PINT-SIZED PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT — Members of the third, fourth and fifth grades at the Echobrook School have been utilizing their time in arts and crafts classes to paint posters publicizing the annual American Red Cross membership-fund drive. The finished products decorate the school hallways and urge fellow pupils to contribute to the charity; funds collected are turned over to the chapter in Westfield. Among the youngsters taking part in the project are (from left) Jim Loughlin, Beth Gillman, Suzanne D'Amanda, James Buckley, Tom Kurz and Elaine Dixon.

ENTHUSIASTIC ARTIST — Echobrook School third-grader David Gibadlo seems thoroughly satisfied with his creative efforts on a poster painted as part of a school project to aid the Red Cross. While David was working on the publicity part of the effort, other children helped the charity in another way, making place mats for distribution to veterans hospitals.

Two trips are planned in vacations

Special events listed
by recreation group

The Mountainside Recreation Commission has planned a series of special events for youth and families for this fall and winter. Special events include two trips for boys and girls during teacher vacations, one to the Buick assembly plant in Linden and one for roller skating in Livingston. There are two trips to the ice skating center in Warinanco Park for youth and families, tennis night for adults at the Murray Hill Racquet Club and a family and youth trip to see "The Nutcracker Suite" performed by the New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild.

On Nov. 15, the first of the teacher vacation trips will be for boys and girls in Grades three through eight. The trip will be to the Buick assembly plant in Linden. On Nov. 16, the second trip for teachers' vacation will be to the Livingston Roller Rink, also for boys and girls in Grades 3 through 8. Registration for both trips will start Nov. 5.

Registrations are being accepted now for the tennis night at Murray Hill Racquet Club on Saturday, Nov. 24, for adults. Registration fee is $15 per couple.

Two family and youth ice skating parties are planned at Warinanco Park skating rink. The first is planned for Dec. 1, from 6 to 8 p.m. This will be open to Mountainside residents only. There will be no fee for admission. Skate rental will be available for 55 cents, and there will be a bus available, leaving from Deerfield School, for a small fee. Reservations must be made at the recreation office. Calls will be accepted at

Plans, exhibitions listed for Heritage workshop

Plans are proceeding for the day-long "Heritage Workshop and Exhibition Fair" to be held on Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Deerfield School as a first step in Mountainside's commemoration of the bicentennial of the United States in 1976.

The fair is designed to allow residents of Mountainside and nearby communities to "relive the rich colonial past of America" and recreate the early American spirit with a varied exhibition of crafts, artwork, games, and demonstrations of colonial activities.

Members from 30 of Mountainside's civic groups are aiding in the planning and demonstrating of these activities, and several professionals in various fields will also participate in the day's activities. The fair will run from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., and everyone has been urged to attend.

Displays will include art and antiques, calligraphy, candlemaking, china painting, decoupage, quilting and other forms of needlework, lapidary display, woodworking, beaded flowers, and many others. Mountainside artists, amateur and professional, will present a "Cavalcade of Art" with representative American art from the primitive period to the modern day.

Those wishing to exhibit crafts, pictures or sculpture may deliver these items to the gymnasium of Deerfield School between 3 and 5 o'clock on Friday, Nov. 2, and collect them by 6 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 3. Readers may call Mrs. H.G. Hayward at 233-3886 (evenings) for additional information.

The more athletically inclined will not be left out. There will be games demonstrated as they were played in the colonial era—horseshoes, stills, bowling on the green, marbles and kite flying. There will be a kite flying contest with prizes offered for the best looking homemade kite and for the highest flying kite.

It was stressed that entrants in the kite contest should try to stick to a red, white, and blue color theme for their kites since that is the color theme for the entire fair.

Other activities will include an exhibition of antique cars, a hayride and several musical presentations, including one which will portray the costumes worn by the colonial women.

Mobile Meals project depends on volunteers

Plans are under way to start a Mobile Meals project in Mountainside, but volunteers are needed to deliver the food to shut-ins and other recipients in the borough.

Persons willing to give one hour a week to this project are asked to call Mrs. Grant Lennox at 232-8207 or Mrs. Walter Young at 233-4024 as soon as possible.

AAUW to hold annual session for candidates

Democratic campaign manager Robert Jaffe and Republican campaign manager William Blum have accepted an invitation from the Mountainside branch of the American Association of University Women for their respective candidates to participate in the annual Candidates Night, to be held Tuesday at Beechwood School from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Margaret Walker, director of the national board of the League of Women Voters, will be moderator for the evening.

Frank Gagliano and Albert D'Amanda, Democrats; and Republicans Nick Bradshaw, incumbent, and Abe Suckno, are candidates for the Borough Council. The tax collector candidates are Ruth Gibadlo, Republican, and Democrat Steve Sussko.

Each has been asked to present a resume of his qualifications for office. The meeting will then be open for discussion and questions.

PTA to hear panel on juvenile and law

The Mountainside PTA will meet next Thursday, Oct. 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the Deerfield School all-purpose room for a parent and family life program on what happens to a juvenile after an arrest.

The panel will include a police officer, a member of the Juvenile Conference Committee, a Union County Children's Court judge, a probation officer and a mother who has experienced having her child go through the various steps of juvenile law in town.

There will be a discussion period after the presentation on various aspects of juvenile delinquency and youth facilities in this area. All interested persons as well as any youths in the sixth grade or above are invited to attend.

GOP candidates for council stick to single-family platform

Nicholas Bradshaw and Abe Suckno, Republican candidates for Mountainside Borough Council, and Ruth Gibadlo the Republican candidate for tax collector, spoke to a recent gathering of Mountainside residents at the home of former Mayor and Mrs. Fred Wilhelms.

Bradshaw and Suckno emphasized their commitment to maintaining Mountainside as a community of single-family dwellings.

They declared: "Our platform states our position clearly. We feel the development of our community and the absence of multi-family dwellings express the desires of those who helped build the town—and we are dedicated to preserving that tradition."

"The foundation upon which this community has been developed has not included any recommendations for multiple dwellings, and we recognize that as an expression of the general attitude among the majority of our citizens," said Bradshaw, incumbent candidate for a council seat.

Suckno stated, "All of our community services are geared toward Mountainside remaining a town of single-family dwellings. Any deviation from that basic stand would require a complete reevaluation of community services such as police and fire protection, schools and other community requirements. "Nick, Ruth and I would not be trying to

Mrs. Ricciardi, mayor's mother

In consideration of the death of Mrs. Agnes Ricciardi, mother of Mayor Thomas J. Ricciardi, the Mountainside Borough Council postponed its regular monthly meeting from Tuesday to tonight. The session will be held at 8 p.m. in the Echobrook School.

Mrs. Ricciardi, who resided in Oceanport, died Friday at Monmouth Medical Center, Long Branch, at the age of 78. Mrs. Ricciardi, the widow of Pasquale Ricciardi, had lived in the Oceanport area for the past 43 years, having previously resided in Newark and East Orange.

A funeral mass for Mrs. Ricciardi was offered Tuesday in St. Dorothea's Church, Eatontown. Other survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Juanita Talarico and Mrs. Nancy Simmonds, both of Nutley, and Mrs. Gloria Filippone of Oceanport; two other sons, Anthony R. Ricciardi of West Long Branch, and Rudolph Ricciardi of Bernardsville; two sisters, Mrs. Lydia Antonacci and Mrs. Genevieve Gizzi, both of Newark, and 17 grandchildren.

2 brothers held in break-in case

An early-morning "visit" to the Lotus Garden Restaurant, Rt. 22, Mountainside, resulted in the arrest Friday of two North Plainfield brothers on charges of break and entry and possession of burglar tools, Mountainside police reported.

Kenneth Deight, 18, and David Deight, 22, were picked up on the restaurant premises at 5:15 a.m. by Ptl. William Alder, police said. They charge the pair had broken into the building through a window, forced open two cigarette machines and were in possession of $160 in change at the time of their arrest.

Local officers had reported to the restaurant after an employee sleeping in an upstairs room was awakened by sounds below and called headquarters.

The Deights were taken to the Union County Jail in Elizabeth after they were unable to pay the $2,000 bail placed on each. They were to appear before Judge Jacob R. Bauer at Mountainside Municipal Court last night.

Key Club lists date for recycling drive

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its monthly recycling drive Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Echo Plaza Shopping Center. Newspapers (tied in neat bundles), sorted glass (with all metal removed) and aluminum will be accepted for recycling.

Hours for the collection will be 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. A club spokesman noted that a great amount of material was left at the site of the recycling drive last month after the closing hour and could not be recycled.

Donations of blood Wednesday urged by Red Cross unit

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross this week renewed its appeal to the people of these communities to donate blood at the blood bank at the Presbyterian Church, Westfield, Wednesday from 2 to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Edward W. Love, chairman of the blood program for the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter, reported that New Jersey's blood collection is steadily increasing and that each bank held in Westfield during the past year has also shown an increase; a total of 486 units was collected. She stated that "there has been growing interest in the whole blood program and new people have been donors for the first time."

Facilities for distributing, collection and processing of blood are now located in New Jersey. The new center, to be known as the N.J. Blood Services—an affiliate of the Greater New York Blood Bank—is located on Joyce Kilmer avenue, New Brunswick.

The Red Cross blood program works through 59 regional centers covering 1,696 participating Red Cross chapters whose jurisdictions have a total population of 126,000,000.

In the past year this system collected some 3,750,000 units of volunteer blood, from which the organization was able to provide more than 5,500,000 transfusable units of blood and blood products. Since the beginning of the national Red Cross program in 1948, the organization has made available 65,000,000 units of blood for treatment of the ill and injured.

Mrs. Love asked that readers call the Red Cross office (232-7090) from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. to make an appointment. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 may donate.

Library shut Monday

The Free Public Library of Mountainside will be closed on Monday, in observance of Veterans' Day.

THE NOVEMBER CANDIDATES Steven J. Sussko

Steve Sussko has lived in Mountainside for 20 years, and he plans to continue making it his home—but he is also concerned about increasing property taxes that could keep senior citizens from remaining in the borough.

"I don't think many senior citizens could afford to live here now," the Democratic candidate for borough tax collector stated. "Everyone keeps talking about how the Mountainside tax rate is low, but assessments are high, so in actual tax dollars we are paying a lot of money."

"I realize that as tax collector, I'd have no voice on the Borough Council," he continued, "but I could still voice an opinion around Borough Hall, and maybe it would be heard."

Sussko, who noted that as tax collector he "would not be indebted to anyone at Borough Hall for giving me a job," said he would like to make the post a fulltime one, with the tax collector holding one title, since "anyone doing other work must neglect his or her duties on one job while performing the other."

The Democratic hopeful said that if elected he would provide "equal treatment" in the collection of taxes for all Mountainside taxpayers—homeowners, commercial or industrial. "By that I don't mean that equal treatment is not provided now," he said. "But I'd like to personally make sure that is the case and things are run right."

Sussko, a civil service career employee with the City of Newark—Department of Public Works for the past 24 years, noted he is eligible for retirement within the next year—something that influenced his decision to run for office. "I expect to retire in the near future," he said, "and feel I will then have more time to devote to our community—and enough time to serve fulltime as tax collector."

The candidate feels he is qualified for the post, having had experience in handling finances in the payroll and accounting departments at Hyatt-Roller Bearing Co., Harrison, where he was employed for 11 years. A native of Newark and a graduate of East Side High School there, Sussko continued his studies at Drake's Business School, Newark, and completed courses in business administration through LaSalle Extension University. An Army veteran, he served as regimental sergeant major on the staff of Gen. J. Ochs Adler.

Since moving to Mountainside, Sussko has taken part in a variety of community activities. He is a former member of the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department, worked with the Boy Scouts and Little League, and served as borough chairman for Union County Heart Association.

A parishioner of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Sussko is a member and past president of its Holy Name Society. For the past 12 years, he has served as an usher at Sunday Masses and as a volunteer worker at the church bingo games.

Sussko and his wife of 31 years, Mary, reside at 369 Old Tote rd. They have a married daughter, Marilyn Reinhart of Summit, and three children at home, Mary Jane, 21, a student at the New School in New York; Steven Jr., 18, a recent graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and Roger, 13, an eighth grader at Our Lady of Lourdes School; and four grandchildren.

Rally planned by GOP Club

The Republican Club of Mountainside will hold its annual "rally" for Republican candidates Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 8:30 p.m. in the Mountainside Inn. All GOP candidates in the district have been invited to attend and address the members and their guests.

Republicans

(Continued from page 1) convince the voters by talking about 'maintaining' Mountainside in its present form if we didn't mean it," he added.

"The candidates," Suckno concluded, "in being opposed to multi-family dwellings in our community, hope that citizens in agreement with this position will attend future meetings of the Board of Adjustments to express their feelings."

Mrs. Gibadlo, in addressing the gathering, stated that "the appalling lack of knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of the tax collector exhibited by the Democratic candidate in his campaign is misleading and confusing the voters."

"My opponent, in his campaign literature, would have you believe that the position of tax collector is concerned with 'apportionment' of taxes. Nothing could be further from the truth or the law. If by 'apportionment' he means the establishing of values and assessments, he is wrong. Establishment of values and assessments is the job of a trained professional: our tax assessor. If by 'apportionment' he means budgeting of borough funds he is wrong again; this is the function of our mayor and council and is totally removed from the duties of the tax collector," added Mrs. Gibadlo.

"The tax collector's function," said Mrs. Gibadlo, "is strictly what the name implies and only that—the collection of taxes. I know because I have been doing the job."

"On the subject of the collection of taxes, I am pleased to inform you that my office has been successful in the collection of 99 percent of taxes in the year in which the taxes are due. This is a phenomenal record; I know of no other municipality with a record to match ours," concluded Mrs. Gibadlo.

AAUW

ONE POTATO, TWO POTATO — Alicia Vignola (left) and Jacqueline Kelk, second grade pupils at the Beechwood School, are served sweet potatoes as final step in unusual reading 'adventure.' Students in the school's Flexible Reading Program first read the story of 'Sweetie, the Sweet Potato' using a controlled reader machine aimed at improving comprehension and speed. They then drew pictures of what they thought 'Sweetie' looked like, and finally were treated to the baked potatoes, served by their teacher, Thelma Cote.

Four persons hurt in three accidents; driver 'bags' deer

Four persons, including two Mountainside women involved in a collision on Rt. 22, were reported injured in traffic accidents in the borough this week, according to local police. Ethel Romano of 1496 Rt. 22, Mountainside, was admitted to Overlook Hospital, Summit, suffering a concussion as a result of a crash Monday afternoon on the highway at the Lawrence avenue U-turn. Also injured was a second motorist, Rene D. Burrows of 324 Partridge run, Mountainside, who suffered a fractured arm.

Police said Mrs. Burrows, who was traveling west on the highway at 4 p.m., claimed she had the green light at the intersection but Mrs. Romano pulled in front of her from the turnaround, and the cars collided. According to police, a passenger in the Romano vehicle claimed the other car failed to stop in time for the light. No charges have been filed against the drivers.

The injured were taken to Overlook by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

On Saturday, two accidents were reported within an hour at the intersection of New Providence road and Coles avenue. At 9:10 p.m., Gary E. Schmalenberger, 17, of Westfield was injured when he lost control of his motorcycle on the turn and ran into the side of an oncoming auto, operated by Gerard M. Williams, 24, of New Providence, police reported.

Schmalenberger was taken to Overlook by the Mountainside Rescue Squad for treatment of elbow abrasions.

At 10 p.m., a second crash occurred when Joseph M. Tribunella, 17, of Fanwood apparently lost control of his car on the same turn, ran off the roadway and hit the embankment.

Police said Tribunella claimed he had swerved to avoid hitting another car which had cut him off. They said he was not hurt but a passenger, Linda Piazza, 16, of Scotch Plains, suffered a nose injury. She was taken to Overlook by the Rescue Squad, treated and released.

An unidentified state hospital was the beneficiary of an accident Monday at 4:55 p.m. in front of 400 Summit rd.

Police said Erika Rupp of 1339 Outlook dr. was traveling on the road when a deer ran in front of her car, was struck and killed. The vehicle suffered front end damage. The deer was removed by the game warden, police said, later to be butchered and given to a hospital.

Top performers listed

Mrs. Frank Dugan, with a net 42 score, was first in the Echo Lake Country Club consolation tournament last Wednesday.

Mrs. Ross Burke was second in the nine-hole event. Low Putts were made by Mrs. Warren Radcliffe, Mrs. C. Burton Kellogg, II, Mrs. William Meglaughlin and Mrs. Thomas Potts. Chip-in: Mrs. Martin Ansbro.

The hole champion was Mrs. Walter Fedor; runner-up was Mrs. Walter Eckhart; winner, Beaten 8, was Mrs. Wynant Wilday.

Ellsworth is promoted

Duncan S. Ellsworth of Bedminster has been advanced from vice-president, administration, to senior vice-president, Elizabethtown Gas. Ellsworth, who is a graduate of Harvard University where he received his A.B. degree, started with Elizabethtown Gas in 1962 as a purchasing agent.

JOHN KEAN, president of both the National Utilities & Industries Corp. and the Elizabethtown Gas Co., Elizabeth, has been elected to a two-year term on the American Gas Association's board of directors. Elections were held at the 55th annual convention of the gas industry's national trade association, which took place in San Francisco earlier this week.

Mini-Theater rehearsals under way; Livingston picks student committees

Reports on a wide variety of activities at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, ranging from dramatics to student government, were issued this week by a school spokesman.

Rehearsals have begun on the first Mini-Theater production, "The Roar of the Grease Paint and Smell of the Crowd." It is a full length musical with a smaller cast than usual

Gas company chief criticizes PUC on 3 pct. rate boost

John Kean, president of Elizabethtown Gas, this week expressed disappointment at the 2.9 percent rate increase granted the gas company Oct. 11 by the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

"This less than three percent increase, our first general rate increase in 25 years, does not allow for the ever-mounting costs of doing business," Kean stated.

"Equally important, this small increase impedes our efforts to obtain or produce additional supplies of gas so vitally needed to meet our customers' needs."

"Projects already initiated to bring our customers more gas require large sums of money, most of which must be borrowed—and everyone today knows that interest rates for borrowing money are at an all time high."

"We have the obligation and responsibility of providing safe and adequate service to our customers. This includes assuring a continuing supply of gas which, because of today's nationwide shortage, is both difficult and costly."

"That is why we are not only disappointed but concerned about the PUC's decision to grant us only a 2.9 percent increase," Kean concluded.

Elizabethtown Gas serves 184,000 customers in Union, Middlesex, Hunterdon, Sussex, Warren, Mercer and Morris counties.

in a production of this sort. These smaller productions are run without the help of the faculty; drama students produce, direct and act on their own. The Mini-Theater performances are open to the public.

"The Roar of the Grease Paint" is directed by Stephanie Adams. Patricia Ludd is orchestra and music director. The cast includes Michael McGrath, Darlene Yannaeta, Cathy McQueen, Alex Santoriello, Jerry O'Connor, Cathy Irwin, Donna Serido, Pamela Osterhout, Linda Woodman, Judy Seplowin, Martha Isleib, Robin Cooper and Marla Matthews.

