DON'T LOOK NOW, says Bobby Van Buskirk, 10, left, to brother Jim, 8, but it's later than we think. The boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Buskirk of Mountainside, in a pensive mood which is reflected on their faces, know that come Wednesday, it's back to school for them. Heidi, the dog, can't even bear to look. (Echo photo by Pam Darley)

Schools open Wednesday; transport plans announced

Mountainside public schools and Our Lady of Lourdes School will open Wednesday, it was announced this week. Classes at all schools will begin at 9 a.m. Public school classes will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for the opening day only, and thereafter, according to Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, will be on a full day schedule.

Upper-class students at the Regional High Schools will start with a full day of classes on Wednesday. Mountainside freshmen, who will attend Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield, will also take part in a freshman orientation program Tuesday from 12:30 to 3 p.m.

School buses from Mountainside to Springfield will operate on Tuesday exactly four hours later than the regular times listed elsewhere in this issue. In other words, the starting times on Tuesday only will be 11:25 and 11:30 a.m., rather than 7:25 and 7:30.

combination of allocation, state regulations, distance and grade of child.

"It shall be the policy of this Board of Education to transport pupils based on the following requirements:

"1. Pupils in kindergarten who live .5 of a mile and farther from their assigned school will be transported. Pupils who live closer will be allowed to ride providing that they meet the bus at a regular stop.

"2. Pupils in grades 1 and 2 who live .75 of a mile and farther from their assigned school.

"3. Pupils in grades 3, 4, and 5 who live 1.0 miles and farther from their assigned school.

"4. Pupils in grades 6, 7, and 8 who live 1.4 miles and farther from their assigned school.

"5. No bus stops shall be made on Rt. 22.

"6. Transportation will be provided for disabled pupils upon certification of need by a qualified physician.

"7. Whenever reasonable doubt arises as to a controversial distance, the superintendent of schools or his delegate will be the final arbiter.

"8. Distance is defined as being along accessible roads or walkways from the home to the school.

"9. To determine which public school your child will attend, first find the area in which he lives, and then the grade in which he will be next September.

"10. Transportation cards will be given to pupils who are entitled to ride a bus.

"11. Kindergarten information (assignment to morning or afternoon class, bus schedules, etc.) will be mailed in August.

"12. If further information is desired, please call the transportation office, 233-6622."

THE MOUNTAIN INSIDE Board of Education allocation and transportation policy for this year reflects the changes imposed by the completion of the new facilities at Deerfield School. According to the board, the most important, insofar as school allocation is concerned, is that many children in the Deerfield School will no longer attend Beechwood and Echobrook schools but will be assigned to classes in Deerfield School. These two major changes, the board stated, plus a few minor ones, will help Mountainside schools, to a large degree to reflect the neighborhood school concept.

The board also said that bus schedules and passes will be mailed this week, as will kindergarten assignments. Questions should be directed to Donald W. Rath, transportation coordinator, at 233-6622.

IN A COMPLETE summation for the 1968-1969 school year regarding school allocation and transportation, the Mountainside Board of Education released the following statement:

"The allocation of pupils to our three schools is based first on proximity to the local 'neighborhood' school facility allowing a complete K-5 program at each of the district schools, and then on available classrooms and facilities.

"The transportation policy is based on a

School guard
urgently needed

Chief of Police Christian F. Fritz stated this week that despite the request for a "much needed" special school guard, which appeared on the front page of the Echo last week, no applications for the position had been forthcoming.

The chief also stated that with the emphasis the police department puts on safety patrol, particularly with safeguarding the lives of children, he will continue his appeal for the assignment of any man or woman of any age until the job is filled. "Not only will a person answering this call be serving the children of the community, he will also have the opportunity of earning a salary. I am hopeful some civic-minded individual will contact me at once," the chief concluded.

One armed robbery, one assault with a cutting instrument, four assaults with hands or feet and 11 non-atrocious assaults accounted for crimes of violence in Mountainside during 1967, according to figures released this week under the state's new Uniform Crime Reporting System.

Made public by Atty. Gen. Arthur J. Sills, the crime reporting system requires all 572 law enforcement agencies in the state to submit quarterly crime reports to the state police.

The 160-page report outlines in a series of graphs and charts the mayhem, assaults and larcenies committed in the state last year. Sills cautioned that the statistics should not be compared to any previous period, but should instead be treated as a base year for total crime reporting.

MOUNTAININSIDE IS INCLUDED in one section of the report devoted to a town-by-town breakdown of criminal activity in each of the state's municipalities.

Other statistics submitted by the Mountainside Police Department include:

- A total of 38 forcible entries, six entries without force and 12 attempted forcible entries.
- Larcenies in excess of $200 totaled 13. There were 51 larcenies between $50 and $200 last year and 67 under $50.
- A total of 10 auto thefts were reported by Mountainside police in 1967.

274 murders reported. Rifles and shotguns were used in nine percent of all murders.

- More than one out of every two persons arrested for narcotic drug law violations were under the age of 21.
- Almost 11 out of every 100 police officers in the state were victims of assaults in 1967.
- There were 5,775 robberies reported during the year. Over 55 percent occurred on the streets.

- There were 6,368 atrocious assaults in 1967. Firearms were used in 12 percent. The report also says that August was the busiest month for lawbreakers. More people were murdered in July, September was the top month for auto theft and December was the most active month for robberies.

Former crime reports had been issued under a Federal Bureau of Investigation system which pulled only 277 of the state's 567 municipalities.

PROFILE -- Arthur C. Fried

(This is another in a series of profiles on candidates for county and national office in the November election.)

