Local Youth Employment Service may close up shop

held on the home field. Pictured, in the usual order, are kneeling, Glenn Savarese and Doug Rau; standing, Joe Mazur, Ken Kasowski, Ward Rau, Mike Hiotis, Dan Doudt and Craig Marks.

YES nears bankruptcy, official says

Inactive executive board shares blame for crisis

The Youth Employment Service, which has been operating in Mountainside since February, 1965, may be out of business within a month, according to Mrs. William Gutman, one of the main organizers of the local YES.

"YES is bankrupt," Mrs. Gutman said this week. That bankruptcy is not only financial, although that area is critical with only about enough to pay this month's telephone bill in the checking account, Mrs. Gutman explained, but extends to a lack of an active executive board and an undermanned volunteer staff for the office.

There has been no lack of young people registering for work and also no lack of jobs for them to fill, according to Mrs. Gutman.

There are currently about 230 boys and girls from 14 up through college age on the YES files; the great majority of them have been placed in jobs. Many of the college students were placed in office and factory jobs during the past summer through the YES office.

"The kids depend on us for jobs, the college boys and girls come in during spring vacation to register," Mrs. Gutman stated. "YES's services are needed in the community but we cannot keep operating in this fashion, with no money for an operating budget, without an administrative board and without sufficient volunteers," she elaborated.

NO CHARGES are made for the employment service either to the applicants or to the firms or individuals hiring them. The local YES, which was organized through the joint efforts of the Westfield Council of Jewish Women and the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside, has a rent-free desk space on the second floor of the borough hall, granted by the Borough Council. Mrs. Gutman, YES vice-president; Mrs. Charles Jerome, director of the volunteers, and the volunteers who staff the office each weekday afternoon receive no pay. The budget is minimal, including only the telephone bill and some printing expenses; some of the printing has been donated.

The service would have had to be cancelled before this but it was kept in operation by a donation of $50 from the Mountainside Rotary Club, according to Mrs. Gutman. Financial support was also given to the venture, when it was launched, by the borough PTA and other groups in the community. The project was financed until recently through careful husbanding of those donations.

Mrs. Gutman also cited the lack of administration by the duly appointed executive board as a big factor in YES's current difficulties.

"We have no direction from the top; I can't remember when an executive session

Highlanders get prophecy off to a winning start

A solid 13-0 defeat of Scotch Plains last Saturday got the football team of Governor Livingston Regional High School off to a good start on the winning season which Coach Jack Bicknell has predicted.

Tom Bubrick, picked by Bicknell as replacement at quarterback for Bruce Corcoran (who was named to the all-county team in his last year of high school play), and Paul Goldstein led the scoring for the Highlanders. Goldstein and Vito DeVito are filling the halfback positions held by last year's seniors, Blake Johnstone and Tom Banach. Bubrick's and Goldstein's touchdowns were made possible by a pass interception by Ken Kosowski and a fumble recovery by Keith Turner.

Governor Livingston is scheduled to meet Hillside High this Saturday at 2 p.m. on the home field in Berkeley Heights.

DESPITE THE LOSS of Corcoran, Johnstone, Banach and most of the other members of last year's powerful squad which racked up a record in its first year of play in the tough Watchung Conference, Bicknell said he is confident the team will have a good year.

Bicknell, now starting his fourth year as coach at the regional school, says the offensive team's passing ability "will be a real threat" and "will make our running game go." The defensive squad doesn't include "any real big kids" so their strategy will be based on speed, Bicknell indicated.

Playing on the offense are: split end, Kevin Cuyler; tackles, Jim Magnatta and Ed Painter; guards, Dan Doudt and Rick Arnold; center, Ward Rau; right end, Mike Rugen; halfbacks, DeVito and Goldstein; fullback, Steve Ferrazzara; quarterback, Bubrick.

The defensive team includes: ends, Glen Kenney and Joe Mazur; tackles, Mike Hiotis and John Adriance; guards, Glen Savarese and Don Carruthers; linebackers, Ken Kosowski and Craig Marks; halfbacks, John McEligun and Doug Rau; safety, Marty Rollison.

Other games on the Highlanders' schedule are: Oct. 7, Westfield, away; Oct. 13, Springfield, home; Oct. 21, Clark, away; Oct. 28, Rahway, away; Nov. 4, Cranford, home; Nov. 11, Kenilworth, away; Nov. 23 (Thanksgiving Day), Watchung Hills, home.

Pote boy continues in poor condition

Jeffrey Pote, who was critically injured in an accident on Sept. 18, was in poor condition in the intensive care unit of Overlook Hospital at press time. The seven-year-old youngster, who lives at 1120 Corrine terrace, Mountainside, suffered several skull and jaw injuries when his bicycle was in a collision with a car driven by Marilyn J. Reinhard of Summit.

Paul Klinefelter, of 1399 Chapel Hill, who was injured in a similar accident on Sept. 17, was discharged from Overlook Hospital last Saturday.

