Board.

The board chairman, Thomas Ricciardi, pointed out that Torma is the Republican political leader in that area and, as such, represents residents and "is entitled to come before this board."

Johnstone stated that political positions have "no bearing" on matters before the board and described himself as "interested that the chairman is interested in it (the political angle)." Ricciardi then amended his statement to say Torma was "a leader in his area."

After a lengthy meeting, that was dragged out by testimony in the Mindowaskin appeal and in a variance request from the Mountain Heights Corp., owners of the Mountainside Inn, the board reserved decision on both matters.

Johnstone also represented Mrs. Laura Massa of the Mountainside Inn who is seeking a variance to erect a parking lot on property adjacent to the Mountainside Inn. She

Plays harp at Town Hall To solo at 'winners' concert

Twelve-year-old Beth Tulchin, a seventh grader at Deerfield School, Mountainside, will appear as a harp soloist June 3 in Town Hall, New York City. She will play two selections, "The Tuneful Snuffbox," which was written especially for the harp by Salzedo, the foremost American harpist, and Bizet's "Spanish Dance."

The June 3 concert is sponsored by the Metropolitan District of the Music Educators League, Young artists from New Jersey, New York and Connecticut will be presented at the event, the annual "winners' concert" of the music teachers association.

Beth qualified for the appearance in regional competitions held at Montclair State College and then in the metropolitan area finals held in the Overseas Press Club, New York City. To qualify for the Town Hall concert, the entrants had to receive a rating of 95 or better in the final competitions which were judged by outside professional musicians. Beth's rating of 96.5 won her the classification of "first honor student" in addition to the gold certificate awarded to each successful competitor.

She has been studying the harp for two-and-half years with Mrs. Rosalie Pratt of Montclair. She takes most of her lessons at Mount St. Mary's Academy, Plainfield, where Mrs. Pratt is on the faculty. Beth's mother, Mrs. Harold Tulchin of 336 Longview dr., credits her rapid progress on the harp to the "marvelous foundation" she received in music theory and performance during her studies.

Set orientation sessions for pre-school parents

Three orientation meetings have been set during the first week in June for parents of children who will enter kindergarten in the Mountainside school system in the fall.

The first will be held June 5 at 7:30 p.m. at Deerfield School on Central ave., the second on June 6 at 7:30 in Echobrook School, on Rt. 22 at New Providence rd., and the third on June 7 at 7:30 at Beechwood School, Woodacres dr. Parents should attend the meeting at the school to which their children will be assigned.

Annual open house nights have been scheduled in the three schools as follows: Echobrook, June 5; Beechwood, June 12; Deerfield, June 14. Hours on all three nights will be from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Summer registration

Registration for the Mountainside Summer School, to be held at Beechwood School, are now being accepted. Registration, now limited to Mountainside children, will be opened to out-of-town children on June 1. Registration slips and curriculum outlines have been sent home with the students. Parents planning to enroll their youngsters should return the slips as soon as possible.

Residents urged to summon police

Extensive vandalism at Deerfield School over the past few weeks caused the School Superintendent, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, to issue an urgent plea this week for citizen cooperation in halting the destruction. He urged anyone who sees "children destroying or defacing property" to call the police immediately. The vandalism has cost an estimated $500 to $800 damage in materials within the last two weeks. That figure does not include the cost of labor. Many of the window panes in the building, some of which are of very thick glass and cost about $30 a pane to replace, have been broken. Others are severely damaged, as is one in the office of the school principal, Herbert Brown, and have holes in them. Others have been scarred by vandals who use sharp stones to inscribe obscenities on the glass. Similar obscenities have been etched on the walls. Because of the prohibitive cost of replacing the glass, the scratched windows have been scraped deeper to try to obliterate the writings.

Brown said that the destruction cannot be written off as "childish horseplay." "It's an overwhelming problem," the principal said, adding that the most disturbing feature is the "sadistic approach" of the culprits in their "senseless destruction" of taxpayers' property.

Vandalism is not limited to the outside of the building, Brown said. Much of the defacing and the writing of obscenities occurs in the girls' lavatories. Doors and walls in the building are decorated with writings in magic markers, a material which is extremely difficult to remove.

BOTH DR. HANIGAN and Brown feel that the culprits are mainly children in the school system with "maybe a few troublemakers" from the high school. Brown said that many of the youngsters roam unsupervised in the evening hours. The custodians are hampered in their jobs of cleaning during those hours by youngsters who ring the bells, throw stones, climb on top of the building and act generally destructive.

A few come on motor scooters; the drivers, who are in the eighth grade or lower, race around the school property at top speed. Often they give younger children a turn on the scooter. It is illegal in the borough to ride a scooter on public property yet the police say they have received no calls from neighbors. Attempts to curb the vandalism both during and after school hours will have to be extended, Brown said. "Parents have a liability in these matters," he stated, "more pressure will have to be applied to correct this mounting problem."

Brown said he had submitted an informal telephone request to the desk sergeant at Police Headquarters for more supervision on school grounds during evening hours and weekends.

Recently, he arranged for Police Det. Jerome Rice to talk at a mass assembly in the school on vandalism. According to Brown, Rice told the students that it seems to "be time to take off the kid gloves" in combating the problem.

Vandalism has been a continuing problem in Deerfield School for quite some time, Brown indicated, but it has increased alarmingly in recent weeks. One of the most blatant acts occurred some time ago when a gutter on the roof of the school building was blown off with cherry bombs.

