Hired as a part-time aide at Borough Hall last February, Mrs. Gibadlo has assumed a good deal of the tax workload previously handled by the deputy tax collector.

The jobs were being distributed differently after Elmer Hoffarth (long-time borough clerk and tax collector) left in December, Mrs. Gibadlo explained. "They needed someone to back up the other workers, and I applied for the job." Although she's been working "mostly with taxes," Mrs. Gibadlo noted those responsibilities are integrated with other municipal work, producing a job she finds "most rewarding.

"I feel I'm qualified for the post of tax collector because I'm familiar with the work, the candidate stated. "In addition, I'll be available whenever the job requires my being

A NATIVE OF IRVINGTON, Mrs. Gibadlo graduated from West Side High School in Newark. She has lived in Mountainside for 14

Her community activities have included membership in the Foothill Club, five years' service as a Cub Scout den mother and four years' work as publicity chairman for that organization. She also handled publicity for the Mountainside Little League for two years, and served on its financial committee for the same length of time.

She was publicity director for the borough's Community Fund drive and, until taking the Borough Hall job, worked for two years as a volunteer aide at the Echobrook School library. She has been a Republican Committeewoman from District 1, Mountainside, since 1971.

Mrs. Gibadlo and her husband, Edward, an area manager with the Jersey Mortgage Co. of Elizabeth, are the parents of two sons-David, eight, a third-grader at the Echobrook School, and Christopher, 13, in the eighth grade at the Deerfield School. They reside at 155 Sunrise pk-

Dems name Jaffe to lead campaign

Robert Jaffe this week was named to manage the Mountainside Democratic Party campaign for the local candidates—Frank Gagliano, Albert D'Amanda, and Steve Sussko. H. Russ Cardoni, Democratic municipal chairman, said he was very pleased by the candidates' choice.

Jaffe, a former candidate for Borough Council, resides at 350 Summit rd. with his wife Birgitte and their four children. He is an attorney with the law firm of Reisdorf and Jaffe in Mountainside and Springfield.

Jaffe stated that he and the local candidates "will wage a vigorous campaign to bring to the voters the facts of the problems facing Mountainside. During the campaign these facts will be developed and discussed openly to permit the voter to make an intelligent decision on election day, Nov. 6.'

Ross picked for panel

Herbert Ross of Mountainside has been named committee chairman of new lodges and programming for the Northern New Jersey Council of B'nai B'rith. The Council has membership of 14,800.

Police Department said that two men broke in to a Coles avenue home and then went around the corner to break into a home on Chapel Hill.

According to Yerich the owner of the Chapel Hill house had gone out around 3:30 p.m. and returned at 5 p.m. She told police that when she entered the house she was confronted by the two men. Yerich said she scared the two men and one jumped out of a window while the second man dove through the screen door in the front of the house and then fled to the wooded area across the street. Yerich said when he arrived, he saw two men walking in the wooded area across the street from the Chapel Hill house that had been reported broken into. According to Yerich, when he placed Lerrano under arrest the second man escaped. According to police, Lerrano was carrying a 22-caliber pistol which had been stolen from one of the houses.

Firms shun commitment to contract

5 companies contacted, decline to make bids

By WILLIAM GARNET The Mountainside Board of Eddeation was informed Tuesday night at its monthly meeting that there has been difficulty in obtaining a contract with a fuel oil company for this year. Board attorney Charles Jerome said five oil companies were contacted and they all reported the same thing: if they receive an allotment, they might supply the Mountainside schools with heating oil. Jerome said the oil companies don't want to enter into a binding contract because oil prices are rising and they are afraid that any price they quote the school board may be lower than the going price for oil. Jerome said that if an oil company does enter into a contract with the board, it must also submit a performance bid. This would mean that if the company were unable to supply the oil for some reason, it would have to pay for all damages incurred by the inconvenience.

When bids were sought by the Union County Educational Services Commission, the usual supplier, and by the Mountainside board, none were received. And according to Jerome, New Jersey has the strictest sufphur content law in the country, making it impossible to use foreign

TWO MOTIONS INTRODUCED by Mrs. Pat Knodel and seconded by Mrs. Trudy Palmer were voted down by the board, which met at the Deerfield School.

The first motion was to ban "junk" foods from the Deerfield School cafeteria. The foods used by Mrs. Knodel as nutritionally unfit for children were potato chips, ice cream heavily laden with chocolate, pretzels, corn curls and wheat curls, Mrs. Knodel suggested that in-stead of these foods, fresh fruit and juices be sold. Still to remain as salable items in the school store would be peanuts, peanut butter crackers and ice cream. Soda would have been completely ruled out. Mrs. Werble, who has run the school store for 15 years, voiced strong dissent to making any changes in what the school store sells except for soda, which she said should not be sold. The board voted the motion down by a four to two vote, with board member James Keating ab-

Board postpones variance hearing

A hearing on a variance application for what would be Mountainside's first apartment building has been postponed until the Oct. 8 meeting of the Board of Adjustment.

Scheduled for Monday night, the hearing was put off at the request of the applicant, Chatham Realty Co. of 961 Mountain ave. in the borough. It is expected that the firm will revise the number of units in the proposed complex, originally set at 21, before the hearing.

The firm wants to build the apartment house in the vicinity of Rt. 22, New Providence road and Apple Tree lane.

In one hearing conducted during the meeting Monday, the board granted a variance sought by Herman Hafeken for an addition to a residence at 1382 Birch Hill rd.

It also handed down a decision on a pending case, denying a variance requested by Chrone's Tavern for a new restaurant and bar in a residential zone on Mountain avenue.

Faints at meeting

A woman attending the Mountainside Board of Education meeting Tuesday night at the Deerfield school fainted during the meeting and had to be taken to Overlook Hospital in Summit by the Rescue Squad. She was treated in the emergency room and then released.

Labor group action endorsing Byrne praised by Wright

Speaking before the Political Action Committee of the state AFL-CIO, Bill Wright, 22nd District Democratic State Senate candidate, this week praised the council for its en-dorsement of Brendan Byrne for governor and stated, "Our new governor will need the support of the legislature in implementing his ideas and philosophies reflecting an enlightened and progressive labor position.' Wright asked the committee for its support of his candidacy.

Wright, appearing before delegates who represented approximately 100,000 workers, stressed his support for extending unemployment payments, increasing workmen's compensation rates and improving safety devices and equipment. The candidate praised the actions of the legislature in calling for a special session to consider extending unem-ployment payments and cited "the critical necessity of affording relief to thousands of New Jersey's unemployed workers."
Wright condemned Republican-sponsored

"right-to-work" legislation, calling it "retrogressive" and affirming that he "could never support such anachronistic legislation."

