Thief accuses captor

An Irvington man, sentenced to two months in Union County Jail by Magistrate Jacob Bauer for stealing 30 cartons of cigarettes, attempted to turn the tables on his victim by accusing the driver of the truck of assault and battery in last week's session of Mountainside Municipal Court. The charge was dismissed by Magistrate Bauer.

The accused, Ronald W. Dobak of 1076 Springfield ave., Irvington, an admitted registered narcotic user, was arrested by Officer Stephen Semancik on May 18 after the driver of the truck, Richard Karch Jr. of Plainfield, surprised him as he was stealing the merchandise from the truck parked in front of Wilkerson Sword Co. on Sheffield st. According to police, Karch tangled with Dobak who had thrown the cigarettes in his face, and the two fell to the ground in view of many people who were going in to work at nearby plants. A man, who was believed to be Dobak's accomplice, drove off as the two struggled. Karch called to onlookers to get the license plate of the car. Both men were scratched in the hassle.

In court, Dobak said he knew the other man only by the name of "Jackie" and had met him only the previous night.

In bringing the charge against Karch, Dobak said if he was going to jail he was "going to bring someone else" with him.

In other action, Magistrate Bauer fined Sharon L. Jones of Somerville $20 for speeding on Rt. 22 and revoked her license for 30 days.

Willie Crouch of Brooklyn paid a total of $45 on four separate charges, not having registration in his possession, being without brake light and signals and having a non-operating horn.

Jim Calabro of New York City paid $85 after he was found guilty of two charges of using other plates, improper display of name and address on commercial vehicle and having too small lettering on vehicle.

Others fined in the same court session were: Ronald Giacomia of Passaic, no inspection, $15 and $5 contempt; Armand Proli of Norwood, no inspection, $15 and $10 contempt; Allan R. Wandelt of Plainfield, passing on right at intersection, $15; Isaac Prince of Plainfield, no light on license plate, $10, and broken lens on rear light, $10; Franklin D. Williams of Newark, using other plates, $30, and operating unregistered vehicle, $15; Joseph Cavalcante of Plainfield, expired license, $15; with registration in possession, $15.

Also: Louis C. Schmit of Union, not keeping right, $15; Maurice S. McCarthy of Cranford, passing on right, $15; Fred M. Menchan Jr. of Avenel, overdue inspection, $15, and $10 contempt; Robert S. Campbell of Plainfield, overdue inspection, $15, and $5 contempt.

SPORTS FANS

DO YOU KNOW ???

SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE'S
Weekly Feature
By GARY LESSING, Manager

Just when everyone was starting to settle down to the major's sorting out of positions in the scramble for top honors this season, a top news announcement dominated the sports pages across the nation.

The announcement concerned a player in another sport, a player who'd been out of the limelight for two seasons; a player who was such a top performer during his school years, most sports experts pegged him for all-time greatness.

Before mentioning his sport and the team he played for, let's see if you can come up with his name on these few clues: He was born in Missouri in 1943, was an honor student all through his school years, was an Eagle Scout, was known for giving extra effort in everything he tried. Following high school graduation, he entered an Ivy League College. Made All-America in his sophomore year, and again as a junior. In his senior year he was named best in the land, and instead of accepting the fabulous pro offers he'd received, he went to England as a Rhodes Scholar.

By now, you're probably aware that our boy's school was Princeton, and his sport basketball, and that Bill Bradley's signing last month with the Knickerbockers was the news which made headlines around the world.

You're probably well aware also that the tires on the top cars both at Indianapolis and on every major road in the U.S. is FIRESTONE.... The reason is simple enough: Like Bill Bradley, FIRESTONE is a Champion. And car owners know this and head for SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22 (at Springfield rd.) UNION, where they always find a choice selection. Open daily 9-9, Saturdays to 4. Our phone number is MU 8-5620.

Tips given on sewing machines

Buying a sewing machine requires several decisions before you part with your money or sign your name on a contract, says Carolyn F. Yuknus, Senior County Home Economist.

