School board hires negotiator to aid in teacher talks

Victory smiles reflect the successful season just completed by the Deerfield Middle School soccer team, coached by Charles Carson, left

Board study of proposals is under way

Negotiations will start with MTA next week

BY JANICE ADLER

A professional negotiator has been hired by the Mountainside Board of Education to aid in the contract dispute with the Mountainside Teachers' Association. The announcement was made to some 30 persons, primarily teachers, at a board meeting Tuesday at the Deerfield School by board member William Blunno. Blunno said that negotiator Gerald Dorf, an attorney from Newark, the board's negotiating committee and Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, met with the MTA and members of the New Jersey Education Association last week to hear contract proposals. The board received a lengthy document which will be reviewed. Board members will meet to decide on a course of action, he said.

The board and the MTA will begin "meaningful negotiations" next week, Blunno added. During the public discussion session, Mrs. John Knodel asked how much it was costing the taxpayers for the negotiator. Grant Lennox, board president, said that it would cost $50 per hour. Mrs. Knodel replied that she feels that the money is being wasted because the board has not changed its position on what matters are negotiable.

Board member Walter Rupp said that he is unhappy that the board has had to hire a negotiator. He added that he would like to return to "the old days" when they could sit down with the teachers so that the money could be used for books and higher salaries for teachers.

Oliver Deane, chief negotiator for the MTA, said that the State Legislature must have had a set intention when the new negotiation law was passed. In his opinion the board is waiting to see if the law will be upheld before negotiating under its conditions.

Charles Jerome, the board attorney, said that the state Supreme Court has indicated that it could not effectively enforce any of the edicts or orders of the new law.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, a proposed spring outdoor education program for sixth graders at Brown's Mills brought debate from the public. The major issue was the cost of $32.50 per child which would have to be paid by the students. Dr. Hanigan proposed that the youngsters get involved in defraying expenses, by projects, such as collecting aluminum cans for resale.

Mrs. Knodel and Mrs. John Palmer objected because of the cost. Dr. Hanigan said that something like this would be voluntary. Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Knodel said that in their opinion no child would like to stay home if his friends went, because of "peer pressure." Mrs. Palmer said that Mountainside's children do not live in a deprived area and the Multi-car collisions keep police busy -- but no one is hurt

There was a three-vehicle collision last Wednesday afternoon on Rt. 22 West, according to Mountainside police. No one was injured and the cars were driven from the scene.

Police said that cars driven by Michael Finch of Flemington and Robert J. Batruch of North Plainfield had stopped in the left lane for a red light. A car driven by Anthony Pallitta of Scotch Plains struck Batruch's vehicle which then was pushed into Finch's car. Pallitta told police that he was unable to stop in time.

A vehicle driven by William A. Bohren of New Providence and owned by the Brigrance Leasing Corp. of Oak Park, Ill., collided with a car driven by Murray Wilks of 1356 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, last Wednesday night, police reported. Both vehicles had to be towed from the scene at the intersection of Summit road and Charles street.

Police said that Wilks was traveling south on Summit road and was making a left onto Charles street when his car was struck on the right side by Bohren's vehicle. Bohren told police that he was going north on Summit road and that Wilks turned in front of him as he was approaching the intersection. Bohren applied his brakes but was unable to stop in time because of wet pavement. Bohren also told police that he did not see a turn signal on Wilks' car.

A car driven by Richard F. DeMauro of Greenbrook had to be towed away after colliding with a truck driven by Nelson R. Pickens of Regional PTA to offer program tonight for students going to college, parents

For college-bound students and their parents, selecting the right college is an important step. Tonight at 8 the Gov. Livingston Regional High School PTA will present a "college information night." Both parents and students are urged to attend this program, according to a PTA spokesman.

Robert E. Blunno, director of admissions services for Rutgers University, will discuss "How to Pick a College."

Blunno is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University where he was associated with the admissions and placement staff while pursuing graduate study in educational administration and guidance. He has held his present position since 1967.

PTA's 1st general meeting of the year to be held tonight

The Mountainside PTA will hold its first general meeting of the new school year tonight at 8:15 in the Deerfield Middle School cafeteria. The opening flag ceremony will be conducted by Cub Scouts from PTA sponsored Pack 70.

Holiday deadline

Particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday news deadline is urged for material intended for publication in the Nov. 26 issue. That issue will be printed early to be received before Thanksgiving. All organizational, social and other material intended for the Nov. 16 issue should be submitted by Friday, Nov. 20.

After a brief business meeting, including the presentation of the proposed budget by the PTA treasurer, Mrs. Walter Young, and a report by the membership chairman, Mrs. Daniel Sury, a panel will discuss "Getting to Know Your Schools."

William Hummel, principal of Beechwood School; Donald Rath, principal of Deerfield Elementary; Herbert Brown, principal of Deerfield Middle School, and Alfred Landis, head teacher at Echobrook School, will speak on the experimental and innovative programs held in the schools within the last 10 years. These programs include the ITA courses, new math, the transitional class, the team teaching, and the comparatively new outdoor program for fifth graders.

Also on the panel will be a member of the Mountainside Board of Education and Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools. After each panelist speaks, there will be a question and answer period. A parent will have the opportunity of receiving answers to his questions on school curriculum, new and old programs, procedure or policies. There will also be 25 teachers in the audience to help answer any questions parents might have.

A PTA spokesman added: "In order to create an informal atmosphere conducive to good dialogue between panel and parent, the audience will be seated at the cafeteria tables and coffee will be served at the beginning of the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend, to bring a friend or neighbor, and to bring along his questions in order to make this meeting both enjoyable and informative."

Concert features Legawiec works

The "First Piano Sonata" and "Five Mazurkas" for piano by Walter Legawiec of Mountainside will be performed by Ian Shapinsky, young American pianist, tomorrow evening at 8 at the Kosciuszko Foundation, 15 E. 65th st., New York City.

The music critic of the Providence Journal, Ruth Tripp, has commented "If contemporary piano music is to be played, may I suggest Legawiec's First Piano Sonata! The themes were clearly defined and their exposition interestingly worked out. The mood of the slow section was beautifully set and the work had unity and charm."

The Christian Science Monitor wrote of Legawiec's sonata as "a piece of genuine inventiveness and impact" and of his "Five

Varsity team ends its soccer season with an 8-2 record

The Deerfield Middle School's varsity soccer team, coached by Charles (Kit) Carson and Ed Sjonel, completed its season with a record of eight victories and two losses. Players from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades made up the team.

The team defeated Terrace (Clark) by 3-1 and 3-0, Brewer (Clark) by 1-0 and 2-0, Springfield by 3-1 and 3-0 and Union by 2-1. They split with Garwood by 3-0 and 0-1 and lost to Westfield by 1-0.

Leading scorers for Deerfield were Ben Geltzler with eight points; Don Schon, 3; Jeff Pittenger, 4, and David Manders, 3. Paul Krystow and Gregg Parker were the key defensive personnel. Bruce Heide and Arthur Burlew alternated as goalies and allowed only four goals between them.

Other team members were John Gordon, Dwight Johnson, Matthew Ross, Gerard Dwyer, Alan Layton, Brian Wasko, Steve Hechtie, Joe Knodel, James Rice, Tom Styler, Billy Milcke, Joseph Mirto, Russell Evans, Cary Levitt, Steve Heller, Bill Riffel, Timothy McCormick, John Hartnett, Wayne Schwarte, Bradford Giamo and Thomas Weeks.

"How the College Picks You," will be the topic of Dr. Austin A. Cole, director of admissions, College of Liberal Arts of Drew University.

After receiving his B.S. degree at Ball State University and his M.A. at Peabody College, Dr. Cole earned his doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia University. He was associate director at Drew from 1962 until 1966, when he assumed his present position of director of admissions.

The subject, "Can I Afford to Go?" will be presented by George Lyles, director of admissions, Union College.

Lyles received his B.A. from Bard College, and continued graduate studies at Columbia University and Seton Hall University. He has been director of admissions at Union since 1966.

THE SECOND PHASE of the college admissions program will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m., in the Gov. Livingston auditorium. Bernard Carr, director of guidance, is in charge of this program which will expand on

Temple begins adult education: three courses

Howard Kaplan, chairman of the adult education committee of Temple Shalom Springfield, has announced the start of the temple's adult education program for the current year. A variety of courses are being offered, all of which will be taught by the temple's spiritual leader, Rabbi Howard Shapiro.

Traditions, Customs and Elementary Hebrew is being given in 10 sessions on Tuesday mornings from 9:30-11:30. The first session of this class was held on Nov. 10, and the remaining classes will meet on Nov. 24, Dec. 8, Dec. 22, Jan. 12, Jan. 26, Feb. 2, Feb. 16, March 2 and March 16. "Introduction to Reform Judaism" is being given in four sessions on Tuesday evenings from 8:00-9:30 p.m. The first session was held on Nov. 10, and the remaining three classes will meet on Nov. 17, Nov. 24 and Dec. 8. In addition, a Bible course and breakfast will be given every Sunday morning from 9-10:30, starting this Sunday. This class will be co-sponsored by the Brotherhood.

Kaplan also announced that in January a discussion-lecture group will be run jointly with Temple Beth Ahm which will begin. The group will meet at Shalom and the courses will include speakers and discussions on Jewish art, literature and current events. The schedule and subjects will be announced shortly. All courses will be held in the temple library and those requesting further information may contact Kaplan at 379-4237.

Rubin makes dean's list

Jeffrey J. Rubin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rubin of 44 Fernhill rd., Springfield, has been added to the dean's list for

8-year-old Philippine girl 'adopted' by Miss Horowitz

Miss Judy Horowitz of 83 Beverly rd., Springfield, has "adopted" Victoria Lakambini C. Del Rosario, 8, of the Philippines through Foster Parents Plan. A Foster Parent's responsibility is financial, not legal, and Victoria will grow up with her family.

Victoria lives in Bulacan, which is 10 miles outside Manila. Her parents were able to complete their secondary education but her father, suffering from tuberculosis, can only work as a laborer — when jobs are available and he is physically able. He has been able to earn only about $15 a month and Victoria's mother has to care for the younger members of the family, which prevents her from finding a job. Victoria's home is a 10 x 10' metal shack. Electricity has been installed and water comes from an arched wall shared by all the residents of the community. Victoria, a gentle, friendly child, has completed the third grade. Her brother, Manuel Jr., 10, also goes to school but Manuel Amersgos, 6, and her sisters, Maria Corazon, 5, and Maria Rosabeth, 3, have not started school yet.

The children appear to suffer no major ailments although much of their diet lacks nutrients. The diet is composed of rice, native vegetables and occasionally fish. They also lack vitamins and minerals. They also lack clothing and shoes.

Miss Horowitz said she was contacted by the Philippine Department of Education in Manila. She said she was contacted by the Philippine Department of Education in Manila. She said she was contacted by the Philippine Department of Education in Manila.

Sharey Shalom tells of plans for its 1st annual film festival

The first annual film festival will be held one Sunday night a month during the next five months at Temple Sharey Shalom, Springfield, according to Lawrence Lerner, chairman of the social-action committee.

The films and the dates that will be shown are:

Stewardship theme to highlight rites of Emanuel United

Members of Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church, Church Hall at Academy Green, will emphasize one aspect of their heritage this Sunday as the services of morning worship, 9:30 and 11 a.m., center around hymns and anthems. The theme for the services will be "A Christian's Stewardship" as the congregation also considers its pledges for the year 1971.

Pastor James Dewart announced that the Wesleyan and Chancel choirs will lead the congregation both in the service of music and in special anthems. The Methodist Tradition harks back to Charles Wesley, brother of the founder of the Methodist Societies in England in the 18th Century. He was a prolific writer of hymns, having contributed more than 6,000 in his lifetime. Among his most famous hymns are "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

In addition to the vocal music, Mrs. Peg Young and Norman Simons, director of music, will join in a piano-organ duet. At both the 9:30 a.m. service in Trinity Chapel and the 11 a.m. service in the sanctuary, Norman Banner, chairman of finance, will present the 1971 church budget, and Emanuel Schwing will present a report on the progress of the Total Mission Crusade of North Jersey Methodists. Church School meets at 9:30 a.m. with classes through the sixth grade in Wesley Hall, seventh and eighth grades on the third floor of the church annex, and the senior highs in the Fellowship Hall. The German language worship service will be held at the same hour in the sanctuary with Emanuel Schwing preaching on "God's Presence," based on Acts 17:27.

Foods demonstration to be given at meeting

At the next Sisterhood meeting Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. at Temple Emanuel-El, Westfield, Betty Alexander will demonstrate the making of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and an unusual dessert. Samples will be available to all who attend.

Mrs. Alexander studied her art at the Parisian Cordon Bleu and with chefs Diane Lucas and Michael Field. Baby sitting is available at the temple for this meeting.

"Nothing But a Man," this Sunday; "Shame," Dec. 13; "Red Desert," Jan. 17; "The Knack," Feb. 14, and "La Guerre est Finie," March 21. Jonathan Plaut, a film reviewer, lecturer and professor in the cinema arts, will lead a discussion after each film. Lerner gave a description of each movie: "Nothing But a Man" was made in 1964 by two independent filmmakers who wrote and produced the film. The movie was acclaimed as one of the first films to deal with the feelings and problems of black men and women. The film presents Negroes who are human beings in recognizable surroundings. Ivan Dixon and Abbey Lincoln portray the leading roles.

"Shame" was directed by Ingmar Bergman. The film is a trip through Bergman's universe and shows the guilts and pains and the pleasures and passions of his inner mind. The movie shows the effects of war on the individual personality. "Shame" stars Max von Sydow, Gunnar Bjornstrand and Liv Ullmann. It was chosen as the best film in 1968 by the National Society of Film Critics.

"Red Desert" is the first color movie by Michelangelo Antonioni. The film concerns a neurotic housewife who is driven to despair and attempted suicide by the pressures of her sexual life and her environment. The color reflects her feelings rather than the colors of the world around her. It stars Monica Vitti and Richard Harris.

"The Knack" is directed by Richard Lester. A young girl, portrayed by Rita Tushingnet, meets three young men while she is going to the YMCA. One is an assembly-line worker, the second is an Irish artist and the third is a sexually-shy schoolteacher who is tormented by his roommate's easy way with girls.

"La Guerre Est Finie" was directed by Alain Resnais. The film examines the life of a veteran of the Spanish Civil War who continues to risk his life by crossing the border from France to organize resistance to the French government. His work seems to become more and more meaningless as he is confronted by the realities of his personal life and the challenges of radical students. The movie stars Yves Montand, Ingrid Thulin and Genevieve Bujold.

Health official serves as seminar moderator

Jacob Eisen, vice-president of the Mountainside Board of Health, served as moderator for a day-long seminar on the pharmacist's role in prevention and treatment of venereal disease held Tuesday at the Holiday Inn, North Brunswick.

The seminar was sponsored by the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association, of which Eisen is a member, and the Rutgers College of Pharmacy in cooperation with Young's Drug Products Corp. Eisen is also chairman of the NJPhA therapeutics committee.

