PAST-REMEMBRANCES — Miss Marieta Parkhurst, 80 (top-left) of 102 Mill lane, Mrs. George Roll Robbins, 89, of 1000 E. Mountain ave. and William Winckler, 89, of 381 Central ave. are three borough residents who remember when Mountainside was young. Miss Parkhurst's father, Aaron Parkhurst, was mayor from 1902 to 1906. Mrs. Robbins' father, John B. Roll, was one of the first assessors and Winckler was the borough's first recorder. Without them this series on Mountainside's history could not have been written.

Schools open Wednesday

All Mountainside public schools and the regional high schools will open for the new term on Wednesday, Our Lady of Lourdes School will begin on Tuesday. The semester will start as scheduled although the Mountainside Teachers' Association has not signed a contract for the coming year.

Doors will open at 9 a.m. for all public schools, Deerfield, Beechwood and Echobrook, and Our Lady of Lourdes, Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, will also open Wednesday for all upperclassmen. Mountainside freshmen at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, will begin Tuesday.

Eighty-five professionals, including 12 new ones, will greet the estimated 1,200 to 1,250 students in kindergarten through eighth grade. The projected enrollment at Our Lady of Lourdes is 170 to 180.

Classes at Our Lady of Lourdes will be dismissed at noon during the first week. The school, run by the Caldwell Dominican nuns, has six lay teachers and two sisters who conduct classes.

A non-graded program on the first, second and third levels is being introduced this year, according to Sister Jane Frances, principal. Each student will be taught individual subjects on his own level of competency. The other grades will continue as before.

Several improvements were made at the Beechwood and Echobrook schools during the summer. The instrumental music room at the Beechwood School was renovated. The roof was opened and an air conditioner was put in. The floor was carpeted and soundproof tiles were installed. The Echobrook library was moved from the basement into a corner room. Doors were cut in the walls into small rooms on either side which had been the principal's office.

seventh and eighth grade social studies as well as personal typing for the sixth grade. She received a bachelor's degree in social studies from Montclair State. Mrs. Davis has taught in the Clark public schools.

Mrs. Eileen Grace will teach home economics one morning a week to students from Our Lady of Lourdes School. She received a bachelor's degree in home economics and has taken graduate courses at Newark State. She did her student teaching in Mountainside last year.

Glenn Lewis will teach eighth grade English. He received a bachelor's degree in English from Newark State College this June.

Bruce Mitzak will teach seventh grade social studies. He also received a bachelor's degree in social studies from Newark State this June.

Bette Neroda will teach seventh grade English. She received a bachelor's degree in English from Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Two persons will teach special subjects. Mrs. Doris Julian will teach vocal music half-time in the elementary schools. She received a bachelor's degree from Bucknell University and has graduate credits from Seton Hall University and Newark State. Mrs. Julian has taught in South Orange.

Mrs. Ruth Elblonk will give supplemental instruction half-time. She has a bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin and has taken courses at the University of Miami, Columbia University and Newark State College. She has taught in Westfield.

Henry Daaleman

HENRY J. DAALEMAN

Henry J. Daaleman of Elizabeth is the newest member of the Republican party to be on the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders. Appointed on May 21 to succeed Harry V. Osborne Jr. who was appointed a judge of the Superior Court, he is seeking reelection. "I believe I was appointed to give the urban areas, such as Elizabeth, representation on the Board of Freeholders," he said. As a board member, he is head of the department of insurance and safety and a member of the administrative and finance departments.

Daaleman got into politics in 1966 when a group of people became concerned about Elizabeth's Third Ward. "We decided that something should be done to improve the ward and so I decided to run," he said.

When he decided to run for the City Council, Elizabeth was entirely in the hands of the Democrats. "My election was a surprise to many," he added. Daaleman was the first Republican in over a decade to be elected to the council and the first since the city changed its form of government to a mayor and council.

In his campaign, he went from door to door and covered about 75 percent of the homes in the ward, Daaleman said. "I seized upon a couple of 'good issues,'" he added. "One was a supermarket construction project on East Grand Street. The other was the Elmora Playground."

DAALEMAN WON IN 14 out of 20 districts, "some of which had never gone Republican before," he said. He received the highest ward vote of any candidate. "It seemed as if everything fell together" including his issues and campaign workers to help him win his seat, he added.

The supermarket was built on a line immediately adjacent to one-family houses. The residents complained about the store's location and an inspector allegedly said that construction conformed with the zoning law. Daaleman said that he then asked for an investigation and found that it was not in accordance by being too far over towards the residential area.

The Elmora Playground is behind the Elmora Theater. Daaleman said that the city had paid $100,000 for the project which should have been finished in one year. He said that he investigated this and "discovered that the architect had put a faulty design on the project," causing flooding problems. The playground was completed after Daaleman "caused the city to finish," he added. He also said that when he came onto the council, city officials were going to give additional money to the architect, which he stopped them from doing.

"In my three and a half years on the council, events have been stormy, but I feel they

Mountainside goes 'free'

Taxation factor in '95 separation vote

By JANICE ADLER
(This is the second article of a series dealing with the history of Mountainside.)
The day had arrived. It was Sept. 24, 1895. Residents in the northern part of Westfield were holding a special election to see if they wanted to form a separate borough. The decision was overwhelmingly in favor of forming a new town—the Borough of Mountainside. Developments for forming a separate town began on July 16, 1895, when a resolution was adopted "to organize a Borough in the northern part of Westfield Township, to contain not more than four square miles, to include Locust Grove, Branch Mills, and Baltusrol, said borough to be known as the Borough of Mountainside."

According to the resolution, the northern part of Westfield was being taxed for a fire department and lighting which had never served that part of town. In addition, Westfield was starting to install sewers and wanted to bond the township. Residents in the northern part felt that they had never benefited, nor ever would benefit, from improvements in the village. In their opinion, it was an injustice to pay for improvements that were so remote from their area.

To their way of thinking, the drain of money for village improvements in Westfield could never reach or be useful to the northern part. A pamphlet stated that the area receives "more benefit from the improvements of Fanwood, Scotch Plains, New Providence, Glenside, Summit and Springfield, for these places are nearer to most of us than the village of Westfield."

The matter of a trolley was irksome. Residents in the areas of Locust Grove, Branch Mills and Baltusrol felt that the village never would let a trolley go through their section. In their opinion, the village thought it would draw population to the northern part of town. They were optimistic that the trolley eventually would go through and connect them with Newark and New York. It never did come.

MISS MARIETA PARKHURST, 80, of 102 Mill lane was born in Mountainside when the borough still was part of Westfield. She remembers hearing complaints when she was five years' old about having to pay for lights and other things in Westfield and people in her area, Branch Mills, getting no benefit from them.

Mrs. George Roll Robbins, 89, of 1000 E. Mountain ave. was born in 1881 in the same house where her father had been born and where she now lives with her niece and nephew. Her father, John B. Roll, was one of the new borough's first councilmen after it was incorporated on Oct. 22, 1895.

Mrs. Robbins also remembers when the split occurred. The first meeting to bring about the separation was held at the house of William Miller who represented Branch Mills, the area on the east side of town including Echo Lake, in the preliminary talks. Other representatives were Charles Bidgley of Baltusrol, the present Baltusrol Top, and Joseph W. Cory of Locust Grove, the western part of town around New Providence road. Cory became the new borough's first mayor.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Robbins, everyone was agitated about the northern part of Westfield having to help with expenses for the village. A large part of this northern area consisted of farms, and the village had lights and other improvements that did not extend that far. Once Mountainside became a separate entity, she said, taxes were not as high as they had previously been.

5 are arrested in two incidents early Saturday

Five persons were arrested in two incidents Saturday morning by Mountainside police. Patrolmen Herman Hafeken and Steve Semancik were involved in both cases.

Anthony Iadanza, of Summit, and Alphonse Vitale of Elizabeth, both 24 years old, were charged with failing to give a good account of themselves. The patrolmen were investigating an accident on Rt. 22-East in front of Hill and Fuhs' at about 2:30 a.m., when Hafeken noticed a car, occupied by two men, going east past the accident in the fast lane at a slow speed. The car's driver hit his brakes when he was about 500 feet past and made a right turn into the New Providence road turn-around, the report said.

After completing investigation of the accident, Hafeken said he saw the same vehicle pull out of the turn-around with its lights off, heading east on the highway. The patrolmen thought something was wrong, took off after the car and caught up with it near the underpass to Mountain avenue by the Springfield line.

The patrolmen said the car's trunk was open and they could see what appeared to be an office machine. The vehicle finally stopped at the Sheffield street turn-around where Semancik reportedly recognized Iadanza. As the police car pulled behind the other car,

Jubilee to feature industrial exhibit, art works, games

The Mountainside Diamond Jubilee Fair on Sept. 26 will feature an industrial exhibit, an art exhibit, adult games and a costume contest.

"The industrial exhibit, featuring local companies, came as a result of borough residents who want to learn more about their local industries," according to Matthew Powers, chairman of the Jubilee committee. He said that the presentation "is considered to be of value to both adults and children. It has appeal from the standpoint of education and interest."

Industries which will present displays include the Palmat Company, a division of TRW, which manufactures about 1,200 varieties of specialized nuts; the Kodak Company, a leader in the field of photography, and Multhead Inc., a manufacturer of facsimile equipment. Public Service will present a display on garden lighting and the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company said it will put a presentation, Powers said.

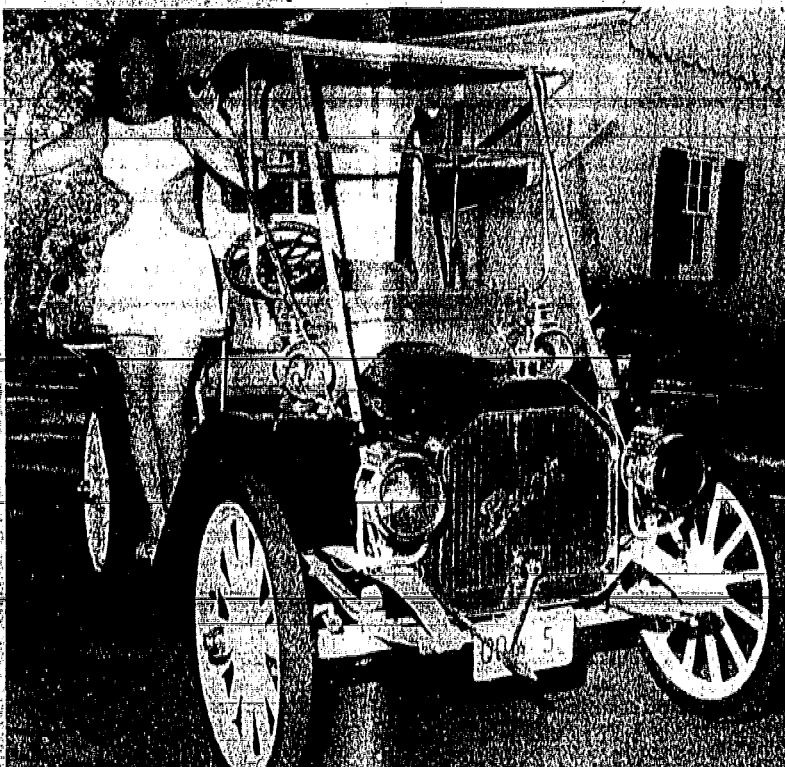

Industries that are interested in participating can call Powers at 232-0065 or write him at Borough Hall.