Incumbent Freeholder Arthur C. Fried of Westfield has a special interest group to lobby in the Court House.

The group, however, shouldn't be so specialized as the National Rifle Association. He suggests a county taxpayers association, organized much like the New Jersey Taxpayers Association which observes state proceedings in Trenton.

"You're apt to get more responsible government," he said, with such a group. He also suggested that representatives of labor and management pay more attention to county government. "Business is losing a bet by not observing closely enough what's happening in county government."

"We invariably play to an empty house," Fried remarked recently about the poor attendance at meetings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders. He guessed that "only three out of 10 persons on the street can tell you the functions of county government."

MORE PEOPLE SHOULD attend the meetings, he says. "To encourage more people to speak at the meetings we open the sessions to the public early and then again after its closed," which he admits sometimes approaches and even goes beyond midnight.

One suggestion he offers is "taking the show on the road" by scheduling meetings around the county in various municipal council chambers. Another idea is to actively encourage high school students to attend meetings. "They could then inform their parents" about happenings in county government." He said "high school students are just a year or two from voting. They're going to inherit what we have."

Fried has been in the news during the past three years since his election to county office for his investigations concerning purchasing and employment practices at John E. Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights. Fried uncovered bidding practices which he says have cost the county thousands of dollars each year until they were corrected.

One example of the wasteful bidding procedure, said Fried, is the method by which milk was purchased. In one 18 month period the hospital was paying 35 percent more for milk than other hospitals and schools in the area. Prices paid by Runnells ran from .0623 cents to .0717 while school districts and other hospitals were paying an average of .0532 cents per half-pint.

FRIED FOUND THE hospital received non-competitive "quotes" from selected milk distributors and rotated the vendors for the milk between four firms during an 18-month period. Fried, who was born in Elizabeth 55 years ago, entered politics in 1958 when he was selected as a member of the Union County Democratic Committee from Westfield where he now resides. Two years later he ran for mayor of Westfield and polled more votes than any other Democrat had ever received in the town. In 1962 he ran again for the top Westfield elected executive post but went down to defeat with the rest of the ticket.

In 1965 he opposed Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union for a freeholder's seat. When the first

Bus brakes fail, employ crushed

A freak accident involving two Somerset buses took the life of Albert John Gough, 57, of 1041 Clinton ave., Irvington, last Wednesday night at 8:55 p.m. in the bus maintenance garage on Rt. 22 in Mountainside.

According to the Mountainside police, Gough, a company maintenance man, was standing behind a parked bus in the service alley, checking the oil dip stick, when Louis Bemis, 37, of 21 Findernie ave., Somerville, also a maintenance man, began lining up another bus for servicing. Police stated that Bemis said he applied his brakes to avoid hitting the parked bus, but the brakes failed to hold. He attempted to steer the vehicle into the wall of the building to avoid hitting Gough, but was unable to do so.

The victim, who was crushed between the two buses, was killed instantly police said, and was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Leon Anson, a Mountainside physician. His body was removed to the Smith and Smith Funeral home in Springfield.

Lt. Det. James E. Herrick and Patrolmen Steven Semancik and Jose Pires investigated.

Particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday news deadline is advised for material for next week's issue because this office will be closed on Monday, Labor Day. All organizational, social and other news items for the issue of Sept. 5 should be submitted by tomorrow.

Echo Lake Park 'wilds' scene of TV commercial

The rural and picturesque beauty of Echo Lake Park in Mountainside was chosen this week by Fleischmann's Margarine, a subsidiary of Standard Brands, to film a commercial which will be shown on television networks this coming fall.

Tom Phillips, advertising manager for Standard Brands, who also acts as swim team director at the Mountainside Community Pool, told the Echo that the commercial, which had Millie Taggart, an actress, in the role of a camper cooking in the "wilds", was meant to advertise how easy it was to get a "delicious and easy-to-prepare meal" by using Fleischmann's Margarine to grease cooking pans and butter pancakes, in addition to other uses.

A full company, including camera men, script girls, special lighting trucks, a food truck which catered a complete luncheon to the company, extra child models, special sound effects and Dave Lawrence, a renowned freelance professional make-up man, was on hand. Mountainside children and their parents, in the background and mingling among the participants, added reality to the scene which resembled a motion picture set.

Miss Taggart was easily recognized by many of the local residents as the actress who, for the past three years has played the part of Gerry on the daily TV soap opera, "Edge of Night".

Members of the Mountainside Police department, a fire engine and a Borough Department of Public Works truck stood outside the filming perimeter, reportedly "ready to assist the filming company in case an emergency arose".

MOUNTAININSIDE ON TAPE--Filming crew is shown shooting scenes in Echo Lake Park for a Fleischmann's Margarine commercial which will be shown on national TV network in the fall. Mountainside residents may be seen in the background, helping to round out the depicted rural campsite.

Classmates 'lost,' addresses needed for Dayton reunion

Some members of the Dayton Regional High School class of 1958 will not receive their invitation to a class reunion—mainly because those in charge of reunion plans do not know how to reach their former classmates.

Anyone knowing the address of these persons, whose names are listed below, is asked to contact Estelle Nuopola Clausen, 6 Cypress rd., Clatham, after 6 p.m.

Those whose addresses are missing include: Martha Blair, Pat Cadden, Joan Diener, George Fuchs, Ed Sanford, Carol Ambschmidt, Linda Seijas, Carol Weitzel, Carol Tomlinson, F. Rendine, G. Thorne, Don Baker, Richard Bell, Ron Denman, Mary Ann Donnington, George Fleetwood, Mike Goodman, Carol Haubold, Marvin Heller, Rich Hollar, Mike Kazin.

results were counted Fried was on top by one vote out of the approximately 170,000 cast. After a recount of the votes Fried picked up an additional 18 votes.