Your first decision to make is what type of sewing machine you need. Three types can serve the needs of different women. There is the simple, straight-stitching model; there is one that also does zig-zag stitching; and the fully automatic machine that does everything from simple sewing to intricate, decorative work.

A good straight-stitching machine will do much of the sewing many homemakers require. With it you can make clothes, slipcovers, alterations and all usual sewing projects. Attachments for decorative stitching can be bought for this type of machine.

A zig-zag machine not only does straight stitching but does zig-zag stitching in a number of sizes. With this feature you can overcast seams and apply lace and other trimmings more easily. Automatic machines do all the normal types of stitching as well as decorative stitching. With some brands you turn a dial to the desired stitch, while with others cams are inserted to achieve the desired stitch.

Once you decide on the type of sewing machine, next consider whether you want a cabinet or portable type. The cabinet type has the advantage of being always ready for use, while a portable must be set up. The cabinet type can also serve as a piece of furniture, but the portable can save space.

When you have decided what type of machine you want and whether it will be a cabinet or portable one, then see demonstrations on as many brands of this type of machine as you can.

Try the machine yourself to judge the ease of threading, inserting the bobbin and turning the flywheel, as well as the quality of stitching.

Also note the sound and vibration of the machine. Experiment with both straight and decorative stitching if you are considering an automatic model. Particularly on the automatic, note if the forward stitching is straight.

But only from a reliable dealer and be sure you know exactly what you are getting for the price. Are lessons included? What is the length of guarantee and what does this include? Where can the machine be serviced and where can you get needles and small parts?

These questions should be answered in writing and signed by an authorized dealer.

Do not sign any contract until you have read all of it carefully and understand every part of it.

First babies tend to arrive at noon

NEW YORK (UPI) -- It's just a myth that first babies tend to arrive in early morning hours, a six-month study of 4,870 births shows.

Among 1,326 first babies in the study, 74 arrived between noon and 1 p.m., and the fewest -- 25 -- between 2 and 3 a.m. Mothers who already had one child were likely to have their next infants between 9 a.m. and noon, Dr. Carl Erhardt, of the New York City Health Department, reported in the New York State Journal of Medicine.

Aches, pains due to food allergies

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Some of those aches and pains in joints, attributed to rheumatoid arthritis may be due to food allergy in hypersensitive persons.

Food suspects of causing arthritic symptoms easily are tested by consuming one of them at a time, to see if the symptoms accompany it or disappear when that food is eliminated from the diet, says Dr. Bernard M. Zussman, University of Tennessee, in a report in the St. Thomas Medical Journal.

Dairy foods reach peak this month

June is Dairy Month! It is the time of the year when milk production across the nation reaches its seasonal peak, reports Anne L. Sheelen, County Home economist.

Milk is said to be our most perfect food. It is a rich source of high quality protein, calcium and phosphorus, as well as important vitamins. Dairy products such as cheese, ice cream, canned and dry milk, also include many of these same nutrients.

Federal and state laws help to regulate the safety and quality of our milk supply. The laws fix standards for the bacterial count of the grades of milk available and the requirements for inspection of dairy herds, processing plants, and milk products.

Composition of the product, such as the amount of fat solids, and the size of containers in which fresh milk may be sold, are also regulated.

The handling and care of milk is the most important factor in retaining its quality. Milk should never stand out, either where it becomes warm or where it freezes.

It should never be exposed to sunlight or other strong light as this harms the flavor and the vitamin riboflavin. Keeping milk tightly covered and in the refrigerator is the best protection.

Milk that is mishandled will sour faster than milk which has been properly cared for even if it has been more recently processed.

Understanding labels on flavored milk products is important.

Chocolate milk is whole milk to which sugar and chocolate have been added.

Chocolate-flavored milk is whole milk to which sugar and cocoa have been added.

Chocolate drink is made from skim milk or milk which contains less fat than whole milk, using the same flavoring ingredients as in chocolate milk. If cocoa is used instead of chocolate, it is designated as chocolate-flavored drink.

Other flavorings as strawberry, coffee, and maple may also be used. As with the chocolate, when the term flavored milk is used, it was made from whole milk; if flavored drink is used, it was made from skim milk.

