Members of band planning to conduct canvass Saturday

A house-to-house candy sale on Saturday will climax this week's observance of Bank Appreciation Week, honoring the Highlander Band of Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights. Band members will conduct a house-to-house canvass in Mountainside and Berkeley Heights in the drive to raise $2,200 for future band projects, including the exchange concerts with the Malden (Mass.) High School Band. The Malden band is scheduled to visit Governor Livingston March 28-30, and the Highlanders will travel to Malden for the weekend of April Groups affiliated with the Highlanders, including a total of 150 members, include the marching band, Scottish Pipers, twirlers, color guard and Scottish Dancers.

The Pipers competed in the Scottish Games held in Delaware and in Scotch Plains earlier this year. Band activities to date this year have included marching in the St. Patrick's Day parade in New York City and in civic parades in Chatham, Berkeley Heights and Sterling.

The band also participated in an exchange program with a band from Alexandria, Va., last spring and performed at the Middlesex County Festival in New Brunswick.

The Band Appreciation Week is being sponsored by the Band Parents Organization, which helps promote, finance and support Highlander projects.

Actors and athletes play a comic crew in 'Mister Roberts'

The symbolic potted palm tree will be cast into a cardboard sea at Governor Livingston Regional High School, as students present a production of "Mister Roberts" at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the school auditorium. Acting in the comedy are Glen Sullivan as Mister Roberts, Art Bundey as Doc, Bill O'Day as Insigna, Bill Olland as the captain and Dana Sommers as Ensign Pulver. Other cast members are Dennis Carlson, Kip Welhelms, Bob Brown, Dean Paskow, Larry Weingold, Steve Rapp, Joel Silidiker

Pepi Sanders will play the nurse. Tickets are on sale from cast members and Drama Club members.

Holiday deadline

Particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday deadline is advised for the Nov. 28 issue, which will go to press early because of the Thanksgiving holiday. All organizational, social and other news items for the Nov. 28 issue must be submitted by tomorrow, Friday,

Phillips thanks volunteers for drive efforts

Tom Phillips, chairman of the Mountainside Community Fund Drive, this week said he wishes to express his appreciation to all the people who were community-minded enough to volunteer their services for the fund drive.

"Although it is impossible at this early date to estimate just how successful the drive was, we also want to thank all those who did contribute money for these worthy causes. We wish to urge those who were not at home during the drive to slip their contributions in the self-addressed, stamped envelope received in the mail and return this envelope

"For the district leaders and their captains, we give special thanks for the extra time and energy spent in finding field work-ers and to the door-to-door collectors we are truly grateful. We hope to be able to let the community know how the drive turned out at a later date.

"The turn-out to see Fred Feldman was enthusiastic to say the least. Feldman arrived at 3:10 last Friday at Deerfield School, and almost the whole school turned out to greet him. Many were interested in obtaining an autograph from Fred and he was more than gracious as the crowds rushed him and his helicopter.

"Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelms presented Fred with an award, and Fred buzzed the field for a few minutes after his take-off. It was very generous of Feldman to take time out from a very busy schedule to do this special favor for our community."

Step follows Deer Path controversy

All concerned citizens invited to help in work

Recent protests of Deer Path residents against the 50-miles-per-hour speed limit there have triggered the formation of a borough-wide Traffic Safety Advisory Committee, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. told a somewhat surprised gathering at the Borough Council meeting Tuesday night at the Beechwood School.

The committee met initially last Thursday in the library, Mayor Wilhelms said, and is headed by Councilman Robert Ruggiero, police commissioner. Councilman William Brandt also represents the governing body on the committee. The nucleus of the advisory group is the Mountainside PTA safety committee. Others invited to the meeting were Deer Path area residents Robert Shields, Louis Borchert and Thomas Knierim.

Councilman Ruggiero invited other interest-ed borough citizens to contact him for details on the committee. He said, however, that no date had yet been set for the next meeting. Mayor Wilhelms explained the committee would act in an advisory capacity to the council on safety measures it considers vital. Included, the mayor said, are safety education, establishment of reasonable speed limits improvements to intersections, direction signs and sidewalks.

In turn, Mayor Wilhelms explained, the council together with members of the committee, can better present their recommenda-tions to county and state authorities.

The committee will also devote time to a report by Abram Simoff, a traffic consultant, and the 1967 PTA traffic survey.

THE DEER PATH ISSUE of lowering the speed limit to 25 miles per hour remains in a state of limbo, it was indicated at the meeting.

The council deferred acting on an original resolution proposing the speed limit be dropped to 40 when a petition signed by more than 200 area residents was presented at its last meeting. The petition demanded the speed limit on the state-controlled road be lowered to 25. More petitioners' signatures were given to the council Tuesday night. Mayor Wilhelms explained the state requires a maximum of 300 feet of occupied frontage in every 600 feet of the road right of way before the area is considered residential, and thereby a candidate for a 25miles-per-hour speed zone. The mayor said the borough engineer had made a survey of Deer Path and it was found that "certain stretches" there come within the state's requirements. council is also preparing to fight with the aid of the new Traffic Safety Advisory Committee, a road proposed by the county through Watchung Reservation from Mountainside in the vicinity of the Trailside Museum, connecting with Glenside road in Berkeley Heights.

The council sees the road as a potential feeder artery through the borough when Rt. 78 is completed.

