Regional board stands up to issue of the national anthem

By ABNER GOLD
The Regional High School District Board of Education meeting Tuesday night at the Franklin School, Garwood, could well have been set to music—and the music would have been the patriotic strains of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Leaders of several veterans' groups appeared to protest that the playing of the national anthem had just been discontinued at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, where it had been broadcast to all rooms for morning exercises and played at all assemblies.

Discussion brought out that the renditions of the anthem had been intimated last fall by a vote of the Brearley Student Council, and that a recent poll taken by a student-faculty committee showed most students who voted were opposed.

Philip Gillich, Kenilworth American Legion commander, told the board that he was most concerned about the "manner in which the vote was taken," adding there was "coercion" by those who opposed to playing the tune.

He said he could understand that the daily renditions might not be in a manner which would increase respect for the flag, and that he would not object to their termination.

Gillich stressed, however, his concern over dropping the anthem at major assemblies. Others who spoke against the change at Brearley included Kenilworth Mayor William Conrad and Arthur Russo, Kenilworth VFW commander.

The board went into executive session to discuss this problem, along with other matters, at the end of the public discussion period. Reconvening, the board then voted to continue playing the anthem each morning at least through June, so board members could have more time to discuss the matter. The vote was 6 to 1. Dr. Fred Hagedorn of Berkeley Heights was opposed, and Mrs. Natalie Waldt of Springfield abstained.

Mayor Conrad and several other citizens, primarily from Mountainside, asked the board for comments and plans following the rejection by the voters earlier this month of a $7 million expansion referendum.

Former Mayor Frederick Wilhelm of Mountainside said in a letter: "The referendum is a part of history, but the problem still exists. The space needs of the district must be met with dispatch. Calling for a referendum which will be fair to all communities in the district." Wilhelm pledged to work for its approval.

Manuel Diós, board president, commented on the referendum at several times during the meeting. At one point he said, "We have just proved that any community can defeat any referendum. We need to think of the district as a whole."

He later commented, "Education is not just a matter of filling classrooms. Our students need facilities which will prepare them to compete with others from all parts of the nation."

Diós also declared, "We haven't yet started planning for another referendum. I wanted time for the emotions of the last one to be gone. Now I hope to start meetings on the subject in the near future."

In other business, the board authorized holding a $34,000 referendum on July 14. It would approve purchase of a quarter-acre lot adjoining the property of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. The property includes a house which could be used for offices.

Board members explained that action must be taken immediately to permit a July 14 referendum, because the board could obtain an option to buy only until July 15.

Dr. Warren Davis, superintendent of schools, informed the board that two students at Dayton, Deborah Goldstein and Howard Dobin,

Suspense comedy to be performed by high school faculty

The suspense comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace," will be presented as the sixth annual faculty play at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, on June 5 and 6 in the auditorium. Curtain is 8:15.

Norman Schneider will direct the farce about two murderously eccentric old ladies played by Miss Gail Shaffer and Miss Elaine Campana. Their mad nephew, who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt, will be portrayed by Robert Nagle. Kenneth Meeks is the nephew who is a drama critic and Clifton Robinson is another nephew who strongly resembles Boris Karloff. Other roles will be played by Mrs. Carol Forsman, Peter Festante, Eugene Fox, Thomas Gioino, John Leese, Richard Duggan, Milton Karten, Frederick and Michael Barzin.

The entire faculty is participating in the production with the proceeds going to the B. Benjamin Merrill Memorial Scholarship Fund. This year's scholarship will be given in honor of Thomas Rosamilla.

Mrs. Ruth Perry is the play's producer with Mrs. Barbara Oberding as stage manager, assisted by Dennis Carroll. Barry Mansfield has designed the sets with Mrs. Nancy Wilder doing the set decorations and Daniel Gomula the set construction.

A faculty art show arranged by Miss Selma Kaye will be on exhibit during the evening.

GOP Club will honor Wilhelms on June 12

The Mountainside Republican Club will tender a testimonial dinner honoring Mountainside's previous mayor, Frederick Wilhelms Jr., on June 12 at 7 p.m. at the Mountainside Inn, Rt. 22, Mountainside.

Tickets for the dinner may be purchased by writing to Frank G. Harrison, 1489 Force Dr., Mountainside. Deadline for reservations is June 2.

LWV of Westfield expands to include Mountainside area

By vote of the general membership at its annual meeting last Tuesday, the League of Women Voters of Westfield became an area league encompassing Mountainside, Scotch Plains and Fanwood, in addition to Westfield. It will henceforth be known as the League of Women Voters of the Westfield Area.

As an area league, members in each of these communities will be enabled to work on local issues, subject to control by the board and general membership, providing there are at least 25 members in the community. A "Know Your Town" or "Know Your Schools" study is a prerequisite to undertaking any other local study or action program.

Another important development in League structure, as reported by the newly-elected President, Mrs. Harry Cordts, is the adoption on a national level of a by-law to the constitution permitting all women 18 years and older to become members of the League. Heretofore the minimum age has been 21.

The Westfield Area League is cooperating with units in Berkeley Heights, Cranford, Linden, New Providence, Plainfield, Roselle, Springfield, Summit and Union in the distribution of non-partisan information on the candidates for freeholders, in preparation for the New Jersey primary election on Tuesday. Included are a short biographical sketch, a statement as to each nominee's qualifications and position.

KEVIN A. KORTINA
Kevin A. Kortina to be ordained as a priest Saturday

Kevin A. Kortina is one of 20 seminarians who will be ordained as secular priests Saturday in the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark. Archbishop Thomas A. Boland of Newark will preside at the ceremony in Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark.

Mr. Kortina is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kortina of 1123 Peachtree Lane, Mountainside. He was born in Seattle, Wash., and moved to Mountainside five years ago. He is a graduate of Seton Hall Preparatory School and Seton Hall University, South Orange.

Mr. Kortina will concelebrate his first mass Sunday at 1 p.m. in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside. The Rev. Joseph Russell, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Church, Park Ridge, will deliver the sermon. There will be a reception at 3 p.m. in the Hotel Suburban, Summit. He will also bestow his first priestly blessings from 7 to 9 p.m. in the parish hall of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

Light vote seen in primary race this Tuesday

A light vote is expected for Tuesday's primary election since there are no local contests for Borough Council nominations and no local residents to generate interest in those races that are contested.

Polling places will open at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. District 1 will vote at the Echobrook School, Districts 2 and 3 will vote at the Beechwood School, Districts 4 and 5 will vote at the Deerfield School.

Republican Borough Council incumbents Louis Parent and William Van Blarcom are unopposed for re-election. Democrats Robert Jaffe and John Palmer are running unopposed for their party's nominations.

What interest there is in the primary is provided by Democratic and Republican contests for the U. S. Senatorial nominations. U. S. Sen. Harrison A. Williams faces a challenge from Hudson County State Sen. Frank J. Guarini for the Democratic nod. Barring a heavy Hudson vote and a light turnout elsewhere, Williams should be nominated to seek a third term in the Senate.

On the Republican side, Nelson G. Gross, the party's former state chairman, has all the big GOP guns in his corner and is expected to repulse challenges by James A. Quaremba and Joseph T. Gavan.

Representative Florence P. Dwyer, now in her 14th year in Congress, is unopposed in her bid for the Republican nomination. Her Democratic counterpart, Daniel F. Lundy, has no opposition either.

Unopposed Freeholders Arthur Manner, Jerome Epstein and Charles Tracy are also running for exercise Tuesday. However, there is a contest on the Democratic side, Thomas Long, Harold J. Seymour Jr. and Everett V. Lattimore are the Democratic organization choices. They face opposition from Thomas W. Cantrell Jr., Charles E. McNally, Muriel Kranowski and George J. King.

ON DUTY -- Dennis G. Harter (in white shirt) of 368 New Providence rd., Mountainside, inspects the village of Batri in Kien Hoa Province, Vietnam, with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker (left) as an unidentified Vietnamese officer observes. Harter helped the villagers set up their town as a model for others. They built a dam and increase the size of their rice crop.

Harter appointed assistant at U.S. Embassy in Saigon

Dennis G. Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Glenn Harter of 368 New Providence rd., Mountainside, has been appointed as executive assistant to Ambassador William E. Colby at the American Embassy in Saigon. Harter has been a foreign service officer in the State Department since 1966. He recently completed 18 months as senior district advisor for the pacification program in Kien Hoa Province.

He is a 1958 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. Harter received his bachelor of science degree in 1962 and his master's of science degree in 1963 from Georgetown University, where he majored in international affairs in their foreign service school. He received a master of arts degree in East Asian studies from Seton Hall University in 1965. He was completing work for his doctorate when he was appointed to the foreign service in 1966 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Harter has traveled throughout most of Asia, including Japan, Tibet, Singapore and the Philippines. Last Christmas he accompanied Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker to Nepal. He traveled through all the provinces in Vietnam where he came into contact with people from all walks of life.

Harter helped set Batri up as a model city. He helped the villagers build a dam and increase the size of their rice crop. He introduced them to the American way of life without putting down the Vietnamese culture, the state Department said.

According to the State Department, Harter's "proficiency and fluency in the Vietnamese language were of tremendous benefit to the pacification program. He was able to fathom the feelings, interest and problems of people of another culture and background. The rapport was unique within Vietnam. He is held in high esteem by all Vietnamese with whom he dealt, and he had the complete respect and confidence of all American personnel with whom he worked and supervised."

Harter has been nominated for the Harriman Award "in recognition of his invaluable service," the State Department announced. This award is presented annually for outstanding service and achievement in the foreign service.

Police find car on lawn; man charged with drunk driving

Mountainside police had a case brought right to their door early Sunday evening when Vernal Gillette of Plainfield brought his car to a stop on the lawn at police headquarters. Patrolman Edward Hofeken arrested Gillette on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. His car jumped the curb and came to rest. Gillette was released on $250 bail.

The right front "A" frame was ripped out, as well as the rear axle and suspension.

A truck driven by George R. Ulmer of Lindenwood collided with a car driven by John Monaco, 76, of Millburn Monday on Rt. 22 west near the U-turn by the Mountainside Chapel, police said. Mrs. Marie Monaco, 73, a passenger in her husband's car, was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainside Rescue Squad. She was released after being treated for extreme nervousness and agitation.

The truck, owned by Portable Toilet Inc. of Newark, has a wheel knocked out of place. Monaco's car had the rear window shattered and had damage to the left front and right rear doors and roof. It had to be towed from the scene.

Ulmer was driving in the left lane when Monaco, who was almost opposite the U-turn, put on his left signal and began to turn from the right hand lane. Ulmer applied his brakes and began to swerve and slide while trying to get into the U-turn to avoid hitting Monaco. He then hit Monaco's car in the side; police said.

The job includes keeping swimming, toilet and sink areas clean, as well as trimming trees and cutting grass. Mrs. Hechtle added, "While not necessary, preference will be given to a person with a driver's license. The camp is looking for a person able to act in a mature, independent manner."

Summer class to ready adults for equivalency

Adults who have never attended or completed high school may go to school during the day this summer to prepare themselves for tests to earn the legal equivalent of a high school diploma.

Harry E. Linkin, director of adult education in the Union County Regional High School District, announced this week that in response to a number of requests for daytime high school equivalency preparation classes, a 28-session course is being offered at the air-conditioned David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, from June 28 to July 30. This schedule coincides with the regular summer school session. Adult classes will be held from 8:15 to 10:25 a.m.

Legal residents of New Jersey who are at least 18 years of age and have been out of school for at least one year are eligible to take the General Educational Development (GED) tests. An equivalency certificate is earned by making satisfactory scores in the tests. The daytime summer program will offer instruction and refresher training in various subject areas to prepare for the tests, Linkin said.

The registration fee for residents of the Regional District (Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield) is $10, and it is $20 for all others.

Interested persons have been requested to attend either of two meetings to be held Tuesday, June 9, and Thursday, June 11, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., at the David Brearley school, located on Monroe Avenue in Kenilworth. The GED program will be explained and the registration procedure outlined.

Seligmans named local co-chairmen in MS fund drive

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Seligman of Summit road, Mountainside, will serve as Mountainside chairmen of volunteers for the 1970 Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest Appeal of the Upper New Jersey Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Funds raised will be used to support the chapter's patient service activities for MS victims and their families and to advance the society's research programs. The National MS Society is the only organization in New Jersey which supports such a dual program.

Mr. and Mrs. Seligman stated, "Multiple sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system—its cause and cure as yet unknown. Of particular interest this year is that in addition to its regular programs, the society has launched a research development program to raise $10 million by the end of 1973 so as to pursue promising new leads without delay. Among leading scientists now engaged in MS research supported by the National MS Society is Dr. Jonas Salk."

The Seligmans continued, "This year a greater number of Mountainside residents than ever before have volunteered to call on their neighbors for contributions. We hope that our fellow residents will respond generously to the MS volunteer's call. The drive will run through June 21."

man for the group announced. Pledge sheets, bumper stickers, and buttons are on order and will soon be available for distribution. An all-out effort to sign up all local youngsters will be made with a "sign in" scheduled for next week at the Florence Guadineer School.

It is hoped that if enough youngsters say "Not Me" to drugs, they can influence others to think twice before starting on drugs such as pot, pills and heroin. If enough youngsters have the proper information, and incentive, they can influence other youngsters that it is not wise to start. The purpose of the "I Agree-Not Me" group is to give youngsters a method of expressing themselves and possibly saving the life, or a career, of one of their peers.

