4 drivers escape in Rt. 22 crash as fire guts vehicles

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a four-vehicle chain accident last Thursday morning on Rt. 22 west, Mountainside, in front of the Mountainside in after two of the vehicles caught fire, according to police. They were taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainside Rescue Squad, and they were treated and released.

Nicholas Luizza, 18, of Union, apassenger in the lead vehicle, suffered bruises of the scalp. Ralph W. Kuhles, 27, of Fanwood, the driver of the third vehicle sustained cuts on his scalp and forehead, Anchises D. Cardoso, 23, of Hillside, the driver of the fourth vehicle received first degree burns on his face and neck, according to reports.

The lead car was driven by Jeffrey L Heithmar of Union. The complete rear end was damaged. The second car was driven by Michele Magliotti of Newark. Both the front and:rear ends were completely damaged. The third car was driven by Kuhles and was totally demolished. The fourth vehicle, a truck owned by R & H Trucking Co., Inc. of Belle-ville, was driven by Cardoso. The entire cab was damaged and the trailer sustained ex-tensive damage. All had to be towed from the Kuhles' car and the truck cab caught fire ind were compl police report, the blaze was hot enough to melt both rear tires on the car and to melt part of the rear bumper. Kuhles escaped serious injury when he crawled out on the passenger's side. Cardoso got out just in time before flames enveloped both vehicles.

Mrs. Gutman appointed to borough school board

Mrs. William Gutman was sworn in to com-plete the late Frank Lombard's term on the Mountainside Board of Education at a board meeting Tuesday night at the Deerfield School.

In other business the proposed calendar for the 1970-71 school year was adopted. Announcements were made regarding the resigna-tions and appointments of teachers. Dr. Levin Hannigan announced that a Mountainside resident had written a letter praising the positive effects of local Earth Day programs.

Dr. Hannigan showed a 15-minute video tape to some 50 people in the audience depicting individualized instruction at the Echobrook School. The tape's purpose was to show how the board plans to upgrade the school and to continue it as a kindergarten-to-fifth-grade complex for the upcoming school year. The proposed improvements will make the school compare more favorably with other neighborhood schools in the system, Hannigan said.

He added: "Major improvements noted were reduction in class size to 20 students, expansion and relocation of the library, emphasis on individualized instruction, a male head teacher, having a registered nurse available, and a plan for improving or replacing the heating

'Small class size, often pointed to by leading educators as a major contributor to improved educational atmosphere, will help balance the disparity between recommended state standards on room area, Individualized instruction that permits a child to move at his own pace will be emphasized at Echobrook Audio-visual aids, tape recorders, calculating machines and typewriters will provide assistance to the teaching staff to supplement the personalized instructions. Each child will receive the best service possible within the physical limitations of the building, according to the board statements.

"The Echobrook library will be moved out of the basement to one of the upstairs corner rooms of the newer building and expanded to about 1,000 square feet. More printed material, recordings, filmstrips, still pictures, and exhibits will be added to increase and diversify educational opportunities. A professional librarian has been hired to provide service three days a week. A part-time clerk, shared with the two other schools, will assist, Hannigan

'Plans call for assignment of a male head teacher for the fifth grade so that the children -- particularly the boys -- will receive in-structions from a male teacher before they reach the Deerfield Middle School. This head teacher will be directly responsible to the superintendent for administration of the school, which will be separate from the Deerfield elementary complex. Administrative action will be keyed to the particular needs of Echo-

Springfield turns down referendum

Mountainside landslide makes rejection certain

By ABNER GOLD The Regional High School expansion bond proposal was defeated by 535 votes in a referendum held Tuesday in the six member communities of the district. The total vote showed 2,832 in favor of the proposed $6,975,000 bond issue and 3,367 opposed. A previous plan was defeated two years ago. The key community Tuesday was Springfield, which had been expected to show a large majority for the proposal following its strong endorsement by the League of Women Voters and other community groups. The plan lost in Springfield by 12 votes, 757 to 769.

Mountainside had been expected to oppose the referendum, after many residents had objected to the plan to send all the borough's teenagers to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, rather than to Gov. Livingston Regional, Berkeley Heights.

The borough's voters proved the accuracy of that prediction, turning down the proposal, 299 to 1,230. Kenilworth, where Mayor William Conrad had opposed the plan as too costly, voted no by a margin of 85 to 249.

Berkeley Heights voters favored the referendum. 1,161 to 609. The plan also carried in Clark, 463 to 434. It lost by a slim margin in Garwood, 67 to 76.

Board members, some visibly upset by the loss, declined comment on the voter seccision.