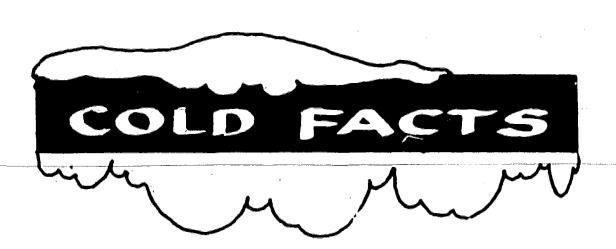

"We will make an adequate presentation of our objections" to the county Board of Chosen Freeholders next month, Mayor Wilhelms said. He agreed that the proposed road, which is part of the county's master plan, could be a short route to Gov. Livingston Regional High School, but "I think we'd rather follow the bucolic path through the reservation" to get to the school, "rather than have another heavily travelled road" in the borough.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, recreation commissioners William Dietzel and Harold Nelson told the council strict penalties must be imposed on adolescent vandals and their parents to guard against further damage to municipal facilities.

Dietzel's request came after he reported to the council that cinder blocks had been thrown (Continued on page 3)

ABOUT KEEPING THE "COOL" AT OVERLOOK

Overlook is embarking on a major air-conditioning and renovation of its two oldest wings A and B, built in 1953 along Morris Avenue.

Fifteen years of hard wear have taken their toll. Modernization is urgently needed. Air-conditioning is expected by today's patients - in 1953 it was a futuristic dream!

Summertime patients remember all too well the sweltering heat of last July and August. Patients year-round request a room in the hospital's newer wings, which are modern, attractive and air-conditioned.

Where would you choose to be if you were a patient at Overlook?

$500,000 is needed to complete financing of this huge project (total cost of which is $1,040,000).

Vast corridors must have ceilings lowered and air-conditioning ducts installed.

Six floors and hundreds of rooms must be modernized - redecorated, new lighting, electrical cables, plumbing, added equipment. Costly fire regulations must be scrupulously followed.

This phase of the Overlook Progress Program has been longplanned — now possible with the new wings for patient occupancy.

futuristic dream!

Your support will mean up-to-date facilities for all Overlook patients — speeding their recovery through climate control and cheerful surroundings.

"I strongly urge that charges be filed" against vandals, Dietzel said, "and their parents be held responsible."

Interchurch art exhibit gives Ina Golub award

A young artist on the faculty at Newark State College, Union, has discovered that doing work she loves not only opens avenues of fullfillment but offers tangible rewards as well.

Ina Golub has received a certificate of merit for one of four entries that were accepted in an exhibition of contemporary re-ligious art that is being held at the Interchurch Center, 475 Riverside dr., New York City. She has also received several commissions for new work.

A textile designer, she has recently turned her skill to the design of Hebrew religious pieces, which she weaves with fine craftsmanship. Her loom and chair occupy a full bedroom in her home at 366 Rolling Rock rd., Mountainside,

"I am very fortunate, because I have found the work that I want to do. Some people never find themselves,' she told a visitor to her home recently.

The New York exhibit is entitled "All Things New" and consists of objects that are spiritual in theme or function. It is sponsored by Artist-Craftsmen of New York, Inc. and will remain on display through Dec. 3.

THE AWARD - WINNING ENTRY is a "chuppah" or marriage canopy of brightly-colored applique and stitchery designed around the Hebrew calligraphic forms meaning "mazel tov" or "good luck." Erected at the altar of a synagogue, it symbolizes the transference of the bride from the domain of the father to the husband.

Mrs. Golub is also exhibiting two Torah mantles and a large woven tapestry in blue and white, designed after French nuns she saw in Paris. For one of the Torah mantles

Sjonell registers for autumn meeting

Edwin Sjonell of the Deerfield School, Mountainside, was among 129 guidance coun-selors in Union County public, private and parochial schools who registered for the fall meeting of the Union County Personnel and Guidance Association held recently at Union College, Cranford.

Monroe B. Nestler, guidance director of David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, is association president. Other members of the executive committee are: William Claren of Summit Junior High School, Irwin Figman of Hillside Avenue Junior High School, (Cranford), William Gardiner of New Providence High School, George P. Lynes and Roy Smith of Union College, Frank Moretti of Union High School, Mrs. Margaret Rhein of Westfield High School and Charlotte Singer of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

she uses stitchery on brown velvet to show the theme of the burning bush. The other is a white mantle executed in a knotting technique of white nylon twine to be used during high holy days. Hebrew calligraphic forms are a part of the design of both mantles.

According to Mrs. Golub, there have been two turning points in her professional life. The first of these was the day she entered a textile studio at the University of Indiana. She was a graduate art student, and as she looked at the array of brightly colored fabrics she knew that this was the work she wanted to do. The second turning point was when she saw an exhibition of ceremonial art at the Jewish Museum and recognized a further refinement in the nature of her work.

Mrs. Golub credits two people with influencing her professional development: Dr. Avram Kampf, a professor at Montclair State College, where she earned her B.A. degree, who aroused her interest in Judaica, and Rabbi Reuben Levine of Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield, an authority on Hebrew religious art, who has been an invaluable friend and advisor.

Also invaluable has been the encouragement of her husband, Herbert, a concert planist and a member of the Music Department at Newark State. She, in return, is a most enthusiastic admirer of his talents. Mrs. Golub has the smile of a happy woman. My cup runneth over, her eyes seem to say,

'Gratifying' growth of VFW post noted by unit commander

Post Commander David Hutchison reports that "membership in the newly-instituted Mountainside Memorial Post 10136, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been moving ahead at a very gratifying rate." The next meeting will be held at Echo Lanes Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 7:45 p.m.

