Embattled parents appeal to borough school board for aid

Action is the keynote in the boys' basketball sessions conducted at Deerfield School every Saturday morning

Scouts receive awards at dinner

The Mountainside Girl Scout Father-Daughter Banquet was held on Tuesday evening at Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Some 300 fathers, Junior, Cadette and Senior Scouts and leaders assembled in honor of Girl Scout Week. Table centerpieces by each troop carried out the "service" theme of the evening, Junior Troop 599 conducted the opening flag cere-mony, and representatives from each junior Mrs. Richard Derr. Washington Rock Council

Scout representative, presented the first class scouting award to Cadettes Nancy Osbahr, Debbie Wagner, Ginny Sproul, Kathy Mullin, Diane Pfriender, Gail Murdoch and Ellen Hart, A skit based on Girl Scout service was given by the Senior Scouts of Troop 389; and Junior Troop 499 retired the colors at the close of the Arrangements for the dinner were made by the Mountainside community service team under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Alessi.

Parents urged rubella 'shots'

Charles Dotto, health officer of Mountainside, this week urged parents to have their children vaccinated against German measles (rubelia) as soon as possible, since an out-break of this disease has been forecast as a possibility for 1970-71. Children from one to 10 are most likely to catch and spread the disease, and all in this age group should receive the vaccine unless special medical reasons caution against it, he said.

Although German measles in children is usually a mild disease, it is far more serious in adults who may catch it from children. The greatest danger is in the potential damage to an unborn child when a mother contracts the disease during pregnancy.

Although the risk to the unborn child is greatest during the first three months of pregnancy, infection up to the sixth month of pregnancy can produce defects of hearing, mental retardation and damage to the main vessels of the beart in the child.

During a major epidemic in 1964, he said, 20,000 children were born with serious birth defects. At that time, an estimated 247,000 women contracted the disease during the first three months of pregnancy, and at least 8,000 fetal deaths were attributed to the disease.

Vaccination of young and adult women is not desirable, since there is a chance the vaccine might be given to women who are already pregnant, or who may become pregnant within the next two months.

Dotto cautioned parents that children who are allergic to neomycin or to chicken and duck eggs and feathers should not take the vaccine.

VFW Post plans double celebration at a dinner-dance

Mountainside Memorial Post 10136, VFW. will hold its first dinner-dance at the Mountainside Inn, on Friday, March 20. The affair will mark the first anniversary of the post, as well as the enrollment of its 100th member, William (Gary) Tomko, of Linda drive, a Purple Heart veteran of Vietnam.

The musical theme will focus on the nation's varying ethnic backgrounds. A post spokesman stated: "Since the VFW represents a typically American organization, it recognizes that the blending of these qualities, and varying heri-tages, is what has made America unique and strong. So, with the music setting the theme, guests of each heritage will be responding to such dances as the polka, tarantella, perhaps a jig and even the schuh-platler, as well as the conventional waitz, foxtrot, lindy, boog-a-loo, alley-cat, or what have you." Advance ticket sale has already reached 150.

Anyone interested in attending may call the dance chairman, Ed Soltysik, 232-1098. Other committee members are Nick Molinaro, Erwin Schwarte, Joe Siejk and Sal Severini.

Women Voters of Westfield, starting on Monday. The Mountainside meeting will be Tuesday at 12:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Nash, 1140 Saddle Brook rd.

Leaders for the "legislative round-up" presentations are: Mrs. Ural Roundtree, legislative chairman for the Westfield League; Mrs. Paul Moffett, formerly state league legislative chairman; Mrs. George Walker, first vicepresident of the state league, and Mrs. Bill Dever, chairman of representative government, tax rates and treaty making.

There will also be a discussion of national program making, second round. This affords an opportunity for full scale grass roots participation in program formulation to be acted upon at the National Convention in Washington, D. C., May 4 to 8.

Other unit meetings are held in various Westfield homes for the convenience of those who cannot attend the Mountainside meeting. These are scheduled for Wednesday evening and Thursday morning as well as Monday afternoon. Information is available from Mrs. Carl Addinall, chairman of units, 746 Belvidere ave.,

Pair opposed to Regional transfer plan

Ties are emphasized with Gov. Livingston

By JACK PFANNE The Mountainside Board of Education Tues-day night was confronted with another hot issue besides the current impasse in negotiating a new contract with the Mountainside Teach-at the regular monthly meeting of the board at Deerfield School, Mrs. John Knodel and Mrs. John Palmer, who said they represented a parents' group interested in sending all Mountainside students to Gov. Livingston Regional High School, asked the board for its help. Mrs. Knodel said the group had collected over 600 signatures on a petition demanding local students be sent to Gov. Livingston instead of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield

Mrs. Palmer said that the group opposes a plan by the regional school board which would transfer all Mountainside students from Gov. Livingston to Dayton.

The board has adopted this policy for its expansion program in order to equalize the size of the four regional high schools.

Mountainside parents have strongly objected, stating that Gov. Livingston has been their children's home high school and that a transfer would be unfair to the children. Both Mrs. Knodel and Mrs. Palmer saidthat Mountainside children were being used as 'pawns' by the regional school board.

They said that to put the Mountainside stu-dents in any of the four regional high schools would be to overload one of the schools. But, the women added, Gov. Livingston is the high school best equipped to handle this overload. They argued that there are 40 acres of land at the high school and only 10 acres at Dayton. This would give Gov. Livingston more roomto expand, they declared.

The petition circulated by the group, Mrs.
Knodel said, had the names of 600 persons with children in school. They said that another petition circulated in the borough calling for the continuation of Mountainside freshmen now at Dayton had less than 60 signatures and those were from parents of Mountainside children in the ninth grade at Dayton.

MEANWHILE, as the board considered its support of this issue, members of its nego-tiating committee, headed by Allan W. Dehls, were scheduled to meet in a fact-finding session last night with the negotiating team from the Mountainside Teachers' Association. This is the last step, under state law, that the negotiations can take. The talks have already been through the mediation stage.

The board and the MTA are at odds over which of two laws they will be bound by — Title 18A of the New Jersey State Statutes or the new Chapter 303, Public Employee Re-

The board contends that Chapter 303 over-laps Title 18A and also says that a feature of the new law providing that "terms and conditions (of employment) be discussed" is too ambiguous.
Terms and conditions may mean staff notifications of openings in school departments, personal leave, Teacher Association rights and privileges, teacher evaluations, dismissal pro-cedures and teacher hours and loads.

Title 18A has been in effect since 1938 and is the law which empowers boards of education to Dehls said that the fact-finding session last night would not resolve the impasse between the board and the MTA. He said that only a test case in the courts would determine a precedent on which a decision could be based. He said that there are more than 100 boards at odds with teacher associations right now over the issue of 18A versus 305. The closest case to court, he said, is in Ramsey. DONALD L. JEKA, who is on Dehls' negotiating committee, made a report on his attendance at the State Federation of District

Boards of Education meeting in February, He said that he had "talked to several legislators personally who told me that Chapter 303 was proving itself 'unworkable' in its present form."

Jeka said that amendments to 303 were re-viewed at the February gathering by Thomas (Continued on page 4)

Winter swim team collects money for cerebral palsy fund

A member of the Mountainside winter swim team this week reported on a special, dry-land activity. She stated:

"A few members of the Swim Team got to-gether the Sunday of the cerebral palsy telethon and decided to go out for a few hours and collect money for the palsy children. We thought, that since we took for granted our swimming, walking, and running ability, we could help young-ing, and running ability, we could help young-sters less fortunate than ourselves.

''After collecting from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon we called into the telethon and gave-our piedge of $74.70.

'The members who collected the money were: Donna Bieszczak, Kathy Weeks, Cathy Joan Phillips, Cathy Fischer, and Brian Phil-lips. These members would like to thank all lips. These members would like to thank all the people who were so great in contributing money to them to help the children.

'We also received a thank you letter from the United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County for the pledge. It was signed by James L. Simpson, the executive director. This letter will be displayed in the trophy case at the Mountainside Pool."

A cantata will be performed at Presbyterian church here

The cantata, "The Requiem," by Gabriel Faure, composed for the holy season of Lent in the Christian church, will be presented by the Senior choir of the Springfield Presbyterian Church, Morris avenue at Church Mall, on Sunday, in the Church Sanctuary. John H. Bunnell, director of music, noted the "timeliness of the musical presentation" for Passion Sunday which will be observed at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. church worship services conducted by the Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor.