IN A BUSINESS MEETING as the votes were coming in the board voted to permit Mountainside freshmen now at Dayton to exercise an option to remain there for the next three years, rather than complete their sec-ondary education at Gov. Livingston, as had been scheduled

Students and their parents must sign a in st slip, and the decision, once made, in be binding. A preliminary survey by Dr. Warren Davis, superintendent of schools, had indicated that some 21 of about 160 Mountainside freshmen will make the choice to remain

The board also adopted a new teacher salary scale, marking the successful completion of long and often bitter negotiations with the Regional High School Teachers' Association. The agreement followed mediation and a factfinding procedure established for schools roughout the state.

Teachers with bachelor's degrees will start at $7,700 per year and rise in 15 annual steps to $12,700. Those with master's degrees will go from $8,500 to $13,800 in 16 steps. Those at the six-year level of graduate training will go from $9,100 to $14,800 in 17 steps.

School nurses salaries will run from $5,700

Barday to attend national meeting

George M. Barclay, science coordinator in the Union County Regional High School District, will participate in the 1970 National Science Foundation Supervisors Conference at the University of Colorado July 20 to Aug. 7, it was announced this week.

The purpose of the conference is to provide 30 science supervisors from secondary and elementary schools and 10 college per-sonnel with information on the latest development in science education, opportunities for an exchange of ideas and opinion concerning national programs and to study and suggest measures by which participants can assume leadership in initiating and implementing new curriculum improvements, among other things.

Barclay said new curricular offerings in elementary, junior high and senior high school science education will be studies at the conference, which is sponsored by the University of Colorado School of Education and the National Science Supervisors Association, The National Science Foundation assumes the costs.

Boy Scouts gather papers Saturday

Kiwanis Club and Troop 177 of the Com-munity Presbyterian Church will conduct a paper drive all morning Saturday. Proceeds from the paper drive will benefit the Mountainside Public Library. Mountainside residents have been asked to save newspapers and magazines and leave bundles by the street curb early Saturday morning. Any questions concerning the paper drive can be directed to Ken Matysek at 233-0139.

He added, 'Your support in this drive will be of considerable importance to the community. May we ask your support and thereby encourage the youth of our town. Please help Mountainside Boy Scouts help Mountainside."

brook will be registered and honored accordingly,

"Engineering studies indicate that traffic noise and pollution problems can be temporarily alleviated by improved hearing and ventilating systems within the limitations of the building and the budget restrictions. Current plans call for establishment of instructional areas that partially compensate for noise from the highway.
"While the board emphasized that its master plan still called for the replacement of these buildings, its major responsibility is still to provide the most equal educational op-portunities to every child in the borough. Under the current circumstances, this comprehensive plan is the most realistic, and, more importantly, the best educationally available at the time."

In the public part of the meeting, the main questions centered around Mrs. Aletta Bork who now teaches fifth grade at Echobrook and what will happen to her if a male teacher takes over the fifth grade. Hannigan said that she had been offered a choice of taking over a third grade glass at Echobrook or a fifth grade in Deerfield.

Hannigan stated that he feels a man is a necessity to a boy in the elementary grades.

A boy needs the contact of a man at least once during these years, he said. Several speakers questioned this view. Hannigan concluded by saying that he is glad that persons are voicing their opinions but the final decision rests with

Mrs. Chen met her husband while both were students at Ohio State, where he was studying for his doctorate in electrical engineering. He was born and raised in Formosa and came to the United States to pursue his studies at Ohio State. He is employed as research scientist at Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill.

Mrs. Chen believes that library work is rewarding. She said, "There is always something new and worthwhile to look forward to. There always is as new challenge, It is something that keeps growing."

She concluded, "Library work is not just a challenge. It is interesting and your mind keeps growing. One always keeps up with the times and your mind is alive and inquisitive." Mrs. Chen is alive and inquisitive and will be an asset to the Mountainside Public Library.

Williams says elderly facing worsening economic crisis Williams declared that the problems of the elderly cannot be put off.

WASHINGTON -- U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-NJ) warned this week that the economic crisis affecting America's elderly will continue and worsen unless major reforms are made, ' Williams, chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, commented following a hearing which capped the committee's intensive, year-long study of "the economics of aging."

aging."
"We have tried to show that today's crisis, affecting the great majority of the more than 20 million persons past 65 today, will continue and worsen unless major reforms are made,"

Williams said,
"That point should sink deeply into the national consciousness," he added, "And it is now up to the committee to issue a report which will do just that."

