Community Fund mulls its goals, budget for year

Borough Hall was the meeting place, last Thursday evening, of the budget committee of the Mountainside Community Fund for 1968-1969. Tom Phillips chairman, presided Members present included Dr. Charles Dooley, Gerard S. Dillemuth, Mrs. Ed Gibadlo, Harold Nelson, Mrs. John Foster, Matt Bistis, Herbert Siedel and Mrs. David Wagner.

The purpose of the meeting was to establish the 1968-1969 goal, and all requests for funds were reviewed by the committee. A series of articles, in which the committee hopes to enlighten the people of Mountainside on just how the goal for each participating organization was arrived at and why that particular organization was chosen, is planned. The first on the list is the Mountainside Rescue Squad. It was stated that never could enough praise be given to the members of the Mountainside Rescue Squad. The service performed by this group is on a voluntary basis, and no payment for service is ever requested. Although the town provides a certain amount of money to the squad, this sum is towards the purchase of an ambulance approximately every five years. There are still many other items that must be purchased by the squad, such as oxygen, resuscitators, all first aid supplies, free first aid classes, uniforms ambulance repairs and many other basic items such as telephone bills, gas and electricity, water and all building maintenance, a spokesman said.

The Squad's request this year is the same ac last year, $4,000. The committee voted unanimously to approve this request and stated "there is not a person in Mountainside who has ever used the services of the squad who would not be willing to contribute to the support of this organization. It is not always possible to contribute time, but you can be of great help with your financial aid. You never know when an emergency will arise in your own home and the services of the squad will be needed, so bear this in mind when your contribution to the Mountainside Community Fund is being made. The money you give may help save your life."

The Committee also reported that the Union County Psychiatric Clinic had made a request of $2,000, the same as their 67-68 request. The clinic is a private, non-profit organiza-It provides psychiatric service and psychotherapy for those who have emotional problems. The service is provided by professional teams, each consisting of psychiatrist, psychologist and psychiatric social problem, may request help by telephoning one of the offices in Plainfield, Elizabeth, Summit and Linden. A person is seen for an initial interview within a week. There may be a wait for treatment. The person's problem is defined and history gathered. Plans for the future are discussed with the family.

The waiting period may be from one week to a year. The length of the waiting period varies from community to community, determined by the ratio of the demand for treatment

Board votes special funds, OKs school-time meetings

A motion to approve additional appropriations in the 1968-69 school budget which would cover costs of special classes at Children's Specialized Hospital and of summer school was adopted at a meeting of the Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night at Deer-

The additional appropriations totaled $40,215 for the Children's Hospital and $7,750 for summer school. The appropriations will be funded with tuition to be received for the handicapped children in the special classes and by the tuition received for the 1968 summer school.

In other business, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, Superintendent of Schools, proposed that a one o'clock closing of the schools from time ing staff meetings, with the first one to be held on Dec. 2. Dr. Hanigan spoke at length on the importance of having three staff meetings each year, particularly with the seventh and eighth grade teachers, because these teachers were preparing students for their entry into high school.

In the discussions at staff meetings, Dr. Hanigan said, teachers would have the op-portunity for an interchange of ideas concerning this age group and also on ways to guide and counsel students in order that their orientation into high school could be mini-

Approval was also granted to appoint the following extra-service agreements for this school year: Visual aids, Alfred Landis at Deerfield, at a cost of $125; athletics, Eric S. Luscombe, winter intramurals coach, basketball, and John Longstaff Jr., fall intramurals coach, soccer. Luscombe and Longstaff will receive $135 each for 36 hours over a nine-week period. The two athletic contracts supersede those approved last March for Stephen Savel. Also approved were: Supplemental Instruction teacher, Mrs. Helen O. Hoffert, at a cost of $2,664 for 12 hours per week for 37 weeks from Sept. 1 to June 30, 1969; secretary - Mrs. Mabel M. Furstner, at a cost of $2,437 for 25 hoursper week from Oct. 1 to June 30. # Clergyman advises Borough Council of (traffic) perils hiding along the path

A letter protesting the raising of the speed limits on Deer Path was sent by the Rev. Elmer A. Talcott, pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, last week to Wifred H. Brandt, president of the borough council. Residents of the area have also been circulating petitions on the matter, according to Mr. Talcott.