Since the post received its charter from the national organization approximately six weeks ago, membership has expanded from the original 25 necessary to receive a charter to 59. Twenty-one new members joined at the informal institution held at Echo Lanes, Route 22, Mountainside, Nov. 13.

At this meeting, conducted by State Commander Jim Fitzgerald, all members and offi-cers were sworn in and solemnly pledged their allegiance to the VFW and to the United States of America, Each member received a Maltese cross pin, emblem of the organization.
Also in attendance were District Commander

George Heichel, County Commander Marshall Carlson, Chief of Staff Jerry Neal Jr., Deputy Chiefs of Staff Willis Bird and John Kope and many other Fifth District officers.

Dr. Dilley awarded prize as co-author of top steel paper

Dr. David R. Dilley of 1168 Ridge dr. Mountainside, has been awarded a prize of $500 as the co-author of "the best paper adjudged of greatest value in the advancement of engineering or operating practice in the iron and steel industry."

As guests of honor at the annual banquet meeting of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers in St. Louis on Tuesday, Dr. Dilley and Dr. D. L. McBride of Pittsburgh received the national gold medal award for their research paper, "Oxygen Steelmaking--Fact vs. Folklore." The paper, published in 1967, explored various operating and economic problems associated with new steelmaking technology and exploded numerous myths which have evolved about the financial desirability of new technology.

A professional economist and a certified public accountant, Dr. Dilley is presently assistant to vice-president and assistant comptroller of United States Steel Corp. in New York City.

Author of about two dozen other publications on management, financial and educational subjects, he is also a former professor of business administration at NYU Graduate School of Business, Indiana University and the University of Pittsburgh.

Blue Cross plans to absorb increased cost of Medicare

I for a quarter of a million New Jersey Blue Cross memenrolled in programs that complement Medicare, at no increase in subscription

The increased benefits will cover the 10 per cent increase in the amount patients will pay under Part A of Medicare, which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare recently announced will go into effect the first of the year.

One reason the plan is able to provide these new benefits without increasing the subscription rate is that continual emphasis is placed on

GIVE TENDER CARE TO

THE THANKSGIVING BIRD Pay special attention to the care and handling of your chanksgiving turkey for family enjoyment and safety.

Poultry is one of the most perishable of meat products and requires the following of certain procedures to prevent spoilage. On a busy day, such as the Thanksgiving holiday, it is often easy to overlook some of the safety procautions in handling turkey which are followed throughout the year.

If you purchase a fresh turkey, keep it in the coldest part of your refrigerator androast it within 1 to 2 days. The giblets should be removed from the bird and cooked promptly.

If you select a frozen turkey, keep it com-pletely frozen until you have to begin the thawing process so that it will be completely thawed for roasting.

Thawing the turkey wrapped in the original wrap in the refrigerator and placed on a tray is the recommended procedure to follow, Depending on the size of the bird, this will take two to three days.

A procedure approved last year by the United States Department of Agriculture researchers is to thaw your turkey in a brown paper bag at room temperature. To do this, insert a large paper bag, like those secured from the grocery store, into another one the 1.6-million have undetected diabetes in the United States have undetected diabetes. Dr. 1 ouis K. Alpert of the American Diabetes Association noted that special facilities for testing is available in hundreds of communities this week. "Plabetes sneaks up on many people. They may have it without showing any symptoms. And if the disoreder is allowed to go undetected, possible complications may be coronary disease, hardening of the arteries, cere-bral hemorrhage and kidney disease," he explained. The Washington, D.C., physician is Chairman of the Association's Committee on Public Education and Detection.

He urged that everyone who has not been tested recently should have a blood or urine test during Diabetes Week.

"You can call your physician, the local diabetes association or the medical society. In communities where there are organized programs during Diabetes Week, tests will be given free of charge," Dr. Alpert said. Common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, easy tiring, changes in vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. But anyone may have diabetes same size. Place the turkey, which is still in its original wrap, in to the double paper bag. Tightly close the end of the bag. Place the bag on a rack in a pan to thaw because moisture will form during the process. A large bird will take about 16 hours; a small one will take

The earlier the disorder is discovered, the more easily it can be controlled, Dr. Alpert explained, adding that with today's methods of treatment the diabetic can look forward to a full and productive life.

About one out of every 20 persons in the United States either has diabetes or will have it. There is a total of more than 4,000,000 Americans who already are diabetic, including those who are unaware of their condition. And another 5,600,000 persons are potential diabetics; they will develop the disoreder during their lifetime.

In seven out of 10 cases, diabetes starts after a person reaches the age of 45. It is mostly likely to develop in individuals who are overweight or who have diabetic relatives. Slightly more women than men seem at any age, and it's important for everyone to have regular tests, Dr. Alpert stressed, Physicians and nurses, assisted by other volunteers, will conduct a special Diabetes Week testing program. Either blood or urine tests will be given, depending on the facilities available. In many areas a simple urine testing unit known as Dreypak will be distributed by affiliate associations or medical societies.

Once diabetes is diagnosed, Dr. Alpert explained, treatment can be started to control the condition. In many cases, especially among individuals past 40, the disorder can be successfully managed by following a prescribed dict and getting the right amount of exercise. Other patients need insulin or one of the oral compounds used in treatment of diabetes.

Comfort To an older person who has had a stroke, dentures can add insult to injury. It is hard enough to suffer some degree of paralysis with loss of strength, motion, and the sense of touch, without hav-ing to face additional problems in eating and speaking.

And yet, in fear that a stroke patient may chole, dentures may be removed at once and not replaced for weeks. Then, when they are replaced, the dentist's skill may be taxed to make the patient comfortable.

