Budget approved; referendum is set

Voters in the Regional High School District on Tuesday approved the regional high school budger of $5,746,934 for the coming school year by a margin of 697 votes to 466. The vote in Mountainside was 109 to 23 in favor of the budget. The capital expenditure budget of $98,133 was also approved, 675 to 480, with a local vote of 107 to 24.

Woman's Club lists responses elicited

As a result of an item in the Jan. 25 edition of the Echo regarding rumors circulating throughout the borough that a possible move was afoot to recall letter carriers to work directly from the Westfield Post Office, of which the Mountainside office is a branch, the following statement was received this week from a spokesman of the Mountainside Woman's Club:

"Members of the Mountainside Woman's Club, in a house-to-house canvass of their petition to improve postal conditions in Mountainside have found a great interest in their community improvement program, Residents have expressed a desire and need for better postal

"More than 100 business firms contacted signed without hesitation, and 746 residents contacted signed eagerly. The majority stated they would not sign if this would affect the mailman serving them as they were com-pletely satisfied but were very anxious for more expedient mail service.

'Mrs. M. E. Lemmerhirt, a chairman, stated that almost every week she receives a telephone call from a resident asking when a member will canvass a particular street and urging the club to continue with the effort until enough signatures are obtained.

'One caller stated there had been no mail delivery on her street for two days during the recent snow-fall, another that it took five days for a letter to reach her home from New York City. Yet another said that fruit spoiled in the post office waiting to be delivered in Mountain-side. Most recently, one reported that for three consecutive days there were no one-cent stamps available in the Mountainside Post

"It is the desire of the club to improve postal services in Mountainside not to create ill feelings. We are a growing community and feel the need and desire to become independent and have our own post office with first class service."

On a day in November, 1934, a cross-section of interested and forward-looking residents sat down together and as a result of their work and effort, a fount of knowledge, known as the Mountainside Public Library, came into being. All things being equal, what that library has become, and what it may become in the years ahead, will forever stand as a memorial to those dedicated first members.

Those original members were Mayor R. Davidson, Rev. J. Lady, pastor of the Mountainside Chapel, who acted as chairman; Mrs. R. Hutchinson, president of the PTA named vice-chairman, Miss M. E. Johnston, principal of the Mountainside School, second vice-chairman; Miss F. Martin, a teacher, named secretary; C. Murphy, treasurer; Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Mrs. A. E. Van Doren, Mrs. J. M. Pfeuffer, Mrs. H. C. Weber, secretary of the PTA, and Miss Myrtle Long, who was elected clerk. They knew little of how to go about erecting a library for Mountainside.

The first thing we did was to write a letter to the State Library Commission and a Miss Sara Askew, a representative, came to inform (Continued on page 3)

A Civic and Social Club Information Bureau has been established by the Union County Heart Association to give assistance and sanction to organizations wishing to sponsor events to benefit the heart

According to Mrs. Henrietta Froehlich, director of the Union County Heart Association, the bureau has been established "in response to numerous requests from organizations seeking to hold benefit affairs.' 'We are pleased by the great number of people who want to actively help stamp out the nation's number one killer," Mrs. Froehlich said, but scheduling and sanction is extremely important. We would not want to see the annual organized fund raising effort upset by an ill-timed event scheduled by a well-meaning group. The newly - established bureau will offer assistance and full information. Further details may be obtained by contacting the Union County Heart Association at 353-7391.

From a recent front page article in the Echo, I understand that a proposal has been made to transfer the carriers in the Mountainside Post Office to the Westfield Office. Are you serious?

It now seems a long time ago when I was one of those who petitioned our Congressman for a separate post office in Mountainside. The reason? Excessively poor service out of Westfield. Of course, we did not get what we wanted, which was a separate post office, but, at least we did get a decided improvement, it does not seem possible that anyone, for any reason, would not suggest anything so detrimental to Mountainside as the proposal you indicate is being made.

