Borough library history moving into future tense

By EMMA P. WEBER (Second of Two Parts)

On Nov, 27, 1961, after the original board of trustees system was dissolved, the new Municipal library was formed which would be henceforth known as the Free Public Library of Mountainside.

The organization meeting was held at Borough Hall, and those attending included Mayor Albert Hartung; Eugene Rau, mayorelect; Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools; Irvine B. Johnstone, attorney; William Tetley, Sidney C. Mele, Mrs. Henry C. Weber, Herbert Moore, and Richard Locke, Officers elected were: Herbert Moore, president of the new board of trustees; Sidney C. Mele, vice-president; William Tetley, trea-surer, and Mrs. Henry C. Weber, secretary. Mrs. Elmer Hoffarth was appointed librarian director, By-laws and a constitution were adopted and the proposed budget was also adopted. The new library was now ready for official business, Part-time workers were hired and volunteers were recruited, Decisions were made to continue the P.K. Davis speech award and to join the Library Board of Trustees of New Jersey and the American Library Association, In 1963 new sience and social study books were purchased from funds donated by the Lions Club and other organizations and various individuals. A charging machine was purchased and new signs with lights were installed at the entrance, A donation of $20 was made toward the purchase of two volumes of "American Heritage," an assistant librarian was hired and Mrs. Hoffarth attended workshops and conventions, Communications with schools were improved, and an enlarged reference collection added, Summer programs were held and the Reading Club attracted more than 250 members, Mrs. Hoffarth attended the reference workshop conference which was held by the members of the State Library Commission, and she received a gift of $100 worth of reference books. By 1964, elementary, high school and college students came to depend more and more on the library for reference study, and 133 volumes, which had been recommended for small libraries by the N.J. Public and School Library Service Bureau, were added to the reference collection.

SERVICE WAS discontinued to the Beechwood School, and more than 1,550 of the books at the library there were presented to the Board of Education for use by Echobrook students. The summer program continued with an attendance of 300, and the library stayed open for two additional hours daily. More than $500 was donated by the Woman's, Kiwanis and Newcomers clubs.

In 1965, in evaluating circulation figures, it was found the adult figures could possibly have been much higher if there had been more space allotted for browsing, studying and quiet reading. Students constantly using the library for reference work made it necessary to use the workrooms for those who could not find space elsewhere.

Also playing chorus parts are Val Klein, Carolyn Sikorski, Jack Andreas, Mike Colarusso, Jon Spain, Pete Bothel, Larry Weingold and Dennis Uhlig.

Also, George Shulman, Bob Ruff, Loel Sili-diker, Peppi Sanders, Barb Sacharow, Bob Braun, Marcia Bechberger, Sandy Hackman, Pam Langston, Diane Ritz, Robin Mallor, Sue Dehls, Carolyn Berry, Ingeborg Biosevas, Jana Moore, Rita Sachman, Judy Reich, Jo Ann Seager and Margie Staub.

'Shangri-La Ball' to be held Feb. 24

The Altar-Rosary Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, in announcing plans for its "Shangri-La Ball," asked the following questions: "Tired of seeing Pop sleeping in front of the TV set? Fed up taking care of sick kids? Got that midwinter slump? Want to change all this? Then come to our ball."

Sponsored by the society, the dance will be held Saturday evening, Feb. 24, at the church on Central avenue. Cocktails and hot and cold hor d'oeuvres will be served from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Dancing will continue until 1a.m., and coffee and Danish pastry will be served at midnight. Music will be provided by Johnny Jay. Cocktails will be included in the admission price, and dress is optional. Tickets and reservations may be secured by calling Mrs. Frank Torma, at 232-9293; Mrs. Paul Mueller, 232-3565; Mrs. Paul Passafiume, 232-0158; Mrs. George Timpanaro, 233-5420; Mrs. Edwin Oels, 233-3382.

More than 500 dignitaries, guests and residents attended the dedication ceremonies of the new Mountainside Free Public Library last Sunday afternoon at the new building, Rt. 22 and New Providence road.

Oliver P. Gilloch Jr., a consultant with the New Jersey State Library Commission, was guest speaker. Gilloch congratulated the community on the success of its endeavor and commented on the beauty and functionality of the new edifice. He said that libraries are the core of the educational system and spoke of the drive for more and better libraries in the state.

Memorial fund

The Mountainside PTA this week announced plans for a community-wide memorial fund to honor Roger Thwing, former president of the Board of Education, who died last month at the age of 54. Individuals or organizations may make checks payable to the Roger Thwing Memorial Fund and send them to Mrs. Charles Brackbill, 1537 Deer Path.

Sidney C. Mele, president of the board of trustees, thanked the mayor and council, the staff, volunteers who had given their time and efforts without remuneration and everyone who had made a new library possible. He stressed that more volunteers were needed and expressed hopes of attaining more. He also said how much the cooperation of the borough was needed, as "a building is only a shell and the beginning--we must keep striving to make our library one of quality."

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms also complimented the board of trustees, the staff and all those in the borough who had contributed to the building of the new library.

MRS. HENRY C. WEBER was honored as an original trustee of the first Mountainside

Peter R, Taussig, chairman of the Mountain-side Democratic Committee, this week sug-gested that the seat on the Borough Council recently left vacant by the resignation of B. Dean Spain, be unfilled until the next election.

He submitted the following open letter, which was sent to the mayor and council, to the Echo for publication:

"It has come to my attention that Councilman Dean Spain has resigned from the Borough Council and thereby created a vacancy in said council. It has been common knowledge for almost a year that Mr. Spain did not have the time to devote to his public activities and it was well known that he had been planning to resign 'when the time was right.' His many absences from council meetings in the past year bear this out.

It appears that the mayor and council prevailed upon Mr. Spain to hold back his resignation until after the November, 1967, election so that the mayor and council could appoint his successor. This would enable the successor to run in the next election as an 'experienced incumbent.'

