A new tower and a new chief for county parks

A VIEW OF Peckhan's observation tower, which was located in the Prospect area of the Watchung Reservation when the Union County Park Commission acquired the property in 1925.

THE SECOND OBSERVATION tower in the Watchung Reservation was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the late 1930's and served many visitors to this area until Nov. 18, 1945, when it was destroyed by fire.

New Watchung feature affords wide panorama

An observation deck, 633 feet above sea level, is now available to visitors to the Union County Park Commission's Watchung Reservation. This new facility is the result of combined action by the Union County Park Commission, the Elizabethtown Water Co. and the Borough of Mountainside.

Visitors to the observation deck will have a good view of the New York skyline, the Narrows and the Verrazano Bridge, and will be able to see as far south as Perth Amboy as well as some excellent views of Union County. The platform of the new structure is the highest point above sea level in Union County. The observation deck is on the top of a newly constructed standpipe with a storage capacity of one-half million gallons of water.

The borough and the water utility had requested permission to erect the standpipe at this location. Their purpose was to meet the increasing demand for water and fire protection for homes and industry in Mountainside and the surrounding area.

The public can gain access to the observation deck by a special staircase enclosed by a chain link fence with landings at each quarter mark. The observation deck is protected with a five-foot chain link fence around its perimeter. Parking for the observation deck is available at the Prospect parking area off W. R. Tracy drive in the Watchung Reservation.

The new observation facility is the fourth tower to be erected at this site. The first tower, known as Peckhan's Observation Tower, was acquired by the Park Commission with the

A STEEL OBSERVATION tower erected in 1948 by the Union County Park Commission was used as a vantage site by many Union County residents until it was removed in May of this year.

IT'S A GREAT BIG BEAUTIFUL COUNTY WE LIVE IN, comments John Walsh (right), newly-elected president of the Union County Park Commission, as Robert W. Kean Jr., president of the Elizabethtown Water Co., points out familiar sites from the company's new observation tower in the Watchung Reservation area of Mountainside.

Walsh takes commission leadership

by PAT DONALDSON

John G. Walsh of 1603 Rising way, Mountainside, who was recently elected president of the Union County Park Commission to replace Frank Scott Jr., told the Echo this week that "as president of the commission, it is my ambition to expand recreation facilities in all our parks throughout the county".

Born on a dairy farm in the small village of Postenskill, a suburb of Troy, N.Y., Walsh, upon the death of his father, left the farm at a very early age with his mother and new stepfather. He has never lost his affinity for the natural beauty of large unfettered areas of open spaces, trees, lakes and the serenity that nature provides for the peoples of the earth.

Walsh, however, also is concerned about the useful purposes parks can serve to people. His expansion hopes and plans, "when we can obtain the funds we so sorely need from the freeholders and the state," include the enlargement of the existing family picnic areas in parks and the addition of more such facilities.

Too, he feels that golfing facilities in the public parks should be expanded and "we are now putting in fill in the fringe areas surrounding Galloping Hill Golf Course to raise the low levels. When we do that, we will be able to expand the holes to more than the 27 which we have now -- perhaps put in more pitch-and-putt-courses and possibly be able to add a driving range. At Lenape Park, the commission intends to build a dam with a bridge over it and stock the waters with fish, a project which will add beauty and be serviceable."

For the past six or seven years, the commission has been working with Green Acres, a federal and state program which picks up most of the cost of acquiring lands, he continues, "to establish a continuous park along the Passaic River which would cover the entire upper edges of the county and which would encompass Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. As a matter of fact, the project is practically completed, and we hope to open it to the public this year.

"YES," HE MUSES, "our parks do serve a real need of our residents. There are the natural lakes which freeze up in the winter and on which we permit skating. With the completion of the artificial skating rink the commission has built in Warinanco Park in Elizabeth and the Roselle rink, which was built also by the park commission and which will be open for the season in October, we feel we are doing jobs that need to be done.

YES office to return to regular schedule

The Youth Employment Service in Borough Hall will return to its regular hours next Monday, it was announced this week by Mrs. Charles Jerome, chairman of volunteers. Local residents desiring the services of young people registered with the program may call the YES office, 233-4505, between 2:30 and 5 p.m. weekdays.

"The commission is also responsible for the pool in Wheeler Park in Linden and the Rahway River Park pool in Rahway. All Union County Park Commission pools are open to the public -- as a matter of fact, I learned to swim in the Rahway pool myself.

"You know," he says with a hint of pride in his voice, "there are no state-owned parks in Union County. Therefore, the only camps we have are Boy Scout camps which we permit on the Watchung Reservation." He does not come out and say that the commission does not approve of permanent public camp-sites on park properties, but one can surmise that the Park Commission members are aware of the destruction that can be wrought by this permission and the possibilities of fires which careless campers have been known to start and which have destroyed millions of acreage throughout the nation.

Quarried as to the safety of the public parks, of which there are nearly 20 in Union County, many of which run into each other, and "are a sort of continuous park, but with different names," the newly-elected president says he is very proud of the safety of the parks. "Excepting for some vandalism here and there, which consists mostly of breaking into buildings containing golf equipment, we have surprisingly few muggings.

"Too, we have a few cases of malicious damage to parked cars. but, with the aid of

Cop gets his badge, bandage

Last Monday was a day that Patrolman William Alder of the Mountainside Police Department will not soon forget. It began as a day of gladness with his reinstatement as a patrolman in the Mountainside department, only to turn into a day of sadness, when a freak accident landed him in the hospital.

According to his wife, the 26-year-old patrolman was drilling a hole in his home at 67 Marine ave., Fanwood, to install an air conditioner. The drill slipped, pierced his left leg just above the knee, broke off and remained embedded in his flesh. Mrs. Alder said that the broken part was so deeply embedded that all that could be seen was a hole at the point of entry.

Alder was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital Plainfield, by the Fanwood Rescue Squad, and preliminary efforts to remove the drill were unsuccessful. On Tuesday, Dr. George H. Maris, a Plainfield orthopedic surgeon, removed the imbedded particle by surgery. The patient's condition was listed as good.

Alder, the father of two small boys, aged three and one-and-one-half, joined the Mountainside Police Department on July 1, 1966. In July of this year, he resigned to join the N.J. State Police. However, reportedly unhappy with his new job, he applied for and was granted reinstatement in the local police department.

His accident marked the second leg injury among Mountainside police officers this year. Patrolman Alan Kennedy suffered a compound fracture of the leg this summer while riding a motorcycle in Manasquan on his day off. He was confined to Fitkin Hospital in Neptune for more than five weeks. Kennedy, whose leg is still in a cast, has returned to desk duty at the department.

Kinney to speak at kick-off event for LWV drive

Samuel M. Kinney Jr., former Westfield councilman, will be the guest speaker at the kick-off meeting for the Westfield League of Women Voters annual finance drive next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Allen, 426 N. Chestnut st., Westfield.

Mrs. Nicholas Byron, finance chairman, who organized the drive this year, stated that prior to the kick-off meeting, members of the league will attend one of the two training sessions which will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Norris Barnard, training chairman, stated that the training sessions "will offer an opportunity for fun as well as providing an exchange of ideas about methods of explaining the work of the league to its supporters."