Many factors have to be considered. The gum tissues may need conditioning to be able to stand the pressure. Any remaining natural teeth may have shifted in the interim. The stroke may have made the patient extra sensitive, or so insensitive that he cannot warn the dentist of any unusual pressure.

Sometimes patients cannot talk well enough to explain their problem or are de-pressed and uncommunicative. There may be a weakness on one side that throws the chewing balance off, or a problem in swallowing.

Often as the patient improves and function returns, the original appliance must be adjusted frequently over a period of several months or the denture will do more harm

Boy Scout Council plans annual dinner

The Lincoln District, Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its annual dinner-meeting at the Robert Treat Hotel, 50 Park pl., Newark on Thursday, Dec. 5, at 6:30 p.m.

Richard Bland, district chairman, has appointed Carlos V, Girod as dinner chairman. Serving with Girod on the dinner committee are Norman Frank, past district chairman, and Charles Wilson, both of Union.

, Some 200 members of the Lincoln District are expected to attend the dinner-meeting when officers for 1969 will be elected and installed. There will be entertainment, a spokesman said.

Usk Umy

I have 3 children. Myoldest child is 18 years old. She has a sister who is 15 and a brother

I seem to have a heartbreak-ing problem with the girls! The 18 year old girl carries a grudge to the point where she doesn't talk to me at all. She bluntly answers me with a yes or no. Never any ex-planations offered even if I ask for them.

I feel so heartsick overthis that I cry many times. To make things worse, she even talks to the 15 year old, and she, too, in loyalty to her sis-ter, will treat me the same in her presence.

I can't understand this kind of behavior and it upsets me very much. Why would an 18 year old girl dislike (hate) her mother so much? The more I try to take an interest in her, the more she resents it. I have even tried to ask her why this type of behavior and she will not give me any kind of an answer at all.

You see, I don't knowhow to cope with her if I don't know what is bothering her. Can you give me an insight into this problem, or explain it

Mrs. B.B. Dear Mrs. B.B.:

I would venture to say that every parent goes through this experience somewhere along the line in raising their chil-dren. It is not easy to copy with and is very heart-breaking, but if you know your children well enough, you can break this barrier by handling the situation properly. Let me assure you that your daughter does not hate you. This may come as a surprise to you but she loves you very much, and although she does not show it, she will if you have patience and fortitude.

It is not easy for teenagers to grow up today. There are many frustrations. They have much competition and they have a certain amount of rebellion as to propriety and to their parents' way of think-

In the effort of growing up into maturity, they sometimes try to shut their parents out of their lives. Do not be offended. This is part of growing up . . . and she will change. She needs more time and you need to give her that time.

Continue to be kind, loving and helpful when she needs you. If she is doing something you do not approve of, be sure to tell her. Also be sure to compliment her and praise her when she pleases you. Smile, mother, and chin up!

Dear Amy: I read your column every week and Ienjoy it immensely. My mother is very strict on the length of my skirts. I

A new concept in retail specialization will debut in early December at 1029 Stuyvesant ave., Union, with the opening of a Foods Plus Health & Beauty Ald Center.

According to Harry Wurtzel, owner, the new store will carry everything a family needs in cosmetics, grooming aids, first aid supplies, remedies and health needs. The store will feature a complete selection of national brands as well as the Foods Plus brand.

"Foods Plus is well-known as a manufacturer of vitamins and health supplements," Wurtzel said, "Only recently has the company branched out into franchising health and beauty aid centers.

"We feel that by concentrating on health and beauty aids, without filling prescriptions and carrying other 'drug store' items, we can make the homemaker's shopping easier and less expensive," Wurtzel added.

The new Foods Plus center will be a selfservice store with products displayed for maximum shopping convenience.

Bazaar to be held by Regional ORT

The North Central Jersey Region of Women's American ORT (Organization for Re-habilitation through Training) will hold a bazaar at the YM=YWHA on Green lane in Union from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8.
Proceeds will go to the EPIC (Earning Power Improvement Courses) Project, which provides short-term accelerated courses, preapprenticeship training, and apprenticeship training with factory placement for those who must earn while learning.

Mrs. Lee Wolfe of Maplewood, EPIC bazaar chairman, and Mrs. Murray Krasik of Old Bridge, co-chairman, said evening courses and refresher classes "enable uprooted and unskilled adults to support their families while they acquire the rudimentary training that will qualify them for gainful employment in modern industrial society the world over."
Assisting in arrangements for the bazaar are representatives of the 30 chapters in the ORT Region, which have a total membership of 4,000 women in seven counties. Mrs. Albert Gross of Somerset, North Central Jersey Region president, said members have spent a full year gathering, merchandise for the event. The new articles on sale will include clothing, household goods, toys, records, books, jewelry and gift items, she

She also reported that a snack bar will be in operation throughout the day and evening and special games and amusements will be provided for children.

Animals on exhibit

Science and medicine have teamed up to salute the animal kingdom for its contributions

The tribute is a new ex-hibition at the American Museum of Natural History in New York. Sponsored by the museum and the United Nations' World Health Organization, the display features 25 photographic murals of animals whose behavior and physiology have long been research subjects. The murals make the point that animal studies originally focused on fighting epidemic diseases afflicting man. But the emphasis has shifted to non-infectious ailments such as can-

The exhibition, which will continue through the year, notes that such "human" traits, as group cooperation. family loyalty, territorial defense and the caste system also occur among lower animals. Thus, man can better understand his own social behavior through laboratory studies of birds and beasts.