"If Matt had won he would probably still be a freeholder, not state senator," Fried remarked.

His campaign for a second term this fall will be based on taxes. "The overriding issue right now is the question of taxes and how much the taxpayer is going to be willing to burden," Fried believes.

FRIED THINKS SEN. Rinaldo's bill to return sales tax money to the municipality will help, but he notes that the funds aren't officially sales tax receipts, since that money is put into the state's general revenue account. "The money given to the municipalities is going to have to be replaced." This, he explained, is why there are higher taxes on gasoline and other items and services.

Fried attended public schools in Elizabeth and Rutgers University. Until last January he was associated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for 32 years. In January he became director of public relations for Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey.

The incumbent lives in Westfield with his wife, the former Vera Vandemark of Connecticut, a daughter, Janice Ann, 16, a student at Westfield High School and a son, John, 21, who is attending Fordham Law School.

"My hobby is my family," Fried says. "I've no time for anything else."

The reason he has little time for much else, is, besides his duties with Blue Cross and Blue Shield and county government, he is a member of the board of directors of the Westfield YMCA, vice chairman of Westfield's hospital campaign and chairman of the Youth and Family Counseling Service of Westfield.

The counseling service, he explained, is now in the midst of a $45,000 capital fund drive for improvement of facilities. The agency gives marital counseling, assists youths with problems, including narcotics, and provides psychiatric care.

Fried is confident of reelection. "I'm sure the public isn't that apathetic to let the work of the Democrats on the board go unnoticed."

The freeholder says "county government has to consider itself more and more from a sound business point. It's too important to be left in the hands of politicians only." Above all else, Fried wants to see "responsible people take an interest in county government."

Area air pollution decreasing, Rotary told by Esso aide

Substantial progress has been made in improving air quality in the New York-New Jersey area, Dr. R. W. Scott, coordinator for conservation technology at Esso Research and Engineering Co. told the Mountainside Rotary Club Monday at a luncheon meeting at Wielands Steak House.

He said 1968 auto engine modifications and special antipollutant control devices have already reduced by two-thirds the amount of auto emissions that used to create about 2,300 pounds of pollutants per car a year. The speaker said that further progress is being made and predicted that "by 1980, our automotive pollution will be down to the level of the 1920s."

He also described steps being taken to provide the metropolitan area with sufficient and continuing supplies of low-sulfur heavy fuel oil for use by large industrial and commercial facilities.

"We—industry, government and the public—have made progress; we are making more progress; and I'm confident we will continue to make progress to the point where this subject of air pollution will be of little concern to a group such as yours," he said.

"More than anything else, perhaps, the air conservation problem needs an informed public," he added. "In the last analysis, it will be up to you as the citizens faced with the pollution problems to decide how much you are willing to spend for increasing the cleanliness of the air."

UTI rebuts; says it had name first

The president of Union Technical Institute said today that he was still waiting to hear from the attorney for the Union County Board of Technical Education who has complained of a similarity in the names of the private institution and the public school. Louis Dughi, the board attorney, was quoted in the press last week as claiming that the name of Union Technical Institute was "confusingly similar" to that used by the Union County Technical Institute.

"I'm afraid that Mr. Dughi has his facts a bit backwards," Paul J. Barotta asserted. "Union Technical Institute is no newcomer to the technical education scene. It opened in 1947 as Hudson Technical Institute. In 1954 it began operating in Elizabeth under the registered name of Union Technical Institute. The school moved to Union Township in 1962 and continued operating as Union Technical Institute. This spring we moved to a new home in Mountainside."

Barotta went on to explain that Union Technical Institute is a non-profit institution that has prepared thousands of young men and women for technical careers at no cost to taxpayers. He also pointed out that the school is one of the few non-profit technical institutes to be accredited by the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools, an agency recognized by the United States Office of Education.

"When it opened in September, 1960, the county institution used a name that was in fact similar to the one Union Technical Institute had been using for six years," Barotta said. "At the time I briefly considered taking legal action to force them to change their name. However, I decided that the results attained by Union Technical Institute could stand on their own merits."

Barotta added that he had referred the matter to his attorney.

LIGHT UP FOR SECURITY

Darkness is an open invitation to criminals and prowlers... but they're afraid of the light. So keep your home illuminated at night and enjoy a new-found sense of security for your family and property. Expense certainly isn't much of a factor because a post lantern like the one shown here can be kept lighted all night at an average cost of under two cents. And that's plenty of protection for so little.

Our Certified Residential Lighting Consultant will be glad to give you cost-free help in planning interior and exterior lighting for your home. Simply call the Public Service office that is nearest to you.

Youth is assessed $60 on contempt, disorderly counts

Abraham Madison, 18, of Alexandria, Va., who was arrested on June 28 by Mountainside Patrolmen Joseph Lobl and Steven Semanick for failing to give a good account of himself and being a disorderly person, was fined $50 and $10 for contempt by Judge Jacob H. Bauer in Municipal Court last Wednesday night.

Madison, who was apprehended in the company of two Newark men at Gimber's Esso Station on Rt. 27, which was closed for the night, when previously arraigned was fined $50 and ordered to appear in court on July 10.

Because he was without funds at the time of his arrest, he was given one week to pay the imposed fine. After he failed to comply with the order, or to appear on the scheduled date in court, a warrant was issued for his arrest. Det. Lt. James E. Herrick told the Echo that Madison was being detained by Elizabeth police on other charges. When released by the police there, he was returned to Mountainside Police who had filed a detainer on him. Det. Sgt. Jerome Rice and Patrolman Joseph Lobl picked up the defendant and returned him to Mountainside headquarters where he was held until his arraignment Wednesday night.

