Regional election { slated this week

The polls will be open Tuesday from 2 to 9 p.m. at the Deerfield School for Mountainside voters to take part in the annual election of the Regional High School District Board of Educa-

Voters in Mountainside and the five other communities in the district must pass on the proposed budget of $6,628,523 for the coming school year. The regional board has also announced plans for a referendum March 15 on its capital expansion proposal to increase facilities at Gov. Livingston and the other regional high schools.

JAMES J. CAPONE JR.

Law student cited for achievements

James J. Capone Jr., of 1006 Prospect st., Westfield, has been awarded the American Jurisprudence prize for excellence in the civil rights course at Rutgers University Law School. The prize was awarded by the Joint Publishers of the Annotated Reports System. He also received a book on state and federal constitutional law.

Capone, the son of James J. Capone, superintendent of the Mountainside Post Office, and the late Mrs. Capone, is a senior in the Rutgers University School of Law. He was graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., with a B.A. in government in 1965. In his senior year at Georgetown, he was commissioned as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

town as Mountainside Girl Scouts open the an-nual Washington Rock Girl Scout Council cookie

A major portion of the proceeds from the sale remains with the council and participating troops, Council proceeds are used for maintenance and development of the three campsites and to supplement income from federated funds in Garwood, Kenilworth, Dunellen-Green Brook, and Arbor-New Market, which provide services to troops. Troops budget their profits to carry out special projects.

In the past year, Washington Rock developed a new unit at Camp Sinawik which included new tents and platforms, wash house, and an all-weather activity shelter with storage shed. Last summer, for the first time, Camp Blue Heron was opened for established troop camping. New trailers are now fully equipped for on or off-site troop camping. A new sailboat was purchased for Camp Lou Henry Hoover. All three camps are open for year-round camping. Last year, more than 7,500 scouts used the sites for camping. Approximately 700 irls attend Camp Hoover in the summer, and 850 more attend council summer day camps. The Mountainside Girl Scout Community As-

FACE to conduct primer on primary next Tuesday night

"Republican and Democratic Primaries--What, When, How" will be the subject of a panel discussion at a meeting of FACE (Foreign Affairs Concerns Everyone) scheduled Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., in the Westfield Community

The panel will discuss all the various aspects of the New Jersey primaries, including the laws covering them and the mechanics of running. Participating in the panel will be Mrs. Barbara Claman, Republican Party Chairman in Westfield; W. O. Van Blarcom, Republican Committeeman in Mountainside, and Robert Sacherow, president of the Democratic Clubin Mountainside.

Richard Samuel will act as moderator for the panel discussion and the question period following. Samuel, a lawyer and member of FACE. has been doing research on the primaries for the group.

"Face feels that this meeting will be very important to its members," stated Mrs. Eli Hoffman, program chairman, "because candidates for local, state and national office will be selected in the 1968 primaries, plus delegates to the national political conventions." She continued to say that FACE urged individual members to become active in the party of their

Mrs. Rehbock lists reasons she seeks to serve on board

Mrs. Alan Rehbock of 1412 Orchard rd., one of the seven candidates vving for the four vacant seats on the Mountainside Board of Education, is seeking public office for the first time, in her bid for a two-year term.

In answer to the questionaire sent to all candidates by the Echo as to their reasons for wishing to serve the public, Mrs. Rehbock stated this week, "I have a genuine interest in education, particularly Mountainside education. I have substituted in the schools, and as a teacher, and I now feel that I have the time to devote to working on the board."

In the Jan. 18 issue of the Echo, two new-comers, Mrs. John Miller and Allen Dehls, and an incumbent, Mrs. Gloria S. Johnson, stated their reasons for wishing to serve. In the Jan. 25 issue, two incumbents Walter H. Rupp and Donald L. Jeka, and a newcomer, Mrs. William Gutman, were quoted.

The Echo believes the publication of this series will give an insight into the reasons why candidates seek office and will be of impartial help in helping residents to decide whom to vote for on election day, Feb. 13.

Contenders offer praise for schools

Give qualifications for borough board service

By PAT DONALDSON The Mountainside Board of Education Candidates' Night, which was held Tuesday night at the Beechwood School under the auspices of the PTA can best be described in the words of the moderator, Sam Seager, a former member of the board. He said, "This has been a peaceful and a loving meeting, and I hope no one is disappointed."

Candidates were introduced by Seager and spoke first on their background and reasons for wishing to serve the community as mem-bers of the Board of Education. Election

Mrs. John Miller, a newcomer seeking a three-year term, stated that for the past seven years she had attended most board meetings and had seen the growth of Mountainside and the progress of the educational

As the mother of three children, all of whom have attended and do attend the Mountainside public school system, her interest lies in the education of all children. She stated that 'with much conviction" she believes "the time is now ripe to make a personal contribution to this organization.

Mrs. Alan Rehbock, also a newcomer seeking a three-year term, stated that as a mother of two children attending Mountainside public schools, her deep concern was centered on the education of the young, and as a substitute teacher in the schools, I also feel I have the time now to devote to working on the board.

Allan W. Dehls, another newcomer seeking three-year term, described his background, education and occupation as fitting him for the job. As the father of five children, all of whom have attended or are attending the public schools, he spoke of his awareness of the need for a good educational system and its continuance.