"I submit, gentlemen, that this approach is an attempt to circumvent the democratic process of free elections, Councilmen should be elected by the people and not chosen by the mayor and council. In view of the fact that Mr. Spain has not been effective for more than a year, it would seem that there is no good reason for now rushing to fill this position. It should remain open until after the next general election.

"If the mayor and council still feel that a replacement should be named soon, it is respectfully suggested that the following people be considered: Robert R, Sacharow, Joseph J. Stypa and John E. Medevielle,

'They have shown their dedication to public service and have the time to fulfill their obligations if they are chosen."

Lincks back plea of Rescue Squad

Marguerita and Bruce Linck of 1419 Chapel Hill, Mountainside, former members of the Mountainside Rescue Squad, have issued the following statement in connection with the squad's appeal for volunteers.

"If you have never ridden the back of an ambulance with a frightened oldster going to a hospital for the first time, if you have never confronted a mother whose child has been injured, if you have never prayed you had administered oxygen to keep the patient alive, if you have never refused money, just for you, if you have never hoped to get that expectant mother there on time, if you have never enjoyed the camaraderie of squad work--then you have not served your community. Won't you join our Rescue Squad and receive these rewards?"

New library gets many memorial, association gifts

Memorial and association gifts have con-tributed to the facilities of the new Mountainside library, which held its dedication ceremonies last Sunday afternoon and which was opened to the public on Monday.

A library spokesman said this week that the following donations have been made; a round table in memory of the late Captain C.P. Blume, by his friends and neighbors; an atlas stand, by Mrs. Ned Massa of the Mountainside Inn, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Concetta DiFrancesco; an atlas stand, by Mrs. Walter Koster of 1470 Wood'acres dr., in memory of her husband, Walter Koster; study carrels, by the Psi Upsilon fraternity of Lehigh

Pedestrian killed by car on Rt. 22

"All of a sudden, out of nowhere, there he was in front of my car, lying on the ground, Irwin Blake of Middlesex, bewildered and shak-ing, told Mountainside.police on Monday evening. According to Police Chief Christian Fritz, Blake was traveling in the right lane of Rt. 22, eastbound, when a man stepped off the center isle in front of the bus station at the Echobrook School, directly into the path of his car,

The man, who appeared to be in his early fifties, according to the chief, was pronounced dead at the scene by police physician Dr. Stuart Baron. There were no marks of identification on the body. Police were fingerprinting the victim, who was taken to the Smith and Smith Funeral Home in Springfield, and was still unidentified when this newspaper went to press.

Chief Fritz said the man was roughly dressed and because of the manure on his shoes was presumed to be a farmhand or migrant worker. Blake was released in the custody of his attorney, but upon corroborating testimony from witnesses, was later freed of any charge.

Adult card cataloging was revised in accordance with the American Library Association, and three new stacks, which were immediately filled, were added, Echobrook service was discontinued, more help to teachers was ex-tended when requested, and library hours were again increased. A gift of almost $100 was received, of which $60 was set aside for the building fund.

Regular procedure was followed in 1966, with many meetings, and plans were discussed for a proposed new building. The library development committee members; Gene Simpson. Sidney Mele and Harry Devlin, met with Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelms, John Mc-Donough, state officials, library architect Howard L. McMurray, Mrs. Hofferth, librarian director, and all members of the board of trustees, which included Mrs. W. V. Johnson, Mrs. Weber and Dr. Hanigan.

On Dec. 18 of this year, ground was broken in an official ceremony, and the work of the new library was under way. On this past I riday, the dedication of the new library, on New Providence road across Rt. 22 from the old library, was celebrated.

The hard work, thoughts and patience of many workers through the years became a reality when the new library was opened on Lincoln's Birthday, 1968.

PROFILE---Isabel Watson The popular notion that the English are a phlegmatic breed is swiftly dispelled when one encounters "everyone calls me Belle," Watson, recreational therapist at the Children's Specialized Hospital on New Provi-dence road, in Mountainside.

Miss Watson was born in Nottinghamshire England, and grew up in a small village there which was part of the famed Sherwood Forest, home of the legendary Robin Hood. She was educated in Nottinghamshire she was educated in nothing, world of and, upon completion, entered the world of it is and buyer. "It fashion as a display artist and buyer. was war time," she recalls," and I took a man's job, because all the men were being called up."

Belle got her first look at America when she came, on a visitor's visa, in 1949, to help out her sister in Cranford, who was married to an American soldier and expecting her second child. That a love a fair between this intrepid woman and America began that year, is clearly evident when she says: "I am English by birth, but American by choice. I lived through the blitz, I lost my only brother, and the man I was to marry had been blown to bits.

"In America, the melting pot of the world, learned that the destiny of humanity lies here. America is the hope of the world. My answer to everyone who asks me why I

(Continued from page 1) wanted to become an American is the same. The beauty of this country. Why, its ad-vantages are endless, and I take a very dim of those who come here from other view countries, earn their living, enjoy life here because of the advantages and beauty, and then condemn it - oh, how I wish they'd go back where they came from if they feel this way. "You know," she continues, "I am certainly not a Pollyanna, nor do I want to sound like one, but this is the true belief of my heart." THERE IS NOTHING maudling or sentimental in her words. Her voice is quiet and convincing as she goes on to say that, despite her extended visitor's visa and her subsequent necessary departure back to England, she could scarcely contain her self until the day came when she was admitted to the country on an immigration quota in 1950 and "immediately filed papers to become a citizen.

Because of her desire to be more intimately connected with people, "on a more human contact basis than in the material and super-ficial world of fashion," her first job in America was in a personnel office in industry. 'It was an ordinary sort of a job," she says, 'but it gave me more of an insight into human nature.