Regional prepares for Watchung Hills after downing North Plainfield, 10-0

North Plainfield became Gov. Livingston's sixth straight notch in the victory column as Regional squeezed past the Canuks by a score of 10-0 on Saturday. Livingston's next game will be on Thanksgiving Day when the team carries its 6-1-1 record to Watchung Hills. The contest Saturday was played at Kenil-

An example of the fantastic school spirit

Plainfield called on Daye Mills to boot the ball. Mills, kicking into the wind, could punt the pigskin only 11 yards.

Runners John McElgunn and Fred Saunders powered to the 11, but three plays later, on fourth down, Livingston still had ten to go. Linebacker Graig Marks came in to try a field goal from the 15. He split the uprights to put his team ahead, 3-0.

On the first play following the kickoff, Regional defensive back Doug Rau picked off a Ron Schneider aerial and returned it to the Canuck 43. Two runs by Tom Glen of eight and nine yards, a pass from John Piccirillo to Eric Wichelhaus for eight, and a penalty, keyed a drive to the eight. With a score in sight, a Regional runner broke through to the one, but the ball slipped from his grasp and was recovered in the end zone by North Plainfield's were taced with the prospect, on Wednesday, that their last home game might have to be played on a field other than their own, because of snow which fell Tuesday.

The seniors, knowing this would be the last home game of their high school careers, decided to do something about the snow.

Working Wednesday night, Thursday night and early Friday morning, football players, cheerleaders and spirited students, performed the seemingly-impossible task of removing more than six inches (25,000 cubic feet) of snow from the playing field and the bleachers.

Using anything they could get their hands on—snow blowers, shovels and buckets—the kids first piled the snow into some 36 heaps and then proceeded to deplete these piles.

The real test of their spirit came Friday afternoon when they were informed that their efforts were wasted—the field was too soggy and the game would have to be played at Kenilworth. Undaunted, the fans turned out in number and the Highlanders beat North Plainfield, sprinting through gaping holes in the Canuck defensive line. Then, after running for 15 more, Piccirillo fumbled but teammate Tom Roll fell on the ball at the 11. Two plays later, with 6:06 remaining, Piccirillo fired a perfect pass to Eric Wichel-haus for a nine-yard touchdown. Marks added

LEWISBURG, PA. --- Art Kurz of Mountainside, N.J., is having another outstanding year as the Bucknell captain of the varsity soccer team. Playing in his final season as a senior, Kurz has scored two goals in helping the Bisons to a 6-3 season with three games to go.

"It is not Kurz' scoring ability that makes him so valuable, but it is his uncanny way of holding the team together and his great defensive work that keeps the pressure off the Bucknell goal," Coach Craig Reynolds

"Art is just fantastic on defense. He seems to be everywhere the ball is. Both last year and again this season, Art has helped us mold a young, inexperienced team into a winning one. He deserves more recognition than he ever could get," Reynolds said.

'Kurz has been bothered with various injuries this year, but always has given 100 percent. In his sophomore and junior years he was named on the Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division first team. He should make it three years in a row," his

Hadassah to hear West novel review

The November meeting of Springfield Chap-ter of Hadassah to be held tonight at Temple Beth Ahm, will feature a book review of "Tower of Babel" by Morris L. West.

Following the review to be presented by Mrs. Harold Reisberg, Zionist Affairs Education chairman, a panel composed of Mrs. Laurence Goodman, Mrs. I. Weinberg, Mrs. Barry Lauton and Mrs. R.B. Zandell will discuss the novel.

Program chairman Mrs. Leon Berger and Mrs. Irene Chotiner will introduce new activities chairmen for the year.

Student at Tampa

TAMPA, Fla.-Joanne M. D'Altrui of 1052 Summit lane, Mountainside, N.J., is one of 1,981 full-time students enrolled at the University of Tampa this semester. Miss D'Altrui is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Altrui. A sophomore, she is majoring in elementary education and is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School.

Newcomers hear interior decorator at lunch meeting

"Interior Decorating - The New Market" was the theme for the Mountainside Newcomers November Luncheon, Mrs. Francis Fitzgerald, day chairman, introduced Mrs. Sally Van Deuser of Koos Bros. in Freehold who stressed two points in her presentation:

"First, your home should be individualistic both in color and furnishing. Second, it should be eclectic, which is to say all types and periods of furniture may be tastefully mixed to produce a personal effect. Furniture hand-me-downs should never be dis-carded but refurbished by means of antiquing and then used throughout the home."

With this foundation, Mrs. Van Dueser suggested decorating should begin at the front door and branch out into every room co-ordinating color and furniture, "bearing in mind your home reflects you and your in-dividual taste."

She pointed out the new trend to muted colors and displayed new fabrics for upholstery and draperies.

The membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Shulman, introduced three prospective members: Mrs. Robert Flynn, Mrs. Teddy Rouman and Mrs. Karl Zentmaier.