The first session will be held at the home of Mrs. Louis Deitz, 551 Bradford ave., Westfield, at 1 p.m. The second session, which will also be led by Mrs. Barnard, will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Daman, 180 Lincoln rd., Westfield, at 10 a.m. "Pamphlets, assignment kits and informative materials will be provided and distributed at the training meetings," Mrs. Barnard said.

After the kick-off meeting on Wednesday, members of the League will make their finance calls. They will provide information about activities of the League, especially the voters service activities provided for the community. The largest League expense is for non-partisan candidates' sheets which are sent to each household in Westfield and Moun-

PROFILE--Donald C. Dunne

"An unwritten law that we move on" was one of the factors influencing Donald C. Dunne's decision to run for freeholder this year on the Republican ticket.

Dunne, who will complete two three-year terms on Fanwood's Borough Council Dec. 31, acknowledged that this tradition is one reason he is running for county office. Another reason, he says, is "to serve the people of Union County faithfully, tirelessly and to the full extent of my ability."

Six years on the Fanwood governing body provide Dunne with heavy experience in government. For five years the candidate has been chairman of the municipality's public works committee, his main interest. "That's what I'm knowledgeable in," he said.

The Republican also has been chairman of the health and welfare committee of the borough body. He has served on the Borough Council's public safety committee, building and zoning committee and recreation and education committee. He was also a member of the Fanwood Shade Tree Commission.

Civic groups first involved the 59-year-old candidate in local government. Dunne was a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in his native Brooklyn before he moved to Fanwood in 1949. There, Dunne said, he got his "first taste of civic work."

The small taste became a healthy bite once he was in Fanwood. Dunne was a charter member and first president pro-tem of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Association for Good

Minerals display library attraction

The current displays at the Mountainside Library are being viewed by the public with "great delight," according to a library spokesman.

Mineral specimens from the collection of Mike Metz, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Metz of Summit Lane, Mountainside, a sophomore at the Pingry School, Hillside, are termed a "joy to all ages." The young are especially excited to learn that Mike started collecting at the age of four.

He is a member of the Trailside Mineral Club, Inc., which meets at the Trailside Museum once a month. Mike will not be a voting member until he is 18 but has been with the group on field trips to New York, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. The specimens vary in texture and color, some jewel-like in appearance.

Hafeken to lead local delegation

Several members of the Mountainside Police Department will attend the annual N.J. State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association convention which will be held in Atlantic City next Sunday through Wednesday. It was announced this week by Patrolman Edward Hafeken, president of Local 126.

Expected to attend, in addition to Hafeken, are: Patrolman Steven Semancik, who succeeded Sgt. Joseph Mazur as local PBA state delegate; Sgt. Blair Murphy, Det. Lt. James E. Herrick and Det. Sgt. Walter R. Boyeman Jr. Sgt. Mazur will join the contingent on Tuesday night. The bill for attendance will be paid from local PBA funds, Hafeken said.

THE GIRLS HAVE A NAME FOR IT and it is "getting set for in-training sessions and a kick-off meeting," which will signal the start of the Westfield League of Women Voters' annual finance drive which will begin next Wednesday. Mountainside members shown

Civic group sets annual clambake

The MountainSide Sherwood Forest Civic Association have announced that the annual block party and clambake will be held at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Simon of 1021 Nottingham way.

The association, which is one of the several neighborhood associations of its kind in the community, said that the serving of food will be from 7-9 p.m. and attendance at the "ho-down" gives "everyone the opportunity of getting together with old neighbors to talk over the summer activities and to meet and get acquainted with new neighbors."

They also reported that responses to the invitations have been gratifying and promised, "We intend to have a ball."

Officers of the association include Gary Postell, president, Jerry Bojezuk, vice-president; Mrs. Edward Hartwig, secretary, and Hal Simon, treasurer.

Senior Citizens will hold picnic this Wednesday

A picnic, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Aitken of 324 Old Grove rd., MountainSide, will highlight the next meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of MountainSide on Wednesday at 1 p.m. According to a spokesman for the group, the event will take place "rain or shine."

The club holds its regular meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at the MountainSide Public Library and all persons, 55 years and older, are welcome to attend.

Pays $60 in fines on three charges

Mark Holmstrom, 20, of 1023 Maple ave., South Plainfield, was found guilty on three counts and paid $60 in fines when arraigned before Judge Jacob R. Hauer in MountainSide Municipal Court last Wednesday night.

Holmstrom, on a complaint signed by Det. Sgt. Walter R. Betyeman, pled guilty to creating a disturbance while under the influence of alcohol, resisting arrest by an officer in the performance of his duty and using loud, profane and indecent language to a police officer.

The defendant and a companion, Tony Del Vecchio, 19, also of South Plainfield, allegedly attempted to crash a party at the home of Harry Ford at 1128 Peach Tree lane on July 20. Refused admittance, the pair began fighting each other in the rear of the premises. Police were told. A neighbor called the police. Betyeman was dispatched to the scene, and arrested them, Holmstrom and Del Vecchio

Police thanked by Wilkinson Co.

Police Chief Christian F. Fritz has received a letter of appreciation from the Wilkinson Sword Inc. of MountainSide. The letter concerns the work done by two MountainSide detectives, reported in the Aug. 22 edition of the Echo, involving the theft of razor blades whose reported retail value was $197,000.

The letter stated: "The management of Wilkinson Sword would like to take this opportunity to thank your department for the efficient manner in which our pilferage problems were solved."

"The outstanding police work done by Detective Sergeants Rice and Betyeman is not only a credit to them as individuals, but also to your department. Their efforts on our behalf were greatly appreciated."

were released in $100 and $25 bail, respectively, at the time of their arrest.

Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. They average about a day and a half in our showroom.

The best reason for buying a Volvo is because it lasts so long. Exactly how long we don't guarantee. But we do know that over 95% of all the Volvos registered in the United States in the last 11 years are still on the road.

The best reason for buying a Volvo now, is because we have a few in stock. And frankly, we don't expect to have them around too long.

Which brings up an interesting paradox about Volvos. Our customers like to buy them because they last. We like to sell them because they don't.

Speed, points sideline MountainSide drivers

Two MountainSide men have had their driver's licenses revoked, according to June Strellecki, director of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

Peter V. Maolucci, 37, of 1078 Ledgewood rd., lost his license for one month under the point system. The state's excessive speed program sidelined Scott E. Wilson, 22, of 240 Pembroke rd, for 30 days.

Total fitness by YMCA

An expanded approach to physical education and total fitness will be one of the features of the Westfield YMCA fall program that opens Monday. All boys with full memberships from grade four through nine will have the opportunity to participate in a physical education program that will give them a complete and well rounded fitness experience during the course of the school year, a spokesman said.

This program will stress the individual and his abilities and interest. It will give emphasis to the seven basic muscular movements of the body as well as endurance, balance, agility, coordination. Character building needs will be included in all activities teaching teamwork, cooperation, fairness, following of rules, respect, understanding, leadership and self discipline, the spokesman said.

The program will consist of two main parts: aquatics and gym work. The aquatic section will offer each boy one instruction period a week and one recreational swim a week.

LIGHT UP FOR SECURITY

Darkness is an open invitation to criminals and prowlers . . . but they're afraid of the light. So keep your home illuminated at night and enjoy a new-found sense of security for your family and property. Expense certainly isn't much of a factor because a post lantern like the one shown here can be kept lighted all night at an average cost of under two cents. And that's plenty of protection for so little.

