Group from Forest Hill way seeks school busing decision

By JAMICE WELLS
Several parents from Forest Hill way petitioned the Mountaineer Board of Education Tuesday night to allow their youngsters to ride buses to school.

The petition stated that the parents are concerned with the safety of their children, especially since they have to cross Acherman avenue and Deer path. They said these streets, particularly the latter, are high speed roads where drivers come "whizzing through."

The parents also stated that they clocked the mileage at 20 miles. This is 10 miles longer than the walking limit set by the board, the petition added.

Kick-off party for GOP starts campaign drive

Abc Suchno, campaign manager for the Mountaineer Republican Party, welcomed about 200 persons who attended the kick-off champagne cocktail party Sunday at Onger's restaurant.

It was stated that several youngsters who are not qualified for bus transportation under the board's policy are riding the buses. The parents who were present noted that they feel the situation is too dangerous, especially for kindergarten students and first graders.

Blumms added that the board will discuss the situation with the Police Department to see about placing a patrolman at the intersection. The board also took note of the mileage factor, as well as the policy violations of the transportation agency, he said.

Shields chosen to head Loftus speakers bureau

Thomas P. Loftus, Mountaineer Independent Democratic candidate for mayor this week, announced the appointment of Robert Shields for the coming campaign. Loftus said, "The toughest potential candidates for election in Mountaineer have to be exposed. The campaign for all practical purposes lasts only nine weeks."

Loftus added, "This year six men are willing to donate their personal time to the service of their community. I'm sure all the candidates would make themselves available for such a forum, and the organizations would be rewarded by helping to make Mountaineer a community that thinks enough of its governing body to listen objectively to the men who will be deciding their future."

"We feel that every organization in town should open its doors to the candidates, invite them to their meetings and let them express their views to a many different groups as possible. There are over 15 clubs and organizations in town. The service they could render on a non-partisan level, to acquaint their membership with the men who will be governing their community in the next few years would be immeasurable."

Shields has been directed to write the president of each club asking for an opportunity to present to their membership plans for the future and to debate the issue.

AAUW will sponsor fine arts program

The first workshop for boys and girls (grades through 7) sponsored by the Mountaineer Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its first class Sept. 20 at 3:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room in the Deerfield School.

Jerome M. Epstein--PROFILE-- Carmine J. Liotta

Jerome M. Epstein of Scotch Plains, who won victory at the polls and one defeat behind him, is running with confidence this year.

This is another in a series of Profiles on candidates in the Nov. 2 general election.

The 1967 election remains a high point for Epstein, for it marked his first year in public office and his first victory. That was when he was elected to the Union County Board of Freeholders.

Liotta and his running mate have reached a historic moment in the political arena. They will be the first to be elected to the office of county executive.

Developing an interest in politics, he mentioned this to acquaintances. The result, in 1965, was an appointment to the Union County Mental Health Board. He was vice-chairman of the board in 1966 and chairman in 1967 and 1968.

Liotta also served the Union County Board of Freeholders for two terms. He was elected to the office of county executive in 1967.

"I was elected in 1967, but I was elected in 1969 and 1970, he was elected vice-president of the State Freeholder Association, a bi-partisan group.

When the next State Senate organizes in January, Carmine J. Liotta hopes to become one of its young members at age 23. Just a few months ago, he was a high school senior.

The Elizabeth-born Liotta is still residing at his parents' home in Scotch Plains. He is currently attending Scotch Plains High School.

HELPING OUT—Leo Suchno, 12, and his sister, Marie, helped people get acquainted with Mountaineer Republican candidates at the kick-off champagne cocktail party Sunday.

Conducting his first campaign, Liotta is still residing at his parents' home in Scotch Plains. He is currently attending Scotch Plains High School.

Car slides on roof through gas station; driver badly hurt

Bonnie G. Fox, 28, of North Plainfield was seriously injured last Thursday night when her car turned over on Rt. 28 East and skidded on roof through a gas station, according to Mountaineer police.

Rains called factor in 2 car accidents during the weekend

Rain Saturday and Sunday was a contributing factor in two automobile accidents, according to Mountaineer police.

The police report said that Miss Fox lost control of her car when she was driving on Rt. 28 East which was traveling wet, riding on the center island. Her car hit the curb, turned over onto its side and caught on fire.

Miss Deusch, chairman of the Little League, expressed his thanks to the league president, committee chairman and coaching staff for their efforts in making the Little League an integral part of Mountaineer's youth program.

