tempt for both charges.

Hanigan proposes widening range of `scientific' teaching

Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of Mountainside public schools, recently sug-gested that the "scientific method" be applied to the teaching of a wider range of subjects.

In an article written for the Parent Teacher Association's newsletter, he declared: "Most educators and many parents have set critical thinking as a major goal of education. In saying this, it is assumed that the parents and the schools really mean that experiences in school and in the home should organized in such a way that critical thinking is utilized to solve the significant problems set before the children.

'Obviously, if this goal is to be imple-

Library hours listed for younger children

Children's hours at the Mountainside library, which have been designated from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., apply only to pre-school to fifth-grade children, according to Mrs. Elmer Hoffarth, director. Mrs. Hoffarth stated that the only exception will be on Tuesday when the hours for this age-group children will be from 1

Residents are also requested to use the new telephone number, 233-7885, when mented, teachers are going to have to change many of their methods and techniques, and learning will basically follow what has been popularly called the scientific method.

"In other words, problems will be posed, the children will make hypotheses, and experimentation or organized data will be collected to prove or disprove the proposed solutions, and isions will be drawn. This is very different from the present listen, study, recite, test approach that now is mainly directed at fact

"The areas of social studies and science lend themselves well to this approach, and critical reading becomes a very necessary tool to learning. 'In addition, topics like the Vietnam war, civil rights, poverty, strikes, riots, prejudice, politics, government, the pollution of rivers, streams, and atmosphere, the unchecked waste of natural resources, the slow strangulation of civilization by its own discarded waste, sex education, religion, and personal values become especially pertinent. "Are parents and teachers really willing to submit their own actions and conclusions to the scrutiny and study of children? Are they willing to defend them on the basis of logical thinking and a firm frame of reference? "The answers to these questions are important. Positive replies must be made, if critical thinking on the part of students is really an objective of education, both in the home and in the school."

Victim identified in fatal accident

The victim of a fatal motor vehicle accident on Rt. 22 Mountainside last week has been dentified, according to Police Chief Christian Fritz. The man, who police said stepped in front of a moving car, was identified by his fingerprints which were on file at the N.J. State Bureau of Identification.

The chief said that because there was no identification on the body, Lt. Det. James Herrick went to the state bureau where fingerprints taken from the body were identified as George E. Terlesky, a migrant chicken farm worker who was born in Smokerun, Pa., in 1919. Terlesky had no home address. Lt. Herrick was also able to learn the dead man had a sister still living in Pennsylvania whom police were unable to locate, but an adopted sister, Mrs. Warren Nicholas of 2860 Decatur ave., Bronx, N.Y. was contacted.

8th-grade students to challenge faculty

The Mountainside schools' faculty-student basketball game between eighth-grade boys and new members of the faculty will be held on Friday evening, March 1, at 7:30 in the Deerfield School, According to a spokesman for the Mountainside Teachers' Association, which will sponsor the game, this is the one fund-raising project for the year. Money raised will be used to provide a scholarship to a member of the graduating class at Gov. Livingston High School who is planning to enter the field of

Bills aimed at updating regulations

2 police promotions, 2 new men approved

Three new ordinances, designed to modernize Mountainside's zoning regulations, were introduced at the Borough Council meeting Tuesday night at the Beechwood School, Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelms presided.

The three new measures are a new official borough map, an amendment to the zoning ordinance and an amendment to the land subdivision ordinance.

A Borough Hall spokesman stressed that the measures do not represent any changes in the municipal zoning plan. They are intended basically to bring up to date all portions of the local zoning regulations. They will replace ordinances which have been in effect since 1954 and 1955, with numerous amendments since that time.

A public hearing on the three new pro-posals will be held March 14 at the Beechwood School. Copies of the measures are now available at Borough Hall for inspection by any interested citizens.

The governing body also acted Tuesday on four appointments within the Police Department. Sgt. Walter Betyeman was named detective sergeant, and Patrolman Joseph Mazur was advanced to the rank of sergeant. Jack Yerich and Jose D. Pires was appointed as probationary patrolmen. All four appointments will take effect on March 1.

IN OTHER APPOINTMENTS, Mrs. John Suski was named to the Shade Tree Commission; William L. Styler, to the Recreation Commission, and Robert Koser, as relocation officer. The council voted to com-mend Mrs. John Koster for her service on the Shade Tree Commission.