PROFILE--Donald C. Dunne

Schools. The citizen's committee started out with five members, and today it has 1,600 people who are largely responsible for the excellence of the school system, Dunne said.

The candidate said the group was founded 10 years ago while "the schools were in turmoil. The Board of Education members were not interested in good schools. They were more interested in keeping taxes for the schools down," Dunne stated.

Dunne, a sales representative in the building trades field, gained his interest in education for the reason most parents join the PTA—children in the school system. After moving to the western Union County community, which shares its school system with Scotch Plains, he quickly became active in Cub and Boy Scouting activities since his two sons, Gordon and Donald R., joined the nationwide youth programs. His wife became president of one of the PTA organizations, Dunne said, "so that got me into the school situation" and the Association for Good Schools.

Dunne is also a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee, which assists the Board of Education in the operation of the school system and selection of board candidates when election time nears.

In the past he has served as vice president of the Fanwood Recreation Association. Eventually Fanwood Borough Council established a recreation and education committee after the ground work was prepared by the civic organization. In addition to being former treasurer of Boy Scout Troop 22 in Fanwood he is a member of the local chapter of Kiwanis International and the community's Men's Club. He also served as co-chairman of Fanwood's County Centennial Celebration Committee.

POLITICAL MEMBERSHIPS include director and treasurer of the Fanwood Republican Club. He was Fanwood chairman of the Union County Republican Review, a yearbook describing activities of Republicans in the county.

Dunne, who attended Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, was graduated from the New York Preparatory School. He also attended Lafayette College in Easton, Pa. He served with the Marine Corps Fleet Reserve.

His sons, now well beyond the Cub Scout age, are both working. Gordon, 25, who served in Vietnam with the U.S. Air Cavalry, was married Aug. 24. His other son, Donald R., 23, is a recent graduate of Gettysburg (Pa.) College and is employed by a stock brokerage firm. Gordon, who was at Gettysburg before joining the Army, is attending Fairleigh Dickinson University.

LACK OF COMMUNICATION between municipalities and the county concerns Dunne. "Municipal government, I don't believe, is aware of what county government can do for it, and likewise, county government isn't aware of what assistance municipal government can give to it."

The candidate wants to create closer communications between the two. "I think a municipal representative should attend Freeholder meetings so that he can let the freeholders know what the problems of the municipalities are."

His campaign this year will be based in large part on the national platform and issues. "We're running on practically the same platform as Nixon is, headed by law and order," Dunne said. "Also, economy in government to serve all the people."

Dunne says he and his running mates are campaigning as a team for seats on the Board of Freeholders. Dunne stresses he is "running for a seat on the Board of Freeholders; I'm not running against anybody."

Of great assistance in the campaign, Dunne says, is running with Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer, who represents all of Union County, except Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway and parts of Essex.

"To me, her name is magic," he explained about her ballot pulling strength. "I think we're very fortunate running with a woman like her." A lifelong Republican, Dunne also spoke in the same manner about Nixon and Miss Mary Kanane, surrogate who is up for reelection and a leading county Republican. Mrs. Dwyer's strength, however, won't help his campaign in the areas it will probably need the most, the predominantly Democratic eastern section of Union County which she no longer represents in Washington.

Dunne, an avid golfer who is on the links "everytime I can get out, which isn't often," probably won't have much time for putting this fall, even if the weather permits it. More likely than not the campaign will take precedence over teeing off.

our competent Union County Park Police, the rules which are laid down are adhered to without too much difficulty. Under the supervision of Chief of Park Police Everett Dobson, the police see to the rulings that there be little or no night parking of cars in the parks. Those who do stop must keep their headlights on and remain seated in their cars. All parks are closed for the night between 10:30 and 11 p.m. incidentally," says Walsh, "it may be of interest for your readers to know our chief of police is also a resident of Mountainside — he lives at 1074 Rutgers dr."

WALSH, WHO LOOKS every bit the outdoorsman (the family has a summer home in Long Beach Island on the Jersey shore and spends every available moment there, fishing, swimming and water skiing), enjoys every moment of his work with the Park Commission.

"I always loved the Watchung Reservation area," he says. "Why, when I was a kid, it was nothing for me to walk from Roselle to the old water tower up there. That is why I am so pleased with the new tower and observation platform the Elizabethtown Water Co. has erected. And when Dr. Hall of Westfield completes the planetarium in the reservation he has built practically with his own hands, asking no one for one penny — that whole area will be the most beautiful in the state, and just think what it will mean to parents and their children."

A resident of Union County for more than 40 years, Walsh attended Elizabeth and Roselle schools, Union Junior College and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, where he studied engineering.

He was appointed to the Park Commission in November of 1965 by the Union County Board of Freeholders. Before his appointment he had served as a member of the Union County Shade Tree Commission and was president of that body in 1964.

His duties in his new unsalaried position will include presiding over the five-member board of commissioners. The commission consists of five non-salaried members, and a paid staff consisting of a superintendent, a recreational director, a secretary and the police force.

He is married to the former Alice Knapp of Hillside. The couple, who have resided in Mountainside for the past seven years, are the parents of a married son who was graduated from Mount St. Mary's College in Maryland and attended Georgetown University School of Law. He is presently associated with the Plastic Extruded Products Co. of Elizabeth, of which his father is president.

Tower

acquisition of the land now included in the Prospect area.

The second tower, of log construction, was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the late 1930's and served many visitors to this area until Nov. 18, 1945, when it was destroyed by fire.

In 1948, the Union County Park Commission erected the third tower, a 35-foot-high steel structure which was used as an observation area until May of this year. That tower was 585 feet above sea level and was donated to the Park Commission by the State Department of Conservation. It originally served as a target spotting observation point at a former Army air field near Millville and was dismantled at that site and erected at the Prospect area by Park Commission employees.

All three towers have been actively used by sightseers, bird watchers and amateur radio fans. The public is invited to visit this new Park Commission facility, a commission spokesman said.

Interior decorating to be topic for unit

A program on interior decorating will mark the opening of the 1968-69 season of the American home department of the Mountainside Woman's Club. It will be held at "Fabric Land" on the west lane of Rt. 22 in North Plainfield next Monday at 12:30 p.m., it was announced last week. Donna Miller of the firm will present the program.

All members of the Woman's Club were invited to attend and anyone interested was asked to contact Mrs. Michael Sgarro, chairman of the American home department of the club.

Mrs. Sgarro stated that "September is the month when we get together after a summer apart, but it is also the month to plan for the coming year. Workshops, trips to industries, speakers and demonstrations will be set up and the charity project for the year will be discussed. The American home department is the largest and busiest department in the club with many diverse interests and projects, and it will all begin on Monday."

The chairman also advised that the new community room at Fabric Land has been made available for use by local organizations.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Fur fashion show and luncheon by Newcomers Club next week

A fall fur fashion show and luncheon, "Animal Farms," will kick-off the fall season of the Newcomers Club of Mountainside next Wednesday at noon in the Mountainside Inn, it was announced this week.

According to a spokesman for the group, final plans for the fur show were made at a meeting which was held recently with Karl H.