Beatrice Edwards of Newark was given a citation for making an illegal turn on Rt. 28 East at Church Circle after causing a collision between two other cars, police said. The accident involved a car driven by Joseph J. Smith of Plainfield and a silver Pontiac of Plainfield, occurred last Wednesday afternoon.

The police report said the Mountaineer vehicle was involved in the accident on Rt. 28 East when an unidentified vehicle cut him off. Blincheski avoided hitting the vehicle, but his car skidded on the wet pavement and he lost control of the car.

Bank opening

The new main office of the Springfield State Bank will be formally dedicated in a two-day celebration tomorrow and Saturday. Details of the event are given by Joseph J. Smith on Page 2 and 3 of today's paper.

Springfield State Bank sets 2-day opening

Romano and Pitt comment on outlook for bank future

By BENJAMIN ROMANO

It is my pleasure, as chairman of the board of Springfield State Bank, to welcome everyone to the new Springfield State Bank. As an inspection of our bright, modern facilities will show, nothing has been spared in an effort to make our new building the ultimate in modern banking convenience and service.

From the outset, we determined that we would build a bank with the customer in mind. For this reason, we provided access from both Route 22 and Hillside Avenue. Thus, it is possible for a customer to reach the bank without ever driving on Route 22. Additionally, we have provided ample parking within a few feet of the bank's main entrance. A dualized drive-in window makes banking from the car twice as easy as well as doubly fast. For extra convenience, a drive-in window will have a walk-up window.

Inside the lobby, we have provided spacious accommodations for both customers and staff. The lobby area has been designed and decorated for eye appeal. There are enough tellers' stations to handle large crowds with ease.

Then, too, we have set our hours with the customer's needs in mind. The hours have been established as a direct result of a survey taken of a sampling of our customers.

We do hope that our customers will be as pleased as we think they will be when they have had the chance to inspect our new facilities.

By FRANK M. PITT

The opening of Springfield State Bank's new main office is a remarkable tribute to the dedication and foresight of the men who set out more than five years ago to give Springfield a bank of its own.

As the story elsewhere in this page relates, the obstacles to success were manifold, but through perseverance, the goal was achieved. I am quite certain that the results of our first 12 months of operation more than justify the confidence of the organizers. It has been obvious that the residents and businesses of the Springfield-Mountaineer area have responded more favorably than even we had hoped they would.

I am proud and happy to have been able to play a role in organizing this bank. The creation of anything worthwhile necessarily imparts a feeling of satisfaction once the dream has been converted into reality. What is now available to the residents and commercial establishments of the Springfield-Mountaineer area represents the end product of many thousands of man-hours by a fine and dedicated group of directors, officers and staff.

We are confident that all these efforts will be appreciated by the customers for whom it was made. As a hometown bank, organized and run by people who have already made substantial contributions to their community, we have every reason to believe that this is only the beginning of a great banking success story.

SPACIOUS LOBBY of Springfield State Bank's new main office provides increased room for customers and staff alike.

Parking has also been expanded in new facility, which is marking its formal grand opening tomorrow and Saturday.

New building represents fulfillment of businessmen's long-standing dream

The transition from an idea in the minds of a group of local businessmen to the reality of the new building long dedicated this summer spanned seven years of meetings, hearings, heartaches and frustrations, until finally the triumph of the present.

On September 1, 1964, a group led by Frank M. Pitt, now vice chairman of the board, Benjamin Romano, now chairman; Jack H. Sileiman, now vice president; Albert Harlung, now vice president; Arthur Bilwes, now secretary, and other key business and professional men from Springfield, Mountaineer and Union, filed an application for a national bank charter.

A few weeks later the organizers held the first of many meetings. They waited four suspenseful months, only to learn that their application had been rejected. Undaunted by their failure to obtain a national bank charter, they filed a letter of intent for a state bank charter in April, 1966.

A moratorium on all new bank charters prevented any further action until September, 1967 when all but one of the present directors were elected. They immediately filed in copious papers.

With the moratorium on new bank charters, the directors filed their application for a state charter in January, 1968. Thirteen months later, the state approved the application, and plans for the new bank moved swiftly ahead. The first shareholders meeting was held in August, 1969. The state issued a certificate of authority in January, 1970, and the new bank opened for business in a trailer on January 31 of that year.

The new bank was accorded a warm reception by residents and businessmen in Springfield and Mountaineer. By the close of 1970, Springfield State had assets of more than $5 million. Possibly of greater significance was the planning for the future demonstrated by the groundbreaking in the fall of the first year for the new building opening this month.

The opening of a permanent office permits Springfield State to offer every full-service convenience people expect from a hometown bank. The added room for serving customers will permit a more aggressive marketing program that will enable Springfield State to pursue its goal of becoming the number one bank in the two communities it is privileged to serve.