Please do not misunderstand me, There are some improvements which might be made in the service out of the Mountainside post office. However, they will never be brought about by a transfer of any function back to Westfield. They might be accomplished if Mountainside were free to make its own decisions. Has anyone bothered to measure the increase in "route area," not just population Flood will dive in meet Sunday at Seton Hall

John I lood, a Mountainside student at Seton Hall Prep, South Orange, will be one of the divers representing the Pony Pirates at the 17th annual Metropolitan Interscholastic swimming championships, which will be held at the Seton Hall pool next Sunday.

A three-way battle for the team title among defending Seton Hall Prep, Brooklyn Prep and St. Francis Prep of Brooklyn is expected in the meet in which 23 schools and 275 swimmers will compete. The meet will also provide a tuneup for the National Catholic Interscholastics, which will be held the following week at Villanova University.

us on how to go about it The first meeting was held on Dec. v. 1734, at Borough Hall, and a membership plun was formulated in which we planned a 25 cent fee was to be charged each member. Books were begged and borrowed from residents, C. Rinker built shelves, obtained from the Westfield Thrift shop for $15, Henry Weber transported materials and thus we began--with shelves and books in our small quarters at Borough Hall. The state came to our aid again and sent a representative to teach Myrtle Long how to sort and charge out the books. Myrtle was paid a small sum for her work by the WPA. Our first finances came from the 25 cent membership fee, the chow mein dinners given by Solomon Green, and the one-dollar

SOON WE WERE ABLE to purchase an encyclopedia and books from the court house in Elizabeth for 60 cents each, and we were getting too big for the small space we had at Borough Hall. In February of 1936, we moved from the Borough Hall to the fourth grade room at Echobrook School which had been made available by the completion of a new school, More dinners were held, and we joined the Book of the Month Club.

In February, 1937, we appealed to the Mayor and Council for funds and were granted $100. The Board of Education contributed $50. In May of that year the Mountainside Library was incorporated and by-laws were drawn up. For the first time we were able to start a checking account, subscribe to the traveling library which circulated books each month, buy more fiction books for 10 cents each, purchase stationery and even buy a filing cabinet. By October of 1938, Miss K. Stolarz from the WPA was installed as the new librarian. April, 1940, saw us with a 12-member board of trustees, Mrs. McFeely made new librarian, a donation of $300 from the borough, proceeds coming in from card parties, a donation of 200 books by Henry Bourn and NYA girls helping us in the library.

Progress continued, and in May of 1941 we installed as the first librarian to be paid by the borough, a Mrs. Lyding. That month we also moved to the basement of the Echobrook School, where we remained until the completion of the new library across Rt. 22. A sign was erected on the edge of the grounds, and members of the library board organized the Mountainside Community Chest, naming T. Mundy, as chairman.

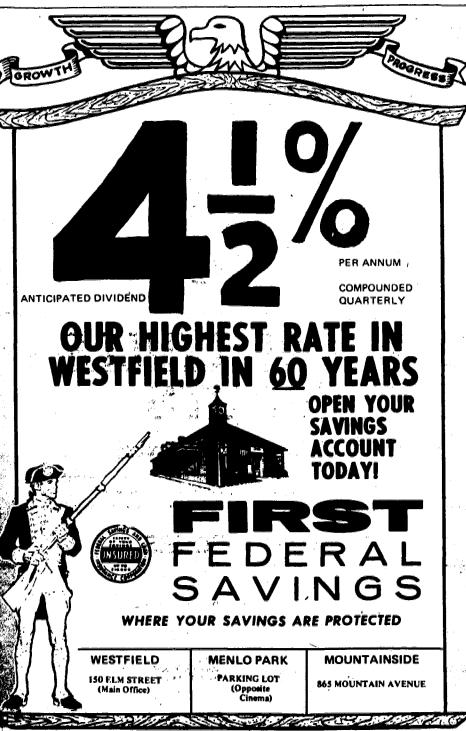

In 1942, upon the death of Mrs. Lyding, Mrs. Hansen was named temporary chairman. She initiated the holding of story hours and doll shows for the girls and hobby shows for the boys. It was now war-time, and the librarian applied for ration books for gas in order to transport books. We participated in the War drive and took out insurance coverage for fire and workmen's compensation, Our annual circulation grew to more than 2,000