The governing body amended an earlier variance to grant Wieland's Steak House, Rr. 22, additional time to demolish an old building on its property, following the recent completion of expanded restaurant facilities.

Mayor, Wilhelms and the council reported receipt of a letter from Rep. Florence Dwyer offering little encouragement for efforts to obtain tax relief for borough residents. Since the borough does not provide garbage collec-tion service, there had been suggestions that payments to private scavengers might be tax deductible.

Rep. Dwyer enclosed a statement by Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Finance Committee, offering numerous reasons why Mountainside residents will not be able to save any money on their taxes.

The Scotch Plains Planning Board formally notified the borough of its request to the N. J. Department of Transportation for a new access highway running from the Rt. 78 interchange to a new Rt. 22 overpass east of Diamond Hill road. In addition to relief from traffic congestion, the proposed new road would provide more direct access between Mountainside and Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Organizing for the performances next Thurs-day and March 1 and 2 in the school auditorium, the various committees have begun their final preparations. The scenery committee under Louise Sgarro and Diane Shelly, with the assistance of Robert Josen and William Anderson of the art department, has completed the major street scenes to transport the audience to the lower west side of New York. The sets have been constructed by the stage crew under chairman Steve Cunningham and faculty advisor, Danial Gomula. As last year, they have placed most of the sets on rollers for easy movement. Being used for the first time this year is a double set. This consists of one set built on one side, and on the reverse side, a sequential set. Thus, to change scenes, the set is simply reversed, Although heavier than a single set, this allows quicker, more efficient scenery changes, according to

The props committee has completed securing all the properties necessary for the performances. "Although there were fewer props to obtain than last year, they were harder to find," stated chairman Debbie Hendricks. For instance, they had difficulty finding a full size, self-standing mirror that was not too heavy to be moved by the actors during the scene. The costumes for "West Side Story" are related to the ethnic relationships of the two gang groups, the Puerto Rican Sharks and the white American Jets, Black is used primarily for the Sharks, whereas the Jets are associated with primary colors. The committee responsible for assembling the costumes and aiding actors in costume changes between scenes is headed by Amy Harris and Lina

Sue Maas and Debra Taylor are in charge of the make-up committee. The program has been designed and prepared for the printers by a committee consisting of Pam Habick, Christine Wohlferth, Carol Surgens and Kathy Weidner. Carol and Kathy also secured the financial backing of local merchants through advertising that will appear in the program.

Other members of the Governor Livingston faculty are also contributing their assistance. Walter Both has been assisting in directing the orchestra. Clifton Robinson is handling the

When lauding the well-planned beauty of the new Mountainside Public Library, one must necessarily stop for a moment and commend the ability of one of the most important contributors to any edifice. That man is the architect, without whose drawings and blue prints no building could come into being.

Howard L. McMurray of 268 Meeting House la., Mountainside, is the veritable father of the building which houses the new library.

The late Frank Lloyd Wright, the great architect of our time, once said that a building reflects the soul of the architect because in some complex manner, in its planning, he projects his own image.

McMurray comes by his skill by heredity. Born in Newark, the son of an architect, he moved to Irvington for a short time and then to Union, where he grew up and was graduated from Union High School. He attended Newark College of Engineering for two years and then transferred to Pratt Institute, New York, where, four years later he was graduated with a B.A. degree in architecture.

Upon graduation, he married his high school sweetheart, Anne Bayer, and that same year entered the officers' candidate school at Ft. Belvoir, Va. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Engineering Corps and was shipped to Casa Blanca, Africa, He saw action in the invasion of Italy and later was in charge of building airfields in Greece. in 1945 he was honorably discharged with the rank of first lieutenant of the 345th Engineers.

REJOINING HIS family, which had now become three by virtue of the birth of a daugh-ter, he became affiliated with his father's architectural firm in Union.