Dehls dealt with the growth of Mountainside and recalled how, when he first moved into the community, there was 'no Dearfield School or Beechwood School, there was mostly woods in which deer ran wild." He jokingly remarked 'the one thing that was here was Walter

He praised the teachers and the administrative staff and remarked that he was confident both were ever on the lookout for improving whatever was needed in the system. He also said he believed that having older and younger members on the board was desirable and that a cross-section of religious and political background was necessary to make a board progressive.

WALTER H. RUPP, the oldest-in-service incumbent seeking a third-year term, said 'I feel like Bert Parks at the Miss America contest among so many pretty girls." He noted that if one were to believe Dehls, he felt certain the audience would believe they wheeled me over here.

Rupp stated his background and also his interest in education. He noted too, that his three children were products of the public school system.

He recalled that when he moved to the community there were 130 children in the whole school and now 'there are 130 in each class.' On the board since 1959, Rupp said he and his family often wonder why he continues to seek reelection, but, "my interest lies in long-range planning and I am confident, with my background, the community can use me and I can be of use to them,"

Mrs. William Gutman, a newcomer vying for a two-year term, told of her educational and business background which she noted made (Continued on page 3)

U.S. Senator HARRISON A. WILLIAMS Reports

WASHINGTON--Response to my proposal to President Johnson to initiate action toward negotiations on the repatriation of American prisoners in North Vietnam has been gratifying. I wrote President Johnson two weeks ago, after the situation of 700 American servicemen held prisoner was brought poignantly home to me by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. James T.

Egan of Mountainside.

Their son, James Egan, a Marine captain, has been missing and presumed captured for two years. But, for two years they have had no word... no letters, no official confirmation, nothing.

It was my suggestion to the President that we should not allow past rebuffs to stop us from new initiatives aimed at obtaining negotiations on repatriation of these prisoners or, failing that, an exchange of correspondence and pack-

At the same time, I wrote the 34 members of the Senate who have been to Vietnam, seeking their support.

The President replied very quickly, stating he wanted to give the proposal unhurried con-sideration and saying he would be in touch with

The replies from the Senators have been coming in for the past week. And it is evident that many of them had been thinking along the Senator George Aiken: "I agree with you that we ought to explore every avenue available in an effort to get some kind of dialogue going which could lead to peace." Senator Robert Griffin: "I entirely agree that we should endeavor to arrange for repatriation and for an exchange of correspondence, and I shall write the President along these lines, as you suggest." Senator Daniel Inouye: "I shall be happy to be of any assistance in furthering efforts to effect such exchanges and will be pleased to-contact President Johnson to urge such action. Senator Strom Thurmond: "I share your view that everything possible should be done to obtain information about these men and to arrange for transmission of mail and packages. Of course, the best approach would be to win a quick victory in Vietnam. In response to your specific request for my support on this matter, I assure you that you have it. Further, I shall see that the problem is brought up before the Senate Armed Services Committee."

Senator Harry Byrd: "I would certainly be hopeful that our government might be able to bring about an exchange of prisoners. Like you, I hope the President will begin anew efforts for a prisoner repatriation along with a correspondence and package exchange."

Senator Milton Young: "Pete I appreciated your suggestion that I contact the President urging that new efforts be made for prisoner repatriation along with a correspondence and package exchange. I have been doing some work along these lines, and I have been thinking myself of contacting the President, I will be glad to take this up with him.'

The Administrative Assistant to Senator Frank Moss informed me that Senator Moss is, right now, in Vietnam and that my letter has been forwarded to him so that, if the opportunity arises, he might look into the idea while he is there.

A number of other Senators have expressed their support.

The response has been most encouraging and I intend to pursue this idea vigorously, both for its own sake and in hopes that these negotiations might lead to negotiations on other issues.

PROFILE -- Jeff Torborg

It would hardly be an exaggeration to say that Mountainside's claim to fame might well be personified in the person of young Jeff Torborg. At the risk of appearing trite, it must be said this is the hometown boy who made good as catcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jeff, the younger of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Torborg of Westfield, was born in Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield, 26 years ago. He is a native of Westfield, but says with conviction, "Mountainside is my home now-and no matter where I go-- or what the future holds for me -- it shall always be my home." From early childhood, his love of athletics was fostered by his father whom he credits with "whatever I am today, I can thank my father for, because he had the unusual gift of correcting me when I was wrong, while at the same time uplifting me, and praising me in his modest way, when I played well. He sure could pull me down to size, if my head ever started to swell up".

At Westfield High School he played football and basketball, 'but my first love was base-ball, so far as athletics were concerned, but I also had another love - Suzie here." This was Suzie Barber, his high school sweetheart and a beauty contest winner, whom Jeff married the day after he graduated from

New construction approved by board

Martin Brody of New York had his application to erect a new industrial building on his property on Sheffield street, approved by the Mountainside Planning Board on monday night.

The DiFrancisco Corp. on Rt. 22, also had its application for a minor sub-division on Beech avenue approved.

The Western Termite Control Co., on the center isle of Rt. 22, had its application to erect a new building referred to the Board of Adjustment because of the location of the lot. Company representatives argued that the present building was old and worn and a new modern building would improve the appearance of the center isle.

F. F. Mongrello of 1076 Willow rd., whose home is near the Termite company, commented on the possibility of drainage trouble should a new and larger building be erected by the company.