Within the first week of the campaign, poster parties were held at the homes of Donna Davis, Jeryl Pine, and Judy Seagull. "Not-Me" posters are being prepared and will be distributed throughout the town. Forty-five youngsters attended either the initial meeting or the poster parties.

Ellen Kampf, the organizer of the local group, stated, "The kids in town are very enthusiastic with the program and we all feel that we have a great idea. We are going to make it successful. Only the groundwork has been laid. When our printed material arrives, then the work will really begin."

"If any teenager is interested in having a 'Not Me' poster party, or can arrange one, he may call Ellen Kampf at 379-6328 for information and material."

Girls make tots' clothes

The idea is basically a simple one. There are 105 girls in the clothing classes of Mrs. Arlene Church at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, who are taking the left-over, otherwise wasted, materials and turning them into summer outfits for children.

"The trend today is not to be wasteful," said Mrs. Church, who has been at Gov. Livingston for 10 years. The idea of the girls throwing away their unused scrap materials disturbed Mrs. Church. She pictured small outfits for toddlers. As a result, she engaged her classes to make summer clothes, mostly for toddlers, but there are also dresses and skirts for older children. The clothes will go to day nurseries in Elizabeth and to John Rannels Hospital.

The project of making clothes will reach a peak near the middle of June when the girls have finished making their own clothes for the semester. The girls are making the outfits during their spare time. Most of the clothes will go to children who have been abandoned by their parents.

"There are always girls who enjoy doing things for others. These are the girls who have really enjoyed this activity," Mrs. Church said. A large number of girls are bringing in zippers, notions and patterns bought with their own money.

Mrs. Church is pleased that the idea caught on so well. "This is a way for them to do something concrete in helping others," she concluded.

The price of eggs climbed sharply for one man last week. Norman Halper of Piscataway was fined $105 Wednesday by Judge Jacob Bauer in Mountainside Municipal Court for taking a carton of eggs from the Satellite Diner on Rt. 22. The eggs were valued at about $14.

Detective Walter Betsyeman and the owner marked a case of eggs and other goods. On April 11, police said they observed Halper as he took the eggs. Betsyeman and patrolman Frederick Ahlholm followed him out of the diner and stopped him on Rt. 22 West. They found the marked carton in his possession, the report said.

One-run losses still plague Regional as disappointing season nears an end

By BILL LOVETT

One-run defeats continue to plague Gov. Livingston's baseball team. Regional dropped another, 4-3, to Westfield last week but the Highlanders shut out Hillside, 2-0, behind Tom McCann.

Overall, Gov. Livingston has a record of 8-12 with two games remaining on the schedule. The year, as frustrating as it has been disappointing, has been below expectations. Many predicted Regional would finish high in the Watchung Conference and the Highlanders could have -- if not for those one-run losses, have -- if not for those one-run losses, a single run in a season which has not shown the improvement expected over last year's 7-13 mark.

Gov. Livingston's loss to Westfield was typical. Regional fell behind, 4-0, in the first inning when the home team jumped on Doug Rau. The first four Westfield batters reached base and all scored -- two on singles by Neil Chamberlain and Jim Dello-Russo, the other two on outs by Joe Moninger and Bill Napier.

Rau, however, settled down and pitched two-hit ball the rest of the way. As has happened so many times this season, Gov. Livingston came back -- but not quite far enough.

The Highlanders scored twice in the fifth on Chuck Rundlet's bases-loaded single scoring Bob Honecker and Dick Trakmas. With Westfield hurler Skeeter MacCloskey trying, the Highlanders loaded the bases again in the seventh. With two outs and a run already in, MacCloskey managed to get Jim Murphy to ground the ball to Moninger, and the third baseman threw out Murphy to end the game.

McCann had near-perfect control against Hillside, turning in his most impressive performance of the season. He allowed only two infield hits and struck out six. Hillside was held hitless the final five innings by McCann as Regional's two runs proved the difference.

The Highlanders were able to put together two singles and a walk. A Rundlet hit, a walk to Murphy, and a fielder's choice on which both runners advanced, set the stage for the game-winning two-run single up the middle by Tom Zemla.

Only St. Patrick's and North Plainfield remain on this year's schedule. Two victories would close out the season nicely.

Siejk no-hits Indians, 6-0; Tigers hand Orioles 1st loss

Last Monday night's Senior League game, the Orioles beat the Twins, 8-2, with Orioles' Mike Freer and Lou Mancinelli sharing pitching honors. Shining at the plate were Jeff Shomo with two walks and two hits; Len Siejk with two doubles; Freer with three walks and Don Clark two hits, going two for three. The Twins' Tracy Masters collected two hits and negotiated a great double play.

The Red Sox - Tiger game Tuesday night was rained out.

The Yanks ousted the Twins, 4-2, Wednesday night. Yanks' Tom Farrell performed well at the mound with Bruce Honecker relieving. Tom, Bruce and Mike Gonnella starred at bat. Len Siejk of the Orioles pitched a no-hitter to shut out the Indians, 6-0, on Thursday. Saturday morning, the Orioles suffered their first defeat of the year losing to the Tigers, 11-6. Ron Perna pitched all the way for the Tigers.

The afternoon's play saw another upset with the first Red Sox victory of the season, 12-6 over the Twins. The triumph was due in part to the combined efforts of pitchers Mark Hergott, Bobby Kelly and Bill Riffel; Bob DeCristoforo's triple and the hitting of Manny Arango, Charlie Gagliano of the Twins clouted his second triple of the year and Tracy Masters continued his batting streak.

In the American League the Orioles beat the Red Sox, 1-0, Monday; the Senators beat the Indians, 4-0, Tuesday; Athletics beat the Twins, 4-3, Wednesday; Tigers beat the Orioles, 7-6, Thursday.

Senators beat the Yankees, 2-0, Friday as Doug Mueller hit a home run with two on base. This was the first home run of the season for Doug who is moving to New Hampshire. He was presented with a bat and ball as all American League boys who hit a home run during the season.

With the help of home runs by Nancy Benninger and Sara Averick, the Owls defeated the Orioles, 23-16.

The Robins surged ahead of the Canaries, scoring nine runs in the third. Then in the top of the sixth, the Robins' Susan Grace stopped a hard grounder for a force-out at second. Sandy Bowlyb snaggged a pop fly to retire the side. Three homers by Lois DeHls and one by Ellen Langham contributed to a 23-12 triumph over the Canaries.

2 state agencies will probe safety of Jersey Arrows

William E. Ozzard, president of the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities, and John Kohl, commissioner of the Department of Transportation, have joined in an investigation of the safety of the self-propelled, multiple unit passenger car known as the Jersey Arrow. The Arrows were purchased by the state for the use of the Penn Central Railroad through a subsidy contract between the state and the railroad.

The order initiating the investigation originates with the PUC but specifies that while the board will conduct the hearings, DOT is "hereby invited and authorized to join in this investigation and participate to the fullest measure in these proceedings."

The Jersey Arrows were initially purchased by the State Department of Transportation in September 1968. There were 35 cars in the original order.

The board's order specifies six items of investigation:

- 1) The fires which occurred in standing, unoccupied Jersey Arrow cars on August 29, 1969, April 3, 1970, April 9, 1970 and April 28, 1970.
- 2) Complaints of electric doors opening while trains were in movement and other malfunctions of said electric doors.
- 3) Complaints that cars uncoupled while trains were in motion.
- 4) Malfunctions of the electrical system on February 3 and February 4, 1970 which caused complete loss of power to cars in motion.
- 5) Whether or not there are sufficient parts for adequate maintenance.
- 6) Whether the materials used in construction are highly inflammable and may further endanger passengers during fire emergencies.

State appoints director for public TV authority

The New Jersey Public Broadcasting Authority this week announced the appointment of Dr. Lawrence T. Frymire as its executive director. Dr. Frymire was formerly executive director of the Telecommunications Commission for the State of Illinois. Currently, Dr. Frymire is professor of mass communications, Department of Speech and Theater, University of Illinois at Chicago.

In announcing the appointment, Edward J. Meade Jr., chairman of the Public Broadcasting Authority, said Dr. Frymire would take on full-time duties as executive director of the authority at the conclusion of the current academic year. Prior to that time, he will work part-time in supervision of authority affairs including hiring of necessary broadcast staff, development of programming for the authority, and the development of authority facilities.

The New Jersey Public Broadcasting Authority was established by the legislature in 1969 after the November 1968 bond issue referendum in which the voters approved a $7.5 million program to establish four UHF television stations and production facilities. Recently, the legislature also authorized a $400,000 interim appropriation so that authority could begin to hire its permanent staff before the new budget year commences July 1.

THE APPOINTMENT of Dr. Frymire ends a search for an executive director that took place over the past several months. During that period of time, authority members interviewed many candidates and were unanimous in their selection of Dr. Frymire. By law, the appointment requires the consent of Governor William Cahill and his office recently announced his approval. Dr. Frymire, 49, has had long experience in the public broadcasting field. He has been active in educational broadcasting since 1942 and has served as a consultant to states, colleges, and universities, school systems, and private industry. From 1964 to 1967, he served as the first coordinator of educational television in California and executive secretary of the state's television advisory committee. He was responsible for creating a master plan for public television for the State of California. From 1962 to 1964 he was chief of the Educational Broadcasting Branch and the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C.

He joined the Federal Communications Commission after 19 years as a member of the faculty at Michigan State University where he served as associate professor, College of Communications, and was manager of the university's educational radio stations. He is an alumnus of Michigan State University and holds the doctoral degree in mass communications and adult education. Dr. Frymire is married and has three children.

The graduate School of Business Administration will conduct an evening program on Mondays and Thursdays from June 8 through July 30.

Two four-week science and mathematics programs will take place in South Orange from June 15 through Aug. 7. The regular six-week daytime undergraduate and graduate session will begin on June 29 and will conclude on Aug. 7. Two three-week sessions will also be held concurrently. Seton Hall Paterson will also conduct two three-week daytime sessions from June 29 until Aug. 7.

Social Security office wants to know when marriage changes girl's name

Girls getting married this June might not think of sending a wedding announcement to their social security office.

But the Social Security Administration would like to know the bride's new name as soon as possible.

Ralph W. Jones, district manager of the Elizabeth Social Security office, this week reminded newlyweds that up-to-date records are important if earnings are to be recorded properly and without delay.

These earnings records will help to determine how much is paid some day in retirement, survivors, or disability benefits. Records which are incomplete or incorrect can result in delay or even in reduction of amounts payable.

"Today's bride could receive Social Security payments long before she and her husband reach retirement age," Jones said. "More than eight million Americans under 65 now get regular monthly checks."

An automobile accident that disables a young husband or his wife could set the social security wheels in motion. With as little as 1-1/2 years of work under social security -- including credit for part-time and summer jobs -- benefits could be paid to the family of a young man or young woman.

"As the family grows, it is possible that one of the children may become disabled before the age of 18. If he is still disabled when one of his parents starts getting retirement or disability benefits or dies, he can get monthly payments for as long as he is disabled -- perhaps the rest of his life," Jones pointed out.

"If the child gets benefits based on his father's work record, the child's mother may also be eligible for benefits."

Day camp program planned for six-week period at NSC

For six weeks this summer a day camp program for 40 children with learning disabilities will be held at Newark State College, Union.

The camp serves children with an area of disability that has recently received strong emphasis in the field of special education. Sponsored jointly by Newark State College and the Union County Organization to Aid Children with Learning Disabilities, it is now in its sixth year, its fifth on campus.

Camp Union is open to children age 5 to 14 from throughout Union County.

The day's activities include swimming, music, arts and crafts, gymnasium, individual play, nature walks and field trips.

Vincent Anello of the Educational Resource Center is the director. He is assisted by a highly trained staff and student volunteers.

The camp is non-profit and operates through donations and subscriptions, according to Laura Goodkin, president of the organization, and Gerald Carlucci, camp program chairman.

Dr. Arthur Jonas, director of the Institute of Child Study, and Dr. David Bilowit, chairman of the Special Education Department, are members of the Professional Advisory Committee of Camp Union.

The ladies to dominate St. Peter's graduation

It's become a woman's world at the formally all-male world of Saint Peter's College, Jersey City.

The school went coed back in 1966 and now four years later, it is the girls who will dominate the graduation on Sunday despite the fact they're outnumbered three to one.

First, two women will share the valedictory honors. Seven girls and not one man are graduating magna cum laude, and the highest honor, summa cum laude, is split, five and five. The men lead only in the cum laude group, 10 to seven.

The male students claim it isn't brains that bring the honors but mini skirts.

Most students with summer or part time jobs will no longer be required to have income taxes withheld from their earnings.

Roland H. Nash Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for New Jersey, explained that the Tax Reform Act of 1969 eliminated Federal income taxes for single persons who earn less than $1,725 a year.

To take advantage of this new law, which went into effect May 1, students who owed no federal income tax last year and who do not expect to earn more than $1,725 this year should file a withholding exemption certificate with their employer on Form W-4E.

Employers may obtain supplies of Form W-4E by writing Tax Forms, P.O. Box 1261, Newark, N.J. 07101. Small quantities are available at any IRS office in New Jersey.

Although this change is particularly applicable to high school or college students, it applies to any employee who had no 1969 tax liability and anticipates none for 1970. Single persons who earn less than $1,725 during 1970 and individuals 65 and over who expect to earn less than $2,350 will not be liable for any 1970 Federal income taxes.