2 Mayors will help cut the ribbon

Miss New Jersey will greet guests

The new main office of Springfield State Bank will be officially dedicated Saturday (September 18) in the culmination of a two-day open house marking the opening of the city's Mayors.

Mayor Nat Stokes of Springfield and Thomas Ricciardi of Mountaineer are scheduled to join bank officials for the ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The "Open House Days" will be tomorrow (Friday, September 17), when free gifts will be given to all visitors throughout the day. And Saturday, when the bank is open between 9 a.m. and noon.

Persons visiting the bank will also be eligible to enter a drawing for a color television set, a radio-stereo combination and a clock-radio. It will not be necessary to transact any business in order to enter the drawing.

Also scheduled to appear Saturday is Lynn Gale Hockerman, old reigning Miss New Jersey, who will join bank officials in greeting guests taking part in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

The new bank building, which is located at the intersection of Route 22 and Hillside Avenue, replaces a trailer in which Springfield State had been doing business since opening in January, 1970. After only 18 months of operation, Springfield State Bank had assets of $6,500,000.

Benjamin Romano, chairman of the board, and Frank M. Pitt, vice chairman, said they were confident that with the opening of the new facility, Springfield State Bank "would enjoy a surge in business. Based on the response of residents and businessmen in Springfield and Mountaineer, we have every reason to believe that the opening of the new building will serve as the springboard for greater growth in the future."

Gifts, premiums prizes planned

Visitors to the "Open House Days" at Springfield State Bank will be given a free gift just for dropping in. The gift—a handy jar opener with a thousand different applications—is available to anyone coming into the bank tomorrow and Saturday. In addition, guests will have an opportunity to enter a contest in which the prizes will be a color television set, a stereo-radio and a clock-radio. Customers opening new accounts will also receive free gifts. Details are in the advertisement on the following page.

A "how-to" min-course for the non-professional and the beginning professional public is being offered by the Union County Regional Adult School, it was announced by Harry E. Klein, director of adult and continuing education.

"We related to present step-by-step directions for developing good publicity techniques both in writing and channeling a club's news most effectively. Interested persons may register in person this coming Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 and 23, at any of the four regional high schools between 7 and 9 p.m. The course will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at the Jonathan Day High School, Springfield.

Rock group seeks bookings to perform for local teenagers

The Trojan Horseman, a five-man Mountainide rock group, has offered to perform for non-profit organizations in the Union County area. To date the group has played for the Children's Specialized Hospital and B'nai B'rith, as well as several churches.

The group is made up of lead guitar, bass guitar, drums, and organ. There is also a girl vocalist. All members are from Mountainide and they are Chuck Bauer, James Hinson, Mark Lewis, Greg Parker and Mark Ross.

The group is planning to hold a rock concert at one of the local parks and is looking for several sponsors, volunteers, and other promotional assistance.

"We've worked pretty hard this summer making this group one of the best around, and with a little help from a few organizations, perhaps we can share our music with everyone. We would like to present several events that the kids could enjoy (as well as adults), and they could come and it wouldn't cost them a dime," Ross said.

"There is a need for programs initiated by kids for kids, and I hope that we can start this program in this area," Lewis added.

"Organizations interested in this project can contact Ross at 225-9200 or Lewis at 225-9318."

Indian sign-up for dads

Men who haven't played at home since they were small boys will learn up with their first, second and third-grade sons and daughters this week when Y-Indian Princes hold organization from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Westfield, Mountainide, Cranford and Garwood.

These two programs are designed to provide a chance for fathers and sons and fathers and daughters to do things together at a time when the male parent is of great importance in their lives.

"Boys really benefit from masculine influences in their lives and that's what we're doing for their lives," said James E. Newell, director of group work, camping-and-extension-coordinator.

"Little girls need a father's companionship and interest to blossom into lovely, confident young women."

Organized on the basis of small neighborhood units, fathers meeting in homes, the guides and spirit leaders of the Y-Indian Princes choose projects of interest, usually based on an Indian theme.

Winter and summer camps, glass recycling, demonstrations in folk dancing and crafts by real Indians, making floats and banners and archery in parades are some of the activities that have sparked the program in the past.

A MUSING from the desk

With all the hoopla and the publicity for the professional basketball and college hoops, many people tend to forget that football is not all the major glamour sport.

It is the thousands of high schools which is not all the major glamour sport. It is the thousands of high schools which is not all the major glamour sport. It is the thousands of high schools which is not all the major glamour sport.