In traffic cases, Leonard D. Peniston of East Orange was fined $15 for following another vehicle too closely. Donald E. Setter of New York City was fined $10 plus $10 for contempt for passing on the right shoulder. Horace R. Delaney of Clark was fined $15 for careless driving which resulted in an accident. Salvatore Farranto of Middlesex was fined $205 for driving while on the revoked list, and Norman Harrell of Newark was fined $10 for driving with an expired license.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

Apples, served in a variety of ways, can result in a happy ending to your meals. The apples which are now ripening are classified as summer apples. In New Jersey, there are several of these varieties produced and they can be distinguished by a green, yellowish or red-striped color. They are usually juicy, tart and quick cooking. Because of these qualities, summer apples are at their best when prepared in pies, apple sauce and other cooked dishes.

As a result of scientific research which developed controlled atmosphere storage, varieties of apples more suitable for eating raw are available throughout the year. They are most plentiful in the fall, however, and will be in greater quantity in the market around October 1st.

For a flavorful way to prepare the summer varieties, try the Taffy Spiced Apple recipe below. If you would like a description of the New Jersey summer apple varieties and some further appealing ways to prepare them, write to the Union County Home Economics Extension Service, 1106 Elizabeth Avenue, Elizabeth or call 353-5000 for the free bulletin, "Summer Apples."

Our apologies, burrowers of the world, but at New Jersey Bell we're burying more and more phone cables.

These days mile after mile of new phone cable is going underground. There are good reasons why. The landscape will look cleaner. Neighborhoods will be neater. Even more important, buried cable isn't bothered by wind, weather, or wayward automobiles—all of which can disrupt your telephone service.

Now, because of new materials and quick cable-laying techniques, putting cable underground is simpler than in past years. Still, it costs money. So, to keep the cost of your telephone service low, at New Jersey Bell we're taking our cable underground step by step.

2 churches open camps for deprived

Culturally deprived Newark youngsters, aged 7 to 12, are attending one-week camps next month at the Northern Conference of Methodists' Camp Aldersgate in Swartswood and the New Jersey Sunod's Lutheran Church of America's Camp Biesler in Califon.

Boys and girls from the hard-core city area are enjoying the respite from ghetto living through the efforts of the New Jersey Council of Churches which initiated action this summer toward more educational and recreational activities.

The 54 youngsters at Camp Aldersgate last week were selected by the Area Boards of the United Community Corporation of Newark (UCC). The overall anti-poverty organization will also select the youngsters attending the Lutheran's Camp Biesler. The counselors at Camp Aldersgate have been recruited from Summit, Newark and Jersey City, and trained under the direction of the staff of the New Jersey Council of Churches. The Methodist Conference is aiding in the financing.

The Camp Biesler youngsters' stay will be staffed by the regional New Jersey Lutheran Synod's camp counselors with financial assistance through the East Orange office of the New Jersey Council of Churches.

Ask Amy

Dear Amy: We live in a nice community and have belonged to one of the local churches for many years, but somehow my husband and I feel that our children do not have the friends they should.

Our children say the young people in our church are snobbish and don't care to mix. Sometimes I get this same feeling from the adults. We are very anxious that our children be put in a position to meet and mix with the other young people. We would be willing to join some group (outside of the country club) where we could find friends - but we are at a loss.

Dear Mrs. H.B.: It's your daughter's wedding, and whom she chooses to take part in her ceremony, and the part she wants them to assume, is her choice, of course. However, it would be more apropos for your son's wife to be her Matron of Honor rather than a Bridesmaid in respect to her position in the family.

Ask Amy

Dear Amy: You will have to take an active part in the charitable projects that the in-crowd in your community take part in. If you, your husband and children are willing to do these things, then you will all be accepted. If you find any of these things objectionable, you will not achieve the results you want.

While I admit that it's a shallow way to make and keep friends, it seems you have no choice.

Dear Mrs. H.B.: Your problem boils down to the fact that you and your children will have to try harder by putting more effort into it.

You will have to entertain those people you want to become friendly with. You will have to give dinner parties, and the like, for the adults. For the young set: luncheons, parties, or whatever else the young crowd participate in so that your children will then become part of the in-crowd.

Ask Amy

Dear Amy: father is deceased will give her away.

She wants her single girlfriend to be Maid of Honor and my son's wife, who incidentally has 4 children, to be a Bridesmaid. I would appreciate your comments on this.

Dear Mrs. H.B.: It's your daughter's wedding, and whom she chooses to take part in her ceremony, and the part she wants them to assume, is her choice, of course. However, it would be more apropos for your son's wife to be her Matron of Honor

Dear Amy: help. Please confide in your parents if you lack self-discipline and the ability to enjoy friendships of people in your own age group.

Your tendency toward older men and married men can be injurious to your future. Before that happens, take my advice and help yourself.

Soprano to star on outdoor stage

Marilyn Horne, noted soprano, and wife of Henry Lewis, New Jersey Symphony Orchestra music director, will appear Saturday evening at 8:30 in Waterloo, in the final concert of the Waterloo Music Festival Series.

This will be Miss Horne's first formally scheduled performance with the orchestra and with her husband.

A revised evening's program will begin with Beethoven's Overture "Leonore" #3 in C Major and conclude with Prelude to Die Meistersinger by Wagner.