The Klinefelter child was riding his bike on Chapel Hill near Ackerman avenue when he became involved in an accident with a car operated by Soren P. Shou of Newark.

Borough schools change to earlier opening hour

Mountainside schools, which adopted a later opening hour at the beginning of this school year, have now advanced the hours of the school day by 15 minutes beginning this past Monday. The new schedule at Echobrook and Beechwood schools is 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and at Deerfield from 8:55 a.m. to 3:05 p.m.

The time shift was authorized by the Board of Education at a special meeting held last week. The board president, Robert Britton, said the change was made so children will get home earlier in the afternoon.

Because the Mountainside school buses must make double runs on almost all routes, many children were not arriving at their homes until well after 4 o'clock, Britton stated. The board felt that this was "too long a day" for the students and that when standard time goes into effect children riding on the second runs would be going home after sunset.

Our Lady of Lourdes School adjusted its opening hour on Monday to meet the new time schedule of the public schools. The opening time of the parochial school had been changed at the beginning of the school year to conform with that of the other borough schools. Coordinated schedules are necessary because the children in Lourdes School are transported on the same bus runs that serve the public grammar school children.

The later time schedule, 9:15 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., was attempted at the beginning of the fall term in the hope of eliminating some of the traffic problems which were encountered last year during the busy morning commuter rush hours. The board expressed the hope that the new time adjustment will get the children home earlier in the afternoon and still help avoid some of the early morning traffic hazards.

Britton also pointed out that the demands for school bus transportation, already critical, have been increased this year as a result of the new state busing law. The double runs on the borough's school buses are necessary because of this shortage, he indicated.

In the 1966-67 year, the school board adopted an 8:40 a.m. to 2:40 p.m. school day so an effective saving in transportation costs could be made by allowing the contracting bus company to coordinate its local school bus runs with runs to the regional high school in Berkeley Heights.

The board's safety committee this year recommended the 9:15 a.m. opening, hoping to keep the school buses and the walking students off the busy main arteries during the peak rush hour.

Chamber concerts slated this season

"Pathways in Music," a year-old organization dedicated to the performance of chamber music, will present two concerts this season. The first concert will be presented Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. in Community Presbyterian Church, Deer path, Mountainside. The date of the second concert will be announced shortly.

The November concert will present works of Bach, Dvorak, Barber and Legawic. The "Pathways Quartet," a group of professional performers, will be featured.

"Pathways' inaugural concert, held last June, was extremely well received, according to Robert Le Frank of Mountainside, chairman of the group. Le Frank attributed the success to the "keen interest Union County residents have in good music." Paul Kueter of Westfield, one of the founders of the organization, pointed out that "Pathways in Music" offers the only professionally performed chamber music concerts in the area.

Subscriptions for the concert series are now available for a contribution of $4. Single tickets for the November concert may be purchased at the door at $2.50 each. A contribution of $7.50 entitles the donor to become a patron and to attend both concerts.

Anyone interested in becoming a patron or in purchasing concert subscriptions may call 232-9490 or write: Pathways in Music, Deer path and Meetinghouse Lane, Mountainside, 07092.

Bucknell soccer team elects Kurz co-captain

Arthur Kurz of Mountainside and John Willett of Syosset, N.Y., were named varsity soccer co-captains at Bucknell University for the 1967 season. The announcement was made by the first-year coach, Craig Reynolds, after the election by the team members.

Kurz, a junior center forward, was named to the 1966 Middle Atlantic Conference All-Northern Division first team. Willett is a senior halfback.

The Bison's opened their 12-game season last Saturday against Lafayette on Bucknell's home field in Lewisburg, Pa.

Jack-knifing truck scrambles traffic

Traffic on Rt. 22 in Mountainside was tied up for 90 minutes early last Friday morning after a tractor-trailer jack-knifed on the highway near Mountain avenue. The driver, John Zeller of Allentown, Pa., was taken to the Overlook Hospital with head and wrist injuries. He was reported in satisfactory condition at press time.

The police reported that Zeller's truck glanced off a curb and jack-knifed in the middle of the road about 1:30. The traffic tie-up occurred because removal of the truck was delayed when the brakes locked, police said.

WHEELBARROW RACE—group of girls lined up for the start of the wheelbarrow race, one of many games featured at last Saturday's picnic for members and friends of Community Presbyterian Church,

Local candidates to meet at public forum Oct. 26

The five candidates seeking election to Mountainside's governing body will have their only public confrontation at a Candidates' Night to be held Oct. 26 under the sponsorship of the Mountainside Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The three Republican candidates, Mayor Frederick Wilhelm Jr., Councilman Donald Robertson and Louis Parent, and the Democratic Councilman hopefuls, Robert Sacharow and John Medevielle, have all indicated they will attend the program scheduled to open at 8:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room of Beechwood School on Woodacres drive.