The Democrat stressed that he was in total accord with Byrne on labor issues and pointed to his "long friendship and association" with Byrne as a law clerk and later as an associate in Judge Byrne's law firm. Wright then asked his audience: "Can you imagine what New Jersey would be like with Charlie Sandman as governor in light of his abominable record on labor issues?

An advocate of flood control legislation as well as the preservation of the environment, Wright said he is seeking "to reconcile the traditional schism between labor groups and

"We must weigh competing social values," he said. "I doubt that any laboring man here tonight would willingly and wantonly deprive his children of the opportunity to inherit a clean and unpolluted earth. Yet, we cannot dry up jobs, nor can we permit construction to be delayed without justifiable reason."

PRAISE FOR NIXON

President Nixon's problem is "poor public relations at the grass roots." Compared to all the good Mr. Nixon did as a man and public figure, the Watergate "allegations" ain't a row of beans. Compare what good the preceding two presidents did with the bad they did: you'll find lots bad.

The press and liberals want the President out. Nothing else will satisfy them, that's pure and simple, 'cause they can't see a regular guy like Nixon make good.

When you're playing ball every day, you're bound to make an error; 'course, if you're warming the bench, naturally, you ain't gonna make any errors—hits, or runs.

"Our" Prez has been real busy looking after "YOU. S.A." The end of the war, boys home, high employment etc. proves it. In a few months (if we ever get off Watergate), inflation will be a thing of the past.

Trouble, too, is that we got too many "squeakers and complainers" who never come up with any good ideas or workable solutions. As the saying goes, "If you ain't workin' on the solution, you is part of the problem."

Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, in his report to the board, listed 1,051 students enrolled in the four Mountainside schools this year. The Beechwood School has 300 pupils; Echobrook, 63 students; Deerfield Elementary, 224, and Deerfield Middle School, 414. The school superintendent noted that this is a drop from last year. He said that the largest drop was in the sixth grade.

Dr. Hanigan also warned against any board member entering into negotiations of any kind with a cable TV company. He said that this was mainly a warning for the Borough Council and cited the possibility of the Union County School Board or the regional board entering into a contract that would provide for better programs at a lower cost to each town.

This disturbed the entire family so much that she called her brother with whom I work and asked him the same questions to ask me, knowing that I have spent many years in the fire department.

"Yes, it can happen to any family with central air conditioning or hot air heat. When poisionous smoke is in the house, it gets pumped into every room in the house that it services. This can happen in any house but more quickly in a house where the return ducts bring the smoke back to the central unit for resolving or reheating and redistribution.

"In this case an instant "Cn Television" had caused the poisionious gas. This type of television is a frequent cause of fire that the department has voiced its objection too for four years. Since almost all televisions are manufactured this way, all we could do is warn people who would listen and advise them that the sets are always on and do go on fire. Sets are built this way because when you flip the switch you immediately have picture and sound. The life of the set is supposed to be greatly extended because the parts are not continually heated and cooled every time the set is turned off and on.

"More people loose their lives in fires in the home, and smoke is the most frequent cause. Whether the firemen are volunteers or professionals is immaterial. They are all trained to save lives. Their only wish is that they are given that opportunity. In this case, as in so many others, the fire or cause of smoke was not discovered in time. The only thing that would have saved this family under these circumstances would have been a smoke detecting alarm because it senses the smoke and awakens occupants immediately.

Mrs. Wilson raps vote by opponent on disclosure law

Betty Wilson, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly in District 22, this week rebuked Assemblyman Arthur Manner for his April 16 vote against 'one of the most significant pieces of legislation to pass the Assembly during the past session." Mrs. Wilson criticized her opponent for voting against the recently enacted "New Jersey Campaign Contribution and Expenditures Reporting Act," which places limits on campaign spending and requires detailed reporting of the source of all contributions over $100. Criminal penalties are provided for violators. "Such requirements," said Mrs. Wilson, the level of accountability of can-

The public has a right to know where candidates get their money in order to ascertain any connection between conduct in office and source of financing. We cannot guarantee ethical behavior of public officials but we can make it more difficult to behave

Mrs. Wilson noted that while the new laws' complexities clearly place a burden on candidates, "that is the price we must pay if we wish to run for public office. First priority must have a rubble interest rather than on the be placed on public interest rather than on the convenience of candidates or contributors."

"The office of the Election Law Enforcement Commission has been most helpful in assisting candidates seeking clarifications of the law's requirements," Mrs. Wilson said. "We are going through a period of learning to live within a new law that achieves the goal of greater accountability from candidates. If flaws in the law are discovered through practice, they can be corrected by amendment, not an unusual procedure with such bold, new legislation,' Mrs. Wilson said.

"I believe that Mr. Manner failed to represent his constituents in a responsive way by voting against this progressive legislation,"

Mrs. Holcombe in NSC seminar

Evelyne T. Government probe of color TV fires sought by Rinaldo

WASHINGTON, C. C. - Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R. 12th Dist., N.J.) has called on the Consumer Product Safety Commission to inestigate the safety of television sets.

Noting that the federal agency was already looking into three fatal New Jersey fires, all apparently caused by television sets, Rinaldo urged Commission Chairman Robert Simpson to "broaden the scope of your inquiry so as to include several potentially-hazardous conditions in television receivers in American

A total of 14 persons have been killed this year in fires caused by television sets. Last month seven persons were killed in a North Caldwell blaze. Four persons died in a Roseland fire in June and three others perished in a fire in Summit last January.

'In the opinion of laboratory investigators, all three New Jersey blazes started in color television sets," Rinaldo said.

'Although there are no national statistics on the number of color television set fires, a combined total of 10,000 fires caused by color sets occur annually in New Hampshire, Illinois and Oregon-the only states that maintain such

"These statistics alone," he added, "are conclusive proof that an extensive safety investigation of all television sets available to American consumers should be conducted immediately.'

Rinaldo noted that the makes of all three sets involved in the fatal New Jersey fires have been determined, and at least two of them did not have the "instant-on" feature previously suspected as a possible cause.

The Congressman recommended that Underwriters' Laboratories approval should be required for the entire television set-not just the power cord, as is frequently the case now. In addition, he listed several other features that he believes should be investigated;

-Plastic cases which melt when the sets catch fire, emitting toxic fumes and igniting objects with which they come in contact.

-Less expensive television sets (both color and black and white) whose power supplies use AC-DC current, rather than just AC. Sets using AC currents are safer because the chances of high voltage hurting someone who may be touching a metal cabinet are less than they are with sets employing AC-DC power supplies.
--Metal cases which, in combination with AC-

DC sets, can give off shocks-possibly fatal-if someone turns on the set while touching another object such as a radiator or a metal

-Plastic cases, in combination with AC-DC sets, which break easily, exposing high-voltage wiring,

-Remote-control devices.

-Add-on features, such as stereo phonographs and radios, in the same cabinet.

