1968 in Mountainside: One big victory and one defeat

One major defeat and one major victory characterized the year 1968 in Mountainside, but neither episode could be marked completely closed.

The defeat came when voters in six communities turned thumbs down, by a margin of 289 votes, on the proposal of the Regional High School District Board of Education to construct additions at the four Regional High Schools, including one which would have increased capacity of Gov. Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights from 1,500 students to 2,200.

Board members have launched a new study of future needs and plan to submit a new plan to a referendum in the spring.

The victory came at the end of the year, when the Union County Board of Freeholders dropped plans to operate a police, fire and civil defense training center in the former Nike missile base in Watchung Reservation.

The measure was strongly opposed by Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelms Jr. and the Borough Council. It could be revived at some time in the future, however, when the county has more funds available.

Major news events of the year included the following:

January

Louis N. Parent and incumbent Donald Robertson are sworn in as borough councilmen, but B. Dean Spain resigns post on governing body because of business pressures... Elmer Hoffrath, borough clerk, is recommended for non-salaried, newly-created position of borough administrator... Community Fund campaign opens with slogan "Eight for One," under chairmanship of Gerard S. Sillemuth... Application is made to N.J. Bank and Insurance Commissioner for charter to start Springfield State Bank, which would serve that community and Mountainside... Robert H. Britton, president of Board of Education, announces he will vacate the post this year... Seven persons file petitions for four vacant seats on Board of Education... Application to state Highway Department for funds to install sidewalks and curbing along New Providence road is denied... Mountainside Rescue Squad issues urgent appeal for new members... 1968-69 budget of $1,440,442, up 15 percent over the previous year, is adopted by Board of Education... Planning Board names William Ingrund of Watchung as general counsel, a new position... Assemblyman Charles J. Irwin is named local chairman for county Heart Association drive... Jack Bicknell, head football coach and director of athletics at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, announces he will resign to become member of Boston College gridiron coaching staff.

February

Allan W. Dehls and three incumbents, Mrs. Gloria S. Johnson, Walter H. Rupp and Donald L. Jeka, are elected to Board of Education, and voters approve school budget of $1,440,442... Grant Lennox is named president of Board of Education... New public library building in Watchung avenue opens... Three new ordinances designed to update borough zoning regulations are introduced by the council... Residents nullify $4.335 million Regional High School bond referendum which would include $1.5 million expansion to Gov. Livingston to bring enrollment capacity there from 1,500 to 2,200... Victim of fatal motor vehicle accident on Rt. 22 here is identified as 49-year-old migrant worker from Pennsylvania... Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, proposes "scientific method" of teaching be applied to a wider range of subjects, in article written for PTA's newsletter.

March

Regional High School's $4.335 million bond issue for expansion and renovation in all four regional schools is defeated by 289 votes despite local support... John E. Hechtile is appointed councilman by governing body to fill unexpired term of B. Dean Spain, who resigned in January... Application is approved of Union County Technical Institute to establish private, non-profit school at 1011 Rt. 22... Robert Collins, Gov. Livingston High School senior from Mountainside, wins Central Atlantic one-meter diving championship... Anticipated budget of $766,043 which would raise tax rate 78 points to $5.84 per $100 of assessed valuation is adopted by council... Fran Heller, Gov. Livingston senior from Mountainside, is given Good Citizen of Year award by Beacon Fire Chapter, DAR, Summit... PTA executive board votes to support state Senate bill which would repeal 1967 busing law obligating municipalities to provide transportation for students attending private schools outside community within 25-mile radius.

April

Petition signed by 68 residents calling for Union County Regional High School Board of Education to resubmit capital expansion plan defeated in March is presented to Lewis Fredericks, secretary of the board... Borough landmark, Chi-Am Chateau, recently opened as Three Coins, burns to ground in fire estimated to cause $300,000 damage... James Kaplan, national poster boy for education and fund raising campaign of Arthritis Foundation during National Arthritis Month, meets President Johnson in White House... More than 75 parents attend Echobrook School Night... Joseph Parent, senior in Gov. Livingston Regional High School, and William G. Mayor expected to pick new public works head

A new public works commissioner replacing Borough Councilman William Brandt will probably be named Monday night, Jan. 6, at the annual organizational meeting of the governing body.

The meeting commences at 8 p.m. in the Beechwood School.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. indicated during the holidays that the work load of the dual roles of president of the Borough Council and public works commissioner may be a strain for Councilman Brandt, who is convalescing from a recent operation.

Brandt and another incumbent, John Hechtile, will both be sworn in to new three-year terms Monday night.

"Committee chairmen will generally remain the same," Mayor Wilhelms said,

"but there might be a few switches."

"On the one hand, it's good continuity for councilmen to remain at the same posts," Mayor Wilhelms said, "but on the other hand, staying in the same position doesn't broaden their vistas."

Other positions to be filled by Mayor Wilhelms, with the consent of the Council, are spots on the Planning Board, Board of Adjustment, Board of Health, Library Board, Recreation Commission, Civil Defense Commission and the Buildings Appeal Committee.

Mayor Wilhelms said he would continue to follow the policy of the Borough Council and make the initial announcements of the appointments at the organizational meeting Monday night.

PROFILE -- Ronald S. Huter

Ronald S. Huter was scheduled to take over as chief of the Mountainside Fire Department on New Year's Day, his third one-year term as head of the all-volunteer group in its 17 years with the department.

In assuming his new post, Chief Huter will be in charge of a department which, with only 35 active volunteers, is 65 men short of its authorized complement of two companies of 50 men each; is in need of a fire engine which won't be delivered for probably more than a year and is waiting for a new fire house.

"Of course we wouldn't need 100 volunteers to handle the town," Huter said in his cozy 262 Summit rd. home on a snowy post-Yule day, "but we could use more men. There's been a 'men wanted' sign in our fire house window for a long time."

Chief Huter explained that there is a borough ordinance which would allow two companies of volunteers at 50 men per company. The highest manpower level the department has reached was 47 when Huter served as chief in 1958 and 1959.

"It's a lot of work but we do get something out of it," Chief Huter said, "like lower taxes and a certain amount of social activity."

THE VOLUNTEERS do, in fact, keep borough taxes from soaring.

Out of the 1968 borough Fire Department budget of $29,400, only $9,025 was paid out to the volunteers as their yearly clothing allowance -- the closest the men come to getting a salary.

In Westfield, full-time firemen with more than three years of service receive $10,000 annually. Chief Huter explained that if a handful of full-time firemen were hired by the borough -- possibly 20 to 30 men -- salary appropriations alone would be in the area of $200,000 to $300,000 per year, based on the Westfield pay scale.

"This is one of the main reasons for volunteer firemen," Chief Huter said.

FIRE CHIEF RONALD S. HUTER

The department is currently drawing up specifications for a new pumper which would replace a 1948 model presently in use.

"We hope the specifications will be let out for the bid early in the year," Chief Huter said. "These days it takes over a year for a fire engine to be built." The engine is expected to cost around $40,000.

The new piece of apparatus would join a 1958-model pumper and a smaller 1963

Local resident is Citizen-of-Month at Middlesex College

Kenneth R. Van Pelt of Mountainside, coordinator of student activities at Middlesex County College, Edison, was selected as the Citizen-of-the-Month for December by the Middlesex County College public relations organization. Van Pelt is a member of the county college's student personnel office and is responsible for the coordination of all student programs on campus.

The selection was made on a basis of Van Pelt's "outstanding contribution" to students on campus; it was noted that his activity in behalf of students "goes far beyond the scope of his job responsibilities."

Van Pelt, who is leaving the county college in January to become assistant director of personnel at Beth Israel Medical Center in Newark, lives with his wife and two children at 257 Evergreen court, Mountainside. He is from Detroit, where he was affiliated with Wayne State University in student personnel work. He holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from that institution. He joined the county college in July 1967.

Van Pelt is a member of the Association of College Unions and the International and National Associations of Student Personnel Administrators. He indicated that his "biggest thrill" as coordinator of student activities at Middlesex has been his ability to "share the accomplishments made by the student body through student government, college union board programming, fraternities, sororities, and club activities."

The efforts of his office have assisted the county college in its outstanding growth of student enrollment from 728 at its initial year in the fall of 1966 to its present full-time day enrollment in excess of 1,800, a college spokesman said.

2 Mountainside co-eds help serenade hospital

Herta G. Gottwick of 357 Forest Hill way, and Linda V. Morra of 233 Appletreelane, both of Mountainside, were among 22 sisters of Sigma Alpha Pi sorority at Union College, Cranford, who sang Christmas carols on Dec. 23 at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Following their caroling at Overlook Hospital, the sisters attended a dinner and party. Sigma Alpha Pi is one of nine fraternal organizations on the Union College campus.

Miss Gottwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Gottwick, and Miss Morra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Morra, are graduates of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights. They are majoring in liberal arts in Union College's day session.

Academic award candidates sought by Rotary Foundation

The Rotary Club of Mountainside, along with 53 other clubs located in District 751 of Rotary International, is seeking candidates for awards for the academic year 1970-71.

