STRIKING THE RIGHT NOTE -- Mayor Frederick J. Wilhelms buys his ticket for the "Music for a Sunday Afternoon" concert to be held by the Mountainside Music Association March 30 at the Deerfield School from Dr. Edward Noe, ticket chairman. Looking on is Mrs.

Thomas Spina, chairman for the concert, which will feature the Virginia State College Symphonic Band and the Atlantic Jazz Quintet. Tickets are available from any MMA member or at the Bayberry Gift Shop.

Board appoints chairman for Deerfield departments

The Board of Education Tuesday night named science and mathematics academic department heads for the Deerfield Middle School. They are Alton W. Collins, who assumes the post of acting chairman of the science department, and Oliver O. Deane Jr., who becomes chairman of the math department.

In January, Mrs. Gloria Wachsman was named acting chairman of the Deerfield Middle School English department.

At the outset of the school year, Mrs. Joy McCobb was named chairman of the social studies department.

Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, said that the appointments of Collins and Deane were "further steps for better curriculum coordination in the middle school" and for "curriculum improvement and alterations in courses to stay up with what's going on around us."

Also approved by the board at Dr. Hanigan's request was a revision in the class piano instruction policy. The revision empowers school officials to remove students from class piano instruction on the basis of unsatisfactory achievement or if the student cannot afford to miss his regularly assigned classroom work.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board approved the dates and tuition rates of summer school. The dates are June 7 to July 31, with July 4 a holiday. Tuition for borough residents, whether they attended public school here during the school year or not, will be $15 per course. Tuition for nonresidents will be $30.

Dr. Hanigan said that half the courses would be for strengthening reading and math skills and the rest would be "enrichment" courses, such as typing, shop, outdoor science, children's literature, piano instruction and instrumental music. Dr. Hanigan invited parents with ideas for other enrichment classes to submit them to him.

Marianne Beckers of the local school staff has been assigned to act as coordinator of the program for multiple handicapped children at the Children's Specialized Hospital. She will also devote some time as a social worker in the borough public schools.

The resignation of Frederick Hansen effective June 30, 1969 was accepted, and Mrs. Marilyn AST was added to the list of substitute teachers.

ALSO AT THE MEETING, Dr. Hanigan urged borough residents to keep abreast of school and education legislation going before the state governing body. Some of the bills he said, threatened to take control away from the local level.

Among the particular pieces of legislation, Dr. Hanigan pointed out are a bill which would place control of teachers' salaries in the hands of municipal authorities instead of school boards, one which would give the state power to observe and evaluate teachers and another which would usurp local control governing teachers' sabbatical leaves. Once these pieces of legislation are studied, Dr. Hanigan urged, residents should contact their local representatives to the state legislature and

Beechwood School pupils' art now on display at library

Currently on display in the meeting room at the Mountainside Public Library is an exhibit of art work done by the pupils at the Beechwood School under the direction of art teacher George Christy. "As there are approximately 400 students enrolled at Beechwood, not every child's work can be shown in this exhibit, but every grade is represented in the random sampling," Christy pointed out. There are chalk rubbings done by kindergartners and stencil designs by first graders. Story book characters modeled in clay by second grade pupils are on display in one of the glass cases in the main library. Third grade art work is represented by still life collages, while the fourth grade has on display some landscapes done in water colors and India ink. The fifth graders' contributions to the Beechwood exhibit are string designs and tissue paper paintings.

One may visit the current show until March 24. It will be followed by a two-week exhibit of work done by the students of Mrs. Judith Worsham, art teacher in the middle school at Deerfield. The final display of art done in the Mountainside schools will be that of the students at Echobrook School and in the lower school at Deerfield, who are under the direction of Mrs. Lois Raddling.

Swim Association slates family dinner next month

The Mountainside Swim Association held its final swim meet, losing to Fort Monmouth Sunday, after being snowed out twice. The meet was held at the Fort Monmouth pool. There will be a family dinner Tuesday, April 15, at 6:30 p.m. at Keller's, 538 Springfield ave., Berkeley Heights. Tickets can be obtained from officers of the club. Awards will be presented to members.

Practice will continue through June, but there are no more meets scheduled. Plans for a league championship meet are not definite at this time.

A trophy in a New Jersey AAU championship competition was won by Christine Picot Sunday in the 8-and-under breaststroke.

Cary Levitt took a second place in the New Jersey YMCA sectionals in the freestyle relay and a second in the Central Atlantic Area AAU meet in a freestyle relay. Cary will compete in the Central Atlantic Area finals in April at the University of Maryland.

Lourdes loses in county play

The Our Lady of Lourdes CYO basketball team was knocked from its undefeated status and out of the county CYO basketball tournament Friday night by St. Michael's of Cranford. The score was 52-39.

The local team kept up with St. Michael's until the last two minutes of the game, when the Cranford five put the contest out of reach. St. Michael's outscored Our Lady of Lourdes in the fourth quarter, 21-11.

Pacing Our Lady of Lourdes was Bob Munch with 15 points. Mac Ramsey had 14 points; Ken Koszowski, seven, and William Dermody, three.

Our Lady of Lourdes finished the season with an 8-1 record, going undefeated in its Suburban Division. Lewis Stanton Jr. was the coach.

3 at Deerfield join regional orchestra

Three students at Deerfield Middle School, Mountainside have been chosen to perform with the Central Jersey Orchestra and Band, it was announced by Charles Guinta, instrumental music teacher at the school.

Catherine Lombard, an eighth grade student, will play in the first string section; William Harris, also an eighth grader, will play first cello. Walter Mazur, a sixth grader, will play second clarinet in the band.

Devlin addresses new literary group

The newly-formed Literary Discussion Group met recently in the meeting room of the Mountainside Public Library. Harry Devlin, local illustrator and author, spoke on art and literature, detailing the birth of several of his paintings.

Mrs. Charles Shomo, library representative, reported that the group will read the biography "Nicolas and Alexandra," by R. K. Massie. The book will be discussed at a meeting March 31.

Telephone chairman for the group is Mrs. Allan Lesslauer, 232-0341. The group meets at 8 p.m. the last Monday of each month through May at the library.

275 at banquet of Girl Scouts

The Mountainside Girl Scout father-daughter banquet was held Tuesday evening at the Cranwood in Garwood. Approximately 275 fathers, Junior, Cadette and Senior Scouts assembled for dinner and a program based on the foundation elements of Girl Scouting. Table settings by each troop, carrying out the theme, featured service, troop management, citizenship, international friendship, health and safety, as well as activities in the arts, home, and out-of-doors.

Members of Junior Troop 599 conducted the opening flag ceremony, and Junior Troop 695 retired the colors. A skit based on the Girl Scout promise and laws was presented by Junior Troops 195 and 499. The Senior Girl Scouts who have obtained their first class awards were recognized for their achievement, and the seniors led the singing at the close of the evening.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by the Mountainside community service team under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Alessi. Susan Derbyshire of Washington Rock Girl Scout Council was introduced as Mountainside's new council representative.

Regional High music groups to march in St. Pat parades

The month of March will see the many organizations of the instrumental music department of Gov. Livingston Regional High School performing in a number of locations.

On Sunday, the Highlander Girl Pipers and Dancers will march in the annual Saint Patrick's Day parade in Newark. The band will appear under the direction of pipe major Barbara Bartlett of Berkeley Heights and drum major Joanne Perrin of Mountainside. The Newark parade steps off at 2 p.m.

Recently this same group entertained the district sales organization of the American Can Company at the Hotel St. Regis, New York City. The presentation was arranged by Donald Goff of Mountainside, manager, creative design, whose daughter, Susan, is a band piper. The girls were accompanied by their instructors, Forrest Bartlett, Gov. Livingston Band director; Robert Harrison of Murray Hill, piper; Frank Mulreany of Mountainside, drumming; and James McCallum of Chatham, dancing.

On Monday afternoon, the Highlander Bands -- 181 strong -- will participate in the Saint Patrick's Day parade in New York City. The pipes, drums and dancers will head the march up Fifth Avenue accompanying the contingent from the "Fighting 69th" Regiment. They will be preceded by the banner bearers and followed by the color guard, commanded by captain Karen Larkey of Mountainside. Next in the line of march will be the twirling squad directed by head majorette Peggy Ranzau of Mountainside and captain Linda Canulette of Berkeley Heights.

The Highlander cheerleaders, headed by co-captains Beverly Braun and Martha Hoe, both of Berkeley Heights, will take up their positions ahead of the 116-piece Highlander Marching Band led by drum majors Wayne Carver of Berkeley Heights and Eric DeVos of Mountainside, Bartlett and assistant band director Howard Kohn will be in charge of the Gov. Livingston groups.

In connection with the Highlander Dancers' activities, six straight-bladed swords are urgently needed, Bartlett said. He asked anyone in a position to lend the group a sword to contact his office at the high school, 464-3100.

COLLEGIATE CHORISTER -- The Ohio State University Men's Glee Club will appear in concert sponsored by the vocal music department at Gov. Livingston Regional High School next Thursday March 20, at 8:30 in the high school auditorium, according to Albert Dorhout, vocal music director. In its second appearance in this area, the group will be directed by Norman Staiger, professor of voice, Sandra Jo Helbert is the group's accompanist. Gary Spivey, a 1964 graduate of Gov. Livingston, is the tour manager. He was a member of the Chorale and played the lead in "South Pacific" before going to Ohio State where he has been a member of the Glee Club since his freshman year. Tickets may be obtained in advance by contacting the school or a member of the Chorale and at the door on the evening of the performance.

Diagnostic study for handicapped of pre-school age

A diagnostic program for pre-school handicapped children has been established by the Union County Child Study Team. The free program is funded by Title VI ESEA.

Spokesmen said the program will diagnose specific difficulties which may hamper the children's achievement in school.

"Children will be placed in a classroom setting for a period of three weeks," they said. "They will attend for a half day and be seen in small groups. The youngsters will be given work by a certified classroom teacher which will be designed to pinpoint areas of strength and weakness as they relate to school learning.

"Specialists such as audiologists, learning disability consultants, pediatricians, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, and speech therapists will be called in as needed to help in the evaluation. Transportation will

Plan registration for kindergarten

The Mountainside PTA summer roundup for the 1969-70 kindergarten registration will take place in Deerfield Elementary and Beechwood schools next Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. On Monday, registration will take place at Deerfield Elementary and on Tuesday, at Beechwood school.

Parents may register their children at either school, whichever is more convenient. To be eligible to enter kindergarten next September, the child must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1969. The child's birth certificate must be presented at the time of registration.

Additional information is contained in the PTA summer roundup information sheet which is being distributed by neighborhood mothers. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Platoff, 379-7090.