An art exhibit will display works by local artists and craftsmen. Mrs. Penny Ginn, local artist and art instructor, is in charge. Mrs. Ginn requested that the artists be present at the exhibit. Attendees will be there if they cannot attend she added.

Anyone interested in displaying his works should send his name, address and telephone number to Mrs. Ginn at 1178 Foothill way, call her at 232-2482 or contact Powers at 232-4929.

Adult games will be conducted by Blue Star Post 386, American Legion, which will award prizes to contestants. They will continue throughout the day. The Legion will present prizes for the best male and female costume of the past era, a spokesman said.

Mountainside plans Diamond Jubilee Parade, picnic and fair to be held Sept. 26

Mountainside's Diamond Jubilee, commemorating the borough's 75 years of existence, will begin on Saturday, Sept. 26, with a parade and picnic-fair.

The parade, with the theme "Then and Now," will assemble at the Beechwood School at 11 a.m. and will proceed to the fair grounds. The route will be published later.

The picnic-fair will start at noon on the combined grounds of Our Lady of Lourdes and the Deerfield School. Plans include rides for children, games, contests, musical entertainment, displays, beer, soda, food and, according to Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, "a holiday atmosphere at reasonable prices."

Antique cars, motorcycles, police cars, fire engines, decorated bicycles, tandems, open convertibles carrying former mayors and other dignitaries of Mountainside, a horse and buggy and costumed horse-back riders will participate in the parade. Marchers will include members of the Scouts, Little League, men and women dressed in "Gay Nineties" costumes and marching band.

Mrs. Morton Reich and Mrs. Robert Hose are parade chairmen. Parade committee members are Herb Seidel, Walter Degenhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Suckno, Howard Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Maas, Mrs. Arthur Olson, Mrs. Bruce Getger and Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Weller.

"We hope many Mountainside residents will take part in this parade in whichever category applies or appeals to them," Mrs. Hose said. Mrs. Reich added, "This is going to be a rousing, rip-roaring, old-fashioned parade and we need spectators as well as participants."

Anyone who wants to join the parade or get further information may call either Mrs. Reich at 232-1844 or Mrs. Hose at 232-8609.

Margolis speaks at JNF meeting

Benjamin Margolis, principal of the religious school at Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will address the 29th annual conference of the Jewish National Fund, on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, at Saltz Hotel, Mount Freedom. The subject, "JNF within the Congregation," deals with the work which congregations could perform in behalf of the Jewish National Fund. The conference opens on Friday, Sept. 11, and closes Sunday, Sept. 13.

Jewish National Fund was founded in 1901 to purchase land in what was then Palestine for development by Jewish pioneers imbued with the dream of a resurrected state of Israel. Since the proclamation of the state, JNF has adapted its program to coincide with the requirements of the country. Its revised objectives feature afforestation, road building and erection of settlements in strategic areas and along dangerous borders. These settlements provide defense against marauders from hostile neighboring states. This year, JNF planted its one hundred millionth tree in Israel.

Local members of the state-wide conference committee are Wallace Callen and Howard Kiesel, Springfield.

Harry Seaman dies at 47; official at Bell Laboratories

Memorial services were held Friday for Harry E. Seaman, 47, of 292 Timberline rd., Mountainside, who died last week in St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston.

Mr. Seaman was a supervisor in the engineering information department at Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill. He joined Bell in 1940 as a draftsman in the commercial products department. Five years later he began working on defense systems and was made drafting supervisor in 1958. During World War II he served in the Army Signal Corps as a technician.

Mr. Seaman, who worked on the design of equipment for the Telstar-Satellite communications system, started work in 1964 in charge of a group concentrating on technique illustrations, photo retouching, visual aids and drawings for publications.

He was a charter member of Community Presbyterian Church in Mountainside and served as chairman of the church's board of trustees. He also was a deacon and elder of the church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jean Stewart Seaman; a son, Daniel A., at home; a daughter, Mrs. Gerald A. Pike of Red Bank. Arrangements were completed by Smith and Smith, 415 Morris ave., Springfield.

Caprio appointed to advisory board

August Caprio of 12 Berkeley rd., Springfield, has been named to the advisory board of Springfield State Bank. The board is composed of business and community leaders in Springfield and Mountainside, communities served by the bank, which opened earlier this year at Hillside Avenue at Route 22.

Caprio, coordinator of foreign languages in the Union County Regional School System, is a former president of the Springfield Board of Education.

He also has served as president of the Springfield Lions Club and the Union County School Boards Association. Caprio is also a member of the National Federation of Foreign Language Teachers Association, the New Jersey Foreign Language Teachers Association and the Columbia University Alumni Association.

He and his wife Ida are the parents of two grown children.

MODERNIZATION WITH IMAGINATION

Deadline nears for art show

The deadline for artists to submit forms and fees for exhibition space in the Art at the Mall in Short Hills is Friday, Sept. 18. The show will be held Sept. 26 and 27, from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The show is open to all artists. Show fencing will be erected and artists may hang as much art as their space allows. Sculptors must provide their own stands. No crafts will be accepted for entry.

Judging and presentation of awards will take place Sept. 27. Awards will be made at 4 p.m. The judges are Sam Miller, director, Newark Museum; Al Kochka, state consultant on art education, Trenton; and Dr. Lee Hall, chairman, art department, Drew University.

Awards will be made in oil, watercolor, graphics, mixed media, sculpture. In each category the prizes are, $100, $60 and $40; honorable mention awards are three-year subscription to New Jersey Music and Arts Magazine. The grand prize will be a nine-day cruise to San Juan and St. Thomas, provided by Thomas Cook & Son on the Mall. Overlapping the art show will be a cruise show in the Short Hills Room, Sept. 24 through 26.

Inquiries may be directed to the promotion office at the Mall at Short Hills. The show is co-sponsored by the Merchants Association at the Mall and the New Jersey Magazine of Music and Art.

Fall program set by Pioneer Girls

The Pioneer Girls of the Mountainside Chapel, Rt. 22, Mountainside, will begin their fall program Monday, Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. at the chapel.

All girls in the community, grades 2 through 12, are welcome to attend. Clubs are divided into: Pilgrims, grades 3-6; Colonists (7-9) and Explorers (10-12).

"The purpose of Pioneer Girls is to train them for Christian leadership and service; to develop in girls well rounded lives and gracious Christ centered personalities," a spokesman said.

"Girls are taught to search the Bible and find God's answer to life's problems. They discover the thrill of exploring God's Word for themselves and establish habits of personal Bible study.

"A girl's need for adventure and creative expression is met through crafts, games, service projects, outdoor life, music, vocational and home-making preparation.

"Girls are given opportunity to share in leadership responsibility by planning devotions, club programs and special outings as well as taking part in discussions and activities.

Adult education gearing up with 245 course-power

The adult school program in the Union County Regional High School District is continuing to receive a "C" rating from the residents - Great!

And, the fall term is expected to be even greater, according to Harry E. Linkin, director of adult education, who said this week that over 245 courses are being offered in the continuing education program sponsored by the Regional Board of Education.

Classes will begin during the week of October 5 at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, and at the Lincoln School in Garwood.

Brochures detailing the courses being offered, together with registration information, are being mailed to every resident in the Regional District which comprises Berkley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield.

Linkin said some of the new courses being offered include oceanography, advanced computing systems fundamentals, creative writing and home nursing classes, among others.

Interested persons may register for courses by mail by using the registration form on the back of the brochure, or in person at the nearest regional high school or the Lincoln School, on Tuesday, Sept. 22 and Wednesday, Sept. 23 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Additional information about the adult school program may be obtained by calling the Adult School office at 376-6300 during the business day or 756-8811 at all other times.

Man is held as shoplifter

Ralph Guiditta of Westfield was arrested Friday by Springfield police. He was charged with shoplifting and using offensive and profane language. According to reports, Guiditta was observed taking an unidentified item at the Channel Lumber Co. on Rt. 22. The security officer followed him and confronted him outside the store. As the officer approached him, Guiditta allegedly began to get abusive, the report said.

Charlie McBrice Jr. of Union was arrested and charged with contempt of court when he failed to appear on a summons for driving a non-registered vehicle. He was picked up in Union and turned over to Springfield police after Union police found out that a warrant had been issued, police said.

William M. Harris of Jersey City was charged with larceny by police. He was arrested last Wednesday after allegedly stealing a case of cigarettes from the Acme at Echo Plaza. He was released on bail.

John J. Ciabattari of Basking Ridge was arrested Sunday and charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was released on bail.

Introducing the 5³/₄% Blue Chip Passbook

First New Jersey Bank gives you 5³/₄% interest per year (5.92% annual yield) plus a passbook. And the 5³/₄% is guaranteed for two to five years—depending upon the maturity date you select.

Select a maturity date that suits you: from two to five years. Your money earns a full 5³/₄%, compounded daily and credited quarterly, to yield an effective annual return of 5.92%. The interest rate is guaranteed until the maturity date you specify—up to 5 full years!

You can open a Blue Chip Passbook Account for as little as $500. And you can make additional deposits of $50 or more anytime up to two years before its maturity date. But no withdrawals before maturity.

Two Interest-Payment Plans

One. The current interest-payment plan. Each quarter we'll pay you the interest in person. Mail you a check. Or we'll put it in your checking or other savings account at First New Jersey. Or you can simply leave the interest in your Blue Chip Passbook to grow and grow. It's your choice.

Two. The deferred interest-payment plan. This plan defers the receipt of interest to the maturity date you select. And, according to our tax counsel, you can defer your income taxes on it until then. Great for retirement or years when you figure you may be in a lower tax bracket.

Both interest payment plans have their advantages... you pick the one that's best for you.

Systematic Saver Service

If you like, you may make deposits to your Blue Chip Passbook automatically through our Systematic Saver Service, with a minimum monthly transfer of $50 from your First New Jersey regular checking account until two years before the maturity date.

Also available... First New Jersey's 5% annual "Golden" Passbook Investment Account. Initial deposit of $500 and 90-day withdrawal privileges.

