Fair to start bicentennial a little early

The U.S. will not officially mark its bicentennial until 1976, but a group of history-minded Mountainers plan an early celebration of the nation's birthday.

A day-long Heritage Workshop Exhibition Fair, designed to allow borough residents to "relive the rich colonial past of America," will be held Nov. 3 at the Deerfield School under the sponsorship of the Mountainside Bicentennial Committee.

The committee, comprised of representatives from 30 area organizations, met last Thursday evening at the Mountainside Public Library to formulate plans for the fair, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and came up with a program of varied events—all linked to the colonial lifestyle.

Display booths at the fairgrounds will feature such items as homemade bread and gingerbread, art and antiques, chinaware, garden arrangements and herbs. Also on view will be a variety of colonial crafts, including beaded flowers, calligraphy, candlemaking, china painting, decoupage, glass blowing, needlework, portrait and scene painting, quilting, woodworking and rock cutting, with the last to be demonstrated by professional lapidarians.

The more athletic among the fairgoers can participate in horseshoes, kite-flying, marbles, stilt-walking and bowling on the green—games popular in colonial times. The more sedentary will have the opportunity to take a hay ride or view a musical pageant, and all will be invited to sign the Bicentennial Declaration Roll Call commemorating the event. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

Matthew Powers is chairman of the Bicentennial Committee. Assistant co-chairmen are Roland Dixon, Patricia Honigan, Shirley Horner, Jean Powers and Mitzi Solmini.

Fuel oil outlook for schools now favorable, says board

Despite an earlier fear that the nationwide fuel oil shortage would create problems in the Mountainside school system, it now appears the borough Board of Education will be able to obtain a contract for heating oil in the near future.

Board attorney Charles Jerome, in charge of negotiations with oil supply companies, reported late last week progress had been made in talks with Wellin Oil, Inc., of Jersey City, the firm that supplied heating oil to the schools last year. Discussions also are underway with two other companies.

At the Sept. 11 Board of Education meeting, Jerome noted difficulties with all five companies he had approached for bids. He said they would state only that they might supply oil if they received an allotment from the federal government.

Reluctance of the firms to enter into a contract was blamed on the rising price of oil and the expected shortage of the commodity. Companies apparently fear any price quoted in a contract could later be lower than the going price for fuel. In addition, a contractual agreement with the board would entail submission of a performance bid, making the supplier liable for damages incurred if the promised fuel were not delivered.

Wellin, although utilized by the board last year, was not among the five firms first contacted. "In light of the fuel shortage, we felt we might do better by using companies in the Mountainside area," Jerome explained. When the local firms failed to give an acceptable response, Wellin was again considered.

JEROME SAID a vice-president of the Jersey City company, on vacation in Italy, was combining business with pleasure by seeking possible oil suppliers in that nation. A report on the executive's negotiations is expected this week.

If additional oil supplies are available, the shortage would be alleviated but another problem could arise, Jerome explained. New Jersey's sulphur content law, the strictest in the country, requires additional refining of foreign fuels so as to meet local standards. The result is an increase in price.

If the cost to the borough as quoted by Wellin is not acceptable, the school board will still not be out in the cold since offers have been received from two other firms. "I would say the situation right now looks favorable," Jerome stated.

In any case, Mountainside school children will be able to keep warm for a little while longer. An amount of fuel oil remaining from last year can heat the schools for at least a month, Jerome expects a contract to be signed before that supply runs out.

The board began seeking bids for oil in late August, after the Union County Educational Services Commission reported it was unable to obtain a supplier. Mountainside, along with several other school districts usually enters into joint bids with the Commission.

"They notified us of the problem in August," Jerome explained. "and told us we'd have to look out for ourselves this year."

CONSUMER'S FRIEND—Millicent Fenwick, director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, emphasizes a point during an address last week at an open meeting of the Mountainside Woman's Club. The former State Assemblywoman called for a more honest market place providing justice for the consumer. (Photo-Graphics)

THE NOVEMBER CANDIDATES

Abe Suckno

Abe Suckno, now serving as president of the Mountainside Planning Board, has lived in the borough for 12 years. During that period he has chalked up a record of service in a variety of community activities, a record he says influenced his decision to seek a two-year term on the Borough Council.

"Based upon the experience I've had in town with a number of local organizations, I feel I have the basic knowledge to represent the people and their particular wishes," the Republican candidate explained. "Besides 'working my way up' in various organizations, I've also helped in political campaigns, during which I was able to meet many people. I'm sure I can adequately represent them," he commented.

Suckno, in addition to working with the Planning Board for the past three years, serves as vice-president of the Mountainside Music Association and is a member of the borough's Cultural and Heritage Committee, the Mountainside Community Fund Committee, the PTA (of which his wife, Sonnie, is executive vice-president), and the Senior League Umpires.

He was a member of the Mountainside Board of Education from 1967 to 1971, served on the Mayor's 75th Anniversary Committee, and managed the local Republican campaign in 1971.

ABE SUCKNO

HAVING BEEN CLOSELY involved with the community for so long, Suckno says he has come to appreciate the uniqueness of a quiet, residential town located in the midst of a densely-populated urban area. It's the preservation of "Mountainside's character as a one-family-home community" he sees as the most important issue to be faced in the near future.

"I believe all efforts should be directed toward this end," Suckno stated. "Mountainside is the only basically one-family-residence town in Union County, and it is important to maintain that status, along with the

Police nab four on 'pot' charges

Union County Park Police arrested three men and a woman in Watchung Reservation in Mountainside early this week on marijuana charges.

At 3 a.m. Sunday, Sgt. Thomas Grady picked up Douglas J. Killinger, 21, and Kevin Monahan, 22, both of Hillside, for alleged possession and use of the drug. They were released on $100 bail each, pending an appearance in Mountainside Municipal Court Oct. 10.

Charles W. Donnelly, 26, of Colonia, and Susan Jane Postak, 22, of Woodbridge, were arrested midnight Monday by Officer Glen Schoemer for alleged possession of marijuana. They also were released on $100 bail each, and are to appear in court Oct. 31.

noting "every year they have included more and more events in their program."

The 41-year-old candidate, a native of Newark, lived in Springfield before moving to Mountainside. He is a partner in the Stair-Pak Products Co., Union, a manufacturing firm. He is a member of the Union Township Chamber of Commerce and the National Home Builders Association.

Besides the activities listed Suckno's volunteer efforts in the borough have included service as treasurer of the Indian Guides and as assistant cub master of the PTA Cub Scout pack. He is a past member of Columbia Lodge 176 F&AM and of the Westfield YMCA, and is a member of Temple Emanu-El, Westfield.

The Sucknos have two children: Les, a freshman at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and Marci, a fifth-grader at the Beechwood School. They reside at 289 Friar lane.

Coffee, cake offered attendants at meeting

Coffee and cake will be served at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, a half an hour before the regular monthly meeting of the Union County Regional High School District's Board of Education in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cafeteria, Springfield, so community residents may meet and talk with their Regional Board representatives.

The Regional District is composed of six communities: Berkeley Heights, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield.

Rev. Stanley French named Gospel Chapel interim pastor

The Rev. Stanley R. French, chairman of the Missions Department at Northeastern Bible College, Essex Fells, has been named interim pastor of the Mountainside Gospel Chapel, succeeding the Rev. Ronald S. Bence. He will assume his duties this Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Bence, pastor of the non-denominational chapel for the past two and a half years, left that post to become youth pastor at the First Baptist Church of Lincoln Park, Mich.

Rev. Mr. French, former pastor of Faith Baptist Church, Plainville, N.Y., has been a member of the Northeastern Bible College faculty since 1961. An associate professor of the Old Testament and history, he holds a B.A. degree from Columbia Bible College and an M.A.—from New York University. He is currently a Ph.D. candidate at NYU. Rev. Mr.

3 persons injured in traffic accidents

A Mountainside man, injured after the pickup truck he was driving was rammed by a car that apparently ran a stop sign, was among three persons hurt in borough traffic accidents during the week, Mountainside police report.

Police said John A. Fusco of 225 Central ave. was traveling east on Wyoming drive at 11:45 a.m. Monday when Florence Baroff of Springfield reportedly ran the stop sign at the intersection of Longview road and struck the truck in the side.

Mrs. Baroff, who told police she had not seen the sign, was issued a summons for the offense. She was not hurt in the mishap, but Fusco required treatment at Overlook Hospital and was taken there by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

At 1:45 a.m. Saturday, Joseph R. Poluhouich of Union was reportedly injured when his car ran off Rt. 22 near New Providence road, struck a highway sign and then careened back across the eastbound lanes, hitting the center island.

Police said Poluhouich, who claimed a truck had cut him off, was hurt in the crash but refused medical attention.

At 8:20 a.m. Monday, another accident involving a pickup truck occurred in the west-bound lanes of Rt. 22, near Summit road.

Police said the driver, James E. Caldwell of Union, told them he had put the truck into neutral, and when he hit the brakes, they "grabbed," causing the vehicle to pull to the left and strike the center island. The truck then rolled over and came to rest right-side-up on a driveway off the highway. No other vehicles were involved in the crash.

Caldwell suffered arm and leg abrasions and was taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad. The truck was owned by Master Heat Treating Inc., of Springfield.

French also studied at the Biblical Seminary in New York.

For five and a half years, Rev. Mr. French organized and led Hi-B.A. (High School Born Againers) Clubs in Nassau County, N.Y.; Cleveland and Tokyo. His work with the student evangelism groups was under a High School Evangelism Fellowship. Since 1949, most of Rev. Mr. French's work apart from college teaching has been involved with youth rallies and conferences.

A spokesman for the chapel noted that since Rev. Mr. French wishes to maintain his teaching work at the Bible College, he will not remain as permanent pastor in Mountainside. The Pulpit Committee of the chapel is now in the process of interviewing candidates for that post.

Rev. Mr. French lives in Caldwell with his wife, Dorothy, and their four children.

Consumer aide speaks Calls for 'better business place'

The monthly meeting of the Mountainside Woman's Club, held at the Mountainside Inn, had an "extra added attraction" Sept. 19 in the person of Millicent Fenwick, former state assemblywoman who now directs the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs.

The pipe-smoking, silver-haired Mrs. Fenwick, who began her career in public life long before the women's liberation movement became popular, has gone with gusto into the fray against unscrupulous businessmen. Since Jan. 3, when she assumed the directorship of the Consumer Affairs Division, her office has represented more than 3,000 persons. A spokesman for the division noted Mrs. Fenwick usually speaks "off the cuff" when

Thieves get battery from officer's car

A member of the Union County Park Police found himself the victim of thieves Saturday evening when he left his personal car in the lot at Echo Lanes in Mountainside.

Borough police said the off-duty officer, George DeCarlo, who had been bowling at the alleys, returned to his vehicle at 8 p.m. to find the battery had been removed.

Battery thieves were at work elsewhere in the borough that night. A similar theft was reported at 7 p.m. from a car parked on Orchard road.

Police continue probe of warehouse break-in

Mountainside police are continuing their investigation of a "break and entry" last week at the Bestway Products warehouse on Globe avenue.

Police said a manager for the firm, which deals in recordings, notified them Friday the building had been entered, but nothing was reported missing. Police said entry was gained through an exhaust fan outlet on the roof; a front window also had been broken.

appearing as a lecturer, and that's exactly what she did in Mountainside.

The 135 persons who attended the luncheon session heard her warn the American consumer is tired "of being treated like a nothing." "We intend to provide the conditions for the structure of a better business place," she stated. "Justice should be our goal."

Mrs. Fenwick wants to dispel any notion that the poor and uneducated are the only victims of dishonest business practices. "Not only are the poor 'taken,' she emphasized, "but large sums of money also are lost by the educated. An honest marketplace benefits everybody."

Following Mrs. Fenwick's address, a question-and-answer period was held. Mrs. H. Arthur Tonnesen was chairman for the luncheon program; Mrs. Joseph D'Altrui is president of the club.

In other business at the session, LaVerne Murphy of 1194 Ridge dr., Mountainside, was installed as a new member.

Republicans start door-to-door drive

Republican candidates Nicholas Bradshaw, Abe Suckno and Ruth Gibadjo started their door-to-door trek through Mountainside Saturday seeking support in Nov. 6 election.

Bradshaw and Suckno are candidates for three-year terms on the Borough Council; Mrs. Gibadjo is running for tax collector.

"We want to get around to meet as many of the voters as we possibly can, prior to election day," Bradshaw noted. "Not only do we have a message, but we want to answer any questions the citizens of our fine community might have."

"Our first day out was most encouraging," he added. "We found not only did most of the people we talked to know us, but all had a great interest in Mountainside and appreciated our visit."

Bradshaw, Suckno and Mrs. Gibadjo will continue to canvass the community, ringing doorbells and asking for support, during the remaining weekends until election day.

In other business, the Board approved the new incomes in accordance with federal and state regulations which stipulate eligibility of students in the free lunch program.

Approval was given for Mrs. Dilys Lambe, a Gov. ## Five students at Dayton semifinals in contest for Merit Scholarships

Principal Anthony J. Fiordaliso has announced that five students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, have been named semifinalists in the 1973 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The students, Jill A. Bernstein, Marc S. Blumenthal, Cory S. Krueger, Jonathan D. Sieber and Hal S. Wasserman, will compete for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring. In the 18 annual competitions completed to date, 34,450 students have won Merit Scholarships valued at more than $95.5 million.

According to Edward C. Smith, president of National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), "The approximately 15,000 semifinalists are representative of the nation's most academically talented young people, and they bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers and their communities."

"From this group will come many future leaders in business, industry and the professions. The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining."

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in the state on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT) administered last October to over one million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide. These students, who constitute about one-half of one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States, will complete high school and enter college in 1974.

NMSC identifies the semifinalists to all regionally accredited U.S. colleges and universities. Many students find this recognition useful in seeking financial aid from sources other than the Merit Program and in the process of gaining admission to college.