Voluntarily supported, the Rotary Foundation provides educational and vocational study programs throughout the world for bright young people, displaying signs of leadership.

Its objective is to foster world peace through international understanding and friendship, and it is based on the concept of people-to-people contact.

Dr. Milton Staub, president of the Rotary Club of Mountainside, reports that this year the foundation is providing $1.25 million in awards to 540 young men and women. Since 1947, more than 3,400 students, craftsmen and young business and professional men have furthered their education abroad at an approximate cost of $7 million to the foundation.

Graduate fellowships, undergraduate scholarships and technical training awards are available.

A Rotary Foundation graduate fellow must be unmarried, between the ages of 20 and 28 inclusive and will have a bachelor's degree or the equivalent by 1970. A fellowship covers the cost of round trip transportation, limited educational travel and all living and academic expenses.

Undergraduate scholarships are available to

Tenth anniversary marked by parish, Father McGarry

The Rev. Gerald McGarry, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in Mountainside, recently marked his 10th anniversary in the parish. At the same time, the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the parish was observed.

Father McGarry was ordained on May 26, 1934. He served at Saint Andrew's Church in Westwood, and at St. Paul of the Cross Church in Jersey City.

In December of 1958, Father McGarry was appointed as the first pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes. He immediately began plans for building a church, a school and an all-purpose building.

In December, 1959, the parish was incorporated. Ground-breaking ceremonies took place on Sunday, May 15, 1960, and construction began on July 7, 1960. The parish membership is continuing to grow.

Also named from Gov. Livingston were: James Killik, Thomas Roll, Ernest Seeman and Wayne Carver, to the band, and Anne Carlson, to the orchestra. Concerts are scheduled by the orchestra Jan. 19 at Hopewell Valley Central High School, Pennington, and by the band Feb. 15 at Piscataway High School.

students between the ages of 18 and 24 inclusive, who will have completed their second year of university level work by $970.

Technical training awards provide up to one year's training abroad for young artisans or technicians at designated institutions in their field of specialization. Technical training awards are available to men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive; single or married and provide for all travel, educational and living expenses, but do not include salaries or family allowances.

Interested candidates should contact their local Rotary Club president or member for the necessary applications.

WRECKAGE ON RT. 22 -- Mrs. Elizabeth P. Knodel, 39, of 250 Knollcrest rd., Mountainside, remained in critical condition at Memorial General Hospital last week with injuries she received in a head-on collision on Rt. 22 in Union, Dec. 21. Mrs. Knodel, mother of eight, is the wife of John P. Knodel, a teacher at Burnet Junior High School in Union. Fred Hovak of Bloomfield, driver of the car at left, was killed in the accident. Police said he was apparently driving west in the eastbound lane of the highway.

Berkeley Heights, treasurer; Nanci Robinson of New Providence, assistant treasurer, and Ralph Cognetti of 349 Short dr., Mountain-side, president. The firm has already manufactured and sold more than 125 mahogany executive desk sets.

Borough's top educator looks toward new year

Levin B. Hanigan, Mountainside superintendent of schools, expressed his wishes for the new year in a message of greetings to all parents and other citizens distributed earlier this month.

He declared: "Let us find better ways to share the ever-growing treasure of human knowledge which has been opened for us."

"Let us cherish our heritage as we build for the future."

"In all our schoolhouses—whether cramped and ancient, or spacious, new and lovely—let us establish fruitful fellowships."

"In all our classrooms let us make good offerings of wise instruction each day."

"Let us always learn to learn."

"Let us learn to use our powers as mentors of the young—the powers of gentleness and understanding."

Croft Teacher's Letter, December, 1968

"As a corollary to this, I would like to have my Christmas wish from parents:

"Send us children who understand and appreciate the rights and responsibilities of good citizenship."

"Send us children who are kind, courteous, and considerate to each other and to their teachers."

"Send us children who realize that the public school is society's institution that guarantees equal opportunity for quality education for all, but who recognize that they cannot interfere with the educational rights of others."

"Send us children who know that they cannot, or should not, destroy public or private property."

"Send us children who know that learning requires effective teaching and the personal involvement of the learner. No one can learn for someone else."

"If my wish comes true, I guarantee you that the teaching and administrative staff will provide the best education possible in the school situation that we have."

"Best wishes from my family and the school staff."

Navy basic completed by Steven C. Mueller

GREAT LAKES, ILL. (FHTNC) — Seaman Apprentice Steven C. Mueller, USN, son of Mrs. Leonard A. Fiore of 254 Bridle path, Mountainside, N.J., has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station. In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

rig as first-line equipment, Chief Huter said.

"WE'D LIKE TO KEEP the older engine as a stand-by piece of equipment," Chief Huter said. "The only problem is we won't have any place to store it. We'll probably have to park it in back of a gas station. We need a new fire house for this equipment, but the taxpayers were apparently scared away from that by the costs of the new library," Huter said. "We put an addition on the present fire house in 1964 to accommodate the newer small engine."

The small engine, the chassis of which was donated to the borough by the volunteers is called their "fast job." It's usually the first piece of apparatus on the scene and, Chief Huter explained, is especially valuable in negotiating the mountain roads.

Chief Huter is and has been intimately involved with big equipment since the outbreak of World War Two.

During the war, while he and his wife, Marie, lived in North Bergen, Huter was in charge of shipping all "ground-powered" Air Force equipment overseas from Port Newark. Ground-powered equipment, to the Air Force, Huter explained, means everything from bicycles to bulldozers and cranes.

FOLLOWING THE WAR, Huter went to work with his present employer, Hall & Fuhs, the local distributor of White Autocar trucks.

The family moved to Mountainside in 1951, when Huter joined the Fire Department. Since then he has held office for all but two of his 17 years of service, including first and second assistant chief and captain. "I took a rest those two years," Chief Huter laughed.

By this time, Ronald Jr., now 28, and Karen (Gill), now married and the mother of Dawnie, 5, and Brian, eight months, had come along.

Ronald Jr., as he grew up followed his father to fires, attended fire schools like an old pro and eventually learned to drive an engine. From the time he was 21 until he entered the service at 24, Ronald Jr. also served as a volunteer.

Chief Huter's son is now in the civil service in El Paso, Texas, involved with the Air Defense Command.

Chief Huter, too, began fire fighting at an early age.

"IT ALL STARTED when I was a kid," he said. "We lived in a rural town (North Branch near Liberty and Monticello) in upstate New York, and one summer evening lightning from a thunder storm struck our barn and we lost everything. The first thing my father did was join the local volunteers after that. I was only seven or eight at the time, but when I turned 18 I joined up, too," following his father and his older brother, Clinton.

Chief Huter was a volunteer there for three years before moving to North Bergen, which already had a paid department.

Besides his work with the local Fire Department, Huter is treasurer of the N.J. Motor Truck Association and co-chairman of its maintenance council.

As co-chairman of this council, he sets up monthly meetings on various maintenance problems which draw lecturers from all over the country. Huter is also involved in setting up the program of the New Burlington County Vocational School.

Next Sunday, in the comfort of his own home, Chief Huter will personally be putting out a blaze of 56 candles, as he celebrates his birthday.

Regional schools offer equivalency courses for adults

The Union County Regional Adult School is one of many adult schools in the state assisting adults in obtaining the high school equivalency certificate. Regional Adult Schools are conducted in Springfield, Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights and Clark, serving residents of those four communities, Mountainside and Garwood.

Harry E. Linkin, director of adult education at the school, reported that the certificate is now accepted for college admission by 19 of 23 New Jersey colleges.

Linkin stated that a survey made in September by the New Jersey State Department Office of Adult Education revealed that several institutions accepted the 45 average standard score as required by the New Jersey State Department of Education. One college required that students attain an overall score of 60. Several colleges replied that they do not give as much consideration to the score as to other available data such as personal background, recommendations and further testing.

Colleges and universities that indicated they would accept high school equivalency students were as follows: Drew University, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Princeton University, Rutgers University, Alma White College, Bloomfield College, Caldwell College for Women, Don Bosco College, Felician College, Monmouth College, Rider College, St. Peter's College, Upsala College, Glassboro State College, Jersey City College, Montclair State College, Newark State College, Paterson State College and Trenton State College.

Persons desiring information on obtaining the certificate have been invited to contact Linkin at the adult education office, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

NIH Research For Health

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

Most people have felt dizzy at some time in their life. A simple cause, such as looking down from a tall building or getting up too fast after lying in bed could explain this sensation. However, when the spells occur repeatedly and without an apparent cause, a person is wise to see his doctor.

The sense of balance, which is disturbed when a person feels dizzy, results from a combination of information coming to the brain through the inner ear, the eyes and the muscle's sense of position. Older people, particularly, should change positions slowly, especially from lying down or sitting to standing or walking. This allows time for the inner ear balance system and the blood circulation to adjust to this change without dizziness.