When a touchdown play is in the offing, the girls must check the proper pronunciation of the player's name. Nobody is allowed to play without any more than his name is Smith or Jones.

Everyone thinks that pro star Jim Brown is the only actor in a real playing, and the name of Alex Wojcikowski.

Well, high school football does have its moments of excitement, and one of the most exciting is watching young boys grow into strong and courageous manhood. They do this through the inches and 15 pounds between the ages of 14 and 17.

Another aside tip is to keep an eye on the over-eaters - i.e., not for the more obvious ones.

Sometimes he gets mated up and starts swimming at the boy who carried the ball in the last play. It doesn't really matter, though, since by this time he has usually forgotten the play.

Football, soccer team impress in scrimmages

BY JOHN BARRY

The Gov. Livingston Regional High School soccer and football teams, coming off their first two scrimmages of the year, are peaking for the opening of their 1971 seasons.

The soccer squad beat South Plainfield 4-0 and New Providence, 2-1, and the footballers showed aggressive blocking, tackling and rushing in scrimmages with South Plainfield and Linden.

Fourteen first goals and Gary White (two) scored a scoring punch from last year, led the boders' victory over South Plainfield, More than 100 fans and spectators were in attendance, spearheaded by veteran Kurt Mohn, proved capable.

Senior goalies Bob Mikulas and Phil Slavinger teamed with fullbacks Mike Picinelli and George Wilson for the shutout. In the New Providence contest Fred Viello and White did the scoring. The Highlanders, with their strong offense and improving defense, are set for their opening game against Summit tomorrow.

With sound blocking from the gridder's offensive line of Kevin Dowling, John Steacy, Gil Smith, Charlie Gagliardi and Jon Jones, runners John Bress and Len Slijk made sizeable gains through both the South Plainfield and Linden defenses. On defense, Dowling, Bob Beck and Brian Bull were outstanding at thwarting the opposition runners and Dave Groves was excellent on pass-breaking.

With some work, the passing of Dave Corrigan and John Barry may improve enough so that the Highlanders will have an attack comparable to their ground attack.

Thought for food

What would we ever do without sandwiches? They show off under slices of roasted beef or pork when marjorie or salad dressing. Sandwiches also utilize leftover tidbits in the form of minced spreads of ham, corned beef or lamp. Popular bread and bread partners, such as roast beef, open faced burgers or grilled ham and cheese, may also be lost from the range, broiler or griddle.

Vending machines sold 53 million dollars worth of sandwiches, coffee, cold milk, sandwiches, salads, hot foods, bread, frozen dinners, and dessert during 1970.

'Upsala' 'bugging' books

Acts to cut library losses

Steps were taken at Upsala College, East Orange, during the summer to protect the library's collection of 115,000 books for the 1,600-member student body.

Because of a loss of approximately $14,000 worth of books a year to book detection machines has been installed at the main entrance of the library. Anyone who tries to pass the machine without first checking out at the main desk will be greeted by ringing bells, and a "beep" sign.

John L. Cummings, now starting his third year as director of the library, said the machine was installed not so much to catch "thieves" but to save the books for Upsala students. He said it also will speed up traffic in the library, curtailing long lines sometimes caused when an attendant insured the books.

They were properly recorded by the librarian.

"Library books will be more available to everyone simply because careless errors and thoughtless disregard of others decrease if an alarm sounds whenever a book is removed without being properly charged," said Cummings.

In preparation for the fall semester, books at the Upsala library were sensitized to make them detectable by the machine. How the books were treated was kept a secret for security reasons and those who worked on the project were pledged to secrecy.

Cummings said the "bugged" books may be detected through handbags and clothing. The college formerly stationed an attendant at the library entrance, but Cummings said that however efficient the person was "he certainly could not search people down to their skins."

When a borrower checks out at the desk an attendant desensitizes the book and prevents automatic locking of the gate as well as the sounding of the bell-toll-bell-pulling there are no books concealed on the person.

Ingress and egress in the building will be through the main entrance—and pass a book detection machine. One of the machines, about $2,000, is expected to be made up in two years by savings of purchased books and by the use of a portion of an attendant.

"What is more important than saving dollars is the saving of students' time for students who may need a specific book at a specific time and who cannot wait for it to be replaced," Cummings stated.

Christmas cards are being offered by Bible Society

NEW YORK — The American Bible Society this year is offering a Christmas card created by Robert Glenn Gotsmann, director of the Eisenhower U.S. postage stamp and the society's "live mail."

The card depicts the Nativity in its Bethlehem setting and includes Luke 2:10-11 in the greeting.