The Rev. James Dewart, pastor of Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church Mall at Academy Green, will speak about the labors of Bishop Frances Asbury, first Methodist bishop in the United States, at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Services Sunday. His message, entitled, "Wrap It Up in a Person," is related to the observance of Ministry Sunday throughout the United Methodist Church.

Mr. Dewart said that Bishop Asbury arrived in New York in late 1771 from Bristol, England. He served the John Street Methodist Church, New York, remaining in the colonies during the Revolutionary War. At the Christmas Conference in 1784, he was consecrated a bishop, and began his extensive circuit riding, covering 275,000 miles on horseback over 45 years. Many of the Methodist churches in western New Jersey are part of the Asbury Circuit established during his ministry. "He remains," said the local pastor, "an inspiration to laity and ministers alike who serve church and community today.

Church school will re-open Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Three-year-olds are invited to the church nursery, which is also open to younger children at parental discretion. Classes for nursery through sixth grade are in Wesley House. Junior highs, senior highs and college students meet in the Fellowship Hall and Church Annex. The German language worship service will be conducted at the same hour in the sanctuary by Theodore Reimlinger, lay speaker.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will resume its weekly meetings at 6 p.m. Sunday with a pienie and social hour. Youth of high school and college age are welcome to share the activities. Trustees will meet Monday at 8 p.m. The Wesleyan Service Guild convenes on Tuesday

Search, a study group guided by the pastor, meels on Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m. Dr. Thomas Harris', "I'm OK, You're OK," will be the book reviewed by the group for the next few weeks

ELIZABETH

By Pat and Marilyn Davis

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

My husband has been coming home later and later. At first he would arrive about 30 minutes late and always say he had met a friend and had a drink before starting home. This went on for a month or so and then he began arriving later and later. Last night he did it! He came home at 3 a.m.! I really blew my cool. We had a big fight and he didn't get a wink of sleep but went to work anyway.

hours range from going bowl- girl and can walk to the car by ing to drinking to working late. We've only been married three months and I want things to work out right. Would you believe these -Doubtful

Dear Doubtful:

Dear Pat and Marilyn: When my boyfriend, Jeff, comes to pick me up he sits outside and honks. I don't mind at all but my father does. I feel I'm a perfectly healthy myself. Why do fathers get so up tight?

Dear Jennifer:

Most boys do not sit outside and honk for their dates. Most young men follow the basic rules of etiquette. They enter the house because, if they don't, they are apt to be met by an angry father instead of the girl.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: My best girlfriend won't speak to me because of a blind date. Last Saturday night my boyfriend called and asked me if I could get his out-of-town cousin a date. I had never seen this cousin but my boyfriend said he had average looks and was a nice person. Well, I called Sue and she agreed to go dancing with us. When my friend and his cousin arrived I almost fell through the floor. This boy was short, fat, and ugly. I knew Sue would just faint when she saw him. Well, she didn't faint but she was really mad. Sue is very pretty and here she was stuck with a guy a head shorter. I am sorry she didn't enjoy the evening and wish she would forget the whole affair. What can I say to her?

No Matchmaker

Dear Matchmaker:

Stop worrying. I feel quite certain that Sue will survive one blind date. A blind date is just that - BLIND. No one should expect the most handsome boy or the prettiest girl. There are always others in the group when a blind date is involved so having an enjoyable time is not too difficult.

A blind date is an adventure and unless one can consider it just that and handle it as such he should not accept a date sight unseen.

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

I am bowlegged and this handicap is absolutely ruining my life. Help please.

Dear Bow:

Do something constructive. Learn to stand in a way to hide this small flaw. Here's how it is done. Never place legs side by side. This calls attention to this distance between them and the defect becomes apparent.-Instead-place one-foot due front. Place other foot back and to the side thus forming an angle. Bend front knee enough to partially cover back leg and thereby hide the bow. Practice in front of a master this technique.

Medical personnel to attend Sept. 26 ostomy conference

New Jersey physicians, nurses and pharmacists will meet with ostomates on Sept. 26 at the Holiday Inn, Route 1, North Brunswick, for a conference on "The Medical Team and the Ostomate," sponsored by the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society and the United Ostomy Association-New Jersey

Professionals and laymen attending the allday meeting will be welcomed by Mrs. Harry P. Beldon of Chester, president of the New Jersey Division, and M. E. Gambrell Jr. of Decatur, Ga., national president of the UOA. Warren H. Kanuer, M.D., of Elizabeth, chairman of the division's medical committee. will moderate the conference which begins with registration at 9 a.m. and continues until 3:30

"The word 'ostomy' signifies a type of surgery required when a person has lost the normal function of the bowel or bladder due to birth defect, disease, injury or other disorder, Dr. Knauer said.

'Ostomates may be any one from infants to the elderly; men and women of any race, oc-cupation, ethnic background. Possibly some of your friends, neighbors, classmates or business associates are living normal, productive lives as ostomates. There are approximately one million ostomates in the United States and Canada," said Dr. Knauer.

Long-lasting pacemaker is implanted in patient by St. Barnabas surgeons

Center in Livingston has put into use a new type of heart pacemaker with an improved useful life of 400 percent over conventional models.

The new lithium battery-powered pacemaker was implanted recently in a 60-year-old male patient and is capable of meeting the needs of the heart on demand. This is the first such pacemaker to have this feature with a life expectancy of eight years. Earlier demand pacemakers were capable of lasting only up to

Dr. Joseph D. Cohn, assistant director of the Department of Surgery at Saint Barnabas who directed the operation, explained that the new device senses the needs of the heart and responds accordingly. This new demand pacemaker can be set at a given rate. If the heart beat goes below that rate it begins to function. If it goes above the given rate, the lithium battery-powered demand pacemaker goes into a stand-by mode of operation and will not function again until the heart beat drops below the given rate. This ensures an extra sense of well-being in the patient.

Dr. Cohn said Saint Barnabas is licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission to implant pacemaker units that have the capacity of functioning over 10 years without replacement. However, these pacemakers are pre-set and do not respond to the heart's demands. The medical center also is licensed to do in-depth lithium-powered pacemakers available in this area. About 200 have been released throughout the country. Dr. Cohn said. Dr. Cohn pointed out that the long-life batteries in the new pacemaker cut down on the need for re-implanting which is commonly done on conventional pacemakers about every 24 months. He explained that the longer life of the new device also reduces the possibility of infection upon re-implant and because of the infrequency of implanting is less disturbing to elderly patients.

Dr. Cohn said the nuclear pacemakers have been thoroughly and successfully tested and have been approved for clinical use by the Atomic Energy Commission. All these devices can be adapted to previously implanted cardiac electrodes or may be used for an initial implant. The radioactive exposure from the implanted nuclear device is negligible, Dr. Cohn added.