Exemption from withholding is not automatic. It must be requested on the new Withholding Exemption Certificate W-4E.

OBLIGATIONS CAN GET OUT OF HAND

Dear Amy:
An old friend of mine has 3 children. I have one. As the children grew up, my friend always remembered important occasions with a gift for my son's graduation, marriage, etc. Consequently, I felt obligated to remember her children, also.

Now the situation is getting out of hand because her children are now having children and I cannot be buying gifts for her grandchildren all the time.

How do I escape from this vicious cycle? While it's nice to give gifts and receive them in return, I just can't afford it anymore.

In five minutes I fell three times and found it very hard to skate. When I opened my mouth to say something, I stuttered like crazy. I usually do, but not that bad. I was so embarrassed. I doubt if I'm asked again and the boy probably hates me.

In the car, I found out he is an excellent dancer and I have two left feet mainly because I don't know one dance step. Maybe if your readers know good dances, they could write the steps down and you could print them. I'd appreciate it or any other kind of help or advice.

Dear Left Out:
Stuttering sometimes stems from shyness, an emotional problem or the desire to be accepted and not knowing how.

If you improve your social graces such as skating and dancing, you will be more relaxed with the opposite sex. The best way to learn is from your girlfriends who know how.

Get busy!

State stepping up lake weed control

Commissioner Richard J. Sullivan of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection announced this week that the 1970 aquatic weed control program will soon be implemented on seven state-owned or state-controlled lakes and ponds throughout New Jersey. The purpose of the program, which was initiated at Lake Hopatcong in 1960, is to provide a degree of control commensurate with the recreational and esthetic uses of the water areas involved as economically and as safely as possible.

Thousands of acres of water over the years have been rendered usable as a result of this program. During the last three years 20 bodies of water have been treated.

The aquatic weed control program is administered by the State Department of Environmental Protection's Division of Fish, Game and Shell Fisheries, and the Bureau of Navigation. Considerable emphasis in its program development has been placed upon making it compatible as possible with all water uses. Special emphasis has been placed upon the safety to the public by cooperation with the Departments of Health in New Jersey and New York.

Dear Too Much:
I agree. It is too much! Break the cycle by sending a card when the next occasion arises. Hopefully, your friend will get the message and reciprocate in the same manner.

Dear Amy:
I am a 14 year old girl. Everytime I am asked to babysit, my mother always makes me. She is always telling me to go out and make money so I can go someplace like to a show or the roller skating rink.

One night I was planning on going roller-skating with my friends, but my mother said I couldn't go and I should save my money.

I also have a paper route and my mother won't let me give it up. I want to because she won't ever let me spend the money I earn.

My brother doesn't work (he is 15), but every night he gets money to go to the wrestling tournaments or boxing matches, and I don't think this is fair.

Dear Disgusted:
Money earned should be budgeted; some to spend and some to save. If you cannot use some portion of what you earn for pleasures (within reason), then I don't think it's fair, either.

Dear Amy:
The letter from "I am Sunk" should have been signed "I am Sick". I hope his wife finds out he is planning to get help for her before it's too late. For months my husband planned to have me committed. I knew nothing of it till one night he abused me and called our marriage counselor and offered him $700 to make the arrangements. The next day he took me to the counselor and argued for hours. The counselor told him if he tried it, they would lock him up instead.

We got back together. Why, I don't know, but it won't ever be the same for me again. I will never be able to trust him. My life is ruined.

I hope you print this so "I am Sunk" can read it! Been There

Dear Amy:
I'm an 8th grade student and I'm 13 years old. Every Friday night the boys and girls who are my age on my block go skating. I was never asked to go until my girlfriend's father took us. When you skate, it has to be in couples: two girls or a boy and girl, but not two boys. So, of course, they go with a boy and girl.

I never even spoke with a boy until the night I said "Yes" to a boy who asked me to skate. I am usually able to get around when I go with my sister and never fall. Well,

Shop area at institute is doubled

Engle City Technical Institute, Route 22 West, Union, has doubled its practical work shop area in the wake of state approval for four new course offerings. The school, which opened last year and concentrated on diesel engine maintenance, now offers additional courses in transmission, rear axles and brakes as well as clutch and drive lines.

The expansion is an effort to provide additional training area for the school's students and to complete an overall course projection of engine activities. The school is now capable of teaching almost 250 students as the result of the expansion. The new program, which will be instituted with the day and evening courses, July 20 and a subsequent starting course on Sept. 14 for daytime students only, is called EDT for Engine Drive Train.

The school has maintained a seven-to-one student to teacher ratio in an effort to maximize student involvement in the practical phase of the courses. Engle City Technical Institute, when it opened, reversed the previous ratio of theoretical to practical studies and concentrates on practical experience.

Students may take any combination of the individual courses or the entire program, which totals 1,250 hours over 42 weeks. The individual courses are also being made available to evening students for those seeking retraining. School officials also announced that the expanded program and state approval for the new courses has permitted a decrease in tuition charges to the student. Larry Berlin, coordinator of instruction, said the expanded facilities allow additional students to participate in the program, thereby reducing the cost of education to each student.

Labor department chief says business helps unemployed

WASHINGTON — American business has made a "major contribution" toward increasing job opportunities for the nation's hard-core unemployed through the JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Business Sector) program, Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said this week.

This contribution is being achieved through the successful partnership of the Labor Department and the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB), an organization which hires, trains and retains disadvantaged workers.

Since the beginning of the program in June 1968, through Jan. 31 of this year, Shultz said, more than 380,000 unemployed persons, who formerly would have been turned away as unprepared and undesirable, have been hired through this program. Of these, 200,000 were either still on the job or in training at the end of January. This means that 53 percent were being retained by employers.

In a speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, Secretary Shultz said, "This is a remarkable record when we consider that the people who are now drawing a paycheck — and paying taxes — are those who before coming into this program were labeled 'unemployable.'"

Under the JOBS program, employers agree to hire first and then train disadvantaged jobless persons. If they desire, the employers may contract with the Labor Department for funds to help offset the cost of recruiting, training and supplying supportive services to the people hired under the NAB-JOBS program.

The secretary said that, "An analysis of the characteristics of jobs and enrollees shows that the program is providing jobs and training for people who really need them. Nearly 90 percent of the hires are members of minority groups; 50 percent are under 22 years of age; and 15 percent were formerly public assistance cases."

He feels that the NAB-JOBS program is "truly a rescuing program" because it hires workers whose previous periods of unemployment averaged more than 21 weeks out of a year.

"Trick or treat!"

"Trick!"

As for wages, the secretary noted that a survey completed this month, involving 286 contracts, showed average wages of $2.10 per hour at entry for 15,000 hires covered by these contracts. Projected hourly earnings for nine months after entry averaged $2.49, an increase of nearly 20 percent above the entry wage.

Nursing congress to stress the profession's challenges

Nursing as an intellectual challenge will be the theme of the fifth annual Nursing Congress sponsored by the Seton Hall University School of Nursing Thursday, June 4, on the South Orange campus.

Hospital officials and authorities in various fields of nursing will participate in the day's program which will focus on "The Role of the Professional Nurse -- Changing, Expanding or What?" Nurses and other medical care personnel from throughout the state are expected to attend. Sessions will take place in the Bishop Dougherty Student Center beginning at 9 a.m.

Sister Agnes M. Reinemeyer, dean of the Seton Hall School of Nursing, and Msgr. Edward J. Fleming, acting president of the university, will welcome delegates.

Dorothy M. Smith, dean of the College of Nursing and chief of nursing practice at the University of Florida, will discuss "Putting Knowledge into Practice for the Benefit of Patients" during the morning session. The afternoon session will feature Helen Simon of the Division of Nursing at Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York. She will speak on "Development of Nursing Theory."

Participants in discussion panels following the lectures will include Esther S. Schesler, associate professor of nursing at Seton Hall; Anthony Scala, president of the board of trustees of St. Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston, and other representatives of general education, nursing education and practice and hospital administration and medicine.

1971 CAPRI--Sal Church of Irvington, sales manager of Maplecrest Lincoln-Mercury in Maplewood, looks over the 1971 Capri, made by Ford Motor Company in Germany. He reported that standard equipment on the car includes radial tires, styled-steel wheels, bucket seats, synchro Mesh four-speed transmission, full carpets and power disc brakes. The price tag is under $2,300, Church said.

Truckers recommend action to curb fog-caused accidents

WASHINGTON -- American Trucking Associations has filed recommendations with the National Transportation Safety Board designed to reduce the occurrence of multi-vehicle accidents under fog conditions on major highways.

The recommendations are based on a study of an accident which occurred on the fog-shrouded New Jersey Turnpike, near Swedesboro, N.J., the morning of Nov. 29, 1969. Six persons were killed and 19 injured in the pileup, which involved 15 cars and six trucks.

ATA suggests a long-range national program be established for use on all highways subject to heavy fog conditions. It further recommends that the system incorporate sensing equipment to determine the intensity of the fog and an automatic element for activating the warning system into operation without human supervision. ATA pointed out, in the recommendations, that the New Jersey Turnpike Authority does operate warning equipment on the super-highway. However, on the morning of the accident, speed limit signs in the accident area still posted the maximum legal rate as 60 miles per hour.

"The evidence submitted (in the accident report) points to a serious weakness in the fuel systems in several of the automobiles involved in the accidents," ATA noted.

"The occurrence of fire contributed greatly to the serious loss of life and the general state of confusion at the scene of the accident. The smoke engendered by the fires seriously reduced the already lowered visibility caused by the fog condition. If the outbreak of fires had been avoided or significantly lowered, loss of life and property damaged would certainly have been reduced."

Charles P. Hoffman Jr., automotive engineer, Bureau of Surface Transportation Safety, Highway Safety Division, is quoted by ATA as saying "... improvements could certainly be made in the automobile fuel tank systems which would lessen the danger of fire in a rear-end collision." He further said: "... the fact that the vehicles involved caught fire so rapidly and were so completely destroyed demonstrates a need for the use by automobile manufacturers of more fire resistant materials in the interior of the automobiles."

"The death and damage involved might have been reduced," ATA told the board, "if the use of flasher lights in an emergency situation were universally permitted and encouraged." (Most jurisdictions prohibit the use of flasher lights in similar situation.)

"The appearance of two small lights under such adverse weather conditions," ATA said, "does not give adequate warning of a severe traffic hazard ahead. The flashing of emergency lights would contribute to safety under such circumstances."

NCE to hold fall institute on physics

Newark College of Engineering announced this week that it will conduct an In-Service Institute in Harvard Project Physics for high school teachers in the fall with the aid of a $6,682 National Science Foundation grant.

The grant was awarded to the Foundation for the Advancement of Graduate Study in Engineering, NCE's research affiliate. A similar NSF grant in support of an In-Service Institute in Mathematics was announced last month.

Harvard Project Physics (HPP) was established in 1961 in response to a call by the National Science Foundation for a new introductory physics course for nationwide use. It is the result of the collaboration of 200 scientists, scholars, teachers and technical experts.

NCE's in-service institute prepares teachers of physics and physical sciences for the proper presentation of the Harvard Project approach. When taught in the high schools, HPP is designed to motivate students who might ordinarily shun a physics course to develop an interest in the subject. The combination of a humanistic and a historical approach, as well as the conceptual approach, increases the appeal of physics to the student who might not be primarily science oriented.

The institute is open to 20 secondary school teachers. It is tuition free and carries six graduate level credits. Participating teachers also receive stipends for travel and books.

Professor Leon D. Landsman of NCE's Department of Physics is director of the institute. He will be assisted by Charles Rafferty of Roxbury Township High School.

Classes are held evenings, beginning in September and continuing throughout the academic year, on the NCE campus in Newark.

NCE has offered teacher training institutes since 1950. More than 1,000 teachers have participated in the institute programs in science and mathematics.

Filmed tour of N.J. offered to groups

A full-color film, "Here is New Jersey," has been produced by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and may be borrowed without charge, by schools, churches, service clubs, women's clubs, conventions and industrial developers who are interested in "showing" New Jersey to out-of-state groups.

The film, completed early this year, replaces "This is New Jersey" a 1957 film produced by New Jersey Bell. During its 13-year run, "This is New Jersey" was shown 136,950 times before audiences totalling 10.5 million.

The new film tells the story of New Jersey in all its aspects -- industry, community life, recreation, education, and culture. Ranging from High Point in the north to Cape May in the south, the camera takes viewers on a tour of the state's farms, industries, resorts and historical sites.

"Here is New Jersey" is designed to give the state's residents an added sense of pride in their state and to give out-of-state visitors a picture of New Jersey different from one they see from a train window.

New Jersey Bell's first film about the Garden State, "This is New Jersey," has had one of the longest and most successful runs in movie history.

Since the film opened to critical acclaim in 1957, more than 10 million people have seen the wonders of New Jersey via film at 135,000 showings.

There were several hundred prints of the film used by New Jersey Bell, but perhaps the busiest of all were the prints placed in the hands of county audio visual centers. "This is New Jersey" also had an international flavor. Circulated widely by the United States Information Agency, the film was shown to audiences in places as distant as Greece and Turkey. It was also shown at the 1958 Brussels World's Fair.

Journalism offered at Glassboro

Glassboro State College will become, in September, the first New Jersey state college to offer a communications-journalism major.