Mrs. Shulman welcomed the following new members: Mrs. Peter Simmons, Mrs. John Connolly, Mrs. Albert Earle, Mrs. Robert Weinberg, Mrs. Benedic Juliano, Mrs. Lester Kamery, Mrs. Ronald Haymann, Mrs. Gaylord Smith, Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Vi Lauri-cella, Mrs. Bart Oberhauser, Mrs. Robt. Hain, Mrs. Eugene Skrynas, Mrs. Leonard Wexler, Mrs. Frank McGurty, Mrs. John O'Hearn, Mrs. Herbert Conner, Mrs. Neta Kingsley, Mrs. Roger Swanson, Mrs. Wayne Moyer, Mrs. Richard Stegniew, Mrs. William Ast, Mrs. Joseph Leahy, Mrs. James Greeley, Mrs. James Toner and Mrs. James Tay-

Mrs. Edward Noe, president, presented farewell roses to the following outgoing members: Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. Harry Heide, Mrs. Kenneth Geiger, Mrs. Heinz Malzbender, Mrs. Gary Postall, Mrs. Margorie Settle, Mrs. Rudolph Sommerwerchk and Mrs. Marcel Wag-

The Mountainside Directory was distributed by Mrs. Harold Ginn. Mrs. Donald Tambini announced the Dec. 11 luncheon theme to be 'The Wheel of Fortune,' a crafts and handiwork auction with the proceeds going to the Mountainside Rescue Squad. Included on the agenda will be the Governor Livingston Chorus.

Annual craft show to begin on Sunday

The third annual Creative Crafts Show of Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, will begin Sunday for three days. The exhibition and sale, sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El, will be open to the public from 12:30 to 10 p.m. at 756 E. Broad st., Westfield. The show will be previewed at a party on Saturday evening by patrons and exhibiting craftsmen. Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Sanford Reiss (233-8307) and Mrs. Harris Gutmacher (233-8308).

There will be over 100 craftsmen from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania at the show. A selection of ceramics, jewelry, sculpture, wood, leather, furniture and glass will be featured.

Some of the craftsmen who will be represented at the show include: Barbara Stanger of Summit - jewelry; Ted Lowy of South Orange - jewelry; Nan Samons of South Orange-stitchery; Glenda Arentzen of Ramsey - jewelry (she just won the Diamonds - International Award); Jan Garry and William Gorman of Bayonne-rock art; Ina Golub of Mountainside - textiles; Michael Galardi of Livingstonwoodworking; Janet Cardell of Livingston glass: June Katchen of Bound Brook - enamel on copper; Alex Taller of New York Citysculpture; Bess Schuyler of New York Cityceramics: Barbara Bisgyer of Rye, N.Y.sculpture.

Language barrier between old, young PTA meeting topic

The James Caldwell PTA will present Miss Elizabeth Taylor as guest speaker on Monday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. John Dysart, PTA program chairman has issued an open invitation to all interested persons to come hear Miss Taylor speak on "Childrenese" - A Language for Parents. Miss Taylor, nationally reknown educator, has specialized in this new method of com-municating with children. The method was developed by Dr. Haim Ginott, author of "Between Parent and Child." Miss Taylor has lectured and conducted workshops on "Childrenese" for both teachers and parents, and has applied this method in improving relationships between children and adults.

This method answers questions often asked by adults: "How can I 'get through' to the child?"; "How should I praise or criticize him?"; "How should anger be expressed to children?". It is a method needed for working and living creatively and effectively with children. Miss Taylor holds two Master Degrees:

one in education and one in guidance. She is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, and serves as a child guidance counselor for the N.Y. City Board of Education. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Fifty three and a half minutes of the fabulous Ella Fitzgerald is contained in her newalbum, 30 by Ella... Thirty-six songs on one album, featuring a medley of 30 sung by Ella! How in the world do you put 36 songs on one album? This was the question posed by Ella ... It was hard to answer -- equally hard to accomplish, according to Capitol execs ... At first things went slowly, while everyone, Ella, musicians, conductor, engineer and producer tried to interpret music, lyrics and become comfortable with the idea ... Gradually all began to gel -and the results are, according to Ella, the finest album I have ever recorded.. Included ... are, in all opinions, some of the greatest standards ever written ... It is impossible to individually describe each cut or even presume to suggest which should be given special attention ... The album, like the music, can only be described in one brief word -- Ella.

Stan Kenton's Finian's Rainbow combines the extra-ordinary talents of a music legend with song and music from some of the all-time great movies ... Whatever can be said about Kenton the man, can always be listened to in the form of his music ... This particular album is no exception to that Kenton formula ... Included in this album is The Odd Couple, Villa Rides, Rosemary's Baby, People and collection from the forthcoming motion picture release featuring Fred Astaire -Finian's Rainbow ... The Rainbow contributions are the title song. Old Devil Moon, The Great Come and Get It Day, When I'm Not Near the Girl I Love and the song that provides the feeling of the film -- How Are Things in Gloccageneric classification to fiber producing peo-ple. To Mrs. Consumer the trade names of Dynel and Verel will mean a man-made fiber most often associated with fake fur and wigs.

Other uses of these fibers now include insulating materials, drapery and upholstery fabrics, men's suits, knitted underwear, laboratory coats, toys, and air-conditioner filters. And more uses will soon be seen on the mar-

The properties of modacrylics make for great flexibility in use. In the original form modacrylic fibers are creamy white and can be successfully bleached and easily dyed.

The strength rating of these fibers ranges from good to excellent and depending upon the manufacturer can be two to three times as strong as wool. In weight these fibers are lighter than wool. Therefore, the elasticity or "give" is dependent on the amount of crimp set into the fiber when manufactured. Both Dynel and Verel rate high in resilience and have a good to excellent rating in abrasion

These fibers have an excellent rating in shrinkage, shape retention and wash and wear features. They compete with wool for insulating qualities and are absorptive enough to be a bath mat. They do not support combustion and are moth and mildew resistant.