Miss Horne will perform Mahler's Kinder-totenlieder and de Falla's Siete Canciones Populares Espanoles (seven popular songs). The concert is the 10th and last of the Saturday evening performances given throughout the summer by the Symphony at the Waterloo Festival located at the site of a restored early American village. The concerts are set in a 2,000 seat tent-theatre, with additional seating available on lawns outside.

Arts Center hosts first jazz festival

Jazz musician Hugh Masonella heads the opening night of the Garden State Arts Center first annual Jazz Festival on Friday, Sept. 6 at 9 p.m.

Credited with developing a new sound, the Johannesburg born trumpeter combines South African music with contemporary pop. Cash Box Magazine, on whose cover he appears, refers to him as being "at the crest of popularity with pop and rock oriented music-lovers as a result of his current 'Uni' single 'Grazin' in the Grass'."

Also appearing on the Sept. 6 bill are Jimmy Smith, Herbie Mann and Arthur Prysock.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

For those with throbbing ears, looking for a bit of soothing music to offset the loud and wild beat of today's pop music, a look at the classics is in order....There is Tchaikovsky: Symphony No. 1 in G Minor, conducted by famed Russian bandmaster Yevgeny Svetlanov....Begun when he was only 26 and just out of conservatory, Tchaikovsky's First Symphony has a youthful freshness that characterized the best of his music throughout his lifetime....Intentionally descriptive, the symphony paints pictures of the terrible but beautiful Russian winter, ending in a festive welcome to the coming Spring.

There is, of course, a follow up, logically enough Tchaikovsky: Symphony No. 2 in C Minor, again with Yevgeny Svetlanov wielding the baton....This is a fully mature symphony although it was composed when Tchaikovsky was only 32....Called the first truly nationalistic symphony composed in Russia, it teems with folk melodies and rhythms with the accents of Slavic song....It is one of the happiest works of a composer who is generally noted for his melancholy and Svetlanov does a masterful job in bringing it to life.

In Tchaikovsky: Symphony No. 3 in D Major and the only one with five movements, including two scherzos....It is called "Polish", a title added after the composer's death by an English critic because of the finale in "Tempo di Polacca"....Composed at 35, it shows signs of the dramatic split in Tchaikovsky's personality between tragic gloom and youthful joy.

A FEMININE LOOK AT SOME MID-EUROPEAN CITIES: 1968

(Commentary on a Study Mission to Germany, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Greece)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Ninth in a Series. BERLIN: CONCLUSION. We call that one the Pregnant Oyster...

We were in West Berlin and our German guide was not speaking of beach ornaments but of some of Berlin's most outstanding modern buildings.

The Pregnant Oyster is rather similar to the 'butterfly' TWA building at New York's Kennedy Airport...

Equally as modern, but not as amusingly named, is the Axel Springer building. It is, however, among the newest and tallest in West Berlin...

Not only the private offices, but all the editorial departments are wall-to-wall carpeted, and on the 18th floor there is a luxurious press club.

More than 70 percent of the publications in West Germany are Springer papers and 78 percent of the advertising is there.

PERHAPS THE STRANGEST BUILDING in West Berlin is Spandau Prison. In this building which can house 600 prisoners...

THE AXEL SPRINGER BUILDING in West Berlin, one of the city's newest and tallest buildings. Part of the glass was damaged during the riots earlier this year but by May had already been repaired.

USSR says "no, he was sentenced for life and he shall serve for life."

We received much of our information at briefings in yet another interesting building which was rather a nice looking older building...

PERHAPS THE MOST FAMOUS building in West Berlin is the old bombed out church in the center of Kurfürstendammstrasse...

West Berlin also abounds in hotels and restaurants and there are many new ones.

Resi's undoubtedly used to be a movie theatre for its sloping floor, orchestra pit, stage and size...

GAY AND COMFORTABLE AS WEST BERLIN may be, one somehow or another is always reminded of The Blockade.

HEROIC AND IMPRESSIVE AS these feats are, and as admirable as West Berlin's reconstruction is...

built and some of the old buildings now look downright wobbly--as does a great portion of the population.

While West Berlin does not have the problem of a blockade at the present moment, it does have several other big problems.

is the old age problem. With every fifth person being over 65, West Berlin not only has a shortage of labor power...

Besides its demographic position, West Berlin's other problems are the constant drain and labor in keeping eight months of daily supplies for 2.2 million people continually on hand...

Which brings up another question that also always arises in Berlin: namely German unity. West Germany would like first of all, and as part of their constitution, to achieve unity...

The Soviets, who rule the East Berliners as the Allies do the West Berliners, would most likely not agree either, it was added.

And so, Berlin seems doomed to be divided. Not only by the hard ugly Wall but by the hard facts of economics and politics.

Arts Center to begin work for better 'weatherproofing'

The new Garden State Arts Center at Holmdel, which has weathered some of the worst rainstorms in New Jersey history...

The open-sided amphitheater of the Arts Center has withstood deluges from windswept rain both during construction and its premier season this summer.

Executive Director D. Louis Tonti reported that a program of extra defensive measures was ready to go to work on Monday, Sept. 9--immediately after the close of the Arts Center's regular season finale Jazzy Festival next Friday and Saturday nights.

Measures to be taken at the Garden State Parkway's roadside showplace in Telegraph Hill Park here include construction of a new 36-inch sewer line...

In addition, curbing is being designed for the open areas of the amphitheater's perimeter walk nearest the stage to keep lasting-rainwater from flowing into the sides of the 5,000-seat roofed structure. Tonti said that the actual work on the improvement program, devised soon after the first torrential storm hit the Center...