A box of 50 cards bearing the design may be ordered for $2.50, as a contribution to the society's non-profit work of Scripture translation, publication and distribution throughout the world.

"This, both the design and the purpose of our 1971 Christmas card, emphasizes the true meaning of Christmas," said John B. Erickson, an executive secretary of the American Bible Society, in announcing the offer.

The American Bible Society issued Christmas cards for the first time last year. On cards placed by Nov. 15, delivery within 30 days is guaranteed; imprinting is not available. Inquiries should be addressed to the American Bible Society, 1205 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10023. A sample of the card will be sent upon request.

'Habitual offender' law urged for motorists in New Jersey

The New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents this week urged that Virginia's example by invoking a law to impose jail sentences on "habitual offender" motorists.

"A driver's license should not be a license to kill nor is it a God-given right," explained Samuel J. Hager of Perth Amboy, president of the 4,000 member association. "It is a privilege to operate a motor vehicle in a safe and prudent manner."

Hager pointed to the successful operation of the Virginia "Habitual Offender" law, enacted there in 1968. Since then, he noted, the highway death rate there has been reduced from 5.22 to 4.8 per 100,000 miles.

Such a law would automatically jail those offenders, such as drunken drivers or any violators who continue to drive when they have already had their operating privileges suspended. At present there are now 21 persons serving jail sentences in Virginia under this act.

Nationally, Hager said, there were 22 million auto accidents last year—causing some five million injuries and more than 50,000 deaths. "We may be criticized for advocating a measure which seems to threaten the rights of some," he added. "But what about the rights of the great majority of motorists who abide by the laws, and what about the rights of their families, who are constantly jeopardized by the irresponsible motorists who ignore the highways?"

"As insurance agents," Hager said, "we feel the public should be protected from those habitual offenders. Many other states are contemplating similar legislation. As a border state, New Jersey should be a leader in this direction."

N.J. storm victims are urged to sign for jobless benefits

Ronald M. Hayman, N.J. commissioner of Labor and Industry, has urged workers — including the self-employed — to file claims for benefits as soon as possible if they became unemployed as the result of the tropical storm which struck New Jersey on Aug. 27. All local Unemployment Insurance Claims Offices are ready to take claims for Disaster Unemployment Assistance as well as claims under New Jersey's regular unemployment insurance program," Hayman said. Governor William T. Cahill has announced that, based on President Nixon's declaration of New Jersey as a major disaster area, workers unemployed because of the disastrous floods, who are not eligible for regular state unemployment insurance benefits of at least $60 per week, may be eligible for payments under the Federal Disaster Relief Act of 1970. Hayman emphasized that claims for Disaster Unemployment Assistance must be filed within 90 days of Governor Cahill's announcement. Among those eligible for Disaster Unemployment Assistance are persons, self-employed as well as those employed by others, who worked in the disaster area and no longer have a job or a place to work in that area, or cannot get to work because of the disaster.

Q—How did the Internal Revenue Service get involved in answering questions about the Wage-Price Freeze?
A—The Internal Revenue Service undertook the assignment at the request of the Office of Emergency Preparedness which is the operating arm of the new Wage-Price program. Utilizing its nationwide taxpayer assistance network, the IRS receives, analyzes and investigates complaints and answers questions at 150 of its offices throughout the country.

Q—What does the IRS do after it receives a complaint of a Wage-Price Freeze violation?
A—The IRS will acknowledge the complaint and, if there is a reasonable basis for concluding that a taxpayer, individual or business, may be violating the Presidential order, the IRS will attempt to obtain voluntary compliance with the Presidential order and conduct further investigation. The IRS officer will report to the Office of Emergency Preparedness when further action is warranted.

Q—My employer announced last spring that it would raise tuition for the fall semester. Is this increase covered by the Freeze?
A—No. Increases in tuition rates are not covered by the Freeze. The law also provides a $5,000 exemption for any increase imposed for each violation.

Q—My landlord sent me a notice the first week of August that my rent was to be increased 10 percent. Do I have to pay the increase?
A—No. Rent on apartments and houses cannot be raised during the Freeze period. Even if an agreement had been made before August 15, it is scheduled to go into effect after the freeze is lifted.

An anti-GOP trend detected in county by Dem candidates

A strong anti-Republican trend is rapidly gaining momentum throughout Union County, according to the Democratic Board of Freeloader candidates.

In a joint statement, Clark Mayer Thomas A. Karamatzis, Mrs. Judith M. Mallick and Joseph J. Garrubio pointed out that they are receiving a warm welcome and strong support wherever they go, including visits to communities which in the past have supplied large pluralities for Republican Party candidates.