The forum is open to the public and all are urged to attend, according to Mrs. Levin B. Hanigan, chairman. In an effort to bring a greater cross-section of the electorate to the meeting, the AAUW will direct special invitations to all civic, fraternal and other clubs in the borough, asking them to send representatives, Mrs. Hanigan said.

The AAUW representative said that this program will be, for many of the voters, their only opportunity to meet the candidates in person.

Each of the five candidates will be asked to describe his qualifications for the post he is seeking and to outline his background. The meeting will then be opened to questions from the audience. A representative of the Westfield League of Women Voters will serve as moderator.

PARENT, SACHAROW and Medevielle are all newcomers to the political arena. Parent, running as a team on the GOP ticket with Wilhelm and Robertson, was picked as a replacement for Councilman Charles Irwin when Irwin withdrew from the local race after he was named by the county screening committee as the party's candidate for the newly created seat of Assemblyman-at-large.

Presently purchasing agent for Johnson and Johnson, New Brunswick, Parent earned a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering at Pennsylvania State University and did graduate work at Newark College of Engineering and Rutgers University. A resident of the borough for the past eight years, he served in the

Ex-mayor dies in vets' hospital

Robert W. Davidson, who served as mayor of Mountainside from 1933 to 1937, died Monday in East Orange Veterans Hospital. Funeral services were held yesterday at Gray's, Westfield.

Mr. Davidson, who lived at 548 Woodland ave., was born 75 years ago in Ansonia, Conn. He lived in Elizabeth before moving to Mountainside in 1933.

During Mr. Davidson's terms as mayor, the borough's police department was changed in 1934 from volunteers appointed on a yearly basis to a permanent paid organization.

Davidson worked for 25 years with the Union County Buick Co., Elizabeth, and retired in 1956 as manager of its Westfield branch office. A World War I veteran, he was a member of the Elizabeth and Mountainside lodges of Elks, the Essex Lodge of Masons of Elizabeth and the American Legion Argonne Post in Elizabeth.

He is survived by a stepdaughter, Mrs. Charles T. Stahl of Kenilworth, and a sister, Mrs. George L. Bitzer of Elizabeth.

Serves in Vietnam with infantry unit

QUI NHON, VIETNAM — Army Specialist Four James S. Hackett, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Hackett, 1430 Fernwood dr., Mountainside, N.J., arrived in Qui Nhon, Vietnam, Aug. 30, with the First Cavalry Regiment's Second Squadron, now assigned to the Fourth Infantry Division.

The squadron, which sailed from Oakland (Calif.) Army Terminal Aug. 12, was previously part of the Second Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

While in Vietnam, the squadron will participate in "Operation Francis Marion," a search and destroy operation in the Viet Cong-infested Central Highlands.

Spec. Hackett is a liaison non-commissioned officer in the squadron's Troop B near Pleiku.

He attended Boston University and Fairleigh Dickinson University, and holds a B.S. degree. His wife, Mrs. James S. Hackett, lives at 1005 Locust, Raton, Fla.

It's been replaced.

For the 19th consecutive year, we've replaced the bug. With another bug. To those of you who expected something fancier, sorry. (The '68 looks just like the '67 crossed out above.) To those of you who now own a VW, congratulations. (Once again your model has not gone out of style.) To those of you who've been thinking about buying a new one, nice thinking. The front seats are more comfortable.

(They have built-in headrests.) The windshield wipers are much more efficient. (They're larger.) Even the shifting is easier. (We put a decal on the window to show you how.) All in all, we feel that the 36 nice little changes on this year's Volkswagen make it the best ever. Of course, every year we build the "perfect" Volkswagen. And then we do a masterful job of proving ourselves wrong.

FACE asks peace move

Members of "FACE" (Foreign Affairs Concerns Everyone) were collecting signatures on "Negotiation Now!" petitions along Broad street in Westfield last Saturday. This is part of a national effort to present President Johnson with the names of one million petitioners seeking new initiatives to a political settlement in South Vietnam. The move was prompted by statements made by U Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, in March of this year. Thant stated, "The present impasse can be broken and a halt put to the increasingly horrible slaughter and destruction of the Vietnam war." FACE is a local group made up of residents of Westfield, Mountainide, Scotch Plains, Garwood, Fanwood and the Plainfields. Any persons not yet contacted who wish to learn more about the petition or the local group may call Jack Rockett, 243 Welch way, Westfield.

DRIVER EDUCATION SAVES YOU MONEY

"If my son and daughter complete a commercial school driver education course this summer, will they receive the same discount our neighbor's son received by successfully completing a course in high school this spring?"

Many parents have been asking this question and, thanks to recent action by leading insurance companies, commercial driver education schools meeting certain qualifications can now bring your family the same savings on automobile insurance as secondary and college courses.

These schools must have the approval and be under the supervision of the State Department of Education or similarly accredited educational agencies, instructors of driver education courses must be certified by the State Department of Education.