The planned work entails breaking up of the service road and slopes next to the stagehouse entrance. Total cost of the work is estimated at $75,000.

High accident toll feared this Labor Day weekend

A record number of motorists will crowd the highways this Labor Day weekend for that last hectic trip to beach, lake or mountain resort before school's opening.

The New Jersey State Safety Council expects this to mean a record number of accidents on the basis of statistics alone.

C. Edwin Max, the Council's executive vice-president, said it is likely some 2,000 accidents will occur on New Jersey's roads over the three-day holiday between 6:00 p.m. tomorrow and midnight, Monday, resulting in death and crippling injury to many. "This needless toll could be made less tragic if drivers realize the impairing effects of alcohol, fatigue and over-excitation," Max said.

Every time you read of a fatal accident caused by about 50-50 that alcohol was involved. These conclusions are found repeatedly in documented studies made by medical researchers and traffic law enforcement agencies.

"A recent report to Congress by the Federal Department of Transportation describes the massive dimensions of the problem, noting that the use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year," the Safety Council executive said.

"There is no excuse for irresponsible driving. Its consequences kill and maim, too often the innocent are its victims. The Safety Council recommends a stepped-up campaign of enforcement aimed at curbing moving violations and increased police vigilance against drinking drivers. We know that when selective enforcement goes up, accidents come down" he concluded.

Over the Labor Day holiday last year 17 people were killed on New Jersey's highways and with the 25 percent increase in fatalities on the state's roads during the first eight months of 1968, it is probable that this year the fatality experience will exceed previous records if due caution and courtesy are not observed by all drivers.

Byrne is appointed to Seton fund post

Joseph M. Byrne III of Short Hills has accepted the chairmanship of the special gifts division of Seton Hall University's $5 million development campaign, according to Paul L. Troast, general chairman. Byrne is president of Jos. M. Byrne Co., of Newark, general insurance agents and brokers and travel services.

The Seton Hall campaign, which was launched three months ago, has passed the $1,400,000 mark. The drive seeks funds over a three-year period for expansion of physical facilities, increases in student aid and a broadening of faculty development through the establishment of endowed chairs.

State acts to insure equal job chances on road projects

Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg has initiated a program designed to promote equal job opportunity for workers on state highway construction projects.

The 11-page policy directive, known as the "Affirmative Action Program for Equal Employment Opportunity," will go into effect Sept. 21 when all prospective bidders on construction contracts will be required to comply with its provisions.

Commissioner Goldberg said the program has been undertaken in support of New Jersey's anti-discrimination law and a 1965 Presidential directive which also provides for non-discrimination in all contracts where federal funds are involved.

The program provides for establishing a record of specific actions to be taken by the contractor to demonstrate he has adopted it and is carrying out policies which will assure he is meeting minimum requirements of Federal and State laws and regulations on equal opportunity in employment.

"We feel this program will be of definite mutual benefit both to the state and the con-

BUMPER-TO-BUMPER

There is only one way to eliminate the bump in bumper-to-bumper traffic on a holiday weekend. Give yourself more space cushion between your car and the car ahead, advises the Institute for Safer Living.

Red Cross urges Labor Day caution

In an effort to help lower the number of deaths from motoring accidents over the Labor Day weekend—810 last year—the American Red Cross this week issued a list of safety precautions and some first aid measures for drivers.

"These 810 traffic fatalities during the 1967 Labor Day weekend were 40 short of the all-time high in the same weekend of 1966," said "FIRST, before you start on a trip, make sure your car is safe—that its brakes, lights, signal devices, windshield wipers, exhaust system, and steering mechanism—are working properly. Check to make sure all tires, including the spare, are in good condition.

"SECOND, keep the space in front of the rear window clear, so that the driver has full vision from the rear and sides as well as objects from the car's interior to prevent accidents from becoming dangerous projectiles."

"Given specific yardsticks and guidelines for an affirmative action program, the contractors know exactly what is expected of them in implementing the spirit and the letter of laws on equal employment opportunity. At the same time, the documentation called for in the program establishes a ready check list of compliance which representatives of our Department may audit from time to time.

"But of overriding importance," the Commission added, "is the fact that all parties concerned thus can be assured that ability alone, rather than such irrelevant considerations as race, creed, color or national origin, will provide the standard by which every worker is judged."

In case of a sudden stop or a collision, "THIRD, carry along a good first aid kit and some flares, flashing signals, or other warning devices.

John T. Guetz, area director of safety programs for the Red Cross Eastern Area, "But any life lost is one too many. Safe and sensible driving by everyone on the highways next Saturday through Monday will help them come home alive."

He listed these measures to take for road safety: "FOURTH, use your safety belts at all times.

"FIFTH, take a break from the road every two hours or so, in order to keep alert.

"SIXTH, make allowances for the unpredictable acts of other drivers. Drive defensively.

"SEVENTH, check tires for cuts and other damage after traveling over bumpy, rocky roads before returning to turnpike speeds.

"EIGHTH, be careful when you use power windows—children can be hurt by them.

"NINTH, don't drink before driving; don't drive after drinking.

"LAST BUT NOT LEAST, observe speed limits as posted and heed signs and highway markings. When the weather is bad, adjust to a slower and safer speed. Stay on your (right) side of a double line on the highway. Crossing to pass another car is both dangerous and illegal."

"The Red Cross recommends that every driver be first-aid-trained," Goetz said, "This will make him more conscious of accident causes, more cautious, and will enable him to care for someone who may be injured."