Crilly is appointed Lundy campaign's local coordinator

A network of municipal coordinators has been established to promote the candidacy of Daniel F. Lundy for Congress in the Twelfth District.

John Crilly has been designated municipal coordinator for Mountaineer. The coordinator in each town will arrange literature distribution and will keep the local press informed of Lundy activities in the area.

Alan Goldstein, Union County coordinator, said, "All of our municipal coordinators are serving on behalf of Dan Lundy's candidacy. The election of Lundy to Congress would mark a step towards dynamic and innovative leadership in our district."

Lundy, an attorney specializing in federal tax law, served as a corporate executive with Merck and Co. since 1964. He has been a member of the cost of government committee, New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, 1968-1970, and was president of the Community Development Corporation of Westfield 1968-1970. Lundy served as a trustee of the Union County Anti-Poverty Council in 1967. He resides with his family in Westfield.

Arrests

the driver allegedly went to the rear and slammed the trunk closed.

The officers then ordered the other occupant to get out of the car and they allegedly saw a second machine on the floor of the front passenger side. According to reports, Ladanza and Vitale gave conflicting reports about where they got the machines and where they were going.

In the other incident, Thomas Kennedy, Anthony Kelley and Isiah McDaniel, all of Newark, were all charged with possession of a stolen automobile and possession of stolen business machines, according to reports.

Two men came into police headquarters around 4:15 a.m. and said they were out of gas in front of the fire house. Hafeken took a gallon from the police gas pump to bring to their vehicle.

As he was pouring the gas into the tank, a third man came out from the side of the fire house. Hafeken allegedly saw several types of office machines on the rear seat and called for assistance.

Semanick and Det. Sgt. Walter Beyeman came. The three men allegedly could neither show identification nor proof of ownership for the machines. They then were placed under arrest and searched, the report said.

During the search police allegedly found a check payable to a Newark woman, and two credit cards in her name on one of the men. They then checked with the woman who told police that the items were stolen from her by two men, the report said.

A New Jersey driver's permit reportedly was found on the second man as well as a birth certificate giving another name. The man allegedly admitted falsifying his driver's license application. Nothing was found on the third man, the report said.

Upon checking, police discovered that the car had been reported stolen to Newark police. The machines allegedly were stolen during a break and entry in Green Brook.

Democratic candidates rap 'outside forces' for changes

Speaking before more than 250 persons who turned out for a fund raising cocktail party held last Saturday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Noe, the Democratic candidates for the Mountaineer Regional Council, John H. Palmer Jr. and Robert H. Jaffe, declared the challenges of the '70s will require a new type of representative on the council.

According to Palmer and Jaffe, the main question for the voters in November will be which candidates are best qualified "to meet and defeat outside forces seeking to change and destroy our green and pleasant Mountaineer."

Palmer, making his third bid for the Borough Council, opened the speechmaking by stressing the benefits of the two-party system. He stated that many improvements in borough services, including the recent expansion of youth recreation, found their origin in Democratic Party platforms.

Palmer expressed his appreciation for the support that resulted in his receiving more votes in 1969 than any other Democratic candidate for Borough Council in Mountaineer history.

Calling for increased debate among "involved citizens of Mountaineer," he declared that more involvement in community affairs would be required on the part of all citizens if "we are to successfully meet the different kind of challenges that will be facing Mountaineer in the 1970s."

History

hurst, was mayor from 1902 until 1906, tells how Echo Lake got its name. Three of her cousins used to go ice-skating on the lake during the winter and noticed that a sharp echo could be heard around the western end of the lake. The would go to a knoll and call back and forth to hear the reverberations. They eventually decided that the name Echo Lake would be appropriate, she said.

Mrs. Robbins also remembers hearing echoes at the end of the lake when she used to skate there. The upper loker, which is made, was created after the Union County Park Commission took over in 1924.

William Winckler, 89, of 381 Central ave. moved to Mountaineer in September, 1919 when the population was under 600 persons. He served as recorder (magistrate) from 1921 to 1924, 1927 to July 1930, in April of 1944 and was reappointed in 1945.

Winckler tells of an incident in 1924 while George Boyton was chief of police. He recalls that police were checking cars that were driving through town and stopped a chauffeur-driven car because it had no tail lights. The owner told officials that he intended to have it fixed, but Winckler, who was the recorder, told him he had to do this before he continued on his way. Winckler said the man appeared surprised because he had driven through several small towns and no one else had stopped him. The man turned out to be the head of the division of motor vehicles and had just come up from Trenton, Winckler adds.

WHILE WINCKLER was serving as judge, an incident occurred in Mountaineer that was reported in the New York papers. Three men got drunk and knocked down a post on someone's porch. They were brought into court and threatened the recorder by telling him that he would "sweat blood" for fining them. Winckler told them that, because of this, he would issue a more serious indictment.

That same night one of the men came and told Winckler that he would "lick the police department." They then were sentenced to jail. Winckler said that one of the men spit in his face so he "turned around and whacked him one." A doctor then had to be called to treat the defendant.

Shopping was a feat. Before Mountaineer broke away from Westfield, residents from the local area either had to go to the village or out of town. Miss Parkhurst does not remember any stores in Mountaineer when she was a child.

The first grocery store in the borough was owned by William Schoonover and was located at the present entrance to Echo Lake Park. It was in connection with the grist mill run by Aaron Parkhurst at the place where the dam now is. Harry Blivise bought the store in 1914 and moved it to where his family's liquor store is located at the intersection of Rt. 22 and Mountain avenue.

Mrs. Schoonover was the town's first postmaster after the borough was incorporated; the postoffice was in their store. Mail was brought up from Westfield and then distributed. Before the separation there was a small post office on Mountain avenue just off Summit road. The present Mountaineer post office is a subsidiary of the Westfield office.

MRS. ROBBINS and Miss Parkhurst say that there used to be very severe snowstorms, much worse than they are now. Snow would drift and get so deep that everything became paralyzed. Miss Parkhurst said that snow once got so deep that her brother had to leave his vehicle on what now is Rt. 22 and straddle the fence along Mill lane to get home.

The highway would become a one-way street, Miss Parkhurst recalls, and cut-outs had to be dug so that vehicles could pass those that were stranded. Mrs. Robbins said that all men in the borough would come out and shovel so that supplies could get through. Originally, the men had to obtain permits to do this, but eventually they just out and shoveled as soon as it stopped snowing, she said.

Miss Parkhurst says there once was a heavy thunderstorm and the valley flooded. Water came up to Mill lane from where the brook is that leads into Echo Lake. Their house is on a slight rise and her family was afraid that it might come up to their house. Her sister, she said, urged the family to flee to the mountains for safety, but the water did not reach the house.

Seton Hall offers five new courses in Black Studies

Seton Hall University's newly established Center of Black Studies will offer courses with the opening of the fall semester according to Dr. George Jackson, director.

The Psychology of Black Experiences will be presented at 1 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and will carry undergraduate credit. Another undergraduate offering, Afro-American Literature, will be offered Tuesdays at 4 p.m.

A special Saturday class, Black Philosophy, will be presented at 10 a.m., for undergraduate credit and, according to Dr. Jackson, should have appeal to members of the community at large who do not necessarily wish to take it for academic credit.

Introduction to Black Studies will carry graduate credit and will be held on Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. Another graduate course on the same evening at 8:30, Politics and the Black Revolution, is a seminar which will offer students an opportunity to discuss basic political issues related to the black struggle. This course will utilize many knowledgeable guest speakers.

Persons desiring information on specific courses may contact Dr. Jackson at the Center for Black Studies on Seton Hall's South Orange campus.

Innovation program begins third year with 100 projects

The teacher innovation (mini-grant) program, designed by the State Department of Education to encourage creative and innovative teaching in New Jersey, enters its third year this fall funding its third group of some 100 projects.

The state legislature has appropriated $100,000 to extend the program into the 1970-71 school year. In the program, individual projects aimed at trying out new methods of instruction are awarded up to $1,000.

More than 600 applications, an increase of 200 over each of the previous two years of the program, have been received by the department, according to Joseph F. Conerton, coordinator of the mini-grant program in the department's Division of Curriculum and Instruction. He said that the recipients of the grants for 1970-71 will be announced in time for the projects to start at the beginning of the school year.

All teaching personnel under the direction of local boards of education in the public schools of New Jersey are eligible for the program. This includes not only classroom teachers, but also other personnel who have direct contact with students, such as speech correctionists, learning disability specialists and guidance counselors.

The program began in 1968 when some 400 projects were submitted for approval and 108 were approved and funded by the department. Last year, 100 grants were awarded for the school year and nine additional projects in the teaching of reading were funded last spring.

13 school districts pilot improvement program

The State Department of Education's newly-designed plan to help local school systems improve their educational programs will be launched during the coming school year in 13 school districts.

The department plan, which will be undertaken on a pilot basis in the 13 districts, is designed to help a district assess its needs and to provide follow-up services to bring about improvement. A cadre of some 300 educators from throughout the state has been assembled by the department to serve as field consultants on department teams which will work with the districts on the self-improvement program.

The districts that will pilot the program in 1970-71 are: South Orange-Maplewood, Monroe Township, East Brunswick Township, Metuchen, East Hanover Township, Florham Park, Hanover Park Regional, Hanover Township, Brick Township, West Milford, Alloway Township, Woodstown-Pilesgrove Regional and Upper Pilesgrove Township.

In carrying out the program, a district initially will conduct a self-study of its entire school system, after which a visiting team will review the study and provide expert help in the determination of needs. A follow-up team then will work with the district to produce improvement.

Each team will be headed by a staff member of the department's Division of Curriculum and Instruction and will include members of the cadre of field consultants. The cadre is made up of educators with expertise in 12 separate subject or program areas. For each area, there are approximately 25 educators, including teachers, supervisors, administrators and college personnel. Orientation meetings for the members of the cadre were held by the department in June and further orientation and training programs will be held this fall.

AS THE NEW PLAN is implemented during the coming year, the 13 pilot districts will make use of guides prepared by the Division of Curriculum and Instruction. They include "A Guide for Conducting an Elementary School Self-Improvement Study," which was piloted in the last school year in 15 elementary schools throughout the state, and "Guidelines for Self-Study of Secondary Schools," currently in use as part of the state approval program for secondary schools.

The department is developing other guides for use by the local district to study the activities and needs of the superintendent, central administrative services and business offices.

In working with the 13 pilot districts, the department plans to group three districts in Salem County and four in Morris County into joint projects. The Alloway and Upper Pilesgrove districts, which operate only elementary schools, will be grouped with the Woodstown-Pilesgrove Regional district since it operates the high school for all three districts. Likewise, East Hanover, Florham Park

Dr. Proctor to speak at graduation Sept. 13

Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor, former president of Virginia Union University and North Carolina A & T State University and a former Peace Corps administrator, will be the guest speaker at Rider College's summer commencement exercises Sept. 13.