Pipers place first in Scottish contest

The Highlander Girl Pipers of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, won the silver Balmagowan trophy for placing first in class "C" in the Scottish pipe band competition of the annual Delaware Highland Gathering, held last Saturday in Newark, Del. The regional pipers gained the judges nod for their performance of "The Siege of Delhi."

W. Laird Stabler, chairman of the games, presented the trophy to Pipe Major Alice Strohmeier of Mountainside. The trophy will be placed in the high school's trophy case. The Delaware competition was the Highlander Girl Pipers' first entry in a traditional Scottish pipe band competition.

The band members were accompanied by their pipe instructors, William Cochrane and Robert Harrison, their drum instructor, Frank Mulreany, and the director of the high school band, Forrest Bartlett.

Cameras to roll at Deerfield to 'shoot' local 'Poster Boy'

TV cameras will be on the Little League baseball field at Deerfield School this Saturday morning to shoot "spot" takes of Jimmie Kaplan, 10-year-old Mountainside boy who has been named "Poster Boy" for the 1968 fund drive of the National Arthritis Foundation. Jimmy, a member of the Cardinals team, will be wearing his team suit. According to his mother, Mrs. William Kaplan of 1445 Orchard rd., a foundation official said kids and adults on the site Saturday morning will have a good chance of having their pictures taken in some background shots. The shots will be shown on coast-to-coast TV next May in the 1968 fund drive.

Jimmie, a fourth grader in Beechwood School, is "pretty near recovered" from the rheumatoid arthritis which has plagued him for a good part of his life, his mother said. He goes regularly for treatment to the arthritis clinic

Brown said that many children have brought back big supplies of such bombs from travels outside the state.

"The bombs are illegal here," he pointed out. "Who allows them to bring them home?"

The grounds of Deerfield School have always been used by borough children; such use should be encouraged, Brown said, for "healthful activities."

However, the vandalism that has been going on indicates that it's time "to get tougher," the principal indicated. That toughness should mean that parents should be held accountable for their children's offenses in more than a monetary way and that punishment for the juvenile offenders should be stiffer.

MISS LOUISE ARMSTRONG

6 artists perform in music group's inaugural concert

Six well-known artists will perform in the inaugural concert of "Pathways in Music," a recently formed organization dedicated to the performance of chamber music. The concert is scheduled June 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the Community Presbyterian Church, Deer path and Meeting House lane, Mountainside.

Performing in the program will be Miss Louise Armstrong of Westfield, a contralto, Walter Legawiec of Mountainside, a composer, conductor and concert violinist; Alan Scott, a cellist; Paul Kueter, pianist, organist and composer; Philip Dieterich, a composer, choral director and organist, and Noel Tipton, a pianist and organist. Scott, Kueter, Dieterich and Tipton are all Westfield residents. Kueter is the director of music at Community Presbyterian Church.

Miss Armstrong has been contralto soloist in the Easter pageant at Radio City Music Hall, has sung in recital at Town Hall and appeared throughout the eastern section of the country. She created a stellar role in the recent premiere of the opera "Many Moons" by Cellius Dougherty and has sung leading roles with the North Shore Opera Company of Long Island. She has appeared in starring roles in musical comedy productions on the summer circuit. Now contralto soloist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield, she is also known for her many oratorio performances.

LEGAWIEC, A GRADUATE of Juilliard School of Music, received the Wassili Leps award from Brown University for his cantata, "Episodes," based on a text by Walt Whitman. His most recent choral work, "Alleluia," was performed last winter by the Bowdoin College Chorus and orchestra by the Plainfield Choral Society.

Scott, a graduate of Northwestern School of Music, was formerly a cellist with the Houston Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Leopold Stokowski. He also studied with Dudley Powers and Bernard Greenhouse.

Kueter has appeared in recital at Carnegie

SUNDAY'S SERMON

FAIR PLAY

It is not always true, as it has been said, that "nice guys finish last."

Many of the nation's greatest athletes have earned recognition of the public as "nice guys." And, let's face it, if an athlete is good enough to win, and to win often, he should learn how to become a graceful winner.

On the other hand, some never learn to lose. Winning is important to the professional athlete. He has to win to survive. Yet the professional athlete, generally, knows that his success or failure depends upon his personal ability. He does not have to be popular to remain in professional sports. He just has to keep winning.

In the game of life, many of us are quick to blame our failures on someone else. It is never that we did not try hard enough, that we did not do the things that needed doing; it is, instead, that someone interfered with our efforts, someone got in the way; someone "goofed" it up.

The best players in any game, those who win the majority of the time, are usually the ones who observe the rules of fair play and good honest competition — who blame only themselves when someone turns in a better effort.

Auto Club blasts state for misuse of revenues

The state government is holding highway construction expenditures to a "bare minimum," while diverting an increasing amount of motorist taxes for non-highway purposes, the New Jersey Auto Club-AAA has charged in the current issue of the club magazine, "The Autoist."

Club Manager F. Kenneth Schultze told the 40,000 members of the American Automobile Assn. in Essex, Union, and Morris counties that "the highway-user taxpayer is being singled out to bear a disproportionate share of financing the state government."

Of the $999 million anticipated income in the budget of Governor Richard J. Hughes, said Schultze, $259.6 million or more than 26 per cent will come from special taxes on the motorist.