The only nutritional difference between whole and skim milk is that the skim milk contains fewer calories and no Vitamin A.

Mrs. Bertram Fox of 724 Garden st., Union, will be installed as president of the Sisterhood of Temple Israel at a meeting scheduled Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the temple.

Other newly-elected officers who will be installed will be Mrs. Melvin Stein, Mrs. Aaron Levine and Mrs. Bernard Wasserman, vice-presidents; Mrs. Philip Moskowitz, recording secretary; Mrs. Milton Margulies, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bernard Teiger, treasurer; Mrs. Jerry Lehman, sentinel; and Mrs. Meyer Schwartz, advisor.

Trustees to be installed include Mrs. Arthur Goorin, Mrs. Saul Seitzer, Mrs. Alvin Eglow, Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. Kenneth Hunter, Mrs. Isaac Weber, Mrs. Norman Kurtz, Mrs. Richard Klein, Mrs. Edwards Friedman and Mrs. Joe Wolff.

Mrs. Sylvia Sylvan, a past president, will be the installing officer. She will present a certificate of merit to Mrs. Schwartz, the outgoing president.

Following the installation, Mrs. Mel Stein will present a musical group called "The Singing Strings" from Union High School. The group is composed of string musicians who sing classical and pop music.

Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to members and guests.

Review policies from time to time

NEW YORK (UPI)—Read any good insurance policies lately? It's not like curling up with a good book. But keeping your life insurance up to date is one way of avoiding financial difficulty later on, family advisors say.

According to the Institute of Life Insurance, a family's life insurance program should be reviewed periodically, especially when there is a major change in family circumstances — say, birth of a child, acquisition of a home, approach of retirement, or a new job.

Moth precaution: keep packs sealed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Moths commonly enter the home as larvae within opened or damaged packages, the National Pest Control Association reports.

Any package in which moths or larvae are found should be thrown away. Keeping dried foods or fruit in glass or metal containers, tightly sealed, is a simple and sensible precaution.

Udal: Nation is winning in battle of conservation

SPECIALLY WRITTEN FOR THIS SECTION
BY STEWART L. UDALL
U. S. SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

In my six years as Secretary of the Interior, I have come more and more to the inescapable conclusion that the strength and safety of this nation are as much dependent upon our people's physical development and health as upon our armory of weapons.

This being true, what is America today? In our free society, how have we fared in developing and preserving in our race that element of physical stamina and vigor so essential to our freedom?

A national survey a few years ago found that, at best, one-fourth of our 40 million school children could not pass even a simple screening test of physical performance - a test requiring the barest minimum acceptance levels of strength, flexibility, and agility.

Clearly, this should be a cause for concern in all of us. Such concern is only magnified when we look beyond school age to the increasingly high rate of young men rejected by the Army for physical reasons - three of every seven called!

With these figures in mind, it becomes increasingly clear that we can't argue too much with the claim that America has become too soft. We need to stress physical fitness to school children and adults alike. Providing more recreation areas and facilities is one of the answers to the problem.

But providing such areas has proven difficult. We have missed many an opportunity. Much of the land we need most already is built over or has soared fantastically in price. But now, for the first time, we are winning the battle of conservation to help Americans keep physically fit.

In 1966, the states, cities, and counties of the Northeast acquired nearly 350,000 acres of public recreation land. The Pacific southwest acquired another 140,000 acres. Those two areas - our most densely populated sectors - acquired over half the 925,000 acres in local and state public recreation areas set aside last year.

The federal government acquired some 785,000 acres of public land and water areas last year - more than half east of the Mississippi River. Again, the bulk of the new public recreation areas are where most of our people live. Local and state governments acquired more recreation land than the federal government. This was as it should be.

We are a people in need of relief from the day-to-day tensions compounded of the varied stresses which derive from metropolitan congestion. We are demanding and getting some relief. Concurrent with the big move to America's cities has been the big surge to the outdoors. Our latest figures show a continued rise in the number of visitors to national recreation areas in our forests, parks, wildlife refuges, seashores, and reservoirs areas.