Inner ear problems account for about 85 percent of dizziness complaints. Many victims of dizziness are diagnosed and treated by their physicians for a mild infection of the inner ear. Often, an antibiotic is prescribed and the dizziness disappears in a few days as the infection clears up. Sometimes, however, the cause is more complicated and treatment more extensive. In some cases the patient may be sent to an ear specialist (otolaryngologist).

The remaining 15 percent of patients may suffer from aging of the blood vessels or arteriosclerosis, a sensitivity to drugs, and injury to the ear, a tumor pressing on the balance nerve, or other nerve disorders.

One of the commonest inner ear ailments was discovered only 100 years ago and is called Meniere's disease. It is a combination of three symptoms: ringing in the ears, dizziness, and loss of hearing in the affected ear. The disease can be very bothersome since attacks may recur several times a year—although they may disappear entirely in time. Emotional stress and even certain foods may help cause these attacks. The disease often begins with a feeling of fullness or pressure in the affected ear, followed by dizziness. This may be complicated by temporary hearing loss and nausea. Diagnosis and treatment by a physician are important and may include medication to stop the dizziness and prevent excess fluid in the inner ear. Treatment is important since the attacks can make work or driving unpleasant or even dangerous, and the temporary hearing loss could become permanent nerve deafness.

Research now being conducted and supported by the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness (NINDB), a component of the National Institutes of Health, seeks to help those affected with dizziness. Because both dizziness and nerve deafness involve the inner ear, many research projects and programs on deafness also are concerned with the cause, prevention, and treatment of dizziness.

State, county business leaders take cautious view of prospect for 1969

The decision-makers of New Jersey's business and industrial community hold an outlook for 1969 which is decidedly cautious, according to a poll of nearly 3,000 key executives taken by the New Jersey Manufacturers Association. The same poll a year ago held a considerably brighter outlook for 1968, a year in which New Jersey's economy boomed.

Returns from 325 firms in Union County reflects, almost in every instance, the same caution that is held by businessmen around the state.

The tabulation of the Tenth Annual Economic Outlook was just released by Leonard C. Johnson, president of the Manufacturers Association. The organization represents a large segment of the state's economic community and has the largest membership of any similar organization in the nation. Johnson declared that this collective view envisions, over all, less optimism for sales, profits and expansion than in any recent year.

"This could well be a direct reflection of the continuing tax and interest rate spiral affecting the entire country," Johnson stated, "and would indicate an economic leveling off, rather than a recessionary trend."

THE COMPUTERIZED SURVEY data shows that over half of the respondents (1,527 out of 2,846) expect no substantial change in sales over 1968. Only 41 percent see a sales increase coming. This is significantly less optimism than was expressed in forecasts for 1967 and 1968, when over 60 percent of the New Jersey leaders predicted more sales. In forecasts for 1965, and again for 1966, more than 70 percent of the total membership expected an up-swing in sales.

For the first time, the New Jersey Manufacturers Association survey polled members on the question of profit. Again, reserve was found in over half of the projections. 1,510 out of 2,756 stated that they do not anticipate any increase in profits over 1968.

Of the remainder there was nearly an even split between those predicting higher profits and those who expect profits to go down—74 percent and 21 percent respectively.

While profits and sales are expected by most to remain static for the coming year, according to three-quarters of those surveyed the cost of doing business will go up, in the form of higher material costs and increased wages. Those which will be most affected appear to be the larger companies involved in retail, construction and transportation, according to the survey.

As a direct reflection of higher costs, nearly 75 percent of those in the retail and construction industries project an inevitable increase in their prices next year, while 60 percent of those in transportation also expect to increase prices. The total picture for all business categories surveyed, shows that 51 percent of the 7,111 respondents expect consumer prices to go up.

SOME 68 PERCENT of those polled said they are not planning to expand capital facilities in the state next year. Johnson said that this is not necessarily dictated by any current economic trend. "According to the survey, plans for expansion in our state have decreased progressively over recent years," the association president observed. "In 1965 nearly 50 percent of New Jersey businesses had plans to expand; in 1966 the figure had dropped to only 38 percent and in 1967 it again went down with only 34 percent of our respondents expecting to grow in the following year," he recounted. This year the survey shows that only 32 percent expect to build in the coming year.

Sixty percent of the 115 companies with 500 or more employees plan some type of expansion activity—a drop of several percentage points from last year. Manufacturers and those dealing in transportation head the list with expansion plans.

In spite of this less positive view, it appears few companies are inclined to move elsewhere. Only 27 firms, or one percent overall, stated they expected to move their complete operation out of New Jersey. Nearly half of those firms planning to move from the state are companies with less than 26 employees. Only two companies with more than 500 workers expect to move.

THE MOST SERIOUS problem anticipated by the New Jersey businessmen in 1969 is the shortage of labor—particularly skilled labor. Rising costs always have been one of the more formidable problem areas, but for the first time in recent years, labor shortage is foremost. While 29 percent confirm that rising costs are expected to be most difficult, 38 percent out of 2,996 disclosed that labor shortage problems are expected to be the most troublesome.

Hardest hit will be the smaller firms with less than 100 employees. Nearly 40 percent of those in this category acknowledge labor to be their primary challenge, while those with 500 or more employees consider cost and competition uppermost. Labor relations or material shortages are not viewed by most as primary problems.

Union County opinion deviates only a percentage point or two from the composite attitude of the survey. The only significant variation between Union County responses and the state-wide consensus was in the area of labor shortage. Nearly 45 percent of the Union County businessmen polled indicated that the shortage of labor will be their most acute problem next year—which is five percentage points higher than the state's composite forecast.

"Whether the results of this survey agree or not with other forecasts, it is what has been concluded by those who will ultimately validate all forecasts—the actual decision-makers," Johnson said.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Newly elected 1969 Executive Committee of the Builders Association of Metropolitan New Jersey are gathered at their annual Christmas dinner dance at the Chanticleer in Millburn. From L to R: Wilbur Getter, first vice president, South Orange; Philip Azzolina, president, Murray Hill; Patricia Zubko, executive director, Maplewood; Donald Monetti, treasurer, Watchung; Robert Kampf, secretary, Livingston; and Frank Farinella, second vice president, Springfield. The Association services the building industry in Union and Essex Counties and maintains offices at Morris avenue, Union.

Library course among offerings at tech school

Registration for selected programs to be offered for the spring semester at the Union County Technical Education Center, 1770 Raritan rd., Scotch Plains, is now in progress, according to Louis Hegy, director of Admissions for the Day School, and Richard Kay, director of the Evening School.

At the Technical Institute, enrollment is now open for a one-year course in library assisting. The student will learn how to aid the professional librarian in basic procedures, i.e., shelf maintenance, office machine operation, and reference sources. She will learn how to select, requisition, process, and purchase library materials. Although knowledge of typing may be helpful, it is not required.

This program is available to high school graduates and other qualified out-of-school adults. Mrs. Barbara Riley, instructor, hopes interested-housewives will also apply.

At the Crafts Center, enrollment is open to students for the following programs: appliance repair, auto body, baking, culinary arts (cooking), electricity, graphic arts (printing), maintenance mechanic, radio television repair, and welding.

For further information about Technical Institute and Crafts Center courses, apply to Mr. Hegy at the school or phone 889-2000 ext. 47.

The Evening Division of Continuing Education presently serves the needs of 1,300 adults who wish to advance into technical work or upgrade their skills in a technical field.

Diploma programs are available in business machines, drafting fundamentals, engineering drawing, electronics, data processing and programming, civil (highway) technology, science (including metallurgy and strength of materials), mathematics, and communications.

Certificate programs are offered in appliance servicing, auto mechanics, auto body repair, graphic arts, radio television repair, heating, ventilating and air conditioning, machine tools, beauty culture, commercial art, electricity, maintenance mechanics, and welding.

For further information about evening classes, write or phone Richard Kay at 889-2000, ext. 34.

FOR THE BIRDS

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER, professor, Union Junior College

About the 842nd of the 1001 fabled Arabian Nights, Scheherazade told her husband, the sultan, the story of the second voyage of Sinbad the Sailor. Sinbad, looking for transportation to the Valley of Diamonds, fastened himself to the claw of a great Roc and was flown to his destination. He made the return journey tied to a piece of meat a hungry eagle carried to its young. Lohengrin rode on a swan boat in the legend of the Holy Grail. Even in the fables, Teeny Weenies ride on tame birds.

The possibility of being carried by a bird has intrigued man since history's dawn. Stories of hummingbirds hitching a ride across the Gulf of Mexico on the back of a goose or of children carried off by eagles continue to turn up in articles by uninformed writers. Recent observations by ornithologists, however, give some credence to these tales although it is extremely unlikely that any bird ever carried off a person.

Recently a number of papers have appeared in ornithological journals telling of transportation of various items by birds. Sandgrouse have been observed taking water to their young, carrying it in their feathers. Truslow took striking photographs of a pileated woodpecker carrying its egg from a ruined nest. Several species of waterfowl have been seen carrying young on their backs, some while swimming and a few while flying.