At the same time, the current gasoline shortage and heightened concern over air nollution have sparked a resurgence of interest in share-the-ride plans among New Jersey commuters.

Joining a car pool can be a convenience and a time and money saver, as well as a way of improving the quality of the air, but many people are reluctant to enter such arrangements.

They fear they will expose themselves to a lawsuit which won't be covered by their regular auto insurance.

The Insurance Information Institute said that, in terms of insurance coverage, car poolers probably have nothing to worry about. However, a few words of caution and explanation are in order.

Insurance on a privately owned, pool-shared vehicle is placed in jeopardy only if the pool is operated for a profit. In the situation where everyone in the pool uses his car an equal amount of time there is of course, no problem.

The problem most often arises when one of the car pool participants does not share in the driving chores and thus pays a regular fee.
To preserve insurance coverage, the institute points out, any car pool fee should not be more than the fair share of the gas, oil and general depreciation on the car. A simpler way for the non-sharing passengers to reimburse the pool members is to eye a gift sometime during the year to the drivers.

This divorces the concept of "fee" from the privilege of riding in a car pool and leaves the insurance protection in-the half-dozen games he played with Babe Ruth has struck up a correspondence with Hank Aaron, assuring the slugger that Ruth would wish him well" in his drive to beat Ruth's alltime record of 714 homeruns.

The former semi-pro shortstop, Bill Rourke, 73, who now makes his home at the Westfield YMCA, wrote to Aaron after reading about hate mail directed to the Atlanta Braves star.

"I played with Ruth a half dozen times when he was barnstorming with some semi-pro clubs," Rourke said. "He was a jovial, kind man. I know he would wish Aaron success because there was nothing small or narrow about the Babe, believe me.

Rourke's acquaintance with Ruth began, he said, in the 1920s. As a member of the Orange AA team, Rourke and Ruth were on opposir teams. Later, he played with the Ruth All-Stars, a team put together by the Yankee great tor off-season play.

"Ruth, of course, was always good for a home run in the parks around here. But he was even greater for getting together and

In those days, the still-athletic looking Rourke recounts, semi-pros like Rourke got $25 a game, a "good pitcher could get a hundred and I suppose Ruth got a couple of hundred just to step on the field."

Rourke admires Aaron because he's "a good, decent man, not a big mouth or a grandstander. He conducts himself well on and off the field.' The elderly Y resident now treasures a letter from Aaron which expresses appreciation for the "concern and best wishes of people like yourself."

"If you will excuse my sentimentality, your letter of support and encouragement meant much more to me than I can adequately express in words." wrote Aaron.

'It is very heartwarming to know that you are in my corner. I will always be grateful for the interest you have shown in me. As the socalled countdown continues, please be assured I will try to live up to the expectations of my

Watchung hunter show is expanded. opens on Saturday

Because of increasing interest the 34th annual Watchung hunter horse show will be a twoday event, allowing many additional exhibitors to compete;

Riders and drivers from New Jersey and surrounding states are expected to attyend the show Saturday and Sunday, starting at 8:30 a.m., at the show grounds, Watchung Stables, Glenside avenue, Summit.

Saturday, Watchung members will conduct competitive classes for Morgan and saddle seat horses and riders as authorized by the American Horse Horse Show Association. The versatile animals will be shown riding and pulling wheeled vehicles.

Sunday, competitive classes will feature junior, pony, limit and working hunters as well as pleasure horse, hunt seat horsemanship and adult amateur classes. Michael Komarow of Berkeley Heights, show president said, "Hundreds of spectators are anticipated at the two-day show, which is run in cooperation with the Union County Park

Girls' swim team forming at YWCA

The Summit Aquettes synchronized swim team is being formed at the YWCA under the direction of Mrs. Vera Furst Hammell. Mrs. Hammell has coached several winning teams including the Westfield YWCA team which performed in Summit at the YWCA Christmas program in 1971.

Mrs. Hammell said, "synchronized swimming is feminine, builds beautiful bodies, develops poise, the very best exercise. Competition and strenuous physical activity are good outlets for tensions. An extra-curricular activity in which the participant learns to discipline herself, to accept defeat and victory. learns to make scarifices and decisions, gives the girl something special to cling to when she is finding herself as a young woman.'

The fall training program will begin with a four-week synchronized swim team clinic which began yesterday. Girls who are in-termediate swimmers and at least eight years old have been accepted. For further information contact Ann Hartmann. HPER director at 273-4242.

Archery show on Wednesday

The second annual Hunting Archery Show cosponsored by Ross Sport Shop of Elizabeth and the Linden Recreation Department will be held at Linden High School on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The evening program will begin with two films: The "Oldest Game" features the adventures of a white tail deer hunt and the second film is an ABC-TV American Sportsman series film about polar bear and mule deer hunting.

Demonstrations will be given by Chuck Roskoski of the Watchung Bowman while the Watchung Bowman will demonstrate trick target and animal shooting. Frank Scott will answer questions about bear archery. Hy Schneider of the Sport Shop will emcee the program. There is no admission charge.

Linden High School is located on St. George avenue between Orchard terrace and Summit

Soccer clinic will start on Saturday for youths

The fall soccer clinic sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department will begin Saturday at Ruby Field. The program is open to all youngsters in Springfield's fourth to eighth grades.

Bulldog prospects brighter despite tougher schedule

The Jonathan Dayton High School football team this season should undoubtedly be much improved over the 1972 squad, which compiled a 3.6 record.

The main reasons, according to Ted Amo, head coach, for this optimism are the team's depth and experience. With 16 lettermen returning, Amo feels the Bulldogs' depth is the host in recent seasons backed up by John Noce and Bart Zabelski. Arnold was a starter for the Rahway Indians last season The starting guards will be junior Rich Consales and sophomore Jim Rice. Backing them up will be Mark Ronco, Dave Pacifico and Tom Russinello. Jerry Ragonese will be the starting center with Mitch Kurtzer spelling him. John Pyar will start at tight end with John Zurcoff also available.

Joe Pepe will be the starting quarterback with Carmen Scoppettuolo in reserve. Bill Palazzi and Gavin Widom, two very fast halfbacks, will join fullback Bruce Heide in the backfield. Substitutes will include Derek Nardone, Joe Natuello and Tom Botte.

Dayton's defensive unit is larger than last year's - but it is still small when compared to the 1973 opponents. The Bulldogs hope to capitalize on quickness to compensate for the lack of size. The starting defensive team lists Wayne Schwarte and Mark Ronco at the ends, Dave Pacifico and Bruno Sarracino at the tackles. In reserve will be ends Bruce Heide and Greg Johnson and tackles Glen Arnold, Bart

Zabelski and Jim Rice. Dayton is stronger at linebacker than in the other defensive spots. The inside linebackers are Tom Russinello, John Zurcoff, Tom Botte and Jerry Ragonese. Rovers (outside linebackers) are John Noce, Ken Conte, Mike Flood and Gary Pressloff. Defensive backfield positions are still undetermined. Competing for starting posts are Joe Pepe, Gavin Widom, Bill Palazzi, Joe Natiello, Derek Nardone and Mark Hoffman.

