Regional schools to announce plans

The Regional High School District Board of Education will announce its plans for long-range expansion and future distribution of students at a public meeting to be held on Thursday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. The board operates four high schools to serve Mountainside, Springfield, Berkeley Heights, Kenilworth, Clark and Garwood.

To meet overcrowding in the immediate future at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, the board this month announced that freshmen from Mountainside will attend Dayton for the next two years, rather than Gov. Livingston. They will transfer to Gov. Livingston for their sophomore, junior and senior years.

Girl Scouts set carols to open holiday season

More than 300 Girl Scouts and leaders are expected to participate when the Christmas season begins this Tuesday evening for all Mountainside Brownies, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts.

Each troop will gather for caroling, after which, a community sing and the decorating of a tree with mittens will take place at the Community Presbyterian Church on Deer Path. After the holidays, the mittens will be sent to needy children in several areas.

Plans for the evening were made by the scout service team, and the program was coordinated by Mrs. H. J. Wiener, 1184 Ridge dr., service projects chairman. Refreshments will be served.

Senior Girl Scout Hilarie Stone of Mountainside Troop 424 is one of 24 Senior and Cadette scouts selected by Washington Rock Girl Scout Council to attend the Hendrick Hudson Roundup next July at Camp Drum, N.Y. Selected as alternates from Troop 424 were Anne Maddox, Betty Presser and Robin Shallockross.

In making the selections, members of an adult panel interviewed the girls individually and observed them at an outdoor skills session. Girls were judged on their initiative, adaptability, dependability, and general leadership.

In January, the girls will meet monthly for training in outdoor living and camp skills. They will prepare demonstrations illustrating their local heritage.

Mrs. Ross Tyree of Berkeley Heights is roundup chairman, assisted by area chairmen Mrs. Eugene Koenig of Cranford, Mrs. William Williams of Linden and Mrs. W. E. Buch of Berkeley Heights.

All girls and their parents will meet with council representatives on Sunday afternoon in the Municipal building, Westfield, to discuss finances, equipment, girl and council responsibilities.

More than 700 Girl Scouts from all over the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands will set up their own tent units at the camp, which is located near the Thousand Islands. For 12 days, girls will live outdoors, preparing all their own meals and exchanging ideas with other groups.

Two are enrolled in astronomy class

Mildred McKellin and Marilyn McKellin, both of Mountainside, are among 322 persons enrolled in a 10-week course, "What's Up There?—An Introduction to Astronomy," at the Sperry Observatory on the Union College campus in Cranford.

The basic astronomy course is being offered as part of "Operational Astronomy: the Earth and Beyond," a project of the Cranford public school system being financed with a federal grant.

Students in the course were registered through nine Union County adult schools: Gov. Livingston Regional Adult School, Berkeley Heights; Arthur L. Johnson Regional Adult School, Clark; Cranford Adult School; Elizabeth Adult Education School; David Brearley Regional Adult School, Kenilworth; Plainfield Adult School; Scotch-Plains-Fanwood Adult School; Jonathan Dayton Regional Adult School, Springfield, and the Westfield Adult School.

PROFILE---Vincent Warkala

Mountainside will be the loser when Vincent Warkala of 1495 Force dr., Mountainside, leaves his position as personnel director of the John E. Runnels Hospital, Berkeley Heights, tomorrow, to accept a "new challenge." Warkala, whose whole life has been an accepted-by-him challenge, will become assistant director of the Lehigh Valley Hospital Planning Council in Bethlehem, Pa.

Born in Franklin, N.J., Warkala moved to Elizabeth where he grew up. Determined to get an education, but realizing he would have to work for it, the young man joined the Elizabeth police department where he worked full-time as a patrolman for six years, at the same time, majoring in personnel management, received a BS in business administration from Rutgers and a master's degree in management from New York University School of Business.

Upon graduation he joined the Singer Co. in Elizabeth as training manager, a position he held for 12 years.