Frederick, director of public relations for Flemington Furs, who will produce the fashion show. Winifred Heidt, a former Broadway and television star, will act as commentator.

The group stated that "in addition to a stunning collection of fine quality fur coats, capes, stoles and accessories and the latest in fur fashions which have been gathered from all parts of the world, members will also model a variety of fun furs which have been designed for the young-in-heart."

The committee also promised that the afternoon will not only be filled with exciting fashions to see, "but will be flavored with fine food." All newcomers and their guests were invited to attend.

In other business, it was announced that a champagne party for Newcomer members, will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Noe on Saturday, Sept. 14, at 5 p.m. In case of rain the party will be held the following day at the same hour. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Noe.

SEE YOUR AGENT -- FOR EXPERT INSURANCE SERVICES

In our age of specialized services, expert advice on insurance protection is as close as your nearest independent insurance agent or broker.

That's important to the many families that own property and are faced with a need to protect themselves against loss or damage to a house or apartment, a car, jewelry and other personal possessions.

To seek guidance on such basic questions as: "What kind of insurance and how much?" there's no better person to consult than the independent agent.

The agent is both a professional — fully knowledgeable about all lines of property insurance and new developments in the field — and an independent business-man in the community, who represents you, the customer.

The agent will not only inform you as to the different kinds of auto insurance, the best policy to insure your home against fire, or to protect your valuables. He will also explain how you can get the most value for your premium dollar.

For example, he can advise you on the ever-changing forms of "package" automobile and homeowners insurance plans that combine many forms of protection in one policy. He will also tell you about safe driver plans, driver education and good student discounts — all geared to save the motorist money on auto insurance.

When losses occur, your agent will help you to evaluate them properly, and make certain your claim is filed correctly and quickly.

And, perhaps, most important to you, he'll make it his business to see that you get all the protection you've paid for and that you receive payment promptly.

Preserving state's heritage Historic Trust maps plans

New Jersey's Historic Trust, appointed by Governor Richard J. Hughes, has charted its course to preserve the state's rich heritage, as reflected in sites ranging from Indian camps to architectural monuments, according to an announcement by Robert A. Roe, commissioner of the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

"The trust, patterned after the National Trust for Historic Preservation, will have wide authority to acquire, hold and preserve significant historical properties," according to Commissioner Roe. "They may receive monies through grants, funds, gifts and bequests," he continued, "to insure the preservation of the irreplaceable historical heritage of the State of New Jersey."

An initial goal of $2,000,000 to provide working capital for the trust was announced by the chairman of the trust, Harold C. Hoffman of Elizabethtown, and the First National State Bank of Newark was designated as the official repository during the organization's initial meeting held recently.

"A flood of requests have been received by Commissioner Roe and his department during recent years from all areas of the state asking for aid in the preservation of various historic sites ranging from large public buildings to log cabins," Hoffman commented, "but public funds have been very short for this purpose." He concluded, "With the aid of our interested citizens the New Jersey Historic Trust will be able to help save New Jersey's historic treasures and fill the 'preservation gap' in this most important statewide program."

The New Jersey Historic Trust was established jointly with a Historic Sites Council, the latter group being organized as a direct advisory body to the Department of Conservation and Economic Development in its activities in the history field. The council of eleven citizens, designated by the governor, also constitutes the trust, but with the addition of six state officers. The same chairman serves both trust and council.

In other business, the trust discussed its role in historic preservation programs sponsored by the federal government, adopted operational by-laws, and voiced a desire to cooperate with the various state and private history organizations in planning for the Bicentennial of the American Revolution in 1976.

A "Register of Historic Sites in New Jersey" is planned, and would be maintained by the department's Historic Sites Section, along the identical plan adopted by the federal government. The register would be an expansion of

State draft quota at 451 for October

Colonel Joseph T. Avella, New Jersey State Director of Selective Service, announced this week that the state's induction call for October is for 451 men, of which nine will be men formerly classified I-Y for failing to meet the Army's mental standards before they were lowered.

Nationwide the October induction call is for 13,800 men, slightly higher than the September call. New Jersey will furnish 398 men in September. All will be called for Army service.

"The slight increase in the October call," Colonel Avella said, "is not necessarily a trend towards increased calls. We have no indication this will be the case. The manpower requirements of the Department of Defense are always the final criteria for the size of the call."

A vast catalogue of historic sites compiled during New Jersey Tercentenary Year, 1964, and since expanded, Trust members reviewed a suggested outline for legislation establishing the state register.

Youth group plans dance on Saturday

Youth-In-Action of Union will hold a dance Saturday, from 8 to 11:30 p.m., at the VFW hall on High Street in Union, just off Snyvesant avenue. The dance is entitled "The Aftermath."

Entertainment will be provided by The Institution. There will be a psychedelic light show and refreshments will be served. The admission will be $1.25 per person.

The organization's officers are Beth Davis, president; Jeff Davidson, vice president; Paul Costanza, treasurer, and William Leary, secretary. Current activities include a GI gift drive, creating more recreational activities for township youth and increasing youth's part in township affairs. Youth-In-Action's representatives to the Township Youth Council are Donna Casale and Robert Whalen.

Youth-In-Action is conducting membership drive and plans to have several speakers this fall.

Union resident to take office as head of state cancer group

Elliot Pachtman, Union, President of the American Cancer Society, will be installed as president of the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society at the division's annual dinner-meeting, Thursday evening, Sept. 11, at the Nassau Inn, Princeton.

Vice-president of the state group for three years, Pachtman previously served as president of the Union County Chapter and as county crusade chairman.

Pachtman, senior member of Elliot Pachtman and Co., certified public accountants, firm in Union and New York City, is also a member of Rutgers University's faculty. In addition to his work for the American Cancer Society, he serves on the board of directors of the New York University Alumni Association and the Union Chamber of Commerce and holds membership in both the New York and New Jersey State Certified Public Accountant Societies, the Union Rotary Club and the Advisory Board of the First State Bank, Union.

ONE OF THE NATION'S leading cancer specialists will be the guest speaker at the dinner. He is Dr. Arthur I. Holleb, associate professor of surgery at the M.D. Anderson

Hospital and Lymph Institute in Houston. Dr. Holleb, who is scheduled to take office next month as senior vice president for medical affairs of the American Cancer Society, will outline recent strides in the treatment of cancer patients.

Specializing in cancer surgery for many years, he was the medical producer of the first closed circuit television series on cancer control for physicians—a unique program introduced in 1953 by the American Cancer Society.

A native of New York City, Dr. Holleb is an alumnus of Brown University and the New York University College of Medicine. He directed the tumor service at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Brooklyn, 1947-48, and from 1950-53 held a fellowship in cancer surgery at the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York City.

A Diplomate of the American Board of Surgery and a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, he is an associate clinician at the Sloan-Kettering Institute (famed cancer research institute in New York City), clinical associate professor of surgery at Cornell University's Medical College and associate chief medical officer and attending surgeon in breast service at Memorial Hospital.

The dinner, beginning at 6:30 p.m., will follow the annual meeting of the state organization when outstanding volunteers will be honored. Presenting the awards will be C. Victor Rone of Vineland, awards chairman.