"There is no doubt about it," the Democratic leaders said, "the taxpayers have had it with the Republican Freeloaders' record high county budgets."

"The people have learned from sad experience that in county government it is the Republican who are the big spenders and they are now determined to throw out the big spenders."

In 1967, with the Democrats in control, the tax increase was slightly more than $100,000 in succeeding years, under Republican control the taxpayers have been awarded with annual county tax increases in excess of $2 million dollars.

Remarkably, McGowan and Garrubio continue to support the Republican big spenders and ineptness with the economy and an accomplishment achieved in the county under Democratic control.

According to the Democratic freeloader candidates, Union County taxpayers have been told that the Republicans' record high dollar courthouse garbage which is what was not an isolated blunder.

"They recognize the fact that it typifies the wasteful life or miss type of programs and projects promoted when the Republican Party is in control."

Some old things are still worth a lot of money. Brains being one thing or brains being another thing is telling dirty old jokes. And the same guy who used to collect Mackley Moose watches for laughs, is now collecting all his own the bank.

There's here's the Volkswagen. The years have been good to the Bop. In fact, the new Volkswagen Beetle, after three years of solid for about $400 less than the average economy car, is now worth about $200 more.

It's not hard to figure out why. After all, when you don't have to spend that much for making a Volkswagen bug, after every year, you can devote all that extra time making a work better and last longer. So, if you're wondering whether that old lump in the attic is really worth something, check carefully for the initials ICI (Insular Counting Tiffany).

Democratic candidates urge program of rent stabilization

A three-point program of rent stabilization was unveiled for the four Democratic State Senate candidates from Union County in an address to the public last night. The program calls for a 10 percent rent increase in the past year, a 5 percent rent increase in the past year, and a 5 percent rent increase in the past year.

Four Democratic candidates for State Senator, including Nicholas Conover, English legislator, left, and Dr. Robert Denkerwater of Westfield, right, recently announced the formation of a committee for John F. Connor Jr. for State Senator. Conover, head member, is not Dr. Denkerwater's registered Democratic English name. A need for legislators of character and ability as reason for support of Connor in the coming election Patrick J. Kealy of Westfield is executive director of the Young Democrats.

Conover said the basic problem in Union County is a limited supply of available apartments. "I had this market changes and additional units are constructed, we must prevent rent gouging by professional landlords," Conover pointed out that the particular platform advocates rent stabilization and, in addition, calls for two-year written leases barring rent increases and permitting subleasing.

"We also advocate prohibiting one-sided leases that force the tenant to give up his rights for fear of being denied an apartment," said Conover who is also a candidate for the Elizabeth County Board of Education. He has helped to administer the rent freeze.

James suggested such reforms as eliminating clauses which exempt the landlord from liability for damage or injury when these result from his failure to take proper maintenance.

Eliminating clauses which waive the tenant's right to sue the landlord for injury, death and other damages which result from his failure to take proper maintenance.

Conover said that the rent freeze is a necessary step to stabilize the market. He also called for a rent stabilization program to be established in Union County.

Birth certificates help to facilitate benefits processes

People who may soon be eligible for Social Security benefits can make the claim process easier by getting their birth certificates or other proof of age in advance, according to Ralph W. Jones, Social Security district manager in Elizabeth.

Proof of age is a key factor in processing claims for Social Security benefits. Birth dates and relationships also must be established before a person can be eligible for benefits.

A birth and baptismal certificate received before one's fifth birthday is usually adequate proof of one's age, Jones said. "But if either document is registered in a distant state or foreign country, it's advisable to send for a copy -- all ahead of when you need it."

Birth certificates will help you develop proof of age, Jones said. "If a certificate was filed when you were born, it can be used to apply for a copy."

If a birth certificate is used as proof for Social Security, the document must be the original or a copy certified by the issuer, according to Jones.

Birth certificates can be developed from family Bibles, marriage records, school records, federal census records or other documents.

People who are otherwise eligible for Social Security retirement benefits need proof that they are at least 62 years old. Jones said that a birth certificate can be used to collect reduced benefits.

Children need proof of birth date and parentage to be eligible for Social Security benefits. Jones said that a birth certificate can be used to collect reduced benefits.