The first Student Council meeting was held on Wednesday, Sept. 26. Dustin Hecker, Robin Hefand, Sharon Sebald were named to the Art Selection Committee which will aid Melvin Zirkes, assistant principal, in selecting framed pictures which will be purchased and placed in the school's corridors.

A dress committee consisting of five teachers, five parents, and five students will meet and discuss the matter of a dress code. Chosen to represent the students were Terri Clifford, Michael McCarthy, Mark Slidker, Susan Flinn and Anthony Bosco.

The Student Council has been asked to decide on the uses for the student ID cards. Some possibilities that were suggested were for student rates at athletic events and for student discounts at stores and movies in town. Students named to work on this were Lisa Alecci, Amy Townsend, Karen Clifford, Susan Sebald, Robin Helfand, Doreen Cosimano, Roberta Taylor, and Edith Mayell.

By unanimous vote, council members agreed to continue donating $15 a month to the Save the Children Fund. Representatives were reminded that attendance at Student Council meetings is mandatory.

Lytle Linabery, 77; services are held

Private funeral services were held Monday in Westfield for Lytle L. Linabery of Mountainside, who died Sunday at his home at the age of 77.

Mr. Linabery had lived in Mountainside for a year, making his home with his niece, Mrs. Howard Rhodes of 333 Old Tote rd., and her family. Born in Princeton, Ill., he had previously lived in Coral Gables, Fla., and Detroit.

Mr. Linabery had been employed by the Detroit Racing Commission for 50 years, retiring three years ago.

Funeral arrangements were completed by Gray's Funeral Home, Westfield.

Addressing the convocation were administration and Congressional leaders, including Dr. Henry Kissinger, Sen. William Fulbright, Sen. Frank Church and Sen. Sam Erwin.

At the next social studies department meeting, Mrs. Lambe will report on the meeting.

Y schedules Indian ritual

Nearly 300 fathers, sons and daughter will be inducted into the Unami Federation of Y-Indian Guides and Y-Indian Princesses Saturday, at 4 p.m. in ceremonies at the Wachung Reservation Sky top campus.

More than a hundred Cranford residents will be initiated on the same day at 10 a.m. ceremonies at Nomohegan Park, Cranford.

Jack Leitch, program director of the Westfield YMCA, said "I will ask the Great Spirits' Blessing on the old and new tribes of the federation, which covers Mountainside and Westfield."

In a symbolic sacrifice, each father and child will receive a grain of corn. Fathers will cast their corn into the tribal fire as a token of their pledge to sacrifice selfishness and to find more time to spend with their sons and daughters.

Little braves and princesses will toss in their corn, pledging to sacrifice impatience and to understand that fathers cannot always attend every meeting, pow wow or camp-out. The Y Indian Guide and Y-Indian Princess program is

CONSUMER INFORMATION

By Charlotte Mitchell, Director of Consumer Information, Elizabethtown Gas

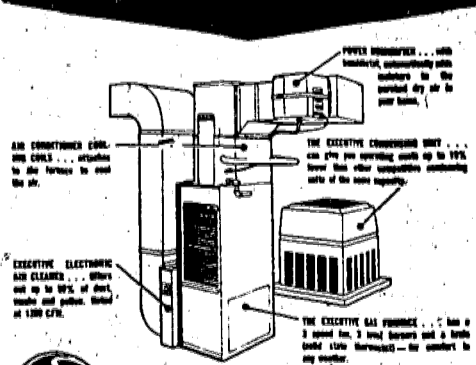

Heating water for your home can, literally, get you into hot water—financially—if you don't analyze your needs carefully before purchasing a replacement water heater. Has the number in your family increased? Have you added a dishwasher? Have you added a bathroom?

The size water heater best for you will depend on the number and age of those in your family, how you wash dishes and clothes, and the number of bathrooms in your home. Remember, the capacity of a water heater includes the recovery rate (how fast it will heat the water while you use it) as well as the size of the tank.

Modern gas water heaters have well insulated linings that help keep the water hot. In order to cut down on the operating cost, as well as save gas, several precautions should be taken to avoid wasting that heated water.

- Be sure to repair leaking hot water faucets promptly.
- Don't wash dishes under constantly running hot water.
- Men—don't rinse that razor under constantly running hot water.
- When using an automatic washer, set the water selection level at the proper amount of hot water for the size of load. Choose the proper temperature to suit the type of fabric being washed. Overfilling of the tub or use of very hot water when not appropriate wastes money, water, detergent and gas.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

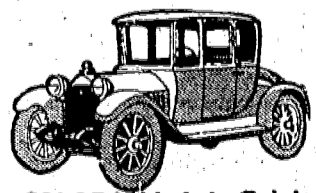

HE ASKS MORE

There is nothing wrong with desiring a nice place to live in, good food to nourish the body, and good clothing that will shelter the body. Our excessive desires for more and more materialistic possessions are where we go wrong.

God takes very good care of us. Most of us have very nice homes and apartments, decent clothing and good food. But God asks more of us than just to use the things of this world and demand more and more. God asks us to aid one another with love, charity and concern.

One of the easiest things in life is to desire more and more of the material things of this world, while forgetting about the needs of others.

CONSERVE NATURAL GAS—IT'S PURE ENERGY!

INVOLVING COMMUNITY RESIDENTS is the objective of Anthony Fioraliso, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Principal, as he participates in a special program to rank educational goals. The Board of Education of the Union County Regional High School District plans to involve a 60-resident committee for each high school, selected on a random basis, to rank and evaluate educational goals.

Methodists stress harvest, ecology at Sunday service

"God's Ecology and ours" will be the theme of the Harvest Festival Services at Springfield Emanuel United Methodist Church, Church mall at Academy green, Sunday.

The Sanctuary and Chapel will be decorated with fall leaves, flowers and fruits under the expert direction of Richard Walter. As worshippers enter the Narthex they will see slides of "God's Beautiful World" assembled by William Rosset, lay leader, with the cooperation of other members of the congregation who are sharing their slides of places they have visited.

At the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services of worship in the Chapel and Sanctuary, Pastor James Dewart will speak on "God's Ecology and Ours," stressing "the natural cycle which preserves the environment and man's part in disturbing that cycle." The Wesley and Chancel choirs will render anthems stressing the Creator and his creation. The Harvest Festival offering for local church needs will be received.

German language worship is at 9:30 a.m. with Theodore Reimlinger preaching. Church School meets at the same hour with classes from nursery through college age. The Methodist Youth Fellowship will welcome members of the Oaker Memorial MYF to its meeting Sunday at 6 p.m. Plans will be completed for the Halloween party which the Youth Fellowship is giving for the children of the church on Oct. 28.

Mr. Dewart has announced that confirmations will meet each Thursday, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Other meetings scheduled include the trustees, Monday, 8 p.m.; Women's Mission Circle on Tuesday, 8 p.m.; Wesley Choir, Wednesday, 3:30 p.m., and Search, the same day at 8:30 p.m.

Student named 'judge'

SARASOTA, Fla.—Ross Ackerman of 121 Laurel dr., Springfield, N.J., has been elected a judge of the Student Court, which rules on disciplinary matters at New College here.

Regional Board of Education adopts new National Honor Society rules

New National Honor Society guidelines recently were adopted by the Union County Regional High School District's Board of Education for each of its four high schools. In line with National Honor Society regulations, students will be elected into the society on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

Regional students in the junior and senior classes are eligible academically for membership provided each has a weighted average of 4.0 or better. The rank in class at the end of Grade 10 will be used with additional inspection of fifth semester grades in examining the academic achievements of juniors. Seniors will be academically examined by their rank in class at the end of Grade 11.

According to the guidelines, character is indicative of mature, responsible behavior, demonstrated by: 1. Honesty; 2. Responsibility for completion of obligations; 3. Considerate behavior toward others; 4. Appropriate conduct without major or repeated disciplinary infractions, and 5. Regular school attendance without excessive or unwarranted absence or tardiness.

Leadership is defined as the ability to influence others toward positive goals, demonstrated by: 1. Holding a school or community position of responsibility, school office, committee chairmanship and effectively performing the duties, and 2. Influencing others by promoting constructive activities within the classroom, the school and the community.

Service is demonstrated by participation in a service-oriented club or activity which entails substantial involvement outside the classroom.

The first stage of selecting students into each Regional chapter of the National Honor Society will be the preparation of a list of students eligible for membership on the basis of scholarship. The guidance office in each school will prepare such a list, which, along with rating forms and instructions, will be distributed to each member of a building's professional staff (faculty, administration, librarian, nurses, guidance directors and counselors, special services personnel).

Each professional staff member will review the list of eligible students and rate the students he knows in areas he is familiar with. A 4-3-3-1-0 rating scale will be used.

The rating sheets are not to be shared with students. The teacher's name will appear on the sheet and the teacher must sign the sheet before submitting it to the National Honor Society sponsor. The sponsor is responsible for averaging the ratings for each student on the eligibility list. An average will be computed for each pupil for each of the three categories (character, leadership, service). A student must have a minimum average of 3.0 in each of the three categories or he is eliminated at this point.

A committee consisting of the principal, assistant principal(s), guidance director, National Honor Society sponsor, and one teacher from each department (English; social studies; mathematics; foreign languages; industrial education and home economics; cultural arts; business education; science; and physical education, health and driver education) will review the list of students and rating averages. The National Honor Society sponsor will serve as the chairman of the committee when meeting for the purpose of National Honor Society business. (If the principal's advisory council meets the committee membership requirements, such council may serve as the committee noted above.)

This committee will review the list of students eliminated and consider additional information which may be available. The case of any student who receives a zero in any category will also be reviewed. A student with a minimum weighted average of 4.0 (scholarship) and a minimum average of 3.0 in each of the other three categories (character, leadership, service) will be elected to membership.

Juniors selected for membership in the National Honor Society will be inducted in an appropriate ceremony in the spring (March or April). Seniors selected for membership in the National Honor Society will be inducted in an appropriate ceremony in the fall (October or November). The rules and regulations of the National Honor Society, an organization sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, will be followed.

After one year of operation, an evaluation of these procedures and requirements will be made by a committee appointed for that purpose by the superintendent of schools, Dr. Donald A. Merachnik.

New senior club elects officers

The newly-formed Fifth Group of the Springfield Senior Citizens has elected officers. They are: Anita Terono, president; Eva Lucardiello, vice president; Helen Gottlieb, secretary; Marie Baumgartner, treasurer; Polly Hohn, assistant treasurer; Minnie Fiorellino, jolly jar.

The next meeting will be next Thursday. Hostesses will be Mildred Lindeman and Carolyn Kane. Elizabeth Cohen, field representative from the Social Security office, will be the speaker.

Seniors interested in joining the group can attend next week at 11 a.m. at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center. They were advised to bring a sandwich; coffee and dessert will be served.

School librarians meet at Gaudineer School

The Union County School Librarian's Association held its first meeting of the year last week at the Florence Gaudineer School. Ann Voss, coordinator of the School Media Service, Library Development Bureau of New Jersey, was the guest speaker.

Antonette Inguaggiato, Gaudineer school librarian, was host. Officers of the group are Mrs. Grace Shulman, president; Mrs. Emily Robinson, vice-president, and Alice Costell, secretary-treasurer.

Antique glass topic for author's lecture

New Jersey's role in the making of handblown glass, which began in 1739 at Alloway and spanned three centuries, will be described by Adeline Pepper of Springfield to members of the Woman's Club of Maplewood at their clubhouse this afternoon at 1:30. The speaker will illustrate her lecture with slides about collectible glass that was blown in New Jersey.

Miss Pepper's book, "The Glass Gaffers of New Jersey," recently won an award of merit from the American Association for State and Local History. Only 18 authors or editors in the U.S. received this award in the past year, and Miss Pepper's book is the only one by a New Jersey resident to be so honored.

The author, also an award winning photographer, illustrated her book with 19 full-color pictures as well as about 240 in black and white. A gaffer, Miss Pepper explains, is a master glassworker, who, assisted by gatherers, servitors and "carrying-in" boys, gives form, shape and decoration to blown glass.

An earlier volume by Miss Pepper, "Tours of Historic New Jersey," will be published in updated form by Rutgers University Press in November, with a 20-page supplement, and 10 photos by the author.

Knicks star coming to town for play in the political arena

New York Knicks basketball star Bill Bradley, rumored to be a potential future Democratic candidate in New Jersey, will be making a campaign appearance in Springfield this Sunday—but not on his own behalf. Bradley will be on hand for a fund-raising cocktail party supporting the District 22 Assembly campaign of Democrat Betty Wilson.

The party, organized by Larry and Bev Lerner, will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lewis, 32 Shelley rd. Admission price, payable at the door, will be $10 per adult; $5 for students.

Also in attendance at the affair will be Robert Weltehek and Nat Stokes, both former mayors of Springfield, who are running for election to the Township Committee. Persons wishing to attend may make reservations by calling Mrs. Lerner at 376-8305 or the Betty Wilson campaign headquarters, 753-8425.

Bradley, who was a Princeton basketball star and Rhodes Scholar before crossing the river to join the Knicks, has been the center of much speculation in New Jersey political circles. It has been rumored he plans to announce his retirement from pro ball this year in order to run for Congress against either Rep. Matthew Rinaldo of Union County or Rep. Joseph J. Maraziti of Morris County.

Choral Society will hold open auditions Tuesdays

Open auditions for persons interested in joining the Choral Art Society of New Jersey Inc. for the 1973-1974 season were announced this week.

Mrs. Kenneth Zippler, membership chairman, said interested persons may attend any Tuesday rehearsal in Fellowship Hall at the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm st., Westfield, at 8 p.m.

The Choral Art Society has a history of performances of Baroque, Classical, Romantic and contemporary works. This year's schedule will include Messe De Minuit Pour Noel by Charpentier, Te Deum of Verdi and shorter works by Viadena, Schurz, de Victoria and Rachelbel.

Accompaniment will be provided by chamber orchestra and organ. Soloists will be selected from the chorus.

Evelyn Bleeke, artistic and musical director, has been a choral music leader in three distinct areas: the public schools, the church and the community. As a music educator she has taught in Mountainside and Cranford and presently teaches at Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth.

In church music, Mrs. Bleeke has been director and organist for many churches and now heads the music program at the First Baptist Church of Westfield.

On the community level, Mrs. Bleeke organized a chorus in Dover, Del. sponsored by the International Latex Corp. She has been director of the Choral Art Society since 1962.

Opportunities are also available for talented senior high school students to receive scholarship assistance to become members.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK proclamation, issued by Union County Freeholders and large lightbulb signifying "Lights On For Education" receive attention from Freeholder Herbert Heilmann Jr. of Union, Mrs. Charles Hampton of Union, vice-president, Union County Council of PTAs; Mrs. Leonard Tandul of Linden, chairman of the American Education Week for the Council, who holds the lightbulb;

Freeholder Walter Ulrich of Rahway and Freeholder Thomas Long of Linden. The education week is Oct. 21-27 and has been observed annually since 1921. "Lights On For Education" will mean an open house in every county school next Wednesday from 8:30 to 10 p.m. Mrs. Tandul said schools were requested to submit a report on the week's activities.

3 GOP candidates oppose the building of Hall of Justice

"Updated jail facilities - yes. A $30 million new Hall of Justice - no." These were the sentiments expressed this week by Republican Freeholder candidates Raymond Bonnell, Robert Lee and Jack McVey who seek election to the Board of Freeholders.

The three aspirants agreed that tighter jail security must be initiated by the county, particularly in view of the recent jail break and the danger to citizens in transporting prisoners from cells to courtrooms through corridors frequented by "civilians."

"We think it is neither the time - and possibly not even the place - for construction of a new building of this magnitude," Bonnell, Lee and McVey said.

The $30 million building cost was estimated in April of 1972, the candidates said, "and all of us know how costs have skyrocketed in the last year and a half. We shudder to think of what current bids on such a project would be now."

Alternatives suggested for study by the Republican slate included regional holding facilities - for prisoners from adjacent counties - possibly in Middlesex County - where counties could share the costs of jail facilities on properties less valuable than those in downtown Elizabeth. "Additional tax-exempt property is about the last thing the city needs," Bonnell, Lee and McVey said.

VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE Gerald Ford of Michigan (right) is shown with Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-12th Dist.-N.J.) and House GOP Whip Les Arands of Illinois (left) last week as they conferred on legislative programs in the House. Rinaldo served as assistant to GOP Minority Leader Ford, who was nominated Saturday by President Nixon as the new Vice-President. Rinaldo, who responded to Nixon's request for suggestions on appointment by recommending Ford, said he was extremely pleased by the choice.

Day care session scheduled at UC

Union College will host the first of a series of day care conferences for directors and teachers in Union County day-care centers on Saturday, Oct. 27, from 9 a.m. to noon on the college's Cranford campus. It was announced this week by Dr. Frank Dee, dean of educational services.

The special problems of the retarded child will be the topic of the first conference. Speakers from the New Jersey Association of Retarded Children will include Mrs. Elizabeth Magee, executive director; Mrs. Maureen Hallinan, day care coordinator; Mrs. Carol Rothman, learning disability specialist; James Savage, psychologist, and Mrs. Nancy Schneider, speech therapist.

A film and open discussion of the topic will complete the program.

The day care conferences are being offered by Union College in cooperation with the New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies, the New Jersey Office of Early Childhood Education and the Union County Child Development Agency.

Spanish-speaking students in record enrollment at UC

A record enrollment of Spanish-speaking students at Union College was reported this week by Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the College.

There are 49 fulltime and 272 part-time Spanish-speaking students attending classes in day and evening sessions, Prof. Wolf said.

The courses and programs in which these students are enrolled, he added, range from an elementary course in English for Speakers of Other Languages to a two-year Associate degree program in engineering.

A majority of these students are from Cuba, according to Prof. Wolf. They also include natives of Puerto Rico and South America.

Union County has one of the largest Spanish-speaking populations in the metropolitan area. And in recognition of the special educational needs of this group, Union College has created a variety of programs aimed at helping this group meet its educational goals at all levels while making the transition from Spanish to English, Prof. Wolf said.

Hispanic students may enroll in one of four levels of English for Speakers of Other Languages, elementary, intermediate, high intermediate and advanced. These courses allow them to acquire whatever degree of proficiency they need to meet their particular social, vocational and educational objectives.

In addition, students may earn up to 15 college credits in courses taught in Spanish, permitting them to launch their college education while still making the transition from Spanish to English.

UCTI faculty students to donate blood today

The first of what is expected will be an annual blood bank drive will be held today on the Union County Technical Institute campus, Scotch Plains. Dr. John Klinzing, director of student services, said that all members of the faculty, staff and student body at both the Technical Institute and the Union County Vocational Center have been asked to donate a pint of blood, provided they are 18 years of age, or over, and in suitable physical condition.

The Greater New Jersey Blood Program is coordinating the drive in cooperation with the Community Blood Council and the American Red Cross, according to Dr. Klinzing.

Rooney is named aide to Sandman

Rep. Charles Sandman, candidate for the New Jersey governorship, has named Bob Rooney of Union as his campaign coordinator for Union County.

