Echo Lake Park is a fine place to spend a holiday weekend boating, getting to know people or just watching the sunset, in photos by Bill McLatchie.

Primary voting: A light turnout of local citizens

Tuesday's primary election held few surprises throughout the state, and Mountainside followed the pattern. The two senatorial candidates, who were the only ones with any noticeable opposition, led handily in the borough, as they did almost everywhere else. There were 531 voters.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. swept to 115 votes from local Democrats, his opponent, Hudson County State Sen. Frank J. Guarini, garnered 22.

Nelson G. Gross, Republican organization choice, led by an even more comfortable margin over James A. Quaremba, 246 to 87. Joseph T. Gavin had 34 votes.

One significant difference might be that Williams was the top man on the Democratic side, while Gross trailed the other Republican nominees.

Incumbent Rep. Florence P. Dwyer led all Republicans, as she usually does, with 355 votes. Daniel F. Lundy, who will carry the Democratic banner against her in November, had 101.

In the nominations for Borough Council candidates, all four contenders were unopposed. Republican Committeemen Louis Parent and William Van Blarcom had 338 votes each. Their Democratic opponents are

Cards top Robins, lead Girls Softball; Eagles, Doves win

The Cardinals edged the Robins, 15-14, to move into first place in the Girls' Softball League. Great fielding by the Cardinals contributed to the victory. Nancy Cunningham pulled in three pop flies at second, Cindy Smith caught a fly to short left and threw to Lynn Shomer at third for a double play to end the game.

The Eagles 15-10 victory over the Parrots marked by Laurie Hambacher's home run and triples by Mary Jane Farrell and Marriane Herrick.

The Canaries topped the Eagles, 6-2. Barbara Van Benschoten hit a home run with one out. Kathy McCarthy's catch in right field and throw to first baseman Janet Gompels for a double play was one of the highlights of the game.

A home run by the Doves' Nancy Lawrie and a double play executed by Eva Young and first baseman Linda Whitescarver contributed to a 15-9 triumph over the Falcons.

Jayvees sweep to UCT baseball title; bunt in 6th spoils Rau bid for no-hitter

By BILL LOVETT

Gov. Livingston finally won a baseball championship, although it was not the one many had expected. The junior varsity, not expected to advance past the first round, won the Union County Junior Varsity Tournament by defeating top-seeded Roselle Catholic, Hillside and Clark. The varsity defeated St. Patrick's, 7-0, to raise its record to 9-12.

Last week was a good one for pitchers at Regional. Varsity hurler Doug Rau pitched a masterful one-hitter while JV moundsman Curt Mohs won all three tournament contests to spark the Highlanders' surprising sweep.

The JV team, seeded last among eight teams in UCT, opened against top-ranked Roselle Catholic and got a great game from Mohs to win easily, 6-1. Against Hillside, Regional romped, 10-2.

The Highlanders faced Clark in the final and with the same combination of Mohs pitching and some timely hitting, took the championship with a 5-1 victory.

The bulk of the hitting was supplied by Ron

Steele, who had a home run, and Bill Styler as each drove in two runs. The three victories raised the team record to 11-9 and, more important, accomplished something only the bowling team had achieved this season -- a championship.

The varsity baseball team, which has come no closer to such a title than the quarterfinals of the UCT, gained a little redemption with a 7-0 victory over St. Patrick's, which had barely enough players to field a team.

Rau struck out 17 in his shutout performance, walking only two. St. Patrick's lone hit came in

Detective arrests 2 out-of-state men on narcotics count

When Lt. Taafe got there the occupants had gone out for breakfast. He said the maids were told to leave the room alone and to leave the door open. Lt. Taafe said that two waterpipes for smoking marijuana were in plain sight.

New mark introduced

The Suburban Trust Company is introducing a new punctuation mark—the interrobang—in a special advertisement appearing in this week's issue.

The interrobang, according to Gerald Lind, Suburban Trust's public relations officer, "is the newest punctuation mark in the English language. It is a combination question mark, and exclamation mark."

"The interrobang should be employed when an interrogative sentence is used as an exclamation. A good example of an interrobang is: Suburban Trust pays the highest savings rates of any full service bank in the United States—how do you like that? (interrobang)"

"Suburban Trust instituted the campaign to encourage people to use this new and useful idea in punctuation, and to emphasize their wide range of banking services. For spending in your favorite interrobang expression to any of Suburban Trust's five offices in Westfield, Garwood, Cranford, Scotch Plains, or Plainfield, you will receive a surprise gift."

"The interrobang was created by combining interro from the word interrogative, and bang which is typographers jargon for an exclamation. Put these two thoughts together, and you have interrobang, the zanliest new punctuation mark in the English language."

NEW BANK BUILDING — Architect's rendering of 9,000-square-foot building planned by Springfield State Bank at Hillside avenue at Rt. 22 in Springfield, Bank, which opened earlier this year, is operating in temporary quarters.

Springfield State Bank to start construction at site on Rt. 22

Springfield State Bank has announced plans to construct a new 9,000-square-foot main office at the intersection of Rt. 22 and Hillside avenue, Springfield.

Edward W. Moore, president, said the two-story structure would have 45,000 square feet of space for customers and staff on the first floor, with an equal amount of room reserved for future expansion on the second floor. "We are most gratified by the enthusiastic reception accorded our bank by the residents and businessmen of Springfield and Mountain-side," said Moore. "Within two months of our opening, we reached a million dollars in assets, and we are well on our way to our next million. In fact, the overwhelming response to our services prompted us to advance our construction timetable."

The bank, which is presently housed in temporary quarters on the Rt. 22 and Hillside avenue site, will hold groundbreaking ceremonies within two months, Moore indicated. Moore also noted that the permanent building, which has been designed by the architectural firm of Gerber and Pancant of Springfield, has been planned "with customers' needs in mind. Too often, banks are designed for bankers. Ours, however, will be different. We have allowed sufficient space for tellers' windows and for confidential customer conferences with officers."

The proposed colonial-style structure will have entrances facing both Rt. 22 and Hillside avenue. In addition, Moore, said, it will feature adequate drive-in facilities that will permit cars to wait without spilling out into the road.

GOOD THINGS COME IN SMALL PACKAGES—Mrs. Hazel Wenzel, pediatric supervisor at Overlook Hospital, receives the G. McKay Stevenson Memorial Award, for outstanding contribution to the health and welfare of the community, from Robert E. Heinlein, Overlook's president and director.

Nurse from Springfield wins award for service at Overlook

The G. McKay Stevenson award this year goes to a diminutive nurse who has made a big impression at Overlook Hospital. Mrs. Hazel Wenzel of Springfield, pediatric supervisor at Overlook, has been singled out for honor by physician members of the Overlook medical staff who serve on the Stevenson committee, each year designating the award to an individual or organization for contributions to the health and welfare of the community.

Mrs. Wenzel, all of 4' 11", is blonde and petite. She came on the Overlook staff in 1953 as a nurse of four weeks. "In the middle of a storm, all wrapped up in macintosh and galoshes—we never dreamed what a good thing came to Overlook in that small package," commented Dr. J. H. Maroney, Summit pediatrician, in making the presentation. Mrs. Wenzel has been a resident of Springfield for 17 years, at 21 Warwick circle.