Declaring that "the administration intends to continue the practice of siphoning millions of dollars" in highway-user taxes for non-highway purposes, Schultze said that bers to write their legislators urging the enactment of anti-diversion legislation. The article listed assemblymen and senators and included a complete chart of highway-user taxes compared with appropriations for highway purposes in both 1967 and 1968.

Ask Amy

By

Dear Amy:
I've been noticing a change in my husband for several months. When I came across a girl's telephone number in his pocket, I knew I had found the answer. I called her up and she said they dated a few times, but she certainly didn't know he was married. Should I tell him I know about her or just go around with the knowledge bubbling inside me?
His Wife

beautiful ring from him at that time. Last week we broke up. Although he has written numerous letters telling me the exact opposite of what he just did (breaking up), I was truly hurt by this. He is going overseas for one year and he is leaving me thoroughly confused. I want to know if I should return the ring? It was meant to be a Christmas gift.
Problemated One

Dear One:
If the ring is a diamond and costly, return it. If not, keep it for what it was meant to be.

Dear Wife:
"Old Faithful" bubbles, too, before it blows its top. Before you blow yours, tell all and insist that he do likewise!

Dear Amy:
I've been going with this boy since November '65. He went into the service seven months ago. He came home for New Year's Eve, and of course, we went out. I received a

Dear Amy:
I am 40 years old and have been without my husband for nearly 20 years. He didn't die, you see, he left me to go fight in the war. My husband was always a noble man and promised to return.

For quite some time the halls of my home had been quiet, but in recent months, being a woman of considerable wealth and dignity, I have held my home open to old friends. They, at first, brought comfort to me, but now I find that several of the unwed men who frequent my home have interests in me beyond friendship and condolences.

Three of my guests in particular have time and time again bestowed upon me gifts of much value which I continue to refuse, knowing of their intentions. Just the other day, one of the three after debasing a fellow house guest (a wonderful man and a very talented violinist) because he hinted that I should consider marriage, suggested the same thing to me. I could hardly hold my astonishment and I told him that even if my husband returned, a poor ragged man, broken and lost, I would welcome him into my arms over all the expensive gifts that any would-be suitor might offer.

Now I am very frightened as every week end I will be beset by these "suitors", and I am at the point of yielding.
Very Upset

Dear Upset:
I don't know what you are upset about! If you haven't seen your husband in 20 years nor know of his whereabouts, you can have him legally declared dead. Then you have one of two decisions to make. Either you show your week-end "suitors" the door... or choose one to marry. Your considerable wealth and dignity will not bring you happiness unless you come down to earth, face reality and enjoy the kind of life you really desire.

Cooking Know-How
When making sandwiches, spread the mayonnaise, sandwich spread or relish on slices of meat, poultry or fish rather than on the lettuce or bread. The sandwich won't get soggy. Chicken, when roasting, will take on a beautiful golden glaze when it's brushed several times with 1/4 cup of honey mixed with 3/4 cup of orange juice.

When bacon is leftover from breakfast, crumble it and use for seasoning salads, vegetables or muffins. Grated carrots or potato make a good extender for meat loaves. Parsley will take you through many garnishes if it's washed and kept damp in a covered jar, refrigerated. Granulated sugar sprinkled on top of the meringue on pie helps it to brown more easily as well as to cut neatly, without ragged edges. Give cookies a crisp sugar crust by rolling them in confectioner's sugar sprinkled on board or pastry cloth as they're rolled out for cutting.

Test candidates July 11 for service academies

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-12th Dist.) announced this week that a competitive civil service examination will be held in Plainfield on Tuesday, July 11, for 12th Congressional District candidates who seek appointments to the Naval, Air Force, Military, and Merchant Marine academies in 1968.

There will be make-up examinations on Tuesday, Aug. 22, for those candidates who cannot report for the July examination.

The 12th Congressional District includes all of Union County except for Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway and the following eight municipalities in western Essex County: Millburn-Short Hills, Livingston, Roseland, Essex Fells, Fairfield, Caldwell, North Caldwell, and West Caldwell.

Mrs. Dwyer urged interested high school students and other young men not yet 21, who reside in the 12th Congressional District, to submit applications to her office as soon as possible. She also asked public and private secondary school principals to help her inform their students about the opportunity to compete for appointments to the service academies.

She explained that in 1968, the 12th Congressional District of New Jersey will be entitled to one appointment to each of the following: the Naval Academy at Annapolis, the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, and the Military Academy at West Point. For the Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, 10 nominees from the 12th District will compete statewide for the ten appointments allotted to New Jersey.

Under her competitive, merit system of making appointments, Mrs. Dwyer emphasized, all applicants must take the civil service examination. The successful nominees -- the six top candidates for each appointment at West Point, Annapolis and the Air Force Academy, and the top ten for the Merchant Marine Academy -- must compete further among themselves for each appointment by means of the academies' entrance and physical examinations and their overall evaluation of candidates' potential as officers.

"In this way," the Congresswoman said, "all boys have an equal opportunity to compete. No favoritism of any kind is possible. And the academies are assured of obtaining the men best qualified for future military careers."

For further information about the academies and details of her nominating procedure Mrs. Dwyer invited interested young men to write to her Washington office, 2421 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, or to consult guidance directors at local secondary schools.

One of the first Members of Congress to adopt a completely competitive system of making appointments to the academies, Mrs. Dwyer believes the system has been especially successful. She points to the unusually large number of young men to compete for and win appointments from the 12th District and the high proportion of 12th District cadets and midshipmen who win places on the honor rolls of the academies.

