PROFILE -- Dr. Martin Siegel

By BEA SMITH

Dr. Martin Siegel, who was appointed by the Union County Regional High School Board of Education as its first director of instruction, is a tall, 39-year-old studious-looking man, with lots of ideas about the development of curricular thinking in the school system. He supervises the work of the 11 subject area coordinators and is in charge of the program of articulation of the regional's curriculum with the curricula of the six constituent districts and the seven parochial schools which furnish the regional's students.

Dr. Siegel explains that his is a new position and that "the district is the first regional high school district in New Jersey."

"It has expanded," he says, "to four high schools--the highest number in the state. There are over 5,200 students. They (the board) have coordinators for each of the subject areas, rather than department chairmen in each building."

"With the growth of the district and the increases in staff to responsibilities, they felt that someone with a specific responsibility for curriculum was necessary," Dr. Siegel says that prior to this new position, "the district superintendent gave direction, but his responsibilities have increased so in the total district, that the Board of Education created my position."

Dr. Siegel believes that the "school district has many pluses, a good district, good personnel" and that "they need to be constantly alert for improvement, and this was a part of it."

Actually, he impresses upon one, the fact that he was interested in a different kind of position. "My interests were in curriculum and I was interested in a new situation. Contact was made, and here I am."

(Dr. Siegel was a coordinator and director in the Schenectady, New York, school system before coming here.)

"The students," he further explains, "come from six constituent districts plus several parochial schools. Each is an independent district." One of his functions is "to aid in articulation in one of the constituent districts."

of the work coordination, the community, the kinds of students we serve...I've been working with a committee that started last year. It's a humanities committee with an idea that we would offer some kind of program (not a course) for all students.

"There are two things involved: a corps program for our slow learners and opportunities for the able students. I've been involved with the other curriculum personnel of the constituent districts."

Dr. Siegel says he is "very impressed with much that I have seen and the people I am working with. I'd like to see an increase in opportunities for individualization instruction for students. This might take many forms including small seminars, tutorial sessions--"

"You know," he smiles, "the district has

Interfaith body schedules program on land of Israel

"Israel: Window to the Past - Prospect to the Future" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Sydney Kellner, New Jersey director of the American Jewish Committee, at a meeting of the Sunday Evening Dialogue of Catholics, Protestants and Jews on Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside, Meeting House Lane and Deer Path.

Sponsors of the dialogue are Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church, Temple Emanuel of Westfield and the Community Presbyterian Church. The meeting is open to all residents of Mountainside.

Kellner has recently returned from an extensive study tour of Israel, where he had an AJC fellowship at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. The land of Israel, the status of the holy places sacred to Jews, Christians and Moslems, the arts and archeology of Jewish antiquity and their impact on contemporary Israel will be among the subjects he will discuss. Kellner will also discuss various other aspects of Israel in the changing current perspective.

While in Israel, he witnessed several archeological "digs" which reveal new information of the past from Biblical and Herodian times, through the Byzantine, early Arab and Crusader periods. This year, more excavations have been carried on in the Holy Land than ever before in history. Among the most dramatic are discoveries, made by international teams headed by Hebrew University scholars, deep below the surface at the Southern Wall of the ancient Jewish Temple in the Old City of Jerusalem, which was destroyed by the Roman legions under Titus in the year 70.

Kellner, a community relations specialist and educator, is a graduate of the New York University Center for Fine Arts. He was awarded a Carnegie Foundation fellowship to study at the Institute of Art and Archeology, University of Paris. He taught the history of art at Howard University, Washington, D.C., and was a member of the educational staff of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Prior to the war, he was director of the Brooklyn Community Art Center.

The American Jewish Committee, of which he is New Jersey director, is a major human relations agency in this country combating bigotry and advancing intergroup and inter-religious understanding. The AJC maintains an office in Jerusalem which was established to help meet the growing need for effective channels of communication between the Jews of Israel and the United States.

Kellner is a member of the New Jersey Conference on Religion and Race, a past president of the Montclair Chapter, United

Freshman booters finish season 4-2; Steel leads squad

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School freshman soccer team finished the season with a 4-2 record. The Bulldogs with players from Springfield and Mountainside defeated Kenilworth twice, and Clark and New Providence once.

Coach Dennis Burke praised many boys for their fine work this year. Burke reported that Ron Steel was a great performer for the team. In both a junior varsity and a freshman role, he scored 17 goals.

Kurt Mohns was another outstanding performer for Dayton. Burke said that when Mohns was switched to halfback Dayton added offensive punch and the team started to win. Burke said Bill Stefany hustled consistently and showed great improvement. Chris Roel said Mark Gompels scored several goals for Dayton this season and was the playmaker of the team.

This year Dayton started out slowly, but then won three in a row. Burke said that as the players developed, both offense and defense

Vocational opportunity program set for Dec. 5

The schools of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 at Springfield, Kenilworth, Clark and Berkeley Heights will be open from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. on Thursday, Dec. 5, to enable teachers, parents, students and administrators of the elementary school sending district to take part in school visitation in accordance with the "Vocational Opportunities Project."

"Vocational Opportunities Project" is described as a unique program consisting of five visitations which highlight the available vocational offerings and facilities for elementary school sending districts. "The purpose of the project," according to Dr. Donald Merachnik, director of special services, and Stanley Grossman, coordinator of industrial arts and vocational education, "is to enable sending school teachers, administrators, parents, and students to have a greater understanding of vocational opportunities in the secondary school by having all four schools open with appropriate staff available to inform and counsel all interested people."

"The need for first-hand visual contact becomes important when the entire breadth and scope of the 15 Regional vocational programs, housed in four separate high schools, is considered. In addition to the visitation, a planned orientation, with the aid of the high school guidance staff is scheduled. Materials concerning vocational education programs and career choices will be developed and distributed," the directors said.

This career orientation-vocational education program is being administered by Dr. Merachnik and Grossman with the aid of an advisory committee consisting of a group of the following Regional District elementary and secondary school personnel:

District governor pays official visit to local Rotarians

Speaking of the growth of Rotary, an international men's service organization, the district governor said:

"Rotary is the pioneer of the service clubs and today numbers more than 13,369 clubs with a combined membership of more than 636,000 business and professional men. Spread throughout 145 countries in all parts of the world, Rotary clubs conduct activities to improve their communities, aid youth, elevate business standards and further international friendships and understanding."

The district governor also conferred with Dr. E. Milton Staub, local Rotary club president, and William Hummel, club secretary, on matters of club administration and plans for future activities.

During his visit, the Rotary official was given additional information on some of the local Rotary club's activities including the trade show and work for the Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside.

Concerning activities in this Rotary district, he outlined the student exchange program started this year for Rotarians' children of high school age and the Rotary Volunteers Abroad program which is Rotary's "overseas service corps."