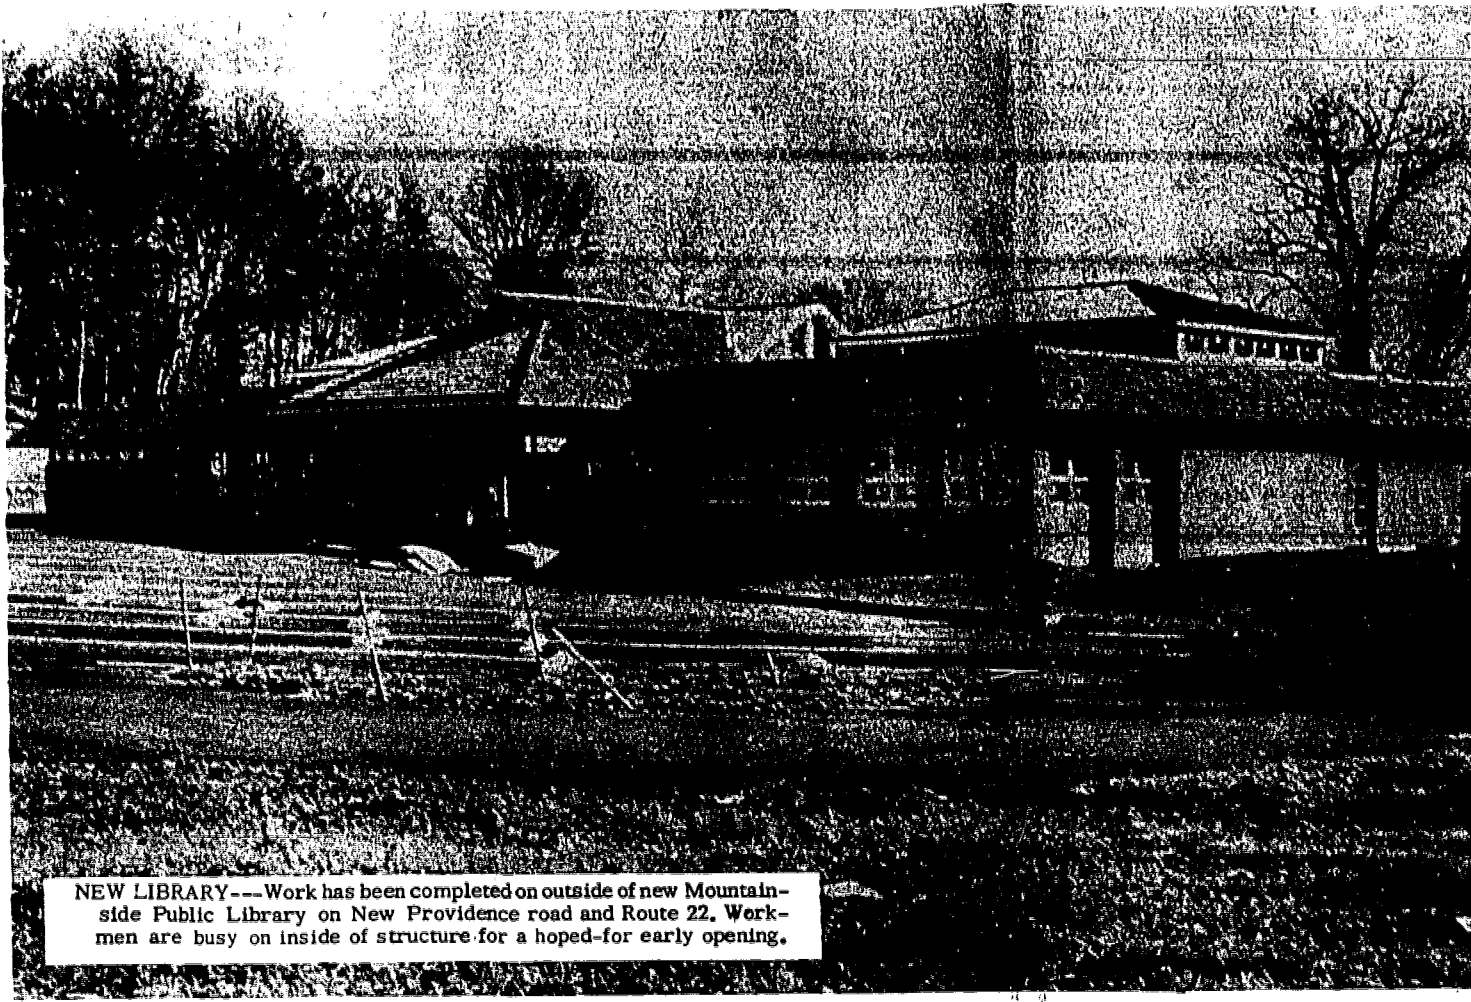

Moving to Mountainside 15 years ago, this tall, personable, out-door type man became interested in Boy Scouts and served as cubmaster of Cub Pack 70 and Scoutmaster of Troop 76 for a total of six years. Since January of this year, he has served on the Neighborhood Commission of Boy Scouts, Colonial District. He was also manager and umpire for Little League baseball from 1958-1964.

In addition to his love for children, Warkala's

High school PTA to discuss system at Dec. 7 session

The PTA of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, will meet Thursday, Dec. 7 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium to discuss "all aspects of a regional high school system." Mrs. Julius Mallor, chairman of education for the state board of the League of Women Voters, will serve as moderator for the three-member panel.

Dr. Edward Kilpatrick, assistant state commissioner of Education, will discuss the role of the state and its relationship to the local board of education. Problems of administration of a regional system, as opposed to a purely local system, will be described by Dr. Warren Davis, regional superintendent of schools. Avery Ward, president of the district's Board of Education, will speak on the background of the district and the responsibilities of the board.

Interested citizens are urged to attend "so they may become informed about the problems involved in planning for the children of the individual towns involved in the regional organization, a spokesman said.

Pupils receiving supplementary and remedial aid

A program of remedial and supplementary instruction for borough children in public schools and Our Lady of Lourdes School was started Monday by the Mountainside Board of Education.

Remedial sessions for eight students from Our Lady of Lourdes will be held from 8 to 8:45 a.m. at Deerfield School under the direction of Mrs. Mary Jasper. The youngsters will be divided into two groups, one meeting on Mondays and Wednesdays and the other on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Board officials said the children chosen for this program were selected on the basis of tests given by a remedial reading teacher. Supplementary instruction will be given to three public school pupils at Beechwood School on an individual basis. Each child will receive four hours of specialized instruction per week.

Funds for the program will come from a surplus account, the board said. The project was authorized in a motion approved at a board meeting on Nov. 14.

Planning body approves subdivision applications

An application for approval of a preliminary plan of a major subdivision at 1006 Sylvan lane was granted to George D. Chaddon, of 1093 Sylvan lane, by the Mountainside Planning Board on Monday night. A variance for two lots was recommended by the Board of Adjustment on Oct. 23.

The measure will now go to the Borough Council for approval at which time a bond will be set for all major improvements in-

Members of CYO schedule ski trips for winter season

Two ski trips are planned for the winter season by the CYO of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside. The first trip is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 26, and will be a one-day excursion to Great Gorge ski area in McAfee, N.J.

Included in the cost will be transportation, ski and boot rentals, a class lesson and use of all lifts. A discount price for students having their own equipment will be made. The bus will leave from in front of the church at 8:30 a.m., and all high school students have been invited.

A weekend trip to Killington, Vt., is planned for Friday, March 8 to Sunday, March 10, and is open to all high school students and young adults of the parish. The price for this trip will include transportation, sleeping accommodations at a lodge the CYO will rent, three meals and complete use of all ski lifts in the area for two days. Early reservations and a deposit are required to insure a place.

Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. William Kaplan at 232-1928.

Chief of police will speak on youth

Police Chief Christian-Fritz of Mountainside will discuss "Youth and the Community" at a meeting of the Men's Fellowship of the Community Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Met Lemmerhirt, president, has extended an invitation to the members of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church of Mountainside and to any other interested male resident of the borough to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Local youth to tour with college musical group

Mark W. Domarek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Domarek of 1482 Fox tr., Mountainside, a member of the Villanova Singers and the Villanova Squires of Villanova University, Villanova Pa., will appear with these groups on a concert tour in the near future. The groups plan to appear in New Jersey, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Washington, D.C., where they will present a program of singing, guitar playing and folk singing.

Mark is a freshman at the university, majoring in business and finance and was recently named to the dean's list. He was graduated last June from Governor Livingston Regional high school, Berkeley Heights.

Student at Denver

One Mountainside resident is among the 397 New Jersey students registered this fall at the University of Denver. He is Donald Poresky of 1585 Coles ave. A total of 8,595 students are enrolled at the 103-year old University of Denver, oldest and largest private institution of higher learning in the Rocky Mountain region. The students include residents of all 50 states and 55 foreign countries.

Residents seek help by Council on Willow road

Protests from residents on issues involving Willow road marked the Mountainside Borough Council meeting last week at the Echobrook School. The discussions centered around the locked-gate road at the end of the street, which the borough uses for ambulances and other emergency vehicles, and the removal of shrubbery planted to hide the borough's cinder pile.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms explained the necessity of the road and stated that residents were aware, when they purchased homes, of the proximity of Willow road to the industrial park. He said that industry has cooperated with the community on employees' let-out time to reduce traffic, and that surveys are being made to determine if other outlets can be found on Sheffield road.

The mayor also said City Engineer Robert Koser was making a survey on how to beautify the area by concealing the cinder pile.

Two ordinances were introduced. The first would create the position of business administrator of the borough. This position was proposed to cover the many jobs which Elmer Hoffert, borough clerk, now holds, but would not include a raise in salary for Hoffert.

The second ordinance, adjusting salaries, set in July, 1967, will include a raise in salary for two borough office employees. A public hearing on both ordinances will be held Tuesday, Dec. 13 at Borough Hall.

Resolutions were passed to authorize: return of $150 to John Sinak for pavement repairs completed at 280 Partridge Run; payment of $70 to Paul Ruebe for satisfactorily completing installation of shade trees on Old Farm road; execution of documents for extraordinary state aid funds to be used for sidewalk construction and additional roadways within the municipality; payment of $300 to Thomas and Virginia Gramm for damage made to their property by the placing of manholes across it, and approval of Dominic A. Della Valle as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department.