PROFILE -- David Hutchison

DAVID HUTCHISON

The Mountainside Memorial Post 10136, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States was formally instituted Sunday at a gathering of more than 200 persons in the Elks Hall. "We're here to work with the community," David Hutchison, the commander of the new post said, and already projects are under discussion.

Included are the free distribution of luminous tapes for bicycles this spring; the possible formation of a junior rifle team next year; teen dances and the sponsorship of a Little League baseball team.

Long range plans are also afoot to obtain a permanent meeting place for the group. "We're just starting," explained Hutchison, but he indicated that Post 10136 would be an active one.

The chain of events which led to the creation of the post started last year, Hutchison said, when two VFW officials began a study of Mountainside as a potential VFW town. The officials were district commander George Heichel and national deputy Willis C. Byrd, who had just finished setting up a new post in Scotch Plains.

The VFW officials sent out letters of inquiry to 50 borough veterans and got replies from about half of them who were interested in founding the post. Among them was Hutchison, who expressed his interest, "never dreaming I would be the first commander. But I always thought we should have a service organization in town."

THE FIRST MEETING was held on Oct. 16 last year and now, five months later, the membership is up to 78 vets and "expanding rapidly," Hutchison said.

Hutchison was in the Navy during World War II, joining up right after graduating from Kearny High School while starting a career with Fidelity Union Trust Co. of Newark. He returned there after service and has now been a banker for 28 years.

Hutchison's first ship was the USS Tasker H. Bliss, a troop transport which was torpedoed and went down off Casablanca during the invasion of North Africa. "We were unloading supplies about three miles off shore," Hutchison said, "when we were hit. I jumped overboard and started swimming for shore. About half way, I was picked up by a small boat." Hutchison wasn't injured, and most of the men aboard the transport had already been put on the beach. The date was Dec. 12, 1942. Hutchison's next ship was the USS Jeffers, a destroyer.

At the end of the war, he was in Camp Lejeune with the Marines ready to go to the Pacific and participate in the invasion of Japan.

Had the war not ended, Hutchison would have seen a lot of action with the Leathernecks -- he was a medic.

AFTER THE WAR, Hutchison came home to Arlington, resumed his career with the bank and married Regina Rickard of Elizabeth. At the same time, the couple began building their home at 320 Briar Path here, where they have lived for 19 years.

The Hutchisons have two sons, Rick, 17, is a

Grossman named to advisory board on industrial skills

STANLEY GROSSMAN

Stanley Grossman, coordinator of industrial arts and vocational education at the Union County Regional High School District, has been appointed to serve on the advisory board of the New Jersey Council of Vocational Facilities Planners.

The objectives of this board will be to coordinate, review, revise and communicate vocational-technical facility planning information to all New Jersey vocational technical educators and to develop the best occupation facilities for the education of New Jersey citizens.

Grossman has served on many state and national committees including the executive committee of New Jersey Student Craftsmen's Fair and program committee of the American Industrial Arts Association Conventions. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, a graduate professional educational fraternity, and Epsilon Pi Tau, an international honor society in industrial arts and vocational education. Grossman, who is a graduate of Newark State College, holds a master's degree from New York University and has attended Carnegie Institute of Technology, Seton Hall University and Rutgers University. He was a graphic arts instructor at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield for eight years before assuming the position of coordinator four years ago.

Local delegation to take part in LWV's capitol ceremonies

Gov. Richard J. Hughes will sign a proclamation Monday morning in his State House office declaring the week of March 13 "League of Women Voters of New Jersey Week."

Insurance agents hear state chief

Premium volume in the property and casualty insurance fields is expected to reach $35 billion within the next decade, a luncheon meeting of the Union County Association of Independent Insurance Agents will be told today at Wieland's Steak House, Mountainside.

Robert J. Spiel, president of the parent New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents, said in an advance statement that this figure would represent a 74 percent increase between 1965 and 1975 and would offer "expanding opportunities for the independent agent able to face the challenge of change."

William J. Doyle, executive secretary of the NJAIA, will also address the meeting, discussing legislative matters.

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo

New Jersey presently awards competitive scholarships to the equivalent of five percent of the graduates of approved high schools in this state. Quite obviously, this is not enough to satisfy the demand and the need existing in this vital area.

Accordingly, I have introduced legislation to double the number of state scholarships to be awarded each year. My bill--S-310--would provide that the number of such scholarships should equal 10 percent of the total number of students graduating from approved high schools in the state during the school year preceding the date for the awarding of the grant.

Admittedly, doubling the number of scholarships would leave us far short of the goal of seeing to it that every qualified high school senior has the opportunity of attending college. However, we must limit the pace of our progress by keeping in mind our taxpayers' ability and willingness to pay.

The program would of course continue to operate under the aegis of the State Scholarship Commission, which presently administers the competitive examinations and reviews applicants to determine eligibility. As is the present policy, the scholarships would be limited to those applicants who demonstrate ability and financial need.

IF OPTIMUM CONDITIONS prevailed, most progressive officials would like to make scholarships available to all qualified high school graduates. However, New Jersey started too late with too little to undertake programs similar to those in other states.

We have made gigantic efforts to compensate for the decades of inaction, but the citizens of this state cannot afford to finance the massive expenditures that obviously would be necessary to do the entire job at once.

The present state scholarship program is a step toward closing the gap. Adoption of S-310 would bring us a bit closer to our goal.

In 1969, the state will award 4,600 scholarships to graduates of approved New Jersey high schools. If S-310 is adopted into law quickly, it could roughly double the number of scholarships to be awarded to qualified members of the class of 1970 in our state.

This is important, because there is no way of knowing how many budding scientists and potential public servants cannot attain the first leg on the ladder of success because of their financial inability to attend college. Doubling the number of state scholarships could well mean that one or more of these potential contributors to our society could have the chance to get that all-important first big boost up the ladder.

will then cut the league's anniversary cake, marking the beginning of the 50th anniversary year of the League of Women Voters of the United States.

During afternoon sessions the same day, the Senate and the Assembly of the New Jersey Legislature will consider resolutions memorializing league accomplishments.

Mrs. John Thatcher, president of the Westfield League, and Mrs. Wilbert A. Allen, 50th anniversary chairman, will lead the Westfield delegation attending the celebration in Trenton. Mrs. Paul McG. Meffert of Westfield, third vice-president of the New Jersey League, has helped in making arrangements for the ceremonies. Mrs. George L. Walker, also a Westfield resident and second vice-president of the state league, will accompany state league board members visiting the Governor's office Monday morning.

The Westfield League will mark the beginning of the anniversary year with a display of league memorabilia in Barrett & Crain's Elm street window, starting Saturday for two weeks. Felice's dress shop window will display fashions of the 50-year period. Both Westfield and the New Jersey Leagues came into being the same year as the national organization, 1920.

While the league carries on its usual activities of studying political issues and bringing information concerning candidates and issues to the voting public, much of its attention during the 50th anniversary year will be concentrated on a special campaign for $11,000,000 to continue and improve its services to the public. Mrs. Allen has announced that to date local league members have achieved more than 50 percent of the local membership campaign goal.

Jakubowski to aid at Bible convention

Michael Jakubowski of 218 Summit rd., Mountainside, will have the responsibility of assisting the attendant department at Summit Junior High School tomorrow through Sunday. Sixteen congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will be meeting there at that time for their semi-annual Bible study convention. Practically all the local Witnesses will be included in the more than 1,600 expected to attend from the Mountainside and surrounding areas.

Television sets will be provided for the cafeteria and classroom areas where many of the overflow crowd will be gathering to hear the lectures and to watch the demonstrations. The electrical and sound connections will have to be completed before the sessions begin at 6:45 p.m. on Friday and will have to be removed shortly after the conclusion of the assembly at 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Program on China planned by League

"Evaluation of U.S. Relations with the People's Republic of China" will be the subject of March unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Westfield, according to Mrs. John Thatcher, president.

Background material for the discussions is being prepared by the Foreign Policy Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph W. Karle.

One of the unit meetings will be held at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Brooke Gardner of 1304 Stony Brook lane, Mountainside. Mrs. Peter Taussig will be discussion leader.

DAVID JOHNSON

Johnson awarded Honeywell honor

MINNEAPOLIS - A Mountainside, N.J., man has been awarded his company's top marketing honor. It was announced this week. David Johnson, of 338 Old Grove rd., has been nominated to Honeywell's Top Hat Club, the highest selling honor of the firm's commercial division.

According to Ralph Cryslar, sales vice-president for the division, Johnson was singled out for the award because of his work with the Rutgers medical school, Holmdel intermediate school and the new Elizabeth grammar school buildings.

Time To Spare

By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Advisor

The New President and Some old Problems One point that most of our age group prefer to stress is that we're citizens of the United States, first, foremost, and beyond anything else. We want what is best for the country.

After that, we can turn to the issues affecting us as a special part of the population. So, our view of the new Nixon Administration is bound to be much like that of our juniors. Which is to say, we'll differ among ourselves as to the performance of the incoming president. In fact, many Americans of retirement age are in politics, and it's only natural for them to look at the bigger picture from a party angle. That's the name of the game.

That much being granted, we can move on to the fact that America is a land of pluralism. Each group has a right to press for its specific needs within the over-all pattern of our national life.

And the over-65's are no exception. Hence the legitimacy of asking what President Nixon intends to do for us.

We know he intends to do something because he "issued" a statement to that effect shortly after the election. It's a statement all of us ought to read with an eye to the next four years.

The first Nixon pledge is to convene a White House Conference on the problems of older Americans. The last Nixon pledge is to sustain our morale through appropriate measures. In between, those measures are set forth in brief but eloquent sentences.

For instance: "A widow's benefits should be increased from 82 percent to a full 100 percent of her late husband's pension. There is no reason why a widower should get a better deal from Social Security than a widow."

Dotto points out proper ways to dispose of garbage, trash

Healthful ways to dispose of garbage were suggested this week to residents of Mountainside by Charles E. Dotto, health officer. "Sloppy disposal of garbage is not only unsightly, it also poses some health hazards," Dotto said.

"When a bear or other bear keeper selects a big fat garbage disposal, the first thing she should do is line the bottom with several layers of newspaper or other material to prevent wet materials from leaking through. When the container is full, it should be tied securely with twine or heavy string. It should be placed in a metal receptacle that has a tight fitting lid that will not blow off in the wind after it is placed for pickup.

Plastic paper bags filled with garbage out for collection attracts dogs, cats and mice in warm weather," Dotto continued. "The bags and cats will tear them open to get food and they leave a real mess. If there are unpermitted toddlers around, they may even be tempted to sample what looks to them like a tempting morsel.

Broken dishes and metal objects with sharp edges should be wrapped in heavy paper before being placed in a metal receptacle to be picked up. Putting such objects loose in the container may result in a bad cut for the collection man or for some curious child before the garbage is picked up. If put loose in a garbage can, some of these objects may fall to the street as they are being emptied and their sharp edges become hazards for automobile or bicycle tires.