He added that Mrs. Wenzel has run a tight ship on Overlook's pediatric floor—warned by personal concern and understanding of her small charges. Mrs. Wenzel has long been a booster for the mother-room-in system to lessen the fears of tiny toddlers.

One recent innovative idea was the establishment of "Kiddie" Tours at the hospital, where in four-year-olds from area nursery schools have a special group orientation session to prepare them for possible future hospitalization.

children was when I served 18 months in the Army Nurses Corps in India," Mrs. Wenzel commented, recalling her wartime duty in 1944-45 in Chauba, outside Calcutta, on the Burma border.

A graduate of St. Barnabas Nursing School in 1939, Mrs. Wenzel earned her B.S. degree at Columbia Teachers College in 1950. She was born in Hillside, daughter of the late Clayton E. Fry and of Mrs. Anna Fry, who now resides with her in Springfield.

Active in Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Springfield, Mrs. Wenzel has served as chairman of the Altar Guild. In professional circles, she has been active in the American Nursing Association, serving as chairman of its district by-laws committee for the past four years.

The testimonial tribute to Mrs. Wenzel reads as follows: "This seventh annual award is presented to Hazel Wenzel, supervisor of pediatric inpatient care at Overlook Hospital since 1953, in recognition of her devotion to the welfare of hospitalized infants and children and of her ability in developing an outstanding pediatric nursing service."

"Mrs. Wenzel has been largely responsible for some of the changes in pediatric care which have resulted in better acceptance of the hospital experience by both parents and child."

"Her cooperation and support of the pediatric medical staff at Overlook Hospital has earned her the admiration and highest regard of her physician associates, who have deep appreciation for her exceptional commitment to the highest concepts of nursing."

Town library board to meet next week

The last meeting until fall of the board of trustees of the Springfield Public Library will be held in the Meeting Room of the Library next Thursday evening, June 11, at 9. The meeting is open to the public.

The announcement added, "The board of trustees meets regularly every second Thursday of the month with the exception of July and August. All meetings are always open to the public. The meeting room in the new library will seat 65 people comfortably, and therefore makes it possible for more people to be present at a board meeting than was possible in the old library."

"The board of trustees would be happy to have Springfield residents attend these meetings and to become aware of library operations. Suggestions and comments on library services would be welcome at any time."

Art swings at $100,000 Stevens receives giant mobile

A new Alexander Calder mobile has been put on permanent display in the Samuel C. Williams Library at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken. The art work, valued at $100,000, was a gift of Calder, who graduated from the science and engineering college in 1919.

The mobile, which was made especially for the reception area of the library, measures nine feet across and five feet deep and weighs approximately 95 pounds. It is made of wrought iron.

Three years after he received an engineering degree from Stevens, Calder began studying art and within ten years succeeded in creating the new art form which came to be known as the "mobile," which brings motion to sculpture.

Today, the mobile is generally thought to have the widest range of appeal of any American art in history and Calder is recognized as one of the great artists of our time.

Last year, the 50th anniversary of Calder's graduation from Stevens, he was awarded an honorary degree from the Institute. At the ceremonies Dr. Jess H. Davis, president of Stevens, noted that Calder's works have "brought pleasure, beauty, and a liberation of the imagination to those who look at them," and paid tribute to Calder's "endless ability to invent, experiment and continue to create new forms and concepts in art."

After receiving the degree, Calder visited the Stevens library and expressed a desire to make a mobile for the reception area. Calder's works are exhibited in nearly every leading art museum in the world. His stable, "Man," provided the central theme of the Montreal Expo in 1967 and is still exhibited in that Canadian city. The Stevens mobile is the latest of several Calder works on display in the metropolitan areas. In addition to those in museums, others are located at Kennedy International Air Terminal, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, and the United States Mission to the United Nations.

ACLU challenges fingerprinting plan

The American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey has accused the New Jersey Real Estate Commission of violating the rights of privacy and the Fourth Amendment rights of real estate brokers.

The charge was made in a statement by ACLU executive director Stephen M. Nagler at a Real Estate Commission hearing on a proposal to require the fingerprinting of brokers and real estate salesmen. The hearing was held at the commission's offices in Newark.

In his statement, Nagler said, "Measured against the right of privacy, we regard a regulation requiring the indiscriminate fingerprinting of over 22,000 salesmen and 10,000 real estate brokers, who have done no wrong, as blatantly unconstitutional."

"Fingerprinting on a dragnet basis is comparable to other forms of search for which a warrant based on probable cause must be required. Thus, we regard the indiscriminate fingerprinting requirement as a violation of the Fourth Amendment as well."

June draft call is 296, 285 less than May

Utility stock offering filed

Public Service Electric and Gas Company filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission last week for the registration of 350,000 shares of a new series of cumulative preferred stock (par value $100 per share).

It is expected that the shares will be offered on or about June 17 by means of a negotiated public offering through a group of underwriters headed by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. The proceeds from the sale will be used for general corporate purposes, including the payment of a portion of construction costs.

Lifeguards take exams Saturday

Tests will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at Hopatcong State Park for lifeguard positions at state-owned inland park areas.

Richard J. Sullivan, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection said the positions are open to both New Jersey and out-of-state residents. "Applicants must produce evidence of a recent medical examination and should be prepared to spend a full day at the test facility," he added.

E. Fenton Carey, supervisor of water safety for the department, noted that the basic testing procedure includes a 400-yard swim, a 50-yard rescue swim, and a 200-yard beach sprint at short intervals, followed by a short written test and personal interview.

Mayfair features 'Naked Lady' film

"What Do You Say to a Naked Lady?" Allen Funt's first feature-length film for adults only, arrived yesterday at the Mayfair Theater in Hillside. In the film, Funt keeps pace with the permissive age of nudity and frank discussion examining people on their attitudes and differences of opinions on the generation gap. The picture is filmed in color.

The second feature at the Mayfair is "Happy Ending," about a marriage that is on the rocks. Richard Brooks is director-screenwriter, and the film stars Brooks' real wife, Jean Simmons, with Shirley Jones, John Forsythe, Teresa Wright and Nanette Fabray. "Happy Ending" was photographed in color.

The Saturday matinee features at the Mayfair are "The Green Slime" and "Munsters Go Home."

'Tropic of Cancer' is held at Ormont

The Ormont Theater in East Orange is holding over Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer" for another week. The picture, highlighting Miller's controversial writings about expatriates in Paris, has Rip Torn in the role of Miller. Joseph Strick directed the picture about the 1930s. The film, for adults, was photographed in color.

Natalie Wood film continues at Fox

"Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice" is being held over for a second week at the Fox Theater, Route 22 in Union. The movie comedy concerns the question of whether or not two couples will indulge in a wife-swapping scheme.

Filed in color, the picture has Natalie Wood, Robert Culp, Elliott Gould and Dyan Cannon in leading roles. Paul Mazursky directed.