LILY-TROTTERS OR jacanas are found in both the Old World and New World tropics. They have greatly elongated toes and claws which enable them to walk on broad-leaved water plants, hence the name. In the floor of the Great Rift Valley in Kenya, there are scores of relatively small, alkaline lakes that offer an ideal habitat for the African Jacana. John B. D. Hopcraft studied this species from a small boat. One day he saw a jacana with its three chicks about 100 feet from shore. He rowed within 10 feet of the young. The parent tried a broken wing routine but when that didn't work, crouched near the chicks. They went under their parent's wing as if to be brooded, whereupon the old bird picked them up between its wing and body and carried them to safety.

The chachalaca brings a touch of Central American bird life into the lower valley of the Rio Grande in extreme southern Texas. Chachalaca young are precocial and leave their nest as soon as their down is dry. E. W. Farmer watched a number of nests and found that the young are carried to the ground clinging to their mother's legs.

During the first two weeks of the young one's life, three temperate-breeding swans, the mute swan, black swan and black-necked Swan carry their young on their backs while swimming. This behavior takes the place of brooding in arctic swans. Both father and mother carry the cygnets, sometimes as many as three or four at a time.

Carrying young on the back of many waterfowl while swimming is not uncommon, but carrying them in flight is another matter. However, Australian fishermen often tell of musk ducks taking flight with young on their backs. There may be some truth in the old legends after all.

Young Adult Club plans ski weekend

The Union County Catholic Young Adult Club will hold its annual ski weekend Jan. 17 through 19, at Mount Cathalia, Ellenville, N.Y.

The group has members ranging in age from 18 to 26. They are making their ski weekend available to non-members in order to introduce young adults throughout the county to the group and its activities.

The price for the ski weekend is $45 and includes transportation, all meals, accommodations, skis and all extras.
Additional information may be obtained by phoning Karin Di Nicola at 882-1527 between 5:30 and 7 p.m.

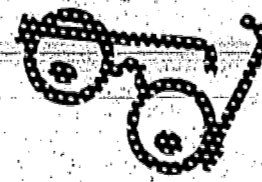

Artists will teach sculpture, painting

Three area artists will offer classes at the Artists and Craftsman Guild, 17 Eastman st., Cranford this season.

Teaching portraiture and life will be Hella Bailin of Union. Concentrated craft one-day workshops and glasscraft will be taught by Kay Weiner of Mountainside. Bernice Schachter of Linden will instruct students in sculpture in clay, stone and wood.

In addition to regular classes the Guild will offer an unusual series of six sessions called "art happenings" which will offer the student an opportunity to try three different art media with three different instructors. The media are glass fusing, pottery and block printing.

Calendar for winter sports announced by commissioner

A New Jersey sportsmen's calendar for early 1969 was announced this week by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Anglers and hunters are reminded to procure 1969 fishing and hunting licenses for use after January. These will enable them to pursue ice fishing and winter hunting, as well as the popular seasons later in the year. Detailed regulations are contained in 1968-69 Compendium of New Jersey Game Laws and the 1969 Compendium of Fish Laws, available free from license agents.

Dates are as follows:
 Open Now: Small game hunting (includes rabbit, pheasant, quail, squirrel, grouse, fox, chukar partridge - also woodchuck with shotgun or bow only).
 Duck hunting (Federal Stamp required).
 Brant and goose hunting (Federal Stamp required).
 Special sea duck hunting (scoter elder, old squaw on Atlantic Ocean only - Federal Stamp required).
 Raccoon hunting.
 Hunting on commercial preserves as licensed.
 Hunting on semi-wild preserves as licensed.
 Muskrat, mink and raccoon trapping (except State Wildlife Management areas).

Ice fishing on Greenwood Lake and Delaware River only (if frozen).

Fishing in fresh (unfrozen) waters for all species (except trout in Delaware River).
 Salt water fishing for all species.

Tuesday, Dec. 31, striped bass fishing closes at midnight (other species open).

Wednesday, Jan. 1, 1969 licenses required on and after this date. Ice fishing season opens. State Wildlife Management Areas open for muskrat and mink trapping - raccoon on tidal areas only.

Friday, Jan. 10, sea duck hunting closes at sunset.

Monday, Jan. 20, semi-wild pheasant preserves close 1/2 hours after sunset unless qualified for extended season.

Saturday, Feb. 1, small game hunting except fox closes 1/2 hour after sunset.

Sunday, Feb. 16, tip-up ice fishing closes at midnight (except Greenwood Lake and Delaware River) - single lines permitted hereafter while ice holds.

Friday, Feb. 28, remaining semi-wild preserves close 1/2 hours after sunset (commercial remain open).

Saturday, Mar. 1, striped bass fishing re-opens.

Sunday, Mar. 2, trout fishing and angling in most trout-stocked waters closes at midnight for re-stocking (see Compendium for exceptions).

Parkway offering free coffee again on New Year's Eve

The Garden State Parkway for the 12th New Year's holiday in a row will lift a cup of kindness and safety with its motorists come New Year's Eve and morning.

Coffee, tea or milk will again be given out free to all riders at Parkway restaurants between 11 p.m. on New Year's Eve and 11 a.m. the following morning in the effort to promote a pause for driving safety.

While invitations to stop and sip will again be issued from Parkway toll booths during the period, motorists need not have one in hand to get a safety drink on the house. Hosts will be the Howard Johnson and Holiday House restaurants at the Parkway's various service areas.

Chairman Sylvester C. Smith Jr. of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Parkway, urged all motorists on the road to avail themselves of the offer during the festive New Year's period in the interest of travel safety.

The invitation cards to be passed out by Parkway toll collectors will also call attention to the requirement that motorists keep right and pass left in driving on the road. But basically the message is intended to stress the "top ahead" at a Parkway restaurant for safety.

The Garden State Parkway first introduced the practice of inviting motorists to stop at its restaurants for free safety drinks during the holiday period Jan. 1, 1958.

Snow shovelers cautioned by AMA

As snow piles up, so do related problems. Among these every year is the collapse of a number of snow-shovelers.

If you are sure that you're physically fit, go ahead with the snow-shoveling task, the American Medical Association said this week. But if there is any doubt, AMA suggests: Get the job done some other way. Hire someone, or use power equipment.

It is much less expensive to employ these alternatives than to risk health impairment or death, AMA emphasizes.

Even if you are physically fit, AMA notes, it is safer to use a small shovel, filling it only partly. If possible, it also is better to push the snow rather than lift it.

By thus lightening the load, it's explained, it is not necessary to tense the diaphragm and abdominal muscles. There consequently is no significant increase in pressure within the chest cavity or increase in circulatory demand within the heart walls.

FREQUENTLY, AMA SAYS, the problem with snow-shoveling is aggravation of an existing heart condition. When such a condition exists, breathing cold air while under physical strain may cause a spasm of small arteries serving the heart.

This usually can be avoided, AMA advises, by wearing a cold weather mask or covering the face with several layers of a knit scarf.

This permits warming of inhaled air before it reaches the lungs.

Even for the physically fit, it's suggested, the motto should be: Easy does it. Especially when there is a lot of snow and a large area to be cleared, do the job in stages, resting periodically.

Finally, AMA cautions, falls also are a hazard for the snow-shoveler. Footwear that is not likely to slip on ice surfaces, and making sure of firm footing before moving snow are important.

Still plenty of waterfowl

New Jersey's coastal waterfowl population remains at a high level, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The latest aerial survey conducted by State Wildlife Biologists found an estimated 318,855 waterfowl on marshes along the Atlantic coast. Figures for the Delaware Bay transect were not available.

This was about 5,000 more than the previous flight conducted in this area on Nov. 25. It is 87,000 below the estimate of Dec. 10, 1967.

Nearly all the drop from last year is accounted for by brant, down 60,000 and scoters, down 24,000. Brant, which were at a peak of abundance last year, remain very plentiful with 121,500. The decrease in scoters is accounted for by less coverage of ocean areas by the survey. Although an extended hunting season prevails for scoters and other sea ducks, they are little sought by hunters because of their offshore location.

Football, birthdays headlist

New Year's Day in the past has been an important date aside from marking the earth's journey around the sun.

Two American patriots were born on the first day of January, although 17 years apart. Paul Revere was born on Jan. 1, 1735, and Betsy Ross, who, tradition says, designed the first American flag, was born in 1752.

William Lloyd Garrison published the first issue of "The Liberator" on New Year's Day, 1831, writing that "I will not equivocate; I will not excuse; I will not retreat a single inch; and I will be heard" on the issue of slavery.

His hopes for the freedom of the black man became the government's policy exactly 32 years later when President Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation.

The same day Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation Daniel Freeman, a soldier in the Northern Army, staked out a claim to a tract of land near Beatrice, Neb., to become the first person to get land under the Homestead Act.

Football, a traditional New Year's Day treat, remembers 1902 as the date of the first Rose Bowl in Pasadena Calif. The University of Michigan defeated Stanford, 49-0, in that first Rose Bowl.

Musical theater welcomed George M. Cohan on New Year's Day in 1906 when his "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" opened at the New Amsterdam Theatre in New York.