Overlook keying campaign on top emergency service

If anyone needs emergency hospital care, he needs it fast, and of top quality. That's the assurance Overlook Hospital gives to residents of its community and that's the theme of the hospital's annual giving campaign this year. Some 20,000 emergency patients used Overlook last year, enough the population of an area town.

Citing a goal of $500,000 for vital new equipment needs, Overlook this week mailed an informative emergency brochure to thousands of friends of the hospital, according to Edward T. Kenyon, chairman of the board of trustees.

High on the list of needed diagnostic installations are a new remote control fluoroscope at $75,000, an added SMA aut analyzer for the laboratory at $18,000, a $10,000 portable X-ray unit, $9,000 lung analyzer, and many other costly pieces of equipment.

"The hospital's capital expenditure is a yearly challenge," Kenyon commented. "Only by keeping pace with new medical advances and providing the latest of equipment can Overlook maintain the excellence of patient care offered in its emergency department and throughout the hospital," he pointed out. He urged strong support of this year's goals.

OVERLOOK WAS one of the earliest hospitals in New Jersey, and in the nation, to come to the important conclusion that its emergency department should be staffed by experienced, licensed physicians.

A panel of five doctors, headed by the recent appointment of Dr. Arthur S. McLellan as director of emergency medicine, insures Overlook patients of highly qualified emergency care every hour of the day or night.

Overlook's emergency nurses have been geared for immediate action, trained in cardiac resuscitation techniques. Reaching out into the community, Overlook doctors have trained area rescue squads and police in cardiac resuscitation methods.

The hospital is working with area rescue squads to install a two-way radio system to permit advance notice to the hospital of arriving patient's condition.

The design of Overlook's emergency department has been cited as a model unit for the modern hospital, leading directly into both X-ray and laboratory facilities, with its own emergency operating rooms, so that not a precious second is wasted in transit.

Kenyon emphasized that capital gifts to Overlook's campaigns have made the hospital's emergency department possible. "Realtors tell us that many people purchase their homes with strong consideration to the availability of good hospital and emergency service," he said. "In turn, the hospital depends on friends and contributors to help us provide these important facilities and our ongoing efforts to equip Overlook to the standard of performance our community has come to expect."

Carl Towell, 67; services are held

Services were held Tuesday for Carl Towell, 67, 47 Evergreen ave., Springfield, who died Sunday in Overlook Hospital, Summit. He was 67.

Mr. Towell was born in Newark and lived in Union before moving here 30 years ago. He was employed for 35 years by the Elizabeth Water Co., in Elizabeth and Plainfield before retiring two years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Wahlers Towell; a son, Richard C. at home; a daughter, Mrs. Cecile Kukan of Denville; two brothers, Fred of Hamburg and James of Hillside, and three grandchildren.

Council of Adoptable Children to hold program in Westfield on Wednesday

The Presbyterian Church, Westminster Hall, 140 Mountain ave., Westfield will hold a meeting for the Council of Adoptable Children Wednesday at 8 p.m. It will be open to all people interested in adopting children but not quite sure how to go about it. The Council has invited four agencies to present slides and information pertaining to babies and children available for adoption. The participating agencies are Children's Home Society, Bureau of Children's Service, Family and Children's Society and the Catholic Charities.

A Council spokesman stated: "Who are these children? They are victims of the oversupply of babies in some locations. They are children considered too old. Some children might have physical handicaps which are slight and correctable. Some are children of mixed racial heritage. Regardless of the problem, they are all children needing someone to love and care for them.

"If you have room in your heart, you will have room in your home. The Council on Adoptable Children includes couples who have opened their hearts and homes and have adopted children. Members of the group will be present to answer any questions.

"If you have been wondering what to do with that spare room in your house or if you have had the desire to make your life fuller and more meaningful come out to the meeting, you might just find what you have been searching for."

New saving plan offered

The Springfield State Bank has announced the introduction of a "Diamond Investment" passbook account, yielding a guaranteed effective annual return of 5.92 percent over a two-year period.

According to Edward W. Moore, president, an account can be opened with a minimum deposit of $500. Deposits in multiples of $50 can be added, provided they are made at least two years before the maturity date of the account.

Moore explained that the money must be left on deposit for a minimum of two years. The 5.75 percent interest rate will be guaranteed for five years.

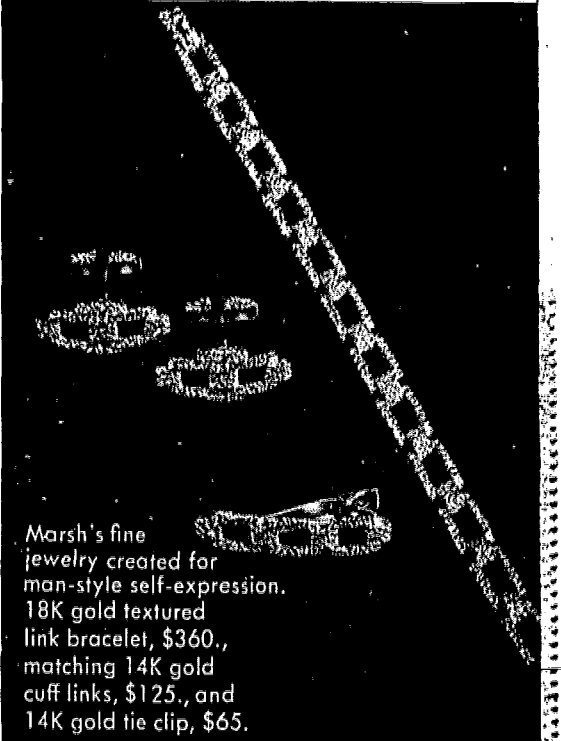

"With interest compounded daily and credited quarterly, the 'Diamond Investment' account yields an effective annual return of 5.92 percent," Moore declared.

Moore said Springfield State's "Diamond Investment" account has been established in response to the recent action of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, which permitted payment of more than five percent interest on multiple maturity deposits.

Mat show scheduled

Women tag team champions Toni Rose and Donna Christanello and Russian titleholder Ivan Koloff will share feature billing on the wrestling card that the Cranford Rotary Club will sponsor in the Cranford High School gym Friday night, Nov. 27.

Rose and Christanello will be opposed by Helen O'Connell and Mary Collins over the best of three falls. Koloff's opponent will be announced shortly. Victor Rivera of Puerto Rico, Gorilla Monsoon of Manchuria and Arnold (Golden Boy) Skoaland are being considered as foes for Koloff.

Koloff, who wears a size 22 collar and has a chest expansion of 59 inches, is termed the most powerful wrestler ever to come to America from Russia. He weighs 295 pounds. Willie Crusher Verdu of Spain also will see action on the card.

While the program is being completed, tickets may be purchased from chairman Joseph A. Sommers at Cranwood Electrical Supply Co., 10 South ave., Garwood.

Highlanders lose to Cranford, 41-20, face North Plainfield (3-4) Saturday

BY BILL LOVETT
Gov. Livingston, favored for the first time this season, ran into a Cranford squad which took advantage of every break the Highlanders gave them and routed Regional, 41-20.

The 41 points Cranford scored was the second highest total given up by Gov. Livingston. (3-5-1) which lost to Westfield, 49-0. The Cougars scored the first three times they had the ball, unleashing a strong running attack.

Cranford scored three times in the first quarter. Regional appeared slow and sluggish, possibly due to the fact that the contest was played in the morning. The Cougars play all their home games in the morning, which may have given them an edge over Regional.

Mobile Meals is serving up its third year of aid to ailing

Mobile Meals of Westfield celebrated its second anniversary on Oct. 14. The Visiting Homemakers Service of Central Union County sponsored and initiated this project as an extension of its services. The program opened its doors in the kitchen of the First Baptist Church of Westfield with three clients. It has served, to date, over 10,000 meals. Some of its clients, because of age, have been on the program since its beginning; others have had only several days of meals while recuperating from an illness.

In March of 1969, Mobile Meals became an independent non-profit organization with a new board of trustees. Mrs. Lillian Etheridge, the project's cook, has been with the program since its beginning and in large part is responsible for its success. She prepares two meals daily, a hot dinner and a cold supper, five days a week for a full client load. Her training has been at Pratt Institute in New York City as a visiting homemaker.

Schools seek renewal of grant for handicapped

The Union County Regional High School District has applied for renewal of a $20,000 grant to finance supplementary services for the long-term benefit of physically handicapped students. Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent, announced this week.

The Regional District shared a similar grant with the Elizabeth public schools last year. It will do the same thing this year. Physically handicapped students in the Regional District attend the David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, which was specifically designed to care for their special needs.

Labor report

About 70,000 workers are receiving cost-of-living wage increases based on the September Consumer Price Index, reports the U.S. Department of Labor. Approximately 9,000 other workers, whose escalation review is tied to the September index, will not receive an adjustment because they have already reached the maximums stipulated in their contracts.

Mr. Dicker dies at 76

Jacob J. Dicker, 76, of 1618 Deer Path Mountainside, formerly of Union, died Tuesday at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Born in Newark, Mr. Dicker lived in Maplewood and then moved to Union, where he resided for 20 years. He moved to Mountainside months ago to live with his stepson Howard R. Brown. He was an Army veteran of World War I, and before his retirement 11 years ago, he worked as a jeweler for various jewelry manufacturers. He was a charter member of Vahslage Lodge, 225 F&A.M., and Vahslage Chapter 158 O.E.S.

Mr. Dicker is survived by a sister, Mrs. Louise Kelly of Pinellas Park, Fla.; and two grandsons.

Services will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Haerberle and Barth Colonial Home, 1100 Pine ave., Union.

Letters To Editor

Letters to the editor must be received no later than noon on Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 350 words in length and should be typed with double spacing between lines (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. The writer's name will be withheld only at the editor's discretion, and never if the letter is of a political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

breaks from the great American drama) the great upheavals of name-calling, shouting and verbal pollution from the Great Committed Ones, hardly give one an inspiring feeling. We are a land torn apart by chaos and all this hot air will not mend it.

To this observer, the campaigns across the vastness of America made several things clear: there is a human promise, but there is also an ugliness in the mood of the people. And these campaigns were like food for both the promise and the ugliness of America, though I'm afraid the civil strife, follies and inhumanities are growing faster than the promise.

Within this realm, people are debating who holds the key to unlocking the door of answers — the new right (a bright cast headed by Spiro) or the new left (headed by New York's one and only John Lindsay)? Who does hold the key?

Norman Mailer in his book "The Armies of the Night," wrote this of the crisis we face and the uncertain future of America: "Broad on that country who expresses our will. She is America, once a beauty of magnitude unparalleled, now a child with a leprous skin. She is heavy with blood — one knee whose walls are never seen. Now the first contractions of her feverish labor begin — it will go on; no doctor exists to tell the hour. It is only known that false labor is not likely on her now, no, she will probably give birth, and to what? — the most fearsome totalitarianism the world has ever known? or can she, poor giant, tormented lovely girl, deliver a babe of a new world brave and tender, artful and wild? Deliver us from our curse. For we must end on the road to that mystery where courage, death and the dream of love give promise of sleep."

To be sure, the future is uncertain and the road of the great American adventure becomes rougher and more dangerous. In the coming years, will we begin to realize America's promises or will the cancerous growth of fear choke and destroy the American spirit? Who does hold the key?

FROM AN 'OBSERVER'
Notes from a political observer, 1970:
The 1970 elections are over and now I look forward to the return of some semblance of civilized sanity. But, is there any civilized sanity left in politics (or in fact, America)? Politics in America is indeed, full of upheavals, turmoil and often clouded ideological rhetoric. And, these past elections were deeply depressing, for an ideological fight has divided the land further, and if our President was bringing us together, he will now have to begin again (he will need more of our help).

Bowling Highlights

In the Mountainside Men's League at Echo Lanes last Monday the high team series for the evening was won by Mountainside Plumbing and Rt. 22 Esso who tied with 2,992 pins each. The high team game of 1,100 was rolled by Mountainside Plumbing, Bill Tobie scored both the high individual game and the high individual series with 246 and 641 respectively. The top three-game scorers for the season so far are John Schon, 717; Jim Hulsizer, 699, and Fred Schoemer, 699. Top individual games were scored by Vito Marinaro, 289; Robert McCormick, 271, and Fred Stewart, 265.

MY OBLIGATION

As a recent candidate for Borough Council and a loyal citizen of Mountainside, I believe it my obligation to challenge the insulting remarks attributed to the Republican campaign manager in last week's issue of the Mountainside Echo.

Fred Wilhelm's reference to the closely defeated opposition as "garbage" was an ungracious slap at the many hundreds of persons who supported the local Democratic Party in Mountainside during the campaign and at the polls.

Such commentary hardly lends credibility to statements made that same evening by Mayor Riccardi that the present all-Republican mayor and council provides "the very best leadership... for all the citizens of Mountainside, regardless of party affiliation."

Not that I am surprised at this example of low-level politics. During the last week of the recent campaign, a Republican spokesman stated that the writer had not attended Borough Council or budget meetings with any regularity. The persons responsible for that distortion had personal knowledge of my attendance of 90 percent of all such scheduled meetings.

By their abusive remarks, the leadership of the local Republican Party demeans our whole community. Those responsible for these remarks owe an immediate apology to all the citizens of Mountainside.

ROBERT H. JAFFE
350 Summit rd.

WE'LL BE BACK

To everyone who supported me and worked so hard in the past borough election, I extend my most sincere thanks and congratulations. We garnered more than 48 percent of the vote. This, in a town that has never known a two-party system!

The Republicans, for the first time in many years, could not sit back complacently with their feet up. This year they worked hard for their victory.

We have performed a civic service for this community. For even though we have not won office we have made it known that we are strong, organized, thinking force that will make the mayor-and-council-account-for-their-actions.

We are not, as stated by an official of the Borough Council, doing a disservice to our community. It is never a disservice to a community to bring the truth and facts to light.

As I stated after the election, "disappointed, yes." Discouraged, "no!" We'll be back.

JOHN H. PALMER JR.

Arrests

Investigation by Lt. James Herrick showed that the men were AWOL from the Army, police stated.

A further check was made on the vehicle. It had been reported stolen during a robbery at a motel in Jacksonville, Fla.

The men who were turned over to military authorities were Wayne Jerome Clarke, 20, and Gregory Edward Jamar, 18, both of Plainfield.

Accidents

Flint, Mich. The accident occurred last Thursday morning at the intersection of Rt. 22 West and New Providence road, police reported.

According to police, Pickens had stopped for a red light. DeMauro told police that his brakes failed and he could not stop in time to avoid hitting the truck in the rear.

Foothill Club to hold showing of new fashion trends in furs

Women who love the romance and beauty of fine furs and the excitement of the new "fun furs" will want to be present at the Mountainside-Foothill Club fashion show and card party at the Tower Steak House next Thursday Nov. 19, according to a club spokeswoman.

Dessert will be served at noon and fashions will be modeled starting at 1 p.m. Women have been asked to start arriving at 11:30 in order to get underway on schedule.