Recent approval by the State Board of Higher Education marked the final step in acceptance of the two-track major, which has been in the planning stage for several years.

The program is designed to prepare students for newspaper and magazine work as well as for careers in public and industrial journalism.

The program is unique because it offers an undergraduate major in communications that can be combined with pre-professional journalism training. One part of the pre-professional journalism training will be a summer-long internship on a newspaper that will add professional experience to the student's classroom theory.

Offerings in the journalism track include news reporting, journalistic writing, copy editing and make-up.

Labor Department questions and answers

Q. I know Congress passed a law saying all factories must pay workers a minimum wage. What is it? Will it be increased soon?

A. The minimum wage required by the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act is not limited to factory workers. It is currently $1.60 an hour. This applies to workers covered by the Act prior to Feb. 1, 1967. There are no increases in this rate scheduled at this time.

Workers newly covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments, such as hospital, nursing home, school, laundry, and certain hotel, motel and restaurant employees, must be paid a minimum of $1.30 an hour. This increases to $1.45 February 1, 1970 and to $1.60 on February 1, 1971.

Q. I work as a clerk for a local bank. I am paid $1.45 an hour. A friend told me there is a Federal minimum wage law that requires I be paid a higher wage. Is this true?

A. Yes. The Federal Fair Labor Standards Act says most workers engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce must receive at least $1.60 an hour. This includes bank employees.

Q. I've been working two years as a gas station mechanic. My hourly wage is $1.25. A friend, who also is a mechanic, works across the street for another gas station, and he is paid $1.50. Isn't there a Federal law that says I must be paid more than $1.25?

A. It depends. If a gas station owner does an annual gross business of at least $250,000, he is required to pay his workers a minimum of $1.60 an hour.

Q. I was recently ordered by a court to make back wage payments to four of my employees. Can I deduct these payments from my income tax?

A. Yes. According to Internal Revenue Service Ruling 69-581, such damage payments and attorney fees are deductible as business expenses.

German group plans festival

The Federation of American Citizens of German Descent in the United States of America, Inc., will conduct its 18th German-American Day Sunday, June 7, at Schuetzen Park, North Bergen. Gates will open at noon. Governor William Cahill has proclaimed the day German-American Day in New Jersey.

Karl Rein, chairman, and his committee are preparing a program with singers and folkdancers. A family picnic will be held with refreshments available for adults and children.

MEMORIAL DAY SPECIAL

It's that time of year again when Firestone participates in the great Indianapolis "500" Race and makes available to those of us at home some great tire specials. Today, we'd like to combine both for you... a story we know you'll appreciate, and some special purchases which we also know you'll appreciate.

The story is about the daredevils who drive the Indianapolis Speedway 500 every Memorial Day, men who must have courage and heart. For racing drivers are indeed brothers in a fraternity of death.

In the 500 of 1912, one of the contestants was an ex-farm boy. He had hopes of becoming a famous daredevil, but on that day he was a nobody in the company of famous drivers from all over the world.

Before half the race was run the boy had to quit. As he rolled back to the pit in his little car, feeling discouraged, an old mechanic walked over to him.

"I know how you feel," he said. "You think you're a failure. You think you'll never be a driver because you couldn't finish your first big race. Son, I can tell a daredevil when I see one. You're one! So don't ever quit no matter what the odds may be!"

The boy took the advice. He entered other races and before long, he was hailed as the auto speed king of America.

When World War I broke out, he learned to fly and became America's ace aviator. Time and again he was shot down but he always made it to safety. After the war, the ex-speed king returned to America, a national hero.

In World War II, although past fighting age, he created another epic in courage. He became the hero of one of the most thrilling stories of the war, for while flying on a secret mission, he was forced down at sea and for 25 days, drifted in a lifeboat, on the vast Pacific Ocean. But again, he escaped death, when he was found and saved from a watery grave.

When that ex-farm boy, who drove to failure in his first big auto race, took to heart the advice of an old mechanic, a fantastic story of greatness was born. For the ex-farm boy is the famous American... EDDIE RICKENBACKER.

State's Lutherans elect officers, pass $1.5 million budget

Lutherans from 181 congregations throughout New Jersey met at Ocean City last week in the ninth annual convention of the Lutheran Church in America's New Jersey Synod. They elected officers, considered social issues confronting church and state and adopted a $1.5 million budget for 1971.

The Rev. Edwin L. Ehlers was elected to succeed retiring synod President Edwin H. Knudsen, the only person who has served in that capacity since the synod's formation. The Rev. Mr. Ehlers, 40-year-old Jersey City native, has served parishes in Phillipsburg and Moorestown, and has been assistant to the president since 1968. His four-year term as the synod's leader begins Sept. 1.

The Rev. Glenn H. Rudstall, pastor of Our Redeemer Church, Dumont, was elected secretary. He replaces the Rev. Dr. C. Donald Jeff, associate pastor, St. Thomas Church, Brickton. Henry M. Waltz Jr. of Elizabeth was re-elected treasurer.

Following spirited debate, a majority of the delegates voted to direct their national body, the Lutheran Church in America, to request that President Nixon "take such bold and immediate action as may be necessary to end our participation in the war in Southeast Asia, withdraw American troops from Vietnam, and cease commitment of troops in other countries of Southeast Asia."

A minority opinion expressed on the convention floor suggested that any action of synod be limited to prayer and support for the President in his continuing effort to end the war and bring our men home.

Delegates also directed the Lutheran Church in America to take action at its national convention in June to request its member churches to pray for the same return of "troops who are presently incarcerated in prisons in North Vietnam," and to use its influence to get North Vietnam to release the prisoners "without further delay."

Williams amendment would give help to unemployed workers 45 and older

WASHINGTON — U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-NJ) began a drive this week to enact legislation in the current Congress to meet "the unique and growing problems" of older workers.

Williams introduced an amendment to the Employment and Training Opportunities Act aimed at establishing a broad program to help people over the age of 45 who become unemployed.

Unemployment rises sharply to highest level in five years

WASHINGTON — Unemployment increased for the fourth consecutive month in April, the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced. The overall rate rose sharply from 4.4 to 4.8 percent, the highest point since April 1965. Nearly all of the increase occurred among male full-time workers.

Nonfarm payroll employment, after seasonal adjustment, declined by 90,000 in April, as a result of increased strike activity. In manufacturing, a large decline in employment was accompanied by a decrease in the factory workweek.

The number of unemployed persons, which usually falls significantly in April, declined much less than usual this April. As a result, after seasonal adjustment, unemployment was up by 300,000 to 3.9 million.

Since December, unemployment has risen by 1.1 million. About 450,000 of the increase occurred among persons who had lost their last jobs, 300,000 among reentrants to the labor force, 200,000 among persons who had never worked before, and 125,000 among job leavers.

Thus far this year, the unemployment rate has risen from 3.5 percent in December to 4.8 percent in April. Although both full-time and part-time jobless rates have risen since December, the unemployment increase has been substantially greater among full-time workers. In April, nearly all of the increase occurred among full-time workers, whose rate rose from 4.0 to 4.4 percent.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE for adult men rose from 2.9 to 3.2 percent between March and April, while that for married men increased from 2.2 to 2.4 percent. Both rates have risen steadily since December and are back to the levels of mid-1965. The jobless rate for adult women was virtually unchanged in April at 4.4 percent; however, it was up nearly a full percentage point since December. The increase in joblessness has not been as great for adult women as for men over this period.

Among occupation groups, unemployment rates rose over the month for clerical and sales workers and for craftsmen and nonfarm laborers. Although jobless rates for professional and technical workers, operatives, and service workers were about unchanged from March, they have all moved up considerably in recent months.

The civilian labor force increased in line with seasonal expectations in April. After seasonal adjustment, the labor force was virtually unchanged from the March level of 86.1 million. Although the adult male labor force rose slightly, the adult women and teenage labor forces were unchanged, after increasing sharply in recent months.

Total employment also increased in April, mostly due to the normal upsurge in agriculture. Nonagricultural employment did not show its usual March-to-April gain and, as a result, employment fell by 225,000 after seasonal adjustment.

Jennings Randolph (D-W.Va.) and Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The amendment was submitted to the Subcommittee on Employment, Manpower and Poverty, which is considering the bill.

In a statement to the committee Williams noted that "many older workers choose earlier retirement only as an alternative to long-term unemployment or sporadic underemployment at low wages." He noted that, based on 1966 figures, more than 1.7 million American men between the ages of 45 and 64 are unemployed.

"In most instances this withdrawal from the work force is not a voluntary decision to enjoy leisure earned from long years of work, but is the result of despair and frustration in failing to secure gainful employment," Williams said.

"This failure to utilize the older worker is not only a loss of valuable manpower for the nation, but is also a tragic loss for the unemployed individual in terms of his dignity and self-respect," he added. "Many of these unemployed individuals could become as productive as their younger counterparts with proper training and education."

Williams' amendment provides for a program of job training, counseling and placement for people over 45, to be administered by the Labor Department through the Manpower Administration.

It would also authorize the U. S. Civil Service Commission to issue regulations creating new federal jobs for low-income, unemployed people over 45. In addition, it would encourage employment of mature workers on projects financed by federal grants.

It authorizes expenditures of $100 million during fiscal year 1971 and $200 million in fiscal '72.

This amendment, I believe, provides a sensible coordinated approach to meet the problems of older workers through a clear-cut national commitment, which previously has been lacking," Williams said.

Equestrians slated to test endurance

For four days next week, 35 riders and their mounts will recreate, in modified form, the 200-mile endurance rides held by the U. S. Cavalry in the early 1920s.

The event, reduced to 100 miles, will take place May 28 to 31 on the grounds of the Skylands Conference Center near Ringwood. This will mark the second year the ride has been held at the Skylands location and the 10th year it has taken place.

The ride is sponsored by the New Jersey Department of Agriculture and the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, in cooperation with the Arabian Horse Association of New Jersey and the parents of youngsters belonging to the Rockland County (New York State) Pony Club.

The purpose of the ride is to stimulate greater interest in the breeding and use of good horses suitable for trail use as well as to demonstrate the value of type and soundness in the proper selection of horses for long rides.

The horses are under constant surveillance by qualified judges and, if there is any indication the animal is being asked to perform beyond its capabilities, it is removed from the ride.

There will be three divisions with ribbons for the first six places in each division and trophies for champions, breeds and New Jersey-bred winners.

Thursday, May 28, 1970
Spectators are welcome to watch the progress of the ride. There will be places where those who wish to do so may view the ride. There will be places horses.

Senior girls to see child development at Gov. Livingston

To observe the way children behave will be the purpose of the nursery school to be run by the three home-management classes at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, on June 2, 3 and 4, according to Mrs. Mary Ann Muzychko.

Throughout the three days, 71 girls will be involved in the nursery school. Mrs. Muzychko has arranged to have two sessions, a morning class running from 9:30 to 10:50 and an afternoon class from 1:00 to 2:10. The girls who are seniors will be able to observe the children from a distance where they will see the development in the children.

"For the first day the child will be shy. By the second day the child will be a little more out going and by the time the third day comes, the child is out going," Mrs. Muzychko said. During the hour, the children all of whom come from the surrounding area will have play time, a story time and refreshments.

A near-by grammar school is helping by supplying the fingerpaints which will help the children find individual release, puzzles which help eye and hand coordination, and play dough which helps the child's creativity and imagination. The stories will inform as well as entertain, Mrs. Muzychko said.

Since the children will be between the ages of 3 and 5, the main emphasis will be on safety.

"We chose this particular age because at this time the child's motor skills are being developed," said Mrs. Muzychko.

Witnesses hold 3-day assembly

"Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day" was the title of the hour's talk heard by an audience of 2,645 at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, Sunday, climaxing a three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses in which virtually all the witness families of the Mountainide area participated.

Niven G. McRae, presiding minister for the Mountainide group, said: "We all enjoyed the fine information provided by the assembly and the association of the 16 nearby congregations. We're all encouraged to serve our communities more effectively as a result. The ordination of 78 ministers by water baptism was a highlight of the gathering."

The feature lecture Sunday was delivered by C.H. Weining. He asserted that this is a day of many pressures and that authorities agree that "we are living at a time of intense personal pressure which in turn is producing unusual tension among people."

"It is easy to locate a problem," he said, "but the real challenge is to know what the solution is and how to cope with it. It is possible to find genuine happiness despite these many pressures. The Bible offers much counsel on how humans can gain happiness and when applied, it works marvelously in dealing with pressures. The basic Christian principle is to do to others what you would have them do to you."

Motorist on Rt. 22 struck by object as he passes mower

A freak accident last Wednesday morning on Rt. 22 West near Sheffield street was reported by Mountainide police. John H. Ward of Elizabeth was using a mower to cut the lawn at Western Exterminating Co. when Thomas N. Wolford of Edison drove by. Wolford told police that he felt an object, presumably thrown by the mower, strike his left arm.

Wolford was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainide Rescue Squad. He was released after being treated for cuts and bruises on his elbow.

Two persons were injured last Wednesday morning when a car driven by Holcomb E. McCormick, 82, of 289 Old Tote rd., Mountainide, struck a truck parked on New Providence road, according to police. The truck, owned by Asplund Tree Experts Co., Scotch Plains, had the rear end pushed in. McCormick's car sustained damage to the front end and had to be towed away.

