Library exhibit of Greenaway items continues the Mountainside Library has a display of authentic Kate Greenaway items, lent by Mrs.

Included is a selection of small books, some china and a number of colored illustrations from nursery rhymes. The latter are shown together with an array of buttons depicting the same scenes.

The organization is not an anti-education group nor does it propose to be a taxpayers' resistance committee, said Cardoni and Wil-

"Our purpose is to bring to the attention of Mountainside voters the unfairness and dis-crimination against Mountainside that is contained in this referendum which, if successful, will remove Mountainside students from Gov. Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights, our home high school since it was opened in 1960.

"The Regional Board of Education promoted four referenda for construction and land pur-chase at Gov. Livingston in Berkeley Heights on the promise and pledge that Gov. Livings-ton was for Mountainside. That the current Board of Education would disavow these pledges is morally wrong and a breach of faith with every Mountainside resident.

'It is unfortunate that Mountainside must adopt a posture opposed to the obvious needs of the high school district. But, we have been given no alternative by the Regional Board of Education. The Board of Education has rebuffed every plea and effort of Mountainside's elected representative, Dr. Minor C.K. Jones, and many citizens and borough officials.

"This referendum must be defeated for the good and welfare of Mountainside so that another referendum, one that is fair and equitable to Mountainside, and meets the needs of all other communities, can be presented. We believe there are alternatives to the present referendum that will accomplish this purpose," Cardoni and Wilhelms said.

We invite all: Mountainside residents to attend a meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Deerfield School, at which time all who desire to join in this effort can volunteer their time, talent and/or money."

NEW DAYTON FACILITIES -- New and renovated facilities at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, above, and in the other high schools, are called for in a $4.7 million bond issue to be presented to the voters of the district in a referendum on May 4. The Dayton building would be expanded to serve students from both Springfield and Mountainside, Shaded areas at the corners of the building denote new construction, Other shaded areas signify alterations.

board spokesman did distribute copies of a fact sheet providing background information on the referendum. Dr. Hagedorn was named president in a secret, written ballot, defeating Manuel Dios of Clark, last year's president, six votes to

Mrs. Natalie Waldt of Springfieldwasnamed vice-president, defeating Charles Scheuer-mann of Kenilworth, five to four. Following the election, Dr. Minor C.K. Jones of Mountainside received approval for a motion to make both votes official unanimous.

Hagedorn commented, "I hope that the next 10 months will provide better education for our kids. I hope we can all work together for that objective.

Appointed for the coming year were Dr.

Warren Davis, superintendent of schools; Lewis Fredericks, board secretary and assistant superintendent; Irvin Johnstone, board, attorney, at an annual retainer of $4,000, and Frederick B. Stefany, auditor, at a retainer

THE FACT SHEET on the referendum presented the following information:

"1. WHY THE REFERENDUM?
"The referendum would authorize the expansion necessary for the school facilities to catch up with the enrollment. The Regional board started planning for expansion in 1967, when there were 5,014 students. Enrollment is now over 5,500 and is expected to approach 5,800 in 1973. Expansion referenda were defeated in 1968 and 1970. The needs anticipated in 1967 are realities in 1971.

'2. WHAT IS THE Board of Education pro-

"Expansion is proposed for each of the four Regional high schools. The board considers the expansion plan to be a minimum one, It would cost $4,730,000. Anticipated enrollment in 1976 determines the amount of expansion planned for each school. The plan is based on the following student assignments, with the 1976 anticipated enrollments shown in parentheses after each school: Jonathan Dayton (1513) - students from Mountainside and Springfield; Arthur L. Johnson (1,544) - students from Clark; Gov. Livingston (1,429) - students from Berkeley Heights; David Brearley (993) students from Garwood and Kenilworth. The Union County Regional Newsletter, mailed to households throughout the Regional District. will contain detailed floor plans of the posed expansions at all four schools.

"3. HOW WOULD THE approval of the referendum affect taxes?

"The cost of this referendum would be shared by each taxpayer in the Regional District in direct proportion to the value of his property. The largest effect on taxes would be in 1974,

Baseball parade

Plans have been completed for the April 24 parade and opening day ceremonies of the Mountainside Little League, it was announced by Harry Irwin, chairman of the Mountainside Little League baseball organization. Details will be made known next week.

Charles J. Irwin of Mountainside, Union County's assemblyman-at-large for the past four years, is beginning a new career. He was recently appointed executive director of the Office of Consumer Protection, a bureau in the Division of Law, by Gov. William T. Cahill.

He commented, "I am really looking forward to the job. It's a real opportunity for me to make a contribution and still keep my hand on the law and continue having to deal with people by informing them of problems. It also is an opportunity for me to work with two men I respect highly, Attorney General George F. Kugler Jr. and Gov. Cahill. One of the deciding factors in my taking the job was that I will work closely with them."

Irwin explained how the new position will be formally created. This is a two-step e said. It invo Senate confirmation, he added.

He continued, "A bill was introduced the afternoon I resigned from the Assembly. (This was April'5.) It had 49 sponsors, which will give no problem to its being passed because only 41 votes are needed. The bill establishes the Division of Consumer Affairs of which I will be in charge."

FOUR EXISTING agencies will be absorbed by the Division of Consumer Affairs. They are: The Bureau of Consumer Protection—"This is the existing body that will be within the division," he said.

The Division of Securities—"This part is in charge of stock offerings and offerings to the public for investment.

The Division of Weights and Measures-The Division of Weights and measures—
"This regulates and makes sure the consumer gets what he pays for. Inspectors go into stores and make sure the consumer is not getting short-changed."
The Division of Professional Boards—"This is for each major professional Boards—"This is for each major profession. It licenses and controls the practice of performing jobs, such as doctors, nurses and lawyers."

IRWIN ADDED, "The bill pulls all this together which relates to protecting the public. It protects quality, quantity and services. The governor said that when the bill is passed he will submit my name to the Senate for confirmation."

Irwin told what he will be doing until the bill is passed. He said, "In the meantime I will assume the post of executive director of the Bureau of Consumer Protection on April 22. This bureau works to prevent fraudu-lent practices, enforce the Consumer Fraud Act and, where possible, disseminate public information regarding fraudulent practices."

He then explained what he hopes the Office of Consumer Protection will do for the con-sumer. Irwin said, "I would like to be able to answer and perform services for the consumer with respect to any complaint on consumer goods and services. However, we can only do this within the limitations of the budget. This is not a time generally for rapidly expanding idgets.

"What we are trying to do is to get through legislation to increase administrative power to enforce the Consumer Protection Act. The legislation would increase fines, give us power to order restitution to the injured individual and provide short-cut methods of translating the administrative order into a judgment of the court. The latter would be instead of bringing cases to the Supreme Court.

"If we get these new administrative teeth, it will save money and get tighter enforce-ment. These teeth will prevent some from

Cancer Crusade chairman hopes for better response this year

A Arthur Caprio, Springfield's Cancer Cru-sade chairman, this week announced that all district captains and block leaders have begun collecting the cancer contribution envelopes. He added: "The successful completion of this collection is more easily said than done. Unfortunately during the past few years the township of Springfield has averaged cancer fund contributions that approximate 40 cents per family. This is extremely difficult to understand, particularly when monies collected are directed to many worthwhile cancer research and educational programs.

"This disappointing civic participation is

The series is designed to allow participants to explore specific areas of supervisory probtems which daily confront those with middle management responsibilities. Offered for the first time last fall, "Tools and Techniques of

Supervision met with great success and proved valuable for recently appointed super-visors or potential candidates for managerial positions, according to a college spokesman,

The seminars are conducted by experts in the areas of management, labor relations, work and time evaluation, personnel, and costs and budget. The series opened on March 16 and will continue through Tuesday.

Net_income_ up for bank

W. Emlen Roosevelt, president of the National State Bank, Elizabeth, this week reported net income for the first three months in 1971 of $1,287,455, as compared to $1,273,142 in 1970. This resulted in an increase of earnings per share from 42 cents in 1970 to 43 cents in 1971. cents in 1971.

Total resources totaled $412,909,381, with deposits of $361,026,177 and loans outstanding of $236,188,031. The National State Bank, with 27 branch locations in Union, Middlesex and Huntercounties, has broken ground for a new branch in Cranford and expects completion in the fall of this year.

not related to the lack of interest or concern by the families in Springfield. Ibelieve that this poor response was no doubt due to the inability of the Union County Cancer society to personally approach many of the families in our

"This major problem has been eliminated during the 1971 cancer fund-raising campaign. We have had the opportunity of obtaining the complete cooperation of over 280 workers (district captains and block leaders) who are actively engaged in door-to-door collections and in distributing cancer crusade educational iterature.

"This wonderful display by the many men and women willing to help in Springfield has resulted in covering virtually every block in town by one or more Cancer Crusade workers. The ultimate success of this cancer fund drive is directly related to these volunteers who are giving up their leisure time to solicit the financial aid of each Springfield family."

Caprio indicated that he was 'extremely optimistic regarding the successful completion of the April fund drive. Some families may not have the ability to contribute because of pressing financial obligations. The American Cancer Society asks only that each family contribute in the best manner possible.