'Cherry, Harry, Raquel' on Art Cinema screen

That Hit Parade gal scores a hit on Meadowbrook stage

By BEA SMITH

How do Dorothy Collins fans remember the versatile performer? As the sweet, neat young thing in a starched white blouse advertising a certain cigarette on television? As the gal who sang the Hit Parade songs in a variety of roles and skits? Or Candid Camera? Or records? Or night clubs?

However the audience remembers Miss Collins, she has a long-standing reputation as an actress-singer who can play anything she sets her mind to, and she has such an obviously wide following, she draws crowds and crowds of fans into the Meadowbrook Theater, Cedar Grove every night.

Miss Collins has a field day in "The Apple Tree," the musical comedy presentation now

Festival to mark 10th Bard season

The New Jersey Shakespeare Festival of Woodbridge will launch its 10th anniversary year with its costumed and mounted production of "The Taming of the Shrew" at Woodbridge High School Park on the evening of June 29.

With the support of the Woodbridge Township Committee and Department of Recreation, which contributes financial assistance, the Festival annually attracts semi-professional and amateur actors from New Jersey and New York, with volunteers for backstage chores.

Two of the actors who appeared in the original Festival production of "Shrew" in 1963 will recreate their roles in the current show. They are Jack Petersen of Westfield as Petruchio and William Zullinger of Metuchen as Grumio. Other principals include Judith Allwyn of Maplewood as Kate, George Jacobi of Kenilworth as the father and Bill Coe of Newark as Hortensio.

The production, presented free of charge, will be given in Woodbridge the evenings of June 29 and 30 and July 1 and 2 with additional arrangement for rain dates. After Woodbridge the scheduled performances are as follows: Donaldson Park in Highland Park, July 7 (with a rain date of July 8); Duke Island Park, Bridgewater, July 10 (with July 11 a rain date); Hamilton Terrace School, Berkeley Heights, July 14 (with July 15 a rain date); Echo Lake Park, Westfield, July 16 and 17 (with a rain date on July 18); Warrance Park, Elizabeth, July 20 and 21 (with July 22 a rain date); and Soldier's Memorial Field, Summit on July 24 (with a rain date on July 25). The Union County Park Commission sponsors the performances throughout Union County. Mrs. H. A. Belafsky of Woodbridge has been executive producer of the Festival since its inception.

at the Meadowbrook, and her talents are many as she plays three different roles, from Eve in Part I — "The Diary of Adam and Eve," to the seductive priestess in Part II — "The Lady or the Tiger," to the ragged chimney sweeper, who dreams of becoming a movie star, and becomes one, and gets an Oscar for playing a ragged chimney sweeper in Part III — "Passionella."

"The Apple Tree," with book, music and lyrics by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock, with additional book material by Jerome Coopersmith, based on stories by Mark Twain, Frank R. Stockton and Jules Feiffer, is directed by Donald Yap. It will run in Cedar Grove through June 28. It is an extremely difficult production to stage, and it is one of the best entertainment offerings to be given at the Meadowbrook.

Don Stewart and Clyde Williams, who are co-starred in all three parts with Miss Collins, are exceptionally good, and the supporting cast, including Richard Hall, John Montgomery, Jean Even, Connie Gillaspie and LaRue Watts, is energetic and appealing.

For the most part, however, "The Apple Tree" is Miss Collins' vehicle. She works awfully hard in this one, and it shows in the end result. Count her among the super stars now!

'The Grasshopper' on Maplewood bill

"The Grasshopper" is being held over for a second week at the Maplewood Theater in Maplewood.

The film, starring Jacqueline Bisset, Jim Brown and Joseph Cotten, is a comedy-drama concerning the relationship of a young girl and an ex-football star in Las Vegas, Nev. The picture, filmed in color, was directed by Jerry Paris.

The program of the concert will include Charles Theodore Pachelbel's "Magnificat" in which a brass quartet will accompany the chorists.

Mozart's "Regina Coeli" for soloists, chorus and organ and 14 of Johannes Brahms' "Liedeslieder Walzer" Opus 52, will round out the program.

Tickets, available at the door and also at Gregory's Music Center, W. Front street, Plainfield, are $2.75 for adults and $1 for students.

Film satire tops bill in Elizabeth

"Alice's Restaurant," Arlo Guthrie's satirical record about his arrest for littering in Massachusetts, where hippies are housed by Alice and Ray in a deconsecrated church and Arlo's subsequent rejection by the drafts unit because of his arrest, has been filmed and opened a double bill yesterday at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth. The picture features Guthrie, Pat Quinn, James Brodwick, Michael McLanathan, William Olanstead and Peter Seger. The film, in color, was directed by Arthur Penn.

The associate feature at the Elmora is "Easy Rider," starring Peter Fonda, Dennis Hopper and Jack Nicholson. Photographed in color, the film, which was directed by Nicholson, tells a story about the deep-rooted, violent attitudes in America against people who are different.

The matinee feature on Saturday will be "Sailor Beware."

Berry family seeking Wall Stadium 'double'

Galante is named president of area funeral directors unit

Richard J. Galante of Union was elected president of the Funeral Directors Association of Essex and Union Counties at the group's annual meeting last Thursday at Braidburn Country Club, Florham Park.

Michael Paskas was elected first vice president; Mario Teixeria, second vice president; Walter C. Scruto, secretary; Frederick J. Trepkay, treasurer; Lester Pilkington Jr., sergeant-at-arms; and Phillip C. Rotondo, Richard H. Jacobucci, Patrick J. Farmer, Charles L. Whigham and Walter J. Johnson, trustees.

April employment climbs in nonfarm wage, salary jobs

Estimates prepared by the State Division of Planning and Research show that nonfarm wage and salary employment (excluding farm, domestic, self-employed and unpaid family workers) climbed 15,600 between March and April to approximately 2,596,200. The April gain was mainly the result of seasonal expansion in construction, trade and service. Over the year, total nonagricultural employment increased by 42,400 or 1.7 percent.

Manufacturing employment declined by 10,800 in April to 873,400. Seasonal layoffs in the electrical machinery, food, apparel, chemical and leather industries were the key contributors in the downward movement in factory employment. The trucking strike hampered delivery of materials as well as finished products, which in turn slowed production and caused employees to be temporarily laid off in several industries. Labor-management disputes existed in the fabricated metals industry and in the chemical industry. The only sizeable employment increase in the manufacturing sector occurred in the toy industry as production of Christmas items began and provided the need for additional workers.

Seasonal advances were evident in construction, finance and service. Trade, however, did not increase as much as it had for the same time period in previous years—it seems that spending is being somewhat curtailed. Government employment on the other hand, exceeded its March to April hiring pattern with the staffing of Census takers.

A 12-minute decrease in average weekly hours (40.5) partially affected average weekly earnings which dipped by 27 cents to approximately $137.30. A one-cent gain brought average hourly earnings to $3.39. The most notable over-the-month change befell the aircraft sector as decreased hours and hourly wages effected a drop of $18.49 to $145.92. A $9.23 gain in shipbuilding assisted in modifying some of the decline in the transportation industry. Less shift work and overtime contributed to the $10.44 ebh in petroleum refining. Compared with April 1969, the April 1970 workweek was shorter by a half hour; average weekly wages were $5.69 higher; and average hourly earnings were $0.18 greater.