Fashions will be provided by Flemington Furs and will feature boutique items, suede, fun furs, "his and hers" combinations of fur coats with hats and capes. Fur accessories will also be modeled, such as scarves, belts, collars, cuffs, hems and boots.

The following club members will model the fashions:

Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. Carl Blume, Mrs. Neil Clover, Mrs. James Fleming, Mrs. Edward Hafeken, Mrs. James Keating, Mrs. John O'Connell, Mrs. Sy Quinton, Mrs. Steven Sussko and Mrs. Helmut Wanner. Hair fashions will be done by Mary Ann of Plaza Coiffures in Springfield.

Added to the showing will be a "mystery model." Mrs. Joseph Papik, chairman may be called at 232-1043 for reservations. Child care will be provided at Echo Bowling Lanes. Non-members are also invited to attend, the announcement added.

PTA program

Some of the topics touched upon by the three guest speakers at tonight's PTA meeting.

Some of the subjects to be covered are: College admissions tests, factors of college selection, hints on college visitations, understanding admissions terminology, scholarships and loans and helpful references.

Following these discussions will be a question and answer period.

Other members of the guidance department who will be taking part in this meeting are: Duane Brown, Kenneth Gleason, John Kyreakakis, Karol Lewis, Mrs. Tommie Logan and Geoffrey Perrin.

Local schools

Youngsters can see the various environments. Another member of the audience said that not everyone is "outdoor-oriented" and that the youngsters can always learn something.

Bruno requested that the board draft a letter to Police Chief Edward Mullin, Police Commissioner Robert Ruggiero and Mayor Thomas Ricciardi to ask for increased police surveillance at the schools.

He said that there has been increased vandalism, especially at the Deerfield School. The board has had to hire a private guard agency at Deerfield for after-school hours and over weekends because of this, he said. He suggested that the police patrol the schools during this period.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Volles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

HOUSEWIFE HELPERS
A great deal has been written and said about the need for manpower in the attack on disease and promotion of health. Nowhere is it truer that manpower is a key factor than in mental health.

The attack on the vast complex of mental illness, that afflicts one out of every ten Americans, requires many more doctors, nurses, psychologists, social workers and other professionals than we now have.

Put it also demands a host of helpers, who some call "paraprofessionals" and others just "mental health workers."

These people are essential if we are to move ahead in the fight against mental illness. The hundreds of community mental health centers across the country need them, as do hospitals, clinics, and various other organizations.

So a great deal of effort is being given to finding, training, developing, and using new kinds of workers in mental health. Among them are housewives; and the housewife helper is turning out to be extremely valuable in many community programs, either as volunteers or as part or full-time paid workers.

Among interesting projects that have been carried out in training housewives for mental health work is one in New York.

In the training project there, mature women whose children were grown learned to rehabilitate mentally ill patients. The project set out to train eight carefully selected housewives, up to 55 years of age, each year to become mental health rehabilitation workers.

With supervision, the housewives learned to help socially disabled persons readjust to community living after a period of hospitalization, working with the patients individually, in families, or in groups and giving continuous assistance and moral support.

The project has been very successful; and the housewives have brought fresh approaches and real help to difficult cases.

Public television names director of education services

One of the country's foremost authorities on instructional television productions is joining the New Jersey Public Broadcasting Authority as director of educational services.

Dr. Edward J. Meade Jr., chairman of the authority, announced this week the appointment of Mrs. Mary Jane Phillips to the post with the New Jersey Public Television Network which begins operation early next year.

Mrs. Phillips comes to New Jersey from an 11-year stint as manager of Educational Television Service at WETA Channel 22, the public television station in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Lyman said Mrs. Phillips will be directly responsible for liaison with educators throughout the state to determine the needs of New Jersey schools.

"Not only will educational programs be produced in the new 13-station television studios but the state will subscribe to the leading national educational networks and to leading national educational materials and instructional services," Dr. Lyman said. "While most of the educational programming will eventually be beamed into schools via a low-powered closed circuit system, there will be some educational programs over the normal full color TV stations operated by the authority."

Mrs. Phillips has won many awards for her educational television productions. In 1967 her production, "A Matter of Fact," and "People" received Emmy Awards. She has also received the Virginia School Bell Award and recognition from Ohio State University.

Trailers aren't falling behind More Jerseyans hit the road

This fall, more travel trailer owners are taking to the camping trails, according to the New Jersey Recreational Vehicle Institute, the state trade organization for dealers of all types of recreational vehicles.

Trailers are the most popular selling model of the four types of recreational vehicles available. The other categories are camping or tent trailers, motor homes and motor homes.

Travel trailers for recreational use came into their own in the 1950s. Before that time a "trailer" of any size could be used as a permanent home or as a camping unit. Then manufacturers began to make units larger than a car and to make them more mobile. These grew into the mobilehomes that are now a common sight on full-time homes.

Manufacturers realized that there was still a market for a trailer small enough to be towed by the family car and used for week-end trips and vacation housing. According to the National Recreational Vehicle Institute, travel trailers are currently the most popular type of recreational vehicle.

New Jersey dealers sell and rent units as small as 13 feet long. These midsize trailers have kitchen and eating facilities which usually convert to the sleeping area at night to accommodate four to six people. Most are self-contained as far as toilet facilities and water are concerned.

The next size range, 17 to 21 feet, currently dominates the sales scene. They feature basically the same equipment as the smaller models but give the family more elbow room. In this size full bathroom facilities are often available and they may sleep up to eight with bunk beds.

The market for the 22-foot to 30-foot travel trailers is mainly retired folks using their new-found leisure time to see the United States and often the world. Many luxury models are popular in this size range. Manufacturers have formed exclusive camping clubs that sponsor tours all over the world for the retired. Many of these units may feature wall-to-wall carpeting, built-in stereo and television, decorator designed furnishings and air conditioning.

Relationship of jazz and social sciences focus of symposium

"Jazz and all that Sociology" is the title of a one-day symposium sponsored by the Rutgers Institute of Jazz Studies, to be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at Ackerson Hall on the Newark campus of the State University.

Dr. Charles Nanry, chairman of the conference and assistant professor of sociology at Rutgers, said the symposium will focus on the contributions of social science to the understanding of jazz as an art form. Dr. Nanry will participate in the conference, describing his own research and discussion problems facing the sociologist in the study of jazz. Other speakers who will participate in the symposium are: Dr. Neil Leonard, professor of American civilization at the University of Pennsylvania, and author of "Jazz and the White Americans"; Donald Heckman, music critic and columnist; Christopher White, jazz musician and member of the Rutgers Newark faculty; and Dr. Irving Louis Horowitz, chairman of the sociology department at Livingston College, a unit of the State University. Dr. Horowitz will discuss the relationship between jazz and modern jazz.

Also scheduled to lead discussions during the day's program are: Dr. Walter Allen, jazz biographer and professor of ceramic engineering at Rutgers; Dr. Richard Peterson, a sociologist at Vanderbilt University, and leading authority on the relation of jazz to other music forms in industrial societies; Dr. Howard Becker of Northwestern University; Dr. Robert Stebbins of Memorial University in Newfoundland; Dr. William Weinberg, assistant to the president of Rutgers and chairman of the jazz institute's governing board; and Dr. Richard Stephenson, professor of sociology at Douglass College. Ernest Smith, film collector and authority on jazz movies, will show a group of rare motion pictures and discuss their social implications.

Further information on the symposium may be obtained by contacting Dr. Nanry, at the Institute, on the Rutgers Newark campus. The telephone number is 648-5595.

Two new productions added to School Field Trip Series

Upcoming productions in the School Field Trip series at Symphony Hall in Newark include two productions marking their first appearance in the series: "Poetry Now!" and "Dandelion."

The "School Field Trip" series, which this season includes 10 productions, has been attempted by more than a half million youngsters from all over the state since its inception in 1964.

The two new productions are "Poetry Now!" a dramatic presentation of poetry by black and white actors performed by black and white actors; and "Dandelion," performed by The Paper Bag Players, prize-winning children's theater group.

"Poetry Now!" scheduled for a 10:30 a.m. performance next Tuesday, features a group of four actors and actresses performing the works of such poets as Shakespeare, Langston Hughes, Lord Byron, James Weldon Johnson, Robert Hayden, Edward Arlington Robinson and Emily Dickinson.

The "Poetry Now!" group is an outgrowth of an educational theater group formed in 1963, and has played before students in cities throughout the country.

"What we attempt to do," says executive producer Sunna Rasch, "is to bring people together. We have found that a gifted actor or actress can give a meaning and vibrancy to poetry that has a universal appeal among young people."

THE PAPER BAG PLAYERS will present "Dandelion" - a fantasy based on the theory of evolution - in six performances, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Dec. 8, 9 and 10.

Founded in 1958, The Paper Bag Players use only original stories, sketches, songs, dances and jokes, created by the members of the company.

In place of traditional sets, props and costumes, The Paper Bag Players use the everyday materials of children's play: familiar objects such as paper bags, cardboard boxes, shower curtains lampshades and so forth.

The Paper Bag Players won an Obie Award in 1965, the American Educational Theatre Association Award in 1967, and a grant from the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities in 1968-69, the first such grant ever awarded to a theatre for children.

The company has performed in England, Japan and in most large cities in the United States.

Bookings for school groups may be made through the Educational Director at Symphony Hall, 1020 Broad St., Newark, phone 632-1815.

Connor toastmaster for awards banquet

John T. Connor of New Vernon will serve as toastmaster for the 1970 Annual Labor and Industry Awards banquet to be held in Newark on Dec. 3, Charles Serrano, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry, announced this week.

Connor, former U.S. Secretary of Commerce, is chairman of the Board of Allied Chemical Corp., New York City.

Presentation of the awards will be made by Governor William T. Cahill to the individual labor official and business executive who have made the greatest contribution outside of their respective professions to the well being of New Jersey.

Natural Hygiene group

The American Natural Hygiene Society will meet at 8 p.m. next Thursday at LeSoul Caterers in Irvington. Adele Davidson will speak on "Reap the Harvest of the Good Life."

B'nai B'rith youth post

Morris Rohrberg of Newark was unanimously elected a national commissioner of the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization at a recent meeting of the board of governors, District Grand Lodge No. 3, B'nai B'rith, held in Cherry Hill.

As a national commissioner, Rohrberg will supervise BBYO activities in District 3, encompassing New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and West Virginia. He is chairman of BBYO's New Jersey regional board.

Rohrberg has been a past president of Essex County's Ezekiel-Traurig Lodge three times, and was president of the 37-lodge Northern New Jersey Council in 1967-1968. He is also serving as this year's council bulletin editor.

By AMY ADAMS

A LETTER FROM "ADAM"
Dear Amy:

In response to your letter to "Perplexed": Since much of your reply concentrated on semantics, I wish to dispel your notion that the Garden of Eden was a utopia. It was a paradise (read a dictionary). In your reply, you stated that the "Garden of Eden" was a utopia where man and woman could propagate under the protective cloak of God. It was not Adam and Eve's purpose to propagate the species. Also, according to the Bible, woman was created as a companion for Adam.

When man wanted the good life... This doesn't necessarily mean the things that you mentioned, particularly children. They want happiness and only happiness. It is up to the woman to decide how she will pursue her happiness. I would also like to hear your idea of the purpose for which women were created, if not originally as a companion for man.

Dear "Adam": Webster's New World Dictionary describes "utopia" as any place, state or situation of ideal perfection. The Garden of Eden was such a place—a paradise.

I don't know how old you are or what Bible you read, but the following is from the Book of Genesis, 1:28: "And God blessed them; and God said unto them: 'Be fruitful, and multiply...'"

As for me, I agree with my Maker; I have fulfilled his desire and mine.

Dear Amy:

We are senior citizens who work full time. As soon as we get home from work, including Saturday, our inconsiderate neighbors send their children over to visit us. We only have evenings and Saturdays to catch up on our housework and we find these children in our way and very annoying.

Why can't they keep their children home until we invite them over? We tell these children to please go home because we have work to do, but they won't listen and it just doesn't work.

Blue Eyes

Dear Blue Eyes: If the parents are inconsiderate and the children won't leave, I suggest that you do not open the door when they knock... and don't worry about it. They are their parents' responsibility, not yours.

Dear Amy:

About two months ago she was home alone with an old boyfriend, I was supposed to have gone out with my mother, but I stayed home instead. My sister did not know this. While walking down the stairs, I saw her and the old boyfriend "making out", but they did not see me.

I'm all mixed up about what to do. Should I tell someone, or keep my mouth shut? I'm 14 and Upset

Parkway gets low rental on 10 new toll machines

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority announced this week that he termed a breakthrough in automatic collecting costs for the Garden State Parkway and the toll road industry as a whole.

Gallagher said the authority has accepted a proposal for the rental of ten new toll machines on the Parkway that presages a drastic drop in the cost of automatic operations throughout the industry. The collecting devices serve in exact change toll lanes on the Parkway.

Currently paying $11.50 per day per machine for the 92 automatic toll units in Parkway use, the authority has obtained a rental rate on the proposed 10 additions that ranges from $7.95 to $9.95 over a five-year period with an option to renew at an estimated 75 percent below present cost.

The offer from Revenue Control Systems Division, Litton Industries, of South Plainfield, covering the 10 new machines prescribes that upon expiration of the basic five-year term the authority may renew yearly at an annual rental rate of $376.25 per unit—little more than a dollar a day—plus maintenance cost which is now figured at $2 daily.

Gallagher noted that the new arrangement will no doubt "influence" the cost to be charged the authority on the existing 92 units when the present rental contract for them expires in two years. The latter contract was awarded to another firm Jan. 1, 1965.

The Parkway and other toll roads rent automatic collectors, rather than purchase the units, to gain the benefit of constantly developing improvements.

Aid group picks officers

A new slate of officers, headed by Harry G. Carpenter Jr. of Glen Ridge, has assumed leadership responsibility for the Children's Aid and Adoption Society of New Jersey. The society is one of the state's oldest and latest privately financed non-sectarian, non-racial adoption agencies operating in every county of New Jersey.

Carpenter, who succeeds Dr. Emil J. Piel of North Caldwell as president of the society's board of directors, has been a board member for eight years, six years as chairman of the development and fund-raising committee, and one year as first vice-president.

Also named officers were: Mrs. John F. Muller Jr. of South Orange, first vice-president; Peter L. Murphy of Mahwah, second vice-president; Kenneth J. Reed of South Orange, treasurer; Mrs. John W. Marquis of Chatham, recording secretary; Mrs. William P. Marshall of Short Hills, assistant secretary.

Stamp Clubs to present ninth annual exhibition

Nojex '70, the ninth annual exhibition and bourse of the North Jersey Federated Stamp Clubs Inc., will be held tomorrow through Sunday at the Cranford Motor Lodge, located at the Winfield Circle in Cranford. The exhibition will contain more than 3,000 pages of stamps, most of which will be placed in competition by the members of the various stamp clubs that comprise the federation. Each competitive exhibit is entered under one of the following classifications, I, United States, Possessions and Confederate, II, Scandinavia, III, Foreign, IV, Topical, V, Postal History, VI, Novice, VII, Juniors.