Under the interpretation of Bunnell, who also serves as director of music at Madison High School, and assisted by the work of Mrs. Elsie Brooks, church organist, the Senior Choir has been hard at work in this cantata. It will utilize for the first time in sacred concert the full repertoire of the new Moller pipe organ which was installed in the church last year.

Solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Marsha Wright, soprano, and Bunnell, baritone. Members of the 35-voice choir participating will include Mrs. Wright, Carol Clark, Wendy

Three free on bail, arrested by police on assault charges

Three men were arrested last Thursday on charges stemming from an alleged assault Wednesday night on a 21-year-old woman in an apartment at 248 Morris ave. in Springfield, police reported.

Raymond Kasczyk, 21, and Thomas C, Foster, 25, both of whom reside at the Morris avenue address, and Mario Riccio. 25, of 235 Shorthill dr., Mountainside, were arrested by Springfield police at about 9:45 p.m. at the apartment on a complaint by Detective Sam Calabrese.

The woman, whom police declined to identify, called police in Irvington after the alleged incident, after the defendants reportedly took her home. Irvington police then notified Springfield authorities.

Riccio was released on $1,500 bail on charges of assault with intent to rape, assault and battery, and dispensing hallucinogenic drugs. Foster was released on $2.000 bail on assault charges, while Kasczyk posted $1,000 on

SECOND IN A SERIES
He is fat, he smokes more than a pack of cigarettes a day;
his blood cholesterol level is blood pressure.

This unfortunate fellow is an ideal candidate for a coronary heart attack.

It does not follow, of course, that a slim, non-smoking woman with low blood fats and no hypertension cannot have a heart attack.

It does mean that each of the unfortunate factors listed for our fat friend is known to be associated with mankind's leading killer, heart disease, and that the more factors present in one person, the higher his risk.

higher his risk.

The basis for this sharply delineated portrait of the coronary-prone human is not the result of subjective guesswork. It is, instead, a statistically valid finding from an extraordinary study which has been under way since 1949 in Framingham, Massachusetts.

In that year 5,000 men and women were selected at random and given extremely thorough physical and psychological tests. They will be closely followed — with frequent reexaminations — for a total of 20 years. While the picture is not yet complete, an analysis by the experts of the data collected over the years to date gives a pretty clear composite picture, of those among the 5,000 who have had heart attacks.

Clearly the typical victim is that fat cigarette smoker with high cholesterol and hypertension.

It may seem strange that anyone should find these facts heartening, yet in a way they are. For it should be noted that, with one exception, all the factors which make our far man such an ideal candidate for a coronary are either preventable, curable or treatable.

Our candidate cannot, of course, help being a man. He is stuck with his sex, and statistics indicate unquestionably that men suffer coronaries much more frequently than women, at least until the latter reach the menopause.

But there is no reason under

But there is no reason under the sun why our candidate should remain obese. The weight of even the fattest man can be brought down to a healthy level and kept there.

But it should be done only under the guidance of a physician. Starvation diets or other fad methods of losing weight, practiced on a do-it-yourself basis, can be dangerous.

Nobody should pretend that it is easy for the long-time heavy cigarette smoker to shuck his habit. But it can be done, and the large number who have stopped since the Surgeon General's report was issued attest to that fact.

Here, again, the help of a doctor may be needed. Others have been assisted in this rugged test of will power by group therapy clinics. Others just stop—and then make life miserable for their more spineless friends.

A high cholesterol level presents a tougher problem. Despite earlier claims, no drug has yet been found which can safely and certainly reduce blood fats in all patients. But there is increasing evidence that diets which replace saturated (largely animal) fats with unsaturated (mostly certain types of vegetable) fats in the diet are quite helpful in this regard.

As to high blood pressure, in most people it can be lowered and controlled with medications. Here again it is important that the job be done under the supervision of a physician.

One final point is well worth noting: it is never too late to start. So you can take heart.

Mrs. Herbert Forman, president of the Springfield League of Women Voters, announced this week that the next unit meeting of the Springfield League will be held at the control of the Springfield League will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Koppel, 390 Rolling Rock rd., next Thursday evening, March 19, at 8:15. New Jersey's fiscal policy will be discussed. Mrs. John Schlager, chairman of the unit, said that the state's tax structure as it now stands is "regressive and inadequate." She continued, "While the recent increase in sales tax from 3 to 5 percent may balance the budget on paper, it will provide us with no improved services of any kind. Two-thirds of all public monies in New Jersey are raised by spiraling local property taxes and, as a result, New Jersey has one of the highest property taxes in the country." She concluded that New Jersey ranks seventh in per capita personal income and 50th in per capital total state expenditures. For more facts, Mrs. Schlager said, interested League members and their friends are invited to attend next Thursday.

In announcing the petition drive, the local League president, Mrs. Forman, stated: "The fact that the 800,000 people who live in our nation's capital have no one to represent them in the Congress of the United States is a basic injustice which must and can be righted."

Mrs. Forman pointed out that since Washington is actually governed by the Congress, the lack of representation is a serious curtailment of an individual's right to participate in the affairs of government. Without elected spokes-men in Congress, she said, residents of the District of Columbia have no one to represent their views on issues of national or foreign policy. In addition, Congress sets both federal and local taxes which Washington residents

The Springfield League will gather petition signatures the week of April 16-22—one day after the April 15 federal income tax deadline.

The drive to secure congressional representation for the District of Columbia is a major part of League of Women Voters activities during its 50th anniversary year. The League has designated 1970 as "The Year of the Voter" and, in addition to the Washington petition drive, will place emphasis on the importance of the franchise for all Americans.

Representation in Congress for the District of Columbia will require the passage of a constitutional amendment by a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION HELPS

Physical education and 'phys-ed' teachers can be a major help to mentally handi-capped children.

Demonstrating this and other potential resources for mental health help for chil-dren through teachers of physical education and recreation, a Pennsylvania project sup-ported by the National In-stitute of Mental Health's manpower training division is producing 'encouraging re-

The program has helped to train the teachers in the special mental problems of the children, and to provide guidelines and models that could be used to develop similar programs in other places. In addition, it has helped to upset some old notions, such as the one that a handicapped child would not respond to physical training and did not have the same needs as the normal child. This we now know to be far from true.

Most handicapped children ivsical conditio physical recreational skills, and sports skills; and they suffer from lack of "ego-identity" and from feelings of inadequacy and inferiority. Physical education teachers; themselves usually good athletes, are found to offer special qualities for handicapped children. For example, they are oriented to use of the body in a way that mental health personnel mental health personnel usually are not. They do not tend to become involved in emotional conflicts which, though important to be recog-nized in the clinic or psychiatrist's office, may interfere with physical training. Another factor is that the children look up to the ath-letic, physical education teacher. Athletes and sports figures are important to the children; and they work hard for people who symbolize sports and athletics to them,

More important than physical development is the remendous sense of accomplishment the child receives from phsylcal education or recreation and sports achievement, social scientists report. The slightest triumph is a major one for the handicapped.

The gratification parents the children receive from such achievements is also striking; and the whole outlook of the handicapped child toward himself and of his parents by such accomplishments.

Over 275 adults in YMCA program

More than 275 adults have registered for courses in the Summit Area YMCA Adult School. Classes started yesterday, but interested persons may still register for the 28 courses in session.

Courses range in interest from hypnosis to karate.

At First New Jersey, the Sixties were only a prelude. In the last year of the decade, we grew by $10 million, capping a five year doubling of our assets.

A wise man once said: "The future belongs to those who prepare for it."

We like to think we have been doing just that throughout our innovative early years. Certainly, few financial institutions have so ceaselessly sought to widen its range of services, markets and assets as our bank. And fewer still have been as willing to adapt to what is clearly the new role of banks in helping Americans achieve the good life. One result has been one of the most dazzling periods of growth in New Jersey banking history. From a small bank serving a modest suburban community, we have grown in less than two decades to one of the top 8% of all banks in the United States. Our assets have more than doubled in five years. They now exceed $62 million and the magic $100 million mark is within easy striking distance. Our name has been changed to First New Jersey Bank, to more accurately reflect our wider geographic scope.