Waiting list formed for reading clinic

Applicants who are not accepted for the summer session of the Reading Clinic at the Child Study Center of Newark State College, Union, will be placed on a waiting list for the fall semester. Dr. Samuel Laurie, clinic director, announced this week.

The number of youngsters who are accepted for the clinic is limited by the number of teachers available, he explained. The clinic provides individual diagnostic counseling and remedial instruction, conducted in partitioned learning cubicles, where a child and his teacher establish a one-to-one relationship.

Forty children are being selected for the summer clinic, 20 of them for diagnosis and 20 others for correction. The fall and spring terms each accommodate twice that number of children.

To be eligible a child must be of school age and must demonstrate a bona fide reading problem. The clinic expects to help him overcome his problem, but it also expects him to provide valuable experience for his teacher, a graduate student who is studying to become a reading specialist. Most of the graduate students who work in the clinic hold full-time teaching positions in area schools.

They are working toward a master's degree in reading. Their clinic experience coincides with a course entitled, "clinical practices in reading," which they take with Dr. Lillian Putnam, an associate professor.

A YOUNGSTERS ATTENDS the clinic for two semesters. The first of these consists of diagnostic counseling and includes tests for intellectual potential, mental maturity, personality traits that may hinder academic progress and aspects of behavior and attitude. All of the resources of the Child Study Center, which include audiological and psychological testing and the services of psychologists and social workers, are at the disposal of the clinic staff.

After a semester of diagnostic work, the child is ready to begin remedial instruction. (Dr. Edward La Cross, director of the Child Study Center, maintains that the child's reading problem has been thoroughly diagnosed, and recommendations have been made to his parents and school. The remedial program is geared to his school situation.)

Items Found in park to be put on auction

Thirteen bicycles, baseball gloves, wrist watches, ice skates, a transistor radio, three golf carts and other items found throughout the Union County Park System and turned over to the Union County Park Police will be auctioned to the public at a sale to be held on Saturday, it was announced to the Union County Park Commission.

The sale will be conducted by the Union County Park Police, beginning at 10 a.m. in the service building adjacent to the Administration Building of the Park Commission in Warinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle.

The material being auctioned has been in the custody of the park police for over six months. The proceeds of the sale will be added to the Union County Park Police Pension Fund.

REALTOR WEEK proclamations are studied by Charles V. Berry, president of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors (l.) and George Pagoulatos, Realtor Week chairman, Mayors of Union, Kenilworth, Linden, Roselle and Roselle Park have all proclaimed this week as "Realtor Week".

Realty offices, salesmen join in celebration of annual week

"The Time is Right to Buy a Home" is the theme of the 1967 Realtor Week celebration this week by the 100 realtor offices and the 400 sales personnel of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors, according to Charles V. Berry, board president.

In honor of Realtor Week, a number of community-wide observances have been scheduled as realtors in this area "join with their more than 85,000 colleagues across the nation directing public attention to their calling and the special character of the services they render," Berry said.

"A realtor," said Berry, "is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict code of ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards."

In discussing the code of ethics, Berry continued that "it was one of the first such codes adopted in the history of American business. Under its 30 articles, which cover all aspects of real estate transactions, realtors pledge fair treatment and their total real estate knowledge to both parties of a contract—the buyer and seller."

Realtor Week will continue through Saturday, Berry explained. "The slogan this year underscores the resourcefulness of realtors throughout the nation. For the prospective buyer who is experiencing a little difficulty in securing financing for property, the realtor can suggest new money sources. For the family which needs more space for growing, the realtor can find just the home which will fill their needs, both as size and cost."

"Two-thirds of American families own their homes, a proportion virtually unrivaled anywhere in the world," Berry declared. "The advantages of home ownership, in convenience, in security and as an investment, are boundless."

Blossoms at peak in Azalea Garden

The Azalea Garden in Warinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle, is now presenting its annual array of spring color, it was recently announced by William Anderson, forestry and horticulture foreman for the Union County Park Commission.

Anderson stated that there is a variety of color in each of the five major groups in the Azalea Garden, including the Ghent hybrids, Kaempferi hybrids, Kurumes hybrids, Mollis hybrids, Vuyk hybrids, in addition to most of the species plants. The Korean species, Yodogawa Azalea and the Royal Azalea may still be in bloom.

The vivid colors in the garden are expected to be at their peak during the week of May 28, weather permitting, and will continue to show color through late June when the Indicum azaleas bloom.

The garden, constructed and planted in 1945, contains nearly 3,600 plants representing 54 species and clonal varieties covering 2-1/2 acres in Warinanco Park.

In 1957, the garden was dedicated to the late Caxton Brown, one of the original park commissioners, who served from 1921 to the time of his death in 1952, and a plaque overlooking the garden honors his memory.

A plant list and diagram of the garden is available by contacting the Public Information Department, The Union County Park Commission, Box 275, Elizabeth.

FOR THE BIRDS

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER, professor, Union Junior College

For many years my wife and I used to take a ride down to the shore during early spring. We'd stop along the way at every spot that was liable to be productive of a migrating shore bird. The first one was along Raritan Bay in South Amboy. Just below the yacht club is a stretch of beach where sandpipers and plovers often gather. Occasionally, too, there is a chance of seeing a foreign gull that has wintered along the western Atlantic beaches rather than the eastern ones.