COUNCILMAN FRED A. SWINGLE reported that there were no brush fires in the borough from September to November. He thanked the residents for holding down the open burning of leaves. He also stated the time had come for considering the purchase of a new fire truck and erecting a new fire house. Swingle noted the receipt of a letter by Fire Chief Theodore Byk from the Ridgefield fire department thanking members of the Mountainside fire department for their donations to the widows of firemen lost recently, in the Ridgefield disaster.

Councilman Wilfred Brandt reported that the storm sewer program in the Nomahegan Brook area and road repairs were progressing satisfactorily.

Councilman Don Robertson reported basketball games were being held every Saturday at the Deerfield School for boys in grades 7-12. He added that registration for ski trips to Snow Bowl for eighth-graders and up will be held from 9 a.m. to noon this Saturday in the lobby of the Beechwood School, and that volleyball and basketball games are being held, Wednesday evenings in the Deerfield School for adults. He also reported the pool cover installation date will be set in the near future.

Councilman Charles J. Irwin reported a bingo license had been granted to Our Lady of Lourdes Church and Councilman Robert A. Ruggiero reported on the Board of Adjustment.

Colonial Pontiac of Summit, which was the lowest bidder was awarded a contract in the amount of $7,500, including trade-in allowance, for three new 1968 police cars and $1,440 for one year-service contracts.

In other business, Police Chief Christian Fritz reported police services included 320 calls, 30 ambulance cases and 32 automobile accidents were investigated. Fritz also stated police work was evenly divided in its services between the community as a whole and Route 22. The mayor reminded the audience, "Route 22 also includes residents of Mountainside."

Russ Cardoni took issue with the mayor as to the "withholding of news to the public" on the possible sale or transfer of the liquor license for the Chi-Am Chateau. Irwin said all available facts had not been submitted and there could be no information given out until they are, lest it confuse the parties involved. The mayor reassured Cardoni that at the proper time, all information will be made public.

The mayor stated every effort was being made to permit residents to deduct from their income tax the cost of private scavenger service. He reported continued opposition to the use by the Civil Defense Commission of a part of the Nike site to train fire fighters and install a pistol range. No date has been set for a hearing as of this date, however.

A note was made of the first absence from a Borough Council meeting since 1949 of Elmer Hoffert, who is vacationing with his family in Arizona.

Mayor discusses borough programs at Rotary luncheon

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms was the guest speaker at a recent luncheon held by the Rotary Club of Mountainside at the Chi-Am Chateau.

Wilhelms chose for his topic, "The Borough of Mountainside," and told an audience of more than 55 Rotarians that the system of government in the community was instrumental in its having the fourth lowest tax rate in the county, of which 70 percent comes from residents and 30 percent from industrial rates.

The mayor said the population is now counted at 7,200, or 2,200 families, and school registration is at an all-time high of 1,700 grade school children and 800 students at Governor Livingston Regional High School. He reported the drainage control program is well under way with the north-east section completed and work beginning on another section.

He complimented the Volunteer Fire Department as being one of the finest in the county and commended the Board of Education for its policy of local control in the public schools. He warned that residents would have to begin thinking about a new much-needed municipal building because of the outmoded condition and disrepair of the present building.

The mayor lamented that, despite the high amount of money collected in sales taxes in Mountainside, "because we are a community in which higher-income-bracket people live, the state only returns $80,000 to us -- which is not fair -- and we are going to see what we can do about it."

James Capone, Rotary president, awarded Mayor Wilhelms a plaque for his "outstanding citizen contribution to the community," and a certificate of appreciation for acting as guest speaker. The mayor was also extended honorary membership for a one-year period, an annual Rotary award, which is the highest honor the organization can bestow.

Charge dropped

A charge of causing death by motor vehicle filed against Clifford Bird, 19, of Mountainside, after the Oct. 5 death of a pedestrian, Mrs. Helen Callahan of Belmont, Mass., on Rt. 22, was dismissed Monday by Judge George L. Lombardi of Union Municipal Court, Elton Johnson, 22, of Plainfield, also charged with causing death by motor vehicle in connection with the same accident, previously was bound over for Grand Jury action.

Merit badges for excellence given to Troop 76 scouts

Bill Fleming was awarded three merit badges for work in conservation of natural resources, stamp collecting and nature at the November meeting of Mountainside Boy Scout Troop 76. Tim Williams earned a badge for scholarship, and Ron Johnson, a badge for conservation of natural resources.

Advanced to a higher rank were: Bill Fleming became start scout; Charles Ehrigott, Mark Lawrie, John Shiels, and Ed Stawick made Second Class Scout; Charles Gagliano has been made a patrol leader, and John Perrin, John Kasbohm, and John Shiels are new assistant patrol leaders. John Kasbohm is serving as troop librarian.

Welcomed as tenderfoot scouts were: Bob Greeley, Kevin Sheehan, Dave Maas, Tracy Masters, Marc Hoffman, Loren Legawiec, Ed Sauerborn, Ronald Moeller, and Richard Witmer.

Members of the troop recently spent a weekend at Cheesecake Park, on a winter encampment, which included a five-mile hike, games, star lore and an advancement program.

Author, journalist slates talk tonight

David Schoenbrun, award-winning CBS News correspondent, will discuss "Viet Nam—The Way Out" in Westfield High School tonight at 8:30. The program, which is being sponsored by FACE, or Foreign Affairs Concerns Everyone, will be preceded by a press conference in which 20 newspapers in the area have been invited to participate.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from the Towne Book Store and Taylor Hardware.

His latest book, "The Three Lives of Charles De Gaulle" was published in January, 1966. He is now working on a new book, "New York—The World City," a project for which he was awarded a Carnegie Foundation Grant.

Bridge winners named by temple in Westfield

Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Salom, Ida Garfield, Thelma Kramer, Shirley Feinberg and Mildred Mytka were winners of the duplicate bridge game held recently by the Men's Club of Temple-Emanuel, Westfield.

A club championship game is scheduled for Dec. 12 at 8:15 p.m. in the temple's Social Hall.

other energies are expended in charitable causes. He served for five years as a member of the board of directors of the Union County Tuberculosis League, was chairman of the Union County Christmas Seal campaign for two years and joins with his wife in working for the community United Fund appeal.

Interested in politics he was a candidate for the State Assembly in 1961 and although defeated in the general election, he glows with pride in recalling that non-partisan business people donated an unsolicited $1,000 to his campaign, his close association with the late James Mitchell, gubernatorial candidate, whom he deems "a fine man" and former State Senator Nelson Stampler, now Judge Stampler.

STILL ACTIVE in the Republican party, Warkala has served as head of the recruitment program which induces laymen to work in all areas beneficial to the party, on a volunteer basis.

Warkala considers the on-the-job training he received at the John E. Runnels Hospital in the three years he was employed there invaluable and credits his experience as "an excellent training in what lies ahead for me in my new job." He will participate in a communal service trip to Lehigh Valley hospitals which will work for the non-duplication of services and for joint planning. He was tendered a testimonial dinner by more than 60 employees and presented with a wrist watch from the hospital recently, at the Pede Flous restaurant in Watchung.

Warkala reminisces about his police-duty-days and tells of the time he was on duty, some years back, when three plane crashes occurred in Elizabeth. As a result he was invited to appear on the Dave Garroway "Today" show, which he describes as the "biggest thrill of my life".