He stated in his letter:
"Sometimes it is helpful to have in writing the thoughts which will be the basis for our talks on Saturday morning and perhaps at other times.

"The officers of the church as well as the neighborhood residents on Deer Path are deeply concerned, as you know, by the proposed change in the speed limit. We are well aware of the state laws and method of determining speed laws. My personal feeling is that they are inadequate and obsolete and my conviction is enhanced by the fatality rate this year in New Jersey. You may be aware that this state has the highest automobile fatality rate in the nation with an increase of 20 percent over against the national average of 3 percent. We must do something about Trenton but, in the meantime, we must take responsible action as a town for the safety of our children.

My primary concern is safety, not speed. I studied the Motor Vehicle speed regulations and several things occur to me about Deer Path: the hill, the curve on the hill, and

School expansion drive to continue

In a recent statement, Dr. Minor C.K. Jones, Mountainside representative to the Re-gional High School Board of Education, reminded residents of Mountainside that the fight for what he termed the necessary expansion at Gov. Livingston Regional is being carried

"The necessary expansion of the regional high schools, delayed by the 289-vote defeat of the referendum last spring, is again under further consideration by the consultant, Dr. James Rosetti. Verbal reports will be re-ceived this fall and early this winter and will be reviewed by the Board of Education in formulating expansion plans for resubmission of the referendum.

The earliest date for another referendum would seem to be in January, 1969. Mountainside citizens are invited to attend Regional Board of Education meetings to follow these developments. Meetings are held at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, at 8 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month."

three virtually blind intersections. All of these, according to the code, make it possible to have reduced speed limits. The family presently living on the curve is making a collection of hub caps which bounce off cars hitting the curve at 40 miles an hour. I suggest that members of the council try to take it at that speed if they think it is a controlled speed for the corner of Ackerman and Deer

"In addition to these factors, the Community Presbyterian Church has a day school in session Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and, therefore, has the right to request a speed rate commensurate with school zoning covering the appropriate frontage of the church with warning signs.

"The density of houses on building lots which is a state regulation regarding the identity of a neighborhood as residential is, to me, an obsolete concept. It is just possible that we may meet the requirements. We are lookbut, to me, this is irrelevant. The significant factor on Deer Path, is the number of children who must cross it and use it daily in order to go to Beechwood School.

"OVER AND ABOVE that, there are numerous activities involving children throughout the week in the church. We have two Girl Scout roops,""one Brownie unit, and a Senior Girl Scout Patrol as well as the largest Cub Pack in Mountainside and a Boy Scout Troop, On Friday nights, we have a teenage canteen and on Sunday evenings, from 50 to 60 teenagers meeting for a program at the church. I dare say that in the course of a week, we have between 400 and 500 children and teenagers involved in cars, buses and walking. There is also a high school pick-up and drop-off point at the corner of Meeting House lane and Deer

Members of PTA plan 'School Night'

The eighth annual "Back to School Night" will be held next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at

Gov. Livingston Regional High School. During the evening, parents will follow a shortened version of the student's daily schedule of classes. Mrs. William Ruch, PTA president, reminded all parents that "this is an excellent time to join the PTA and become more familiar with your children's school."

Tickets for the spaghetti supper which will be held for the benefit of the PTA Scholarship Fund will be on sale at this meeting. Supper will be served from 4:30 till 7p.m. on Oct. 28, following the football game with Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark.

Tickets for children are available at a reduced rate.

it was stated, the state is concerned only with the movement of traffic at what is defined as "reasonable speed." Reasonable speed is determined by traffic surveys to register existing rates of speed and taking road conditions into account to assure the safety of the driver and passenger. Pedestrian safety is the responsibility of the local community, and unless otherwise posted, 25 miles-per-hour is the speed set for a residential community.

After considerable discussion a spokesman said, the group concluded that a 35-mile-perhour speed rate would be reasonable, particularly in the light of the steep hill, propedestrian safety.