Semifinalists must qualify as finalists to advance to the competition for Merit Scholarships by fulfilling requirements that include receiving the endorsement of their schools, confirming their high PSAT-NMSQT scores on a second examination and by assistant basketball coach, Mary Plant, girls' hockey, Doris Anderson, GAA fall season, all of Gov. Livingston; Irene Pshenay, cheerleader advisor, John Kovalisky, assistant wrestling coach, Roland Marianni, assistant football coach, all at Jonathan Dayton.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School marching band will participate in the Lenape High School band festival in Medford on Sunday, Oct. 14.

August Caprio, coordinator of foreign languages who is a member of the Springfield Township Board of Education, received approval to attend the New Jersey School Boards Association Convention of Oct. 24-26 in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Irene Natale was appointed as a teacher aide at the Gov. Livingston Regional High School, effective Sept. 19. Mrs. Natale has prior experience as a cafeteria aide in the New Providence schools.

providing evidence of their academic and other accomplishments.

Every finalist will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships that are allocated on a state basis, according to each state's percentage of the total U.S. high school graduating class. Many will also be considered for renewal four-year Merit Scholarships.

NMSC will release the names of the Merit Scholarship winners in 1974 through the news media in three public announcements: winners of standard four-year Merit Scholarships, financed primarily by corporations and businesses, to be announced April 11; winners of one-time National Merit $1,000 Scholarships, to be named April 25, and winners of college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships to be named May 2.

Madden is a 1972 graduate of Seton Hall University where he attained a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Evening schedule changed at library

The Board of Trustees of the Springfield Public Library this week announced a change in the evening schedule. Beginning next Thursday the library will be open Thursday evenings until 9 instead of Friday evenings.

The new schedule will be as follows: Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Children's Department is open Wednesday evenings from 6 to 9 and daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

ON STAGE — Joseph F. Trinity, drama coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, demonstrates how scene should be played while Jeff Marshall studies his role as "Reverend Hale" in "The Crucible," which will be presented Nov. 9-10.

Dayton to stage Miller play about witch trials Nov. 9-10

Joseph F. Trinity, drama coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, has announced that Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" will be staged at Halsey Hall on Nov. 9-10.

The drama about the personal tragedy of the Salem trials, by implication, makes an eloquent case against intolerance using trumped-up hysteria.

Trinity, a graduate of Catholic University in Washington, D.C., is beginning his 14th season as director of Dayton's school play. His last four stage efforts at Dayton were: "Our Town," "Bad Seed," "Diary of Anne Frank" and "Enter Laughing."

Rehearsals started last week. The cast that includes Stephen Lecawiec as John Proctor; Lori Berezin as Elizabeth Proctor; Debbie De Meo as Abigail Williams; Debby Simon as Mary Warren, Ed Bilous as Reverend Parris, Stacy Strulowitz as Betty Parris and Holly Frank as Tituba.

Others in the cast include Debbie Arcidiacono, Sheryl Epstein, Leon Rawitz, Lucy Crom, Cindy Macy, Russell Gabay, Kurt Christoffers, Jeff Marshall, Elliot Melamed, David Hoffman, Morey Epstein, Nick Zavolas and Laurie Jacobs. Student director is Elyse Decker.

Trinity pointed out that "The Crucible" seems finer and more alive today than when it was first produced in 1953. Despite its setting—the Salem witch trials toward the end of the 17th Century—it is essentially a topical drama which, instead of becoming outmoded quickly, grows in stature with each presentation.

Dayton parents invited to talks with Fiordaliso

"Dayton Seriously" is the theme for a series of Parent-Teachers-Teachers Association (PTSA) meetings in which parents of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students can review high school programs with Principal Anthony Fiordaliso.

Fiordaliso, who announced the series at the first PTSA meeting last Thursday, said that the meetings would start at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria on Oct. 18, Nov. 29, Jan. 17, Feb. 28, March 21, April 25 and May 16.

The new principal addressed the PTSA gathering, which included Superintendent Donald Merachnik, Board President Mrs. Natalie Waldt, Board members Charles Vitale and Sonya Dorsky, Director of Personnel Charles Bauman, Director of Curriculum and Instruction Dr. Martin Siegel, Assistant Principal Miss Anne Romano, Brearley Regional Principal Joseph Malt and Dayton teachers Una Mellon and John Swedish. He said the purpose of "Dayton Seriously" is to make his office available to the community to discuss any problems on school courses that might arise during the school year, to provide an opportunity for face-to-face communication that might not be possible because of a parent's working hours and to develop a better understanding and spirit at Dayton so that the needs of the students—as well as the needs of the parents and community—might be realized.

Refreshments were served by the PTSA committee headed by President Francine Moore.

MMA board discusses programs for the year

The Mountainside Music Association discussed programs for the year at a board meeting held recently at the home of its president, Mrs. Louis Maas of 1063 Sunnyslope. Plans were made for welcoming newcomers to the community and introducing MMA to them. Other plans, according to Mrs. Morton Reich, included MMA sponsorship of a modern dance class for children from kindergarten through fifth grade, to be taught by Mary Lou Lunin, and a jazz dance class for women to be taught by Charles Queenan.

Y needs helpers for fall projects

Volunteers who'd enjoy trying their hand at some farm chores at the Westfield YMCA-YWCA's Four Seasons Outdoor Center in Lebanon Township are being sought by the Y center director Pat Schriver. The Outdoor Center is open to the people of Mountainside.

"We can offer a breathtaking setting for their labors—with our hills turning red, gold and russet—plus a variety of tasks to groups or individuals," said Miss Schriver.

Work parties will be on Saturday, Oct. 13; Sunday, Oct. 14; Saturday, Oct. 20; Sunday, Oct. 21; Saturday, Nov. 3, and Sunday, Nov. 4.

Projects listed include: taking down an old fence; constructing a split-rail fence; clearing an area of high grass so it can be mowed; removing aluminum docks from the new three and one-half acre lake, and putting together pre-cut picnic tables.

The Ys are converting a 153-acre pre-revolutionary farm in Hunterdon County's Lebanon Township into a family outdoor recreation center and environmental education area.

A number of other groups already have set dates for weekend camping trips at the center, director Schriver said. Those wishing further information may contact her at the Y, 233-2700.

Mrs. Charles Brackbill said that once again four seats will be available for six operas at the Met on Monday evenings, on a first come basis, with dates and operas to be announced. Theater parties to New York will be announced later.

The MMA will continue its sponsorship of its foster child, Rosie Chee, Navajo student in Gallup, N.M., through the Save the Children Federation.

Members also discussed continued support of the music programs in the schools as well as the purchase of musical instruments and equipment, and possibly redoing of the sound system at Deerfield School.

Gulden completes work to B.S. with high honors

Kirk D. Gulden of 1487 Barton dr., Mountainside, completed his work for a bachelor of science degree in microbiology at Michigan State University with high honors this summer.

Half fail physical 'fitness' test in YMCA kindergym classes

More than half the 4, 5 and 6-year olds taking part failed to pass a classic physical test, to determine their "fitness," administered in the Westfield YMCA's kindergym classes, it was revealed this week. The classes are open to Mountainside children.

The disturbing statistics were disclosed by the Y's associate physical director, Tchang Bok Chung, who administered the classic Kraus-Weber test for minimum strength and flexibility of key posture muscles.

Purpose of the tests was to supply correctional exercise to children who failed to pass—but Chung was dismayed at the number of children requiring them.

"I expected at least 80 percent to pass five tests," he said. "Failure to pass all of the tests indicates a muscle deficiency which should be corrected at once if the child is to function adequately in daily living." Prolonged neglect could mean painful back problems in later life, among other medical conditions.

"Since parents who enroll their children in physical programs are usually more dedicated than the average to their children's health, youngsters in the general population would probably do even worse," Chung added.

The most common failure—that of abdominal and back muscles—is attributable to a failure to walk, run, jump and climb enough, he noted.

Interestingly, girls did better than boys; 58 percent of the boys failed, compared to 50 percent of the girls, for an overall failure rate of 54 percent.

The statistics came from testing over three Y terms of 137 children in 11 kindergym classes, including 95 boys and 42 girls; 31 percent of the failures were of abdominal muscles, 29 percent of back muscles. All kindergym classes now include 10 minutes of instruction in the recommended correctional exercises—and the assignment of spending 10 minutes each evening at home—whether the child failed or passed.

"These exercises are designed to improve the child's strength and flexibility. They will do the same for parents," Chung said. "By making daily exercise a family activity, much can be done to get the children in the habit of good health."

Helpful Hints on Washer/Dryer Use

By Charlotte Mitchell
Director of Consumer Information
Elizabethtown Gas

Energy of all kinds must be conserved. Replacement of your old gas appliances with new more modern ones will help conserve natural gas, while saving you money, since newer models are more efficient and consume less fuel.

If you've just purchased a new dryer, wipe the drum with a damp cloth before initial use. To protect your freshly laundered clothes, as well as your appliances, clean all surfaces in like manner from time to time. If you have a new washer, clean all interior and exterior surfaces of the unit with mild detergent and warm water prior to using. Rinse with clear water and wipe dry.

The following suggestions will assist you to conserve natural gas when using your gas dryer:

1. Use the proper time and temperature settings for best results when laundering your clothes to get maximum performance from your dryer. Most modern fabrics require a warm or low heat setting and should be removed as soon as dry.
2. Don't overdry—this not only wastes fuel, but also sets excessive wrinkles, and can cause excessive shrinking.
3. Clothing need not be dried in many small loads; generally items that are washed together can be dried together.
4. Accumulation of lint on the dryer lint screen reduces efficiency. Remove lint from screen after each load is dried.
5. Make sure your washer is operating properly so that clothes are adequately spinning. This will keep drying time to a minimum, saving fuel as well as wear and tear on your laundry.

You'll Love What BLACKSTONE Will Do For Your Laundry—And You!

You'll love that soft, fluffy feel of your towels, that smooth, wrinkle-free look of your permanent press clothes—and you'll love how easy it all is for you with a work-saving Blackstone washer and gas dryer. Just pick your settings, push a button—and Blackstone does the rest!

Blackstone gas dryers offer the exclusive "Visual Lint Trap", which reminds you to remove the lint and makes it a snap to do. The dryers can be paired up with matching Blackstone Automatic clothes washers, with features like famous "Magik-Balance"—another Blackstone exclusive that eliminates vibration and assures a complete cycle every time.

Whether you buy a replacement dryer, the washer, or both... remember, Elizabethtown Gas includes delivery and installation plus a one-year warranty on all parts and service. See them now—in white and decorator colors—at your nearest Elizabethtown Gas showroom.

Letters To Editor

CHARTER QUESTION EXPLAINED

The voters of Union County have their first opportunity to authorize a special study of their county government. Union is one of nine counties putting this proposal before their citizens at the November general election. These studies may, or may not, lead to basic changes within these counties.

In the years since 1857 when Union County was established, the county has accumulated a complex array of responsibilities, agencies and boards (some mandated by the state) while having neither the legal power nor the flexibility to reorganize its government to meet these changing circumstances more efficiently. This is true, of course, of all counties in the state. The legislature, recognizing the problem, enacted the Optional County Charter Law in 1972, establishing optional forms of county government and the procedure by which the structure of county government can be changed, should the voters so desire.

Responding to this opportunity, the Board of Freeholders has placed the following on the ballot:

"Shall a charter study commission be elected to study the present governmental structure of Union County, to consider and make findings concerning the form of county government and to make recommendations thereon?" On the same ballot will appear the names of candidates for the charter study commission, from whom nine are to be elected, to serve if the study is approved by the voters.

Any registered voter of the county who has obtained 200 signatures on a nominating petition may be placed on the ballot; the deadline for filing is 4 p.m. today. Candidates run independent of each other or party label and, as required by the OCCL, will appear on the ballot free of any suggestion of slate or ticket.

If the ballot question passes, the commissioners will meet within 15 days after election to elect a chairman and vice-chairman, plan their work and adopt rules of conduct. They may appoint one or more consultants and clerical help to assist them. Their budget is submitted to the freeholders, who appropriate the amount necessary for the full conduct of the study, including publishing the final report. Commissioners receive no pay but may be reimbursed for necessary expenses.

As provided by the OCCL, an advisory board will be established, consisting of the director of the Board of Freeholders, the county chairman of both major political parties, the mayors of the largest and the smallest municipality of the county, a state senator and an assemblyman or assemblywoman from the area. This advisory board may participate in the deliberations of the commission, but without the right to vote or to endorse or dissent from any report of the commission.

The charter study commission will have nine months in which to complete its study and report back to the people on its recommendation, which would be one of the following: One of the four forms of government provided in the OCCL, a special charter or no change.

If one of the four forms of the OCCL is recommended, it will appear on the ballot in November 1974, for acceptance or rejection by the voters. If the recommendation is for a special charter, this is first submitted to the state legislature and must be approved by two-thirds of all members of both houses and signed by the governor before coming back to county voters. If the recommendation is for no change in the form of county government, there is no further action; however, the commission has the option of submitting to the freeholders proposals for improving the efficient administration of the county, such as the adoption of an administrative code.

Descriptions of the alternative plans possible under the OCCL will be forthcoming in this newspaper; the primary decision to be made by voters now is, "Shall a study of Union County government be initiated?"

Adelines unit to entertain at Ashbrook

The Madison Hill Chapter of Clark Sweet Adelines, Inc., will take part in a nationwide observance of "Share-A-Song" when the group entertains at the Ashbrook Nursing Home in Scotch Plains on Wednesday. More than 23,000 women of the Sweet Adelines will entertain from Oct. 1-6 in the U.S. Canada and the Panama Canal Zone.

The women will share their songs with hospital patients, senior citizens, shoppers, school children and civic groups. This is the fifth year that Sweet Adelines, Inc., has carried out this program for the promotion, instruction and enjoyment of four-part barbershop harmony.

