Divers continue winning streak in league series

Mountainside youngsters racked up another victory in the Union County Outdoor Diving League by beating the Beacon Hill Club of Summit 30-16 last week. The triumph left the Mountainside diving teams undefeated as they went into their third meet Tuesday night at the Cranford Swim Club in Cranford. Results of that event were not available at press time. Gary Boyer and Isabelle Krystow took first place in the events for boys and girls aged 13 to 17 with John Flood and Robbi Rubert placing second. Tom Smith of the borough team captured the top spot in the division for boys 11 and 12 while Barbara Ludd came in second for girls in that age bracket. John Hartnett placed first in the division for boys 10 and under and Ann Marie Wheeler took second for the girls.

The diving coach, Terry Gass, pointed out that one Mountainside youngster, Lenny Stejk, who was not officially entered in the meet racked up a total of 44.65 points, slightly more than one point over Tom Smith, first place winner in his division. Stejk was serving as an alternate for Smith so his outstanding performance did not figure in the meet results, Gass said.

The Mountainside teams defeated the Manor Park Swim Club of Westfield 38-16 in their first meet.

They are scheduled to meet the Manor Park team next Tuesday night at Westfield. Other meets on the schedule are: Aug. 8, Cranford at Mountainside; Aug. 15, Mountainside at Beacon Hill. All meets are open to the public.

Summer sessions close tomorrow; open house slated

School will close tomorrow for 360 children who have been attending sessions of Mountainside's Summer School in Beechwood School. Open house programs are scheduled today and tomorrow in certain of the classes for parents and other interested individuals. The principal, William Hummel, announced earlier this week.

The outdoor science class, which is conducted by Ed Sjonell and Stephen Savel, both members of the faculty of Deerfield School, has open house scheduled this morning, from 8:30 to noon. Open house in the art classes runs from 10 to 10:30 a.m. today. George Christy and Mrs. Lois Radding are the instructors.

Mrs. Carolyn Kueter, who gives piano instruction, has set open house in her class from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. tomorrow. The instrumental music classes, conducted by Joseph Petrullo and Mrs. Joan Montgomery, will be open to parents tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Hummel stressed that the open house program does not include all the classes, only those specifically named. Earlier this month, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, School Superintendent, pointed out that, considering the reduced offerings of the summer program, enrollment, reckoned on a per course basis, was higher than last year. In addition, many of the 360 students enrolled were taking two subjects.

The curriculum was curtailed this year because the classes were shifted to Beechwood School from Deerfield School because construction of the new addition was scheduled to begin this month at the latter site.

Facilities for some of the courses, such as industrial arts and home economics, are not available in Beechwood School. Limited space also forced the exclusion of other enrichment courses this year.

Replacement for Irwin

Leaders in the Mountainside Republican party were scheduled to meet Tuesday night in private session to discuss a replacement for Councilman Charles Irwin on the local ticket, according to Mayor Frederick Wilhelms. Irwin, who had previously announced he would seek reelection to the governing body, withdrew last week when he was selected by the screening committee of the Union County Republican Committee as the party-approved candidate for the Union County Assemblyman-at-large seat.

Tie with Cranford puts swim teams back in race

Mountainside tied the Cranford Swim Club last Saturday in a swim team, the third in a series of six meets scheduled for the Mountainside team in the Union County Summer Swim Club League. The tie was a great morale booster for the Mountainside youngsters who lost their first two meets, the first to the Manor Park Swim Club of Westfield, 130-90, and the second to the Beacon Hill Swim Club of Summit, 146-85.

Robert Anderson, manager of Mountainside's community pool, pointed out that the tie could be considered "a near victory" since the local youngsters, are in their first year of competition, and the Cranford Swim Club, a private club, has been sending teams into competition for several years.

The Mountainside entrants took a total of 14 first places, eight seconds and 10 thirds. Since Saturday's swim meet was the first held in the local pool, the records set by all the first place winners in that meet will be set up as the pool's record. Anderson indicated that, judging by the improvement the youngsters have shown, he expects those records to "be shot down quickly."

They will be put to the test this Saturday when the Mountainside teams meet the Manor Park team at home.

CORY LEVITT TOOK first place in last Saturday's meet in the free-style race for boys eight and under while Robert Ventura placed third. Cathy Picot captured first spot in that age division and Sharon Grace was third. The Picot and Grace girls, joined by Kathy Geiger and Sue Hart, placed first in the relay race for girls in their age group.

In the 10 and under freestyle division, Mike Leist placed second and Raymond DeRosa third. Laurie Weeks came in first in the breaststroke race for girls 10 and under and Cathy Picot third.

Borough winners in the nine and 10 age division were: girls' backstroke, Laurie Geiger, second; girls' freestyle relay, Laurie Weeks, Patricia Ludd, Janet Picot and Leslie Keating, first; boys butterfly, Jeff Gaffney, third; boys medley relay, Richard Coe, Jim Gaffney, Steve Heller, Mark Leist, first.

Bus bid rejected by local board

The Mountainside Board of Education has rejected a bus transportation bid of $29,500 submitted by Robert W. Beltn. The bid, the only one submitted on July 11, exceeds the board's bus transportation budget by approximately 35 percent.

The board secretary, John M. McDonough, said earlier this week that "efforts will be made to attempt to provide the necessary transportation within the scope of the board's budget." As of press time, no date had been set for the receiving of new bids.

In the 11-12 division: boys freestyle, Chip Bilder, first; girls breaststroke, Kathy Weeks, first; Kris Weeks, second; boys butterfly, Chip Bilder, first; girls' backstroke, Evelyn Coe, first; Cathy Fisher, second; boys medley relay, Gary Badge, Rob Picot, Bilder and Tom Phillips, first; girls freestyle relay, Janice Sterzinger, Barbara Ludd, Cathy Fisher and Kathie Weeks, first.

IN THE 13-14 division: boys freestyle, Don Wagner, third; girls breaststroke, Sue Schmidt, first; boys butterfly, Wagner, third; girls backstroke, Sue Schmidt, second, and Janice Heinrich, third; girls relay, Kathy Wishbow, Janet Kortina, Janice Heinrich and Sue Schmidt, first.

In the 15-17 division: boys freestyle, Robert Taylor, second, Kevin Leist, third; girls breaststroke, Isabelle Krystow, third; boys butterfly, Kevin Leist, second; girls backstroke, Dale Robertson.