The desire to contribute something to the land of her choice is an old one. Belle, who is a bit of a ham (due, no doubt to her Scotch-English extraction) having done some singing and acting in England, teamed up with her sister, who is a planist, to entertain veterans at the Lyons Veterans Hospital, under the auspices of the Red Cross.

She was encouraged by the "warmth of our reception--I knew I would never be content until I could be associated with the world of those less fortunate, and in some small measure, be of some service."

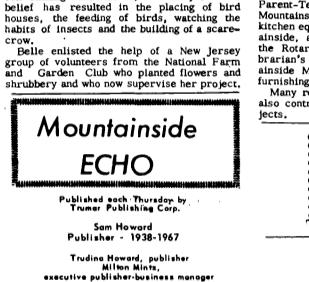

"So, I looked around and finally came as a volunteer to this Children's Hospital. I knew, at once, I had found my niche in life." First serving three times a week at the hospital, she found she wanted to volunteer her services on a regular basis. Six months later she was asked to become a member of the staff in the capacity of recreational therapist, a position she has organized and expanded.

As it is with most dedicated people, Belle Watson insists on crediting volunteers, hospital staff members and even her patients with any success her program has met.

HER DUTIES AS recreational therapist and director of volunteer services for recreational therapy, one easily observes, goes far beyond the usual institutional programs.

"My children must learn the joy of the sun shining and nature," she says. This belief has resulted in the placing of bird houses, the feeding of birds, watching the habits of insects and the building of a scare-group of volunteers from the National Farm and Garden Club who planted flowers and shrubberv and who now supervise her project.

Another pet project is arts and crafts, in which the children are taught to finish ceramic molded objects in the kiln at the hospital. A lover of words, she also conducts classes in elecution and teaches the correct way to form sentences. In "school play," the children are encouraged to be creative, and volunteers are taught to train the children in oil painting and water colors. "My goal here," says this remarkable woman, (the birds around the place told us she is often on the job seven days a week) "is to bring as many facets of normal living as is possible to these children. Because of their handicaps, this is even more important than it would be to children on the outside. But please clearly understand without my rapport with, and the cooperation of the volunteers, it would be impossible for my programs to progress. By the goodness of these people and all the contributions this hospital receives, I firmly believe this program will grow and grow." This reporter knows a "do-gooder" when she sees one--and Belle Watson has no such thoughts in mind. This is her job, the way of life she has chosen for herself. In it, she has found what all of us seek--a fulfillment and a joy. As a girl, she was very close to her father, who taught her at an early age that "all things work together for good and that life, at its best, is but organized chaos." It becomes apparent she has come not only to grips with life, but to terms with it. Belle, "in order to be nearer to the hospital," moved to Mountainside from Roselle Park, three years ago. She resides with "Smudgie, a mongrel dog she calls "My All-American champion," at 540 Woodland ave.

League asks school board to transfer Mountainside students to Kenilworth

Sending Mountainside students to David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, continued observation of Springfield and Clark facilities "due to possibility of extensive town growth" and anticipating a separate administration building are among recommendations made by the Springfield League of Women Voters following a study of Union County Regional High School District 1 facilities,

A report submitted to Avery Ward, president of the Regional Board of Education, by Mrs. Harry Einstein, president of the Springfield League, says:

The Springfield and Berkeley Heights Leagues of Women Voters, having completed their research and study of the physical facilities of the Union County Regional High School District #1, (which encompasses Springfield, Berkeley Heights, Garwood, Clark, Kenilworth and Mountainside) and in anticipation of a proposed referendum to expand those facilities, respectfully submit the following:

We agree upon the need for expansion within the Regional system and upon the need for improvement of existing obsolescent facilities. We feel the need for properly equipped and maintained rooms for all schools within the Regional system. In addition to the proposed upgrading in Jonathan Dayton, specific attention should be directed toward renovation of the physics laboratory and the gyms. We urge construction of a second direct exit into the corridor for all laboratory rooms in addition to the existing connecting exits. We urge flexibility in classroom construction, arrangement and use,

We feel that a maximum class size of 25 should be an eventual goal although we realize that temporary acceptance of 30 may be more realistic in an attempt to secure passage of the referendum.

We agree upon the desirability of a permanent home school within the Regional system for all students.

We define equity in education as equal opportunity for each student in the Regional district. We believe that the oldest school in the system can have an effective educational program if it is not overcrowded.

The Springfield League further submits the enclosed recommendations.

Summation of position of Springfield League of Women Voters regarding proposed referen-dum affecting physical facilities of Union County Regional District #1.

Since 1937, when Jonathan Dayton was opened to accommodate the students of the participating communities, this school has operated as the receiving base of the district, A condition of overcrowding has generally been the case here. Subsequently three additional schools were built to accommodate the growing needs of the district. The attention and monies channeled toward construction of these new schools has resulted in physical neglect of the Springfield plant, With the opening of the David Brearley installation, Kenilworth, Fall, 1966, the overcrowding at Jonathan Dayton has been relieved, but repairs and attention to educational facilities at this school are long overdue.

