Full-sized gunboat on Bellevue screen

Wide, wide screens and sophisticated audiences have forced Hollywood produced away from using miniatures. That is the reason producer-director Robert Wise ordered a full-sized, steel-hulled gunboat built for "The Sand Pebbles" at a cost of more than a quarter-of-a-million dollars.

The vessel for the picture which starts its seventh week at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, was constructed in Hong Kong and fashioned after Yangtze River gunboats of the 1920's. It was functional in all aspects and self-propelled, it maneuvered at 10 knots. Called the "USS San Pablo," 150 feet in length and 30 feet wide, the ship served wise for a period of six and one half months in Taiwan and Hong Kong waters.

Miss Staub visits Israel with group

Marjorie Staub of Mountainside arrived in Israel last week for a seven-week visit in that country. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Staub of 353 Short dr. Miss Staub, a student at Governor Livingston Regional High School, is participating in the program which was offered through Temple Emanu-El in Westfield.

She is among a group of 34 young people from across the U. S. who are participating in the program for 15 and 16-year-old students sponsored by the National Bar Mitzvah Club of New York City.

The visit includes a tour of all of Israel on a schedule which will be flexible this summer, because of the Arab-Israeli conflict. The students will study and work at mental tasks in kibbutzim in different parts of the country.

They arrived in Israel by plane last Monday, after making a brief stop in London. They are being accompanied by American and Israeli chaperones.

AMA offers garden hints

BOSTON (UPI)—The American Medical Association, offers some tips to home gardeners who may use insecticides.

Read the directions carefully before using the sprays and powders. If a product requires protective clothing, rubber gloves or goggles, it is advisable not to use it as it was probably designed to be used by a professional.

Stand upwind from the area you are treating to avoid inhaling the insecticide. Stay out of freshly sprayed areas.

Don't smoke while applying the insecticide. Many products contain flammable chemicals.

The container which held the insecticide when you bought it is probably the safest one in which to store it. Store the labeled container in a safe, locked compartment away from children and pets.

Cover bird baths, dog dishes, and fish pools before spraying. Pour leftover spray down a drain or into the soil. Do not leave it around in pans or pails.

In case of an accident, follow the first aid directions on the container and call a physician as soon as possible.

St. Louis streets vary from usual

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—A college geography professor has confirmed what St. Louis motorists have known for a long time—streets in this city aren't straight.

William Baker of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, blames the farming and grazing methods of the French settlers. He said they put roads at the end of their fields and roads stayed in the same places when houses were built on the farmland.

"It is apparent to the casual observer or the lost motorist that St. Louis streets do not conform to the north-south or east-west grid of most mid-west cities," Baker said.

Rinaldo promises battle on both 278 alignments

State Senatorial candidate Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union this week pledged "vigorous opposition to either of the two alignments proposed for Interstate Route 278." Rinaldo called the two proposed paths "another example of the callous indifference and inept planning that have been characteristic of the Hughes Administration and its Department of Transportation."

"Inept planning has already tied Union County traffic into knots," he continued. "Now the State wants to cut a costly swath through one of the most densely populated and most highly industrialized areas of New Jersey, and Union County is again the victim."

Rinaldo said Union County -- particularly Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth and Union -- has the "most to lose and the least to gain" from the construction of Route 278. He also maintained that if history repeats itself, "Union County is in for a long agony of highway birth pains that will produce an unwanted child."

"In the past the Hughes administration and its Department of Transportation have been guilty of gross neglect, poor planning and a callous disregard for Union County residents," Rinaldo declared. "Residents of this county are paying a steep price -- in disrupted traffic, worry and uncertainty -- for the state's inept handling of highway planning."

Rinaldo observed that "an astronaut can circle the earth in less time than it often takes a motorist to drive from Newark to Plainfield on Route 22 during rush hour. The administration's horse-and-buggy answers to jet-age problems have been sadly inadequate. Every driver who must contend with the snail's pace traffic on Route 22 or on Morris Avenue, or St. Georges Avenue, or Route 1 or almost any of the state highways knows all-too-well how the Hughes administration had failed to serve the people of Union County." The Union Township Republican also scored the administration for what he called "turtle-speed progress" on Interstate Route 78. "The plain fact of the matter is that New Jersey's highway development program is lagging far behind those of other states."

Rinaldo said that a recent quarterly report of the U.S. Department of Transportation said New Jersey was nearly 15 percent behind the national percentage of interstate highway construction completed.

The report cited by Rinaldo said 58 percent of the nation's 4,100-mile highway network of interstate and defense highways was opened to traffic by the end of March.

"In sharp contrast to other parts of the nation, New Jersey had only 43.2 percent of its total designated mileage in use," he asserted. "Of the 161.2 miles in use only 65.6 miles were completed to full and acceptable standards."

Rinaldo said the Federal government report classified the remainder as 46.3 miles of toll facilities and 49.3 miles as improved to standards adequate only for present traffic. Of the 212.1 miles not constructed, only 43.4 miles are under construction," Rinaldo continued. "There are 111.4 miles at the engineering or right-of-way acquisition stage and 58.3 miles in preliminary status or not yet in progress."