A special non-competitive exhibit of philatelic material from the Philatelic Division of the Smithsonian Institution will be shown through the cooperation of Reider Norby, assistant curator of the Division of Philately at the Smithsonian. Norby is a former member of the Federation.

A bourse consisting of 15 dealers will give visitors and club members an opportunity to purchase stamps and covers for their collections. Representatives from both the United Nations Postal Service and the United States Post Office will be present so that available stamps from both services will be on sale.

Meetings of the following organizations are scheduled during the period of the exhibition: American Academy of Philately, Helvetia Society of America, Eire Philatelic Association, Scandinavian Collectors Club, Collectors of Religion on Stamps and the New York and New Jersey Chapters of the American Topical Association.

At 2 p.m. on Saturday an instruction session on the stamps of Switzerland will be held by the Helvetia Society at which the speaker will show two films on Swiss stamps.

The annual dinner and presentation of awards will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. The speaker will be F. Burton Sellers of Tarrytown, N. Y., vice-president of the Collectors Club of New York.

The North Jersey Federation of Stamp Clubs consists of 22 clubs. Member clubs in the immediate vicinity are the Westfield Stamp Club, the Cranford Philatelic Society and the Elizabeth Stamp Club.

One of the purposes of the annual exhibit is to give the general public the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the hobby of philately. Members of the various clubs will be present to answer questions.

Batsheva dancers of Israel to give program in Newark

The Batsheva Dance Company of Israel will appear at Symphony Hall, Newark, as a special attraction on Sunday, Nov. 22, at 3 p.m. The Batsheva, one of the world's leading modern dance companies, has been guided by Martha Graham, Jerome Robbins, Jose Limon and other leading exponents of the modern dance.

Formed in 1963 by the Baroness Bethsabée de Rothschild, the Batsheva has appeared in Israel's three large cities as well as in kibbutzim and moshavim throughout the country. The Batsheva drew international attention during its first European tour a year ago, appearing at the Netherlands Dance Festival and in London. The company dances to the music of Barber, Schoenberg, Hindemith and Menotti, among other modern composers. It also has commissioned works from such Israeli composers

The exhibition, bourse and United Nations Post Office will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The United States Post Office will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and noon to 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Medical School to acquire hospital as teaching facility

Raritan Valley Hospital in Greenbrook, Somerset County, will be acquired by the new medical school as a teaching facility, according to the expansion of the medical school program to a four-year program.

It is hoped that actions necessary for the acquisition will be completed by the end of the year. The board of trustees of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey said this week.

The arrangement approved by the board provides for a long-term lease of the 125-bed private hospital's entire facilities, with a purchase option in the event that the school eventually seeks complete ownership.

Terms of the arrangement call for the CMDNJ board to assume responsibility for the hospital's operations, including the cost of operating expenses.

EVERY LITTLE CASH OR TRAVEL is required by the terms of the agreement. The CMDNJ board notes that the state is supporting the hospital as a teaching facility for a period of approximately $1 million in the current fiscal year and approximately $1.5 million in subsequent fiscal years.

The board emphasized that it will continue to serve the medical care needs of the community after its conversion.

"The hospital's staff is assured that their employment will continue normally following the transfer of control. The institution's present voluntary organization will be organized to retain their affiliation with the hospital board," said.

THE BOARD SAID it selects Raritan Valley Hospital, located about seven miles from the medical school campus at Rutgers, after a careful study of all hospital facilities in the New Brunswick area.

The selection was based on Raritan Valley's immediate availability under favorable financial terms and the readiness of its staff and trustees to facilitate the hospital's conversion into a teaching facility.

Control of the hospital will enable the CMDNJ board to take the first step toward fulfilling its pledge to develop the Rutgers branch of the state medical school into a four-year institution offering the M.D. degree.

Since its launching in 1966, the school at Rutgers has operated only a two-year program, for lack of clinical teaching facilities. Its graduates have been forced to complete their training at outside hospitals.

THE BOARD SAID it will begin operations as a four-year institution in September, 1971, after recruitment of faculty, interns and residents.

It will accept students only 45 minutes from each of the three and two hospitals of the Rutgers medical school, which will be the present first-year class, who will be ready to begin clinical training in September, 1971, on an enrollment of 80.

Therefore, the board and the Rutgers medical school staff are considering some alternatives to provide other clinical education facilities for the remainder of the enrollment of the hospital.

The possibilities, the board noted, include expansion of Raritan Valley Hospital affiliation with other nearby hospitals, and construction of a new hospital building on the school's University Heights campus. The school is in final negotiations with the state for the use of being considered.

The CMDNJ board also is considering acquisition of the Rutgers Branch of the Medical School, East July 1, and incorporate it along with the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry at Newark into a single entity under independent control.

One of the new staff of the hospital, made in August, was that of the state medical school, which will be responsible for the development of the Rutgers branch into a four-year institution. The Newark branch, which operates Marlboro Hospital in Newark, already offers a full four-year program.

Present enrollment in the two-year program at Rutgers totals 96. The Newark campus has a four-year enrollment of 170 in a first year class.

Turnpike boosts salary of non-union personnel

A salary program granting increases of $1,000 to management personnel and eight percent to office and clerical employees retroactive to Jan. 1, has been adopted by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

The program, which provides other benefits, covers approximately 500 Turnpike employees who are not covered by a union contract signed last August for 930 operating personnel in the toll collection and maintenance departments.

Area businessmen asked to contribute to ICBO fund drive

Henry W. Galdson, president of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, was host to a meeting last week at which area businessmen were asked to support the $250,000 ICBO fund drive.

The meeting was held at the Executive Club in Rahway.

Present at the meeting with Galdson in the Executive Club were: Robert W. Klemmer, New Jersey Bell president, who is general fund-raising chairman.

Galdson told the group that ICBO is seeking funds to continue to expand its work of aiding medically handicapped children, especially through the use of prosthetic devices.

He noted that the New Jersey Turnpike Authority has been funded mostly by its national organization, he said. It is now asking to support its expansion program by increased requests for state aid.

Present at the meeting were ICBO committee members Robert H. Meyer, New Jersey Bell president, and Joseph J. Corbin, president of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

Other meetings with business leaders of the area are planned. Fund-raising efforts will be held in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Boychoir reading 3d concert season

The Masterwork Boychoir, conducted by Howard Buchanan of Maplewood, is preparing its third concert season. A group of 40 boys from 16 municipalities in northern New Jersey, the Boychoir has appeared at Carnegie and Philharmonic Halls in New York City, as well as in many local concerts.

Plans for the current season include concerts in Morristown, Atlantic City, Whippoorwill, and New York.

Membership in The Masterwork Boychoir is open to boys age 9 to 14. No special previous training is required. An audition for interested boys will be held Sunday at 300 Mendham rd., Morristown, immediately following a 2 p.m. rehearsal. Additional information may be obtained by calling 761-4872.

State lags in providing college space

Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph A. Dungan this week confirmed the findings of a recent study which ranks New Jersey next to last among the 50 states in providing college space for its own students. But he noted that the study is based on enrollment figures of two years ago.

The study said that expansion under the 1968 bond issue and enrollment gains registered in the past two years have produced a brighter picture than the one painted in the recently-released study by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

"It is not true," Dungan said of the residence and migration study by the U. S. Office of Education, "But I'm confident that the new report, based on 1973 figures, will find New Jersey in considerably better shape."

He noted that enrollments at all public colleges in the state have climbed an estimated 16 percent in the past two years alone. The community colleges, for example, are serving 155 percent more students than in the 1969-70 academic year.

Dungan underscored the fact that the federal study's findings were based on statistics gathered in September 1968, when the Department of Higher Education was just beginning its second year of operation and before a $200 million higher education bond issue paving the way for college expansion was passed by the state's voters.

Efforts to expand the availability of higher education that had only begun two years ago have since advanced rapidly by the launching of community colleges, expansion of the state colleges, and planning for two new state colleges, Dungan said.

shows that in 1968, New Jersey ranked above only Alaska in providing college space for its residents and very last among the 50 states in taking care of its full-time undergraduate resident students.

In addition, New Jersey was one of only two states which slid backwards during the five-year period preceding 1968 in percentage of college students in both categories accommodated in their home state. The other state was Virginia. All the other states either maintained or improved that percentage.

The proportion of all resident students educated in New Jersey colleges dropped from 57 percent in 1963 to 53 percent in 1968. Residents attending New Jersey colleges as full-time undergraduates dropped from 46 percent in 1963 to 43 percent.

Ambry asks education on environment

School board members and educators have a "clear mandate" to develop programs in environmental education if this nation is to survive, says Edward J. Ambry, director of the N. J. State Council for Environmental Education.

Dr. Ambry, who spoke at the N. J. School Boards Association 18th annual workshop on "Visual Pollution and Some Suggestions for its Cure," warned that the environmental situation "borders on the brink of disaster," but he also held out hope of a "new beginning" if educators will "link forces with professional architects and planners" for betterment of the environment.

Dr. Ambry, who is also professor of education at Montclair State College, chided the citizenry for "the violence we have wreaked upon our natural surroundings" and for the "ugliness we have inflicted upon ourselves by creating enormous, dying, anachronistic cities that no longer serve man humanely...."

NEW building at Stevens

Plans for a new six-story building on the campus of Stevens Institute of Technology, one of the priorities of the college's Centennial Fund Program, were announced this week by Dr. Jess H. Davis, president of the college.

The building, which is the first to be constructed under the Centennial Fund Program, will provide facilities for the chemistry-chemical engineering department and the department of metallurgy. It will be located at the corner of River and Fifth streets, opposite the "A" Building. Its cost is estimated at approximately $7 million with an additional $1 million for equipment.

The building is being partially financed by a grant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Funds from this department are at the present time "frozen," but it is expected that they will be available reasonably soon.

The beginning of actual construction of the building will depend on a successful arrangement for funding the cost through the route of the New Jersey Facility Authority tax-exempt bonds.

9 air polluters get partial fine rebates after corrections

Eight business firms and one municipality have become the first air pollution violators in New Jersey to receive rebates on fines by correcting or eliminating the sources of emissions.

Richard J. Sullivan, state commissioner of Environmental Protection, said that under the state's air pollution control laws, rebates up to 90 per cent of the original penalty may be made by the department when the violation has been corrected within a reasonable time.

Sullivan said that while these are the first such rebates ever made under the law, action is pending on a number of other applications and rebates will be made when the orders for correction are satisfied.

The rebate checks were mailed out during October, according to Thomas M. Leonard Jr., supervisor of field control operations of the Bureau of Air Pollution Control.

Among the nine recipients was the governing body of the Township of Moorestown, Burlington County. The municipality had an incinerator violation which has been corrected thus qualifying for a $90 rebate on the original penalty of $100, said Leonard.

The other recipients, the nature of the violation and amount of rebate are:

- Cherry Hill Inn, Cherry Hill, (incinerator) $180 rebate on a $200 fine; Foodarama, Inc., Freehold, (incinerator) $90 rebate on $100 fine; Inwood Knitting Mills, Inc., Clifton, (installation of equipment without permit) $200 rebate on $400 fine; GLM Co., Perth Amboy, (smoke) $180 rebate on $200 fine; Bambergers, Inc., Newark, (incinerator) $180 rebate on $200 fine; Crane Co., ceramic division, Trenton, (smoke) $125 rebate on $250 fine; Foodtown, Long Branch, (incinerator) $90 rebate on $100 fine, and 55 LaFrance Corp., Bloomfield, (smoke) $180 rebate on $200 fine.

KEEP FROM BETWEEN PARKED CARS

WINNER. AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

"Stay on the sidewalk," advises R. J. Vialle of the New Jersey Automobile Club. "Many people, especially children are killed or injured every year because they fail to follow this simple safety precaution."

He went on to explain: "Parked cars block the vision of both drivers and pedestrians. A pedestrian suddenly emerging from between parked cars is quite a surprise to a motorist."

"It takes time for a driver to react, time to apply the brakes, and time for the brakes to stop the car. All this means that a driver often cannot stop in enough time to avoid hitting a pedestrian, especially a small one, who may unexpectedly appear in front of him."

Vialle urged parents to set good examples in their walking habits and to instruct their children not to play around or near parked cars.

"Keep From Between Parked Cars" is the central theme of an award-winning poster, which has been selected for use in classrooms around the country.

19 artists on faculty are featured in NSC exhibit

Paintings, acrylics, sculptures, crafts, tapestries and works in other media make up the 19 Faculty exhibit at the Newark State College galleries now through Nov. 25. Works of art for the showing, one of the most successful in the college's history, are by 19 faculty members at Newark State.

19 Faculty was organized by Miss Zara Cohen of the Fine Arts Department. The exhibit is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Dr. Fred R. Schwartz, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, is among the contributing exhibitors. His contributions include two welded copper sculptures — "Case Study" and "Mirror." A resident of Maplewood, Dr. Schwartz holds degrees from Hofstra College and New York University.

James Howe, former department chairman and associate professor of fine arts at the college since 1955, also has two works featured in the exhibit. "Kochel 440" is an acrylic ink composition on burlap and other fabrics, and "Golden Stairs" is a composition of ink on gesso burlap. Howe is a resident of Millburn and recently returned from sabbatical leave and travel in Spain.

H. BERNARD LIPSCOMB and Michael Metzger are among the more widely known artists on the Newark State faculty who are participating in the showing.

Lipscomb has on display an untitled mixed media presentation and an untitled work composed of acrylic on paper under glass. He was honored last year with a one man showing at his alma mater, Randolph Macon College. A resident of Union, Lipscomb also holds a master's degree from American University, Washington, D. C.

Metzger's contributions include an oil, "De Kalb," and an ink drawing on paper entitled "Gonomy." He is a graduate of the State University of New York at Buffalo and of Cranbrook Academy of Art. He currently resides in Westfield.

W. CARL BURGER, a specialist in water-colors and graphics, has on display a work from his "Target Series" — a watercolor and krypton composition. He also is showing an ink and acrylic entitled "Academie le Jungle." Burger is a resident of Calton and has been a featured exhibiting artist in the Northeast. His works have been shown in the touring exhibit of the U. S. Information Agency.

Miss Carol Cade, a New York artist, has two acrylic on canvas compositions in 19

Faculty. They are entitled "To Measure Time" and "Dark Mandala III." Miss Cade, a member of the NSC faculty since 1964, is a graduate of Hendrix College and holds a master's degree from Columbia University.

Alec Nicolescu, a mixed media artist, is exhibiting a work entitled "This Space Reserved for Alec Nicolescu." A resident of Teaneck, he holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Denver.

SIX YOUNG ARTISTS on the faculty are among the contributors.

John Cornish of Glen Ridge, a member of the faculty since 1968, is showing two companion pieces, untitled works of acrylic and canvas. He is a graduate of Jersey City State College.