The League appreciates the serious attempt being made now by the Regional Board of Education to bring Jonathan Dayton up to functional parity with the newer schools, recognizing functional parity not as an expansion but as a long overdue remodeling of outdated facilities. The possibility of this remodeled school equating physically with the new schools in the district is now out of the question (also, see Dr. Rissotto report, qualitative vs. quantitative). Future needs for facilities to meet ever expanding curricula will bring new hardships. Compensating features must be studied to provide for these future needs, as well as the fact that 25 percent of Springfield is still undeveloped (see Master Plan-Springfield), Extensive building programs could suddenly complicate the school accommodation plan here,

From our studies we have also concluded that anticipation of future pupil enrollment in the district is vital in prevention of overcrowded conditions in the future. Expansion in the district is needed to accommodate the Mountainside students whose presence at the Governor Livingston (Berkelev Heights) school is beginning to overcrowd this school, Extra facilities in this school have eased the burden of overcrowding, but this problem must be met

Before going further, let it be clear that we interpret the Regional system as operating on the principle of equal education for all. The four schools in the district are in reality a sub-division of the WHOLE. Equal educationequity-is defined by us as equal facilities and equal opportunity for each child in the Regional district-and the same base number of students per class. We further believe that continuation of the Regional system demands a fair balance in the number of children in each school, with a comparable program of education within each school. Further expansion at the Governor Livingston school of 24 classrooms would defeat this concept. We must de-emphasize the trend toward unequal numbers of students, programs of study and facilities. The existence of an enlarged, purely academic school, with select programs and facilities would preclude equality in the other schools in the district. This imbalance would be antithetic to the basic philosophy of equal opportunity and facility for each student. Since each community pays its fair share based upon this philosophy-equal opportunity-each community therefore should receive an equal share of the educational program,

Arriving at conclusions for accommodation of future enrollment has been difficult due to conflicting figures. Those tables of pupil projection issued by the office of the Superintendent of Schools are based upon varying factors and some have been challenged by the League. We nevertheless have come to the conclusion that expansion is needed within the Regional system. We emphasize within the Regional system, Recognizing these immediate needs, we do not wish to work against a referendum which would provide for these needs.

On the other hand, we have strong objection to the referendum as proposed, since we feel it negates the basic philosophy of the Regional system, Equity.

We therefore strongly urge the following recommendations be considered. RECOMMENDATIONS

Correction of obsolescence to take place before expansion needs completed,

Mountainside students placed at David Brearley (Kenilworth) school on short term and long term basis. Reasons for short term placements:

Interior construction will be taking place at Jonathan Dayton lessening number of available rooms and affecting traffic movement within the school.

Purpose of remodeling is to improve physical lant to satisfactory level.

Hadassah chapter planning art show to be held in April

The 10th annual art show of the Westfield-Mountainside chapter of Hadassah, which will be held at the end of April, will highlight the 10th anniversary of the Chapter.

Hadassah is the largest women's organization in the United States, according to a spokesman of the group. It carries on an extensive program of education for its members and a board program of medical and child welfare in Israel, It was recently announced that "in addition to its medical center in Jerusalem, which cared for thousands of Jews and Arabs who were wounded in the sixday war, the old hospital on Mount Scopus, which had been abandoned since the war of 1948, would be rebuilt and reopened as a rehabilitation center for Jews and Arabs."

The spokesman further stated: "the women of our community have done an excellent job of raising funds for this humanitarian cause through its annual art show, which has also been an outstanding cultural contribution to all the residents of Mountainside and surrounding communities. The art show has become recognized for its high calibre of works in oils, graphics and sculpture and has offered interesting lectures, Last year more than $20,000 was grossed in a period of three days. Much of this success was due to the help of the Echo, which did a profile on one of our members and gave us excellent coverage.'

The closing of Madison Square Garden this week brought many fond memories into our shop. A few were our own, but most were from one of our customers, an oldtimer who remembers when six-day bike races were popular.

He spoke of former boxing greats and though many were just names mentioned by, my father and his friends who visited our home when we were young, we have since seen several of these greats on film. We're thinking particularly of Joe Louis and Mickey Walker and Beau Jack.

But when our shop visitor this week spoke of the Garden, he plucked his own recollections with great love and care, . .

He wondered how many of our readers could recall the Tippy Larkin-Willie Joyce bout of 1946. Said our friend, "this was the greatest boxing performance of all time. Larkin was one of the finest boxers in the history of the game, but if tagged on the chin, could go down and out very quickly. Joyce was a power puncher.

They fought 12 rounds for Larkin's Junior Welterweight Crown, and Tippy stayed just a shade ahead of Joyce in points to take the decision.

'But in the history of the Garden, this will certainly be remembered by boxing fans as the greatest boxing demonstration of all time."

"We wonder," he added, "how many today can recall these other Garden fighters: Gus Lesnevich, Tony Janiro, Billy Graham, Freddy Cochrane, Carmen Basilio, the Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler classics, Kid Gavilan, Gene Fullmer, Paulino Uz-cudum. And do you remember the announcers: Harry Balogh, Joe Humpheries? And do you recall the famous fight referee Ruby Goldstein?

PERSONAL "UMBRELLA" COVERAGE GIVES YOU MORE PROTECTION

"A friend of mine, a professional man, is now in serious financial difficulty because of a recent large liability judgment against him." This correspondent wants to know "if I can insure myself against such an eventuality."

Successful people in many walks of life are now turning to what is known as personal liability "umbrella" coverage to provide such protection. It covers you above the limits of standard liability policies. This policy serves as an umbrella over such liability coverages as automobile liability, professional malpractice and comprehensive personal liability, However, business activities are specifically excluded from these personal umbrella plans.

Dear Neighbors:

Just like in the years past, we again are ready to take care of your shade and ornamental trees. Because this year the destructive scale insects appear to be more plentiful than in the past we urge you to let us spray your oak trees well in advance of first spring leaves. For an early spray during this month, we can then use high viscosity spray oil which is most effective and yet absolutely harmless to humans as well as our birds. The scale insects infect trees which will decay beyond any means of help later on. Don't let this happen to your trees that are the source of enjoyment year after year. They provide you with cooling shade in the summer time, they beautify your home and, yes, then enhance the value of your very home as if they would want to thank you for taking care of them.