INSURANCE — A SPECIAL KIND OF FAMILY COMFORT

In all our discussions of risks and rates, ages and applications, we frequently lose sight of one thing: insurance against the loss of life's hard-won possessions pushes us well along the road toward the most prized of all creature comforts -- peace of mind,

Just one example: The net worth of most American families has never been greater than it is today. Our houses, and the property inside them, are at peak value, But it is an uncomfortable fact that the insurance coverage on more than half of our homes falls far short of providing adequate protection against total loss or serious damage, Some insurance men say only one-third of our homes have coverage sufficient to guarantee replacement.

Blame inflation. Blame owner indifference, his failure to reappraise his house and its contents every few years. But the fact remains.

Anyone who owns a house today should be able to afford the relatively modest cost of insurance coverage equal to the value of the house and its contents. In recent years, the insurance business has devised new homeowners package policies that protect the homeowner against a broad range of perils.

BENNINGER-TANSEY, your local independent agent-broker can best advise you on the proper homeowners policy to give you not only insurance on your dwelling but also coverage of personal property, personal liability, medical payments and physical damage to the property of others. We can explain all these coverages to you, and the reasons why you undoubtedly need such complete protection.

Unionite promises restitution on worthless check charge

John Ferrante of 1488 Vauxhali rd., Union, arrested last week on a complaint by John Tsakonas, owner of the Satellite Diner, who charged that Ferrante had cashed a worthless check for $500 on the premise that he would do work for Tsakonas, was arraigned last week before Judge Jacob R. Bauer in Mountainside Municipal court, Judge Bauer postponed the case for one week on a promise by the defendant to make restitution.

Bauer also postponed the case of William Cowperthwaite III of North Plainfield, also charged with the passing of a worthless check, for two weeks at the request of the complainant, Ronald Mays, manager of Drewettes Nursery.

Charles De Angelis of 1604 Grouse lane, Mountainside, drew a suspended fine and no court costs on a complaint by Obie L.D. Dunlop of 1592 Grouse lane, who charged De Angelis with permitting his dog to run at large. The judge warned that a second offense would result in severe penalties.

Catholic Church in Springfield belong to this order and have been specially invited.

Sister Joseph Malarky will speak on "Making Christianity Relevant," Sister Joseph is an instruction in the theology department of Seton Hall University and is the only woman in that department. Previously she had taught at the Clinton Street Extension in Newark.

A special feature on the program will be a choir of nuns. Their selections will include popular and folk songs, as well as original songs by Sister Elenita, a member of the choir. After the program, refreshments will be served by Mrs. John Lissy, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Roy Dougherty and Mrs. Lester Luedecker, hostesses for the evening. This is the second consecutive year the Benedictine nuns and the Holy Cross Ladies' Guild have met together. Interested women of the community are invited to attend, according to a church spokesman.

Two drivers receive 3-month suspensions

Drivers' licenses of two Mountainside residents have been suspended for three-month periods under the state's point system, according to the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

They were John H. Johnson, 48, of 362 Durby lane, and John A. Fusco Jr., 20, of 222 Central ave. Both suspensions went into effect Jan. 20, the division announced.

Candidates

her feel she was competent to serve on the board.

However, Mrs. Gutman dealt mostly with her childhood: "I came from a home where we learned early not only the love for each other, but the true meaning of the brotherhood of man.

"Out of the love for my own children has come a deep love for all children. I understand them and I can communicate with them and the demands and needs of my own three children, are the demands and needs of all children. As a businesswoman, and as a parent, I believe I have much to give all children and all parents, especially in the field of education which is so important.

"I believe the chief concern of most parents today is that their children should be adequately prepared to stand as productive individuals in the world of their future, because the quality of the education our children receive today will directly determine the length and strength of that productivity," she added.

MRS. GLORIA S. JOHNSON, incumbent appointed last July to replace Mrs. Mary Rosenquest, said her reason for seeking reelection was "my keen interest in education, and even more so since my own three children entered the Mountainside school system."

She said that when she was appointed to the board, Mrs. Rosenquest had emphasized that a member should listen only for the first

"Therefore, "she went on to say, "I believe I have learned much, and am now getting to the point in service where I can make a real contribution." She repeated that a position on the board took a vast amount of time and incurred a tremendous responsibility which she has attempted to live up to. She pledged, should she be reelected, she would continue to carry out the task "to the best of my ability."

DONALD L. JEKA, an incumbent who was appointed last summer to replace Richard Krebs and who is seeking a three-year term. was unable to attend because of a business trip to Ohio. However, his statement was read to the audience by Seager. Jeka said, in part. "In all our considerations as parents and as board members the children come first. There is no question that good teachers make an immeasurable contribution, that instructional materials and facilities. and administrative staff all add to the excellence of the overall educational system. But, in the final analysis, the important thing is how all parts of the system relate to the students themselves.

"After serving on the board for several months I decided to run for reelection when the time came," he added, "because educational systems are complex and one in a small community like Mountainside is no exception, so continuity plays an important part in a board members' effectiveness." He concluded his letter with the comment that he and his wife had chosen Mountainside because of the "community's reputation for its educational system."