On the first day of January in 1925 the now classic Rose Bowl contest had the famous "Four Horsemen" of Notre play together for the last time as their alma mater defeated Stanford, 27-10. The most famous backfield combination of all time consisted of Harry Stuhldreher, Don Miller, James Crowley and Elmer Layden.

The same day John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, and Lucrezia Bori, Metropolitan Opera star, made their singing debuts over radio station WJAF in New York.

On New Year's Day, 1931, Adolf Hitler opened the "Brown House" in Munich, to serve as headquarters for followers of his National Socialist movement.

New Year's Day, 1938, is a date jazz fans might particularly remember. The "King of Swing," Benny Goodman, started an engagement in New York's Paramount Theatre. Long lines of people, mostly teenagers, formed outside the theater at 5 a.m. and by 7:30 a.m. the theater management put in a riot call to the Police Department. When the famous concert started about a quarter of those present started to dance in the aisles.

On Jan. 1, 1942, the United States and 25 Allied nations signed a declaration forming the nucleus of a United Nations.

Stevens chairman of Cancer Crusade

I. Roger Stevens Jr., vice-president and trust officer of the Fidelity Union Trust Co., Newark, has assumed the regional chairmanship of the 1969 April Cancer Crusade. He will be responsible for the combined fund-raising and educational campaign in Essex, Morris, Sussex, Union and Warren Counties.

Stevens is a past president of the Essex County Chapter and currently serves on its executive committee. He also is treasurer of the New Jersey Division.

Stevens is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School and Rutgers University's Graduate School of Banking. He is active in several other civic and professional organizations and serves on the board of directors of the New Jersey Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Art exhibit at Seton Hall

The Seton Hall University Art Gallery will inaugurate the new year with an exhibition of the paintings of Kurt Wehls on Sunday in the Student Center on the South Orange campus. Wehls was born in Vienna of a family of artists and performers.

Wehls has won many awards in the field of graphic design and his work has been widely reproduced in this country and abroad. He has participated in group shows at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, the Art Directors Club of New York and DRAWINGS/USA during 1968 at the St. Paul Art Center. Wehls has had one-man shows at the Lovisco Gallery and Gallery 1150 in New York City. He will display his work at the Philadelphia Art Alliance in March of 1969. The exhibition, which will continue through January 26, is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 2 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

Toy drive is big success

Underprivileged New Jersey children found their stockings filled this Christmas thanks to the efforts of 300 Marine Corps Reservists from Port Newark.

The 6th Motor Transport Battalion, largest Marine Corps Reserve unit in the state, has been collecting new and usable second hand toys for the last two months throughout northern New Jersey.

According to Lt. Col. Roger Dorian, commander of the unit, the toy drive has "once again received support from the entire northern New Jersey community."

"On behalf of the Marine Corps Reserve I wish to thank the news media, businesses, charitable organizations, and citizens who made possible the success of the 6th Motor Transport Battalion's 'Toys for Tots' Drive-1968."

Reform Democrats organize for convention on March 8

Union County will send 50 delegates to a statewide New Democratic Coalition convention on Mar. 8, according to a spokesman for the group which is now organizing in the area. David McGuire of Union, who is chairman of the group, said "The Coalition hopes that all different groups, from the individual town to county and statewide organizations, which desire to affect policy and the selection of candidates will join together."

A spokesman said the New Democratic Coalition is not a third party movement, "but an organization which wants to affect public policy through independent participation in the Democratic party."

"In particular," the spokesman added, "the NDC seeks greater popular participation in the political decision-making process, meaningful social and economic justice for all citizens, and an improved quality of government at all levels of public life. The group will support or offer Democratic candidates who endorse and apply these principles."

Previous to the March 8 state convention, a conference will be held with speakers and workshops open to all Coalition members. Several nationally prominent figures are expected to attend, the spokesman said.

The Union County Coalition is represented on the State Steering Committee by Father Elmer Sullivan of Roselle, Jon Plaut of Summit and John Harvard of Elizabeth. McGuire, John West of Plainfield and Mrs. Saul Harrison of Westfield represent Union County on the State Steering Committee.

Persons interested in the Coalition, said the spokesman, may obtain more information by contacting any of the following people: McGuire in Union; Larry Lerner in Springfield; Mel Cohen in Berkeley Heights; Mrs. Harrison in Westfield; John Worthington in Cranford; Michael Diamond in Clark; George Hulse in Scotch Plains; Jon Plaut in Summit; Rev. Joseph Garcia in Elizabeth; or Mrs. Nancy D'Amota in Plainfield.

Group for retarded to hear Beadleston

State Sen. Alfred N. Beadleston (R-Monmouth) will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children at 8:45 p.m., Jan. 9, at St. Luke's Episcopal parish hall, Walnut and Fourth streets, Roselle.

The legislator is the author of the Beadleston Act. The statute provides regulations governing special education classes in all public schools in New Jersey for children who are mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed or physically handicapped.

A former speaker of the State Assembly, Sen. Beadleston has been active in a wide gamut of legislative matters including: improving state facilities for the mentally ill, providing more stringent controls against air and water pollution, aid to local schools and community colleges, and protecting the consumer against fraud.

Bertram Schwartz, Unit president, will preside. Mrs. Mary Mosier is program chairman.

Police Academy will open Monday at Union College

The 23rd annual session of the Union County Police Training Academy will open Monday, at Union College with Police Chief Matthew T. Haney of the Cranford Police Department as the new dean and director.

The educational program for new police recruits has been increased from 220 hours to 315 hours of instruction and will continue for nine weeks to March 7. Chief Haney reports.

Instruction will be provided by members of Union County Police Departments, the FBI, the State Police, Sheriff's Office, County Prosecutor's Office, Seton Hall University, Union College and the New Jersey Division of Civil Rights.

The academy will provide instruction in police ethics, police organization, civil government, criminal law, judicial systems, firearms, defensive tactics, laws of evidence, arrest, search and seizure, duties of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, narcotics, handling complaints, gambling, patrol practices, community relations, headquarters' routine, immigration and naturalization, and juvenile control.

Also, noteworthy, report writing, first aid, handling emotionally disturbed persons, criminal investigation, accident investigation, motor vehicle laws, interrogation, court room demeanor, Municipal Court, Grand Jury, police observation, alcoholic beverage control, vice, prosecutor-police relationship, organized crime, riot control and sex crimes.

The academy, sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association, provides basic training for new policemen from Union County's 21 municipalities, the Union County Park Police, Union County Sheriff's Office and the Union County Prosecutor's Office.

Classes are limited to 30 students and applications from Police Departments outside of Union County will be accepted only when fewer than 30 Union County students have been enrolled, Chief Haney said.

A second session for 1969 will be conducted at Union College from May 19 to July 25.

THE IMPROVEMENT OF A PART OF BRANCH 9-1-7-1 OF WEST BROOK, LOCATED IN ROSELLE PARK, NEW JERSEY AND PROVIDING AN APPROPRIATION TO MEET THE COSTS THEREOF AND PROVIDING FOR THE BORROWING THEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Roselle Park, in the County of Union, as follows:

SECTION 1: The Borough of Roselle Park in the County of Union shall proceed with widening and widening of the existing brook known as Branch 9-1-7-1 of West Brook from the south side of Westfield Avenue to a point approximately 120 feet southerly therefrom and from the north side of Westfield Avenue to a point approximately 80 feet northerly therefrom including construction of driveway entrances, securing easements and/or rights of way agreements as may be required, and any other work pertinent to the completed project in accordance with the plans and specifications of said work prepared by the Borough Engineer of the Borough of Roselle Park and on file in the office of the Clerk of said Borough.

SECTION 2: The sum of Twenty-Four Thousand Dollars ($24,000.00) is hereby appropriated to meet the cost of making the said improvements. The sum so appropriated shall be met from the proceeds of the bonds, bond anticipation notes, and/or capital notes, and the down payment appropriated, by this ordinance, so part of the cost of said purpose shall be assessed against the property specially benefited.

SECTION 3: It is hereby determined and stated that (1) the making of such improvements (hereinafter referred to as "purpose") is in the current interest of said Borough, and (2) it is necessary to finance said purpose by the issuance of obligations of said Borough pursuant to the Local Bond Law of New Jersey, and (3) the estimated cost of said purpose is Twenty-Four Thousand Dollars ($24,000.00) and (4) Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200.00) of said purpose is to be provided by the down payment hereinafter appropriated to finance said purpose, and (5) the estimated maximum amount of the bonds or notes necessary to be issued for said purpose is Twenty-Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($22,800.00), and (6) the cost of such purpose, as hereinbefore stated, includes the aggregate amount of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) which is estimated to finance the cost of such purpose, including accounting, legal expenses, advertising, and other expenses, including interest on such obligations to the extent permitted by Section 40A:2-20 of the Local Bond Law.

SECTION 4: It is hereby determined and stated that moneys exceeding Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200.00) appropriated for down payments on capital improvements or for the capital improvement fund in budgets heretofore adopted for said Borough are now available to finance said purpose. The sum of Twelve Hundred Dollars ($1200.00) is hereby appropriated from such moneys to the payment of the cost of said purpose.