More blue-collar jobs

Blue-collar employment, which had grown very little in recent years, increased substantially in 1969 despite the reduction in industrial production which took place in the second half of the year. Blue-collar workers increased by 715,000 over 1968, to a total of 28.2 million.

An old time picnic will raise funds for German school

The sixth annual benefit picnic of the Deutsche Sprachschule, Inc., of Irvington, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse and picnic grounds of Deutscher Club in Rahway, Featherbed Lane, Clark, according to a statement by Hans J. Ludscheidt, president of the German language school.

The Deutsche Sprachschule, one of the few self-supporting private language schools in the country, had its origin in Newark 36 years ago, before moving to Irvington. Picnic co-chairmen Alfred Rottmann of the Deutsche Sprachschule and Leo Schmidt of the Deutscher Club Rahway, in a joint statement, promised "a full day of old-fashioned picnic entertainment and participation for young and old." Mrs. Emmi Rank has charge of the children's games and activities, including an ice cream parade.

The guest appearance of the 100-voice Duellmeyer Master Chorus, on tour in the United States from West Germany, and the award-winning Newark Saenger Chor will be the musical highlights of the day.

Frank Weiberichs orchestra will provide music for entertainment and dancing. Foods and beers of the old country will be served German picnic style all day long. Max Schoene, president of the Deutscher Club Rahway, said that the proceeds of the picnic will be donated to the Deutsche Sprachschule for use in the study of German language and culture.

Ship's crew aids hungry Eskimos

The Eskimo inhabitants of Pond Inlet, Northern Canada, have received a gift of 4,000 pounds of food from the first commercial ship to transit the Northwest Passage.

Presentation of the food was made by the crew of Humble Oil & Refining Company's icebreaking tanker, the S. S. Manhattan, The 1,005-foot vessel has been undergoing ice tests in the frozen waters near Pond Inlet.

Crewmen aboard the Manhattan learned that hunting in the area has been poor this year, causing a shortage of meat in the village. Fresh fruit and vegetables were non-existent. So the ship's steward went to the ship pantry and came up with more than 4,000 pounds of food, including fresh and frozen eggs, fresh fruit and vegetables, canned milk, fruit juices and meat, including beef, pork and chicken.

The food was transferred to the village by both helicopter and snowmobile. Every house and hut in Pond Inlet has received an equal share of the food, except the meat which is being distributed by the village administrator on the basis of need.

Inhabitants of the village also believe the Manhattan's visit might improve their food supply in another way. The break-up of ice by the ship reportedly improves seal hunting, the prime source of food in the area.

Fall parade of Steuben unit planned

Halsey T. Burke, chairman of the New Jersey state Steuben Parade committee, announced this week that the next meeting of the state delegates and members will be held Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the clubhouse of Schul & Gesang Verein, Germania Park, Dover. Plans will be made for the selection of floats and bands and to further the enlistment of marching groups.

Burke said, "The annual Steuben parade has become a permanent part of the New York City's scene and will be held this year Saturday, Sept. 19, on Fifth Avenue. It presents to us the opportunity to portray the many substantial contributions made by German-Americans to the welfare and prosperity of the United States."

"These contributions are best illustrated by the accomplishments of German-Americans in history, science, commerce and culture. Practically every facet of life in our country reflects German endeavors dating back from the pioneer days of 1683 to our present missile age." German clubs and organizations in New Jersey have been urged to send delegates to the meeting. A special invitation has been extended to the German language schools and the members of college and high school German language clubs.

Appropriation urged by Case for Rahway River flood study

Senator Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) has urged that $20,000 be appropriated to begin a flood control study of the Rahway River basin in fiscal 1971. Case outlined his support for the appropriation in a letter to Senator Allen J. Ellender, chairman of the Senate Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee, which has jurisdiction in the matter.

In the letter, Case said: "I support the Corps of Engineers' request for $20,000 to begin a flood control study of the 82-square-mile Rahway River basin in fiscal 1971.

"The destructive floods of recent years have made clear that the flooding problems of the Rahway River are interrelated to a significant extent, and that future protective actions must be on a basin-wide, rather than a piecemeal, approach.

"At the request of Congressman Dwyer of New Jersey, the House Public Works Committee last December adopted a resolution which provides for a re-study of Rahway River flood control problems. The resolution employs the basin-wide approach urged by Mrs. Dwyer and me. The Senate Public Works Committee previously had adopted a similar resolution.

"At that time I also urged that the Corps of Engineers not delay in seeking appropriations needed to get the study under way in fiscal 1971. The Corps has wasted no time in submitting its request, thus indicating its own appreciation of the urgency of the matter.

"The request presently is being considered by the House Appropriations Committee, and Mrs. Dwyer, I know, is working to see to it that the funds are recommended to the full House for approval.

"I urge that our subcommittee grant the corps' request so that this vital flood control study can be started promptly."

Lang again heads UC data center

The appointment of Fred Lang of Chatham as director of the College Information Center on wheels was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, president of Union College.

This will be the third year that Lang has headed the educational caravan on its summer tour of Union County communities to interest young people and adults in higher education. The College Information Center is a community service offered by Union College and financed by a special grant from the Bayway Refinery of the Humble Oil and Refining Company and the Bayway Chemical Plant of the Enjay Chemical Company, Linden.

Lang is a psychology instructor at Union College. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Columbia University and a master of arts degree in developmental psychology from Teachers College of Columbia University. He is a member of the American Psychological Association and the Association for the Advancement of Behavioral Therapies.

In its first two years of operation the mobile College Information Center has been visited by more than 2,500 people. Almost all the disadvantaged residents of the county, the center provided guidance, counseling and general information on educational opportunities beyond high school.

Lang reports that the center was well received in all of the communities it visited. His role as director, he said, has been particularly rewarding.

"There is a real need for the kind of service we are offering," he said, "and filling that need cannot fail to be a rewarding experience."

Y is offering membership for summer

Summer memberships are available at the Summit Area YMCA, effective for the three month period from June through August, and registrations are now being taken for all summer programs and courses which begin the week of June 22. Summer programs include instructional and recreational swimming for all ages, camping for youngsters, fitness and sports for adults, and summer theater for teenage and college youth.

National YMCA progressive swim instruction classes according to ability (Minnow, Fish, Flying Fish, Shark and Porpoise) will be offered to boys and girls entering grades 3-12 as well as an adult learn-to-swim course. YMCA membership is required.

A competitive swim clinic will again be offered to boys and girls age 16 and under who are interested in participating in swim club, school, or YMCA teams. Small classes conducted by Henry Buntin, YMCA coach, will offer individual instruction in starts, turns, and strokes and are held early mornings Monday through Friday. A course fee is charged and non-members are welcome in the 15 session clinics.

Recreational swim periods for all ages are scheduled throughout the week with reserved times for boys, girls, junior and senior high students, women-only, and families. Coed adult swims will be held in noon, late afternoon, and evening periods to accommodate business men and women Monday through Friday, and family swims will be scheduled seven days a week. In addition, the pool is available to organized school, church, or club groups on Saturday and Sunday evenings for splash parties by reservation.