Jeka, the father of two children who attend

Mountainside public schools, added that he felt it was "very encouraging to see dedicated people taking an interest in school matters. This includes the entire list of candidates, all of the people who have attended the public meetings and those who have commented through various other media. With this level of interest, "you can be assured that your children will be the major benefactors."

Robert Britton, president of the board

Robert Britton, president of the board, congratulated the candidates and told the more than 100 residents and teachers in the audience that with such candidates no one had any reason to fear for the future of the Mountainside School system.

Questions from the audience concerned such matters as the teaching of foreign languages at the grade school level, busing, attitudes of cooperation with parochial and private schools in the matters of dual enrollment and remedial reading, what each candidate would devote himself to specifically, the concentration or development of the more gift-which means "Suzie and me," he explains, "because we do everything together—sign contracts and one never goes anywhere without the other—we are one and the same person." He goes on to tell of how he convinced his wife's mother that Suzie should transfer from St. Lawrence College in Canton, N.Y., to Douglass—"so she and I could be nearer to each other."

Their joint effort was successful and Mrs. Torborg was graduated from Douglass with a B.A. in history in 1963, the same year Torborg was graduated from Rutgers with a B.S. in physical education. "My minors were history and English, because one never knows his true chances in the field of physical education."

IN HIS SENIOR YEAR at Rutgers he was named all-American and broke the national college record with a batting average of 537. Then came the offers from more than 18 baseball clubs. From a small town boy who played Little League, Pony League and American Legion baseball, a splendid athletic record in high school and a breaker of records in college, it would seem incongruous to imagine that he would be surprised.

Despite his belief in his ability, his determination to do whatever he had to do to attain success in the field, he consulted Suzie as to what he should do. "Finally," he says, "we decided I would sign with the Dodgers. I had always been a Giant fan, and my dad liked the Mets, but we decided to accept the Dodger offer."

He was sent to the Dodger "farm" in Alburquerque for three months and then to the AA Texas League for a three-month course at Mesa. Arizona.

"The following spring we joined the Los Angeles Dodgers, the big club, that is. We made the ball club and we are now going into our fifth season."

Jeff has been the second catcher with the Dodgers, and when Johnny Roseboro was recently traded to the Minnesota Twins, he was named number one catcher. During this reporter's interview, the general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers called to inform Jeff he had turned down a deal from other ball clubs for a top catcher because he is firmly convinced Torborg is the man for the job.

Suzie broke in at this point to say that Jeff is entirely too modest and is a perfectionist.

ed children, the concentration on "behavioral problem children," reaction to changes in membership of the board and the feelings of candidates on interchange programs and closer contact with surrounding community school systems.

All candidates, in the main, agreed the entire field offered room for experimentation and study and, while some suggestions had been tried but had proven unsuccessful, "that does not mean any member will give up seeking an answer."

"He is never satisfied and keeps striving and striving—and is very harsh on himself. Didn't he catch Sandy Koufax perfect game in 1965?" She maintains this will be her husband's best year in baseball. When asked if she was ever fearful her husband would get hurt in the game, she replied that she had such confidence in his ability she did not worry, and, "anyway, every job has some occupational hazards."

Suzie and Jeff have two boys, Douglas Todd,
3, and Gregory Scott, three months, and "don't forget Sugar, our five-month-old, 60-pound golden retriever—he is a member of this family." And a family, in every sense of the word they are. Their home, perched upon a hill at 1375 Chapel Hill, reflects the type of "home people", that Jeff says they are. Jeff likes to work around the house and yard and says traveling (always with his wife, children and Sugar) is not so bad "when I have this home to come back to."

ASKED ABOUT his future, he says he feels he has at least six more good years in baseball, but in the meantime is enrolled in a real estate course at Rutgers "where I will be soon getting my state license, and at which I can work in my off-seasons," He recently spoke, on WNBC on the Bill Mazur athlete's interview show, and he is thinking seriously of perhaps, one day, having such a show of his own on radio or TV.

Asked what advice he would give to youngsters wanting a career in baseball this 6foot-1-inch, handsome young man who looks like a kid himself, said, "I would say to all kids--play-play-play, and play as hard as you can.

''As you move on, and are still interested—go to college. Four years in college will mature you physically and more important, psychologically. With a college education, the game is made easier, for one knows baseball is a short span and one's life does not depend on baseball alone.

"Hard work is the answer, because one must be willing to spend years in the minor leagues, if necessary, and if he really wants to 'make it.' It is tough to get in the big leagues and yet, with the proper preparation, work and stick-to-itiveness, it can be done."

Newark State College plans rise in enrollment ministrators at Newark State College, Union, will develop a master plan for the college that will enable it to double its enrollment to 6,400 undergraduate day students within five years and to accommodate an enrollment of 10,000 or more in subsequent years, President Eugene G. Wilkins announced today.

Entitled the Committee on Institutional Planning, it will provide for the expansion of the college in terms of construction and program. 'Newark State is becoming a liberal arts college and is no longer limited to teacher education," Dr. Wilkins said, "Although we continue to maintain a strong teacher education program, strength is being developed in other areas also." The committee will consider both liberal arts and teacher education as it reviews the use of present facilities. plans for new construction and land acquisition and draws a new map of the college.

The committee consists of three members elected by the faculty and four ex officio mem-

G. Arnold, professor of science; Dr. Nathan Weiss, chairman of the Department of History and Social Science, and Dr. Vance B. Snyder, professor of industrail arts.