Unesco in tribute to Sen. Kennedy

After learning of the death of Sen. Robert Kennedy, the Executive Board of Unesco, through its chairman, Dr. Adolfo Dell'Oro Malmi (Argentina), paid tribute to the memory of the Senator. "Who worked ceaselessly for all the goals and ideals for which Unesco itself strives."

Several members of the Executive Board spoke to associate themselves with this tribute. Sen. William Benton, United States member of the Board, who will convey the message to the Kennedy family, thanked his colleagues on behalf of his government.

Rene Maheu, director-general of Unesco, sent a message to Sen. Benton asking him to convey the director-general's condolences to Sen. Kennedy's family: "Men of goodwill everywhere feel repulsion and outrage at this event. Surely they must join forces to reduce the psychological climate of incitement to violence which is spreading dangerously all over the world, especially among young people." (UNESCO FEATURES)

Here is a story about a tongue that can't be tied

Don't eat the Dieffenbachia... your mother-in-law won't like it and neither will you, according to Dennis A. Brown, assistant director, horticulture and maintenance, at the New York Botanical Garden.

A Queens' family, name-unknown, learned this truism the hard way. According to Brown a man called the Botanical Garden to report that his son's baby took a bite out of one of the leaves of the Dieffenbachia, a common house plant. The baby's tongue immediately became swollen.

When the father came home, he decided to double check the Dieffenbachia story and the doctor had to return to the household to treat a father with a swollen tongue.

Later in the evening, a friend visited the house, took a dram view of the reports and took a bigger bite of Dieffenbachia to prove his point. His is now the biggest tongue in Queens.

What none of the Queens' group realized is that the Dieffenbachia, a shrubby plant from tropical America, is more commonly known as the "mother-in-law" plant. And you know what happens when you bite your mother-in-law.

Useful tips on checks, credit cards

Do you have a problem making your money stretch? Do you use a checking account or a credit card to make any of your purchases? Below are some factors you should know and practice to help guard your money:

Service charges vary from bank to bank and according to the type of account. Investigate the charges at different banks and for different types of checking accounts to find the most economical account for you.

Checks cost money. If you pay cash for small items or service instead of writing a check for each one, you can save money.

Your checking account is identified by magnetic numbers. These are located on the bottom of your checks. Be sure to mutilate these numbers if you let someone else use one of these checks with the intent to withdraw from another account. If you don't, the check may be charged to your account instead of the account of the person signing the check.

Keep a record of all credit cards carried so that it is easier to remember all issuers in case of loss or theft of the cards.

If one of your credit cards is lost or stolen, notify the issuers by telephone or telegram immediately. Follow phone notices with a registered letter. You are generally considered responsible for any purchases made against your card until the issuer receives a written report.

These practices suggested above may require a little effort on your own or family's part, but you will be repaid many times over.

GO LIGHT
When painting, avoid too much of a good thing. Moderation in loading your brush will pay off in time saved from cleaning up any unfortunate drips and splatters.

Summer program concludes at 5-Points 'Y' after 8 weeks

The Five Points YMCA summer program ended Friday after eight weeks of varied activities that served 300 boys and girls from Union, Roselle Park, Roselle and Kenilworth. The trips, geared to the age level of the boys and girls attending, sent the younger campers to Turtle Back Zoo and Statue of Liberty. The older campers had a special tour and slide presentation at Frailside Museum and a guided tour of Edison Museum. Crafts projects, swimming, cookouts, special events, various games and an overnight campout for the older campers rounded out the two weeks of activities in the Fun Club.

Robert Merrick and Russel Harmon represented the campers and Al Lilley, director, representing the counselors, took candy favors to the children at the Children's Home in Mountainside.

Special interest this summer was the launching of helium-filled balloons with an attached postcard to be returned by the finders. Cards have been returned from as far away as Montauk Point, L.I., N.Y., Staten Island and Ship Bottom, N.J.

The Fun Club program had Al Lilley as director, Ray Topoleski, bicycle day camp director; Alice Kennedy, arts and crafts; Carol Tonneson, aquatic director; and Chris Hamp, Beth Lawrence, Bill Hahn, Kathy Schwartz and Diane Frank, group counselors. The counselors in training were Chris Liuzzio, Bill Furze, Debbie Zack, Sue Rosanski and Mitch Stein.

Each period of camp this summer, campers and counselors prepared material to be included in the campers' newspaper, "Whale's Tale". This was a reflection of the activities and relationships for the period.

A special "Learn to Swim" program was again conducted in the YMCA Whale this summer. Nearly twice as many children took part this year as last. Some 133 boys and girls were exposed to beginner swimming instruction. All periods were filled and there were waiting lists in some.

The YMCA through the Summer program and its year-round program, aims at "bringing out the best in each child by teaching basic values in a wholesome atmosphere of fun through interpersonal relationships and skill training.

Registration opens for nursery school at Five Points 'Y'

Registration is now open for the Jack and Jill Cooperative Nursery School programs held at the Five Points YMCA, 218 Salem rd., Union. The nursery school program begins its seventh year of operation the week starting Sept. 16 and goes through May.

A child must be registered for the entire year. Children age three (must be three by Oct. 31, 1968), four and five will be accepted. Three-year-old children will attend Tuesday and Friday mornings, 9 to 11:30 a.m. Four and five-year-old children will attend Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays either mornings (9 - 11:30) or afternoons (1 - 3:30).

Mrs. Frank Gargano Jr., director of the nursery school, said this week that "the nursery school is one of the important units in the early stage of a child's education. Its activities are based primarily upon the original endowment of the child and extension of his home experience. It is in the cooperative nursery school, in a happy and relaxed atmosphere, that the child makes the step from the home, where he is protected by the small family group, to the public school where he works and plays with his contemporaries in a larger group."