SEMANTICIST TO SPEAK

HARRY E. MAYNARD, communications consultant, teacher, lecturer and president of General Semantics Foundation, will speak on "How to Improve Your Thinking and Communication Ability" at the Coronet, 925 Springfield ave., Irvington, Thursday, Sept. 19, at 8 p.m.

German language school to open registration

Deutsche Sprachschule classes will start at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Paul the Apostle School, 285 Nesbit ter., Irvington. Registrations will be accepted then and on the following Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m.

Hans J. Ludscheidt, president of the German language school, said that three kindergarten classes will be formed this year and that a 9th grade will be added to accommodate advanced 8th graders.

The Sprachschule, established in 1934, specializes in teaching German literature, reading, writing, grammar, speech and music.

"German is a language with a wealth of culture and scientific treasures that will supply precious knowledge to the student trained to use it," Ludscheidt said.

Further information can be obtained from him at 382-7953 or from Mrs. Catherine Funke 373-1630.

Auto fuel of future may be alcohol

Scientist Ronald G. Minnet of Romo, Italy, writing in Science magazine, proposes the use of methyl alcohol for conventional fuel requirements. According to Minnet, this alcohol can be used even in ordinary automobile engines.

Methyl alcohol has many advantages over gasoline in that it is completely "clean," requiring no additives, lead, or other constituents that contribute so greatly to air pollution.

The alcohol would be produced from fossil fuels, such as coal, petroleum, and natural gas, by methods that permit adequate control and storage of wastes. Raw material would be converted first to carbon monoxide and hydrogen, then to methyl alcohol in much the same way as ammonia is produced.

Methyl alcohol also can be used directly in fuel cells. Conceivably electric motors powered by fuel cells might one day replace internal combustion engines now using hydrocarbon fuels.

Have You Heard About Talking Books?
The Talking Book Service for the Blind has become an important enterprise of the Library of Congress.

But how many people realize that virtually anyone with a physical or visual ailment, bad enough to keep him from reading, can now obtain the same service?
This is the result of a new law which recognizes that many people, especially senior citizens, have physical ailments or visual problems that incapacitate them even though they aren't blind.

So if you are unable to read standard print with reasonable comfort, wearing ordinary glasses, or, if you have a physical handicap that prevents you from holding a book and turning its pages unaided, then you're eligible to apply for "talking books." Any one suffering from severe arthritis for example, or the effects of a stroke, would fall into this category.

Talking books are word by word recordings of printed matter on long playing records, many of them made by volunteers. The "books" can be borrowed free of charge from the Library of Congress.
A special machine, equipped with devices that allow a blind or handicapped person to use it without assistance is also loaned by the Library.
To join this "library" of Congress, all you need is a statement from your doctor or some other competent authority, describing the disability which prevents you from reading print.

A FEMININE LOOK AT SOME MID-EUROPEAN CITIES: 1968

(Commentary on a Study Mission to Germany, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Greece)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Part in a Series BUDA AND PEST

"We find one party quite enough," a journalist of Budapest, Hungary, told our visiting newspaper study mission group late this Spring. "We are studying your system but we find it unenviable."

Well, after the political convulsions at Chicago last week, one could almost agree with him. Nevertheless, whatever they have enough of, they have NOT got enough Freedom—and that is a mighty, wonderful, enviable difference.

The party he was speaking of is the Hungarian Socialist Workers Party which is the communist organ in that country, and that is all that is allowed, which is precisely the point. It is all he COULD say.

In that country with that one party, 70-year old Cardinal Joseph Mindszenty is still "prisoner" and in refuge from them behind the walls of the protecting U.S. Embassy. He has been there since 1956. And, in that city with one party, there is no free press, no real freedom of speech, no freedom to leave. In the city with the gay and beautiful reputation, there does not seem to be gaiety or beauty throbbing any more.

Certainly there are still some beautiful things: some buildings, the scenery, the bridges, etc., but it is the gaiety that is most absent. Even though the orchestra at our hotel did play every night until three, it seemed tired. I could hear strains of "Strangers in the Night," waltzes, gypsy melodies and of course, "I Could Have Danced All Night,"—which is heard in such odd corners of the world so often, that I think if I were to go to the moon, it would be playing on arrival—but it was an apathetic orchestra playing without zest.

Even on Saturday night the regular cafes we saw were not too full nor very joyous. "We have to work too hard to make a living to have any time left for recreation," one resident told our German-speaking co-traveler, Mrs. Dorothy Ninman of the Reedsburg Times-Press of Reedsburg, Wis. He complained bitterly, she said, about conditions today in Hungary and went on a tirade against the communist regime. Gone, he told her, was the gaiety of the past. "Look at the streets!" he shouted, "no one goes out in the evening any more." When she attempted to quiet him for fear he would be heard, he continued anyway despite what the consequences might be. As he left he said, "Remember us here when you are at home where you can enjoy true freedom."

GERMAN WAS THE ONLY MEANS by which he could communicate with the Hungarians for not many spoke English, even in the hotels, so Mrs. Ninman was a boon. This lack of English is an unusual situation because English is spoken quite fluently in most big cities of the world—but not in Communist countries.

At a newspaper conference during our stay, however, there were some who spoke English—and Mrs. Ninman's German—so we learned more. We found, for instance, that many Hungarians were in sympathy with the Czech movements at the time, that the Hungarian press is state owned and operated, also the railroads, that the shops are owned by the municipalities and sometimes by the government, and, as in the USSR, even the salary of the priests is controlled and paid by the government. There is one television station, radio of course, four dailies, and "six important weeklies" in the city, but "many more" in the country, although "it is impossible to tell how many." Why, I don't know. No one could tell us.

RETURNING TO THE LOOK OF the city, it perhaps can best be described as—grey. The avenues in the main part of town are wide and clean with many buildings, but the buildings are predominantly constructed of grey stone or concrete and are shabby and old. At night the streets are mostly empty, and mostly dark. Across the street from our hotel, for instance, there was one of these grey concrete buildings. As I looked at it through the murky window of the hotel lobby, I was startled to discover that half the windows in the apartments above were dark emptiness. Some windows were lit, but others were simply gaping broken windows with nothing behind them, as though they had been bombed out and never repaired. As though the people never had come back. The apartments with the lights were hardly more cheerful. The strength of the bulbs seemed all of 40 watts.

Would you believe 25? Anyway, it was rather depressing.

One afternoon two of us went to have "tea" at the top of one of the city's newer hotels. It was an interesting building because it was purely round, round as an apple pie, and had a terrace for refreshments some 17 floors above on the top. So up we went. And even there, in the glorious fresh breeze that refreshed everyone in the 92 degree heat, there was no spirit. In other places such as that, people are chatting excitedly, or smiling at everyone and there is an electric exhilarance in the air. But not here.

This was gay and sparkling Budapest? It really didn't seem so.

BUDAPEST IS TWO CITIES, but they are not divided by an ugly wall or a country or political restraint. The friendly Danube separates this city and on its west bank on the right is ancient, hilly, wooded Buda, and on the left and east bank is newer Pest, flat and sprawling on the Hungarian plain. Between them in the middle of the river is Margaret Island "where luxury hotels and cafes and hot thermal pools are located" (our brochure says), and eight bridges connect the whole business.

Buda is an ancient family name and Pest means "cave", such as a man-made cave to make bread in, and one fifth of the country's population, or two million people, call Buda and Pest home.