EX OFFICIO MEMBERS are Dr. Dorothy Grant, chairman of the faculty senate curriculum committee; John Wesper, coordinator of construction and utilization: Dr. Richard J. Nichols, assistant to the President, and Dr. Jane E. Cimmane, chairman of the senate planning and development committee.

The committee, which will be responsible to Dr. Wilkins, will work with Alfred W. Wensley, state architect for the Office of Architecture, Engineering and Construction in Trenton, and a planning board member of the State Department of Higher Education, The architectural firm of Scrimenti, Swackhammer, and Perantoni of Somerville, which has designed al Newark State buildings, and the firm of Guy Panero, Inc , of New York City.

Pedestrians lead county road toll

Ewenty-one pedestrians were killed in Union County last year. This is more than the total number of traffic fatalities involving drivers and passengers.

In its tentative annual report the New Jersey State Safety Council noted that of all the traffic fatalities in the state last year, pedestrian fatalities accounted for 28 percent of Seventeen drivers were killed in the county during 1967; five passengers in motor vehicles, and no bievelists.

The report also said that 31 males were killed as against 12 females. Twenty-five of the 43 traffic fatalities in the county occurred at night, the report said.

Linden ranked first in traffic fatalities with 16, five more than Elizabeth, Traffic fatalities in other communities included Kenilworth, none; Mountainside, two; Roselle, none; Roselle Park, three; Springfield, four, and Union, 9, third in the county,

The report also said that Union County ranked 15th on the list of traffic fatalities by counties for 1967. Essex County is first.

COUNTY JAIL

The Union County Jail is located at the rear of the Court House in Elizabeth, It generally houses approximately 200 or more inmates who are either serving short term Magistrate's Court sentences, or waiting for trial or transfer to state prisons.

Nine out of 10 register for medicare insurance

A number of older people in the Union-Somerset County area will be getting letters this week, reminding them that they have only until April 1 to enroll for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare.

More than nine out of 10 of those 65 and over have already applied for the supplementary doctor bill insurance, Ralph W. Jones, social security district manager, said this week. They do not need to take any action.

Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security, is sending letters to those who are signed up for only the hospital insurance, His letter tells them that they have only about two and half months more in which to enroll in the supplementary program that covers doctor bills and a wide variety of other medical expenses in and out of the hospital.

Since the medicare program started only 18 months ago, the Commissioner notes in his letter, the doctor bill insurance part of the program has helped pay over 28 million medical bills, totaling almost $1,3 billion,

Practically everyone over 65 is eligible for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare, Jones pointed out, whether or not they have ever worked under social security, and whether retired or still working. Almost 18 million older people -- 92 percent of all those 65 and over--are enrolled for the supplementary program.

ABOUT 1.6 MILLION persons failed to en-roll on their first chance. The Social Security Administration has current addresses for 1.1 million of them and these are the persons who will be receiving the letter from Commissioner Ball this week.

Jones urged older persons in the area served by the Elizabeth Social Security Office who are not signed up for the doctor bill insurance under medicare to get in touch with the office if they do not receive a letter from Commissioner Ball within a week or so.

In his letter the Social Security Commissioner lists eight reasons that older people without the supplementary doctor bill insurance need to consider. He also encloses a leaflet explaining the medical insurance benefits and an enrollment card to be sent back showing whether or not the person wants the protection. As reasons for signing up now, the Commissioner cites: That the $4 premium rate represents an excellent buy because it represents only half the cost of the protection. The Government pays the other half.

It may not be possible to obtain the basic coverage any other way. For the most part, Blue Cross-Blue Shield and the commercial insurance companies have rewritten their policies for people 65 and over to supplement medicare.

The 1967 changes in the law make it easier to collect medical insurance benefits.

There are a number of improvements in medical insurance benefits, for example, the payment of the full reasonable charges for x= ray or laboratory services furnished to a bestpatient in a hospital and coverage of physical therapy services at home or elsewhere, The increase of 13 percent in social security benefits, recently enacted by Congress, will in most cases be more than enough to cover a social security beneficiary's half of the premium=-and to increas is monthly check.

Beginning in April, consequent discontinuous and outpatient hospital benefits will be paid only under the medical insurance part of medicare. To have outpatient hospital coverage, therefore, the older person must be signed up for the medical insurance program, The protection will cost more later on, The premium is 10 percent higher for each year that has passed since the older person's first opportunity to enroll,

People over 65 and still not signed up for the supplementary medical insurance by April cannot get the protection until July 1, 1969, A delay of more than three years after the person's first opportunity to enroll means that he will not be able to get the protection at

UC.s observatory joins lunar occultation viewers

The Sperry Observatory on the Union College campus in Cranford, has been designated an official station for lunar occultation observations by the Royal Greenwich Observatory, Sussex. England, it was announced this week by Anthony Paone of Westfield, observatory

The lunar occultation observation program is headed by Edward Pearson of Westfield, secretary of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., which operates the Sperry Observatory jointly with Union College.