This extension of the driver education discount -- to graduates of qualified commercial driver education schools -- is another contribution by the insurance business to the national traffic safety effort. Most authorities point out that trained, responsible drivers are the key to fewer deaths and injuries on our roads and highways.

Driver education discounts on auto insurance premiums are in line with a recommendation of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety: "As far as driver education is concerned, the need is for its extension so that the instruction will be available to all."

Present estimates are that less than two-thirds of all students reaching legal driving age have received proper training. We insurance men hope that the new rule will raise this figure nearer to 100 per cent.

PROFILE---Mrs. Harry D. Irwin

MRS. HARRY D. IRWIN

One of the hazards that the average suburban mother faces with varying degrees of equanimity, stems from the rather loaded odds that when her male offspring decide to join the Cub Scout program she herself will add another role---den mother---to her variety performance as wife, mother, chauffeur, housekeeper, cook and laundress.

To the uninitiated, den mother sounds like a dangerous role---perhaps as keeper to a pack of wolves, (It is a description that some past, battered den mothers think apt.) However Mrs. Harry Irwin of Stony Brook lane feels no trepidation at assuming the title.

"As long as the boys are kept busy there should be no problems," she insists. The Irwins' older son, Harry D. II, became a member of Cub Pack 177, which is sponsored by Community Presbyterian Church, last year. Pack 177 tries to keep its dens down to six members---so mothers of the members know they have one-in-six chance of getting tapped for the den mother chore. In Mrs. Irwin's case those odds were cut to one in three this year when her second son, John, 8, became old enough for pack membership. She volunteered for the chore and is "looking forward to working with the youngsters."

RIGHT NOW, she's busy with orientation meetings designed to acquaint the new den mothers with their duties and to help them plan their programs. A past vice-president of the borough's Mountain Trail Garden Club, she is an expert on drying and antiquing flowers. She has conducted many arts and crafts sessions for the garden club and hopes to use some of those skills at the den meetings in the family basement.

The experience she acquired in handling youngsters en masse this summer, when she worked closely with the swimming and diving coaches of the municipal pool in connection with the swim meets, she also expects will stand her in good stead.

Mrs. Irwin describes her work at the community pool as "sort of a secretary---keeping records and things." Her efforts drew much higher praise from Robert Anderson, pool manager, who has stated repeatedly that the assistance given by Mrs. Irwin and other volunteers was "fantastic---we couldn't have managed without them."

Although she herself enjoys swimming and diving, she claims she's "not very good. But I learned a lot this summer, all the different strokes, the proper breathing---" Even with all that new knowledge, she insists "my kids put me to shame, they're so much better than I am."

She gives full credit for their aquatic ability to the pool coaches.

MRS. IRWIN and her husband, a salesman with Wilson Jones of Elizabeth, encourage their sons, two energetic, athletically-inclined youngsters, to develop skills in sports in which they will be able to participate all their lives.

"We believe that sports are important both for maintaining good physical health and for developing good attitudes," she explains. Both boys became so interested in water sports this past summer that they have signed up for lessons at the Westfield "Y" during the school year. It was a decision reached with a tinge of regret since the new classes will, because of lack of time, cancel out the ice-skating both boys enjoyed so much last year. All the Irwins---parents and boys---are enthusiastic and skilled skaters but when it came to a choice between swimming and skating the boys opted for the former.

"We're essentially summer people, I guess," the lone distaff member stated. The Irwins moved to Mountainside over 11 years ago, directly after their wedding. Mrs. Irwin, a graduate of Mary Washington College (the women's division of the University of Virginia), met her husband, an alumnus of Rutgers University, New Brunswick, when both were employed for a short time in a Newark department store.

A home economics major, Mrs. Irwin displays skill and taste in her home, a white-brick ranch on Stony Brook lane. Her skill in flower arrangements is also reflected in the many arrangements in her home and in outside decorations.

She and her husband take full care of their grounds, which are well stocked with shrubs and flowering plants.

"It's a lot of work, but we both love gardening," she points out. The family belongs to Community Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Irwin is a church trustee. A past member of the Newcomers Club and a "dues-paying" member of the borough's PTA, Mrs. Irwin sometimes regrets that she cannot be active in all the groups which interest her.

"But I find I have to make choices. My home and family come first. I like to be sure I'll be here when the boys get home from school each day---I think that's very important for them. So, within those hours I have free, I try to do the things that interest me most. Maybe some day I'll find time to do all the other things I'd like to do, too."

early 1960s on former Mayor Eugene Rau's advisory board to the Planning Board. Wilhelms, a borough resident for about 17 years, is running unopposed in his third bid for the borough's highest post. He was appointed mayor in the summer of 1964 after former Mayor Orlin Johnson resigned. He was elected to the one-year unexpired term the following November and re-elected to a full two-year term in November, 1965. He was a member of the local Board of Education for six years, five of them as president. A graduate of Lafayette College, he is president of Wilhelms Construction Co. of Elizabeth.