He holds memberships in the Rutgers Alumni Association, the Personnel Association of N.J. Hospitals, N.J. Hospital Association, serves on the board of directors of the Occupational Center of Union County, a sheltered work shop for the retarded, a voluntary organization of which he is a charter member.

He declares his only claim to fame is that he is an uncle of Rick Barry, famed basketball player, formerly with the San Francisco Warriors where he was leading scorer.

He is an avid non-fiction reader and as a disabled veteran of World War II, where he served as a first lieutenant in Italy with the Third Division and as a major in the U.S. Army Reserve, he loves to read books on military strategy.

He is married to the former Ann Stephens of Elizabeth; the couple are parents of three children: Pam, 20; Glenn, 16, and Debbie, 13. Glenn and Debbie attend local public schools and the family are members of Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Mrs. Warkala is active in the Mountainside Women's Club and bowls with Blitwise Liquors in the Mountainside Women's Bowling League.

The family will reside in Hancover Township, a suburb of Bethlehem, Pa., but, "the kids will miss school here and my wife and I our friends. Yet a little bit of Mountainside will remain forever in our hearts," Warkala says a bit sadly. The many friends the Warkalas leave behind will not soon forget them either, particularly the Boy Scouts and Little Leaguers who were fortunate in having this man for their leader.

2 cars demolished in crash after auto jumps safety island

A skidding car traveling west on Route 22, Mountainside, jumped the safety island on Thanksgiving day, sending the driver of the car and a passenger in another car to the hospital.

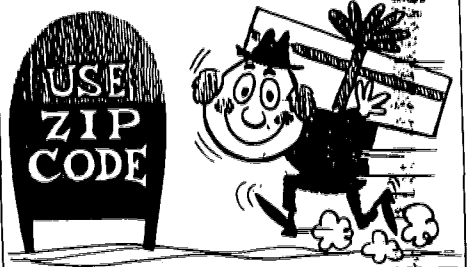

According to police, Charles Jarvis of Plainfield, who was driving west on Route 22, skidded and lost control of his car. The car jumped the island and hit the left rear fender of Kenneth R. Pickett of Millburn, who said he was traveling east in the left lane of Route 22, when he saw the Jarvis car skidding and heading for the center lane. Pickett swerved into the right lane to avoid a collision, and the Jarvis car then jumped the island and struck the car driven by Nathan Koperberg of New York, who was traveling behind Pickett, head-on and burst into flames, the report continued. Both cars were demolished.

Jarvis, who told police he had no idea what caused him to skid, was driving on a learner's permit. He was cut on the left hand and suffered a large bump on his head. Mrs. Koperberg, a passenger in her husband's car, was cut on the mouth. Jarvis and Mrs. Koperberg were taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad. No summonses were issued, pending further investigation.

In another Thanksgiving day accident, police reported, Zeno A. Britschgi of Summit, "who admitted to having a few drinks, but was not under the influence of alcohol", police said, was traveling west on Rt. 22 and struck the car of Irving J. Salt of Union. Salt was reportedly on the apron of the Somerset Bus Co., waiting to enter the highway, when Britschgi hit him. Britschgi was issued a summons for careless driving.

Walter Ball of Piscataway reported he had made a turn from east to west had stopped before entering the fast lane of traffic, when he was struck by a car driven by Lawrence J. Rhoads Jr. of Somerville. Rhoads said he was in the fast lane and was unable to move to the right because of heavy traffic and unavoidably struck the Ball car. No summonses were issued.

by GARY LESSING, Manager
SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE

Our talk with our friend brought additional information at our shop last week on the art of management. There are, for instance, many ways in which a really accomplished manager shows himself in command. One key way of finding out, however, is to ask his subordinates what they really think of him.

If the manager really excels, the subordinate will know exactly what he's supposed to do when he's given a job, and he'll also know that his manager will back him up on his decisions, and will not interfere with him.

For instance, he knows if he makes a mistake, his boss will tell him so, but will only tell him. He'll then reason out the decision with his subordinate to help him not repeat the error.

The subordinate knows if he gets in a jam, the boss is behind him. He'll know that by putting his best foot forward, by putting forth his best efforts, the boss will take responsibility for a failure if the effort turns out badly. Sound delegation is the essence of good management.

Delegation, by the way, is much different than assignment, and we'll talk about that next week.

Meantime, stop by SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22 at Springfield rd., UNION, for the finest in tires, and by the finest we're of course referring to the champion of champions, FIRESTONE.

Open daily 9-9, Saturday to 4, our phone number is MU 8-5620. Hurry in for your snow tires!

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Twenty-eighth In A Series
KENYATTA OF KENYA
The big question in Kenya today is: what happens if something should happen to Jomo Kenyatta?
Kenyatta allegedly was once the leader of the infamous Mau Mau, but today he is the pro-western efficient president of Kenya, and in a continent where many of the nations lean toward hard communism, his leadership is valued in the western world.

His own people call him "The Mzee." The word "mzee" means "old man of respect" in Swahili, but there is only one "THE Mzee" in Kenya—and that is Kenyatta. According to Ken Bolton, an editor of the East African Standard in Nairobi, "Kenyatta is a man who has extraordinary charm, power and influence over the people."

The American embassy man said that Kenyatta's government is one we can live with and official relations are good. Kenyatta's government is stable and effective, and cooperation with the U.S. is very good. The backbone of U.S. operations in Kenya until 1963, when an ambassadorial level was established was missionaries. There are now 1,500 missionaries still in Kenya -- 2,600 Americans, 270 Peace Corps workers and 62 U.S. firms.

The U.S. policy is to support the present government, for the U.S. feels the government has "important influence upon the rest of this part of the world." Its leaders are recognized as constructive and the country's financial and political structures are good.

"The main subversive element is Chinese," our newspaper informant told us, "but we think we have routed it out. Just remember, as long as Mr. Kenyatta is here you (Americans) don't have to worry." (About Kenya.)
But—the Mzee is 74, perhaps more, and many of his possible successors are not of the same mold.

The American Embassy people feel his cabinet is behind him and quite capable, so a successor may come from there. There are 20 members of cabinet rank whose average age is 42 and more than half were educated in the U.S. But tribalism (Kikuyu Tribe, the largest) comes into this again and could effect selections to others not as competent.

And there is Oginga Odinga, the leader of the new opposition party who, according to our informants, "is charming but quite a character, and sold to the east."

From the cabinet itself, there is the well-known Tom Mboya, minister for economic planning and development, but while he is possibly the most capable and the most intelligent, he is unpopular. "Tom" has a way with him that does not make friends.

Further, according to Mr. Bolton, a man by the name of Daniel Moi, vice-president and home minister, is about best. "We should hitch our star to him," he said. The U.S. Embassy also feels Moi is best and that Mboya is brilliant and unlikable. "He (Mboya) knows how to get a bill through Parliament though!" someone else said. And, if something should happen to Jomo Kenyatta that is just where the matter of a successor would go—to Parliament. The vice-president is appointed by the president but if a president dies, Parliament is summoned to elect a new leader.

THERE ARE 172 MEMBERS of Parliament "which has a great deal of honest integrity," according to the U.S. Embassy, "and the president has never stolen or altered it." Kenyatta's policy seems to be one of "slow but sure." "See if we can arrange it and get the job done gently" could almost be his motto instead of "Harambee" which is the nation's slogan in Swahili, meaning "get together."