In 1945, the number of board members had to be reduced to nine because of the revisions made in the law and constitution, and new members were charged a two-dollar fee. That year also saw N. Wooley named the first Borough Council representative to the board of trustees, and contributions were in the amount of $600 from the Borough Council, We were now able to donate $25 to the pageant celebrating the 50th anniversary of Mountain-

Mrs, Elmer Hoffarth was appointed acting librarian until the appointment of Mrs. L. Jennings in 1946. We gave cultural programs and engaged speakers for lectures and were able to buy a typewriter and catalogue files. Our circulation that year rose to more than April, 1949, saw Mrs. Hoffarth appointed librarian, and Mrs. V. Kirk, her assistant. More and more books were bought that year, and a work room was obtained enabling work-ers to catalogue the books more easily. Volunteer and part-time help was acquired and tables and chairs were placed around for the use of students.

Ward of Kenilworth, acknowledged receipt of the League's proposal, but declined comment on its suggestions until the entire document can be studied carefully.

He declared, "This has been passed out to our board members, architect and engineers. We appreciate their recommendations, resulting from their study in depth.

'Our board would want to assure the League of Women Voters that we will give their recommendations our fullest consideration. This is not something we would pass off lightly. We want to give it fullest consideration before we make any comments.

The League's suggestions arose from a study of the regional district conducted jointly by the Springfield League and the Berkeley Heights League of Women Voters, the only two LWV units within the district.

The two groups were unable to agree on all phases of the report, however, and a large portion, including the suggestion for the transfer of Mountainside students to Brearley Regional, was endorsed only by the Springfield

In a couple of weeks he'll be 66. His birthdate is February 27. He was chatting the other day about his years as profes-sional golfing champion. In particular, he was comparing pros who earn their living through golf and those who earn it through other sports, but play golf in off-season and consider themselves as good as Arnold

Gene Sarazen, who turned pro in 1920 and won the U. S. Open twice, the British Open and the Masters once each, and the Professional Golfers Association title three times, considered Sammy Byrd, former outfielder of the New York Yankees the best baseball or football player who played golf.

"Most of the hardhitters like Babe Ruth try to kill the ball," he said, "The Babe could whack the ball a mile, but he never knew where it was going.

"Golfing is a game in which rhythm is everything," he said.

He mentioned players such as Carl Yastrzemski who like Babe Ruth can hit the daylights out of the ball. Yastrzemski plays 54 holes a day and will soon become a good golfer, a 75 to 80 player, Sarazen predicted. Other athletes who don't hit with the palm of their hand as golfers do, are Mike Souchak who is all shoulders and Ellsworth Vines who is all wrist.

"The greatest problem with a football or baseball player is that they can't alter their playing styles."

Thank God we don't live in a world where the Science of Genetics chooses our mates, If the children love each other, let them marry, and modern medicine will take care of any diabetic problems that might develop.

I have been going with this 33 year old man for 2 years. He says that he doesn't want to marry because he was married for 10 years and his wife stepped out on him and so he couldn't take that chance again. He says that he does care a lot about me but that is it.

Incidentally, I'm 26.
I would like to know if he loves me or not, I love him and I want to marry him, Is there anyway to get him to marry me?

No right-thinking woman of 26 wants to be a girlfriend forever and never a wife. Sure, the relationship he has with you is great -- for him. He enjoys your company; he knows you love him; you are always at his beck and call, but he has no responsibilities to you or for you -- and he likes it that way.

Frankly, I think you're wasting your time with him. If you want to settle down to marriage, he's not the man for you. If you're smart, you would drop him and seek the company of other men with more serious inten-

Dear Amy:

As you said, it was a practice. Therefore, I assume it is not in the lease. So there is no cause for anger.

Valentine topiary tree

Straws and glitter, hairpins and glue, Red paper hearts, some effort by you. These, plus six pipe cleaners and a twoinch styrofoam balf, are the ingredients for a charming Valentine centerpiece.