Leonard Pierno is also showing two companion works — "Feed; Digest; Consume (The Methodical Breakdown of Structure)" includes a monoprint-mixed media triptych and an ink embossing. Pierno joined the college faculty last year. He is a resident of Washington Township, and a Jersey City State graduate.

Theodosia Victoria, a resident of Montclair and a member of the college faculty since 1969, has two works on display. Both involve plastic lenses and the use of transparencies and are entitled "View," and "Permanent View." Victoria recently was featured in an issue of "Esquire" magazine in an article on new art forms.

Johann Michael Jochowitz is a resident of Queens and has been a member of the Newark State College art faculty since 1968. A specialist in the area of drawing assemblages, he is exhibiting two works entitled "Vishnu's Maya," and "Yoni." He is a graduate of New York University.

Charles F. Simonds, a resident of Elizabeth, a graduate of the University of California and holds a master's degree from Rutgers. He is showing an untitled painting primarily of latex rubber paint. Simonds joined the college faculty in 1969.

David Troy, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design and a member of the college faculty since 1967, is known primarily as a filmmaker, but is also a sculptor. He is showing two compositions: "Foot" is composed of latex and beach sand; a second entitled "Work" is a composition of polyester resin, fiberglass and steel bolts. Troy also holds a master's degree from Cornell University. He is a resident of New York City.

THE EXHIBIT also includes a crafts presentation.

E. Austin Goodwin, a member of the Fine Arts faculty at the Union campus since 1959, is one of the featured craftsmen. Goodwin's contributions are two chess sets: One is made from bronze, silver, and chestnut; and the second chess set is cast in silver, ebony, chestnut, ivory and gemstones while the game board is made of avodire, rosewood and teak. The case for the second chess set is made from rosewood and silver.

Goodwin and Martin Stan Buchner are contributing artists in the display of the College's Mace and Chain. The ceremonial Mace and Chain are being exhibited with the permission of Dr. Nathan Weiss, president of Newark State, who accepted the ceremonial piece from both Goodwin and Buchner on behalf of the college in 1969. The Mace is used in all formal ceremonies and is carried by the college marshal preceding the professionals at graduation and convocation. The Chain is the official symbol of the Office of the President and is worn by the president at all formal academic proceedings. Goodwin is a resident of Westfield, and Buchner, who is also college ombudsman, resides in Madison.

Another part of the craftsmen's section of the exhibit features tapestry and weaving. Mrs. Pearl Greenberg, a resident of New York City, is showing works entitled "Cross-Section of an Imaginary Plant," made of wool, cotton and linen; and "Flexible Bird Bath, Slightly Used," made of wool, cotton, linen and plastic. Mrs. Greenberg is an alumna of New York University and has been a member of the faculty at Newark State since 1965.

David W. Jones, a member of the faculty since 1959, is an associate professor of fine arts specializing in ceramics. Jones is exhibiting pottery and sculpture, including a stoneware bottle, a stoneware jar, and a sculpture entitled "Argo Who?" a composition of masonite, steel and paper. Jones is a resident of Peapack.

The exhibit also includes a painting, "Mystic," by Vito Giacalone.

History research grants are offered

The New Jersey Historical Commission announced this week that it is continuing its grant-in-aid program for research in New Jersey history. The program was established last year to stimulate original research and writing in the history of New Jersey by both academic and amateur historians. The large number of applicants for last year's grants and the continual requests for information about the program encouraged the commission to continue the program.

One-year grants of up to $500 will be made, on the basis of significance and originality of the project, financial need of the applicant, as well as other criteria. Applications for grants will be accepted until March 1.

Professor Richard P. McCormick, chairman of the commission, stressed the fact that the research grant-in-aid program is open to both the amateur and the professional historian. College and university history departments and local historical societies are being informed of the program. All persons engaged in a current research project pertaining to the history of the State or its counties or communities are encouraged to apply for a grant.

Application forms may be obtained from the New Jersey Historical Commission, State Library, 185 W. State St., Trenton, 08625.

Beethoven concert at South Orange

In commemoration of the 200th anniversary of Ludwig Van Beethoven's birth, Ira Kraemer will conduct the South Orange Symphony Orchestra in Beethoven's Symphony 5 and the Egmont Overture as part of a free concert to be given on Saturday, at 8:30 p.m. at the South Orange Junior High School. Included on the program are Saint-Saens' Danse Macabre and Riegger's Dance Rhythms.

The orchestra, formerly the South Orange Community Orchestra, has expanded to 80 members who live in communities of Essex, Union and Morris counties. The November performance is one of four planned for the season.

The orchestra performs without charge. Financial support depends on the generosity of local patrons who donate funds each year to enable the orchestra to subsist on necessary expenditures, such as orchestration. Orchestra members donate time and talent to provide serious orchestral music as a service to the communities.

Great Eastern store re-opens in Elmont

Great Eastern, one of the metropolitan area's leading discount department store chains, celebrated the re-opening of its big Elmont, N.Y., unit yesterday. When Great Eastern was founded 12 years ago, the store was one of the largest of its kind on the east coast.

The current remodeling has added approximately 40,000 square feet of selling space, bringing the overall store area to some 275,000 square feet. The entire store has been completely refurbished, newly fixtured and departmentally redesigned for greater shopping ease.

Masterwork selects its 'Messiah' soloists

Soloists for the Sunday, Dec. 6, performance of Handel's "Messiah" by The Masterwork Chorus have been announced. Michael May will accompany the chorus on the organ, with Sandra Darling, soprano, Carole Walters, contralto, William Metclaf, bass-baritone, as soloists, Nancy Schweißbold will be the tympanist.

The performance, for which tickets are still available, will take place in the Presbyterian Church on the Green, Morristown, at 3 p.m. General admission tickets are available through chorus members (at $4 each, half price to students) the church office, and at the Masterwork headquarters, 300 Mendham rd., Morristown.

Six persons are injured, two seriously, in five Springfield accidents last week

Six persons were injured, two seriously, in five accidents last week, according to Springfield police. Two of them occurred on Rt. 22 East near the Lido Diner. In fact, one involved the diner.

Two patrons at the Lido Diner on Rt. 22 were slightly injured Friday night when a truck went out of control and crashed into the front entrance of the diner, police said. Mary Ann Grady of Kenilworth was taken to Memorial General Hospital, Union, where she was treated and released. Al Hoesley of Summit told police that he would see his own doctor.

Accident police reported the truck driven by Aaron E. Swan of Newark and owned by Butler Industries of Newark was traveling east in the right lane of Rt. 22 shortly before midnight. He told police that an unidentified vehicle pulled out of the driveway at the Springfield Steak House and forced him into the left lane. The car kept going into the left lane, forcing Swan to apply his brakes and

The police report said that the truck skidded about 100 feet on the highway before leaving the road. It then continued about another 170 feet across the two turnarounds and crashed into the front of the diner. Several windows were broken and there was extensive damage to the door and entrance area.

Kate Gerdes of 40 Tooker ave., Springfield, was taken by the Springfield First Aid Squad to Overlook Hospital, Summit, following a two-car accident last Tuesday night at the intersection of Morris avenue and Caldwell place, police reported. She was admitted and in good condition after receiving multiple bruises and fractured ribs, a hospital spokesman said.

Mrs. Gerdes was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Benno Gerdes Sr., which collided with one driven by Michele Cinicola of Millburn. Police said that the Cinicola car was traveling north on Mountain avenue and making a left turn into Caldwell place. Mrs. Gerdes said that she did not see the Gerdes vehicle which was going south on Mountain, allegedly without lights.

Horst Klittich of Millburn is in satisfactory condition at Overlook Hospital following a two-car accident Sunday night on Morris avenue, a hospital spokesman said. He is being treated for a head injury.

According to police, both vehicles were traveling west on Morris avenue. A car driven by Samuel Green of East Orange was in the left lane and Klittich's vehicle was in the right lane. Green's car swung into the right lane and collided with the Klittich car.

Richard D. Nickler of Irvington and his passenger, Terry Caruso of Harrison, were slightly injured when a motorcycle on which they were riding fell over an embankment Sunday afternoon, police reported. They were taken to Overlook Hospital where they were treated and discharged.

The accident occurred on the Rt. 78 right-of-way near Try Drive. The motorcycle was traveling west on Rt. 78 when it slid on gravel, fell over the embankment and threw both men, police said.

There was a three-car accident Friday morning on Rt. 22 East and the west to east turn-around near the Lido Diner, police said. No one was injured.

According to police, a car driven by Thomas Neuhaus of Flushing, N.Y., had just come out of the turn-around and was crossing three lanes of traffic. A car driven by Theodore Doktor of Union was traveling in the center lane of the highway and struck Neuhaus' vehicle on the side. Another car driven by Frank Anderson of Jersey City then struck Doktor's car in the rear and forced it to again hit Neuhaus' vehicle.

Woman is hospitalized Apparent heart attack

Mrs. Selma Fox, 40, of 68 Briar Hill Circle, Springfield, was hospitalized Friday after suffering an apparent heart attack at Good Time Charlie's restaurant, 230 W. Westfield ave., Roselle Park.

Patrolman Edward Remyak's administered oxygen to Mrs. Fox and she was taken to Memorial General Hospital, Union, by Paramedics Joseph Salfi and James Kompany.

Builders choose Farinella to head their officers' slate

The Tower Steak House in Mountainside was the scene of the election of new officers of the Builders Association of Metropolitan New Jersey last week. The new slate of officers is headed by Frank P. Farinella Jr. of Springfield as president. Installation of officers will be on Dec. 12 at the association's annual Christmas dinner dance.

Farinella holds a BS degree from Seton Hall University and a Barch from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is a registered architect in the state of New Jersey and has been a builder for the past 15 years. He builds one and two-family houses and apartments in Union, Irvington, Hillside, East Hanover and Bloomfield.

In addition to being elected president of the association he was also elected to the New Jersey Builders Association board of directors. He is on the board of directors of the National Association of Home Builders. Farinella and his wife, the former Josephine Schillaci, live at 52 Tree Top Dr., Springfield, with their four children.

Student Council to evaluate school in yearly projects

The 1971 Student Council of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, headed by Raymond Danziger, president, David Dubler, vice-president, Bonnie Bernstein, secretary, and Leigh Blair, treasurer. The council also includes representatives of each class, the president of each of the four classes and two persons appointed by the president of the council with the consent of the council.

Mr. Jeanne Cusumano, faculty adviser to the council, said that the purpose of the council is to act as an intermediary between the administration and the student body, giving students the opportunity to participate in democratic government, solve student problems, develop school spirit and cooperation, and voice student opinion. All members must maintain a C average in all subjects for each semester and have no demerits in citizenship.

Danziger, as president, listed the projects being undertaken by the Student Council for the current year. Council members are on four committees involved with evaluation of the school.

They are trying to institute an "auditing program." Students could go to class during study period without being graded.

A pass-fail program is being considered for minor subjects.

A schedule to increase time periods between classes and provide longer lunch periods is being planned.

Draft counseling for senior boys is also being studied.

4 cars damaged in two accidents

No one was injured, but four cars were towed away following two accidents Monday, according to Springfield police.

A car driven by William L. Doland of 458 Mountain ave., Springfield, collided with one driven by Ralph H. Lightner of Mountainside during the morning at the intersection of Mountain Avenue and Nelson place. Police said that Lightner was going north on Mountain and Doland was traveling south on Mountain. Doland was attempting to make a left turn onto Nelson when his car struck Lightner's vehicle.

A car driven by Robert M. Howarth of Cranford collided with one driven by Emanuel Schwing of Madison, about 8 p.m. at the intersection of Morris Avenue and Church Hill. Police said Howarth was traveling west on Morris and Schwing was going east on Morris. Schwing was attempting to make a left turn onto Church Hill when his car collided with Howarth's.

Mrs. Seidel goes to MS conference

Mrs. Lorraine Seidel of Springfield represented the Upper New Jersey Chapter at the National Multiple Sclerosis Society's regional conference last week at the Roosevelt Hotel, New York City.

Some 125 delegates from society chapters in the mid-Atlantic, northeast and metropolitan New York regions attended the three-day meeting to discuss the society's present programs and future plans. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only national voluntary agency in the country seeking the cause, prevention and cure of the disease.

Conference sessions included workshop and general sessions about major society progress, research, community and patient services, professional and public education, fund raising and young adult activities. Additional discussions focused on the National Society's $10-million research development fund campaign and plans for the 1971 observance of the society's 25th anniversary.

'Catch 22' is rediscovered on screen and at Seton Hall

Joseph Heller, author of the 1961 best-selling novel "Catch 22" which has enjoyed a recent resurgence of popularity on college campuses, will speak at Seton Hall University in South Orange Tuesday night at the Student Center Lounge.

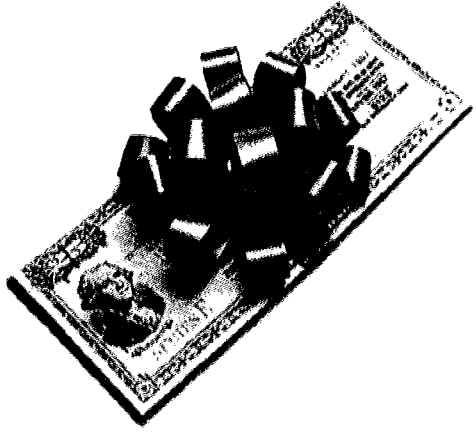

Heller's appearance is part of Fine Arts Week being sponsored on campus by the Student Programming Board. Readings from his World War II-based novel which has recently been released as a movie and has sold more than 3,000,000 paperback copies on college campuses alone, will be included in his talk. He is also author of a play, "W. Bombed in New Haven."

The Paul Winter Contemporary Concert, a musical group featuring folk and rock music, will present a concert at the university Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Student Center to continue Fine Arts Week. Starting at 10 p.m. will be the performance of the "The Jazz Festival and later will be the jazz group to play at the White House during the Kennedy era, the music evolved into its present form through the influence of African folk rhythms and instruments.

Instrumentation now includes conventional electric bass and percussion for kettles, snare, tenor, and piano. The concert will be held in the Student Center at 8 p.m. on Wednesday. The concert will be held in the Student Center at 8 p.m. on Wednesday. The concert will be held in the Student Center at 8 p.m. on Wednesday.

Business aid for Upsala

Formation of a 17-member committee to aid in the business community has been announced by Dr. Carl E. Jellman, president of the college.

The committee, which will be headed by Jellman, will advise the president on how to relate to the business community for support and to find new ways to use it. The committee will deal with important community problems. The committee plans to invite the college to other corporate and business executives in the area and to develop special seminars of help to businessmen.

Dr. Jellman said Upsala is increasing its role in community affairs and recognizes the importance of a college-businessman relationship.

"For private colleges to survive they must turn to the business community for the support that is needed to carry on," Dr. Jellman said. "We also believe strongly that a college can contribute substantially to the life of the business community."

Mrs. Milton Ogintz, president, will conduct the meeting. Honor roll presentations will be awarded by Mrs. Sanford Lieb, honor roll vice-president.