Of the 172 members of Parliament, anyway, two are white. There is Bruce McKensie, formerly of South Africa, who is now a Kenya citizen and also a cabinet member, and Reginald Alexander, who was born in Kenya of Scottish-English stock, and who also operates Bruce Travel Limited in Nairobi. The highly respected, well-liked, speaker-of-the-house, lean and twinkling Humphrey Slade, is also white. He still has his long white wig and robes ala British style, however, and an extra large closet to keep them propped up on forms when not in use.

We took tea with the Hon. Mr. Alexander and Hon. Mr. Slade and then Mr. Slade took us through the Parliament building—and that closet—and we could see the reason for his being so well-liked. We had a very good visit. In the evening we were invited to the home of the handsome Mr. Alexander where we met Mr. Bolton. According to our invitation, several ministers of the cabinet were to be present as well, but they never arrived or else they did not stay long enough to talk to. So Mr. Bolton had the floor all to himself—in front of the beautiful fireplace, which was lit. The entire home was beautiful, absolutely beautiful, but despite the blazing fire, we felt just—a little cold.

THE ENTIRE HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT comes up for election in 1970 which is also a presidential year. The last vote was in 1963. Of Kenya's 9.3 million people, half are under 16 and only three and a half to four million can vote. Any male or female over 21 and with about two years or more residence in Kenya can vote. Literacy is no requirement.

There are two main parties. The current leading party is the KANU or Kenya African National Union, and the minority party is the KADU or Kenya African Democratic Union. Last year Odinga and his followers, in dissatisfaction with the government, organized a third party called the KFPJ or Kenya People's Union. It was permitted by the government and allowed to voice its opinions.

Americans in Kenya said, with the current government, they felt there was nothing to fear from African Socialism. "Almost everything is private enterprise as long as the KANU is in power," Mr. Bolton said.

And our U.S. Embassy men expect Kenya to be an agricultural country for the next generation and expect it to be important to the U.S. in its geographical situation and its policy.

So the feeling in Kenya seems to be "Long Live Kenyatta...may his life be as long as his title." "His Excellency the Honorable Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, Member of Parliament and President of Kenya, Chief of the Order of the Golden Heart of Kenya"—an appellation only a few seconds shorter than that of his neighbor, "His Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, King of Kings, King of Zion, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, Branch of the Tree of Solomon, and Impeller of the Holy Trinity."

Howard's dividend million above '66

Howard Savings President John W. Kress reported this week that the institution's Dec. 1 dividend would be in excess of $8,600,000, more than a million dollars above the amount paid depositors a year ago.

"This is the 306th consecutive dividend," Kress said, "and the largest ever paid by The Howard since its founding in 1857. During the past year, The Howard's 362,000 depositors have received almost $33 million in dividends of interest on their savings, an amount greater than the total assets of the bank 50 years ago."

Kress announced that the board of managers had made the following changes: Leo J. Rogers Jr. from an administrative assistant to assistant vice president; Andrew J. Antojack, administrative supervisor in the mortgage service department to assistant secretary; and Wilbur A. Stevens, assistant branch manager to manager at the University Branch.

NEW POSITIONS AT BELL -- Henry J. Arnold (left) returns to New Jersey Bell Telephone Company as traffic manager-Hudson division. He succeeds Hunter E. Harvey (right) who has been named general manager-metropolitan area. John P. Cokelair, center, has been appointed assistant vice president of traffic for Bell.

Review for College Boards to begin

The College Review Center announced this week that it is now accepting registrations from high school juniors who wish to prepare for the College Board Examinations to be given in March. The courses will start during the first week in January and finish just prior to the examinations which are to be held on March 2nd.

The center is offering a choice of Saturday morning or Friday after-school classes. The Saturday classes will meet from 9 a.m. to noon. Friday classes will run from 4 p.m. to 6:15 p.m. The classrooms of the school are located on Main street in Orange. The Center, now in its tenth year of operation, assists students in developing those skills, concepts, and techniques needed for improving scores on both the verbal and mathematics aptitude tests. The mathematics classes will again be taught by Morton Seltzer, chairman of the mathematics department of Weequahic High School. The English classes will be taught by Irving J. Goldberg, director of the Education Center For Youth. Registration forms and additional information about the courses may be obtained by calling REDwood 1-3995 or Center 9-3114.

PLEASE DRIVE SAFELY

You just push a button for a sharper clearer picture on Sylvania's new $569⁹⁵ color TV.

That's what Stanley's big toe is doing. Pushing the AFC button (Automatic Fine-tuning Control) to get a better picture in seconds.

Before, to get a good picture, Stanley had to handle the fine-tuning dial with the nimble fingers of a safecracker.

In addition, Stanley's enjoying truer-to-life colors. Because of Sylvania's Colorbright 85" picture tube.

And Stanley knows a bargain. He bought Sylvania's lowest-priced color model with AFC. And got a handsome contemporary design cabinet, finished in walnut veneers and matching solids.

If you're interested, we'll show you this and the 21 other Sylvania color TV sets—each with an AFC button of its own.

Schools are given state's guidelines on sex education

The State Department of Education has begun distribution of a booklet giving schools information on establishing and developing sex education programs.

Titled "Guidelines for Developing School Programs in Sex Education," the booklet has been mailed to elementary and secondary school principals and superintendents of schools throughout the state.

The guidelines were written by a committee of physicians and educators headed by Dr. Everett L. Hebel, state director of health, safety and physical education. They were developed at the request of the State Board of Education following its policy statement on sex education earlier this year.

In its statement, the board recommended that appropriate programs in sex education be developed by New Jersey schools so they might assume their part of "a responsibility which should be shared by the home, church and school."

THE BOOKLET GIVES guidelines for programs from kindergarten to 12th grade in line with the board policy statement which says, "Sex education is a continuing process throughout life and therefore must be planned for during the entire school experience of the child."

Serving on Dr. Hebel's committee were Marvin R. Levy, supervisor of health and safety education; special consultants Dr. Geoffrey W. Esby, Dr. Bernard N. Millner and Dr. Alfred R. Richlan, all of the Department of Education; Marjorie Baier, supervisor of girls health and physical education, New Brunswick; and John Brown, director of health and physical education, Union County Regional High School.

Also, the Rev. Thomas Dentici, St. Bartholomew Church, East Brunswick; Christine D. Lear, assistant professor of health education, Trenton State College; Dr. Harry Oestreich, supervisor of health and physical education, Montclair Public Schools; Mary Lou Oro, health education teacher, Governor Livingston Regional High School.

Holy Cross Guild to sponsor party, Yuletide program

The annual Holy Cross Ladies' Guild Christmas program and party will be held on Wednesday evening Dec. 6 at 8 at the church on Mountain Avenue, Springfield. This year it will consist of three parts: A religious observance of readings and songs in the nave, the dedication of gifts to patients of Clara Maass Hospital in the fellowship hall and a social hour of games and refreshments.

Those taking part in the program will be Mrs. James Dunleavy and Bonnie Fisher, guests from the choir; Mrs. Edith Holmberg, Mrs. Robert Braun, Mrs. Robert Fredericks, Mrs. Anton Parker and Mrs. O. J. Theobald. Hostesses will be Mrs. Borghild Hirsch, chairman; Mrs. John Andrus, Mrs. Anton Parker and Gladys Baldwin.