We cannot rest, however, until our national heritage is secure.

In the words of President Johnson, "Clearly, the time for action is at hand. The problems are made by man and can be solved by enlightened man. We will not yield to carelessness or greed in our determination to preserve, unspoiled and un sullied for future generations of Americans, this natural inheritance which we received as our national birthright."

DAD'S KING when cooking goes outdoors, witness him at work with a dual burner gas grill while a guest beats the late afternoon chill with help from an infra-red patio heater.

WOMEN'S SWIMSUITS are more exciting than ever this year - a good reason for girl-watching being a most popular outdoor sport. This suit, a hip-hugger by Jantzen.

How, when, where -- 3 most important fishing guideposts

How, when and where are the three most important guideposts for a fisherman and the guideposts vary from species to species, from place to place and season to season, but there are some generally accepted probabilities:

Best fishing is early and late - early and late in the day as well as early and late in the season. Warmer, shallow waters yield best results early in the season and early in the day. Deep, cold waters produce best results around midday and midseason. Later in the season, it is well to fish in the deepening waters off points.

Some tips on catching your favorite fish: Northern pike strike on spoons, minnow and exciter plugs, frogs and live minnows. Cast in shallows around weed beds, near stream mouths and up to weedy shore lines. Troll underwater along edges of weeds. Muskellunge like big sucker minnows or frogs and often bite on large plugs and other artificial lures. Grassy bays, lily pads and the edges of weed beds are most apt to hide the Muskies.

Brook Trout live in spring fed streams and in northern lakes. Flies and small spinners are the favored lures for these delicious fish, but they will bite, also, on worms, insects and small minnows. It is best to cast into deep pools and into the tail of fast stream currents for Brook Trout.

Walleyed pike like to travel in schools and are most often found in lakes with sandy or rocky bottoms. Minnow-action plugs used for casting or trolling will attract walleyes best. Minnows work well when bottom fishing for walleye. Reefs, sand bars and the edges of weed patches are good places to find walleyes, and at night they can often be found in shallower waters.

Crapple - small spinners, wet flies, small minnows and insects are the best bait for this popular fish. Another school fish, Crapples like quiet waters-around the outer edges of weed beds, at drop-offs, over sand bars and around docks and pilings.

The sunfish family, which includes the largemouth and smallmouth bass, offers a variety of challenges to the fisherman. Largemouth bass bite on frogs, night crawler worms and minnows, as well as popping lurge and hair-bodied lures.

Federally-owned lands offer outdoor recreation activities

Fishing, riding, hunting, walking, boating, driving, skiing, anyone? Opportunities for these and many other outdoor recreation activities are available throughout the nation.

The National Park Service administers more than 230 areas of outstanding natural, historical and recreation significance on more than 26-million acres. These include 33 National Parks, Seashores and Lakeshores, 143 historical parks and 12 designated Federal Recreation Areas.

Camping, boating, nature study and other facilities are available in many of these areas. The National Forest Service maintains 154 forests covering 181-million acres that include walking trails, overlooks, camping and picnicking areas, and Visitor Information Centers. There are 312 National Wildlife Refuges in the country, covering some 28-1/2 million acres. About 170 of these are open to the public for fishing, hunting and other outdoor recreation.

Fishing and other water recreation are available on 235 of the 350 U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Federal Reservoirs, and some 25 major TVA lakes in seven Southern states. In the West, millions each year enjoy sight-seeing, swimming, boating, fishing, water-skiing, hunting and camping at more than 211 Bureau of Reclamation project areas which cover some 3.5 million acres of land and some 1.7 million acres of water surface in 17 Western states, Alaska, and Hawaii.

Some 4,450 sites on the Bureau of Land Management's 457-million acres, mostly in 11 Western states and Alaska, also are open to the public for outdoor recreation.

Many of these outdoor recreation opportunities are available to the public free of charge. In some instances Federal Recreation Area Entrance and/or user fees are charged.

For further information, write to the Washington office of the agency which manages the land in areas that interest you.

In addition to federal public recreation lands, many outstanding outdoor recreation opportunities are available through state visitor and tourist bureaus. Write them c/o the state capitol.