His father, Eugene A. McMurray, and young Howard specialized in the building of residential homes and apartments, which included Normandy Village and the Townley Apartments

Upon the death of his father, the young man took over the firm and moved to Elizabeth where he became associated with Albert A. Kaufmann a well-known Elizabeth architect. Upon the demise of Mr. Kaufmann, he says, "I found myself again on my own, where I have remained ever since. The firm is known as McMurray Associates, but it means only

Now specializing in industrial and commercail architecture, he has designed more than 30 banks, among them the First State Bank of Union, in which he serves as director, and the Crestmont Savings and Loan in Maplewood. industrial buildings include many N.J. Bell Telephone Co. buildings, the Atlas Supply Co., of Springfield and the Adams Industries in Union. He was responsible for the Farley Towers and the Ford Leonard Towers, senior citizen apartment projects in Elizabeth, the laundry room which was recently finished at the John E. Runnels Hospital in Berkeley Heights and the 1010 Corporation Medical Building in Plainfield. He recently completed the new Pabst Brewing Co.'s new building in

McMurray, who is a registered architect in states of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Florida, is an active member of the New Jersey Society of Architects, of which he is a past president. The society recently appointed him director of the committee on housing for the organization. He is also a member and a past president of the Institute of Building and Construction of N.J., which he organized and help found. He is an active member and past president of the Rotary Club of Union, a member of the Eastern Union City, and the Union, Chambers of Commerce and is a member of the Canoe Brook Country Club in Summit.

He is the father of three children, Joanne C. 25, who is now married and the mother of two children and resides in Westfield; Karen, 21, who is a senior at the University of Vermont majoring in elementary education, and Lynne, 19, a freshman majoring in nursing at Wagner College, Staten Island, McMurray and his family have resided in Mountainside for the past 11 years.

HE COMMENTS that although he enjoys playing golf and bowling 'my wife is the athlete of the family.' Mrs. McMurray also enjoys golf and bowling, but adds swimming and paddleball, a "form of platform tennis which is played outdoors in the winter on a board" to her list of sports. She was formerly very active in the Girl Scouts and the PTA in Mountainside. She also served as treasurer of the Gov. Livingston Regional High School PTA and was president of the former Friends of the Mountainside Library Association.

Each Heart Fund volunteer will call at the homes of 50 to 100 neighbors, distributing helpful information about the heart diseases and receiving contributions for the Heart Fund.

HISTORY OF LIBRARY

A two-part history of the borough library was concluded last week in the Echo. Extensive space was given to a dispatch on the dedication of a new library building. Although these articles reported on much of the background, they completely omitted one of the major reasons why the library was built. This was due to the ultimate recognition of the importance of two detailed reports. For the record, this story follows:

Three of the boys, Bill Fleming, Ron Johnson and Ken Matysek, were promoted to Life Scout; they may now work toward the high honor of Eagle Scout. John Peto was advanced to first class scout, and Tracy Masters, to second class.

Troop 76 is currently looking for new leadership. The troop has a newly organized and very active troop committee, according to a spokesman for the group.

Anyone interested in serving, either as scoutmaster or assistant scoutmaster was asked to contact Walter Harris, chairman of the troop committee, by calling 232-7580.

Variance granted to industrial firm

Western Exterminating Co. on Rt. 22 was granted a variance, to build an addition to its present building on the center isle, by the Mountainside Board of Adjustment last week. The only other case to come before the board was an application by Saul Brazer of 375 Dogwood way for permission to erect a one-family dwelling on property which did not have the required lot width. The application was held in abeyance until the next meeting, for further consideration by the board.

David Batten to skate in benefit for hospital along with other interested citizens recognized the deficiencies in our library facili-ties ten years ago, Ralph Shaw, former head of the American Library Association and the dean of the Rutgers School of Library Science, personally visited our community and assigned one of his graduate students to write a comprehensive report on the status of Mountainside's library.

The graduate student, Robert F. Clark, wrote at no cost to the community a twovolume, 141-page report in 1961 which analyzed our library problems, and he concluded that the facilities were sadly deficient.

In addition, Mayor Hartung appointed a library study commission with the writer as chairman to investigate and report to the Borough Council. This officially appointed body concluded in December, 1961, by a 7 to 2 vote that our facilities were not adequate and that a number of programs including the construction of a new building be undertaken.

Although a number of recommendations in the reports have been ultimately implemented in our library, it would be appropriate for the present trustees to occasionally peruse them to see where additional improvements to our library can be made.

My sincerest wishes for success go to the staff and trustees of the new library. It is a shame, however, that official inertia delayed the construction recommendation in the report for five years.

Football season gets longer and longer, and now we read reports that within two years it'll extend eight months of the seeson, including pre and post season games which will put top teams on national TV

Anyway, whether on TV or here in thir shop, football is a popular sport to watch, talk about and write about. At a time when we really should be swinging into baseball chatter, we would like to pose a question asked us the other day.