"All Springfield residents are urged to review—from an educational point of view—the literature concerning the seven warning signs of cancer. The Cancer Crusade is primarily directed to assist each family in any way which best fits the interest of the He added that anyone interested in participating in the April Cancer Crusade as a block worker should contact him and that contributions should be submitted to the district captains or to the chairman.

Sale of used books, magazines planned at Public Library

The Friends of the Springfield Free Public Library will sponsor a used book and magazine sale on the lawn of the library Saturday, April 24, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The sale will culminate the library's observance of National Library Week.

A large variety of items will be available, according to Mrs. Helen Francis, director of the library. "Most of the books are in very good condition," she said. The reference books being sold never circulate and are almost like: new. These have had to be replaced by later editions on the library shelves.

"The non-fiction books cover a wide range of subjects from cookery to foreign affairs. The fiction collection contains quite a few books for boys and girls of pre-high school age. Magazines, for which the library no longer has storage facilities, deal with travel, homemaking, fashion, business, nature, coins, aviation, sports and education.

"Some partially-framed graphics, a few framed reproductions and some items from the record collection will also be available." in the event of rain, the sale will be held inside the library.

Officers of the Friends of the Springfield Public Library are: Sidney Krueger, president; Dorothea Schwartz, recording secretary; Roslyn Yablonsky, corresponding secretary; Eleanor Schwartz, treasurer, and Mrs. Francis as director of the library.

Motorist facing drink test charge

James Lindsay, 65, of Newark was arrested last Tuesday afternoon by Springfield police and charged with refusing to take a breathanalyzer test after he was involved in an accident on Springfield avenue near Victory road. He also was issued a summons for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Lindsay was released

According to the police report, a car driven by Louis N. Barnansky of Mountainside was traveling north on Springfield avenue when Lindsay's car ran into his vehicle. The investigating officers reportedly thought Lindsay was under the influence of alcohol and brought him to police headquarters where he allegedly refused the breathalyzer test.

One of the most common complaints brought to the attention of doctors is pain in the lower back. Low back pain is a symptom, rather than a disease and may be caused by a variety of congenital mechanical, disease or injury-produced conditions. Roor posture, over-weight, occupational strain, lumbago, arthritis, tuberculoses - all of these are causes of the pain. Early treatment is necessary to avoid future complications. If any of these symptoms occur, it is more advisable to see your physician as soon as possible to avoid any possibility of a more serious condition.

Prussing is awarded Pru merit scholarship himed winner of a Prudential Insurance Co. of America Merit Scholarship. The award will provide $100 to $1,500 per year for four years. epending on specific family circumstances.

-Prussing was one of some 1,300 top high school seniors whose scholarships were announced by Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, His award was one of those provided by the Pru-dential for children of its employes. The local Winder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prussing of 113 Hawthorn ave.

A senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, the award winner is a member of the Student Council, the National Honor Society and the Kiwanis Key Club, Prussing is also a member of the varsity football and golf teams and of the Varsity club.

He plans to major in biological sciences at the University of Connecticut.

The Merit awards are underwritten by business and industrial firms, foundations, trusts, labor unions, professional groups, and individuals who sponsor the National Merit Scholarship Program. Most of the awards are named for the sponsoring organization.

The Merit Scholars named this week were chosen from among 15,000 students who became Merit finalists in the 1971 Merit Program. A total of 710,000 students entered the 1971 competition, which began with the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test in February of 1970.

Corporations and corporate foundations provided most of the four-year Merit Scholar-ships, in many cases offering the awards for children of employees who had qualified as finalists. Other sponsors favor finalists who have indicated certain career preferences, or who have some other qualification which the sponsor wishes to encourage. Some of the fouryear Merit Scholarships awarded this week are open to any Merit finalist without regard to open to any Me... preferential criteria. ***

ALL OF THE Merit Scholars were chosen from among the 15,000 finalists. The finalists are those who scored in about the upper half of one percent of graduating seniors in their state on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, confirmed this performance on second test, and received the endorsement of their schools.

In the 15 programs to date, National Merit Scholarship Corporation and sponsors have expended or committed $74.4 million.

7 All students honored through the Merit Program, including some 35,000 commended students in addition to the 15,000 semifinalists, were identified by NMSC to colleges, universities, and other organizations offering financial aid, Research indicates that many of those who need aid, but who did not receive Merit Scholarships, will receive financial assistance from other sources.

On April 28, some 1,000 winners of National Merit $1,000 scholarships will be announced, and on May 5, the National Merit Scholarship Corporation will announce the names of the winners of college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships. The total number of winners in the three scholarship groups is expected to be about 3,000. In addition to the Merit Program, NMSC administers the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students. The 1971 Achievement Program winners were announced in March.

Symposium deals with changing role of modern nurses

New ideas in nursing were discussed yesterday at Overlook Hospital, Summit. Also, participants viewed a fashion show of nursing attire "past, present and future."

Keynote speaker of the symposium was Esther L. Brown, Ph.D., an authority on the sociological aspects of the health personnel field. Dr. Brown, a staff member of the Russell Sage Foundation and an author, has served as an international consultant for the World Health Organization and other agencies.

"Changing Patterns in Nursing" was the topic for Lorraine P. Fraser, director of nursing services at Roger Williams General Hospital in Providence, R.I., where new con-cepts of scheduling include the 40-hour, fourday work week as it has been tailored for the, nursing staff at her hospital.

"Changing Roles and Management" were discussed by Nora Corcoran, director of nursing services-at-Morristown Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Lyda Sue Cunningham, director of nursing service at Overlook Hospital, spoke on "How to Implement Change."
"The Role of the Licensed Practical Nurse" was described by Mrs. Ruth M. Greenspan, associate director of St. Barnabas School of Practical Nursing.

Sponsored by the New Jersey Inservice Education Coordinators Group, the program was moderated by Mrs. Wanda Krementz, assistant director of nursing at St. Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston.

THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH BETHESDA, MARYLAND

HOPE THROUGH NINDS

RESEARCH Research at the National Institutes of Health (NIH), in Bethesda, Md., encompasses many areas of medicine. Of-ten, the knowledge acquired through Federal medical research reaches the public through well-written, easyto-understand publications. In this way new medical discoveries are explained to the American people, and they are also made aware of other factors, such as the seriousness of certain maladies, vital statistics on diseases, and information suggested by physicians. The National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Stroke (NINDS), a component of NIH, has issued a phlet on the function of NINDS and the publications issued by their information office, pinpointing a special series of leaflets and fact sheets called Hope Through Research Series. They are aptly named. For it is this research that will lead to the solution of problems connected with neurologic and sensory diseases, and developing drugs to advance their cure.

Neurology is that area of medicine dealing with the nervious system and its diseases. The brain and spinal cord form the central nerv-ous system which controls all action and thinking. Stroke, a simpler word for apoplexy--a Greek term introduced by Hippocrates, considered to be the father of medicine--involves interference with the blood supply to the brain causing paralysis accompanied by ech and thought disturb ances. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the U.S., ranked only by heart disease and cancer. There are over 200 neurologic ailments. Research by NINDS scientists uncovered a number of them. Knowledge of neurologic maladies is gained through the use of laboratory techniques and tools which include the electron microscope and other electronic devices. Medical centers and universities throughout the U.S. receive NINDS research and training grants. In fact, about 80 percent of the NINDS budget is spent -- well spent--for study grants which not only support research, but help to prepare the many spe-cialists needed to conduct research in neurology. Research opens the door to the identification of ailments and, hopefully, the ability to prevent or treat them, or both. For example, in 1969, NIH licensed for distribution a vaccine that prevents German measles (rubella). This vac-cine, emphasized for children from age one to puberty, could eliminate the source of German measles. The disease, while not serious for children, threatens a pregnant woman's unborn child with complications, including mental retardation, deafness, and blind-

Unionite arrested goes free on bail--

gets arrested again

Harry J. Symes Jr., 19, of Union was arrested by Springfield police Sunday night and again on Monday.

He was held Sunday night after being charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol following an accident. The second arrest came the next day as the result of an incident after he was released. He then was charged with assault and battery.

According to police, Symes was traveling south on Springfield avenue at about 11:40 p.m. Sunday when his car hit a light pole on the corner of Springfield and Main street. The impact caused the vehicle to turn over on its roof. There was damage to the stanchion, signal and the lawn.

The investigating officer said he found Symes about 50 feet from the car and said he was staggering. Symes allegedly smelled strongly of an alcohol-like odor. He then was placed under arrest and brought to police headquarters for tests.

The following day his mother posted the $250 bail which had been set. When Symes got outside headquarters, he allegedly assaulted his mother and ran off. Patrolman Joseph Fusco then chased him and brought him back. Fusco said Symes resisted and injured him. He then was charged with assault and battery and released on $220 bail, which his mother also

"IN ADDITION to enforcing the Consumer Fraud Act, we hope to be able to advise injured consumers with respect to civil remedies that are available or we hope will become available through the legislature, it will be proposed to the legislature that victims of consumer fraud will be entered in a civil action to receive triple redress, plus reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, If this amendment is passed it will make it much more attractive for the individual who has suffered a minor loss through a fraudulent practice

'Now if we get the bill, a lawyer can take the case because his legal fees will be paid by the fraudulent party and the injured person will get three times his loss. My first job will be to help the attorney general and governor get it through the legislature before they adjourn."