SECTION 5: To finance said purpose, bonds or capital notes of said Borough of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding Twenty-Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($22,800.00) are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law. Said bonds or capital notes shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. All matters with respect to said bonds or capital notes not determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

SECTION 6: To finance said purpose, bond anticipation notes of said Borough of an aggregate principal amount not exceeding Twenty-Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($22,800.00) are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to said Local Bond Law. Said bonds or capital notes shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. All matters with respect to said bonds or capital notes not determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

SECTION 7: It is hereby determined and declared that the period of usefulness of said purpose, according to its reasonable life, is a period of fifteen years computed from the date of said bonds.

SECTION 8: It is hereby determined and stated that the Supplemental Debt Statement required by said Local Bond Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Borough Clerk of said Borough, and that such statement so filed shows that the gross debt of said Borough as defined in 40A:2-43 of said Local Bond Law, is increased by this ordinance by Twenty-Two Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($22,800.00) and that the issuance of the bonds and notes authorized by this ordinance is permitted by the exceptions to the debt limitations contained in Section 40A:2-7 (f) of the Local Bond Law.

MRS. GARY L. STANTON

Surrogate to speak to Springfield ORT at meeting Jan. 9

The Springfield Chapter of Women's American OET (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) will hold a general meeting Thursday, Jan. 9, at 8:30 p.m. in Temple Beth Ahm, Temple way, Springfield. Mrs. Stanley Bell of 24 Archbridge lane, president, will conduct the business meeting and discuss the various projects and events on the agenda for the 1968-1969 calendar.

Mrs. Robert Weltchek of 14 Mohawk dr., program chairman, has announced that the guest speaker will be Mary C. Kanane, surrogate of Union County. Miss Kanane is the first woman ever to be elected surrogate of Union County. She has served in this office for many years and, prior to her election as surrogate, served for two terms on the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

She was born in Union County and has lived here all her life. Miss Kanane, who is active in religious, civic and political organizations, is the author of a travel book, entitled "Come Along with Me," and her name is listed in "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who of American Women" and "Who's Who of Women in the East."

The surrogate is a constitutional officer, and is responsible under the law for admitting wills to probate, granting letters of administration where there is no will, granting letters of guardianship for minors and issuing letters of testamentary trusteeship.

Miss Kanane will speak on the importance of making a will and the functions of her office. All members and friends of the Springfield Chapter of ORT have been invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Marilyn Brownlie married Saturday to Charles S. Roll

Miss Marilyn Rita Brownlie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brownlie of 98 Kew dr., Springfield, was married Saturday afternoon to Charles S. Roll Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roll Sr. of Berkeley Heights.

The Rev. David Connor, chaplain at Cornell University, and the Rev. Frederick Musson, uncle of the groom, of Gallatin, N.Y., officiated at the ceremony in Sage Chapel, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. A reception followed at the Sheraton Inn in Ithaca.

Hope Ansgard of New Orleans served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Ferth of Springfield and Mrs. George Bauer of Parsippany.

Thomas Roll of Berkeley Heights served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Thomas and Keith Brownlie of Springfield, brothers of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Roll are both graduates of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and Cornell University. Mrs. Roll plans to teach home economics. Roll will report for duty in the U.S. Navy Jan. 6.

Hadassah chapter to meet Monday

Mrs. Mac Perlman, president of Westfield-Mountain Side Chapter of Hadassah, has announced that the January meeting of the chapter will be held Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Berger, 2046 Arrowhead dr., Scotch Plains. Mrs. Sol Schwartzman is to be co-hostess for the meeting.

Dr. Jacob Day, lecturer and Biblical scholar, will discuss "1969—What Lies Ahead for the Jewish People." Dr. Day will utilize a Biblical and historical approach to his analysis of the current scene.

A musical parody on Hadassah art shows, written by Mrs. Arthur Sommerfeld, will be performed by Mrs. Berger and Mrs. S. R. Goodson. The skit will serve as a prelude for presentation of plans for the 11th annual art show and sale to be held April 19-22 at Temple Emanu-El in Westfield.

Guests are welcome to attend the meeting if they call Mrs. Gilbert Silver of 3 Kent pl., chairman of membership, a chapter spokesman said.

Meetings planned by church circles

Circles of the Woman's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Westfield will meet on Thursday, Jan. 9, according to the following schedule:

Circle 1, Mrs. Harold Skill, leader, at 1 p.m. at 45 Moss ave. Hostesses: Mrs. Ralph Howells. Circle 2, Mrs. Fred W. Molland, leader, at 1 p.m. at the home of Miss Grace Thompson, 264 Prospect st. Circle 3, Mrs. James Gormly, leader, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas P. May, 58-C-2 Sandra circle. Circle 4, Mrs. Herbert Rohrabugh, leader, at 10 a.m. at the church. This will be a work meeting; members have been asked to bring a sandwich.

Circle 5, Mrs. Charleston H. F. Smith, leader, will meet at 5:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Theodore Balling, 909 Harding st. and go in a group to the Newark Baptist Home, 285 Roseville ave. Following the visit, the group will return to Harding street for refreshments.

Member of wedding

The name of one member of the wedding party was omitted from the article which appeared last week on the marriage of Miss Lois B. Halper of Springfield to Barry A. Taback of Irvington. She was Mrs. Gerald A. Halper, sister-in-law of the bride, who served as a bridesmaid.

MY BROTHER, THE HIPPIE—says Peter Sellers, left, who plays the lawyer who wants to be a hippie, too, in "I Love You, Alice B. Toklas", new adult film comedy, which begins its second week at the newly-renovated Union Theater in Union Center and the Ormont Theater in East Orange.

Paper Mill schedules production by Guthrie

Following the current run of "I Do I Do!" at Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, the next attraction, commencing Jan. 14, will be Tyrone Guthrie's production of "Lamp At Midnight." The drama by Barrie Stavis depicts the of Galileo Galilei, the 17th century scientist, whose discoveries altered man's concept of earth and outer space. Morris Carnovsky will star as Galileo, supported by an array of Broadway performers, and "Lamp At Midnight" will embark on a nationwide tour, following its limited, two-week engagement at Paper Mill, Jan. 14 through 26.

"Lion in Winter" proves to be a roaring success

By BEA SMITH "The Lion in Winter," the very special film at the Millburn Cinema, where it is being shown as a first-run New Jersey presentation, seems to be very popular with the movie patrons there. Viewers are flocking to the theater to see Peter O'Toole play King Henry II, King of England and Katharine Hepburn as Eleanor of Aquitaine, his wife; crowds are purchasing advance tickets and the telephones are ringing incessantly for reservations and information about reservations.

There is no question in this reviewer's mind that the few theaters around the country showing "The Lion in Winter" are enjoying the same big business, and no doubt that the Joseph E. Levine production will bring in an array of Oscars.

The picture is a remarkable achievement in production, direction, writing and acting, not to mention the magnificent color photography and the hauntingly beautiful musical background.

Derived from James Goldman's Broadway play (Goldman adapted the screenplay, too), "The Lion in Winter" is set on Christmas day, 1183, and a viewer gets a generous glimpse of the primitive and crude life in Chinon Castle, the conniving, the hatreds, the loves and the personal jealousies surrounding the king, his queen, and their three unloved and emotionally inadequate sons, Prince Richard the Lionhearted, Prince Geoffrey and Prince John.

THE PERSONALITY CLASHES, the bitterness, the sardonic quarrels, and the indomitable fury for power, are the basis for this film, and they make such an earth-shaking impression on the viewer, that one staggers out of the theater, with the embattled words still ringing in one's ears.

It all begins with the king's desire to name his successor, John, but the queen has other ideas. She'd rather have her favorite son, Richard, become the next king. Both the king's and the queen's political ambitions are thwarted by a series of events that ends in tragedy and defeat for all. O'Toole and Miss Hepburn clash beautifully; their deliverance of insults and remarks are superbly timed, and they have excellent support from Jane Marrow (as Princess Alais, the king's mistress); Tim Dalton as King Philip of France; and the three princes, John Castle, Anthony Hopkins and Nigel Terry. Anthony Harvey does a magnificent job of directing "The Lion in Winter," and Oscar-winner, John Barry composed and conducted the music for this motion picture. The film and its crew are sure winners. A viewer has to go on... to find so challenging a movie.