Day camping experiences for boys and girls will be offered in Camp Caninus for boys and Camp Triangle for girls entering grades 2-7, and in the new Kinderkemp for children entering kindergarten or first grade.

Men's fitness counseling, handball, squash, paddleball, pick-up volleyball and basketball will continue throughout the summer with track, exercise and steam rooms open Monday through Saturday. Women may use the four wall courts by reservation on weekday mornings, while junior and senior high boys have open gym Monday through Friday afternoons.

All interested college and high school youth in the area have been invited to participate in plans for Metropolitan Musical Theater's two productions this summer, "Peter Pan" and "The Mikado," as well as the children's theater, "Penny Lane Players." Tryouts will be held late in June. The YMCA will also co-sponsor with the Summit Board of Recreation and the Summit Area Development Corporation a performance of "The Taming of the Shrew" at Memorial Field on July 24, presented by the Woodbridge Festival Players.

Programs will be directed by the Y's professional staff of Kenneth W. Pearl, general executive; Louis T. Choquette, central division director; L. William Kelsay, physical director; and David R. Cotten, extension and camping director. They will be assisted by a staff of 30 instructors, aides, and counselors. Summer program brochures are available at the YM, 273-3330.

Discover cancer.

Early enough to do something about it.

Cancer's seven warning signals are:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Change in size or color of a wart or mole.

If you have a warning signal, it doesn't necessarily mean you have cancer. You probably don't. But if your symptoms last longer than two weeks it pays to do the smart thing and see your doctor.

CANCER OF THE COLON AND RECTUM

Cancer of the colon (the large intestine) and rectum (its lower end) is diagnosed in approximately 75,000 Americans annually. Second only to skin cancer in frequency, it affects both men and women equally, with over 90 percent of its victims past the age of 40.

Like other types of cancer, cancer of the colon and rectum is characterized by abnormal, uncontrolled growth of cells that can spread to other parts of the body. Since the tumors formed by the rapid cell growth of cancer interfere with normal body functioning and threaten life, they are called "malignant." Benign tumors, on the other hand, are growths that remain localized and do not usually endanger life.

Certain warning symptoms may signal the presence of a tumor in the colon or rectum. These include any change in bowel habits such as blood in the stools (which may appear bright red or black), persistent constipation or diarrhea, and abdominal pain. Anyone with symptoms lasting longer than two weeks should consult a physician.

In examining the rectum, the physician can feel a tumor if it exists in this area. However, to view the interior of the colon, an instrument called a proctosigmoidoscope is inserted for about 12 inches. For persons over 40, such a "procto" examination should be a regular part of the annual check-up. Two-thirds of all colon and rectal cancers can be diagnosed in the early stages in this way. If a tumor is suspected, a small sample of any visualized growth can be removed through the proctosigmoidoscope for microscopic examination to check for malignancy. In addition, the direction and removal of growths which may become cancerous are valuable preventive measures.

X-rays may also be used to detect any irregularities, particularly in areas of the colon beyond the reach of the proctosigmoidoscope.

The discovery of polyps (growths arising from the body's mucous membranes) in the colon or rectum should receive careful medical attention. Although not all polyps are malignant, there is a chance that they may become so in time. Removal of polyps is usually an uncomplicated procedure and can be accomplished through the proctosigmoidoscope.

Surgery provides the most effective treatment for cancer of the colon and rectum. The part of the bowel containing the tumor is removed along with the adjacent segments. Since the lymph system is one of the main channels for spread of the disease, the lymph nodes which drain the area are also removed.

When the operation involves extensive surgery of the rectum, a temporary or permanent opening called a colostomy may be made in the abdominal wall to permit elimination of body wastes. Bowel function is not impaired by this operation and, after adjusting to some inconvenience, a patient with a colostomy can lead an otherwise normal, active life.

Although colon and rectal cancer claims approximately 47,000 American lives annually, progress in research has greatly increased the number of patients living at least five years after diagnosis. The cause of this type of cancer, like that of most cancers, remains unknown, but new research findings may suggest new ways of saving lives through prevention of the disease. At the same time, the trend toward improved diagnosis and treatment provides hope that more patients with this disease will survive.

Musical on Sunday

A recital program featuring students and alumni will be presented by the vocal music department of Governor Livingston Regional High School Sunday at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium, according to Albert Dorhout, director.

Three former students will participate in what Dorhout hopes will develop into additional opportunities for students to perform solos in their major fields. Kathy Sullivan will be remembered for her characterization of Maria in the school's production of "West Side Story." Jim Delis as Lancelot and Art Bundy as King Arthur in "Camelot." Kathy and Jim will be heard in vocal solos with Art presenting a dramatic reading. The Ruberti sisters, Robbi, Sandi and Terri, will be heard in a flute trio playing Beethoven's "Grand Trio for Three Flutes." Pianist Masaka Hayashi will perform Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu." The duet from Vivaldi's "Gloria" will be sung by Leslie and Barbara Sommerville.

To add variety to the evening, a number of students, including Liz Brunda, will sing folk songs providing their own accompaniment on the guitar. The public is invited, Dorhout said, and there will be no admission charged.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

MENTAL HEALTH GOALS
"Treatment follows the buck" is an old saying that has been proved out by the way health services have developed in the United States. This certainly has been true in the treatment of mental illness.

As men and women who work for wages in this country are well aware, the price tag for private psychiatric care has been too high for the individual wage-earner's pay check. In most instances, if the average person became mentally ill, he had no choice but to be committed by a court to a public mental hospital.

But this situation has changed in the past five years. In a growing number of communities in every part of the United States, groups of people are now sharing in prepayment or other third-party health benefit plans; and slowly but surely mental health services are being included in them.

As this pattern continues to develop, organizations such as labor unions and other insurable groups, will be able to get the kind of comprehensive health and mental health services they want and need.

What began as a rebellion against the inadequate treatment of mental patients in overcrowded, isolated hospitals has become a national mental health revolution involving improved hospitals and treatments and, most dramatically, the burgeoning network of community mental health centers, now numbering nearly 400.

Thus, the old notion of mental health goals and services has changed. Having now recognized the relation of emotions to physical well-being, the problem is to prevent mental illness as well as to treat it.

This can only be achieved if there are accessible and available everywhere adequate mental health facilities and services. Also, the facilities must be administered and the services delivered by adequate numbers of people who understand the problems of those who come to them for help.

To develop these facilities and services and to recruit and train these people are mental health goals for the 1970's to be shared in by government, mental health professionals and allied personnel, communities, labor unions, industrial and business management, the insurance industry, volunteer groups, and individual citizens.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

SWEET HOME

While traveling in Italy, John Howard Payne, American actor and playwright, received his inspiration for a "song of all nations." He heard a Sicilian woman singing an old melody. From what he heard, he wrote a song. Sir Henry Rowley Bishop, an English composer, provided the harmony. In the opera "Clari, the Maid of Milan," produced in 1822, "Home, Sweet Home" was the principal song of the heroine. For generations this simple refrain has cheered the heart of wanderers far from their native soil.