Measures suggested were: A bi-monthly radar check; stricter law enforcement even where local residents were involved; proper warning and advisory signs; further investi-gating the possibilities of improving the road by widening at points where feasible.

It was also suggested that pressure be brought to bear on the Motor Vehicle Department in Trenton questioning the validity of the survey which has already been made.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., assured the audience that since the recommendations of the state have been questioned, the present ordinance will be tabled until further studies can be made.

EVERYTHING WILL BE AT THE BALL excepting the Mississippi Belles themselves, when the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church holds the biggest event of its fall season on Saturday night, Oct. 19. An old-fashioned beefsteak dinner, free beer and the music of Tommy Williams and his Mississippi Wheels a banjo group, are among the treats promised. Tickets are limited, it was reported, and will be available on a first-come, first served, basis. # PROFILE -- John H. Palmer Jr.

'I was a tax-payer in Scotch Plains before I moved to Mountainside, more than three years ago, and I had ample time to witness what was going on there because of a one-party system. That is why I feel so strongly about a two-party system of government for this community. I do not want the same thing that happened in Scotch Plains to happen here and it can be avoided if a two-party system is in progress," began John Hunter Palmer Jr., a newcomer to politics, who is running as a Democrat for a council seat in the borough, as he sat down for an interview with this reporter.
"You know," he went on, "I just cannot understand why the people of Mountainside have not taken advantage of the security that a two-party system affords them. My campaign will be sincere and dedicated to the establishment of that two-party system which has worked so well for this nation on all levels. Of a certainty, the type of people that reside here are not ignorant -- I can only believe they must be apathetic. 'When you write about my feelings on this matter, I would appreciate your making it very clear there is nothing one could actually call personal in my wanting to serve on the council. I respect and admire every member of the present council. I consider them men of integrity and ability and I know they are truly dedicated to the welfare of this community. But I also feel that there should be a place on the council for men of equal character and ability, irrespective of their political affiliations.

"Too, I feel the opportunity for challenge is enhanced when there is a two-party system and when there is an exchange of ideas be-tween people. I believe the fruition of exchanged ideas is then, more abundant, in the final analysis. When there is an undisputed acquiesence because all are of one party, there is a danger that, while things might appear to run smoothly, the lack of any disagreement is never healthy.'

Highlanders battle Hillside to 0-0 tie, Regional leads on basis of statistics

I ven though Gov. Usingston Regional High School out-offensed and out-defensed Hillside last Saturday, the Highlander's could not move the ball over the goal line as they battled the Hillside Comets to a scoreless tie, the tie leaves Gov. Livingston with an 0-1-1 mark in Watchung Conference play. The Highlanders will visit powerful Westfield this Saturday,

Following the kickoff by Tom Tremarco of Hillside, quarterback John Picciello skillfully ruided Regional to the Hillside 15. On this drive, Piccirillo'made an excellent selection of plays and showed more promise than he had shown in the previous week's loss to

The tough Regional defense immediately fractured Hillside's offense and forced a punt. The pigskin was booted by quarterback Jack Issler, and it went out of bounds on the Comet 48 yard line. A holding penalty set the High-landers back, but on a third and 19 play, Piccirillo hit flanker Jeff Burdette for a first on the 19. On a third and nine however, Piccirillo slipped while fading back to pass and the Regional drive was halted.

After trading fumbles early in the second quarter. Hillside threatened when it moved to the Gov. Livingston 43. The drive was stopped abruptly, when on fourth down, an Issler pass fell incomplete in the end cone. The Comets received possession right back on a fumble at the Highlander 20, Gov. Livingston's defense rose to the occasion and held the Comets on downs. Key plays were the dumping of Jack Issler by tackles Ward Rauand Mike Hiotis and safety Marty Rollinson's breaking up of a fourth down pass play.