In explaining the value of a cooperative nursery program, Mrs. Gargano said the program is designed to provide children with the opportunity to develop socially, physically and emotionally in an environment supervised and guided by skilled trained persons.

Parents, too, benefit from such a cooperative program through observation, some participation in the educational, administrative and social activities of the Nursery program, she said.

The school is accredited by the Department of Education of the State of New Jersey and accepts children of all backgrounds.

Anyone desiring information on the nursery school should call the YMCA office (687-5570) or drop in at the YMCA.

(Diamond Cleaners)

BACK-TO-SCHOOL

Labor Day coming up . . . the end of a golden and glorious summer! For many of us, it also means the last of carefree, casual living and a general move indoors and a return to a busy school-year schedule.

Which reminds me . . . are the youngsters all ready for school? Or, are you still faced with digging out last year's fog and getting them in shape for the cool fall days ahead?

There's still time, and those gay cottons will be fine the first few weeks. But not for long!

So, let me remind you — last year's sweaters, skirts and slacks can look fresh and smart with good professional care that restores the life to both colors and fibers.

Diamond Cleaners' services also include mending and remodeling. If pressed for time, do turn your youngster's wardrobe over to us. It will be returned meticulously clean and wrinkle-free, with seams repaired and hems let down to fit.

Have a wonderful, fun-filled weekend!

NSC slates workshops on adult ed.

The Adult Education Resources Center of Newark State College, Union, will conduct two workshops for professionals in September. Teachers and directors concerned with adult basic education and the teaching of English as a second language are being invited to participate in a workshop at Rahway High School Saturday, Sept. 14. Teachers and directors of G.E.D. ("General Educational Development") preparation classes for the high school equivalency tests are being invited to participate in a workshop at Edison High School Saturday, Sept. 28. Both workshops are scheduled from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

General session speaker at the Sept. 14 workshop will be The Rev. B.J. Whipper, pastor of Mt. Zion Church, Elizabeth. Individual interest groups will discuss guidance and counseling, teaching beginning and intermediate adult basic education, teaching beginning and intermediate English to speakers of other languages, administrative problems, and how to build a personalized curriculum. Curricular and supplementary materials will be displayed.

Participants in the Sept. 28 workshop will discuss setting up and maintaining G.E.D. preparation classes, how to teach in all areas of the test, and counseling techniques for the G.E.D. student.

"G.E.D. preparation programs are highly significant for this area," Mrs. Dorothy Minkoff, director of the resource center, comments. "According to the 1960 census, there are 1,487,700 persons over 25 years old with less than 12 years of schooling in Middlesex, Monmouth, Essex, Union and Somerset counties. These people need high school diploma for a variety of reasons."

Further information about both workshops may be obtained from the Adult Education Resource Center, office at the college.

On the Scene at Pocono Laurel Lake

Your car rounds the bend in the road and there you are at Pocono Laurel Lake. It's a small vacation community in the heart of the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania. The lake itself is picturesque with a flat wooded area on one side and gently rising grassy slopes on the other.

There are many homes already built in this new community and homesites are available for vacation, retirement or investment. Each of the homes looks different in its individual setting. Some of the lots are level, others rolling, some are wooded and others cleared. While many of the homes are intended for summer vacationing, they have been used with equal enthusiasm and enjoyment in the winter months. Some home owners are even year-round residents.

The recreation area around the lake is enjoyed by young and old alike. The swimming is excellent in the spring-fed lake, the droughts of previous summers having had little effect on the water level. Boating and sailing is equally enjoyed by residents.

The location of Pocono Laurel Lake is one of its prime attractions. Stroudsburg is only about five minutes away. There are golf courses nearby - Shawnee, Pocono Manor and Megarels. Five major ski areas are in the area - Camelback, Timber Hill, Split Rock, Poco North, and Elk Mountain. There are five movie theatres, two summer playhouses, indoor ice skating, stables, shooting, bowling and fine restaurants all within a short driving distance.

The area is easy to reach: follow Interstate 80 to the exit at Bortonsville, take a left turn at Route 611, north to a blinker traffic signal, turn right and follow the signs to the lake. Information is available by writing Pocono Laurel Lake, Bortonsville, Pa. 18321.

The trend to earlier retirement and more leisure time has led to a surging "second home" market in New Jersey and neighboring states.

This is evidenced by lake and shore communities offering weekend or vacation living... or all-year living for many retired persons.

A selection of these homes and homesites will be featured each week for the next few months in this newspaper.

CLERICAL
is a household word in many of the families in your town which have had one or more members enjoy a working relationship with us. Some families-perhaps right in your neighborhood-can point to several generations who have worked with us. This gives us a great deal of pride. If you are seeking a change in jobs, or perhaps are just coming out of the summer doldrums following June graduation and are now intent on getting a full-time job, why not consider joining us and sharing in our pride. We have some full-time beginning clerical positions at present, and we invite you to come in and see us. You'll find that we offer a good starting salary with liberal benefits including a tuition refund program.
Apply in person to our Employment Bureau anytime between 8:30 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. (We will be closed on Monday September 2).

A Day to Rest and Be Proud

LABOR DAY

Labor Day is more than just a day of rest . . . it is a day of tribute to the men and women who are united together in the working forces of America. We can be proud of this country of ours, and the dedication that has given it greatness. Labor is the backbone of our nation, the forerunner of progress and invention, the provider. Let us sit back for a moment on this day and enjoy the fruits of our labor, and celebrate the great strides our country has made in all fields. Labor Day is a day of thanksgiving to all workers, for it is they who have shown America prosperity.