We now serve the four regions around Union, Clark, New Providence and Middlesex. And projected growth, for both First New Jersev and these areas promise continued and vigorous

We have achieved all this because we dared to anticipate how people and companies use money in a modern economy. We brought advanced technology to banking in this area. We sought out and brought in services that fit the life style of the prosperous, busy, contemporary people we serve.

First New Jersey Bank is truly first with services for the Seventies .

First New Jersey introduced the Master Charge credit card with a sliding service charge for merchants related to the volume of purchases

First New Jersey offered free checking on a minimum balance of $200.

First New Jersey paid 5% on Golden Passbook Investment Accounts as low as $500. For business and industry. First New Jersey set up a Computer Service Center to handle billing, payroll, receivables, bookkeeping inventory control, list maintenance, and other EDP tasks. Union Armor Car Company, a First New Jersey member company, does extensive transporting of valuables.

And all this is only the beginning. Early in the 1970's First New Jersey will become involved in:

Regional Data Centers, where millions of pieces of information will be no further from you than your telephone.

 Direct access to vast data via desk-top equipment. 24-hour banking service, with deposits and withdrawals handled electronically.

An extensive Trust Department, with advisory services in stocks, bonds, and general investments.

In so many exciting ways, First New Jersey Bank will be almost unrecognizable to the customer of the Sixties

Cash, as a medium of exchange, will almost disappear. First New Jersey offices will be everywhere, serving the fastpaced needs of a busy, mobile community.

First New Jersey will be widely involved in streamlining the massive information explosion in offices and homes. Providing information. Automating bill pay ments and collections. Advising on a greatly expanded number of money matters.

This is the growing, soaring world of First New Jersey Bank in the Seventh Decade of this turbulent century.

Isn't this the bank for the way you want to live?

IT'S WORTH REPEATING

Here are some magic tricks which your children will enjoy.

Can a glass be more than full? Yes, here's how.

Take a glass and fill it to the brim. Then take another glass of water and carefully pour a little water into the full glass. Do this slowly and the full glass will receive a small quantity of water. If you look at the full glass from the side, you'll see that it's actually more than full, Reason: the water piles up in the center and forms a tiny bump which is very visible. Take care that the brim of the glass doesn't become wet.

Also take care when selecting a clean-ing establishment for your family's clothes. One that's constantly recommended in this area is ECHOCLEANERS. We're conveniently located in the Echo Plaza Shopping Center at Mountain Ave. and Route 22, Springfield, Phone 379-4499.

P. Cook, federation counsel. The main purpose of the amendments was to clarify certain sections of the act and to make it more workable. Among the amendments was a proposal for a sclear definition of terms and conditions of employment.

"Frankly, it is my personal opinion," Jeka id, "that if the legislation had been drafted to include clarification of all these points at the outset, many of the boards of education throughout the state would not now find themselves at impasse with teacher organizations."

In another development, Dehls, who said that negotiations with the teachers had been most cordial, sharply criticized the MTA for issuing an '11th hour' letter on their posi-The letter, dated March 9, stated the position of the teachers group and was ostensibly for circulation through the borough.

The letter asked if the board had "the right to break the law." Dehls contended that not only was this an unethical breach of trust between the two groups but that also it was wrong since the law by which the operations between the board and the teacher organizations worked was not yet established.

IN OTHER BOARD business. Grant H. Lennox made his president's appointments. They are: Thomas J. Spina, administration and education; Lennox, buildings and grounds; William J. Biunno, finance; Jeka, legislation and public relations; Walter H. Rupp, long-range planning; Frank A. Lombard, safe-ty and transportation, and Dehls, Biunno and Spina, negotiation committee.

The following miscellaneous appointments were made: Grant H. Lennox, representative to Union County School Boards Association; Donald L. Jeka, representative to State Federation of District Boards of Education; Allan W. Dehls, representative to conferences of Constituent Boards and Regional District; Thomas J. Spina, representative to Mountain-side Recreation Commission; Frank A. Lombard, representative to Mountainside Civil Defense and representative to Union County Education Services Commission.

Also, the resignation of Mrs. Antonietta Della Valle, an aide at Beechwood School, was accepted. She will be replaced by Mrs. Jacqueline Citron.

The Mountainside Echo and the Plainfield Courier were named official newspapers for the school board. Three other papers were approved for news releases. They are the Westfield Leader, the Elizabeth Daily Journal and the Newark News.

Looking back at winter sports teams: Encouraging signs for future success

Several individual athletes stood out as the Gov. Livingston wrestling and basketball teams concluded their seasons. The two teams combined with the bowlers to make the past winter sports season at Regional one of the most encouraging in the school's history. Statistically, the basketball team was the least successful of the three, timishing 10-10 in regular season and losing to Hillside and west Orange in the county and state tourna-ments, West Orange trounced the Highlanders, 76-59 winning more easily than the score

The victors, who went on to lose to South Side of Newark by eight points, tounted Re-gional with a full-court press and, relying heavily on the shooting of Bob Nack, knocked Gov. Lavingston out of the game midway in the second period. Nack set a school scoring record with 41 points, bitting from all over the court. shot 15 of 21 from the field a torrid 71

Nack's record performance overshadowed a fine game by Jeff Burdette in his last game for Gov. Livingston. He finished with 17 points, scoring seven of his team's 11 first quarter points to enable his team to stay in the game in the quarter, Nack, however, was just too good. He tallied Orange's first seven points. He had 25 in the first half and, along with Tom Massa, led his team to a 41-24 halftime bulge. With the issue already settled, West Orange decided to get Nack the record, finally taking him out with 3:20 left in the contest. At one point the difference was 29 points, but Regional vas able to make the score respectable in the

It was a sad finish for the Highlanders. who had hoped to advance much higher in the state or county tournaments. For Burdette, Doug Rau and Eric Wichelhaus, West Orange was their final game for Livingston, Although Regional did not finish as highly as expected, they can be comforted by the fact that for the first time in six years, Gov. Livingston had a basketball team with a .500 record.

Next season? Three starters return as well as two reserves who saw a good deal of action. Up front Bill Trakimas, Kevin McBrien, and Iohn Brownell will return while the guards will likely be Chuck Rundlet and Rich Weiss, with Kevin Corcoran in reserve. The major loss is Burdette. For three years he has been the key basketball player at Regional.

sine and shooting? He finished with a 16 point average and his passing and dribbling prompted one scout to rate him "within the top four or five hallhandlers in the state,"

In the Regionals last week in Trenton, all three Gov. Livingston wrestlers -- Stuart Brown, Gary Farrell and Bill Ruff -- were detested. Brown came the closest to winning, taking a second place, but lost to Gary O'Brien in the (inals, O'Brien, who was top-seeded (Brown was second-seeded), beat Brown, 6-1. Stuart had a tough time reaching the finals, pulling out a tough 2-0 overtime decision over Paul Naylor, G.L. sother two hopefuls, Farrell and Ruff, were elminated in the early going.

The squad ended the season at 9-3, finishing a close second in the District to Scotch Plains, losing by one point. Individually, Gov. Livingston figures to be very strong next year in the lighter weight classes, with Brown, Dana Sommers. Bob Preston, Brian Saverese and Vinnie DeVito returning. In the upper weights, only Karl Kohl and Pat Riccardi, who was injured this year, come back. If the Highlanders can build up strength in the upper weight classes, Coach Mike Sorrentino's squad could have the makings of a very impressive team.

THE COMPLICATED, ultra-microscopic effects of viruses on bacteria cells may hold clues to how cancer starts and how cancer cells differ from normal cells, reports a University of Southern California microbiologist. She is studying how phage, a bacterial virus, acts on the host cells it infects. There are striking similarities between this process and the way other kinds of viruses cause animal cancers. "The viruses known to form animal cancers don't kill the animals cells, but rather alter them," she said. "Particularly, they change the surface of the cells, and also change the frequency at which the cells divide. Thus, individual cancer cells and groups of cancer cells often look quite different from the corresponding normal cells."

Two outstanding American artists and teachers have been selected to judge the Westfield Art Association's ninth annual state-wide exhibition to be held March 22 through March 29

Last year, the State of New Jersey awarded approximately 4,600 scholarships to graduates of approved high schools in this state. This meant that state scholarships could go only to about five percent of the graduating seniors.