Frank Cigarell served as starter referee at the meet and Tom Phillips as swim meet director and announcer. Betty Irwin and Regina Picot were clerks of the course and Lee Levitt and Sally Bilder, awards clerks. Barbara Geiger was team coordinator for the home team and Rich Brown stroke and turn judge. Ed Gibado, George Coe, Isabell Heller, Harry Irwin and Doty Wishbow served as timers and judges and Dick Joyce and Bob Leist as deck referees.

In the meet against the Beacon Hill Club, held July 18 at Beacon Hill after being rained out on the previous Saturday, the Mountainside relay teams took five firsts. Team members included Cathy Picot, Allison Hart, Cathy Geiger, Sharon Grace; Gary Badge, Chip Bilder, Rick Picot and Tom Phillips; Cathy Fisher, Emily Coe, Barbara Ludd and Kathy Weeks; John Perrin, Don Wagner, Mark Keating and Dave Wagner; Kathy Wishbow, Janet Herrgott, Andrea Dominic and Emily Crom.

Democratic ticket still unannounced

Mountainside Democrats have not yet announced a single nomination for the three seats on the governing body which will be at stake in the November election. With deadline for filing candidates for the September primary election only a week away, the Democrats are reported to be still attempting to set up a ticket.

The local Republicans have not yet named a replacement for Councilman Charles Irwin who withdrew from the borough race to accept his party's nomination for the new Assemblyman-at-large seat on the state legislature.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms and Councilman Donald Robertson are seeking reelection. Wilhelms is to the two-year mayoralty seat and Robertson a three-year seat. Neither had filed at press time.

Regional board faces big jump for bus service

A contract totaling $72,889 for the transportation of approximately 600 Mountainside students to Governor Livingston Regional High School, has been awarded by the Union County Regional School Board to the Lion Bus Co. of 184 Rt. 22, Mountainside. The contract is approximately 30 percent higher than the one the regional board signed with the Lion Bus Co. last year, according to Lewis Frederick, board secretary.

The board had rejected bids submitted in June because of the sharp increase and re-advertised for bids. In the interim they contacted 58 bus companies urging them to submit bids. The Lion bid was the only one submitted. The board will recover 75 percent of the $72,889 from the state under its bus transportation bill for public school children.

BUS TRANSPORTATION is a big item in the regional board's deliberations this month. A newly established state transportation bill requires communities to provide transportation for children attending private and parochial schools within a 20-mile radius. The board must supply such transportation to at least 894 students in the six communities which comprise the regional district in the coming school year. The 895 students already signed up are enrolled in schools as far as Delbarton in Morristown, Newark Academy in Livingston, Pingry School, Hillsdale, and several schools in Plainfield and Elizabethtown.

The great percentage of these 895 students are enrolled in secondary schools, Fredericks said, with comparatively few attending grammar schools outside their home communities. The children attending Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountainside, are not included in the 895 figure since the borough will continue to supply transportation for them under the same policy established for public school children. This transportation has been supplied since the parochial school opened about six years ago.

Fredericks said earlier this week that he estimates the cost of transporting the private and parochial school students will run "close to $100,000." The state will reimburse the board for 75 percent of the final cost. The regional board will bill the sending communities for the balance.

Attempts are now being made to set up coordinating schedules with other communities for cooperative bussing among different districts, Fredericks said. The board also is investigating the possibilities of using bus routes operated in previous years for several of the secondary schools which draw sizeable numbers of students from the six communities in the regional district and other nearby municipalities.

Notification of routes will "probably" be sent to all private and parochial students who qualify for the bus transportation through the regional system by the week of Aug. 21, Fredericks said. While noting that the notice was "close to the opening of the school year, Fredericks cited the difficulties in setting up the program for the first time.

Council will study interim plan for unsnarling traffic

A plan that would widen New Providence rd. one lane for 200 ft. on the southerly side of Rt. 22 will be presented to the Borough Council for discussion at a caucus session next Tuesday night, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. stated earlier this week. The plan, on which he has reached tentative agreement with officials of the State Highway Department, would provide a "temporary solution" to the traffic snarls at the intersection while awaiting "major changes" included in the state department's long range plans, the mayor said.

Those "major changes" are expected to include an overpass or a depressed roadway at the intersection, and a realignment of New Providence rd., particularly on the north side, Wilhelms indicated.

Wilhelms, Borough Engineer Robert Koser and John Dyer, chairman of the borough's Planning Board, met last Friday with top representatives of the State Highway Department to discuss the traffic problems on Rt. 22 and its "feeder" streets within the borough, particularly New Providence rd.

The state department officials, including James Schuyler and David Kessler, informed the borough representatives that Mountainside's problems were included in a study currently being conducted of a 14.6 mile strip of the highway stretching eastward from Greenbrook, Wilhelms said. That study, which is almost ready to move into the engineering phase, indicates that "major changes" must be made in many areas of the highway from Union to Greenbrook, the local officials were informed.

WILHELMS "OBJECTED STRENUOUSLY" to "burying" the problem at the local intersection in the overall study and pushed for some interim action that would alleviate the "horrible" traffic conditions in the near future. The long range project is "too nebulous for us and could be put off for God knows how long," the mayor claimed.

State officials indicated they would not be adverse to undertaking the widening of New Providence rd. for 200 ft. providing the borough assumed the responsibility of acquiring the land necessary for the project.

The land acquisition would involve the Union County Park Commission and the County Highway Department, since the Park Commission owns a 50 foot strip of land next to the roadway and New Providence rd. is a county highway. It would also involve acquiring a portion of a lot owned by Albert Hartung, former mayor and long-time member of the Planning Board of Mountainside.

Before any action is taken, the Council and the Mayor would meet with the local Board of

Officials to discuss need for roadway to regional school

Officials from Mountainside, Berkeley Heights and the Union County Regional High School Board are scheduled to meet next Wednesday with representatives of the State Highway Department to discuss the need for constructing a roadway from county park lands in the reservation in Mountainside to the site of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights.

The proposed roadway, which would be elevated or depressed at the intersection with Rt. 78, now under construction, is needed to provide safe route for school buses and cars carrying Mountainside students to the Berkeley Heights high school, local officials claim. Members of the regional school board have also recommended such construction at public meetings.

According to present plans, Rt. 78 will cross a portion of the parking lot of the regional high school; those plans do not include any access road from Mountainside.