Robertson, now running for a full three-year seat on the Borough Council, was appointed to that body in the summer of 1966 when Councilman William McCurley resigned. He was elected to the one-year unexpired term last November. A graduate of Montclair State College, he did graduate work at Seton Hall University and is now principal of Grove Street School, Irvington. He has lived in Mountainside for about 13 years.

Sacharow and Medevielle accepted the Democratic nominations after their names were written-in in the September primary. The Democrats had filed no candidates for that election.

A borough resident for the past 11 years, Sacharow established his own general insurance agency two years ago. A graduate of Rutgers University, he was previously employed by the Prudential Insurance Co.

Medevielle, an alumnus of Cornell University's School of Hotel Administration, is employed as director of food services for the Elizabeth school system.

GARY'S CORNER

WEEKLY SPORTS FEATURE

It's World Series time and our attention focuses this week on a gentleman associated with one of the pennant winners, a man who in his playing days was great enough to win himself a niche in the sport's Hall of Fame.

He started in high school as an all-around athlete, excelling especially in baseball and basketball. The son of a Polish immigrant, our sports figure in today's quiz signed as a pitcher with a major league club upon high school graduation in 1938.

From his hometown of Donora, Pennsylvania he went to Class-D baseball winning 15 and losing 8 for Williamson, W. Va. his first season, and earning $70 a month in doing it. In 1941, he switched to the outfield because his arm was giving out but it was still strong enough for outfield throwing.

As a batter, he had a strange stance; his legs close together, his body twisted, his head ducked below his shoulder and his eyes peering out from behind this hunched position.

Wack! His batting won him all kinds of fame, including in '63 a job to head up President Johnson's Physical Fitness Program. Now General Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, you all must have already named Stan Musial -- one of baseball's most popular heroes.

Always popular no matter what sport you like, is SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22 at Springfield rd., Union where you get the finest tire--- FIRESTONE --- and additionally this week, a free installation in your car's battery of the famous Delco electric eye... stop in today and one of our staffers will install it for you. # State offers internships for 40 graduate students

Community Affairs Commissioner Paul N. Yivisaker has announced the formation of a statewide Academic Year Intern Program offering part-time government jobs for qualified graduate students.

Yivisaker said the new program, designed to supplement the department's summer intern program, is scheduled to begin Oct. 16 and will run for 26 weeks during the 1967-68 academic year. It will be open to approximately 40 outstanding men and women pursuing graduate degrees in fields related to the work of the Department of Community Affairs. Interns will be hired for jobs in municipal, county and state agencies and local community action (antipoverty) organizations. They will work up to 12 hours a week at the State Civil Service rate of $3, an hour, to be financed by the department.

"In general, the academic year intern program supplements our recently concluded summer intern project," Yivisaker explained. "Based on the best experiences of this program, the new project will again attempt to involve qualified graduate students in practical government experiences in their fields of interest in the hopes of attracting them to careers in state and local government."

THE DEPARTMENT'S DIVISION on training, headed by Thomas B. Hartmann, will administer the program.

Hartmann said the division is now recruiting applicants for the program through college placement offices in colleges and universities throughout New Jersey. He said applications are available from college graduate schools or from the Division of Training, Department of Community Affairs, Box 2768, Trenton, 08625.

The deadline for returning the applications is Oct. 1.

"Priority in the selection of interns will be given to New Jersey residents and to students attending New Jersey colleges," Hartmann explained. "As in the summer program, however, the principal criteria for selection will be academic achievement, interest in community affairs and intent to pursue a public service career."

Hartmann said each applicant also would have to submit a two-to-three-page essay outlining his own solution to "some critical community problem facing our society today." The essays also are due Oct. 1.

Hartmann said most of the jobs will be in municipal and county government, where the interns will receive on-the-job training from qualified professionals.

FAMILY POT LUCK
BY HELEN MALE

THOSE LITTLE TOUCHES
Making a specialty of brunch? Scramble eggs, add crumbled, cooked bacon and ripe olive wedges to the eggs as they cook.

Green beans are ordinary enough, but not in a salad when they're treated in this way: drain and let stand for an hour in French dressing, then toss with crisp onion rings, coarsely chopped celery and a pinch of tarragon.

Snip those dates with kitchen scissors, then fold into whipped cream which has been sweetened with brown sugar and spiced with a bit of ground cinnamon and instant coffee. Serve in tall glasses for dessert.

A bowl of creamy chowder tastes good on those first cool days. Use frozen potato soup and add to it some cooked or canned peas while garnishing the top with a dollop of sour cream and chopped green onion tops.

Create an interesting sandwich: open-faced cheese. Top with shredded lettuce and a dressing made of mayonnaise, a dash of tabasco sauce and crumbled bacon.

Vegetables need variety? Give them a touch of elegance with toasted, slivered almonds tossed into the melted butter. This does something special to sliced carrots, green peas or Brussels sprouts.