This is quite insufficient to meet the educational demands of a growing population in our advanced state, where technology is booming and the demands for qualified college graduates remain consistently high, Moreover, the state scholarship program falls far short of meeting the needs of students who are scholastically qualified, but financially lacking. We can only make rueful conjecture on the numbers of budding scientists and po-tential public leaders who could not reach the first rung on the ladder of success because of their financial inability to attend college.

Obviously, it is time that something is done about it. I have introduced legislation that would double the number of state scholarships available. My bill, S-131, would require that the number of state scholarships equal 10 percent of the number of students graduating from approved high schools in New Jersey.

Although this would be a significant step forward, it would nevertheless leave us far from the goal of determining that every qualified high school senior be given the change to attend college. Unfortunately however, we must temper our hopes with the reality of the taxpayers, whilly to pay for programs such as payers' ability to pay for programs such as these, no matter how worthwhile they might be.

MY PROPOSAL PROVIDES for the scholarship program to be administered by a special state commission, which is in charge of the present operation. This body would continue to administer the competitive examinations and review the applicants to determine their eligibility. As under existing policy, scholarships would be given only to those who show they have the ability and financial needs.

Under ideal circumstances, all qualified high school graduates would be eligible for scholarships. Unfortunately, New Jersey was a late starter in the field of higher education for the masses, and too little was done too late in the game. Although we have made herculean efforts to compensate for decades of apathy, it is obvious that New Jersey citizens cannot afford to underwrite the massive expenditures that would be required in an attempt to match the efforts of other states in this area.

The present state scholarship program has put us at least on the road to attaining parity in higher education with our sister states. Adoption of S-131 would be another important step down that path we must take if we are to give more of the young potential contributors to our society the chance to take that all-important first stop up the ladder.

Rep. Kiehn backs 3 bills to control narcotics problem

Three bills which would lend strength to the war on narcotics were supported by Assembly-man Herbert H. Kiehn (R-9C) in a statement released this week.

"All of us recognize and are deeply con-All of us recognize and are deeply con-cerned with the spreading menance of nar-cotics traffic among the youth of our state," Kichn said, "Senate Bill 582, introduced by Union County Senators McDermott, LaCorte and Rinaldo, would appropriate $50,000 to the State Department of Education for use during the current fiscal year for the 'teachers' work-shop' program on drug abuse.'' The bill would fund the public law passed in 1968 which created the workshop program.

The second bill, Senate 223, introduced by Senators Guarini and Ridolfi, would mandate the appointment, by all district and regional Boards of Education of "Advisory Committees on Narcotics." Kiehn said each advisory comnittee would consist of citizens of the school district for which they are appointed. Their function would be special studies which the Board of Education or the committee themselves deem necessary to aid and advise the Board in connection with measures to eliminate or prevent narcotics traffic within the school

This bill deserves the enthusiastic support of both houses of the legislature and both sides of the aisle" Kiehn said, "Local community leaders are best able to identify local narcotics problems and the creation of Advisory Committees should have a positive influence in combating this ever-growing problem."

The third bill, A-595, increases the minimum penalty for selling narcotic drugs or mari-huana, 'It would impose the hardest penalties on the professional drug pusher who sells marihuana or drugs to minors,' Kiehn said, "Our greatest effort must be in the direction of penalties for the narcotics pusher," Kiehn added, "Those who profit at the expense of the welfare of our youth deserve the penalty of the weight of the law."

Traffic is 'out-of-sight' on the Jersey Turnpike's 12-lanes

Traffic is rolling at a spectacular rate on the New Jersey Tumpike since it became a "parkway within a tumpike" along the northern segment in January.

Although the relatively favorable weather has contributed to the traffic upsurge, many of the thousands of additional motorists have been attracted by the greater comfort and safety found on the turnpike's 20-mile long, 12-lane dual/dual facility.

dual/dual facility.

Highway experts have been vocal in acelaiming the new 12-lane l'urnpike as "the highway of the tuture," and they have been joined by the less technically knowledgeable of the travelling public who have waxed enthusiastic over the new lurnpike. But what has resulted from this unique highway concept has surprised everyone.

Traffic, to use the vernacular, is zooming "out of sight," More than 12 million vehicles == 12,079,609,

March 25 concert

by Leontyne Price

to be exact-travelled the 131 miles of the Turnpike the first two months of this year. That was 9.5 percent more than the same period in 1969.

More surprising is the record for February, when 5,980,866 vehicles used the Turnpike. That was 826,461 more than were on the Turnpike in February 1969-for a thumping 16 percent gain. The January traffic gain was a mere 198,336. The 12-lane dual/dual was opened to the public on Jan. 12. Inclement weather then was no help, but the weather improved and it didn't take long for the new facility to take hold, or for that matter, for the public to take hold of this new concept of highway travel.

"IT IS OBVIOUS that the public has latched on to the new turnpike with a delighted ven-geance." said Turnpike Authority Chairman Joseph Morecraft Ir, "The separation of passenger cars from commercial traffic by means of the three-lane 'parkway' in each inner roadway and the flyover ramps on entry and .

exit have been a revelation.
"Besides," Morecraft added, "the new interchanges at Edison, Woodbridge and Kearny have opened new gates to connecting roads and other areas of the state -- Interstate 287 at Edison, the Garden State Parkway at Wood-bridge and Interstate 80 and environs at Kearny. But the greatest accomplishment is the dual/dual.

"Where else can one find such an ideal arrangement that separates passenger cars from trucks and buses, where the most timid soul behind the wheel of the lightest model car can breeze along perfectly at ease, knowing that he will not tangle with the big ones on the other side of those steel guard rails? Nothing like this has been done anywhere else, increased use of 747 aircraft this passenger number might soar considerably.

"The Port representatives have been very cooperative about the NCE study," Rigassio reported, "They have issued field identification to the students which means they will be able to observe everything from fueling to between-flight house-keeping on the air-craft as part of their baggage retrieval analysis."

MOST OF THE FIELD WORK will be done in March with the Newark College of Engineering students going to Kennedy about twice a week. The students have broken themselves into small work teams, with several of the older students acting as a manage-and we look forward to being copied."

The 12-lane dual/dual came into being on a wet, snowy morning three years after the ground was broken for the $407,500,000 project ranging ever the Turnpike's northern 30 miles. But there is more yet to be done. An eight-mile spur through the meadows west of the Hackensack River is under construction and scheduled for completion in June of this year. That's the six-lane extension that will divert traffic from the heavily-travelled mainline route to the Lincoln Tunnel and provide an unimpeded connection to Bergen County points, George Washington Bridge and New England.

RICHT NOW, AS FAR as the public is concerned, the accent is on the dual/dual, that happy product of prolonged planning and design the Turnpike Authority's staff and con-their report will be concerned largely with the baggage-handling aspect of debarking since this seems to be the part of the process which causes the most aggravation," Rigassio

"We are working on the premise that most people want to go through an air terminal in the least time." he said, "If this is true, the forces of how people cluster problem caused by the mingling of passenger and commercial vehicles in the heavily travelled northern section, and it wasn't until the widening program was authorized that the solution was found.

Today, passenger car drivers have an inside road all their own from Edison to Kearny, and the more adventurous can, of course, travel in the three-lane outer roadway--the "barrel" reserved for trucks and buses -- but this sort of integration the Turnpike Authority does not seek to encourage. To what extend the traffic increases may be attributed to the 12-lane expansion cannot be accurately gauged, but traffic counts for the key interchanges along the route are signi-it ant.

At New Brunswick Interchange 9 (the 12-lane dual/dual begins five miles to the north at Edison) traffic has increased by an average of 250 a day despite expert predictions that it would drop considerably because of the con-struction of the new interchange at Edison.

A daily average of nearly 11,000 vehicles Is the score at No. 9.

NEW INTERCHANGE 10 at Edison -- providing the vital link with Interstate 287--1s now generating 5,716 vehicles a day and that's all new traffic. The new No. 11 at Woodbridge, which has been substituted for old interchanges 10 and 11, attracts an average of 24,300 a day. That's 2,477 more vehicles than the two former interchanges served last year at this

Altogether, traffic increases are being recorded at all interchanges in the northern segment, and most of the 9.5 percent rise for the entire Turnpike springs from the northern area, where the "parkway within a turnpike" has drawn, it is estimated thousands of motorists who never rode the Turnpike before. The extraordinary February traffic gain of 826,461 vehicles, comes to 29,516 a day. If such an increase continues at the same level for the rest of the year, the result would be an annual traffic volume impossible to believe. For that reason, the men the computers are not making predictions.