Rothschilds in 11th month at the Lunt-Fontanne

The crest that adorns the title of the musical tells how it all turned out for The Rothschilds, but the show, now in its 11th month, lets the beginning. These beginnings began in the Frankfurt ghetto in 1772 and end here in 1945. Years later they brought the sure canal for Britain and in 24 hours, low while the streets of England debated and let the purchase ship through them.) The seeds of daring, pleasure and foresight always have been well-sown by the family founder, Mayer Rothschild, who began as a coin seer, who pleased William of Hesse through an alliance he to marry. The law permitted only 12 Jewish marriages a year in the ghetto and reversing Prince William's consent was next to impossible.

Five rich young sons were born and scaled the careers of Europe to crack the money exchanges with their talent, judgement, vigor, knowledge and ability as sometimes musketeer. They prospered, absorbed the culture and style of their adopted countries, and contributed to them also.

'DOC' is playing at Fox in Union

"DOC," Frank Perry's story of the Holidays, opened yesterday at the Fox Theater on Rt. 22 in Union. Starring in the film are Harris Yulin as Wyatt Earp, Faye Dunaway as Kate Elder and Stacy Keach as Doc Holliday.

The screenplay, written by Samuel Peaflin, translates the 90-year old legendary myth into contemporary perspectives "DOC" was filmed by Gerald Hirschfeld, photographer for "Last Summer" and "Dary of a Mad Housewife."

The movie, filled with incidents of killing, is a commentary of the wastefulness of human destruction. In the tradition of 19th century legends, the story abounds in virtues, the bends toward realism.

Chapel starts year of club projects for local Pioneer Girls

The Pioneer Girls of the Mountaine Union Chapel, Mt. 20, Mountaine, began their fall program Friday at the chapel.

All girls from Mountaine grades two through three are eligible to attend. Clubs are divided into three groups: A, B and C. Groups A, B and C, consisting of grades 2, 3, 4, and 5, and grades 6, 7, 8, and 9.

The purpose of Pioneer Girls is to train girls for Christian leadership and service and to develop in girls confidence and self-reliance.

Girls are taught to search the Bible and to answer to life's problems. They discover the truth of exploring God's Word for themselves and establishing habits of personal Bible study. Girls are encouraged to take part in such activities as church projects, social projects, and other life, music, and recreational activities.

Girls are given the opportunity to share in the leadership of the club by planning, leading, and carrying out projects. This is done by taking part in discussions and service projects.

Many who are eligible may miss election boat

Many eligible voters in Springfield and Mountaine will not be able to vote this fall unless they register before the deadline next week.

This is the prediction of the Center for the Study of New Jersey Politics at Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute. Pollsters of the center's estimates are based on the 1970 primary registration and voter turnout figures.

Figures for one township show that there are 4,300 registered voters and 404 in the 20 to 29 year olds. About 14 percent of the eligible voters in the borough are not registered. This includes 476 persons over 20 years old and 153 of the total population who are not registered.

Springfield has 11,141 persons who are not 20 years old and 753 in the 20-year olds. About 71.6 percent of the eligible voters in the township are unregistered.

Borough tennis program ends with awards to top players

The Mountaine Recreation Department's third tennis season has closed with the presentation of trophies to the successful top players.

The season's tournaments were held every third week over a nine-week period. Most tournaments were held on the new tennis courts at the school.

A department spokesman said that the success of the season was due to the spirit of competition groups. For this reason the round robin and double elimination methods were used.

The first women's intermediate tennis tournament was held to acquire two losses before being eliminated. After the first round of play, two draws were arranged. One contained the names of undefeated players and the other contained the names of those with one loss.

"This meant that a second loss could not be acquired from an undefeated individual, but only from a player who also had one loss. Play continued until there was a winner from each of the two draws. Then these two played each other for the title.

In all three sessions the students displayed a spirit of competition, dedication to the sport, and more important, the ability to accept defeat as well as victory.

The first women's intermediate girls Diane Heller, over Kim Sals, 6-4. Intermediate boys Craig O'Brien over Murray Indick, 6-3, 4-2. Advanced girls Barb Basczak over Nancy Hamilton, 6-2. Advanced boys Steve Jester over Kevin Callahan, 6-2.

The first men's intermediate Mike King over Steve Hechle, 6-3, 4-2. Advanced girls Carol Fitzgerald over Barb Basczak, 6-2, 4-2. Advanced boys Terry Masters over Kevin Callahan, 6-3.

Girl Scouts to give account of visit to our British cousins

An illustrated talk on England will be presented by Hilly Huecke and Gladys Roth, members of the Westminster Fellowship of the Springfield Presbyterian Church, when that youth group holds its regular meeting on Sunday evening at 7:15 in the Chapel building adjoining the sanctuary.

Hilly and Gladys, members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 1, spent the month of August in England participating in an exchange program with the Girl Guides. They were among 36 Scouts from the Washington Rock Council who were selected to take part in this venture.