The program co-chairmen, Mrs. Philip Goldhammer and Mrs. Seymour Sternbach, have announced that, after the business meeting, there will be a lecture on the "Women's Liberation Movement" by Mrs. Diane Sidon of Westfield, a member of NOW (National Organization of Women).

symbolic flower arrangements offered. Mrs. Berrall, a Vassar graduate, gardener, world traveler, author, photographer, flower arranger, exhibitor and award winner, has been associated with the staffs of the Newark Museum and the Montclair Art Museum—as well as a trustee of the latter—and is a trustee of the Montclair Historical Society. She has lectured throughout the United States and Canada and has planned and escorted a number of European garden and fine arts tours for small specialized groups.

Her writings have included articles for Horticulture Magazine, American Home, Bulletin of the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens and others. She has written four books: "Flowers and Table Settings," "Flowers in Glass," "A History of Flower Arrangement" and "The Garden—an Illustrated History." She was recently named a chevalier of the Order of the Clou d'or des Jardins.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Young for the day will be Mrs. John B. Garber, Mrs. Roy T. Furberg and Mrs. William H. Bonner, all of Westfield, and pouring at the tea table will be Mrs. A. Evan Boss and Mrs. E. Harold Frickson, both of Mountside.

With Thanksgiving approaching, Mrs. Joseph A. McGroarty, co-chairman of the Myra T. Brooks Joint Workshop of the Westfield and Mountainside garden clubs, has announced that members will make—in class—"Centerpieces of Fruit, Flowers and/or Vegetables" on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 9:30 a.m. under the direction of Mrs. A.P. Mustard Jr. in the Coe Fellowship Room of the First Congregational Church on Elmer street, Westfield.

Randall D. Smith, Joseph J. Fater are wed in church

Miss Randall Dianne Smith, daughter of Mrs. Alice C. Smith of 307 Indian trail, Mountside, was given in marriage on Oct. 24 by her brother, Ronald A. Smith, to Joseph James Fater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fater of Menchen.

Dr. Robert T. Kelsey of the Central Presbyterian Church, Summit, and Father Nicholas Gall of St. Michael's Monastery, Union City, performed the ceremony at the Central Presbyterian Church. A reception followed at the Clinton Manor, Union.

Miss Jeanne F. Stanzione of Mountainside served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Christine Simmis of Highland Park, Miss Gail Willey of Brooklyn and Miss Jean Kennedy of Mountside.

Lesley Spindel of Long Branch served as best man. Ushers were Stewart Lifson of Huntington, L.I., Karl Hoase of Bordentown and Jeffrey Kennedy of Menchen, the groom's cousin.

Mrs. Fater is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights. She received a bachelor's degree in Spanish from Upsilon Alpha College, East Orange. She is planning to teach.

Her husband received a bachelor's degree in biology from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. He is an industrial hygienist with the New Jersey State Health Department, Trenton.

Following a honeymoon in Spain, the couple will reside in Bordentown.

Y schedules winter sale next week

Everything will be in a holiday mood at the Summit Y when the annual fund-raising bazaar Winter Market comes to town on Wednesday and next Thursday, Nov. 19. Hours for Wednesday will be from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. and Thursday hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

New features of this year's affair include a children's chop, which will be open just for children after school, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. The special shop will have an assortment of gift-giving items at modest prices.

"Astronomy" is another new feature, with astronomer Mrs. William J. Houston giving capsule personality analysis.

A greatly expanded book nook will have selections of children's books from the Bank Street College of Education as well as gift books for all occasions and all ages. The Bank Street selection will include a special section of educational materials for teachers and parents.

The book nook will also feature a cookbook of frozen hors d'oeuvres, "Your Secret Servant," the authors of which, Mrs. Ann Reed and Mrs. Marilyn Pfaltz, will be on hand to autograph copies.

The doll clothes booth has announced that this year they will have baby doll clothes for 12-18-inch baby dolls as well as for Barbie and Chrissy dolls. Additions in the art department, which will have a large selection of original art from local artists, include "Photo Art" from Studio One as well as inexpensive prints and decoupage.

Also new this year at the mart is the Sugar Cube, featuring homemade candies. An expanded gourmet center will have hors d'oeuvres such as meatballs in pineapple sauce, gourmet entrees such as quiche Lorraine and beef braised in beer, dessert tarts like cognac pumpkin tarts. Frozen delicacies may be taken home for a family treat or for company dining.

CO-CHAIRMEN WELCOMED--The 1970 New Jersey Christmas Seal co-chairmen, Henry Lewis, center, music director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, and his wife, Marilyn Horne, Metropolitan Opera soprano, were recently welcomed to a meeting of the board of directors of the Tuberculosis-Respiratory Disease Association of

New Jersey by board members Warren W. Halsey, left, of Springfield, and James C. Conlon of Union. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have joined other New Jersey residents in fighting respiratory disease, air pollution, and cigarette smoking by leading the Christmas Seal Campaign.

War photos by Brady

NEW YORK CITY -- An exhibit of more than 70 historic but little known pictures of the Civil War taken by Mathew Brady has opened at the Kodak Gallery and Photo Information Center, 1133 Avenue of the Americas (at 43rd st.).

The exhibit -- on display until Feb. 2 -- commemorates Brady's election to the Photography Hall of Fame sponsored by the Photographic Art and Science Foundation, Inc.

Brady joins four other leaders in the development of photography, including George Eastman, founder of Eastman Kodak Company, Others in the Photography Hall of Fame are Louis Daguere, William H. Fox-Talbot and Joseph Niepce.

wrappings, unusual candles, stuffed animals, hand knits, aprons, antiques, plants, will all fill the YWCA.

Luncheons at Winter Market will be served on both days from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. A snack bar will be open in the downstairs area from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. For a mid-afternoon pick-me-up, shoppers may attend the world fellowship teas to be held from 3:30 - 5 p.m. Since the whole idea of Winter Market originated to provide a local contribution to the work of the YWCA throughout the world, a portion of the proceeds still goes to world fellowship.

Mrs. H. H. Henning will be on hand again this year to do children's silhouettes, from 10 a.m. to noon and from 3 to 5 p.m. on both days, while Cindy Peck will execute Mesize silhouettes for a limited time on Thursday.

Tickets must be obtained in advance for children's Lunch with the Sounds of Christmas scheduled for 11:30, 12:15 and 1 p.m. as well as for a matinee theatre presentation of "Mary Poppins" at 10:30, 3:15 and 4:15 on both days. Further information may be had by calling the YWCA, 278-4242.

Charge for Pictures

There is a charge of $5 for wedding and engagement pictures. There is no charge for the announcement, whether with or without a picture. Persons submitting wedding or engagement pictures may enclose the $5 payment or include a note asking that they be billed.

D. C. hot line, via Boston Computer to unravel aid maze

Local government officials will be able to get on-the-spot information about federal aid for their communities through a modern information retrieval system to be demonstrated next week by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs.

The system, consisting of an electronic typewriter connected through a telephone hook-up to a computer in Boston, will be displayed at the department's exhibit booth at the annual conference of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities in Atlantic City from Nov. 17 to 20.

Local officials will be able to present their questions to a computer operator who will feed the computer by typing a few key words that describe who is applying for aid (city, school, non-profit organization, etc.)...

In addition, Edgar Morgan, administrator of New Jersey's Washington, D.C. office, will be available at the booth to answer questions about federal aid programs.

Hume expressed the hope that local government officials attending the conference will make an effort to utilize the computer at least once to determine whether it could be of assistance. He said it contains updated information about more than 1,300 federal aid programs.

It has long been apparent that many communities are not fully aware of the myriad federal assistance programs that could help them meet a wide variety of local needs.

Hume said the department decided to demonstrate the computer over the four-day convention in an effort to gauge its effectiveness. He said all local officials who use it will be asked to complete questionnaires on whether the system proved to be helpful and whether the department should consider implementing this or a similar system as a regular State service to local governments.

State workshop Saturday to explore role of local youth guidance councils

A workshop on the role of municipal youth guidance councils will be conducted Saturday by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs.

The workshop, sponsored by the department's Division of Youth, will be held at the Labor-Education Center of Rutgers University, New Brunswick, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. It is intended to encourage more municipalities to participate in the Municipal Youth Guidance Council program.

Applied Urbanetics, Inc., a Washington-based systems design firm. The booth also will include a photographic exhibit of the department's assistance programs.

Danny Thomas has donated so much of his time, talent and earnings to worthwhile causes that he has been dubbed "Mr. Benefit."

The two stars will perform together for the benefit of all fun-loving fans when Danny is guest on "Chrysler Presents the Bob Hope, Vaudeville Special" on NBC-TV Monday from 9 to 10 p.m.

DANNY RECALLED A TIME when his entire fortune consisted of seven dollars he had no job or the prospect of one and his wife was expecting their first child within weeks.

"I thought of giving up my dream of a career in show business and finding a job in a factory somewhere," he told Bob. "On my way home I visited a Catholic church and read a pamphlet about St. Jude, who has been called the forgotten apostle and the patron saint of the hopeless."

Danny didn't forget his promise, and he decided that a hospital serving the hopelessly ill would be a fitting shrine to his patron saint. In 1946 he began a one-man fundraising campaign, establishing a non-profit foundation for the purpose, sixteen years and many benefactors later, the St. Jude Hospital was dedicated.

Bob commended Danny on the work he has done for the hospital and other charities since then. "And we have something else in common," Bob smiled, "We have our noses."

WAC-Veterans group to hold meeting tonight

Members of Garden State Chapter 52, WAC-Veterans Association, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the VFW Memorial Home 479 South Ave., Cranford. After a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. Roberta La Bella of East Orange, members will devote the evening to wrapping gifts to be taken to the VA Hospital in East Orange during the Christmas visit, Miss Mary Murphy of Union is in charge of visits.

A report on the gifts sent to the WAC detachment in Vietnam will be made by Miss Nancy Paul Davis of Roselle. Plans will be completed for the annual Christmas party to be held Dec. 10 at Good Time Charley's, Roselle Park.

County Juvenile Court Judge Abraham L. Rosenberg; Dr. Murray A. Ross, a physician and chairman, Summit Youth Guidance Council; Asbury Park Police Detective David Parrott; Police Captain Harold Hagens of Park Ridge; and John Rosier, chairman, South Plainfield Municipal Youth Guidance Council.

Cooney said the conference will focus on the need for youth to participate in municipal and community life. He said that "involvement is crucial in the development of facilities and programs for the entire community, and especially for members of their own peer group."

How to keep tracked-in dirt from damaging your home

Regardless of the weather, mud, dirt, sand, gravel, water, salt and grass are easily tracked into the house, says Carolyn F. Yukius, senior County Home economist. Multiply the types of dirt by the number of times people and pets come into a house, and you have the size of a cleaning problem that can be created.

The impact of outside dirt is most noticeable in the areas near doorways. This can cause permanent damage to floors and carpets if precautions are not taken.

One way to reduce this type of outside damage is to keep the outside hard surfaces reasonably clean. Daily sweeping or hosing down with water for walks, driveways or other entrances to your home will help reduce the amount of dirt picked up on shoes.

Fiber door mats and shoe scrapers can catch a lot of outside dirt. For these to be more effective, it is necessary to teach children and some adults to use them regularly.

Once inside, washable throw rugs can be a real collector of dust and dirt. These should be the type that do not slip and should be of a size large enough to accommodate two or three steps so that moisture from the shoes can be absorbed.

Grooved plastic runners are often usable inside doors on rainy and snowy days. These do need to be checked frequently since puddles of moisture can form and run along the grooves and dampen the rug or floor at the edges.

Keep a box or container near doorways to hold indoor and outdoor shoes and wet boots. The temptation while gardening or washing cars to slip into the house with dirty shoes will be lessened if inside shoes or slippers are

Permison named medical director of health center

The newly-opened Mount Carmel Guild Mental Health Center of Cranford, serving Union County, held a meeting of its community advisory board recently. The 35 board members attending the meeting represented the communities of Rahway, Linden, Cranford, Clark, Roselle and Westfield.

Mrs. Frank Pfaff, temporary chairman, explained to the board members that the Mental Health Center has opened its out-patient clinic and will in the near future develop its day treatment center. Dr. Michael Permison was named medical director. The Rev. Salvatore Citarella has been appointed administrator of the center.

It was explained that the purpose of the board was to seek community participation in offering advice and suggestions as to the needs of the various communities which will be served by the Mental Health Center, and to explore the possibilities of how the Mental Health Center can help to meet such needs.

The Mental Health Center is presently operating at 214 Walnut st., Cranford, and in the near future will expand its services to the building at 198 Alden st., Cranford.

Courtney Clark, director of the Rahway Community Action Corp., offered the use of an office on a part-time basis in the soon-to-be-dedicated J.F.K. Center in Rahway, where a therapist could be available to the community for consultation when problems arose.

Final talk planned on Southeast Asia

Watana Keovimol, executive assistant to the American-Asian Educational Exchange, Inc., will be the third and final speaker in a series of lectures, "Focus on Southeast Asia," being conducted as part of Weekend College, a program of courses for adults at Union College campus, tomorrow evening at the Union College campus in Cranford.

His talk will conclude a study of Southeast Asia, which is aimed at giving the participant the often neglected background material and a clearer perspective of head-line news from that area.

Born in Thailand, Keovimol received his education in the United States, giving him a unique perspective on East-West relationships. He holds a master's degree in Afro-Asian studies from Seton Hall University, and is presently engaged in doctoral studies at New York University.

Ambassador Daniel Yu-Ming Lew, senior advisor to the Permanent Mission of the Republic of China to the United Nations, opened the lecture series. Dr. Tran Khanh Van, professional engineer who served in the Ministry of Economy in Vietnam, spoke last week on the economy in Southeast Asia.

Alumni to discuss homecoming plans

The Union College Alumni Association will hold its bi-monthly meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Nomahegan Building, Cranford. It was announced by Richard P. Muscatello of Elizabeth, association president.

On the agenda is the formation of a committee for the alumni homecoming, scheduled for Dec. 29, and preparation of plans for the spring dance.

Muscatello said promotion of the Cultural Arts Series will also be discussed. The first performance of the series is on Sunday, Nov. 22, when the Amato Opera Company presents "La Boheme." Four other programs have been arranged.

Christmas Seal campaign under way

As part of the effort against emphysema, tuberculosis, chronic bronchitis and other breathing ailments, the TB Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey opened its 1970 Christmas Seal campaign in Union, Hudson and Monmouth counties.

The fund-raising drive - TB-Respiratory Central's only appeal for public support - is being directed by Robert B. Considine, syndicated columnist and author and Richard H. Guess, D.D.S., of Elizabeth, co-chairman of the Union County effort.

For the first time in the history of the campaign, now in its 64th year, the sheets of seals feature 100 different scenes. The motif of this year's entry is a Christmas Snow which contains carolers, churches, stores, snowmen, candy canes, and symbols of joy about every known holiday custom.