Special precautions should be taken in disposing of unused remnants of medicines, liquors, disinfectants, etc.," Dotto said. "If these are found, they should be washed down a toilet and the containers rinsed out. Children are particularly curious and a toddler who happens on to preparations such as the above may decide to sample the material to see what it tastes like. It may spell catastrophe.

"If all households adhere to these suggestions, we will make Mountainside a cleaner and safer community."

Education course at Baptist Church

How Christian beliefs affect a person's judgment in world issues is being considered by participants in a special five-week course in progress at the First Baptist Church of Westfield. Four education courses are being offered at 7 p.m. each Sunday through March 23.

Dr. H. James Brown, research associate for the National Bureau of Economic Research, is serving as moderator for the course, "Change in World Issues." Text for the study is "Great Decisions-1969" published by the Foreign Policy Association. Foreign policy problems in eight areas of the world are analyzed in the booklet.

In the course entitled "Change in Mission to Our Community" the discussion leader this Sunday night will be Carl Peterson, former Westfield town councilman. The discussion topic concerns the Christian in political office and as an influence in the total political system.

Ahlholm graduates Police Academy

Patrolman Frederick W. Ahlholm of the Mountainside Police Department was among 19 new policemen who graduated last Thursday from the 23rd session of the Union County Police Training Academy.

The graduation exercises were held in the theatre of Union College's Campus Center, Cranford. The eight-week basic training program was conducted at Union College, and is sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association and the New Jersey Police Training Commission.

Police Chief Matthew J. Haney of Cranford is director, and Chief George C. Campbell of Plainfield is deputy director of the Union County Police Training Academy.

Senator Frank X. McDermott of Westfield, president of the State Senate, was the principal speaker, and certificates were presented to the graduates by James Dunn of the New Jersey Police Training Commission and Chief Haney.

Plan cocktail party for UJA division

A cocktail party for the Intermediate division of the Westfield Area United Jewish Appeal campaign will be held on Thursday evening, March 20. The co-chairmen for the division, Dr. Francis Lehr of Scotch Plains and Sanford Simon of Westfield, announced that the affair will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Spector, 7 Pine court, Westfield.

Featured speaker will be Yehuda Hellman, executive director, Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations, and a veteran political analyst and former United Nations correspondent.

Mountainside man promoted by Kidde

Charles E. DeAngelis of 1604 Grouse lane, Mountainside, has been elected senior vice-president and a member of the board of directors of Walter Kidde Constructors, Inc., designers, engineers and builders. Kidde Constructors is a subsidiary of Ebasco Industries Inc.

DeAngelis will supervise the company's foreign and domestic new business programs. He joined Kidde Constructors as assistant to the vice-president of sales in 1960, became general manager of business development in 1962, and was named vice-president, business development in 1963.

DeAngelis has written articles on the master planning of industrial, academic, health and transportation facilities. He was chairman of the design and construction committee of President Johnson's National Advisory Commission on Health Facilities. He is a graduate of New York University's School of Commerce and Business Administration and a director of Walter Kidde Constructors International.

DeAngelis is married to the former Anne Luce of Plainfield. They have two children, Gregg, 10, and Lauren, 7.

Entries to close April 11 for bowling tournament

With a prize list of at least $30,000, in addition to a $6,000 Cadillac, up for grabs, entries for the 11th annual Echo Lanes-Cadillac Bowling Tournament for men and women are rolling in fast.

The tourney, again the richest in New Jersey, will get under way April 26 and run through June 15 for an eight-weekend stand at the Rt. 22 establishment in Mountainside.

Jack Best, tournament director and Echo Lanes manager, announced entries will close April 11 for the team, doubles and singles divisions.

Heading the team entries to date are Booth Electric of Fort Rending (Middlesex County), boasting a 974 average on Warren Griffin's 203, Bob Pazur's 196, Frank Capparello's 195, Kurt Booth's 192 and Sam Hays' 188.

The women's division has attracted the strong Motor Machine team of Bound Brook, averaging 916 on Carol Woodland's 188, Clara Van Der Hoeft's 185, Lore Burkley's 184, Joan Irvine's 181 and Lois Mundy's 178, and the well-known Rheingold Girls, averaging 906 on Pauline DeLuca's 193, Ann Noga's 189, Edye Barlow's 181, Alys Alenzo's 174 and Barbara Craig's 169.

Echo Lanes distributed $32,105 in prize money last year, thanks to a record-breaking entry of 1,000 teams, 1,500 doubles and 3,000 singles, adding up to 11,000 individual entries.

The 1968 Cadillac was won by Joe Ashby of Paterson, who rolled a gross series of 820. The man or woman who turns in the highest gross in any of this year's events will drive off the '69 Cadillac.

The top team score last year was registered by the Kirchberger Five of Roselle Park, which had 3,237 in the men's gross division. In the men's net category, Keystone Furniture of Hackensack was the winner with 3,068.

Women's first-place teams were the Misfits of East Orange, with 3,164 in the gross totaling, and the Schaefer Beer Lassies of Flushing, N.Y., with a dazzling 3,008--a new record in the net pin-topping.

Highlanders finish with 9-13 mark after losing to Dayton, Scotch Plains

By BILL LOVETT

Despite fine performances by Jeff Burdette, Mike Rugen and Rich Weiss, Gov. Livingston lost its final two games of the season—to Dayton in overtime, 69-61, and to Scotch Plains, 75-58, in the opening round of the Central Jersey Group IV tournament. Regional finished the year with a 9-13 mark.

The Dayton-Gov. Livingston contest resembled one played earlier this season in which Regional lost a four-point lead in the final 34 seconds and was beaten, 63-62. The first quarter ended with the score 8-8, but Dayton opened up a five-point lead and left the court ahead, 24-19. In the third quarter, however, the Highlanders outscored Dayton, 23-9, to take a 42-33 lead.

Through most of the final period, Gov. Livingston held a comfortable edge. Then, with four minutes remaining, Burdette fouled out and Regional was in trouble. Clutch foul shooting by John McElgunn, at the 2:19 mark, and John Adriance with 2:03 left, kept the Highlanders ahead by 12.

Dayton then started a full-court press and, without Burdette, Livingston crumbled. Dayton rolled off eight straight points to cut Regional's lead to 59-55. Rich Weiss hit for the Highlanders, but Dave Margulies and Ed Graessle scored for Dayton with 15 seconds remaining to make the score, 61-59.

Eric Wichelhaus was fouled with four seconds left, but he failed to convert. Dayton grabbed the rebound and called time out with only two seconds showing. A length-of-the-court pass found Ralph Losanno in the corner, and his 15-foot jumper swished in as the buzzer sounded.

Dayton took complete control during the three-minute overtime and outscored Regional, 8-0, to win. Rugen (21 points) and Weiss (16 points) paced the Highlanders while Losanno (with 16), Dave Margulies (14) and Ed Graessle (13) led Dayton.

Scotch Plains led no doubt as to the outcome of its game with Gov. Livingston and won going away, 75-58. This was the fourth game this season between these two teams.

and it was the fourth time Scotch Plains had won.

The Crusaders were never behind. They grabbed a 5-0 lead increased it in each quarter, leading by seven at the end of the first, by nine at the half, and by 19 at the three-quarter mark.

Regional rallied to within 14 points midway through the final period before Guy Budinscak and Tony Hudgins combined for six straight points to put the game out of reach.

Rugen led Livingston with 16 points, while teammate Burdette had 15 and Eric Wichelhaus, 12. Frank Zelesnik had 21 points to pace the victors. Other top scorers for Scotch Plains included Jim McDede with 16, Guy Budinscak with 15 and Tony Hudgins with 12.

Board president Grant Lennox named his committee chairman appointments. They are: administration and education, Mrs. Gloria Johnson; teachers' salary negotiations, Allan Dehls with Don Jeka and Abe Suckno; legislation and public relations, Jeka; long-range planning, Walter Rupp; safety and transportation, Suckno, and building and grounds, Lennox.

Representatives named were Jeka, to the state Federation of District Boards of Education; Dehls, to the regional district board; Mrs. Johnson, to the Mountainside Recreation Commission; Suckno, to the Mountainside Civil Defense, and Lennox, to the county school board group.

The details of the 1969-70 contract with the Mountainside Teachers Association were not made public at the meeting Tuesday night, as projected by this paper last week.

Although the 1969-70 salary guide has been approved and made public other peripheral considerations are still under discussion.

The details of the complete package will be made known at a later date, board spokesmen said. Meanwhile, meetings are still going on.

Rupp named to position at college radio station

EASTON, Pa.—John S. Rupp of Mountainside has been elected program director of the Lafayette College student radio station, WJRH. Rupp, who has previously worked in the news and music departments of the station, is a junior majoring in English. He has served as vice-president and pledge trainer in his fraternity. A 1966 graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Rupp, 359 Dogwood way, Mountainside.

PLAN ART SHOW -- Mrs. Charles Schnur, right, presents Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr. of Mountainside a sponsor ticket to the 11th annual art show and sale to be held by Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of Hadassah in Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, April 19-22. Looking on is Mrs. Zygmunt Gottlieb.

Hadassah to hold annual art show

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of Hadassah will hold its 11th annual art show and sale April 19 to 22 in the auditorium of Temple Emanu-El, 756 E. Broad st., Westfield.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Jr., of Mountainside, is among those expected to attend the champagne pre-party to be held Saturday night, April 19, for sponsors, patrons and exhibitors. He said he hopes that "many of the residents of Mountainside and neighboring communities will take the time to visit the show and thus contribute to the many worthy projects which are supported by Hadassah."

Mrs. Joseph Rosenblum, Mrs. Edward Dropkin and Mrs. Mac Perlman are coordinators of the show.

"Pre-school youngsters who have physical or emotional difficulties which fall under the Beadleston classifications will be eligible for this program."

Names of children may be submitted for the program by mail or telephone to Department of Special Services, Deerfield Middle School, Central avenue, Mountainside.

License suspended

The driver's license of Donald M. Robertson Jr., 19, of 1151 Corrinne ter., Mountainside, was suspended for 30 days, effective Jan. 22, under the state's point system, it was announced this week by June Strelcecki, director of the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

234 poisoning cases treated in '68 at Overlook Hospital

There are few more frightening moments in a mother's life than the dreadful minute she discovers that her child has taken poison. The poison control center at Overlook Hospital is equipped and staffed to help in just such a dread emergency.

Last year, 234 poison cases were treated at Overlook's poison control center, a marked increase over the 196 treated the year before.

Stocked with more than 100 drugs and antidotes, including those for snake venom and insecticides, the Overlook poison control center is one of 36 such recognized hospital centers in the state.