EARLY IN THE second half a pass by Issler of Hillside was picked off by Johnny McElgenn on the Regional 47. The passing of Piccirillo quickly moved Gov. Livingston to the Comet 24-yard stripe. During this drive, he threw twice to end Eric Wichelhaus and a big one to Jeff Burdette, who again demonstrated he could run with the pigskin. The drive fizzled aren't what they used to be. As I sat in the stands, cheering desperately, watching the valiant effort of the defense, which held Hill-side to a total offense of some 25 yards, I was confronted by the fact that the Highlanders lack a swift, striking offense, an offense which can put a few touchdowns on the scoreboard, an offense which wins games. I don't know what caused the Highlanders' disappointing start, I can only speculate. For one thing, there was too much pressure on the players. Prior to the opening game with Scotch Plains, all the team heard was that it would win the Watchung Conference title, that it had the best defense in the state, that it had a quarterback with one of the most powerful throwing arms in the conference, and that it would wallop Scotch Plains, 21-0, a score which was inflated in light of the fine game the Raiders played.

The Highlanders are now in a difficult position. Their loss to Scotch Plains and their tie game with Hillside have given them a zero in the victory column. Saturday they play Westfield, their arch-rival, a strong, powerful team which beat Cranford last week, 41-0. The Highlanders have pulled off bigger coups before. What the Highlanders will need to win Saturday is a completely united, fully charged up team. What the Highlanders need, also, is Regional received the ball back on halfback McElyenn's second interception, at the Highlander 42. The offense went nowhere, and the third quarter ended with Hillside in control. Faced with a fourth and two, Issler punted from his own 27. The Regional back tried to eatch the ball on the run in an attempt to get the Jump on the Comet tacklers. The plyskin bounded out of his arms near the Regional

Jim D'Meo of Hillside scooped the ball up and set off for the Highlander goal line. Fighting off two Comet blockers, John Mc-Elgenn finally overhauled D'Meo on the four-

THIS WAS WHERE Gov. Livingston's defensive eleven proved it was one of the top defenses in the state.

Two runs were smashed for a combined loss of two yards. Then Issler was rushed hard on third down and just barely got away an incomplete pass. Hillside lined up to try a field goal. Gary Goodell broke through the forward wall and tipped Tremarco's attempt just enough so that it fell wide to the left. After a Regional fumble, Hillside showed that it wanted to win this game, also, but Issler threw an incomplete pass from punt formation on fourth down. Piccirillo immediately exploited this gamble and moved his team to the Hillside 40-yard stripe. Then came the play where Regional could have won the game. With a second and five, Piccirillo lofted a high pass into the end zone. The receiver seemed to have the ball in his hands, but it slipped through and fell to the turf. Seconds were ticking away and the Highlanders, were forced to punt. Desperately the Regional defense tried to get the ball back. Twice the defensive line dropped Issler for long losses. Forcing a punt, the Highlandershad one more chance on their own 45, but time ran

For the second Saturday in a row it seemed the game ended too fast, too soon. Even though it doesn't count, Gov. Livingston gave a better performance than it did the previous week against Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. The major change was in the improved performance of the offensive line. This week Piccirillo, was dropped only once attempting to pass, while last week he was pressured on nearly every passing situation.

This Saturday, Gov. Livingston will play at Westfield, and unless their play noticeably improves, they will suffer their second defeat of the season. A loss to the Blue Devils could put the Highlanders in too big a hole to get

Traffic

"Regardless of the speed regulations, the fact will always remain that Deer Path is not a safe road for pedestrians and bicycles. It may be a minor consideration, but at least six pets have been killed, one woman has been seriously injured while walking here, there have been three serious accidents that I have personally witnessed at the curve of Ackerman and Deer Path, and, I understand, that there have been more.

"When the county repayed Deer Path, they raised the surface of the road two inches creating a drop-off. The town, through the offices of Chief Fritz, kindly painted a white line on the sides so that we could see just how narrow it was. For the best part of Deer Path, there is hardly more than six inches of the shoulder sides of the road with a two inch lip, hardly adequate for bicycles, baby carriages or any other type of perambulation. A cinder unfinished soft shoulder is extremely dangerous and a child, riding across to the edge, can easily fall and has fallen into the road.