Irwin commented on how he is preparing for his new job. He said, "I have spent a great deal of time with members of the ittorney general's staff who are knowledgeable about consumer problems and what seem to be innovative approaches to problems, I am working with them on conceptual approaches for innovation. In addition, I am conferring with those whom I know are knowledgeable and have scheduled additional conferences be-

Irwin is in his fourth year as the Mountainside borough attorney, but will have to give up this position. He explained, "When I go on my new job I will no longer be able to function as the borough attorney.

"Murray Staub has been working with me on most problems for the past year and a half and will continue to handle them with a minimum amount of confusion. He will continue in the position of borough attorney until my when the board's auditor estimates the referendum would require an increased tax of $13,80 on a house with a market value of $30,000. The added tax becomes less thereafter. The combined amount required for interest and principal payments in subsequent years will gradually decrease, with the last payment being less than 60 percent of that scheduled for 1974.

'4. WHAT ARE THE alternatives:

"Alternatives include: the continued and expanded use of substandard and temporary classrooms (13 substandard and 10 temporaries are now in use); more crowded classes; elimination of portions of the existing educational program; double sessions or mandatory summer sessions for some students; transferring students from school to school annually so as to equalize pressures of crowding among the four schools.

'5. HOW WOULD THE expansion benefit our children?

'Regional students in the past have enjoyed the benefits of a quality, comprehensive high school program. Because of increased enrollment, expansion is needed to maintain those benefits for our present and future students. In addition, long recognized deficiencies will be corrected by improving guidance facilities and by constructing library-instructional media centers.

'The new libraries will offer opportunities for more independent study and for more use of audio-visual materials (tapes, film strips, etc.) both during and after school bours. Pro-viding minimum facilities with which to meet the diverse educational needs of all the children within the district is the goal of the Board in proposing this expansion plan.

'6. HOW DOES THIS proposal differ from the one submitted to the voters a year ago?
"This proposal is for $2,245,000 less than the May, 1970, referendum. The main difference is that fewer new classrooms, special purpose rooms, and auxiliary gyms are planned. The reduction results from a slightly lower anticipated enrollment and from the use of the State Department of Education's old building capacity formula. In order to cut the costs of this referendum to a minimum, the Board of Education requested special permission from the Department of Education to use the old capacity formula (30 pupil stations per classroom) rather than the current formula

7. HOW MUCH have building costs risen since the last referendum?

(25 pupil stations per classroom).

"According to the Board's architect, building costs have risen by more than 30 percent in the last three years. In other words, what would have cost $3,000,000 to build in 1968 would cost about $4,000,000 to build now.

"8." WILL THERE BE public hearings on the "Four public meetings for the purpose of answering questions and hearing statements will be held by the Board of Education. The dates and places are: Tuesday, April 20 at the Jonathan Dayton School in Springfield; Wednesday, April 21 at the Arthur L. Johnson School in Clark; Monday, April 26 at the Governor Livingston School in Berkeley Heights; Wednesday, April 28 at the David Brearley School in Kenilworth, Each meeting will be held in the school auditorium and will start at 8 p.m.

"9. WHEN IS THE special election and who may vote?
"The special election will be held on Tuesday, May 4, between the hours of 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. Residents of Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield are eligible to vote in this election, provided that they are registered to the provided they are voters who are over 21 years old, who have lived in the state at least six months and have been registered in the county at least 40 days."

BUYING WISELY

From Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie. Out here in the Midwest we get snow most all winter long. I saw an ad for one of those flame guns and it sure made snow removal easy. I bought one and have been using it. Then last week someone from the City Council said they were against the law in this town. TIRED OF SHOVELING SNOW

Dear Tired, Why don't you call the City Council and find out? In some areas these devices are banned, because people have been seriously hurt. Some of those injured have been children playing with them. Make the call--now. Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie, About your recent article about not being able to get waited on: How about going into a store and before you get half-way in the door a sales-girl jumps at you and says: "Can I help you?" I say, "No thank you, I just want to look at I say, "No thank you, I just well "Can I cards." I move on down by the candy: "Can I help you?" from another girl." "No just help you?" from a saleswoman has come around and meets me head on and says "Can't you use some of our specials today--you know you've got money, spend a little." I walk on down and the manager, seeing the girls haven't had any luck, decides to use his charm, "Is there anything I can help you find?" By that time I was ready to run. I forgot what I really came in for, but I did ask him: "Where are the douche bags?" Please print this, it

Dear Unsigned, Often, when a store has too many staff who won't know when a customer wants to browse or just look around, it usually ends up in trouble--as does the store where service is unheard of. Thanks for your letter.

Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie, After waiting more years than I can tell you my wife and I moved into our lovely new home. Our new neighbors decided to give us a house-warming. Everything went fine until the lady across the street arrived with her Great Dane puppy. She explained she didn't go anywithout him. The puppy promptly inspected everything and then left a large wet stain on our new woolen rug. We just can't afford to get it cleaned and my wife and I can't stand the smell. Can you help?

We checked with a major carpet manufacturer and here's the advice we got. Treat this spot as you would if it were blood (and from the tone of your letter 1 m sure you wish it were the puppy's blood): is, use plain COLD water and keep blotting it. Do this several times -- it will prevent the loss of color in your rug (or an ugly stain) and by the diluting with cold water the urine's alkalinity will be reduced. Then use water with a little detergent. And to get rid of any further odor, sponge the area with half a cup of white vinegar mixed thoroughly with a quart of WARM water. When this soaks in, wait a few minutes and then rinse again with clear cold water and blot up. Keep on repeating this until the stain has disappeared-but make sure you use WHITE vinegar, Next time your neighbor calls, ask her politely to leave her puppy at home. Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Highlanders beat Scotch Plains, 5-3, as Mohns, Wilson stave off late rallies

The Gov. Livingston baseball team battled Scotch Plains and the weather last week and came away with a 5-3 victory. The triumph, Regional's first of the season after two losses was important psychologically. It followed a surprising loss to South Plainfield, and a shutout by powerful Union. Unexpected snowfall caused one cancellation and nearly forced the Saturday's game to be postponed.

The Highlanders exploded for all five runs the first inning and made them stand up behind the fine pitching of Curt Mohns, rapid-ly emerging as Gov. Livingston's top pitcher, and Tom Wilson, who came through with a fine relief performance.

Bob Honecker led off with a walk and Harry Nelson, starting his first varsity game, singled. Rich Weiss followed with a hard single to drive in Honecker. Ron Steel got Regional's third consecutive hit and Nelson scoredeasily. When Scotch Plains outfielder threw wild, Weiss also scored.

After an out by Dick Trakimas, his twin brother Bill singled to score Steel. One out later, a single by Mohns sent him home. Strong pitching staved off two Scotch Plains rallies and allowed the Highlanders to come away with a very heartening victory over last season's Watchung Conference champs.

WITH LOSSES to Cranford and Watchung Hills and a victory over New Providence, the Gov. Livingston track team has gotten off to mediocre start. Coached by James Russo, they are looking to improve on last season's sub-,500 record, but have yet to show much.

Still, Regional fans hope for better performances since the Highlanders certainly have the potential to do so, possessing many returning runners and weight men. Rich Kaezca, running the 100 in his first year, is doing an excellent job. Doubling at the 220 and 440

Richard N. Preston of Westfield was fined on two charges. They are $15 for parking in a no parking after dark zone in the Watchung Reservation and $10 for not having the registration for the vehicle he was driving in his possession.

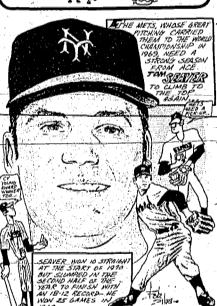

Other convictions and fines were J. Heller and Sons, Newark, $20 for allowing an unregistered vehicle on the road, and Boyce C. Williams of Raritan, $10 for begging rides.

In the distance running events, the Highlanders appear to be as strong as they have been for three years. Two-year veterans lim Fairbanks and co-captain Mark Zillis anchor the two-mile, which is probably Regional's strongest event. The two will probably finish 1-2 in many meets. Bob Pfriender is probably surprise has been sophomore Fred Anderson, who has run a 5:03, phenomenal for a sophomore at this stage in the season. In the next couple years he could develop into one of Regional's best distance runners ever.

Doug Clendenin and Dave Hof are capable pole-vaulters, with each in his third year of competition. In the high jump, Doug Bow and Gary White are strong performers. In the weight events (javelin, shot put and discus), Bob Zetterstrom, Dave Ruch and Rich Po-tempa will carry Gov. Livingston's hopes.

Passover marks the beginning of spring but also has an important spiritual significance for it is the season of liberation and commemorates the emancipation of the Jews from Egyptian bondage. Y cooking class: Enroll by phone

A special "Enroll-by-Phone" session will be held from 6 to 10 tonight by the Rahway and Scotch Plains YMCAs for "Creative Low-Calorie Cooking" classes which start next week. The number to call to enroll in either Y is 276-4740.