The truck's driver, Maurice Toole of Forts, told police that he and his men were sitting on the truck eating lunch. The report said that McCormick knocked down a "men working" sign with a red flag on it that was standing about 500 feet behind the truck. McCormick and Ramo Rigattis of Staten Island, a passenger in the truck, were taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainide Rescue Squad. Rigattis was treated for a whip-lash injury. McCormick was treated for cuts and bruises on his head and face. Both were released after treatment.

had received top awards in competition sponsored by the N.J. Foreign Language Teachers' Association.

He also reported on a visit to the Regional District this week by 25 city and school officials from Munich, Germany.

Led by Dr. Anton Fingerle, Munich's superintendent of schools, and Dr. Hans Steinhilf, deputy mayor of Munich, the group visited Dayton Regional, Brearley Regional and Arthur L. Johnson Regional, Clark.

The purpose of the visit was to give the West Germans the opportunity to see an example of a comprehensive high school curriculum.

Following a greeting by Dr. Davis, the group toured the district's facilities, including the shop areas, which they were particularly interested in, science labs, business education and the district's program for the handicapped. "We're honored by the fact that our high schools were picked as the example of comprehensive high schools," Dr. Davis said.

Among those taking part in the visit were: Stanley Grossman, industrial arts coordinator; George Barclay, science coordinator; Eleanor Murphy, business education coordinator; Mrs. Sophie Steinberg, home economics coordinator, and Dr. Martin Siegel, director of instruction.

The Munich group is completing its visits of the Washington, Philadelphia and the New York area this week before returning home.

Mathematics Day awards earned by Regional students

Awards to students who competed in the Union County Regional High School District's Mathematics Day were announced this week by Joseph Sott, mathematics coordinator. Students from the Gov. Livingston, Arthur L. Johnson, Jonathan Dayton and David Brearley schools competed in three different levels of competition lasting two hours. Contestants were ranked according to placement in the school they attend and were not in competition with students from other schools.

Eric Kushnik of Gov. Livingston Regional High School won top honors in the level 3 contest and will be awarded a gold medal. Ralph Martin and Robin Urner placed second and third, respectively.

Silver medals for a first place tie in level 2 will be awarded to Gov. Livingston students William Terley and Allan Bopp. Third place went to Jeffrey Miller.

The level 1 bronze medal goes to Elaine Latzen. Patric Stanton placed second, George Haase, Lawrence Koldorf, Susan Rohr and Lawrence Zeller tied for third place. The level 1 students attend Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

All the students will receive citation certificates in addition to mathematics publications. The three levels of competition were determined by the number of years of high school math the student had. Sott said, About 225 took part in the competition.

Multi-job holders

In May 1969, 5.2 percent of all employed workers held more than one job. Forty-eight percent of the workers with at least two jobs at that time had worked at the second job in each of the preceding 12 months and another 18 percent had worked at the second job in at least seven to 11 of those months.

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM
THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

Bright new pamphlets from the Division of Nursing, National Institutes of Health, describe grants authorized by the Health Manpower Act to help qualified students go to nursing school, and to help nursing schools, educational agencies, and organizations reshape nursing education to this day in time.

A yellow pamphlet in the new "rainbow" series, "Nursing Scholarships and Nursing Student Loans," Publication 1154-4, will interest high school graduates including practical nurses who need help to enter or remain in nursing school. Scholarship aid for a nursing student of exceptional need is now authorized up to $1,500 a year. Loans repayable over a 10-year period at three percent interest have also been increased to a maximum of $1,500 a year per student. Moreover, nurses may avail themselves of the following cancellation benefits: the entire sum of a loan plus interest may be canceled at the rate of 15 percent a year for full-time employment in a hospital that has a substantial shortage of nurses; or, 50 percent of a loan plus interest may be canceled at the rate of 10 percent for each year of full-time employment in a nonprofit institution or agency.

Nursing students and prospective nursing students who need loan or scholarship aid should discuss their need with the school of their choice. A green pamphlet, "Professional Nurse Traineeships," Publication 1154-1, will interest registered nurses who want to prepare for key positions as nursing faculty, supervisors and administrators, or nurse specialists. Nurse specialists have special expertise in the clinical care of a selected patient group as, for example, patients in coronary care units.

Professional Nurse Traineeships support two kinds of study: long-term, full-time study in colleges and universities to prepare for key nursing positions; and study in short-term intensive courses sponsored by agencies, institutions, and organizations to update nursing knowledge and skills. Long-term traineeships pay tuition, living stipends ranging from $200 to $300 a month.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the editor must be received no later than noon on Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 350 words in length and should be typed with double spacing between lines (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. The writer's name will be withheld only at the editor's discretion, and never if the letter is of a political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

VOICE FROM THE CAMPUS

I am a college student, but I refuse to use the rhetoric that you tire of as much as I do. Two points should be added. First, fewer students than you realize actually speak in the revolutionary style. Secondly, I and I hope you won't let that rhetoric mask the very real, human, and understandable emotions that lie beneath the words.

Most students are experiencing an outrage, frustration, and grief that would be impossible to gauge in usual terms. We see in the Cambodian actions a President who:

- Blatantly ignores his electoral mandate to pull out of Southeast Asia;
- Hides his decision from his own advisors, Cabinet officials, and our representatives in Congress;
- Advocates military tactics that have not succeeded in 15 years of war in Asia.

We see internal repression of citizens with the "wrong" views. Aside from the oft-cited Panthers (always a legally and morally valid bit of criticism), a French sociology professor of international repute was forbidden to enter this country to speak at Amherst College. Or we hear Attorney General Mitchell say that he would and does disregard the Bill of Rights whenever he thinks national security is at stake.

Whether I believe in what is said by Panthers, Socialists and others or not is immaterial. When their rights are denied, I immediately ask why not me and my parents. If the FBI is gathering information, wiretapping private phones or homes, in order to compile files on anyone "radical," I ask, well, why not me because my views differ from Mitchell's in some other respect.

This is supposedly a country that prides itself on tolerance, free speech and dissent. The stifling of dissent, the illegal jailing of others and police violence in ghettos or campuses threatens all of us because it undermines the legitimacy of society and government.

Furthermore, we see an environmental crisis of monumental proportions and incalculable consequence: widespread hunger and poverty; our cities becoming rat-infested hovels; and on and on. Looking around us, we see a society in grave trouble.

Most of all, we see our leaders totally unresponsive to the cries of the starving children, the suffering cities, totally unresponsive to a decayed environment, totally unresponsive to the needs of their national constituency. While I cannot but deplore violence, bombings and destruction, outrage against such acts should not blind us to the disease they reflect.

In Southeast Asia, the President, is, in essence, doing what he wants — even if he is fighting history, morality and his constituency. The line must be drawn now! And we must also stop tolerating the steady, purposeful erosion of our rights. Our government must be responsive, responsible, and legitimate.

There is, therefore, in the view of many college students the fear that the fabric of society, the honesty of our "democratic" government, the viability of the Constitution, and the conscience of a nation are being perverted if not destroyed. More students than want to preserve the vitality, integrity and potential of the United States — not destroy it.

With this in mind, many institutions or individuals have stopped classes. Why has this happened? The situation outside is so evil, so threatening, that the college must play an active role in rectifying these problems. It must commit its resources, influences, brains, and manpower to this cause.

Higher education is profoundly threatened by outside events and profoundly convinced of the wrongness of these events. We cannot conscientiously stand by as the fabric of society is being rent, as violence becomes the norm, as the validity of the campus open to all is undermined. We cannot stand by and watch.

During these "strikes," students will be constructively working through the system — canvassing, campaigning, organizing workshops draft counseling, studying the issues. Furthermore, institutional commitment will be an extremely potent form of direct pressure on government. Amherst alumni are found in every group of decision-makers in every segment of society.

Students who feel they can continue to study or attend classes are free to do so at Amherst.

We have convinced ourselves that we are above all a moral nation. OK, then, legalisms, rhetoric, and apocalyptic visions aside, in Asia we are slaughtering the populace of three nations for no ostensible moral purpose. At home we see justice and tolerance perverted at Chicago or New Haven. We should feel outraged morally, we should feel threatened — by the government — not by students who really are trying to preserve the best of this society.

I ask you to write letters to your senators and congressmen, talk to your children, and among yourselves. If students come by, forget their rhetoric or looks and realize that we are all in a crisis and must all act to put this country back on a course for a quality happy, and free life for all.

You are the key because you run the country and make the decisions. Let "power to the people" be interpreted as a call for you to exercise your powers to preserve your rights, conscience, and society.

GEORGE M. SHULMAN
Amherst College, Mass.

HOPES AND FEARS

Drugs are the scars of the young, the ugliness that defaces the beautiful. Drugs have become the cancer of our society eating away the future, leaving us scared and concerned.

However, just when it seems apathy has won in our community among the young, "Not Me" appears. Jackie Dietz and the kids who are apart of this fine program should be congratulated for having shown common sense and good judgment. The kids are now out to heal the wounds and to educate their friends.

Showing good judgment seems to be rare these times for it is a sad commentary on our times that people no longer follow their better judgment. It seems instead of us running the times, we allow the times to run us. Drugs have been "in" for some time, and the young want to follow the crowd, even though they realize what they are doing may harm them, and others. Is this changing?

A few weeks ago, while on my way to school in New York I saw a crowd gathered by a street corner. Upon reaching the crowd I found they were watching a young man running up and down the street frantically. He was obviously on a drug and its effect was sickening.

As I watched the victim, I realized that most of the people around me were laughing and finding amusement with the victim. His horrifying movements had become a joke. When the policeman finally arrived and took the young man away, the response from some was, "they should put them all away." No one seemed to understand.

They had all laughed and found their fun for the day. Preserve us.

SWIM CLASSES OPPOSED

Following is a copy of a letter to the school board of Mountainide, which I would appreciate your printing. Often certain programs of the school are known only to those parents who receive communications from the school.

Enclosed, also, is my copy of the superintendent's bulletin, in case you have not seen it. It does make one sad to think of all our poor unfortunate children in Mountainide who do not have an indoor pool in their elementary school. It would be interesting to know just how many elementary schools (outside of private schools) have indoor pools. Perhaps, we would be surprised at how backward Mountainide is compared to other communities with such educational facilities.

With the recent defeat of the Regional referendum, our students will be fortunate if they have adequate classroom space for an education at the high school level. Even though there is no connection between the Regional Board of Education and our own Mountainide Board of Education, when tax money is spent unnecessarily at the lower level, it stands to reason that there is less money available for higher education.

(The letter to the Board of Education follows.)

In the past, I have remained quiescent on certain aspects of the curriculum that have not seemed to me to be relevant to good education, thinking perhaps that I was somewhat behind the times. I have seen methods tried and discarded. This time, as one of the silent majority, I have to speak.

I have just read the superintendent's bulletin of May 21, in which it is stated that children in Echobrook grades 1-5 and Deerfield grades 3-5 will participate in a physical education swimming program this spring at the Community Pool.

I have heard the superintendent of schools and teachers comment that there is difficulty in teaching all the required subjects with having to work in extras like health, art, music, band and piano.

Now, there seems to be time to transport small children to the Community Pool — to undress, put on swim suits, have instruction, possibly shower, and dress. All of this will take practically a half of a school day.

With such a program as this, typing required at sixth grade level, and other extras, the children do not have adequate time to learn the essentials of basic education. I resent the fact that my school tax money is going to be used for transportation and instruction of such "subjects." Extra money could better be spent on a foreign language program for the middle school, smaller classes or better teachers.

There is a YMCA available in Westfield and Summit for swimming instruction. There are few parents in Mountainide who cannot afford to send their children there, if they so desire.

I have had great admiration for the Board of Education of Mountainide. I have supported you to the fullest extent. However, at this point, I believe you were misguided in accepting such a program.

More women in jobs

Women account for 65 percent of the total labor force increase from 1940 to 1968, and their representation in the work force has risen from one-fourth to almost two-fifths of all workers. Looking ahead to 1975, the greatest employment opportunities for women are expected to be in the professional and technical occupations.

Chamber women's division plans activities in community

The women's division of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce will give top priority to community involvement, environmental problems and careers in Union County, according to Miss Genevieve Pascale of Union, president of the division.

In which to work and live; and to make its voice heard by the legislative body." She added that the women's division is interested "in all the projects of the Chamber, such as: housing and urban renewal, public relations, traffic and transportation, youth reorganization, county affairs and all the other top targets of the Chamber of Commerce."

UC students form new organization

An organization known as PLEASE, (People's League for Education Action and Social Equality), has been formed by concerned students of Union College, Cranford. Through PLEASE the students hope to direct their concern over the various community problems in a positive way through community action projects.

"We know the government is aware of all of these problems and is trying hard to solve them," said Miss Pascale. "We hope to add impetus to their movements and to do what we can locally to help generate an interest and concern among the people of the community so that they, too, can be of assistance and urge the legislative body to act swiftly and decisively."

She said the "prime objective" of the organization "is to educate ourselves and then educate others through speakers' bureaus and other means of communication. Most of us will enroll in the U.S. Chamber of Commerce sponsored course, Political Action in Practical Politics."

Miss Pascale added that a new group will assist the chamber at the annual meetings, legislative receptions, membership solicitation and college teacher reception. "We will specifically urge our members to volunteer for membership on a Chamber committee of their choice in order that men and women can work side by side in the promotion of our area and solving its problems. We will seek programs of our own which will benefit our communities and of course will go all out to increase our membership."