I spoke to the county engineer and I understand the philosophy of being unwilling to increase the paving width because of a lack of curbing on Deer Path. I am under the impression that this is a responsibility of the own and property owners. I have been led to believe that, if the town were to require curbing on Deer Path, the county would take the necessary steps to see that the road is hardsurfaced to the curb.

Before any change in speed regulations can be conscientiously considered by the council, the council must see to it that a curb is put in, that adequate warning signs and markers are placed in the neighborhood of the church property, and that minimum speed limits be maintained wherever the law permits, particularly blind entrances and curves, and that no stone is left unturned to protect the lives of those who must use these nightborhood facilities."

Mr. Talcott also told the Echo that he and many residents and interested parties, including Our Lady of Lourdes Church officials and members, had been concerned for a long time about this matter. He said he felt very strongly that the council "had no business presenting the ordinance increasing speed limits on Deer Path before the report from the traffic and safety consultant, which the council had engaged early last summer to make a study of conditions in the borough, had been received and

Mr. Talcott said that in view of the fact that the council seemed to be going ahead "on what we consider an illegal program, it has forced those of us who are concerned to go to Trenton, and see what can be done about this matter.'

Mr. Talcott said he wanted to make it very clear that no one believed the council was not as interested as anyone else in attempting to solve these matters and had taken constructive steps, "But, so long as the state and the com-munities don't get together on these matters, these conditions will continue to exist." He insisted the state was the prime offender "since they just don't seem to care, and that is why our people are going to continue to go to Trenton and see if we can get them moving down there."

The pastor reiterated that 'T appreciate the co-operation of Police Chief Christian F. Fritz in the past and the willingness of the council to have brought in a traffic consultant and to reconsider their position regarding the ordinance. Recognizing the concern of everyone whose primary concern is to make safety a reality in the borough, I called a meeting last week. I have every hope that with continued concentration and work by everyone concerned, we can solve this problem at least to the satisfaction of knowing all of us, working to-gether will have done the very best that we can."

A meeting at Seneca Falls, N.Y., which has been called the first woman suffrage convention in the U.S., stirred public discussion in 1848. Two years later reformers, male and female, from the entire country assembled at Worcester, Mass., as the Woman's Rights Convention. The crusade was in full swing when the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment divided the forces of reform. The radicals, led by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, opposed the amendment because it gave the vote to Negro men but not to women. They organized the National Woman Suffrage Association.

A more moderate group founded the American Woman Suffrage Association and con-centrated on persuading the states rather than the federal government to grant voting rights to women.

In 1872 the determined Miss Anthony was arrested for voting and her trial focused wide attention on the feminist

Plugging loopholes -- or voting in New Jersey, old style

Reprinted from the October, 1968, Issue of the New Jersey Voter, "published by the League of Women Voters of New Jersey.

So you thought women didn't have the vote until the Nineteenth Amendment was ratified in 1920? Then you never heard of the bitter tug-of-war in 180? over the location of the Essex County courthouse.

In those days, Essex County included what is now Union County and Newark and Elizabeth were rivals for top dog. As described by Rutgers historian Richard P. McCormick, "Elizabeth, apparently, threw its women into the fight on the first day, Newark retaliated in kind on the second day. . . . Not only did every man and woman go to the polls; many evidently went more than once. The election was invalidated, Newark won the next election, and the New to free, white, male citizens, 21 years of ane or older, who paid any county or state tax,

But thanks to loosely worded laws and tol me ant election officials, voters with doubtful qualifications were slipping through. The Legislature continued to tighten the election machinery by passing registration laws, adopting a uniform time for closing elections, setting a single day for an election, closing taverns during polling hours, and providing for more accessible polling places. The tax-paying qualification was abolished in 1844.