Fabrics made of modacrylic fibers should be cared for as recommended on the hang tag. For example, some of the fur-like coats will need to be dry-cleaned with regular fur methods, while others can be just drycleaned. Some modacrylic fabrics can be machinewashed and machine-dried

Some simple rules may help to control medical expenses

If you are a home manager interested in reducing or controlling medical expenses in your family, here is some important information. We all are aware that costs of medical care for everyone is on the increase. According to the Health Insurance Institute, the levelling off point is not yet in sight. A look at the Con-sumer Price Index also shows that the cost of medical care is going up more sharpely than any other category of items on the list,

However, it was hard for this mother to respond to the four-year old younger brother who always seemed to be getting into mis-

Sometimes a child is hard to live with.

That's the way you feel about it. But how do you think your child feels about you when you react this way?

Every child wants to be liked and appreciated. This should not be just when he has done a good job, been obedient, or quiet. Your child needs to feel that his parents like him just because he is the way he is. Johnny may

Refugees toys to give role of women in banking receive aid from UN

The United Nations family has swine into a glant, mercy operation in the face of an upourye of refugee problems caused by political upheaval. Much of the burden falls on 1 .N.'s Office of the High Commissioner for Refugees working closely with the U.N. Children's Lund (UNICEE), the lood and Agriculture Organization and the World Health Organization.

The assistance demand is tremendoms. The Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia has sent thousands of Czechs fleeing to West European countries and to the United States and Canada, In Africa. political turbulence has created 40,000 new refugees this year, boosting the con-tinental total to 850,000. Many are fugitives from the Nigerian civil war. Like the Czechs. Nigerians who have fled their homeland come under the protection of the High Commissioner's Office, which has thrown its full resources into helping them begin new livesin-exile.

YOUR SPARE TIME... GET ON THE GREEN WITH US.

Housewives, here's a practical way to use your free hours and make it pay off. You can work with us in a temporary clerical position, have the satisfaction of earning extra money, and, at the same time, meet new people. We even offer two different types of job opportunities, with your assignment depending upon your qualifications. Both positions offer a good salary and pleasant working conditions.

We have openings for active File Clerk positions. No experience is necessary. This work is suitable for the person who doesn't mind a little physical activity and doesn't want to be tied to a desk.

For the person who has an aptitude for figure work, we have openings in positions where a fair amount of calculating work is performed. No experience is necessary, but if you have had previous work experience, such as bookkeeping in a small office or a similar work background, it may be helpful.

For an interview, visit our Employment Bureau any time between 8:30 A.M. and 2:30 P.M., Monday through Friday.

respectable college or university these days. Two earned doctorates are fairly rare, but There are a few such scholars around, though, and one is Dr. Alfreds R. Jumikis, a professor of civil engineering at the Rutgers University College of Engineering.

Dr. Junikis was awarded his third doctorate, a Doctor of Engineering degree, a few weeks ago by the University of Stuttgart, Germany.

Training programs ready for women who want to work

WASHINGTON — Many types of job training programs and courses are available to women and girls in all major centers of population, the Department of Labor reports in a newly revised publication, "Job training Suggestions for Women and Girls."

For jobs not requiring a college degree. the principal means of acquiring formal training, according to the leaflet prepared by the Women's Bureau, include:

Vocational courses offered by over half of the public secondary schools, private trade and technical schools, most junior colleges, nearly all public community colleges, and through

On - the - job training programs conducted mainly by private companies. Federally aided manpower programs designed primarily for unemployed and underemployed persons and those without the job skills and basic education needed for today's Apprenticeship programs enabling workers to learn a skilled trade by combining work experience with related instruction.

The most popular vocational courses for girls are those which prepare them to become secretaries, typists, practical nurses, cosmetologists, sewing machine operators, and food service workers.

Home study courses, the leaflet points out, are particularly useful to women in small towns and rural areas and to those who must stay home with small children.

It lists as sources of information about courses available in a specific area: public schools; public employment service; private business, trade, and technical schools; employer or trade associations; trade unions; trade unions; service organizations; and public and private welfare groups.

"Job Training Suggestions for Women and Girls" is available at 10 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

The degree was formally conferred in absentia upon publication of his thesis, "Concerning an Experimental Study of Water Supply in a Freezing Soil System," written in German, Dr. Jumikis was graduated as a civil engineer at the University of Latvia, Riga, in 1937.

He earned a Doctor of Engineering Sciences degree at the University of Latvia in 1944 and a Doctor of Technical Science at the Technical University in Vienna in 1963.

All the course credit requirements were completed in advance through work done at the Technical University of Berlin in the late *30s and at Riga before Prof. Jumikis enrolled at Stuttgart as a doctoral candidate. Nevertheless, research, done at Rutgers, and writing of his thesis for the University of Stuttgart took five years. Several oral examinations and a defense of his thesis also were required.

This last ordeal lasted three hours and was in German, a language Dr. Jumikis first began studying in the fourth grade in Latvia. A presiding officer and three other professors conducted the examination. Other interested parties also were permitted to question Dr. Jumikis about his work.

It all adds up to an awful lot of work but, smiling and affable, Dr. Jumikis, a resident of Piscataway Township, explained at his Uni-versity Heights Campus office why it was that he had acquired three doctorates.