They are holding their fire for the more important future task of computerizing the control of traffic, so that vehicles, large and small, may roll with even greater ease and safety on the 'highway of the future.''

But there are no suggestion boxes in the baggage areas.

This spring 15 Newark College of Engineering seniors may change all that, not through suggestion boxes but through the use of standard industrial engineering techniques.
For the next four months the group of NCE industrial engineering students will make regular visits to the New York Port Authority's John F. Kennedy International Airport to study the entire "people-handling" problem that will arise out of greater use of the giant 747. They will devote special concentration to the time and means of getting people and their luggage reunited, an event described some seasoned travelers as emotionally akin to finding a long-lost child.

Under the direction of NCE Professor James Rigassio the 15 students will conduct a "systems analysis of passenger unloading time," their student project for a standard NCE course called IE 44 - "Systems Design."

THEIR OBJECTIVE IS to analyze all the existing procedures and human factors currently influencing the way people disembark, go through customs, leave the terminal and -- before this final point -- get back their baggage.

Their job is to develop criteria for improvements and changes that will make life happier and easier for aircraft passengers once those passengers reach the ground.

And unlike any television counterpart, their information will be used in a formal report to Port Authority executives in May.

"This will not be a duplication of previous studies," said Professor Rigassio, "and we are hopeful that what we find will be of value to the Port Authority."

Representatives of the Port Authority's Standards Division have already culled their own files for all related studies of the past and given copies to the NCE students. This has allowed the young men to key in on aspects of debarkation that have not been xplored before, Rigassio said.

Part of the earlier studies has revealed that on peak days up to 20,000 passengers might arrive from overseas points, all to funnel through the same tight baggage-customs-related transportation area. With an

Father Salvatore Citarella, assistant pastor of St. Theresa's Church, Kenilworth, was elected to his second one-year term as president of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic Tuesday night at the clinic's annual meeting the Westminster Presbyterian Church,

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Carlyle W. Crane of Plainfield; second vice-president, Norman Pinnix of Roselle; secretary, Mrs. Edward Reisen of Summit, and treasurer, John Foley of Union.

An audience participation program on narcotics was presented with Benjamin H. Haddock, executive director of the clinic, as Members of the panel, each of whom dis-cussed the work of his organization in com-bating drug abuse, were: Dr. Samuel Martin, nedical director of the Union County Narcotics Clinic; Mrs. Kate Trent Jones, director of vocational and educational rehabilitation, Beth Israel Hospital, New York City; Dr. Jay W. Fidler, medical director of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, and Russell W. Carpenter Jr., superintendent of Plainfield schools. Dr. Martin was the principal speaker.

The intent of the program was to present a challenge to social, clylc and professional agency representatives attending the meeting to examine what they can do to fight the narcotics abuse problem.

Research group receives grants

pital Kesearch and Educational Trust of New Jersey, a non-profit organization in Princeton, has received two grants totaling $25,000 to promote greater utilization of the trust's Shared Computer Service among New Jersey hospitals. The grants were announced by Jack W. Owen, president of the trust.

Both grants were from Elizabeth foundations. The Lillia Babbitt Hyde Foundation granted $15,000 and the John Jay and Eliza Jane Watson Foundation granted $10,000 to the Hospital Research and Educational Trust of "to expand its computerized Jersey

The trust will use these grants for seminars and research. Seminars will be held to explain to hospitals the advantages of group participation in the trust's Shared Computer Service. Research will be conducted to explore additional shared computer services that can be performed for hospitals.

The basic purpose of the trust's Shared Computer Service, Owen said, is to provide hospital management with the necessary information to effectively control hospital costs. The Shared Computer for hospitals, he said, provides service on a group basis which would be too costly for hospitals to undertake on an formation for women seeking satisfying occupations, and to develop more challenging oppor-tunities for women in all fields, Representatives of women's organizations throughout Union County have been invited to attend the meeting.

The meeting will be opened by Mrs. Robert E. List of Westfield, county coordinator for EVE. Charles J. Longacre, director of the Division of Field Services at Newark State College, will welcome the group to the campus. Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Hugo Pribor, president and vice-president of EVE, both residents of Westfield, will explain the purposes and goals of the organization. Mrs. Peter Sterling, Mrs. Chesney McCracken, and Mrs. Albert Driver of Westfield, committee chairmen, will describe their work in preparation for the fall opening of the advisory service.

All interested women are welcome to attend, Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Mary Slavitt, at Newark State College.

`Rhinoceros' set by NSC players

Final rehearsals have been held for this weekend's Newark State College Theater Guild production of Eugene Ionesco's "Rhinoceros," which will be presented at 8:30 p.m. March 12-14. Ticket information may be obtained from the box office of the Theater for the Performing Arts on the Union campus.

The director of the production, Mrs. Zella
J. Fry, a professor in the Speech and Theater Arts Division of the English Department, reports that "with the exception of three members the cast is composed entirely of fresh-men appearing in major roles." She adds "the play is Theater of the Absurd, and while it was written late in lonesco's life it became the first of his well-known plays to include any emo-tion."

Technical director and set designer Richard Turick, also a member of the Speech and Theater Arts Division of the English Department, describes the sets as "expressionistic and constructionist in style, somewhat reminiscent of a Mondrian painting." Turick also notes that "the soundtrack that will be used in the production comes from the original Broadway production.

Dr. Louis Huber of the Music Department will conduct a quartet of instruments in a program of modern French music. The quartet will play while the audience is gathering, at

Realtors joining fight on pollution

The New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards, through its president, Thad S. Cwik, this week expressed growing concern about the pollution of New Jersey's coastline, it recently passed a resolution requesting appropriate ac-tion be taken on all levels of government to abate the pollution and remove all possible sources of contamination of the state's beaches.

The group asked that "any sewage dumped into the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of New Jersey not constitute a threat to the health and well being of our citizens and visitors alike who enjoy our resort communities."

Cwik said, "As a first and practical step to avoid the enlargement of the so-called dead sea off the New Jersey coast the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards goes on record as urging the Army Corps of Engineers to 1 quire all treated sewage to be dumped in the area of the Continental Shelf until such time as a more scientific solution can be put into practice."

NEED HELP? Find the RIGHT person with a Want Ad. Call 686-7700.

Now's your chance.

Owning a bank is one thing. Owning a part of the First New Jersey Bank is quite another. First New Jersey (formerly First State Bank of Union) is 17 years young with assets exceeding $62,000,000 . . . and growing fast.

a bank!"

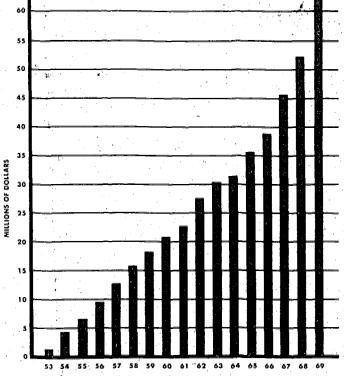

The reasons for growth?

Five busy branches (soon we'll have seven) in some of the fastest growing, most prosperous communities in New Jersey: Union, New Providence. Clark and Middlesex. And a wide range of popular new services like Master Charge, armor car services, and a bustling data processing center for local business and industry.

Assets doubled in 5 years.

All these new markets, new services and outstanding management capability means just this for potential investors in First New ... Jersey Bank: a remarkably attractive growth potential as that magic $100,000,000 in assets moves rapidly closer.

In the last five years, our assets have more than doubled. We are now in the top 8% of all banks in the United States. And the period of our most dramatic growth is still ahead because brand new banking laws permit us to operate in seven counties rather than just one.

The chart above shows how First New Jersey Bank has continued to expand over the years. Now that we are able to open branches in other counties, our rate of growth should be greater than ever.

Earnings and dividend prospects.

Our earnings and dividends record has shown a continuous increase over the years. The rate of return on average Capital and Surplus Accounts in 1969 was 12.7% after taxes. This compares with earnings of 10.93% on Capital Accounts in 1968.