We have the most modern equipment, our men are highly trained and skilled for such jobs. Don't delay, call us up and be informed more fully. There is no obligation, of course.

inadequate space for present student population. Present seventh grade will be at Jonathan Dayton in 1969-70 during remodeling period. This class is unusually large, with 40 plus over previous class sizes. Even if David Brearley were to be crowded which League believes to be unlikely in 1970, sending Mountainside freshmen to the newest school, with extra facilities and space, rather than the oldest school, with no extra facilities and undergoing remodeling to correct obsolescene, is the clear and obvious solution,

There are no guarantees that building will be completed by 1970, Just as the Board of Education does not wish to guarantee population projections are correct, neither can the Board guarantee completion of construction as announced.

Older school can have effective program only if not overcrowded. (See Dr. Rissetto concurring opinion in his reports.)

Reasons for long term placement of Moun-tainside students at David Brearley (Kenilworth):

Equalization of all schools within district without danger of larger dominating school. Based upon latest pupil projection tables issued from Board of Education office, total number of students at each school would be: A.L. Johnson, 1700 plus, David Brearley with Garwood and Mountainside students, 1696, Governor Livingston, 1532, and Jonathan Dayton, 986. Comprehensive programs should be supported for all schools in Regional district. Sending additional students to Brearley will help correct imbalance of no honorsprograms recently noted in this school, and open other areas of academic study as well.

Room to expand here. Check with architect shows room for construction of 18 academic classrooms without disturbing parking or play field areas.

No traffic problems.

All students should have a permanent home school with no shunting back and forth from grade to grade.

Springfield and Clark facilities to be under continued observation due to possibility of extensive town growth.

Itemization of improvements in each school: Number of classrooms proposed for Dayton, as well as specific use of former library, agriculture building. (Where will students in present agriculture program be placed if program phased out?)

Anticipate separate building for Administration purposes.

Sketches of proposed renovations and additions to all schools to be made available to public.

Relationship of cost to tax rates to be indicated,

Equity in Regional system to be key factor in planning,

We trust the members of the Union County Regional High School Board of Education, District #1, will accept these recommendations as sincerely and constructively as they are offered and will act accordingly.

Narcotics clinic series will begin next Tuesday

The Union County Home Economics Extension Service will hold its next information session on the Union County Narcotics Commission and Clinic next Tuesday from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m. at the Clark Public Library Meeting Room, 303 Westfield ave., Clark.

The second in series of meetings is scheduled

"A drug addict," according to Michael Bowen, director of the clinic, "is a person who has a physical and mental dependence on drugs and cannot live without daily use of the drugs---generally, heroin. A few days usage is enough to start the habit."

The clinic, formed by the Board of Freeholders and the sheriff's office, is now open and available for free personal consultations. 'They (the clinic) are well aware, however, that without you, the parents, understanding and assuming your responsibilities, they are helpless," Bowen said.

BOWEN SAID THE habit of drug abuse ''leading to addiction is an important, dangerous and potential problem to all Union County families and their children.

Bowen said youngsters begin using drugs for one of several reasons: (1) their friends use the drugs; (2) just for kicks---it's a new experience and pleasurc; (3) a need to feel a sense of importance --- they have arrived and have "grown up"; (4) for release and reflef from parental, social or business pressures or a feeling of failure.

for fine arts center Groundbreaking is expected late this summer for a new building to house the fine arts and humanities at Newark State College, Union, John Wesper, coordinator of construction and utilization, announced this week. Completion is scheduled for July, 1970, The building, which has been in the planning stages for over two years and for which federal and state money has already been appropriated, was given unanimous approval by the college Board of Trustees at its first public meetings is being prepared by the newly-appointed board.

Final authorization of the building was re-served for the board by Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph A. Dungan as part of his policy to grant "as much autonomy as possible to the colleges," Wesper said.

Construction plans

announced at NSC

Total cost of the building is estimated at $2,331,109. Of this amount $481,109 has been provided by a federal grant uder Title 1 of the Higher Education and Facilities Act of 1963. The rest was provided by the state legislature under its 1966-67 fiscal appropriations for colleges construction. The architectural firm for all Newark State construction is Scrimenti, Swackhamer and Perantoni of Somerville.

Wesper said that the four-story sculptured building, which features aspects of cantilevered design, "is symbolic of the growth of Newark State into a liberal arts college. It is probably the most flexible building ever constructed on a college campus," he said, "Even the furniture and equipment will be designed for both specified and general use,"

A children's theater and a small experimental theater located on the first floor will be adaptable for all forms of theater or lecture or classroom facilities. Of the building's 25 laboratories, classrooms, and studios only three will not be convertible, if necessary, to other uses. The three specialized, rooms will be the ceramics and sculpture studios and the kiln room. The building will also contai 34 offices, four lounges and two conference rooms, Studios for staging and display, will permit faculty members to intergrate the fine and performing arts. Other studios will be used for textile design, metal work, painting and print-making,

In other action the board approved the col-lege seal and motto, designed in the spring of 1966 by the traditions and procedures committee, Prediction: people who buy Volkswagen Station Wagons will have it soft in 1968.

For the last 17 years, Volkswagen has been making a big, tough, never-say-die station wagon. Which could grind out up to 23 miles on one gallon of gas. And take in over 176 cubic feet of whatever you wanted to carry.

KY Yet in spite of all that, certain people have been avoiding the VW Station Wagon. There's no need to mention names. You know who you are, And we know why you've been avoiding our wagon. Because driving it was something of a big, tough, never-say-die experience. The fact is, our wagon lacked luxury.

Okay, all you people. Get ready for a surprise. We have taken the VW Station Wagon and padded the stuffing out of it. We've put extra padding on the armrests, the dash, the front of the ashtray, even the window crank knobs. And if our wagon can't exactly be called a bed of roses even now, it can at least be called a seat of them. (We went somewhat crazy with padding in that particular area.)

Then we put in 6 ventilation ducts all over. (You'll be able to give yourself airs if you own a new VW wagon.)

We also added a whole new suspension system underneath. Ilt'll be easy come, easy go, all the: way.)

And with all of that, the new bus for softies still has the old bus' hardy virtues.