Gourmets hold a tasty meeting

Does antipasto, lasagne with sausage and meatballs, salad, red wine and an Italian chocolate torte with lemon ice sound good for dinner? Helping Mrs. Bilant with this meal were Mrs. Robert Cohen, Mrs. Theodore Engert and Mrs. William Parker.

BOB TANSEY

COST OF INJURIES, DEATH, TAXES RISE FASTER THAN AUTO INSURANCE
A Chicago editorial writer recently examined the effect of inflation on many of the things we buy. His conclusion: auto insurance premiums have risen more slowly than many of our financial obligations.

Among these, he said, is the increasing cost of essential government services:

- First class mail has risen 100 per cent in 10 years (three to six cents);
- social security taxes paid by the employer (and employee) have gone up 130 percent on incomes of $5000 a year, and 260 per cent on incomes of $10,000 a year;
- the cost of our Federal government has risen 125 per cent in 10 years;
- state and local taxes have more than doubled in 10 years.

He noted that auto insurance premiums have risen 44 per cent in the last decade. But what he failed to mention was the fact that the cost of auto accidents — most of which is paid by the auto insurance companies — has risen 78 per cent during that period.

The number of deaths and injuries each year has risen almost 50 per cent in the last decade.

During that time, the cost of medical care has risen almost 37 per cent. (It costs an average of 50 dollars a day to stay in a hospital today. Authorities estimate that, by 1970, the daily expense may run as high as 70 dollars.)

And auto repair costs — a significant part of the auto accident picture — are 42 per cent higher than they were 10 years ago. (In 1957, a new front end for a 1957 two-door hardtop cost about $165; in 1967, a similar job for a '67 car, of similar make and model, ran some $235.)

Apparently, the cost of injuries, death, and taxes are still running way ahead of auto insurance premiums.

Bulldog frosh complete best season in memory

The freshman football team of Jonathan Dayton completed its best season in memory by defeating the frosh of Governor Livingston, 12-0, to end up with a record of 5-1-1. The season was highlighted by the performance of the defense of the baby Bulldogs, which allowed but 19 points all season and held five of their seven opponents scoreless. The team included players from Springfield and Mountainside.

The tone of the season was set in the opener at Roselle as Dayton won, 6-0, with the lone score coming from the defense as cornerback Bruce Jeffery ran 50 yards with a fumble jarred loose by hard tackling. Cranford fell next by a score of 19-0 as the offense controlled the ball most of the game. The lone loss came in the third game, 7-0, when a big and strong Hillside team didn't allow Dayton to penetrate the 30-yard line all game.

The Bulldogs resumed their winning ways in Cinderella fashion against Brearley, coming from a 12-0 deficit late in the fourth quarter to score twice, with the winning score coming in the last minute. Trailing 12-7, halfback Joe Rapuano raced 60 yards with a fumble to the Kenilworth 18, and QB John Barry swept the end for the winning TD. The following week, Dayton turned back Scotch Plains, 18-0, with ball control and defense once again the hallmark.

The Bulldogs' lone tie, a scoreless one, came against Rahway, with each team having one serious threat. Rahway's ended as time ran out in the first half with the ball on Dayton's one-yard line, while Springfield gave up the ball on downs on the Rahway three-yard line.

The winning season was climaxed by the defeat of Gov. Livingston as Joe Rapuano scampered for touchdown runs of 37 and 73 yards, and the defense contained the Highlanders three times within the Dayton 25-yard line.

Rapuano was the team scoring leader with four TDs, with the rest of the scoring distributed among John Barry, Mike Gonella, Bob Nardone, Jim Schoch and Bruce Jeffery. The defense was highlighted by the play of linebacker Jeff Kelly and tackles Don Astley and Ed Cook, and the overall determination and effort of the entire defensive unit.

video tape equipment which has been receiving good use this year. I would like to see its use expanded for the improvement of instruction.

"Last summer, the district had two curriculum workshops. I would like to see an expansion to service education opportunities."

He feels that "no matter how much training a teacher has had, the development of disciplines is so great that unless a teacher makes a conscious effort to keep abreast of the developments in his field through extended reading, graduate courses, and/or in-service opportunities, he'll fall hopelessly out of date in a very short period of time."

The district, according to Dr. Siegel, "has new policies this year to encourage teachers to take graduate courses in their field. I would like to see expanded opportunities available."

BORN IN THE BRONX, N.Y., Siegel was educated in Schenectady, N.Y. He was graduated from the Schenectady high school with honors and with a regent's scholarship. He earned an A.B. degree as a history major in Union College, Schenectady, an A.M. degree in teaching (social studies) from Harvard University; a professional diploma in youth education from Teachers College, Columbia University and an Ed-D in supervision and curriculum development from Teachers College. He has taught and had supervisory administration experience in South Glen Falls, the Schenectady Public Schools, was a secondary resource teacher in Schenectady, a coordinator of reading K-12; supervisor in reading and the English language development program, K-12; director of a Title I program. During the summers, in Schenectady, he was curriculum coordinator of adult education—basic education program; head of a reading team, New York State Education Department, language arts workshops, Vassar College; a lecturer in education at Union College (Schenectady) and a teacher in that city's Hebrew school.

Among his honors are the senior history prize and the New York State Regents Scholarship (Union College); degree-grant commencement Marshal (Harvard) and the President's Scholarship (Teachers College). His memberships include the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, the National Council of Teachers of English; National Council for the Social Studies; National Society for the Study of Education, International Reading Association; New Jersey Reading Teachers Association, New Jersey Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, National Education Association, Metropolitan Museum of Art.

FOLLOWING HIS TWO-YEAR service in the U.S. Army, where he taught classes in Japan, Dr. Siegel was consultant for various school districts.

Dr. Siegel, who now resides in New Providence, with his wife, the former Ellen Goldberg of Pittsburgh, and their two children, Benjamin, 4, and Steven, 1-1/2 (they expect their third child next month), says that his wife taught for a year in Schenectady "during our courtship. She also taught for a year in Cranford.

"She was in a master's program," says Dr. Siegel, "but she decided the Mrs. was more important than the master's."

Dr. Siegel says he "enjoys reading" in his spare time, and is "very interested in Japanese culture. I collect artifact Japanese items.

"And I'm interested in folk music. I have an extensive collection of pure folk music—most the kind they call music these days."

Motor club offers suggestions to make holiday driving safer

Experience shows that the last days of a holiday weekend are the ones in which the forecasters' statistics on traffic deaths are proven true. According to the Safety Department of the Motor Club of America Company, the long trip home following the holiday parties is the tiresome ride, the miles of "pushing" that all too often lead to carelessness.

Based on the premise that the best approach to traffic safety is a positive one and not the use of scare tactics, MCA offers suggestions for motorists which will help them have a Thanksgiving that they will live to remember: Lights on all day!