Earnings overall in 1969 were $1.39 per share after taxes. Our management anticipates that earnings will continue to increase after the cost of opening the new branches has been absorbed.

Cash dividends of .55c per share were paid in 1969 on existing shares.

Growth stock, growth bank, growth area. The future is almost unbelievably bright. The First New Jersey bank is centered in the fastest growing area in the metropolitan area.

Due in large part to the continuing influx of new residents and industries, the demand for banking services must rise sharply and remain high. With our entrenched position in these markets-and our excellent reputation in these communities—we confidently expect continued, very gratifying growth.

A similar pattern holds true for most of the other counties in District II.

And nothing can supply a bank with greater impetus for growth than being located in an economically "booming" community.

A growth bank in a growth area often results in a growth stock. This has certainly been the record of First New Jersey Bank common stock, to date. And with the bank's growth performance and potential in mind, this stock has excellent prospects.

College chaplain's job has many facets He's counsellor, missionary, 'super-student'

The role of a college chaplain is a many faceted one, often frustrating, sometimes re-warding and many times with microscopic tangible results.

That's how Chaplain Stephen Johnson sums his duties after a transition from pastor of two small Connecticut churches to the campus of Upsala College, East Orange, with its 1,400 students and faculty and staff of

Rev. Johnson, now in his fourth year as Upsala chaplain, describes his many duties as those of a missionary, "a super student," a booking agent, a Dale Carnegie, a counsellor and a "keeper of the Lutherans."

"But most of all I am a servant of God," and the statement of God," and the servant of God," said the 37-year-old minister who was born in Madison, Wis., and later settled in Rockford, Ill.

"There are some clergymen who would like to become college chaplains because of the seeming drama of the job and dissatisfaction with their roles as parish ministers," chaplain Johnson said. "If there's any appearance that a chaplain's job is more attractive or somehow more viable than a parish pastor's, my experience contradicts that. The parish has as great potential as any campus ministry does.'

CHAPLAIN JOHNSON SAID the church has more access to people on religious terms. But on the college campus, he stated the chaplain has access to students on the border-

''A chaplain strives to be a Christian among students as one way to communicate the gospel," he continued. "I just can't fit into this scene the old ideas of converting people. If the Christian faith is really valid and we can live and speak it in authentic terms, it will be contagious of itself."

Mr. Johnson readily admits there are complications and frustrations in his style.

"It is very easy to float around being a Christian among non-Christians," he said.

"But the perplexing question is: Does it result in anything? The tangible result is microscopic. The most I hope for with some stuscopic. The most I hope for with some students is that they realize the Christian faith is tangible and valid for someone else.

'With others, through me or other Christian students and faculty members, they can find an expression of faith which they can also share themselves. And with a few it is possible this commitment of faith will take the shape of joining the church. In most cases this takes the form of participating in campus Christian fellowship.

MR. JOHNSON pointed out that in his four years as chaplain he has known of three stu-

Another role often projected on a chaplain is that of "super-student." He feels this is often what outsiders expect of a chaplain. "In reality, though, students know full well I'm not anything like a student," chaplain Johnson said, "Maybe I can be one of the adults who can understand."

Counselling, he stated, is not as difficult on a college campus as it would appear on the surface.

"Most college students are well-adjusted," he explained, "They have problems of growth, but these are normal problems. Most students are able to handle them without the interterence of adults. And counselling on sexual and moral problems is minimal. Much of the counselling is concerned with finding purpose in life, clarifying motivations, and in a way, helping them to find out just who they are. Questions of faith obviously fit into many such counselling sessions.

OFTEN, CHAPLAIN JOHNSON finds himself in the role of a theatrical booking agent. He has brought onto campus several theatrical groups, one of them from off-Broadway. That was the play, "The Primitives," which was not a religious presentation per se, but which raised certain problems of which Christians

He has sponsored discussions on medical ethics and has invited militant speakers to campus to help students and faculty understand the demands of the world and to shape a Christian response to them. Just recently, he was instrumental in arranging the appearance on campus of Archbishop Fulton J.

The special memorial service was held Sunday morning at the site of the Israel memorial to those killed during the holocaust. It is located at Yad Va-shem in Jerusalem.
Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn, CCAR president, stated that the convention suspended its normal business procedures so that the entire program could be devoted to learning and exchanging ideas with Israeli scholars, educators and political figures. He said he hoped that the meeting would serve to strengthen the ties between the two Jewish communities, em-phasizing the CCAR's 1969 convention delaraition, "their ordeal is our ordeal, their destiny is our destiny." Rabbi Gittelsohn said that a delegation of CCAR representatives would meet privately with Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir to discuss the rights of Reform rabbis in Israel and how the spiritual leaders and their congregations can assist the people of Israel. Mrs. Meir addressed the convention's closing session on Tuesday.

High school cookbook

Would you like to beef up your dinner menu? Here's a recipe that's a favorite with the students and teachers in the home economics department of the Union County Regional High School District.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1b. round steak, 1/4 inch thick

3-oz. can broiled sliced mushrooms, with liquid (add enough water to make 1 cup liquid) envelope dry onion soup mix cup sour cream thisp, all-purpose flour

First, trim the fat from the meat and reserve. Then cut the meat diagonally across grain in very thin strips. Take the fat you've trimmed from the meat and heat in a skillet until you have about 3 thisp, melted fat (if necessary add oil). Remove the unmelted fat.

Now, brown the meat. Add the mushrooms and cup of liquid. Then, stir in the soup mix and heat to boiling. Next, blend the sour cream and flour and add it to the hot mixture. Cook and stir until mixture thickens slightly. Serve over noodles. This hearty meal will serve five or six persons.

PROPER FUR CARE PAYS OFF By CAROLYN F. YUKNUS, Sr. County Home Economist

Good care is an important part of keeping furs and fur coats looking their best through many years of ser-

When not in use, hang furs in an uncrowded closet on heavy, supporting coat hang-ers. The best ones for this use are padded or rounded wooden hangers with wide ends and a long wire to reach from the hanger to the pole.

If a fur coat has gotten damp, shake it gently to re-move excess moisture and hang in an airy, cool place to dry. Do not brush, comb or rub a damp fur. Light moisture will not harm fur, but soaking wetness willdamage it.

Never store fur, whether wet or dry, near heat. Always keep it in a cool place.

Avoid long exposure to bright sunlight. Strong sunlight over a long period of time will cause fading.

Occasionally, shake a fur gently to remove dust and lint. If a scarf is not worn, wipe the neckline with a soft tissue or towel.

Do not spray or place insecticides or moth preven-tives directly on fur. Never use dry cleaning fluid on any part of fur.

When wearing a fur coat, prevent rips and wear by unbuttoning the coat and raising it a bit before you sit down. It is best to remove the coat if you will be sitting for a long period to prevent crushing and matting.

Do not carry packages and purse in the same position all the time. This will avoid worn spots caused by friction.

Have furs thoroughly cleaned and glazed at the end of a wearing season. Place in cold storage during warm weather to protect from moth damage and prevent the leather and hair from drying

Small rips and tears will occur in a garment at any price. These should be repaired promptly by a reliable

Allow only a reliable furrier to repair, clean, and store your furs.

Make certain you obtain an adequate receipt with the pro-per description and valuation for each fur plece you have

Students get 'involved' Work with community groups

More than 400 Rutgers, Douglass and Living-ston College students are working hard these days to put new meaning into "community involvement"

To the students such involvement has become over the past several years a regular, purposeful and necessary part of their experience and education, rather than a fashionable, altruistic or patronizing thing to do.

The 400 make up a collection of individuals and groups at Rutgers called the Civic Committee. What it lacks intraditional organization it makes up in accomplishment. Its purpose is to go into the community and do something.

That something has become tutorial and counseling projects in the school systems of New Brunswick, Highland Park and South Brunswick, rehabilitation efforts at the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg and the New Jersey State Prison at Rahway, and recreational assistance in New Brunswick and Highland Park.

Its spirit is exemplified by some 50 students, the largest single group, who regularly visit the State Home for Boys. Their mission is a simple one: They visit the boys and make friends.

Some join in group counseling sessions, others play games with the boys, talk with them or help them with school work. But the overriding purpose is friendship, in an age when that commodity is at a premium.