Madison Hill Chapter will also participate in the charity bazaar at the Woodbridge Mall next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, performing barbershop favorites for shoppers.

The Sweep Adelines have also sponsored a tour of nine quartets through Southeast Asia and Vietnam and perform at charity benefit shows.

Persons interested in joining the group are invited to a rehearsal. Arrangements may be made by calling Mrs. Louis Viggiano, 388-9055.

Seniors sponsor 'Candidates Day'

State senate, assembly and freeholder candidates will take part in a Candidates Day sponsored by the Senior Citizens Council of Union County from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, at Burnet Junior High School, Morris and Caldwell avenues, Union.

Raymond O'Day, chairman, announced that the number of speakers was restricted to those running for the county board and for legislative seats in Districts 20, 21 and 22 because of "the lengthy list of candidates" on the ballot this year.

O'Day added, "We hope senior citizens will take advantage of this opportunity to meet the candidates and express their views on the needs of senior citizens in Union County. In order to make the meeting available to all senior citizens, there will be free bus transportation throughout the county. The deadline for bus reservations is Friday, Oct. 5."

He said bus reservations may be made with any member of the transportation committee:

Berkeley Heights, Mrs. Sarah Joyce, 464-5336; Hillside, Mrs. Mary McTaggart, 354-7121; Kenilworth, Jack Landau, 276-7743; Linden, Mrs. Josephine Parris, 862-1678.

New Providence, Mrs. Marguerite Andrews, 464-8688; Roselle, Fiore Vincelli, 245-0209; Roselle Park, John Murphy, 245-6968; Springfield, Mrs. Madeline Lancaster, 467-3580.

Union, Mrs. Evelyn Frank, 686-3998; Westfield, Victor Kruse, 233-1370 and Winfield, Mrs. Vera Renz, 925-3518.

Family ice skating to begin Oct. 5 at Warinanco

Parents accompanying their children will have the first opportunity of the season for ice skating when the Union County Park Commission's Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center in Roselle opens next week on Friday, Oct. 5 at 6 p.m.

The first two hours, as on succeeding Friday nights, will be "family night" sessions, when children may skate only if accompanied with a parent. Youngsters who plan to begin skating, if not with a parent, must wait for the general session which begins at 8 p.m. and runs to 10:30 p.m.

All indications point to an active season at the center, including advance reservations for organizations and groups for skating parties, ice hockey and other approved specialized use.

The Ice Skating Center, opened in 1961, has played host to well over 660,000 skaters in 12 years. The roof was built in 1968, permitting many additional days of skating. Ice making equipment at the center assures skating enthusiasts of ice throughout the season without the need for waiting for ice to form on lakes, streams and ponds in the Union County park system.

The facilities building offers skaters a warming room with an open hearth fireplace, a snack bar, skate shop, locker room and sanitary facilities.

In addition to general skating sessions, special group instruction for adults and children, Girl Scout merit badge instruction and a hockey clinic are available. Public figure skating clinics are scheduled by the Union County Figure Skating Club in cooperation with the Park Commission on Monday, Oct. 15, and Monday, Nov. 5, from 6 to 8 p.m. Other group skating instruction and private lessons will begin during the same period.

General skating sessions will be held every weekday morning, including Saturdays, except Mondays, from 9:30 a.m. to noon and on Sundays from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Afternoon sessions will be held every afternoon, including Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. On Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, additional "early matinee" sessions will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Evening sessions will be held every night of the week, except Tuesdays and Wednesdays, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. At the "family night" session only children accompanied by a parent will be permitted in the Ice Center.

Rates at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center are as follows: at the weekday morning and afternoon sessions, children 15 years of age and under will pay a 50-cent fee and adults a $1 fee; on weekday evenings, children will pay 75 cents and adults $1; on weekends, at the morning, afternoon and evening sessions, children will pay 75 cents and adults $1; at the Friday "family-night" sessions children will pay 75 cents and adults $1.

Skating Center schedules and activities are reported on a special Park Commission "events" telephone, 352-8410.

Adult hobby show to be held Sunday at Science Center

The annual adult hobby show will be conducted on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation. The show, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Brain of Warren, will include demonstrations or explanations of some of the wide variety of hobby projects and interests on display. Admission is free.

On Monday through Thursday, at 4 p.m., half-hour nature talks for children have been arranged at Trailside by Donald W. Mayer, director. The subject is "Life In A Swamp." The center is operated by The Union County Park Commission.

At the Trailside Planetarium, on Sunday at 2, 3 and 4 p.m., the subject will be "Mazzaroth In His Season," an explanation of the precession of the equinoxes.

On Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 8 p.m., a new program, "Circle of Stone," a description of Stonehenge in England, will be presented at the Planetarium.

As the Planetarium seats only 35 persons, tickets issued at the Trailside office are on a first-come, first-served basis. Children under eight years of age are not admitted.

'Sneak preview' at Y Children try out the programs

A recent registration day at the Eastern Union County YMHA included "sneak previews" all activities that will be offered this fall. The children worked with clay, played the recorder, listened to the guitar, helped make popcorn, acted out stories, looked at model rockets and guinea pigs, made collages, talked about Jewish culture, played xylophones and learned about the Karl Orff method of music.

Anyone who missed registering for the various courses and activities may still do so, either by phone or by mail. The courses are: Jewish culture class 1, 11 and 111; Orff music, for nursery through fourth grades; Nursery for nursery through fourth grades; sculpture and ceramics, for fifth and sixth grades; guitar, for third through sixth grades; recorder, for third through sixth grades; Nursery Fun Club, nursery age children.

Also, international folk dancing, third through sixth grades; arts and crafts, kindergarten through second grades; Science and Nature Club, second through fifth grades; Cooking Club, second through fourth grades; Puppetry Club, second through fourth grades; Story Theater, kindergarten through second grades; Sports Club, fifth and sixth graders; and Club F-I-SI, boys and girls in fifth and sixth grades.

Two changes in schedule have been made.

Story Theater will be given from 2:45 to 4 p.m. rather than from 1:30 to 2:45 p.m., as the catalog indicates. The Orff Music Class, originally offered for 4, 5, 6 and 7-year-olds only, will open a second class for the 7, 8 and 9-year-old age group. Mrs. Sue Schneider, instructor, said parents of children who are taking the course may participate.

A modern dance class for children may also be opened if there is enough interest. The hobby and gameroom this year will include activities such as arts and crafts, cartoons, games and music as well as a carpeted quiet corner for reading and homework. The schedule for the gameroom is: Tuesday and Thursday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1:20 to 4 p.m.

Rock festival to be held by Exploring Division

The Exploring Division of the Union Council of Boy Scouts will sponsor a rock festival at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, at the Masonic Hall in Elizabeth.

The 4-H Extension Service of Union County will provide music by three bands, the Tamberlaine, the Gangway and the Illusions.

There are nineteen million ex-cigarette smokers in the United States: about one in five adult men in this country has dropped the habit.

Those who give up cigarettes report a great sense of satisfaction, of tremendous pride in being able to do it. To learn a new way of living, a way without cigarette smoking, is very rewarding to the ego—and to the ego's mate.

you can kick the Habit.

As You Approach Q Day

Many stress willpower as the decisive factor in giving up cigarettes. For them the sense that they can manage their own lives is of great importance. They enjoy challenging themselves and, with an effort of will, they break the cigarette habit.

Thus, some psychologists describe stopping cigarettes as an exercise in self-mastery, one that introduces a new dimension of self-control.

Others, often successful in many aspects of living, find that willpower does not help them in giving up cigarettes. They try to stop, they do not, and they feel guilty over their weakness.

This is a mistake, since many smokers fail in their first and second, even their fifth attempts, and then finally succeed. Those whose "will" fails in breaking the habit are not weak but different. Their approach must be less through determination and more through relearning new behavior with patience and perseverance.

Self-suggestion, when one is relaxed, aimed at changing one's feelings and thoughts about cigarettes can be useful.

One health educator remarked recently, "nothing succeeds like willpower and a little blood in the sputum."

To think of stopping smoking as self-denial is an error: the ex-smoker should not believe that he is giving up an object of value, however dependent he may be on it. If he begins to feel sorry for himself and broods on his sufferings, they may well become more severe and indeed unendurable. He must recognize that he is teaching himself a more positive, more constructive, more rewarding behavior.

Keep A Track Record

Many smokers have found that a useful step in understanding their smoking is the keeping of a daily record on a scale like that below.

In your gradual withdrawal you may decide to eliminate those daily cigarettes that you find are rated 1, 2 or 3 on the scale, i.e., ones you want least.

Or you may wish to give up first the cigarettes you like most. In any case keeping a smoking log will give you information about yourself, make you more aware of what your smoking habits are.

You may find that you are largely a social smoker, that smoking makes you feel closer to others, more welcome at a party, that you seem to have more friends. A cigarette may play a surprisingly large part in your picture of yourself as a mature and successful man.

How do you convince yourself that people like and respect you for more important reasons than for your cigarette? Try going without a cigarette and see.

PLUS AND MINUS

Write down carefully, after some thought, in one column the reasons why you smoke and in another all the reasons why you should give up cigarettes.

As you turn this exercise over in your mind, new material will occur to you for one or the other columns. Thoughtful concentration on your reasons for giving up cigarettes is important in changing your behavior.

SCORE CARD

Some cigarettes are more important to you than others. This score card will show you how much you smoke during each hour and how much you want each cigarette, on a scale of 1 (low need) to 7 (high need). A check mark opposite 2 indicates a low need for the cigarette, a check opposite 5 indicates a rather strong need. The hours on the chart are from 6 AM to 1 AM. By rating yourself on this scale of 1 to 7 you can see which cigarettes are most needed and decide which ones to eliminate.

Try Cutting Down...

An important first step in the process of giving up cigarettes for many smokers is to set the date for Q Day, when you are going to stop completely and, as it approaches, to gradually reduce the number of cigarettes you smoke, day by day, or week by week.

A good system is to decide only to smoke once an hour—or to stop smoking between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, 11 and 12, 1 and 2, 3 and 4, etc. And then to extend the nonsmoking time by half an hour, an hour, two hours.

You may decide to halve the cigarettes you smoke week by week, giving yourself four weeks to Q Day.

How about smoking half of each cigarette?

In the process of reducing the number of daily cigarettes, try various possibilities: if you have one pocket in which you always carry your pack, put it in another so that you will have to fumble for it. If you always use your right hand to bring your cigarette to your mouth, use the left hand. Is it your custom to rest the cigarette in the right corner of the mouth? Try the left side.

Make it a real effort to get a cigarette: Wrap your package in several sheets of paper or place it in a tightly covered box. If you leave your change at home you won't be able to use a cigarette machine.

Shift from cigarettes you like to an unpalatable brand.

Before you light up, ask yourself, "Do I really want this cigarette or am I just acting out of empty habit?"

A smoker may find an unlighted cigarette in the mouth is helpful. Others enjoy handling and playing with a cigarette.

Cigarette smoking is a habit that is usually very well learned—learning the habit of not smoking can be difficult. It can help in breaking into your habit chain to make yourself aware of the nature and frequency of your smoking behavior.

Do you really want this cigarette

Approaches in Giving up Cigarette Smoking

(If you don't stop immediately and permanently.)

1. List the reasons for and against smoking.
2. Select Q Day—change to low tar and nicotine cigarette.
3. Chart your smoking habits for at least two weeks: how many cigarettes, when, the most and least important.
4. Repeat each night, at least ten times, one of your reasons for not smoking cigarettes.
5. Eliminate one category of cigarettes: the most or the least desired.
6. Secure a supply of substitutes: mints, gum, an inhaler, ginger root, etc.
7. Quit on Q Day—try the different substitutes as the wish to smoke recurs—enlist your wife or a friend in a busy series of events: eating well, going to the movies or theater, exercise and many long walks, moderate drinking.
8. If you are depressed, see your physician and discuss your symptoms.
9. Keep reminding yourself, again and again, of the shocking risks in cigarette smoking.

THE WEEK BEFORE Q-DAY

Think over your list of reasons why you should not smoke: the risk of disease, the blurring of the taste of food, the cost, the cough, the bad breath, the mess and smell of morning-after ashtrays.

Concentrate each evening when you are relaxed, just before you fall asleep, on one dreadful result of cigarette smoking. Repeat and repeat and repeat that single fact. Drive home another fact the next night and another the next.

Review the facts that you know about the risks of cigarette smoking. Remind yourself that there, but for the grace of God go you, that you may indeed, if you continue smoking, lose six and a half years of life, that—if you are a heavy smoker—your chances of dying between 25 and 65 years of age are twice as great as those of the nonsmoker. Are the six minutes of pleasure to a heavy smoker in a cigarette worth six fewer minutes of life? Would you fly in an airplane if the chances of crash and death were even close to the risks of cigarette smoking? Think over why it is that 100,000 physicians have quit cigarette smoking.

Do You Believe In "Cold Turkey" Quitting?

Yes, for some, no, for others. If you are a really "addicted" smoker, psychologists favor the sudden, decisive break.

For some, gradual withdrawal is less painful and entirely satisfactory.

Some cigarette smokers shift to pipes and cigars—there is of course some risk of mouth cancer from these but over-all mortality of cigar and pipe smokers is only a little higher than among nonsmokers, if the smoke is not inhaled.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

What about going to a cigarette withdrawal clinic?

If there is a clinic or program in your community, you may find it useful. The American Cancer Society favors such efforts.

Sharing your withdrawal experiences with others and working with them on a common problem can be very helpful. The clinic may make it considerably easier in various ways to stop cigarette smoking.

However, remember, no clinic can provide a sure result. In this matter you must be both patient and physician.

Shall I Make A Big Thing Of Q-Day?

Some find it most satisfactory to work on a schedule in which Q Day, quitting day, is singled out as the important, decisive day in their personal lives—that indeed it is.

Others who have known for a long time that cigarettes are bad for them and that sooner or later they will stop, wake up one morning and say to themselves "This is it. No more cigarettes."