The Rahway class starts next Tuesday at the YMCA building, 1564 Irving st., and will be held for six consecutive Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30. The Scotch Plains class begins Wednesday, at the YMCA building, Grand street and Union avenue, and will be held for six consecutive Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3. Enrollment fee for either class is $15 complete, which includes text and instructional materials. Enrollment will be limited and advance registration is necessary. Both classes are open to anyone who wishes to enroll; there are no residency or Y membership requirements.

Mrs. Janice Holtgrave of Mountainside, a graduate home economist is instructor for both courses. The classes will be introduced by Mrs. Barbara Gibbons of Cranford, developer of the program. I did some investigating and discovered my dismay and chagrin that many senior citizens do in fact experience difficulty in obtaining credit to finance the purchase of automobiles and appliances.

To my way of thinking, this is a disgraceful situation that should not be permitted to continue. The people who have worked hard to build our nation into what it is should not be treated like second-class citizens when they attempt to purchase a new refrigerator or

Therefore, I have introduced a bill in the State Senate that would forbid this practice. My bill -- S-2190 -- would bar any lending institution from refusing to extend credit to any person on the ground that the applicant is retired and relying on a pension or similar source of fixed income for his subsistence.

To make the ban against this practice as broad as possible, the bill defines lending institutions as any person, partnership, association, corporation or any other institution authorized to engage in the business of making loans of any kind in this state.

IT IS DIFFICULT ENOUGH for senior citizens in these days of rising costs to enjoy the life of dignity to which their many years of labor have entitled them. And their aspirations and desires for the modern conveniences available to nearly everyone else are per-fectly understandable.

It is wrong for lending institutions to attempt to prevent senior citizens access to these comforts by refusing them the credit that in many cases is the only way in which a pur-

Although I cannot understand the heartlessness that would deny a senior citizen credit solely because he is on a pension or some other fixed income, I am convinced that we should eliminate the possibility of using this as an excuse for rejecting an otherwise worthwhile loan application.

GRANTS OF $620 MILLION

LISTED FOR NEW JERSEY
Almost $620 million in federal aid grants

Covering some 80 programs administered by various federal departments and agencies, the 1970 grant range in size from almost $159 million public assistance payments and $108 million in highway trust funds to $8,000 for commercial fisheries research and development and less than $2,000 for dental and nursing resources and services.

Substantial increases were noted in payments last year for vocational education, food stamp, urban renewal, public assistance and manpower development training programs. Among largest declines were 1970 payments for community action programs, highway construction, and urban mass transportation. In reporting the listings, the New Jersey Taxpayers Association pointed out the figures represent cash payments within the fiscal year rather than annual program allocations and therefore may not be indicative of trends.

NJTA recently made public the annual estimate of the tax cost of each dollar of federal aid received in New Jersey. As calculated by The Tax Foundation, a national research organization, this showed that New Jersey taxpayers contributed approximately $1,002,500,000, or 4.26 percent of the cost of the $23 1/2 billion national distribution of federal grants in aid in fiscal 1970.

This resulted in an estimated tax cost-to-aid-received ratio of $1.62 for each dollar of federal aid received in New Jersey. This is slightly less than the $1.67 ratio reported the year before and dropped New Jersey to fourth from its customary top position in the ranking of states paying the most taxes for each dollar

IN ITS FEBRUARY ISSUE, Environmental Action announces its "Ecotage Contest," which it explains is "a contest for activists --we want to know what tactics can be used by concerned citizens to stop corporations or institutions from polluting, exploiting and otherwise threatening the survival of the carth and its inhabitants." The rules are simple: Entrants may submit more than one idea; all entries must be typewritten, double-spaced; more than one person can work on an entry, but only one representative can receive the award; length should be limited to 100 pages; the deadline is April 20, 1971; all submissions become the property of Environmental Action and may reproduced by the organization; contest void where prohibited by law. Environmental Action says entries may range from "simple ideas which embarrass corporations to more complex plans for stopping corporate irresponsibility." A panel experts will judge tactics on creativity and feasibility. Contest entries should be mailed to Ecotage, Environmental Action, Room 731, 1346 Connecticut ave., N. W.,

Washington, D.C. 20036.
First prize will be a trip to Washington to receive the "Golden Fox Award," named in honor of an unidentified man in the Chicago area who, proclaiming himself "the Fox" has been harrassing polluters by plugging smokestacks, blocking industrial drainage systems and even dumping a corporation's ef-fluent in its headquarters lobby.

IF ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION'S contest is too gamey for your taste, we can recommend women of Concern, Inc., who have just published the second edition of "Eco-Tips", an ecological buying guide for the con-cerned consumer. The handy, purse-sized publication is available at $5 per hundred from Concern, Inc., 2100 MStreet, N.W. Washington,

The organization consists mainly of 10 Washington women, wives of prominent govern-ment officials, civic and business leaders.

Their first edition of Eco-Tips came out last June, and aided greatly in informing con-sumers about the dangers of phosphate detergents. It also contained still-valid arguments against non-returnable bottles and polyvinyl chloride plastic containers which when burned emit dangerous hydrogen chloride gas. More than 400,000 copies of that first Eco-Tips were distributed.

Eco-Tips No. 2 should be of equal interest.

It contains valuable tips on unleaded gasolines and automobile pollution, what household pesticides to use and not use, and advice on bringing consumer pressure to bear on behalf of the environment.

'Gay 90s' theme of NSC carnival

The Newark State College carnival committee will present its annual carnival on April 23, 24, 25. The theme for this year's carnival will be the "Gay 90s." The Kean parking lot, adjacent to the Town and Campus Restaurant on Morris avenue, Union, will serve as the carnival grounds. The carnival will include games, prizes, rides, food, exhibits and entertainment.

Opening ceremonies will begin, weather permitting, on Friday, April 23, at 6 p.m. The grounds will close at 12:30 a.m. Saturday's activities will include a float parade beginning at 10 a.m. Candidates from the Miss Newark State Pageant will participate in the parade. Saturday evening will include free, live entertainment. The carnival grounds will close at 1 a.m. Sunday the carnival will be open from noon to 6 p.m.

"an old Rutgers custom."
The State University resorted to lotteries 'as fund-

as Queens College.
The Rutgers historian explained that lotteries were held by many colleges as well as by churches and charitable agencies in the Colonial period and later.

Concerning the struggling college's first lottery venture, Dr. McCormick writes:

"Permission to conduct a lottery was sought from the Legislature and, after some initial rebuffs, was obtained in January, 1812. It was hoped that this device would yield manage the complicated venture through a committee rather than turn their privilege over to a professional lottery agent, sequences were disastrous. Many difficulties arose, with the result that the net pro-ceeds, if any, fell far short of the goal."

Several years later an event occurred that inspired the second lottery project. The trustees learned from the New ork firm of McIntyre and Yates, specialists in the man-agement of lotteries, that the college still retained some rights from the old 1812 lot-tery. The firm proposed to y them from the college. 'In August 1822, an agreement had been reached whereby, contingent upon the ap-proval of the state, McIntyre and Yates would conduct the lottery and guarantee a return of $20,000 to the college," Dr. McCormick writes.

"After some initial resistance, the Legislature sanctioned the arrangement, with the provision that the money obtained was to be invested as an endowment for a professorship of mathematics. "Drawings began early in 1824 and continued over the course of a year, when the state intervened and enjoined any further proceedings.

Despite this action, which led to involved negotiations both with the state and the lottery firm, McIntyre and Yates honored their commitment and turned over to the trustees. in annual installments the total amount stipulated,"

Thanks to the lottery, then, the college now had the major portion of a fund to pay a professor's salary.

The current state lottery law provides that at least 30 percent of the gross income be allocated to state aid to education and institutions.

New penalty on late taxes

A penalty may be imposed on income tax unpaid by April 15, Roland H. Nash Jr., IRS district director for New Jersey, said this week.

The penalty, enacted as part of the Tax Reform Act of 1969, is one-half percent for each month or part of a month the payment is late, but the total penalty is limited to 25 percent, Nash said, It does not apply to estimated income tax or the period covered by an extension of time to file the return. Nash explained that the penalty would not apply if the taxpayer can show the failure to pay timely is due to rea-sonable cause and not willful neglect. The penalty is in addition to the regular interest charge of six percent per year on late payment of taxes.

Non-public schools to get applications for aid from state

Application forms to determine eligibility for state aid will be mailed by the State Department of Education to some 800 nonpublic schools during the first week of May, according to John R. Flynn, special assistant to State Education Commissioner Carl L. Marburger.

Flynn, who has been directed by the commissioner to take charge of the implementa-tion of the program, said that the applications will begin the process for determining school eligibility.

"We will have the question of eligibility settled by July." Flynn said, lie added that eligibility will be determined under criteria defined by the law.

Schools receiving applications for the determination of eligibility will be expected to have them returned to the Department of Education by the first week in June. The nonpublic school aid law goes into effect on July 1. Some $9.5 million has been appropriated by the state legislature for non-public school aid.

Flynn said the department's program is on schedule and that the state would begin issuing contracts for secular education services during the first week in July.

The first payments of state aid will be made to the schools on Nov. 30. The law requires payments on the last day of November, March and June. First payments will reimburse textbook costs. Later payments will go toward teacher salaries.