Their first two days were spent in London as part of a group of over 100 Girl Scouts, and for the next three weeks each girl lived with an English family of a Girl Guide. Next summer the Senior Scouts will be hosts to a group of Girl Guides from England who will come here on a similar basis.

Westminster Fellowship meetings are open to all high school age young people. This year's moderator is Debbie Sim of Union, assisted by Miss Roth, Sally Greiner, Miss Huecke, Sue Springer and Janice Smith as cabinet members.

Lan, Gavan and English help in drive to sign young voters

To demonstrate their active support for the registration of newly enfranchised young voters, three Democratic candidates for state office recently helped man the phones at the staffed headquarters of the Young Voter Registration Drive.

"The youthful vote is a handgonne every politician can be expected to jump on," said Assemblyman Henry Gavan of Linden. "But I think modern young people are too perceptive and intelligent to follow every political Puff-Blower who lures them with flattery and attempts at identification. Actions do indeed speak louder than words, and that's why we're taking action."

Gavan represents Union County's District 1. But is now running in District 8 following the statewide redistricting. Donald Lan of Springfield, Gavan's partner on the 8th Democratic Assembly slate said, "My own son is actively involved in getting young people to sign up for the vote, no matter what party or candidate they choose to put in office. If my son can take so active a role, surely I can do no less.

There's as much work to be done, and the young people can help us do it. Their opinions and outlooks are fresh and new, and when reflected through the democratic process they can add a necessary and a freshness to government at all levels." Lan concluded.

Jerry English, a resident of Summit, is running for the remainder of the unexpired term of Sen. Nicholas S. De Corte, who left office in mid-June to assume a state appellate post. She has called county voters direct to the voter drive.

"It's genuinely inspiring," she said. "There is a lot of tedious work involved in this operation. Various sources have been checked and re-checked to locate the names of those young people who have not yet registered, and the telephone books have taken a real beating over it. It's a lot of labor, but the end result surely be worth it," she concluded.

Bassano urges river authority

Assembly candidate Louis Bassano, a long time environmental politician, has passed the Board of Chosen Freeholders for "a long list considering major action" to deal with the problems of the railway river.

Alluding to a recent resolution made last week in the Board by Stamford Mayor Malcolm S. Frangle that a Railway River Authority be established by the Freeholders, Bassano said, the action is "the right game plan" in the writing of the bill.

Bassano proposed creation by state legislation of the Railway River Authority, with sweeping powers to deal with flooding, pollution and preservation of the beauty of the river.

Bassano termed the financial losses suffered by flooding last Sunday and the flooding of three-weeks ago "astronomical." He said that the amount of money suffered by the losses would be sufficient to create and operate the Railway River Authority four times over.

"The damage to the river caused by the flooding, can be measured in terms of excessive siltation, congestion of debris in the river channel and further erosion of natural flood control barriers," Bassano explained. He said that the state and county's failure to expedite construction of H. 78 in the Springfield-Union area reflects the lack of environmental and flood control concern in most levels of government. Because of the siltation and debris congestion, the river's tolerance to accept heavy water runoff has been reduced. This will result in more flooding even in higher rainfall.

The idea that a major catastrophe has to be the prime motivation of citizens and government for action in specific areas such as the Railway River is a poor credential for all of us.

"When I go to Trenton on the Assembly floor in District 16, I pledge to make the Railway River Authority a reality."

District 9-B, all Democrats, man the phones of a drive for young voter registration. School yearbooks are being utilized to obtain the names of every young person in the county eligible for voter-registration. Efforts are being coordinated by the young Democrats voter registration drive.

4 treks, bike tour on activity agenda for county hike club

The program committee of the Union County Hiking Club has scheduled four hikes and a bicycle tour this weekend.

On Sunday, Donald McNeil of Westfield will lead a hike from Jones Point to Bear Mountain on the Red Trail and back via the South Bear Mountain Trail. The group will meet at the Bear Mountain Inn parking lot at 9:15 a.m.

Also on Sunday, Geraldine Hinde of Mountain Lakes will lead a ramble in the Tourne with a six-mile hike around the park and Birchwood Lake. Hikers will meet in the Del's Village parking lot, West Main street, Boston, at 12:30 p.m.

For further information concerning the hikes, contact the Recreation Department of the Union County Park Commission.

SMILE: That's the idea behind the campaign button being presented by Louis Bassano, Republican candidate for assemblyman in District 9B, to Miss Ann Limoldi of Union. Bassano is distributing the buttons to mark the start of his campaign.