Of course, most of these reforms were applied to the partisan advantage of the dominant faction then in power. And the laws were unable to curb either gerrymandering -- the sport of every dominant party to this day -- or bribery compliant voters and election officials. Which brings up the Case of the Hudson County

The Democratic candidate for the Hudson County Senate seat in 1889 swamped his fusion rival by a spectacular 8,000-vote plurality. A committee appointed by the suspicious Republican-controlled Senate investigated, it found, a contemporary observer reported, that voting lists contained the names of "dead and absent and mythical citizens" -- men whose wives thought them long dead, men seemingly living in canal boats and open lots and saloons whose capacity would not have "afforded them even standing room." "Violence and thuggery at the polling places" prevented legitimate voters (but not hired repeaters) from reaching the polls and election officials from watching the vote-counting, Moreover, 1,764 irregular ballots -- doctored to simulate correctly-cast ballots -- had been inserted into ballot boxes. Over 10,000 ballots were found fraudulent.

frauds, the conspirators, with the aid of highly-placed fellow "ring" members, served only belated and brief jail sentences. As for the fusion candidate: "Seated on the last day of the session of 1890 and unhorsed on the first day of the session of 1891, Mr. Stuhr had . . . the shortest senatorial term in all the annals of legislation,")

This incident, echoed by similar goings-on in Atlantic County in 1910 by the Republican organization, impelled New Jersey to join other states in adopting the so-called Australian ballot, a single official ballot obtainable only at the polls where it is marked in secret. By replacing separate ballots for each party available in quantity prior to elections, the new ballot, among other advantages, made ticket-splitting far easier. This ballot and more stringent registration laws were adopted in stages, notably in 1890 and in 1911.

power of the political machines, in response, New Jersey passed the direct primarylaws, in 1903 and 1911, to give voters the opportunity of controlling political parties through the nomination of all party candidates and the election of most party officials.

Fortunately, elections aren't what they used

Support for bonds urged by NJEA to 'prevent stagnation' The New Jersey Education Association this week urged "all friends of education" to support the three State Bond Issues on the Nov. 5 ballot "to prevent stagnation of essential public services." NJEA President George A. Springer of Beach

Haven described New Jersey's problems in education, transportation, and housing as

"massive, threatening, and growing."

About the Public Buildings Bond Issue, which would provide $202.5 million to expand the State's higher-education system, Springer "Never in history has New Jersey had the chance to vote so much money for public colleges. "The facts are hard and clear, Half of New Jersey's college students are forced to go out of state. We are decades behind. The tragedy worsens, however, as we look ahead to 1975 and see the essential need for at least 83,000 additional undergraduate spaces. The students will be there. Will there be places for them?"

The $640 million Transportation Bond Issue is needed, Springer said, "to unblock New Jersey's badly choked roads." He added: "New Jersey's three million cars will increase to four million in another 10 years. Yet we have not had a major road-modernization program in over 30 years. Harried commuters have reached the breaking point using antiquated, collapsing mass transit facilities. The N.J. Transportation Bond issue would provide $440 million in new highway construction and $200 million in new mass transit equipment and facilities."

Springer urged approval of the  $$12.5\,\mathrm{million}$ Housing Assistance Bond Issue "to attract and stimulate private investment in low and moderate income housing in our urban areas."

Local governments' spending showed big '67 rise in N.J.

Local governments in New Jersey spent almost two and one-quarter billion dollars

This was an increase of more than a quarter-billion dollars, or 14 percent over the previous year's expenditures of the more than 1,100 school district, municipal and county governments in the State. During the same period outstanding local government debt rose more than 10 percent to top the two billion dollar level.

The totals are based upon detailed, unit--unit data contained in the 23rd annual edition of "Financial Statistics of New Jersey Local Government" published last week by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. Among local government levels, New Jersey's 21 county governments showed the sharpest upward trend in 1967 when their expenditures increased by almost 25 percent to total $412.0 million. Spending by the 567 municipalities climbed more than 12 percent, to total $724.9 million. Expenditures of the 578 school districts exceeded a billion dollars for the first time, rising almost 12 percent over 1966 to total $1,087.2 million.

Similar upward trends in borrowing were reflected in figures showing county debt up more than 15 percent to a total of $336.8 million; municipal debt up almost 14 percent to $530.4 million, and school debt up 8 percent

Store announces trading stamp plan

The Acme Market at 1319 Magie ave., Union, is one of 83 in the state which began giving S&H stamps to customers last week. "We added S&H stamps as an extra...on top of low prices, quality and service...to reward our loyal customers and help stretch their dollars through the valuable merchandise obtained with stamps," said John Furman, Acme store manager.