"Cleopatra" was playing at the movies and "Hello Dolly" was on the stage. An imported gin martini cocktail was two dollars and the Hungarian before dinner counterpart, "Barack"—pronounced Borotsk believe it or not—was 15 to 30 cents. It was apricot brandy, not sweet.

A few of those, and I am sure Budapest would be quite gay — and one would see SEVERAL parties. * * *

NEXT: INTO YUGOSLAVIA

THE CHURCH OF THE CORONATION in Buda, a tourist "must" when visiting Budapest. It was damaged during the war and is still in repair. The roof is colored tile and on the walls Moslem mosaics and murals still show depicting its earlier use by the Turks as a Moslem Mosque. Now, Christian services are held there amid masses of scaffolding erected there for the repair work.

Christine Mindas, Herbert I. Torbin marry on Sunday

MRS. HERBERT I. TORBIN

Temple Israel, South Orange, was the setting Sunday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Christine E. Mindas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Mindas of 574 Passaic ave., Kenilworth, to Herbert I. Torbin of West Orange, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Torbin of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rabbi Herbert Weiner officiated at the 3:30 p.m. ceremony. A reception followed at the Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove.

Mrs. Judith Mindas of Roselle Park served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Karyn Mindas of Kenilworth, Janice Inguagiato of Newark, Arlene Torbin of Pittsburgh, Carol Maturro of Kenilworth and Marilyn Letich of West New York.

Anthony Graeta of Menlo Park served as best man. Ushers included Kevin Flynn of Morris Plains, Robert Mindas of Roselle Park and Gary Popkins of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Torbin is entering her senior year at Seton Hall University School of Education.

Her husband, who was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh, School of Engineering, is employed by International Nickel Co.

Following a honeymoon trip to Mexico, the couple will reside in West Orange.

MRS. MICHAEL NIMSZ

Carol Drabik wed to Michael Nimsz

Miss Carol Drabik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drabik of Kipling avenue, Irvington, was married Sunday to Michael Nimsz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nimsz of Grandview avenue, Kenilworth.

The Rev. John Deshotel performed the ceremony in Cranford Methodist Church. A reception followed at the Blue Room Inn, Union.

Mrs. Geneva Zurawski served as matron of honor. Ushers were Patrick Drabik, brother of the bride, and Patrick Nimsz, brother of the groom.

Couple returns from holiday trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Van Gosh of Edison have returned home from a recent two-week vacation. They spent four days at the King's Inn and Golf Club in Newport, Grand Bahama Island, in the Bahamas, and celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary with champagne dinner at the Palm Pavilion Restaurant at the hotel.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN (Diamond Cleaners)

BLANKET/COMFORTER CLEANING

When I was growing up, early October meant County Fair time. The first crisp days always bring memories of ferris wheels, horse races and a large, barn-like building where the handwork of local families was displayed.

More often than not, my grandmother's nimble fingers were represented in the crocheted booth and among the patchwork quilts. Today I still have several heirloom examples of her blue-ribbon efforts.

Handmade comforters and quilts are becoming increasingly rare, however. Those of us who are lucky enough to have them, keep them largely for "show," using the modern electric blanket or airy synthetic comforters for almost weightless warmth.

Which reminds me... it's time to take winter bedding out of summer storage. And, if any of you put yours away without cleaning, do have them cleaned now. Diamond's services include the specialized care necessary for safe but thorough cleaning of both modern electric blankets and comforters as well as fragile heirlooms. Just call for pick-up and delivery.

List duties of executor of your will

By MABEL G. STOLTE, County Home Economist. Why have an executor for your will? For two reasons: (1) to have a person of your choice settle your estate; (2) to reduce settlement costs.

After your death, a probate court appoints someone to wind up your financial affairs. If you pass away without a will, the appointed person is called an administrator; whereas, if you nominate him in a will, he is an executor.

The duties of an executor are many. They include: finding and listing all your property; managing it during the settlement period; paying all income, inheritance and estate taxes; and distributing the property to the persons designated. The executor's fees usually run between two and six percent of the estate.

The advantages of your naming the executor is that you have a person who understands your affairs. Then, too, you can name a successor or alternate in case your first choice is unable to take the job.

Also, in most states, an administrator must furnish a bond at the expense of your estate. This assures faithful performance of his duties.

Be wary of appointing a friend who is unskilled in business. If you don't have a qualified friend or relative, why not consult a bank's trust department? The fee usually is similar to that set by the state law for an individual.

The above part is the necessary information required to transfer an estate to an individual heir after death. Every person 21 years and over should prepare a will to make an orderly transfer of personal and real property.

Ask Amy By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: My problem is so ridiculous that I'm even embarrassed to tell you. On a once-a-week basis, I have been dating the same guy for 8 years. Even though we have dated others in-between, we find that we always have the best times when we're with each other.

Well, on our last date, he asked me if I'd consider accepting an engagement ring from him on my birthday — four months from now. I was overjoyed, but only one thing kept me from accepting, Amy, in all 8 years that we've been dating, he's never so much as

2. Star of "Look Back in Anger." John Agar
3. They're Bob and Ray. Olson & Jolson
4. In earliest days, he was "Mr. Television." Milton Berle
5. Regular at "Miss America" pageants. Bert Lahr

Dear Amy: I understand your desire to right the wrong in your home, but unless your parents are willing to cooperate with each other by making a home of their own without grandmother, this problem cannot be resolved.

Trailside flower show this weekend Conducted by garden club and county

The annual fall flower show at the Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation will be held on Saturday and Sunday between 1 and 5 p.m. The show this year will be under the direction of the Men's Garden Club of Westfield, and will be sponsored, as in past years, by the Union County Park Commission. The show is open to the general public without charge.

Exhibitors are limited to amateurs who are residents of Union County or are members of garden clubs located in the county. The show committee of the Men's Garden Club is headed by Walter A. Christoffers, chairman, and William Reed, co-chairman, with 13 other members responsible for the various aspects of the show.

Competitive entries may be made in more than 100 classes, ranging from annuals, perennials, bulbous or tuberous flowers, roses, berrilled or flowered vines or shrubs, garden displays, house plants and vegetable or fruit displays. Eleven classes will be open to junior horticulturists in the age group of 7 to 16.

Horticultural experts from other clubs in the area with wide experience in flower-show judging have been chosen as judges to ensure high competency in selection of award-winning entries. At the discretion of the judges, first, second and third places and honorable mentions will receive ribbons in each class. In addition, a tri-color award to an outstanding entry in each of several groups of classes may be given by the judges, who may also make a junior award for an outstanding entry in the junior section, and the flower show committee will present a sweepstakes award to the exhibitor receiving the greatest number of blue ribbons in the show.

It is anticipated that in view of generally good growing conditions in the area this year, with sufficient rainfall over the past several weeks, the show will attract a record number of entries.

The Men's Garden Club of Westfield was organized in 1939. It has grown over the years until today, with a list of active members exceeding 100, it has become the largest organization of its kind in the state. Club officers for the 1968-1969 year are John D. Potter, president; Gerald R. Foster, vice president; Walter A. Christoffers, secretary, and Frank A. Willis, treasurer.