A corking good party could be dangerous one

Planning on giving a party? Attending one? Noting that champagne sales increase 10-20 times normal in preparation for New Year's celebrations, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness again adds a different note to the usual warnings about "vision impairment" with drinking. "A flying champagne cork can pop with the impact of a mace blast," warns Dr. John W. Ferree, executive director of the Society. "We have received many reports during the past year of serious eye injuries, and a number of eye removals necessitated by such injuries, caused by flying champagne corks." Since champagne sales have soared in our affluent society to 1 1/4 billion bottles a year, "We can expect increasing injuries of this sort," says Dr. Ferree, "unless the public is made aware of the danger and how to avoid injury. A report in a British medical journal last year documented nine cases of champagne-cork eye injuries, and noted that four of those injured were experienced champagne handlers -- waiters and waitresses. The report stated that the cork can reach the eye from two feet away in less than .05 of a second -- faster than the blink reflex. Qualified to speak on all aspects of the problem is Dr. Herbert Gould of New York City. As an ophthalmologist, he is concerned about the eye injuries, has seen two such cases in his own practice, and says we must "respect the power of the cork." SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES ARE NEEDED IN IRVINGTON BY NEW JERSEY BELL

To be a Service Representative for the Telephone Company, it's not enough to simply enjoy talking with people, because handling contacts with our customers intelligently and tactfully is only part of the picture. There's paper work too, such as preparing forms, noting records, maintaining files, and collecting and posting payments.

The Service Representative job requires good judgement in initiative and resourcefulness - but aren't these always in graduates to challenging work?

A Service Representative starts at $86 per week (more for college credits or related prior business experience) and, through a system of frequent increases, she can reach $177 per week under present rate schedules.

If you are interested in this job in Irvington, call and be interviewed any day between January 6 and January 10

TURNTABLE TREATS (good listening) - GIRL WATCHER: By The O'Kaysions. This is the same group that was recently awarded a gold record commemorating the sale of one million copies for their hit single "Girl Watcher," which is included in this LP. Numbers include: "Little Miss Filtr", "Sunday Will Never Be The Same", "Love Machine", "My Baby's Love", "My Song" (Poor Man's Son), "How Are You Fixed For Love?", "Dedicated To The One I Love", "The Soul Clap" and "Deal Me In." (ABC RECORDS - 664)....Also on the ABC RECORDS label, TAKE ME BACK TO LAINE COUNTRY (657), by Frankie Laine. Vocalists may come and go, but Frankie is still pleasing both young and old with his unique "voice styling." Frankie welcomes you to LAINE COUNTRY with an even-dozen of vocal zoodles "Take Me Back", "Honey", "Cold Cold Heart", "Gentle On My Mind", "Please Forgive Me", "The Wayward Wind", "By The Time I Get To Phoenix", "What A Wonderful World", "Little Green Apples", "Silver Kisses & Golden Love", "Where Does Love Go?" and "Pretty Little Princesses"....

WES MONTGOMERY - MARCH 6, 1925-JUNE 15, 1968. This LP by the late Mr. Montgomery again demonstrates so many reasons why he has been called one of the greatest guitar players in the history of jazz. Numbers include: "Jingles", "Satin Doll", "While We're Young", "Cotton Tail", "Groove Yard", "I'm Just A Lucky So & So", "Body & Soul", "Remember" and "Sandu." Add this one to your collection of "greats". (RIVERSIDE RS-3036)....
On the MERCURY label, a lively one - DON

COSTA'S INSTRUMENTAL VERSIONS OF SIMON & GARFUNKEL (SR 61177), included in the LP, are ten of the many numbers made popular by the Messers S&G. Of course, there's "Mrs. Robinson", "Scarborough Fair", "Canticle", "Homeward Bound", "Feelin' Groovy", "At The Zoo", "The Sound Of Silence", "Cloudy", "I Am A Rock", "Punky's Dilemma" and "A Hazy Shade Of Winter"....Be sure to hear these on your next record shopping trip.

TO ALL OF OUR READERS, A VERY HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON....

Farmers lose work

Farm workers lose more time from work due to injury and illness than any other group, reports the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Farmers lose an average of 7.6 days per person per year compared with the national average of 5.8 days. Workers in finance, insurance, and real estate are at the low end of the scale with an average of only 4.9 lost days per year.

Civil rights agency suggests books

Lists topics from grape strike to Black Power

The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights has released a reading list of recent books dealing with all phases of equal rights.

Among volumes listed is John Hersey's "The Algiers Motel Incident." In it, Hersey reconstructs the events at the motel in which three Negro men were killed during the Detroit riot of 1967 which subsequently led to the indictment of three police officers. The book discloses a number of generally unknown facts.

"The American Negro Revolution," by Benjamin Muse, is a comprehensive account by the former Virginia State Senator, author of many magazine articles, of the period between 1963 and 1967 during which the civil rights movement experienced a wide range of events, from the nonviolent efforts of 1963 and 1964 to the nationwide rioting of 1967.

Nathan Wright Jr.'s "Black Power and Urban Unrest: Creative Possibilities" deals with the author's belief that the thrust of Black Power is not destructive, but a thrust towards freeing the latent power of the Negro to enrich the life of the nation.

"Delano," by John G. Dunne, narrates the story of the ongoing grape strike of San Joaquin Valley farm workers, mostly Mexican Americans, against the large grape growers of the region.

The authors of "The Disadvantaged: Challenge to Education," Mario D. Fantini and Gerald Weinstein, are greatly concerned not only about the education of the disadvantaged who belong to the impoverished, racial or ethnic minority groups, but also about the middle class suburbanite students who are leaving school unknowingly shorthanded in their preparation to face today's society.

Phillip T. Drotning's "A Guide to Negro History" presents, state by state, the role of the Negro in America's progress by associating each event with a specific history site.

Henry A. Bulluck presents the historical development of educational opportunities of southern Negroes from slavery to the present in "A History of Negro Education in the South." The book includes the philanthropic endeavors of Northerners to educate the freedman, and how the "separate but equal" educational system was perpetuated.

An important contribution to the telling of the early history of the beginning of Negro history and civil rights movement is the first volume of "NAACP: A History of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 1909-1920" by Charles F. Kellog.

Whitney M. Young's "To Be Equal" confronts the reader with the many injustices of race relations in America and points out that although progress has been made we are far from our creed of equal opportunity and justice for all.

COLOR ME HOLIDAY GREEN -- Research on the development of the Christmas tree of the future finds Richard F. West, Rutgers forester, comparing needle color of a Scotch pine with a standard color chart. Included in the test at five sites around the state are Scotch pines from the United States, Greece, Spain, Turkey and Scotland, as well as other species.

Rutgers testing trees to find better bushes for Christmas

The Christmas tree of the future may be one of 16 species and varieties now growing at five Rutgers test plantations around the state.

The experimental plantings, conducted by the Department of Horticulture and Forestry of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, involves 6,100 trees -- all 2-year seedlings from locations around the world.

"Basically, we are trying to see how various trees, some of which are untested in New Jersey, will perform on a commercial basis," said Richard F. West, head of the forestry section at Rutgers.

"In recent years," he noted, "the Scotch pine has become the most popular Christmas tree. It has many strong points, especially retention of needles and attractive appearance. But Scotch pine can show great variations in form and growth," Dr. West said, "So we are testing five varieties -- from the United States, Greece, Scotland, Spain and Turkey -- to see which does best."

Other species in the test plantations are Douglas fir, Fraser fir and white fir; blue spruce, and Himalayan and Mexican Border pine. Fraser fir is common in the western United States and Mexican Border pine in the Southwest, but both are untested in the East. Himalayan pine does not grow in this country at present.

Experimental plantations (each with 1,220 trees) are located in New Brunswick and at Rutgers research centers in Sussex, Cream Ridge and Centerton. A fifth plantation is near Hopewell on the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association research farm.

Trainee numbers rise

The number of nonwhites enrolled in classroom-type job skill training rose to 49 percent of the total in fiscal 1968 compared with 41 percent the previous year, the Labor Department reports.

Pigeons get attention at Rutgers

Rutgers University is planning an institute for pigeon fanciers on Jan. 9.

According to a spokesman at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, this first event of its kind recognizes the fact that pigeons are big business in New Jersey.

Owners of racing birds, for example, are said to have as many as 500,000 birds in the air in the Northeast on some weekends. Others raise birds for show purposes and some specialize in selling squabs--baby pigeons -- to exclusive restaurants.

The institute is an attempt to meet the needs of these people and inform them of poultry research, according to David C. Tudor, a specialist in poultry diseases at the college.

"We have a constant stream of pigeon fanciers in and out of our laboratories," Dr. Tudor said. "If the birds are sick or poorly fed, they don't look or race well."

He will speak on salmonella, a serious disease that can be communicated to humans.

Show and racing birds and their problems will be the topic of Leroy Bennett of the poultry disease control division of the State Department of Agriculture. Others will discuss parasite control, sanitation and proper feeding.

The fee for the institute is $6. Further information is available from Roger R. Locandro, Rutgers College of Agriculture, New Brunswick 08903.

N.J. employment rises 1.2 per cent over previous year

The New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry estimates nonagricultural payroll employment in New Jersey at mid-November to be 2,471,200, approximately 5,400 above the October level. This gain was due largely to the increase in the number of workers employed in wholesale and retail trade. Non-agricultural jobholding was up 30,200, or 1.2 percent from the November 1967 level. The department's estimates, which are based on a monthly survey of employers, exclude farm, domestic, and self-employed workers.

The number of workers employed in manufacturing dropped to an estimated 866,100, about 1,400 below the October figure. A slight increase in the number of workers employed in the manufacturing of durable items was offset by a decline of approximately 2,600 in non-durables. A strike-related decline in the paper industry, some phase out operations in textiles, and seasonal layoffs in food processing contributed to the decline.