So 1968 should be a good year for all you people who love your comfort. You've been going without the Volkswagen Station Wagon's wonderful gas mileage and storage capacity for a long time.

But you don't have to deny yourselves anymore.

Well-known national company seeks intelligent, personable woman, active and in good health, who enjoys dealing with all types of people, walking, driving and being in and out in all kinds of weather. She must have a late model car available at all times, good driving, parking and map read-ing skills, and a good driving record. Operating area will be mostly in the northern New Jersey suburbs, and she should be reasonably familiar with much of this area.

The work mainly involves interviewing consumers, with some retail stores survey work. It includes responsibility for plan-ning work schedules and keeping meticulous records of dats collected. There is no requirement for similar or any other specific experience, but the woman selected will have above-average intelligence (test required) and she probably will have a business, sales or teaching background, or perhaps she will have participated actively and constructively in community activities. A record of dependability will be im-portant.

Assignments will normally average up to 75%, of full time through the year, with weekly working hours varying from none to part weeks, to full 5-day, 40-hour weeks. Complete unconditional availability as needed is necessary. Pay rate starts at $2.93 per hour including 10%, punctuality bonus, olub of expenses.

Please reply immediately in confidence, covering education, experience, personal data and all other pertinent informa-tion. Give full details of home responsibilities, including hus-band's occupation and ages of children. Be sure to include telephone number. Letters giving inadequate information must be diaregarded. Applicants who appear to be possible candidates will be contacted soon to arrange interviews.

The accident prevention committee of the American Acade.ny of Pediatrics has prepared the reminder, a one-page statement called "Safe Driving -- a parental responsibility." The State Department of Health paid for printing 4,000,000 of them. They will be distributed at motor vehicle inspection stations and at toll booths, restaurants, and gas stations of the Turnpike and Parkway.

Among the admonitions on the statement are these: Use safety belts at all times, even for short rides. Do not allow children to sit on the front seat or stand up in the car, Do not allow children to put their hands, heads, or arms out the windows. Never ride in a car with all the windows and vents closed unless the car is air conditioned.

Also, keep all the doors locked at all times. Use safety locks on rear car doors. Have behavior rules in the car to prevent distracting the driver. Remember that dusk is the most dangerous time of day for driving.

On long trips, stop frequently, get well off the road, get out of the car and stretch. Take something along to keep children occupied. Do not plan to travel too far in one

Dear Amy:

I was 10 when mom died, Dad's relatives took us under their wing. We saw them often. They always called to see how we were, came to see me in school plays and never forgot a birthday. Without their kindness and understanding I couldn't have pulled through. We loved mom dearly, but mom's side didn't have time for us -- or for mom when she was alive, I'm married now and own a second home -a cabin in the hills, Now when we do see mom's family (which is very seldom), they constantly hint about an invitation for a vacation at the cabin and throw up to us that we only invite dad's side of the family.

Now they want to come some time this winter while the snow is on the ground because there is skiing and tobogganing nearby.

We don't feel that close to them and don't want them to come. I'm tired of making excuses and don't know how to say "No" without hurting their feelings. A Faithful Reader

Dear Reader:

If mom's side of the family hasn't got the picture as yet, then you will have to clear the air and be blunt about it. Since they have never considered your feelings, nor those of your dad's, in the past, why be concerned about their feelings now! . . .

-Thursday, February 15, 1968-Slate jazz concert

at Rutgers center

The Gary Burton Quartet will present a jazz concert next Wednesday, 8 p.m., at the Campus Center of Rutgers in Newark, 350 High st. The program is sponsored by Rutgers' Institute of Jazz Studies and the Carnegie Hall Corporation. Admission is free.

The quartet includes Burton on vibraphone, Larry Coryell on guitar, Steve Swallow on bass and Bob Moses on drums. The foursome, all 24 years old, have drawn high critical acclaim, and their role in jazz in the sixties has been compared to that played by Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis and Willie (The Lion) Smith in their respective decades.

Burton, who has been playing since he was six, was involved in country music before he discovered jazz about nine years ago and began studies at the Berkley School of Music in Boston. Corvell has been drawn to the indian music of Ravi Shankar and played with a rock and roll group before joining Burton.

Your Garden This Week

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter MUMMIMM

Evergreens for beauty in the home landscape. Evergreens attractive all year. Evergreens for bloom. Not today's little Christmas tree-type evergreens that will grow to be forest giants in your front yard almost before you know it. but broad-leaf evergreems with flowers and berries and sometime sweet smell,

I happened to be listening the other day when Don Lacey, Rutgers home horticulture specialist, took the stump in behalf of evergreens. At this garden planning season he'd like to have you consider evergreens with special attractions.

First, there's Japanese andromeda. It has an interesting form, and bears fragrant, long lasting panicles of flowers in April. Mountain laurel grows to about 3 feet tall and blooms in June.

JAPANESE AND AMERICAN hollies offer wide choices and they grow well in shade or sun. Their display of bloom is never spectacular, but the bright red berries of American hollies can be something special. And the time may come when you can cut your own holly for Christmas.

Finally, there's a big razzle-dazzle. color world of azaleas and rhododendrons. and May is their month to show off.

Seems as if almost every gardener in New Jersey must have a copy of our Leaflet 97, "How to Landscape Your Home," because every time I mention it here we get enough cards to fill a 10-gallon hat. It has simple diagrams showing effective design and has lists of suitable plants. If you'd like a copy, just write "Landscape" on a card with your name and address. Send the card to your county agricultural agent or to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, 08903.

SAC pilot named lieutenant colonel

BLYTHEVILLE. Ark .-- Martin D Klena. son of Martin F. Klena of 1007 Stuyve sant ave., Irvington, N.J., has been promoted to lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force. Colonel Klena is a KC-135 Stratotanker instructor pilot at Blytheville AFB, Ark. He is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command. The colonel is a veteran of the Korean War.