What motivates them? An obituary, an anti-smoking commercial on television, a magazine article, a leaflet brought home from school by a child, a worried look from their son, being fed up with a repeated cough. There are many possible stimulants to stop but almost always beneath the casual seeming but bold decision, are months, often years of thought and worry.

What If I Fail To Make It?

Don't be discouraged. Many thousands who finally stopped did so only after several attempts.

Some people prefer to stop for just one day at a time. They promise themselves 24 hours of freedom from cigarettes and when the day is over they make a commitment to themselves for one more day. And another. And another. At the end of any 24-hour period they can go back to cigarettes without betraying themselves—but they usually do not.

Is Smoking A Real Addiction?

This depends on your definition of words. In any case smokers obviously can become very strongly dependent on cigarettes.

However, the discomfort that most feel at giving up cigarettes is not like the painful withdrawal symptoms that drug addicts report.

Giving up cigarettes is much closer to the discomfort and the irritation produced by dieting than to the agony of stopping a drug. As so many know, dieting in an effort to lose fifteen or twenty pounds can be a most uncomfortable experience—but when you have done it, you have a fine feeling.

How About Ashtrays?

One school of thought asks, do you leave a bottle of whiskey near an alcoholic? Their recommendation is to get rid of cigarettes, ashtrays, anything that might remind a smoker of his former habit.

Another school of thought take a different view and even suggest carrying cigarettes to demonstrate to yourself that you can resist temptation. Choose for yourself.

Shall I Tell Others Of My Decision?

Some do, some don't. Some find that the wider they spread the news of their decision the easier it is for them to make it stick. Others regard not smoking as their own personal business and keep it almost entirely to themselves. Will you strengthen your decision if your wife and friends know that you have committed yourself?

Will I Gain Weight?

Many do. Food is a substitute for cigarettes for many people. And your appetite may be fresher and stronger.

During the first few weeks of giving up cigarettes some psychologists recommend pampering yourself: eating well, drinking well, enjoying those things that are pleasant and fulfilling.

Some people, those to whom self-mastery is vital, get rewards out of controlling their wish for fattening food at the same time that they are licking the urge for cigarettes.

Again, it depends upon the person and his approach.

How About Hypnosis?

Its helpfulness in stopping smoking is not accepted. Why not discuss the matter with a physician, if you are interested?

Shall I See My Physician? YES

However, the problem is yours, not his, and he may not feel that he can be helpful. On the other hand he may be able to give you sympathetic support and may prescribe medication. He can be helpful, also, in suggesting a diet which will prevent you from gaining too much weight.

Physicians as a profession have been leaders in acting on the risks of cigarette smoking: the Public Health Service estimates that 100,000 physicians (half of the physicians who once were cigarette smokers) have kicked the habit. A California study shows that only 21.3 per cent of all physicians in the state are cigarette smokers now.

Why Do So Many People Smoke Cigarettes?

Surely one reason is that the cigarette industry spends about $300,000,000 a year in promoting the habit and in challenging the facts that scientists have produced that point to the dangers of the habit.

Another reason is that something in cigarettes, probably nicotine, is habit forming: smokers become dependent rather rapidly.

Cigarette smoking is essentially a 20th century habit, encouraged by wars, by brilliant advertising, and by the development of remarkably efficient automatic machinery that produces those millions of round, firmly packed cigarettes.

It is only within the last 15 years that we have learned, through research pioneered by the American Cancer Society, that this personal and socially accepted habit is extremely dangerous. Cigarette smoking is deeply embedded in our life: agriculture, industry, government, the communications media, all have a stake in it. It is still widely accepted, even though proven to be a most certain hazard to health.

Because promotion is important in maintaining the habit's popularity, the Society believes all cigarette advertising in all media should be terminated. We hope that this goal will be achieved voluntarily and that governmental action won't be necessary.

Dr. Silvan Tomkins distinguishes four general types of smoking behavior. An abbreviated summary of the types follows:

Four Smoking Styles

Habitual Smoking;

here the smoker may hardly be aware that he has a cigarette in his mouth. He smokes as if it made him feel good, or feel better, but in fact it does neither. He may once have regarded smoking as an important sign of status. But now smoking is automatic. The habitual smoker who wants to give up must first become aware of when he is smoking. Knowledge of the pattern of his smoking is a first step towards change.

Positive Affect Smoking;

here smoking seems to serve as a stimulant that produces exciting pleasure, or is used as a relaxant, to heighten enjoyment, as at the end of a meal. Here a youngster demonstrates his manhood or his defiance of his parents. This smoker may enjoy most the handling of a cigarette or the sense and sight of smoke curling out of his mouth. If these smokers can be persuaded to make an effort, they may find giving up cigarettes relatively painless.

Negative Affect Smoking;

this is sedative smoking, using the habit to reduce feelings of distress, fear, shame, or disgust or any combination of them. This person may not smoke at all when things go well, on vacation, or at a party, but under tension, when things go badly, at the office or at home, he reaches for a cigarette. These smokers give up often, but when the heat and pressure of the day hit them, when there's a challenge, they find it very hard to resist a cigarette. A strong substitute, like nibbling ginger root may be useful.

Addictive Smoking;

the smoker is always aware when he is not smoking. The lack of a cigarette builds need, desire, and discomfort at not smoking. With this increasing need is the expectation that a cigarette will reduce discomfort—and the cigarette does give relief—for a moment. Pleasure at smoking is real, just as the buildup of discomfort at not smoking is real, sometimes rapid and intolerable. The enjoyment of the cigarette, however, is very brief, and may be disappointing—but the suffering for lack of even slight relief is considerable.

For this smoker, tapering off doesn't seem to work: the only solution is to quit cold. Once you have been through the intense pain of breaking your psychological addiction, you are unlikely to start smoking again. The experience of giving up has been too uncomfortable—and too memorable for you to risk having to go through it again.

Some such smokers have found it useful to increase during the week before Q Day the number of cigarettes smoked, to go from two packs to four packs, to force themselves to smoke so that their bodies will be in actual revolt against the double dose of tar and nicotine.

For information on a Smoker's Self-Testing Kit (four questionnaires, etc., to help one to understand personal reasons for and style of smoking) write to the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, United States Public Health Service, 4040 North Fairfax Drive, Arlington, Va., 22203.

FDU lists night class in reading

The Learning Center of Fairleigh Dickinson University is offering fall evening classes in reading improvement for high school graduates, college students and adults at the Teaneck-Hackensack and Rutherford campuses, it was announced by Dr. Rita D. Fass, director of the Center.

College level courses are offered to improve reading speed, comprehension and vocabulary; preliminary testing is part of the course. Classes begin Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, at Rutherford and Friday evening, Oct. 12, at the Teaneck-Hackensack campus.

The course consists of intensive work for 30 hours over 10 weeks. The student is taught how to get the meaning of a passage in the most efficient manner. He increases his vocabulary and accelerates his speed.

In addition to timed exercises, both in and outside of class, he is given practice with the tachistoscope, a projector using a flashmeter which throws words, phrases, sentences and numbers on a screen at times ranging from one second to 1/100th of a second.

Comprehension is never sacrificed for mechanical speed; both are built up as the course progresses.

Although there is a basic textbook for the course, the student is encouraged to apply the principles and methods to his own problems in reading materials pertaining to his work outside.

Registration may be made at the Learning Center, 171 Montross ave., Rutherford. For applications or further information, call the Center at 933-5000, extensions 281 or 282.

Turnpike toll: no change in rates charged — so far

When the New Jersey Turnpike was opened to the public on January 15, 1952, the driver of a passenger car traveling the full Turnpike length of 118 miles from Deepwater to Ridgefield Park paid a toll of $1.75.

Today, nearly 22 years later, the toll he pays for the full 118-mile trip is still $1.75. That averages to 1.48 cents per mile — the lowest passenger car toll on any of the major toll roads in the nation, with the exception of the Ohio Turnpike (241 miles), with a per-mile toll of 1.45 cents.

The comparison of toll rates is disclosed in a survey report of 31 toll roads in the nation just released by the International Bridge, Tunnel and Turnpike Association, Washington, D.C. Passenger cars — and they represent 84 percent of all New Jersey Turnpike traffic —

Staffed by Indians

Since Project Hope assumed management of Sage Memorial Hospital at Ganado, Ariz., on the 16-million-acre Navajo Reservation, nearly all positions at the hospital have been filled by qualified Indian personnel.

still enjoy the low rates while traveling on a Turnpike vastly different from the 1952 edition. William J. Flanagan, executive director of the Authority, stated he did not know how long the Turnpike could stay with the 1952 toll rates.

"Labor and material increases have out-distanced volume increases," he said. "Add the expense of providing the best and most modern safety features, together with the cost of building in additional capacity, and you have an operation that is going to require additional income very shortly."

Since the original Turnpike opened in 1952, motorists have been receiving the benefits of a 12-lane dual-dual section, three extensions and a whole array of road, bridge and safety improvements in a continuing program of Turnpike betterments, Flanagan said.

While the passenger car—or Class 1—tolls have remained unchanged since the Turnpike opened in 1952, the tolls paid by commercial vehicles are among the lowest, also. However, a fair comparison of these rates with other toll roads is not possible. Toll rates on the New Jersey Turnpike are based on the number of axles on a vehicle, while some other toll highways determine the rates by truck weights.

Elin-Unger JWV Post to circulate petitions

Jack Schechter of Hillside, commander of Elin-Unger Post 273 of the Jewish War Veterans, announced this week that the post will circulate petitions in support of a proposed national Tay-Sachs disease counseling and screening program.

He said a bill now before Congress would provide inexpensive blood tests to identify prospective parents who carry the gene mutation that causes Tay-Sachs, a disease found most frequently among Jews of Eastern European origin.

Conference slated to discuss strategy on transit services

State Transportation Commissioner John C. Kohl said this week that efforts are under way to schedule a conference to develop strategy for improving transit in New Jersey. The conference originally had been scheduled for early October.

Officials of Princeton University's Transportation Program and the New Jersey Press Association will co-sponsor the conference, Kohl said.

The conference will be held on the university campus and all arrangements will be made by the university.

The coordinating committee of representatives from the university, the press association and the Department are attempting to arrange for a date convenient for participants. As soon as that date is determined, it will be announced, Kohl said.

The conference is being planned to bring together state legislative leaders, New Jersey's Congressional delegation and officials concerned with problems of the environment and energy as they relate to the state's transportation needs.

The objective, Kohl explained, is to try to identify resources, both available and potential.

Executive is appointed for county commission

Mrs. Susan Hollander of Princeton has been appointed executive director of the Union County Cultural and Heritage Commission, it was announced this week by Mrs. Garrett M. Keating, chairman of the commission. Funded by the Union County Board of Freeholders, the commission is the first in the state to begin operations to "promote public interest in local and county history, in the arts, and in the cultural values and traditions of the community, the state and the nation."

The appointment of Mrs. Hollander and the opening of the commission's offices at Union County Community College mark the expansion of the programs already under way. "Vantage Points," the first publication of the commission, describes all Union County landmark buildings open to the public.

Mrs. Hollander is working with county schools and community groups as the commission develops plans for the county's celebration of the nation's bicentennial.

Mrs. Hollander was previously employed as assistant director of the Institute of International Education in New York and the Atlanta Bureau of Jewish Education. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Smith College, she took undergraduate and graduate studies at Columbia University in American and Latin American history and art.

She is a member of the board of the Princeton High School Parent Teacher Association and the Princeton Jewish Center and was formerly an officer of the League of Women Voters in New York, PTA president and East Manhattan area representative of the New York United Parents Association.

Dr. Meyers named liaison unit member

Dr. Marcia Meyers, a member of the Union College Biology Department, has been appointed faculty representative to the Union College-Union County Technical Institute liaison committee, it was announced by Prof. George Zirnite, chairman of the faculty.

The liaison committee coordinates educational programs offered by the two institutions, which are serving the community college needs of Union College under contract with the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education.

Dr. Meyers is a graduate of New York University, where she earned her baccalaureate, master's and doctoral degrees. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

Dr. Meyers is married and the mother of two children.

Dr. Augusto Salvatore of Plainfield, chairman of the Mathematics Department, will serve as alternate representative.

MRS. SUSAN HOLLANDER

Lawyers group formed for Lee

Formation of a Lawyers Committee to Elect Robert W. Lee Freeholder in Union County was announced this week by Charles J. Irwin, attorney and former director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs.

Irwin, senior partner in the law firm of Irwin and Post with offices in Westfield and Newark, said the lawyers' group would actively support the candidacy of Lee, who is running on the Republican ticket for freeholder.

Lee is acting deputy director of the Division of Consumer Affairs and has had a 16-year career in the law enforcement field at the municipal, county and state level.

Fall meeting scheduled by psychological group

The New Jersey Psychological Association will hold its fall meeting at the Marriott Motor Hotel, Saddle Brook, on Nov. 2 and 3.

The fall and spring meetings of the NJPA, a professional organization numbering more than 1,200 psychologists throughout the state, are part of the group's continued effort to make its members and people in related professions aware of the latest ideas and techniques in the field of mental health, according to a spokesman.

Bicycle safety program is announced by Long

An intensive bicycle safety program which includes making it mandatory for all salesmen to issue a new official county booklet on rules of the road and safety for cyclists with each sale in Union County, was announced this week by Freeholder Thomas W. Long, county commissioner of roads and bridges.

In addition, thousands of bicycle safety booklets provided by the county and geared for children from kindergarten through third grade will be distributed in classrooms throughout the county, according to Long, assistant superintendent of the Linden school system.

Safety booklets aimed at older children and adult cyclists will be made available at police departments throughout the county. Implementation of the new resolution, sponsored by Long, which will establish the first coordinated bicycle safety program for Union County, was announced during a Democratic rally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boright of Scotch Plains.

"We have become a society on wheels but somehow we seem to forget, in many communities, the thousands of youngsters—our most precious asset—who daily traverse the roadways by bike to school and recreational activities," Long told the group.