Tide pools on the mainland side of Sandy Hook are also good places for birding this time of year. They are repositories for the sea food eagerly hunted by gulls, pipers, yellowlegs and a host of others.

The lake in Spring Lake is often a stopping place for Canada geese and many varieties of duck. I've taken some good pictures there. Five or six years ago we took this trek, snapped several rolls of color slides along the way and then ate lunch in one of the few restaurants that are open all year. After eating the breeze was warm and the sun bright so we decided to stroll on the deserted boardwalk. As we cut across the mixture of sand and grass that separates road from beach, a brown shape flew up in our faces and came to earth about 30 feet in front of us. It was a killdeer.

It feigned a broken wing and kept a constant distance ahead as we followed it. After some yards, it flew away but when we retraced our steps, the whole act was repeated again. Obviously it had a nest nearby and was determined we shouldn't find it. A telephone lineman working on a nearby pole had seen the incident and from his high perch, had located the eggs. He pointed them out to us. If he hadn't, their natural camouflage would certainly have hidden them.

Killdeers are members of the plover family. They have brown backs, white underparts and necks with two characteristic dark brown or black collars. They are the most widely distributed member of the plover family. I have seen them on the California coast, along the Rahway River in Union County and on Cape Cod. Although they are most often seen near water during migration, they may nest far from it -- in pastures, cultivated fields, on gravelly ground. Early in the century, one case was reported of eggs laid on a gravel forcing the gardener to move them so they wouldn't be run over by carriages. Another killdeer built between the ties of a railroad in use.

Employees honored

City Federal Savings and Loan Association honored two employees for 10 years of service at a dinner held recently at the Hotel Suburban, Summit. They were Mrs. Marion E. Brady of Maplewood, assistant manager of the East Orange office, and Andrew Donlin of Clark, of the mortgage servicing department.

'Widow' hits a high note on stage of Paper Mill

BY WILLIAM H. BRUCKER Take a little schripitz of gemutlichkeit from Vienna, add a soupçon of for-mid-a-ble from Paris, flavor with sets out of the beau monde of Beardsley and Toulouse-Lautrec, and you have a schnitzel of a show that is swaying before latter day audiences at the Paper Mill Playhouse in a sumptuous revival of that old war horse "The Merry Widow."

This is a full-blown production of this vintage gem, beautifully staged, exquisitely garbed and sung and acted in the grand old tradition of operetta. It is as refreshing as rose petal jelly and water.

Frank Carrington has produced the work straight from the pen of Viktor Leon and Leo Stein, who in 1905 wrote this blue skies opus with not a scurrilous character in sight and an all-hail to Marsovia, that sweet little, that quaint little, that bankrupt little flyspot on the then-very map of Europe.

It is played now as high camp, but true and sincere. Thus, except for a book that clogs along like a dejected Lippenzanger with intertantal spurs, this is a lovely musical with a score that stands up solidly 62 years after Franz Lehár himself conducted the opening night of "Die Lustige Witwe" in Vienna.

I CAN'T RECALL how many times I've seen "The Merry Widow" all the way from the pre-Christopher Morley days at the Hudson Theater in Hoboken and the Roger Pryor days at the Bayonne Opera House through a performance by an English troupe in Corsica and movie versions and TV versions and the 1964 production at The New York State Theater at Lincoln Center. This present cast is a superlative one.

Dorothy Sandlin is always a Sonia with the carriage, the physique, the grandeur of this part that was first delineated by Mitzel Gunther. Miss Sandlin's elegant "Vilia" stopped the show as it has with every other soprano I have seen. It was altogether lovely and I felt glad all over that some opportune producer in the early days of the relic's history had seen fit to change the widows name from a prosaic name, Hanna Galwari (probably first rank in Marsovia) to the more mellifluous Sonia.

Richard Fredricks is a dashing Danilo equipped with a fine bass-baritone that emanates from a succession of Parisian boulevardier, roving peasant and Marsovian Hussar. He parried well with only five girls from Maxims, whereas the original had six. Economy in this day of government grants.

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON is the only Popoff that ever was. He must have the voice of a turtle, scrivener with maturity and wisdom, harboring a smile that just never comes through to let you know that all is kind of silly. Marsovia in his hands receives the treatment of a penitentiary at the U.N. He defers to his king, but relishes in his inadequacies. He condones his wife's cuckoldry so as to preserve the throne. He wears a hussar's kapok at such a rakish angle that you can feel it laughing at you. And with the gang of fellows marches and gallops and is number four in a high kicking chorus line as they do "Weiber, weiber, weiber."

Joe Ross is a nifty Nish, Mischa Auer notwithstanding. There are so many others of robust voice and high-style operetta theatrics. Donna Sanders as Madame Popoff, John Peck as St. Brioché and Peter Costanza as Cascada, and of course, Montes de Oca as Pierre de Joldion, who with Madame Popoff sings my all-time favorite, "Romance."

How can one deny the marvelous lilt of "The Merry Widow Waltz," the veritable schmaltz of "The Gold and Silver Ballet," the plebeian sentimentality of "Vilia," the jaunty, fox march of "Women, women, women?" Yes, how can they be denied?

Don't deny them! Go see and hear "The Merry Widow" at the Paper Mill now now now.

Stanley Warner theaters to get modern 'face-lifting'

A renovation program is currently underway to transform a number of Stanley Warner Theaters in North New Jersey into ultra-modern showplaces with up-to-date innovations and installations, it was announced recently by Henry Burger, New Jersey zone manager.