A graduate of Irvington High School, he received his B.S. degree in 1951 from Rutgers, The State University. His wife, Pat, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schilling of 1848 Quaker way, Union, N.J.

Social Security boosts begin in March checks

Social security increases will be reflected in checks beneficiaries receive on March 2, Ralph W. Jones, district manager in Elizabeth said this week.

Jones said that many beneficiaries are getting in touch with the Social Security Office unnecessarily in the mistaken belief that the benefit increase in the 1967 Social Security amendments would be included in the checks they received Feb. 3. Beneficiaries need not take any action to receive the increase, he said. The increase will be sent to them automatically, he said.

Cycle inspections begin next month; standards listed

Under the motorcycle law, effective since Jan, I, all motor operated vehicles of the bicycle or tricycle type must be inspected to be driven on New Jersey public roads and highways, Since motorcycle registrations expire in March, director of the state Motor Vehicle Division June Strelecki announced last week, 1968 registered motorcycles must be inspected at New Jersey Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations during March, April, May or June of this year.

Vehicles registered for the first time after June 30, 1968, must be inspected within 14 days of issue.

To qualify for an inspection sticker, the driver must present his motorcycle at the inspection station with his registration certificate, his operator's license and his reflectorized helmit that must be of the type approved by the Director. He must also show for inspection his approved goggles or an approved face shield unless the motorcycle is equipped with an approved wind screen, the director said.

To meet the Standard Z90.1-1966 of the USA Standards Institute requirements, adopted by the state motor vehicle division and familiar to most cyclists, the helmet must be quippped with either a neck or chin strap and must be reflectorized over an area of at least four square inches on each side. If reflectorized tape is used, the strip must be securely affixed and weatherproof. All passengers are also required to wear an approved helmet. Lists of the acceptable helmets, goggles, face shields and wind screens are available from the Division of Motor Vehicles offices. 25 South Montgomery Street, Trenton.

In general, motorcycles will be inspected for the same safety features as passenger cars, the director said.

THE REQUIRED red rear light and reflector, license plate light, must function according to the applicable standards of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Every motorcycle must have at least one and not more than two headlights. Motorcycles with motors over five horsepower must have multiple beam headlights as well as a beam indicator. Other motorcycles must have either a single beam or a multiple beam headlight. With a driver in the seat, the single beam headlight must be aimed for a nine-inch drop in 25 feet. The high beam of the multiple beam headlight must be aimed for a four-inch drop in 25 feet. The motorcycle must be equipped with a rear view mirror and a horn audible, under normal conditions, for at least 200 feet.

The muffler must be equal in quality and performance to the manufacturer's equipment type designed for highway use and not cause excessive or unusual noise.

All seats, hand holds and foot rests for passengers must be adequate and permanently attached and equal in quality and safety to manufacturer's equipment.

Every motorcycle must have at least one brake adequate to control the cycle in motion and to stop the vehicle within a safe distance. The tires must also be in good condition. The director said fenders must be kept the proper size to shield passengers, other drivers and pedestrians from being water, mud or dirt spattered by the wheels.

When the motorcycle meets the listed specifications, a two-inch by two-inch sticker will be placed on the right side of the rear fender. When this year's sticker expires, the new sticker will be placed over the expired one. If he chooses, the director said, the motorcycle owner may rivet or weld a metal plate to the right side of the rear fender for the sticker.

Topics as diverse as alcoholism and abortion and traffic accidents and air pollution come under study and discussion in an unusual course required of all students in the Rutgers Medical School in New Brunswick,

Sometimes called "community medicine," but operating at Rutgers under the title, "Man and His Environment," the course is taught by Dr. Richard J. Cross of Princeton, professor of medicine and associate dean of the State University's medical school,

'The course was started an an experiment," Dr. Cross said, "intended to show medical students how a physician can help citizens in his community to deal intelligently and effectively with the ever increasing social problems of a dynamic society."

Dr. Crons said he believes such a course has just as important a place in a modern medical curriculum as do such traditional courses as anatomy, physiology, medicine, pharmacology and pathology. "With this course," he said, "we try to give students an understanding of problems that affect the health of large groups of people and how to deal with these problems, and also to acquaint students with important soci.' problems influencing health and health care and with the sociological consequences of medical programs."

Other objectives of the course, Dr. Cross pointed out, are: to show patterns of occurence and distribution of disease in the population and the epidemiological method of studying health problems; to provide students with a rational basis for dealing with the ethical problems they will encounter in the practice of medicine; to interest students in planning for improved medical care; to identify organizations and programs functioning to preserve or promote public health; to inform students of primary prevention of disease through individual practices and control of the environment and of methods used to detect disease in presumably healthy persons.

THE COURSE in community medicine is taught to all 16 students in the second year of the two-year curriculum at the Rutgers Medical School. It features outside lecturers and has this year brought to the campus Dr. George James, dean of the Mt. Sinai (N.Y.) School of Medicine, and Dr. William Dougherty, director of the Division of Local Health Services of the New Jersey Department of Health.

The students are given a long reading list (although there is no formal reading assignment) and face, in addition to examinations, the requirement of preparing a paper, five to 10 pages long, on a subject of their choice in the community health field.

Dr. Cross said that his course recognizes a third area of instruction, beyond the traditional scientific and clinical areas, necessary to round out programs of medical education.

'This new area," he said, "explains the physician's responsibility to the community in which he lives and practices. It becomes increasingly important," he pointed out, "as, for example, narcotics' use and incidence of abortion continues to rise."

He said the average American expects his physician to be an expert on sex and often confides in him and seeks his advice on the subject. "In all too many cases the physician is less of an expert than the patient thinks," Dr. Cross said, "When I was in medical school," the associate dean recalled, "information on community medicine, if taught at all, was broached from a public health point of view. The material included discussions of sewerage problems and other non - physician oriented information, which helped to make the course dull.