"Even on the adult level," he continued, "many communities have recognized and encouraged the popularity of bicycle riding as a major form of recreation and exercise for both adults and children by planning special bicycle trails while failing to consider the simultaneous implementation of adequate bicycle safety programs. That is the reason I sponsored this resolution and it was passed unanimously by the Union County Board of Freeholders."

GOP trio urging stricter penalties

County-wide enforcement of stricter penalties for drug pushers was advocated this week by Republican freeholder candidates Raymond Bonnell of New Providence, Robert Lee of Fanwood and Jack McVey of Cranford.

"We're talking to members of the State Legislature about getting a mandatory minimum jail sentence and a minimum bail of $100,000 for narcotics pushers," the candidates said. "Union County is conveniently vulnerable to an influx of drug peddlers who want to operate out of New York State where they are uncomfortable, to say the least, with the new harsh drug policies." Bonnell, Lee and McVey said their apprehension was increased "by recent news reports that youths under 16 were being recruited in New York because penalties for minors are not as stringent as those for older offenders."

"Ideally," the freeholder aspirants said, "a nation-wide uniform code on drug abuse, backed up by strong law enforcement, should be adopted, but this might take years. If we can convince the Legislature to invoke higher penalties, and if this results in the saving of perhaps only one young person from getting hooked on drugs, or possibly one death from an overdose, our efforts will be rewarded."

While Union County has made efforts toward rehabilitation of its drug-sick, Bonnell, Lee and McVey said, the best way to stem the drug disease is by cutting off the distribution of narcotics.

Statistics have proved, they added, that drug-related crimes are on the increase, and "we have only to look at our local and county records to know that Union County has at least its share."

18 of 21 UCTI students pass certification exam

Eighty-six percent of the civil technology students at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, will be awarded licenses by the Institute for the Certification of Engineering Technicians, it was announced by John Glynn, coordinator of the civil technology program at UCTI.

Glynn said that results of the ICET examinations taken by all members of the 1973 civil tech class showed that 18 of 21 students passed. The ICET exams are sponsored by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

"Union County Technical Institute is proud of the distinction and the record established by our civil tech students," Glynn said. "ICET exams are usually given in four-year engineering schools and usually passed by only four-year engineering grads."

"What the ICET recognition shows something that we at UCTI have known for quite a while—that we have an excellent civil technology program," Glynn added. "Our graduates are offered top salaries with local and national engineering companies and are accepted with advanced standing at four-year colleges and universities."

"The civil technology program at UCTI is one of few in the country that offers a cooperative work-training experience," Glynn said. "Students work in drafting, surveying, contracting and other areas for three months of their sophomore year. Offers for cooperative education students from area companies almost always outweigh the number of students available."

"And when the student is ready to graduate, the job might become permanent and earn him up to $220 per week or he might continue work on a bachelor's degree at Pratt Institute, Fairleigh Dickinson University or Newark College of Engineering," Glynn said. "The program and its potential opportunities for advancement are unlimited."

18-year-olds hear of will, estate laws from Miss Kanane

Mary C. Kanane, Surrogate of Union County, has embarked on a campaign to inform the newly-enfranchised 18-year-old population of Union County on its legal rights and responsibilities concerning wills and estates.

The passage of the 18-year-old majority law, which became effective Jan. 1, has prompted the action from Judge Kanane.

Miss Kanane has recently spoken to several area high schools, and has arranged speaking engagements at several more. Miss Kanane said she feels that young adults should be aware that they are now able to dispose of their property at death by will, and also that they may now be named as executor or testamentary trustees in wills of other persons.

Miss Kanane stressed the importance of proper execution of a will to make it valid at death, and the necessity of contacting a New Jersey attorney, so that the will may be properly executed under New Jersey Law. Miss Kanane said, she has learned from questions posed by students that most had no idea how their property would be disposed of by law if there were no valid will.

Judge Kanane has made it her duty throughout her 10-year tenure as Surrogate to educate the populous of Union County on the subject of wills and estates by giving numerous speeches to various groups. Miss Kanane is seeking her third term of office as Surrogate on the GOP ticket this November.

Widener College data

Non-credit courses in art to be offered at college this year

Five non-credit studio art courses will open next week at Union College's Cranford campus, it was announced this week by Dr. Frank Dee, dean of educational services.

Each course will be taught by a professional artist who has received awards in state and national shows and whose work is represented in many private collections, Dr. Dee said.

Landscape Painting on Location, which will meet on Tuesdays from noon to 3 p.m., will be taught by Mrs. Doris Betz of Westfield, who is a graduate of the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts. She is also a former teacher in the Rahway public schools and has been a free lance illustrator in the advertising field.

Mrs. Jane Law of Westfield, who holds a bachelor's degree in art from Otterbein College and a bachelor of science degree in education from Ohio State University, will teach Watercolor.

A Cranford-based artist, Joseph Dawley, will teach a course in Traditional Painting of Head and Hands, beginning on Oct. 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. Dawley has a bachelor of fine arts degree from Southern Methodist University and is the author of "Character Studies in Oil" and "The Painter's Problem Book."

Pumpkin sale set by Choral Parents Society at Dayton

The Choral Parents Society of Jonathan Dayton High School, an organization consisting of the parents of the 135 students in the choral department, chose new officers for 1973-1974.

The society hopes to help maintain the high interest in the vocal programs, to give moral support and encouragement to the department's activities and to develop financial assistance when it is needed. Head of the department is Edward Shiley, a graduate of the Westminster Choir College. The singing groups he has developed are known as the Vocal Workshop for Freshmen, the Concert Choir for Intermediates and the Chorale, a select ensemble for boys and girls.

The president of the Choral Parents Society for the second year is Mrs. Arthur Williams of Mountainside; vice-president is Mrs. Kenneth Sklar; treasurer, Arnold Koldorf; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Carol; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Peters. Koldorf and Mrs. Peters are so enthusiastic about the choral department that they accepted positions although they no longer have children in the school system.

The first fund-raising event, in cooperation with the students, will be a pumpkin sale; headed by Richard Marshall. The students, who will be canvassing door to door, will also be selling concert series tickets at $4 for four concerts—a savings of $1 over the single door admission. The money raised will go toward the purchase of a harpsichord and to allay the costs of traveling for their performances.

Pine Ridge given Vindale franchise

Pine Ridge at Crestwood, a new retirement community of manufactured homes in Whiting, has been awarded a dealer franchise by Vindale Corporation, a noted builder of manufactured homes.

Headquartered in Dayton, Ohio, and operation production facilities in four states, Vindale is known for its quality design and construction of medium-priced homes and for its attractive decor as harmonized by a professional interior designer.

The first Vindale model to be featured at Pine Ridge at Crestwood, according to its sales manager James Dyer, will have an expanded living room, covered front porch, and special bay window in the master bedroom.

Dyer said that this model has approximately 830 square feet of living space, including two bedrooms, a large and fully equipped kitchen, formal dining room, and a living room measuring 15 by 18½ feet.

The Colonial interior decor provides a tastefully coordinated blending of fabrics, furniture, and accessories with an Early American flair that creates the feeling of luxury without ostentation...one of four popular decors available in all Vindale models.

The company also supplies thick, padded wall-to-wall carpeting and natural wood paneling in all homes, along with hand applied vinyl on certain walls for decorative accents.

$6 million in sales at N. Bergen

More than $6 million in sales have been recorded at the 30-story North Bergen luxury condominium, the Parker Imperial, which is now at the 24th floor in construction.

Overlooking the New York skyline and North Hudson Park at 7855 Boulevard E., the Parker Imperial is being built by the Parker Corporation, Forest Hills, N.Y., a diversified realty firm which specializes in urban housing.

The sponsor, West Shore Development Corp., Newark, points out that apartment complexes are selling from $32,990, with down payments starting at $6,598, which entitles the buyer to use the outdoor swimming pool on the upper garage deck and luxurious health club facilities at no cost.

A one-bedroom, one-bath apartment, priced at $32,990, with a mortgage of $26,392 would result in an estimated $184.74 in mortgage payments (based on a 30-year payout at 7½ percent) and estimated realty taxes of $60.45. Estimated monthly common expense charges would be $47.85 for a total monthly carrying charge of $293.04. It is estimated that the annual income tax deduction averaged on a monthly basis would be $224.68.

The Parker Imperial will offer uniformed doormen attending the covered archway entrance, a television interviewer and electronic apartment-to-doorman security system. There will be a comfortably furnished card and game room just off the pool deck; sun decks, complete with reclining sunchairs and umbrella tables will surround the Olympic-sized pool. There will be men's and women's health clubs, each with gymnasium, showers, sauna, massage room, lockers, and sanitary facilities.

Each apartment will have individual controls for heating and air conditioning in all rooms.

There will be 12 apartments on each of the 26 residential floors and space for 309 cars on the four-level garage. Each apartment owner will receive one car space without charge. An elevator from any of the garage floors (one below ground and three above) will provide access to the elegantly appointed lobby.

The site is convenient to buses to New York. North Hudson Park, a 167-acre public park which adjoins the Parker Imperial, has 16 tennis courts, four handball courts, a lake with rowboating in the summer and ice-skating in winter, baseball diamonds, fields for football and soccer, basketball courts, children's playgrounds and a picnic area. The park is maintained and supervised by the Hudson County Park Commission.

next to the clubhouse. Year-round indoor activities are conducted in the clubhouse, which has large banquet facilities and an intimate restaurant and bar.

RANCH-STYLE CONVENIENCE — The all-on-one-floor approach to convenience for modern lifestyles keeps the ranch home a popular commodity on the New Jersey real estate market. The Wyndham ranch, at Oakley Hill in Jackson Township, Ocean County, offers a floorplan designed for practicality for a growing family, including three large bedrooms.

Ranch-style home is proving popular, has convenience

"The popularity of the ranch has been proven over and over again during the last decades, primarily due to the convenience it affords in having everything on one floor in a design that permits easy accessibility to every part of the home, for the modern family with a fast-paced lifestyle," says South Jersey developer Bob Scarborough.

Scarborough emphasized the long-continued popularity of the ranch home design with several references to sales statistics at his first North Jersey community, Oakley Hill, in Jackson Township, Ocean County.

According to Scarborough, the Wyndham, one of six models at Oakley Hill, has surpassed projected sales figures in the recent spring and early-summer months. "One-level living is obviously here to stay. Of course, not all ranches provide the built-in amenities of the Wyndham."

A posted front porch, large shuttered windows, and simplicity of lines give an overall smooth and sophisticated appearance to the exterior of the home, Scarborough noted.

located apart from the living areas of the house. The large garage completes the Wyndham ranch.

All Oakley Hill homes, built on minimum half acre lots, include city water and sewers. All utilities will be placed underground to enhance the natural setting of the community. Scarborough's master plan for the 91-home community includes woodlands of the area.

Priced from $35,900, Oakley Hill is located on New Prospect road in Jackson Township.

Hill at High Point accents facilities for social activities

One of the advantages offered home buyers at the Hill at High Point, condominium community being built by High Point Development Corp. in Lakewood, is a well-established social life, complete with a television interviewer and electronic apartment-to-doorman security system. There will be a comfortably furnished card and game room just off the pool deck; sun decks, complete with reclining sunchairs and umbrella tables will surround the Olympic-sized pool. There will be men's and women's health clubs, each with gymnasium, showers, sauna, massage room, lockers, and sanitary facilities.

Each apartment will have individual controls for heating and air conditioning in all rooms.

beaches and recreational offerings. Many public and private golf and tennis clubs, cultural centers and historical sites are nearby.

It is one of the Jersey Shore's finest examples and most attractive multi-unit developments. The red brick buildings are set on hillside slopes and surrounded with expansive green lawns interspersed with tall trees, winding walkways, and park-like garden settings. There is ample on-site parking provided, and garages are available.

The condominium ownership offers freedom from exterior maintenance chores, while all common areas, including the clubhouse and pool, are owned equally by homeowners. It offers financial advantages which has had special appeal to couples and single individuals of all ages who recognize that recreational facilities can be a substantial expense to single-home ownership, but are economical when shared by all residents.

Condominium life also offers a congenial social life. The clubhouse at The Hill is a continual center of activity. The exercise classes, card groups, glee club, arts and crafts in the special room with kiln, community meetings, weekend dances and parties, welcome all residents to a fulfilled carefree way of life.

The Hill at High Point is located just off Rt. 9 on Prospect street (opposite Paul Kimball Hospital) in Lakewood.

Homeowners are near to public transportation for commuting to New York and North and South Jersey; The Hill's jitney makes daily trips to commuting and shopping centers.

Model homes and sales office at the Hill are open seven days a week from 10 a.m. through dusk.

Builders added at Holiday Lake

The sales pace at Holiday Lake has outpaced the construction crews to such an extent that extra builders are being recruited to take over sections of the 1,500-acre year-round family recreational colony in Montague, N.J.

Henry E. Wulster, the developer, reports that 110 builders have joined a new cooperative plan at Holiday Lake whereby they will either be working on contracts for sales they have made themselves or sales made by the resident agents.

Holiday Lake is arising at the "top of New Jersey" — adjacent to Stokes State Forest, High Point State Park and the proposed Tocks Island Recreational Area. It has been difficult to attract large construction crews and the sales pace moved ahead of production, said Wulster.

To solve the problem, Wulster introduced a line of pre-cut homes last year, on the assumption that some homeowners would want to do their own finishing and thus free work crews sooner. However, the recreational and retired market that Holiday Lake caters to evidently wants completely finished homes and the only solution was to bring in other builders.

Aside from the greater speed that is possible with the larger work force, the buyers at Holiday Lake get another benefit from the new plan: Greater diversity of design. When the colony originally started, there were six basic styles, but that has now been expanded to 20 or more, with each of the builders adding a touch of his own.

Prices at Holiday Lake start at $22,800 for a two-bedroom condominium unit, with shell homes priced from $7,890. The land-sales department offers one-acre home sites from $5,840.