"Join in the Lights On campaign this year," the club said. "Drive with the headlights on whenever the car is in use; this means daytime as well as at night. The reason for this is to let the oncoming driver know that you're on the road and to establish a personal campaign designed to remind all drivers that this is a holiday weekend, that safety is important and that all motorists can be part of their own safety program.

"Every day of the year, must learn to drive defensively; to look at every driver as being a potential danger," the club added. "Defensive driving means that one must always expect the unexpected. It means following such basic rules of safety as pulling into traffic carefully, conceding the right of way and never passing on a hill or blind curve. It means passing with care but without hesitation, checking all intersections and driving within a reasonable speed limit matched to all conditions.

"Finally, take it easy. You'll get to your destination on time if you give yourself plenty of leeway. If fatigue sets in, stop frequently for rest breaks until you feel able to continue. Slow down after dark and be especially careful at dusk, the most dangerous time of day during the winter months.

Krebs urges FTC to greatly expand warranty hearings

In testimony before the Federal Trade Commission last week in Washington, Paul J. Krebs, executive director of the New Jersey Office of Consumer Protection, urged that the commission's scheduled hearings into warranty practices of automobile manufacturers be broadened to include television and household appliances as well. The FTC released a staff report on Nov. 18 concerning auto warranties and announced that it would begin hearings on the subject on Jan. 9.

Krebs gave an example of warranty problems suffered by consumers when purchasing a refrigerator and suggested that "no matter what the product being sold, the basic problems are non-existent pre-delivery servicing, shoddy repair work under warranty and outright denial of service under warranty terms."

In supporting the creation of a federal cabinet-level Department of Consumer Affairs, Krebs criticized the FTC. "A Federal Trade Commission without the ability to exact fines and penalties or to take action on behalf of individual consumers is a weak Federal Trade Commission," Krebs also declared that the administration of consumer laws by a multiplicity of federal departments prevents effective enforcement and confuses the consumer. "He remains the man without a voice in government."

Under this doctrine, the finance company who purchases a retail contract from the original seller has no responsibility for performance on the contract. This has meant that consumers are forced to pay off the finance companies even when goods or services are not delivered or are not as promised. Krebs recommended a federal law making the finance company just as responsible as the original seller for performance on the contract.

He also recommended a federal law banning debt pooling. Although 21 states now have such a law, remnants of those states "fall victim to the schemes of financial adjustment firms from other states who work through the mail or by telephone."

Krebs commented that he could think of 47 categories in which the Federal government should take action on behalf of the consumer. He went on to say that he thought creation of a federal Department of Consumer Affairs and the passage of the legislation recommended would do for a start.

Director of Boystown issues Christmas appeal for funds

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Robert P. Egan, director of New Jersey's Boystown, Kearny, in his annual Christmas appeal letter, asks: "Help us give our boys the home life that most people take for granted."

Boystown is home for 100 youths who are accepted regardless of race or creed. Practically every area of the state is represented among its residents.

The annual budget for Boystown, according to Monsignor Egan, is $300,000 "and this is keeping things down to a bare minimum," he added.

The appeal for funds is more urgent this year, Monsignor states, because a new dormitory-all purpose building is under construction at a cost of $1,200,000. When completed the new structure will house the boys who now have rooms in a building erected in 1892. Boystown's high school boys are educated in Kearny High. The grammar school boys attend classes in Boystown's own school.

"If you have much, send much", Monsignor urges, "but if you have little, send little. Regardless of what the contribution is it will be appreciated by everyone at Boystown."

Report drop in delivery complaints

A sharp dropoff in the percentage and number of consumer complaints centered on non-delivery, late delivery, or loss of merchandise was noted by the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York in its latest quarterly report of "Why Customers Complain."

In an analysis of more than 8,900 complaint letters received by the Bureau during the second quarter of 1968, complaints in this category dropped by 17 percent. Complaints about non-fulfillment of contracts were down by 15 percent. Complaints about unsatisfactory workmanship, installation or service decreased by eight percent.

The report, released this week by Woodrow Wirsig, president of the bureau, is the fifth in a continuing study based on written complaints received by the Bureau's Central Office and its operating units in Bergen-Passaic-Rockland Counties and Long Island, included in this report for the first time. Wirsig said, are also figures from two new bureau units—Harlem and Westchester County. He pointed out, however, that since the new units were opened only in May of this year, the number of complaints registered with them during the covered period is still too small to permit significant comparisons to be made.

Over half of the complaints received by the bureau during the three-month period dealt with partial delivery or non-delivery, lost merchandise, unsatisfactory workmanship, installation or service, defective merchandise, or promised adjustment not fulfilled.

In a break-down of complaints on specific products and services, the bureau found that in furniture, the greatest number of complaints, or 22.6 percent of the total, involved defective merchandise. In home improvements and maintenance, the largest single body of complaints, 32.4 percent, was centered on unsatisfactory workmanship, installation or service. In television sales, defective merchandise accounted for 33.6 percent of the total complaints. In television service, 40 percent of the complaints were of unsatisfactory workmanship, installation or service. Concerning photographic and photographic services, 40 percent of the complainants reported non-delivery.

Thanksgiving Day will be a happier, more meaningful day...

It's a story we all know and love—the first Pilgrim Thanksgiving. The excitement in their little homes must have been pretty much as it is today—the tantalizing smells of roast turkey and pumpkin pie—the bustle and rush of eager children—it must have been a wonderful day!

But before the Pilgrims sat down to their feast they observed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. They all gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks for the good they had received, for survival through a long year of hardship, and to pray for the strength and courage to keep their faith in this strange, new land.

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your house of worship. A quiet hour of prayer and thanks will make your holiday so much more meaningful.

Wherever you are... whatever your beliefs may be... take time to offer your words of thanks... just as the Pilgrims did more than 300 years ago.

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1749 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW sedan.

The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty.

It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, padded dash, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back.

Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock. (When the key is removed, the steering wheel is locked in place.)

It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay?
The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense. The automatic shift. (It eliminates the clutch pedal.)

Well, that's it. Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

A new opportunity is being offered for fathers and sons, boys third through sixth grade. On Sunday afternoon, 3 to 5 p.m., there will be an open gym period for fathers and sons to spend time with each other to teach basketball, skills work on the parallel bars, rings and tumbling mats. Boys whose fathers are unavailable may participate with an older brother, uncle or interested adult.

Judo for men, women and high school students will continue on Tuesday evenings, 8 to 10 p.m. Bill Eisenmunger and Bill Kreiger, Brown Belt holders, are the instructors for this program.

Women's Fitness is also offered on Wednesday evenings, 8 to 9:30. Exercise with and without music will be included with badminton, volleyball and the use of the apparatus as the group wishes.

Skill programs which were under way for youths this fall will continue. Trampoline on three levels will be offered. The program is limited to a definite number, so early registration is urged.

Swimming will be offered and the YMCA bus picks up at designated locations to take students to the branch in Elizabeth and return at the conclusion of the class, 4:15 to 5 p.m., on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons.