Royal Greenwich Observatory has provided the Sperry Observatory with a list of visible lunar occultations throughout 1968. This list includes the expected time of occultation in hours and minutes, universal time, the number of the star in the Zodiacal Catalogue, magnitude of the star, elongation of the star measured eastwards from the sun, position angle of occultation measured from the north point of the moon through east, and position angle of center of the bright limb measured from the north point of the moon through east, Flora McBain Sadler of the Royal Greenwich Observatory said the new lists being provided in 1968 contain about twice as many predictions as the previous lists, as it has been extended to cover all Z.C. (Zodiacal

Pearson said an occultation is caused by the moon passing in front of a star. The disappearance or reappearance of a star light from behind the moon can be timed exactly.

"The precise timing of such an event is useful in astronomical computations," Pearson said. "It is necessary that the observer know his location on earth, exact to within 100 feet in latitude and longitude, and to within 50 feet of elevation above sea level. The timing then has to be correct to within one second and one-tenth of a second is even more desirable.

Pearson said most such timings are made by amateur astronomers, and the Royal Observatory at Greenwich, England, is the headquarters to which the information is sent.

The values are used in computations to refine our knowledge of the moon's orbit, Pearson explained.

The AAI official said about 25 "events" occur each month, but "in New Jersey weather we will be lucky to get one-quarter to one-half of the possible timings."

Marine program open to seniors

The Marine Corps Recruiting Office at 5 Points in Union announced this week that high school seniors will be afforded the opportunity to enlist in the U.S. Marine Corps' 120-day delay program.

This program enables a high school senior to enlist in the Marine Corps while still in school. Upon graduation he may leave for active duty on the day of his choice providing it is within 120 days of the date he enlisted, Sgt. George Reilly said.

"Other advantages of the program are that the 120 days delay in going on active duty will be credited towards the completion of total military service obligation. Also the 120 day period is credited for purposes of pay and promotion. This delay provides ample time for arranging personal affairs before reporting for active duty. By taking advantage of the program the young man immediately becomes exempt from call by the selective service," Sgt. Reilly said.

Anyone desiring further information on the 120 day delay program or other Marine Corps programs may contact Sgt. Reilly at the re-cruiting office, or call 687-8424.

Indian schoolman to tour UC Monday

Prithivi Chauhan, assistant director of education in the Indian state of Gorkahpur, Utter Pradesh, will visit Union College on Monday to tour the campus to review the science programs and to discuss the twoyear college concept in the United States.

Chauhan is one of 300 foreign educators in the United States at the invitation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, His visit to Union College was arranged by the Westfield public school system where he is visiting for a six-week period.

A specialist in science education, Chauhan's state educates 13 million children.

Chauhan will visit Union College's new $1 million Science Building, which contains a Computer Center, Student Research Center, five science laboratories, Science Resource Center, greenhouse, classrooms, and faculty offices. He also will tour the physics and chemistry laboratories in the Nomahegan Building, and the Sperry Observatory, which contains two major telescopes.

Prof. John J. Siburn of Westfield, chairman of Union College's Biology Department, will be Chauhan's host for his visit to the Union College campus.

EARLY UNION COUNTY

Names came naturally to Union County communities and most of the original ones are still around. Almost all of what is now Union County was at one time part of Elizabethtown, but through the years the various sections incorporated on their own and subdivided into growing settlements. Springfield was the first town to separate from Elizabethtown in 1793. Soon after that, Berkeley Heights as incorporated as an annexation of Springfield. The first name of the town was Turkey, due to the prevalence of wild nurkeys in the region.

Church ladies plan Middle East talk by Mrs. Hourani

Mrs. Joseph T. Hourant, wife of the assistant minister of the Springfield Presbyterian Church, will be the guest speaker at the February meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society scheduled Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian Parish House.

Mrs. Hourani will speak on the work of the church in the Middle East, where she was a fraternal worker prior to her marriage. She is a graduate of Biblical Seminary in New York City and has been active in the woman's work of the church.

Before going to the Middle East, Mrs. Hourani worked with migrant workers in the state of Colorado. In Iran, she served as a teacher and evangelist, and in Syria and Lebanon she worked with the women's church associations of those countries. While in Beirut, she organized the World Day of Prayer Committee composed of representatives of all the Christian denominations in Beirut, This organization is still functioning in the work of the church.

Mrs. Frank H. Sanders, president of the society, will preside at the business portion of the meeting during which preliminary plans will be presented for the 26th annual antiques show which the society will hold in March.

Benninger Tansey Agency came up with a new high team game mark for the season, 1133, as Art Hays rolled a 234 and teammate Al Savonis a 244. Art went on to post a 610 series for the night. The insurance men took a pair in their match with the Mountainside Deli in Mountainside Men's at Echo Lanes. Another individual effort was notched by Bart Masella of Mountainside Luncheonette who led his team to a sweep victory over Chrones Tavern by rolling a 631 series that included games of 235 and 219. Teammate

Jack Brown chipped in with a 223.
In other matches, Owens Flying A Service swept Westfield National Bank with Bill Grabinski's 207 and Bud Clevenger's 203 high for the winners. League-leading Mountainside Heating and Plumbing took a pair from Villani Lift Truck Service, behind John Karmazyn's 212, while Joe Halbsgut's 208 averted a sweep. Bob Egidio's 206 led Satellite Diner to a twoply triumph over Bliwise Liquors, with Ernie Schwarte rolling a 200 for the losers. Bob Savastano's 203 enabled Air Con Inc. to take two from Fugmann Fuel Oil while Mountainside PBA and Wilhelms Construction took a pair from Drewettes Nursery and Mountainside Drug. Fred Buschman had a 210 game for the pharmacists and Frank Stonka shot a 202 for the Nurserymen.