Rooney stated: "I am pleased to be working for a man with such a distinguished record of public service. The experience that Sandman has gained from ten years in the New Jersey Senate and six years in the United States Congress will make him an outstanding governor."

Rooney, a legislative aid to Assemblyman Louis Bassano, is currently serving on the Recreation Advisory Board for Union Township as well as a four-year term on the Union County Environmental Health Advisory Committee. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees for the Epilepsy Foundation of America, New Jersey chapter.

Sandman said: "I am pleased to have a man of Bob's ability and dedication working in my behalf. I am sure that Bob will do an outstanding job in Union County."

Ardrey named director for Children's Hospital

Robert F. Ardrey Sr. of Westfield, has been named executive director of Children's Specialized Hospital, it was announced this week by Charles H. Frankenbach, Jr., president of the board of managers.

Ardrey has served successively as business manager, associate administrator and director of administration since joining the hospital eight years ago after an early retirement from a career as an administrative executive.

Ardrey assumes full responsibility for management of all affairs of the rehabilitation center for physically handicapped children.

"Children's Specialized Hospital is fortunate at this point in its development to have a man like Bob Ardrey at the helm," said Frankenbach. "The hospital is about to embark on a significant fund-raising campaign which will double the facility's capacity and the work of the executive director during this period will be even more demanding. Bob Ardrey is equal to the task."

Ardrey, who had his larynx removed surgically 17 years ago as a result of cancer, is a two-time past president of the Union County Chapter, American Cancer Society, and has served on its executive, budget and finance committees as well as chairing its personnel committee for many years. He is also a member of the Board of Governors of the Essex Troop.

Ardrey and his wife, the former Ethel M. Joy, reside in Westfield.

Rizzuto named chairman of Christmas Seal drive

Phil Rizzuto of Hillside, all-time great New York Yankee shortstop and now a member of the club's broadcasting team, has been appointed honorary chairman of the 1973 Christmas Seal campaign, it was announced this week Robert Slimowicz of Union, vice-president of the TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey.

The annual drive for funds to combat and control respiratory diseases and air pollution will open officially Nov. 12 in Union, Hudson and Monmouth counties, the region served by the association. TB-RD Central formally based in Jersey City recently moved its headquarters to Clark.

In announcing the appointment, Slimowicz said that "Rizzuto has been a supporter of the Christmas Seal movement for many years, and that his leadership and interest in community health will help to make the campaign a success."

The funds raised during the campaign, the group's only general appeal for assistance, are used for the delivery of hospital services to patients with chronic and acute breathing disorders, to conduct medical and paramedical education and training courses, provide scholarships to educate and train inhalation therapists, support community service and public health education programs.

"I am honored to join with TB-RD Central in the 1973 campaign," Rizzuto stated. "The Christmas Seal Association has a long and distinguished record of community service and it needs the support of every concerned citizen to continue its attack against emphysema, TB,

Discussions slated on floor, rug care

Floor and rug care will be discussed the next two Tuesday's at 7:45 p.m. in the Union County Cooperative Extension Service auditorium, 300 North Ave. East, Westfield.

The Oct. 23 session will be concerned with information on the care and upkeep of wooden and resilient flooring materials. Miss Gena Thames, associate specialist in housing-home furnishings, Rutgers University, will discuss and demonstrate methods of cleaning and caring for these types of floors.

The Oct. 30 session will include the information on the care and cleaning of carpets and rugs. Al Robbins of Drape-masters of America will show and discuss different methods of cleaning rugs and carpets, as well as answer questions on other problems of rug care.

Revelers will present 'Red Hot Lovers' play

The Rahway Revelers will present the Neil Simon comedy, "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," on the last weekend in October and the first three weekends in November. It will run each Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

Directing the production will be Gene Lopez of Carteret, with Robert Moroch in charge of production. The cast includes Jim Rinere of Baldwin, Long Island, Carter Millito of Dunellen, Jackie Klein of Kenilworth, and Ivy McCafferty of Rahway.

Public unit urged for flood control

Freeholder Everett C. Lattimore has asked the Union County Planning Board to study the feasibility of establishing a citizens advisory committee on flood control.

Citing "the need for a single body responsible for coordinating flood control activities," Lattimore said in a letter to Gilbert Pittinger, chairman of the county board:

"This advisory committee could be composed of perhaps seven to nine members. Representation should reflect the five watershed areas in Union County. At least one member from each of these five areas should be on this committee... I believe that the Park Commission should be represented on this committee because much of the property under its authority will be affected by flood control programs. The other positions on the committee could be filled at large.

"This committee could serve as a sounding board for county-proposed flood control programs. It could also make recommendations to the Planning Board for flood control activities, serve as a body to help disperse information to the public and make an on-going flood control progress report."

Viet GI Bill seen hurting independent higher education

Federal legislation designed to aid veterans of the Indochina War to continue their education on the college level "closes the door on independent higher education," according to a statement released this week by the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities in New Jersey.

"Announcement of the first results of the New Jersey Department of Higher Education's experimental program for veterans confirms again the inadequacy of the 'Vietnam GI Bill,'" declared Earle W. Clifford, AICUNJ president. "The federal legislation provides assistance to veterans in the form of cash adequate only to meet costs at public institutions."

The state's experimental program, which started last July 1, contacted 580 veterans and, according to the report, "placed 135 in four-year state colleges or two-year county community colleges."

AICUNJ, an organization of 16 independent colleges and universities in the state, points out that there are adequate spaces available to accommodate returning veterans in the private sector of higher education.

Fairleigh Dickinson and Seton Hall universities and Rider College are "prime examples" of how independent institutions have served the returning veterans in the past. Thousands of discharged GIs earned their degrees at those institutions after World War II, under the veterans legislation.

"Our reaction to the report is not intended as criticism of the need for a program of this type or the valuable contribution veterans can make in counseling fellow GIs," according to Clifford.

However, this first report suggests the need for the state to give attention to the problems created by the federal legislation and make available to the veteran the total higher education program in the state, not just the public offerings," the statement continued.

TWO OF A KIND — Christine Morgan, 20, of Union and Patricia Turturro, 18, of Irvington, have been selected among the 12 semifinalists in the statewide search for the 1974 New Jersey Apple Princess, who will reign at the 13th annual New Jersey Apple Harvest Festival, next Tuesday through Friday at the offices of Orange Savings Bank in Orange, Hackensack, Pequannock & Wyckoff. Christine is a junior and Patricia is a sophomore at Newark State College.

Byrne, Sandman due on state TV

New Jersey gubernatorial candidates Brendan Byrne and Charles Sandman will meet the press in a special hour-long program on New Jersey's four public TV stations at 9 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1.

Byrne and Sandman will be the final two gubernatorial candidates to be interviewed in a series of programs scheduled providing free air time for the candidates.

The program will be televised live and in color over New Jersey Public Broadcasting's four UHF stations, including Channels 50 and 58.

Byrne and Sandman will not debate in the one-hour special. They will be questioned by three reporters: William Coombe, State House bureau chief for United Press International; Ed Nash of WOR Radio News in New York; and Betty Adams, New Jersey news reporter for public TV.

B'nai B'rith group sets essay contest

An essay contest in honor of the 35th anniversary of the Career and Counseling Service is being sponsored by B'nai B'rith Women, District 3. First prize will be a $50 savings bond with the runner-up getting a $25 Savings Bond.

Deadline for the contest, which is open to all high school students, is Feb. 14, 1974. It was announced by Gladys Goldblatt (486-7847), Career and Counseling Service chairman.

The essays on "What will the next 35 years bring?" must be typed, submitted in triplicate and not more than 500 words.

The entries will be judged on originality, imagination and content.

Educator will address single parents meeting

A discussion by educator Kim Gluck on the relationships between parents and children of the opposite sex and children's relationships between the sexes will highlight a meeting of Essex-Union Chapter 8, Parents Without Partners, at the Coronet in Irvington on Monday at 8:30 p.m.

A regional conference will be held tomorrow through Wednesday at the Holiday Inn, Rt. 1, North Brunswick. The chapter will begin a series of workshops by Dr. Hanna Kapit Oct. 28. Dr. Kapit is associated with the Department of Community Mental Health of the Postgraduate Center for Psychotherapy, New York City.

Funeral directors get commendation

Mrs. Millicent H. Fenwick, the director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, has commended the New Jersey State Funeral Directors' Association concerning a new rule which requires the itemization of funeral expenses at the time a family makes funeral arrangements. This rule went into effect July 1.

Mrs. Fenwick credited Immediate Past President Everett G. Johnesse of Nutley and his committee for the Association for their cooperation with her office, and stated, "Since July 1st we have not received one single consumer complaint against funeral service." She added that she could not say the same for any other of the professions or businesses within the jurisdiction of her Division.

Concluding her statement, she said, "The public wanted a feeling of control of the situation of funeral expenses; they objected to receiving a lump sum statement which they could not understand and as far as I know the public is now completely satisfied."

Rosemarie Strong, first vice-president of the New Jersey Association of Legal Secretaries, has announced final plans for the 1973 NJALS seminar, to be held Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Holiday Inn, Monmouth Parkway and Broadway (N.J. Route 36), West Long Branch.

Scheduled guest speakers and their topics are: Owen B. Pearce, "Professional Ethics and the Legal Secretary," and James F. Norton, "Pre-paid Legal Insurance." Pros and cons of the death penalty will be debated by Michael D. Farren and Chester Apy.

Registration for the sessions will begin at 9 a.m. The first session of the seminar will commence at 10 a.m. Following lunch, the afternoon session will be held.

The cost is $10, which includes registration and luncheon choice of prime beef a la brode or filet of sole, lemon butter. Reservations should be made, with choice of luncheon preferred listed and checks payable to NJALS, before tomorrow to: Mrs. Marjorie Sullivan, 21 Lockwood pl., Fair Haven, N.J. 07701.

Investments dinner topic

Vincent J. Ciaglia, Jr., vice-president and national sales manager for Portfolio Development Programs, will speak tonight at a dinner-meeting of the Metropolitan New Jersey Chapter of the Administrative Management Society.

Portfolio Development Programs is a division of Lionel D. Edie & Company, a subsidiary of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

Ciaglia will discuss the status of investor sentiment and psychology as they relate to the current economy and stock market.

The meeting, at the Town & Campus Restaurant, Union, will begin with a social hour at 6:30 p.m.

Group plans tax seminar

Area accountants can expand their knowledge of tax matters when the Essex County Chapter, National Association of Accountants presents its first professional-development session of the season tonight at 7:30 at the Carriage Trade Restaurant, 88 Evergreen pl., East Orange.

J. Martin Comey, tax manager, Schering-Plough Corp., will conduct one session on tax implications of doing business outside the United States. Richard D. Moriarty, tax manager, Arthur Anderson & Co., will lead a discussion on the subject of consolidated tax returns.

Interested persons can attend either session without charge. The technical sessions will be preceded by dinner and a social hour beginning at 5:30 p.m. Dinner tickets will be available at the door.

Business indices show 'strong pace' in N.J.'s economy

"Most business indicators showed the New Jersey economy continuing at a strong pace in August," according to Ronald M. Heymann, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry. He based his conclusion on the analysis of business conditions prepared by the department's Division of Planning and Research and published in the current issue of New Jersey Economic Indicators.

"There was an expansion in retail trade and other service-oriented industries," Heymann added, "while construction, on a seasonally adjusted basis, held at a record high. The principal sore spot continues to be in manufacturing. Factory employment has shown only seasonal changes in recent months and so far has recovered very little of its recession loss."

Heymann commented on the outlook for construction activity saying, "Although construction should remain strong into the fall, a decline in housing starts and new commitments for residential building point to some slowdown further ahead." Commissioner Heymann stated, "A principal current problem is scarcity of mortgage money."

Employment edged upward in August and unemployment subsided according to its customary seasonal pattern, says the business conditions report. After allowing for seasonal changes, the jobless rate remained stuck at 7 percent where it has been for two years.

Health care program set up for Newark's working poor

A new $54-million health care program for Newark's working poor, designed to replace the present sporadic, crisis-oriented and costly method of delivering medical care, has been put into readiness for a Jan. 1 starting date.

Announcement of the two-year plan, known as the Newark Comprehensive Health Services Plan, or Medicaid Waiver, came from David Norcross, chairman of the plan's board of trustees. Norcross said the project will be launched pending approval by the federal government.

The Newark Comprehensive Health Services Plan has an additional goal of national importance, Norcross said. It is expected that when the initial two years of the program's operations end that a model for health care delivery on a national basis will have been created. This model, he added, could very likely be the foundation of a national health insurance system.

Funding will be on a 50-50 basis by the state and federal governments to provide health care for those Newarkers who can't afford it on their own, but nonetheless do not qualify for Medicaid.

The plan, which seeks to meet the medical needs of approximately 100,000 Newarkers, has called into play the resources of the federal government, six state departments, the city health department, College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, hospitals and health centers, private physicians and other health professionals, facilities and consumers.

The aim of the program, said Norcross, is not only to make more dollars available for health care, but to set up a system that also will improve the kind of health care received, as well as the way it is delivered. "With particular focus on quality, accessibility and cost effectiveness," he added.

In addition, the plan proposes to overcome the shortage of doctors in the city by attracting them to a foundation which will contract with the waiver program to provide care to those eligible. For the physicians, it is a "guaranteed" income base. For the patient, availability of health care.

Jewish Children Guild to hold dinner Tuesday

The Guild for the Jewish Children will sponsor its annual paid-up membership dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Town and Campus, West Orange.

The organization raises funds for the Jewish Counseling and Service Agency in Millburn and Children's Specialized Hospital in Westfield and Mountainside.

Urban artist's lithographs on display

Seton showing works of late Louis Lozowick

Works from the long art career of Louis Lozowick, recognized as one of the major artists to take themes and subject matter from the American urban and industrial scene, are on exhibit at Seton Hall University, South Orange, through Nov. 11.

The Seton Hall exhibit presents 67 of Lozowick's works, including many lithographs which have received the major critical attention until now and also the last lithograph produced by the artist, who died in September. Among the drawings will be several scenes in South Orange, where the late artist resided.

The Seton Hall exhibit evolved from research on the artist's work and career done by Seton Hall art students, involving taped interviews with Lozowick and photos of the artist in his studio. The student programming board of the university also assisted in the exhibit, which is sponsored by the Department of Art and Music.

"Lozowick is just coming into his own in terms of wide public acceptance," notes Barbara Kaufman, director of the Student Center Art Gallery at Seton Hall. "Museum and peer acceptance has always been his, and he is well represented in the great museums and among private collectors. But right now there is a great swing in taste toward Constructivist art, which was Lozowick's milieu. He knew the Russian Constructivists, wrote about them, consorted with them. His 'cities series' and Machine Ornaments group are experiments in precise semi-abstractness." The Seton Hall exhibition includes five Machine Ornaments, which Mrs. Kaufman describes as the show's "pulse." The show spans his entire career.

In more than 50 years as an artist Lozowick consistently produced prints that reflected the social, political and artistic atmosphere of the era. The Russian-born artist studied at the National Academy of Design, was graduated from Ohio State University, and became a professional artist in 1921. One-man exhibitions of his art appeared in Berlin, Paris and the United States, including a major exhibit earlier this year at the Whitney Museum in New York City.

Art historians credit Lozowick with conscientious and consistent exploration of the industrial scene, ranking him with artist Charles Sheeler in the field. "Although Lozowick's style is strikingly like that of Sheeler's in its coldness and mechanical precision, it is always more somber and more cubist. In all his work there is an iron stiffness relieved only by the inventiveness of his pattern," notes one art history writer.

In the "Machine Age Exposition Catalogue" of 1927, Lozowick stated his concept of the significance of industrialization and its relationship to art: "The whole of mankind is vitally affected by industrial development and if the artist can make his work clear in its intention, convincing in its reality, inevitable in its logic, his potential audience will be practically universal. And this is perhaps as high a goal as any artist might hope to attain." During the 50-year span of his career, Lozowick's style gradually changed from a rigid mechanistic style to more gestural and expressive drawing, from non-particularized to particularized views and from mechanism to lyricism, according to one critic. "There are certain characteristics in the prints of Louis Lozowick that remain constant, however," notes the critic. "The structure of the prints is stripped to its compositional essentials and the drawing is always clear, logical and controlled."

WORK OF ART—One of five lithographs entitled "Machine Ornaments" by lithographer Louis Lozowick is among the artist's work on display at Seton Hall University in South Orange through Nov. 11. As examples of constructivist art, of which Lozowick was one of the leading figures, the machine ornaments group are experiments in precise semi-abstractness.

Herttua appointed to executive office by Franklin State

Oliver F. Herttua, former First New Jersey president, has been named executive vice president of Franklin State Bank. First New Jersey Bank merged into Franklin State Bank recently.

Herttua, who has 25 years of diversified banking experience, formerly served as president of the Broad National Bank, Newark; Security National Bank, Newark; vice president of the National State Bank, Elizabeth and vice president of the Hillside National Bank.

He has also served with the Comptroller of the Currency as a National Bank Examiner conducting statutory bank examinations of National Banks in the Second Reserve District.

Herttua, a graduate of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking, has attended New York University and the American Institute of Banking.

Herttua, active in many community projects, is a director and first vice president of the Alexian Brothers Hospital Foundation; director of the U.S. Home Corporation and Allen Oil Company, and director and treasurer of the New Jersey Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

Herttua is also a member of the Union Chamber of Commerce, Robert Morris Association, Home Builders Association of Metropolitan New Jersey and the Watchung Lions Club.

Herttua received a Special Golden Scroll Award for his outstanding contributions to the Public Relations Profession in 1965 from the New Jersey Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

He is a retired commander of the United States Naval Reserve, and is a recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross and two Air Medals with Oak Leaf Clusters for services during World War II.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

By Pat and Marilyn Davis
Copley News Service

Dear Marilyn and Pat: I married John (not his real name) three months ago. I thought John would change some of his bad habits after we were married but these traits are getting worse not better.

I'll give you a few examples. His table manners are atrocious. He smacks his lips and chews with his mouth open. He doesn't stand when a lady enters the room. He walks out doors ahead of me. He never opens a car door.

To top off his impossible behavior, we had guests last week and I cooked a nice dinner. After eating, we went to the living room and John proceeded to go to sleep. What can I do with such a dud?

Dear Elizabeth: You can take a dog to obedience school but NOT a husband. Obviously John did not develop these manners overnight. I assume you knew about some of them prior to marriage. You might tell John exactly how you feel but don't expect a sudden change.

Dear Marilyn and Pat: My bride and I just returned from our honeymoon. The whole thing was a complete disaster from beginning to end. I had rented a mountain cabin from a friend of mine. I thought that it would be nice to have a place away from the hustle and bustle of the world. The cabin was not bad, but we had trouble with the lights, with the heat, and the final straw was the plumbing. It stopped up and we could not use it.

My wife accused me of trying to make her life miserable and said I should have arranged for a place with plumbing that worked. What do you think?

Study group forming for Nairobi trip

A program of African Studies in which high school students will spend four weeks at Kenya Science Teachers College in Nairobi is now being organized for next summer.