The Overlook emergency room is staffed, 24 hours round-the-clock, by experienced physicians and nurses specially trained to know how to deal with poison cases.

"If you suspect your child has taken poison, call your doctor, or call the poison control center at Overlook, 273-8100. If you are directed to the hospital, follow instructions calmly and be sure to bring the suspected poison container with you," advises Mrs. Lillie Turley, emergency and clinic supervisor.

Each year 500,000 children are poisoned, and 500 of them die. Overlook's poison control center urges parents to observe the following rules:

1. Keep all medicines clearly labeled and safely beyond reach of small children.
2. Never call medicine "candy."
3. Always take medicine in the light, never in the dark, and put away immediately. Don't keep pills (vitamins, tranquilizers, etc.) in your purse around small children.
4. Keep household cleaning agents, lighter fluid, garden insecticides and other potential poisons in high cupboards, well out of reach.

A MUSING from the desk

With the first day of spring only a week away, we trust that everyone in town has completed preparations for the vernal equinox. The first thing to do is to post a large number of signs saying "Keep off the grass," particularly in the corridors of the high school.

The second is to get the snow tires off the cars. There are few situations as embarrassing as being caught with your winter tires on in a spring blizzard.

Then there is the question of household priorities. Someone will have to mow the lawn. The first choice is always a teenaged son. The second choice is a teenaged daughter.

SINCE MEDICAL SCIENCE warns against sudden heavy exertion for heads of families, over the age of, say, 27, the third choice becomes difficult -- and don't expect us to divulge the source of such helpful medical advice.

Many wives find that they really enjoy pushing a power mower, once they approach the task with a positive attitude. Besides, it gives them something to do while their husbands are out taking moderate exercise on the golf course.

Then there are other spring chores to be performed, such as putting up screens and awnings. Again, teenagers are the perfect choice, even if they may need a little supervision and a few strokes with a whip.

Some of these jobs may be a little too arduous for the average housewife. In this case, perhaps she has a sister, or she can ask the lady next door to help her.

Any of these jobs, of course, can be handled commercially, by very fine landscape gardening firms or by the big brothers of the little boys who shoveled snow while we watched basketball games on television this winter.

SOME HOMES, EACH year, require such additional improvements as a coat of paint or a family room to be built. Some men, we must admit, actually enjoy work of this sort. They are beyond help by those who are of average indolence.

For the rest of us, many of these projects can wait another year. Maybe we'll win a sweepstakes, or a gas station giveaway, and then we'll be able to afford having the job done properly.

There is a great deal more helpful advice we could offer for the average head of the average household, but this is all we have time for right now.

We have to go out and start cleaning the garage. If it doesn't pass inspection, we won't get any supper.

senior at Gov. Livingston Regional High School and is planning on attending college next year. David, 13, is in the eighth grade at Deerfield. Rick was co-captain of the Highlander soccer team last fall.

Hutchison enjoys hunting and fishing at the family's lakeside home in the Poconos. "We try to get away there almost every weekend," Hutchison said.

In starting up the post here, Hutchison has special thanks for Jack Best, manager of Echo Lanes. "He was wonderful to us," Hutchison said. "He let us use the meeting room above the alleys twice a month while we were forming. I expect him to come into the post," Hutchison said.

As for meeting places in the future -- "Well," the new commander sighs, "we'll look for a donation from someone who wants to write it off for tax purposes, or we'll have to find a piece of land and start from scratch."

Miss Sgarro assists in college play festival

GLENSIDE, Pa.—Louise Sgarro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Sgarro of 283 Garrett rd., Mountainside, is participating in Beaver College's Play Festival this weekend at the college's Little Theatre. Three one-act plays, staged and directed by the students, are being presented.

Miss Sgarro is a member of the stage crew. A freshman at Beaver, she is majoring in fine arts.

Another trip to Spain set

The Summit YWCA announced this week that it will sponsor a trip to Spain this fall. The YWCA trip to Spain last spring brought so many inquiries concerning a second trip that the YWCA decided to schedule another one from Sept. 22 - Oct. 13.

The fall tour will include the northern regions and Portugal and will be under the direction of Mrs. Carmen Friedman, a former resident of Madrid. Mrs. Friedman has been an instructor at the YWCA for seven years.

Plans for the trip include a TWA flight to Madrid, with return flight to Lisbon, and flights to Santander, Santiago de Compostela, Seville, and Lisbon. Sightseeing trips will include visits to the Alamo de Prado Museum, a tour of Toledo, the Escorial and the Valley of the Fallen, and a number of side jaunts to sites of particular interest.

The tour of Spain is open to both men and women. YWCA membership is required. Further information may be had by telephoning Mrs. J.J. Hennessey, adult program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242, or Mrs. Friedman at 379-4859.

Great Swamp is program subject

The neighboring wildlife refuge; the Great Swamp, will be discussed by Mrs. Michael Melack, of Berkeley Heights at the Summit YWCA's Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch on March 19. Mrs. Melack has been a teacher-naturalist at the Great Swamp Nature Center for five years. Her talk at the Kaffeeklatsch program will be accompanied by color slides.

Kaffeeklatsch mornings often a half hour of coffee and sociability at 9:45 a.m. each Wednesday and then provide hour-long programs on a wide variety of topics. Babysitting is available for children 18 months and over, and special dance and rhythm classes are offered for three to five year olds.

Further information about the current program or future ones may be had by telephoning Mrs. Allan G. Ballard, program director, at the YWCA, 273-4242.

Swimming courses at Summit Y

The Summit Area YMCA is taking registration now through March for all spring courses which will begin the first week in April. Two new pollwog classes (learn to swim course for first and second graders) will be introduced for beginners and advanced on Saturday afternoon, starting April 12, in addition to the regular week day pollwog classes. Registration for all pollwogs will be taken between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. only, Monday thru Friday.

A spring junior and senior lifesaving course to prepare swimmers for summer waterfront and pool jobs will be held on Thursdays and Saturdays, starting April 10, for 10 weeks.

There are openings in Adult Learn to Swim class held on Tuesday evenings from 8-9 p.m. and in the women's Slim-nastics classes (exercises set to music) conducted by Pat Reed on Monday and Thursday mornings at 9:30 and at 10:15, and Wednesday evenings from 7:45-8:30.

A new mother-toddler swim course which instructs mothers in techniques of teaching small children to swim will begin on Tuesday, April 1. Regular progressive YMCA swim classes for boys and girls will also begin April 1 and run for 10 weeks.

The YMCA leader-examiner clinic will start on April 15 for 10 weeks. Conducted each spring, the course is designed to qualify YMCA swimming instructors and waterfront directors. It covers methods of teaching swimming and diving, skin and scuba diving, and competitive swimming, and teaches proper pool supervision, maintenance and care. Applicants must be 17 and have their YMCA senior lifesaving certificate.

Course fees are charged and non-members are welcome in pollwogs, lifesaving, and leader examiner clinic. All other courses require YMCA membership.

A 'poison-proofing' test for parents

Pointing out that children under five are the principal victims of accidental poisoning, the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association has subjected parents to a "poison-proofing" test in the form of an eight-point questionnaire.

"Every parent should answer yes or no to each of these questions, for the safety of his household," said Leo Dubrow, association president, who added that in 1967, the last year for which figures are available, 72,661 children under five in the U.S. accidentally swallowed potentially harmful substances—medicines and commonly used household products.

Dubrow invited parents to talk to their pharmacist during National Poison Prevention Week March 16-22 for advice in poison-proofing if their answer to any of eight questions is negative.

"The pharmacist is an authority on safe use and storage of drugs," he said. "He will emphasize that locked-up drugs and poisons prevent tragedy. A locked place may be a dresser drawer, a linen closet, a suitcase—any storage area that can be locked.

"AT NO TIME should aspirin or tranquilizers be left on a sink or table, not even for an instant. Aspirin is implicated in a large percentage of child poisonings. Often it is left on the bedside table or the kitchen counter, within easy reach of childish hands. Often, too, parents unwisely call aspirin 'candy,' hoping to cajole the child into taking it for medicinal reasons.

"It is essential that internal medicines never be stored with household products, especially cleaning agents. Not only may there be similarities in the design and composition of the containers, but the colors, consistencies and even odor may be similar. It is inadvisable even to reach for medicine in the dark.

"Medicines prescribed for one individual under one set of circumstances should not be used for others. Also, medicines stored over a long period of time may undergo changes in composition resulting in toxicity. When medicines are no longer to be used, don't throw them into a waste basket where children can get at them; flush the contents down the drain, then rinse the container before throwing it away.

These are a few of the safety measures that will help prevent tragedy."

The NJPhA questionnaire follows:

1. When using any medicine, do I return it promptly to its proper place when through with it, even if I will use it again shortly?
2. Are all medicines kept in a closed, preferably locked, cabinet out of reach and sight of children?
3. Do I remember not to try to induce children to take aspirin or other medicines by telling them it tastes like candy?
4. Are all medicines and household products fully and clearly labeled?
5. Am I careful never to take or give medicine in the dark?
6. Do I discard out-of-date medicine by flushing it down the drain and rinsing out the container before discarding it?

7. Are bleach, lye, kerosene stored only in their original containers and not in cups, glasses or pop bottles?

8. Are most deadly poisons—rat, insect and weed killers—stored in the most inaccessible place or in a locked cabinet in the house or garage?

"Your child's life may depend upon your answers to these questions," Dubrow said, adding: "See your pharmacist during Poison Prevention Week; ask him how to poison-proof your home."

LEAD POISONING
Lead poisoning was the leading cause of accidental poisoning deaths in children under 15 in New Jersey in both 1966 and 1967.

Decline in hunting accidents reported

New Jersey hunting accident statistics for the 1968-69 seasons were released this week by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The figures cover the period from June 30, 1968, the end of the last fiscal year, through Feb. 1, the last day of the small game season. Accidents rarely occur during the current fox or woodchuck seasons, and these will be included in the tabulation for the Annual Report of the Division of Fish and Game.

Accidents included 54 with firearms, one with bow and arrow and one fall, eight less than the previous year. One accident was fatal, the smallest number in ten years, contrasting sharply with the high figures of seven and six for the two seasons since July 1, 1966.

Since firearm safety training was made mandatory in 1955, fatalities have averaged under 3.4 per year, compared to six per year over the preceding six years.

Of accidents, 37, including the fatality, occurred during the regular small game season, seven plus the fall during the firearm deer season, seven during waterfowl and fall seasons, one during bow and arrow deer season and 3 during special small game seasons.

Almost half the small game accidents took place on the opening day.

The one fatality resulted when a youth leaned his loaded gun against a tree, while his companion climbed up to check the condition of a tree stand. As the second youth shook the stand, the gun was dislodged and discharged, hitting the first hunter.