Studios emphasize exercise for women of all age groups

Pre-teenagers and grandmothers, and women of all ages in between, have been getting together on a figure-improvement program that emphasizes exercise instead of diet.

Mrs. Rosalie Sorge, manager of the Hillside Spa, and Miss Gloria Graman, West Orange manager, reported that girls and women ranging in age from 11 to 87 have taken part in the program, which includes work-outs on such machines as a gyro-tex and an electric cycle as well as other exercises.

Dr. Robert H. Sorge, an osteopath who is president and general manager of the Figure Tone Studios, noted that 58 percent of the population of the United States is overweight. "There's just not enough proper exercise, proper eating habits or proper mental attitude today," he said.

He said his studios "work with President's Council on Physical Fitness" in developing exercises for the women enrolled. These start with light exercises and work up to use of "beauty bars" and "beauty bells" ranging in weight from one to 15 pounds.

Pleasure boating sales close to $3 billion mark

Maybe it was a cave man climbing upon a log in a stream to search for a new dwelling; maybe an Indian beckoning his son to join him in his canoe to cross the lake and hunt; maybe a Portuguese explorer calling his crew together for a "round-the-world jaunt...but somewhere, sometime, someone had to be the first to say those words: "Let's go boating."

The age of boating is as old as mankind, but the pendulum of time has changed basic boating from a means of transportation to an instrument of recreation. Today, "Let's go boating" means let's get the family or the friends together on the water for fun, for exercise, for relaxation.

Pleasure boating, 1967, is big recreation and big business. Pleasure boating comes in many forms: canoes, sailboats, fishing skiffs, houseboats and yachts, but the design which can be credited with producing the post-war boating boom, with making outdoor conscious Americans boat oriented is the outboard runabout. Specifically, Mr. Average American Boat Owner has an outboard boat 15.4 feet long powered by a 29.9 horsepower outboard... and chances are it's perched on an easy-to-tow trailer when it's not in use.

Length and outboard power are the averages compiled by the Outboard Boating Club of America. The OBC also reports that more than 40 million Americans participated in recreational boating during the past year. This army (or navy?) of "water rats" spent almost $3 billion at the retail level for major equipment, accessories and other items necessary to enjoy boating in a single year.

More than 8 million recreational boats now dot America's waterways, almost 7 million of which are propelled by outboard motors. Three and one-half million trailers are in use, and there are 5,500 marinas and yacht clubs offering facilities for this legion of boating fans.

A BOAT RIDE takes a family to an isolated island for camping; a father and son to the "hot spot" for an afternoon of angling; a group of teen-agers to the reef for (unless you want a ship-to-shore unit) and lots of clean air, crisp breezes and cool water.

It's quite true that pleasure boating, in its infancy, was a rich man's sport. "Yachting" was the name of the game before mass production coupled with engineering breakthrough brought boating within reach of just about anyone who is employed! Along with more boat and motor for less cost came knowledgeable marine dealers offering top-notch service and convenient financing.

Modern boats are practically maintenance-free. They are safe, roomy and rugged.

Diner to celebrate 5th anniversary

The fifth anniversary celebration of the Satellite Diner on Rt. 22, Mountainside, will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. Harry Lagos and John Taskonas, owners, have invited all customers and friends to attend the event.

To celebrate the occasion, a free color television set and three AM-FM radios will be given away. There will be balloons for all the children and free gifts for all.

A special menu is prepared for the evening.

Fish are biting

Despite the ancient fisherman's alibi that "you should have been here yesterday" or "the fish are biting on the other side of the lake," it is possible to catch fish on almost every excursion. Of course, if fishermen caught fish with every cast, the great sport would lose much of its intrigue and challenge.

Boat buying tips issued

Skipper, mate and crew -- dad, mom and the kids -- should do more than simply attach motor to boat to make certain their time spent afloat this summer will be enjoyable and without serious mishap.

The New Jersey State Safety Council makes the following suggestions:

When buying a boat, consider how you will use it-- for water-skiing, fishing, and so on. Select a craft and motor that is appropriate for your purpose and for the waters in which you will be boating.