In informal discussions held last Friday in Trenton with state highway officials, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms of Mountainside learned that such a roadway was included in the original plans drawn for Rt. 78. Those plans were discarded when the Nike site, a federal installation, was abandoned, the mayor was told.

Local officials will press for the reinclusion of such a roadway, Wilhelms stated.

Education since the widening of the New Providence rd. might conceivably mean the closing of the private road that leads to Echobrook School. Since this would necessitate the opening of another such road to Rt. 22, from the school site, the school board would be vitally

Library building will be ready for October opening

Mountainside's new library building should be "ready for business" by mid-October, Sidney Mele, president of the library trustees, reported this week. Construction of the one-story building, located between Birch Hill rd., New Providence rd. and the westbound lane of Rt. 22, is now well over 50 percent completed, Mele said.

Construction is proceeding well on schedule. The only possible threat of a slow-up is seen in the strike of the roofers' unions which began in June. The strike has not yet affected the progress on the building but could delay work if it is not settled within the next few weeks, Mele indicated. Because of the type of architecture, which features a mansard roof, the straight roofing work required is limited.

At the July meeting, the trustees approved the color scheme submitted by a committee headed by the vice-president, Harry Devlin, and the library director, Mrs. Emily Hoffarth.

Deadline for the delivery of furniture and other equipment for the building has been set at Oct. 1.

Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, school superintendent, and Mrs. Hoffarth are working together to prepare for adding to the library volumes, now about 16,000, to an eventual strength of 45,000 books after the move to the new building. Phase one of the expansion will be concentrated on strengthening resource material for students on the high school level.

GROUND BREAKING FOR THE new building which was designed by Howard McMurray Associates, was held last December.

The drive for the new building started some years ago. In 1965, Mele appointed Gene Simpson as chairman and Devlin, co-chairman, of the library redevelopment committee.

The Borough Council has appropriated a total of $370,000 for the building and its furnishings. The construction is being financed by bond issues totaling $351,000 and by $18,500 from capital funds. Federal aid in the amount of $57,583 has been approved for the project. That sum, when paid, will be deducted from the bond issues.

Contracts totaling $306,490 were awarded last November for construction. Contracts for the furnishings and equipment, amounting to close to $29,000, were awarded in May.

Senior League All-Stars lose tournament game 4-1

Mountainside's Senior League All-Stars lost to the Kenilworth All-Stars, 4-1, on Sunday, a defeat that dropped the local team from further competition in the annual tournament of Section Three of the Senior Division of N.J. Little League. The winners will go on to play the victors of the North Edison-Sayreville game.

The rains, which drenched the area in the early evening Friday and Saturday, were originally scheduled for Friday, was washed out after one inning and rescheduled for the next day. Saturday's rain cancelled the game again, after one inning of play, it was rescheduled Sunday.

The postgame losers lost the Mountainside team its usual starting pitchers, Mike Wellborn and Brian Savarese. Both boys left town on vacations before Sunday's game.

Pat Ricciardi was the losing pitcher for Mountainside. The catcher, John Flood, got the only two hits in the game for the local team.

KENILWORTH SCORED TWO unearned runs in the second inning, one on an error and the other on a sacrifice fly. The third run came in the third inning on a walk, a steal to second and a one-base hit. Two hits and a walk in the fourth inning gave the Kenilworth team its final score.

Flood's second hit in the sixth inning, assisted by three walks, brought Larry Mohns home for the home team's only score.

The Mountainside team observed a moment of silence preceding the game in honor of the late Ronald Farrell, one of the organizers and long-time member of the borough's Little League.

Other players on the Mountainside team were Ron Steel, John Riley, Jim Harbough, Robert Honecker, William Styler, Jimmy Murphy, Richard Collins, Richard Knopf, and Tommy Zemla.

Dick Knopf was manager of the All-Stars and Ed Steel, coach.

PROFILE---Donald Jeka

Donald Jeka's wife held the Bible when he and Mrs. Gloria Johnson were sworn in recently as members of MountainSide's Board of Education. This sharing of the ceremony is perhaps symbolic of their attitude---that his serving on the board is a family project.

Jeka explains that he accepted the appointment, fully realizing the time it would require, because he and his wife feel they have "a vested interest in the school system."

One-half of that "vested" interest, their older son, Donald Jr., 6, will be in the second grade in the school system in September; the other national and Technical High School, planning at that time to become an aviation mechanic. He soon discovered that was not really what he wanted and switched to Barringer High School and an academic course. He left high school in his senior year and joined the Marine Corps. He did not take that step lightly, it was part of a carefully thought-out plan.

"I WANTED TO GO to college, the GI bill (which offered funds for a college education to all qualified discharged servicemen) was going to run out soon. I knew I would be drafted as soon as I finished high school so I enlisted to make sure I would be eligible for the GI benefits."

He spent most of his two years in service in Tsing Tao, located on the Shantung Peninsula in China where the American Seventh Fleet was based. He was sent home shortly before the Communist take-over in that country. Immediately after his discharge, he enrolled in evening classes in Newark and earned his high school diploma. He entered the University of Miami, Fla., in Florida in January, 1949, majoring in Journalism.

The Korean conflict interrupted his education in 1950 when he was called back to the Marine Corps, assigned as an ordnance instructor in the Quantico Naval Base in Virginia. A smile of quiet determination flitted across Jeka's face as he remembered that he was discharged from the Marine Corps (for the second time) on Sept. 28, 1951, and was back in classes at the University of Miami on Sept. 30, just one week after the semester opened.

There were no more interruptions in his educational career. He received his bachelor's degree in 1954, with a minor in advertising. He went in the sales promotion and advertising department of Union Carbide Corp. in New York City after graduation, staying there until moving three years ago to Burson-Marsteller Associates.

Before the children arrived, Jeka and his wife were sports car buffs and attended many rallies throughout the state. He used to paint a little, mostly watercolors, but confesses that nowadays he has little time for it.

The family shares a passion for sailing. They spend their summer vacations on Long Beach Island, a gathering place in the summer for Mrs. Jeka's family and "hosts of cousins." The children are being introduced to the sport in cautious little stages. Their elders and their numerous relatives spend a good part of the day sailing the blue waters of Barnegat Bay.

The Jekas have purchased a piece of property on the island and plan some day soon to build a second home there.