"The elderly have waited long enough," he said, "Their future is now, "If our nation is not able to recognize and deal with one of the most fundamental and deep-rooted problems of our time, widespread poverty among a third of our aged population and widespread want among a large proportion of the remainder, then our nation will be weakened," Williams said,

He endorsed the improvements in social security voted by the House Ways and Means Committee last week, but said other changes are needed, including automatic cost-of-living adjustments, a 20 percent increase in benefits during the next two years, and improvements

Teachers, pupils `come together'

A "Come-Together" to find ways of ending student unrest and improving urban education was conducted in Asbury Park last week by the New Jersey Education Association.

Ten urban high schools sent "teams" to the conference to help identify causes of student dissatisfaction, to develop procedures that schools can use to resolve problems peacefully, and to define constructive roles for local police in dealing with schools and students.

Because NJEA believe a breakdown of communications is one cause of student unrest, each team included two students, one teacher,

"Besides showing support for the teacher cases, the NJEA rally is intended to call public attention to the need for legislative action, The NJEA working conditions committee has endorsed Assembly Bill 810, which would grant full collective-bargaining rights to public employees — including the right to strike, NJEA is also asking that school board members be made as liable as teachers for any unfair prac-tices or refusals to abide by the Public Employ-

"New Jersey law requires school boards to negotiate in good faith with their employees," Mrs. Carnochan said. "In every school walkout, it has been the school board which has ig-nored both the spirit and the letter of that law.

"School boards fall back on the courts, expecting that they can get the teachers punished rather than have to talk with them," Mrs. Carnochan said.

In calling teachers to the rally, NJEA said: "Certain school boards can be obstinate, totally unresponsive to school needs, and can even yow to close their schools. But, the teachers are the ones being fined and sent to jail," "NJEA is particularly incessed over the treatment of teachers in Jersey City. Teachers there walked out for three weeks when negotiations broke down after Mayor Thomas Whelan said he was closing all public schools next September.

'Education Commissioner Carl Marburger has ordered Jersey City to restore funds to the city's board of education. However, some 20 teachers were sentenced to jail for terms of 10 to 30 days and fined for their role in the protest. The Jersey City Education Association as an organization was fined $10,000."

NJEA is currently appealing the JerseyCity case, as well as defending teachers involved in similar cases in Passaic, EastBrunswick, and Sayreville.

'Courts in other states have required school boards to show they have 'clean hands' before they can get injunctions against teachers who walk out," said Mrs. Carnochan. "We must have that legal principle applied here in New

Colleges sponsor June workshop on halting drug abuse

A workshop in Education for the Prevention of Drug Abuse will be held in the Military Park Hotel, Newark, on June 12, 13 and 14. Dr. George T. Burtt, professor of philosophy at Newark State College, Union, and Dr. Alfred H. Gorman, professor of psychology at Montelair State College, are co-directors. Advisor to the workshop will be Dr. William Angers, graduate professor of psychology at Newark State.

Drawing on the skills of a select group of professionals in psychology, education and pharmacology, the workshop will be the first major effort in the metropolitan area to pool the thinking of experts concerned with develop ing effective community action programs to prevent the spread of the drug culture.

Dr. Burtt states "The workshop orientation is based on the assumption that drug abuse is merely a sympton of the decline of emo-tional relatedness within our communities, in an effort to find techniques to increase mutual concern, small group work including intensive dialogue with former addicts will be used to develop skill in counseling groups of students, relating to parents and understanding the feelings of alienated youth."

Also participating in the workshop will be Dr. Stanley Einstein, coordinator of drug abuse education, New Jersey College of Medi-cine and Dentistry; Dr. Donald Lombardi, professor of psychology, Seton Hall Univer-sity; John Surmay, director of health, wel-fare and housing, Elizabeth; David Kerr, executive director, Integrity House; George Hicks, director, New Well, and William Ryder, Anyone planning to attend should register by mail no later than May 22: Center for Organizational and Personal Effectiveness, 520 Westfield ave., Elizabeth.

Holy Trinity was never in the game. The Highlanders knocked out the Braves' two best pitchers, Joe Cullinan and Ed Zambito. Gov. Livingston scored four of the six times it came to bat, getting eight hits off three Trinity hurlers.

Bill Trakimas' homer highlighted the firstnning Regional outburst. The Highlanders scored two runs on singles by Bob Honecker, John Piccirillo, and Tom Wilson. With two outs and Wilson on base, Trakimas smashed his second homer of the year, a booming drive to right-center field up the alley between the Cullinan, shaken, walked Jim Murphy and Tom Zemla. Seconds later he attempted a pickoff but the threw was wild and Murphy scrambled home with Gov. Livingston's fifth run of the inning.