State Fish and Game Director Lester G. MacNamara declared, "Although this year's record is the best in several years, most of the accidents could have been avoided through greater attention to basic safety practices. The fatality and about ten other accidents could have been averted by the simple precaution of unloading guns while entering or crossing precarious ground.

"Failure to make sure of a clear target before firing, especially in dense cover, remains the most common cause of accidents, probably including most of those listed as unknown. Hunters should also make efforts to wear conspicuous clothing, especially when the woods and fields are crowded. These points will receive increasing emphasis in the firearm and bow safety programs, so that hunting will continue as a safe and enjoyable outdoor recreational pursuit in New Jersey."

Causes of accidents are broken down as follows:

- Out of sight, 10; Swinging on game, 10; Ricochet, 5; Line of fire, 4; Accidental discharge, 3; Tripped, 2; Dropped gun, 2; Weapon fell, 2; Jump ditch, 1; Cross fence, 1; Horseplay, 1; Defective weapon, 1; Arrow fell, 1; Fell from tree, 1 (not firearm); Unknown, 11; and Other, 1.

Plan story hours at art museum

A special program of Saturday story hours for boys and girls age five through ten and their parents will be given at the Montclair Art Museum during the showing of Hina Matsuri Japanese-Girls' Doll Festival. Stories about the culture and folklore of Japan will be told by Elsie W. Dillon, this Saturday and on March 22 and 29 at 1:30 p.m. On Sunday, at 2:30 p.m., March 16, 23, and 30, Mrs. Dillon and the museum docents will dramatize the ancient ritual of Hina Matsuri.

Vietnam vets returning with drug-defying TB

The New Jersey Journal of Pharmacy, official monthly magazine of the state pharmaceutical association, reveals in its current edition that some returning Vietnam War veterans are bringing back with them an Oriental strain of tuberculosis that defies commonly used anti-tubercular drugs.

Col. Jacob Eisen, Journal science editor and past-president of the NJPHA, previously disclosed that Vietnam veterans had been transmitting, via anopheles mosquitoes, malaria contracted in Asia. Now Eisen, himself a veteran of World War II's Pacific theatre, says TB has been added to the woes of the Vietnam conflict.

Writing in his column "Scientific Developments in Pharmacy," Eisen said the Veterans Administration has confirmed that some soldiers are transmitting the once deadly scourge that had been brought under control in America by use of modern pharmaceuticals.

"Foreign strains of the disease," he points out, "are of greater concern because they are difficult to control with the drugs that have lowered U.S. incidence of tuberculosis so dramatically during the past 20 years.

"Many Oriental strains of tuberculosis are resistant to the primary drugs used here."

Eisen held out a hope for meeting the new challenge, however. "So far, two new drugs, rifampin and ethambutol, have produced encouraging results against the more resistant strains," he said.

Public Notice

NOTICE BOROUGH OF ROSELLE UNION COUNTY, N. J. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the following proposed Ordinance was introduced and passed on first reading at a Regular Meeting of the Borough Council of the Borough of Roselle, in the County of Union, New Jersey, held on the 10th day of March and said Ordinance will be taken up for final passage at a Regular Meeting of said Borough Council to be held at its meeting room in the Borough Hall, Roselle, New Jersey on the 24th day of March at 8:00 P.M., prevailing time, or as soon thereafter as said matter can be reached, at which time and place all persons who may be interested therein will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning the same.

NELLIE S. BENJAMIN DENISE ROSENTHAL AN ORDINANCE WAIVING RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS FOR POLICEMEN WHEN VACANCIES OCCUR WHICH CANNOT BE FILLED BY QUALIFIED RESIDENTS.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF ROSELLE, N. J.: Section 1. The governing body of the Borough of Roselle hereby finds that adherence to the residence requirements specified by Revised Statutes 40:7-3, P.L. 1946, chapter 25 and P.L. 1953, chapter 107 (as amended and supplemented) would seriously impede its ability to establish and maintain competent personnel for its Police Department.

Section 2. The Borough of Roselle is hereby authorized to appoint future officers and members of the Police Department notwithstanding that the same do not meet the residence requirements specified in the aforesaid Revised Statutes.

Section 3. No person shall be appointed pursuant to this ordinance unless he has been a resident of the State of New Jersey for at least one year and lives in such proximity to the Borough of Roselle as will satisfy the governing body that he will be able to fully perform his duties as a member of the paid Police Department.

Section 4. No person shall be appointed pursuant to this ordinance unless he has been a resident of the Borough of Roselle for at least one year and lives in such proximity to the Borough of Roselle as will satisfy the governing body that he will be able to fully perform his duties as a member of the paid Police Department.

Section 5. Any person appointed to the paid Police Department who is not a resident shall become a resident of the Borough of Roselle within two (2) years after his appointment becomes permanent.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect in the manner provided by law. The Spectator, Mar. 13, 1969 (Fee $15.07)

Dr. Ronald Altman, director, Division of Preventable Diseases, New Jersey Department of Health, told more than 100 school nurses, administrators and public health personnel who attended the Union County Tuberculosis Conference, that the ultimate goal of the tuberculosis control effort is to develop a population in which no one is infected with the disease.

The conference, the first of its kind staged in Union County, was sponsored by the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey—sponsors of the local Christmas Seal Campaign—as a prelude to the county-wide school tuberculin testing program to be held in September.

Burger drawing in N. Y. exhibition

A pen and ink drawing by W. Carl Burger, artist and associate professor of fine arts at Newark State College, Union, is included in the 144th annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design in New York City. The exhibition is open to the public through March 23 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., at the Academy Galleries, 1083 Fifth Ave., between 89th and 90th streets.

The drawing, titled "The Mutants," is about birds who have over-protected their young and have produced a breed of "neutrites."

Burger is known for the biting social satire of his drawings as well as his romantic oil paintings and water colors. His work has been exhibited at the Blowdelle Gallery, the National Academy, City Center Gallery, the National Academy Galleries and the National Art Club, all New York City; the Jackson Mississippi Museum, Philadelphia Museum and the St. Louis Museum. New Jersey appearances include exhibitions at the Montclair, Trenton and Newark Museums and the Suburban Galleries of East Orange. He is a frequent award-winner at contests and exhibitions.

Also participating in the program were Dr. Albert Minzter, medical director, Union County Tuberculosis Control Services; Henry F. Gavan, Linden health officer, who served as program chairman, and Alfred A. Vonderaas of Kentlworth, president of TB-RD Central.

IN HIS ADDRESS Dr. Altman cited the New Jersey Department of Education regulation, which stipulates that all pupils of grade one, five, nine and 12 shall be tested to determine the presence or absence of active or communicable tuberculosis.

In recent years, Dr. Altman noted, intradermal tuberculin testing has replaced the mass chest X-Ray method of tuberculosis screening.

"Furthermore," he explained, "current practice in tuberculosis control emphasizes the discovery of children who are infected with the tubercle bacillus in order that they may receive chemoprophylaxis—preventative drug therapy—to reduce the risk of future clinical disease. For this reason, emphasis should be placed upon the intradermal testing procedure as the basic method of screening for tuberculosis.

Roselle doctor to lead delegates to convention

Dr. Joseph Guzik of Roselle, president of the Union County Osteopathic Society, will lead a delegation of area physicians attending the 69th annual convention of the New Jersey Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at the Shelburne Hotel, Atlantic City, this weekend.

Other officers of the county society are: Dr. Philip Malvin of Union, vice president; Dr. William Hollstein of Westfield, treasurer, and Dr. Michael Sutula of Union, secretary.

Dr. Minzter, who discussed the etiology, bacteriology, transmission, pathology and treatment of tuberculosis, pointed out that the discovery of antimicrobial drugs such as isoniazid, streptomycin and para-aminosalicylic acid—agents which suppress the multiplication of the growth of mycobacteria tuberculosis—have revolutionized the therapy of the disease. One of these drugs, isoniazid, can also be effectively used in chemoprophylaxis.

"Chemoprophylaxis," said Dr. Minzter, "presumably acts by diminishing the bacterial population in healed or invisible lesions of the person taking the drug. It is treatment of infection and also prevents clinical disease from developing or relapsing."

SCHOOL TUBERCULIN TESTING programs, according to the goals and standards for the control of TB in New Jersey, are of paramount importance. If tuberculosis is to be eradicated, new generations must grow up and remain free of TB infection. An infection rate of less than one percent among 14-year-olds is an indicator of success in controlling the spread of the disease.

A community may be said to have reached this goal when the infection rate is below one percent of 14-year-olds in all neighborhoods or population groups in which the incidence of TB has been high.

In most communities, such a rate will not be attained in all segments of the population for many years. An estimate of the present rate can usually be made on the basis of on-going tuberculin testing done for other purposes.

If a community tests its school-entrants, for example, and finds as many as one percent of them reacting positively to the tuberculin test, it will be at least ten years before a rate of one percent can be reached among 14-year-olds.

Dr. Elizabeth C. Stob, professor of nursing education, Teachers College of Columbia University, was the luncheon speaker. The afternoon segment of the conference was devoted to group workshop discussions and tuberculin testing demonstrations.

Origin of caves is Trailside talk

The regular monthly meeting of the Trailside Mineral Club will be held at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, today at 8 p.m.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Eberhard Werner a graduate student from Rutgers University. Werner will discuss the origin of caves -- how they are formed -- and where they may be found. The talk will be illustrated with color slides, showing caves in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, California, and New Mexico.

The speaker has a bachelor of science degree in geology from the University of Pennsylvania and is working towards a Master's degree in geology at Rutgers University.

The public is invited to attend this program.

Safety booklet provided for buyers of new cars

"Read Before Driving," advised the cover of a bright green booklet buyers of new cars are now discovering in their glove compartments, according to R. J. Vialle, general manager of the New Jersey Auto Club, AAA.

The eight-page pocket-sized manual is a compilation of proven methods of safer driving, produced by the federal government's National Highway Safety Bureau, and distributed in cooperation with the National Automobile Dealers Association.

Albert B. Kelley, director of the Office of Public Affairs of the Federal Highway Administration, reports the booklet can be read in two minutes. It explains the relationships of vehicles, roads and drivers to improved traffic safety.

The booklet is intended for distribution by the automobile dealers "at the point where it will do the most good—when the buyer picks up his shiny new car."

A cut-away diagram on the back page of "Read Before Driving," graphically depicts the 1968 Motor Vehicle Safety Standards Areas—those elements of new car production covered by government rulings for increased safety to passengers.

The philosophy of the manual is expressed in the line, "just asking you to 'drive safely' is not enough; you need to know HOW." The trend away from safety sloganeering to safety education is a progressive move long urged by the AAA, Vialle said.