There MountainSide home at 298 Bridlepath houses a few precious antiques which they have gathered over the years. They have done some of the restoring themselves and Jeka is now in the process of transforming an old steamer truck into a toy chest for the boys. He has already converted a similar trunk, which he bought for one dollar, into a table for the porch, complete with a glass top.

Listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" when he was graduated from college, Jeka still holds membership in his college fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi.

The MountainSide Newcomers Club gave the Jekas a "wonderful introduction" to life in this community and provided them "with a lot of fun and many good friends," Jeka claims.

Now old settlers, Mrs. Jeka is active in the Borough PTA and Jeka himself is a deacon in the Community Presbyterian Church.

G.R. Baber joins engineering firm
Gordon R. Baber of MountainSide has joined Tenney Engineering, Inc., of Union, engineers and manufacturers of environmental test equipment, as a project engineer.

Baber formerly was with the Recreation Motors Division of Thiokol Chemical Corp. and prior to that, with the Aeronautics Division of Curtiss Wright Corp.

Born in Newark, Baber attended Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and received a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1964. He is a member of the MountainSide Volunteer Fire Department, and lives at 1042 Springfield Ave.

half, Paul, 4, will enter the kindergarten. Already committed to running for a full three-year term next February, Jeka said recently that his wife agreed wholeheartedly with him that it was his duty to accept the board's appointment.

A YOUNG MAN who looks even younger than his wife's, Jeka explained that his and his wife's interests are "the same as all parents---to make sure that our kids get the best education they can for the taxpayers' dollars."

"At the same time, the new board member, who is an account supervisor with Burson-Marsteller Associates, a New York City public relations firm, feels that the "educational processes are best left to the professionals (the school administrators)."

Jeka believes that MountainSide has a "very good school system" and wants to help keep it that way. He believes that the importance of excellence in early education cannot be over-emphasized since, in addition to giving the students the firm grounding they need (a grounding which, he believes, will make it easier for them to learn in the higher grades), the student exposed to and saturated in such "excellent-early education" acquires "not only knowledge but attitudes---he learns how to live---how to get the most out of life."

THE JEKAS MOVED to MountainSide four years ago from Clifton. Former apartment dwellers, they "held out for a home in MountainSide," Jeka points out. They visited the borough often as guests of Mrs. Jeka's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Brandstatter.

"We liked the town, we liked the people, we felt the school system was excellent---we wanted to live here, we wouldn't settle for anything less," he recalls.

The Jekas were married in 1958, ten years after he was discharged from the Marine Corps. They had known each other for years---Mrs. Jeka, the former Yvonne Kimbel was a much-younger sister of one of Jeka's friends at Ridge St. school, Newark.

Jeka's own scholastic career had a few detours and interruptions. Like many youngsters in the early 1940's he was a "nut" on airplanes. So after finishing grammar school, he entered the Essex County Vocational Technical High School, planning at that time to become an aviation mechanic. He soon discovered that was not really what he wanted and switched to Barringer High School and an academic course. He left high school in his senior year and joined the Marine Corps. He did not take that step lightly, it was part of a carefully thought-out plan.

Add Arabian pair to Irwins' stable
A perfectly matched pair of Arabian horses, champions for several years in the state of California, are now housed in the stable of Councilman and Mrs. Charles Irwin of 600 Sherwood pkwy., MountainSide.

The mare, Sarabey, and the gelding, Feran, travelled 4,500 miles in a 12-horse van in a zig-zag path across the country from the stables of Mrs. Irwin's mother, Mrs. Mary Wood of Novato, Calif. Mrs. Wood, who won the Tevis Cup competition with the pair for several years, has retired the horses, now 14 years old. She has acquired a new matched pair and offered the older horses to her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. Wood, a MountainSide resident for many years, rides in the annual Tevis Cup competition, a 100-mile run.

The Arabian horses are stabled with the Irwins' other horses, Socrates, a five-gaited American saddle-bred which has won ribbons in several shows. The Irwins plan to enter the matched pair in shows in this state and Pennsylvania.

Prepare petitions to push drive for borough post office

Petitions urging the establishment of an independent post office in MountainSide are now in the process of being prepared by the MountainSide Woman's Club. The club will start circulating the petitions probably in September after the vacation period is over, according to Mrs. Melvin Lemmerhirt, chairman of the club project.

The club instigated the drive for the post office under the community improvement program of the Sears Roebuck Foundation and the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The Sears Foundation allots $80,000 every two years to women's clubs throughout the country for community improvement and other projects.

The petitions will urge establishment of a post office which would be independent of Westfield. This independence, the club spokesmen claim, would afford faster service because it would eliminate the need for local mail to clear the Westfield Post Office before delivery in MountainSide. It would also give as much as one day faster service for outgoing mail from the borough, they claim.

The MountainSide Branch of the Westfield Post Office located at Sherwood pkwy., was established about 10 years ago. The branch office did about $58,000 of business in 1958; last year's business was approximately $300,000.

ENROLLS AT AMERICAN UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, D.C.--Leonice M. Costello of 1000 Mary Allen lane, MountainSide, N.J., will enter American University this fall. An orientation period for the freshmen and registration for classes will start Sept. 18.

A tentative fall target date for the public presentation of long-range construction plans for regional high school system has been set by the Union County Regional High School Board. Board members indicated at the July board meeting that more time was needed to study its plans for the system, particularly those aimed at relieving the overcrowding in Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights.

Advance notice of any decisions on future expansion or long-range planning will be given to voters in the six communities which comprise the regional district, the members stated.

Earlier this year the board dropped plans to switch the incoming freshmen from MountainSide from the Berkeley Heights school to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, after MountainSide parents registered strenuous opposition.

Council to hear appeal on Brazer plans tonight
The Borough Council is scheduled to meet tonight to consider an appeal from Saul Brazer of Samuel Enterprises on ruling of the borough's Planning Board on his plans for the subdivision of the former Finegan property at 1600 Rt. 22. The session will open at 8 o'clock in the Borough Hall.

The Planning Board approved Brazer's plans for the subdivision at the June 26 meeting with the stipulation that he include a continuation of Camelot rd. in his plans. The continuation of the road would prevent him from constructing two lots on the rear portion of the property, Brazer claims. He has offered instead to widen the cul de sac at the end of Camelot rd.

The planners based their decision on the fact that the property's side line abuts the Van Doren property, a large tract of land that may eventually be opened to development. The extension of Camelot rd. would insure an access road to that property should such development occur, a board spokesman said.