THE JAMESBURG PROJECT consists of two large groups that visit the home on Wednesdays and Sundays for recreational programs and on Mondays and Thursdays to take part in group counselling sessions run by the staff of the home. John MacDougall of Madison, a Rutgers sophomore who is coordinator of the Jamesburg group, describes the sessions as closed confidential groups in which the boys can talk about anything they want without worrying about getting into trouble about what they say.

'The kids save things that are bothering them for the group meeting and they tend to respond to criticism better from their own peers than from us or the staff."

The State University volunteers provide extra staff for the Home, permitting maximum use of the recreational facilities there which have been provided by outside groups.

Also, the minimum-security institution per-mits the students to take some of the boys on field trips, out for Sunday dinner, or to various events at Rutgers.

MacDougall notes that the participation of the college students is both high and consistent, and the boys in turn look forward to the visits. Some have become attached to the volunteers. "We've had people in the infirmary at Rutgers—their dorm residents didn't know were sick, but the kids in Jamesburg

More than half of the 400 involved students are working in the school systems, tutoring, acting as teacher aides or Big Brothers and

"in the schools, we work closely with teachers, administrators and parents," says Bruce A. Scherr, of 625 Woodlandave., Roselle Park, a Rutgers senior and coordinator of the Civic Committee. "The response has been tre-mendous and we have received much en-couragement from administrators."

Community involvement goes back several years at Douglass and Rutgers Colleges, in the form of various group and individual efforts.

WORKING CLOSELY with the Civic Committee is the SOS, Students Offer Services, of Douglass College, which works with the Rutgers men in the schools projects, and in other programs at the New Brunswick multi-service center, at Middlesex and St. Peter's hospitals and in various other short-term projects such as with the mentally ill, orphans and scouts. A small group based at the Eagleton Institute of Politics called the Urban Action Corps feeds manpower to the schools projects.

The Civic Committee was born in the spring of 1967 to consolidate campus community services for efficiency. Its activities have been expanded to include cooperation with the Rutgers Bureau of Community Services in help-ing to plan University-Community sponsored

In a real sense, all the students involved in the civic committee are experiencing the same kind of two-way rapport with the people with whom they work, Scherr says. But far from being an altruistic or patronizing thing, Scherr notes, the Rutgers students are experiencing human relationships that are sometimes unavailable within the walls of a

'70 census will be aided by postmen

. Postal employees will play an important role in obtaining the most accurate population count in history, the Commerce Department's Bureau of the Census and the Post Office Department say, Postal employees at all levels, especially city letter carriers, will help the Census Bureau with the 1970 count

-Handling census questionnaires going to more than 40 million households in the major urban areas where a mail-out, mail-back census will be conducted.

-Conducting an exhaustive pre-census check of household addresses in these areas to provide the Bureau with the most accurate and complete list of such addresses.

it will be the first time in U.S. history that the popula-tion count depended so heavily upon help from the Post Office.

The Post Office Department will deliver and return the questionnaires in most of the large urban areas in the April, 1970, census. The mail-out, mail-back procedure will apply to 60-65 percent of the population. In mail-out, mail-back areas, people will receive census questionnaires late in March and will fill them. them out and return them to the Bureau in pre-addressed

Tests have shown that the mail-out, mail-back census results in improved statistics, reduces the need for census takers when it is difficult to recruit them, and permits better placement of census takers in problem areas.

The remainder of the population, in smaller cities and rural areas, will receive the questionnaires by mail, but the completed forms will be picked up by census takers just as in 1960

Disorders,
In an introduction, Judge Otto Kerner, U.S.
Court of Appeals to the Seventh Circuit, who served as chairman of the Commission on Civil Disorders, calls it "must reading for all of us" and says "the examples presented clearly identify racism in its many forms which must be understood before positive programs can be expected to improve relationships and eliminate the present interracial tensions.

Judge Kerner endorsed the anti-racism strategies outlined by Dr. Downs and added that while they are not all encompassing, "I am most impressed by its (the essay's) high-lighting the necessity of involving the minority community in the planning and administration of efforts and the recognition of the private sector's responsibilities as well as govern-mental."

The new publication is the first in a series of commission documents that will focus on racism. These documents, the Urban Project series, are being produced with two objectives in mind-to promote discussion and under-standing of the manifestations and costs of racism, and, especially, to stimulate action by groups and individuals to effect necessary

Fort Dix chaplain gets post at Rider

Col. Douglass F. Hall, deputy post chaplain at Fort Dix, and a 28-year Army veteran, has been named assistant dean of students and director of the equal opportunity program at Rider College, Trenton.

Hall, who is retiring from the Army in August, will be responsible for the special programs being run by Rider for disadvan-taged students. He replaces Philip Krajewski who resigned in February.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Frank N. Elliott, Rider president. Hall is presently working on a part-time consulting basis and will assume full time duties in September.

REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR -- Due to the Governor's busy inaugural schedule, New Jersey's Boy Scout Week was a month late, but Tuesday, March 4, a delegation of over 100 Scouts and leaders representing the registered members of the Boy Scouts of America in New Jersey, called on the Governor to present their annual report. Heading the delegation was Irving J. Feist, right, Newark realtor and civic leader, who is the national president of the Boy Scouts of America. Eagle Scout Lee Gessner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gessner, Millstone Township, Freehold, participated in the ceremony and presented Governor Call with a result of Scoretic and Mrs. sented Governor Cahill with a resume of Scouting activities.

School boards hear talk on inner city programs

Programs that have proved their worth in educating the inner-city child were the focus of a special conference for urban boards of education held recently, by the New Jersey State Federation of District Boards of Edu-

The conference featured a presentation by r. Oscar W. Knade Jr., director of Philadelphia's Intensive Learning Center, and two of his assistants. The center institutes and evaluates new programs for education of children in urban schools. The representatives explained the work of the center and gave an audio-visual presentation of center programs in action. The conference topic was chosen large city board members themselves as the one in which they are most interested.

The center, which serves as a resource for change for the Philadelphia school system, has a basic structure of three schools within 1. The Inquiry House, in which teaching and learning are discovery oriented. This idea is based on the Nuffield Foundation project approach begun at the center in 1968-69, and is similar to the British Infant School.

2. The Technology House, which utilizes available instructional systems as the basic

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND REVINGTON MUNICIPAL ORDINANCE NO, MC 2123 PROHIBITING "DRIVE-IN" AND
"WALK-UP" RESTAURANTS
AS FOOD SERVING ESTABLISHMENTS AND AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWN OF RIVINGTON (ORDINANCE NO, 1553 AS AMENDED AND SUPPLEMENTED).

(GRIDNANCE NO. 1553 AS AMENDED AND SUPPLEMENTED).

MENTED, WHEREAS "Drive-in" Restaurants and "Walk-Up" Restaurants as Food Serving Establichments cause a health, safety and traffic problem and for the purpose of protecting the health and easiety of the citizens of irvington;

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE TOWN OF REVINGTON AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of this Ordinance, "Drive-in" Restaurant is any food serving establishment where food, frozen dessert and/or beverage is sold to the consumer and where motor vehicle parked upon the motor vehicle parked upon the premises or anywhere on the premises outside the building dispensing of the aforementioned food producta.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of this Ordinance "Walk-Up" restaurant is any food serving establishment erected, constructed, operated or maintaineds oas to provide one of more open windows or spaces and counters for seiling or dispensing of food, frozen dessert and/or everages not to be consumed in the interior of the said establishments but to be consumed by public customers at or

Contractors' group

A new consumer protection aid for customers of the home improvement industry was announced this week by the New Jersey Home Improvement Contractors Association. The 'Better Contractors Bureau' has set up a special 'Hot Line' telephone number to accept inquiries and complaints about contractors in North Jersey.

Special phone number where calls will be accepted 24 hours a day is 212-687-5226.

"We believe that our member contractors are ethical, conscientious businessmen," stated Ross Polizzano, president of NJHICA, "However, we are in an industry where there are many gray areas. A contractor honestly means one thing, a consumer honestly interprets it as something else and we have a

'We feel that many discrepancies are due to a lack of communication between the installer and the consumer. We hope to close this communication gap.