He said the booklet is another result of increased cooperation between the new federal highway safety agency and the "safety activist" private and public organizations, in an attempt to prove that "safe" does not ordain a large number of life-taking highway crashes in this country each year.

Sisson exhibition

An exhibition of 19 oils and 15 water colors by Laurence Sisson, an artist from Boothbay Harbor, Me., will be held at the Gallery of Modern Art, 2 Columbus Circle, New York, from next Tuesday, March 18, through May 18. A super-realist, Sisson's vision of Maine derives from an area less than an acre in size, a microcosm of Maine called Silver Cove.

TINY CIRCUIT — Almost 600 electronic components in less than a square inch make up this integrated circuit for the Bell System Picturephone set. The integrated circuit, developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, controls all timing actions in the set's camera. It controls the scanning rate — the rate at which an electron beam in the camera tube scans the image — and the number of pictures per second. In addition, it controls interlacing — a common technique of improving clarity and eliminating flicker in television. The Bell Laboratories technician uses the close-up lens and the graphic mode of the Picturephone set above to show the thin connecting prongs of the circuit on the screen.

N. J. colleges to study computer network idea

Chancellor of Higher Education, Ralph A. Dungan, announced this week the formation of the New Jersey Computer Network Study Committee. The committee is composed of representatives of both independent and public colleges and universities in the state.

The committee is charged with producing a plan for a cooperatively owned central facility that would house the computers and dispense services to member institutions by means of a network of computers and remote access devices.

"Creation of a New Jersey Higher Education Computer Network would make available to all colleges in the state in a very short time, some of the most extensive computer power in the world at minimum cost," said Chancellor Dungan.

"Savings in the millions of dollars would result but even more important first rate computer facilities would be available almost immediately to all participating institutions. Among other advantages, we would be able to attract high quality talent, more research grants, better and more sophisticated instruction and more economical administrative services," the chancellor said.

College fund sets telethon on phone

The Bloomfield College Alumni Association is planning a "national telethon" next week. For five nights, members of the alumni will phone their classmates throughout a wide area of the East, requesting support for the college fund.

Through arrangements with the Lamp Division of Westinghouse Electric Corporation, the corps of phone callers will set up a "teletelthon" at the Bloomfield plant.

Telethon proceeds will go to the Bloomfield College Fund, created to help the college provide higher liberal education for over 1,400 students.

MISS NANCY K. JOHNSON
Nancy K. Johnson
troth is announced

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson of 1119-Heckel dr., Mountainside, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Kay, to Norman Rucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Rucker of 335-Purdy ave., Staten Island.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School and Cedar Crest College, where she received her bachelor of arts degree magna cum laude. While attending Cedar Crest, Miss Johnson served as a class officer and was elected to Delphi and Opheleo honorary societies, and to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." She is currently teaching second grade at Coles School, Scotch Plains, and is a candidate for a master of arts degree in English at Seton Hall University, South Orange.

Rucker was graduated from Augustinian Academy, Staten Island, and St. Bonaventure University, where he received his bachelor of science degree in biological sciences. He is a candidate for the master of arts in business administration at Wagner College, Staten Island. Rucker is a research and development chemist with the Best Foods Division of Corn Products Company and a member of the American Oil Chemists Society. He is currently serving with the U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

MISS JEAN O'KEEFFE
Engagement is told of Miss O'Keeffe

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund F. O'Keeffe of Longview dr., Mountainside, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Frank Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Kane of Summit.

Miss O'Keeffe is a senior at Governor Livingston High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Summit High School and is associated in business with his father.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Rosary unit to hold
day-long program

The Rosary Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Mountainside will hold its annual Day of Recollection on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Edward Oehling of St. James Church, Springfield, will conduct the services. During the morning session, Mass will be celebrated and confessions heard. All the women of the parish have been invited to participate for part of the day or for the entire session.

Twenty-five ladies of the parish will observe and partake in a model seder service at Temple Emanuel-EI next Thursday at 1 p.m. On May 2, the women have been invited to participate in Fellowship Day of the Church Women United in Westfield.

Home economists to see
Generals Foods' kitchens

A tour of General Foods Experimental Kitchens in White Plains, N.Y. will be the feature of the March meeting for the Metropolitan Newark-Home-Economists-In-Homemaking. The tour will be Wednesday at 10 a.m. and will be conducted by Mrs. Margaret Kelly, head home economist.

Homemakers with a background of professional home economics have been invited to attend the meeting and become active members of the group. The group is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association. For more information on the organization and the March meeting, readers may call Mrs. John Tully in Short Hills, 379-6430.

Oriental evening

The Couples Club of the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside will sponsor an "Oriental Night" at 7 on Saturday at the church. There will be Chinese cuisine and entertainment, with Japanese slides and Oriental drama.

Ask Amy
By AMY ADAMS

RE-EVALUATE YOUR POSITION!
Dear Amy: What is a married woman supposed to do when she has fallen very hard for her brother-in-law who is also married? My husband passes it off as some kind of joke. What should I do?
Confused

Dear Confused:
You should re-evaluate your position, realize how foolish you are behaving, "get over your brother-in-law" and be big enough to join your husband in that joke. Laughing at one's self sometimes is the greatest therapy.

Dear Amy:
I read your column of Jan. 9th pertaining to the non-drinker. I would like to suggest that if "Non Drinker" gets into the same situation again, she could order a Pink Lady. It is a non-alcoholic drink made from ginger ale and cherry juice. I might add that it is also quite tasty.
Also a Non-Drinker

'Mod' flower show Tuesday afternoon at home in borough

On Tuesday, the Mountainside Garden Club will hold its regular meeting at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. Ivan Boss, 348 Ackerman ave. After a business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Fred E. Rosenstiel, a member-participation flower show entitled "It's a Mod, Mod World" will be the feature of the afternoon.
All members are urged to submit one or more arrangements made of any materials - not necessarily flowers - and to label each with a title card. Prizes will be awarded by vote of the group to the "farthest out," the most imaginative, and the one that best expresses the theme of the show, a club spokesman said.
Dessert and coffee will be served before the meeting. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Frank H. Whitaker and Mrs. Joseph A. McGroarty. Mrs. Walter C. Jackson and Mrs. William H. Bonnet will assist them.
The regular monthly meeting of the Mountainside Garden Club Board took place at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. George A. Lewis. The president announced that Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. George A. Lewis, and Mrs. Bonnet will attend an all-day session of the horticulture workshop for Areas IV and V on March 13, today, at the Scotch Hills Country Club, Mrs. Courtland F. Denney and Mrs. Henry J. Bogacki will serve as hostesses at that meeting.
Mrs. John B. Garber, chairman for the Mountainside Club of the Joint Workshop of Mountainside and Westfield Garden Clubs, announced a "little show" for the March 25 meeting. Capsule table settings are to be shown, with flower arrangements scaled to the niche or card table. Consultants are Mrs. Harold L. Brooks and Mrs. William J. Degnen.

Luncheon and film highlight meeting
The Mountainside Woman's Club will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday, March 19, 1969 at 12:30 p.m. at the Mountainside Inn. Mrs. William Heller Sr. is program chairman for the day.
Following a luncheon, a cooking ware party and demonstration featuring a color film will be shown. Music, games, gifts and prizes are included in the program.
Members and their guests will be shown modern methods for preparing, serving and storage of foods. Floral arrangements and educational toys will also be on display.
The party and demonstration will be conducted by Robert V. Sheehan of Mountainside. All proceeds will benefit local charities.
Mrs. Michael Sgarro, chairman of the American Home Department of the club, announced two cartons of used text books have been sent to Maria Serrano in Mexico. Miss Serrano studied at Douglass College under a Woman's Club scholarship and has returned to her country to teach English.
The "April 16" meeting will feature Tom Mackin, television critic of the Newark Evening News.

St. Pat's dinner to be held today

There are two kinds of people in the world, the Irish and those that wish they were, will be the theme of the annual Friendly Sons of St. Patrick dinner of Union County, today at 7 p.m. in the Elizabeth Carter Hotel, it was announced by the organization president, Francis T. Carroll.

Rev. Herbert J. Clancy, S.J., former retreat master of Loyola Retreat House, Morristown, will be the guest speaker and Superior Court Judge Victor S. Kilkenny of Essex County will accompany him.

Other speakers will be Mayor Thomas G. Dunn; toastmaster will be Domestic Relations Court Judge John L. McGuire; the invocation will be given by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Carroll, pastor of St. Cecilia's Church, Kearny, the president's brother; benediction will be offered by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. Donnelly, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Elizabeth.

Attendance at the green-tie affair is limited to men of Irish blood or extraction, according to dinner chairman Joseph Higgins, Sr. Reservations may be acquired from Treasurer Carroll Dolan from his business address at 250 North Broad st., Elizabeth.

Fifth in 'Y' series of Festival of Arts to feature singers

The fifth in the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA's 1968-69 Festival of the Arts program, "From the Stage to Broadway," will be presented at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 23, at the 'Y' center, Green Lane, Union, by Baritone Norman Atkins, and Terry Saunders, singing star of the Broadway stage and motion pictures.

Atkins, leading baritone of the New York City Opera and Light Opera Company, is also cantor of the Metropolitan Synagogue of New York City in addition to his work in the concert and opera worlds.

He also has long been a developer of special programs for the American Jewish audience and a noted singer of Yiddish and Israeli folk and art songs.

Atkins has studied at the Julliard School in New York and has starred in many TV shows. For many years he has been the star of his own radio program in New York City.

Miss Saunders has most recently been seen as leading lady opposite Robert Weede in both the Broadway and national companies of "Milk and Honey," which played most of the major cities throughout the United States.

Her previous Broadway credits include "The King and I," in which she played "Lady Thiang," the favorite wife, which success took her to Hollywood to repeat this role in the movie version with Yul Brynner and Deborah Kerr.

Clinic sets discussion March 25

A panel discussion on "How We Help Our Children Who Are in Trouble" will be conducted at the annual meeting of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic in the auditorium of Overlook Hospital, Summit, on March 25 at 8:30 p.m.

Benjamin H. Haddock of Fanwood, executive director of the clinic, announced this week that the discussion program chairman is the Rev. Salvatore Citarello, the clinic's first vice president. Father Citarello is from Kenilworth.

The panel will include representatives from the Juvenile Court, the Bureau of Children's Services, a school guidance department, a principal from a junior high school, and from the Union County Psychiatric Clinic.

Mrs. William Kinast of Westfield, president of the clinic board of trustees, will receive a report from the nominations committee prior to the annual election of board members. This will be followed by a board meeting at which officers will be elected.

Dr. Jay W. Fidler of Plainfield, the clinic's medical director, will give his annual report.