With Trakimas scoring twice more, Regional built up an 8-0 lead going into the sixth. Then Holy Trinity jumped on pitcher Doug Rau for two runs. Rau, however, never lost his poise and went the distance to gain his fifth victory. He gave up three hits, struck out eight, and allowed the Braves only one scoring threat, in the sixth.

Rau was also sharp against Rahway, this time pitching two perfect innings in relief to gain the victory. It was, however, Kyle McCormick's game; he pitched six Innings,

Rahway scored on Jim Blackburn's secondinning single. Regional belted out nine hits going into the final inning but was unable to

With McCormick tiring, Rau came in and promptly struck out the side. In the bottom of the seventh Rich Weiss singled home Dick Trakimas to tie the contest. Rau struck out another in the eighth and held Rahway scoreless. Regional won in its half of the inning when Piccirillo's third hit of the game drove in Honecker with the winning run.

Hillside was much the same story, only this time there were no late-inning heroics. The Highlander starting pitcher, Tom Wilson, had a fine game, but so did Hillside's Craig Moynihan. Both threw four-hitters and went the distance but Hillside's two first-inning runs proved to be the difference. Jim Murphy scored the Highlander's lone run in the fifth.

For Gov. Livingston, the record now stands at 6-8, with that all important game with Union tomorrow. Regional has played other good teams this year, but Union will be the toughest and most important.

Miss Crom is chosen `outstanding freshman'

COLUMBIA, Md. -- Miss Nancy Crom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hampton Crom, 16 Bayberry lane, Mountainside, N.J., has been chosen an "outstanding freshman" at Stephens College here.

She was chosen on the basis of service to her class and the college. To be eligible, she had to have at least a 2.5 grade point average. Her selection was announced at a recent ban-quet honoring the "outstanding freshmen."

Blue Stars take first place in Majors by beating Vikings

In Mountainside Little League Major League action this week, the Pioneers outslugged the Chiefs, 9-8, aided by T. P. Loftus, line-drive homer in the fifth inning, the first of the season.

In a well-pitched game, the Mountaineers edged the Mustangs, 5-4, despite fine defensive work by Mustangs centerfielder, Gene

The Blue Stars shut out the Vikings, 5-0, with fine pitching performances by Bill Miicke and Steve Schaaf putting the Blue Stars in first place.

The Chiefs overcame the Mountaineers, 10-6. Nick Badida of the Chiefs, put one over the fence and Mountaineers John Silva and Jerry Dwyer both tripled. Spurred on by Bob McGurty's homer to left center in the third inning and fine pitching by Bob Gillard, the Vikings beat the Mustangs,

Harry Irwin of the Pioneers contributed a second inning home run and some good relief

FROM THE MAIN LINE

Bryn Mawr College in Bryn Mawr, Pa., has joined colleges throughout the country to protest President Nixon's policy in Indochina. The college is "open for protest." Although the college is remaining open, students have been granted by the faculty the option of deferring all academic work until September in order for students to devote a substantial part of their time to anti-war activities.

A petition circulated throughout the college has been taken to Washington by a faculty-student delegation and will be presented to President Nixon.

A computer course with a twist "I'm glad I took the course," she concludes.

Professor John T. Cox of Red Bank is a dynamic young man who likes to throw curve balls at the students in his course "The Computer in Society."

"Many of the problems I give them are loaded with pitfalls," he says with a twinkle in his eye, "but this is the way they learn why they go wrong and what to do about it." The course was introduced to the campus of Rutgers University when Livingston College opened its doors last fall. It drew an enrollment of 80 students. About half the students are majors in computer sicence or mathematics, Cox says, but the rest have been attracted from a wide range of major fields in the social sciences and the humanities as well as the natural sciences.

ONE FRESHMAN WHO ASKED that she not be identified so as to avoid any suspicion that she might be currying favor with the instructor plans to major in psychology.

'I took the course because I wanted to become familiar with the different aspects of computer usage," she says, "I've learned already that is an extremely powerful tool, and one which I am sure will be of great use to me in my pro-

"I think every student could benefit from it, particularly those interested in sociology, urban studies, community planning-just about every subject there is.

A similar view was expressed in a recent interview by the editor of a college newspaper who plans to major in languages.

"The whole field of languages is working through computers now," he said, "And if I should go on to graduate school, I'm going to have to learn about computers anyway. So why not major in computer science now and then devote my graduate work to applying that knowledge in the field of languages."

Cox feels that an important ingredient in the success of his course is the opportunity it gives the students to learn by doing. Through a battery of eight terminals in two basement rooms at Livingston the students can deal directly with the main computer across the river on the State University's main campus.