What was the top college football game of 1935. Though this is history to many of us, it still is chalked up as one of the top games of this century.

For those who might find this a bit of a stickler, let me insert a few clues: It was played in Columbus, Ohio. The winning team scored all its points in the last fifteen minutes. The winning score was 18-13. More than 81,000 fans were on hand for the game which was predicted to be the tops of the day.

As mentioned, it was not only the top game of that day and year, but one of the best of the century. Here are a few more clues: The hero of the game was a halfback who passed superbly all afternoon, ran fearlessly, and dominated every phase of the game. His name was Andy Pilney.

Here are the names of a few of his teammates: Wayne Millner, the end who scored the winning touchdown on a pass from William Shakespeare with just minutes remaining. Quarterback of this great team was Wally Fromhart and fullback was Frank Carideo.

Did you name Notre Dame? It's coach was Elmer Layden, one of the famous Four Horsemen. Ohio State, with Gomer Jones at center-one of that school's all-time greats, was the opposing squad.

It was a great game, played by two great squads. And that reminds us that when we use the word great so often, we must also attach this superlative to the name of the great tires that are the greatest anywhere.

The name: FIRESTONE. The place to get them: SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22 at Springfield rd., Union. Open daily 9-9, Saturdays to 4, our, staff of train mechanics is ready to serve your car's needs immediately. For information, just call MU 8-5620.

22 new TB cases reported in county

The TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey---sponsors of the local Christmas Seal campaign to stamp out tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases --- reported that 22 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered in Union County during the last quarter of 1967.

According to a report compiled by the John E. Runnells Hospital for Chest Diseases, which operates the Union County Tuberculosis Case Register and Contact File, there are 921 county residents under medical supervision for the disease, 48 of whom are hospitalized. In addition to the people being treated, 741 contacts (close associates) of persons with tuberculosis are also under medical supervision. The regular examination of the contacts is a major source of tuberculosis detection and control. For example, during the last quarter of the year examination of 301 contacts revealed four new cases of tuberculosis. Presently, there are 1,662 Union County residents (patients and contacts) under medical supervision for Tuberculosis.

Annual art exhibit at Union College

The Westfield Art Association and Union College, Cranford, will join forces for the fifth consecutive year to offer the association's seventh annual state-wide show from March 17 to March 24 in the gymnasium of the college's Campus Center.

Open to all New Jersey artists, the show has become a popular event with artists and viewers alike. A brochure has been sent to 1,200 artists throughout the state.

The association between the Westfield Art Association and Union College began five years ago when the state-wide show was held in the Student Lounge of the Campus Center. Since then the show has grown and is now held in the gymnasium. It is open to the public free of charge from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. The association is of mutual benefit as it gives the association a place to exhibit and adds a cultural event to the college's calendar.

Artists interested in entering the show may obtain information from Mrs. Elven Sheahan, 801 North Broad st., Elizabeth.

Minimum 13* hike in Social Security benefits next month

"If you are receiving a monthly socia! security benefit, the amount you receive will be increased by at least 13 percent beginning with the check due early in March," W. Jones, district manager, of the Elizabeth Social Security District Office, said this week. You do not have to do anything to get this increase," Jones said. The minimum monthly benefit for a worker who retired at age 65 will be increased from $44 to $55 and maximum from $135.90 to $153,60.

The maximum payment to a family now on the rolls, $368 a month, will be increased to $395.60.

He added that for many working people, the 1967 amendments will increase future cash benefits even more. This will result from the increase in the amount of earnings in 1968. The resulting ultimate maximum benefit will be $218, based on average monthly earnings

These higher maximum retirement payments will be payable to workers who are now young and who consequently will be paying contributions on these higher amounts of earnings over a considerable period of time before they retire. But even those in their middle years will benefit, he noted. For example, a man age 50 in 1968 who earns $7,800 a year until he is 65 will get a benefit of $188.80 at age 65 --21.8 percent higher than he could get under

The sterilization of food by irradiation has finally passed laboratory tests, scored "excellent" in its first large-scale feeding trial, and is now being evaluated in special test facilities, reports Dr. Edward S. Josephson, Associate Director for Food Radiation at the U.S. Army Natick Laboratories, Natick, Mass. The final step, he says, is commercialization by industry.