Brazer will be represented at tonight's meeting by the law firm of Dughl, Johnstone and O'Dwyer.

concerned and involved in any deliberations. Wilhelms indicated.

THE NEED FOR some action to lessen the tie-ups at the highway intersection is pointed up in the results of a traffic study conducted this month by the Union County Planning Board.

That study showed 11,462 vehicles travelled on New Providence rd. in a 24-hour period with traffic in a peak hour reaching 1,148.

Long range plans and maps of the highway department indicate that any major improvement of the intersection would include realignment of New Providence rd., according to Wilhelms.

At present it looks as though such realignment would be made on the west side of the county road and would not adversely affect the new municipal library, now under construction, or interfere with any of the borough's future plans for building other facilities on the tract of land on the east side of New Providence rd. the mayor stated.

Chip Bilder, Cathy Picot and Cathy Weeks also took firsts in the meet. Second place winners were Cathy Levitt, Mike Leist, Jackie Picot, Robert Picot, Dawn Rapp, Kathy Fisher, Don Wagner and Dale Robertson. Placing third were Ricky Nelson, Jim Gaffney, Laurie Geiger, Mark Keating, Kevin Leist and Robert Sterzinger.

MountainSide adults serving in various capacities at that meet were Rick Brown, George Coe, Tom Phillips and Barbara Geiger. Anderson is swim coach for the teams.

Regional board may reveal construction plans in autumn
At the July meeting board members declined to reveal "at this time" any of the statistics on projected class size and school population.

THE BOARD APPROVED an increase from $25 to $50 per game for physicians who are present at home varsity, junior varsity and freshman football games. Although the doctors already had signed contracts at the lower figure, the increase was voted on their plea that the lower figure was inadequate. Payment also was authorized for their attendance at practice scrimmages with other schools.

After brief discussion, the board tabled for further study a proposal recommending the creation of an accredited evening high school as a separate school program. It was noted that there are presently four such schools in the state, the closest in Newark.

200 balloons launched today; 3 prizes offered

Two hundred helium-filled balloons will take to the air this afternoon in the second annual balloon launch conducted as part of the playground program in MountainSide. The launching will take place at 2 o'clock on the playground of Echobrook School, site this year for the summer program.

All children in the community, whether or not they are registered on the playground rolls, are eligible to enter the project. Each participant pays ten cents, which will cover the cost of the balloon and a post card which will be attached to it. The stamped card will be addressed to the launcher and will ask whoever recovers the balloon to mail the postcard back---stating the place of recovery. Helium for filling the balloons will be supplied by the Recreation Commission, which sponsors the playground program.

Three prizes are offered to those taking part in the launch. The first prize, a $10 gift certificate, will go to the participant whose entry travels the farthest, as testified by return cards. Second prize, a $5 gift certificate, will go to the child whose balloon has the second most distant recovery point. The owner of the balloon recovered from the nearest point, again as testified by a return card, will receive a $2 certificate.

The launch will be supervised by Paul C. Ney and Miss Kathy Barry, directors of the playground.

Ninety-five children visited the Turtleback Zoo in West Orange last Thursday; the bus trip was sponsored by the playground program. Ney and Miss Barry were assisted by several mothers who went along to help supervise the youngsters.

The Riffel brothers, nine-year old Jimmy and 10-year-old Billy, won last week's hockey tournaments in their age divisions. Elisabeth Bunin took first place and Candy Alhquist second place in the ping-pong tournament for children aged five to seven. Ron Johnson and Ellen Averick placed first in the table tennis competition for children eight and over.

Before talking about the Great Indianapolis 500 Race, as we said we would last week, (and we will next week) we'd like to follow up a suggestion from a visitor to our shop who asked "..... when did it all begin? When were the first American auto races held?"

The earliest auto race run in this country on a public road was a 52-mile competition from Chicago-to-Evanston (and return) in 1895. Charles Duryea, averaging 7.5 miles per hour won the race.

A year later, auto racing spread to the East, to Narragansett, Rhode Island where, on a horse track, a five-mile race was run, the winner averaging 26.2 miles an hour.

To encourage the manufacture of cars, William Vanderbilt started the Vanderbilt Cup Races in 1904 with a stipulation that the car, its parts and tires all come from the country it represented. The first winner, driving a 90-horsepower Panhard-Levassor was George Heath. He completed 284.4 miles over Long Island at an average 52.2 mph. The Vanderbilt races lasted until 1916, the start of the war ending them.

A FEMININE LOOK ...AT AFRICA 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRODINA HOWARD

Sixteenth in A Series SOUTH AFRICA THE BRIGHT SIDE Issyphuputeki. That is not a sneeze. In Zulu, the language of the click, (called so because even a click of the tongue has a meaning) "Issyphuputeki" means: "the thing that wanders around every where but gets nowhere."

And in Zulu that is the word for "spasmodic" ship!" It could well refer to the controversy on the South African policy of Apartheid, however, or even the controversy over the territory of South West Africa, as far as the world is concerned.

But before anything is said, it must be noted that things do look better for the Bantu than they did four years ago in South Africa, and the white South Africans say they plan to make it even better: In the light of current trends in Africa, however, and in world opinion, it may be too late for the Republic of South Africa no matter how good her intentions might be.

In the matter of South West Africa alone there have been no less than 76 resolutions at the United Nations since 1945. This year in April a special General Assembly was called to settle the matter, and in its decision South Africa is to give up the territory.

A South African spokesman said in one of his speeches to us, "there are two islands in the South Pole which are the only colonies South Africa has, and they are inhabited by penquins and weathermen." Yet there are those who are inclined to believe that South Africa also has its eye on South West Africa, the area to the northwest of the Republic of South Africa itself. This area has been under the mandate of South Africa by order of the League of Nations and with the death of the League, South Africa continued to administer it. The matter has been before the UN almost continually because of the South African policy of Apartheid and her refusal to give administrative reports, but South Africa refused to give up the area, claiming she "inherited" its administration from the League of Nations. In the special session just held in April, the General Assembly ruled that South Africa is no longer to administer South West Africa but that an 11-man council representing 11 nations is to do so, and that the entire area is to become independent no later than 1968. Ready or not, it is to become independent, but from what I can gather, it doesn't seem very ready.