Now professor of education in the Graduate School of Education at Rutgers University, Dr. Proctor also will receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree during the ceremonies.

BOARD MEMBERS

The New Jersey State Board of Education has 12 members who are appointed by the governor. Not more than one member can be from any one county and at least three members must be women. The members serve without pay.

Thursday, September 3, 1970-and Hanover Township, all elementary districts, will be grouped with the Hanover Park Regional district, which operates high schools for all four districts. Such groupings will afford a look at the entire K-12 program for all the schools involved.

A one-year moratorium has been placed on the department's regular secondary school approval visits in order to place major efforts on the district-wide self-improvement program. Only new secondary schools and those with limited approvals will be visited in the regular schedule for 1970-71.

Ice skating is fun for all

Ice skating has become the "true family fun thing to do," according to famed skating star and teacher Ralph Evans, whose schools in Short Hills and Westfield are now accepting registrations for the coming fall term.

"This year, more than ever before, everyone in the family is signing up for family fun," Evans noted, "with adults and youngsters alike realizing that ice skating is relaxing, healthy and — above all — the greatest of fun."

Classes for skaters of all skills and age categories will begin in September, according to the world renowned ice skating star, who personally supervises the curriculum at his schools. He announced that many more classes will be scheduled for the coming semester "to accommodate an anticipated heavy increase in registration and to provide as much individual attention as possible for the youngsters and grownups who attend."

Evans said families and individuals can register at both school offices, located at 704 Morris Turnpike, Short Hills, Morris tpk., Short Hills, and 215 North Ave., West, Westfield, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4 to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The "Evans Method" is used exclusively at the schools and has been internationally acclaimed as the finest, fastest and most fun-filled way of teaching students of all ages how to skate and improve their skills.

"This semester," Evans said, "we have added some teaching techniques and refinements that place even more emphasis on the enjoyment aspects of ice skating. In addition, we are using some Olympic training ideas to sharpen up and improve our more competitive skaters."

All schools offer beginning, intermediate and advanced courses for pre-school children, pre-teens, teenagers and adults. Ladies daytime classes and special courses in the evening for adult couples are among the much-in-demand specialties included in the curriculum.

In addition to the regular class sessions, free practice skating is provided for all students as well as weekly fun fests for the entire school.

Evans, a top professional with the leading ice revues before he established his schools, has enlisted many other professional stars to teach his world famous "Evans Method." The emphasis is on "fun while learning" and many Evans students have gone on to professional careers, including a group of local youngsters who starred on Broadway and toured across-country a few years ago in "Pickwick."

Both schools offer ample free parking and family plans are available at reduced fees.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day is more than just a day of rest ... it is a day of tribute to the men and women who are united together in the working forces of America. We can be proud of this country of ours, and the dedication that has given it greatness. Labor is the backbone of our nation the forerunner of progress and invention, the provider. Let us sit back for a moment on this day and enjoy the fruits of our labor, and celebrate the great strides our country has made in all fields. Labor Day is a day of thanksgiving to all workers, for it is they who have shown America prosperity.

Wine lovers group will be organized

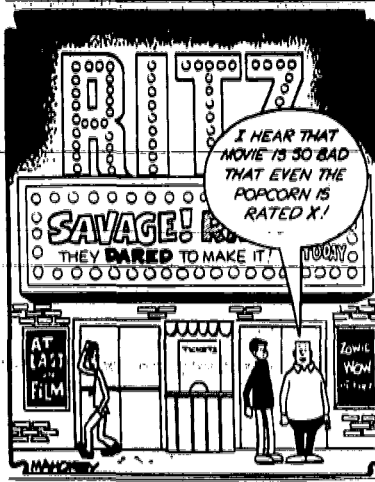

Sandy Marcus of the Wine Shop of Summit announced this week that he has been authorized to organize a New Jersey chapter of Les Amis du Vin, a national wine organization with chapters in 18 states. Its purpose is to educate the public in the field of wines and food.

Four wine tastings and one dinner are held annually. A non-profit organization, Les Amis du Vin also offers banquet-wines of the month and a free wine magazine from London, a bi-monthly newspaper about wine and literature from the vineyards. Membership is $10 a year and applications are available at The Wine Shop, 355 Springfield Ave., Summit.

The club is conducting an Air France 10-day chartered tour on April 23, 1971, New York-Paris-Lyon, returning from Paris to New York and covering vineyards, wineries, famous gourmet restaurants and historical countryside France.

STATE BOARD MEETING
The State Board of Education will hold its next meeting Tuesday, Sept. 8, in the board room of the Education Building, 225 W. State St., Trenton. The board usually meets on the first Wednesday of the month.

Upsala unveils new center as school year opens

A new $1.4 million college center will open at Upsala College, East Orange, in September as approximately 400 freshmen join 1,000 other students for the opening of the fall semester at the private liberal-arts college.

The three-floor center, under construction for more than a year, will be the focal point for many campus activities. The dining room, overlooking the campus, will be situated on the top floor. Several large lounge areas, a TV room and campus information center will be on the main floor and the basement will house game-room facilities. The air-conditioned structure, totaling 30,000 square feet, is situated on Prospect street.

While the center will be opened in September, it will not be formally dedicated until ceremonies on the morning of Saturday, Oct. 24, which is Homecoming Day at Upsala. Activities for the fall semester will commence on Wednesday, Sept. 9, the start of freshman orientation week. Scheduled are a program for parents of freshmen on Sept. 9, a concert by "Your Father's Mustache" on Sept. 10, registration and a cruise around Manhattan Island on Sept. 11 and a president's reception on Sept. 13.

Represented in the new freshman class are students from 15 states, from as far west as California and from Puerto Rico, Japan, Hong Kong and Israel.

Registration for upperclassmen will take place on Thursday, Sept. 10. Classes will convene on Sept. 14.

Another change on the campus scene will be the use of a building formerly occupied by the Central Baptist Church for Upsala's Fine Arts department. The building, situated at Norman and Prospect streets, totals 7,500 square feet.

The Fine Arts department formerly was housed at Springdale Hall which has been converted to a dormitory for 12 undergraduate coeds. Three houses on campus will also be used by resident students for the first time. The additional facilities were required because of a 10 per cent increase in the number of resident students this year.

During the summer, renovations were made to a major portion of the halls of residence including the erection of two-and-three-room suites, combining study rooms and adjoining bedrooms, expansion of the general lounge and semi-public study areas and installation of wall-to-wall carpeting in all hallways. Registration for Upsala's evening sessions will take place on Sept. 9 with classes beginning on Sept. 14.

One of the new features of the evening sessions will be an Institute of Insurance Education highlighting courses for individuals with some insurance experience who are working for insurance corporations, agencies and insurance departments of other organizations and schools.

The annual president's convocation, at which approximately 80 students will be graduated, will take place at 11 a.m. on Sept. 15. Carrying out a policy established last year in recognition of the student's role in education, Dr. Carl Fjellman, president of Upsala, and Arthur Anderson, president of the Student Senate, will share the podium and will deliver remarks.

Pick judges for award

The 16th annual winner of "The Realtor of the Year" Award, co-sponsored by the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards and the Franklin Capital Corp., Inc., Newark, will be selected by a panel of judges, according to the association's President Thad S. Cwik of Flemington. Judges for this year's award will be Thomas C. Butler, president, New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce; Walter W. Hislop, president, New Jersey Taxpayers' Association; and Mrs. George F. Weinheimer Jr., president, New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The 39 local board winners throughout the state and past award winners will be guests of honor at the Thursday, Dec. 10, luncheon to be held at the 54th annual convention of the association at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City.

Disabled vets' wives get help

Paul M. Nugent, director of the New Jersey Veterans Administration Regional Office in Newark, said this week that wives of veterans who have been determined by the VA to be permanently and severely disabled may pursue approved courses of education and training for as long as 36 months.

Monthly payments range from $175 for full-time pursuits and proportionate amounts for less than full time.

Widows and orphaned children of veterans who died in service or as the result of service connected disabilities are also eligible to participate under the same conditions, Nugent said.

Auxiliary to hold tea for mothers

The Mothers Auxiliary of Seton Hall Preparatory School, South Orange, will honor the mothers of this year's freshman class with a tea in the school library on Sunday, Sept. 20, at 3 p.m. Rev. William M. Giblin, headmaster, will welcome the mothers. He will be joined by members of the faculty and officers of the auxiliary.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Thomas Panullo of West Orange, president, Mrs. Neil Mazzocchi of Newark, immediate past president, and Mrs. William Gardner of South Orange, chairman of the tea.

French visitor loves American cuisine
He's guest of Lions official in Mountainside

Vincent Monchevett will be packing as much living as possible into the next few weeks. And he's learning fast that he has a giant ready-made family in north Jersey more than anxious to help him.

Vincent arrived last Friday from his home in Lyon, France, to be the houseguest until Sept. 27 of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klumpp of 1137 Saddle Brook rd., Mountainside.

Klumpp is the governor of District 16E of Lions International and this is the first time the district, which takes in Union, Essex, Morris and Warren counties, has sponsored an exchange student in this country.

Lions International, however, has been sponsoring an exchange program since 1966. Vincent's visit here makes it about 2,569 the number of exchanges since the beginning of the program.

"We took him water skiing in the ocean off Asbury Park last weekend," Klumpp said, "and that's all he's been talking about since. He's very keen on water sports," he said.

The Klumpps also took Vincent to New York City. The highlight of that outing was a cruise around Manhattan.

The Klumpps next will take Vincent to Washington, D. C., for a few days in a week or so, but this week he's with a Lions Club family in Boston.

"There's plenty of Lions Club members eager to show him the sights," Klumpp said. "One in Livingston has a daughter working in the U.N. and she's going to give him a special guided tour when he comes back from Boston."

Vincent is a recent high school graduate. When he returns to his country he will enter college where he will take up business administration. But right now, Klumpp said, "he wants very much to study the American way of life."

"He loves American cooking," Klumpp said. "We've been having the same things we always have — nothing special — and he just loves it. And he also likes the mountains and all the trees and lawns in and around Mountainside," Mr. Klumpp said.

The only hurdle Vincent and the Klumpps have had to contend with is the language barrier. Vincent speaks only halting English and Mr. Klumpp makes sure everyone that talks to Vincent slows down so the handsome young visitor has a chance to understand.

But the enthusiasm of both parties has about wiped out any communication problem. "He's a very polite, very well-mannered boy," Klumpp said.

Vincent is the son of a magistrate and the grandson of Henry Martin, Lions International president in France.

Next year, the District 16E Lions hope to send their first American youth off to Europe.

At that time, simple things like just going shopping will be fascinating adventures, just like the adventures Vincent is packing into five weeks right now.