Select white, pink and red straws from a box of assorted "Glad" plastic straws. Cut into two to four-inch lengths -- you'll need about 100 pieces. Put a speak of glue on the top of hairpins and insert one about an inch inside each straw length. Brush glue on other end of straws and sprinkle with glitter. While glue is drying, cut out paper hearts (12 thumbnail 12 one-inch and a few two-inch). Glue small hearts directly onto straws, Larger hearts should be glued to pipe-cleaners cut in half. When all are dry, poke hairpin ends and pipe-cleaners into styrofoam ball; leave a small space for tree trunk.

The tree base is a paper cup filled with sand or gravel, insert sharpened stick (dowel or pencil) as tree trunk. Glue straws vertically to cup. Cover entire surface of cup and tree trunk with gold paint. When completely dry, lower ball onto spike of "tree-trunk," Finish off with a perky red velvet bow.

Milk prices announced

The minimum prices for milk sold out of stores during February in New Jersey will be 26-1/2 cents a quart, 48 cents a half-gallon and 90 cents a gallon, according to Dr. Donald R. Nicholson, director of the New Jersey Office of Milk Industry. For home-delivered milk, the State OMI formula adds three cents a quart, six cents a halfgallon, and 12 cents a gallon to the minimum out-of-store price.

Minimum prices are related directly to the Class I prices for milk in the respective Federal order marketing areas in New Jersey. Dr. Nicholson reported that the Class I price in North Jersey during February will be $6.11 per hundredweight.

February market for food products listed as plentiful

The food market picture for February shows broilers, potatoes, dry split peas, and dairy products other than fluid milk, to be the expected plentifuls, reports Anne L. Sheelen, County Home economist.

The United States Department of Agriculture predicts that broilers will be the best meat choice throughout the month. Beef variety meats, for example, beef heart, liver, and kidney, and boneless beef stew meat should be reasonably priced in the red meat category.

There is an abundant stock of canned tuna, a shortage of canned salmon, and a fair amount of Maine sardines available. Favorable prices should be noticed for both light and white tuna meat, with the salmon and sardines being a little higher. Egg prices are expected to continue low until at least the middle of the year. When buying eggs, remember that size refers to weight and grade refers to quality. Keeping this distinction in mind makes it easier to compare the prices for the different weights. As a guide to size, to fill one cup it takes about four large eggs, five medium eggs, and six small eggs.

In the fruit and vegetable area, potatoes, oranges, and grapefruit are the most available. Other products that should be widely available in February are turnips, parsnips, rutabagas, broccoli, apples, bananas, pineapples, lemons and pears.

Knowing the foods that are expected to be among the most plentiful should be a guide to you in planning your menus so as to stay within your food budget. MISS PAMELA A. DARLEY

On Valentine's Day

Cards come to you. People have been celebrating this festival of love and affection since long before there were Valentine cards -- in fact, before it took its present name.

Back in ancient Rome, people celebrated a festival called Lupercalia every Feb. 15, It honored lune and Pan, and was celebrated with feasting, dancing and revelry. After the spread of Christianity the festival was changed to Feb. 14, the feast day of two Christian martyrs, both named Valentine; but the sentimental meaning of the old festival has re-

People have been giving gifts at Valentine's Day for centuries, but the custom of sending sentimental messages developed gradually with the mail service,

The oldest Valentine cards in America, according to World Book Encyclopedia, are some small cards with German script, probmade by nuns and monks in the early 1700's.

The custom became very popular in North America during the 1800's. Esther Howland is credited with being the first person in the United States to publish Valentines, in 1840, Many Valentines of that period were hand painted. They usually showed a fat cupid whose mother-of-pearl, tassels, imitation gems, see shells and even dried flowers and seaweed.

Magazines of the 1850's gave glowing accounts of the celebration of St. Valentine's Day, in one, an editor remarked: "A blessing on St. Valentine, the patron of the Day fraught with many heart flutterings and heart enjoy-

Many of these old Valentine cards have been saved and are quite valuable today in cash. You may wish to save the cards you get this Valentine's Day. They too may be very valuable, if only in sentiment.