Attitudes, actions of parents keys in fighting drug abuse

Drug abuse over recent years, particularly among the nation's young people, has become rampant, so much so that many experts and law enforcement authorities call the current wave of drug users of pandemic proportions. In this two-part series, Joseph F. Grall, coordinating director of the Union County Department for the Prevention of Drug Abuse and Narcotic Addiction, lists many of the questions he frequently hears. In listing his answers, he attempts to prescirbe the paths of prevention that can be taken by drug addicts, their parents and all those concerned with the nationwide problem can do to break the vicious cycle? A. Let's start with what I consider to be the biggest factor-the dispensing of billions of legally prescribed psychoactive pills and tablets each year. These drugs constitute a hazard in several ways. They provide a stockpile which youngsters can tap without much trouble, they create and encourage drug dependency among millions of adults and school children, and they support a climate of drug use and abuse which says to our kids 'It's all right to use something-anything-to help you get through the trials and the tribulations of this tough old world!" Unless this torrential flow is brought under control, it will be virtually impossible to break the cycle

We must have much tighter governmental restrictions on the manufacture of psychoactive drugs, so that the very magnitude of the supply doesn't create a market for their use. Also, we must change the method of prescribing these mood-altering chemicals. I have heard it seriously suggested that the only answer is to take psychoactive drugs out of the hands of general physicians and put them at the disposal of qualified psychiatrists only, so that they may be dispensed solely for psychiatric the home of not using drugs—pills or alcohol—as a means of solving life's problems. This doesn't mean that the occasional social drink is taboo; it means only that the old "monkey see, monkey do" rule is just as valid in this area as it is anywhere else. Youngsters who grow up in an atmosphere of drug abuse will be among the first to try marijuana or pills when confronted with their own problems.

Another thing that parents can do is to revaluate their relationship with their children. The father who was very close to his son during the Little League era of life may have tuned him out now that the boy is 15, long-haired, and interested only in girls and fast cars. The mother who fussed over the pretty girl of six may prefer to ignore the sloppy, jeans-wearing teenager. In doing so, both father and mother are likely to create a gap across which certain significant vibrations may not flow. While they'll never recapture the closeness of the younger years, they can retain a relationship that will go a long way toward ensuring healthy development. How do they do this? By listening to what their youngsters have to say. By taking or making - the time to spend with them And by maintaining parental control, even at the cost of some resentment and bitterness.

Q. What if all this fails and drug troubles come to one's home?

A. Be ready to stick by your attitudes and make your attitudes stick. You cannot wait for druggism to "burn out" with age and maturity. You must use your parental responsibility and authority right away by establishing a rule of "no drugs" and holding to it. To many modern parents, such a blanket prohibition sounds autocratic. But this is an extremely serious matter, and there can be no compromise when it comes to the health and well-being of your

Q. How do you establish a rule of "no

A. One notion parents often have is that their child is a precious piece of pottery who is going to break apart when they tell him to stop whatever he is doing. This just isn't the case. If you make clear demands and set limits, he will probably follow them. He'll do it, or she'll do it, because if there has been any kind of sound relationship between you and your child, your child will want to please you, will want you to have a high regard for him. The opposite is also true. If your youngster gets away with murder, if you give him license to disregard or ignore what you believe is important, then he doesn't put a very high value on either himself or you.

Q. Can't such rigid demands alienate the

A. There is a purpose to childhood and that is to learn how to live successfully in the adult world. The parental relationship is not an end in itself, but a way of preparing youngsters to have constructive relationships with other people. Sometimes parents lose sight of this and find it difficult to make demands of their children, because they feel they cannot risk being the autocrat, the "bad guy."

Q. Shouldn't parents concern themselves with the reasons why their children are using

A. Certainly, but they have to deal with the fact of drug use first. When they fill their responsibility as parents, and make their children responsible for what they are doing, parents put themselves in position to take the next step. If their children can't smoke marijuana to burn their worries away, and their anxieties are no longer going up in smoke, they may well come to their parents and talk about other things that give them concern.

Q. What can we do as a society to halt the epidemic of drug abuse?

A. First, we must realize that this is a national catastrophe and treat it as such. Americans are a very responsive people who have reacted quickly and positively to other problems of national concern. Drug abuse - a condition so rampant that tens of thousands of young people are killed or crippled by it each year — is that kind of a problem. Yet, so far, we have done very little to deal with it.

So let's start right now with a massive program of control — control at the manufacturing source, control in the medical profession where most of the pills originate, nd control at home where a climate of druggism is fostered, and where too many parents fail to deal with their children's drug

UC again offering high school series of science lectures

Academically-gifted high school juniors and seniors from five New Jersey counties will again have the opportunity of sampling a variety of sciences at Union College this fall.

Prof. Patrick J. White of Warren, director of the Sperry Observatory and a professor of astronomy at the college, announced the Science Lecture Series will be offered for the 12th year and the first of the five programs will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 10.

'The Science Lecture Series is open to students in Union, Essex, Middlesex, Morris, and Somerset Counties who will be selected for participation by their high school principals The lectures will cover "Relativity and Cosmology," Recent Research in Chemistry,' fields of mathematics and biological science. "The subject matter of our lectures encompasses areas not ordinarily covered in a high school classroom, but which are of great importance to anyone planning a career in science," Prof. White explained.

"The New Jersey Salt Marsh," as well as the Following the opening of the Series on Oct. 10. there will be lectures on Oct. 24, Nov. 20, Nov. 29, and Dec. 5. All programs start at 7:30 p.m. and are concluded no later than 9:30 p.m.

The speakers who will give the first three lectures are: Lewis C. Thomas of North Plainfield, electrical engineer at Bell Telephone Laboratories, Holmdel, and lecturer at the Hayden Planetarium; Arthur F. Cacella of East Brunswick, director of research at Ameliotex Corp. in Princeton, and vicepresident of Amateur Astronomers, Inc.; along with Prof. Farris Swackhamer of Cranford, ornithologist and professor of chemistry at Union College. The final two speakers will be announced shortly.

be featured in the opening exhibit of the new Nicholas A. Tomasulo Art Gallery at Union College, Cranford.

Harry Devlin of 443 Hillside ave., Mountainside, professional artist, writer and teacher, will be joined by wife, Wende, also a professional artist and writer, and children, Alexandra, Brion and Nicholas, in the exhibit which opens Oct. 13 and runs through Nov. 10. Both Mr. and Mrs. Devlin have created a special series of paintings for this inaugural exhibit, drawing on the Union County locale for their subject matter.