'At Rutgers, we teach the course from a physician's viewpoint and instruct our students in areas where they will eventually encounter questions and problems.

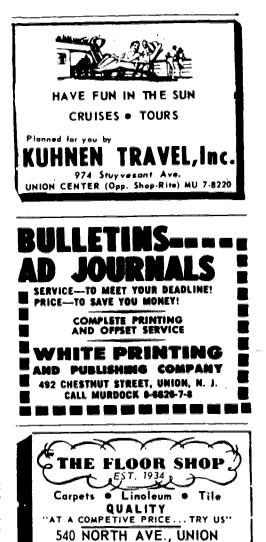

He said that problems related to sex, alcoholism and drug addiction have been the

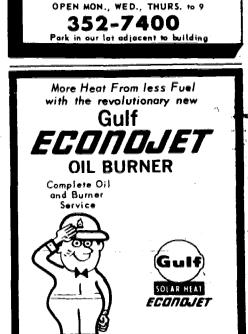

Doll festival to be held at Montclair museum "Hina Matsuri," a Japanese girls' doll festival, will open at the Montclair Art Museum

Sunday. In the museum's reenactment of the ancient ceremony, groups of children will take part in the traditional ritual which centers upon a display of very old Japanese ceremonial dolls and a miniature Japanese house and garden.

The exhibition will be on view through March 31. School groups may schedule visits by calling the education office of the museum at 746-5555.

Millburn movie `The Graduate', is excellent fare

"The Graduate" is an unusually well-produced film epitomizing the lost, searching youth today's upper-middle=class society, who is as uncertain of his future as he is of his aroundthe-corner step into the adult responsible world, Laden with his uncertainties, beset by his awkward handling of a love affair with an older woman, the youth finds himself on a whirling, swirling merry-go-round.

And the youth in this picture, currently on the Millburn Cinema screen, is Distin Hoff-man, who, because of his lack of acting experience gives a simple authenticity to his role.

The actors, in this story about a young man who is seduced by his tather's partner's seductive wife, and who, in turn, ironically falls in love with her daughter, are excellent under the superb direction of Mike Nichols, Anne Bancroft, as the older woman, is most memorable, as she runs through her role with an ease and smoothness affected only by the highest professional actresses. Katharine Ross, as Miss Bancroft's daughter (who, incidentally, bears an amazing resemblance to Miss Bancroft). shows promise of great things to come.

The background music, offered to personify the young crowd, does tend to get a bit noisy from time to time, but the actors, the story, the unusual direction, and the fine color tend to make up for the minor flaw.

"The Graduate" at the Millburn Cinema is attracting numerous crowds, and the long, long lines during its opening week, remind a viewer of the lines at Radio City Music Hall -- even when the pictures weren't half as good as "The Graduate.

'Ulysses' held over; 'Man, Woman' next

The film version of James Joyce's "Ulysses" started its fifth week yesterday at the Art theater, Irvington Center.

The management has announced that the Art's next attraction will be "A Man and A Woman," Grand Prix winner at the Cannes Film Festival, which will open Wednesday.

The picture, filmed in color, Sepia and black and white, tells a love story about a deepening romance between a widow and a racing car driver. Anouk Aimee and Jean-Louis Traintignant star. The picture was directed by Claude Lelouch.

'Finian's Rainbow' is a lively vehicle for Carmel Quinn

You don't have to be frish to enjoy "Finian"s Kainbow," But it's all the more fun if you are, and it's particularly pleasing to feast one's eve on a red-haired, green-eyed Colleen, who not only looks and sounds as if she comes from Ireland, but who actually is a native of that country. That lass is Carmel Quinn, and she brings a h'l bit of Ireland with her in a role, natural toher =-- the role of Sharon McLonergan on the Meadowbrook stage,

The Meadowbrook's production of the E.Y. Harburg-Fred Saidy musical show about the Mcl onergans (father and daughter) who bring a pot_ofgold (and three wishes) to Rainbow Valley, Missitucky, highlights such well known tunes as "How Are Things in Glocca Morra," "Old Devil Moon" and "The Begat."

Jim Hawthorne, handsome in his role of Woody Mahoney has a fine voice which complements that of Miss Quinn's. The cast is effective, particularly Sarah Jane Smith. Donald Burr, Richard Kenter and Phyllis Bash. LaRue Watts is a funny man, and funnier still in the role of Og. Tod Jackson directed and staged ''Finian's Rainbow.'

Bellevue's 'Camelot' is lavish film

By BEA SMITH

"Camelot." the large-scale musical production, which is currently sweeping across the wide screen of the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montelair, continues to ring with its clash and clamour, its music and glamour and its mixed emotion and devotion, even after a patron leaves the theater,

The Lerner and Loewe motion picture version of their long-running Broadway production, has scope and color and an excellent performance by its star, Richard Harris, who portrays King Arthur, Harris, who is no singer, gives to "Camelot" what Rex Harrison gave to 'My Fair Lady," and he is nearly as effective. Also, of all the actors in the film, including Vanessa Redgrave, Lionel Jeffries and Laurence Naismith, Harris seems to be the only one who appears to have read and studied "The Once and Future King," by T. H. White, upon which "Camelot" is based, and acts accordingly. He is superb as the bumbling, uncertain, peace-loving king, Miss Redgrave, as Queen Guenevere, is stately and looks her royal best, but then Quenevere was much more than that. And because of Miss Redgrave's one-dimensioned portrayal, she falls short of her goal.

THE PICTURE, IN SPITE of all it has to cover, in action and love, in thought and idealism, is rather stinted, and the fault must go to its director, Joshua Logan, Logan, who is pri-marily a stage director, handles the film as if it were a production confined to the limitations