Insurance agents told to diversify

Premium volume in the property and casualty insurance fields is expected to reach $35 billion within the next decade, a luncheon meeting of the Union County Association of Independent Insurance Agents will be told today.

Robert J. Spiel, president of the parent New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents, said this figure would represent a 74 percent increase between 1965 and 1975 and would offer "expanding opportunities for the independent agent able to face the challenge of change."

Because of changing conditions, Spiel said agents must diversify and assume the role of personal advisors in a wide range of financial planning.

Fraternity sends mouse to college

The crusade against cancer was enriched by $313.05, thanks to the men of Sigma Theta Chi fraternity, Newark State College, Union. The members of the fraternity conducted a "Send a Mouse to College Campaign" on campus and the $313.05 represents the total effort.

The campaign is based on the need of cancer research facilities to obtain white mice for use in cancer research. Thousands of mice are needed annually so the research projects can continue to function. "It was found that each mouse costs approximately 27 cents to buy, so anyone interested in donating 27 cents to the American Cancer Society can send a mouse to college," said a Union County Cancer Society spokesman.

Anyone or any organization interested in conducting such a campaign for the benefit of the American Cancer Society may call or write the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Arctic film at Trailside

"Bonanza at Great Bear," a color, sound movie, will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watching Reservation, this Sunday at 2 p.m.

The film takes the viewer to Great Bear Lake on the Arctic Circle for a fishing expedition.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 20, at 4 p.m. each day, Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, and Miss Irma H. Heyer, educational assistant at Trailside, will present one-half hour nature talks for children.

The topic to be discussed during the four days is "Wildlife of Western Mexico." The talks are illustrated with color slides and admission is free.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, tour the live-animal area, view the thousands of indoor exhibits, and participate in the scheduled programs.

Symphony unit continues active

The Women's Committee and the Junior Committee of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will continue with their scheduled activities, despite the fact that the orchestra has cancelled concerts scheduled for March. The cancellations are due to differences between the orchestra management and Local 16 of the American Federation of Musicians.

Mrs. James S. McAlister Jr. of Maplewood, State Council president of the Women's Committee of the New Jersey Symphony, reported that the committee for the 1969 "Jewel Ball" is actively engaged in plans for this annual social event. The Symphony Ball will be held April 19 at the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark.

The 8th Annual "Symphony Homes Tour" sponsored by the Summit Area Women's Committee will be held on Thursday, May 15.

Plans are also going ahead for the spring benefit planned by the Junior Committee at the Governor Morris Hotel in Morristown on May 10. The affair is to be entitled "Spring Song." This was reported by Garrett B. Hunter, of South Orange, chairman of the Junior Committee.

POISON DEATHS

The number of deaths by poisoning in New Jersey during 1967 was 159. Most of these resulted from analgesic and soporific drugs, motor vehicle exhaust, barbituric acid and derivatives and other forms of carbon monoxide.

"BOOK END REVUE" -- Ray Anthony, surrounded by some of his singers and dancers, left to right, Diane Varga, Natalie Moore and Kitty Oliver, opens his revue and trumpet band tonight at the Flagship Supper Club on Rt. 22 in Union. The show will run for seven nights including tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, as well as Wednesday and Thursday, March 19 and 20. The revue played four record-breaking years on Miami Beach, Fla.

The Theatre Seen

By ROBERT LYONS
HAMLET

Shakespeare is always being reinterpreted for the times. This is especially so in the play that is eternally trying to be explained -- Hamlet. At the Lyceum Ethel Rabb is presenting a drained, spare Prince of Denmark.

Even the exuberant moments are modulated. The second act begins with the play "to catch the conscience of the King." Claudius, Gertrude, Polonius and Ophelia sit in the audience. Hamlet looks on the usles. There is appropriate confusion among Horatio, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern who are stage managers. Yet when Claudius rises shaken and the house lights go on we are not caught up in it. Is Rabb saving this for the end? This is an absolutely superb play.

The acting adheres to Rabb's viewpoint. His Hamlet is probing, bookish, retiring, muddling rather than headlong.

For the others Ophelia is a gauche tomboy striving to be twenty in a day. Polonius is a consummate civil servant. Laertes is without a cause. Queen Gertrude is a face of sleepless worry shadowed in guilt. King Claudius is a vise of convergent sexuality. Horatio is a heap of shaggy, hapless loyalty. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are scholarly profiles, non buttons on the cap of fortune. There is an absolutely superb Ghost.

The single setting is deepened immeasurably by the exceptional lighting of James Tilton.

There is much of the library in this low key Hamlet. The whole show has the importance of a charcoal smudge.

IN SIBERIAN PRISON CAMP -- Anthony Quinn portrays Karl Loktas, a Russian prisoner before his release and departure for Rome and his eventual nomination to the Papal throne. The scene is from "The Shoes of the Fisherman" at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

Wrightson, Hunt lyrical treat in 'Kismet' at Meadowbrook

By BEA SMITH

Tunes such as the unforgettable "Stranger in Paradise," "Baubles and Bangles and Beads" are beautifully revived in the Meadowbrook Dinner Theater's production of "Kismet." The musical play (with music and lyrics by Robert Wright and George Forrest, and book by Charles Lederer and Luther David), stars a couple of Meadowbrook favorites, Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt.

The Wrightson-Hunt combination is a joy, as always, and in "Kismet," even though Miss Hunt "apologizes" to the audience for having to play Wrightson's daughter, Marsina, (she certainly doesn't look the part), she has such a lovely voice that the audience can forgive the miscasting and lose itself in the story, music and pace of "Kismet." Wrightson plays Haj, the beggar, with a forceful assurance and a marvelous voice to match.

There are other fine voices in the cast, particularly that of Nolan Van Way as the caliph. The costumes are extremely colorful, the quick changes in the scenery on the little theater-in-the-round stage continues to cause a viewer to gasp, and the fine supporting cast has some really good voices. It's a delightful show and it'll be around until March 30. See it, music lovers. You won't be sorry.

'Lion' continues run

Art holds Peter Sellers in second 'Toklas' week

The Art Theater, Irvington Center, is holding over "I Love You, Alice B. Toklas," and "Bye Bye, Braverman" for a second week. "Toklas" stars Peter Sellers, Leigh Taylor Young, Jo Van Fleet, Joyce Van Patten, David Arkin and Herbert Edelman.

"Bye, Bye, Braverman" has George Segal and Alan King in leading roles.

TURNTABLE TREATS (good listening) THE BLACK AND WHITE OF IT IS BLUES: by Joanne Vent. Joanne is one gal that can really sing the blues with a good clear voice, which she ably exhibits with numbers like "God Bless The Child", "Bet No One Ever Hurt This Bad", "Love Come Down", "You Can't Change", "Ninety Nine And A Half", "It's A Man's World", "Weak Spot", "I Love More Than You'll Ever Know", "Stormy Monday", "Can't Turn You Loose" and "Gloomy Sunday." If you were around in the early 40's, you may very well remember "Gloomy Sunday." This is the same famous "Hungarian Suicide Song" that was banned for awhile from being played on radio, due to the rash of suicides it caused during that period, when some individuals heard the depressing lyrics. Artie Shaw made the original 78 recording, which some of you may still have in your collection. (A&M RECORDS SP-4165)...THE CHURLS: the five young Canadians entertain vocally with 11 numbers - "Eventual Love", "Crystal Palace", "Think I Can't Live Without You", "Princess Mary Margaret", "City Lights", "Fish On A Line", "The Weeks Go By", "Where Will You Be Tomorrow", "Time Piece", "Reservations" and "Cypsy Lee." (A&M RECORDS SP-4169)...

POP COUNTRY: by The Lemon Sisters. The sisters four entertain with an even-dozen of listenable goodies - "My Special Angel", "Here Comes My Baby Back Again", "Funny How Time Slips Away", "Misty Blue", "I Hate To See Me Go", "Tear Time", "When Two Worlds Collide", "Don't Forget I Still Love You", "A Thing Called Sadness", "TIPS OF MY FINGERS", "Promises, Promises" and "Still." Members sought by Association for Retarded Children

"Any family can be struck by mental retardation. We plan to ask everyone to help combat it," Bertram Schwartz, unit president of the Association for Retarded Children said this week announcing that his group is holding a community-wide membership campaign during March.

Pointing out that three-quarters of the causes of mental retardation are unknown and that three out of every 100 persons in the United States are retarded, Schwartz said, "Our membership must represent a cross-section of Eastern Union County if we are to help the retarded in our community."

The membership drive is part of a country-wide campaign being conducted by the 1,300 affiliated units of the National Association.

"Men and women are needed to provide professional advice and assistance, to work with retarded children and young people, to open up employment opportunities and to build community programs," Schwartz said.

Young people are needed to seek careers in the fields of special education, recreation, social work and scientific research. Teenagers are needed as camp counselors, scouting programs helpers and trained baby sitters, he continued.

"And many helping hands and walking feet are needed to carry this message throughout the community during our March membership drive," he concluded.

Chemical education symposium at UC

A symposium on "Programs and Problems in Chemical Education in Two-year and Four-year Colleges" will be sponsored by the Chemical Education Topical Group of the North Jersey Chapter of the American Chemical Society on Saturday, at Union College.

Dr. Charles Erickson of Rutgers University will moderate the program. Speakers will include Dr. Frank A. Spano of Middlesex County College, Edison; Dr. Robert S. Rouse of Monmouth College, West Long Branch; Dr. Carol Weill of Rutgers University, Newark; and Dr. Robert I. Walter of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Spano will speak on "Technical and Professional Chemistry Programs in a Two-year College." "Relationship Between Two-year and Four-year College Chemistry Programs" will be discussed by Dr. Rouse. Dr. Weill's topic will be "Undergraduate Chemistry in a State University," and Dr. Walter will discuss "The Future of Chemistry in the Liberal Arts College."

Invitations to attend the symposium have been extended to college chemistry teachers. Sister Marion Jose Smith of the College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, is chairman of reservations.

Prof. Farris S. Swackhamer of Cranford, chairman of Union College's Chemistry Department, will be host.

Pretech program expanding at UCT

The pretechnical program, initiated last September at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, will be expanded next September, to accommodate approximately 100 students, it was announced by Dean Richard Phillips.

Only 25 applicants had been accepted into the 1968-69 program: those whose test scores and/or school records were not quite high enough for enrollment in the four existing technology courses (chemistry, data processing, drafting, and electronics), but who seemed to have potential ability and sufficient motivation. On Jan. 28, at the conclusion of their first semester, 17 students registered for a second semester of study.

PAPER USERS

Half the world's 18-million-ton annual consumption of paper is used in North America, the United Nations reports.

Sorority to help orphans in Viet

Orphans in Vietnam will fare just a little bit better thanks to a letter which appeared in an area newspaper, and the efforts of the Alpha Delta Chi Sorority at Union College.