The second generation of Devlins will show their own work and artistic inheritance from parents who have been professionally recognized for their work.

Devlin is a free lance artist and former nationally syndicated political cartoonist. He is a past president of the National Cartoonist Society, a former member of the board of the Artists and Writers Association, a member of the Society of Illustrators, the New Jersey Council on the Arts, and the Dutch Treat Club.

Devlin has written and illustrated a number of children's books in collaboration with his wife, one of which, "Old Black Witch," was made into a movie. He has illustrated two architectural books, "To Grandfather's House We Go," a collection of paintings illustrating the various architectural styles represented in New Jersey, and "What Kind of House is That?," a collection of paintings of unusual architectural designs.

Devlin, a native of Elizabeth, is a graduate of Syracuse University, and served as a Navy Intelligence artist during World War II. He formerly taught art appreciation at Union College and is currently chairman of the Tomasulo College Advisory Committee.

Mrs. Devlin, a portrait artist, is also a graduate of Syracuse University, where she

Do-it-yourself check-up ends leaky toilet woes

Leaky toilets can cause a substantial water loss and can unnecessarily increase the household water bill, according to the Elizabethtown

Since calling in the plumber to fix a toilet leak can be an expensive item itself, Elizabethtown Water suggests a do-it-yourself check-up on toilet leaks.

Leaks can come from two sources and the tests are relatively simple. By lifting the cover of the toilet tank, it is easy to see if water is overflowing down the overflow pipe: The correct water level in a tank is about one-half inch below the top of the overflow pipe. If the water is overflowing, two corrective steps can be rod connected to the tank float is straight. If the rod is bent upward, it may prevent the float from reaching its proper height, thus leaving the supply valve at the other end of the rod partly open. First straighten the rod and then apply light oil to the supply joints. This usually solves the problem.

A more difficult leak to spot is trouble when the rubber tank ball fails to seal off the discharge opening. There are two ways to find this. Put some food coloring in the tank water at night. If, in the morning, the toilet bowl shows traces of food coloring, there is a leak.

A second way is to turn off the valve under the tank and leave it off overnight. If the tank level has dropped in the morning, water is leaking out through the discharge opening.

Fixing this problem means first making sure the lift wires attached to the rubber ball in the tank are straight so that the ball drops squarely in the discharge opening. It's also a good idea to use some sandpaper or steel wool to scrape any corrosion or grit from the edges of the discharge opening may be at the bottom of the ball.

These simple steps, that take only a few minutes, should solve most toilet leaks, according to the water utility. There is plenty of water for customer

Record business for shore areas

Preliminary reports from the New Jersey shore resort areas indicate the summer of '73 has been one of the best vacation seasons on

According to the Office of Business Economics, N.J. Department of Labor & Industry, the season has posted record figures for hotels, concessions, and retail sales, rentals and building construction.

Labor Day weekend was marked by continued high temperatures and record water temperatures of 83 degrees the highest since 1912, business sources report.

As one resort operator in Atlantic City said, "The crowd looked good in June even though it was raining. The crowd looked even better in July, and in August looked positively great. Labor Day weekend was fantastic."

Stage, film stars in 'Nanette' cast

Tuesday at Mill

An all-star cast will join Dennis Day at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, when "No, No, Nanette," musical revival opens on Tuesday. It will have an eight-week run through Nov. 11. The performers will be Helen Gallagher.

Barbara Britton and Lillian Hayman. Miss Gallagher, who won a Tony award for her portrayal of Lucille in the recent Broadway production of "Nanette," has won acclaim for her roles on the stage in "The Gershwin Years," "High Button Shoes" and "Sweet Charity." She also has been seen on major musical variety shows on television.

Miss Britton, who will play "Sue," made more than 30 motion pictures (many of them for Paramount Pictures), did television commercials for a cosmetic product for years, and has appeared in television specials.

Miss Hayman, who first appeared at the Paper Mill Playhouse in "Kiss Me Kate," recently starred in a "Porgy and Bess" State Department tour.

O'hers in the cast will include Jerry Antes. Kevin Daly, Cynthia Parva (as Nanette). Laura Waterbury, Carole Leslie Propp and Marcia Brushingham.

Frank Carrington, producer at Millburn's State Theater, has announced that Mickey Rooney has been signed to play Bottom in the Playhouse's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," the second production of the 1973-74 season, which will open Nov. 14.

'Doll's House' set for opening tonight

"A Doll's House," by Henrik Ibsen, will open a five-week run at the Actors Cafe Theater, 263 Central avenue at South Munn avenue, East Orange, tonight, with performances every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings through Oct. 13. Curtain is at 8:30.

The cast will be headed by Barbara Kennedy as Nora, and includes David G. Kenney, Shan Wilson, Fred Rein and Eli Levine and Christine Todd. Kennedy also serves as director.

Following the classic play, William Shakespeare's "Macbeth" will begin a five-week run. Reservations may be made by calling the box office at 675-1881.

'Great White Way'

The first outdoor electric sign in the United States was erected in New York City in 1891, advertising Spencerian Pens. Within a decade the area of Times Square and Broadway blazed with electric signs and was known as the "Great White Way."

State departments add rules at speedier pace public are being adopted by agencies of the state government as a rapidly-accelerating rate, it is reported by the Division of Administrative Procedure in Trenton.

During the first eight months of this year such rules, which have the same effect as law, were adopted at a rate of 30 rules per month by all departments. This is a 35 per cent jump over last year when the monthly rule adoption rate was 22, according to John K. Rafferty, director,

He noted that an added source for rules is the 'Department of Environmental Protection, the state's newest department, with emphasis on consumer protection. While getting under way last year, Environmental Protection promulgated 28 new rules; in the eight months

Nader, Anderson lectures planned

Two men who in different ways have had a profound effect on American life head the roster of speakers in the fall lecture series sponsored by the Montclair State College chapter of the Council on International and National Affairs.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader, who through his own efforts and those of his "Raiders" has brought about a number of changes in consumer practices, will speak on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 8 p.m. in the college's Memorial Auditorium.

Columnist Jack Anderson will speak Wednesday, Nov. 7, in the Student Center Ballroom, also at 8. Anderson's investigative reporting contributed to the exposure of the Watergate scandal and has focused on numerous other irregularities in and out of government.

Admission to both lectures is free to Montclair State studentsd and $1 for others.

ANNOUNCING...

through this August an additional 21 rules have been adopted, most of them with broad ap-

Other active rule-making Departments are Law and Public Safety, Institutions and Agencies and the Treasury Department, including tax rulings, Rafferty said.

Except in emergencies each proposed rule must, by law, appear in advance in the New Register, the official state rules publication issued monthly by the Administrative Procedure Division. This provides an opportunity for public consideration and suggested changes before any rule can be adopted, Rafferty emphasized.