First of all, it is reportedly a bleak area with nothing much in it, not even people. Amusingly enough, the encyclopedia says there are 73,464 whites, 428,575 blacks, 23,963 Coloreds and—careful now, TWO ASIANS. Would you believe three by now?

At any rate, its biggest industry, industry? is karakul pelts. As a matter of fact, it is the largest producer of karakul pelts in the world and isn't that nice. Possibly its best industry is fishing, (lobsters really), and the alluvial diamond workings at the mouth of the Orange River. But the area has a 100-mile wide desert that extends the entire length of the western coast, about one third of the country is a high semi-arid plateau which grows mainly grass, and another desert stretches for about 150 miles on the west side. The best-endowed portion of the territory, inhabited solely by Ovambo tribe herdsmen and farmers, is CLOSED TO WHITE ENTRY and is ruled by tribal laws. How about that.

The territory is larger than Texas but has few modern installations. What transportation and seaport facilities there are, were built and are operated by the government of South Africa. Windhoek is the capital and who ever heard of Windhoek? Most of all, many of the isolated tribes who live there never even heard of it either, let alone of such a place called "South West Africa." They live in remote areas ruled solely by tribal law and that's all they know.

But, South West Africa has got to be an "independent country" by 1968. It was so decided in New York. It is one time, I must admit, when I fail to see the why of it all.

THERE IS MUCH TO BE TOLD about South Africa. I have six and a half pounds of paper (information, actual weights) and I could use it all. But simply, from my notes and from the six pounds of literature, here are a few facts on the pro side.

The Bantu, particularly in the city areas, are more prosperous than almost anywhere else in Africa. Pro rata they own more cars than the people of the USSR and the standard of living and health and education is rated the highest in all of Africa. The per capita annual income is the highest too.

Contrary to many views, the land reserved for the Bantu is not the worst, but contains some of the most fertile land in the country. The Bantu do not own houses however. The houses are furnished by the government and sometimes by industry. A big renewal project has been underway in which the government has replaced old Bantu townships with new ones and currently around Johannesburg, there are many new developments and the slums have come down. We visited one which contained 60,000 new homes. Electricity and plumbing and gardens and vegetable patches were all there, and children. Millions of friendly, playful children. They have the biggest smiles and the best teeth, and they simply will not leave you alone. They aren't a bit bashful and if you happen to have chewing gum, you are queen of the ridge.

WHILE ALL THESE BANTU HOUSES, stores, schools, churches, etc., are on areas restricted to Bantu, there are no fences closing them in and the Bantu can go about freely. Johannesburg was not closed to Bantu after certain evening hours as was the case last time. There was even a multi-racial hotel in the city, we were told, whose only requirements for being a guest were ability to pay and proper behavior.

I can only say from a personal viewpoint, that the lot of the Bantu seemed to have notice-

Filing deadline nears for highway use taxes

Owners of trucks, truck-tractors or buses may be required to file a federal highway use tax return, Form 2290, this month according to Joseph M. Shotz, District Director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey. The highway use tax begins on July 1 and runs through the following June 30, Publication No. 349, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors, and Buses," which furnishes detailed information on this subject, may be obtained without charge from any Internal Revenue Service Office.

ably improved in the few short years since I last was there in 1963.

In the Bantu townships I saw only black policemen and they seemed only to be around the "beer halls" which is the Bantu version of tavern-cocktail lounge-dance hall.

Four years ago these halls served only Bantu beer which is a special brew of beer the likes of which I have never tasted anywhere but in South Africa and Rhodesia. It looks like melted yeast with smog added and it tastes like melted yeast with smog added. But the South Africans, both black and white, seem to have a great fondness for it. It is supposedly full of vitamins and schmitamins and very good for you. Some of the beer halls now serve cocktails as well but that is sort of a reserved area. Where only the beer is sold only men are allowed, but on the cocktail side, women are also permitted. This may not exactly come under the heading of improvements, but it is a difference. There is usually a "diskoteek" band on the plusher, girly side too. On the beer-only side the men can buy huge plastic cups of the brew for five or ten cents, or in this case so and so many Rand. The small, small? size is two-pints and is a yellow plastic cup. The larger size is a quart and that is blue plastic. But blue or yellow, the Bantu drink many cup-fuls and that's a goodly sum of beer.

At which point anyone could be (sevyphuputeki).

Confidential social security records protected under new Information Act

The confidentiality of personal information in social security records will continue to be protected under the Freedom of Information Act which became effective on July 4, a release from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare agency stated this week.

"In providing that materials and records of Government agencies be made available for public inspection," the agency said, the Freedom of Information Act specifically exempts certain records. Social security earnings records, for example, are still considered confidential because they were precluded from public disclosure by previous laws. However, much additional material, such as manuals of policies and procedures, may now be examined and/or copied at local social security district or branch offices. When normal office operations would not be disrupted, photocopying on Government equipment will be permitted at a charge of $.25 per page.

"When the Freedom of Information Act was signed into law on July 4, 1966, President Johnson commented: No one should be able to pull the curtains of secrecy around decisions which can be revealed without injury to the public interest, but at the same time, the welfare of the nation or the rights of individuals may require that some documents not be made available."

Persons wishing further information about social security's regulations or policies may call or visit their local district office.

JEAN KRULISH Borough Clerk The Spectator—July 27, 1967. (Fee: $23.60)

You're laid off. Go live on $50 a week.

Until recently, a man out of work was expected to support his family on $50 a week. The Democratic Legislature raised it to a still-modest $62 a week. This is paid, not by the taxpayer, but by the employers and workers themselves from their own fund. Sure, the bill provides benefits for people out of work because of a labor dispute. But they have to wait 6 weeks and the money comes only from the workers' contributions. So instead of going on welfare at the taxpayers' expense, they will now receive payments from their own money. Of course, this was controversial. But it was right!

The Democratic Legislature.

The courage to do what is right.

Sheep in Texas 'shot' with paint

AMARILLO, TEX. (UPI) — Paint is the ammunition and slingshots and air rifles are the weapons of one of the projects of wildlife management men in the Texas Panhandle.

They rode helicopters into scenic Palo Duro Canyon not far from Amarillo, shooting small "paintball" capsules of marking dye, at Aoudad sheep. They dye marked the sheep for a long-range study of how they survive and how much they move around the canyon in a lifetime.

Locust Lakes: Year Round Vacation Community

Locust Lakes Village, Pocono Lake, Pa., is a fully planned community in the fastest growing region of the Pocono Mountains.