The club has for many years been affiliated with the Men's Garden Clubs of America, an association of more than 300 local units. It is represented at the national convention of that organization, held annually in major cities, and has participated in its plant trading and other programs.

Riesel will speak at Linden under Open Forum auspices

Union County Open Forum, Inc., established by a non-partisan, volunteer group two years ago to bring outstanding programs and speakers to Union County, will present columnist Victor Riesel at Linden High School on Sept. 20. He will speak on "Behind Today's Headlines -- and Tomorrow's," according to Mrs. Arch Downie, Jr., secretary and program chairman of the Forum.

Covering his far-flung beat in the 50s Riesel exposed racketeers and communists infiltrating legitimate unions, business, and government itself. Frequently threatened, he continued to report and name names.

On April 5, 1956, a hoodlum stepped up to Riesel and flung acid into his eyes, blinding him. His enemies failed to silence him, or slow down his battle against the underworld in and out of labor and government.

HIS ACCURATE "ahead-of-the-field" column reports up-to-the-minute labor, political, and industrial developments throughout the world. His September address on current and future headlines will be especially pertinent, Mrs. Downie says, in view of his worldwide background in reporting behind the scenes. He has traveled over one million miles to cover his "beat," and is the immediate past-president of the Overseas Press Club.

"This may be the last program Union County Open Forum will present," Mrs. Downie says. "We have brought some of the nation's top people to Union County -- including Max Rafferty, now winner in a closely fought election as nominee for U.S. Senator from California. Our May 3 panel discussion of 'Crime in the Streets' was headed by outstanding authorities, and was widely covered by the press. But the residents of Union County were conspicuous by their absence.

"It takes a great deal of time and effort and considerable financial risk to bring such programs into being. Union County Open Forum is dedicated to presenting authorities on questions of public interest on a nonpartisan basis. But even the best-intentioned volunteers become discouraged by public apathy to subjects which concern the public so greatly, as did our 'Crime in the Streets' panel."

Additional information about the Victor Riesel program may be obtained by getting in touch with Union County Open Forum, Inc., 600 Leigh dr., Westfield, phone 233-1389.

186 Y activities set; registration Sept. 15

One hundred and eighty-six activities are scheduled by nine divisions in the fall brochure or the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union. The brochure, being mailed this week to the "Y" membership, is also available at the Green Lane center.

Registration will take place Sept. 15 in the auditorium. After that date registration may be made by mail.

Expansion of classes announced

Four classes will be held this year instead of two at the Summit Speech School because of the many students seeking admission, according to Mrs. P.D. Gold, school president. She said a number of openings are still available.

The nursery school, a pre-school for hearing-handicapped youngsters, is a non-profit agency approved by the State Board of Education and offers daily classes in language training. This year, said Mrs. Gold, many of the children are being bussed and their tuition is being paid by their local boards of education. Some of the work at the school, she said, is done by volunteers. Community volunteers who offer their services and members of the Junior League of Summit act as teacher's aides in the classrooms.

All volunteers will receive a two-day orientation training course starting this Monday. A featured speaker will be Dr. Arthur L. Terr, professor of audiology and special education at Newark State College.

Youth aide appointed

Appointment of Peter R. Rosenbloom of Great Neck, L.I., as a teen worker at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA in Green Lane, Union, was announced this week by Dr. Sidney A. Savitt, chairman of the personnel committee.

Rosenbloom will assume the post Sept. 15, succeeding Nachum Blass, who is returning to Israel after two years service with the Y. He and his wife, the former Lois Padden of Union, and two children will move to this area.

Rosenbloom received an AB degree from Adelphi College, New York, and has credits toward an MA degree in theater arts at the same college.

He comes to New Jersey from the East New York YWHA, where he served for two years as junior high supervisor, and previously as assistant district scout executive in the Bronx.

At Adelphi, he was photo editor of the Delphian, school newspaper, and was active in the Golden Mask Society. He also served as program director of campus radio station WJLI, and was a member of the Dormitory Council. He belongs to the National Association of Jewish Center Workers and the National Conference of Jewish Communal Service.

Add courses Seton to inaugurate at regional 112th year Sept. 13 adult school

The Union County Regional Adult School this week announced its program of courses for the fall term. In addition to more than 150 "standards" being offered at the regional high schools in Springfield, Clark, Berkeley Heights and Kenilworth, a number of new courses has been added.

New at Springfield: Estate and financial planning, two Yoga courses, Curtain Time at the Paper Mill, woodworking, chess.

New at Clark: Three computer courses, traffic and transportation, advanced drafting, yoga, advanced bridge, chess.

New at Berkeley Heights: An Introduction to American Economy, law for the layman, consumer electronics, conversational Russian, Keep In Shape—Men Only! Winemakers' Clinic, chess.

New at Kenilworth: Knitting, safe boat handling for youngsters, tennis II, home landscaping, aviation ground school instruction, an expanded basic and high school education program.

Each school will offer an astronomy course, a film festival, and driver education classes.

Harry E. Linkin, director of adult education, suggested that persons interested in any course should register early by mail to assure themselves a place in the class.

Seton Hall University will begin her 112th academic year next Thursday, Sept. 12 in South Orange with a freshmen class of 775 students, a slight drop from last year's entering class. The opening will also mark the first full year of co-educational classes. Last February 625 women transferred to South Orange when University College in Newark was closed.

Although the entering class is smaller, Patrick Kennedy, assistant director of admissions, noted a 50 percent increase in the number of transfer students accepted, 367, making a total of 1140 new students on the campus, an analyzing the breakdown of the transfer students Kennedy found that roughly 60 percent of this number are from out-of-state four year colleges and universities.

"We have found," he said, "that many high school seniors have the desire to go to college out of state in order to be away from home, but after a year or two the glamour wears off and they want to transfer to a college closer to their residence."

"Of course," he continued, "another motivating factor is the matter of finances." He cited the ever-increasing tuition charges in addition to spiraling room and board costs. "With the addition of new physical facilities in South Orange," he said, "we still have space for qualified transfer students and will continue to process applications until the opening of the fall term."

The proliferation of junior and community colleges is now having its impact also, he asserted. "In New Jersey alone there are already 25 two-year colleges in operation or in the planning stage. Many of those who have started in these schools find that they now desire a terminal degree and as the years go by, this number will undoubtedly increase."

Adult school registration at Weequahic

Registration has begun for the Weequahic School for the fall term. Adults may enroll for the fall term at the Weequahic High School building, 229 Lincoln Ave., from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 10; Tuesday, Sept. 17; and Thursday, Sept. 19.

Among the courses being offered this year are three new ones designed to broaden the horizons of the students. They are: Practical Bookkeeping, Afro-American History and Modern Music Appreciation.

Since its founding in 1938, the school has been attended by more than 61,000 adults studying a variety of courses ranging from basic English to a course in computer programming. It also has assisted thousands in preparing successfully for the State high school equivalency tests and given others a chance to pursue hobbies or just general knowledge.

The fall term will open Sept. 24 and run through Dec. 10. Sponsored by the Newark Board of Education, the Adult School is a self-supporting, non-profit organization.

Newark 'Y' announces fall classes

The Adult Program Department of the Downtown Branch of the YM-YWCA of Newark and vicinity, this week announced its fall schedule of informal adult education and business school classes which will begin Sept. 30. Classes are available to both members and non-members.