BATON OR CHEERLEADING for girls, first through eighth grade, will continue on three levels. This program meets Thursday.

Junior and senior high students can take advantage of the advanced gymnastics course on Monday evenings, 6:30 to 8 p.m. This includes parallel bars, balance beam, uneven bars, rings, tumbling and buck.

Third and fourth grade boys can get experience of gym skills and club activities in the Pioneer Program. The same is true at a higher level, for fifth and sixth graders, in the Pathfinders Program. These programs occur on Saturday morning. There are periodic father and son or family events scheduled in this program.

Wranglers is a group experience for boys and girls, kindergarten through second grade, with a variety of activities including crafts, gym, games and films.

The Retired Men's Group is open to all who wish to come to an informal meeting of retired men. They have programs on the third Friday of each month.

Further information about other programs is available by calling the Y at 687-5570. The YMCA is located at the end of Salem road in the Five Points area of Union.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN
(Diamond Cleaners)

WINTER VACATION WARDROBE

I hope you're one of the lucky ones with plans for a winter cruise. Nothing could be better for restoring your pep and giving you a new outlook.

If it's your first cruise, may I suggest you take along only part of the clothes you think you'll need. You'll save luggage space and keep what you do take in better shape. Also, although planning a wardrobe is half the fun of any vacation like this, do remember that to everyone on board, your last summer's clothing will be brand new. So, save that cash for extra side trips and some really exciting souvenirs.

But beware of native materials! Dyes are usually non-fast, and can cause some nasty problems when cleaned or washed.

And remember, a week or so before you're ready to pack, send your summer things out for professional cleaning and finishing. Colors sparkle and limp fabrics come alive with DIAMOND CLEANERS care. It's excellent insurance for a well-groomed look!

Hospital benefits for more of aged

Some people who would not have been eligible for hospital benefits under the old law will now be eligible, according to Ralph W. Jones, social security district manager in Elizabeth. Jones stated that the old law provided that persons who reach 65 in 1968 and are not entitled to monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits could not get hospital insurance unless they had six calendar quarters - about 1-1/2 years - of social security work credits.

Under the new law, the amount of work required by those reaching 65 in 1968 or later increases by three quarters each year, starting with three quarters required for those reaching 65 in 1968, six quarters for those reaching 65 in 1969, nine for those reaching 65 in 1970, and so on. Eventually, the amount of work required for hospital insurance protection will be the same as that required for monthly cash benefits.

However, Jones noted, if a person qualifies for monthly benefits as the dependent or survivor of an insured worker she will not need any work credits. Persons wishing additional information or assistance may call 351-3200 or visit the office at 268 North Broad Street.

County asked to help finance police training building at UC

The Union County Board of Freeholders has been urged by the Union County Police Chiefs Association to assist in the financing of a Community Services Building on the Union College campus in Cranford for police training activities.

At a meeting at the Cranford, the association voted unanimously to ask the freeholders to divert funds now allocated for a police and fire school at the former Nike base in the Watchung Reservation to the college project if the freeholders do not go ahead with that project.

Police Chief Matthew Haney of Cranford, director of the Union County Police Training Academy, said Union College's master plan provides for a Community Services Center. He said this would be an ideal location for a police training center and would associate the police training program with an academic, college atmosphere.

The association also endorsed the establishment of a college-level police science curriculum at Union College. They voted to in-

Sensible speed

A sensible speed is one at which the driver can see danger and can maneuver the car clear of it under all conditions, states the Allstate Motor Club, since ability to spot hazards decreases as speed increases, motorists will protect themselves by driving only as fast as vision and road conditions allow.

Union County Trust Co. OKs 3-for-1 stock split

Shareholders of Union County Trust Company have approved at three-for-one split of the company's stock, to make 1,173,840 shares outstanding at $5 par value. President Raymond W. Bauer told the stockholders, meeting at the main office of the bank, that the lower market value per share after the split will increase the availability of the stock to the general public.

The meeting also approved an amendment to the employees' retirement plan and a profit-sharing bonus plan for employees. Bauer said the added incentive of the bonus plan, which will relate directly to the earning of the company, should be of ultimate benefit to stockholders.

Red Cross safety hints given for duck hunters

Falling into deep water fully clothed need not end in tragedy for duck hunters, according to John I. Goetz, Eastern Area Director of the American Red Cross Safety Programs. Goetz said, "The important thing to remember is that if you fall in the water clothed, you don't have to pull off your outer garments or drown. Your clothes can not only help you stay afloat by trapping air, but can also protect you from overexposure in cold water."

The following are some of his tips for duck hunters involved in water accidents: Relax, and let air in the clothing bring you to the surface. Once afloat you can paddle to safety. If on your back, with hip boots, pull the knees to the chest, keeping the boot openings underwater, the air-filled boots act as a float and you can use your arms to paddle backwards to safety. However, if knee boots are worn, you should turn on your stomach, keeping the boot openings underwater and the heels raised to the surface. Should you fall into water on your stomach, the hunting jacket will inflate and become a float. A plastic decoy slid inside the jacket gives extra flotation, and boat oars placed under the knees will support the lower part of the body. Air in the clothing will eventually be displaced by water, but there are ways to replace some of the air, said Goetz. He suggests that a victim lie face down in the water, partially unzip the jacket, and slap quantities of water and air into it. Air bubbles will rise to the water surface and, trapped in the back of the jacket, will give new additional support. Other techniques of replacing air in clothing are taught in Red Cross survival swimming courses.

Goetz warned of the danger of wearing ammunition vests or loading pockets with ammunition. Both, he said, add weight to drag a man below the water surface.

Garden State food products to appear on holiday menus

Garden State food products will add to the goodness of festive holiday menus in homes and restaurants across the land on Thanksgiving Day.

According to statistics issued by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development, the state's food processing industry ranks sixth in the nation for this type of operation, with a value added by manufacture totaling $1,034,623,000.

Data from the federal Census of Manufacture place food processing as the largest industrial activity in the state. The plants employ 61,098 persons and expend an annual payroll of $365,836,000. The various products include fruits, packaged soups, frozen foods, meats, sauces, sea foods, cookies, cooking oils and scores of other food items. Productions by each of the highly specialized 1,122 manufacturers of foods and kindred products are substantial. During the first 10 months of this year, we'll over 3,000,000 egg-type chicks were raised in New Jersey hatcheries and most of the more than 935,000 broiler chicks hatched during the same period in the New Jersey-New York area were from commercial hatcheries in the state.

Also indicative of the state's preeminence in this particular category is the fact that turkey-men throughout New Jersey expect an aggregate of 340,000 turkeys will be raised at their various facilities during 1968. The estimate is derived from the New Jersey Crop Reporting Service of the State Department of Agriculture.

Montclair art museum exhibitions

Four new exhibitions are on view at the Montclair Art Museum through Jan. 5.