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam, Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home. There is no joy to match that which fills the heart of one whose footsteps have turned homeward. There is nothing in life more warming than the hearth of a happy home.

Turn your thoughts homeward, to those you love; to those who love you. When you turn your footsteps in that direction, be sure to carry enough love and happiness for all there to share.

Rinaldo wants a probe of Arts Center operation

State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-Union) said this week he plans to call on Governor William Cahill to ask his assistance in determining the true costs of operating the Garden State Parkway Arts Center.

"I have carefully scrutinized the annual report of the New Jersey Highway Authority for 1969," Senator Rinaldo said. "To say the least, I found it most confusing. I am sure Governor Cahill will share my concern when he is apprised of the questions I am forced to raise about this operation."

Senator Rinaldo said the authority's report showed operating revenue of $80,543. "If one multiplies the center's capacity by the average admission and then by the number of performances, this figure would seem absurdly low. It certainly bears study."

The Union Township Republican went on to note that his study of the authority's report has led him to conclude that taxpayers of this state are in fact subsidizing the Arts Center. "The report shows that the Departments of Conservation and Community Affairs made grants totaling $37,500," Rinaldo declared.

SENATOR RINALDO SAID that the operation of the Arts Center "reinforces my conviction that the Highway Authority should not have gotten involved with this venture." Rinaldo recalled that the initial cost estimate of the construction had been $1 million but that the final price tag had soared to the area of $10 million.

"The Highway Authority claims its bondholders might be imperiled by adoption of my proposal to provide reduced rate commutation tickets to the regular Parkway users," he asserted. "Yet the authority at the same time can justify running an Arts Center that, according to my study of its annual report, would have ended up in the red by $17,750 if it had not been for a $37,500 state subsidy."

Senator Rinaldo reiterated his contention that he was "not opposed to involvement of the state in cultural pursuits. However, I strenuously oppose the department of public authorities from the original goals that were set for them when they were created. The business of the Highway Authority is building, maintaining and operating roads. As admirable as the Arts Center may be, taken by itself, it simply should not have been built by the Highway Authority."

"In 1968, the Legislature approved my bill to preclude the authorities of this state from engaging in activities of this type in the future. The items I turned up in the 1969 Highway Authority report underscore the wisdom of the Legislature's action."

Four courses are added to UC's summer slate

Four new courses will be offered in the summer session at Union College, Cranford, it was announced this week by Prof. Bernard M. Solon, director of the summer session. The six-week session begins June 22 and ends July 31.

The new courses, which bring the total summer course offerings to 43, are Afro-American History I and II, Development of Educational Thought and Principles of Sociology. All four courses carry three academic credits each.

Afro-American History I covers the history of black people from their advent in the New World to the Civil War. Special emphasis is given to the African heritage and the early struggles for emancipation.

Afro-American History II is the history of black Americans from Reconstruction to the present. The promise and disappointment of the post-Civil War world and the emergence of a new black leadership in the struggle for equality and dignity are considered.

Development of Educational Thought offers an analysis of the interaction of culture and education and includes the historical development of modern education and an examination of the issues and problems of American education today. There will be field trips to public schools.

Principles of Sociology is an introduction to the basic methods, concepts and topics of sociology, including examples of social problems.

The Union College summer session offers freshman and sophomore year college courses in liberal arts, physical and life sciences, business administration and engineering.

Full college credit can be obtained when students have their summer school application approved by the dean or other responsible officer at the college in which they are presently enrolled.

Applications should be returned to Union College by June 12.

Medicare's premiums will be increased July 1

Medical insurance premiums under the Medicare program will be increased July 1, according to Ralph W. Jones, district manager of the Elizabeth Social Security office. The $4 monthly rate, which has been in effect since April 1968, will be raised to $5.30.

"The increase was necessary because the program is on a pay-as-you-go basis," Jones said. "About half of the increase is needed to finance the current level of expenditures as the $4 premium rate was not sufficient to pay the expenses of the program. The other half of the increase is

Coming-out 'party', 17 years later Cicadas, not locusts, to plague state with noise

After a 17-year existence in the ground the periodical cicada is emerging, still red-eyed, to sing the summer days away.

The weird droning song of this misunderstood insect will fill the air over many areas of New Jersey, and entomologists at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science expect their mailbags and telephone lines to be filled with panicked queries.

"Confusion between cicadas and locusts is common," says Louis M. Vasvary, extension specialist in entomology at the college. "But locusts are relatives of grasshoppers, and cicadas are relatives of aphids and leafhoppers."

The confusion dates back into American history. Early colonists, who had never seen periodical cicadas, were nonetheless familiar with the Biblical story of locust plagues in Egypt.

Periodical Cicada - Adult

How to fly a kite: with lots of care

Kite flying is great sport for youngsters, but sometimes it can result in tragic consequences if certain safety procedures are not learned and followed, warns Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Insurance Companies.

Since telephone and power lines seem to have an almost magnetic attraction for kites, Costa warns parents to instruct their children in the following safety procedures:

Fly kites in a level, open space away from power lines, airports, streets and street traffic.

If the kite should become entangled in power lines, leave it. It is better to lose a kite than to risk your life.

Kites should be flown only in dry weather. A wet string may conduct electricity down to the flyer.

Kite strings should not contain any metallic fibers, tinsel or wire. They conduct electricity, and should the kite become entangled in a power line, it could result in death or serious injury.

Kites should not be flown over radio and Don't fly your kite if the wind is freakish or changeable.

They were experiencing a locust plague.

This year Rutgers is well prepared to dispel the apprehension of Garden State homeowners who fear for their trees and shrubs. County Cooperative Extension Service offices and the bulletin clerk at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science in New Brunswick have on hand an informative and entertaining leaflet that they'll send to anyone who writes for it.

Dr. Vasvary wrote the bulletin, which explains that 1970 plays host to Brood X of the periodical cicada, the offspring of the summer singers of 1953.

These cicadas are now emerging quietly in the night after 17 years of life in underground tunnels. They change from an immature stage into adults and spread through trees and bushes, leaving their empty pupal cases behind.

During their brief life aboveground, they don't destroy foliage by feeding on it, nor do they sting or bite humans. Their sole purpose is to mate and lay eggs. Then they die.

While the male sings away, the female deposits 400 to 600 eggs in pockets she makes in twigs. These pockets, sometimes so close together that they form a continuous slit from 2 to 3 inches long, injure the young trees and shrubs.

The Rutgers bulletin tells how to prevent this damage. One way is to cover small trees with cheesecloth or netting. Another is to spray with an insecticide, Sevin.

Free inspections for motorboats to be held this week

The 145 auxiliary flotillas on the northern area of the Third Coast Guard District will hold courtesy motorboat inspections this weekend. They will be held at the Atlantic Highlands Municipal Harbor, Atlantic Highlands; the Apper Marine, 435 Rt. 1, Elizabeth; the Woodport Boat Basin Rt. 15, Lake Hopatcong, and Smitty's Marina (Woodport), Lake Hopatcong.

The examinations will be made on request by a qualified auxiliary examiner. The examiner will check all legal equipment and additional equipment that is considered to be essential.