Flynn said that an eight-member advisory council met on April 6 to begin assisting the department in establishing policy. The department had invited representation from a number of other non-public education groups, but had not received replies. The council will be enlarged as replies are received.

Non-polluting plastic developed at Rutgers highway -- America's most ubiquitous symbols of pollution -- may become ancient history if a new plastic container, developed jointly by Rutgers University and Pensico. Inc., is adopted by the beverage industry.

reported Roy E. Morse, professor of food science at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, "is a plastic bottle that can either be burnt in an incinerator with no more air pollution than would be pro-duced by paper, or ground up and plowed into the soil. Projected cost is equivalent to either glass or metal."

Research on the new bottle began in 1967 when an unsual cooperative arrangement was worked out between PepsiCo and Rutgers. "PepsiCo put together a research group before it had a laboratory to house them," Dr. Morse explained, "So at the time Rutgers agreed to supply the floor space and PepsiCo the equipment.

Dr. Morse, then leader of the company's research group, collaborated with Dr. Sey-mour Gilbert, professor of food science at the college.

Instructional TV class offered by Seton Hall

Seton Hall University's De-partment of Communications will offer a graduate summer Instructional Television Workshop for the third consecutive year on the campus here from July 6 through 29. The program, which is geared to elementary and sec-ondary school teachers and audio-visual specialists, will carry six graduate credits and will provide a thorough orientation to educational and instructional television.

Areas to be covered during the workshop include television organization and planning, its production techniques, its utilization in the classroom and its adaptability to other learning situations.

Participants will be exposed to lectures, screening and critiques of films and video-tapes and will take part in scripting, producing and directing of workshop programs in Seton Hall's new fully equipped air conditioned television center. In addition, guest lecturers will cover every aspect of the educational television world in depth.

36 towns join fight on gypsy moths

Thirty-six New Jersey communities in upstate and shore counties will participate in this year's cooperative gypsy moth control program, ac-cording to William M. Cran-stoun, director, Division of Plant Industry, New Jersey

Department of Agriculture.
The program is entirely voluntary, Cranstoun said, and cost of the program to those communities which have chosen to sign up will be shared by the department and the U.S. Forest Service.

Officials of 76 municipali-where aerial surveys made last year showed that the threat of defoliation and tree mortality because of this leaf-eating insect pest existed were notified by the department early this spring.

Officials of all but four of the towns requested further sur-veys to determine the actual extent of the danger. In those communities, trained personnel of the department made ground surveys for egg mas-ses of the moth and checked the egg masses for parasite activity.

In 51 communities, it was determined that bio-control agents would not effectively prevent economic tree damage and pinpoint spraying was rec-

Tax task force holds hearings in three cities

Leonard C. Johnson, chairman of the Property Tax Task Force of the New Jersey Tax Policy Committee, announced this week a public hearing will be held by his group at 10 a,m., on Thursday, April 22, in the Aldermanic Chambers, City Hall, Paterson. Two others are also scheduled, one at 10 a,m. in the City Council Chambers, City Hall, Newark, on Tuesday, April 27, and the other at 10 a.m. in the City Council Chambers, City Hall, New Brunswick, on Tuesday, May 4.

The purpose of these hearings is to allow interested citizens and organizations in the North Jersey areas to express their views about the property tax. These meetings are the last in a series of eight regional hearings scheduled by this task force.

The task force is especially interested in all aspects of the property tax in New Jersey. The property tax study is one of the important phases of the overall in-depth study of the tax structure of the State of New Jersey which is being undertaken by the Governor's Tax Policy Committee

The guidelines for these hearings include topics related to the economic and environmental impact of the property tax, extension or elimination of classifying land according to its differing uses, and the establishment of different tax rates on the different classifications. The idea of a property tax rate limitation is also listed.

Speakers are limited to a ten-minute oral presentation summarizing any written state-ments which are submitted, Registrants are heard in the order of registration. Registration arrangements and copies of the rules and guidelines may be obtained from the office of the New Jersey Tax Policy Committee, 134 State st., Trenton 08625.

Three summonses given motorist after 4-vehicle accident

No one was injured last Thursday afternoon the Union line, according to Springfield police. However, one of the drivers, Joseph J. Applebaum of South Orange, was given three summonses. They were for careless driving on Mountain avenue, driving an unregistered vehi cle and leaving the scene of the accident.

The police report said Applebaum was cuttingfrom the left to right lane on the highway when a car driven by Hewitt D. Gregory of Westfield swerved to avoid hitting Applebaum's vehicle. Following the collision, Gregory's car turned sideways on the highway and was struck by a car driven by John R. Bourdeau of Brookfield, Mass. A vehicle driven by Preston P. Burnett III of Roselle Park then struck Bourdeau's car.

There was a hit and run accident Friday morning on Rt. 22 East near the east-to-west turn-around by the Springfield House, police said, A car driven by Gregory Meola of Maple-wood was traveling east in the fast lane when an unidentified vehicle came out of the turn-around and pulled in front of him. The cars collided and the other vehicle left the scene, police reported.

One person was slightly injured last Wednesday night in an accident on Rt. 22 East and a west-to-east turn-around, according to police. Paula Oderman of Livingston, a passenger in a car driven by Alan R. Weiner of Union, told police she would see her own doctor.

Police said the Weiner car, owned by Presto Auto Sales of Newark was traveling east on the highway. A car driven by Jeffrey H. Seltzer of Union also was going east on the highway when

Mrs. Nash named delegate to LWV state convention

Mrs. Harry Nash of Saddle Brook lane, Mountainside, will be a delegate from the League of Women Voters of Westfield Area at the 39th biennial convention of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey, to be held April 25-27 at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Nash, second vice-president of the Westfield Area League, is chairman of the local program for state education and also a member of the state legislative procedures committee.

The main business of the convention, according to Mrs. Nash, is the debate and vote on study items for 1971-73, the election of officers and directors and the adoption of the state budget.

Delegates will also give special attention to the League's purpose, to promote political responsibility among all citizens, by focusing on "Women and Politics." At a banquet on April 26, Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm of New York will address the more than 400 delegates representing 10,000 League members throughout the state. Her topic will be "Woman's Place in Government—Today."

By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Advise

A Southerner who says his group isn't officially organized, and doesn't want publicity, suggests there might be merit in a general "swap" club for the retired. He's talking about the swapping of talent, services and advice among hobbyists.

The group, he says, has frequent meetings at the local coffee shop. Someone building a barbecue pit, or patching a concrete wall, for example, can receive advice, on-the-job-supervision, and sometimes a little help, merely by presenting his plans to the "board," Included in the group of retirees are such varied occupations as bricklayers, carpenters, architect, plumber, painter, etc., as well as a smattering of allied occupations. Someone with an idea may find someone else has a complete set of plans or has had experience with a similar project. One person may be familiar with the type of materials needed for such a job and know where such may be acquired, if more than one type of skill is needed for the job, there is sometimes a swapping of services—"you help me with yours."

Many plans and ideas, of course, never get past the talking stage. 'But," writes our correspondent, "there is often as much encorrespondent, "there is often as much en-joyment talking about how a job could be done, or should be done, as there is in the actual doing. When someone says, "I have an idea to present to the Board," we all perk up our ears. You can be real sure his idea is going to get a thorough going over before someone is able to change the

We must agree, the mutual aid program sounds like a good thing. We're also pretty sure only good times are had at the coffee "board" sessions.

Woodbridge driver receives summons after 2-car crash

John A. Kane of Woodbridge received a summons for driving with an expired license last Wednesday morning after a car he was driving collided with a vehicle driven by Charles W. Hahn of 1541 Coles ave., Mountainside, on Rt. 22 East, according to Mountainside police.
Police said Kane's car, owned by the Lum-berman's Mutual Casualty Co., Woodbridge, pulled out in front of Hahn's vehicle, owned by Peterson Eardly T Co., Westfield, Hahn told police he got peeved and pulled out in front of Kane's vehicle when the accident Last Wednesday's rain and snow was a contributing factor in an accident that morning on Summit lane near Sylvan road, police re-ported. A panel truck driven by Charles E. Biggs Jr. of Chatham was struck by a car driven by James L. Clark Jr. of Westfield.

According to police, the truck, owned by Brennan's Dairy Farm, Summit, skidded across the roadway. Clark's car was coming in the opposition direction and struck the truck, His car had to be towed away. No one was injured in a three-vehicle chain collision last Wednesday afternoon in front of 344 Summit rd., police said. The drivers, in order of their involvement, were Milton Katcher of Cranford, Edward L, Herzog of Tampa, Fla., and John E. Garrabrant of West Caldwell. LET'S GO TO CAMP

Leaflet tells of need for open spaces

A leaflet explaining the workings of the New Jersey Farmland Assessment Act of 1964 and its success to date has been published by the Coordinating Committee to Save Open Space in New Jersey. Single copies are available by writing to the committee at 168

W. State st., Trenton, 08608. The publication stresses the importance of retaining agriculture and open space in New Jersey and describes how the Farmland Assessment Act has helped achieve this purpose.