A year round and vacation mountain retreat, it has 1150 lake-dotted acres and Locust Ridge, the third highest peak in the Poconos. More than 50 homes of every description from suburban brick country houses to mountain vacation homes have already been built on these secluded shores and slopes and mountain meadows.

Many year round and summer residents have bought more than one property. Such investment in the future of Locust Lakes Village is allowed by the management, who suggest,

"Buy two lots, keep one, sell one." For some property owners, its investment potential is one of the most attractive features of buying at Locust Lakes.

Roads wind through the tall trees to the Four Lakes at Locust Lakes Village. Every home is within minutes walking distance of one of these four large, springfed lakes. Some homesites are on the lakefronts. Others are next to the vast 21,000 acre state game lands adjacent to the community where the forest trees shelter every kind of game that abounds in these mountains. Many are on meadows with a mountain view, while those on Locust Ridge look down on a lake.

Near it are some of the Poconos' most famous inns, churches, shopping areas, golf courses, transportation, summer theatres and points of interest. The community is midway between Big Boulder and Camelback Ski areas and Locust Lakes Village itself with its own ski slopes and ski lift.

Half and full-acre properties start at $1500. Owners can have their home built by a builder of their own choice or order it from builders who are based on the site.

Shakespeare comedy to be presented

"The Comedy of Errors," one of William Shakespeare's best-known comedies, will be presented in Warinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle, on a lawn area adjacent to the Administration Building of the Union County Park Commission tomorrow and Saturday.

The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. each evening. The play was presented in Cedar Brook Park, Plainfield, on Friday, July 14, and despite threatening weather, played to over 500 people.

Players of the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival of Woodbridge will present the show under the direction of Mrs. Wanda Crawford of Westfield.

The program is sponsored by the City Federal Savings and Loan Association with the cooperation of the Union County Park Commission. Bleachers will be set up for the audience and admission is free.

Jack Petersen, Westfield, plays the lead role of Antipholus of Ephesus. Petersen is making his fifth appearance with the Festival. Judith Allwyn, Maplewood, plays the female lead role of Adriana. William Zullinger, Metuchen, a three-year veteran with the Festival, plays the comic role of Dromio of Ephesus. James Crawford, Westfield, who plays the roles of a merchant and of Antipholus of Syracuse, is making his eighth appearance with the group. Returning for the fifth season is Charles Laughery of Colonia, who will play the role of Egeon, a fourth year veteran of the Festival.

Others returning for the third season are Edgar Cohn, Maplewood, as an officer; George Jacob, Kentworth, as Soltus; Arthur Wastie, Westfield, as Pinch; William Tait, Iselin, as the jailer; Ruth Tait, Iselin, as Luce; Joseph Pagano, East Orange, as Angelo; Paula Pierce, Woodbridge, as the abbess; and Neva Bibby, Cranford, as a courtesan. The only newcomers to the Festival group are Barbara Farrell, Chatham, as Luciana; Eugene Nicholas, Avenel, as Dromio of Syracuse; and Henry Friedrichs, Woodbridge, as Balthazar. The Shakespearean dramas were first presented in the Union County Parks in 1961.

Rinaldo blasts Democratic 'machine' for being large 'employment agency'

Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union, Republican candidate for State Senator, this week accused the Democratic administration of "creating the largest political employment agency in the state's history."

Rinaldo said that since 1962, so many new state jobs have been created that New Jersey's payroll has skyrocketed to a record $181,048,587. "Many of these jobs are unnecessary -- except to the callous political machine that requires them to perpetuate itself in office," Rinaldo asserted.

He also said a large share of the blame rests with a "rubber-stamp legislature that is either unwilling or incapable of exercising a moderating influence on the tax-spend-and-hire policies of the administration."

"During the past six years the state budget has more than doubled, from $467.4 million to $988.6 million," Rinaldo stated. "It is time to declare a moratorium on new jobs. This is a task the Democratic legislature is apparently unable to undertake. The people of New Jersey are weary of reading about the spending spree in Trenton. They are ready and anxious for a Republican majority that will demonstrate the restraint and judgement that has been so sadly lacking during the past two years."

Disney film for Trailside

"Eyes in Outer Space," a color, sound film will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watching Reservation, Sunday at 3 p.m.

The film, a Walt Disney science-factual production, shows the viewer the world of tomorrow and the instruments of science which are shaping it. The viewer will see the work of weather stations today, and the proposed future use of satellites and rockets to control weather and avert destructive storms and hurricanes.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public every day, except Friday, from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, view the thousands of indoor exhibits, tour the live-animal area, and participate in the scheduled programs.

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1,639 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW sedan. The price includes Federal excise tax and import duty. It also includes: built-in heater, defroster, windshield washer, 2-speed windshield wipers, front seat belts, adjustable bucket seats, back-up lights, 4-way emergency flasher, and side-view mirror. It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model. What else do you have to pay? The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax. There is one optional that makes a lot of sense: the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra. (Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers.) And that's it. Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

Daring, bold Swedish movie featured on screen at Ormont

By BEA SMITH Swedish films are becoming more and more daring in their content and story--and "My Sister, My Love," the current attraction at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, is a good example.

"Dear John," add additional spice to "My Sister, My Love," English-dubbed picture set in the 1700s and involving a love affair between a handsome brother and his attractive sister.

The sister is beautiful Bibi Andersson, who is engaged to a wealthy baron but who admits that her brother is the only man who ever made her "feel like a woman."

The entanglements involved sort of leave a viewer with a peculiar sense of fascination and disbelief. Miss Andersson, Oscarsson, Jarl Kulle (who played the title role in "Dear John"), and the rest of the cast give excellent performances.

The direction is superb, but the bold revealing scenes are just a little too much to take with a grain of salt.

Hong Kong river in Bellevue film

One of the toughest motion picture technical assignments ever performed fell to veteran film construction man, Herb Cheek, when 20th Century-Fox decided to make "The Sand Pebbles," currently on the Bellevue screen in Montclair. Cheek was asked to construct a "Chinese river blockade. The 1,000 foot blockade was described in novelist Richard McKenna's book, "The Sand Pebbles," and ordered for the film on location in Hong Kong waters.

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The tax bite on the American motorist gets bigger and bigger, according to Oil Facts, publication of the American Petroleum Institute. Of the 1965 figure, $63 went to the federal government and $92 went to the states. Gasoline taxes accounted for more than half the total.