Johnson budget cost to N. J. put at $8 billion

New Jersey taxpayers will be requred to pay nearly $8 billion in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the federal spending budget of $186.1 billion proposed by President Johnson for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1968, according to an estimate released this week by the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

This estimate was based on the StateChamber's calculations that New Jersey taxpayers bear 4.29 per cent of all Federal taxes. Whether Congress decides to cut-this budget or spend more, New Jersey taxpayers will save or pay out proportionally, the chamber explained.

The President's proposed budget, the chamber said, would cost Federal taxpayers in New Jersey $7,983,690,000 and it noted that this amount is: 9,7 times the amount of state taxes collected last year to finance the New Jersey state budget and 5.5 times the $1.45 billion of property taxes levied in 1967 to support New Jersey's counties, municipalities and school

"New Jersey taxpayers should see clearly in these figures why Federal grants -- money sought so frequently by state and local governmental administrators for supporting all manner of projects -- are not 'free.'

"While Federal grants lower the apparent costs of local and state undertakings, they are, nevertheless, dollars that come right out of our own pockets -- only as Federal taxpayers instead of as state or local taxpayers. And these are still dollars which all of us must work to earn first," commented Earl N. Felio, president of the State Chamber, upon releasing his organization's breakdown of the Federal budget burden in New Jersey, Felio noted that the $186.1 billion spending estimate for fiscal 1969 under the new unified budget concept, which includes the Social Security and other trust funds, represents an increase of $10.5 billion over the current estimate for 1968. Under the old administrative budget concept the 1969 spending estimate of $147.4 billion is $10.2 billion more than the estimate for 1968.

The chamber president termed it "distress-ing" that the Johnson administration is again proposing a huge increase in spending. The chamber, he said, has repeatedly urged New Jersey's congressmen and senators to reject increases in controllable nondefense spending, to reduce significantly appropriations requested for nondefense programs generally, and to examine carefully all proposed increases in defense spending with a view to elimination or stretch - out of projects wherever prac-

'These actions are urgently needed to repress inflationary pressures at home and to strengthen faith in the dollar abroad,"

Felio declared.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

IS BEDTIME A PROBLEM FOR YOUR CHILDREN

I want to stay up 'til you go to bed! Susie exclaimed when her mother told her it was bedtime, "Me too," said Johnny,

Getting your children to bed and to sleep has been termed the number one problem of

Your children are curious if they are healthy. Let them see what the grownups do after they go to bed. This will usually satisfy their curiosity. If your children seem uncooperative, you might also try talking with them at the bedside. This will tend to soothe tensions and aid in accomplishing an undisturbed sleep. Even though you aren't sure that your children are having trouble going to bed, you will lose nothing by satisfying your children's curiosity and helping them relax in preparation for sleep, experts in child-care remind us.

Remember, too, your children don't know when they are tired. According to pediatricians a child gets tired but not necessarily sleepy. He may become more excited, cross or stubborn but not sleepy. After a specially exciting day, a child will resist going to bed because he cannot bear to have a wonderful day come to an end. Children don't want to miss anything.

There is no secret method for getting your children to go to bed. The first step in solving the "going to bed problem" is for you, as parents, to realize that a child never will go to bed by choice. Then you can help your child understand that you, their parents, have to do many things you don't enjoy doing, such as go-ing to bed and shopping for food regularly.

Beth Israel affiliates with new Essex College

Essex County College and Newark Beth Israel Hospital announced this week that the hospital's nursing school will phase out its diploma program and become affiliated with an associate degree nursing program to begin in the 1968 September semester of the new two-year community college.

The joint announcement came from Dr. Robert H. McCabe, president of Essex County College, and Alan Sagner, president of the Beth Israel board of trustees, after the recent approval by the New Jersey State Board of Higher Education of the purchase of the Beth Israel educational building by the col-lege. The state is committed to contribute $372,210 of the total cost of the $1.1 million educational facility.