Standing of the teams are: Mountainside Plumbing and Heating, 49; Air Con Inc., 43; Westfield National Bank, 43; Satellite Diner, 43; Owens Flying A Service, 41; Mountain-side Luncheonette, 39.5; Bliwise Liquors, 37; Mountainside Deli, 36; Fugmann Fuel Oil, 36; Chrones Tavern, 35,5; Wilhelms Construction, 35; Benninger Tansey Agency, 32,5; Mountainside Drug, 32; Villani Life Truck Service, 28; Drewettes Nursery, 27.5; Mountainside

Regional presents 'West Side Story'

"West Side Story," a Broadway musical by Leonard Bernstein and Stephen Sondheim, will be presented by the music department of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, at the school on Feb. 29 and March 1 and 2, Albert Dorhout, vocal music director, announced this week.

The production will be directed by Mrs. Carol Forsman, who is also the choreographer, and Dorhout will be the musical director.

Kathy Sullivan will portray Maria; Tom Groceman, Tony; Al Rodes, Riff, Michael Spring, Bernardo, and Nina Piazzola, Anita. According to a spokesman for the group, because a sell-out is expected on Friday and Saturday evenings, tickets will be available from any cast or committee member on a reserved seat basis only. Seating for the Thursday performance will be open.

Dates announced for variety show

Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church will present its parish variety show on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 26 and 27, in the parish auditorium, with a matinee for the children on the preceding Sunday afternoon, April 21.

Rehearsals will be held on Tuesday and Friday evenings, starting next week, in the

The show is open to all members of the parish. Men and women will be starting on the work of stage, scenery and costumes within the next week. An administrative meeting will be held Tuesday evening in the Rectory basement meeting room to form the advertisement, patron and ticket committees. Michael Klucewicz has been named the director of the show, and the Rev. Gerard B. Whelan, assistant pastor producer.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "My problem is "no boyfriends." I am a senior in high school. I have many friends, both boys and girls, I am told that I am a sweet girl with a sparkling personality that will get me many boyfriends. But, when? The boys around my school and town want girls who like to go parking on every date. That's one reason I have no dates. Second, I'm a girl who loves to dance and participate in sports. The third reason boys don't like me, I guess, is that I'm crazy. Well, not actually, but I love to cause fun, to make people happy. I'm an averagi-built girl, not too skinny, not too fat. I'm of average height, and weight. I have red hair and blue eyes. But, even these qualities don't attract boys. At dances, I go wild. When I dance, I really dance. No messing around for me. But, boys don't jump at the chance to dance with me. What should I do? I'm not always wild as I say. Some of the time I try to act sweet and innocent. But, nothing seems to work.' OUR REPLY: Boys in your school and town aren't different from boys everywhere. Girls who park on every date are popular--but seldom popular with the same boy for an extended period of time. Participating in sports is no handicap to a girl, if she remains charming and ferminine. Perhaps the fact that you "go wild" on the dance floor turns away boy, who de not wish to attract so much attention, Relax.

are starred. The Art mana, count in announced that no one under 15 years of as c will be admitted.

`The Graduate $^\prime$ set for Millburn

Mike Nichols' "The Graduate," will begin an exclusive New Jersey engagement, Wednesday at the New Millburn Cinema in Millburn, an RKO Stanley Warner Theater, Division of Glen Alden Corporation,

A recipient of the New York Film Critics Best Director of the Year award (Nichols), "The Graduate," was filmed in Technicolor, from a screenplay by Calder Willingham and Buck

Oscar-winner Anne Bancroft and DustinHoffman, who has been hailed as the brightest new screen personality of the year, have leading roles in the movie, which concerns a young man, fresh out of college, who stumbles into life through the helpful advances from a woman --- his senior. "The Graduate" also covers ideas concerning the "youth scene," today's affluent society, the world of those who have an opportunity get a good education, but don't know why; and the "restless woman" with an acquistive instinct for love and life.

Ormont picture in second week

John Lennon's first film without the rest of the Beatles -- and the rest of his hair, casts him as a complex soldier in a role that is alternately comic and tragic in "How I Won the War," which is being held over for a second week at the Ormont Theater, East Orange. Lennon co-stars with Michael Crawford in Richard Lester's controversial anti-war film in color, which was based on Patrick Ryan's best-selling novel.

Lennon, who has proved himself a versatile fellow, has had published two books, a collection of his drawings and he has written (in collaboration with another Beatle, Paul Mc-Cartney) most of the songs in the Beatles'

Kathryn Crosby to star in play at Meadowbrook

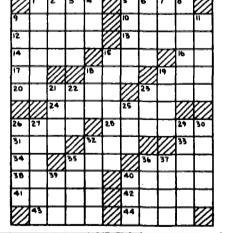

Kathryn Crosby (Bing's wife) will star in 'Finian's Rainbow,' which opens Thursday, Feb. 8 at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theater, Cedar Grove.

The musical, once a Broadway hit, concerns an Irishman and his daughter, who have come from Glocca Morra to settle in Rainbow Valley, Missitucky to bury a pot of gold.