Since the program calls for completion of construction by 1970, it is "obviously that New Jersey had better get moving," Rinaldo said. "The program has been in effect since 1956, and the Democratic administration has done a patently poor job of implementing its portion of the responsibility. New Jersey residents and motorists are the ones who must pay in time, anguish and anxiety for this mess."

"Residents in Berkeley Heights, Springfield, Union and Hillside have borne the brunt of the bungling and mismanagement on Route 78," he continued. "Although these unfortunate people have been aware since the mid-1950s that the highway was planned, they have yet to see one mile of usable highway to repay them for the monumental inconvenience to which they have been subjected because of the administration's poor planning and even poorer execution."

"On the basis of the most up-to-date information available, it appears that Route 78 won't be ready for use until 1972. That would mean the highway will have taken 15 years to complete. And this is an administration that advertises itself as a progressive one!"

Rinaldo pledged to push vigorously for a "more efficient administration of the Department of Transportation. The people of this state and this county deserve a better fate than the one that has been imposed upon them by an inept administration."

Rinaldo also noted that Gov. Hughes is "working feverishly to impose still another indignity upon the long-suffering Union County motorist. He wants to impose a 25-cent toll on the Garden State Parkway in the interests of safety." The idea, according to the governor, would be to discourage Parkway travel by the short-haul driver. This means drivers would be shunted off to side-streets and roads that are already saturated with cars. In addition to doing next-to-nothing for Union County motorists, Gov. Hughes now wants to charge them 25 cents for riding on a highway that was built under a Republican administration more than 15 years ago with their tax dollars."

She has appeared with the Festival as Phoebe in "As You Like It," Lady Capulet in "Romeo and Juliet" and as the widow in "The Taming of the Shrew." Total of $21,953 is raised in drive for Union County Heart Association

The 1967 Union County Heart Association fund drive in Union, Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield raised a total of $21,953.47, it was announced this week by Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union, chairman of the county drive.

Rinaldo said the seven communities raised an aggregate total of $22,253.90 last year. The final report of the Heart Association showed the total raised in contributions in Union County's 21 municipalities was a record $76,- 921.11. This exceeded the Union County Heart Association's $75,000 goal and surpassed last year's $74,752.77 effort. Requests in 1966 boosted the total to $81,302.05. This year, however, requests totaling $51,002.00, including a $46,000 legacy from a Plainfield woman, raised the overall 1967 amount to $127,923.19.

Amounts raised are as follows: Union, $7,778.39; Linden, $4,813.00; Roselle, $2,477.65; Roselle Park, $1,885.50; Mountainside, $1,820.00; Springfield, $1,621.05 and Kenilworth, $1,557.88.

Rinaldo thanked all volunteers who participated in the drive. "These concerned citizens have been unstinting in giving of their time and effort to help the over-all battle to cut the toll of heart disease," he said.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN RINALDO noted that the record amount raised by the Union County Heart Association would "sustain and spur the Association's program of education, information, and research aimed at eliminating our nation's number one killer."

The chairman reported that 16 of Union County's 21 municipalities exceeded last year's goal. "This improvement reflects a sophisticated awareness by county residents that progress -- substantial progress -- has been made and that the Heart Association deserves generous support during this period of significant medical breakthroughs," Rinaldo declared.

"Last year, for example, the Union County Heart Association announced a grant of $15,000 to Overlook Hospital in Summit for expansion of its stroke rehabilitation project," Rinaldo continued. "The program is intended to rehabilitate stroke victims with new techniques that offer them a greater chance of returning to normal or near-normal function."

"Another instance of Union County Heart Association concern last year was the announcement of plans to grant $5,000 each to seven Union County hospitals. The money is to be used to foster the establishment of coronary intensive care units to remove heart disease from the top of the list of killers," Rinaldo stated.

Nearly-65s get advice: file early for Medicare

"Do not delay filing for Medicare if you are within three months of your 65th birthday," Ralph W. Jones, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth, pointed out this week. "This suggestion applies to all those who are approaching 65 even though they may plan to continue working full time," Jones said.

The enrollment period for applying for the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare is a seven-month period beginning three months before the month you reach 65 and continuing for three months after you are 65. Jones stressed, however, that medical insurance coverage can begin with the month of your 65th birthday only if you file your application in one of the three months before you reach 65.

An important point that Jones emphasized is that you need not retire to enroll for Medicare. In fact, when you do file you may be surprised to learn that, because of new and more liberal provisions that started in 1966, your present earnings may permit you to receive partial Social Security cash benefits.

The concluding advice by Jones is to visit the Elizabeth Social Security district office at 268 North Broad st. three

25 bring charges against Union man

Union police have issued a warrant for the arrest of Chester C. Nation, proprietor of the Hollywood Bronze Co. at 1531 Stuyvesant ave., Union. A total of 25 persons signed complaints against Nation between the period of May 15 to July 5, charging him with obtaining money by false pretense.