"THEY CAN FEED A PROGRAM into the terminal and get an answer back within a minute or so," Cox explains, "Then if they have gone wrong somewhere, they can look for the mistake, correct it and put it right back into the computer. This is a much more effective way of learning than coming to me to ask what's wrong,"
The students do have their chance to seek the instructor's help in the friendly interchange which takes place at recitation periods. Cox's warm smile behind a full board encourages a free-wheeling exhange of banter as he explains the mysteries of divergent and convergent serles and the distinction between the realm of calculus and that of the computer.

Alternately filling and erasing the chalk-board he guides the class through a steady flow of problems, methods and solutions.

"How would you make a flow chart for this problem," he asks.
"That's simple" said a student.

Cox offered him the chalk, but the student backed off.

Cox bridges the generation gap (he's all of 34) not only with his students but with an even younger group—the Boy Scouts. He is scoutmaster for 60 boys in Troop 201 at Rumson. A graduate of Purdue where he majored in physics, he carned a master's degree in electrical engineering and computer science at New York University, and is now working towards his Ph. D. at the Moore School of Electrical Engineering in the University of

Labor Department questions and answers

Q. Can restrictions in state and local laws upon the employment of women with respect to hours of rest periods, etc., be used to justify prohibited wage differences under the federal Equal Pay Act?

A. No. Also, no provision of the law justifies noncompliance with state or local laws in those states where the state law has established higher standards.

Q. Who is responsible for enforcing the law?

A. The Wage-Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor. The Wage-Hour Division has more than 1,000 professional compliance offivers located in most major cities throughout the country who conduct investigations for possible violations and handle complaints.

Q. If a firm persists in deliberately violating the law, what remedies are available? The Wage-Hour Division usually is able to obtain compliance through educational methods and voluntary correction of violations. However, when such methods are unsuccessful, the following legal steps are provided: 1. Injunction action against the employer may be brought

3 festivals are planned

BARNESVILLE, Pa .-Schuylkill County, long known as a hard coal mining area with large ethnic populations, this year makes a major bid for tourist business with an expanded second annual Bavarian Summer Festival and the addition of two new summer festivals-the Polish and the Italian. All will be held here at Lakewood Park, located on Route 45 midway between Tamaqua and Mahanoy City. Last year the first Bavarian Festival, sponsored by the Bavarian Festival Society, drew nearly 100,000 persons in six days. This year the fest will run ten days—July 3 to 12. The Polish Festival leads off the season with June 11 to 14 dates, while the Italian Festival follows the Bavarian, running from July 30 to Aug. 2. Both new festivals are being held by the International Festival Society, a sister organi-zation of the Bavarian.

For the Bavarian Festival. craftsmen-painters have been busy during the winter making decorations incuding an extensive set of German shields and other decorations similar to those that color the famed which the Bavarian fest is patterned.

Dotto issues warning on poisoning

"Lead poisoning can have serious consequences," said Charles F. Dotto, health offifor the Mountainside Board of Health, "and this is especially true among young children, who seem to be its most frequent victims."

He attributed the majority of cases to children's unknowingly eating lead or materials containing lead in their natural desire to put things into their

Some of the possible sources, the health officer added, included lead-containing paint and face powders, toys, colored crayons and chalks, and field-grown fruits and vegetables improperly cleaned of certain insecticides. Other cases result from drinking water transmitted through lead pipes, and inhal-ing fumes from the burning of items which containlead, such as storage batteries.

"By far the most frequent cause is from eating paint," Dotto siad. He explained that many young children have the of chewing on painted surfaces. If the paint chips they swallow as a result of this activity contain lead, as a lot of paints do, lead poisoning can occur.

Lead tends to build up in the body, and as it increases, be-comes poisonous and produces symptoms ranging from a mild weakness with vomiting and loss of appetite to brain damage and death.

Dotto recommended that only paints without lead be used for interiors and furniture, because the home offers the child the greatest access to painted surfaces. Most paint cans carry a statement of lead

If there is any doubt, do not use it, the health officer said. He also suggested that if there are any doubts about previously painted furniture, walls or woodwork, try to remove the paint and recover with non-lead paint, or at least paint over with non-lead paint.

Dotto urged parents with young children to be on the lookout for possible sources of lead poisoning and to eliminate them without delay.

"If you suspect that a child has been exposed to any quan-tity of lead, regardless of the source, take him to a doctor immediately," the health offi-cer concluded,

New camp for children

The Summit Area YMCA will introduce a new "Kinder-Kamp" program this summer which will provide day camp experience for youngsters entering kindergarten or first grade in the fall. The camp will be held at the YMCA in six one-week sessions beginning July 6 and closing August 14. Camp hours will be from 9 a.m. to Noon, Mon-day through Friday.