Helen's Favorites:
Chicken Salad Plate (Serves 4 - 5)
2 cups moist leftover chicken, diced
1/2 cup French dressing
1/2 cup salad dressing
1 cup celery hearts, sliced thin
Chilled, canned fruits for salad, drained

*Place diced chicken on pie plate and drizzle with French dressing. Cover and chill in refrigerator for several hours. Before serving, drain chicken and mix with salad dressing, celery hearts and some fruits. Serve in lettuce cups, using remaining fruit for garnish.

Stay out of my purse...

why should I pay for your strike?

Repeal the Strikers Benefits Law

Somebody's always trying to get his hand into your purse these days. Another hand is ready to go in January 1. That's when New Jersey's new law (S-400) provides unemployment checks to strikers. The law sneaked through by a one-vote margin last April, and only after a lot of political pressure.

This means the unemployment taxes taken out of your paycheck every week will be used to subsidize strikes. It means more and longer strikes. It means fewer jobs and a weaker economy because companies already here are discouraged from expanding, and those outside the state won't come in. And it means that hand in your purse is going to take 20 per cent more in unemployment taxes.

If you're for repeal, join us. Every seat in Trenton is up for election this year and all the candidates will be waiting to see how strong the resentment is against paying unemployment checks to strikers. We aim to tell them. Fill in the form below, and send it to PUB headquarters. If you like, enclose a dollar or more. Then get your friends, neighbors and relatives to join also. Let's repeal the strikers benefits law.

What can we do about the strikers benefits law? We can demand that it be repealed, just like it was repealed in 14 other states. It's very unpopular in New Jersey; a recent poll showed that only 3.7 out of every ten voters are favorable to paying strikers unemployment benefits.

Sen. Hughes calls on women to lead battle for higher N.Y. drinking age

State Sen. Mildred Barry Hughes (D-Union) this week called upon the women of five states to take leading roles in the fight to force New York State to raise to 21 the minimum age for a person to buy alcoholic beverages.

"Since the New York politicians are not interested in the teenage drinking problem they impose on neighboring states, the people -- especially the concerned women -- will have to put the pressure on them," Senator Hughes told a five-state conference of PTAs at the Neptune Inn here.

Senator Hughes was invited by the New Jersey Congress of PTAs to discuss the teen-age drinking problem before PTA representatives of the states of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. She also represented Governor Richard J. Hughes, who supports the efforts of the New Jersey Legislature in seeking a uniform 21-year minimum.

"It is ironic that I speak here less than a week after New Jersey received the latest in a long string of snubs from the Empire State in our efforts to prevent the tragedies that have struck surrounding states as a result of New York's teen-age drinking laws," Sen. Hughes said.

"I DOUBT IT is necessary to detail these tragedies," Sen. Hughes continued. "I am sure all of you are familiar with many of the incidents in which teen-agers go to New York, where the minimum age is 18, to buy liquor and then, on their way home, become involved in motor vehicle and other calamities.

"New York politicians are familiar with them. Many of them have claimed they are sympathetic to the surrounding states, but a review of their actions raises the question of who is kidding whom."

"After years of rebuffs from the New York Legislature," Sen. Hughes said, "the New Jersey Legislature this year created a Commission for a Uniform Drinking Age to try a new course. The Commission decided to appeal to the New York State Constitutional Convention, which we felt might be less politically involved than the Legislators. As chairman, I wrote to Anthony J. Travia, convention president. He replied and said I would hear from somebody else."

"Eventually we heard from James H. Tully, Jr., chairman of the convention's Subcommittee on Health. We arranged to meet him at his New York City office last Friday. Three members of our commission went there but Mr. Tully never showed up."

SEN. HUGHES WAS accompanied on the trip by John Spinale and Fred Rosenberg, commission members.

"The failure of Mr. Tully to appear is the most telling evidence yet that New York officials are not interested in this problem," Senator Hughes went on. "It typifies the run-around the parents of teen-agers in neighboring states have been getting for many years. It made clear that the people will have to form their own lobby to compete with the liquor lobby which presently seems to wield such influence in New York State."

"The PTAs can provide the springboard for the necessary action by the people. I appeal to all of the delegates here to take the message back to their communities and start the ball rolling in earnest. This isn't a one-woman job or a one-man job or even a one-state job. If enough of us raise our voices, New York will have to listen."

Lattimore to seek funds for ghettos

Plainfield Councilman Everett C. Lattimore, a candidate for assemblyman-at-large from Union County, has requested meetings with representatives of the Prudential and Mutual Benefit insurance companies to discuss Union County participation in the insurance industry's billion dollar ghetto rebuilding program.

Lattimore said, "I have taken steps to initiate a non-profit non-partisan community building and business opportunities corporation for Union County. Such a corporation will be set up to provide for ownership and control by ghetto residents and will have as its purpose assisting such groups in taking proper advantage of the recent offers by the insurance companies as well as by churches, foundations, unions, etc., to provide help in rebuilding slums and providing job and business opportunities."