Represented by members of the women's division are business, industry, finance, charitable and service foundations and educational institutions.

'Day' raises funds for cancer drive

The Union County Crusade of the American Cancer Society was aided by nearly $1,000 recently when the proceeds of a 50-50 day sponsored by "Burger-King" self-service restaurants were donated to the drive.

The county Cancer Crusade, accepted the check for the society and said, "It is always a pleasure for those of us who volunteer our efforts to charitable organizations to learn of the interest and commitment many local firms and individuals have to help eliminate the maladies of our society."

Israelis serve YMHA staff

Foreign counselors on staff

Six unofficial goodwill ambassadors from Israel will attend Jersey YMHA-YWHA Camps at Milford and Lake Como, Pa., this summer, according to Mathew Elson, executive director.

He announced this week that by arrangement with the World Zionist Organization and the National Jewish Welfare Board the six young Israelis -- three men and three women -- will serve on the Y camp staff.

Noting that this is one of the largest contingents of Israelis to serve as counselors at the Y camps, Elson said "their presence provides a living link and a cultural bridge to the Holy Land, enriches the camp's Jewish content in many intangible and subtle ways, broadens the horizons of the campers with new opinions, perspectives and ways of doing things and brings new and different skills to them."

Elson said that in addition to the Israelis "there will also be about 25 other counselors from foreign countries because it is Y camp policy to enhance the education of the children to the greatest extent possible."

All foreign counselors, like their American counterparts, "are very carefully selected and screened for their leadership abilities, experience in working with children and special skills. He added that "the program is of mutual benefit because through the training and experience at the Y camps will go back home with the international counselors."

THE SIX COUNSELORS from Israel are: Zalman Licht who will be the music specialist at Cedar Lake Camp, Milford. A paratrooper in the Army Reserve, this young man from Haifa is 24, a skilled life guard with a degree in physical education. He plays the accordion and sings.

Etziona Kushnir, an army reservist who works at Tel-Aviv University and will be a general counselor at Nah-Jee-Wah, Milford. She is 21 and is a youth leader in Israel.

Dalia Kadar, an arts and crafts teacher in a kibbutz, who will be the arts and crafts specialist at Long Lake Camp, Lake Como. Miss Kadar, who also comes from Haifa, is 32 and is an occupational therapist with a wide background in all artistic media.

Amiram Grinwald, a paratrooper in the Army Reserve, who will be a general counselor at Cedar Lake. Skilled in outdoor living, with experience in his country's youth movement, he is 25 years old and holds a master's degree in chemistry from Hebrew University.

Shalom Shteinberg, a music teacher in the Sde Boker Institute, who will be the music specialist at the two Lake Como Camps, Long Lake and Round Lake. An accomplished musician, he is 23, a graduate of the Israel Teachers Seminary. He sings and plays many instruments.

Ora Vered, who will be the dance specialist at the Lake Como Camps. She teaches kindergarten and American students in a kibbutz. A resident of Givat Hayim, she is 24, a scout leader and a song and dance specialist.

The Y camps, a non-profit, voluntary, community oriented organization dedicated to the service of the Jewish children of New Jersey, is entering its 50th season under the sponsorship of the state's Jewish Welfare Board and Federation of Jewish Centers and YM-YWHA's.

Registration for the camps may be made at the YM-YWHA of Eastern Union County, the participating agency in this area.

YW holding registration for summer

Registration is now going on for summer classes in the Summit YWCA's health, physical education and recreation department. Intensive swimming instruction will be offered for children and for adults.

To register for children's classes, swimmers must be entering first grade in the fall. Boys and girls entering kindergarten may register for Kinderswim. Classes will also be held for Water Babies, those at least three years of age. Instruction will be given every morning, Monday through Friday, in four two-week periods: from June 22-July 3; from July 6-July 18; from July 20-July 31, and from Aug. 3-Aug. 14. Testing of new swimmers for class placement is now being held on Tuesdays and Fridays from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Junior lifesaving, for children 11 years of age or those who have completed fifth grade, and senior lifesaving, for those 15 and older, will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 5:30-7 p.m. The classes will run from June 22 to July 15.

A workshop for girls involved in competitive swimming who would like extra practice and want to improve starts, turns, strokes, will be held every Tuesday and Thursday, from 7 to 8 p.m. There will be two sessions, one from June 23-July 16, and the other from July 21-Aug. 13.

Also announced in the summer program are classes for women. Instruction will be given to beginning swimmers as well as to those with intermediate skills.

Two sessions will be held: on Wednesdays from 1:15-2:15 p.m. from June 24 - July 29; and on Mondays and Wednesdays from 1:15-2:15 from Aug. 3 - Aug. 19.

Co-ed adult swimming classes will be given every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 9.

A complete summer plunge schedule has also been announced. Plunges, or periods of recreational swimming, have been set for women only, for men and women, for families and for youth. Open plunges, for all members and their guests, are also available. For further information, readers may telephone Linda Johnson, health, physical education and recreation program director at the YWCA, 273-4242. A descriptive brochure will be sent upon request.

IT'S WORTH REPEATING

Through a typographical error in our last column, the printers failed to include the answers to our movie quiz. We apologize, and here are the answers: Sidney Poitier-To Sir, With Love; George Hamilton-The Power; Charlton Heston-Planet of the Apes; Warren Beatty-Bonnie and Clyde; Rod Steiger-In the Heat of the Night; Dean Martin-The Ambushers; Richard Burton-The Comedians; Paul Newman-Cool Hand Luke; Gregory Peck-12 O'Clock High; Cary Grant-Gunga Din.

We'll keep today's movie quiz small, but difficult.

In the movies above, name—in Gunga Din—the four sergeants, in Cool Hand Luke, who won the Academy Award; in Bonnie and Clyde, who was Bonnie? Who wrote the book, The Comedians, upon which the movie was based?

The answers will, intentionally, be given next column. This will give you time to come up with the right answers.

Peanut butter magic in a family-size parfait.

Peanut butter flavors parfait and ice cream

New York (NAPS)—Peanut butter is much more than a favorite spread! It is an ingredient in countless good recipes to which it gives its rich flavor. Chunky peanut butter also adds the interesting texture crispness of chopped peanuts.

Nothing could be easier than the Peanut Butter Parfait and Peanut Butter Ice Cream which was developed in the Skippy Test Kitchens.

The parfait calls for preparing instant vanilla pudding according to package instructions, chilling and then folding in crushed pineapple. Peanut butter is mixed with graham cracker crumbs and the pudding and crumb mixture are layered alternately in clear glasses to show off the interesting contrast in color and texture.

The Peanut Butter Ice Cream is even simpler than the Parfait. It consists of heating air into peanut butter in a mixer until it is very soft and light in color and adding vanilla ice cream a little at a time, beating after each addition. This special ice cream treat is then refrozen.

PEANUT BUTTER PARFAIT
1 (3-3/4-ounce) package vanilla instant pudding
1 (8-3/4-ounce) can crushed pineapple, drained
1/2 cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter
1-1/2 cups vanilla wafer or graham cracker crumbs
Whipped cream or topping

Prepare pudding according to package directions. Chill. Fold in pineapple. Mix together peanut butter and crumbs. Spoon alternate layers of crumbs and pudding into parfait glasses, beginning and ending with crumbs. Chill. Top with whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

***

PEANUT BUTTER ICE CREAM
1 cup creamy peanut butter
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Beat peanut butter with mixer at high speed until soft and light in color. Add ice cream a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat until light and fluffy. Pour into ungreased (9x5x3-inch) metal loaf pan. Freeze about 2 hours or until firm. Makes 8 (1/2-cup) servings.

Homemade parfaits for holiday

New York (NAPS)—Special days call for very special desserts and when it is a patriotic day, ice cream is the traditional order of the day. Time was when it had to be churned in the old style freezer out under a shady tree. On rare occasions some of us still do it this way and, delicious as are the results, we would not want to go back to the days when that was the only way to make a frozen dessert at home.

Frozen Peppermint Parfait is made the easier way—in the freezer. This recipe, which begins with a meringue type base made from boiled light corn syrup and sugar poured hot over beaten egg whites, produces pleasantly smooth texture because the syrup keeps the ice crystals small during the freezing process. The meringue mixture is mixed with whipped cream into which crushed peppermint candy has been folded. The parfait takes about three hours to freeze until firm. It is piled high in parfait glasses, topped with whipped cream and given a patriotic flare with a tiny flag for decoration.

Our Mock Creme de Menthe Parfait uses commercial ice cream as the base.

Syrup helps make smooth peppermint parfait.

Easy to do tie-dye is a creative way to decorate fabric

NEW YORK — A scarf is a grand fashion accessory and truly a point of interest when it is your own tie-dye original. Easy to do tie-dye is a creative way to decorate fabric. Each time it is an original because no two tie-dyes are ever exactly the same.

Experiment and enjoy the fun. Enjoy the satisfaction of wearing your own creation and the compliments you will receive!

To make this scarf, select a fabric of light or pastel color in the size you want. Any washable fabric will do except for some polyesters and acrylics, glass or mineral fibers. Your scarf can be a small square or large, oblong or whatever. The basic idea is to tie off sections of the fabric. When dyed, these sections will remain the original color forming a pattern against the dyed background. Twist the fabric, crumple it, gather it, fold it or form it into a series of loops. Secure the base of each loop, the gathers or crumpled, folded or twisted fabric in several places with tightly wound string or rubber bands.

Prepare the dye solution by mixing 1/4 cup liquid or 1/2 package powder Rit dye for every quart of hot water in a glass or enamel pan. (Dissolve powder dye as directed on the package.) Use enough dye solution to completely cover scarf to be dyed. Wet the tied scarf, squeeze out the excess moisture, and add to the dye solution. Keep at a simmering temperature while stirring constantly until the desired color is reached. The dyeing time will vary depending on the type of ties and absorbency of the fabric; usually about 10 minutes will be sufficient.

When dyeing is complete, rinse the scarf and remove the ties. Rinse again thoroughly under running water until the rinse water runs clear. Drip dry and iron while slightly damp.

To make a scarf with more than one dyed color, tie it and dip sections into different dye solutions. Another way to obtain additional colors is to dye the first time in a light color, add additional ties and dye a deeper color. Always rinse the scarf between dyeing and rinse thoroughly when all dyeing is completed.

Vegetables brightened by blue cheese

Fresh, garden vegetables, at their peak during the spring and summer seasons are the proud fruits of the farmer. To serve your "pride and joys" you would undoubtedly like to have something special. One flavor accent that enhances almost all your garden products is American blue cheese. Mellow blue cheese adds contrast to the garden varieties with its creamy texture and salt and peppery taste.

American blue cheese is an economical ingredient to keep on hand because a little bit tastes like a lot. When wrapped securely, it will keep up to three months in the refrigerator. A budget price tag also enhances the appeal of this blue-marbled cheese.

For heavy men

Vertical patterns in clothes give a slimming effect... Bulky fabrics and fabric finishes make a man look bulkier... A slightly longer jacket will be flattering... The six-button (two-to-button) double-breasted jacket or blazer is a good model.

LWV data on Freeholder candidates in Tuesday's primary

Compiled and Distributed by the League of Women Voters of Union County.

In the primary election a voter is confined to a choice within his party.

BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

The Board of Chosen Freeholders is the principal governing body of the county and is charged with the management of the property, finances, and affairs of the county. It is responsible for determining some county government policy, and it administers the day-to-day operations of county government, except as otherwise provided by law. Municipal property taxes are the chief source of county revenue.

Operating through a system of standing committees, the Board exercises both legislative and executive power. Thus the Freeholders first enact the annual budget and then expend some of the moneys appropriated. In New Jersey, however, the county is still primarily an agent of the state, operating only within the areas specifically delegated to it. As new agencies have been created by the state to care for public needs, they have usually been separated from the direct control of a central governing body such as the Freeholders. Consequently, the agencies and officers who perform almost all major county functions are virtually autonomous, and the Freeholders lack substantial authority over many county activities. Although the Board of Freeholders is charged with the duty of

NSC plans to offer graduate courses during intersession

The Division of Field Services of Newark State College is completing preparations for the intersession and summer session at NSC's Union campus.

Because of the concentration of subject matter to be covered over the three and one-half week intersession period, college policy limits students to enroll for a maximum of four semester hours of work. Students will attend a total of 15 consecutive sessions as in a regular semester.

For the first time, a series of graduate courses will also be offered in the intersession period. Among the graduate courses featured are: Contemporary Physical Aspects of the City, Laboratory Training in Human Relations, Introduction to Student Personnel Services and Instructional Theory and Application.

This year's summer session will enroll more than 4,000 students on the Union campus. Program offerings will include: The New Jersey Science Consortium at Cape May Point, the Field and Environmental Science for Elementary School Teachers, Workshop in Digital Computation Algorithms for Teachers of Secondary School Mathematics, the History of the Negro in America, Programming Prekindergartens for Culturally Disadvantaged Children, Institute for Teachers of the Trainable Mentally Retarded (at the Woodbridge State School) and advanced courses in painting, sculpture, ceramics, an opera workshop and the Kodaly Music workshop, a theater arts workshop and several seminars for credit.

Summer session registration will be as follows: Priority registration for public school personnel and matriculated students, Friday, June 12 from 2 to 6 p.m. on the Union campus. Non-matriculated students with baccalaureate degrees and undergraduate students Friday, June 19 from 2 to 6 p.m. All undergraduates from other colleges may register at this time, and should present their credentials when registering.