A program to help area residents speed up the rate of filling and redeeming S&H stamp books for merchandise has begun, according to the Acme manager.

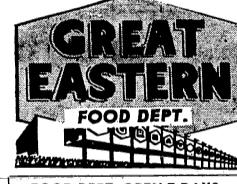

Acme will give 450 free stamps to each housewife over a six-weeks period under the accelerated stamp saving program.

S&H, oldest and only nationwide trading stamp firm, operates 13 redemption centers in New Jersey and more than 850 nationwide.

Drew president decries 'excesses of expression'

Drew University President Robert Fisher Oxnam broke with the tradition of ribboncutting ceremonies' bland speeches to charge that "the cause of our frightening polarization in this country does not lie in our honest differences of opinion but in the excesses of expression with which we communicate them." Speaking before a crowd of several hundred, including Governor Richard J. Hughes, present Saturday for the formal dedication of Drew's new $3,24 million Hall of Sciences, Dr. Oxnam said that "the outrages of Chicago police and Chicago demonstrators, the distorted actions of Columbia students and Columbia administrators, the unfortunate excesses in one school on this campus in the recent past, the accelerating childishness of the presidential campaigns -- all reflect the growing difficulty in this country of being heard."

Governor Hughes, along with Bell Telephone Laboratories president James B. Fisk and Drew trustee Robert C. Morris, was awarded an honorary doctorate during the dedication ceremontes.

"The volume of nonsense noise that surrounds us," Oxnam said, "is becoming so great that honest opinions strongly felt must sometimes be too strongly expressed in order to be heard."

"IN MY JUDGMENT," he said, "this problem of noise level is the basic source of our domestic troubles."

"At Drew," he said, "we have no fear of ideas — any ideas — and instead save our anxiety for the lack of ideas."

'We are moving administratively here to do what we can to lower the noise level and raise the understanding level," he said, "and we pledge to this campus and this community that at Drew University you will always find someone you agree with, and someone you disagree with."

"You will find him because he will be welcomed here," he said, "and we will listen to him."

"It is the task of this University," Oxnam "to ask the questions, to identify the problems, to sharpen the intellectual capacities for finding solutions, to challenge the mind."

"The minute we find the answers and de-clare the solutions," the Drew President con-cluded, "our search for truth is over and our job is done."

(Diamond Cleaners)

HALLOWEEN STAINS

The trick or treat season is almost here...a time when goblins and witches will roam...a time for parties and the special decorations that go with them. Beware of the 4 C's, however!

Cider, candy, crope paper and costumes can cause lastinghavoc. Anything stained by cider, soft drinks or candy should have immediate dry cleaning first aid -- especially if the stained fabric is silk or wool. A little time and heat can make this type of stain permanent

However, if the stained garment is cotton and the dye will not bleed, laundering should take care of it.

Often crepe paper contains a dye which runs when wet and can actually redye your clothing. Only fabrics which may be laundered and bleached can be salvaged.

And then there's condle wax. A little scraping and a commercial spot remover should do the trick. But be careful not to damage the fabric.

And remember, the experts at DIAMOND CLEANERS are old hands at removing wax and other culprits with complete safety for any fabric. Happy

Naomi Shemer is a talent of considerably more than one song or even one album . . . She is a complete artist whose voice and compositions range from the melodical tale "Four Brothers" to the rhythmical "On of "Four Brothers" to the rhythmical "On Silvery Wings" to the bluesy emotion of The sacrifice . . . Indeed, Naomi Shemer is one of the leading major voices of Israel's growing field of 'pop' artists and if there is any skepticism of this blunt statement of fact, try her LP, Jerusalem of Gold — it's great, Not all of the music from Israel is folk of Ethnic or even "traditional" . . . Some of it is simply popular music and among the most popular of Israel's popular groups are the multi-talented native Israelis who call the multi-talented native Israelis who call themselves the Yarkon Trio . . . They, and their music, as you can observe from their album, The Yarkon Trio, evoke as much excitement in Israel as the Beach Boys, Lou Rawls, Nancy Wilson or Bobbie Gentry do in the States.