The 1964 legislation pro-vides that land actively devoted to agriculture shall be assessed according to the value derived from such use, rather than for its potential for possible future develop-

The purpose of the act was to slow down the rapid loss of farms in New Jersey; between 1950 and 1960, New Jersey lost 40 percent of its farms. Since passage of the act, the rate of loss has been cut in half and the more favorable trend appears to be continuing. -While New Jersey farm own-ers continue to pay the highest average taxes per acre on farmland anywhere in the nation (the most recent figure is $18.87), the rate of increase in this tax has been slowed down, making it possible for most landowners to cope with

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: Well, you may say my problem isn't important, but I hope you can help. I am almost fifteen years old. I like this guy, 18 years old. We don't get to write to each other often. He hasn't written to me for two months. I have written to him four times. They tell me a guy that is over-seas can't write often. I really like him, but I don't know if I should wait until he writes me or just forget it.

OUR REPLY: Overseas mail can some-times take a lot of time catching up with a serviceman who is on the move. Wait a while longer, give the guy an opportunity to answer one of your letter. After a reasonable time, if you haven't heard, write him again, if you wish - but do so as a friend, sending merely a "newsy" letter from home. Tell him that this is your fourth letter and you will probably not write again unless you hear from him. If he is interested, he will write to you. Mean-time, consider him as a friend and go on with your life. There are plenty of guys and gals your own age who are worth knowing.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUTTEENAGERS. COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SER-VICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Bennett gets Y swimming recognition

The Summit Area YMCA presented its 21st annual Shuart Reed Memorial Award to John P. Bennett, former aquatic director of the Summit Y, at its annual dinner Tuesday at the Sulphur Springs Inn, Berkeley Heights.

The Reed Award is the YM's highest recognition to a local citizen for "distinguished service to youth,'

Bennett, a resident of Berkeley Heights until his re-tirement in 1970, taught over his 46 years of experience as an instructor. Twenty-six of those years he served as a volunteer in YMCAs, YWCAs, Jewish Community Centers, Scouts and the Red Cross while employed by the Newark

Joining the Summit YMCA a staff member in 1955 Bennett became aquatic director in 1957, supervising ing lifesaving and leader-examiner courses. He "raised" many of his own assistants and instructors who returned to work with him after finishing his courses (many of them began instruction with him in first grade).

Along with swim skills, John Bennett imparted an extra bonus to every one of his pupils -his own philosophy of 'JOY," (Jesus, Others and "JOY," (Jesus, Others and You), He made "JOY" a part each course and described as an unfailing friend to all who were ill or

First National State Bank of New Jersey... the State's first Billion-Dollar Commercial Bank...continues to pay the maximum legal interest rates on all time deposits, even if other banks lower their rates.

We have made this decision consistent with the policy this bank established in 1965 when it pioneered the use of time deposits in our State-with the issuance of Jersey Growth Certificates. This policy was to pay maximum allowable interest on all time deposits. We sought then, as now, not only to attract funds to this bank, but to help avert a flow of savings and investments out of our State to investments elsewhere.

We still believe this policy is best, both for our bank and for our State . . .

Albee's 'All Over' is a lyrical threnody

By ROBERT LYONS
Something small and fairly easy to follow occurs in Edward Albee's 'All Over,' currently at the Martin Beck Theatre, May I cover it a bit later?

A famous, certainly wealthy and successful, man is dying upstage behind curtained screens and hard lights, tubes, wires, machines plugged in and whirring to prolong.

Gathered for the final hours are his wife, mistress, two children and attorney, They have known each other for such an eternity that they can talk to each other as strangers. The language flies and is high flown. The audience is extremely attentive, perhaps too much so. For much of the dialogue was immensely funny and there could have been more laughter. Perhaps we are always more respectful at the funeral of a stranger. For in effect this is a funeral (or maybe an advanced

The characters reveal themselves and stitch in the fabric of their pasts loosely and leave the fine weaving to the onlooker. This is a brilliant stroke of writing. The rambling has roundness and, oddly, a precision, I think people would, in these circumstances, pick and choose, and simultaneously let it all hang out. Albee has superbly merged catharsis with the patterned maneuvering and cross challenging that are the chief stimuli of the

The woman, who answered the call, gently put the receiver in what resembled a wooden attache case, placed a small magnetic knob over her chest and, with her other hand, pressed on an aluminum cylinder.

The caller, a registered nurse-administrator from Newark-Beth Israel Medical Center's Pacemaker Team, began receiving a rate signal on the digital monitor placed before her. Mrs. Bertha Firstenberg, 69, of Lakewood, and Mrs. Esther Schilling, R.N., were participating in a weekly ritual which has enabled Medical Center physicians to observe Mrs. Firstenberg's pacemaker function since January.

At the time the last pacemaker rate monitoring was being done, the patient, who received her first battery-powered unit in 1965, was visiting a niece in New York. She was emotionally secure in the knowledge that, with the wooden case, help was as far away as the nearest telephone.

DESPITE THE FACT that the average life of cardiac heart pacers is 22 to 24 months, their longevity can be unpredictable. About percent of pacemaker failures are due to battery exhaustion, which can be anal-yzed by knowing the pulse generator's rate.

It is desirable to replace an implanted pacemaker as infrequently as possible; but out not to wait so long that the pacemaker fails entirely and the patient's symptoms recur. Until the establishment of the Pacemaker Evaluation Clinic at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center in 1966, pacemakers were changed either when the unit became quite old, or when the patient became symp-

Because 90 percent of the replacements were conducted on an emergency basis, there was obvious need for some method of reducing the number of emergency procedures and the reduction was accomplished with the establishment of the clinic facility. Since its opening, emergency pacemaker replacements have been reduced to 10 percent.

IN ONE OF THE MOST ACTIVE pacemaker implantation programs in the country, the Medical Center has rehabilitated patients ranging in age from nine years old to ninety-eight years. Approximately 120 patients are seen monthly in the Pacemaker Clinic. There are those, however, who cannot manage the regular clinic visits easily for a variety of reasons and these are the nationts who benefit most from the new telephone sys-

Many patients, like Mrs. Firstenberg, like to travel and Mrs. Schilling is able to place the weekly call anywhere in the United States. Some of the pacemaker patients are employed full time and find the telephone monitoring a quick and easy way to check in with the Medical Center without taking time off from their jobs.

Four of the pacemaker wearers reside in nursing homes and two have moved to Pennsylvania. In both instances, the telephone gives them relief from the fear of sudden pacemaker failure. One patient is called regularly in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

FIVE IMPENDING BATTERY FAILURES have been detected since the first of March, among them Mrs. Firstenberg, According to Mrs. Schilling, Mrs. Firstenberg was supplied with the monitoring device in January when it noted that her pulse rate was down to beats per minute from her normal rate of 71. One of the purposes of the monitoring by telephone is to enable closer observation when pacemaker function is questionable. Mrs. Firstenberg attended a pacemaker clinic in the beginning of March and physicians noted further changes. She was telephoned the following week, during her New York visit, and the monitor registered a significant change in the pulse interval indicating a rate of only 66. She was advised to come to the pacemaker clinic for confirmation of the findings and possible admission to the Medical Center. Physicians decided to admit her and her pacemaker battery change was done that same afternoon.

CURRENTLY, THERE ARE 40 telephone monitoring devices in use at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, Dr. Victor Parsonnet, director of surgery and head of the Pacemaker Team, anticipates that there will be 200 such instruments available by the end of the year. He, Dr. Lawrence Gilbert, director of thoracic and cardiac surgery, and Dr. I. Richard Zucker, director of cardiodynamics, stress the security given the doctornurse-patient combination as one of the great advantages of the device.

In a state of over 7 million people, approximately half are covered by the Blues

Our "city" is made up of the people (or their employers) who pay each month to maintain an emergency fund for unexpected hospital and doctor bills. Expenses no one can anticipate or often afford.

When hospital or doctor bills come up, the specialists at the New Jersey Blues help take care of the payments. Direct to hospitals and participating doctors. With next to no red tape. At no prolit to us.

Taking care of the health-care prepayment for the sixth largest "city" in the nation is a large responsibility. To do it we keep an eagle eye on overhead and expenses. As a result, the combined administrative costs of the Blues is about 6 cents of each dollar. As opposed to several times that for other health

And we keep trying to reduce health-care costs in other ways. By working with hospitals and doctors to see that benefits are properly used. By expanding outpatient coverage to encourage less costly services out of the hospital. By guarding against duplication of claims.

Half the people in the state are members of "Blue Cross/Blue Shield, New Jersey". They feel it's a nice place to be.

Our only interest is people and people's good health Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey / Medical-Surgical Plan of New Jersey

There are nineteen million ex-cigarette smokers in the United States: about one in five adult men in this counftry has dropped the habit.

Those who give up cigarettes report a great sense of. satisfaction, of tremendous pride in being able to do it. To learn a new way of living, a way without cigarette smoking, is very rewarding to the ego-and to the

As You Approach Q Day

Many stress willpower as the decisive factor in giving up cigarettes. For them the sense that they can manage their own lives is of great importance. They enjoy challenging themselves and, with an effort of will, they break the eiga-

Thus, some psychologists describe stopping eigarettes as an exercise in self-mastery, one that introduces a new dimension of self-control.