On Monday, Dec. 11, the only church work day for the month will be held in the fellowship hall of the church. Along with their regular work for missions, the women will pack 60 boxes of home-made cookies supplies by the women of the parish. These boxes of Christmas cookies will be distributed by the Lutheran Inner-Missions in the metropolitan New York City area.

Hadassah Chapter will mark birthday

The Westfield - Mountainside Chapter of Hadassah will celebrate its 10th birthday on Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Eugene Shapiro, 340 Orenda Circle, Westfield, at which time 60 charter members of the chapter will be honored.

This Chapter of Hadassah was formed at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Copelman of Westfield, 10 years ago, and received its charter from Mrs. Morris Handler, now national program chairman of Hadassah. Mrs. Handler will be the featured speaker at the anniversary party.

Mrs. Herbert Michaels, honorary president, and Mrs. Copelman will review the history of the chapter and will present certificates and pay special tribute to the charter members. Music and entertainment will be led by Mrs. Benjamin Steuerman. A coffee hour will follow.

The program was planned by Mrs. Al D. Finkelstein, Mrs. Michaels, Mrs. Herbert Seidel and Mrs. Mitchell Bradie.

Hadassah has undertaken a vast program of expanding its medical activities in Jerusalem so that the increased Arab population of Jerusalem will receive free medical care at the Hadassah Hospital there, a chapter spokesman declared.

Rosary Society plans annual Christmas party

The annual Christmas party of the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, will be held next Monday evening at 8:30 in the auditorium.

A concert of Christmas carols will be presented by children in the fifth to eighth grades, who have been preparing their program for several months. The Rosarians are baking their special Christmas treats and all the women of the parish are invited to participate in the festivities, according to a group spokesman.

Couple to celebrate 40th at Thanksgiving Mass

This Saturday will be cause for celebration when Mr. and Mrs. John Deo of 236 Summit rd., Mountainside, mark their 40th wedding anniversary.

The Deo family will also celebrate the occasion at a Mass of Thanksgiving at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Mountainside.

SUNDAY'S SERMON ABOUT WORDS

Wrongly-used, the human tongue is a deadly weapon. It destroys with finality. It can wound in a fashion that prohibits healing. Someone said, "Always put your mind in gear before you move your tongue." It is very good advice. Once said, an unkind word, an untruth, can never be called back. It may be apologized for, yet it can never be retracted. It has been stamped upon the wind.

Do not give repetition to idle rumors, but speak the truth when the truth is called for. You will enjoy living with yourself if you do.

By the game taken, recognize the value of a word of kindness or praise. Do not hesitate to extend it whenever and whenever it is justly due. Honesty with words is as much a responsibility as honesty with money.

Public Notice GASOLINE NOTICE OF BIDS BOROUGHS OF MOUNTAINIDE

Sealed bids will be received on December 19, 1967 at the Echobrook School, U.S. Route #22, Mountainside, New Jersey, at 8:00 P.M. for: gasoline, to be used for borough owned vehicles. Bidders required to supply a premium grade gasoline in the approximate quantity of eighteen thousand gallons, and to maintain a 500-gallon U.G. tank and to supply and maintain an electric dispenser pump. The Borough reserves the right to reject any or all bids. ELMER A. HOFFARTH, Borough Clerk. (Fee: $2.88) Mtd Echo Nov. 30, 1967.

Miss Sue Moran, Dennis I. Francis wed in Roseland

Miss Sue Ann Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moran of West Caldwell, was married Nov. 18 to Dennis I. Francis, son of Mrs. Edward Francis of 113 Linden Ave., Springfield, and the late Mr. Francis.

The ceremony was performed at Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament Church in Roseland. Attendants of the couple were Patricia Moran, maid of honor for her sister, and Lawrence Cyre, best man.

The bride is employed as a secretary at Newark College of Engineering. The groom is a graduate of Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Following a honeymoon trip to Miami Beach, Fla., the couple will reside in Springfield.

Wins Saks contest in dress designing

Maxine Yourman, of 44 Garden oval, Springfield, a sophomore at Johnathan Dayton Regional High School, won first place in a contest held recently for members of the High School Fashion Advisory Board at Saks Fifth Avenue, Springfield. The contest required each member of the board to design an original evening gown for the modern teenager.

Miss Yourman's entry was judged the best and will be used as a guide for the custom designing section of Saks in New York City. Runner-up was Lisa Wasserman, also of Springfield.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE Public Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance was introduced, read, and approved by the Board of Health of the Borough of Mountainside, N. Blood autoanalyzer speeds Overlook diagnostic process

Patients at Overlook Hospital today are getting a broad-scale chemical "profile" of their blood as a result of a new multi-channel autoanalyzer in the Overlook Laboratories - an important advance in early detection of unsuspected disease, as well as in more complete diagnosis.

The SMA - 12 autoanalyzer was recently installed at a cost of $33,000 - a gift of the Overlook Hospital Women's Auxiliary. This sum was raised by the Auxiliary over and above its pledge of $250,000 to the Overlook "Progress Program."

Advantages of the new automated analyzer are many, according to Dr. George L. Erdman, chief pathologist and director of laboratories. "The patient now gets 12 tests performed, giving a detailed picture of his blood chemistry in minutes that would have taken hours to perform manually," Dr. Erdman explained.

"The cost to the patient is far less, too," Dr. Erdman pointed out. "Under old methods at $5 a test, such a battery of 12 tests would have cost $60. The autoanalyzer enables us to give this comprehensive chemical profile at a cost of $13.50, a remarkable savings - and a good example of how hospitals try to keep costs down for the patient, yet improve medical services."

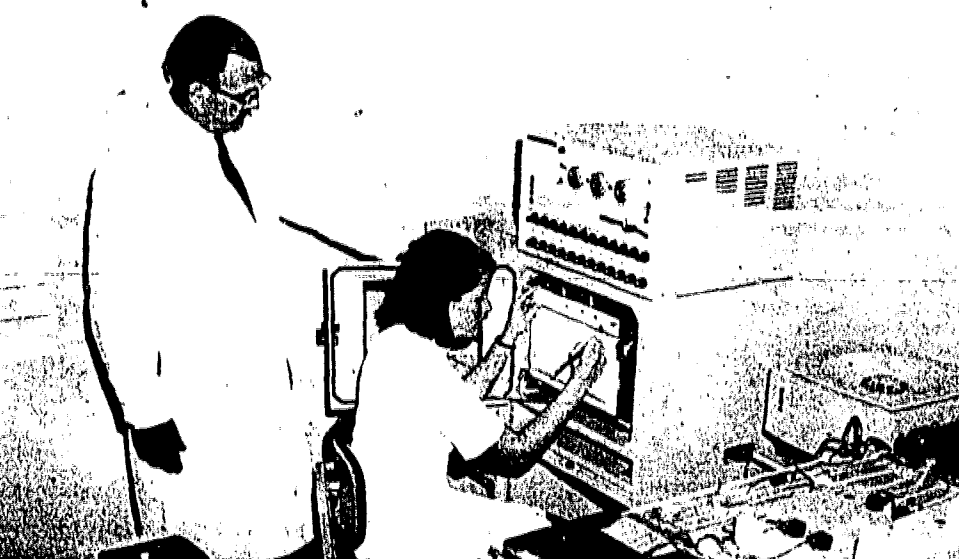

The autoanalyzer can perform a continuing series of tests during a six-hour period which would take one technologist, working full time, three months to do.