The travel-study will include courses on contemporary Africa, African history, Biology, Geology, Swahili and African music and dance. In addition, there will be a ten-day safari to Mombasa, Olduvai gorge and Mt. Kilimanjaro. The trip will begin with a three-day stay in London from where the group will leave for Nairobi.

The group is under the sponsorship of the American Institute for Foreign Study and will be part of a larger group of students from other areas of the United States. They will leave on July 13 and return on August 22.

Along with the studies and safari there will be daytime excursions to a Masai manyatta, Nairobi national park, Lake Victoria, Mt. Kenya, the local schools and other places of interest.

Participants will receive a certificate of studies equivalent to 60 hours of work satisfactorily completed. Donald L. Dewlow, a sociology teacher at Millburn High School, is the local coordinator and can be contacted at 467-2971.

Dear Ted: I think your friend's cabin has poor lights, heat and plumbing!

Dear Marilyn and Pat: My mother is constantly complaining about the way I chew gum. Is it such a bad habit?

Dear Connie: It is especially impolite to keep chomping away in public. Chewing gum while talking to another is extremely unattractive in a young lady. Chew less — smile more.

Dear Marilyn and Pat: Jennifer has been my friend since grade school. We are now seniors and still close friends. However, she has one fault that is driving me mad. I enjoy being active. I belong to several clubs and am secretary of one group. Jennifer says I should do less.

I love the clothes that are in. Jennifer criticizes my shoes, skirts and slacks. I had my hair styled and felt it really did something for me. Well, you guessed it! Jennifer said I looked terrible and commented that it would take a year to get it back in shape. What can I do?

Dear P.A.: Perhaps Jennifer is jealous of the fact that you are enjoying life. At any rate, her negativism is her problem, not yours. Select a couple of new friends who can offset Jennifer's gloomy attitudes.

Best is a big statement...but KitchenAid dishwashers live up to the meaning of the word in every respect. You see, the KitchenAid philosophy is built it better...not cheaper...so it lasts longer. KitchenAid is the nation's oldest dishwasher maker, and over the years, they have learned what it takes to make a dishwasher 'best'. Things like porcelain on steel washing chamber and a rugged 1/2 h.p. motor. Pushbutton cycle selection and 9-way upper racks...plus KitchenAid's exclusive washing and drying systems that eliminate rinsing and hand wiping. But above all, it's the care and quality that goes into every KitchenAid that makes it best. Care and quality that pays off in your kitchen...in terms of performance that lasts.

VETERANS DAY

A day dedicated to peace and freedom for all.

We dedicate this day to all the American heroes throughout our nation's history who rallied to her cause in time of war and trouble. Gratefully, we remember the men who served, who fought, and who lay down their lives so that the American dream might survive. We pause today also to honor the veterans of recent wars, who, in our own time, have answered the nation's call to arms ... who have put their lives on the line in the hope of a better world and lasting peace among men. Let us pray that their hopes may be realized. Let us work toward their fulfillment ... that we may be worthy of our young men and the sacrifices they've made.

Dayton opens its doors to all

Unstructured tours of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will be given to parents and residents of Springfield and Mountainside in recognition of American Education Week, according to Anthony Floridillo, building principal.

Residents of Springfield and Mountainside are invited to visit the high school any time during the regular school day from 8:25 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, next week. Students will provide assistance in giving tours. Parents and other residents who wish to observe a classroom may do so as part of this open school week.

Suggested phases of school life parents and area residents may wish to see are: the new classrooms and instructional media center nearly completed by the regional building program, the guidance office, the industrial education and business skill development areas, science laboratories, art and music rooms, physical education classes and lunch in the school cafeteria.

For additional information, call the main office of Jonathan Dayton Regional at 376-6300.

HARD-SHELLED — Ceramic turtle designed by John H. Seymour will be among items featured in Creative Crafts '73 at Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, Nov. 11-14.

'Salute to Israel' for UJA benefit

A "Salute To Israel" will be held at Temple Emanu-El, 756 E. Broad st., Westfield Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Israel's leading entertainers, "The Ayalons" will appear in concert, sponsored by the Men's Club and Sisterhood of Temple.

Israel's leading entertainers, "The Ayalons" will appear in concert, sponsored by the Men's Club and Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El. All proceeds will go to the UJA Israel Emergency Fund.

Tickets for the event can be obtained by sending a check for $15 per couple to the UJA Israel Emergency Fund to Herb and Selma Ross, 1606 Rising Way, Mountainside.

Temple Emanu-el plans Israel revue

"Israel Review—1974" is the title of Saturday evening's program at Temple Emanu-El, 756 Broad st., Westfield, when "The Ayalons," Israel's musical version of the Marx Brothers, will preview their 1974 revue.

The Men's Club and Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El will sponsor the concert at 8:30 p.m. The program is open to the public and will also feature a late supper. Tickets may be obtained by writing the temple office or contacting Anne Schlesinger, 996 Chimney Ridge dr., Mountainside, or Harold Kahn, 309 Orenda circle, Westfield. Table arrangements are being made by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ross, who are also general chairmen.

Buddy system

The Army is trying the buddy system in training programs—and it seems to work. New trainees learn easily, naturally working with a student who is completing the course.

Dr. Abend returns from L.A. session

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Morton Abend, of Mountainside, N.J., attended the 46th annual clinical assembly of osteopathic specialists, Oct. 7 through 11 at the Century Plaza Hotel here.

A total of 144 physicians—100 DO's and 44 MD's—from across the country presented papers on the convention theme of "complications in surgical, radiological, and anesthesiology practices."

More than 1,500 osteopathic physicians and their guests attended the five-day postgraduate seminar sponsored by seven osteopathic specialty groups.

Counselor to talk at Y

Margaret Harrigan, former director of Family Service in Summit and now in private counseling, will be the guest speaker at the Summit YWCA kaffeeklatsch on Wednesday. Well-known to regular kaffeeklatsch participants, library discussion groups and local PTAs, Mrs. Harrigan will discuss "Discipline—a Dirty Word?"

Kaffeeklatsch begins at 9:45 a.m., with half-an-hour for coffee and the hour-long program following. While mothers are participating in the program, nursery care is provided at a nominal fee for children 18 months to three years old. Youngsters three to five years old may enter the dance and rhythm classes

Defendants take a long weekend

The Springfield Municipal court was rescheduled for Oct. 10 instead of the 8th because of Columbus Day, but presiding Judge Joseph Horowitz discovered many summons holders apparently were taking a longer holiday; only three of 15 scheduled uncontested cases could be heard.

Among the defendants appearing was Paul G. Knouse Jr. of Berkeley Heights, fined $100 for shoplifting a $7.70 item from Channel Lumber.

Martin J. Grysko of Scotch Plains paid a total of $90 for driving an unregistered vehicle, misuse of license plates and contempt of court. His summonses had been issued on Rt. 22.

A $40 fine was given Anthony W. Murphy of Irvington for driving an uninspected car and for failure to have his driver's license in his possession. He had been ticketed on Morris avenue.

FUND-RAISER — Arlene Nash, Mountainside campaign coordinator for Betty Wilson, Democratic candidate for State Assembly from District 22, arranges items for a fund-raising garage sale to be held at her home, 1140 Saddle Brook rd., tomorrow and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. All proceeds will go toward Mrs. Wilson's campaign.

Thirty clubs begin activities at Dayton with board's okay

Thirty clubs are active at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School during the 1973-74 academic year.

The following organizations for students have been approved by the Union County Regional High School Board of Education: American Field Service, Band Front, Color Guard, Drill Team, Rifle Squad, Twirling, Cheerleading Club, Chess Club, Dayton Journal, Debate and Forensic Club, Dramatics Club, Earth-Space Science Club, Firemen, French Club, Future Teachers' of America, German Club, Girls Athletic Association, Health Office Assistants and Kiwanis Key Club.

Also, Latin Club, Leaders Club, Library Council, Literary Magazine, Medical Careers Club, National French Honor Society, National Honor Society, National Spanish Honor Society, Regionologue, Sound Studio, Spanish Club, Student Auxiliary, Student Council, Varsity Club and World Youth Forum.

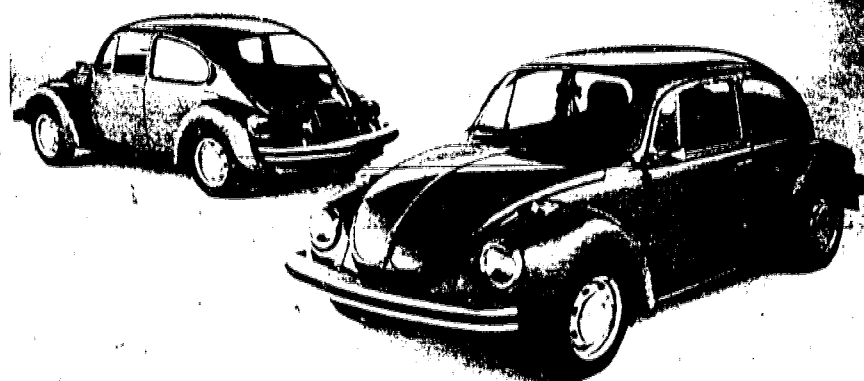

Approval for additional clubs will be requested individually as they are organized during the school year.

Mrs. Fedor captures golf title with 27

Mrs. Walter Fedor's net 27 earned her first place in the Class A Division of the Alibi Tournament last week at Echo Lake Country Club.

Mrs. Roger Coney placed second with a net 29 while Mrs. Alex Cloud won the low putt title with 13.

Classes B and C honors went to Mrs. George Darsie with a net 29 while Mrs. Malcolm Robinson placed second at net 31.

NEW BEETLES DEBUT — Two 1974 Beetles, the Custom, left, and the Super, right — will go on display Oct. 25 at Douglas Motors Corp., authorized Volkswagen sales, service and parts facility at 430 Morris ave., Summit. The Custom shares many of the improvements engineered into the Super, including stronger front and rear bumpers and increased computer diagnosis capabilities. Both come with VW's exclusive "Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis" which provides warranty coverage — and fret-free driving — for 12 months or 20,000-miles on everything but fluids, filters and lubricants.

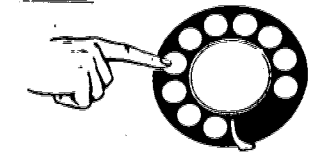

Saint Elizabeth's plans display of alumnae art

At the invitation of the Art Department, alumnae of the College of Saint Elizabeth, Convent Station, will exhibit approximately 70 works in paint, sculpture and mixed media.

The exhibit — open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the rest of the week — will be on display in the main lounge of Saint Joseph Hall.

If I hadn't been nagged into getting a checkup, I'd be kicking up daisies.

The toughest fight I ever had didn't happen on any big, wide screen. It happened in real life.

I was just finishing my 99th picture. My 99th ridin', jumpin', fightin' picture. Never felt better in my life.

I told the family when I'm through here, I'm going out on my boat. Sure, they said, just as soon as you've had your medical checkup. I said nonsense, I had one eight months ago. They said it was more like eighteen.

So I said okay, okay, I went to my doctor and the chest X-rays showed a spot on my lungs. It was cancer. If I'd waited a few more weeks, I'd be dead.

The first couple of months after surgery, it hurt like hell to get on my horse. Since then I've been good as new. If you caught "True Grit" or "Chisum" you've seen for yourself.

So, friend, I know what I'm talking about when I tell you, get a checkup. Nag someone you love into getting a checkup.

And when the lady from the American Cancer Society rings your doorbell, dig deep in your pocket. They're working to rid this world of cancer once and for all.

Dayton falls to Verona, 9-0; will meet Summit Saturday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team absorbed its first defeat last Saturday when Verona turned two breaks into a 9-0 victory. Dayton is now 1-1 in Suburban Conference play with Verona and Summit tied for the lead with 2-0 records.

Summit, the state's eighth-ranked team, will be at Meisel Field Saturday to play the Bulldogs. Summit crushed West Orange, 41-0, last week.

With Dayton and Verona's defenses stifling most offensive threats last week, the victory went to the team which was able to take advantage of the breaks. Verona did.

Deep in its territory in the first period, Dayton was forced to punt. Bruce Heide kicked from inside his end zone but the punt was blocked by Gary Hartwig. The ball rolled out of the end zone for a safety and a 2-0 Verona lead.

Dayton got a chance to take the lead after a poor punt gave the Bulldogs possession on Verona's 35 in the second quarter. Dayton moved to the seven where the drive stalled.

Coach Ted Amo called for a field goal but the snap from center went awry and Heide never was able to get the kick away.

Verona wrapped up the scoring with a fourth-period TD following Gavin Widom's first fumble of the season. Lorenzo Griffin recovered the ball for Verona on the Bulldogs' 11. Two plays later, Frank Ferrari caught a 10-yard TD pass from Jim Hughes.

Dayton's hopes for victory dimmed in the third period when quarterback Joe Pepe was injured and forced out of the game.

Dayton's defense came up with another outstanding effort—it deserved a shutout. More than any other factor, the defense had been the key to the Bulldogs' success this season. The squad includes Mark Ronco, Wayne Schwarte, Dave Pacifico, Bruno Saracino, Tom Russonello, John Zurcoff, John Noco, Ken Conte, Widom, Pepe, Derek Nardone, Bill Palazzi and Joe Natiello.

Girls rebound from opening defeat to build 6-1 record in first season

By MARGO KRASNOFF
Leading the Suburban Conference, Dayton's girls' varsity tennis team is making its first season an outstanding one.

Eileen Bass, a Springfield junior, plays first singles, the team's most difficult position. Also playing singles are Laurie Weeks, a Mountainside sophomore, in second and Laura Hockstein, a Springfield junior, in third. Randi Schnee, a Springfield junior, pairs with Margo Krasnoff, a Mountainside senior, in first doubles, while Tami Bass and Cathy Picut, both Mountainside sophomores, alternate with Teri Bloom, a Mountainside junior, in second doubles.

Dayton lost to West Orange in its Oct. 1 opener, 3-2. Hockstein in third singles and partners Schnee and Krasnoff in first doubles won for Dayton. Since then, Dayton has won six in a row. The girls attribute Dayton's only defeat to a lack of experience.

On Oct. 3, Dayton beat a sluggish New Providence squad, 4-1. Weeks, Hockstein, partners Schnee and Krasnoff and partners

Bloom and Picut used aggressive tactics to win.

Dayton then beat Verona, 5-0, on Oct. 5; Madison, 5-0, on Oct. 8.

Although Caldwell proved a challenge, Dayton won, 3-2. Weeks, Hockstein and partners Schnee and Krasnoff gained victories.

Dayton quelled Millburn, 3-2, Oct. 12. Hockstein and partners Schnee and Picut won, as did partners Bass and Picut.

On Oct. 15 against Summit, Dayton triumphed, 4-1. Weeks, Hockstein, partners Schnee and Krasnoff and Bass and Picut gained victories.

Elated with the high quality tennis of his girls, coach Ed Jasinski said, "My expectations won't be fulfilled until the Suburban Conference Championship is ours. I have confidence in the girls, because they believe strongly in themselves."

Competitive tennis is an exciting experience for these dedicated athletes. The girls play three matches weekly, practicing vigorously in between to correct errors and sharpen skills.

Highlanders drub Roselle; will travel to Clark Saturday

The Gov. Livingston Regional High School football team will play undefeated Clark at Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Clark is a well-drilled, well-coached team which makes few mistakes, has good timing and is effective on offense and defense. The new coach at Gov. Livingston, Dom Deo, feels that "both teams are evenly matched and the game will go to the one which makes the fewest errors and takes advantage of all situations. Ours is a team of boys who love to play football, love to hit. The boys' timing and execution have improved greatly since the first game and we expect to win this game."

The Highlanders have a 1-3 record after their 24-6 victory over Roselle last Saturday. Quarterback Mark Vincendese ran a punt back 60 yards for the first touchdown.

The next three Highlander touchdowns resulted from a pass by Vincendese to tight end John Palmer for 38 yards and two to running back Mike McCarthy. Phil Lortoi was four for four in extra points.

Roselle was forced into six turnovers by GL's tough defense. The Rams' touchdown came in the second quarter on a pass from quarterback Marlon Hulse to Ray Sampson.

Harriers gain three victories for 10-1 record

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team rolled to three easy victories last week to build its record to 10-1. The harriers will face Summit and New Providence, the only team to beat the Bulldogs this season, in tough matches this week. Gary Werner and Bill Bjorstad are out of action for the time being.

Dayton defeated Millburn (17-42), Verona (20-42) and Kenilworth (15-49).

Skip Moore set a Millburn course record in finishing first against the Millers. Tom Lovett, finally recovered from injuries, finished second with Bjorstad third, Tom Moore fifth and Charles Kiehl sixth.

Skip Moore was Dayton's top finisher against Verona, coming in second. Lovett was third with Ben Geltzeier fourth, Joe Campanelli sixth, Tom Earhardt seventh and Peter Episcopo 10th.

Lovett paced a sweep of the first five places against Kenilworth, followed by Geltzeier, Skip Moore, Campanelli and Episcopo with Earhardt seventh.

Earlybird Dayton athletes open intramural competition

The third annual Dayton Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) play began in the boys' gym last week with four American League (9th-10th grades) five-man basketball teams in action. The American League action will continue daily from 7:15 to 8:15 a.m. until November when the National League (11th-12th grades and faculty) division takes over.

The Blue Hurricanes defeated the Green Grants, 44-26, to officially open the 1973-74 season. Top scorers for the Hurricanes were John Kroner (14), Brian McNanny, Peter Jacques and Carmen Apilla (8 each) and Andy Herkalo (6). Ed Scario (13) points led the Grants attack followed by Bob Blabolil (6), Chris Cooney (4) and Bob Conte (3).

Led by Jim Botte and Jim Gilleece with 10 points each, and 6 points by Frank Bladis, Bob Lofredo and Mike Thomas; the Red Boats struggled to a 40-36 victory over the Green Grants in the second game. Don Treasone contributed a two-point play for the winners. Grants scorers included: Doug Grant (5), Bob Blabolil (11), Ed Scario (13) and Larry Grant (7).

Seton Hall grid prize awarded to Gagliano

Charles Gagliano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gagliano of 332 Summit rd., Mountainside, has received the Bronco award for outstanding offensive performance as a member of the Seton Hall University varsity football team.

Gregg Prussing scored an early season high of 26 as he led his White Fangs team to a 55-32 victory over the Blue Hurricanes. Gregg Lies (10), Tom Ronco (6) and Tom Martino (13) poured in the remaining points for the Fangs. Hurricanes scorers included Brian McNanny (11), Brian Belliveau (9), Peter Jacques (8) and Barry Golner (4).

One-on-one competition and foul shooting championships will be held during the American League season play. John Swedish, who is directing the program, said that DIPPER trophies will be awarded to the winners. DIPPER also features early morning in Universal gymnastic workouts on parallel bars, ropes and mat workouts. Olympic field events including high jump, standing broad jump, indoor shot puts will be available in the winter season to all students who have not yet participated in any interscholastic track events. Trophies will be awarded to champions.