Upon adoption, all new rules must then be printed in the New Jersey Administrative Code, also published by this division. This loose-leaf, constantly-updated set of rules began publication in April last year with five volumes; when completed for all departments last May it had grown to 22 volumes.

The next edition, to be distributed next month, will go to 28 volumes, containing nearly 15,000 pages.

A new addition to any state's administrative code will be a master index volume for all state government rules, made possible by the computer preparation of the New Jersey Code, Rafferty announced. The computer publication method also allows updating of all rules at fourmonth intervals.

The administrative director pointed out that the new administrative code is legally citable and that judicial notice is already being taken of it. Future editions will incorporate such court decisions, along with historical

He said the administrative code is the first single, central source for the rules and regulations of all state agencies and that it is entirely compatible with the New Jersey Statutes Annotated. Nearly 19,000 volumes have been sold to date, he added, with 583 of these in full sets.

School days on exhibition

The Newark Public Library will present an exhibit, "School Days: Then and Now," Sept. 26 in the third floor gallery.

Featuring antique prints and historic textbooks, the display will demonstrate the radical changes that have occurred in public education from the early 19th Century.

The exhibit will focus on the one-room school house, special schools for girls, foreign schools, teachers and school furniture. Material for the exhibit is taken from the library's picture and print collection and the Children's Department. The exhibit is free and will run through Nov.

The Newark Public Library will also feature the work of 12. black women artists from Northern New Jersey Oct. 10 continuing through Nov. 24. The art work will be displayed in the fourth floor gallery. Admission is free.

Turnpike is ready to salt roadways

It may not be a hard winter but the New Jersey Turnpike Authority is taking no chances. It is filling up its salt bins in readiness for the snow and ice that could swirl along the 141 miles of roadway.

With 23,000 tons of rock salt on the way to 10 locations in preparation for the snow storms the Authority hopes never comes, the Turnpike will be well equipped to combat the elements and insure the public's safety.

The rock salt is being supplied by the International Salt Co. of Stamford, Conn., which submitted the lowest of five bids received by the Authority, with a bid price of $326,000. The price per ton varies depending on the distances involved in the delivery to the maintenance locations.

The salt volumes required are less than usual because the mild winter last year left a surplus in various maintenance areas.

well as the traditional repertory.

The Guarneri will give more than 100 concerts this year, including a European tour, and make 17 appearances in New York City. They also will tour Japan and Australia.

Under a long term contract, they record exclusively for RCA. In anticipation of the Beethoven bicentennial, the Guarneri recorded all 16 of his quartets, and more piano quartet and quintet literature with Artur Rubinstein.

Their program at Newark State College will include quartets by Brahms, Mozart and Debussy. Ticket information may be obatined by calling the Music Department at 527-2108.

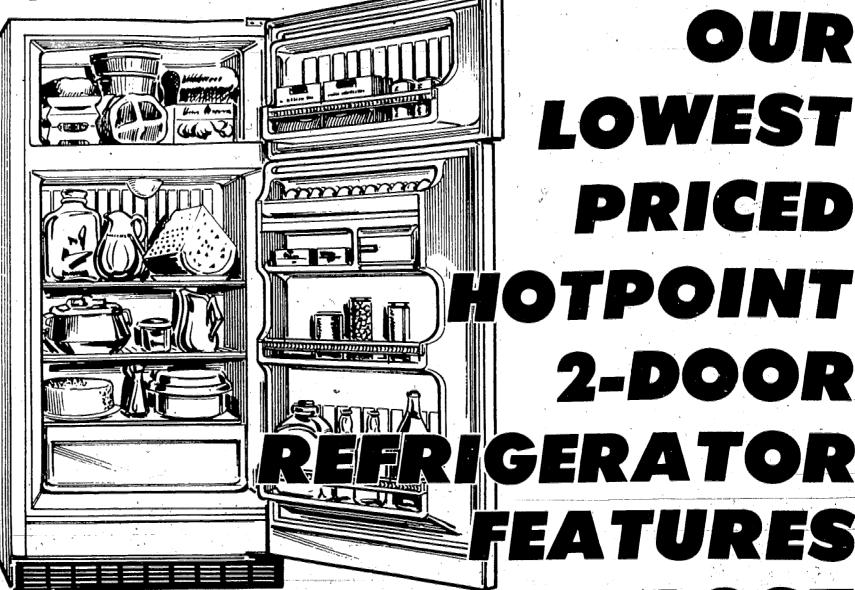

Pike service area honors Lombardi

By year end, the New Jersey Turnpike Authority expects to open the Vince Lombardi Service Area, its 14th and largest, at the northern end of the Turnpike. It will be the latest in the program of improvements to serve the growing influx of patrons now numbering 12 million or 16 percent of all persons traveling the

Under construction in Ridgefield, at the junction of the mainline and the westerly meadow route, the Vince Lombardi Service Area will feature a restaurant with a seating capacity of 300 and a service station with six pump isles. Nearby will be a park-ride facility for commuters to accommodate 1,000 cars and nearby too, will rise a three-story 300-room colonial type hotel targeted for completion in

"No other highway in the nation," said former Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, chairman of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, "is providing such patron services on such an extensive scale. All the basic services essential to travel comfort and safety, including police protection; are available on our road. You don't have to exit miles off the Turnpike to get what

No, we won't try and tell you this is the biggest, most luxurious refrigerator you can buy (although Hotpoint does make one that is). What we will tell you is, that for the money, this is the best refrigerator buy you'll find anywhere. Here's why: despite the low price, this Hotpoint offers the kind of quality that has made them worldfamous. And, it has the kind of 🤫 features that most people are looking for in a new refrigerator. Things like trim design—just 28" wide--and big capacity—a full 9.3 cubic feet in the fresh food section—2.46 cubic feet in the freezer area—full-width slide-out crispers---three door and a half shelves---pocketed egg racks---covered butter compartment-and, best of all, the fresh food compartment never needs defrosting. See it--and the complete line of Hotpoint Refrigerators--at your convenient BBD store.

Concerts to be given at cathedral

The fifth season of weekly free concerts at Newark's Cathedral of the Sacred Heart will begin with a performance by cathedral organist John Rose on Tuesday, Sept. 25, at Thereafter concerts will be offered each Tuesday evening through mid-May with the exception of Christmas and New Year's Days.

Last season an aggregate audience of over 13.000 attended Tuesday concerts at the cathedral, coming not only from every county in New Jersey, but from Pennsylvania, New York and Connecticut as well.

Rose, who founded the Cathedral Concert Series four years ago, is a member of the music faculty at the Newark campus of Rutgers University as well as organist and choirmaster at the cathedral.