"We want to protect the consumer, be sure he receives a good job and upgrade the image of our member contractors in the industry.
Until now, every time one member of the home improvement industry was derided, we all got the bad publicity. We hope to establish a means of separating the good from the bad.
"With the force of the entire industry behind it, the Better Contractors' Bureau can help to alleviate mediocre work in all types of remodeling and home improvements and repairs. At the same time, we can recommend to consumers our member contractors who have established a reputation for reliability in their work."

Turtle Back Zoo is back Its opening heralds spring

One of those sure signs that spring is just animals it has built, in the last couple of around the corner is the annual announcement that the zoo will be opening soon, in fact, Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange will be humming with the activities and delight of both children and adults in just two weeks. Turtle Back, the only public zoo in the state, is opening for its eighth season on March 26.

Dr. Knade stressed the fact that innovators must be prepared to take some risks, and that systems must be kept flexible because each child learns in a different way. To succeed, said Dr. Knade, the school must be free to try new ideas, and the Philadelphia School Board did the center a great service by allowing the school a one-year grace period, before evaluating, to let the center get off the ground and iron out some early priorities, and requires accountability.

Dr. Knade said "if schools are not hemmed curricular approach.

Last year more than 393,000 people visited the facility, operated by the Essex County Park Commission. With the zoo's expanding programs, buildings and additional animals, the director, Richard Ryan, said he expects as many as one-half millon visitors this coming season. "Each year we have visitors from 30 or 40 different states and Canada, but most of our visitors come from throughout New Jersey and New York," he said.

ALTHOUGH THE ZOO started out eight years ago primarily as a children's zoo it quickly evolved into a full-fledged zoo, for all age groups. In addition to its colorful buildings constructed in the likeness of story-book animals and ships — there is even a building made to look like a swiss cheese for the zoo's rodent collection — it has added a number of attractive new structures. To house its more than 200 species of years, a glass tortistry, for turtles, an aviary and new leopard dens, which will be open for the first time this year.

According to Ryan, the new leopard dens which were made possible through private donations, will eventually house four beautiful specimens. The latest addition to the collection will be a black leopard donated by Mr. William Y. Dear of Morristown, This particular female leopard, native to South East Asia, is scheduled to arrive in time for the zoo's opening. Dear, who has donated a number of other animals to the zoo over the past years, contributed this one as a mate for the one he gave the zoo two years ago.

OTHER FEATURES of the zoo include the miniature railroad, animal lectures, picnicking and restaurant facilities, and the popular "animal contact area," where youngsters can play with live lambs and goats. The birthday room also has become established as a popular place for parents wanting something special for a youngster's party.

Admission rates this year are: 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children accompanied by an adult. For reservations or special arrangements for school or private groups call the zoo at 531~7801.

Civil Service lists 14 positions open for Union County

John J. Farrell, chief Examiner and secretary of the New Jersey Department of Civil Service, amounced this week that the March Open Competititive Examination Bulletin contains 14 examination announcements for posi-tions in Union County. The bulletin also contains 26 examination announcements for the various municipalities in Union County under Civil Service.

Farrell said, "Our March Examination Bulletin contains more than 600 examination and challenging. nouncements for interesting and challenging careers in state, county and municipal govern-ments in New Jersey. The 40 examination amouncements for local government in Union County are excellent examples of these op-

Once again I want to stress the importance of filling openings in county and municipal government with the best qualified individuals. It, is only through an effective and efficient public service that government at all levels will be able to effectively confront and solve. will be able to effectively confront and solve the many problems that trouble our society today. And nowhere are these problems more evident than on the local level.

"In the last fiscal year, 7,725 individuals were permanently appointed to positions in the county and municipal service after sucthe county and municipal service after suc-cessfully passing open competitive examina-tions. This is the only way any individual can receive permanent appointment to the Com-petitive Civil Service in New Jersey and these opportunities are available to all qualified individuals.

MAll citizens of Union County can be of assistance to their county and municipal governments by exploring the excellent career opportunities appearing in our March Examination Bulletin, with a view to personally filing an application for examination, or encouraging qualified friends and neighbors to do

Those interested in receiving the March Examination Bulletin and applications should contact the main office, Department of Civil Service, State House, Trenton, 08625, or the branch office at 1100 Raymond blvd., Newark,

10 colleges to hold area conference on admission Tuesday

The Midwest College Council will hold a cooperative admissions conference Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, for students in area high schools and their parents.

Each of the ten coeducational liberal arts colleges in the council will be represented at the sessions to acquaint college applicants with the educational, cultural and social advantages colleges have to offer. The chairman will be Dr. Elmer Jagow, president of Hiram College, Hiram Ohio.

The ten colleges, located in seven midwestern states, are:

Carthage College, Kenosha, Wisconsin; Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn.; Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio; Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio; Hope College, Holland, Mich.; Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; Mac Murray College, Jacksonville, Ill.; Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Neb.; and Rockford College, Rockford, Ill.

These conferences are planned to give students and their parents the chance to learn some of the particular advantages of the small independent liberal arts colleges," according to John Howard, president of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois, and chairman of the council's executive committee.

Because the small Midwestern colleges specialize in undergraduate education, they are often leaders in new and improved educational techniques, Dr. Howard reported.

Conference sessions start with short talks in the auditorium and a general question and answer period. Afterwards, the representatives of each college moves to a separate classroom for consultations with the students and their parents.

Theater party to be held by Union County GOP

County problems discussed at joint meeting of officials

Three levels of government were brought together last Wednesday to discuss mutual problems in a meeting sponsored by the Union County Board of Freeholders Department of Inter-Governmental Affairs, Committee chair-man William J. Maguire invited the county legislative delegation to the meeting held at the Kenilworth Municipal Building, Kenilworth Mayor William Conrad was the host, In addition to all nine members of the freeholder board, State Senators Matthew J. Rinaldo and Nicholas S, LaCorte and Assembly men Peter J. McDonough and Herbert H. Kiehn attended.

A discussion regarding the county charge-back law, resulted in a request to the Legis-lators for amendments to remove "frivol-ities," Under this law the county is required by the state to pay tuition and other costs for Union County residents who attend colleges in other Counties.

Freeholder Harry V. Osborne cited a case where Union County taxpayers were forced to pay tuition costs for a skiing course offered in Somerset County. He pointed out that the present law requires an appropriation of $125,000 in the Freeholders 1970 budget to pay for "frivolities such as these."

In another matter, the recommendations of the Musto Commission Report an in depth study of the problems facing county govern-ment, was discussed. The Freeholders were unanimous in their praise of the findings defined in the report.

Senator Rinaldo, chairman of the Senate Committee on County and Municipal Government, pointed out that public hearings, begun last week, would no doubt result in amendments to strenghten Senate Bill S-513, the bill which would make the Musto Report recommendations "permissive" to the counties. Rinaldo also suggested that the State Freeholders Association offer suggestions for amendments to the bill,

'Electronic Age' concert set Program planned at UC Sunday

violins, woodwinds and brass on Sunday, when the Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey presents 'Music of the Electronic Age' at a Young People's Concert sponsored by Union College and the Alumni Association at 3 p.m. at the college in Cranford.

Electromically-produced sounds recorded on tape will add an extra dimension to modern selections to be played by the Suburban Symphony, according to Henry Bloch of New York City, conductor and musical director.

The program includes 'The March' from 'The Love of Three Oranges' by Prokofley, 'Dance Rhythms' by Wallingford Riegger, 'The Unanswered Question' by Charles Ives, 'Rhapsodic Variations' by Luening-Ussachezsky and 'Hide and Seek' and 'The Electronic Suite for Children" by Walter Kimmel, This last work was commissioned by the Colonial Symphony's Young People's Concert and recorded in the Columbia-Princeton Electronic Music Center. It is presented without benefit of any additional instruments.

Alcides Lanza of the Columbia-Princeton Electronic Music Center will narrate the program.

IN ADDITION TO contemporary rhythms and harmonies, Sunday's audience will be introduced to the elements of antiphonal music. Ives 'Unanswered Question," according to conductor Bloch, is played with the strings on stage, while the wind instruments will be located throughout the auditorium. Concertmaster Irving Nusbaum of Cranford will share conducting chores with Bloch for this number.

The concert is the fourth event in a Cultural Arts Series sponsored by Union College for alumni and their families. It is the second