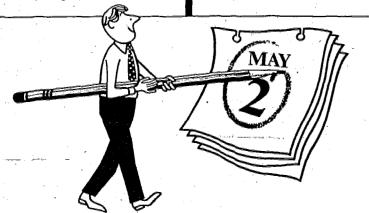

Others, often successful in many aspects of living, find that willpower does not help them in giving up cigarettes. They try to stop, they do not, and they feel guilty over their weakness.

This is a mistake, since many smokers fail in their first and second, even their fifth attempts. and then finally succeed. Those whose "will" fails in breaking the habit are not weak but different. Their approach must be less through determination and more through relearning new behavior with patience and perseverance.

Self-suggestion, when one is relaxed, aimed at changing one's feelings and thoughts about cigarettes can be useful.

One health educator remarked recently, "nothing succeeds like willpower and a little blood in the sputum.

To think of stopping smoking as self-denial is an error: the ex-smoker should not believe that he is giving up an object of value, however dependent he may be on it. If he begins to feel sorry for himself and broods on his sufferings. they may well become more severe and indeed unendurable. He must recognize that he is teaching himself a more positive, more constructive, more rewarding behavior

Try Cutting Down...

An important first step in the process of giving up eigarettes for many smokers is to set the date for Q Day, when you are going to stop completely and, as it approaches, to gradually reduce the number of eigarettes you smoke, day by day, or week by week.

A good system is to decide only to smoke once an hour-or to stop smoking between the hours of 9 and 10 'clock, 11 and 12, 1 and 2, 3 and 4, etc. And then to extend the nonsmoking time by half an hour, an hour, two hours. You may decide to halve the cigarettes you smoke week by week, giving yourself four weeks

How about smoking half of each eigarette?

In the process of reducing the number of daily cigarettes, try various possibilities; if you have one pocket in which you always carry your pack, put it in another so that you will have to fumble for it. If you always use your use the left hand. Is it your custom to rest the cigarette in the right corner of the mouth? Try

Make it a real effort to get a cigarette: Wrap your package in several sheets of paper or place it in a tightly covered box. If you leave your change at home you won't be able to use a Shift from eigarettes you like to an unpalata ble brand.

Before you light up, ask yourself, "Do I really want this eigarette or am I just acting out of empty habit?"

A smoker may find an unlighted eigarette in the mouth is helpful. Others enjoy handling and playing with a cigarette

Cigarette smoking is a habit that is usually very well learned-learning the habit of not smoking can be difficult. It can help in breaking into your habit chain to make yourself aware of the nature and frequency of your smoking be-

Do you really want this cigarette

Do You Believe In "Cold Turkey" Quitting?

Yes, for some, no, for others. If you are a really "addicted" smoker, psychologists favor the sud-For some, gradual withdrawal is less painful and entirely satisfactory. Some eigarette smokers shift to pipes and cigars-there is of course some risk of mouth cancer from these but over-all mortality of eigar and pipe smokers is only a little higher than among nonsmokers, if the smoke is not inhaled.

What about going to a cigarette withdrawal clinic?

If there is a clinic or program in your community, you may find it useful. The American Cancer Society favors such efforts.

Sharing your withdrawal experiences withothers and working with them on a common problem can be very helpful. The clinic may make it considerably easier in various ways to stop eigarette smokine.

However, remember, no clinic can provide a sure result. In this matter you must be both patient and physician

Shall I Make A Big Thing Of Q-Day?

Some find it most satisfactory to work on a schedule in which Q Day, quitting day, is singled out as the important, decisive day in their personal lives-that indeed it is,

Others who have known for a long time that eigarettes are bad for them and that sooner or later they will stop, wake up one morning and say to themselves "This is it. No more eigarettes."

What motivates them? An obituary, an antismoking commercial on television, a magazine article, a leaflet brought home from school by a child, a worried look from their son, being fed up with a repeated cough. There are many possible stimulants to stop but almost always beneath the casual seeming but bold decision, are months, often years of thought and worry.

What If I Fail To Make It?

Don't be discouraged: many thousands who finally stopped did so only after several attempts.

Some people prefer to stop for just one day freedom from eigarettes and when the day is over they make a commitment to themselves for one more day. And another. And another, At the end of any 24-hour period they can go back to eigarettes without betraying themselves-but they usually do not.

Is Smoking A Real Addiction?

This depends on your definition of words. In any case smokers obviously can become very strongly dependent on eigarettes.

However, the discomfort that most feel at giving up cigarettes is not like the painful withdrawal symptoms that drug addicts report.

Giving up cigarettes is much closer to the discomfort and the irritation produced by dieting than to the agony of stopping a drug. As so many know, dieting in an effort to lose fifteen or twenty pounds can be a most uncomfortable experience-but when you have done it, you have a fine feeling.

How About Ashtrays?

One school of thought asks, do you leave a bottle of whiskey near an alcoholic? Their recommendation is to get rid of cigarettes, ashtrays, anything that might remind a smoker of his

Another school of thought take a different view and even suggest carrying eigarettes to demonstrate to yourself that you can resist temptation. Choose for yourself.

Shall I Tell Others Of My Decision?

Some do, some don't. Some find that the wider they spread the news of their decision the easier it is for them to make it stick. Others regard not smoking as their own personal business and keep it almost entirely to themselves. Will you strengthen your decision if your wife and friends know that you have committed yourself?

Will I Gain Weight?

Many do. Food is a substitute for cigarettes for many people. And your appetite may be fresher and stronger

During the first few weeks of giving up eigarettes some psychologists recommend pampering yourself: eating well, drinking well, enjoying those things that are pleasant and fulfilling. Some people, those to whom self-mastery is vital, get rewards out of controlling their wish for fattening food at the same time that they are licking the urge for eigarettes. Again, it depends upon the person and his

Keep A Track Record

Many smokers have found that a useful step in understanding their smoking is the keeping of a daily record on a scale like that below.

In your gradual withdrawal you may decide to eliminate those daily eigarettes that you find are rated 1, 2 or 3 on the scale, i.e., ones you

Or you may wish to give up first the cigarettes you like most. In any case keeping a smoking log will give you information about yourself, make you more aware of what your smoking

You may find that you are largely a social smoker, that smoking makes you feel closer to others, more welcome at a party, that you seem to have more friends. A cigarette may play a surprisingly large part in your picture of yourself as a mature and successful man.

How do you convince yourself that people like and respect you for more important reason than for your cigarette? Try going without a cigarette and see.

Shall I See My Physician? YES

However, the problem is yours, not his, and he may not feel that he can be helpful. On the other hand he may be able to give you sympathetic support and may prescribe medication. He can be helpful, also, in suggesting a diet which will prevent you from gaining too

Physicians as a profession have been leaders in acting on the risks of cigarette smoking: the Public Health Service estimates that 100,-000 physicians (half of the physicians who once were cigarette smokers) have kicked the habit. A California study shows that only 21.3 per cent of all physicians in the state are cigarette smokers now.

Why Do So Many People Smoke Cigarettes?

Surely one reason is that the cigarette industry spends about $300,-000,000 a year in promoting the habit and in challenging the facts that scientists have produced that point to the dangers of the habit. Another reason is that something in cigarettes, probably nicotine, is habit forming: smokers become dependent rather rapidly. Cigarette smoking is essentially a 20th century habit, encouraged by wars, by brilliant advertising, and by the development of remarkably efficient automatic machinery that produces those millions of ound, firmly packed eigarettes.

It is only within the last 15 years that we have learned, through research pioneered by the American Cancer Society, that this personal and socially accepted habit is extremely dangerous. Cigarette smoking is deeply embedded in our life: agriculture, industry, government, the communications media, all have a stake in it. It is still widely accepted, even though proven to be a most certain hazard

Because promotion is important in maintaining the habit's popularity, the Society believes all cigarette advertising in all media should be terminated. We hope that this goal will be achieved volintarily and that governmental action won't be necessary.

Approaches in Giving up Cigarette Smoking

- 1. List the reasons for and against smoking.
- 2. Select Q Day—change to low tar and nicotine
- cigarette.
- Chart your smoking habits for at least two weeks: how many cigarettes, when, the most and least important.
- 4. Repeat each night, at least ten times, one of - your reasons for not smoking cigarettes.

 5. Eliminate one category of cigarettes: the most or the least desired.
- 6. Secure a supply of substitutes: mints, gum. an inhaler, ginger root, etc.
- 7. Quit on Q Day—try the different substitutes as the wish to smoke recurs—enlist your wife or a friend in a busy series of events eating well going to the movies or theater, exercise and many long walks, moderate drinking
- 8. If you are depressed, see your physician and
- discuss your symptoms.

 9. Keep reminding yourself, again and again, of the shocking risks in cigarette smoking.

THE WEEK BEFORE Q-DAY

Think over your list of reasons why you should not smoke: the risk of disease, the blurring of the taste of food, the cost, the cough, the bad breath, the mess and smell of morning-after ashtrays.

Concentrate each evening when you are relaxed, just before you fall asleep, on one dreadful result of cigarette smoking. Repeat and repeat and repeat that single fact. Drive home another fact the next night and another the next.