Highlighting the holiday season is the "Christmas Story in Art," an exhibition of early European paintings and sculptures depicting the Nativity. The works, all from the museum's permanent collection, are shown against a background of panels decorated with hand-made Italian papers. The panels have been specially designed to suggest Romanesque and Gothic settings.

Shown here are Max Reichle's "Prophets," two fragments from a series surrounding an altar painting in the Convent Neustift; the Spanish painting, "Gifts of the Magi;" Cosimo Roselli's "Adoration of the Child by the Virgin;" the "Presentation at the Temple," an oil painting on wood panel by the Antwerp master; "The Madonna of Humility" by Giovanni del Biondo; a School of Burgundy, "French Relief sculpture;" "Assumption of the Virgin;" two carved polychrome Annunciation figures of the "Virgin" and "Angel Gabriel;" and a Renaissance sculpture "Virgin and Child" from the Ile de France School.

"Influence of the Academy," drawn from the museum's collection, divides into three groups. It includes Chase, Hassam, Tarbell, Twachtman and Weir who were members of "The Ten," the group of painters who joined together in 1895 to form a kind of academy of American Impressionism; the "Tonalists," Dabo, Dessar, Ranger, Sartain and Tryon; and those traditional painters of the '30s and '40s who chose to remain aloof from social protest and from the beginnings of non-objective painting.

William S. Horton, American Impressionist, shows some 40 paintings by the American-born artist who became a friend and follower of Monet.

"Arabian Motifs" is a display of textiles, glass, ceramics, metalwork and costumes lent by the Middle East Exhibits and Training, Inc.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

I am 18 years old and had a child out of wedlock. She is 8 months old and a very adorable baby.

About two years ago, after the baby's father left me, before she was born, I met two boys. The one boy's name is Skip, 19 years old. The other is Bill, 21 years old. Bill is very stubborn and set in his ways. We've been going together for a year and a half and we continued to see each other even after the baby was born. We even thought of marriage. But Skip keeps entering the picture. Bill and I have never been separated for more than a month. Skip is too young and can't accept responsibilities. He is very carefree.

My problem is that I am afraid, scared, worried and very much in love. Bill and I had an argument recently over Skip. He left and claimed he would see me the next day. I cried all that night. The next day came but he didn't come to see me. I called and learned he started drinking again. I talked to my mother and she said I should return his ring. So I did! The next day I received a letter but not my ring. I love Bill very much and I feel he loves me. He wrote in his letter he thought it would be best if he and I had time to think. He asked me to be true and wait. But he didn't say how long or when he'll be back.

Amy, should I wait or am I wasting my life on him? I haven't seen or heard from him in weeks. Lillian

Dear Lillian: I should think that a girl of 18 who has brought so much trouble upon herself would be a little more cautious in the future. You have a child 8 months old and you are involved with two young boys who are neither in a position to accept the responsibilities of marriage, financially or emotionally or to assume your ready-made family.

I advise you to get a job to support your daughter, pay your mother room and board and be independent. You need a lot of growing up to do before you can consider marriage with anyone, and in my opinion, you do not yet know what love is all about... and I urge you to wait until you do.

Dear Amy: A little over a year ago, my husband passed away, leaving me with a fifteen year old son. Some of my friends and relatives have told me I should no longer wear my wedding ring. Others have told me I should wear it because of my son. I'm so confused. What is the proper thing for me to do? Mrs. H.P.

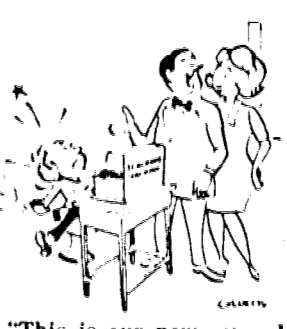

Dear Mrs. H.P.: A widow continues to wear her wedding ring until the time she desires the company of the opposite sex, in which case she

Drama unit plans 6th performance

The Studio Players, Upper Montclair, have added a sixth performance to their regular schedule of public nights. Each production will now include one Sunday evening performance at the Studio Playhouse, 14 Alvin pl., Upper Montclair. For those who prefer an early theater evening, Sunday curtain time will be 7:30 p.m. The current production of "My Three Angels," the Broadway comedy hit of several years ago, opens Saturday and continues on Dec. 6, 7, 8, 13 and 14. In addition to the six public performances, the production, under the direction of Vincent LaMartine of Montclair, will play five theater nights before groups who have bought the entire theater capacity and resold tickets for fund raising.

Theaters to show Israeli concert

"A Journey to Jerusalem," which will open for two days only, Dec. 11 and 12 at a number of RKO-Stanley-Warner Theaters, is a record of the special concert from the RKO-Stanley-Warner Orchestra, to be conducted by Leonard Bernstein, soloists Isaac Stern, Jerome Lowenthal and Miriam Moskowitz. The concert commemorated the renaissance of Jerusalem after the six-day war last year for an audience of 1,400 people seated on the roof of one of the amphitheaters on the old campus of Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, Jerusalem.

The picture will be shown at the Sanford Theater, Irvington, The Baker, Dover; the Cranford, the Hollywood, East Orange; the Millburn Cinema, the Montauk, Passaic, the Ritz, Elizabeth, the Stanley, Jersey City, the Stanley-Warner Route 4, Paramus and the Wellmont, Montclair.

During the filming of "A Journey to Jerusalem," the amphitheater was ringed by sentries armed with sub-machine guns, and Army units cleared mine fields on the hill, as artists and audience were distracted from time to time by the roar of an exploding mine.

British film, 'Negatives' now on Ormont screen

"Negatives," new film concerning a strange unmarried love life of a young British couple, which is disrupted by a blonde, female catalyst, is scheduled to open Wednesday, Nov. 27 at the Ormont Theater, East Orange.

The picture, which stars Peter McEnery, Diane Cilento, Glenda Jackson and Maurice Denham, was directed by young Peter Medak in color. This is Medak's first feature-length film.

YOUR REAR GUARD
Rear lights are your rear guard for night driving. The Allstate Motor Club advises motorists to check lights before dark and on every night time stop. Every driver should check his lights at least once a week, and more often if he does much night driving.

Pearlie's 'Hello,' now in 2nd year, is a real delight

By ROBERT LYONS

Although "Hello Dolly" has been on four seasons at the St. James, the new company led by Pearl Bailey with one year have only, we hope, just begun.

For "Hello Dolly" is now a show. It is not intimidated by the libretto. We all know that Dolly Levi, matchmaker, will win Horace Vandergelder, the well known Yonkers half-a-millionaire.

The show is bursting alive with the new cast, and it is talented. We can only guess how many thousands of performers auditioned before the cast was chosen. When Emily Yancy sings "Ribbons Down My Back," it seems the song did not exist in the show before. Winston DeWitt Hemsley's Barnaby is innocently comic. And his partner Jack Crowder, as Cornelius Hackel, is a fine actor and singer. Cab Calloway, the old pro, is a delight.