Nonmanufacturing employment was estimated to be 1,605,100, up about 6,800 from October. Seasonal hiring in most lines of retail trade raised employment in that industry by about 7,300. This increase more than offset seasonal layoffs in construction and at eating and drinking places. Also contributing to the nonmanufacturing employment increase was a 3,400 increase in the number of people employed in government, largely reflecting hiring by schools and post offices.

Average weekly earnings of factory production workers were at an estimated $1.31 in mid-November, an increase of $1 over mid-October and a record high. Average weekly hours decreased slightly (41.3 to 41.2), while average hourly earnings increased three cents to $3.17. Compared to a year ago, hourly earnings were up 20 cents, or 6.7 percent. The greatest change in average weekly earnings between October and November took place in transportation equipment where a large amount of overtime and an increase of four cents in average hourly rates pushed weekly earnings up $23 to $206.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 14 years old and I like this boy very much. I have liked him for a year now. He won't come and talk to me unless other boys force him to. If I speak, he will. He stares at me all the time and, when someone says my name he turns around right then. He has told everyone he likes me, but tells them he is too shy to admit it to me. What can I do to get him to like me better and also to talk to me. He is a very shy boy. Please help me."

OUR REPLY: "If he tells everyone that he likes you, it is obvious that he likes you enough. Liking you any more than he does will not cause him to be no longer shy. The best advice we can give to you is to be friendly, and be patient. Let it be known that you like him, if you haven't already done so. It's simple. Just tell your friends. They'll pass the word. Don't crowd him too much. Ask the other boys to let him speak for himself. If he gets too much pressure, he might decide he isn't ready to like anybody yet. If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY."

Open rolls for interns in community service

The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs announced this week it will begin accepting applications from undergraduate and graduate students for next summer's Interns in Community Service program.

The application deadline is April 5.

The program employs qualified college and graduate students in full-time summer jobs in municipal, county and state governments, in anti-poverty and Model Cities programs and in some public-oriented private agencies. This year's program, the third since it was formed in the summer of 1967, will run 10 weeks from June 23 through Aug. 29.

It seeks to involve students in challenging public jobs in an attempt to attract them, eventually, to government careers. They are placed in jobs of all kinds, ranging from administrative aides to mayors to research assistants in state agencies to community workers.

Students regularly enrolled as undergraduates or graduates at accredited colleges or universities are eligible to apply. In general, applicants must demonstrate a balance of high academic achievement and evidence of interest or involvement in community or public affairs.

"There are no age, sex or marital status restrictions. About 150 interns took part in the program last summer. I would urge any college students who are interested in government or who are specifically pursuing an area of studies related to other phases of community affairs to apply," said John W. Gleason, director of the Office of Community Services, which administers

Workshop scheduled

The co-authors of a new book on movement education will conduct a Movement Workshop at Panzer School, Montclair State College, on Saturday, Jan. 18. They are Dr. Margaret C. Brown and Mrs. Betty K. Sommer, whose book, "Movement Education--Its Evolution and One Modern Approach," is being published in the spring by Addison-Wesley.

Dr. Brown will introduce the workshop and comment on various aspects of it.

A member of the Panzer School faculty at Montclair, Mrs. Sommer is a specialist in movement education and eurythmics.

At the workshop Mrs. Sommer will present master lessons in movement and rhythm, working with children, teenagers and adults. Her presentation will include methods and materials for relaxation, flexibility, strength, dexterity, use of objects, partner work, and movement improvisation with percussion instruments.

The workshop will be held in Panzer Gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The fee is $1, and it is open to all who are interested. Those attending will be given an opportunity to participate and are asked to dress accordingly.

Miss Jeanne Moen is married Saturday in Springfield church

Miss Jeanne Moen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hendrik Moen of 26 Shumpke rd., Springfield, was married Saturday afternoon to George William Wolfe III, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wolfe Jr. of Pottstown, Pa.

The Rev. James Dewart officiated at the 5 p.m. ceremony in Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church. A reception followed at Wieland's Steak House, Mount Airy.

Mrs. Nancy Michenfelder of Berkeley Heights served as matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Marla Kretzer and Joanne Royal, both of Springfield; Judith Carpenter of Lutherville, Md., and Elizabeth Bear of Bridgeton.

Richard Pearson of Doylestown, Pa. served as best man. Ushers were James Wolfe of Pottstown, Pa., brother of the groom; Dennis Condon of Springfield, cousin of the bride; Robert Burnett of West Orange and John Langton of Norristown, Pa.

Mrs. Wolfe, who was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, is a sophomore at Albright College, Reading, Pa.

Her husband, who was graduated from Owen J. Roberts High School, Pottstown, Pa., is a senior at Albright College, where he is majoring in biology.

Following a wedding trip to the Poconos, the couple will reside in Reading, Pa.

George J. Franks mark anniversary on Hawaiian tour

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Frank of 52 North 12th st., Kenilworth recently returned from a two-week tour of the Hawaiian Islands. The couple visited the Islands during the celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Franks (she is the former Edythe Hansen of Jersey City) were wed in Jersey City at the home of Mrs. Frank's parents in an Episcopal ceremony performed by the Rev. Alfred R. McWilliams, former rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Jersey City.

The Franks have four children. They are George, 21, who is married to the former Louise C. Kilroy of California and lives in Roselle, is a chemical engineer with Monsanto in Kenilworth; Laurie, 19, is a sophomore at Newark State College, majoring in art, and lives in Elizabeth; Sue, 18, is a 1968 graduate of David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, and is an office clerk with Adams Industries, Union; and Donna, 16, is a junior at David Brearley Regional High School and is preparing for a student trip to France in 1969.

Mr. Frank is a steamfitter and is part owner of Air-Molded Products Corp. in Linden. He was recently elected to his second term as a vestryman at Trinity Episcopal Church, Cranford, and is a member of the Kenilworth Planning Board.

Mrs. Frank is an advisor to the Kenilworth Senior Girl Scout Troop and has been a Girl Scout Leader for 11 years.

MISS RITA T. GROSSO

Miss Rita Grosso plans date in July

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Grosso of 2272 Morrison ave., Union, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rita Therese, to Joseph Byron Sheare, son of Mrs. Joseph Cipriano of Hillside and John Byron Sheare of Newark. He is the step-son of Mr. Joseph Cipriano of Hillside.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from Our Lady of the Valley High School, Orange, and Newark State College, is a member of Sigma Beta Chi sorority and a member of the Clio Junior Women's Club of Roselle-Roselle Park. She is a teacher in the Rogelle Park school system.

Her fiance, who was graduated from Hillside High School and cum laude from Newark State College, was a member of Kappa Delta Pi national honorary society, Sigma Theta Chi fraternity, and the recipient of a federal traineeship in special education. He is presently teaching an educable class at Millburn Junior High School and is attending graduate school at Newark State College. He is director of the Young Adult Personal Improvement Group for the Handicapped at Newark State College.

A July 26 wedding is planned.

LINDA ANN McCAFFERTY

Edward Stachelin to wed next year

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCafferty of Iselin have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Ann, to Edward Francis Stachelin, son of Mrs. Frank E. Stachelin of 244 Burroughs ter., Union, and the late Mr. Frank Stachelin. The announcement was made at a party Christmas day at Oak Hill Manor in Metuchen.

The bride-elect, who was graduated from John F. Kennedy High School, Iselin, and Berkeley Secretarial School, is employed as a secretary at General Cable in Perth Amboy.

Her fiance, who was graduated from Union High School, is employed by Union County Park Commission.

An April, 1970 wedding is planned.

St. James Society to meet on Monday

The St. James Rosary Altar Society of Springfield will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, in the school hall following Novena devotions.

On the agenda for discussion will be the annual spring luncheon under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Benkus.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Edward Swierzbinski. Formerly of St. James' parish, Father Swierzbinski is now with Alexian Brothers Hospital in Elizabeth.

Potting poinsettias

Poinsettias grow healthier foliage and flowers in red clay pots. They cannot be easily over-watered in porous clay containers which give poinsettias proper drainage, and last long qualities of the traditional holiday gift plant.

CLOTHES CARE COMMENTS

by SAM MANN
(Diamond Cleaners)

NEW YEAR

What a wonderful time of the year... and what a wonderful opportunity to wish our friends a "Happy New Year" in a year filled with health, prosperity and peace throughout the world!

Of course, we made a lot of New Year's resolutions and one of them is to get to know you better, and to help you solve your clothes care problems.

"Clothes Care Comments" appears in this paper once a week... discussing new fabrics, answering your most frequent questions, or suggesting special care to give you the longest possible wear from a favorite dress or suit. Throughout the year, we try to cover everything from buying tips and daily care to cleaning and storage suggestions.

We hope you will enjoy the column and that you will find it a helpful service. And may we remind you, DIAMOND CLEANERS offers the service that goes hand-in-hand with good home care for everything from sportswear to the most fragile frock.