Floor hockey, wall-ball soccer and other DIPPER events will be added during the school year. All students who are not physically excused from gym or who are not competing in that particular interscholastic event are eligible. Swedish can be contacted in the boys gym any morning from 7:15 to 8:15 for registration. DIPPER events are open to all students—including girls.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: My friend and I have this problem and we need your help and advice. My girlfriend and I were walking when this van came up to us and these two really cute guys asked us if we wanted to come with them. Our boyfriends were coming so these two guys in the van tore off. They went around the block and picked up two girls who said they'd go. We haven't seen these two girls in a long time. Recently the two guys in the van drove up to us and asked us if we would go with them. We told them no, so they ripped off. If they come around again, what should we do? We really need your help.

OUR REPLY: One of the best pieces of advice you received as a child is doubly true today: NEVER get in a car, truck or van with strangers, no matter how cute or nice they seem. You said that the two girls they did pick up in the van you haven't seen in a long time. If no one around school or your neighborhood knows where they are or thinks they are "runaways" and if no one has seen the girls since they got in that van, contact the police right away. If the two guys should pull up near you again, get the plate number and type and color of van and report them to the police. They will know how to handle this situation. If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY. 40601.

SOCCER SCENE

By BILL WILD
This past weekend was a good one for the P'archer's Grove soccer teams. Newark SC won the Lithuanian SC, 4-1, and the Newark Ukrainians defeated Molfetta, 2-1. Newark SC will play at home next Sunday and the Elizabeth SC travels to Throggs Neck on Saturday.

Last Wednesday there was a practice game for the Elizabeth SC and the German American League all stars. Three of Elizabeth's men were used on the all star team and it was one of the best games I saw Elizabeth play this season. It ended in a scoreless tie. Elizabeth forwards lacked a scoring punch but the backfield and midfield players kept the best of the league in check.

Two days later this same all star team, this time with five Elizabeth players on it, tied the national team of Yugoslavia, 2-2, at Randall's Island in New York. Our team was behind, 2-0, in the first two minutes of play and fought its way back to tie.

The G-A all stars were coached by Union's Manny Schellscheidt, and we can be proud of both. Our soccer teams are beginning to make their presence felt on the international level. The U.S. international team recently defeated the touring national team of Poland; Elizabeth SC was also represented in that game.

THE MIDGET TEAM of the Elizabeth Lancers will leave for Springfield, Va., this Saturday for the return match against the Springfield Darts. Springfield is known as the hotbed of soccer in the South, but it is all still on the junior level.

The boys' team of Elizabeth SC went to Chatham Township and defeated the local team there, 8-1. This was one of the first games played at that township other than in the schools. The junior movement is in full swing there with over 500 boys participating. It takes money to outfit 500 boys with shoes and uniforms, and they have collected over $15,000 to this date.

Soccer has a great future in the U.S., on the international, pro and local level. There are men who spend many hours of their time with young boys such as my 10-year-old son Christopher, who will go to Virginia this weekend with the midgets.

But it hurts me when I hear of petty differences that the men have with each other at the top level of soccer and even the midget team is faced with suspension. The U.S. Soccer Football Association did not resolve the differences between New Jersey Soccer Football Association and its counterpart in New York. The N.J. teams in the German American Soccer Football Association are faced with suspension if things are not resolved. Soccer fans should watch this situation carefully because it could get soccer back in New Jersey.

Foothill Club plans to have an exhibit for Heritage Day

The Foothill Club of Mountainside will participate in Heritage Day, to be held at the Deerfield Middle School Nov. 3.
Mrs. Donald Luggan, the Foothill Club representative to the Heritage Committee, announced that the following members will exhibit their crafts: Mrs. W.G. Finnan, Mrs. James Goense, Mrs. Joseph Huber, Mrs. Ellis Peak, Mrs. Thomas Root, Mrs. Henry Sterling and Mrs. John Stragis. Among some of the crafts on display or to be demonstrated, are the following: beaded flowers, paintings, burlap flowers, needle point, modern decoupage, candle making, crocheting and knitting.
Club president, Mrs. Edward Pirigyi, announced that publicity books will be available to those visitors who may wish to see them.
Plans are also underway to have an exhibit one of the 13-star Betsy Ross flags, which were presented to each public and parochial school in Mountainside on Flag Day, June 14.
A collection of news media material, and a book on the "Freedom Tree Dedication," in honor of Marine Captain James Egan, who is missing in action, will be available to those who wish to become familiar with the story and contributions of the officer.
A decorations committee consisting of Mrs. Jay Abrams, Mrs. Edward Kaczka, Mrs. Thomas Root and Mrs. Edward Pirigyi are planning to decorate the tables needed for the crafts display. Part of the decor will be red, white and blue quilts, made by Mrs. Root.

Women at church hold rummage sale

A rummage sale will be held today at the Presbyterian Parish House, 37 Church Mall, Springfield, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the lower level of the building.
The sale, which is sponsored by the Ladies' Evening Group of the church, will feature "recycled" clothing, household goods, bric-a-brac and sporting goods.
Proceeds of the sale will go toward the benevolence work of the group, both in the local church and in missions throughout the country and the world.

Time To Spare

By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Adviser
Today's rampant inflation hits hardest those least able to withstand the constantly shrinking dollar — elderly retirees living on fixed incomes. So reports GSI, Inc., of a recent study of the life style of America's senior citizen retired couples.
GSI estimates that retired couples in the autumn of 1973 will need to budget 9.3 percent above their 1972 expenditures to keep pace with the inflationary spiral. In dollar and cents terms, the study explains that "the annual budget of today's retired husband and wife must be pegged at $5,421 as compared to last year's total of $4,959."
However, GSI observes that Social Security payments to the average retired couple comprise only 61.5 percent of their expenses — or $3,336 annually.
"Somehow, an elderly couple must find an additional $2,085 — in pension benefits or income from savings and investments — in order to meet their budgetary needs in 1973. For those who didn't plan adequately for their retirement during their prime income-producing years, the high cost of living has drastically shrunken their retirement nest egg and caused a concomitant reduction in their living standards."
However, this needn't be the situation for today's young men and women workers upon their retirement. With sound financial planning — through proper insurance purchases, balanced savings and investment programs — wage earners can insure that their retirement years will be spent in relative comfort with even some form of minimal luxuries.
This is a lesson that must be learned by today's workers — inflation can quickly tarnish the golden years of retirement. "But the couple who prepares and plans years before they reach age 65 can anticipate their retirement as a time of new opportunities free from financial worries," GSI concludes.

Dayton Dispatch

By Margo Krasnoff
"Why are seniors so eager to assert their superiority at lunch when the lines are long and they take advantage by blindy cutting ahead?" challenged one freshman. Lacking formal orientation into Dayton's class hierarchy, many freshmen do not comprehend what being a senior means.
No band of seniors patrolled the halls during the second week in September. No freshmen were covered into standing on cafeteria tables while singing "Cheers, Cheers to O' Regional High."
No freshmen wore squares of paper indicating that they were members of the class of '77. Not that anyone else ever wore their badges, only it was exciting for freshmen to stand up tall and look sophisticated, thereby escaping the intimidating senior patrol.
No pep rally heated the gym with the fierce competition between freshmen and seniors, each shouting louder, "All for Regional stand up and holler." No one memorized the Alma Mater.
Yet seniors will maintain Dayton traditions as timeless as its tower stretching to the sky and the brook beside it. Sponsoring the school's dramatic presentation of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" on Nov. 9 and 10, seniors will sell all tickets and split the production's profits between the class and the drama department. Prior to Dayton's Thanksgiving Day football game against West Orange, seniors will sell mums to the student body. Seniors will also organize Dayton's first dance, scheduled for Nov. 30.
THESE THREE activities all involve the raising of money, a goal to which seniors have devoted themselves over the past three years. The objective was to develop a program which every student could participate in.
Class members have decided to spend the reward of their efforts on a senior trip on June 6 to Vacation Valley in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains, where they will enjoy the resort's facilities. However, two-thirds of the class must pay their deposits by Nov. 15, so that the officers and advisors can continue planning for the occasion.
Arthur Krupp and Katherine Venditti serve as class advisors. Advisors are teachers who were asked by the principal to bear the responsibility of leading the class. Serving as intermediaries between students and the administration, the advisors do not give final decisions on issues, but offer their experience and guidance to class officers.
Bearing a resemblance to a grand old party, three of the class officers have held their positions all four years, and one has held his post for two. They include: president, Andy Mendelsohn; vice-president, Bob Manheimer; secretary, Janice Mikulicz, and treasurer, Cindy Zahn. In this year's class election, two other candidates contested the presidency. The other officers usually run unopposed; their diligence has earned great respect.
Although seniors usually hold the Student Council's executive offices and assume its leadership, this year a slate of juniors has gained control over Dayton's medium for rapport among students and faculty.
However, once they attain 18 years of age, Dayton students reach a new status, that of adults. They possess the responsibility for observance of school rules and regulations rather than their parents.
Since adult students are legally independent of their parents, they may sign their own absence and tardy excuses, sign their own permission slips for participation in athletics, field trips or other school events and review their own official school records.
Possessing these new rights and positive concerns for the school which they attend, Dayton seniors confront an important year, — one of the most enjoyable of their high school careers.

Alice Manner wed to Louis Corea in church ceremony

St. Teresa's Church, Summit, was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Miss Alice Manner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Manner of 123 Bryant ave., Springfield, to Louis Corea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Corea of Madison.
The Rev. Eugene Romano of St. Andrew's Church, Clifton, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the nuptial Mass. A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus hall, Springfield.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride had her cousin, Barbara Stampfle of Linden, as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Manner of Green Brook, also a cousin of the bride; Jane Lorenzo of Madison and Antoinette Facchini of Summit.
Michael Guarino of Madison served as best man. Ushers were Harold Manner of Springfield, brother of the bride; Anthony Salerno, cousin of the bridegroom, and Joseph Sandello, both of Madison.
The bride, a 1970 graduate of Summit High School, is employed by the N.J. Bell Telephone Co. in Bernardsville. The bridegroom graduated from Madison High School in 1965 and is employed by the U.S. Post Office, Florham Park.
Following a honeymoon trip in Florida, the couple will reside in Morris Plains.

New Monmouth Beach condominium, Shores twin towers opened for sales

New Jersey's newest condominium, the Shores at Monmouth Beach, twin 12-story residential towers, has opened for sales. Two furnished model apartments decorated by Constantine G. Kravas of Chatham, are on display.

Being developed by Avenel Boulevard, Inc. of Long Branch, the towers contain 132 units containing a luxurious lobby building. Located on Ocean Avenue, the luxury showcase is directly on the beach in the famed Gold Coast area where Diamond Jim Brady once owned a palatial home.

Scheduled for mid-1974

occupancy, the Shores at Monmouth Beach was designed by Frederick Norman Fisher, A.I.A., of Parlin Sales are under the direction of The Berg Agency of Metuchen.

The Shores at Monmouth Beach will offer a year-round heated indoor pool, gymnasium, saunas and dressing area, meeting room, and a large recreation room for cards, ping-pong, billiards, etc. There will be an outdoor seasonal pool with cabanas, an outdoor tennis court, and on-site guest parking. The lobby will also have a coffee shop.

The apartments feature over-sized windows and 21 by 6 1/2 foot balconies for views of the ocean. They will feature wall-to-wall carpeting and individually-controlled electric heat and air conditioning by Westinghouse and color coordinated General Electric kitchens with self-cleaning oven, large refrigerator, dishwasher, and washer-dryer.

Baths are ceramic tiles with marbled vanity tops.

Apartments are being offered in one-bedroom units with 1 1/2 baths, one-bedroom and den with two baths, and two-bedroom and two-bath versions from $44,900 to $79,900.

A typical one-bedroom unit includes an entrance foyer with closet, a 12 by 8 kitchen with two entrances, a spacious 21' 2" by 20' living room with complete window wall sliding-glass doors to the balcony, and a lavatory. The master bedroom is 18 by 20 feet and has a large walk-in closet and its own full bath.

The two-bedroom, two-bath and the one-bedroom, den and two-bath units have similar floor plans. The two-bedroom unit has an entrance through a foyer with clothes closet, a kitchen that is 12 by 8, master bedroom 20 by 13 with dressing area, second bedroom 14' 4" by 11' 10" and living room 20 by 19' 6". There are two full baths and large amounts of closet space, including the walk-in variety.

In the one-bedroom, den apartment, the living room is 21' 2" by 20'. Other dimensions are the same as the two-bedroom complex.

The Shores at Monmouth Beach offer a number of amenities to make living at the shore site a luxury. Covered parking is available and high-speed elevators whisk apartment owners to their floors. There are storage rooms on each floor and only six apartments per floor.

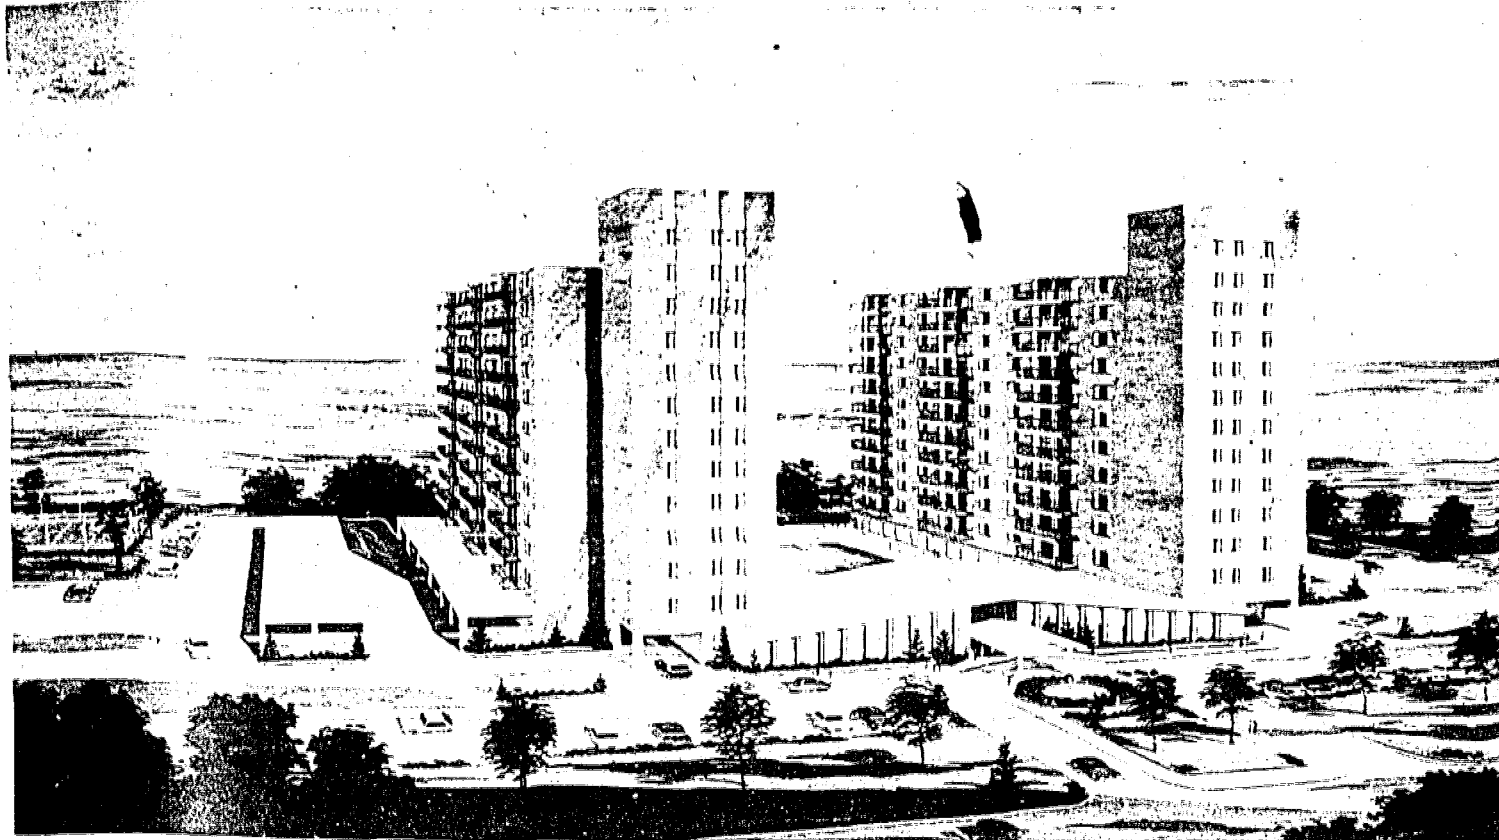

Other features include a closed circuit security TV system, 24-hour doorman service, and an intercom in the lobby. There also is cable TV in the buildings with reception from both New York and Philadelphia.

Under the condominium ownership plan, each apartment owner receives a deed to his own unit and an undivided interest in the common property. He may sell his unit whenever he desires. The benefits of condominium ownership are that buyers can deduct any interest on mortgage payments and tax payments from their federal income tax returns. So, while building up equity positions in ownership of the apartments, which are sure to appreciate over the years, apartment buyers are not responsible for the chores.

All maintenance of the grounds and building are done by fully-staff personnel. Thus buyers have the luxury, carefree style of living associated with apartments, but without the chores normally associated with homeowners.

"Buyers will be combining the best of two possible worlds - the benefits of home ownership and the chore-free life of apartments," says a Avenel Boulevard Corp. spokesman. "They're also getting luxury appointments of saunas, pools and tennis court, not to mention the ocean, in an ideal setting only 60 minutes from New York City. And it's just minutes away from shopping, entertainment, beach clubs and marinas, and two major race tracks."

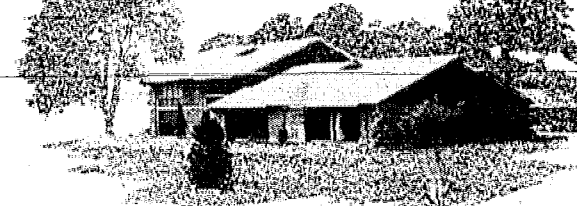

The Monmouth Beach site is convenient to rails and express bus service and all schools and houses of worship are in the area.

RENDERING of the twin 12-story condominium towers, The Shores at Monmouth Beach, being developed by Avenel Boulevard, Inc. of Long Branch at 45 Ocean Ave. in Monmouth Beach, just off the Atlantic Ocean. The buildings contain 132 units with one and two bedrooms and 1 1/2 and two-baths priced from $44,900 to $79,900. The Berg Agency of Metuchen is the sales agent.

Mortgages seen easing

George Paton Jr., owner of George Paton Associates, Realtors of 416 Chestnut St., Roselle Park, predicted at a sales luncheon last week that the mortgage crises will begin to ease slightly by the end of October and mortgage money will become more and more available through the holidays and into 1974.

Based on contacts with national monetary officials, Paton said he feels that the economy has now slowed enough for the federal government to loosen some of the strings that will make mortgage money more available through local banks. Paton also said that studies made by the Federal Reserve board of governors this past spring which should bring forth proposals that will help to moderate drastic fluctuations in the mortgage market in the coming years. Because of the recent money pinch he said, houses have been more difficult to sell and prices have temporarily stabilized.

Clearbrook. The promise of a new way of life.

Exclusively for those over 48.

Clearbrook is the community for folks who want all the privacy and luxury of an adult community... plus the zesty, active life that keeps body and spirit always young.