The consecutive interpreters and stenographers sit in the center, simultaneous (earphones) interpreters and radio and television people are behind the glass enclosures along the wall, and members of the UN who are not on the Security Council may sit in the chairs on the main floor. The press is seated in the chairs with the writing arms, and the general public is behind that. The 15 Security Council members include the five permanent members: U.S., United Kingdom, U.S.S.R., China and France, and the ten non-permanent ones: Argentina, Algeria, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, Ethiopia, Hungary, India, Pakistan and Senegal. (United Nations Photo)

A FEMININE LOOK

...At The United Nations

(Commentary on news and views from UN Headquarters in New York.) IIIIIIby TRUDINA HOWARDIIIIIIII

The mood inside the United Nations building is highly international and if the blinds on all the windows could be drawn, one could be most anywhere in the world.

But the flaw for the foreign flavor is that the UN is alive with uncovered windows. There are windows on the East River, windows on United Nations Plaza (First Avenue), windows on bridges, windows on Brooklyn, windows that have a long view down--and New York City keeps stealing in with its familiar patterns -and one is in the U.S.A. after all.

Only there are some exceptions. In the great General Assembly hall, for instance, and in the stately Security Council chambers there is not one window to be seen, and in those rooms one might as well be in Africa Hall in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, or The Pines Conference buildings near Algiers, or the Peace Palace at the Hague, or State House in Accra, Ghana, for all one can see of New York.

In the Security Council chambers recently, even the subject of the "Pueblo Incident" being discussed there seemed as windowless as the room itself.

There seemed to be no light on the matter and no agreed solutions either. No U.S.A. patterns seemed to be coming through in the Security Council room.

After many private, and reportedly long and meetings, no agreements had been reached in the Security Council for the U.S .-Korean problem, and on Jan. 29 a scheduled meeting of the Council had been cancelled with no future meeting date announced,

The Ethiopian delegate had proposed a plan, but it was not voted upon. While it may sound strange to many American ears to have an Ethiopian speak on a matter in Korea, as a member of the Security Council, one of his tasks is to attempt to solve any problem that may come before the Council, as is the case for all members. Yet there may be other motivations. In Ethiopia's case, it could well be for prestige in the African community of nations. It is understood that Emperor Haille Selassie has an interest in area unity in Africa and to head such a community of nations. It would, therefore, be to his advantage and prestige to have an Ethiopian plan adopted at the UN.

ANOTHER INTERESTING SIDELIGHT at the UN concerns the new Russian ambassador. Nickolai Fedorenko departed a few weeks ago after the expiration of his tour of duty in New York and Deputy Foreign Minister Yakov Malek will replace him in the next week or two. But the provocative point is that Ambassador Malek was a delegate at the UN once before-during the Korean "war" -- and during debates on Korea in the Security Council, he and his staff left the chamber. In consequence, the resolutions passed at that time setting up a UN presence in Korea, etc., were voted upon without the USSR in attendance. Which could mean that if Mr. Malek had desired to veto a matter, he simply was not there to do it.

Which could mean that this time, he may be very much in attendance--to cast a very large Russian shadow. Perhaps the Security Council is waiting for him.

`Hansel, Gretel' returns to Castle

"Hansel and Gretel" returned to the Castle Theater, Irvington, this weekend (Saturday and Sunday matinees) by popular demand, it was announced by the management. The picture, which uses life-like creations in the modernized version of the fairy tale, was filmed in Technicolor. With Humperdinck's music as a background, producer Michael Myerberg has blended the old and the new.

The new in this instance is a doll-like set of puppets called Kinemins with no strings.
And the old is the folk tale of good victories over evil and the familiar story of Hansel and Gretel, children of poor broommakers who get lost in the woods and encounter goblins and witches.

For its main attraction the Castle is showing two old film classics this week starring W.C. Fields for a special limited engage-ment. The pictures are "The Bank Dick" "Never Give A Sucker An Even Break." Today, W.C. Fields is a whole new thing with a world of people who are discovering him for the first time.

a pie-in-the-face in scene from British comedy, "Smashing Time," currently on screen at the Ormont Theater, East Orange. She teams up with Rita Tushingham in a Laurel and Hardy type humor.