Production numbers "Put on your Sunday Clothes" and "Before the Parade Passes by" are stirring.

Pearl Bailey has not been in the New York Theatre for 12 years. She should follow "Dolly" with "Mame," then "Dear World." She should head a permanent company doing Broadway musicals until 1988.

Notes: "The Price" is now at the 46th Street Theatre. "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" is in its last three weeks at the Helen Hayes Theatre.

HELEN O'CONNELL—Singer, and partner, Bob Eberly, take a walk down Memory Lane at Larry Dixon's Flagship Dinner Theater, Route 22, Union. They are presenting their versions of "Green Eyes," "Amapola," "Tangerine" and "Six Lessons from Madame La Zonga." The show will run through Dec. 10.

Sinatra continues on Bellevue screen

The new Frank Sinatra picture, "Lady in Cement," is being held over at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair. The picture, which was produced through 20th Century-Fox in color by DeLuxe and Panavision, also stars Raquel Welch, television's Dan Blocker and Richard Conte. Gordon Douglas produced the film and Aaron Rosenberg directed.

The Bellevue Theater will close its doors temporarily after its Sunday night screening, and will open again on Dec. 18 with a road show presentation of "The Star," starring Julie Andrews.

State symphony slates Westfield performance

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will perform in Westfield Saturday, March 22, the first time the orchestra has performed in that community.

Henry Lewis, Music Director of the Symphony, will conduct the concert, to be given at the Westfield High School Auditorium.

Theater matinee changed

The Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn has re-scheduled its matinee, Thanksgiving week. The 2 p.m. performance of "I Do I Do!" starring Stephen Douglass and Dran Hamilton, will be played on Friday, Nov. 29. The usual Wednesday matinee has been cancelled. All other performances of the Broadway hit remain unchanged.

Low beams best for driving in fog

Don't try to peer through fog, warns Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Motor Club. You won't be able to see very far, and the strain will only make you tense. Instead, concentrate on right hand side of the road. Use your headlights—day or night. The low beam will give you the best visibility if the fog is heavy.

of environmental factors have been made. It has been shown that viruses can cause cancer in laboratory animals and, therefore, probably sometimes in man. Exposure to certain chemicals and radiation (such as too much sunlight) can result in various forms of cancer. In addition to these and other environmental agents, scientists are studying the role of heredity in cancer.

Specialty bred laboratory mice have been used for many years to investigate whether a tendency to get cancer can be passed on from parent to offspring. These studies show that not just one, but many genetic factors are responsible for the tendency of the animals to develop specific types of cancer. For example, several different strains of mice that seldom develop breast cancer were exposed to the virus known to cause breast cancer in mice. The descendants of some of the strains developed breast cancer much more frequently than the original animals. Subsequent generations of other strains, however, developed breast cancer less and less frequently as the virus disappeared from their blood. Thus, in animals, hereditary factors may influence how the body will react to a cancer-producing chemical or virus and how the cancer will progress in the body.

When human populations were studied, most of the common forms of cancer did not seem to be passed on within families. Yet, some special studies did show that, to a very small extent, cancer of the breast, rectum, and lung strike in certain families more than others. However, since families share the same environment, scientists have not concluded that a hereditary factor is actually responsible for this excessive incidence of cancer.

We were very proud when a customer told us that the other day. We were delighted to know that we're thought of as an "old fashioned" store that still treats customers as friends, that is staffed with personnel who know the jewelry business, who take great pride in their work.
As many of you know, our family has been in the jewelry profession for generations, and has operated shops in many parts of Union and Essex County.
Yes, we're proud of our profession, our tradition, and words from customers and friends which link us with the lovable old gent in the red suit and white beard who comes around every year at this time to shower a little happiness on all.
Incidentally, we cater to children who are looking for something special to give to their parents and grandparents. We have some ideal gifts, all keeping within their limited budgets. All purchases are guaranteed satisfaction. We carry all top name brands.

Tender care for goodies to be mailed

A little tender loving care is an essential ingredient for packages of holiday goodies sent to the boys in Vietnam or other military bases, says Anne L. Sheelen, County Home economist.

During the past couple of weeks, questions concerning the packaging of cookies and other goodies for our servicemen have been among those most frequently asked. If you are planning to assemble such a package, we hope you will find the following suggestions useful.

In deciding what to send, avoid foods which crumble easily, become stale or dried out quickly, or tend to become moldy.

Cookies are the most popular item sent during this time of year. When deciding which varieties to send, keep in mind that bar cookies, drop cookies, and fruit cookies will travel best.

With regard to wrapping materials for your goodies, use a sturdy packing box and line it with waxed paper. Plenty of filler is essential. Crushed or shredded paper, tissue paper, unsalted and unbuttered popcorn or a puffed cereal will make excellent fillers.

Cookies require special handling in wrapping so that they will arrive suitable for eating. The best method is to wrap each cookie separately in waxed paper or transparent plastic wrap. If the cookie is rather sturdy, two cookies can be placed bottom to bottom in pairs and wrapped as one.

In placing the cookies in the box, first cover the bottom of the box with a layer of filler and cover this waxed paper. Proceed to pack the box, using alternating layers of filler and cookies, ending with enough filler on the top to act as a padding. The box should be so full that you have to press down in order to close it.

Wrap the box tightly with heavy paper and cord. Plainly address the package with permanent ink. After the ink has dried, painting a thin layer of colorless nail polish over the address will help to prevent smearing.

For other suggestions and some recipes for cookies which travel well, write to the Union County Home Economics Extension Service, 1106 Elizabeth Avenue, Elizabeth, or call 353-5000 for the sheet.

Some tips on how to expedite or economize on holiday mail

Are you planning to send a holiday package, greetings or a last-minute party invitation? Remember, in many areas the federal government is cutting expenses by not hiring additional postal help for the holiday season. So, if you consider you are a wise home manager, the county home economist says, it's a good idea to not only mail earlier but decide before going to the post office which service you want to use. Do you need speedy delivery or are you looking to save money?

Outside city delivery areas the special delivery mail will not be handled any differently than first class mail if sent to a home more than a mile from the post office, post office station or a branch. In rural areas, special delivery is limited to within a half mile of a rural mail route while in other areas it is included with the regular delivery. Likewise, in areas having two mail deliveries per day, a special delivery will not arrive a significant amount sooner than ordinary first class mail. Special delivery does offer a valuable service when you want mail delivered on a weekend when regular service is curtailed. Book Rate - Books that weigh a pound or more with wrapping, can be mailed at a special rate, 12 cents for the first pound and 6 cents for each additional pound, if your books weigh less than one pound they go at the more expensive third-class rate. Don't waste money when you mail books slightly under a pound. Stuff the package with paper to bring it up to one pound. Then use the lower rate. To get this rate, just mark the package "book" and tell the postal clerk what's inside. Remember, though don't include any written matter.