Activities will include swimming lessons and free swims, simple arts and crafts projects, and physical edu-cation teaching basic move-ment skills and organization games. Singing, story telling, quiet games, movies, special events, and outdoor activities will be highlighted.

Director of the KinderKamp will be Mrs. Joseph Caporaso of New Providence who has served on the YMCA staff for 12 years as instructor for kindergym and tiny tot classes and as a certified aquatic instructor. She willassisted by two other counselors and two assistant counselors. Camp sessions will be limited in size for individual attention. Registration is being taken now at the YMCA. # Business, two homes burglarized

Two houses and one bustness were burglarized last week, according to Spring-field police. A house on Windsor drive was broken into last Tuesday while the owner was out. He told police that when he came home he found that his house had been entered and that cash and jewelry valued at about $1,000 was missing.

The owner of a house on Morris avenue reported that he came home last Wednesday and found that his home had been entered. Investigators found that paint had been chipped around the door lock. The house had been ransacked and property valued at about $4,500 was missing, according to reports. Items taken include jewelry and coins, including a gold Greek commemorative coin.

Police reported that a busi-ness on Fadam road had been entered by breaking a rear window of the building. Tools and business machines of un-determined value were taken, the report said.

Two cars were also broken into, according to police. Donald Dickson of Westfield told police that he had parked his car to go to work at Quindar Electronics on Fadam road. When he came out he found that the vent window of his car had been forced and that 22 stereo tapes valued at about $150 were missing.

Alan Krichman of Livingston reported that he had gone to work at Saks Fifth Avenue. When he came out He found that a stereo tape player and eight stereo tapes valued at about $235 were missing. According to reports there were no signs of forced entry.

2 injured in accidents

Two persons were injured in separate accidents this week, according to Mountainside police.

Sandra L. Juncker, 18, of 1138 Sawmill rd., Mountainside, was injured Monday evening when her car struck a utility pole on Summit road. The car sustained damage to the left front fender and door and had to be towed from the scene. Miss Juncker was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainside Rescue Squad, She was treated for a fractured nose and re-

She told police that she reached over the back of the front seat to get something in the back. Her car then hit the utility pole.

A car driven by William
collided with one driven by Ronnie Schlesinger of Union last Thursday on Rt. 22 East near Mountain avenue, according to reports. Schlesinger's car sustained damage to the rear end, including the truck hook, bumper and fender.

Paulmenn's vehicle had damage to the entire front end, including the grill, radiator, bumper, fender, and possible engine damage. Both were driven from the scene.

Mrs. Jessie Weiner, 55, of Union, passenger in Sch-lesinger's car, sustained in-juries, but told police she would see her own doctor.

According to reports, Sch-lesinger had stopped for a traffic light, Paulmenn reportedly applied his brakes but could not stop in time and hit Schlesinger's car in the

"THINKING

ABOUT DRINKING"
"Thinking About Drinking" is the title of a booklet which. though designed primarily for youngsters, contains information useful for parents and others.

It was prepared by the U.S.
Children's Bureau and the National Institute of Mental Health for young people as a basis for discussion of atti-nuces about drinking.

"Thinking About Drinking"
reflects the latest findings in alcohol research. This research is being carried on and expanded through the efforts of the Institute's National Center for Prevention and Control of Alcoholism. The contents of the booklet take a look at teenage drinking, presenting an objective, factual picture of various aspects of the matter.

There is also a "true-false" self-quiz of 19 questions dealing with facts, half-truths, and myths about alcohol. Information for answering the questions is also contained in the publica-

Another important section deals with "Handling your own drinking or non-drinking."
This gives information for deals are the section of the se decision making. Following sections present significant questions on what families, a girl, a boy, or any young per-son may do in various "iffy" situations, such as, for example, what does a young person do if he is the only nondrinker at a party where everyone urges him to have a

Why people react differently to alcohol is also covered. Various factors involved, physical and psychological, are discussed.

Physical factors which usually influence a person when he drinks include how fast he drinks, whether he has eaten, the type of beverage, body weight, and body chemistry. Psychological factors con-

Psychological factors considered are the situation in which drinking occurs, the person's mood, his attitudes, and his drinking experience. # Prosecutor Asch pledges crime fight

Union County Prosecutor Karl Asch of Linden pledged "a definite crackdown on organized crime" at a meeting recently of the Union County Police Chiefs Association at the Sulphur Springs Inn, Berkeley Heights.

Prosecutor Asch told the police chiefs "local police departments will get all possible support." He called the local police depart-ments "the backbone in any fight against organized crime."