Off-campus centers will hold registration on the following schedule: Monmouth County Center (Neptune High School) Wednesday, June 10, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Boonton Township Campus Wednesday, June 17, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m.

Late registration for the Union campus will be Friday, June 26, from 2 to 5 p.m. There will be no registration for summer session classes after Friday, June 26. Classes will begin in the summer session on Monday, June 29, and will end Friday, Aug. 7.

Intersession classes will begin this Monday and will end Wednesday, June 24. Both the intersession and the regular summer session feature a wide assortment of course offerings that may be applied towards a degree or certification program. For further information phone the Division of Field Services at the Union campus of Newark State College.

enacting the budget, they control but a small portion of the over-all cost of county government.

Candidates were asked to supply a short biographical sketch and a statement as to his or her qualifications.

Candidates are listed in alphabetical order under party designation with the exception of three of the Democratic candidates who chose to make a joint statement.

Information concerning polling places and hours of balloting will be found on the sample ballot mailed to each registered voter before the election.

The Primaries offer you the opportunity to influence party policies, elect responsible party officials, and help choose capable candidates for public office.

You automatically become a member of a party in New Jersey when you vote in the Primary Election of that party. To change party affiliation, a voter must abstain from voting in two successive Primaries and then sign a declaration of intent to change parties when he next votes in a Primary.

Statement: "I seek this office because I feel, as do many other Democrats in Elizabeth, that the City of Elizabeth has been denied an opportunity for representation on the Union County Board of Freeholders because of a politically irresponsible act by the Union County Democratic Screening Committee in not selecting someone from Elizabeth as one of their choices to run on the organization line."

"George King, Muriel Kranowski, and Charles McNally are running for the Board of Chosen Freeholders in Union County because they share the feeling that the current leadership has not dealt effectively with the issues of the day. King, Kranowski, and McNally are running to support David Wolf, Democratic Congressional candidate in the 13th District, hoping to provide a new politics of ecology which would challenge the problems and not just treat the resultant crises in America."

Two-party representation and professionalism is desperately needed on the county level."

Stirrings of political activities begin Gross establishes headquarters in Union

The first faint stirrings of spring political activity are apparent at the Union Motor Lodge on Route 22, where Nelson G. Gross, Republican candidate for United States Senator, has established his campaign headquarters.

The former state GOP chairman who is expected to win his party's nomination for senator in the June 2 primary, has taken six rooms on the second floor of the rear building of the motel.

Signs proclaiming the location of the headquarters are in front of the motel and on buildings throughout the complex. The sign on the highway, in fact, produced the first flap of the campaign last week. A complaint was lodged with the State Transportation Department that the placard was encroaching on the state-highway right-of-way.

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union, who is serving as manager of the Gross statewide campaign, measured the sign's distance from the edge of the roadway and good-naturedly agreed to move it back a few feet.

Rinaldo occupies one of the six motel rooms that have been converted into offices. Other staff members performing such functions as research, speech-writing, press relations and appointments are already on the job. In all, there are about a dozen persons doing the spring spadework for what the GOP hopes will be a big harvest of votes in the fall.

Despite the activity at the motor lodge now, Rinaldo notes that this is only the beginning. "Eventually, we plan to take over all the rooms on the second floor of this building," he reports.

"As the campaign gathers steam after the primary election, we will add many more staff specialists." A Xerox 2400 duplicating machine has been ordered, along with a crane that will be needed to hoist it to the second floor. Other types of duplicating equipment and reams and reams of paper are expected to pour forth from the Union Motor Lodge before the voters make their decision. "This will be an all-out effort to elect Nelson," explains Senator Rinaldo. "We plan to make use of all communications media as well as heavy concentrations of personal appearances by the candidate himself."

Rinaldo noted that the spring and summer months will be devoted to gearing up the staff and campaign machinery. Once Labor Day passes, the operation will shift into over-drive for the final all-out effort.

Candidate Gross, who already is making the campaign circuit, spends several hours a day at the headquarters conferring with his staffers and campaign aides.

Senator Rinaldo said that Union was chosen as the site of the headquarters because of its central location. "We're actually at the crossroads of the state's major east-west and north-south highway arteries," he explains. "We're

Centers will provide college information

Union College, Cranford, will set up College Information Centers on Wednesday evenings throughout June at the Main Branch and the Elmora Branch of the Elizabeth Public Library, it was announced this week by Professor Elmer Wolf, acting dean. The College Information Centers will be open from 7 to 9 p.m.

The schedule is: June 3, Main Branch, 11 Broad st.; June 10, Elmora Branch, W. Grand street; June 17, Main Branch; June 24, Elmora Branch.

The College Information Centers are staffed by members of Union College's counseling, admissions, and financial aid staffs, and by representatives of the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains.

Prof. Wolf said the centers are designed to provide information on educational and training sources available to Union County residents. He said Union College is working with city and school officials to coordinate efforts to provide information about post-high school educational opportunities available to young people and adults.

Doctor discusses cancer prevention with 'procto' exam

How many Union County residents will be among the 75,000 Americans expected to develop cancer of the colon and rectum in 1970? "No one can forecast just who will develop this form of the disease," Dr. Roy Forsberg, member of the Medical and Professional Education Committee of the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society, said in a recent discussion of colon-rectum cancer which strikes more people than any other form of the disease except skin cancer.

"But I can venture who is most likely to be saved from it--the person who makes a procto (short for proctosigmoidoscopic examination) part of an annual health checkup."

Dr. Forsberg pointed out that patients with this form of cancer can be saved in almost 75 percent of cases when the disease is found in an early stage and properly treated. "Yet this year, some 46,000 will die--many perhaps because they were unaware of the life-saving value of a 'procto.'" Often called "the cancer nobody talks about," there is a tendency to avoid diagnosis and treatment of colon-rectum cancer and such ignorance costs lives.

According to Dr. Forsberg, a "procto" is the visual examination of the lower colon and rectum through a lighted tube. Most colon cancers occur within the last segment of the bowel, which can be readily examined by the doctor of a "procto." "Remember too," the doctor added, "that any change in bowel habits that persists for two weeks should be reported to a physician. This might be--but is not always--a warning signal of cancer."

County alcoholism unit will hold an open house

An open house will be held June 11 from 2-5 p.m. by the Union County Division, North Jersey Area, National Council on Alcoholism, to mark the opening of an office in the Freeholders Annex Building, 300 E. North ave., Westfield.

The Council has three basic concepts: Alcoholism is a disease afflicting not only the alcoholic but also those surrounding him; the alcoholic and his family can be helped; and alcoholism is a public health problem and therefore, a community responsibility.

Merging with Merck

BALTIMORE, Md. -- Stockholders of Baltimore Aircoll Company Inc., at a special meeting of stockholders here last week, approved an agreement calling for the merger of the firm into a subsidiary of Merck & Co., Inc. of Rahway, N.J. The merger is to become effective today.

Free course on non-violence to start at Union C. Monday, open to public

The Division of Community Services at Union College, Cranford, will offer a free, non-credit course on non-violence, starting Monday and continuing through June 18, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Prof. Richard J. Selcoe, director, announced this week.

The course will be open to Union College students and to the public. The only charge will be a $1 registration fee for non-Union College students. Prof. Selcoe said.

James Young of Bloomfield will be the instructor.

Prof. Selcoe said the course will provide a general examination of the forces involved and theories of non-violence, a general history of non-violence, and an analysis of some of the smaller and more local actions.

Among the areas to be covered are: What is violence? what is non-violence? principles of non-violence, conflict resolution, non-violent discipline, non-resistance, passive resistance, civil resistance and non-violent resistance. Among non-violent actions to be studied are: South African Struggle of the 1950s, Danilo Dolci struggle in Sicily against the Mafia, the Civil Rights Movement in the South, and Cesar Chavez' grapeworker's non-violent movement.

Young earned a bachelor of arts degree from Dartmouth College, majoring in comparative literature and philosophy. He has done graduate work at the New School for Social Research, A U.S. Army veteran in World War II with overseas service in Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Italy and France, Young is president of Thomas Young Inc., Cedar Grove.

Overseer of the Quaker Project on Community Conflict in New York City, Young was a member of the Montclair Fair Housing Committee, a teacher for the Montclair Friends Meeting, and a member of the steering Committee of the Newark Ecology citizen Group (NEAC). He is the author of articles on community problems in "Christian Century," "Fellowship," "Friends Journal," and "Sarvodaya," a publication in India.

3 represent Scout group

DENVER, Colo. -- Three members of the Union Council, Elizabeth, N.J., attended the 60th annual meeting of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Denver last week.

The Scout leaders took part in training sessions, conferences, committee meetings and other activities designed to improve the quality of Scouting at the local and national levels. Emphasis was on Boypower '76, a long-range program to bring Scouting more in line with the needs and concerns of today's youth.

Representing the Union Council were Kenneth Holland, Eastern District chairman, and Charles C. Herbert, council advancement executive, both of Elizabeth, and John A. Brown, Scout executive from Westfield.

Festival June 7 at Batsto Village

The second annual Early Arts and Crafts Festival will be sponsored by the Batsto Citizens Committee Sunday, June 7, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Last year's festival, also held on the first Sunday in June, attracted the largest single-day crowd of 1969 to Historic Batsto Village, located on the Wharton Tract in New Jersey's famed pine barrens.

More than a score of crafts practiced in Colonial times will be demonstrated as history is recreated for the day.

5 named to help select UC dean

The faculty of Union College, Cranford, at a plenary session last Saturday, elected a five-man committee to assist Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president, in the selection of a dean of the college.

Elected to the committee were: Prof. Hermann J. Bielefeld of Summit, chairman of the Humanities Department; Prof. John J. Siburn of Westfield, chairman of the Biology Department; Prof. George P. Zirnite of Somerset, chairman of the English Department; Ernest Shawcross of Westfield, a lecturer in the Evening Session, and Donald C. Schmeltekopf of Cranford, coordinator of the Social Sciences Department.

Prof. Elmer Wolf of Cranford, chairman of the Engineering-Physics-Mathematics Department, has been serving as acting dean since February 1968. Prof. Wolf was named acting dean when Dr. Iversen was appointed acting president following the resignation of Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, president-emeritus.

Prof. Bielefeld was elected to represent the liberal art-business administration area, and Prof. Siburn was named to represent the engineering-science area. Prof. Zirnite was elected to represent the tenured faculty at-large. Shawcross and Schmeltekopf represent the non-tenured members of the faculty.

Barriers come down on Turnpike to help accomodate holiday traffic

Construction will be halted and detours down all along the 131-mile, four-to-12-lane New Jersey Turnpike to assure maximum safety for a record one million drivers anticipated during the four-day Memorial Day weekend starting today.

"We have removed all traffic barriers, we have taken every physical measure to insure safety for our patrons," said former Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, chairman of the Turnpike Authority, in what he described as the first step of a three-prong holiday safety program.

The second phase--the all-important driver's part is "alert, attentive driving," declared the chairman, in a plea to motorists "to do their share now" for safety's sake. State Police assigned to the Turnpike, Driscoll said, will exercise "stringent enforcement" of all traffic and safety regulations, as the third phase. These include: No parking, standing or stopping on the Turnpike except in emergency. No hitch-hiking or loitering. Maximum use of radar to catch speed violators. Examination of drivers suspected of drinking.

A full complement of Turnpike Troop D, State Police, has been assigned to patrol work around the clock during the four-day period, Driscoll said. Helicopters will be pressed in service to augment roadway patrols and perform traffic surveillance. Citgo service trucks will patrol the entire Turnpike ready to assist disabled motorists on short notice.

Easier system suggested for spring housecleaning

Spring housecleaning and wall washing time is here, says Carolyn F. Yukus, Senior County Home economist. Hopefully, the day is past when every homemaker tore the house apart to accomplish this activity.

More homemakers today have had to devise a schedule of part-time cleaning. This means that in only one or two areas in a room are cleaned along with the other activities of the day.

This system does mean it will take longer to clean every nook and cranny in a given room. But it also means that you are not completely exhausted at the end of the day; you are in a much better humor, and your home isn't disrupted for a week or more.

Many products and appliances make the job of cleaning much easier today. Yet, the job of washing painted surfaces is still a difficult one which has to be done.

In many instances, washing paint on a large scale is most exhausting. Rather than struggle to do such a hard job, it is much more practical to frequently dust painted walls and woodwork and remove finger marks when necessary.

Confine your washing down walls mainly to the kitchen and bath. These walls need washing more often and are easier to do.

To dust walls and woodwork, you may find the dusting attachment of your vacuum cleaner or a floor and wall brush the most effective tools. Rubber bumpers on these tools should be protected with an old nylon stocking to prevent dark marks on a painted surface.

Vacuum cleaning does trap the dust, while a broom wrapped in a soft clean cloth or a dust mop will just dislodge the dust from the wall.

The number of actual washings may be reduced if finger marks are removed frequently. One of the simplest ways to do this is to keep on hand a solution of a general purpose liquid cleaner, one tablespoon liquid detergent to a quart of water. Use a cleaning sponge and the solution straight from the bottle. It is not necessary to rinse or wipe dry the area.

If you feel you must wash paint, it is always wise to test a small area first. Mix your cleaning solution according to directions by a general household cleaner used for floors or walls.