Irradiation can mean less starvation in the world, since food does not spoil as long as it is sterile, Dr. Josephson explains. It also means fewer food-shipping problems since it lengthens storage life without refrigera-tion. By helping to control disease organisms, it can encourage countries to remove quarantine barriers against livestock imports, thereby stimulating international trade.

Laboratory tests show that irradiation can delay the ripening of bananas and tomatoes; extend the shelf-life of clams, chicken and fresh-water fish; reduce the spoilage of oranges, strawberries, and nectarines; and sterilize pork, beef, hamburgers, frankfurters, turkey, and luncheon meats.

In the world's first large-scale production test of irradiated meat, U.S. Army and Air Force personnel ate 15 tons of bacon, and it excellent, Dr. Josephson states.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture began operating a pilot plant to treat wheat in Savannah, Ga., last year. A radiation facility has been built in Hawaii for processing tropical fruits and cereal products, and a Depart-ment of the Interior plant in Massachusetts is engaged in preserving fish for consumption

The two chief sources of the radiation used are radioactive cobalt and the electron linear accelerator (LINAC). The cobalt produces highly penatrating gamma rays, while LINAC produces penetrating electrons.

To insure that no radioactivity is produced in the food, that no dangerous organisms survive, and that nutrition is not adversely affected, the irradiated foods are fed to animals which are then tested for cancer, longevity, fertility, and signs of illness. The results: irradiated foods have been found to be "safe and nutritionally adequate.

Today the chief problem is to compile the amassed evidence and get final approval from the Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Josephson asserted. In the next decade, health officials will require the irradiation of foods such as poultry, eggs, pork, beef, and shellfish to insure freedom from disease-producing organisms, he predicted.

Whether or not they will feel they have enough money to spend or not is debatable, but they will more likely be satisfied with the family's financial arrangements if they are included in making the plans. choices as to how large teenagers' allowances should be. Before making final plans, consider the following points with him: 1. The kind of community you live in. The cost of clothes, meals, entertainment and busfare will be determined by this. (This will also affect what the other kids do for entertainment, etc.)

2. Does your teenager have a job -- and how much does he earn' 3. How much responsibility will be (or she)

Father of Our Country was a child, he cut down a cherry tree and then confessed the act to his father. As a result, food suggestions which feature cherries have become a vital part of the festivities that pay tribute to this

The cherry pudding recipe given below offers a change of pace from the typical cherry pie usually served on this day. The use of chopped nuts and brown sugar, as well as cherries, in the pudding results in both a unique flavor and texture. Once you have prepared this dessert, you will probably be serving it often throughout the year.
GEORGE'S CHERRY PUDDING

1/2 stick (1/4 cup) margarine 1/2 cup granulated sugar teaspoon vanilla 1-1/2teaspoons baking powder 1/2 cup milk

1/2 cup chopped nuts cups tart pie cherries, drained (re-serve liquid)

1/4 cup packed brown sugar

1/4 cup granulated sugar 1/4 teaspoon salt

1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch 2 drops red food coloring

Whipped cream (optional) Cream margarine. Add 1/2 cup granulated sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Beat in vanilla. Sift together flour and baking powder. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Blend in nuts. Spread cherries over bottom of 8 by 8 by 2 inch pan. Pour batter over cherries. Add water to cherry juice to equal 1-1/4 cups. Bring to a boil. Combine brown sugar, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, salt, and cornstarch in a bowl. Stir in boiling juice. Pour over batter in pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Serve with cherries over cake. Top with whipped cream. Nine servings.

SMALL WORLD

The world may appear small to the astronaut gliding through space in his orbit around the earth; yet it is not so small to the motorist whose car stalls in the middle of a barren desert on a seldomtraveled road.

Transportation and communication have not made our world smaller. It is as large as it was on the day of creation. The world is big enough for men to dwell in righteously; in love and brotherhood, if they will only learn to love God and their fellow man.

For many of us, the world is relatively small. We are confined by virtue of occupation and responsibilities to a specific area. It is within this small area that our greatest interests lie: it is within this small area that we can do the most to promote brotherhood among men and to build a world of happiness.

SHOPPING CENTER, ROUTE 22

The preliminary engineering study and feasibility report on the Raritan Valley Project that will determine the economic well-being of metropolitan New Jersey was issued this week by the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.