Theaters already completed in the Essex and Union Counties areas are the Hollywood, East Orange, the Cranford, Cranford and the Weimont, Montclair.

In the process of an extensive face-lifting is the Safford Theater in Irvington, with modernization scheduled for completion in time for the showhouse's exclusive Essex County engagement of "The Sound of Music," which starts June 21. During its innovation, the Safford will continue to present films during evening hours and weekends.

Also scheduled during the next few months for transformation are the Union Theater in Union Center and the Millburn Theater in Millburn. Drew Ebersohn, theater architect, has been commissioned to remodel and rebuild the two showhouses.

The Union and the Millburn will have a new marble facade and new architectural treatment throughout. The "new look" will be highlighted in the theater fronts with an ultra-modern trim line soffit with a massive suspended double-faced attraction panel.

The lobby and interior will be revamped, up-dated and redecorated to conform with present day standards of construction. Among the new improvements will be luxurious rest rooms, inside lobby ticket counters, new seats, large screens and improved sound and projection. Glass panels will enclose the auditoriums to eliminate foyer noises.

In Millburn, adjoining commercial shops are being eliminated to make room for a larger theater. In Irvington, the Safford, as part of its new front, will have a trim line canopy and suspended attraction panel similar to the Union and Millburn.

Miniature railroad to open for season

The Centerville & Southwestern Railroad, miniature steam railroad in Roseland, will begin its 1967 season on Saturday.

The C & S operates a coal-burning steam locomotive known as a 4-8-4 Poccono type, equipped with air compressor for brakes, air operated brass bell and steam chime whistle.

Starting from the station on Livingston ave., the train makes a round trip of two miles via a horseshoe curve. An automatic color light signal system controls all train movements.

The train operates on Saturdays and holidays up to Labor Day and on Wednesday afternoons and evenings during July and August. Schedules and brochures are available by calling 226-2003.

How long will it take? Don't pack a lunch. Your Volkswagen happens to lead a very simple, uncomplicated life. Even when it breaks down. Because it doesn't change very much year after year, our mechanics don't have to learn about an entirely new car year after year. On your time. Or at your expense. To them, a 67 adjustment is really not that different from any other VW adjustment that's been made since the year one. Which is why they're so good at servicing it. So thorough. And so fast. When improvements are made, many of the new parts are made to fit older models. Which is why there isn't a VW around today that we don't have a part for. Or can't get for you in short order. Over the years, we've gotten pretty good at servicing Volkswagens. We owe it all to the Volkswagens. DOUGLAS MOTORS CORP. Near the Short Hills Mall 430 Morris Ave. CR 7-3300 Summit, N.J.

Negro's part in history now receives attention

"Some history textbooks are finally conceding the existence of the American Negro but recognition of the Negro's contributions to the development of America remains spotty and incomplete," says the New Jersey Education Assn.

Until now, textbooks have portrayed slavery as "paternalistic rather than horrible," says an article in the current issue of the "NJEA Review," the monthly professional journal for New Jersey teachers. Reformers who sought to abolish slavery were pictured as fanatics' reconstruction of the South after the Civil War as "unnecessary rape"; and reconstructionists as "carpetbaggers" and "arch villains."

A new generation of textbooks now admits slavery is "an ugly institution," says the "NJEA Review," and they place abolitionists and Reconstruction in "proper perspective." But there the improvement ends. The comments: "Regrettably, the Negro still seems to disappear from American history at the end of Reconstruction and does not reappear until discussion of the civil rights movement." "The modified textbooks still create the impression that Anglo-Saxon made America with a little help from Lafayette and Pulasaki."

Textbooks are not only medium transmitting "racial distortions" to Americans, the "NJEA Review" notes. Literature, movies and TV all portray the West as white, despite the fact that, after the Civil War, 15 to 30 percent of all cowboys were Negroes. So were some of the best troops in the Indian Wars. Even the Negro badman has not received his due. Few Americans have heard of Che-

Employment trend noted

Nonfarm wage and salary employment in New Jersey rose less than seasonally by 19,400 during April. According to estimates prepared by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry on the basis of its monthly employer survey, April employment, excluding self-employed, domestic, farm and unpaid family workers, was 2,385,800. This represents a gain of 74,600, or 3.2 percent, over the level of April, 1966.

Employment in manufacturing declined more than seasonally during April, as smaller than seasonal gains in durable goods failed to moderate the effects of a seasonal decline of 7,700 in non-durable goods. This decline was due primarily to seasonal layoffs in the apparel industry. Overall, employment rose by 500 in durable goods with a gain of 1,000 in the miscellaneous manufacturing group partially offset by a 700 decline in non-electrical machinery.

Nonmanufacturing employment rose somewhat less than seasonally expected by 26,600. Significant over-the-month changes included gains of 10,000 in services; 7,900 in contract construction; 6,200 in trade; and 1,000 in finance, insurance and real estate. The average factory workweek lengthened by two-tenths of an hour to 40.7 hours, raising average weekly earnings by $0.58 to $118.44. Average hourly earnings were unchanged at $2.91.

Catholic Daughters unit conducts annual charity service program

The Court Immaculate Heart of Mary, Catholic Daughters of America, are holding their annual charity program, the Relief for Peace Service. The group has recently made donations in support of the program answering the appeals made by Pope John XXIII and Pope Paul VI.