Buy a hull and a motor that are properly matched, so that the boat is neither overpowered nor underpowered. Equip your craft following U.S. Coast Guard regulations and New Jersey boating laws. Treat these requirements as minimal, rather than trying to just squeak by.

Ask the Coast Guard Auxiliary for a courtesy motor-boat examination. This inspection is advisory only and the only report made is to you. They will advise you on equipment.

Learn to handle your craft by practicing near the shore in quiet shallow water.

Know the rules on right of way, channel markings, anchorages and use of lights.

Gaslight returns

More than 1.6 million gaslights are now in use as patio and walkway lights throughout the country, reports the American Gas Association, in what has been called "a return to elegance."

Today's gaslights come in a variety of shapes and sizes to complement architecture and decor.

Heart unit issues cigarette warning

While the influence of cigarette smoking on lung cancer has made a tremendous impact on the public, it should not be forgotten that there is an even more extensive connection between smoking and heart disease.

One dramatic statistic underscores this point, the Union County Heart Association noted this week. It is estimated that each year at least 60,000 American men die prematurely of coronary heart disease that has been accelerated by cigarette smoking. That is about equal to the number of deaths from a combination of lung cancer plus all other diseases which are statistically blamed on cigarettes.

The obvious point is that the middle-aged male -- and to a lesser extent, everyone else -- who smokes cigarettes ought to be worrying more about his heart and his lungs.

Equally pointed are the latest statistics derived from a four-year study of over one million subjects conducted by the American Cancer Society:

*For the first time, suggestive evidence linking cigarette smoking and strokes was shown. The stroke death rate was 40 percent higher in men aged 55-64 who smoked cigarettes, as compared with nonsmokers. In this same disease category, the risk proved unexpectedly greatest for women. Female smokers in all age groups had up to twice the stroke death rate of nonsmoking women.

*The same study also showed that women are not protected against the effects of tobacco. The overall death rate for women smokers aged 45-64 was considerably higher than for nonsmoking women.

*Men smoking as few as 1-9 cigarettes a day had death rates substantially higher than those for men who had never smoked regularly.

*Death rates were higher among those who started smoking young, highest among those who started before age 15.

*The death rate of men who smoked cigarettes was more than twice that of men who had never smoked regularly. But -- and from this statistic every cigarette smoker can take heart -- men who had stopped smoking ten years before enrollment in the study had the same average death rate as men who had never smoked.

The new office -- which is located at 9 Caldwell pl., Elizabeth -- will cover Union and Bergen Counties.

Jacob W. Bernstein of Irvington, will be the officer-in-charge of the new office. Bernstein has been with USDA for 26 years. Many of those years have been with the Consumer Food Programs Northeast District Office in New York City.

Agency will greet 7 new directors

Seven new members of the board of directors of the Jewish Family Service Agency of Eastern Union County will be welcomed at the board's meeting on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in the Diamond Room of the YMHA, Union.

The seven directors, elected at the agency's 62nd annual meeting on May 7, will be greeted by the presiding officer, Sidney Neidich. The directors are Dr. Harold Wasserman of Westfield, Robert Berenson of Westfield, Rabbi Elvin E. Kose of Union, Benjamin Gerson of Elizabeth, Theodore Kucker of Roselle Park, George Rosenberg of Union and Walter Averick of Mountainside.

The agency provides individual and family consultation by professional staff trained in the psychological understanding of the individual, the family and the total community in which they live and work. Since the agency has enlarged its scope of service with a trained professional staff, the demand for service has increased to a point where the agency now has a waiting list for individuals desiring counseling. Because of this increased demand for professional help, the executive board is planning to increase its trained staff.

Schools counting on the numbers

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) -- Four schools are testing a permanent student identification plan they feel will work in spite of soaring enrollment, frequent transfers and similar names.

They use the federal social security number.

"Many students have the same name, but this gives us a specific identification that will never change," said Mrs. Nella Mai Smith, registrar at Pan American College.

Other schools testing the system are Baylor, Indiana and Syracuse universities.