LINDEN FARMS As late as 1890, Linden was still an area of truck farms, and Rahway was still known principally for its carriages. Then, within two decades, the area dramatically switched to

Taylor and Burton star in 'Comedians'

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton are costarred again -- this time in "The Comedians," Graham Greene's film version of his own novel, currently on screen at the Bellevue

Theater, Upper Montclair, The Burtons head an ail-star cast including Alec Guinness, Peter Ustinov, Paul Ford and Lillian Gish,

-Thursday, February 1, 1968-

The picture, which concerns a group of peo-ple who come to Haiti despite the danger of its revolution-torn regime, and who find themselves drawn into the vortex of government intrigue, was filmed in Panavision and Metrocolor by producer Peter Glenville.

New Jersey Community Affairs Commissioner Paul N. Ylvisaker this week announced the opening of recruitment for the department's 1968 summer government intern pro-

The program, known as Interns in Community Service, is designed to attract qualified undergraduate and graduate students to careers in government or public affairs, it hires interns at regular Civil Service rates for jobs in municipal, county and state governments, in local community action (antipoverty) organizations and in some private agencies

Ylvisaker saidthis summer's program would parallel the pilot intern program launched by the department during the summer of 1967. That project, which Ylvisaker hailed as an "outstanding success," was the first of its kind in the country. He said its success prompted the department to experiment with a limited version during the current academic year and to continue the summer phase.

The deadline for submitting applications for this summer's program is March I. Selections will be announced in April.

Emil Oxfeld, president of the American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey, announced this week the convening of 'the first state wide conference of the New Jersey civil liberties bar."

Attorneys throughout the state have been invited to attend a one day conference entitled 'The Practice of Civil Liberties Law" on Saturday at the Rutgers Law School in Newark. Oxfeld called the conference

'a major effort to create an active civil liberties bar in New Jersey."

The conference will discuss "Police Lawlessness and Judicial Remedies", "Civil Li-berties of the Poor," "The First Amendment - Affirma-tive Litigation," "Frontier Issues in the Criminal Law,' "Housing Discrimination in New Jersey," "The Litigation of Church - State Issues," and "Civil Liberties, the Mil-Pianist Everlyne Crochet itary and Selective Service."
Speakers at the conference include Rutgers law school Professor Arthur Kinoy, Long Island Professor Leo Pfeffer and Newark Attorney Morton Stavis.

Camp Endeavor reports deficit, appeals for funds

William C. Haddon of Roselle was reelected a director of Camp Endeavor, Inc., at the annual corporation meeting in Fanwood Presbyterian Church, Officers elected were Forrest E. Reifsneider of Plainfield, president; Frederik J. Bakker of Plainfield, vice president; Donald McDougall of Westfield, treasurer, and Miss Josephine L. Ten Eyck of North Plainfield, secretary.

The treasurer reported a deficit, He said,

"Since 1911 Camp Endeavor has provided happy, healthy outdoor vacations for over 20,000 deserving youngsters. This past summer, owing to the need of capital improvements, the camp showed a $3,000 deficit. To continue to provide vacations during the hot days of July and August 1968, the need to thaw out some frozen assets is essential and the corporation must extend an appeal for help.

"Just as Camp Endeavor adopts 400 youngsters each summer, we need sponsors to adopt Camp Endeavor and lend financial aid. The cost of providing one youngster 10 happy days averages out to just under $50. But no contribution is too small -- or too large."

Those interested in helping were asked to get in touch with Forrest Reifsneider, president, 1329 Belleview ave., Plainfield, 07060, telephone, 756-1142.

`To Grandfather's House We Go---'

Devlin's Americana paintings on exhibit

This book can help young people become architectural detectives, as it will give them all the clues," the author said. "They will be able to distinguish between Gothic and Greek revival and other major forms."

NEW JERSEY IS "at the architectural crossroads of the United States," Devlin pointed out. The state has experienced just about every style of house building this country has ever known except for some specific regional styles such as Spanish Mission.

This happened because New Jersey is located between New York City and Phila-delphia," Devlin said, "The influences of the north came down through New York and the influences of the south came up through Philadelphia, making New Jersey a repository of virtually every style of architecture."

Although "To Grandfather's House We Go" was intended for children, it has been just as popular with adults, Devlin said.

The whole idea for this book was in my mind since I was a student at Syracuse back in the late '30's," Devlin said, "I first noticed the great variety in the architecture of houses in my trips from New Jersey to Syracuse. I asked questions about them and could get no asswers " get no answers.

Devlin began work in earnest on the book about two-and-a-half years ago.

Although the book deals in some Colonial and post-Colonial architecture, its emphasis is on the 19th Century Victorian era of archi-

One of the houses included in the book was brought to Devlin's attention by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union College. It was built in 1865 by the town's postmaster.

Most of the houses included in the book are or were located in New Jersey, There also are examples from Pennsylvania and New York City, Homes from the following New Jersey communities are included: Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Summit, and Berkeley Heights in Union County; Hackettstown in Warren County; Princeton in Mercer County; Cape May in Cape May County; Alloway in Salem County; Convent Station and Morris-town in Morris County; Millburn and Newark in Essex County; Bernardsville, Jockey Hollow and South Branch in Somerset County.