Donations have been made to such charities as The Madonna Plan, which assists unwed and widowed mothers; expelled priests, who have had to escape from Communist-ruled countries; families in the "Feed A Family" benefit program; CARE, which is transmitted to Catholic Relief Services and for Korea and Vietnam.

Vietnam and Korean orphans benefit from the group's monthly contributions. Among them is the Court Immaculate Heart of Mary's adopted child, Cristina, who comes from Leper parents, and who is a victim of polio. The court has also contributed to the Catholic Relief Service appeal, "Feed India."

The Relief for Peace committee has prepared a shipment to the Vatican storeroom of 300 pounds of used, reconditioned clothing, 12 used layettes and 15 new layettes, 19 aighans, sweater sets; a total of 645 pieces.

Mrs. Paul Rubilla, who has been chairman of Relief for Peace for the past five years, is assisted by co-chairmen, Mrs. Arthur Wagner and Mrs. Carmen Scialfa, Mrs. John Piccy, Mrs. Michael Boltone, Mrs. Peter Abitante, Mrs. Cosmo Gentilcore, Mrs. Frank Messina, Mrs. Ja. A. Orlando, Mrs. M.J. Kmetz, Mrs. J.J. Gasper, Mrs. James Minitelli, Mrs. Joseph

Noel, Mrs. Eleanor Cook and Miss Anna Panico.

Theater parties at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, have been the main source of raising money for the Relief for Peace program.

The next scheduled theater party will be for June 8, when the group will see "The Merry Widow." Mrs. Rubilla may be contacted for reservations at 245 - 7470.

If you'd like a good used Volkswagen, see your Volvo dealer.

When we discovered that former Volkswagen owners buy more Volvos than anybody except former Volvo owners, our first reaction was "That's nice."

Our second reaction was "That's very nice."

Volkswagen has a reputation for reliability that most car makers would give their eye-teeth for.

And when a VW owner has to step out of his little economy car into a bigger car, it's significant that he so often steps into a Volvo.

Volvo, as we say, is the compact that lasts an average of eleven years in Sweden where there are no speed limits on the highways, where there are over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads, where driving is virtually a national pastime.

Besides reliability, Volvo has a couple of other virtues that appeal to former Volkswagen owners. Volvos deliver over 25 miles to the gallon, even with automatic transmission.

Volvos out-accelerate every other compact in their class, and run away from a few cars that are out of their class.

Of course, Volvo and Volkswagen owners aren't the only people who appreciate a car that goes fast, costs little to operate, and lasts longer than the payment book.

A lot of Fords and Chevys are traded in on Volvos, too. We figure that makes sense. They're in Volvo's price range.

69 Cadillacs were also traded in on Volvos last year. You figure that one out.

MEMORIAL DAY

With pride in our heritage, and with heartfelt gratitude, we honor our nation's heroes

On the solemn occasion of Memorial Day, we remember the departed... and we honor those to whom honor meant all... with sorrow and pride, with respect and gratitude. To the valiant, who selflessly gave all, that our great nation might endure in strength and freedom, we pay heartfelt tribute. Their spirit lives on... in the resolve of each of us to treasure and preserve the liberty for which they gave the last full measure of devotion. May the memory of their gallant deeds ever inspire us.

The new neighbors will be glad to meet you. And they'll want to visit with you... later. Right now, they need something more -- a list of schools and churches, utility companies' telephone numbers... all the information one needs on arriving in a strange city.
So, be a friend indeed. A Welcome-Wagon hostess will call at your request to provide all this and gifts as well.
Make your welcome warmer when new neighbors arrive. Call Welcome Wagon at 232-5070

Reminder issued on social security

Spring is summer job hunting season for many high school and college students. Students who will be taking a job for the first time and will need a social security number were urged this week by Ralph W. Jones, social security district manager in Elizabeth, to apply now and avoid the late May and June rush. Jones stated that, by applying now, the student will avoid unnecessary delay. As schools draw to a close in June for summer vacations applications for social security cards is four to five times greater than in the other months of the year and some delays occur. Since employers need to see a new employee's social security card before he goes on duty, getting the card late could cause a delay in starting work, and result in missing a good job opportunity. Jones concluded by urging students not to wait until the school term ends to apply for their social security numbers. Applications may be obtained from the Elizabeth social security district office at 268 North Broad st., or from most post offices.

Summer day camp opening June 26 on campus of NSC

Camp Union, a summer day camp operated under the auspices of the Union County Organization to Aid Children With Learning Disabilities, will open for a six-week season on June 26 on the campus of Newark State College, Union.

Gerald Carlucci, president of the county organization, reported the camp will take youngsters "who are not classified as mentally retarded, seriously emotionally disturbed or brain injured to the extent that the deviate very far from the norm."

He added: "Other than learning difficulties that these children present in school, they find it difficult to interact socially in group situations in accepted patterns of behavior."

Dr. Eugene Wilkins, president of Newark State, is honorary camp chairman and Dr. Edward LaCrosse, chairman of the department of special education at the college, is professional advisor.

THE CAMP WILL be directed by Vincent Antello, a teacher of handicapped children who has a master's degree in special education and is now attending Columbia University for his doctorate in the same field. He has been waterfront director of Camp Notre Dame in New Hampshire and Stony-brooke Day Camp in Hillside.

He will be assisted by Mrs. Phyllis Antello, who also has a master's degree in special education, and other personnel with special training.