This ideal combination is what Clearbrook is all about.

With people who share your desire to act your age without acting aged... people who have the vigor and the means to live the active Good Life.

Country Advantages and Metropolitan Convenience. Clearbrook combines the benefits of home ownership with condominium services. Set in the gently rolling New Jersey countryside, it's just 42 miles from Manhattan—close to your friends, children, grandchildren. Close to New York City, Princeton and the Jersey Shore.

Our Clubhouse is no castle in the air. Right now the Clearbrook recreational complex is a reality. A 25,200 square foot clubhouse is the heart of the complex, containing facilities for just about everything you can imagine. Billiards. Bridge. Ceramics. Photography. Woodworking. A host of other recreational and cultural activities.

Outside, there's an Olympic-size swimming pool. Tennis courts, wooded trails.

In addition, Clearbrook's own private golf course is also under construction. Here, as an owner, you'll be able to golf for a nominal greens fee.

One thing is sure. Every day will be an exciting day for you at Clearbrook.

Your time is your own. You'll never have to worry about things like mowing the lawn or shoveling the walks or fixing the downspout. Because, under the condominium plan all outside maintenance is done for you.

Leave your worries behind you. Clearbrook is entirely private. Courteous guards will meet your guests at the gatehouse and aid them in finding your home. Streets will also be patrolled on a 24-hour basis, so you'll be able to leave your home for a short walk or a world cruise with complete peace of mind.

Add to this, 24-hour medical facilities, and mini-bus service to local shopping and commuter connections, and you'll agree that the Clearbrook planners have thought of everything.

A home to fit your needs. The best things about Clearbrook are its Condominium Plaza Homes. 4 models to choose from. All feature single-level living with garages. All contain such conveniences as a dishwasher, refrigerator/freezer, oven/range, exhaust hood, garbage disposal, trash compactor and central air conditioning. Future plans also include 3-story elevator condominiums.

The prices: one-bedroom homes at $25,990, to two-bedroom and den homes at $34,990.

Because you'll own your Clearbrook Plaza Home you'll get all of the tax and equity benefits of home ownership, as well.

The $61.11 bargain. Aside from the purchase price of your home, the entire Clearbrook way of life—including all recreational, medical, security and exterior maintenance services (except green fees)—is yours to enjoy for the modest monthly condominium fee of $61.11. An unparalleled bargain.

Clearbrook. There's no place quite like it. And, if you're 48 or over, you owe it to yourself to see it. It's the promise of a wonderful new way of life.

U.S. Home introduces 240-unit townhouse community

U.S. Home Corporation of New Jersey has introduced Sunnybrook, the 240-unit townhome community on Eaynestown road in Lumberton. The townhomes, priced from $27,990 to $30,990, are being offered with 7 1/2 percent, 25-year mortgage financing available and down payments as low as 10 percent.

Herbert M. Hutt, president of the N.J. division, made the announcement and pointed out that Sunnybrook is our second community in Burlington County, and it was chosen because of its unusually attractive woodland setting and its convenient location just one and one-quarter miles from the center of thriving, historical Mt. Holly.

Sunnybrook is within 30 minutes of the Cherry Hill-Camden-Philadelphia-Trenton area, which is the fastest growing area of the state. Yet settlers in Sunnybrook will have the advantage of living in the country, surrounded by tall trees and woodland. Nearby are shopping facilities, houses of worship, public and parochial schools. The Jersey shore is less than an hour away.

Sunnybrook has six furnished models, a large sales office building and a completed clubhouse for residents' use. The homes' interior layouts have a variety of features: family living centers with kitchen, dining and den combination—artistic staircases—second floor dens—wall-to-wall carpet—and many other ideas designed for today's lifestyles.

The townhomes are of one- and two-story design with one- and two bedrooms and one to two and one-half baths. All units include family room, private backyards and the modern living features—appliances and conveniences—available to builders today. Clustered in groupings of six and eight units, Sunnybrook features English Tudor styling with sturdy, long-lasting exterior cedar framing. Rooms are spacious with broad expanses of windows and sliding glass doors to yard, which gives interesting views of the woodland setting and tall trees surrounding Sunnybrook.

There are city sewers and water and utility wiring is being installed underground to preserve the beauty of the surroundings. Streets are paved and winding for safety and attractiveness, and sidewalks and curbing are being installed by U.S. Home. The already-built clubhouse for residents' use includes community room with fireplace, large game and party room, completely equipped kitchen, and swimming pool surrounded with broad expanses of patio for sunning and socializing.

Fee simple ownership at Sunnybrook means that each townhome buyer receives a deed to his property and has the same equity advantages as a detached single-family homeowner.

He can deduct real estate taxes and mortgage interest from his federal tax returns, and there are none of the problems of individual home ownership. All time-consuming tasks such as maintaining the landscaped property, grass cutting, snow removal and exterior home chores, such as painting, are cared for by professionals for a modest stipulated monthly fee. It also includes use of the recreational facilities and clubhouse.

Home buyers at Sunnybrook will have the advantage of U.S. Home-arranged mortgage financing, which means that qualified buyers may obtain seven and one-quarter percent, 25-year mortgages with up to 90 percent of the purchase price. Monthly payments, including the fee for exterior maintenance, are as low as $287 per month.

SUNNYBROOK TOWNHOME COMMUNITY in woodland setting debuts this weekend in Lumberton. Entrance to the U.S. Home of New Jersey 240-unit development is on Eaynestown road, just one and a quarter miles from the center of Mt. Holly. Homes are clustered in groupings of six and eight. Six furnished models feature one and two-story designs with one to three bedrooms, and one to two and one-half baths. All units include family room and modern living conveniences. Priced from $27,990 to $30,990, the townhomes are available with seven and one-quarter percent, 25-year mortgages, with down payments as low as 10 per cent.

LAKE IN SECTION TWO of Clearbrook, the 3,200-house condominium community being developed by Aaron Cross Construction Co. off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike in Monroeville Township, is stocked with bass, perch, bluegills and sunfish. Stocking the lake recently for use by residents of Clearbrook are, left to right, Eddie Tindall, assistant greens superintendent, Roy Tindall, greens superintendent, and Ken Gross.

Home buyers at Sunnybrook will have the advantage of U.S. Home-arranged mortgage financing, which means that qualified buyers may obtain seven and one-quarter percent, 25-year mortgages with up to 90 percent of the purchase price. Monthly payments, including the fee for exterior maintenance, are as low as $287 per month.

Litter Bag drive termed success

The R. E. Scott company, Realtors of Elizabeth and Freehold, has had wide public acceptance of its "Litter Bags" advertising program, Samuel C. Callo, vice-president and residential marketing director, said this week.

The white litter bag with the yellow smiling face says, "Have a Happy Day" and features the new Scott logo captioned with "Our Only Product...Service." The litter bag can be used in a car, throughout the home or anywhere limited space permits. More than a thousand have been distributed in Eastern Union and Central Monmouth County.

Compare

Compare monthly charges at the various retirement communities in Ocean County—and COMPARE WHAT'S INCLUDED IN THE CHARGES! Our charge ranges from $50.80 to $91.25 (depending on model of home you choose), and includes: real estate taxes; fire, extended coverage and liability insurance; trash and garbage collection; city water and sewer; master TV antenna to provide clear reception of 12 New York and Philadelphia channels; lawn care; all exterior and roof maintenance and repairs; exterior painting; full facilities of a handsome clubhouse; our own buses to shopping and House of Worship; snow clearing; and many other community services.

Compare variety of floorplans and sizes offered. We're building no less than 11 different models (including an "efficiency" for single occupancy), priced from $14,950 to $38,450.

Compare our prices against others; and compare what's included in our prices—size of home, porch, extra rooms, storage attic, GE appliances, etc. Compare lawn space between structures—a minimum of 35 feet on each side here—often more! Compare "settlement" or "closing" costs and clubhouse membership fees—we charge none! Compare "escalator clauses"—we have none. Compare requirements for "progress payments" or "installments" during construction—we require none.

Compare construction specifications; we are proud of our quality standards and gladly will document their superiority—from up-off-the-ground "old-fashioned" double wood flooring (not concrete slab right on the ground) ... to trussed roof rafters (extra strength).

Compare uncrowded community and recreation facilities. We have three Clubhouses in full operation, a fourth under construction; buses providing all-day-every-day service (at no extra charge) to Toms River, Lakewood, etc.; our own municipal waterworks, sewage disposal system, snow clearing and road repair equipment; our own round-the-clock maintenance staff, etc.

Compare the morale and contentment of residents. Compare their attitudes toward their builders and their judgment of management performance. Are promises kept? Is maintenance efficient so that life truly is care-free?

See them all. Talk to residents. Compare! You owe it to yourself!

Top of the East occupancies expected at first of year

More than $2 million in sales has been recorded at Top of the East, the luxury condominium high-rise on the highest spot along the Eastern Seaboard in Highlands. The view from the 166-unit showcase building includes New Jersey, the New York skyline, Brooklyn and as far as the furthest tip of Long Island.

Occupancies are expected to commence the first of the year at the showcase 14-story structure which features one- and two-bedroom condominiums from $38,500. The developers, Snyder-Westland Corp. of Middletown, are also offering buyers a recreational package which includes an Olympic-sized swimming pool, sundeck, private cabana, professional tennis facilities, health club and saunas. Of the highlights of Top of the East is the rooftop penthouse club atop the building. The condominium purchaser's fee also includes use of tennis facilities, swimming pool exterior maintenance, snow clearing, grass cutting and garbage pickup.

entrance lobby and other luxury amenities.

All-electric, the kitchens feature General Electric appliances such as built-in self-cleaning ovens, garbage disposals, frost-free refrigerators, dishwashers, vented range hoods and central garbage compactors. The apartments feature spacious balconies, dressing rooms, walk-in closets, regal entrance foyers and other first-line appointments.

Other apartment amenities include quality tiled baths, television outlets, fire-proof construction, individually-controlled electric heating and air conditioning, and sliding glass doors to the patio. There are basement storage facilities as well as washer-dryer in the laundry room.

A typical 1-bedroom complex, priced at $38,500 would result in a monthly maintenance charge of $108, which includes all utilities. Taxes per month are an estimated $72.

For the two-bedroom unit the maintenance charge per month is estimated at $136, including all utilities. Taxes are estimated at $91 monthly.

New World at Willow Hill opens first group of homes

New World at Willow Hill, the first community to be built in Evesham Township, under its new cluster ordinance, this weekend makes its debut with a first section of single-family homes. When completed, the complex will have more than 1,100 homes and townhouses at Evans road and Rt. 73.

Being developed by Rossmore Corp. of New Jersey and built by Aaron Cross Construction Co., Inc., which is developing the 3,200 home Clearbrook adult condominium complex in Monroe Township, New World at Willow Hill will have more than 850 single-family homes and more than 290 townhouses. Occupancies in the first section of single-family homes will begin early spring.

Sales and marketing at New World at Willow Hill are under the direction of Richard Turan, president of Turan Realty of Cranbury, with a sales office located at the model site—just south of the Marlton Circle on Rt. 73 and Evans road, east of New Jersey Turnpike exit 4.

The single family homes priced from $43,990 to $53,990 are in Spanish, contemporary or English Tudor style and offer 10 elevations and styles. The townhouses include the Trinidad, The Aruba, The Bermuda, and The Jamaica.

Housing features as part of the basic price include central air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting, storm windows and screens, self-cleaning oven with exhaust hood, a dishwasher, and garbage disposal unit.

$43,990 and Spanish exterior at $45,990.

The Granada, in contemporary design at $45,200 and Spanish architecture at $47,990, is a two-story, three-bedroom, 1 1/2 bath home graced with a 28-foot terrace with wrought iron rail.

The Martinique, available in contemporary styling at $48,990 or English Tudor at $53,990, is a bi-level home with four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths and a 1-car garage.

The Devon, available in contemporary styling at $48,990 and English Tudor at $51,990, is a 1-story model with four bedrooms, 2 baths, and a 2-car garage.

Sutton has preview of 248 units

Low mortgage rate
offered on 2 models
at Berkeley's Park

Brick Town's status as one of the most popular residential areas on the Jersey coast got another upward boost with the preview opening of Sutton Village, off Lanes Mill road.

The 248-unit condominium community will offer one and two-story townhouse homes reflecting the latest in contemporary design. They will be available with one bedroom, one bedroom and den, and two bedrooms with family room. Introductory prices begin at $24,990.

Homes in Sutton Village qualify for seven and one-quarter per cent mortgage financing, depending on down payment.

Sutton Village offers central air-conditioning in each unit, washer-dryer, dish washer, eye-level double range, and wall-to-wall carpeting. Also, each townhouse has its own garage.

The condominium arrangement is designed for those who want the pleasures of private ownership without the usual maintenance difficulties. At Sutton Village, all exterior chores, such as snow removal, grass cutting and outside repairs are performed by professionals for a modest monthly fee. Residents will be able to deduct local real estate taxes and mortgage interest in preparing their annual income tax reports.

The community has its own recreation center, a large outdoor pool and tennis and shuffleboard courts.

Sutton Village is near recreational attractions of the nearby Atlantic Ocean, excellent restaurants, shopping malls and parks. Freehold Raceway and Monmouth Park are only minutes away, the Garden State Parkway is nearby and there is hourly bus service connecting with all major regions.

Greater American Communities announces that for a limited time it can offer mortgages at 7 1/2 percent interest with five percent down payment on two of its ranch model homes at The Park at Berkeley. The residential community is located in a woodland setting off Route 9 on Scott Road in Berkeley Township in Ocean County.

The mortgages at this low rate have been made available to home buyers through a state-affiliated program. These funds from the state-operated agency are limited, so the developers advise buyers who are interested to act promptly.

The ranch models at The Park at Berkeley, available at this preferred mortgage rate, are The Willow and The Maple, priced at $31,990.

The Willow ranch is typical of the quality that characterizes the community. The exterior elevation variation and the cedar shakes and natural siding give a fresh and different look to its one-level design.

The entrance foyer has a guest closet and the living room goes from the front to the rear of the house with double windows at each end. The home offers an optional kitchen-dining layout, which can be one large family living combination or divided into two separate rooms. The kitchen is completely equipped with deluxe appliances and an adjoining laundry room. There is a 32-foot master bedroom, second bedroom and bath.

The six-room, one-level Maple ranch has long, low lines with natural wood siding exterior that blends and enhances the woodland setting and towering trees which surround The Park at Berkeley. It incorporates the convenience and separation of living and sleeping areas in the interior layout.

The right wing has front-facing living room and family room. Across the rear is the large kitchen-dining combination or, if preferred, this can be divided into a convenient kitchen and separate formal dining room. Also in this wing is complete bath, laundry room and hall which leads to the left wing and two bedrooms, both with double closets.

Included in the purchase price of homes at The Park at Berkeley are half-acre thickly wooded sites, exteriors of durable cedar shakes and natural siding, or an alternate exterior (at no additional cost) of aluminum siding with natural wood grain finish. Wall-to-wall carpeting and floor tiles are available in a choice of colors. All wood, double-hung windows, and kitchens equipped with Magic Chef dishwasher, electric range and range hood, and custom-crafted cabinetry.

The property is fully improved to include city sewers, curbs, sidewalks, underground wiring and paved winding roads.

The Park at Berkeley is located off Route 9. It offers suburban convenience and a vacationland setting. Just minutes away is the Jersey shore with its variety of ocean and bay recreational offerings: boating, fishing and swimming.

The Berg Agency, New Jersey's largest residential realty firm, is exclusive sales agent for the homes.

The Park at Berkeley can be reached by taking the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 80 (Route 9) and continuing south for three miles, turning left on Scott road to the community.

Drew announces 8 lectures for Aquinas Fund Program

The Graduate School at Drew University, Madison, announced this week that its Aquinas Fund Program, which brings distinguished scholars to the Drew campus for special seminars with faculty, will this year also include eight public lectures.

The theme of the program this year is "Changing Patterns of Human Behavior." Specific lectures will cover such topics as "Psychology and the Future," "The University and Society," "The Muses and Gods," "What Keeps Modern Man from Religion," and "The American Landscape and the American Spirit of Revolution."

With the exception of one on Wednesday, Oct. 24, the lectures will be given on selected Tuesday evenings in November, December, February, March and April. All will be held in S.W. Bowne Great Hall on the campus, beginning at 8 p.m.

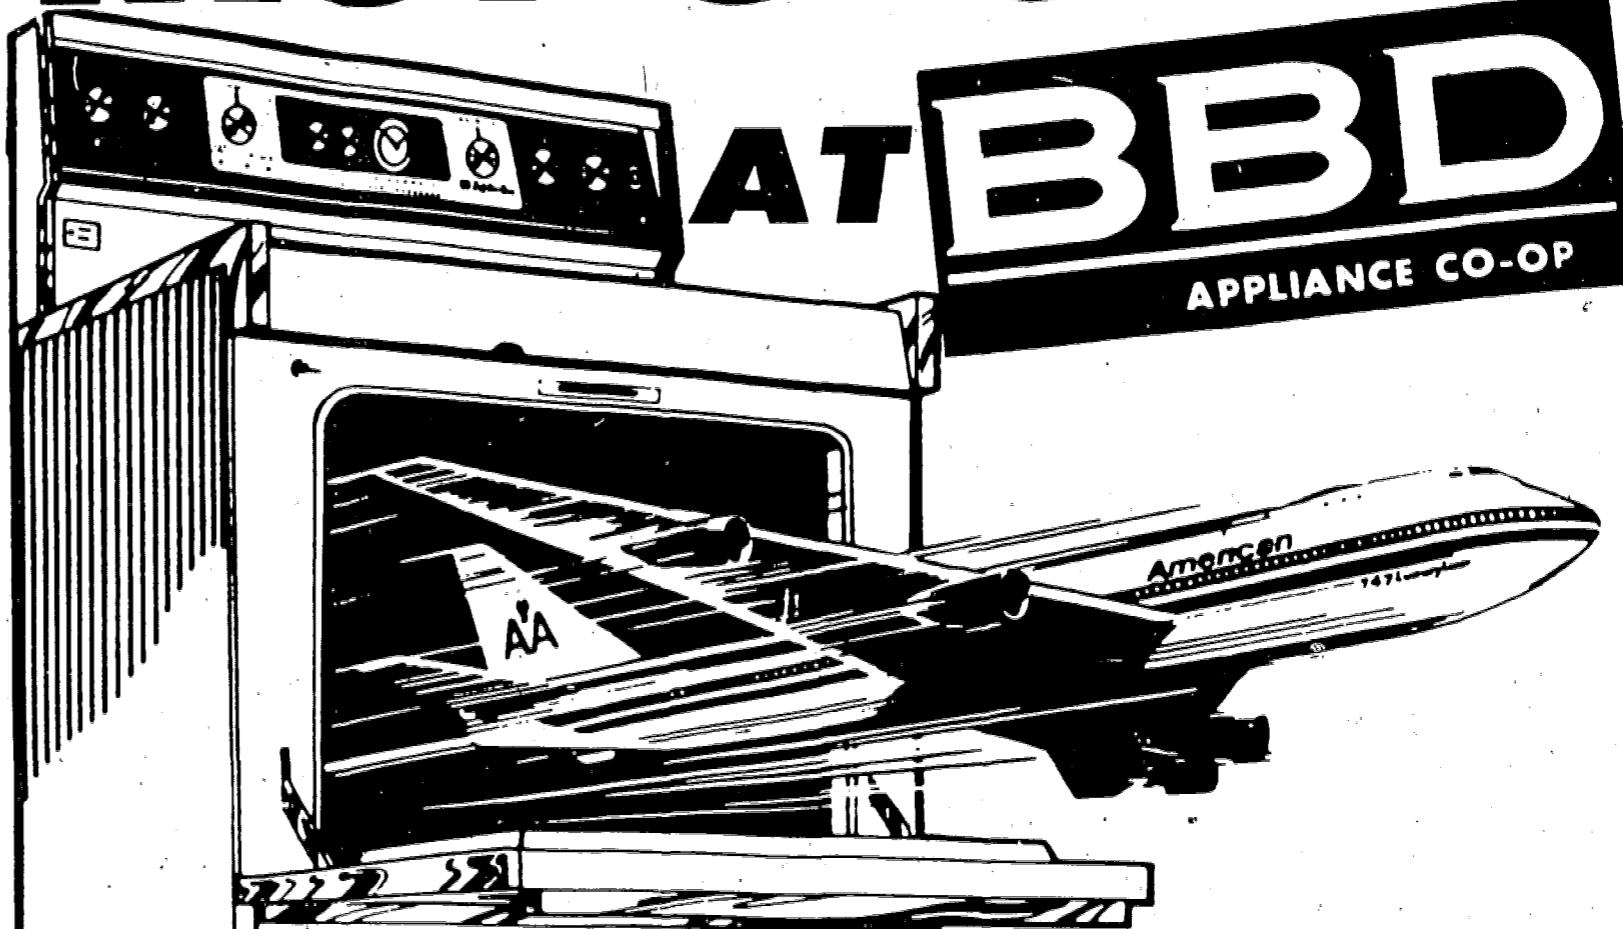

Speakers in the series will include Otto Klineberg, director of the International Center for Intergroup Relations at the Sorbonne, Paris; David Bakan, professor of psychology at York University; Philip Rieff, Benjamin Franklin, Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania; Stanley Romaine Hopper, Bishop W. Earl Ledden, Professor of Religion, Syracuse University; Will Herberg, professor of philosophy and culture at Drew; Leo Marx, William R. Kenan, Jr., Professor of English Literature and American Studies at Amherst College; Lewis S. Feuer, professor of sociology at the University of Toronto, and others.