UNEXPECTED DISEASE STATES are often picked up by this more complete method of testing, and early signs of developing abnormalities can be detected by examining the total pattern and balance of the various tests in the chemical profile. Printed on a chart on one sheet, the tests results are far simpler to read in relation to each other, aiding clearer diagnosis.

Dr. Erdman cited examples: "The four elements of blood sodium, blood chloride, blood potassium and blood carbon dioxide, for example, are identified clinically as the blood electrolytes. These play a major role in maintaining proper acid-base balance in human beings. Accurate determination of the levels of these electrolytes in blood is of inestimable value in caring for patients with diabetes heart failure, and in pre and post surgical patients," he explained.

Touching on the importance of some of the different tests, Dr. Erdman illustrated how blood glucose reveals the sugar level involved in cases of diabetes; blood urea nitrogen in testing for kidney function; bilirubin in relation to jaundice and liver function. SGOT or serum glutamic oxalacetic transaminase is an enzyme which is liberated in the blood stream when the heart muscle is damaged, revealing the occurrence of coronary infarction.

"The SMA - 12 represents an enormous advance for Overlook's laboratories," Dr. Erdman commented. "With more and more complicated tests being developed every day, more and more patients coming to hospitals, and fewer laboratory technicians available, we can be grateful that these modern automated methods enable us to keep pace with the advances of medicine," he concluded.

MARVELS OF AUTOMATION come to Overlook Laboratories. Dr. George L. Erdman, director of laboratories at Overlook Hospital, examines test results on the new multi-channel autoanalyzer. Performing 12 different blood tests in a matter of minutes, the automated equipment gives a far more complete blood chemistry profile to Overlook patients - and at far lower cost to the patient. The instrument is the gift of the Overlook Women's Auxiliary. Medical Technician Virginia Lehman checks the chart with Dr. Erdman.

Choir concert slated at Clinton Hill Church

The Concert Choir of the Northeastern Collegiate Bible Institute, Essex Falls, will present a sacred concert at Clinton Hill Baptist Church, 2815 Morris Ave., Union, Sunday evening at 7.

The Choir is a mixed voice ensemble composed of 35 students. The choir has toured extensively throughout the middle west, New England, Canada and the southland. In addition to a spring tour undertaken each year, the group sings in many local churches in the areas surrounding the institute. Approximately 50 programs are given each year.

Visits Stock Exchange

Jane C. Adams of 41 Lyons pl., Springfield, was one of the students of Stafford Hall School of Business, Summit, who visited the New York Stock Exchange on Monday, Nov. 20. The group viewed the busy floor of the exchange as the effect of the British devaluation of the pound was felt.

Debate on ecumenism slated Sunday at Union synagogue

A debate on the merits of Jewish involvement in ecumenism will be presented Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Bardy Hall of Congregation Beth Shalom, Union, in a feature of the synagogue's 1967-1968 debate-lecture series.

An exponent of the liberal wing of the Conservative movement in Judaism, Dr. Jacob B. Agus will argue the case in favor of Jewish involvement against Dr. Trude Weiss-Rosmarin, editor of "The Jewish Spectator" since 1936. Emanuel Needle, president of the synagogue, will be the moderator.

A member of the Rabbinical Assembly of America, Rabbi Agus has been spiritual leader of congregations in Chicago, Dayton and Baltimore. He is consulting editor for the Encyclopedia Britannica on articles about Judaism and Jewish history. His notes and letters are contained in Prof. Arnold J. Toynbee's study of history, "Reconsiderations."

Dr. Weiss-Rosmarin is the author of "Judaism and Christianity: The Difference," "Jewish Survival," "The Hebrew Moses: An Answer to Sigmund Freud," and "New Light on the Bible." She has taught at the New School for Social Research and at New York University.

Other debates are scheduled at the synagogue, Vauxhall road and Plane street, Union, in January and February. Tickets for a single lecture are $2.50 per person.

Realtors to meet, discuss problems during conventions

The Rehabilitation of urban blight, the computer's role in real estate, the Riparian Lands question, mass transportation, and the effect of mass housing on local school budgets are some of the social and professional questions which will be covered at the 51st annual Convention of the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards Atlantic City next week.

According to Nicholas Friday, president of the group, many other optical and business items will be covered at the convention, along with "how-to" sessions for realtors and their staffs at the largest convention of its type East of the Mississippi.

According to Adelaide Shaffer Campbell, this year's convention chairwoman, over 2,500 realtors, their associates, families and guests are expected to attend this four-day session which will make this the largest in the organization's 51-year history.

A great deal of emphasis this year will be placed upon ways and means of relieving the New Jersey homeowner of the tax burden he currently carries.

A multitude of seminars will also be held concerning the various facets of real estate profession covering appraising, management, industrial, commercial, and residential.

According to president Friday, this year's theme for the Convention, "The Many Worlds of Real Estate," reflects the realtor's role in the fast-changing socio-economic climate of New Jersey, and is meant to stimulate thoughts and deeds by realtors toward their ever-increasing role in the community.

A successful experiment Business course is hailed

An experimental program in accounting and basic business principles conducted for Negro small businessmen and women has succeeded beyond the hopes of its sponsors, the Rutgers Graduate School of Business Administration and the Interracial Council of Business Opportunity of New Jersey.

The program is going so well, according to Louis T. German of the business school's Division of Professional Accounting, who is lecturing in the series, that the university is planning a similar program in the spring.

About 200 business people from throughout that state have been attending a series of 10 programs on Thursday nights in Seth Boyden Hall on the State University's Newark Campus. In addition to German, special guest speakers have been brought in to deal with such areas as insurance, income tax, banking, pensions, advertising and management.

George D. Kelsey, II, executive director of the ICBO, said: "Everyone participating has been very serious about the courses, and I feel they are gaining a great deal. Several have said they are interested in more advanced work in accounting and are reluctant to see the series end."

"Eventually, we would like to see such a program offered three times a year," Kelsey added, noting that some 150 persons had to be turned away at the start of the current series because of the overwhelming response.

PARTICIPANTS IN THE class have reacted favorably to the initial program, Clara McNeill of Englewood, a secretary, noted that "the course is important for me as a secretary because I have to know some accounting, too, it's been very good so far."

One rather unusual class member is Gloria Calhoun of Newark, a dancer.

"I'd like to learn accounting so I can quit dancing," she reported.

"The course is really helping me," said James Clark of Englewood, a plumbing contractor. "I had some training in accounting before, but not enough, I'm just now learning how to keep a balance sheet."

In addition to lectures, graduate business school faculty and students have been giving individual help before class to those seeking it.

Another significant indication of the interest in the program is that attendance has shown only the "normal attrition," German pointed out. At the end of the current series on Dec. 21, certificates will be given to those participating.

Among guest lecturers have been Wilbur O. Parker, budget director of the City of Newark, Malcolm D. Talbot, vice president of the University in Newark, and Dr. Horace J. De Podwin, dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration.

Santa a marine for Jersey tots

Military tactics will be given a new twist this Christmas with a combined air-ground action involving Santa, his reindeer, and the United States Marines.