Overpass opens on new highway

SECRETARIES PAST and future are portrayed by these models in the open house fashion show at the Katherine Gibbs School in New York. Terry Sider, a student at Gibbs, wears designer Roberto D'Fernand's idea of what secretarial garb will look like 50 years from now. In the background are two secretaries in costumes of 50 years ago.

Bank plans holding unit

National Newark & Essex Bank will sponsor a registered bank holding company under newly-passed legislation enabling New Jersey banks to engage in state-wide holding company activities and to branch and merge in three districts conforming roughly to the north, central and southern portions of the state. Robert G. Cowan, chairman of the bank's board of directors, said the holding company legislation, now awaiting the signature of Governor Richard J. Hughes, "would pave the way for the development of larger banks and banking groups, which will better serve the rapidly growing economy of New Jersey." The bank's registered bank holding company would conform to federal legislation which gives the Federal Reserve Board responsibility for approving the creation and subsequent activities of such holding companies. These activities must be essentially related to banking, Cowan said, as opposed to those of a so-called "one-bank holding company" which could theoretically engage in diversified business activities unrelated to the banking industry.

Two Rutgers men prove they can make grade

Although they get around the New Brunswick campus a bit more slowly than their fellow Rutgersmen, you get the feeling that Jorge Ortiz and John Simonetti aren't going to be left behind.

Like most Rutgers students, Jorge and John represent different backgrounds, interests and ability, but these two have a common denominator. They are confined to wheelchairs—John as a result of a lifelong affliction, and Jorge as a result of a recent, near-fatal automobile accident.

At a time when courage, to some, is becoming a cliché, they have an ample supply of the real thing.

John Simonetti was three when doctors diagnosed his affliction an infantile muscular dystrophy, but it was not until almost 10 years later that the diagnosis was discovered to be wrong. Now 19, he is one of some 50,000 persons in the United States who suffer from myasthenia gravis, a disease which causes paralysis of muscular response.

He can walk, swim, drive a car, but all within limits.

"Some days I can walk 500 yards, and others not three feet, before fatigue sets in," John says. Normally, he explains, the body produces a chemical substance that stimulates the muscles. After it does its job, the substance is destroyed.

IN HIS CASE, John says, either the substance is being destroyed before it reaches the muscles or it is not being produced in a sufficient quantity.

The result is an overpowering fatigue that sometimes makes it impossible to even write or hold up a book.

But despite the handicap, John is a superior student at Rutgers College where he is majoring in chemistry. A sophomore and a resident of Westfield, he holds a 1.3 scholastic average in a marking system where "1" is the highest grade and last year, he won a freshman science achievement award in chemistry.

His extracurricular activities are limited as they were at Westfield High School, but he pursues actively a home-based ham radio hobby. John wants to continue his schooling through the doctor's degree and then enter industry as a physio-chemist.

Jorge Ortiz had his life turned completely around five days before Christmas in 1964. Home on vacation from Rutgers where he had enrolled as a freshman the previous September, Jorge was a passenger in a car that skidded on ice and crashed. Jorge's neck was broken in the accident.

"For the first three or four months I didn't realize the extent of my injury or its permanence," Jorge says. He was an athlete at Henry Hudson Regional High School in Atlantic Highlands, a member of the varsity basketball, track and cross country teams, and he was faced with the realization that he might never walk again.

"You either accept something like this," he says, "or you give up completely—one way or the other." He adds stoically, "I accepted it."

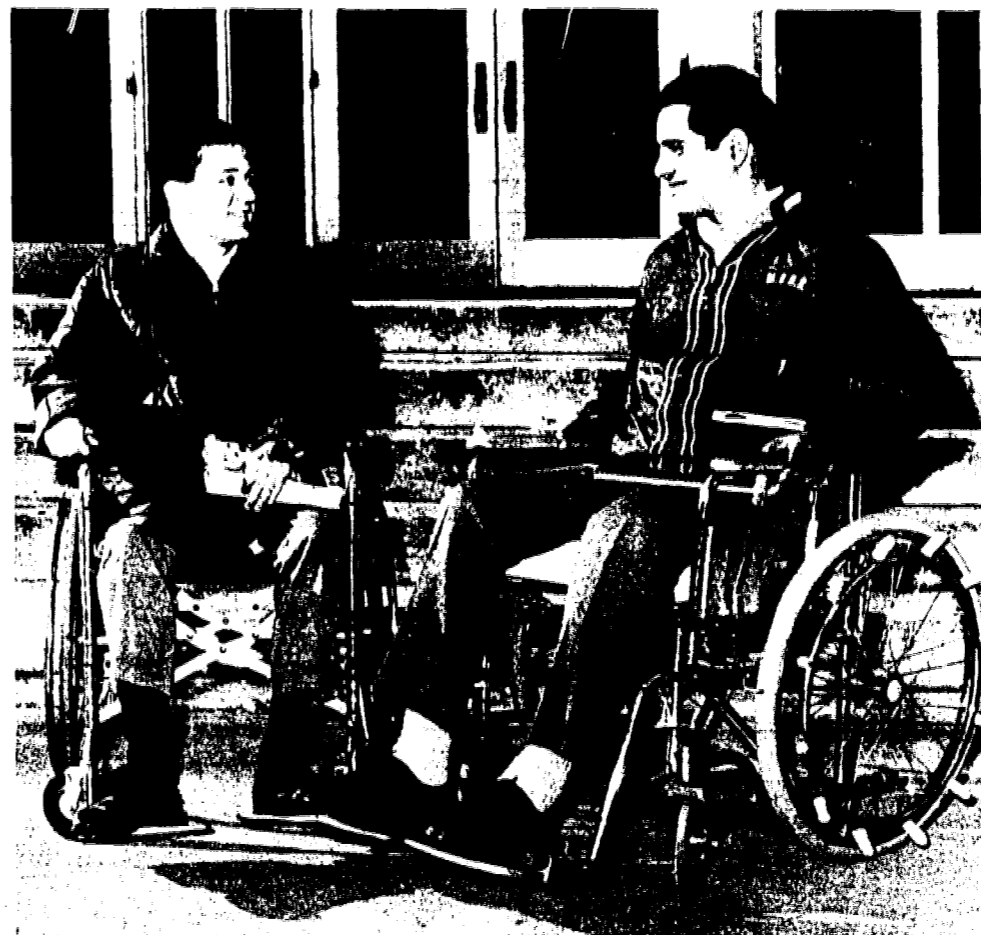

Jorge, who lives in Atlantic Highlands, re-enrolled at Rutgers in September 1966 and at 23 is now a junior.

A NATIVE OF PANAMA who came to this country with his family in 1957, Jorge is majoring in Spanish with the hope of becoming a high school teacher like his older brother and sister.