VISITOR FROM FRANCE — Henry Klumpp, Mountainside resident and governor of Lions International District 16E, welcomes Vincent Monchevett to United States upon his arrival here last Friday for five-week stay. This is first time district, which includes Union, Essex, Morris and Warren counties, has sponsored an exchange student, although Lions International program been in operation since 1962.

Editor gets board post

The Christian Science board of directors announced this week that Inman H. Douglass, C.S.B., will retire from the board Oct. 1 and will be succeeded by DeWitt John, C.S.B., of Boston.

John has been editor of The Christian Science Monitor since May 1964. He will be succeeded in that post by John Hughes, the Monitor's Pulitzer Prize-winning Far Eastern correspondent who was named managing editor in June.

For 20 years, Douglass has served the Christian Science Church in various capacities: Committee of publication for Texas, manager of the Washington, D.C., office of committee on publication, as a member of The Christian Science board of lectureship and as a director of The Mother Church. He is retiring to devote his full time to the teaching and practice of Christian Science in Dallas.

Square dance group opens season Sept. 19

"The Dancing Squares," a square dance group, will hold its first dance of the season on Sept. 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Bloomingdale School, Cranford. The public is welcome to attend.

Governor William T. Cahill has proclaimed Sept. 6 to 13 Square Dance Week in New Jersey. The week will be marked with square dance demonstrations and open houses.

Schizophrenia group to meet in Hackensack

The opening meeting of the Schizophrenia Foundation of New Jersey, a non-profit organization dedicated to helping mental patients suffering from schizophrenia, will take place at the United Methodist Church, Passaic street and Summit avenue, in Hackensack, Sunday, Sept. 13, at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public. C. David Geer will preside, and Dr. Carl C. Pfeiffer will speak on the recent meeting of the International College of Neuro-Psychopharmacology in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The Foundation has published a paperback book, "The Schizophrenias: Yours and Mine." More information about the Foundation and its work will be provided by Mrs. Ann Seidler, corresponding secretary, at 44 Lavalent ave., Irvington.

Operation MEDIHC will seek to keep corpsmen working

The Hospital Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey has been designated as the official coordinator of Operation MEDIHC in New Jersey. It was announced this week by Jack W. Owen, president of the trust.

MEDIHC—Military Experience Directed in Health Careers—serves medically trained military men and women seeking civilian health careers, education and employment opportunities. Operation MEDIHC is a cooperative effort of the Departments of Defense and Health, Education and Welfare to utilize the 30,000 medically trained servicemen and women leaving the armed forces annually. The Hospital Research and Educational Trust will assist these government agencies in retaining their services in the health field.

"Operation MEDIHC has great potential for alleviating the acute shortage of health personnel in New Jersey," Owen said.

The Hospital Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey will be notified of an individual's interest in remaining in the health field through the Regional Office of Health, Education and Welfare. The trust will provide a placement referral service and educational counseling to those interested in a New Jersey location. Initially, the trust will mail resumes on a regular basis to all members of the New Jersey Hospital Association.

"Operation MEDIHC" will be coordinated by Philip W. Morgan, vice-president of the Hospital Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey.

MEDIHC is now operating in 31 states.

Ask Amy

OLD MAGAZINES, ANYONE!
Dear Amy:
I remember as a kid we used to save the foil used to wrap cigarette packages to make huge balls or save small pieces of string, twine, thread, etc. again to make huge balls although no purpose was served by this. Now I have a wife who falls into the same category of nonsensical saving...only she saves old magazines. The drawers are full of them; the end tables are loaded and just recently she purchased a log carrier, yes, a log carrier to store these old mags.

"To what purpose this 'hobby' will serve her, I do not know, but I wish you could give me the answer, Amy, because my wife doesn't even know."

Help!
Dear Help:
If you two ever run short of ready cash, you could call in used newspaper dealer. They're paying great prices for bundles of old news!

Dear Amy:
I am writing this letter to you because I am at my wit's end. We've gone to a marriage counselor and tried pastors and friends and it has all done no good.

My husband never seems to understand my emotional needs. For instance, if I am trying my best to do something like gardening with him, he'll come up with a statement like "If it were your mother instead of me, you'd be counselor was good, continue to visit him on a regular basis and don't stop until you feel you have understood something. The first few years of married life can be a little rough at times. It takes time for two people to adjust and to get to know each other.

P.S. By the way, get off the tranquilizers and booze. On that combination there could be no tomorrow!

Please address all letters to:

Review classes forming for College Board tests

The College Review Center announced this week that it is now accepting registrations from high school students who wish to prepare for the College Board Examinations to be given in November and December. For the coming semester, the Center is again offering review courses on Wednesday and Friday afternoons as well as on Saturday mornings. Each course meets once a week, starting the last week in September.

The Center in Orange, now in its 14th year of operation, specializes in preparing students for the College Board examinations. The courses are designed to assist students in developing those skills, concepts and techniques needed for improving scores on both the verbal and mathematics aptitude tests. Registration forms and additional information about the courses may be obtained by calling 731-3995.

FAMILY POT LUCK
BY HELEN HALE

- For a soup that's different, cook 1 cup chopped fresh spinach in butter for 5 minutes. Blend in 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 soup can water, and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. Heat, stirring frequently. Makes 3 servings.
- Fish filets with shrimp sauce could bring compliments to the family chef. Place 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup in hot water until thawed (about 30 minutes). Arrange fish in shallow baking dish (10x16x2). Stir soup in can, pour over fish. Top with lemon slices. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Serves Four.
- If you're entertaining outdoors, you can let guests broil their own appetizers on hibachi or small grill. Have long wooden sausages threaded with Vienna sausages, square of buttered bread, bacon-wrapped ripe olive and a whole mushroom. Chill sauce spiked with horseradish is sharp for dipping.
- Sour Cream Date Pie: 1 cup dairy sour cream, 1 egg, beaten, 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 cup finely chopped pitted dates, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/4 teaspoon salt, unbaked pie shell and Pastry for one 9-inch lattice top. Combine filling ingredients and mix well. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Cover with lattice top and flute edges. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 10 minutes. Reduce temperature to slow oven, 325 degrees, and bake until filling is set and crust is lightly browned, about 30 minutes. Serve with unsweetened whipped cream. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Mrs. Dwyer has kind words for her youthful supporters

Mrs. FLORENCE P. DWYER (R 12th Dist.) with group at barbecue sponsored by the "Youth on the Go for Flo" committee. Guests from Union, Springfield, Essex and Mountairade, were among the people and children who attended.

A Sunday evening picnic at a residence in Scotch Plains honored about 50 young people who formed a political action group called "Youth on the Go for Flo" this summer to support Rep. Florence P. Dwyer's (R 12th Dist.) campaign for re-election.

"You've been immensely helpful," the representative told the students. "You've helped to change the image of student political activists, at least in our part of the world, by your willingness to work hard and constructively on projects that have benefited our community, and without sacrificing your ideals and your concern for such burning issues as the war, pollution and the need to re-order our priorities and make our efforts more effective."

"I'm proud you've found me worthy of your support and will continue to do everything to justify your confidence."

The congressman noted the group's public service projects, including cleaning city streets, washing cars, and the distribution of litter bags.

Co-chairman Ed Gardner of Scotch Plains responded for his associates by thanking Mrs. Dwyer "for the opportunity to participate in a political campaign and for being the kind of congressman concerned citizens - including young people - can wholeheartedly support."

"In thousands of contacts this summer with residents of Union and West Essex Counties, we have been delighted - and deeply impressed - with the warm and welcome response we've received," co-chairman Thomas Dentizio said. "People know you and your record. They trust you and are proud of you. So are we."

Nader to speak at Union College on Sept. 18

Ralph Nader, who is often referred to as "the champion of consumer rights and a man vitally concerned about our environment," will speak at Union College on Friday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m.

Nader, popular lecturer among college students who recently voted him the national leader they most respected, will speak in the gymnasium of the Campus Center at the Cranford campus.

Nader will be introduced by Robert L. Osborne of Elizabeth, acting president of the Day Student Council, which is sponsoring the consumer expert's visit. Admission will be free to all Union College students, and $1.50 to all others.

Nader will discuss environmental hazards which plague society every day - hazards which are man-made and which can be man-remediated.

Nader, a young attorney, first made national headlines in 1965 with the publication of "Unsafe at Any Speed," which charged the automobile industry with failing to insure safety in their products. This indictment prompted General Motors to attempt an investigation of Nader's private life, for which he recently won $425,000 in an out-of-court settlement.

Nader has immersed himself in other consumer issues. He has carried his "safety" campaign into all industries, charging that most manufacturers defy minimum safety standards in the protection of their personnel. Included in his consumer crusade are the sanitary issues in the meat and fish industry, the dangers of radiation over exposure in the course of medical and dental X-rays, gas-pipeline safety, and environmental hazards such as air and water pollution.

"There is something fundamentally wrong when the same government that allocates $200 million to subsidize supersonic flights, metes out only $46 million to protect the health of the nation," Nader said. "It is a great folly not to allocate resources and money to combat pollution of air, water and soil."

Lundy urges state to reject plea for railroad ticket boost

Daniel J. Lundy, Democratic congressional candidate in the Twelfth District, this week urged the New Jersey Department of Transportation to reject requests by commuter railroads in the state for increases in passenger fares.

"The burden of keeping our commuter trains and other means of mass transportation financially solvent must be placed upon the federal government, not the state, not the financially troubled railroads and certainly not the commuter," Lundy said.

He added, "If the federal government can subsidize pollution-ridden highways to a tune of $4.4 billion in fiscal 1970, the Congress can find sufficient funds for mass transportation needs."

"Cars," he said, "are the number one cause of air pollution in the United States and the only way that we are going to stop this contamination of our atmosphere and still provide adequate means of transportation is to develop better and more efficient mass transportation facilities."

Lundy said, "Increases in commuter fares will only discourage people from using mass transportation and will result in our highways becoming more crowded and our air becoming more polluted."

Lundy said he feels that the Congress has to act quickly to resolve the problem. He pointed to a recent proposal by Senator Harrison A. Williams which called for a $750 million appropriation over the next five years to subsidize the operating costs of mass transportation. He also cited the $3.1 billion authorization for capital grants in mass transportation to be spread out over five years recently approved by the Senate by a vote of 83-4.

"THIS AUTHORIZATION," Lundy said, "has not been acted upon by the House. Instead, it has been bottled up in the House, waiting for a rule to permit it to be brought onto the floor."

Lundy blamed the holdup on "those representatives in the House who have allowed the special interests, especially the automobile industry, to prevent its adoption." Mrs. Florence Dwyer, Lundy's Republican opponent, Lundy claimed, "has failed to provide any leadership in the area of mass transportation. Her lack of initiative in this most important field has been a serious threat to our future progress in mass transportation."