Operation "Toys for Tots" was kicked off in New Jersey this month and since that time the 6th Motor Transport Bn., U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, Fort Newark, has collected well over 5,000 toys.

"This Christmas," observed Lt. Col. Grant H. Lennox, battalion commanding officer, of 303 Garrett rd., Mountainside, "we hope to receive more than 25,000 toys for distribution to underprivileged children throughout New Jersey."

Individuals and businesses wishing to contribute new and usable toys may call the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Fort Newark, at MA 4-8762.

Fund drive underway for Jersey orchestra

The first major fund drive ever conducted for cultural institutions in New Jersey has been launched at the Governor's mansion with the announcement that more than $300,000 of the $650,000 goal already has been pledged. Beneficiaries of the drive are the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and Symphony Hall, Inc., of Newark.

W. Paul Stillman, chairman of the drive, reported that large gifts from a number of leading New Jersey business organizations had made it possible to start the statewide campaign with nearly half the goal assured. Stillman reported to approximately 150 civic, business and government leaders from throughout the state.

Concert scheduled by Orpheus Club

The Orpheus Club will present its 80th Christmas concert on Dec. 9 at 8:30 p.m. in East Orange High School.

The program of the all-male glee club will include Thanks be to Thee, Gloria, I Heard a Forest Praying, This Train, Landlighting, High Barbary and Go Tell it on the Mountain, along with others. Lila Gage will be guest soloist.

Tickets for the concert can be obtained by contacting Clyde Zukswert, 303 Brookdale rd., Florham Park, 377-4372, or at the door on the night of the concert.

Quality control course at NCE evening school

Newark College of Engineering's division of technology has announced it will offer a new course in statistical quality control, starting Tuesday evening, Jan. 2. The course will run 12 weeks, meeting each Tuesday.

The basis of the course will be to explain the statistical techniques that can be used by many industries to reduce costs and improve product quality. According to NCE, the most effective use of these techniques depends upon a complete understanding of the subject by all concerned, from production and inspection personnel to engineers.

DEATH NOTICES

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

Thanksgiving has come and gone, Congress is still in session, and we are predicting adjournment before Christmas.

The last session to run as long as in 1933 was the 89th Congress, at odd with President Kennedy over many legislative proposals, poked along until Dec. 30 before quitting for the year.

The current session has also been marked by conflict between the executive and legislative branches. And much of the indecision and delay in resolving important legislative issues reflects, I believe, the lack of effective guidance by the Administration and the Congressional leadership.

Complex legislation that will affect millions of families, such as the Social Security amendments, cannot and should not be written hastily. But the fact that it has taken almost 11 months to bring this bill to its present stage of conference between House and Senate is inexcusable.

Nor is this the only major piece of legislation that has fallen victim to unreasonable delay. The prospects for even a limited civil rights bill are not encouraging. The anti-poverty program has yet to be authorized and funded for the current fiscal year. A bill to extend and strengthen the historic Elementary and Secondary Education Act has just now been reported to the Senate. And, now, appears that amendments to the Higher Education Act will not reach the Senate or House floor this year. Many other important measures might be cited.

BEHIND THE "SLOWDOWN" in Capitol Hill—and, indeed, a factor contributing to it, in my view—is the pervasive uneasiness over the conduct of the war in Vietnam. If there is anything approaching consensus on this subject among Members of Congress, I suspect that it lies in increasing doubt as to the soundness of the Administration's constantly reiterated assurances of progress in that conflict.

There is no question here of withholding support from our forces in Vietnam, and the President has not strengthened his position by suggesting that it is somehow apathetic to question his conduct of the war. Nor did Ambassador Bunker and General Westmoreland, in their recent meeting with Congress, in all circumstances, do much to reduce the situation.

The deep anxiety with respect to Vietnam, I believe, is partly responsible for the coolness with which Congress has treated the Administration's tax proposals.

There is, of course, the normal reluctance of elected officials to raise taxes. There is, in addition, much justifiable concern over the economic propriety of raising taxes in the face of such conflicting indicators as rising prices and rising unemployment. And there is the ever-present challenge to reduce expenditures when these exceed revenues.

But these factors do not fully explain the refusal of the House Ways and Means Committee (where all tax legislation originates) to head the Administration's pleas, in my judgment.

Chairman Mills and his Committee have a well-earned reputation for bringing before the House only those bills they believe the House will pass. And there are clearly too many Members of the House whose doubts about the Administration's case for a surtax

Appoint coin collector

Ed Kucharski, president of the Union County Coin Club, appointed Ken Morrison, Jim Brown, Anthony Mills, Art Jones and Charley Huestis to the nominating committee of the organization at its October meeting at the Polish National Hall in Linden. Morrison will be chairman of the club's coin show to be held this spring. Twenty-five persons attended the meeting.

have been reinforced by the underlying lack of confidence in Administration claims about Vietnam.

New pressure is being brought to bear on the Ways and Means Committee to change its stance, in the wake of Britain's devaluation of the pound. Thus it is still possible that the tax issue will be resolved in some fashion by the end of the year. But the record of the first session of the 90th Congress will remain, on balance, one of long delays and modest results.

Milk prices going up

The minimum prices for milk sold out of stores during December in New Jersey will be 26 1/2 cents a quart, 48 cents a half-gallon, and 90 cents a gallon, according to Dr. Donald R. Nicholson, director of the New Jersey Office of Milk Industry. For home-delivered milk, the State OMI formula adds three cents a quart, six cents a half-gallon, and 12 cents a gallon to the minimum out-of-store price. Minimum prices are related directly to the Class I prices for milk in the respective Federal order marketing areas in New Jersey.

Seeks end to strike

Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott (R-Union) this week introduced an Assembly Resolution calling upon the Governor of the State of New Jersey to use his good office's in an attempt to bring about an end to the Copper Strike in New Jersey.

McDermott, who is also Senator - elect from Union County in the 1968 Legislature, pointed out in his Resolution that there are nearly 4,000 New Jersey employees directly affected by the Copper Strike and many more in the electrical and automotive trade who are indirectly affected by the forthcoming shortage of copper.

Assemblyman McDermott cited that Governor's Rampton of Utah and Laxalt of Nevada have made efforts in these respective states to bring about collective bargaining on a local level to achieve a settlement.

McDermott further noted that Governor's Babcock of Montana, Williams of Arizona, and Cargo of New Mexico are also engaged in attempting to bring about a settlement of the Copper Strike in their respective states.

In closing, McDermott urged Governor Hughes to attempt to bring about this settlement in New Jersey before the forthcoming Holiday Season.

All for the price of a fancier priced car.

$3260 is the latest average price paid for a new car these days. (So says the Automobile Manufacturers Association.)

$3260 will also buy you a new range, a new refrigerator, a new dryer, a new washer, two new television sets, a record player and a $1695* Volkswagen.

Of course, our little package doesn't include all those tricky little items you find on those fancier-priced cars. (Like electric ashtray cleaners... Or headlights that disappear when the sun comes out.)

But it does include good food, clean clothes, nice music and a chance to watch all the summer reruns in color.

A lot of people frown on a Volkswagen because they feel it doesn't offer enough in the way of fancy gadgetry.

Look again. How fancy can you get?