The Aquinas Program, now in its fourth year at Drew, is funded by a grant from the Aquinas Fund. Named for St. Thomas Aquinas, the New York-based foundation was established to further interfaith, inter-racial, and international understanding and encourage scholarly illumination of the relationship between psychology and history.

Go West for the Best!

If you've been shopping for a home chances are you've been heading south. But you paid out plenty in tolls... maybe even became a little unhinged by the traffic, too! Well, face it—tolls and traffic south are here to stay. What's the solution? Head west to Brakeley Park in the beautiful hills of Phillipsburg-Lopatcong. You'll get more home value than you ever dreamed possible, with an added bonus—no tolls to pay. That's some bonus when you consider that tolls to Toms River, for example, could cost you as much as $50.00 a month if you commute to Newark! And Brakeley Park is closer to Newark than Toms River, yet toll free all the way. Top that!

Shawn evokes distaff shivers in 'Under the Yum Yum Tree'

By BEA SMITH
There's an old show business adage that comedians are the hardest working performers in the business—and generally, the most talented.
It's one thing to be good as a stand-up comedian. It's quite another to be great while playing a straight role with comedic inflections in a stage vehicle. And Dick Shawn, who plays the obnoxious, mixed-up sex-obsessed, "dirty-old" landlord, in "Under the Yum Yum Tree," at the Meadowbrook Theater-Restaurant, Cedar Grove, gives such a terrifyingly realistic performance, the female audience simultaneously shudders at the mere thought and sight of him!

Union High School is site Monday for concert by Gorbaty

The College Community Orchestra of Jersey City, with pianist Jan Gorbaty as featured soloist, will present a concert Monday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m. at Union High School.
The orchestra, conducted by its founder, Peter Sozio, is presently associated with the Music Department of Jersey City State College. Sozio is also a founder and former conductor of the Suburban Symphony.
Gorbaty, who will be featured in the Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto No. 1 in B Flat, is a native of Russia and a graduate of the Polish Conservatory. He has made extensive concert tours both here and abroad.
The program is being presented by Recital Stage, under the auspices of the Foundation for the Performing Arts, a non-profit cultural organization. Ticket information is available from Recital Stage, 688-1617.

'Macbeth' to open 5-week run tonight

William Shakespeare's "Macbeth" will open a five week run at the Actors Cafe Theater, 263 Central ave., East Orange, tonight, and will play every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. through Nov. 17.
The cast includes Barbara Kennedy as Lady Macbeth and David G. Kennedy as Macbeth, with Amy Roth, Lucia Melito, Christine Todd, Alan Willig, Darrel Hanos, Robert Dorfman, Michael Sheridan, Edward Golda, John Meehan and Douglas Witter.
Kennedy, who serves as director, has announced that opening night is already sold out. Telephone reservations may be made by calling the box office at 675-1881.

Women's group plans operalogue

The Women's Committee of Mountainside will hold the first operalogue on Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn.

MRS. NORMAN COHEN

Chairman selected for Theater Guild

Mrs. Norman Cohen of Mountainside will serve as chairman of "The Nutcracker" ballet to be presented by the New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild Inc. Dec. 8 at Cedar Ridge High School, Madison Township, matinee and evening, and Dec. 15 and 16 at Plainfield High School, Plainfield.
Alfred Corvino, artistic director of the company, will blend the talents of professional New York dancers with high level students from New Jersey communities.
Proceeds from the performances enable the guild to present free concerts to youth and adult audiences throughout the state.
Funds, together with gifts from sponsors, patrons and friends, will help the guild to maintain its scholarship program.

Children's plays begins Saturday

The Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn will begin its children's theater series Saturday with "The Golden Goose," presented by the Traveling Playhouse.
"Peter Pan" will be staged by the Yates Children's Theater, Oct. 27; "The Pied Piper," Nov. 3; "Pinochio," Nov. 10; "Jack and the Beanstalk," Nov. 24, and "The Prince and the Pauper," Dec. 1.
All shows will be seen at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. (except "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be presented at 10:30 a.m. only).

DeRose will star in musical revue benefit on Sunday

The Columbian Foundation will present the Marty DeRose Musical Revue at the Governor Morris Inn, Morristown, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. DeRose, who was born in Newark, is a classical and popular singer, who will headline a five-act bill for the benefit show. He has recorded two albums, "Marty DeRose Sings," and "Don't Say Goodbye," and 12 single records.
The former Newarker started his singing career 20 years ago, when he was a student at East Side High School, Newark, and has since appeared on stage, television and in night clubs.
Sharing the bill with DeRose will be the DuBarrys, Ray LaTore, Ben Barcelona, a 20 piece orchestra, furnished by Don Sterling.
The Columbian Foundation, a non-profit organization, was founded in 1941 by business and professional men in the metropolitan area of Newark, dedicated to improve the cultural, educational economic and social welfare of the region. The Foundation's major project is the construction of the Forum Cultural Center, to present and sponsor opera, ballet, drama, art exhibits and conduct social and educational programs for the entire community. Tickets for Sunday's show may be obtained at the Foundation office, 141 S. Harrison St., East Orange.

New Recital Stage series inaugurated by N.J. Ballet

By WILLIAM H. BRUCKER
Everest Mayora, a ballerina from the Venezuela State Ballet, helped the New Jersey Ballet Company give a pleasantly noteworthy beginning last Saturday night to the 1973-74 Recital Stage series at the Union High School auditorium.
Miss Mayora has the physical presence, obviously the temperament, and most obviously the full terpsichorean vocabulary to make for a gala performance of traditional and classical ballet. Her vis-a-vis, Dermot Burke, recruited from the New York City Ballet Company, supplied excellent levitation and guidance to her pirouettes and arabesques, and together they made the Don Quixote Pas de Deux with music by Minkus a prime spot on the program.
The New Jersey Ballet, under the noblest auspices, but with a budget of ignoble dimensions, must still be rated as an emerging company with horizons and goals a good distance away. Its very youthful members relate more to the less disciplined music and dance forms of our times rather than the rigid, no-nonsense demands of the classic French and Russian ballet. After all, it is easier to snap your fingers than to do an entire chat quatre.
That is why "Time Warp" with music by Jackdaw and choreography by Jay Norman, as wanting as it was for a cohesive, melding force, came off as the most responsive and most responded to effort of the evening. The acid rock was the very fabric for the weaving of our present day dance forms to it. It had the beat, it had the enthusiasm, it had the decibels. But applying one of my private standards of criticism, loud does not mean great. Beat does not mean graphic elation and excellence. And what about Papa Diaghilev?

The spectrum of the New Jersey Ballet endeavors, as with most ballet companies, is eclectic. In "Triad" to music by Jacques Ibert and choreography by George Tomal, the patronizing movements in the modern motif were much more ponderous than pellucid. Ibert's music is often satirical and innovative, but the eternal triangle in Triad laid heavy on the stomach.
Quite a bit more successful was "Caprice" with music by Norman della Joio and choreography by Ron Cunningham. della Joio's music is adventurous and inventive with many accidental surprises, but alas, the Cunningham dance plan is hardly capricious and does not come up to the jollity of the music. Blending the modern movement with classical ballonees and cabrioles, it still never emerged beyond the mildly interesting. But the music is great.
Edward Villella's "Shostakovitch Ballet Suite" commenced the evening with a sharp rendition of the Villella intention. Dermot Burke and Robert Brassel handled the ensemble of Michele Evangelista Constance Weber and Lynn Oakley with consummate ease and the ballet dancer's erudition.

JAMES CAAN — Actor plays Sonny, opposite Marlon Brando and Al Pacino in the award-winning 'The Godfather,' current attraction at the Cinemette in Union.

NSC plans to offer special courses to local communities

Newark State College at Union plans to bring several continuing education programs to local communities this fall as a step towards fulfilling its goals as a community service organization. In addition to those non-credit programs offered at the Union campus, courses will be held at the Plainfield Adult School, Fanwood-Scotch Plains YMCA, Westfield Memorial Library, and Union County Regional Adult School beginning this month.

At the Plainfield High School, Dr. Daniel DiSalvi, associate professor of psychology, will attempt to develop an understanding of oneself and others in older adulthood and explore some of the unique problems, complexities and rewards of this natural process called aging.

"Often, as folks age, youth appears to move farther and farther away to the point where things seem to make no sense at all from either perspective as older adults view younger people and vice versa. The resultant breakdown in communication and even development of hostility between the two distinct groups is often referred to as the generation gap. The approach to bridging this generation gap... The approach to understanding this problem will be tried by Newark State College associate professor of English, Sidney Krueger.

"Bridging the Generation Gap Through Literature" is the title of Krueger's course to be offered in cooperation with the Union County Regional Adult School at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield. Sylvia Plath's "The Bell Jar" will be the first novel discussed in six sessions devoted to a survey of modern fiction read by today's youth. Other authors to be considered in the course include Ken Kesey, Herman Hesse, Ralph Ellison, Tom Wolfe and Kurt Vonnegut.

Several other non-credit and continuing education programs will be offered by the college on the main campus and in surrounding communities this semester. Most of the courses require a nominal tuition, although some are free, and others provide reduced tuition for individuals over age sixty-five. Further information on all of the special programs may be obtained by writing or calling the continuing education division of Newark State College at Union, 527-2166.

Census surveys consumer costs

What does it cost a family or an individual to live these days? To buy food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care, schooling, and the services Americans use?

A sample of households in this area, part of some 17,000 households across the Nation, is furnishing this information about living costs to the federal government. The households are taking part in the Consumer Expenditure Survey being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Timothy C. Moriarty, supervisor of the survey area office, says that interviewers began calling on the survey households early in October for the fourth time this year. Fourth quarter calls will continue through December.

The Census Bureau is acting as data collection agent for the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) results

MIRIAM O'DONNELL

Seton Hall names woman to new post

Seton Hall University has appointed Miriam F. O'Donnell to fill the newly-created post of assistant vice-president for academic services. The new key administrative position is part of the reorganization of upper-level administration just completed at Seton Hall.

Since 1968 Miss O'Donnell has been serving as Seton Hall's executive dean and as director of the summer session. Her other university positions since joining Seton Hall in 1951 have included registrar at Paterson and director of student personnel services and executive dean of University College, formerly in Newark. She has also been an adjunct faculty member in the department of psychology.

Miss O'Donnell's responsibilities as assistant vice-president for academic services will include her present duties as executive dean as well as supervision of the office of university registrar and the educational media center.

Veterans to honor former prisoners

The Essex County Chapter of Catholic War Veterans will hold its 27th annual pre-convention buffet dance on Saturday, Oct. 20, at 8:30 p.m. at the St. Francis Xavier auditorium, Abington avenue, Newark. Dance music will be provided by Larry Long and His Orchestra.

This year's theme for the evening will be: "Flag - Freedom - Loving Americans - Grateful." Returned Essex County POWs from Vietnam will be guests of the chapter and its Ladies Auxiliary.

Fr. Owens Post 1187 and Auxiliary will be the hosts for the evening. Dance chairman is Miss Olga Di Chiara, assisted by Arthur Amato, Mrs. Marie Lippincott and Mr. Michael Noce. Honorary chairmen are Joseph W. Howell, Essex County CWV commander and Miss Jean Ladutsky, president, Essex County Ladies Auxiliary.

of the survey will show what changes have taken place in consumer purchasing since the last survey was taken in 1960-61 and thus enable BLS to create an up-to-date "market basket" of goods and services which will reflect today's buying habits. Price changes for items in the market basket are measured monthly by BLS and are reflected in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) each month.

Time to drive out and see the leaves turning color

Pick a day when the October sky is at its bluest and take a drive in the country to enjoy the annual display of autumn foliage that Mother Nature provides in the Garden State. That's the advice of Secretary of Agriculture Phillip Alampi.

New Jersey residents, he said, are fortunate in that they live in one of the few sections of the world where trees undergo this yearly beautiful transformation. Unless you live in or visit southern and eastern United States or southeastern Canada during autumn, you won't see anywhere else in the country the show the trees put on.

Outside the United States, the only other places to see the beautiful leaf colorations are Ireland and Great Britain, some sections of western Europe, eastern China and parts of Japan.

In New Jersey, there is a wealth of different species of trees to produce a variety of color. Alampi added. Maples, sumac, woodbine, dogwood, black cherry, sour gum, sweet gum and sassafras provide the red spots on the autumn landscape. Yellow is added by birch, tulip poplar, sycamore and beech trees. Touches of rust, tan and deep red are provided by elms, basswood, hickory and oaks.

Contrary to popular belief, it's not frost which is responsible for that variety of color which makes such a splendid showing. According to Dr. Paul V. Weber, plant pathologist for the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, frost actually reduces foliage coloration by injuring or killing leaves before the coloration processes complete their development.

Rather, it's all a matter of chemistry. With the passing of late summer and the approach of early fall, leaf synthesis of chlorophylls, the green pigments which have given leaves their color throughout the summer, ceases and the chlorophylls already present are disintegrated at an accelerating rate.

As the chlorophyll greens disappear, the yellow and orange pigments (termed carotenes and xanthophylls), already present in the leaves, but previously masked by the more abundant chlorophylls, become apparent.

Also, at this time of year, bright weather may stimulate the leaves to produce more anthocyanina, thus adding reds, blues and purples to the display.

There are several locations in New Jersey where particularly good displays of fall foliage may be expected. To the south, the Mays Landing area and south along the Great Egg Harbor River is a good possibility. Also, there's the Smithville region and northwest through the cranberry bogs of southeastern Burlington County.

To the north, likely areas are north of the Wanake Reservoir in northwestern Passaic County and Sunrise Mountain in the northeastern portion of Stokes State Forest in Sussex County.

ACLU schedules awards dinner

The American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey will hold its fourth annual awards dinner on Saturday, Oct. 27, at the Holiday Inn, Rt. 1, North Brunswick. About 1,000 persons are expected to attend.

Awards will be presented to Congresswomen Bella Abzug and Shirley Chisholm, Professor Richard A. Falk of Princeton, and playwright Lillian Hellman. The awards, which are presented for outstanding efforts in the cause of individual rights, will be presented by Assemblywoman Ann Klein, actor James Earl Jones, Pentagon Papers defendant Anthony J. Russo and former Senator Charles Goodell. Also on the program is comedian Dick Gregory, who will speak on the current scene.

Tickets to the dance are available at $15 from the ACLU state office, 45 Academy st., Newark, 07102. The dinner will be preceded by a sponsor's cocktail party at 6:30 p.m. with tickets available at $50 each. Early reservations to both the cocktail party and the dinner can be obtained by calling the ACLU office: 642-2084.

Easter Seals cites 'Good Samaritans'

U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr. and Richard D. Sellars, chairman of the board of Johnson & Johnson, will be honored at the New Jersey Easter Seal Society's 25th anniversary dinner next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark.

Franklin V. Fischer, 25th anniversary chairman and newly elected society president, said, "The two outstanding New Jersey leaders will be the recipients of the society's first 'Good Samaritan' award."

"Senator Williams is being honored for his expressed concern for handicapped people and the elderly during his long term of service in the United States Senate," Fischer said.

"Mr. Sellars is being honored for Johnson & Johnson's outstanding support in aiding handicapped people and for their continued civic mindedness and community involvement," he said.

NCE plans first show

Newark College of Engineering will present the musical, "Whispers on the Wind," as its first performance of the academic year.

William Gile, director of theater, has scheduled five performances of "Whispers on the Wind" from Wednesday, Nov. 14, through Sunday, Nov. 18. The Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday presentations will be matinees.

"Whispers on the Wind" is a small-cast presentation and is basically a serious play set to music. Some compare the production to "Our Town," since it follows the growth and maturity of a generation.

High school drama clubs and local amateur acting groups are welcome to the NCE performances as well as the students of other colleges.

'Individual' is TV topic

"The Plight of the Individual: Existence and Love" is the topic of four discussions at 9:30 a.m. on WABC-TV's public affairs program, "Faith, Hope, Love" aired each Sunday in October.

Moderating the series is Dr. Norman Pease, professor of psychology at Bloomfield College. His guests will be Dr. William A. Salder, Jr., professor of sociology at the college and authority on alienation and loneliness in America, and Mrs. Janeene Crook, a student at the college. The discussions will center on growth, interpersonal relationships, loneliness and the meaning of love in terms of growing up and maturing.

"Love and Freedom" and "Love and Growth" will be discussed on Oct. 21 and 28 respectively. Dr. Sadler's book, "Existence and Love" will be used as a reference throughout the series.

Turtle Back Zoo plans bird walk

IN THIS HOUR OF CRISIS IS THERE ANYTHING I CAN DO TO HELP THE PEOPLE OF ISRAEL?