Volunteers needed to help teach blind

More workers are needed to help the blind as braille volunteers; and a new class will start at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23, at American Red Cross headquarters, 203 W. Jersey st., Elizabeth; to train people in this skill.

For the fifth consecutive year Mrs. Arthur F. Eichhorn of Elizabeth will instruct the class. Mrs. Eichhorn, who holds a braille instructor's certificate from the Library of Congress, advises two hours of "homework" daily, in addition to the weekly classes, to gain proficiency in this precise and exacting work.

The braille committee, sponsored by the Eastern Union County Red Cross Chapter and headed by Mrs. Thomas Cunningham of Union, transcribes books requested by the New Jersey Commission for the Blind, including textbooks in many subjects for blind students. The committee is made up of volunteers from the chapter area, which includes Hillside, Rahway, Clark, Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park, Union, Winfield and Elizabeth, as well as other North Jersey communities.

Social Security will aid half-million U.S. students

"More than seven million young Americans age 18 to 22 will return to classrooms this fall and Social Security benefit checks will be going along with more than 500,000 of them," Ralph W. Jones, social security district manager in Elizabeth, said this week.

"These 500,000 students receive cash Social Security payments totaling some $45 million each month," Jones said. "They are the dependent children of workers who have retired, died, or become severely disabled. Their student benefits continue until they turn 22 if they remain unmarried and in-school full time."

"As a matter of fact," Jones added, "Social Security benefits paid to students add up to more than the scholarships at all the colleges and universities in the country. If a student believes he may be eligible for benefits, he should apply at his nearest Social Security office. He will need to supply the following information: Name and address of the school, date of attendance during the past year (for any retroactive benefits), any student identification card, number of credit hours carried (for college, junior college, and university students), number of clock hours scheduled to attend (for high school or vocational school pupils), and date of return to school full time (if near the end of the current school year).

Drew adds three; opens on Tuesday

Drew University, Madison, will begin the academic year next Tuesday with three new administrators, one for the university and two in the College of Liberal Arts.

The university appointment is Robert C. Fisher, who will be director of development, reporting to Vice-President for University Relations Richard D. Cheshire. Most recently director of development at Rochester Institute of Technology, where he was graduated and has served in the alumni relations office, he has also worked for International Business Machines, Inc.

College of Liberal Arts Dean Richard J. Stonessifer has announced the appointment of a new associate dean of students and a director of instructional services in the College.

Mrs. Elynor J. Erickson will be associate dean of students, reporting to Dean of Students Alton Sawin Jr. Most recently dean of women at Southampton College of Long Island University, she is a graduate of the Massachusetts State College at Salem and holds the M.A. from Syracuse University.

Heymann urges drivers to watch out for children

Ronald M. Heymann, director of the N.J. Division of Motor Vehicles, said this week the automobile is rapidly becoming the leading killer of school age children. Heymann issued the statement in conjunction with the opening of New Jersey's public schools next week.

"Accidents take more lives in the 5 to 14-year-old category than any known disease. Annually more than 150 New Jersey children are killed in auto accidents," he said.

"As parents, we cringe at the thought of some disease or illness striking our children. We guardedly protect youngsters from falls, hot substances, suffocation, and numerous other dangers. However, we fail to treat our cars with the same fear and caution."

Statistics indicate that in over half the fatalities, children were struck while walking; in 15 percent of the cases, they were bicycling.

In the pre-school age category, car deaths are only second to drownings.

"Most communities have excellent fire prevention and water safety programs. Similar public awareness campaigns should be launched for auto safety," Heymann said.

HE LISTED several basic safety checks for drivers to follow when in residential or school areas.

Never enter your car without walking around it. One and two-year olds are frequently killed on the house side of the driveway while playing with pebbles, crawling in grass or across a sidewalk.

Check under your car. Young children don't know danger and frequently wander where least expected.

Throughout the fall, watch for children playing in piles of leaves. Every year, youngsters are crushed by automobiles while covered in leaf piles.

Keep an eye on older children who may unexpectedly dart into a line of traffic.

Within the household, take special care when children are hungry or tired, or when the family routine is altered. Child specialists report that some children are injured on days when meals are delayed. Spurred by hunger and fatigue, they forage around the area into dangerous situations.

We cannot launch a sustained 10-year drive for better housing when our efforts are cluttered every two or three years by tight money," he said.

Williams calls for policies to promote new housing starts

WASHINGTON—U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-NJ), calling the country's lack of housing "a national disgrace," this week urged monetary policies that will encourage more housing construction.

He pointed out the United States is lagging behind a number of other nations in providing badly needed new housing starts, and said part of the reason is that the housing industry is being forced to absorb an inordinate share of the impact of "tight money."

"In recent years," Williams said, "there has been much rhetoric about a missile gap or a space gap followed by huge expenditures for our military and space programs. Now that we have an overwhelming nuclear arsenal, and have won our race to the moon, it is time we focused our attention on the housing gap."

"I would like to see us engage in a race for better housing," he declared. "There is no reason why we should not devote to this area the same energy and talent which enabled us to win the race to the moon."

Williams warned, however, that "as a first step" ways must be found to solve the problems of instability in the availability of credit to finance housing construction and sales.

"We cannot launch a sustained 10-year drive for better housing when our efforts are cluttered every two or three years by tight money," he said.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yellin, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Somebody is sick. He is no longer functioning well. One knows this through a variety of signs and symptoms. Perhaps the person cannot get out of bed. The doctor is called, and after an examination diagnoses pneumonia, heart attack, or stroke. Transportation to the hospital is quickly arranged.

Now look at another person who is sick.

Perhaps he will not get out of bed even though there is no fever or other obvious symptom of physical illness. When approached, he is withdrawn or irritable. A puzzle or angry family member becomes concerned. Is the person lazy or crazy?

The doctor is called, and after examining the patient, finds no evidence of physical illness such as pneumonia, heart attack, or stroke. However, the patient is found to be emotionally disturbed. What happens then?

What happens then is a function of attitude and knowledge of both family and professional workers, plus available facilities in the community for management of the problem of mental illness. Put into other words, people and places determine in great measure the road to be followed by a mentally disturbed person.

What kinds of people come into contact with these situations? Almost always a family member or friend is involved. They in turn may look to others who traditionally render help. This is often the family doctor, a clergyman, or perhaps a teacher.

These and others, such as social and welfare workers, are the front line in the attack on the problem of mental illness. There are not now, and will not be in the foreseeable future, enough psychiatrists to manage directly all the cases of mental and emotional illnesses. What is apparent, then, is that the front-line "caretakers" in the community must become trained and skilled in meeting the problems of mental disorders.

It is also apparent that there must be sufficient accessible facilities and resources, also in the communities themselves, to provide the needed services and care for the prevention, treatment, management, and rehabilitation of the mentally ill.

Activity in programs toward achieving both these things is increasing throughout the country. General practitioners are receiving training in mental health and illness, both as medical students and through post-graduate seminars and training. Teachers, clergy, social workers, and many others who deal with humanity's problems are also getting mental health work training.

Amusement News

Getting Straight' being held over

"Getting Straight," an offbeat comedy starring Elliott Gould, continues at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood. A timely film, it also shows the style and wit of a notable filmmaker.

'Z' in final week at the Ormont

"Z," the Academy Award-winning film by Costa Gavras, is entering its eighth and final week at the Ormont Theater in East Orange. The movie is being replaced by "Fellini Satyricon," beginning this Wednesday.

"Z," a political thriller, documents the seizure of power of the Greek government by a military junta. The film stars Irene Pappas, Yves Montand, and Jean-Louis Trintignant and was adapted from a novel by Vassili Vassilikos. The film in French in color and dubbed in English.

"Fellini Satyricon" is an imaginative film which draws images from ancient Rome. The movie is primarily pictorial and has received mixed reviews, having been called bizarre, spectacular, and amusing. Among those appearing in the film are Martin Potter, Hiram Keller, and Capucine. "Fellini Satyricon" is in Italian, in color, with English titles.

John Wayne film opens at Mayfair

"Chisum," starring John Wayne, has opened for its first week at the Mayfair Theater, Hillside. It is playing with "Viva Maxi," a satire starring Peter Ustinov.

Ben Johnson and Forrest Tucker also star in "Chisum," which is set in New Mexico in the late 1800s during the Lincoln County cattle war. The picture is in color and was directed by Arthur Penzly.

"Viva Maxi" has an all-star cast including Pamela Tiffin, Jonathan Winters, Keenan Wynn and Alice Ghostly. The movie concerns a Mexican general, played by Ustinov, who tries to retake the Alamo and throws San Antonio into bedlam. Directed by Jerry Paris, it is also in color.

AT THE RIALTO — Walter Matthau and Barbra Streisand star in "Hello, Dolly!" now in its third week at the Rialto Theater, Westfield. Matthau plays the very rich Mr. Vanderghelder, a bachelor pursued by Dolly Levi, who takes him for a post-union match. The play was based on Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker." The movie is produced by Ernest Lehman, directed by Gene Kelly, and stars a cast of famous comedians and Althea Crawford.

'Brevities' musical cites 16th birthday

The Brookside Swim Club in Union celebrated its 16th anniversary Saturday night with a "Happy Birthday" musical revue by the Brookside Brevities. The cast of Brookside included nine Unionites and many non-residents from surrounding areas.

The Unionites were Dick Fried, Ed Stein, Lanie Stein, John J. Backus, Shari Cook, Rhonda Lubitz, Lori Cohen, Honey Forlander and Robin Katz. Also featured were Arlene Smith of Hillside, formerly of Irvington; Jackie Susszman, Rose Stern, Diane Gelman, Leona Levy, Henry Orlovski, Sol Finitzer, Jules Wolfman, Elaine Ames, Sharon Reischer, Roy Fink, Elythe Zuckberg, Michelle Orlovski, Leona Levy, Joe Zuckerkern, Hannah Neuman, Denise Nimeth and Regina Bruno.

The show, which was produced by Milton Metsky, and choreographed by June and Fred Lippel of the Lippel School of the Dance, will be staged Tuesday night for the benefit of the Daughters of Israel in Pleasantdale, and Saturday afternoon for the children at the club.

Historical film opens; Burton in starring role

"Anne of a Thousand Days," an historical drama based on a play by Maxwell Anderson, has just opened at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth. The movie stars Richard Burton as Henry VIII and Genevieve Bujold as Anne Boleyn. Miss Bujold received an Academy Award nomination as best actress for her performance.

'Patton' playing at Fox Theater

"Patton," the story of the controversial blood-and-guts World War II general, is being held over at the Fox Theater, Union. The movie stars George C. Scott as General George S. Patton.