Both students spend some two hours each day commuting to school, John from Westfield with his mother, and Jorge, from Atlantic Highlands with a fellow student. Commuting takes away from their study time, but it would be nearly impossible for them to reside at the school.

Both students must schedule classes on ground floors of buildings so that they have a minimum effort getting to them. But occasionally they must go up and down stairs. This, coupled with getting in and out of cars, is a problem.

But in tribute to his fellow Rutgersmen, Jorge says, "The fellows here are good, someone is always willing to lend a hand."

Hot punch for informal gathering

Having friends over to watch the football game—or just for an informal get-together? Plan your entertaining with easy-to-serve refreshments that can be prepared ahead of time. An ideal open house menu includes hot Raspberry Spiced Punch, an assortment of tasty finger sandwiches and an attractive fruit and nut bowl.

Whether it's served hot or cold, this sweet 'n' spicy punch is sure to please. Take an old fall favorite—apple cider—add several spices, and two jars of Strained Raspberry Cobbler. The result—a delightful fruit-flavored punch that will be enjoyed by youngsters as well as adults.

For finger sandwiches, you can use a variety of different types of breads, such as date and nut, rye or white bread. Spread with your favorite meat or cheese fillings, after trimming the crusts.

Then just set out your bowl of punch and a tray of finger sandwiches with a stack of individual trays and let your guests help themselves.

50,000 toys aim of Marine drive

Military tactics will be given a new twist this Christmas with a combined air-ground action involving Santa, his reindeer, and the United States Marines.

Operation "Toys for Tots" was kicked off in New Jersey on Nov. 1, and since that time the sixth Motor Transport Battalion, United States Marine Corps Reserve, Fort Newark, has collected well over 5,000 toys.

"This Christmas," observes battalion commanding officer Lt. Col. Roger Doran, "we hope to receive more than 50,000 toys for distribution to underprivileged children throughout New Jersey."

Individuals and businesses wishing to contribute new and usable toys may call the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Fort Newark, MA 4-8762. Toys may be delivered to 272 Morris ave., Springfield.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

The In Person album, by Sandler and Young, as the title suggests, is indeed an entire in-person performance on record...it is exciting, it's happy, it's alive and it's very, very Sandler and Young...Included in this album is their minute international tour of the show-stopping Bill Bailey, featuring the languages and dialects of France, England, Switzerland, Nashville, Italy, Tel Aviv, the time of Joram Sebastian Bach and, of course, the good old U.S.A. version...Also included in Magna, Watch What Happens, Sweet Georgia Brown and Love Is Blue...It all adds up to an exciting non-stop entertainment offered by a pair uniquely qualified to give a complete show biz presentation — Sandler and Young.

In this decade, everything in music seems to be happening...The music scene is in fact, literally exploding...Jazz and pop are happening, folk rock and psychedelic are all the new sounds...Today's liveliest art is music... It is an exciting time to be listening and one of the most exciting things to be listening to in this exciting time is the Howard Roberts Quartet, which just waxed Out of Sight...The album features such great songs as I Say a Little Prayer, Love Is Blue, Music to Think By, Spooky, Pretty Butterfly and Make Me Rainbows...Howard Roberts and his Quartet are hip, creative, often humorous and play with magnificent ease...This album is no exception to the theory that Roberts projects fun when he plays jazz, for it shows his ever-present joy in making music and takes his playing completely out of sight.

Debate origin of universe

Question 'big bang' theory

Measurements made from a rocket more than a hundred miles above the earth have shaken the support for a widely accepted theory of the universe. At stake is the "big bang" theory—the idea that the universe began as an extremely dense ball of matter, exploded, and expanded to its present size.

The single rocket observation is not enough to overthrow the idea, but it is the first measurement in three years to reverse the trend of support for the theory.

The work is reported in "Physical Review Letters," a publication of The American Physical Society, by Kandiah Shivanandan of the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C., and Drs. James R. Houck and Martin O. Harwit of the Cornell-Sydney University Astronomy Center in Ithaca, N.Y.

The big bang theory predicts that the universe should be bathed in the residual radiation of the original explosion. The radiation should have cooled to within three degrees absolute zero. During the past three years, astrophysicists have been measuring a background radiation, and these measurements have been interpreted by many as experimental verification of the theory.

To measure the radiation at shorter wavelengths—where the strength of the radiation from the big bang is expected to drop off sharply—it was necessary to send instruments above the earth's atmosphere.

In the present experiment, the astrophysicists sent up a rocket containing sensitive detectors that were cooled by liquid helium. One of the detectors radiation measured intensity that was about a hundred times stronger than that expected from the big bang.

Supporters of the big bang can argue that the new measurement does not disprove their theory. They can say that the background radiation has a higher temperature than the currently predicted 3 degrees at the shorter wavelengths or that there are other sources of radiation that mask the 3 degrees background.

Decorations at the various commercial offices throughout the state consist of lighted wreaths, bells, candles, plaques and garlands.

The Park Place decorations feature a giant illuminated wreath with a bow aware stretching 150 feet across the front of the building and extending 50 feet high. On each side of the wreath are six 10-foot flashing snowflakes. Lighted plastic garlands and bells border the top edge of the building. Four 15-foot illuminated candles will be placed in the arches above the Park Place marquee.

Gun act requires registration now of some war trophies

Servicemen, ex-servicemen and others who have certain types of unregistered war trophies as souvenirs may be in violation of the Gun Control Act of 1968, unless these weapons or devices are registered with the Internal Revenue Service this week.

Roland H. Nash Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey, said that machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, sawed-off rifles, bazookas, rockets, mortars, bombs, mines, grenades, and similar destructive devices that have been retained as souvenirs or war trophies must be registered or turned in by the deadline. Representatives of the IRS Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division will offer assistance in registering or disposing of any such weapons or devices.

Owners should not bring the weapon or device to the IRS but should call, write or visit the nearest Alcohol and Tobacco Tax or other IRS office for information and assistance.

The law provides that those who fail to register or dispose of the specified firearms or destructive devices which they possess, may be subject to imprisonment up to 10 years, fines up to $10,000, or both. Civil penalties can also be imposed and property forfeitures take place.

Depositors share record dividends

The 310th consecutive dividend to be paid by The Howard Savings Institution on Dec. 1 will total approximately $9.3 million and will set a record as the largest quarterly dividend ever paid by the institution, John W. Kress, president, announced this week.

The dividend will be shared by the more than 212,000 regular and investment savings account depositors and 113,000 school savers. Almost $600,000 more than that paid depositors for the same quarter a year ago, the December dividend will bring to more than $357 million total dividends paid by The Howard since it was founded in 1857. Dividends for the last four quarters will now total more than $36 million, up $3.3 million from the preceding four quarters.

The Howard, with assets in excess of $890 million, is New Jersey's largest savings bank and 16th in size in the nation. It has six Newark offices and one office in South Orange and North Caldwell and two in Irvington.