Newark State College is making its facilities available free of charge to the camp, included are the swimming pool, athletic fields and classrooms.

A typical day at the camp will include swimming, arts and crafts, dramatic play,

Sen. Hughes calls on women to help rid New Jersey of pesky gyp artists

State Senator Mildred Barry Hughes (D-Union) last night called upon women to help New Jersey in its "fight against the gyp artists who do everything from trying to sell a get-rich-quick scheme to promising to practically rebuild your house for only pennies a week."

"It's up to us women to help make our State's new consumer protection program work," Senator Hughes told the Union County Women's Democratic Club at its annual dinner at the Elizabeth Carter Hotel, Elizabeth. "We can give immeasurable assistance by protecting ourselves through careful scrutiny of any contract we intend to sign and by alerting the new State Division of Consumer Protection if we detect any suspicious salesmen or proposals."

Senator Hughes pointed out that the Legislature unanimously voted for the measure which elevated the status of the old Consumer Frauds Bureau in the State Department of Law and Public Safety. She noted that the new office, headed by former Congressman Paul J. Krebs of Livingston, is prepared to handle complaints of consumer frauds.

"We in Union County have some experience in fighting fraudulent schemes," Senator Hughes said. "A few years ago, we helped gather evidence which put an end to a mail order house which operated out of Elizabeth. The action against this firm was one of the most effective consumer protection steps ever taken. While we in the Legislature and the State Administration took some credit for it, we agreed it would not have been possible without an alert public which gathered evidence of the firm's operations.

"NOW WE ASK the public, especially the women, to continue to be on guard. Of course, we don't want to hurt legitimate businessmen, but we must be alert at all times to the fakers who sell expensive schemes to unsuspecting housewives and others. More often than not, we are the ones who are approached first by the door-to-door salesman who wants to sell us siding or roofing, furnace repair, insulation or some other home repair.

"We must make sure the proposal is legitimate. If we suspect anything wrong, we should go advise Mr. Krebs at his Newark office. He wants to hear from us. Two weeks ago, I had the privilege of introducing him at an Atlantic City conference in which he emphasized he is banking on the public—especially women—to help him do a job. As he pointed out, he will have difficulty pinpointing sources of trouble unless he hears from the householders.

"Mr. Krebs cited another area in which we can provide help. He noted that there is at least one out-of-state firm that is suspected of trying to 'hook' older folks into a home craftsman operation that will hurt the elderly financially. He is investigating complaints that the company sells materials to senior citizens for projects it contracts to sell and then turns down the finished products—after the materials are paid for.

Camp Union program to be discussed today

A meeting for all interested concerning Camp Union has been called by the Union County Organization to Aid Children with Learning Disabilities. The camp program will be outlined by Vincent Antello, director, and Dr. Edward LaCrosse, chairman of the Department of Special Education at Newark State College.

The meeting will be held at the Child Study Center, Newark State College, Union, today at 8:30 p.m. Applications will also be accepted at that time, a spokesman said.

musical activities, sports and picnics. Camp hours will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Carlucci said additional information may be obtained from him at 687-1990 or the following: Mrs. Miriam Dickman of Cranford, BR 2-5671; Mrs. Ethel Carle of Westfield, AD 2-8856, or Mrs. Margaret Hatton of Plainfield, 754-8073.

UJC sets speaker for commencement

John J. Downing, chief of operations of the International Department of the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C., will be guest speaker at Union Junior College's 34th annual commencement on Saturday, June 3, at 10:30 a.m. in the theater of the Campus Center, Cranford. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, president.

Dr. Mackay said there are 120 candidates for Associate in Arts degrees. He and Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean, will confer the degrees. Prof. Forrest P. Dexter, Jr., of Cranford, will preside. The Alumni Prize to the class valedictorian and the Post-Day Award will be presented by Prof. Hermann J. Bielefeld of Summit, chairman of the Humanities Department.

DONATION --- Julius R. Pollatschek, President of United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, said this week that the Union County Bowling Association recently donated a special Relaxation Chair for use of boys and girls with cerebral palsy, attached to the League's Center at 216 Holly st., Cranford. Pictured are (left to right): Victor Roselle, 535 Golf ter., Union, treasurer, and Edward J. Trailside to hold program Sunday on rhododendrons

A "Rhododendron and Azalea Culture," will be presented by members of the Union County Rhododendron Committee at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 3 p.m.

The program will include a talk on how to raise both rhododendrons and azaleas in the home garden. The program will offer visitors an opportunity to visit the Union County Rhododendron Display Garden in the "Loop" area of the Watchung Reservation. The initial planting in the garden began in the fall of 1960. Over the years many new plants have been added to the collection. The object of this planting is to have a complete collection of all Rhododendrons that will grow satisfactorily in this area.

Mrs. Charles R. Haag, Cranford, is chairman of the show. Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children on Monday, Wednesday, May 31, and Thursday, June 1, at 4 p.m. each day. The topic to be discussed during the three days is "African Mammals." The lectures will be illustrated with color slides. The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, tour the live-animal area, view the thousands of indoor exhibits, and participate in the scheduled programs.

Surgery survey

NEW YORK (UPI) — Medical authorities report 13 million Americans will undergo surgery in 1967.

According to the U.S. National Health Survey, a study of surgical patients discharged from short-stay hospitals indicates about two-thirds of patients undergoing surgery use insurance to pay all or part of their surgical bill. The average length of hospital stay for these patients will be about a week.