Scott, who turns in an exceptional performance in the film, depicts Patton as a strong-willed, glory-seeking man who thrives on war. The film also stars Karl Malden, was directed by Franklin J. Schaffner, and was filmed in color.

Sammy Davis Jr. heads all-star show at the Arts Center

Sammy Davis Jr. is playing to full houses at the Garden State Arts Center this week. All seats have been sold for the engagement; only lawn space remains.

Davis, one of the most versatile entertainers in the world, headlines his own all-star troupe in his debut at the Arts Center on the Garden State Parkway.

Motown Recording star, "Blinky," comedian Hummie Rogers and The Vashonettes make up the cast of the Davis show. His musical director is George Rhodes.

Sammy has appeared in two Broadway hits ("Mr. Wonderful" and "Golden Boy"), in 11 films (including "Salt and Pepper" and "Sweet Charity"), and has made more than 30 record albums. He has been seen on every major television network—dramatic programs as well as variety shows—and has made personal appearances throughout the world, including three command performances for Queen Elizabeth II.

Next week, the final week of the Arts Center's season, will feature the famed Moiseyev Dance Company. With most tickets gone for all appearances of the exciting Russian folk dancers, Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority which operates the Arts Center at Telegraph Hill Park on the Garden State Parkway, announced an extra performance which will permit some 8,000 more people to view the high-leaping folk artists. The added performance will be at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 13.

Tryouts slated for 'mame' cast

Bobbi Pollack, president of the Springfield Community Players, this week announced casting calls for the musical production of "Mame" will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 15, and Thursday, Sept. 17, both at 8 p.m.

People interested in participating in the production may come to the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, Church Hill, Springfield, on either of those dates. People are needed for all aspects of production, including set decoration, properties and backstage work.

Casting calls will be under the direction of Bernie Barr of Chatham, who is known for his work with little theater groups and with the La Mama Experimental Theater in New York. He will be the director, musical director and choreographer for the Players for "Mame."

The Springfield Community Players are the first little theater group in the vicinity to produce "Mame." The show is scheduled for performance on Dec. 5, 11 and 12 at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The Players have presented productions of "A Raisin in the Sun," "A Mod World" and "Picnic."

Miss Cook qualifies for Talent Expo final

Jill Cook won the dance category in the semi-finals of Talent Expo, held Sunday afternoon at the Garden State Arts Center, Jill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook of Plainfield and a student of The Yvette Dance Studio of Cranford, had previously won competitions at the local, county and regional levels.

Motors roar Labor Day

The Labor Day weekend auto racing lineup at Wall Stadium will feature the ARDC midget racers, modified-sportsman stock cars and limited-sportsman stock cars.

The ARDCs, led by defending champion Johnny Coy of Merrick, N.Y., will be making their last appearance of the campaign at the Rt. 34 oval in a 100-lap event.

The modified-sportsman paced by Bobby Rossell of Bordentown and Joe Severage of Wall Township will hook up in a 50-lap headliner while the limited-sportsman chauffeurs duel in a 25-lapper.

Because of the many races on the agenda which possibly could go as high as 15-events, track management has moved the starting time up one half hour to 7:30 p.m. Gates will open at 5:30 p.m.

Feintuck appointed Springfield head of Lundy campaign

A network of municipal coordinators has been established to promote the candidacy of Daniel F. Lundy for Congress in the Twelfth District.

Phil Feintuck has been designated municipal coordinator for Springfield. The coordinator in each town will arrange literature distribution and will keep the local press informed of Lundy activities in the area.

Alan Goldstein, Union County coordinator, said, "All of our municipal coordinators are serving on behalf of Dan Lundy's candidacy. The election of Lundy to Congress would mark a step toward dynamic and innovative leadership in our district."

Lundy, an attorney specializing in federal tax law, has served as a corporate executive with Merck and Co. since 1964. He has been a member of the cost of government committee, New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, 1968-70, and was president of the Community Development Corporation of Westfield 1968-70. Lundy served as a trustee of the Union County Anti-Poverty Council in 1967. He resides with his family in Westfield.

Fraternity member back from Illinois

Peter E. S. Middlekauff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Middlekauff of 355 Rolling Rock rd., Mountside, participated last week in the national leadership school of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity in Evanston, Ill.

Middlekauff, who is a sophomore at Worcester Polytech, Worcester, Mass., is a member of the fraternity's Delta chapter. The leadership school was held at the Lever Memorial Temple in Evanston.

He is majoring in physics at Worcester and is on the dean's list. He is also active in intramural soccer. More than 500 fraternity members representing 175 college campuses in 46 states attended the leadership school.

Short Hills man fined $200 for assault, battery on officer

Jerry E. Tighe of Short Hills was convicted of assault and battery by Judge Max Sherman Monday in Springfield Municipal Court. He was fined $200 for kicking Patrolman Rodney Pederson on July 25 at Charlie O's.

Four young people under 21 were fined for having beer and wine in a car while driving. Brenda Demuth of 117 Warwick circle and Andrea Lesser of 205 Leik ave., both of Springfield, were fined $50 each. Steven Davis of Summit and Patrick Nimsz of Kenilworth paid $75 each.

John Foremba of Union was convicted on two charges. He was fined $15 for disregarding an officer's signal and $40 for driving too fast for road conditions without due caution.

Three persons were convicted of speeding. James V. Kosnett of 21 Sycamore ter., Springfield, paid $40 and had his driver's license revoked for 30 days for going 70 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone on Morris avenue. Leonard A. Dozois Jr. of Roselle Park was fined $35 for going 48 mph in a 25 mile zone on Shunpike road. Stephen J. Racen of Summit was fined $30 for going 55 mph in a 35 mile zone on Morris avenue.

Other convictions and fines: Fred J. Mead of Chatham, $30 for loading a truck to overflowing so it could spill; Wendy K. Grotsky of 4 Surrey lane, Springfield, $15 for disregarding a patrolman's signal; Peter W. Speziale of Newark, $10 for passing a stop sign on Fadem road; Joseph S. Werthmann Jr. of North Plainfield, $15 for a noisy muffler; Antonio Amorim of Newark, $15 for failing to cover a load of stone, and Angelo Menza of 22 Ronald ter., Springfield, $15 for letting his dog run at large.

BBB offers buy guides

The two-month-old Better Business Bureau of Greater Newark is helping businessmen and consumers achieve satisfactory relations in the marketplace. Its latest project is helping consumers fight inflation. With a package of guides aimed at making buyers more informed.

David Ruff, executive director of the Better Business Bureau, announced the availability of 20 wise-buying guides in English and Spanish on the following subjects: how to manage your credit, how to buy a food freezer plan, how to buy an air conditioner, what you should know about garminishment, how to buy a car, how to avoid schemes, how to buy furniture, how to avoid a work-at-home lure, how to avoid the trap called referral selling, and what you should know about the door-to-door salesman.

The booklets are available free in single copies to consumers who will send a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope for every booklet ordered to the Better Business Bureau at 671 Broad St., Newark 07102. The booklets are also available in bulk to members of the bureau who may want to distribute the booklets as part of their educational program.

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
 BETHESDA, MARYLAND

IMPROVING PAIN CONTROL
 Since a dentist discovered ether's anesthetic quality more than one hundred years ago, dental science has continually sought ways to deaden and relieve pain to make patients more comfortable.

For example, one project supported by the NIH's National Institute of Dental Research has shown that nerve blocks can be effective in relieving pain after oral surgery. The blocks work as well as narcotics but do not complicate recovery with adverse side effects as narcotics tend to do. The scientists also found that adding a small amount of soluble dextran to a nerve blocking agent (a combination of tetracaine and epinephrine) doubles the hours of pain relief obtained with the drug alone. Patients so treated remained alert and comfortable and had fewer complications than the group given nerve blocks without dextran.

Another study showed that although thiopental is useful for pleasant and smooth induction of unconsciousness in general anesthesia, it should not be given throughout the entire operation. After a short time, thiopental alters body functions. This delays recovery longer than is desirable for the dental patient who expects to return to normal activity soon after an operation.

Loss of blood is another surgical problem which dental science is overcoming. Few people realize that, when many teeth are extracted at one time, more blood may be lost than during some major operations. Research surgeons report that the amount of blood lost after the operation is over can be reduced when neosynephrine, which shrinks blood vessels, is used. Also, the study patients recovered more quickly with fewer complications when part of their normal daily fluid requirement was administered by injecting fluid into the veins the day after surgery. Because it is hard for patients with sore mouths to drink enough liquid at the time when it is most needed, intravenous feeding is most beneficial.

A recent study has shown that irregular heartbeats, which frequently occur in adults during general anesthesia, can largely be prevented. If patients are given a suitable dose of propranolol by mouth one hour before inhaling the anesthetic, usually there is no cardiac irregularity during the operation. For the occasional patient who reacts adversely to propranolol, the operation can be postponed until, after the drug has been eliminated.

These are just some of the ways dental research reduces pain. Dentists performing surgery under general anesthesia have been made aware of all these findings so that you, the patient, can benefit from research advances.

Fall program set by recreation unit; brochure at printer

The Springfield Recreation Department has been busy preparing the program for the 1970 fall and winter season. The program brochure is now at the printers and should be ready for distribution shortly.

Most of last year's program which has been operating successfully, will be continued. This will include the classes for children in dance, art and music. For teenagers there will also be classes in art and dance, as well as guitar classes. For the adults there will be a class in gymnastics, dressmaking, ceramics, embroidery, photography and art appreciation.

Athletic programs planned will include cheerleading, baton twirling, roller skating, football, soccer, wrestling and basketball. For adults there will be volleyball and basketball. The pool grounds will be open for paddle tennis, shuffleboard and volleyball on Saturdays and Sundays. There is a one-day basketball coaches' clinic planned for December. The Sunday children's movies will be continued on alternating Saturdays and a teen movie night will be held one Friday a month. New programs will include a craft pottery workshop for adults and a gymnastics and tumbling program for children. The teen activities at the Civic Center will be centered about a coffee house program on Friday and Saturday nights. This will include music and refreshments with occasional live entertainment. The game room will be open for the fall season.

2 from Springfield get Newark State degrees

Barbara Ann Lardau of 7 Dogwood ter., Springfield, received her bachelor of arts degree in elementary education from Newark State College, Union, last week.

James Joseph Funcheon of 83 Hillside ave., Springfield, received his master of arts degree at the informal reception held for the graduates at Downs Hall on the Newark State campus.

Speeding car slams into tree, Newark man dies in accident

Arthur Lee Marshburn Jr., of Newark, was killed Sunday at about 6:30 a.m. after he lost control of his car and it skidded into a tree at the intersection of Mountain Avenue and Caldwell place, according to police. He never regained consciousness and was pronounced dead at the scene.