When a boat meets auxiliary standards, it is given a special seal of safety decal. There is no charge for this service and discrepancies will be reported only by the owner.

A boat carrying this decal meets more than the minimum legal requirements. The Coast Guard and most state authorities normally refrain from making official inspections or boarding unless there is an obvious violation of law.

A check-list for pre-examination can be gotten by calling Manuel S. Martins of 147 Chestnut St., Roselle Park, at 241-2848 or 245-4023.

Collective bargaining

Major collective bargaining agreements covering about five million workers are subject to renegotiation in 1970. This is an increase of two-thirds over the number of workers involved in contract expirations in 1969.

Newark State president to appear on television

Dr. Nathan Weiss, president of Newark State College, Union, will be a guest on Channel 11's "Focus on New Jersey" series Saturday at 11 a.m. The program will discuss recent campus issues in New Jersey. Dr. Weiss will speak on the issues of student dissent, and efforts being planned to involve students in constructive programs.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: We received an invitation to a 50th wedding anniversary party for my husband's aunt and uncle. My question concerns the fact that in order to attend this affair, we must pay $6.00 per person.

I was of the belief that when something like this was arranged, the people arranging it were considered hosts or hostesses and paid for the party. If they couldn't afford a restaurant, then a home affair or something less expensive should have been arranged and paid for. This party has been arranged by two daughters of means.

This is to be a surprise to the aunt and uncle, but I believe the greater surprise is going to be that none of the younger members (children, etc.) will be able to attend because the younger parents cannot begin to afford $6.00 a head (there was no reduction according to age.)

I have attended a 50th anniversary where everyone was included and I feel personally that when I get to my 50th, I would certainly want to see all my family. It just seems to me that it would be like going to the Drake Hotel, reserving a room, arranging a dinner and then charging people to come to my birthday party! It just doesn't seem right.

Is there a definite rule of etiquette to cover this situation? Because these people are very close to my husband, we will attend but will have to leave the children with a sitter.

Disappointed

Dear Disappointed: As far as I know there is no rule of etiquette on the social correctness of this type of invitation because it's a "recent happening" in the realm of invitations.

I would rather see a social event planned for what people can afford rather than to tax friends and family unnecessarily. However, whether people should feel obligated to attend and pay a tariff would depend on the closeness they feel to the honored couple.

In your case I can see that you would want to be present. As far as children are concerned, this invitation could be an around-about suggestion that they be left home.

Dear Amy: I know I might sound just a little too jealous but I can't help it. I've tried to tell myself not to be, and it just doesn't work.

I've been married for 15 months. My husband's cousin's wife, who is 18, is always asking my husband questions -- never anyone else -- just my husband. What gets me is the questions are nonsensical, but after a while, she starts up a conversation with my husband.

If you knew her, you would understand my concern. Do you think she is playing up to him?

My husband and I have argued so much about her until I'm about to go out of my mind.

Worried

Dear Worried: To argue with your husband over the gal is foolish, if she wants to talk to him or play up to him (as you put it) is unimportant... because you've got him. Don't worry about her interfering with your husband's affection for you. If anything your over-possessiveness will alienate his love for you and you will have no one to blame but yourself.

So get off his back and trust him!

Recreation is therapy at Cornell Hall

Center uses crafts, games to help residents

Bright blues and greens, soft rose and violet are reflected on the faces of the workers at the small table in the center of the room. But the dancing colors can't keep pace with the swift flow of chatter bouncing back and forth between the women, some of whom are confined to wheelchairs.

The ladies, all residents at Cornell Hall Convalescent Center, Union, are busily engaged in making "stained glass" flowers. "They're so intent on what they're doing," said Mrs. Robert Bradshaw, newly-appointed recreation director at the center, "they never realize the important part recreational therapy plays in getting them back home again."

"We try to find things for our residents to make that they not only enjoy creating, but which stretch their minds just as the physical therapist stretches their bodies."

Bringing convalescents into contact with each other and with the outside world is an important element of the recreation director's job.

"We have a do-it-yourself class every Tuesday morning," explained the youthful director who prefers to be called Karen. Besides the stained glass flower making there are groups engaged in leather craft and basket weaving."

VISITORS FORM A very important part of the recreational therapy at Cornell Hall, Mrs. Bradshaw explained. "Many of our residents are convalescing from long and serious illnesses and haven't been in contact with anyone except their immediate families for quite some time. They also enjoy being the center of attention for reasons other than sickness. That is one of the main reasons why visits from local Girl Scout troops rank high on the list of popularity. Knowledge of a visit by the scouts is almost sure to 'bring out' a happy audience."

Local Girl Scout troops visit the center at least once a month. They conduct a monthly birthday party for residents whose birth dates fall within the month and, if there isn't a birthday as an excuse for a party, there's always Mother's Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving or Christmas. The girls make party favors, give special shows and little skits and in general, generate happiness.

"Local musical groups are very popular too," Mrs. Bradshaw continued. "The Union Township Youth Chorus, harmonica band, and many others are frequent visitors. Music gives everyone a lift and it does wonders for the convalescent."

MRS. BRADSHAW, who grew up in Michigan, now lives in Elizabeth with her husband and two daughters, Robin, 5, and Hollie, 4. "The girls love to visit our residents. Robin is just old enough to enjoy playing nurse," Mrs. Bradshaw, a trained nurse's aide, smiled. "She's like I was when I was a child, I've always enjoyed being with people and helping them. I still enjoy it today."

One of Mrs. Bradshaw's favorite duties is publication of Cornell Hall's own newspaper, "The Cornell Hall Herald." It comes out every Monday jammed with bits of news about the residents, the staff and general gossip.

One recent feature in the Herald was about a resident who had spent much of his time showing sound films at resorts. He used his contacts to secure full-length Hollywood feature films and provided his own therapy by running them for his fellow residents.

When movies aren't available, Mrs. Bradshaw shows slide travalgues every Thursday afternoon.

"Our female residents are like women everywhere," Mrs. Bradshaw noted. "As soon as they feel better—they worry about their hair, so we have a hairdresser come in every Saturday. The tonsorial needs of the men are taken care of on Wednesdays when the barber comes in."

OF THE NON-SCHEDULED activities, the most popular seems to be watching color TV. There is a color TV in each of the two colonial day rooms in the 100-bed center. Almost any day will find a group of viewers intent on the programs—except on Wednesday morning and Friday afternoon.

"That's when we schedule our bingo games. Bingo is a therapist's dream," Mrs. Bradshaw said. "It is one activity for which we never have to worry about participants. In fact we have to hold the games in our dining hall because it's the only room large enough to hold the crowds. If we're not careful we can get some pretty wheeled traffic jams in the corridor when those wheelchair convalescents are late. We've even thought about hiring a traffic controller," she grinned.

"The most important point in our recreational therapy program," Mrs. Bradshaw explained, "is not to stop at bingo or any other single activity but to introduce new games, adaptations of games and activities that help keep minds active and from which residents can derive as much therapeutic benefit as possible."