Lattimore said, "Our approach will be based on one criterion. That is that dispossessed people don't want more handouts. They want assistance and opportunity to take control of their own neighborhoods, to build their own homes, to buy or start businesses, to move into meaningful jobs."

10-week recreation program for retarded offered at 'Y'

Five Points YMCA at 218 Salem rd., Union has started the second season of its special physical and recreational program for retarded children. The first session will run for ten consecutive Tuesday afternoons through November.

Larry Feinsod, a special education major at Newark State College now in his senior year, will again be in charge. He will be assisted by a staff of special education students from the college.

Following a successful pilot season, the "Y" in cooperation with the Union County Unit of the National Association for Retarded Children and the Department of Special Education at Newark State, will continue to offer a program of sports, trampoline, network and physical exercise for boys and girls 7 through 14 attending special education classes in Union and surrounding areas. Enrollment in this year's program will be limited to 15. Car pools to provide transportation for the children will be arranged.

Last year, owing to the support of the Union Rotary Club, only a nominal fee was charged for each of the 12 children from Hillside, Union, Kenilworth, Cranford and Clark who participated in the program. Again this season there will be a slight charge to defray expenses, a spokesman said.

Parents interested in having their children attend the current 10-week session may contact "Y" director Howard B. Merrick at 687-5570, the spokesman added.

Bellevue opens 'The Bible' film

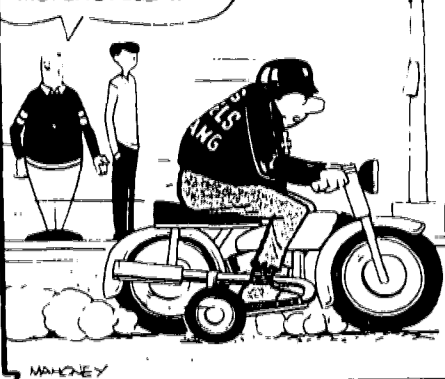

The recreation of Noah's Ark, as depicted in "The Bible," which had its exclusive New Jersey premiere yesterday at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, was a mammoth construction task faced by art director and architect, Marco Chiari.

Five arks were built for the production. Hundreds of animals and a thousand birds were required, and more than 200 species were represented in pairs. John Huston, who directed the film, and played the role of Noah, proved to have a way with animals. They responded to his voice and his complete lack of fear.

'To Sir, With Love' film held over ninth week

"To Sir, With Love," starring Sidney Poitier, began its ninth week at the Ormont Theater, East Orange, and the Plaza theater, Linden, yesterday.

The picture, filmed in color, has Christian Roberts, Judy Geeson, Suzy Kendall, "The Mindbenders" and "Lulu" in its stellar cast. It was written for the screen, produced and directed by James Clavell from the novel by E. R. Braithwaite.

Surfing picture added as associate bill at Art

"The Endless Summer," prize-winning surfing picture, has been added as an associate feature to "I, A Woman," which started its 14th week at the Art Theater, Irvington Center, yesterday.

"The Endless Summer" takes a viewer to many major surfing areas throughout the world.

'Holiday' continues

"Mediterranean Holiday," continues on the Cinerama screen at the Clairidge Theater, Montclair, for a fifth week. The colorful, vacation travelogue, covers holiday areas in many continents.

SOUTH ANNIVERSARY Douglass College, women's unit of Rutgers University, was founded in 1918 as New Jersey College for Women. Its name was changed in 1955 to honor Mabel Smith Douglass, a founder and first dean of the college.

In tune with the labor movement

The musical talents of Herb Richardson, a Perth Amboy teacher, guitarist and singer, have been known and appreciated at the Rutgers Labor Education Center for some time, but nobody, least of all Richardson, ever thought those talents would be put to work interpreting the American labor movement.

ENTER HERB RICHARDSON, guitar in hand, and the art of communication in labor took on an added, and happily informative, dimension. Labor songs of both countries were learned and sung by both groups.

Here to study American trade unions and problems facing labor, such as automation, the group was impressed by a visit to part of the Johnson & Johnson complex. Klaus Goppelt, the group leader, described the plant as "highly automated and more advanced than similar plants in Germany."

The visit to the Job Corps impressed several of the group. They said they realized such a program by itself won't solve the problems of the poor in the United States, but that it shows there are people concerned and making an effort to find solutions.

GOPPELT FAVORED AT least one part of the German labor system over the American. "In Germany," he said, "the workers are guaranteed much more by law. We have labor rights written into our constitution. In the U.S., the workers' benefits and rights differ from state to state and even from union to union. The worker gets more or less pension depending on whether he works in California or New York or depending on which industry or plant employs him."

"The German system is better because it covers everyone equally," Goppelt said. Asked about the youth of the group, Goppelt said that there is a need for young leaders and new ideas in Germany. "The old leaders are becoming too conservative," he said. Whether some of these young ideas will be voted into Bremen's parliament next month will concern many Germans and will certainly be of interest to the staff at the Rutgers Labor Center.