Leisure-time learning classes include bridge, discotheque dancing, effective speaking, guitar, fitness for women, Iatha Yoga, photography, reading improvement, sketching and painting, social dancing, and Spanish.

A seminar will be held on "The American Negro in Perspective." Instructor will be Mrs. Violet Henry, executive director of the Community Branch of the Newark YM-YWCA.

The YM-YWCA Business School will offer typing, shorthand, switchboard, keypunch, Stenograph and Stenocrypt. Early registration is recommended as class enrollments are limited and individualized instruction stressed.

Registration periods have been set for Monday evenings, Sept. 23 and 30, from 5 to 8 o'clock at the "Y." Advance registration may be made by mail. For further information, write the Adult Program Department, Newark YM-YWCA, 600 Broad St., Newark, or call 624-8900.

UC will begin 36th year with record enrollment

CRANFORD—Union College will open its 36th academic year next week with a record enrollment of 1,600, an acting president and an acting dean, an experimental program for economically and educationally disadvantaged students, and plans for two additional buildings.

Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, acting president, said a freshman class of more than 500 is anticipated in the Day Session. They were selected from more than 2,000 applicants. The total enrollment will include about 900 in the Day Session, including 85 student nurses from Elizabeth and Perth Amboy General Hospitals, and about 700 in the Evening Session.

Dr. Iversen, dean, is serving as acting president while Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, is on a one-year sabbatical leave. Prof. Elmer Wolf, chairman of the Engineering Department, is serving as acting dean.

Twenty high school graduates have been selected to participate in the Educational Opportunity Fund Project, Dr. Iversen reported. They will take special courses in the areas of English, social sciences, mathematics, and science. Union College has received a grant of $30,000 from the state's Educational Opportunity Fund to finance the project, which provides financial assistance of up to $1,000 to each participant above and beyond other financial aid available.

About 600 of the Day Session students who are Union County residents will be recipients of $600 grants under the Tuition Aid Plan adopted by Union College and the Union County Board of Freeholders. The program is financed with county and state funds.

and Tuesday for returning Day Session students. Evening Session registration will be conducted Wednesday, Sept. 11, and Thursday, Sept. 12, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of the Campus Center.

A one-day freshman orientation program will be held Thursday, Sept. 12, at 9:30 a.m. in the theatre of the Campus Center.

Classes for the Day Session begin on Friday, Sept. 13, and for the Evening Session on Monday, Sept. 16.

Dr. Iversen said Union College will be tight for space this year, and additional facilities will be required next year to handle a larger enrollment. The Board of Trustees has authorized the preparation of preliminary plans for a 15,000 sq. ft. administration building and a 35,000 to 40,000 sq. ft. library building.

Construction of an administration building would free about 10 classrooms now being used for administrative functions, Dr. Iversen reported.

In addition, Union College has hired Fordyce Hamby & Kennerly, a New York City architectural firm, to prepare a master plan for the long range development of its 30-acre campus. Dr. Iversen said tentative plans call for submitting the master plan to the Cranford Planning Board early this fall.

DR. IVERSEN SAID Union College looks forward to working with the Union County Board of Freeholders this fall in establishing a Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education. The agency was authorized in legislation sponsored by the entire Union County legislative delegation and signed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes on July 19.

The Coordinating Agency for Higher Education would have the authority to contract for educational services with Union College and with the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, which is operated by the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational and Technical Schools, and would qualify Union College for additional state financial aid for higher educational purposes.

The agency also would be responsible for determining the public higher educational needs of Union County, the extent to which existing institutions within the county should be utilized, and the cost of carrying out any plan of development it recommends.

Under the plans worked out by the Union County Board of Freeholders, Union College, and the Union County Technical Institute, students in the college-level programs at the technical institute could earn college credits for this work and receive Associate degrees from Union College.

The Coordinating Agency for Higher Education would be comprised of nine members appointed by the Board of Freeholders: four Union County residents with no official connection with Union College or the Union County Technical Institute, Dr. William H. West of Cranford, county superintendent of schools, two representatives of Union College, and two representatives of the Union County Technical Institute.

A NEW COURSE, Introduction to Computer Science, will be added to the curriculum at Union College this fall. It will be required for all engineering students and will be available as an elective to students majoring in science, business administration, and liberal arts, Prof. Wolf reported. The course will include a twice-a-week laboratory period making use of Union College's 1130 IBM computer.

New course offerings in the Evening Session will include Introductory Astronomy, which will include laboratory work in the William Miller Sperry Observatory, Development of Educational Thought, and Introduction to Computer Science.

The Sperry Observatory will again serve as headquarters for the Cranford public school system's project "Operational Astronomy: The Earth and Beyond," which is financed with a grant under Title III of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The project will provide in-service workshops in astronomy and space science for teachers, visits to the observatory by Union County elementary and secondary school students, and an astronomy course for adults.

Amateur Astronomers, Inc., who operate the observatory jointly with Union College, will again sponsor public viewing every Friday evening after dusk at the Sperry Observatory throughout the fall, winter, and spring. The program is open to the public without charge.

Dr. Lane named coordinator of Overlook's home care unit

The new post of Medical Coordinator of the Visiting Nurse - Home Care Service of Overlook Hospital will be filled by Milton Lane, M.D., of 900 Shuysant ave., Union, chief of general practice of the Overlook medical staff.

Aimed to shorten the length of patients' stay in the hospital, the purpose of the new post is to implement the greatly broadened Home Care Program established at Overlook through the recent merger with the VNA, which has moved its Summit offices to the hospital. A marked increase in the length of stay of Medicare patients has been noted in the past year, adding to the problem of bed scarcity for acute patients.

Dr. Lane's responsibilities will be to stimulate and educate physicians on the Overlook Medical Staff in the use of Home Care as a primary or alternate means of providing patient care. He will act as liaison between the medical staff generally and the individual physicians, and will serve as medical consultant to Mrs. Adele Crosett, R.N., director of The Visiting Nurse - Home Care Service.

"If hospitalization is required, the patient's length of stay can often be dramatically reduced by this follow-up Home Care Program," Dr. Lane explained. "Returning the patient to his normal environment speeds recovery and is psychologically helpful. At the same time, hospital beds are freed for patients needing acute hospital care."

"Some patients can be entirely treated at home and often recover just as well - without the adjustment to in-hospital care which is sometimes difficult for the elderly," Dr. Lane pointed out in an interview today.

He stressed that diagnostic tests and therapeutic treatment can also be arranged on an out-patient basis in many cases. Appropriate treatment can be brought to the home through the Visiting Nurses, and other paramedical services offered by the Home Care Program such as stroke rehabilitation, physical therapy, speech therapy, diet counselling.

In weekly team meetings the Home Care Medical Coordinator will review patients coming into the Home Care Program, coordinating their needs with their private physicians' orders. Patients, of course, will be under the continuing care of their own private physicians.

A graduate of Ohio State University and the Ohio State University College of Medicine, Dr. Lane has been on the Medical Staff at Overlook for 20 years. He will continue his private practice in addition to his new duties at Overlook.

Dr. Lane interned at City Hospital in Cleveland, then spent seven years in the U.S. Army Medical Corps, reaching the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., he established practice in Union in 1945 and is a member of the Union County Medical Society.