The study was performed for the commission and 11 northeastern New Jersey communities by the engineering firm of Gilbert Associates, Inc., of Reading, Pa. The communities have subscribed to 60.925 million gallons of water daily (mgd) from a new supply at the Raritan River utilizing the State's Round Valley and Spruce Run reservoirs.

After considering four alternate plans - two for 70 mgd and two for 90 mgd - Gilbert recommended a 70 mgd project - with expansion capability to 90 mgd - over a 26,6mile route. This would be three miles shorter and $9 to $12 million less costly than a more northerly route which had been proposed earlier, the engineers found.

Under the new design, Raritan River water would be fed into a 72-inch raw water main from the point of intake near Bound Brook and transmitted to a treatment plant near Martinsville in the Washington Valley. After complete treatment (coagulation, sedimentation and filtration), the water would be pumped through a 72-inch force main eastward through the Washington Valley to abalancing reservoir (balancing the system when pumps are over-taxed) in the vicinity of Scotch Plains.

The water would then flow by gravity through an 84-inch main to interconnect with Newark's 60-inch pipeline near the Newark-Elizabeth boundary in Newark.

project was estimated by Gilbert at $51,-226,182. Depending upon the interest rate and including operation and maintenance expenses plus the state's charges of water diverted from the Raritan River, the cost to participating communities under the recommended 70 mgd plan would range between $217.25 and $251.10 per million gallons, Gilbert estimated. For a 90 mgd program, should additional subscribers enroll, the cost range would be from $190.87 to $218.69.

If the partners agree to proceed with little delay, the project could be in operation by early 1972, according to the engineers' timetable. Interim financing, detailed engineering and land surveys and acquisition can proceed by mid-1968, and the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission could be ready for bidding by the end of 1969. Construction contracts would be awarded and final financing arranged in early 1970.

'This project is needed, and needed now,' Gilbert concluded. "It is hoped that the participants will not be lulled into a false sense of security in view of the past year's above normal precipitation. The danger of drought is always with us and cannot be ignored. Nor can we ignore the fact that the economic well-being of the northeast area as a whole hinges on the availability of adequate water supplies and intelligent management of available water resources.'

An extended delay "will only complicate and make the water supply situation worse" in view of ever-rising costs, Gilbert cautioned.

The five members of the NJDWSC - Chairman Joseph R. Brumale, of Paterson; and Commissioners H. Kermit Green, Newark; Milton Schamach, Paterson; Maxwell E. Kaps, Jersey City; and Frank A. Orechio, Nutley will review the Gilbert findings in detail with all participants before proceeding.

Subscribers and their water commitments are: Bayonne, 12'mgd; Bloomfield, 6; Cedar Grove, 2.5; Elizabeth, 12; Glen Ridge, 0.175; Kearny, 5; Newark, 15; Nutley, 3; South Orange,

The trend to wear short skirts or miniskirts for the females, and the acrobatic, tight trousers and the long hair on the heads of the young males is a God-send. Because, in both cases, the custom not only plainly distinguishes all those who are of a subcultural nature, but it also gives an opportunity for these young individuals who are eccentric or have some type of mental derangement to bring to the surface and to display on the countenances and on their heads their ghastly childish innermost thoughts and beliefs. In turn, this ugly display automatically produces a burning dislike in those who have a higher intellect and forewarns their conscience to discriminate against these who practice in being the laughing stock of our great nation.

Perhaps it would be justice for most of us if we could have these sub-characters dropped by helicopter in the enemy territory of Viet Nam and forsaken there, because in the very end, idiots can only beget other idiots and eventually put our country to ruin.

costs were estimated at $52,828,524 and the rate for delivered water would be between $188.95 and $216.29 per million gallons.

The final alternate, also for 90 mgd capacity, provided for a 72-inch raw water main to the balancing reservoir and an 84-inch gravity main to the terminus with room in the pipeline for future expansion beyond 90 mgd. Pumping and treatment facilities would allow for 90 mgd to start, and the larger balancing reservoir would be required. Construction cost was placed at $53,913,762, while the water rate was set between $190.87 and $218.69 per million

Construction costs in each of the four alternates do not take into account such added charges as property acquisition; various engineering, legal and bonding fees; certain operational expenses; interest during construction and bond discounts. The interest rate is the prime tangible.

Red Cross issues warning on deaths caused by choking children under five need to be especially alert to the dangers of choking accidents, the American Red Cross noted this week.