When we talk about research, we're trying to "engineer" more jobs for New Jerseyans We know that industries locate in areas where they have direct access to research facilities. Public Service has been conducting national advertising campaigns to publicize New Jersey's enviable position as a national leader in research. Why? When a firm moves into New Jersey, new and better job opportunities immediately become available. It's as simple as that. Promoting the advantages of our state—and helping to bring new industry and new prosperity here—is one more way we contribute to the continuing growth and strength of New Jersey's economy. # SCHOOL'S IN...KIDS ARE OUT... DRIVE SAFELY!

ALERT motorists everywhere, drive a bit more carefully at all times, watch the roads and curbs a bit more closely, in order to protect the precious lives of children going to and from school!

Here Are Some Other Ways YOU Can Help

- Be sure that your car is mechanically safe. Check brakes, steering, light, wheel balance and alignment, tires at frequent intervals.
- Watch out for School Zone signs and adhere strictly to the speed restrictions in these areas.
- Watch out for and obey school safety patrolmen.
- Never pass a school bus loading or discharging passengers.
- Watch for children darting out into the street. In fact, watch out for children EVERYWHERE and ALL the time!
- Remember: children are unpredictable. Their safety is YOUR responsibility. When in doubt ... STOP!

If the trains stop, so does Chatham. And Summit, And Ridgewood, And Middletown. And all the other communities in New Jersey with large commuter populations. Without commuter railroads, these towns would experience a decline in population, in retailing, in everything that makes a town live. The Democratic Legislature kept these commuter services running with a state subsidy, and with imaginative improvement programs. And it means to keep them running. This is no special-interest giveaway, either. The alternative is a sharp increase in highway congestion, highway costs, air pollution. Democratic action saved the commuter service... and a lot more for the taxpayers of New Jersey.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
When I was 15-1/2, I left home and got married. I am now 19, and about three months ago, my husband left me with 3 small children to support, I am unable to support my children because I lost my arm in a recent accident and am unable to work.
My physician has asked me to marry him and I feel he is the one for me. My husband has called and demanded the children. I love my children and do not want to part with them. I feel that my physician would make an excellent father for my children although he is 39 years older than I. He said he would divorce his wife to marry me.
What am I to do?

Totally Mixed-Up

Dear Mixed-Up:
You have a serious problem, but this does not give you the right to create problems for others. How can you knowingly let a man break up his family and home for you so that you can selfishly live with your children in the lap of luxury when you know you don't love him?

Let your conscience be your guide, my dear. Before you return to your physician's office, visit your clergyman's office.

Dear Amy:

My husband and I have been married almost four months now and everything was going well until about three weeks ago. Up until that time, we had many enlightening conversations at the breakfast table. We are always on the go and the only time we have to ourselves is in the morning before he goes to work. But now we don't even have that. He gets up, gets dressed, eats breakfast and reads the newspaper not saying one word to me until he leaves. Then he says, "Have dinner ready, dear, we have to go someplace tonight."
Amy, if I do say something to him, it just goes in one ear and out the other. I have always hated to see a man sit at the breakfast table and read when someone was there. Please tell me what to do as I . . .
Do Not Know

Dear Do Not Know:
Don't assume the honeymoon is over because hubby reads the paper instead of reading you at the breakfast table. If he's always on the go, the poor guy obviously has no other time to catch up on current events. Nourishing a man's body and soul is fine, but if he desires to nourish his mind, let him!

If the printed word is the only competition you ever have, you've no complaints.

Dear Amy:
My boyfriend Tommy received his school ring this year and I've been after him to let me wear it, his mother says "No" because he didn't pay for it . . . she did. I have given him four reasons why I should have it, and he has given me four why I shouldn't. His reasons are just as good as mine, and vice versa.
He thinks he's found an answer. I have the ring for a week, and he has it the next. I think it's silly but I've gone along with him. Should I get to keep the ring, give it to him to wear all the time, or go along with his plan?
No matter what I do, it won't change the way I feel about him. I'm 16 and I think it's a good argument.

Dear Lynn:

You have a nerve to attempt to force your will upon this boy and his family. Unless this boy wants you to wear his ring of his own free will and with his parents' approval, you have no right to expect to wear it, let alone ask for it.
In my opinion, your demanding and pushy attitude will only serve to lose friends and destroy friendships.

PERSONAL TO Wisly-Washy (Elizabeth, N.J.):
It wouldn't be fair to either one of you "to go steady." If your feelings are mutual, remain close friends through the mails and date when time permits.

Pharmacy Week slated for national observance

Pharmacists will be observing National Pharmacy Week, Oct. 1-7, with activities stressing the pharmaceutical and information services of the profession of pharmacy.
The national theme of this year's observance is "This Week and Every Week . . . Your Pharmacist Works For Better Community Health." The annual observance is sponsored each year by the American Pharmaceutical Association, the national professional society of the pharmacists of the United States.