Since the long-run revival of The Threepenny Opera with its hit tune Mack the Knive during the mid-fifties, the serious music of Kurt Weill has been granted a new lease on life . . . That the composer of September Song could also write symphonies is still little known . . . The two symphonies of Weill receive their first recording in an Angel release Kurt Weill: Two Symphonies with Gary Bertini conducting the B.B.C. symphony probestre. orchestra . . . Angel's sonically thrilling recording suits the brilliant colors of these exciting scores.

DUKE ELLINGTON and his orchestra will appear at Larry Dixon's Flagship Dinner-Theater on Rt. 22 in Union for one night only, on Monday providing continuous entertainment from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Dinner will be served starting at 6 p.m.

Ancient kin of jellyfish found

Discovery of hitherto-unknown fossil relatives of jellyfish 425 million years old was reported by two Rutgers University geoloappears in the latest issue of the magazine "Science,"

The discovery occurred on a two-day field trip May 18 conducted as part of a course Rutgers geology majors studying field techniques in paleontology, the science that deals with prehistoric times. One of the sophomores, Paul Truex of Phoenixville, Pa., spotted the specimens in a road cut along the shoulder of U.S. 611 near the portal of the Delaware Water Gap in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Steven K. Fox Jr., associate professor of geology, in charge of the field trip, recognized them immediately as unusual finds. After returning to New Brunswick, he and his colleagues delved through the literature of paleon-tology to identify the fossils.

They found no record of any previous report of these particular prehistoric animals from the Western Hemisphere. The nearest recorded find of related specimens occurred in 1947 in South Australia, The Australian finds turned out to be the first of a new class of animals, but the Rutgers specimens were of a different and new genus, and of three separate species in the new genus,

DR. HELGI JOHNSON, professor of geology who heads up the work in paleon-tology, played an important role in classifying

He and Dr. Fox named the new genus They named one species Rutgersella truexi for the sharp-eyed student who found the first specimen. A second species received the name Rutgersella delawarensis, reflecting the location of the finds. The third species was named Rutgersella kittatinnyensis after Kit-

The fossils are flat ovals about two inches long and about one inch wide. Lines radiate from the center of the oval to the edge. In an interview, Dr. Johnson called the discovery "the first find for a remarkable fossil in the North American continent. We are not yet able to say how closely finds and those from Australia are related. The Australian specimens are more than

Sen. Williams urges 'yes' on three bond issues

Williams, Jr. (D-NJ) issued a strong appeal to the voters of New Jersey this week to approve the State's $900 million bond issues. Pointing to the state's unmet needs in transporation, education, and housing, Senator Williams called on New Jersey voters to help the state "keep a date with destiny."

The text of the Williams statement: 'On Nov. 5 -- Election Day -- New Jersey has a date with destiny.

"The state's future growth will be at issue when the voters go to the polls to act on three New Jersey bond issue referendums. Today's generation will write the legacy for tomorrow's New Jerseyans. "One word will mean the difference. One act, one expression of belief in the state, will put New Jersey on the road to progress at home and admiration throughout the nation. 'The word is YES.

"Three words, really, because three bond issues will appear on the Nov. 5 ballot: the transportation bond; the public buildings

"These three bond issues hold the key for New Jersey's future. They let us look to the day when New Jersey can move its commuters, accomodate its college students, and provide decent housing for all its people.

"That is a day in the future. I am concerned, for the moment, about Nov. 5 and New Jersey's answer to the challenge. I urge all New Jersey voters to cast a vote for growth, for improvements, and for progress. I am glad to join Senator Clifford P. Case in an expression of bi-partisan support for the New Jersey Bond Issues. I am also pleased to note that individuals and organizations throughout the state have added their strong support to the Bond Issues.

"New Jersey will keep the date with destiny, I am sure, and will vote YES on all three bond issues."