Nachum Blass and Miss Abbie Raicer have been appointed director and assistant director respectively of the Summer Tween Experimental Program of the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA.

STEP is a four day a week program for boys and girls entering grades seven and eight. STEP will take place from July 3 to Aug. 17, Mondays through Thursday.

The highlight of the camp will be a four day trip to Montreal, Canada, and to EXPO 67. Other events will include an overnight trip to a Hechalutz Farm in Hightstown, a visit to a summer stock production of the off-Broadway show "The Fantasticks," a baseball game between the N.Y. Blass, director of STEP, is from Tel Aviv, Israel, and is the group work supervisor in charge of the Junior III division in the "Y." He is a veteran of the Israeli army and received his AB degree from Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He came here for two years on an exchange program sponsored by the National Jewish Welfare Board and the Jewish Agency.

Miss Raicer, assistant director of STEP, is a graduate of Newark State College and will be an elementary school teacher in the Elizabeth public school system in September. She has worked for the "Y" for over eight years.

Further information is available from Blass in the YMHA, 289-8112.

Trailside to show travelogue Sunday

"Turn the Wheel West," a color, sound film will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation on Sunday at 3 p.m.

The film, a travelogue, takes the viewer on a motor trip through the West. The trip includes a visit to the Rocky Mountain, Grand Teton, Yellowstone, Glacier, Olympic and Crater National Parks.

Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 8, at 4 p.m. each day. The topic to be discussed during the four days is "Birds of the Forest." The lectures will be illustrated with color slides.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, tour the live-animal area, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.

Republican senate hopefuls call for public tax convention

Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott of Westfield, Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union and Nicholas S. LaCorte of Elizabeth this week called for a "tax convention of the people -- not the politicians." The three, who are Republican candidates for State Senate, said they regarded a tax convention as "the only realistic way" for New Jersey to climb out of the fiscal quicksand that irresponsible Democratic planning has pushed us into.

McDermott noted that he has favored a tax

Take-home pay up 40 cents -- Wirtz

The take-home pay of more than 44 million production and nonsupervisory workers on private payrolls averaged 40 cents more in April than in March, the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported this week.

Net spendable weekly earnings -- gross earnings minus Federal income and social security taxes -- rose about 40 cents for the second consecutive month to $81.75 for single workers and $89.15 for workers with three dependents.

Workers with three dependents had an average of $1.62 more to spend in April 1967 than a year before and single workers had $1.55 more to spend.

The April earnings increase was due to a rise in average hourly earnings, which rose two cents per hour to $2.63, offsetting an 0.1-hour decline in average weekly hours. Real net spendable earnings -- those adjusted for price change -- increased about 15 cents for both single workers and those with three dependents.

However, both groups had slightly less purchasing power than in April 1966 because of a greater increase in prices than in take-home pay.

convention since becoming a member of the legislature. "However, my recommendations have been ignored by the majority party, which seems to be more interested in piling more taxes onto the hodge-podge of state tax programs already in effect," McDermott declared.

Rinaldo, a former freeholder, said the tax convention delegates should be "non-partisan citizens, economists and specialists in the field of governmental budgeting who have no connection with politics. The best way of assuring New Jersey citizens of a fair deal on taxes would be to eliminate the political element from any deliberations at a tax convention."

Former Elizabeth Mayor LaCorte called a tax convention "the best hope for municipalities in this day of the revenue squeeze. Home-owners in this state have already been the victims of a cruel hoax -- a sales tax that was advertised as a panacea for their mounting tax bills. Now is the time for a realistic reappraisal of the state's entire fiscal structure. If New Jersey is going to be restored to its rightful economic place beside its sister states, a tax convention -- run by people who really know the answers -- is the only way."

WHITE HEAT

Gas heat is remarkably clean. So clean, we call it White Heat. Gas lets whites in your home stay white... colors stay bright. Keeps the very air you breathe purer. And gas heating equipment is so simple, so quiet, you need no service contract (gas burners have no moving parts).

Dependable, too, because it's piped underground to your home. Call us or your plumbing/heating contractor today for a Free Home Heat Survey.