Dr. Guess, a member of the association's board of directors, said that the funds derived from the Christmas Seal Campaign have been used wisely and effectively to combat respiratory diseases and improve community health.

"In addition to adding a decorative touch to holiday mail and packages," Dr. Guess said, "Christmas Seals finance the association's year-round cycle of community service, professional education, training and public health education programs."

The programs presented by the association during the past year include a series of training courses in respiratory care for registered nurses; scholarship to educate and train inhalation therapists; workshops on physiotherapy for physical therapists; community tuberculosis testing programs; a medical seminar on acute and chronic respiratory diseases for area physicians, tuberculosis conferences for public health and school nurses, and public forums on respiratory diseases, respiratory allergies, air pollution and smoking.

"One of our goals in the coming year," Dr. Guess continued, "is to help establish a respiratory care treatment facility in a local hospital, similar to the unit we developed last year in Hudson County."

"Union County residents have been most generous in supporting our campaign and the work of our association," Dr. Guess concluded. "This year we are asking them to increase the amount of their contribution, so that we can expand and accelerate our programs and continue to lead the fight against respiratory diseases."

If you do not receive your Christmas Seal letter, you are urged to call TB-Respiratory, 12 Baldwin ave., Jersey City, at 333-3080.

Telethon names county chairman

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, congresswoman from the 12th Congressional District, has been named general chairman of Union County for the 20th annual Cerebral Palsy Telethon. The announcement was made by Mrs. Arthur Venneri, chairman of the finance committee of United Cerebral Palsy.

United Cerebral Palsy of Union County, one of 14 state and local UCP groups benefiting from the New York Telethon, offers service to over 200 victims of this disorder annually.

Mrs. Venneri said that all pledges phoned in to the telethon from Union County will be returned to the local UCP agency.

Business college to stage comedy

"My Sister Eileen," the dramatic production of the Vail-Deane School this season, will be presented in the school gymnasium, 618 Salem ave., Elizabeth, tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Assisting the Dramatic Club will be members of the Pingry Players and the Roselle Catholic Dramatic Club. Mrs. William Ayres, the Vail-Deane dramatic coach, is in charge of the production.

The leading ladies in the comedy are two sisters, played by Catherine Dey and Tara Floyd. Supporting cast members are Paul Haire, Marilyn Chodosh, Al Campbell, Don Sloboden, Gail Lopata, Chris Van Waganen, John Morrow, Charles Lyman, Harriet Irey, Diane Shrank, Amy Bronstein, Susan Gleason, Bill Sofranco and Jack Shields.

Anne Bruno is stage manager with Bettina Bentley as her assistant. President of the Dramatic Club is Sue MacWhinney; vice-president is Maureen O'Hara.

Glee club will present fall concert tomorrow

The Glee Club of the College of Saint Elizabeth will present its annual fall concert tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in Xavier Auditorium, Convent Station. The group of 55 voices will give the listener an insight into the "pop" music of the renaissance, baroque and romantic periods and will feature compositions in English and Italian in the madrigal style.

In contrast, the Kings College Glee Club of Wilkes Barre, Pa. will also perform, presenting a spirited contemporary program which will include Russian folk dancing. The two clubs will join voices for the finale, "Illya Darling."

CAMPAIGNERS -- Robert B. Considine, left, chairman of the 1970 Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey, assists members of the association's board of directors prepare a campaign mailing. With Considine are Miss Katharine D. Cass, of Union, vice-president, and Joseph B. Bagley of Bayonne, president. TB-Respiratory Central serves Union, Hudson and Monmouth counties. The campaign, which opened this week will continue until Dec. 31.

Mental health clinic benefits from musical comedy show

St. Theresa's Parish Players of Kenilworth, will present a special benefit performance of the musical comedy, "Pajama Game," on Sunday, Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at Harding School auditorium, Boulevard and 17th street, Kenilworth.

Proceeds from the performance will go to benefit the recently established Mount Carmel Guild Mental Health Clinic in Cranford. The funds received will be used to purchase special furnishings and equipment to be used in the Mental Health Center's day treatment program, where a variety of therapeutic activities will be offered to people with emotional problems. The activities will include arts and crafts, physical fitness and music.

General admission tickets will cost $3; reserved tickets, $4. Tickets may be obtained at the Mount Carmel Guild Center, 214 Walnut ave., Cranford, or by calling 272-6056.

Trailside to show movie on weather

"The Unchained Goddess," a color, sound movie, will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watching Reservation, on Sunday at 2 p.m. The film reports on what scientists have learned about the weather and how this knowledge benefits mankind.

Also on Sunday, at 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., a program, "Giant Telescopes," will be presented in the Trailside Planetarium. In addition to presenting the current stars of the month the program will include a survey of the large telescopes presently in use, including Palomar.

As the Trailside Planetarium can seat but 35 people at a performance, it is necessary to obtain a ticket from the Trailside office on the day of the show. Tickets are issued on a first-come, first-served basis. Children under eight years of age are not permitted in the Planetarium chamber.

AAUW chapter to aid UC students as tutors

Cranford Chapter of the American Association of University Women has established a tutoring service for students at Union College. It was announced this week by Mrs. Helen Roholt-Moen of Westfield, third vice-president and chairman of the welfare committee. Mrs. Roholt-Moen said members of the AAUW have agreed to contribute 50 hours of their time per month to students having difficulties in mathematics, English, French, and Spanish. She explained that the service is free to any Union College student who seeks help.

Hiking club slates treks

Two hikes are scheduled this weekend for members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club.

On Saturday, Rita Cummings of West Orange will lead a hike in the South Mountain Reservation. The group will meet at the Locust Grove parking area at 10 a.m.

On Sunday, Fred Dlouhy of Union will lead a ten-mile hike in Hudson Highlands State Park, New York. The group will meet at the administration building of the Union County Park Commission, Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, at 8 a.m.

Further information may be obtained from the recreation department of the Union County Park Commission.

UC course to help cops get word in Law enforcement agencies in every community in Union County have been invited to enroll representatives in a basic public speaking course sponsored by the Union County Police Chiefs Association at Union College, Cranford. It was announced by Chief Matthew Haney of Cranford, dean of training and association secretary.

Police departments in Linden, Elizabeth, Union, Cranford, and Summit, in addition to out-of-county agencies, have already enrolled police officers.

The course will begin on Monday and will continue daily for one week. Classes will meet on the Cranford campus of Union College.

Chief Haney said the purpose of the public speaking course is to develop in police officers confident public speaking skills. He stated that today, more than ever, policemen are requested to speak at lectures on narcotics, campus unrest, juvenile delinquency, and other subjects and at numerous civic meetings.

"Often, they must debate their positions," Chief Haney said, "This makes it vitally important for them to know how to express their views in the most effective, concise manner."

Special Agent Kenneth Hackman of the Newark office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will teach the public speaking course. He has conducted similar courses all over the state.

Seminar seeks to inform public of facts on drugs

The final sessions of a three-part seminar dealing with drug abuse and rehabilitation of addicts will be held at Union College, Cranford, today and Saturday, it was announced by J. Harrison Morson of Edison, dean of students, and Miss Maxine Holland of Elizabeth, student leader of PLEASE (People's League for Education, Action, and Social Equality). The public is welcome to attend.

The program is being sponsored by PLEASE in conjunction with the Division of Community Services in cooperation with the Cranford Mayor's Committee on Drug Abuse. The seminars have been planned on the basis of response to a questionnaire distributed among students, faculty and administration, which determined exactly what they knew and what they need to know about drugs. Today's seminar will be held at 12:15 p.m. in the Campus Center theatre. Speaking will be Dr. Joseph Boylan of Westfield, a physician who has worked extensively with soft-drug users; John Surmay, director of Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Elizabeth, who developed the drug abuse questionnaire; Jerry Belan of Cranford, lawyer, and Robert Wood, director of Hocagee House, Cranford. There will be an open discussion regarding the legal, medical, and rehabilitative aspects of drug abuse.

The drug abuse seminar will conclude on Saturday morning with a campus-wide program of lectures, discussions, films, and exhibits. Discussing the legal implications of drug abuse will be Detective Warren Argentiore of the Rahway Police Department, Detective Steve Schlapak of the Cranford Police Department, and Ralph Taylor of Cranford, lawyer. There will also be an exhibit of soft drugs and literature.

Concerned with the medical implications of the drug abuse program will be Dr. Douglas Langdon and Dr. Watkins J. John, both of Cranford, and Mrs. Helen Holm, R.N. of Westfield.

Scheduled to speak on the rehabilitative aspects of drug abuse are Herbert Mason, chairman of Cranford Mayor's Committee on Drug Abuse; Charles Maraluso, coordinating director of Department for Prevention of Drug Abuse and Narcotic Addiction, Union County Court House, Elizabeth, and William Reitter, assistant administrative director of DARE, Inc., Newark.

An open discussion and a question and answer period will follow all lectures. Students from PLEASE serving on the planning and scheduling committees of the drug abuse seminar include Richard DelNero of 816 Elm St., Roselle Park, and Peter Funcheon of 184 Tooker Ave., Springfield.

Clinic will slip hints to skaters at park center

A two-hour ice skating clinic will be held at the Union County Park Commission's Warranango Park Ice Skating Center, Roselle, on Monday from 6 to 8 p.m.

The program will be conducted by the Union County Figure Skating Club with the cooperation of the Union County Park Commission. It is sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association.

The clinic will be limited to 100 boys and girls, residents of Union County, who are in the fourth grade through high school age. The youngsters will be placed into groups depending upon the skating ability and the instruction to be given will be based on the basic ice skating skills as developed under the guidance of the United States Figure Skating Association.

The entire instruction program will be given by members of the Union County Figure Skating Club.

All youngsters participating in this program must register for the clinic prior to Monday. Application forms are now available at the Warranango Park Ice Skating Center.

The only cost will be admission to the Ice Center: 60 cents for those 15 years of age and under, and $1 for those 16 years of age and over.

McKinley elected president of board

William S. McKinley of Westfield has been elected president of the board of education of the Union County Vocational-Technical Schools. He succeeds Charles S. Mancuso of Hillsdale, who remains a member of the board.

Named board vice-president is Clarence J. Gladden of Linden, replacing Robert P. Douglas of Scotch Plains, who will continue on the board.

McKinley is a district commercial supervisor with the N.J. Bell Telephone Co. in Cranford. Gladden is quality control manager of General Instrument Corp., Newark.

The board has reappointed Joshua S. Chow as its secretary; Andrew Neroda, treasurer; Lawrence A. Woodruff, counsel, and Suplee Cloney & Co., auditor. Dr. William H. West, Union County Superintendent of Schools, continues as a permanent member by virtue of his office.

The new president and vice-president will represent the school board on the Board of School Estimate. Douglass will represent the board on the Educational Services Commission; Mancuso, the State Federation of School Boards; Dr. West on the Union County Association of School Boards, and Gladden on the State Association of County Vocational Boards.

Water color show to open on Sunday at Green Lane's Y

A varied exhibition of water colors will open Sunday and run through Nov. 30 at the Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union.

Part of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts' 1970 travelling exhibition program, a collection of 28 works was selected from the New Jersey Water Color Society's annual spring exhibition. The arts council's program is designed to bring art exhibitions of professional quality to areas throughout the state with limited access to large museums.

The water colors to be presented in the Y's exhibition include a variety of subjects and styles. A poetic landscape by John Angelini and Leo Monti's structural facade hang beside the bold abstract of Carl Burger. The sensitive, realistic approach of Henry Gasser contrasts with the muted abstractions of Jane Bearman and Bette Cooper.

'Award-winning' artist Everett Sahrbeck is represented by a moving expressionist seascape. Works by Hella Ballin; John Bradley; Roy Ellis and Avery Johnson are also included in the collection.

Free to the public, the exhibit will be open each day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Auto seatbelt idea

A Defense Research Institute study shows that seat belts undeniably prevent automobile accident injuries. The report suggests that failure to wear seat belts be considered as negligent in courts of law.

State OKs limousines to airport

William E. Ozard, president of the N.J. Board of Public Utility Commissioners, has approved a request by Airport Limousine Service, Inc. to operate routes between Somerville and Newark Airport and Newark Airport and Roxbury in Morris County and Newark Airport, with stops in Union County. The limousine service is primarily for the use of passengers arriving and departing from Newark Airport in conjunction with air travel.

The Somerville to Newark Airport route will make stops in Elizabeth, Hillside, Union, Kenilworth, Cranford, Clark, Westfield, South Plainfield, North Plainfield, Green Brook, Bound Brook, Bridgewater and Somerville. The Roxbury to Newark Airport route will make stops in Hillside, Union, Springfield, Summit, Chatham, Madison, Morris, Hanover, Parsippany-Troy Hills, Danville, Randolph, Mine Hill and Roxbury.

The airport limousines will be available on a charter and reservation basis. The company owns and operates 93 limousines and maintains garages at Newark Airport and in the City of Newark.

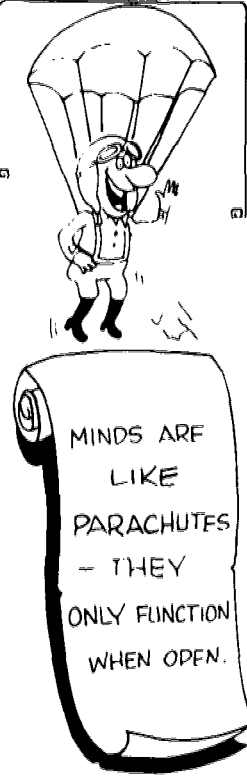

Ninety-five full-time and 50 part-time drivers as well as 12 full time dispatchers are employed and counter space for reservations is maintained at Newark Airport and the Governor Morris Hotel in Morristown. It is estimated that the line will transport approximately 1,000 passengers and 600 airline personnel per day.

Accountants unit to hold meeting

The Union County Chapter of The National Association of Accountants will hold a dinner-meeting on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Mountain-side Inn, Route 22, Mountain-side.

William L. Newkirk Jr. of Marsh and McLellan, Inc. will speak on "Employee Benefit Programs."

Study group calls for reorganization of state government

Governor William J. Cahill received this week a comprehensive report on New Jersey State government, calling for a complete reorganization of the Executive Branch and making 31 recommendations which would result in a more efficient and economical government.

The 310-page report, presented to the Governor by William S. Field, chairman of the Governor's Management Commission, which was created by executive order of the Governor, is the result of more than 12,000 man-hours of detailed departmental and program analysis by a study team which began its work May 4.

Members of the commission consisted of executives loaned by New Jersey's leading business firms, which also furnished the study.