Review the facts that you know about the risks of cigarette smoking. Remind yourself that there, but for the grace of God go you, that you may indeed, if you continue smoking, lose six and a half years of life, that -if you are a heavy smoker-your chances of dying between 25 and 65 years of age are twice as great as those of the nonsmoker. Are the six minutes of pleasure to a heavy smoker in a cigarette worth six fewer minutes of life? Would you fly in an airplane if the chances of crash and death were even close to the risks of cigarette smoking? Think over why it is that 100,000 physicians have quit cigarette smoking.

Dr. Silvan Tomkins distinguishes four general types of smoking behavior. An abbreviated summary of the types follows:

Four Smoking Styles

Habitual Smoking;

here the smoker may hardly be aware that he has a cigarette in his mouth. He smokes as if it made him feel good, or feel better, but in fact it does neither. He may once have regarded smoking as an important sign of status. But now, smoking is automatic. The habitual smoker who wants to give up must first become aware of when he is smoking. Knowledge of the pattern of his smoking is a first step towards change.

Positive Affect Smoking;

here smoking seems to serve as a stimulant that produces exciting pleasure, or is used as a relaxant, to heighten enjoyment, as at the end of a meal. Here a youngster demonstrates his manhood or his defiance of his parents. This smoker may enjoy most the handling of a ciga rette or the sense and sight of smoke curling out of his mouth. If these smokers can be persuaded to make an effort, they may find giving up cigarettes relatively painless

Negative Affect Smoking;

this is sedative smoking, using the habit to reduce feelings of distress, fear, shame, or disgust or any combination of them. This person may not smoke at all when things go well, on vacation, or at a party, but under tension, when things go badly, at the office or at home, he reaches for a cigarette. These smokers give up often, but when the heat and pressure of the day hit them, when there's a challenge, they find it very hard to resist a eigarette. A strong substitute, like nibbling ginger root may be useful.

Addictive Smoking;

smoking. The lack of a cigarette builds need, desire, and discomfort at not smoking. With this increasing need is the expectation that a cigarette will reduce discomfort-and the cigarette does give relief-for a moment. Pleasure at smoking is real, just as the buildup of discomfort at not smoking is real, sometimes rapid and intolerable. The enjoyment of the cigarette, however, is very brief, and may be disappoint-) ing-but the suffering for lack of even slight relief is considerable

For this smoker, tapering off doesn't seem to work: the only solution is to quit cold. Once you have been through the intense pain of breaking your psychological addiction, you are unlikely to start smoking again. The experience of give ing_up-has-been too uncomfortable-and too memorable for you to risk having to go through it again.

Some such smokers have found it useful to increase during the week before Q Day the number of cigarettes smoked, to go from two packs to four packs, to force themselves to smoke so that their bodies will be in actual revolt against the double dose of tar and nicotine.

Parkway statistics show drive against drinkers effective

Stepped-up efforts to curb drinking drivers along the Garden State Parkway brought arrests of 36 suspects in March, the highest onemonth total on record, chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority reported this week.

The 36 arrests, which exactly doubled the number reported in March last year, boosted to 80 the total for the first three months of 1971, the chairman of the agency operating the Parkway noted. Twenty-two arrests were made in each of the first two months this

In contrast to the 80 drinking-driver ar-rests for this first quarter, there were 53 in the same period of 1970 and 46 the year before.

"At this unprecedented pace of arrests, 1971 could very well produce a record high in the apprehension of drinking drivers on the Parkway", Gallagher said, "unless the motorists who drink alcoholic beverages get the message and curb either their imbibing or their use of the road."

'Our objective, however", he added, "is not to break records of this nature. We are definitely interested in reducing the alcohol menace on the Parkway to an absolute mini-

He pointed out that the records show drinking driver arrests reached a peak of 218 in 1968, dropped slightly to 212 in 1969, and then dipped to 171 in 1970 before the campaign was intensified.

"The Authority commissioners have no intention of relaxing this drive," Gallagher said. "Troop E, the Parkway's State Police arm, and all authority field personnel in positions to assist are under instructions to sharpen their lookout for drinking driver suspects night and day," he added.

The enforcement program includes not only observance of drivers moving along the road and passing toll booths or other Parkway installations, but also a special effort under which State Police wave over motorists at plazas for spot-checking of their driving con-

Some of the arrests have resulted from alerts by Parkway toll collectors and other personnel who, carrying out instructions, called State Police attention to the questioncondition of drivers noted in transit.

Dr. Prescott quits as museum's head

The problem was serious enough, says NJEA, to evoke comment from State Superintendent of Instruction Ellis A. Apgar, His books in New Jersey's public schools,
''Not sufficient authority is given to compel the parents, who must be the purchasers, to buy the books selected," he wrote, "One party decides what books are to be used, and another party is expected to make the purchases, and the former has not sufficient authority to control the action of the latter."

His solution was the one used today, Books should be purchased by the school system from funds raised by local taxation. Appar foresaw: 'The same books would be used by different

Rickel relocates do-it-yourself shop in E. Brunswick

Rickel Brothers Inc., a chain of home centers in New Jersey, will celebrate the formal open-ing today of its new East Brunswick 70,000 square foot do-it-yourself home center, re-located on Route 18 and Race Track Road, a half mile from its original location, next to Pathmark. It is accessible via the New Jersey Furnpike and all major arteries.

Grand opening festivities will begin with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 9 a.m. by Alvin M. Rickel, president. The program will include demonstrations from major manufacturers, free prizes, and a store full of opening values.

In 1953, Rickel Brothers' first retail store occupied 5400 square feet and employed three salesmen. Now in 1971, pioneering the do-ityourself concept in New Jersey, the firm employs more than 1,000 people.

According to Robert Rickel, executive vicepresident and director of marketing for the firm, "the opening of the new East Brunswick store continues an expansion program that will nake Rickel Home Centers the largest-growing chain of its kind in the country by the end of the decade."

'The added touch is prevalent throughout the new East Brunswick Rickel store, 'It's big and beautiful, faster checkouts, dramatic presenta-tions of merchandise, departments carrying related items located next to each other, all departments strikingly color-keyed for shop-ping ease and a new customer information system are among the features," the spokesman continued.

The store features the finest in plumbing, heating, hardware, houseware, electrical, sporting goods, seasonal items, stationery and office supplies, carpet and tile, lumber and building supplies, with nationally advertised names like Black & Decker, Scotts, Miami-Carey, Kwikset, Skil, Airex, Arrow, Sunbeam, Ozite, Lofts, Many departments also feature Rickel private label products.

Nationally known guest experts, including members of the New Jersey Bar, will be available to provide advice and information to the conferees, but the nonlawyers themselves will participate and guide the discussions. They will then formulate their conclusions into a final report. It is envisioned that a task force to follow up their recommendations will be formed.

FOUR MAIN TOPICS will be considered: Courts of limited jurisdiction, criminal justice and corrections, how to obtain good judges, and how to retain them and eliminate and discipline poor ones. The conferees will divide into groups to consider these topics in depth. Panels of experts will advise the groups.

On Thursday, April 29 John J. Gibbons, judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and past president of New Jersey State Bar Association, will preside as the four main topics are introduced by specialists.

The morning session will hear William H. Burnett, judge of Denver County Court, Denver, Colo., speak on the specialized courts: Frederick Ward Jr., director of the Division of Research and Special Services for the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, on criminal justice and corrections; Glenn R. Winters, executive director of the American Judicature Society, on obtaining good judges; and Jack E. KitchenAid DISHWASHERS

The Mother's Day Gift that keeps on giving for years to come!

America's most wanted, most respected dishwasher...and for excellent reason. No other dishwasher can offer the quality, dependability, features and styling that is built into every KitchenAid. It's no wonder that smart homemakers insist on it ...no wonder that it's just about the most exciting giff for any Mom...or any gal, for that matter. Here's what makes a new KitchenAid dishwasher so desireable: Giant capacity, with room to hold all the dishes for an entire day for the average family. Rinse and hold cycle that lets you wash when you wish ... even once a day if you prefer. 180 degree hygenic rinse that boosts family health, plus a unique drying unit that ends hand wiping of dishes. All this, plus rugged construction and a superb finish that means your KitchenAid dishwasher will look and perform as well years from now as it does today.

YOU WILL STOP SMOKING

...if-you-join the newest SMOKENDER series starting in Irvington next week. Or you can stop smoking Westfield on May 25th or Summit on May 26th.

(Or, of course, you may stop smoking without SMOKEN-DERS, if you'd rather.)

The trick is: HOW YOU FEEL AFTER YOU STOP. If you want to stop without 'climbing-the-walls' and with a feeling of Reward—and. best of all. WITH A SMILE... and if you want to join the thousands of enthusiastic

And bring your cigarettes! Remember, this is the method that requires you smoke as many as you like while you learn how to break the habit. In small, manageable segments. Step-by-step.

(At risk of being totally unbelievable, we'd like come to a FREE explanatory meeting. (No kidding FREE -- to find out. Because we know you can't push a smoker into quitting. We don't push. But let us warn you: Most smokers who come to find out about SMOKENDERS find it makes a lot of sense, and they can't wait to start!).

we were all smokers ourselves. (Lucky to 'do it' with SMOKENDERS, So don't come expecting any of that Scare business or Willpower stuff. And bring your friends. They may thank you for a lifetime...