Last year at least 1,200 persons died of choking, Howard C. Camp, Jr., area director of Safety Services for the Red Cross Eastern Area, said this week. "Seven hundred fifty of them were children under five; another 410 persons, from the age of 45 on—many of them wearers of dentures—also choked to death,"

Medical authorities believe that a number of other deaths were the result of choking but went unidentified because autopsies were not performed, he pointed out.

Through its first aid courses, the Red Cross gives special attention to the prevention of choking accidents. Among young children, Camp said, the danger arises to a great extent from the fact that infants do not get all their baby teeth until they are two years old, and the chewing habit is not firmly established until age four. 'As any mother knows, small children will put virtually anything into their mouths. They have a tendency to swallow automatically; therefore, they will try to swallow an inedible object instead of expectorating it, as an adult

"SINCE AN INFANT cannot talk, a foreign object may go unrecognized until serious complications or death result.

'Also, children frequently inhale foreign objects into the air passages. These must be promptly removed before they cause respiratory problems or even death."

To further its aim of preventing accidents and conserving human life, the American Red Cross cooperates closely with the Council the American Broncho-Esophagological Association in a program to make people aware of the dangers of choking accidents. Also supporting this program of education are the American Dental Association, the committee on Broncho-Esophagology of the American College of Chest Physicians, and the Committee for the Prevention of Accidents of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Camp said.

Launching legal problems in space

Down to earth liability in the universe

The legal problems of outer space are as vast as the universe and, in some cases, just as unfathomable.

Professor L.F.E. Goldle, a visiting professor of law at the Rutgers School of Law in Newark, will vouch for that, Such problems are the focus of his research.

In several papers delivered to groups such as the International Astronautical Congress and the British Institute of International and Comparative Law, he has cited the problems of liability arising from launching objects into outer space. And he also has assessed the sophisticated legal points -- the loopholes in other words -- which make the international agreements on space complicated documents. 'I can use a hypothetical case to demonstrate just one of the complications," Goldie said,

"A group of American astronauts has landed on the moon -- sort of an expeditionary force -- and one day discovers a newmineral, The group gathers all the mineral available and piles it into one small heap. The men take four or five samples and return to earth.

"THEN, AFTER THE Americans leave, a group of French astronauts arrives, finds the heap of the mineral, establishes a base camp and proclaims France's sovereignty over the area of the camp. The heap of minerals is within the proclaimed area.

'When they are ready to return to earth, the French take several samples and leave the "Shortly thereafter," Goldie continued, "the Americans return. Tests have shown the mineral to be extremely valuable. Therefore, they pick up all the samples and take them back to earth.

'Now it's time for the American astronauts to take a holiday in Paris. As soon as they land in France, they are arrested by the French for grand theft."

Goldie said there would be little to stop the French in doing this even though it is not what is meant by the agreements.

He views the prospect of men being arrested on earth for their actions on what essentially is international territory as somewhat frightening. But he says it is the kind of thing lawyers may run into once the Space Age takes off for exploration of the moon and the planets

Outside the area of the international conflict of criminal laws, Professor Goldie has done a great deal of research into the area of civil liability for damage resulting from space activities. One of his early articles, "Extra-Terrestrial Privileges, Immunities and Exposures," which appeared in the Southern which appeared in the Southern California Law Review in 1963, discusses the danger which may arise from disputes of the lack of concrete definitions.

Film on New York scheduled Sunday

"New York -- State of Discovery," a color, sound movie will be shown at the County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The film, a travelogue, takes the viewer on a tour through, New York State from Niagara Palls to Manhattan, depicting along the way the various historical and recreational areas available to the public. At 4 p.m., on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, and Miss Irma H. Heyer, educaof Trailside, and Miss irms in Heyer, educational assistant at Trailside, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic for the four days is "John J. Audubon." The lectures will be illustrated with color

The Trailside Nature and Science Center open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to view the thousands of scheduled programs.

work and considers the types of hability which may be used for damage cases arising from space programs.

"Stray rockets have landed in the junyles of Brazil," Goldie said, "and a Kussaan vehicle fell in the Dakotas, but no damage was caused.