The car, heading south on Mountain Avenue, had attained a speed of more than 70 miles per hour by the time it got to S. Trivert street, police said. The vehicle swerved to the right of the street, sideswiped a curb on the east side of the street, veered left, crossed the center line and was traveling south in the northbound lane, the report said.

Breaks, stolen car, vandalism case reported to police

Three break and entries, a stolen car and a case of malicious vandalism were reported last week by Mountaintop police.

The Halfway House on Rt. 22 was broken into Friday and an undetermined amount of liquor was taken. Entry was made through a basement window, the report said.

The side door of the Echo Lake Sunoco Station on Rt. 22 was pried open last Thursday. Cash receipts of about $200 were taken, police reported.

Two television sets, a portable and color console, jewelry and a rifle were taken from a house on Summit road last Tuesday, according to reports. Entry was made through an upstairs bedroom window, police said.

Edward M. McCallum 2nd of Chatham reported that his car was stolen last Thursday evening from the parking lot at Echo Lakes. He told police that he had parked his car around 8 p.m. and it was missing when he came out.

Three windows were maliciously damaged last Thursday at D.J. Hartnett and Co., Inc. of 1254 Pt. 22, according to police. The report said that a plate glass window was completely smashed by rocks. Eight stones were thrown through another plate glass window and a stone was thrown through the front door. There are no suspects, police said.

The car then began to yaw as Marshburn apparently lost control, slid sideways and slammed into a tree, according to police. Marshburn was trapped and unconscious as police arrived. A fire began underneath the engine but it was immediately extinguished, the report said.

Eric Yoder of 127 Bayou Avenue was injured last Wednesday evening when he was struck by a motorcycle while crossing the street in front of 740 Morris Avenue. He was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad. He was admitted for chest and bruising on his hip and right hip but was discharged the next day.

A witness told police that Yoder was crossing the street and stopped in front of the motorcycle driven by David L. Mosley of Millington. Yoder said he did not see the motorcycle approaching the report said.

Thomas J. Dwyer of 91 Hillside Ave., Springfield, was injured last Wednesday evening when his motorcycle struck a car driven by Mitchell C. Womer of 56 Kipling Ave., Springfield, at the intersection of Metcalf and Wagon Avenue, according to reports. Dwyer was taken by the Springfield First Aid Squad to Overlook Hospital where he was treated for lacerations and discharged.

Womer told police that he was heading east on Wagon and was trying to make a left turn onto Metcalf. He said he began to turn, noticed the motorcycle approaching and stopped. Dwyer was traveling south on Metcalf and struck Womer's vehicle who was partly in the roadway, police reported.

Garden Club picks chairmen, maps autumn activities

The Mountain Trail Garden Club will meet Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Edward Verlangieri of 1362 Wood Valley rd. The theme will be "Autumn Allergies." Mrs. Richard Kapke and Mrs. Miles Goodrich will be the hostesses.

The meeting will be a workshop to prepare for the Mountaintop 75th Jubilee Fair on Sept. 26. In addition, the club will make their annual flower arrangements for the first day of school at Beechwood and Our Lady of Lourdes.

The club's president, Mrs. John J. Suski, has announced this year's chairmen. They are: program, Mrs. Charles Serretti Jr. and Mrs. Richard Kapke; membership, Mrs. Arthur Tonneson and Mrs. Wilbur Groves; civic activities, Mrs. Donald Luggan and Mrs. Howard Rhodes; conservation and birds, Mrs. David Dilley and Mrs. Miles Goodrich; horticulture, Mrs. Robert Muirhead and Mrs. Donald Luggan.

THIS WEEK'S HEALTH NEWS

An "instant" artificial skin that can be worn for months or years has been developed. The synthetic material, which has the soft look and feel of velvet, was developed as a covering for denuded areas in the event of severe life-threatening burns. Like human skin, it is made of three layers. An advantage is function. Where normal skin would take several months to grow back, an instant prosthetic skin would permit early motion of the hands, for example. Eventually it would be replaced by transplanted human skin, but this would come at a time physiologically right for the patient.

Westfield Chamber to new candidates

Jack Cohen and Ralph Yeager, co-chairmen of the annual meeting and dinner-dance of the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce Saturday, Oct. 3, announced this week that Robert E. Berenson and Donn A. Snyder, mayoralty candidates, have been invited to be guest speakers for the affair.

Invitations to members and guests will be in the mail this week. Each candidate will be given 15 minutes to give his views on parking, refuse issue in the business district and refuse issue in the residential area. There will be time allotted for questions and answers.

Ted Hill, chairman of the industrial division, reported postponement of the regularly scheduled meeting from Tuesday, Sept. 8 to Tuesday, Sept. 15 at the Sleepy Hollow Inn.

Springfield girl finishes course

Miss Barbara J. Orenstein of 38 Kipling ave., Springfield, is among 39 recent high school graduates who have been awarded certificates for their active participation in Union College's eighth annual College Readiness Program, which was held on the Union College campus in Cranford from June 29 through July 24.

The program is designed to give college-bound students an orientation to college life and an opportunity to improve their basic skills in reading, English Composition, and problem solving to supplement what the high schools did, according to Prof. Gunars Salins of Glen Ridge, director.

The program carries no college credit and is open to all recent high school graduates who are college-bound, including those who will attend Union College in the fall.

Nearly half of the young men and women who enter college-freshmen-classes never complete the four-year program, Prof. Salins says. Inability to adjust to a college situation accounts for a significant number of these drop outs, he added. The College Readiness Program is designed to help students make that adjustment successfully. An evaluation of the program over the past eight years indicates that the program has succeeded, Prof. Salins said.

Miss Orenstein, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, plans to attend Harcum Junior College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

APPLE PRINCESS — Suzanne Fluszkowski, the 1970 New Jersey Apple Princess, will be among those helping to crown the 1971 princess during the state's 10th annual Apple Harvest Festival. Details of the contest, which is open to New Jersey girls 16 to 21, are available from the Orange Savings Bank, Orange, or the Apple Industry Council of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, Trenton, co-sponsors of the competition.

Friendly little animals still can carry rabies

As the leaves turn red and gold, and families plan outings in nearby forests and parks, parents should warn their children to avoid all strange animals, no matter how friendly they appear. This advice comes from Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Life Insurance Company.

"Not all rabid animals behave in a threatening manner. Many are friendly, while others are listless and are unable to move fast enough to escape the eager hands of young children," Costa warns. Dogs aren't the only animals which might be rabid. Rabbits, squirrels, birds, skunks, and even kittens can be infected with this fatal disease.

"If anyone in the family should be scratched or bitten by an animal, medical attention should be sought at once. Rabies is a serious threat to human life and the family physician should be notified at once of possible exposure," Costa stressed.

If an animal should inflict a wound on a family member, most medical experts suggest that the animal be isolated in some fashion or its carcass held for authorities. Tests will show if the animal was in fact rabid and whether or not a lengthy and painful course of medical treatment is necessary.

"Enjoy your outings, but leave the animals alone, for their sake and your own good health," said Costa.

New exhibit at gallery

Bloomfield College Art Gallery will present the "Sculptural Reliefs and Drawings" of Miss Worden Day beginning Monday and continuing through Sept. 30.

Miss Day is a lecturer in studio art at Bloomfield College, Born in Ohio, she received her M.A. degree from New York University. She also taught at Stephens College, University of Wyoming, and the State University of Iowa. She received the Virginia Museum Travelling Fellowship in 1940-41; the Julius Rosenwald Fellowship in 1941-43; and the John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship in 1951-52.

Her work has been exhibited in solo shows at the Smithsonian Institute, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Baltimore Museum, Cincinnati Art Museum, Montclair Art Museum, Philadelphia Art Museum, and the Bertha Schaefer, Perls, Krasner, and Grand Central Moderns Galleries in New York City.

The Bloomfield College Art Gallery, which is located in Westminster Hall, Franklin and Fremont streets, Bloomfield, will be open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Psychologist gains office

DR. HIRSCH SILVERMAN MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Dr. Hirsch L. Silverman of West Orange will be installed tomorrow as treasurer of the International Council of Psychologists during the convention here of the American Psychological Association.

Dr. Silverman, who is chairman of Seton Hall University's Department of Educational Administration and Supervision, will serve for a two-year term with the organization which has representation in more than 45 countries throughout the world.

Declaration due on tax

Individuals who filed 1970 declarations of estimated federal income tax must pay the third installment by Sept. 15.

Taxpayers who did not file a 1970 declaration but who received substantial income from which taxes were not withheld before Sept. 1, must file a declaration and pay at least half of the tax by the 15th of September.

Roland H. Nash Jr., district director of Internal Revenue, explained also that taxpayers whose anticipated income during 1970 has changed may amend their declaration as they make their third payment. Space to prepare an amended estimate is provided on Declaration-voucher No. 3 which should accompany their estimated tax payment.

Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," with more detailed information may be obtained free at any IRS office.

Admissions aide named at Seton

Miss Barbara Zarick of Westfield, has been appointed an admissions counselor at Seton Hall University, according to an announcement made by Dr. Patrick Kennedy, vice-president for student personnel services.

Miss Zarick is a graduate of Seton Hall, Class of '70, and was a member of the Sociology Department's Student Planning Board.

The new counselor received her A.A. degree from Union College in Cranford where she was vice-president of the Psychology Club. Dr. Kennedy said that Miss Zarick will concentrate on relations with community colleges in her new position.

If you're missing the boat on a high interest passbook savings plan.... then your ship just came in.

5³/₄% per year

Compounded Quarterly.
Minimum deposit only $100.
Guaranteed 2 through 10 years at your option.

Now you probably think we're going to get in a whale of a lot of puns like "buoy oh buoy" and "sail right in to First National State" and so on. Well, we aren't.

We do think you may be missing out on a high interest passbook savings plan because the minimum balance may be too high.

Our Premium Five Star Passbook Account is designed so that more people, at any income level, can begin saving and earning top interest right now.

That interest is 5³/₄% per year, compounded quarterly, from day of deposit. Guaranteed for from 2 through 10 years.

But to open it and start saving right away you need only deposit as little as $100.

That's right, $100 is our minimum required deposit. Not $500. Not $1,000. Not $5,000.

You can choose your own maturity date from 2 through 10 years. (Withdrawals from principal only at maturity.)

Now here are our four convenient interest options:

1. Accumulate your interest. We can credit your interest quarterly and compound it to earn you more interest.
2. We can mail you an interest check every three months.
3. We'll even transfer your current interest to any other account — checking or savings.
4. Or you can defer your interest and the income taxes on it until maturity, in the opinion of tax counsel.

In this day and age every savings investment plan is important. We simply made it a lot easier to open our Premium Five Star Passbook Account. So your money can begin earning high interest with a safe, no-risk investment.

And with no ketches (forgive us).