All buyers at Holiday Lake become members of the Homeowners Association, which runs all the recreational facilities, including the $500,000 clubhouse. Among the sports offered at the colony are golf, tennis on all-weather courts, swimming in the lake or an Olympic-sized pool, fishing, boating, canoeing, basketball, softball, archery, skeet shooting and all playground games.

There is hunting for deer and small game in the fall and winter and also skiing, ice skating, snowmobiling, tobogganing and ice skating on the lake or a lighted pond

Building firm aids area women's club

When Barbara Williams, president of the Junior Women's Club of the Lakewood-Jackson Area, approached Kaufman and Broad builders for advice on erecting the club's booth for the Ocean County Fair, held recently at Ocean County Parks in Lakewood, she received more than a lumber estimate and a set of blueprints.

Kaufman and Broad president Ernest A. Sereno donated two ready-made booths to help the newly formed club get off the ground financially. In addition, a six by nine foot storage and serving area was built to the club's specifications.

Hackman, Pacino share Park with George C. Scott

"Scarecrow," an off-beat film drama, starring Gene Hackman and Al Pacino, opened yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park, on a double bill with "Rage," starring George C. Scott.

The picture concerns a strange pair of drifters who hitchhike from California to Detroit in the hope of starting a new life at their own car-wash place. The journey is by freight train, open trucks and just walking.

During the first week of filming of "Scarecrow," Pacino slipped through a railroad trestle and had to be hospitalized for two days. A few weeks later in the wee hours of the morning, a stuntman failed to show up, so Pacino donned an asbestos suit and jumped into a blaze to complete a scene on schedule.

Jerry Schatzberg directed "Scarecrow," with Robert M. Sherman producing. The Warner Brothers' film release has an original screenplay by Garry Michael White, who won the Samuel Goldwyn award at the University of California. The picture was filmed in color. "Rage," another Warner Brothers film release, concerns a rancher (Scott) who sets out to destroy a chemical warfare center in Wyoming after his son dies in a lethal mishap. The picture was photographed in color and Scott also served as its director.

MUSICAL STARS — Barbara Britton portrays Sue and Dennis Day is Jimmy in the musical comedy revival of "No, No, Nanette," now being staged at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn. Pickpockets' world depicted on Maplewood, Fox screens

JAMES COBURN

James Coburn plays the chief "cannon" (pickpocket) in "Harry In Your Pocket," a picture about the world of pickpockets, which begins its second week at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood, and the Fox Theater, Route 22, Union.

Coburn, who stars with Walter Pidgeon as Casey, Coburn's associate, and Michael Sarrazin and Trish Van Devere, as their two apprentices, was especially trained for his role.

Bruce Geller, producer of "Harry In Your Pocket," in order to authenticate the film, provided his actors with information and moves that they would need to pick pockets properly.

Geller hired Tony Giorgio, an actor-sleight of hand artist, who worked both as technical advisor and in a small role in the film as a detective. Giorgio had worked in the circus as a youngster and had observed pickpockets in action. The circus used to be one of their favorite stamping grounds.

DOWN MEMORY LANE... Can you remember where you were, and what you were doing when you first heard the numbers on these golden LP oldies... THE IMMORTAL AL JOHNSON (DECCA DL-79063). Here in this album, are the actual recordings of Al singing on the old Kraft Music Hall radio show. Selections include: "Alexander's Ragtime Band," a medley of "Ma" (She's Makin' Eyes at Me) and "Dinah," "A Tree in the Meadow," "Don't Let It Get You Down," "Just One of Those Things," "Nearest Thing to Heaven," "Chicago," "Rock-A-Bye Your Baby With A Dixie Melody," "Yaaka Hula Hickey Dula," "Easter Parade," "She's A Latin From Manhattan," "For Me And My Gal" and "The Best Things In Life Are Free..."

WARREN COVINGTON AND THE TOMMY DOORSEY ORCHESTRA (DECCA DL-78996). You will find an almost infinite variety of dances in this LP. The fox trot, played in several tempos—medium ("Bye Bye Blackbird"); slow ("Ebb Tide"); and for a fast fox trot or a zesty peabody, there's "The World is Waiting For The Sunrise." For a romantic waltz, "Shadow Waltz," and the exciting Viennese waltz, "Artist's Life." The Mexican hat dance, "La Raspa," "The Clarinet Polka," and for getting everyone at the "Make Believe Ballroom" Saturday night record party in the mood, you danced the "Hokey Pokey" or the "Bunny Hop." Then for the jitterbugs, there was "In The Mood" and the rock 'n' roller, "High Fever," and of course we did the "Charleston"...

NEAR YOU: by the Andrew Sisters. (VOCALION VL-73611) Listen again to these all-time evergreen favorites by the famous Andrews vocalizing: "Near You," "I Don't Know Why" (I Just Do), "Sing A Tropical Song," "Daddy," "I Love You Much Too Much," "She Wore A Yellow Ribbon," "A Bushel And A Peck," "How Lucky You Are," "Carmen's Boogie," "One For The Wonder," "The Blond Sailor," and "Charley My Boy." Musical backings by Vic Schoen, Russ Morgan and Nelson Riddle...

SONGS OF OUR TIMES (SONG HITS OF 1934): by Bob Grant And His Orchestra. (VOCALION VL-73646).

Here are some 1934 highlights to help jog your memory: The entire Atlantic Coast experienced the worst blizzard since 1888. "Baby Face" Nelson and John Dillinger were killed. There was an unsuccessful plot to overthrow Hitler... Mrs. Olivia Dionne gave birth to five girls. "Dizzy" and "Duffy" Dean pitched the Cardinals into a World Series win... The Zigfield Follies featured Fanny Brice and Willie Howard. "Anything Goes" starred Ethel Merman and Victor Moore. And James Hilton's "Goodbye Mr. Chips" was a popular new novel. And these were the hit songs of the year: "June In January," "Love Thy Neighbor," "Love In Bloom," "You Oughta Be In Pictures," "With My Eyes Wide Open I'm Dreaming," "Stay As Sweet As You Are," "The Object Of My Affection," "Little Man You Had A Busy Day," "The Beat Of My Heart," "The Moon Was Yellow," "Isle Of Capri," "The Continental"...

You're The Top, "I Get A Kick Out Of You," "Be Still, My Heart," "I'll Follow My Secret Heart," "The Champagne Waltz," "Wagon Wheels," "Cocktails For Two," "Two Cigarettes In The Drak," "Solitude," "The Very Thought Of You" and "Lost In A Fog".... If you missed any of these LP's on their first go 'round, we're almost sure that your favorite record dealer can get 'em for you...

'Heartbreak Kid' seen on 2 screens

Chuck Grodin and Jeannie Berlin play an unhappy honeymoon couple in "The Heartbreak Kid," which arrived yesterday at the Cinemette in Union, and on a double bill with "The Salzburg Connection" at the Elmore Theater, Elizabeth.

"The Heartbreak Kid," which was directed by Elaine May (Miss Berlin's mother) and written for the screen by Neil Simon, also stars Cybill Shepherd, Eddie Albert and Audra Lindley. It tells a story of an impetuous New Yorker, who discovers on his honeymoon that he has made a mistake, and finds another female to pursue.

The picture, which also has David Haskell, Jerry Sroka, Robin Lamont and Lynn Higgen, opened yesterday at the Jerry Lewis Cinema, Five Points, Union. David Green directed the movie, which was photographed in color.

Ricotta cheese Ricotta is a rich, creamy fresh cheese made of ewe's, milk or cow's milk or from whey. It's very close to cottage or pot cheese. CANAL OPENED On Oct. 10, 1913, President Woodrow Wilson pressed a button which removed the last remaining obstruction in the Panama Canal.

'Yum, Yum Tree' will open Wednesday at Meadowbrook

Dick Shawn will star in the Broadway comedy, "Under the Yum Yum Tree," at the Meadowbrook Theater Restaurant in Cedar Grove, starting Wednesday.

As Hogan, Shawn will portray a scheming and irresistible landlord who showers flowers and stuffed animals on a succession of lone female tenants across the hall.

That is, until, a new situation presents itself with some new tenants (a young couple who sublet one of the apartments on an experimental pact in companionate living).

The title of "Under the Yum Yum Tree" is taken from lines by Andrew Sterling set to music by Harry von Tilzer in 1910. Von Tilzer, it is speculated, may have been inspired by a popular song of 1902 called "Under the Bamboo Tree."

The comedy will remain at the Meadowbrook through Nov. 4.

Pharmacists hail Oct. 1 start of permanent patient records

Mandatory maintenance of permanent patient record cards by pharmacies will become effective Oct. 1. The New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association this week hailed the step as "a significant advance in the cause of public health and safety."

Joseph G. D'Amico of Trenton, the association president, said most members of the professional organization have been keeping such records for years, but the practice has not been universal.

BERT ROSS of the Bert Ross Photography Studio in Maplewood was awarded the Court of Honor in the masters competition of the 20th annual photographic competition of the Professional Photographers Association of New Jersey convention last week in Cranford.

"Today's drugs are highly potent and, because they are, most are powerful," D'Amico emphasized. "Often strong drugs interact against others. In some cases, even though there might not be a dangerous reaction, one medication nullifies the other."

"Patients must be guarded against such risks, and must be advised to be faithful to their drug regimen. A study has shown that more than 30 percent of all digitoxins taken for heart ailments are taken improperly. Record cards enable a pharmacy to track performance better."

D'Amico also noted that often a patient can be treated by two different doctors for different diseases, each unaware of the other.

"As a result," he said, "a prescription given by one doctor, unaware that the patient is being treated by another doctor for another condition, might call for drugs that would react harmfully with medication being taken. Through our family profile records we can pick up the situation instantly and notify the physician."

D'Amico expressed regret that implementation of the State Board of Pharmacy's regulation was forestalled more than a year by litigation which opposed the measure as "a nuisance taking up the time of employees."

"The fact is that the maintenance of such records is essential to a fully professional high-level discharge of the pharmacy's responsibilities," he declared.

"The courts gave official recognition to this fact when they threw out the challenge to the mandatory regulation."

"Perhaps the filling out of such cards does take a minute more of the pharmacist's time, but it is time well spent. Those of us who have been keeping records voluntarily for many years can cite numerous instances when referral to the information contained on them alerted our professional training and experience to danger."

D'Amico called for cooperation and patience on the part of patients.

Organized in 1925, the association includes in its membership professional workers in all phases of rehabilitation including state and federal rehabilitation employees; physicians; nurses; psychologists; occupational, physical and speech therapists; social workers; hospital and rehabilitation personnel, and specialists for the blind, deaf and crippled.

Precautions can save food from spoiling in power cuts

Have you ever thought about what you would do if your home freezer stopped running? If your freezer does stop running or the electricity goes off for sometime, you can take special precautions to keep your food from spoiling.

That's one of the rules suggested by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), and you stand a good chance of preserving your food: Keep the freezer closed. Open it only to take food out for transport or to add dry ice. Try to determine how long the current will be off, and how long the food will keep. The length of time food will stay frozen depends on:

- The amount of food in the freezer. A full freezer will stay cold many hours longer than a freezer only a quarter full.

- The kind of food. A freezer full of meat will not warm up as fast as a freezer of baked food.
- The temperature of the food. The colder the food, the longer it will stay frozen.
- The freezer itself. A well-insulated freezer will keep food frozen much longer than one with little insulation.
- Size of freezer. The larger the freezer, the longer the food will stay frozen.

If you have a locker plant in your area, make advanced arrangements to take care of food during an emergency. When transporting the food to the plant, wrap it in plenty of newspaper and blankets, or use insulated boxes. Then rush the food to the locker plant.

Thursday, September 27, 1973

"Our next best alternative is to add 'dry ice' to the freezer to try to retain the cold. The more dry ice you use, the longer your food will remain frozen. Invest some time on the telephone, when you have no emergency, to find out where you can buy 'dry ice' should you need it."

If all else fails, break out the home canning equipment and cook the thawed food whatever ways your family may like it. Here, again, be sure you have the containers, lids, and other canning equipment on hand, and those canning recipes handy.

Sometimes frozen foods are completely or partially thawed before you discover that your freezer is not running. You may safely refreeze foods that have thawed if they contain ice crystals or if they are cold—about 40 degrees F.—provided they have been held at this temperature no longer than one or two days. But remember, use refrozen foods as soon as possible after the emergency.

Newark State to conduct transportation seminar

In an effort to bring about a public understanding of the complex transportation problem, the Office of Continuing Education, Newark State College at Union, will sponsor four meetings next month at which transportation experts will speak. The open meetings will be held Oct. 2, 9, 16 and 23 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Alumni Lounge, Downs Hall.

Participants in the program will include Thomas Taber, chairman of the Board of Transportation of Morris County and commissioner of the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission.

Discussing the issues and problems of mass transit will be Anthony Grazioso, director of public relations for Transport of New Jersey and Frank Barry, eastern regional manager of Passenger Train Journal.

Speaking on the topic of "Dollars and Senses," Dr.

Ernest Kurnow, chairman of the Quantitative Analysis Department, New York University, will discuss the financial aspects of the transportation problem.

Barbara Eisler, president of New Jersey Citizens for Clean Air, Inc., will discuss the environmental considerations of the transportation problem.

Representatives from the New Jersey State Department of Transportation and the New Jersey Petroleum Council will discuss long-range planning and the gasoline shortage at one of the sessions.

For further information, contact the Continuing Education Division of Newark State College at Union, 527-2163.

NJEA asks for ideas

Teachers throughout New Jersey are being asked to help chart the future course of their professional organization, the New Jersey Education Association.

NJEA is conducting a series of "big ear" meetings and has invited leaders of its local and county affiliates to give their opinion on the programs and services the organization should provide in the future to its 76,000 members.