When the work begins, have two containers — one for washing, the other for rinsing. Wash walls from the bottom up to avoid run-down streaks. If streaking over soiled areas occurs, it is most difficult to remove.

Use a circular motion and clean one small area at a time. Rinse surface as soon as the dirt has loosened and dry with an absorbent towel.

Overlap cleaned areas and change the cleaning solution and the rinse water frequently. Never stop in the middle of a wall, rather at a corner if you must stop.

Antarctica vet scales peak at Rutgers

Retired Navy officer to get Ph. D. in Italian lit

COUNSELOR, CAPTAIN AND CLASSICIST—A mountain peak in Antarctica bears the name of Francis M. Gambacorta, retired Navy captain who will receive a doctor's degree in Italian literature from Rutgers University next Wednesday. Commander of the U.S.S.

Wyandot in the Antarctic Deepfreeze operations in 1956, he is shown here in deep study with two of his students at Southampton College, Long Island.

You don't often meet a retired U.S. Navy captain with a Ph.D. in Italian literature who also has a mountain peak in Antarctica named after him.

But Francis Michael Gambacorta is one. The doctoral degree will be conferred on him Wednesday at Rutgers University's 204th anniversary commencement in Rutgers Stadium.

The mountain peak (Gambacorta Peak, at approximately 84 degrees South, 55 degrees West) was given its name in 1966 in recognition of his service as commanding officer of the U.S.S. Wyandot in the Antarctic Deepfreeze operations 10 years earlier.

Gambacorta entered the U.S. Naval Academy in 1931 from Massachusetts and the Boston Latin School and retired in 1961 after 30 years of service. His career included command of submarines in World War II and destroyer command after the war. He also held several shore posts, among which were a tour in NATO in Paris and Naples and a term as instructor at the Naval Academy in the department of English history and government.

While in the service he earned a master of business administration degree in comptrollership at George Washington University.

The day he retired he started his second career in education by enrolling in graduate work in Italian at Middlebury College. His father had implanted a deep feeling for his Italian heritage, and the new program of studies took him to his ancestral land for a year of study at the University of Florence as part of the M.A. program of the Middlebury Graduate School of Italian.

WITH THIS PROGRAM COMPLETED, he came to Rutgers in 1962 to enter the Ph.D. program in the Romance language department. He took courses and also did research under the guidance of Dr. Joseph Chierici, the Dante specialist in the department's graduate faculty. Rutgers awarded him his second master's degree in 1966 when he qualified for admission to candidacy for the Ph. D. degree.

Gambacorta's thesis is an enlightening study of the figure of Matelda in Dante's Divine Comedy, in which he concludes that Matelda stands for Mary, "the noble Mother in her beauty and cosmic regality."

The thesis drew high praise from Chierici. "It deals with one of the most difficult problems in the study of Dante's writings," he said. "His work was very very good; his analysis was illuminating and penetrating; I am sure it will be acclaimed by other scholars."

Since 1964 Gambacorta has been teaching at Southampton College of Long Island University. He and Mrs. Gambacorta live in Southampton.

"It's our first real home—we never stayed longer than three years in one place while I was in the Navy," he says.

Although he lives by the sea, the Navy veteran doesn't go in for boating.

"I don't have time for it," he says. "My hobby is golf."

now stationed at Jakarta, Indonesia, as assistant naval attaché. His son-in-law, David Kent Shiverdecker, husband of Marcia, holds the same rank and is a pilot aboard an aircraft carrier in the Mediterranean. Both young men graduated from Annapolis.

Next September Dr. Gambacorta will continue his teaching of Italian language and literature at Southampton College, but on a half-time basis. The other half will be devoted to the newly-established position of coordinator of student services.

This position was created at Southampton as the college strives to keep ahead of the times in granting more self-government to the students and to develop the responsibility they will need as they step out into the world.

In conjunction with this, the captain has served as a constitutional convention made up of faculty and students charged with writing a new constitution for governance of the campus. He is also chairman of the Faculty Senate, an elected position.

Maintenance plan started for dieters

A "maintenance plan" to help those who have lost weight from regaining poundage after reaching their goals has been established by "Weight Watchers" in Livingston, Red Bank, Freehold, Brick Township, Jersey City and Paramus. Similar programs are being organized in Paterson, Berlin and Trenton.

The "Maintenance Plan", designed by "WW" staff nutritionist Fay Burnett, is considered a "breakthrough" in weight control. Hundreds who participated in pilot groups demonstrated that they could eat cake, ice cream and spaghetti and still not regain weight while following its principles.

It is open to men, women and teenagers not members of "Weight Watchers" but who wish to prevent becoming overweight or who wish to handle constant strains of keeping weight down.

"WW" area director Lester S. Fein says, "This is a plan by which one learns to handle even a social drink by adjusting his food intake accordingly." He urged all embarking on this or any other weight control program to consult their physician first.

Programs offered to improve reading

David K. Brown, director of Readwell, announced this week that two reading improvement programs will be available this summer. The first session is scheduled to run June 29 to July 31, and the second Aug. 3 to Sept. 4.

Brown pointed out that Readwell's developmental reading program, which is geared for high school and college students, is not a speed-reading course. The program stresses the improvement of comprehension, concentration, reading rate and study skills.

For the past 12 years, Readwell instructors have been conducting programs at leading independent schools and colleges, in addition to the year-round service available at their N. Harrison street, East Orange, training center.

VA HOSPITALIZATION

Veterans 65 or older with non-service-connected disabilities, and who do not draw pensions, are still required to certify that they are unable to pay for VA hospitalization, but no longer have to disclose financial details to enter a VA hospital.

Human nose unmatched in finding odor pollution

Mechanical noses may someday be important tools in the fight against odor pollution, but "right now nothing does as well as the old schnozzola."

"The human nose as a detector is at least 1,000 times more sensitive than machine detectors," according to Gregory Leonardos, a chemist with Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass. "The sense of smell is the most sensitive sense we humans have."

Under the auspices of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, New Brunswick, 300 air pollution fighters heard Leonardos and other experts talk about odor pollution -- how to detect it, how to measure it, and how to control it.

"The most effective way to control odor is not to generate it in the first place," emphasized William Walsh, an engineer with E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Co.

The odor experts stressed that the only accurate measurers of odor pollution are the people affected, and that one man's bouquet is another man's bugaboo.

The "breathers' lobby" is making itself heard by legislators at all levels, said William H. Megonnell of the National Air Pollution Control Association.

"The public's patience has been exhausted," he stated, "and citizens are demanding action."

The odor pollution conference was held in conjunction with the 15th anniversary conference of the Mid-Atlantic

The Theater Seen

MERMAN

By Robert Lyons
Add them up. How many of Merman's first 40 seasons have you missed? How many of her 13 shows in which she has given 6,000 performances knocking over audiences 1,200 at a time. Want to get even all at once? Then don't miss her this time.

Where is she? She is at the St. James Theatre rousing a crowd nightly in "Hello, Dolly." Rousing them with warmth, that famous singing style, timing, presence, humor and sincerity.

Observe the way she sets up the show with "I Put My Hand In." Feel the emotion of "World, Take Me Back." Fall in with the exuberance of "Before The Parade Passes By." Notice the work-a-day shackles unlock at "Put On Your Sunday Clothes." Be moved as she sings "Love, Look In My Window."

And that's just the first act even if it does seem like more than half an evening already. Still to come is the title song, with the grand entrance into the Harmonia Gardens to stride and stalk the runway that circles like a grin into the audience. When Merman is on that runway, she seems to stand in the middle of the theater.

And then try to believe you ever missed any of her shows—her very special theatrical gift is that she makes you think you saw them all—as she winds her arm around a walking stick, dons a topper that slants over one eyebrow and struts front curtain to sing "So Long, Dearie."

OK, you've seen her 13 shows. You didn't miss "Red, Hot & Blue" with Bob Hope in '36. You saw "Girl Crazy" with Bogart. And "Annie Get Your Gun." And the others: "Panama Hattie," "DuBarry Was A Lady," "Anything Goes," and "Gypsy." And you intend seeing her next half dozen. You've got a winning streak going. Why break it now?

Miss Loren stars in 'Priest's Wife'

LONDON — Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni will star in "The Priest's Wife," a satirical comedy in Italy. "The Priest's Wife" will be produced by Carlo Ponti and directed by Dino Risì from a screenplay by Ruggero Maccari and Bernardino Zapponi. Warner Bros. will release the film.

Jarrott to direct 'Nicholas' script

HOLLYWOOD—Sam Spiegel has announced that Charles Jarrott has been signed to direct "Nicholas and Alexandra," the film version of the international best seller by Robert K. Massie, for Columbia Pictures.

The screenplay which depicts the momentous events that brought on the downfall of Tsarist Russia, is by James Goldman who won the Academy Award for his screenplay for "The Lion in Winter."

'Adam's Woman'

HOLLYWOOD — "Adam's Woman" will be the title of the Warner Bros. motion picture adventure drama originally called "Return of the Boomerang." Beau Bridges stars with Jane Marrow and John Mills. The picture was filmed in color and Panavision entirely on location in Australia.

The Ray Charles Singers are best known for romantic, rather languid bed-time music, with the notable exception of their hit "Love Me With All Your Heart." Should somebody at the Lake Geneva Playboy Club-Hotel ask "What's in the paper?" the reply might well be, "Some of the most luscious dolls in town!"

That's because of the paper bikinis issued to lady guests who've forgotten their swim suits.

Currently available only at Lake Geneva, the bikinis will be stocked at the Great Gorge Playboy Club-Hotel which opens in New Jersey in June 1971.

Let all you males get your hopes up; the paper is specially processed and chemically treated to prevent tearing and disintegrating.

Scott-Stuart Productions WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT? Scott Stuart Productions has to be one of the most unique corporations in all of New Jersey. It helps in casting all non-professional people in movies, t.v. productions and t.v. commercials. Dawson Scott who is the President of Scott Stuart explains, "Many people realize how difficult it is to break into show business so they wonder how Scott Stuart can get parts for the people who have no experience. The parts we have access to are small parts such as people walking up and down the street or eating in a restaurant for the background scenes. The minimum salary an extra gets per day is anywhere between $35.00 and $100.00, which can certainly turn into a great part-time job if selected."

Memorial Day

MAY 30, 1970

On this Memorial Day the bugles sound, humbly honoring all those who have lost their lives in war, that others might live. Let us pause, if just for one moment this day, to honor these men who can never return. Together may we pray for an everlasting peace in the hearts of all men. We salute the families and friends of these, our most courageous servicemen, who have sacrificed their lives . . . that others may live in peace.

'24 wonderful years' ending Prof at Union College to retire

"They've been 24 wonderful years," said Prof. Harriette N. Trumppore as she announced her retirement as Spanish and English instructor at Union College, Cranford.

Prof. Trumppore has grown with Union College and her years on the Cranford campus, she says, have been happy ones.

The personal touch that has marked relations among faculty, students and administration has been particularly gratifying, Prof. Trumppore believes. "It's been part of the joy of teaching at Union. It's the thing alumni remember best when they visit Union College," she added. "It is also what they claim they miss most as they transfer to larger institutions for their last two years of college."

Prof. Trumppore's career as college instructor has in many ways paralleled the growth of the college. A graduate of Syracuse University with a master's degree from Middlebury, she began teaching on a part-time basis on the old campus in the old Grant School (now the Union County Cerebral Palsy Center). She started the Spanish Department and later added English to her teaching schedule. As the college grew so did her classes and she was named a full-time instructor.

If Mrs. Trumppore added to her teaching schedule, so did Union College. "The college offered only liberal arts when I began teaching," she recalls. Today students may major in engineering, life sciences, business administration and law enforcement, as well as liberal arts. There are also special programs for nursing students and future teachers.

WHILE UNION COLLEGE'S GROWTH in 24 years has been phenomenal, Prof. Trumppore notes it has not been haphazard. "Every program we've added," she said, "has been in response to student needs. The college has kept pace with the students and the response to their needs has been immediate."

While the college has changed physically and academically, Prof. Trumppore says the students too have changed over the past 24 years. Today's students, she believes, are not as serious minded as the veterans of 24 years ago.

She does, however, commend Union College students for their sensible reaction to the national crisis on college campuses.

"We've been fortunate," she says, "in having students who react constructively rather than destructively."

In some measure, Prof. Trumppore credits this to the close relation between faculty and students.

"This is not a large impersonal institution and students do not react impersonally," she said.

When she began teaching her two children were in junior high school. Both attended Union College, one for a year, the other a summer program. They are now grown and married. So retirement for Prof. Trumppore and her husband will mean complete leisure. They are planning to move from their home in Cranford to Crest Wood, a retirement village in Whiting.

We didn't make it any easier to look at. Just easier to drive.

You'd never know it to look at it, but that's a Volkswagen without a clutch pedal.

What it does have is something called an automatic stick shift. "Automatic" because you can drive it up to 55 mph without shifting at all. "Stick shift" because you shift it when you go over 55. Once.

And that's just to help you save gas. (In keeping with a grand old Volkswagen tradition.)

As a matter of fact, this Volkswagen still gives you 25 miles to the gallon. It still takes only an occasional can of oil. And it still won't go near water or antifreeze.

If it were anything but a Volkswagen, you'd probably pay dearly for all this luxury. Instead, a Volkswagen with an automatic stick shift costs a mere $1978.*

All of which reinforces what we've been saying for 20 years. Looks aren't everything.