The 25 complainants, all widows and widowers, filed separate complaints charging that Nation allegedly received payments for bronze grave markers which they never received. The total amount of money involved in the 25 transactions is $5,783.14, according to court records.

Five complaints are lodged against Nation, 55, by persons from Irvington. Complainants also come from Union, Roselle, Kenilworth, Winfield Park, Clifton, Livingston, Newark, Basking Ridge, Cedar Grove, Bloomfield, Glen Rock, Brielle, Avon, Bergenfield, Lawrence, East Orange, Belmar and Springfield, Mass.

'So, what else is new?'

The recent news that the Radio Corporation of America had applied for permission to test on the air a system that could eventually deliver printed copy through the home television set isn't news to Milt Hammer.

Hammer, who authors the columns "Station Breaks" and "Bible Quiz" for this newspaper, knew all about this system over 27 years ago.

Back in the days just before World War I, Hammer was art director for WOR radio's daily inter-organization news bulletin that transmitted a facsimile printed newspaper through an experimental device to receiving sets in homes of WOR executives.

"For some reason, nothing came of the experiment. It just sort of died—until now," Hammer said.

The RCA system takes printed copy, converts it into a series of electromagnetic signals, and blends these signals with those of TV programs for broadcast antennas.

NOTHING NEW -- In this 1940 photo, Milt Hammer, seated, instructs some WOR radio personnel in the art of cartooning for an experimental facsimile transmitting device. The experiment sort of died until recently when the Radio Corporation of America announced it had developed a method to transmit written matter into homes.

Savings bank tells gain in resources

The United States Savings Bank in its statement of condition on June 30, as reported by William B. Licklider, president, had total resources of $221,991,397 compared to $210,420,557 a year ago, a gain of $11,570,839. Deposits were $204,969,684 compared to $193,816,000 an increase of $11,153,684.

Principal asset items in this year's statement were cash on hand and due from banks

$5,136,921. United States Government securities $20,348,991; other securities $11,330,326, and mortgage loans, $174,327,043.

Licklider pointed out that the mortgage loans amounted to over 79 percent of the United States Savings Bank's total assets and are invested in 14,301 first mortgage loans (conventional, FHA and VA) principally on owner occupied one family dwellings.

Care urged for drivers on vacation

The New Jersey State Safety Council this week reminded motorists planning their summer vacations that a car heavily loaded with vacation gear demands more driving care.

According to George G. Traver, executive vice president of the Council, acceleration is slower, stopping distance longer, sway on curves greater, and the fatigue that may result from the long drives so common at the beginning and end of the vacation makes it easier for an accident to happen.

Traver makes the following recommendations for safe vacation travel:

Before starting the vacation, get the car ready. Check the tires, lights, wipers, steering and brakes. Pack a flashlight, emergency flares and first aid kit where you can get at them. Install seat belts if you don't already have them.

Take only what you need. Load the car so your rear vision isn't blocked. Use a car top carrier if necessary. Study your route in advance and be ready for turn-offs. Indecision, unexpected maneuvers and sudden braking.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

I just finished reading your article concerning young girls in trouble. I hope that it does help keep at least one out of trouble.

My letter concerns the girls who are already pregnant. I am not making excuses—but 11 years ago, I was one of these girls.

Someone should tell these girls that this is not the end of the world. They can still go on to lead a good and very rewarding life. This is not easy -- but it can be done, and much happiness can be found. This is not a horrible, unforgivable shame. ("Those who are without sin should cast the first stone.") There are all kinds of mistakes in a person's lifetime. This is only one of the things that can happen.

I raised my son alone. He was sick and had constant asthma attacks. I was 18 years old when he was born. I loved him and kept him... in spite of other people's protests. I did not graduate from high school, but I got one job after another, each one was better than the last and paid a little more. I made enough money to have an apartment for my son and I, also a car, food, clothing and never received help from my son's father. He was just a no-good and contributed nothing.

My child has been a great blessing to me. He is a fine boy and was worth it all.

I am married now and have a 6 month old daughter, also. I waited a long time to marry--9 years. But I am only 30 years old and my life is far from over. I know I sound old to your teenagers, but I'm really not.

For every unhappy time in this world, there is equally as much happiness. Each will find this in your own way -- no matter if a person has an illegitimate child or not. I fought hard and now I have a home, friends, a husband and two fine children.

It's about time people faced these problems openly. I'm not recommending that girls have children out of wedlock. But if they do, they should know that their lives can be worth just as much through the years as the women who get married and then have a child. It's not all hopeless!

When we talk about research, we're trying to "engineer" more jobs for New Jerseyans

We know that industries locate in areas where they have direct access to research facilities. Public Service has been conducting national advertising campaigns to publicize New Jersey's enviable position as a national leader in research. Why? When a firm moves into New Jersey, new and better job opportunities immediately become available. It's as simple as that.

Promoting the advantages of our state—and helping to bring new industry and new prosperity here—is one more way we contribute to the continuing growth and strength of New Jersey's economy.