In the first place, Prof. Jumikis has devoted most of his scholarly career to a study of thermal soil mechanics, an important field which involves the study of such things as why it is that roads sometimes buckle in freezing

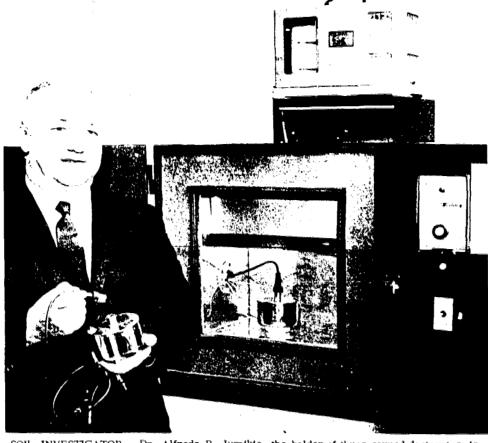

These studies have led to the publication of eight books and innumerable papers on soil mechanics by Prof. Jumikis and consultant work on a number of important soil and foundation problems. One of these consultant jobs was on the Yards Creek Pumped-Storage Generating Station, the first phase of the gigantic Kittatinny Mountain Project.

However, the study of thermal soil mechanics is a relatively new field in civil engineering. Dr. Jumikis believes that the course he teaches at Rutgers is the only one in the United States devoted exclusively to thermal soil mechanics. And he wanted to give this field the academic seal of approval through recogni-tion of the scholarly work required in his doctoral dissertations.

This he has accomplished. Dr. Jumikis pointed out that all the research work for his thesis was done at Rutgers. This fact, plus the cooperation of a number of his colleagues at the State University, is noted in the thesis. Moreover, the thesis will be given wide circulation at universities here and abroad.

"Besides," Dr. Jumikis added, "it never hurts to have another doctor's degree."

Well, then, did he expect to go for a fourth? "Ah," said Dr. Jumikis as he smiled and waved a pudgy hand, "enough is enough."

SOIL INVESTIGATOR---Dr. Alfreds R. Jumikis, the holder of three earned doctorates, is shown in his laboratory on the Rutgers University Heights Campus, where he investigates soil properties. His course in civil engineering is believed to be the only one taught in the United States devoted exclusively to thermal soil mechanics.

Bucknell U. choir in concert locally

The 70-voice Bucknell University Chapel Choir will present a concert in the First Baptist Church of Westfield, 170 Elm st., at 8:15 tomorrow as part of a three-day tour through parts of New Jersey and New York.

One of the most widely known collegiate music groups in Pennsylvania, the student singers are under the direction of William D. McRae, professor of music at Bucknell. The choir program includes sacred music, folk tunes, and carols. Twenty-three of the student singers are residents of the New Jersey-New York area.

Two local girls pledged to collegiate sorority

Linda V. Morra of 233 Appletree lane, and Herta C. Gottwick of 357 Forest Hill way, both of Mountainside, are among 29 Union College co-eds pledged to Sigma Alpha Pi sorority at Union College, Cranford, Sigma Alpha Pi is one of eight fraternal organizations on the Union College campus.

Miss Morra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Morra, and Miss Gottwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Gottwick, are gradu-ates of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights. They are liberal arts majors in Union College's day session.

Violinist Friedman soloist Dec. 6, 7 for N. J. Symphony

Erick Friedman, the young American violin virtuoso, will be the soloist with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra when it resumes its current concert season on Friday, Dec. 6 and Saturday, Dec. 7 at Montclair and Millburn high schools.

Friedman, who already is internationally prominent although he has not reached his 30th birthday, will perform for a full house at Millburn High. The season's concert series there is sold out. Geoffrey Platt Jr., symphony manager, reports that the concert at Montclair High, where the auditorium is larger,

also is nearing sell-out, although some seats still remain for that performance. Both performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. and both will be conducted by Henry Lewis, the symphony's music director who is in his first full winter season with the orchestra. It will be his last appearance with the New Jersey Symphony before he leaves for a concert and a recording session with the Royal Philharmonic in London,

Friedman will perform the Bruch Violin

With "The Price" Arthur Miller continues to be absorbed in what our professions and occupations do to us as people. Being a realist Mr. Miller knows we probably cannot abandon our life work, but he does ask us to take an occasional pause for assessment, It is also a play about choices and decisions.

Two brothers, a policeman and a surgeon, meet in the attic of their former brownstone in New York to sell the family furniture. The policeman gave up college to support their father, ruined by the stock market crash, while the surgeon went off to medical school and success. Now 30 years later as they confront each other you are made to wonder who is the better human being, who did the most good, who had the real courage, who practiced the more healing art. To me it was an engrossing standoff.

Albert Salmi's humanistic cop, Kate Reid's patient, vibrant wife, and Shepperd Strudwick's clinical surgeon are excellent. David Burns as a furniture appraiser gives a controlled performance unlike the near burlesque work we are familiar with. The cluttered setting by Boris Aronson provides a background that is visual and gives the feel of the social level of the family.

Mr. Miller writes with compassion, humor, forgiveness and insight. The play is without intermission and the evening seems to fly. "The Price" is now at the 46th Street Theater

'The Nutcracker' ballet set at Symphony Hall

Two public performances of Tschaikowsky's full ballet, "The Nutcracker", will be given at Symphony Hall on Saturday, Dec. 28, by the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and the Garden State Ballet, it was announced by Geoffrey Platt Jr., Symphony Manager. The first performance is scheduled for 10 a.m. and the second for 3 p.m. Henry Lewis, the new Music Director of the New Jersey Symphony, will direct this year's "Nutcracker" production, which has become a holiday season tradition on the New Jersey cultural scene. Violette Verdy, a Prima Ballerina of the New York City Ballet, will dance the role of the Sugar Plum Fairy and of the Snow Queen. She danced the lead in the same production two years ago. The male lead will be danced by Royes Fernandez, a premier danseur of the American Ballet Theater.

Besides the public performances, two presentations of "The Nutcracker" for student audiences are scheduled to be given on the morning and afternoon of Jan. 3, a Fri-