The new prosecutor agreed to work with all police chiefs in Union County "to wipe out any and all crime" and he called for teamwork by all law enforcement agencies in the county.

Prosecutor Asch. who was recently appointed prosecutor by Gov. William Cahill, was introduced to each of the police chiefs.

Police Chief Raymond A. Edighoffer of Union, who presided, introduced Prosecutor Asch.

Distributor named by Holiday Magic

Herbert H. Hummel Jr. of Union, has been named master distributor of the cosmetics and home care products of Holiday Magic, Inc., San Rafael, Calif.

Whelan cited for work with county Dimes unit

About 500 persons gathered at the Winfield Scott Hotel in Elizabeth last week to pay tribute to Edward L. Whelan, founder of the Union County Chapter March of Dimes and chairman of its board since the chapter's inception more than 30 years ago.

A check for $4,000, representing gifts and proceeds from the dinner, was presented to Whelan by Miss Genevieve Pascale, secretary of the Union County Chapter executive board of the March of Dimes. The check will be given to the Union County Chapter to help

"This closes out all special events for the March of Dimes throughout the county," Miss Pascale said, "and for the rest of the year, we will be concentrating on community education. This means that March of Dimes volunteers will be distributing literature to hospitals, doctors' offices, clubs, schools and anywhere there is a request for it. The literature will deal with pre-natal care, dope addiction as it affects the unborn baby, statistics regarding birth defects, booklets, pamphlets, posters, March of Dimes money is used for public and professional education; to help establish additional birth defect centers throughout the country for the care and treatment of birth defect victims, to help support the Salk Institute in California; and for the care and treatment of post polio victims for whom the Salk vaccine came too late," Miss Pascale

"This week is "Healthy Baby Week." The emphasis will be on healthy, normal babies but the prime concern of the March of Dimes is birth defects, their cause and their ultimate

Union Y to offer tours for teens

A novel teen tour program will be offered this summer by the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green lane, Union, for teenagers, Robbie Klein, health and physical education director, announced this week. The program will begin July 1 and run through Aug. 19.

Differing from the teen caravan programs offered in previous years, it will feature a 16-day trip to the southern coast of the United States, with stops in Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Cape Kennedy, Miami Beach and other points of interest in the south.

In addition, one day a week will be devoted to working with needy children and adults. The program will be conducted in con-junction with the Bayone Y and will feature two special home hospitality evenings: one in Bayonne with teenagers from their community, and one in which teenagers from Bayonne will stay at the Green Lane Y.

activities and other activities," said Miss on. We need young people and others to distribute our literature. We have mable at all times, films and speakers as and as literature that we would like to bring the attention of the public.

We are particularly concerned about our people, the potential parents; their atom to drugs, their poor diets, the fact they themselves are not fully mature some of them are having babies; we are through community education to alert these unisters on how to be kind to their bables but re they are born to ehlp lower the statistic babies in the United States who everyday hern less than perfect," she said.

Anyone wishing to help the March of Dimes in its community education project or wishing information regarding the project is and to phone the National Foundation office

ecriber. EMMA S. KLAUSER Dated: MAY 8, 1970 CHARLES TRELEASE, Attorney

Most drownings result because people violate or ignore good water safety practices, states Cliff E. Lundberg, Eastern Area director of Red Cross Safety Programs. "Drownings can be reduced if people will learn to swim and develop skill and knowledge that will contribute to safety in, on and around the water. Red Cross hopes through its swimming and lifesaving courses, to create in every indi-vidual an awareness of accident causes and ways in which accidents can be prevented."

Statistics reveal that drownings around the homes-in pools, bathtubs, wells cisterns and cesspools-claim over 700 lives each year. Three chief causes of home pool drownings are temporary lack of qualified adult supervision; absence of, or inadequate safeguards such as fences and rescue equipment; and the inability of victims to float or swim.

The home pool drowning rate is highest among children under four, the safety director said. Therefore, home pool owners should take regular precautions around the pool site and made the area "kidproof." Lundberg stressed that one way to make sure children can't accidentally fall into the pool is to crect a fence of sufficient height around the facility, keeping the gate locked at times when there is no supervision avail-able for swimmers.

The shallow and deep ends of the pool should be clearly marked with buoy lines.

tles should not be allowed around the pool area. And pool rules should prohibit running or "horseplay" near the pool edge.

"No matter how many safety measures are taken," said Lundberg, "the best way to help insure that accidents don't claim lives is through training. Someone in the forth residual. through training. Someone in the family should know how to give artificial respiration. Youngsters should be taught to float and swim at an early age, and simultaneously they should be made to understand their limitations." Since the majority of drownings occur within a few feet of safety, it is often possible for a nonswimmer or an untrained swimmer to perform a nonswimming rescue safely, the Red Cross official said.