The meetings have been scheduled by NJEA's dues study committee to get teacher input for a report it is preparing for submission to NJEA's policy-making Delegate Assembly in November. The series will culminate Saturday with an all day meeting in NJEA's Trenton Headquarters, 180 W. State st. Saturday.

More food for elderly

The same foods donated to charitable institutions by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) may now be made available to nutrition programs for the elderly.

The USDA's Northeast Regional Food and Nutrition Service, based in Princeton, said that the foods, made available under its food distribution program, will benefit senior citizens without regard to whether they are needy.

The elderly nutrition program is administered by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) in cooperation with state agencies on aging.

Dayton girls' net team set for debut Monday

This fall marks the debut of girls' varsity tennis at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. The squad will open its season Monday against West Orange and will face New Providence Wednesday. With games scheduled against the other schools which participate in the Suburban Conference, the team has practiced vigorously during the last three weeks to sharpen its skills.

Ed Jasinski, Dayton's varsity baseball coach for 15 seasons, is training the team. "At the first practice, the abilities of these girls amazed me," he said. "I am still impressed with their eagerness to drill and their intense desire to win. Competition for opening singles and doubles positions remains keen." Mrs. Marian Calendrillo, who coached girls' varsity tennis in West Orange for two years, also supervises the players.

Players include senior Margo Krasnoff of Mountainside, juniors Eileen Bass, Laura Hockstein and Randi Schnee of Springfield and Teri Bloom of Mountainside, and Mountainside sophomores Tami Bass, Gayle Bieszczak, Cathy Picut and Laurie Weeks.

Herbert Palmer, Dayton's athletic director, noted that those girls who were responsible for forming the tennis team approached their goal as early as December 1971. Two of the girls conferred with Palmer then about their desire to organize a girls' tennis team, but due to a shortage of tennis courts, the girls were told that if they wanted to compete, it would have to be against boys on the boys' varsity level. Although girls tried out for the 1972 and 1973 squads, none was successful.

Responding to the girls' discontentment, Palmer polled all girls' gym classes to determine the interest in initiating another varsity sport. During its 1972-73 season, basketball had attained varsity status. Although tennis did not rank as most popular, Palmer decided to recommend it as the second girls' varsity sport, a result of the Suburban Conference's decision to organize a 14-match program for girls' tennis during October. The Regional Board of Education approved Palmer's proposal.

Dayton girls' tennis players and non-tennis players, were elated by the decision. As one senior noted, "It's about time."

Dayton begins boys' DIPPER winter program

The 1973-74 Dayton Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) program kicks off its daily 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. sessions this week featuring American League basketball (ninth and 10th graders), which will include five-man league play, one-on-one championship play and foul shooting tournaments.

Other activities in the September-November program include universal gym workouts, a mat corner where students can practice tumbling, rolling, etc., and workouts on ropes, parallel bars and other gymnastic equipment.

Any ninth and 10th grade student who has not participated in high school interscholastic basketball can participate in the DIPPER basketball league. All students are eligible for one-on-one and foul shooting tournaments.

All DIPPER activities will take place in the boys' gym. One end of the gym will be devoted to league contests, the other section will be used by students participating in the other activities. All students taking part in DIPPER must be physically fit and cannot participate if they have a nurse's excuse from gym classes.

National League basketball (11th and 12th graders and faculty) will be held during the Spring sessions. Programs for floor ball (6-man indoor soccer), floor hockey and surprise events will be announced when they are approved.

DIPPER, conceived and directed by John Swedish of the high school physical education department, is starting its third year at Dayton. Athletic Director Herbert H. Palmer and School Superintendent Donald Meserich have cited the program, which was described in an article in the January 1973 issue of the "Reporter," the professional journal of the Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation of New Jersey. The director, who wrote this article, has written four other articles on public relations, summer physical education and recreation that have been published by the "Reporter." He is starting his 17th year at Dayton.

Swedish is a graduate of East Stroudsburg (Pa.) State College where he earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education. He received his master's degree in the same area from Teachers College, Columbia University, in New York City. He also has additional credits from Montclair State, Newark State, Rutgers University and Trenton State College. Currently, he is acting as freshmen soccer coach and public relations director at Dayton.

Basketball game to aid patrolman

A group of high school students has arranged a benefit basketball doubleheader to aid stricken former Patrolman Al Parker, a victim of multiple sclerosis. The event will take place on Friday, Oct. 19 at 6:30 p.m. in the Gaudineer School, South Springfield avenue, between the Springfield Astros and a team from Staten Island.

Two teenagers, Marvin Wright of Ruby street, and Bill Nevios of Diven street, are making arrangements for the contest. The preliminary game at 6:30 p.m. will feature younger boys, and will be followed by the main event, consisting of high school players. Tickets at $1 each will be available at the door. Patrolman Parker, a long-time resident of Springfield, has been ill at home and funds will be used for his benefit.

Bridgeport counts on Bove to repeat

Carmine Bove, a junior from Springfield, is starting his second season for the University of Bridgeport Purple Knights' football squad. Bove, whose sure hands and open field moves earned him a starting job as a sophomore, was the second leading receiver for the undefeated Knights last year with 34 catches for 624 yards.

Teamed with Lloyd (Chuck) Cornell, the 6-0, 165-pounder gave the Knights one of the most effective receiving combos in college-division ranks. Bove, who scored 11 touchdowns in 1972, received All-New England honorable mention honors from the Associated Press.

Bove had the best yards-per-catch average of the Knights starting receiver corps with 18.3 yards. A standout performer at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in football and basketball, Bove will be seeking regional and possibly national honors this season.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I'm 12 years old and I like a guy who is about 15 or 16. He likes me too, but there are problems: he smokes, his hair is long and he's about 3 or 4 years older than me. My mother won't let him call me or see me. I like this guy a lot, but my mother doesn't know this. My mother is about 4 or 5 years younger than my father, so I can't see why she has to make such a big deal about our age differences. I've been calling him secretly and my friends say if I like him that much then it shouldn't matter if I call him. What should I do? Please help me.

OUR REPLY: Unfortunately, in this case we agree with your mother. Granted, your mother may be 4 or 5 years younger than your father, but as adults they are on the same level of maturity. At your present age and maturity level, a boy 3 or 4 years older than you is at a more mature level (or at least he should be) than you are. We advise that you let this boy find someone closer to his own age and maturity level. As far as we can see, your mother is right.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY. 40601.

Bulldogs home to Hillside Saturday; Pepe, Widom TDs subdue Roselle

Minutemen open season against Chatham Sunday

The Springfield Minuteman football team, for seventh and eighth graders, will open its season Sunday at 1:30 at Meisel Field, facing Chatham Township. Forty boys will take part in the second season of the Recreation Department's sponsorship of a team in an outside game participation program.

The team had a very productive scrimmage Saturday against Mountainside, according to head coach Bob Pashanian.

On defense, Dave Flood and Young will start at ends, with Rossomando and Ed Johnson at the tackles and Baskin at the middle guard. Lusardi and Bohrod will be linebackers and Jack Hirschberg at "monster." Joe DeFino, Dean Pashanian and Rich Lofredo will patrol the secondary, spelled by Jackie Rawlins, who should also play at split end. Other defensive backs who will get a lot of action during the season are Jamie Ehrhardt, Rich Buttmann, Pat Picciuto, Jeff Vargas, Kevin Engelhardt and Russ Albert.

The rest of the roster consists of talented youngsters. Dave Ironson will play at center and middle guard; Mark Lamb lends strong backup help at offensive and defensive end; Bobby McCrossan and Bob Esposito give Springfield another pair of two-way ends, and Ron Scoppettuolo should get lots of work at tailback and defensive halfback.

Back-up support for the interior linemen comes from Mike Casale, Lou Herkalo, Frank Pulice, Jerry Verducci, Doug Marshall, John Riccardi, Henry Cukier, Jeff Schnee and Jimmy Wnek. Wnek will also play at the flanker slot; Pete Casciano will see duty in the defensive secondary.

Lusardi, Bohrod, Zahn, Rossomando, DeFino, Buttmann, Scoppettuolo and Schnee are returnees from last year's squad. Six of the 15 seventh graders on the squad should start Sunday. This year's schedule, after Chatham Township, includes games with Summit, Berkeley Heights, Millburn, Chatham Borough and Mountainside.

1st varsity game played by girls in field hockey

Gov. Livingston Regional High School is fielding its first girls' interscholastic varsity field hockey team. The first game was scheduled Tuesday at Bridgewater East High School. Other schools the team will play include Millburn, Linden, Roselle Park, North Plainfield, Cranford and Scotch Plains.

Gov. Livingston has a strong team. Cindy Stoller is the offensive captain and Mary Musca is the defensive captain. The offensive team includes Elaine McGrath, Suzanne Hale, Holly Fredricks, Chris Conrad, Laurie Layman and Kim Smith. The team's coach is Mrs. Mary Plant.

Harriers impress after 3 days' drills

The Springfield Recreation Department's cross-country squad, consisting of sixth, seventh and eighth graders, took part in a Youth Development cross-country meet at Roosevelt Park, Edison last Saturday. The event was part of the annual Edison Invitational Relays.

Nearly 200 boys from northern and central New Jersey took part.

High finishers for Springfield were Bob Scarpone (35th place) and Jeff Knowles (43rd). Other strong performances were registered by John Ard, Jay Fine, Jeff Silverthorne, Joe Policastro, Bob Fink, Eddie Fasulo, John Madison, Joe Blaboli, Onzilo Pulliam, Dave Gochlik, Ray Rapuano, Pete Keramas, Tony Gargiulo, Dennis Schwerdt, and Gary LoPetro.

Head Coach Bob Meyer was highly pleased with the turnout, and the runners' performances, since the meet was held after only three days of practice. Meyer feels sure that, with more conditioning and practice, Springfield will field a very strong team.

Mrs. Ansbro's net 37 wins nine-hole tourney

Palazzi hurt in 1st period, out for year

62-yd. punt return marks 14-7 triumph

By CLIFF ROSS

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will open its home football season Saturday, playing host to Hillside in a 1:30 p.m. game at Meisel Field.

Dayton, which defeated Roselle, 14-7, last Saturday in the season opener, will face a tough foe in the Comets, who drubbed Rahway, 35-0.

The Bulldogs suffered a major loss in their triumph — Bill Palazzi, a proven running back and defensive back who had been touted as an all-county possibility, suffered a broken leg in the first period and may be lost for the season. Derek Nardone filled in effectively for Palazzi.

Dayton scored twice in the second half — on Gavin Widom's four-yard run and Joe Pepe's 62-yard punt return — to take a 14-0 lead against Roselle.

The Rams averted a shutout on Russ Bogan's three-yard run with 1:38 left in the game.

Roselle threatened late in the first half but the drive ended when Widom intercepted a pass inside the Bulldogs' one. Dayton then marched to its 30 before being forced to punt.

The Bulldogs broke the scoreless tie with a 42-yard march in the third quarter. Bruce Heide and Widom did most of the rushing in the nine-play series. The PAT kick failed.

Pepe's runback, with five minutes left in the game, was made possible by effective blocking. Pepe's pass to Heide for the extra points made the score 14-0.

Roselle threatened with just under four minutes left but a holding penalty nullified an apparent touchdown pass. Some two minutes later, a blocked punt gave the Rams possession on Dayton's 24 and a pass interference call moved the ball to the 10. Bogan scored three plays later and Martin Jeffrey's kick narrowed the margin to 14-7.

The Bulldogs gained 184 yards in 49 carries with Heide (100 yards in 18 carries) outgaining Roselle, which finished with 91 yards in 35 carries. Widom carried 15 times for 73 yards.

Pepe completed two of seven passes for nine yards and was intercepted twice. Roselle completed two passes in 15 attempts, gaining 28 yards, but five of the passes were intercepted — two each by Pepe and Widom and one by John Zurcoff.

Defensively, Tom Russinello led Dayton with 10 hits while Zurcoff and Dave Pacifico had nine apiece. John Noce starred as the rover.

The starting offensive unit included Mark Hoffmann, Glen Arnold, Rich Consales, Jerry Ragonese, Jim Rice, Gary Pressloff, John Pyar, Pepe, Palazzi, Heide and Widom.

Defensive starters were Wayne Schwarte, Pacifico, Bruno Sarracino, Mark Ronco, Russinello, Zurcoff, Noce, Ken Conte, Widom, Pepe, Nardone and Joe Natiello.

Steel leads unbeaten booters

Ron Steel of 1132 Iris dr., Mountainside, has led the undefeated West Virginia Wesleyan College soccer team to three victories with 10 goals.

Steel, who was Wesleyan's high scorer last year, started the season with four goals and one assist to pace his team to a 12-0 victory over West Virginia Tech. In the second game of the season Steel scored four of the five goals tallied as Wesleyan beat Marietta College, 5-0. In the school's third game, played Friday, Steel tallied two more goals to lead his team to a 5-1 victory over Frostburg College.

By BILL WILD

It was a clean sweep for the home teams at Farcher's Grove this weekend. Friday night, Newark SC beat the New York Bavarians, 1-0, on a penalty shot. The Newark SC will meet West New York Sunday at 2:30 at the Grove. West New York is made up of transplanted Scots from the Kearny area. The game will be preceded by a reserve team contest.

Elizabeth SC defeated the New York Ukrainians, 1-0, at the Grove last Sunday to remain tied for first place in the Major Division South of the German American Football Association with the German Hungarians. Both teams have 2-0 records, have scored three times and have not allowed a goal. The Philadelphia Ukrainians and N.Y. Hota also are undefeated.

Elizabeth SC, with some talented young stars, once again depended on veteran Norbert Voellmer, who played his usual steady game, always in the right position and passing off the ball perfectly. Near the end of the first half, Ed Jijon worked the ball down the left wing and passed off to center of the goal mouth where Ed Kelly blasted it in for the only score of the game.

Elizabeth SC missed many chances throughout the game because the younger players—such as Ed Kelly, Jijon and Carlos Medtieri—are not working as a unit. But there will be no stopping this team when the young, fast forward line jells.