He is also a concert organist of international reputation, having given three European performance tours and having regularly performed throughout the United States for the past several seasons. Other programs in this season's cathedral series will feature piano recitals, harpsichord recitals and choral concerts, but most of the programs will feature recitalists on the cathedral's gigantic pipe organ which is among the largest in the world and is regarded as one of the finest organs in this country.

Plenty to do and see in South Jersey Autumn attractions are pointed out by Heymann

Labor Day often means an abrupt end to a "gone so soon" summer. But it doesn't have to, according to Ronald M. Heymann, the state's Commissioner of Labor and Industry.

Although the summer of '73 was one of the most successful tourist seasons in the history of New Jersey, "there are countless attractions and family activities to be enjoyed through November, and some throughout the year,' says Heymann.

The southern part of the state, usually associated with basking and bathing, affords the visitor excitement and solitude without the worry of bucking summer traffic. Whether it's bicycling on the boardwalk, horseback riding on the beach, or watching the dog chase seagulls through the surf, there's something for

Grant by toundation to help with training of hospital trustees

An effort to intensify the training of the hospital policy maker has been launched through a grant from the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation.

The Hospital Research and Educational Trust (HRET) of New Jersey, based in Princeton, is now utilizing funds from the foundation in the development of 12 audiovisual programs geared to help hospital trustees face their burgeoning responsibilities. HRET-an independent affiliate of New Jersey Hospital Association--coordinates projects geared to enhance administrative, and educational processes inherent to the health care industry

'Hospitals have traditionally relied upon their trustees for direction in meeting the needs of the community," said Jack W. Owen, president of HRET, in announcing the project.

"But," added Owen, "in the context of today's health care complexities, the role of the trustee envelops a wide assortment of diciplines. The trustee is necessarily conversant in hospital administration, facility management and development, finances and health education—to say nothing of the trustee relationship with the medical staff."

Said Owen, the HRET project—expected to see national exposure—should "add an edge of expertise to the trustee's experience."

"This is not to say that the hospital trustee is a neophyte." Owen continued, "We are, in fact, manning an advisory panel for this project with trustees, as well as administrators and other health care project with trustees, as well as administrators and other health care profes-

PERSON SUFFERING HEARING LOSS OFFERED BOOKLET

U.S. Government Publication Available At No Charge

WILMINGTON, DEL. - A free United States Government booklet entitled "Hearing Loss - Hope Through Research," is now available to persons suffering a hearing loss.

Published by the U.S. Dept. of Public Health, Education and Welfare for use by the hard -of-hearing, the booklet covers such facts as inherited deafness, discovering early trouble, selecting a hearing aid, noise damaging and adults's hearing, and the main types of hearing loss.

Free copies of the booklet are available by writing to "Government Booklet, Independence Mall, Suite 65, 1601 Concore Pike, Wilmington, Delaware, 19803.

annual Striper Derby at Long Beach Island from Oct. 13 to Nov. 25. A total of 158 awards plus trophics will go to daily, weekly, and grand-prize fishermen hauling in the largest and heaviest stripod bass. Surf casters may register with the derby committee. From Labor Day through November there's a fall fishing rodeo in Ocean City waters and a winter flounder contest in Little Egg Harbor Township, Eaglewood Township and the Boro of Tuckerton, as the frigid waters begin to

Atlantic City's Striped Bass Derby opened Monday and continues through Oct. 28 with weekly prizes and awards for the largest and most fish caught

For the landlubber, there's Ocean Wonderland in Atlantic City which operates year round. It features performing porpoises, seals, as well as exotic fish, otters, sharks, alligators and penguins.

While visiting Atlantic City, there's the historic Absecon Lighthouse at Pacific and Rhode Island Avenues which guarded the Atlantic Coast from 1857 to 1933. It is 167 feet high with a light visible 19 miles at sea.

The Atlantic City Race Course features thoroughbred racing at the oval including the $100,000 Invitational United Nations Handicap this Saturday. Racing continues at the track through Nov. 24 with additional big meets anticipated.

Ocean Drive, from Atlantic City south to Cape May, is a ribbon of asphalt constructed in 1940. A chain of bridges and roadway, it winds through 40 miles of seashore islands making up the major resorts of the Jersey Cape — a scenic fall drive without the summer crowds.

Cape May County has historic origins dating back to 1609 and retains much of its historical flavor. In the City of Cape May, visitors can go back 125 years in time at the Victorian Village. Its attractions include some 600 homes restored to their original magic — spendid examples of period architecture. And nostalgic gas lights luminate parts of the city. Many relics from days of old are preserved in the Cape May County Museum and in museums located in Ocean City, Wildwood, and Cape May.

The fall beachcomber can delight to a pocketful of "Cape May Diamonds". Found on the Delaware side of the Cape May Peninsula, they are quartz pebbles varying in size and color. This curious treasure is the result of weathering and abrasion by sand and rocks for thousands of years. Two recent finds weighed in at almost a pound each.

After a brisk stroll on a deserted stretch of autumn-sand, Sunday-brunch-is-a-welcome reward at many of New Jersey's fine seafood restaurants open through the fall months. And rates are lowered after Labor Day at Shore hotels, and motels, for those who don't want to hurry home.

The Atlantus, one of several experimental ships built of concrete during World War I now lies at the foot of Sunset boulevard in Cape May Point where it was blown aground in a storm in Six miles from Wildwood, in Fishing Creek, the Hedge Gardens were started by Gus Yearicks some 40 years ago. There are now 175 different hedge pieces including Santa Claus and his reindeer, figures of a baseball game, ships, animals, and biblical scenes. Some scenes, such as the Queen Mary, took 18 years

Six miles north of Absecon, on U.S. Route 9, the Historic Towne of Smithville is open daily throughout the year. Originally built in 1787, it is a charming restoration of early American shops and 18th century buildings, plus an animal farm, numerous shops, stagecoaches, and seasonal activities for children.

Wheaton Village in Millville, is open all year round except Good Friday, Thanksgiving and Christmas. It is New Jersey's newest addition to nostalgic recreation of the architecture of the 1880's. The Village features one of the most extensive museum collections of Americanmade glassware in the museum, plus a country store, craft shops and a fullscale working reproduction of the original Wheaton Glass Factory - all in a Victorian setting.

For the outdoorsman or the photography buff, South Jersey boasts 141,475 acres of pine and forest. That includes Wharton, Lebanon, Penn State, Allaire and Bass River State Forests for hiking, picnicking, nature study, or

For those intrigued by days of old, there's the James Fenimore Cooper House in Burlington as well as Old St. Mary's the oldest Episcopal Church in the State, built in 1703. At 330 Mickle st., Camden, is the Walt Whitman House with original furnishings and mementos.

Clara Barton, who founded the American Red Cross, started New Jersey's first public school in a one-room building in Bordentown which is