The rescuer should limit personal contact with the victim and always maintain firm contact with the shore. The rescuer's weight on the shore or pool deck should be kept low or slanting backward. If the victim is within arm's reach, the rescuer should lie flat on the deck and extend one arm, holding the deck or dock with the other arm. He can then grasp the victim's wrist or arm and draw him to safety.

Should the victim be beyond arm's reach the rescuer can extend such items as a shirt, towel, coat, branch or pole, and allow the victim to grasp one end and then pull him to safety. A line, ring buoy or an inner tube can be thrown to a victim who is beyond reach of an extension rescue, Lundberg added.

County GOP plans annual Stag Day at golf club May 28

The second annual Union County GOP Stag Day at Shackamaxon Golf and Country Club, Scotch Plains, has been set for Thursday, May 28, according to its chairman, Assemblyman Peter J. McLonough of Plainfield. The program will include golf, a continental breakfast, luncheon and a 7:30 p.m. banquet with television personality Charlie Manna the featured extentions. tured entertainer.

'We expect Governor Cahill and several members of his cabinet to be with us that day," McDonough said. Ronald Heyman, the state director of motor vehicles; James Cox Brady, commissioner of banking; Richard McDonough, director of alcoholic beverages, and Dr. James Cowan, commissioner of health, have reserved 'tee-off times" for the all-day event.

McDonough and his committee, which includes the county republican legislative dele-gation, has asked "all party supporters who want a day away from it all to join in the $100 fund-raising event. Our U.S. Senate candidate, Nelson Gross, will also try his luck for one of the several golf prizes, but we promise no political speeches will interrupt the fun-filled he said. Tickets may be obtained from Union County Republican Headquarters at 610 North ave., East, Westfield,

Arhictect displays plans for hospital

New Jersey's largest hospital building program at the present time — the $10 million expansion project at Alexian Brothers Hospital in Elizabeth — will be the subject of a special display which Architect-Planner Gerard Joseph Oakley of Teaneck will present at the Middle Atlantic Health Congress, next Wednesday though May 21 in Alexie City day through May 21 in Atlantic City.

Oakley, who designed the project, will show two models of the renovation work which was completed at the hospital last November as the first step in the expansion program. The work consisted of a complete renovation of the fifth floor of the center building and an ex-tending wing and the addition of a complete sixth floor, for a total of 74 new beds. The congress is the 22nd annual assembly of the Middle Atlantic Hospital Assembly, meeting last night at Rod's Shadowbrook, Route 35, Shrewsbury. TB-RD Central, sponsors f the local Christmas Seal campaign, serves Union, Hudson and Monmouth counties. The tri-county group was or-ganized in 1967 when the TB and Health Leagues in the respective areas merged. The session included the election of officers and new board members, presentation of the 1969-70 annual report and an address by Robert B. Considine, journalist, author and syndicated columnist.

Joseph B. Bagley of Bay-onne was re-elected president and Miss Katharine D. Cass of Union was named vicepresident

Bagley, who presided at the business session, announced that the 1969 Christmas Seal campaign — which supports the group's year-round cycle of work — totaled $213,000. Using these donations and funds from the association's reserve, TB-RD Central has allocated $262,000 for its tri-county TB detection and control activities, professional education and training, community service, public health education, air pollution and anti-smoking programs for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Bagley noted that the as-sociation will continue and expand its training courses rv care istured nurses and inhalation therapy technicians, conduct another medical seminar on respiratory diseases for area physicians and offer scholarships to qualified candidates to prepare for careers in inhalation therapy.

"These programs," Bagley said, "are the first line of defense in our battle to combat and control the spiraling bronchitis and other crippling pulmonary diseases.

Hikers' unit clears trail on Sunday

An afternoon ramble and picnic and a trail clearing expedition are scheduled this weekend for members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club.

On Saturday, Walter and Bunny Taylor of Maplewood will lead the afternoon ramble in the South Mountain Reservation. A picnic will follow the hike; each person will provide his own food. The group will meet at the Locust Grove picnic area, near the Millburn railroad station

On Sunday, Thomas Halsall of Verona and Ned Silvius of Piscataway will lead a trailclearing expedition. Each hik-ing club associated with the New York-New Jersey trail conference is responsible for maintaining a section of the Appalachian Trail.

The area assigned to the Union County Hiking Club is a 13-mile stretch of the trail located in the area of Green-New Jersey state line. The group will meet at the Packanack-Wayne Shopping Center at 9:15 a.m.