The study, containing hundreds of suggested changes and consolidations in every department of state government, 75 percent of which can be implemented by executive action, 13 percent by legislative action, and three requiring constitutional amendments, includes these major points:

- Reorganize the chief executive staff into six departments instead of the present 17 cabinet posts; four new departments would be Administration, Planning and Control, Public Services, and Development, all headed by secretaries. The attorney general's department and the secretary of state's functions would be retained. However, the secretary of state's administrative responsibilities would be transferred to other agencies.
- The principle goals of the proposed reorganization are: reduce to manageable proportions the number of executives reporting directly to the Governor; consolidate similar functions to eliminate duplications; and strengthen executive planning and control.
- Create new agencies reporting to the proposed new departments for the purpose of strengthening planning, coordination of state and federal programs, administrative services, property management, data processing and communication.
- Make civil service a staff function by abolishing the Civil Service Commission and decentralizing personnel administration. This recommendation would not affect the status of state employees. The proposed changes would result in greater opportunities for career development and eliminate existing inequities.
- Select a full-time executive to effect the recommended changes, responsible directly to the Governor.

If all recommendations in the report were implemented, the commission estimates that $85,000,000 of state funds would be saved annually. In addition, $56,000,000 of state funds would be saved on a one-time, or a non-recurring basis.

Parkway travellers get new turnoff for Route 9, south, early next week

The New Jersey Highway Authority announced this week that on or soon after next Tuesday, southbound Garden State Parkway traffic will be shifted to permanent placement in the Woodbridge interchange area, paving a new route to Perth Amboy and to Amboy.

DREW SPEAKER — Attorney William Kunster will present an address, "The Defense Never Rests," Sunday at 4 p.m. at Drew University's Baldwin gymnasium. Kunster, one of the attorneys for the "Chicago Seven," also has represented such liners as Martin Luther King Jr., Stokely Carmichael, Malcolm X and the Black Panthers.

Authority Chairman John P. Gallagher said that, dependent upon weather and contractors' work in clearing the area for safety, the roadway traffic shift will be made next Tuesday morning with the result that I-199 becomes the Parkway's last and best turnoff before the Raritan River and the toll plaza just beyond.

Under the switch to the new pavement, existing southbound Parkway exits 127A to New Brunswick Avenue in Lards and 127 to Route 9 and the Amboy area will disappear as such and their profits transferred to a parallel feeder road at exit 119, to the southbound ramp from I-199.

Southbound Exit 129, which presently leads out from the Parkway mainline to link with the New Jersey Turnpike and all other ramps along the feeder road to connect with Route 440 (King George East road) and Middlesex County Route 501 in Lards and Woodbridge, will be used directly with relocated Route 9 southbound around New Brunswick Ave. Jc.

Chairman Gallagher advised motorists that, while this latest step in the progressing $44 million Parkway improvement program will offer immediate benefits, it will also further restrict mainline traffic through the Woodbridge area for several months or more.

One immediate benefit is the elimination of the Parkway's conflicting left-hand entrance and exit from the Parkway at the intersection of the Parkway and the Raritan toll plaza as a part of the massive improvement program, but the temporary arrangement of both travel directions on one permanent artery is required by the need to proceed on the complex project in stages.

Also involved in the big job at Woodbridge is the authority's and State Transportation Department's joint relocation of Route 9 north-south arteries from between the Parkway roadways to their flanks. Such transposition is aimed at eliminating the hazardous left-hand entrance and exits on the Parkway in this critical traffic area.

In addition, the program includes a new Parkway interchange in this Woodbridge area to connect with the east-west Route 440 Freeway that the state is building from Interstate Routes 287 and 95 to Rt. 35 in Perth Amboy. The authority is also building a new span for its Raritan River Bridge to carry the expansion across to Sayreville and the Raritan Toll Plaza, which itself will have a separate southbound section added under the program. The overall expansion and improvement program is to be completed in 1972.

southbound pavement is to be made shortly after next week's initial move.

The Parkway's northbound and southbound roadways are being widened to five lanes each in the four-mile stretch between Exit 129 and the Raritan toll plaza as a part of the massive improvement program, but the temporary arrangement of both travel directions on one permanent artery is required by the need to proceed on the complex project in stages.

Also involved in the big job at Woodbridge is the authority's and State Transportation Department's joint relocation of Route 9 north-south arteries from between the Parkway roadways to their flanks. Therapists offered chance to register

A final call is being issued this month by the American Occupational Therapy Association for once-registered occupational therapists who have allowed their registration to lapse longer than five years. During a one-time Reactivation Year in 1970, the Association is allowing former registrants to return to active professional life by resuming registration without re-taking the registration examination.

The therapists are requested to pay a reinstatement fee which includes receiving two publications specifically prepared for their use in updating their professional skills. In addition to the printed material, they are invited to participate in a variety of continuing education experiences now being offered by their home states. To date, 270 therapists have become reactivated. For further information contact the American Occupational Therapy Association, 251 Park Ave. S., New York, 10010, c/o Reactivation.

Kearny Boystown makes fund appeal

"I am begging you to help me make Christmas as merry for my boys at Boystown as you wish it to be in your own home," Father Egan, director of Boystown Kearny, said this week in his annual Christmas appeal letter.

Boystown depends almost entirely on voluntary contributions in order to feed, clothe, house and educate its 140 boys. Practically every section of the State of New Jersey is represented among the citizens of N.J. Boystown — race or creed are no barrier to admission.

Boystown conducts its own grammar school but its boys attend Kearny High.

Group backs roads spending, putting Master Plan to work

"Restoring the state's annual highway budget appropriation to pre-Transportation Bond Issue levels and implementing the second stage of the state's Master Plan for Transportation represent the short- and long-term goals of the New Jersey Citizens Highway Committee," the committee's president, Duncan C. Thecker of Colts Neck said this week.

"The state has decreased the Transportation Department's annual appropriation for highway construction by $25 million over the past few years," Thecker said. "The decrease began the same year the Transportation Bond Issue was overwhelmingly approved, although it never was intended to supplant the normal level of highway spending."

His remarks were based upon positions adopted at an NJCHC meeting last week at the Ramada Inn, East Brunswick. Attending were various business, civic and labor groups interested in better highways.

As for a second stage of the Master Plan, the NJCHC president noted that the Transportation Bond Issue was designed only to meet certain first priority construction needs, "and it was understood that additional financing for major state highway construction and improvements would be required a few years later."

FORMALLY LAUNCHING the Citizens Highway Committee's public education and information campaign for a vastly improved New Jersey highway system, Thecker said that the State Transportation Department "probably will be as good as broke when it comes to major state highway financing no later than 1972, and maybe earlier."

By that time the remaining $181 million of $440 million in Transportation Bond Issue highway funds will be fully obligated, he said. He explained that the only other source of substantial funds for the Interstate and State road networks was at the federal level, "where a partial freeze on funds has existed for the past five years."

Thecker noted that the Transportation Department's "grim financial situation" is reviewed in the first issue of "New Jersey Roads", a newsletter distributed by the Citizens Highway Committee at the meeting and being made available to all interested groups.

THECKER SAID THAT special impetus must be given to New Jersey highway and fiscal planning now because "the fundamental decisions affecting highway construction and highway developments in New Jersey for many years will be made in 1971 and 1972." The purpose of the luncheon, the NJCHC president said, was to translate into action the deep interest held by participants in a viable highway system while placing special emphasis on next year's legislative elections.

"Once the Transportation Bond Issue was adopted," Thecker said, "the normal state appropriation for highways was cut almost in half. There was no excuse for this cut and we intend to stress this point in meetings with members of the Administration and the Legislature."

Thecker also noted that of the $258.4 million appropriated to date of Transportation Bond Issue funds, approximately $14 million has gone toward operational expenses, "and this was never intended. Operational funding always has been provided through the regular state budget. We hope that when the remaining Transportation Bond Issue money is appropriated, it will be used solely for highway construction and improvements."

Theatre schedules 2nd cabaret show

An evening of professional entertainment will be on tap in a night-club atmosphere when Theatre Six, Metuchen, presents its second "Cabaret" of the season on Saturday, 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Scheduled to appear are: Comedienne Donnie Brook Alderson, whose credits include recent performances at the Village Gate and at the Bitter End in New York City; folk and blues singer "Murphy" (Edgar Evans of New Brunswick) who has to his credit several featured performances with Theatre Six's Music in the Streets program and at the Theatre itself; pianist Pete Keller of Rahway has over 40 years musical experience including playing at a New Brunswick Speakeasy during Prohibition; actress and director Donna Wilshire is currently performing in "The Chairs" in New York City and is making her second appearance as a singer for Theatre Six's Cabaret series.

'Sunflower' stays at the Maplewood

"Sunflower," the latest Sophia Loren-MacCello Mastrianni motion picture, continues for another week at the Maplewood Theater. The picture, in color, concerns a faithful wife in Italy who has a soldier-husband in Russia, who has survived World War II. His Russian girlfriend is Ludmila Savelyeva, Vittorio De Sica directed "Sunflower."

Fox holds over '2001' which got four awards

The Fox Theater on Route 22 in Union is holding over "2001: A Space Odyssey," which won four Academy Awards.

The picture, in color, concerning an imaginative flight in the space age, stars Kirk Douglas and Gary Lockwood. Stanley Kubrick directed the movie and collaborated on the script with Arthur C. Clark.

Jean-Pierre Aumont stars -- and the ladies still love him

BY BEA SMITH
If you asked the female patrons at the Meadowbrook what do they want—good singing or good looks — you can be sure they'll choose the latter if "good looks" means Jean-Pierre Aumont.

Smash 'M*A*S*H' remains at Rialto

"M*A*S*H," American war comedy film, continues its lengthy run at the Rialto Theater in Westfield. The picture, which presents an irreverent look at war, was filmed in Panavision, DeLuxe and Color.

Donald Sutherland, Elliott Gould and Tom Skerritt star as army surgeons who develop a lunatic life-style in order to function and keep their sanity amid the everyday horrors encountered in a mobile army surgical hospital during the Korean War.

The other players, who share or who are victims of their antics at the Army base are Sally Kellerman, the rigidly strict head nurse whom they transform into a warm human being; Robert Duvall, the overly-pious major; Jo Ann Pflug, another nurse, and Rene Auberjonois, the compassionate chaplain.

'Darling Lili' opens at Mayfair theater

Julie Andrews and Rock Hudson co-star in "Darling Lili," a musical comedy film about World War I, which opened on a twin bill with "Mosquito Squadron" at the Mayfair Theater, Hillside.

"Darling Lili" also features Jeremy Kemp, with sons by Henry Mancini and Johnny Mercer. Blake Edwards directed the picture in color.

Two 'X' films are held at theater in Irvington

Two X-rated films, "The ABC's Of Marriage," and "Turn On To Love," are being held over for another week at the Art Cinema in Irvington Center.

"The ABC's" is a presentation of the Institute of sexual behavior, in association with the Keaton Marital Institute. "Turn On To Love" was filmed in New York's East Village.

Talks on literature

Professor Dean Sherman Schmitter, professor of English at Columbia University, will discuss "The Generation Gap in Literature" on Thursday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. in the Mansion at the Florham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University, New Jersey.

Music show is scheduled on Saturday

"Twenties, Anyone?" a musical show featuring songs and dances of the fabulous 1920's will be presented by Hickory Tree Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. on Saturday at Chatham High School, Main street, Chatham.

Under the direction of Dick Floorsheimer of Florham Park, the chorus of 40 voices will sing, in four part harmony, authentically researched music of the 1920 era.

The unique rhythm of the Charleston and other songs will be set to dance with choreography directed by Harriet Litchfield of Florham Park. "Twenties, Anyone?", will feature "The Priorities," 1970 Sweet Adelines Regional Quartet Champions, all members of Ramapo Valley Chapter. Comedy relief will be provided by "The Note-Wits."

This is the third annual show production for Hickory Tree since their charter two and one half years ago in the Sweet Adelines International organization. They perform for numerous civic and social groups throughout the year.

Local members include Mrs. E. Roger McQuaid of Springfield, Miss Leslie La Point of Union, and Mrs. Helen Krampetz of Irvington.

CONTROVERSIAL DRAMA - Michele Breton looks over Mike Jagger's shoulder in the Technicolor adult film, "Performance," which came to the Ormont Theater, East Orange, yesterday. Anita Pallenberg also stars.

Response by public to CARF's work hits 20 year high

Public support of CARF programs overseas reached a 20 year high during the 1970, with contributions totaling $1,501,470, according to the organization's annual report.

Contributions topped the previous year's total by more than $2 million, resulting in a 20 percent increase in the number of projects and the number of people helped. CARF's work is to demonstrate the need for food and the ability to meet the need of sudden emergencies and to help the people of the world.

The organization's work is supported by a staff of 100 people and a budget of $1,500,000. CARF's work is to demonstrate the need for food and the ability to meet the need of sudden emergencies and to help the people of the world.

College scientists pan processed foods
Low vitamin content bringing on malnutrition

Rather than buying processed foods, it may be better to buy fresh foods, especially fruits and vegetables, says a team of scientists from the University of California at Berkeley.

The scientists, who are part of the National Academy of Sciences, are preparing a book entitled "Nutritional Standards for Processed Foods."

Dr. Morse says, "The use of any processed food is a compromise. The additional cost, at best, would be one or two cents more for the processed food."

Dr. Morse says, "The use of any processed food is a compromise. The additional cost, at best, would be one or two cents more for the processed food."

Dr. Morse says, "The use of any processed food is a compromise. The additional cost, at best, would be one or two cents more for the processed food."

The consumer must know the composition of the new foods to assist in menu planning, Dr. Morse says.

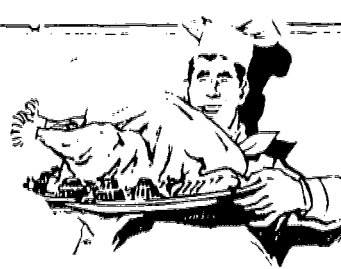

Work on the book has been sponsored by the International Union of Nutritional Sciences, the International Union of Food Science and Technology, and the National Academy of Sciences.

At present, relatively few processed foods are available. These include milk (vitamin D), bread and cereals (generally B-complex vitamins) and some fruit drinks (vitamin C).

Dr. Morse says, "Experience has shown that it's a great deal easier to change food composition than behavior patterns. People—and not just children—acquire dietary patterns that are very rigid and not easily modified. Fortunately, the state of the art in nutrition science and food technology has advanced to enable us to solve these problems with the aid of processing."

NUTRIENTS BOOSTED—Meals of hamburgers, potato chips or french fries, and carbonated beverages, so popular among today's young people, may be in for a nutritional boost. A team of international food scientists and nutritionists headed by Rutgers Professor Roy E. Morse is preparing a book which calls for the enrichment of all processed foods to 'natural' nutritional levels.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Business people often, in a joking manner, say to a contemporary, "Thanks for what you did yesterday but, what are you going to do for me today?"

Many of us often approach the business of living in the same manner. We're much too concerned about right now. We have forgotten about yesterday and we won't worry about tomorrow until it gets here.

Now is an important time. Now we have the opportunity to do anything that needs doing. Now, while we're thinking about it, we can take action. We can make an effort. We can achieve something. But, we can do it better, if we remember the lessons of yesterday and at the same time recognize that tomorrow is coming soon. If we do something today that is not right, that is not worthwhile, we may not be able to set it aside from our thoughts when the new day dawns.

Zelenka Quintet to play Sunday