But what, he asks, would be the settlement, for instance, if a space vehicle launched from Cape Kennedy went astray and wiped out a city Brazil" Although this is rather a far-out illustration it does have an answer. The principle of "absolute" Hability should be

Absolute liability, as it is explained by Prof. Goldie, is the settling of a claim without the establishment of anybody's fault. No one is held blameworthy because of the limited knowledge of the action of the space vehicleafter it was launched. But the city would remain in ruins - and damages would have to be paid by the launching country up to an economically feasible maximum liability,

This form of liability is easily applicable to the inherent dangers of launching rockets, So far, however, lawyers have not had a chance to test their theories in the courts.

All vehicles launched are registered with the United Nations, Goldie said, making it possible to determine whose vehicle went astray.

Prof. Goldie, who was born in London and educated in Australia, has done graduate work at the Harvard Law School and taken diplomas from The Hague Academy of International Law. He has taught at the Australian National University and, on a part-time basis, at the Royal Military College, Duntroon, Australia, and is now a professor of law at the Loyola School of Law in Los Angeles.

case, conjured up by an authority on legal problems of outer space, two American astronauts, who were on a holiday in Paris, wind up in jail charged with grand theft for having removed mineral samples from a part of the moon claimed by both countries. Prof. L.F.E. Goldie, a visiting professor of law at the Rutgers School of Law in Newark is investigating problems of liability arising from launching objects into outer space.

"Dear Trudina,

"Thank you very much for sending the batch of excellent articles. It's so refreshing to read impartial yet factual material--the usual trend is to twist and turn everything in order to satisfy the god of sensationalism.

'I am most gratified to learn that your Rhodesian stories were printed in each of eight papers - some coverage! We can only hope that Congressman Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen read them. You will recall that he supported sanctions in Congress. Of the 35 members of the Congressional Committee on Foreign Affairs 14 support sanctions (including P.H.B.F. of New Jersey) 11 condemn sanctions and ten are uncommitted. We hope to convince a number of the uncommitted that appetions are morally wrong.

""It would be foolish to say that sanctions have not affected certain sections of the economy, particularly the tobacco farmers. Also petrol continues to be rationed, although everyone obtains enough to meet day to day requirements with a special allocation for vacations, Of necessity Rhodesia has had to diversify its economy -- cotton is gradually replacing tobacco and many of the consumer goods which were formerly imported are now being produced locally at comparative quality and

The Caucasian consumer price index for the first 10 months of 1967 was only 2.1 percent over that for the same period in 1966 and the African cost of living index even less, being a 1.1 percent increase. Tourism showed a 9 percent increase over 1966, thereby increasing our earnings of foreign exchange.
"Almost 10,000 people immigrated into Rhodesia in 1967 which, although less than 1965, is higher than any other year since 1959. At the same time approximately only 5000 departed in 1967, being less than the figures for both 1965 and 1966, and less than half the 1964 figure.

"Building plans passed in the first 9 months of 1967 were 57 percent higher than in the same period in 1966. Even higher levels are expected in 1968.

I have lone maintained that this is an unwarranted abuse of prerogative by a public authority. On the one hand, the Authority seeks to extract money for riding on a highway that was built with public funds; on the other hand, a deep and abiding interest in the promotion of cultural activities, It is just that I do not think the construction of a cultural center is a fitting and proper activity of a public authority that was created to build and operate a highway.

The New Jersey Highway Authority was created by the legislature in 1952. At the time, it was charged with the responsibility for constructing and maintaining the Garden State Parkway, It also was authorized to build "such adjoining park or recreational areas and facilities as the Authority, with the concurrence of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, shall find to be necessary and desirable to promote the public health and wel-

But it is not too late to prevent repetitions. Accordingly, I have sponsored a bill to limit the scope of the Highway Authority's activities in the future. Scheduled to be introduced in the State Senate on March 11, the bill would amend the 1952 act to restrict the Authority's construction of recreational and cultural facilities to those "directly related to the use" of highways. It would also specifically prohibit the Authority from engaging in the construction or operation of any facility or activity "not di-rectly related to the use of a highway project except as may be specifically authorized by law." My bill would not, of course, affect the cultural center now underway, but it would bar the door to similar projects in the future, will conduct the opening class on "Spending, Credit and Investors," Paul Epstein of Reynolds & Co., Newark, will conduct succeeding classes on "Economic Indicators," "Selection of Securities" and "Investing Theories and Techniques."

TURNPIKE JOBS The New Jersey Turnpike Authority employed a total of 1,120 persons in 1967-- 1,082 on a full time basis and 38 part-time.