Yves Montand, one of the stars of "Grand Prix," the Academy Award winning picture now on the Cinerama screen at the Clairidge Theater, Montclair, is considered an actor, film star, singer, opinion maker, outspoken critic of social injustice. The climax of "Grand Prix" was filmed on location near Montand's birthplace, Milan, Italy. Montand is cast as Jean-Pierre Sartre, a Corsican, twice world champion and No. 1 driver for Manetta-Ferrari, in "Grand Prix." On the opening night of the film in Paris, France, 100,000 rain and memory-soaked Parisians turned out to hear him sing songs of the liberation from the Eiffel Tower.

Record high noted for '67 enrollment in summer schools

More students are going to more summer schools in New Jersey than ever before, according to a report issued last week by William Warner, director of secondary education for the State Education Department.

The report showed 81 public summer high schools now operating as compared to 73 last year; and 36 private and parochial summer high schools compared to 28 in 1966.

"There were 43,668 students enrolled last year and even our most conservative estimate puts this year's total over 50,000," Warner said.

He attributed the rise to the fact that students no longer just attend summer school to make up a course they have failed. More and more students, he explained, are attending simply because they want to enrich themselves culturally—especially in courses dealing with the arts.

Figures listed in the report applied only to state-approved summer schools. The standards for approval are that a school must be operated by a state-approved secondary school; be free to all resident students; employ fully-certified teachers; provide 60 hours of instruction for students who have failed a course, and 120 hours for students taking new courses, and receive permission for attendance from a student's regular high school before that student may receive credit for summer work.

Sports carnival held at camp Kids win events at 'Y' Fun Club

A "color war" and a "sports carnival" are among the activities sponsored by the Five Points YMCA Summer Fun Club, Joseph Simmons, camp director, said this week. The camp, now in its second two-week session, is for children in grades one through four.

The "color war" is organized, according to Simmons, to reinforce the skills the children have practiced during their game periods. The campers are divided into three teams and compete against each other in races and games. Each team will also present an original song and skit at a special assembly.

In the "sports carnival" the boys and girls compete among the individual groups. Contests include skills in basketball, baseball, track and field, novelty games and obstacle races.

Winners in the "sports carnival" were Danny Stampone, Matt Kerson, Howard Bloom, Richard Geissler, David Stein of the "Kama-Kazias," Charles Herten, Robbie Agolia, Steven Mass, Frank Cavallino and Mike Just were winners from the "Black Devils," Bobby Belfer, Mark Levine, Lewis Kaufman, Beth Kaminsky, Jill Brown, Peggy Lutz, Drew Bierbaum, Patty Kearny and Rolf Levine were victors in the "Kings and Queens." Billy Mullin, Bruce Lavine and Mark Margolick from the "Giants" were also triumphant. Linda Anderson, Michelle Vieira, Nancy Bender, Maryann Lutz, Beth Sobo and Shirley Stokes were among the winning members of the "Twiggys." Celest O'Brien, Nancy Coleman, Terry Laguna and Pat Turt were victors from the "Monkees."

The arts and crafts program has included wood craft, color tissue paper construction and painting. There were field trips to Beckers Farm and the Staten Island Zoo during the second camp session. Campers are looking forward, Simmons says, to the second overnight camping trip and the next edition of the camp newspaper.

Survey programs to aid rehabilitation

Preliminary findings of seven regional committees studying the state's vocational rehabilitation needs were announced last week by Dr. Henry H. Kessler, chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee studying the problem.

Judge Harold A. Ackerman of Springfield heads the regional committee for Union, Middlesex and Somerset counties. Members include Dr. Donald Merachnik, director of special services for the Union County Regional High School District, and Garvey Presley of Roselle, rehabilitation counselor for the N. J. Rehabilitation Commission.

The report stressed that the following major needs are not being met adequately: diagnostic services, to ascertain the potential of handicapped persons; training and educational programs; halfway houses and similar programs, particularly for the emotionally disturbed; medical and training services for the homebound and social and recreational programs for the handicapped.

Elizabeth 'Y' Junior Hostesses cited by Service Club director

Junior Hostesses from the Elizabeth YWCA who have been attending dances at Fort Monmouth recently received a letter of thanks from the director of the Service Club at the base.

About 2,000 young women have participated in the program in the last few years, according to Miss Linda Karam, adult program director at the "Y."

The letter which she received from Gertrude A. Yeager, director of the Service Club at Fort Monmouth, praised these Junior Hostesses "who have been so very faithful in their attendance at the weekly dances" and noted "the great morale booster your monthly parties... have been to the men."

The letter described the conduct of the young women as "above reproach" and also thanked the Senior Chaperones who accompany them. "Y" officials reported that the following regulations are in effect for the Junior Hostesses:

Application will be accepted from girls between the ages of 17 and 25, who have graduated from high school. Girls who have reached their 17th birthday and are in their senior year in high school may submit applications provided they are members of an organized group coming by military transportation.

A girl may attend only one dance until she has her application on file in the director's office.

Until a girl's application has been approved and a dance pass issued she must sign in the director's office each time she attends a dance.

Each girl must present her own pass at the door.

Once a girl has come into the Club she may not leave until the end of the dance, nor may she go outside the building during the dance. When a dance is held in the outside dance area no girl may leave the back yard.

The TV, music and game rooms are off limits to girls during dances.

Any girl coming to a dance by public transportation or private car must leave the Post immediately after the dance. Only girls living within a radius of 10 miles may come by their own transportation.

Girls who are members of organized groups coming by military transportation may not come by other means. Special permission must be obtained from the group leader and director to attend dances to which her group has not been invited.

Any girl coming by military transportation must return the same way.

Military buses will proceed directly to their destination with no stops en route.

No smoking is allowed on military buses. Each girl is to be seated in a stationary seat and remain seated while the bus is in motion.

Each girl is to get her own coat and purse immediately after the last dance and board the bus without delay.

All girls must leave the club by the rear door. In inclement weather an announcement will be made if the girls are to leave by the front doors.

All girls are to dance at least once a dance with any soldier who asks them.

Any instance of misbehavior on the part of any soldier should be reported to the director immediately.

Undesirable behavior on the part of any girl will be cause for having her dance pass suspended or revoked.

Sweaters, knitted dresses, tight jeans and low cut dresses are prohibited.