UNDER "B"—Residents at Cornell Hall Convalescent Center, Union, enjoy Bingo twice a week as part of the nursing home's recreational therapy program. # NCE grads told to 'redirect' business to public problems

"College graduates this year have the opportunity to help solve some of the great public problems of America if they use their own talents to help redirect the vast sphere of private business," Newark College of Engineering's graduating class was told by its commencement speaker.

Speaking before an audience of 5,000 graduates and their guests, John Diebold, one of the nation's leaders in management, said: "When we assign functions to government performance we often end with bad allocation of resources. The private sector has been a stunning success—in terms of reference assigned to it of material production."

"The one social institution that we have that works—indeed the real genius of the West—has been the invention we call private enterprise," Diebold said, adding that "we devote major effort at finding ways to apply private sector resources and private enterprise institutions to social problems."

"There must be extensive change in public administration on all levels and a new understanding of the real social costs—pollution and environmental issues, transportation, housing and education, medical services and other needs—which tax our capabilities," he said.

Diebold, who received an honorary doctor of engineering degree, devoted most of his remarks to his interpretation of nation-wide student movements of recent weeks.

"We must clearly make fundamental changes in many of our basic management concepts if we are going to be able to manage organizations concerned less with physical production and more with problems of service and their distribution," he said.

DIEBOLD SAID HE AGREED with many of the ideals and unselfish motives expressed as well as the very recent development of working within the political system to achieve such ideals rather than destroying the system.

But while he placed great emphasis on the nation's youth eventually becoming an effective force of change in business and industry, Diebold said two potential dangers should be recognized.

"What happens to this new enthusiasm (of youth) if the results of political protests are contrary, as they often will be, to the activists?" Diebold asked. "We are a democracy and however right or wrong the views of the student activists may be, most of them are clearly not held by a majority of others. Persistence and a willingness to work," at changing public opinion should be used. A real danger to society, Diebold said, is the imminent prospect of "Latin Americanization of our universities, turning them to political rather than educational activity."

"The preoccupation of universities in political activity is not limited to Latin America," Diebold said. "If the bulk of the academic year is spent in preparing for weeks off for political action, the educational process will suffer. This is the surest way to destroy our society's ability to deal with the social problems which are the focus of the student unrest."

A total of 867 students at Newark College of Engineering participated in the 54th commencement of the college, 659 in expectation of their B.S. degrees, 200 for M.S. degrees and eight receiving doctorates.

Williams is seeking $1.3 billion more for urban renewal

WASHINGTON—U.S. Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-NJ) urged this week that Congress appropriate almost $1.3 billion more than the Administration has requested for urban renewal for the two-year period ending June 30, 1971.

Williams joined other senators in a letter to Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI) urging that the urban renewal program, contained in the budget of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), be funded at its full authorized levels for fiscal years 1970 and 1971.

Pastore is chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee which acts on HUD budget appropriations.

The letter pointed out that appropriations for the current fiscal year were $1 billion which was $587.5 million less than the full authorization. Moreover, the Nixon Administration budget request for fiscal year 1971 was again only $1 billion, which is $700 million less than the authorization level already approved by Congress.

"In a nation as wealthy and inventive as ours, there is no excuse for not reversing this trend of urban decay and once again making our cities places where people are proud to live," Williams added.

He pointed out that demands for urban renewal funds currently filed with HUD total $3 billion more than what is currently available. Thus, the Administration budget would leave two-thirds of those requests for help unanswered, which would be increased as any new applications were received during the year.

"This is a perfect example of the misplaced priorities which this Administration follows," Williams said.

"The need to help our cities rebuild is pressing, and it is up to Congress to see that it is met," he added.

Senate Democrats vow opposition to Cahill's med plan

State Senator J. Edward Crabel, Democratic minority leader, said this week that Senate Democrats will remain opposed to any plan by Governor William Cahill that would strip Rutgers University of a major role in medical education.

He was referring to Assembly bill 1059, which would remove the Rutgers Medical School from university control and combine it with the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

The bill, proposed by Cahill and introduced in the Assembly on May 4, passed ten days later by a narrow margin. It is scheduled for Senate action on June 8.

Crabel, a Middlesex County Democrat, said the Senate Democrats are doing and shall do "all possible to defeat the bill, especially since, as it now stands, the only study devoted to the bill was at a hearing held two days before the Assembly voting took place, a hearing open to the public only at the very last minute."

"No transcripts of the hearing were provided to the assemblymen," Crabel said, "so the hearing was, as a result, utterly useless. I wonder if the fact that all testimony heard at the May 12 hearing either presented no valid reason for merger or completely valid ones against it, had anything to do with the fact that the transcripts were not available to the assemblymen."

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"At least she's never late..."

Quarter-million pounds of bad meat condemned

During the 22 months that the federal-state meat inspection program has been in operation in New Jersey, there have been condemnations of 287,326 pounds of contaminated, adulterated or diseased meat and poultry products that might otherwise have been offered for sale to the citizens of New Jersey, Secretary of Agriculture Phillip Alampi reported this week.

He delivered his remarks at a session for meat packers and processors held at Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science and arranged by the college and the State Department of Agriculture.

Alampi said that since the New Jersey Meat and Poultry Inspection Law became

'SORT OF RACE' TROPHIES — William R. Harris, of Essex Fells, chairman of the 75th anniversary committee of the Essex County Park System, looks over some of the trophies to be awarded members of the Antique Car Club of America participating in the "Sort of Race" being held Saturday, June 13.

Indianapolis, make way Ancient autos 'Sort of Race'

Nearly 100 automobiles from out of the past will be jostling each other for first place in a "Sort of Race" along roads from Branch Brook Park in Newark to Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange, on Saturday, June 13.

The "Sort of Race" is being sponsored by the 75th Anniversary Committee of the Essex County Park System in cooperation with the New Jersey Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America.

"The event will probably be one of the slowest races on record," said William R. Harris, of Essex Fells, chairman of the 75th Anniversary Committee. "I don't really think the 25 miles an hour speed limit will even be broken along the course."

The fact is, according to Harris, some of the cars will have trouble getting over the top of the hills along the route, and may have to be pushed.

The object of this affair, as with the 75-mile bicycle race to be held this Sunday, between several parks throughout Essex County, is to commemorate the 75th Anniversary of the Essex County Park System—the oldest county park system in the nation.

The run will start at 10:30 a.m. from the assembly point on the parking lot of the Ice Center in Branch Brook Park, (before which time the public is invited to view these priceless relics). Under police escort, the horseless carriages will proceed up Park avenue, through East Orange to Main street in West Orange. Those cars that have made it this far will then only have to go to the end of Main street, turn right and coast the rest of the way to Turtle Back Zoo's parking lot. The slow paced race will take about 30 minutes, according to Harris.

Once the cars have all arrived at Turtle Back, there will be a judging of the best cars in the race. "As the winning car and driver in the race will probably go unnoticed in the press due to the spectacular 500 Memorial Day race at 'Indy' over the previous weekend, we aren't even going to bother finding out who wins this one," Harris related. "We wouldn't want to take any publicity away from the winner of the 500 anyway."

The public will be able to talk to owners and drivers and view the old autos throughout the afternoon at the Turtle Back Zoo. But, like the playboy bunnies, you won't be allowed to touch them...