The N.Y. Ukrainians lost last week to the New York Hungarians, 7-1. Elizabeth should have done the same but some of the forwards must learn to pass the ball off instead of holding it. Both goalies, Ed DeClereq for Elizabeth and Jerry Sulzar in the Ukrainian net, played well. Goalies Andy Tutulic and DeClereq now have a combined 180 minutes of shutout time.

Elizabeth SC will meet the newest member of the Major Division, Croatia, Sunday at Schuetzenpark, North Bergen, at 2:30.

After the Elizabeth SC-N.Y. Ukrainian game, the Newark Ukes trounced the Passaic Italians, 6-0, in a New Jersey Schaeffer League match. If this is an indication of things to come, we could have more than one league champion at Farcher's Grove.

There will be two games this Saturday at Farcher's Grove. In the Juvenile Division at 2, the Elizabeth SC will meet the Newark SC, with a Boys' Division match between the same clubs to follow. Last Wednesday night, there were more than 100 fans on hand to watch a boys' team practice game between these two clubs.

Cheerleader clinic stars

A cheerleading program for seventh and eighth-grade girls will begin at the Edward Walton School Monday, Oct. 1, at 6:30 p.m. Classes will be held every Monday and Thursday at the same time and place.

The clinic, sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department, will be under the direction of cheerleaders from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

At the end of the program, in which all the fundamentals of cheerleading will be taught, trouts will be held for the Minuteman basketball cheerleading squad.

Little Charlyn can romp and play again

Four-year old undergoes open-heart surgery

The four-year old smiled gratefully at one of the surgeons who had made it possible for her to romp and play like her little friends and shyly asked "Can I have your autograph, Doctor?"

Dr. Isaac Gielchinsky smiled back at little Charlyn McPhail who was sitting on Dr. Donald Rothfeld's lap. In her chubby hands she held out a copy of Newark Beth Israel Medical Center's annual report which featured her and Dr. Rothfeld on the cover. Charlyn had been chosen for the picture because her large dimples and delightful personality won the hearts of Medical Center photographers.

Dr. Rothfeld, who is assistant director of Medicine at the Medical Center, is the cardiologist who recommended that Charlyn undergo open heart surgery to repair a hole in her heart. Just moments before she asked for an autograph Dr. Rothfeld had lifted Charlyn onto his lap and exclaimed, "Look at that, only ten days after open heart surgery and her chest doesn't hurt a bit." The 4½ hour surgical procedure was performed by Dr. Gielchinsky and Dr. Lawrence Gilbert, director of Cardiac and Thoracic Surgery at the Medical Center.

The success of Charlyn's operation and her rapid recovery are encouraging signs for physicians and surgeons at the Medical Center who are striving to perform more "early total corrections" of heart disorders. According to Dr. Gielchinsky, diagnosing and correcting the problem while the child is still young gives that child an even greater chance to lead a healthy, normal life.

Dr. Donald Rothfeld reports that up to ten children a week, ranging in age from newborn to 16 years, are seen in the Medical Center's Pediatric Cardiology Clinic. In 95 percent of the cases an accurate diagnosis can be made using electrocardiograms and x-rays.

In the other 5 percent—cases where diagnosis is more difficult, or the patient is a definite candidate for surgery—further tests such as catheterization are performed. It is through catheterization that the "road map" is prepared by cardiologists prior to the surgeon entering the human cardiovascular system. It is here that the physicians are able to get "pictures" of the insides of the heart chambers and arteries and veins leading to and from the heart. This shows how far the disease has progressed, the nature of the defect and the size of the hole or obstruction. Catheterization has been done on babies as young as ten minutes of age.

Drs. Rothfeld and Gielchinsky also worked together to save the life of a three-week-old baby boy from Newark. In the first weeks of life it was discovered that Garland Venable, Jr. of Newark had a heart malady known as tricuspid atresia. This is a drastic abnormality where one heart chamber fails to develop because of a non-developed valve. The flow of blood from the lungs to the lungs is inhibited, causing breathing difficulties, poor circulation and general sickness. At age three weeks, Garland entered the operating room and was surgically given shunts—a new passage from the heart to the arteries—to increase the flow of blood to the lungs. He returned home and flourished until eight months later. At that time he started to have problems. The boy was a dusky color and his mother brought him back to the Medical Center for acute observation.

He deteriorated rapidly, the blood flow reduced again, he was restudied and finally taken to the operating room as an emergency patient.

Prior to surgery an angiogram (study of vessels) had shown that a classic method of shunting could not be used to restore proper blood flow. Instead, Dr. Gielchinsky improvised and tried a completely new method of connecting the pulmonary artery to the aorta. This second shunt has kept the boy alive and growing for over 18 months now. Because of the operation Garland can develop at a normal rate until research can provide a method for reconstruction of his missing heart chamber.

EARTHBOUND

Very soon a giant step in the effort to provide opportunities for urban Americans to share in our National Park heritage will become a reality. New Jerseyans will be most directly affected by the inclusion of the Sandy Hook area of our state in the federal government's Gateway National Park complex. This little corner of New Jersey's coastal plain, jutting out into the Atlantic Ocean and Raritan Bay at Highlands has long been the sight of a military complex, a marine research center, a small nature area and holly forest at the site of an old Coast Guard station at Spermacetti Cove, and a recreation beach area under the supervision of state park authorities.

Sandy Hook, which has long been a popular recreation spot for metropolitan area residents, will be one of the four main units of Gateway, the other three being a Staten Island unit, a Jamaica Bay unit and a Brezzy Point unit. The four areas combined will represent 26,000 acres of coastal waterway which will then be under the supervision of the National Park Service.

The potential effects of this project are staggering and would greatly affect areas of urban planning, disposal of municipal and industrial waste in the New York-New Jersey bight, well known as one of the most polluted waterways in America. In the summer months there is a total absence of oxygen in the bight for the use of fish or shellfish. Much needed areas in environmental education and marine research will be developed.

The Gateway bill was passed in October of 1972. The first operating appropriation will arrive this November for fiscal 1974. This will be in the amount of 6.2 million dollars. By fiscal 1975 informed sources estimate that Gateway development funds could reach '92 million dollars.

The Sandy Hook area will be receiving a big chunk of this funding and attention and can only benefit as the program develops. For the first time, then, this program moves the concept of the vast national park from the wilderness of Yellowstone and the Grand Canyon to within reach of the millions of Americans in the New Jersey-New York metropolitan area. This is the first time this has been done in the history of the country, and the National Park Service has its work cut out ahead to make it work.

AAA clubs balk at toll raise idea

AAA Clubs in New York and New Jersey have strongly opposed reported plans by the Port Authority to include bridge and tunnel tolls as a means of subsidizing deficits in the PATH rail system.

In a joint letter to Port Authority chairman James C. Kellogg, the idea of forcing motorists to pay higher tolls to cover mass transit costs—"when they are no better off financially than rail commuters"—was challenged by Frank Quinn, chairman of the Public Affairs Council of the AAA Clubs of New Jersey, and Gilbert B. Phillips, president of the Automobile Club of New York.

Reminding Kellogg of his assurance last year that he sees "no reason to increase the bridge and tunnel tolls in the foreseeable future," the AAA officials noted the authority's reported net operating revenue of $120 million in 1972 and reserves of over $212 million.

These amounts suggest that to whatever extent the Authority must subsidize its mass transit operations, there are options available to produce the revenues needed for this purpose," they said.

Dear Consumer

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to President Nixon

Although acupuncture has been practiced in China since approximately 2500 B.C., it is quite new to this country. According to the definition of Chinese traditional medicine, acupuncture is a medical treatment involving the insertion of fine needles into the body at specific points.

At present, acupuncture is being used experimentally in the U.S. as an anesthetic and as an analgesic (pain killer).

However, while a number of health research scientists are interested in acupuncture's potential benefits in medical treatment, both the medical community and the federal government are concerned about protecting the consumer from those who are practicing acupuncture without the proper qualifications.

To protect the consumer from "quackupuncture," the Food and Drug Administration is considering a requirement that acupuncture needles and other materials be labeled with this statement:

"Caution: Experimental device limited to investigational use by or under the direct supervision of licensed medical or dental practitioners...."

This device to be used only under conditions designed to protect the patient... or where conditions for such use are in accordance with state law.

In addition to FDA's action, 12 states—California, Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas and Wisconsin—have passed regulations dealing with acupuncture.

In every state except Nevada, these regulations require that acupuncture be performed under the supervision of a licensed physician. Nevada's regulations sets up a licensing board for Chinese medicine and allows the practice of acupuncture by those licensed by the state board. Washington, D.C., has a regulation similar to Nevada's.

In an attempt to find out more about acupuncture—especially how it can be used as an anesthetic and in treating pain—the National

Theater workshop for young people scheduled at Drew

The Young People's Theatre Workshops offered the past two summers by the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival will again be continued into the academic year by Drew University.

Under the sponsorship of Drew's new division of special university programs and continuing education, the program will offer four different sessions for age groups ranging from 7 to 17. They will meet every Saturday beginning Oct. 6, except on the Thanksgiving weekend, and ending on Dec. 15.

The classes again will be taught by Mrs. Sylvia Felder, who has been associate director of Stage Six, Theatre Atlanta's highly acclaimed program for young people, and who was in charge of creative dramas for the Festival in the summers of 1970, 1972, and 1973. A drama graduate of Columbia College, she has appeared in plays presented by Theatre Atlanta.

The Studio Workshop sessions will teach stage technique through the preparation and presentation of a play. It is being offered to those 13 to 17 years old from 10 a.m. to noon. Mime, theatre games, improvisation, and story dramatization is being featured in two separate hour-long classes. Beginning creative dramas for those 7 to 10 years old will be held from 1 to 2 p.m., and advanced creative dramas for those 8 to 11 years old will be offered from 2:15 to 3:15 in the afternoon.

The basic acting class will provide an introduction to stage techniques and character development through improvisation and scene study. It is suggested for those 12 to 17 years old, and will be held between 3:30 and 5 p.m. All classes are scheduled in the University Commons.

Additional information about the program is available from the office of dean John McCallat Drew University, 377-3000, ext. 353.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

'All right, all right! Don't people me, buster!'

PSE&G earnings rise cent a share

August earnings available for common stock of Public Service Electric and Gas Co. were $6,860,000, or 15 cents per average share, compared with $6,069,000 in August of last year, or 14 cents per average share on 8 percent fewer average shares outstanding.

The modest improvement in earnings reflects the effect of the June 1973 interim increase in electric and gas rates and the warmer than normal weather, offset in part, by the increase in state gross receipts tax and Federal income tax.

Earnings for the 12 months ended Aug. 31, were $105,219,000, or $2.37 per average share. In the period ended Aug. 31, 1972, earnings were $89,825,000, or $2.26 a share on 10 percent fewer average shares.

Earnings for the 1972 periods have been restated to give effect to the equity method of accounting for earnings and losses of the company's subsidiaries.

Cahill proclaims Highway Week

Governor William T. Cahill has proclaimed this week as National Highway Week in New Jersey.

In his proclamation the Governor noted that this year's national slogan is "Better Roads, Better Living" and "better living means more than luxuries, for highways deliver goods and services that are the necessities to live."

The Governor said the annual observance focuses attention on the fundamental importance of highways to the state and the nation, as highways are the basic framework for our ground defenses, as well as the carrier of police and emergency services.

Commenting on the importance of the observance of highway week, Transportation Commissioner John C. Kohl said that highways are a vital link in balancing New Jersey's transportation system. He added that the department is working on various projects to increase the use of intermodal transportation through the use of park and ride facilities and cross-county bus routes.

During National Highway Week the Department of Transportation is sponsoring a special exhibit in the Rotunda of the State House.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

By Pat and Marilyn Davis

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

I think my husband has amnesia. I'll tell him that Stephen, our 12-year-old, has a ball game Friday at 7 p.m. When Friday rolls around my husband has completely forgotten that I had mentioned the game to him. The same thing applies to our social life. I may accept a dinner invitation and clear the date with Joe but when the day arrives to go he can't remember a thing about it.

The clincher came last week. My sister and her husband were to stay at our home for two days on their way to visit other relatives. Joe likes both of these people and had said he would take those two days off so we could do a few things. Well, you guessed it. When the date came Joe had forgotten to make any arrangements to take the time off and our plans went down the drain. What can I do?

Dear Upset:

Has your husband had a physical examination within the last year? If not, why not start there? However, if he is a healthy male, he may enjoy being an amnesiac. Think of all the things he can avoid by using this technique!

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I need some advice fast. I have been dating James for

Dear Pat and Marilyn:

I am going to be 17 in a couple of months and want a raise in my allowance. I've explained that my expenses are getting bigger and that money just doesn't go as far as it once did. When I try to talk with my father he always tells the same old story of how he dated Mom and could have lots of fun on $1. I think he has forgotten that this was years and years ago and that inflation has set in.

At present, I receive $5 a week and have suggested $10 to my father. My father's old hat answer is, "Jeff, don't expect pennies from heaven. Five dollars is the limit. Live with it." My mother refuses to interfere.

Dear B.W.:

You may not like my answer but here it is. I'm with your father. Get a job after school if you want more money. Inflation has also set in for Dad. Remember he has to pay all the bills and he may also be having a little difficulty making that dollar stretch.

Bank official to lead Goodwill fund drive

A $500,000 capital fund raising campaign to support the work of Goodwill Industries of New Jersey will take place this fall under the leadership of Thomas J. Stanton Jr., president of the First Jersey National Bank.

The announcement by John C. Ramsey, president of the board of Goodwill Industries, noted that this is the first time in the 54-year history of the organization that a formal, public appeal for assistance has been conducted.

Goodwill has as its primary aims the evaluation, training and placement of handicapped men and women, giving them a second chance to rejoin the mainstream of society. The chief source of revenue for the day-to-day operations comes from sales of refurbished and reconditioned clothing, furniture and other household articles.