Miss Peggy Kafery of Cranford read a letter from Capt. Jack Cochring who is serving in Vietnam with the U.S. Army Special Forces, in a recent issue of the newspaper and was sufficiently moved to ask her sorority to support a drive for the orphans. The letter appealed to readers for soap, antiseptic cream, baby clothing, infant's clothes and toys, condensed milk, hard candy and an electric hot water heater. He described the children, who range in age from a few weeks to four-year olds, as the orphans of a war torn society. They are housed in four orphanages in the Mekong Delta.

One of the first to respond to the sorority's appeal was the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, whose membership is limited to 100 members. The fraternity contributed $10.

Among those serving with Miss Kafery on the Alpha Delta Chi's Vietnam Orphans Drive are: Miss Barbara McInnes of 179 East Webster St., Roselle Park and Miss Donna Lee of 417 Drake St., Roselle.

Visit the Bahamas via Newark State exhibit of paintings

March is the time for a trip to the Bahamas, but if you can't get away you can, at least, take a "Visual Trip To the Bahamas" via the paintings of Margaret Kirkpatrick currently on exhibit at "Only Originals Gallery" in Irvington.

Recent trips to the Bahamas have inspired the artist to translate into her paintings not only the sunshine of the islands but also the deep mystery of the tropical jungle.

The exhibition is being shown through March 29. Gallery hours are 1-5:30 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday and until 9 p.m., Thursday.

Miss Kirkpatrick is a full professor of fine arts at Newark State College, Union, where she has been a member of the faculty since 1959.

A native of the Mid-West, she has exhibited throughout the United States. Her work has been shown at the Chicago Art Institute, the Baltimore Museum of Art, the Delaware Art Center, and all the New Jersey museums. She is represented in numerous private and public collections including the New York University Collection, the Delaware Art Center, and Newark State College.

Why does Margaret Kirkpatrick love to paint the islands? "Everywhere there is movement, growth, and contrasts," the artist explains. "The water is cobalt blue, turquoise, ultra-marine, and so crystal clear that coral reefs are visible from the air. The dark green shapes of scattered out-islands are edged with white and laced with thin trails." Miss Kirkpatrick's paintings are really visual poems to the lush growth, the mysterious blackness at night, and the clean sunny brilliance of the day.

Margaret Kirkpatrick received her BA from Nebraska Wesleyan University and her MA from the University of Michigan. She was the first recipient of the doctor of education degree granted by the Creative Arts Doctoral Program at New York University.

Autocracy gains in Japan Future gloomy, observes prof

A long range study by a Rutgers University psychologist suggests that Japan is making only superficial progress toward democracy and in fact shows strong signs of reversion to many of its original characteristics as an autocratic society.

This same study also suggests that the outlook for the imposition by this country of Western style democracy anywhere in Southeast Asia, and in Vietnam in particular, in the foreseeable future is quite gloomy indeed.

Dr. F. Kenneth Berrien, a professor of psychology in the University College division at Rutgers, based his conclusions in a large part on findings in a project supported by the U.S. Navy Office of Naval Research.

Dr. Berrien, a long-time close student of inter-cultural relations, said these findings were reinforced by conversations with other students of Southeast Asia during extensive travels there and by studies at the University of Hawaii.

Prof. Berrien was at the University of Hawaii East-West Center as director of a Japanese-American values study in 1966 and again in 1968 as organizer and chairman of an international conference on psychological problems in changing societies.

Also studied were a number of local Parent Teacher Associations in both countries.

The investigators found that volunteer fire departments and P.T.A.'s, the latter organized in Japan shortly after World War II, were still being run in highly authoritarian fashion there.

Such is not the case in this country. Although there is a certain amount of central control in the P.T.A. here it is nothing like that in Japan.

Most P.T.A.'s in this country have a general membership meeting eight times a year. Members do a considerable amount of decision making and have an opportunity to express opinions freely, often opinions which are quite contrary to those of school authorities.

PROF. BERRIEN SAID that in Japan P.T.A. decision making is largely controlled by the school principal and the president of the P.T.A. (Usually a general membership meeting is held only once a year.

The difference between the organization of Japanese and American volunteer fire departments is even more marked.

In this country a volunteer fire department usually gets started when a group of interested men get together, raise money through such devices as raffles, turkey shoots and bingo, and organize one strictly on their own.

Moreover, Dr. Berrien noted, a U.S. volunteer fire department is really two organizations. One is the business side, composed of president, secretary-treasurer and the like; the other is composed of the various ranks of firefighters, from captain on down.

The point is, Dr. Berrien said, that the individual does not necessarily hold a rank in one organization equivalent to the one he holds in the other. This allows for a great deal of flexibility and almost automatically forces a great deal of the give and take of democratic procedure.

In Japan there is only one organization in the smaller communities and the chief is selected not because he knows anything about firefighting but because he is one of the most prominent men in the community.

Status of the chief is respected and he gives the orders at both business meetings and the scene of a fire.

EQUALLY IMPORTANT is the fact that there is a national fire law in Japan which spells out what every community must have in the way of fire fighting equipment and personnel, even to the point of telling each community how many men they must have directing traffic at a fire.

These findings, Dr. Berrien believes, illustrate that democracy is not taking roots in Japan. He also believes that they have been confirmed by many Southeast Asia political observers who have generally conceded in private conversations that experience is showing that Western style democracy can not be force-fed into the alien cultures of Southeast Asia.

Said Dr. Berrien: "It is unrealistic to expect that we can turn countries around from autocratic to democratic forms of government merely by imposing new constitutions on them. My general hunch is that before you can get a country to accept and operate on a democratic pattern there has to be a general acceptance of democratic values at the grass roots level."

COLLECTOR -- Dr. F. Kenneth Berrien, a long-time close student of inter-cultural relations and professor at Rutgers University College, displays fireman's jacket he was given while studying Japanese fire departments. Writing on back of jacket says "Shi eama," the name of the village where Dr. Berrien was presented with the jacket.

Kittens to put on the dog To crown 'king,' 'queen' of cats

Cats or kittens of uncertain ancestry are ready to break into the highest strata of New Jersey royalty.

Registration opens today for proud cat owners who want to enter their household pets in an all breed championship show to be held April 26 and 27 in Viking Hall at Upsala College in East Orange.

The show will be co-sponsored by the Ramapo Valley Breeders & Fanciers of New Jersey and the Kittens of Club of Connecticut, and sanctioned as a championship show by the American Cat Association.

A panel of judges known internationally in the cat fancy will crown a king and queen of household pets at the end of the two-day show. The household pet category includes felines of all sizes, shapes, and color. Frequently this breed is referred to by the somewhat derogatory term, "alley cat."

Auriferous sash ribbons and silver trophies will be awarded to the top cats in all classes. Among the purebred felines to be judged are Siamese, Burmese, Persians, Himalayans, Russian Blues, Abyssinians and Korats.

Judges will be Miss Rosemary Graham of Montreal, June Lechtanski of Hackensack, Jane Perkins of Providence, R. I., and Phillip Albert of Boston.

A portion of the proceeds of the show will be contributed to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and other humane societies.

Registration will close March 26. Entries will be limited to 350 cats. Registration information is available from Gordon Ainsworth of 290 Ackerson ave., Wyckoff, a member of the Ramapo club.

PART OF THE STUDY Prof. Berrien has been conducting for the navy since 1956 involved a comparison between small community organizations in this country and similar ones in Japan.

The reason for this study was to determine whether the presumed changes in the Japanese political situation after the imposition of a democratic constitution there following World War II had actually taken at the "rice roots" level.

Dr. Berrien and his fellow investigators found that they had not.

Chosen for the study were 50 volunteer fire departments in Japan and 57 volunteer fire departments in this country which are members of the North Jersey Firemen's Association.

Philippine group will sing at NSC

The University of the Philippines Madrigal Singers will present a concert Monday at the Newark State College Theatre for the Performing Arts. Performances are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The singing group is one of 13 foreign choruses participating in the Second International University Choral Festival held by the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts this month. The choruses will visit more than 80 universities, colleges and schools in 20 states and appear in concerts at Philharmonic Hall.

Each chorus will present a wide variety of music with special emphasis upon the music of its own country.

The singers will be guests of Newark State the weekend prior to the concert. They will be lodged in the college dormitories.

University choruses from Argentina, Australia, Austria, Brazil, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Germany, Ghana, Japan, Korea, Switzerland and the United States will visit other campuses.

Neurological Diseases and Stroke, one of the National Institutes of Health, supports research into the causes and treatment of stuttering and other speech disorders. The Institute supports a communication sciences research program which is trying to find out why children stutter and how they can best be treated and cured.

Stuttering has been called an "avoidable accident." There is increased hope that this accident rate can be reduced through research being conducted at and supported by the National Institutes of Health, the Government's main research arm.

Stuttering is a speech problem. It may also be a psychological problem. It has been termed a habit, learned behavior, a symptom of personal difficulties. It occurs in the speaker, but may sometimes be provoked by the too-critical listener.

Stuttering obviously is not a well-understood problem. While it occurs in approximately two million Americans, and has been known medically for centuries, there has been little actual research on the disorder. Many experts do not agree on the true background, cause, and treatment for stuttering. However, new methods of research now are being carried out.

Primary stuttering -- that which begins in childhood -- starts between babyhood and childhood, the period when social speech begins. Learning to talk is something like learning to walk; there are natural hesitations and mistakes that show that the trick is not yet mastered.

Trouble may begin when a parent or other adult in authority labels these natural falterings as "stuttering." The child then becomes needlessly aware of his speech, and is forced to conclude that he is not quite normal in this way. Increased attention to the child during stuttering episodes reinforces this conclusion. When he worries over the negative reaction he is getting, he tends to make hesitations, blocks, and repetitions more frequently until they become a learned reaction to social conversation.

The act of stuttering includes more than a lack of fluency in speech. Generally there are also physical symptoms of frustration. The person may clench his fists as he comes to a bothersome word, he may squint his eyes or tense up the muscles of his face. He may think that if he hits his leg and tries to say the word at the same time, it will come out better. Actually, all these actions performed in a conscious attempt to help speech patterns only make the stutterer more aware of his problem, more ill at ease, and thus more likely to stutter.

Therapists have found that stuttering is a vicious cycle of faulty speech and actions. The more the child struggles, the more a parent or other adult watches and worries over him. This concern and disapproval becomes evident to the speaker who tries hard to speak correctly. He tries to speak too hard -- his speech patterns become less normal, and his stuttering worsens. To some experts, the problem is "not in the speaker's mouth but in the listener's ear."

In some cases, the best treatment for stuttering is to concentrate on the actual physical mechanics of the disorder. However, a variety of treatment methods have been tried with patients who stutter.