YES.

You can reach out and demonstrate your solidarity with the people of Israel.

You can encourage the people of Israel with your dramatic response.

You can show unity with the people of Israel.

You can play an historic role in this hour of crisis.

HOW?

Veterinarians propose action in state to put end to pet population explosion

The New Jersey Veterinary Medical Association this week suggested a three-part program to combat the pet population explosion in the state and cautioned against thinking that surgical sterilization alone will solve the problem.

In a position statement, the veterinary association declares that the population of unwanted and homeless dogs and cats in New Jersey numbers in the thousands and has become a social problem.

The position statement:

1. Urges state and local officials to provide stricter enforcement of existing leash and control laws and to write new ones if current ordinances prove inadequate.

2. Encourages humane organizations, veterinarians and other interested individuals and groups to join forces to conduct a public education program designed to help pet owners become more responsible and concerned.

3. Suggests that association members be willing to participate voluntarily in contractual agreements with animal welfare societies to perform surgical animal sterilization procedures at reduced fees for those pet owners who are proven indigent or require subsidy.

Dr. Robert R. Shomer of Teaneck, chairman of the association's Pet Population Control Committee, said that two of the obvious problems caused by the pet population explosion are the "proliferation of wild dog packs in rural areas which present a danger to humans and the abandonment of pets by owners in urban and suburban areas.

"Such homeless animals not only are a possible source of disease to humans, but to other animals as well. Moreover they suffer needlessly and cruelly from deprivation of food and shelter," he continued.

"Irresponsibility on the part of some members of the pet-owning public and the failure to enforce existing dog laws have created these problems," he said.

The veterinary association called for charging higher license fees to help fund new efforts to enforce the laws. In line with this suggestion, the veterinary group said that owners with neutered animals should be charged lower license fees as an inducement for sterilization.

It is also urged that public and private animal shelters refuse to allow adoption of any dog or cat, male or female, unless that animal has been rendered sterile or the organization receives assurances that sterilization will be performed at the appropriate age, thus enabling shelters to place puppies and kittens that are too young for surgery.

The veterinarians also called for the licensing of all cats and the passage and enforcement of control measures for them.

"It is imperative that the general public be made aware of the fact that surgical sterilization alone will not provide the answer," Dr. Shomer cautioned.

"While spaying and neutering of pets are recommended for the convenience of responsible owners, they will probably prove to be ineffective solutions to mass control of reproduction of animals," he continued.

He pointed out that research now in progress and anticipated research can be expected to provide safe, inexpensive and effective medical sterilization methods for pet animals in the foreseeable future.

"The most pressing problem at the moment, however," his committee report declared, "is to provide service for those pet owners who are either indigent or whose contribution to the cost for spay or neutering procedures must be subsidized."

PSE&G to take bids for mortgage bonds

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the registration of $100,000,000 principal amount of 30-year first and refunding mortgage bonds. Competitive bids for the purchase of the bonds are to be submitted on Oct. 29.

The proceeds from the sale of the mortgage bonds will be used for general corporate purposes, including the payment of a portion of construction costs and repayment of short-term obligations.

Music tradition goes on Napiwocki leads symphony

Each Wednesday evening starting at 8, the walls of the music rehearsal room on the second floor of the Civic Center, Bloomfield, resound with the strains of Beethoven, Mozart, Tchaikovsky and other famous composers.

This continues until 10, when director Edward Napiwocki of Union lays down his baton and bids "good night" to the members of the Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra; another rehearsal has come to an end. For more than 40 years this group has held together—through depressions and wars—to become one of the oldest and best known symphonic musical units in the state.

Members return year after year to join their fellow musicians, blending their talents to perform the works of the masters. Masterpieces such as Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, Mahler's First Symphony, and symphonies by Brahms and Tchaikovsky are typical of the orchestra's repertoire.

Although never lacking for musical talent—turnover is at a minimum—Napiwocki continually seeks to build up orchestra personnel to ascertain a full complement in all of the sections.

Openings are available for qualified musicians, particularly for a bass clarinetist, tympanist and English horn player. Candidates are asked to drop in any rehearsal night and to chat with Napiwocki. The Civic Center is located at 84 Broad St., near Bloomfield Center.

The next concert by the orchestra will be held on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 18, at 3 at North Junior High School, 60 Huck rd., Bloomfield. Featured soloist will be Phyllis Lax, flautist. Concerts are open to the public; there is no admission charge. The orchestra is sponsored by the Bloomfield Recreation Commission and is supported by the Bloomfield Federation of Music.

Program planned for training of Hebrew school teachers

The Northern New Jersey Region of the United Synagogue of America has established an in-service training program for religious school teachers aimed at improving the quality of education in the Jewish schools in New Jersey.

At the heart of the program is a series of mini courses which will encompass the latest and most effective methods for teaching the various Jewish subjects in the school curriculum. A feature of the program will be a follow-up by each instructor of the individual teachers after the conclusion of the mini-courses.

For the first year of the program, the main focus will be on the teaching of Hebrew, Bible and Prayer and on the training of instructors for a parallel education for parents program. The instructors will be Prof. Saul Wachs of Brandeis University (Prayer), Mrs. Magda Winter (Hebrew), and Mrs. Ruth Zelenziger (Bible), the latter two on the faculty of the Teachers Institute of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

For the fall semester, the courses offered will be: methods of teaching Bible taught at the Fair Lawn Jewish Center, on Mondays, beginning Oct. 22, from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; methods of teaching prayer taught at the Teaneck Jewish Center, on Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 23, from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., and methods of teaching Hebrew taught at Congregation Bnai Israel, Rumson, on Wednesdays beginning Oct. 24, from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Additional courses for the spring semester include: Bible to be taught in Temple Beth El, Cranford; prayer to be taught at Highland Park Conservative Temple; Hebrew to be taught at White Meadow Temple in Rockaway, and the parallel education program to be taught at Beth El in South Orange.

No fee is associated with these courses which are funded by the Northern New Jersey Region of the United Synagogue of America.

All interested in participating in these courses should contact the United Synagogue office immediately at 1090 Clinton ave., Irvington.

Statewide session on careers in arts slated at Middlesex

New Jersey's first statewide Careers in the Arts Conference, "Steps to Becoming" will be held Sunday, Oct. 28, from 1 to 6 p.m. at Middlesex County College in Edison.

Co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education at Middlesex County College and the Division of Curriculum and Instruction, State Department of Education, the conference is designed to acquaint students (grades 8-12, college and continuing education) with the career options available, using art talents. The conference is open to the public, but registration is required. School personnel and parents are invited to attend.

The program will include professionals in arts-related fields and college representatives who will discuss curriculum and preparation for higher education and a media center that will offer on-going films demonstrating various career opportunities.

A grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to the New Jersey State Teen Arts Festival has contributed to the development of this project.

Further details and registration information can be obtained through the TAF office, State Department of Education, Division of Curriculum and Instruction, 225 W. State St., Trenton, 08625.

Council created on energy crisis

A Council on the Energy Crisis, representing both supplier and consumer interests, has been created under the sponsorship of New Jersey Manufacturers Association to explore means of maintaining higher employment levels in New Jersey. The council will represent NJMA's 13,500 member companies.

"Shortages have now become a fact of life," said Frank V. McBride, Board Chairman of the Association. This council has been formed in response to queries from our membership; also in hope of reducing the impact of the energy crisis upon our state's people and our economy."

David R. Chittick, director of engineering for the Western Electric Co., Kearny, was elected chairman of the new group.

Represented on the council are such companies as public utilities, food processing, power equipment manufacturing, oil and gas companies, metal fabricating and refining.

Chittick emphasized that the energy crisis is nationwide but New Jersey, because of its expanding population and giant industrial base, is foremost in vulnerability. "Our industrial employment is already lagging behind the rest of the nation," said Chittick. "What we want most to avoid is a loss of jobs caused by fuel shortages. This is our council's number one goal."

NCE students write books for children

A display of children's books written and illustrated by senior civil engineering students at Newark College of Engineering will be on exhibit until the end of October in the library lobby at Newark State College in Union.

Dr. Herman A. Estrin, English professor at Newark College of Engineering, feels that "in the engineering writing courses students must learn the importance and means of reader adaptation." Students learn basic communication skills by writing children's literature on various scientific themes.

Among the titles are Metal Monsters by Paul Hartelius, Why do We Wear Eyeglasses? by Charles Snedcor, Where Are the Beaches Going? by Gary DiPippo, and Tricks Your Eyes Play on You by Gary W. Behlen and many others.

Crime in industry topic for seminar

In response to one of the pressing economic issues of today, the W. Paul Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University will present an all-day conference Thursday, Oct. 25, dealing with "Business Crime and Loss Prevention in Industry."

The program, developed in cooperation with Loss Prevention Diagnostics Inc., is geared to executives, managers and security personnel. Highlighting the seminar will be a luncheon address by Herbert J. Stern, United States Attorney for the District of New Jersey, who will speak on "Organized Crime and Business."

Career opportunity for women subject of new workshop

A workshop for women interested in exploring career opportunities, "Project Eve," will begin the last week in October at the YWCA of Metropolitan New Jersey, 760 North Third Ave., West Orange.

Jointly sponsored by the Jewish Vocational Service and the Y, the workshop is open to the public. Two groups have been planned, one meeting on Wednesdays, starting Oct. 24, from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., the other meeting on Thursdays, starting Oct. 25, at the same time.

Edith Elson, who has an M.A. in counseling and psychology and is career and educational consultant for JVS, will lead the group. Mrs. Elson stated the aims of the workshop to be: "Helping women to gain their self-confidence and to recognize the positive aspects of maturity and stability that can be offered an employer."

Subjects to be covered include work opportunities in various fields, education, training and retraining, seeking part-time and full-time employment and how the career of the homemaker relates to the family situation. Each woman will be given a personal consultation and evaluation.

Interested persons are requested to call the Y for information, fees and registration, as soon as possible, at 736-3200, ext. 56.

Bayley-Seton meeting

RECORDED... LEE CLAYTON: by Lee Clayton. (MCA RECORDS 365) Selections on this just-released LP include: "Carnival Ballroom," "Bottles of Booze," "Henry McCarty," "New York City Suite 409" (a) Lord She Don't Belong in New York City (b) Don't You Think It's Time to Come On Home, "Mama, Spend the Night With Me," "Red Dime," "Cress," "Danger," "Lonesome Whiskey," and "Ladies Love Outlaws."

Everybody knows ladies love outlaws, and that's exactly what LEE CLAYTON is. Lee Clayton has emerged from the often anonymous tapestry of Nashville writers, singers, and players whose consistent quality has made Nashville one of the music centers of today's country and pop music. Before writing Waylong Jennings' hit single, "Ladies Love Outlaws," Clayton was in Nashville weaving and telling stories of his travels on the road. He then decided Nashville was the city where he would record his debut LP for MCA.

Lee's traveling created the opportunity for meeting other storytellers like Kris Kristofferson and John Prine—both of whom readily refer to Lee as "a great songwriter." Interest in Clayton's lyrics has been noted by the Everly Brothers, who also recorded "Ladies Love Outlaws." Bette Midler has asked Lee for one of his songs, and Carly Simon—whose unmistakable voice can be heard backing Lee on "New York City Suite 409"—a two part song that could easily become another classic like "MacArthur Park."

Three Mercury Records' artists have been nominated in six categories for the Country Music Association awards for 1973. Tom T. Hall leads with five nominations, with one each for Johnny Rodriguez and the Statler Brothers. Hall was nominated for Best Male Vocalist, Entertainer of the Year, Album of the Year

("The Storyteller"), Single of the Year ("Old Dogs Children and Watermelon Wine"), and Song of the Year ("Old Dogs..."). Rodriguez was nominated for Best Male Vocalist, and the Statler Brothers for Best Vocal Group.

Sub's first and last feat

The first submarine to sink a warship was the Confederate sub, "Hunley," which rammed a torpedo into the "U.S.S. Housatonic" in Charleston Harbor in 1864. But the "Hunley"—a converted steam boiler propelled by seven men turning hand cranks—also was sunk by the explosion.

Orchestra to play at Newark State

The Suburban Symphony Orchestra of Cranford will appear at Newark State College at Union on Saturday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. in the Theatre for the Performing Arts. The concert will be a feature of the college's homecoming weekend.

Henry Block, conductor, will lead the orchestra in a performance of the Symphony in B Flat Major by Johann Christian Bach and the Serenade for Thirteen Wind Instruments in B Flat Major by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

After intermission, Herbert Golub, chairman of the Music Department at Newark State College, will appear as soloist in the Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Minor, Opus 54 by Robert Schumann.

The concert is sponsored by the Newark State College co-curriculum Planning Board. Tickets are $1 and may be obtained at the Student Activities Office or the Music Department of the college. Further information may be obtained by calling 527-2045.

Art museum workshops on butterfly collections

The education department of the Montclair Art Museum has announced three Saturday afternoon workshops on the butterfly.

On Nov. 3-10-17, from 1:30 to 3 p.m., children seven years and older, their parents, and butterfly collectors will work together using art materials to make their own butterfly collections.

Workshop sessions will be held in both the Museum galleries and studios. Activities will emphasize color and design motifs inspired by the current exhibition.

During the first half hour of each session the sources of color and design are to be explored within the gallery exhibitions. Observation, discussion, show and tell, sketching, stories, and poetry are planned as part of the gallery activities. Frank Cowan's story, "The Red Room," will be recounted, and participants will learn how to make a butterfly garden.

The next hour will be spent in the studio painting with water color, modeling, printing with a clay stamp—a process still used by Mexican craftsmen today—and learning Japanese paper arts: origami, folding paper and Kusaei, torn paper train spacers.

Space in the workshop is limited and will be reserved in the order in which a fee of $10 per person is received. All materials are supplied.

Upsala lists orientation

Upsala College, East Orange, will hold a series of on-campus "Get Acquainted Days" for prospective freshmen on Wednesday, Oct. 31, Friday, Nov. 16, and Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Students from every high school in New Jersey and several surrounding states are being invited to discover firsthand the opportunities and challenges the college offers to the student seeking a liberal arts education. An Upsala spokesman explained.

Tours of the campus will take place and informal meetings will be held with faculty, staff, departmental representatives and Upsala students. Informal discussions are scheduled on such matters as admission procedures, financial aid and academic programs. Student visitors also will be given the opportunity to sit in on classes.

Alvin E. Gershen, an urban planner and housing consultant, has been reelected chairman of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. He was originally appointed to the Council in 1969.

The senior member of the firm of Alvin E. Gershen Associates in Trenton, he specializes in planning, engineering, urban renewal and housing. Gershen has been active in planning for and providing low and moderate income housing throughout New Jersey.

He has also been active in representing over 50 municipalities and counties in New Jersey in developing master plans and aiding them in their planning problems. Gershen has served as president of the New Jersey State Board of Professional Planners and is a member of the American Institute of Planners, the American Society of Planning Officials, National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials, National Society of Professional Engineers and the National Housing Conference.

A graduate of the City College of New York, Gershen holds a B.A. degree in Civil Engineering and an M.P.A. degree from the New York University Graduate School of Public Administration. Gershen also did additional graduate work in city planning at Columbia University.

An accomplished violinist and violist, Gershen has played in a number of symphony orchestras. During World War II, he served as Band Master of the Army Specialized Training Programs in both the University of Delaware and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Commenting on his reelection, Gershen said, "A society can be judged by its commitment to the arts and to its environment. With the approach of a new state administration, I look forward to continued activity and support of the arts in New Jersey. The support I trust we will attract will reflect this society's hope for its future and its respect for itself."

Gershen is married and the father of six children. He and his family reside in Princeton.

Venet appoints Black to executive position

New York—Bernard Black has rejoined Venet Advertising, New York, as vice-president and a senior account executive, it was announced by Zal Venet, president.

After five years as corporate vice-president, sales and advertising for First National Stores Inc., (the New England Food Chain with 350 stores covering eight states), Black will resume his duties as senior account executive on Prince Macaroni. He will be further responsible for Venet's expanding coverage of consumer and retail advertising in food and related fields.

Technique helps land use balance

Development, open space focus at Rutgers

Can suburban communities achieve a better balance between continuing development and the need for open space?

Two Rutgers land use experts believe this can be accomplished through a new technique called Transfer of Development Rights, usually abbreviated TDR.

"TDR combines community planning with changes in property law to bring the free market system into compatibility with the planned retention of open land for parks, recreation, agriculture and other critical uses," says R. Budd Chavooshian, land use specialist with the Cooperative Extension Service.

Together with George H. Nieswand, associate professor of environmental resources, Chavooshian is demonstrating the advantages of TDR to municipal officials, landowners and other interested persons throughout the state.

"The basic process is initiated when a municipality designates an area of open space and prohibits development within it," Dr. Nieswand says. "Then the residential development potential in that area is transferred to another district or districts where citizens agree that development is feasible."

"In this way, the landowner could be compensated with market value upon selling his rights to development, and the developer could build in an area where residential construction was acceptable to the community."

"The next step," Chavooshian says, "would be to provide a market for these rights through the designation of new and higher density development in other parts of town. The amount of such an increase would be the incentive to attract buyers of development rights."

"Whether this new density might mean apartment construction or single family houses on small lots would depend on the municipality involved and the land resources available."

"The rights would be taxed as real property, as would the land in the preserved area although assessed at farmland value. Owners would have the option of selling their rights or holding them as an investment."

Although relatively simple in principle, TDR requires a fresh perspective in thinking about the economics of land development, says Dr. Nieswand and Teuvo Airola, research intern in environmental planning at Rutgers, who have developed a game in which the participants can simulate actual transactions to better understand how the system operates.

"We've played the game with university people, state and local government officials, county planners, farmers and other citizens," Dr. Nieswand says. "There's been a very favorable reaction so far, and we are now in the process of putting the game in final form, after which it will be copyrighted by the university. "Nearly everyone is familiar with the lengthy disputes between residents and developers over land use," Chavooshian says. "I believe TDR can greatly improve on this wasteful and often anti-social process."

Philosophy in schools

For a topic

"Why isn't philosophy a regular part of the school curriculum?" This is one of the questions to be discussed at the eight-state conference on Pre-College Philosophy to be held at Montclair State College on Nov. 3.

According to Prof. Matthew Lipman, organizer of the conference, this will be the first major effort in the east to focus public attention on the fact that American education may no longer find it possible to ignore the importance of philosophical discussion for the pre-college student.

"Students want their education to be meaningful," said Dr. Lipman. "They want to know why they're doing what they're told they have to do. It's not enough to say to them, 'Wait, you'll understand later on.' To them this is so much pie in the sky. They have questions, and they suspect that many of the routine answers we give them are phony. They know there may not even be any answers to their questions, but at least they want to talk about them."

"Young people have a genuine hunger for meaning," the professor continued, "and if we can't instill their education with meaning, they simply get turned off education completely, which is what's happening to many of them right now."

Acknowledging that philosophy is no cure-all, and that the obscurity of much of philosophy has made many people suspect its relevance and utility, Dr. Lipman contends that philosophy, when appropriately adapted for children, can do much to take the sense of meaninglessness out of education.
