The Mountainside Borough Council, at its regular monthly session held Tuesday night in the Mountainside Public Library, announced that, as a result of a meeting April 10 with the borough Board of Education. an agreement has been reached on the possible utilization of the Echobrook School as a municipal office complex.

The official statement, released jointly by the governing body and the school board, noted, "It was agreed that such a use serves the best interests of the borough residents, and the attorneys for each body were directed to prepare documents to implement the common objective.

Municipal use of the school-to be phased-out of the local system this year because of declining enrollment-was the primary proposal offered in a final report issued last month by the non-partisan Municipal Building Advisory Committee, which had studied present and future needs of all municipal departments

Council offered no further comment on the proposed plan, noting any other statements would be premature since the respective attorneys have yet to investigate its legal aspects.

ALSO AT TUESDAY'S session, attended by about 15 borough residents, the governing body discussed a resolution to grant approval for a 14-lot subdivision on the Grassman Estate tract off Mary Allen lane, but postponed action until special meeting next Tuesday at Borough Hall, to give members of the governing body ample time to study all improvement conditions to be fulfilled by the contractor, Baltusrol Top, Inc. These include pavement widening on Mary Allen lane; construction of a new cul-de-sac, to be know as Vista way, fronting on Mary Allen lane; connection of storm sewers, and necessary revisions to storm and sanitary drainage plans

During the audience participation portion of the meeting, Albert D'Amanda of Hillside avenue questioned council on the possibility of sewer overload and flooding at the bottom of the hill because of the placement of 14 new bomes near the crest. Mayor Thomas Ricciardi noted the principal flood problem area, around Charles street, suffers primarily because of a sewer overload neighboring Springfield development. He Similided borough residents the governing body has entered into a joint study with Springfield on the problem and possible means of alleviating it. Councilman Abe Suckno also

Alcohol abuse talk scheduled

The Overlook Hospital Drug Clinic will present a program on alcohol abuse among teenagers at the Deerfield Middle School, Mountainside, on Tuesday, April 30, at 8 p.m.

The program, which is being planned by the Borough of Mountainside, has been scheduled to bring the problem of the increasing incidence of alcohol abuse among teenagers to the attention of parents. In a recent report, the Overlook Hospital Drug Clinic described as "particularly striking" the increased "alcohol abuse" among young people.

noted that the subdivision plans call for the water to be directed into two separate systems, diverting it from lines serving the Charles street area.

Council attorney John Post emphasized the governing body cannot tell a land owner property cannot be developed, but is allowed to exercise control over the means of development. "We can only set conditions, ensure that a very high degree of control is exercised, and see that every provision of the borough co involving surface water runoff and impact on sanitary and storm sewers has been reviewed and met." he said. Ricciardi added that the Baltusrol Topp application, first filed two years ago, "is one of the most complete and most accurate ever submitted in the borough."

Accountant for school board issues statement on surplus

In an effort to clarify for borough residents the exact amount of the Mountainside Board of Education's budget surplus—a figure which was the subject of considerable controversy during the recent school elections—the boar balance which originally existed on June 30, 1973, was $220,955.78. Of this, $194,445.72 was in the current expense portion of the budget, the area used primarily to support instructional programs, while $26,510.06 was in capital outlay, a portion which can be used only for capital expenses, such as building projects. -Of that total free balance, $70,200 was appropriated in the 1973-74 school budget to reduce taxation. This included $65,000 from the current expense surplus and $5,200 from capital outlay. Left was a total surplus of $150,755.78. with $129,445.72 in current expense and $21,310.06 in capital outlay.

"A force of 214 Crusade volunteers in Mountainside has been recruited to visit each home in the community during April, not only to solicit funds for the support of the society's work, but also to bring a life-saving message to each member of the community," said Ms. Tulchin. The Crusade volunteers in Mountainside are among two million volunteers throughout the country who will visit their neighbors this month and ask that they have an annual health checkup.

"In addition to this mass education effort during the Crusade," said Ms. Tulchin, "our year-round program of education attempts to reach people wherever they may be — where they work, play, socialize. We have a volunteer bureau of lay and professional speakers who give education programs to any group which requests them.

"Our film library includes an abundance of films which are also available upon request. and the Union County Unit maintains an extensive supply of literature which is free for the asking. Last year alone," said Ms. Tulchin, "we were able to reach 43,236 adults and 24,145 students throughout the county with our message through volunteer education programs

Subsequent to those appropriations, an additional $50,000 from the current expense surplus also was applied to the 1973-74 budget, leaving a total free balance on of June 30, 1973, the end of the fiscal year, of $100.755.78.

Of that total, $21,310,06 was in capital outlay: $79,445.72, in current expenses. It was from the latter figure that the board last week cut $21,000 as part of a $48,000 overall budget reduction for 1974-75. The rest of the decrease came from the operational budget. As a result of this action, the current expense surplus now stands at $58,445.72; the total surplus, at $79,755.78. Capital outlay surplus remains at $21,310.06.

Dayton Dispatch

Dayton is one of the 15 percent of the nation's 21,000 secondary schools that offer advanced placement collegelevel courses and exams for its students. If one's exam grades are considered acceptable, well over 50 percent of the nation's colleges give credit and-or advanced placement. In general, an AP course may not be called an "AP course" and it may not even be a course. It may be an honors course such as fourth year French, an enriched regular course such as physics, or an independent study project pursued by the student.

special courses The designated AP are weighted hopors courses toward class rank to reflect the quality of work undertaken.

Dayton, Earl Hendler teaches two classes of AP English, Thomas Baker instructs one class of AP calculus and Dennis Fox conducts one class of AP U.S. history seminar.

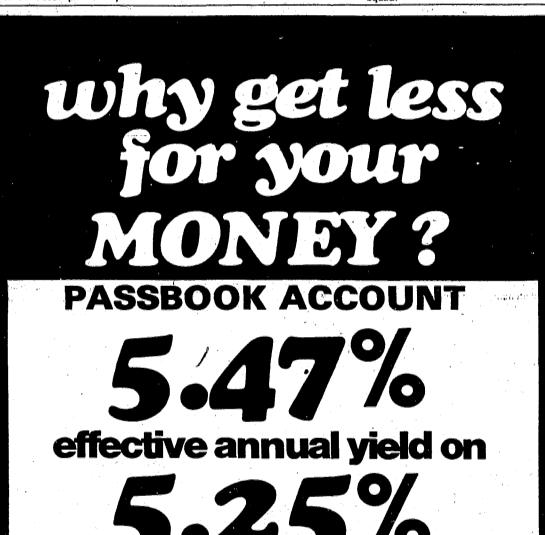

Although specific courses are not designated AP, Dayton students can also take the exams in European history, biology, chemistry, physics, studio art, history of art, music, French literature,

French language, German

although some last only 90 minutes or two hours. This year 19 students have projected that they_will_take. calculus, 12 will take English and seven will take history. Students will give their final decision when it is time to pay the $27 fee for each exam taken. Marie Giannone, Dayton's AP coordinator. noted that every year some students decide not to take the test. The cost might at first appear shockingly high, but for $81 for three exams a student's savings could range from $2,040 to $5,000, eliminating expenses at college for courses already taken. Approximately 200 colleges consider acceptable grades on three or more AP exams as evidence that the student has done work comparable to a year's academic program at college.

Although only 3,000 of the 55,000 students who take AP exams each year are poten, tially eligible for sophomore standing, the AP program's other benefits are plentiful. In college a student can eliminate the boredom of repeating class work already done and if he earns the required score, a student may receive the equivalent semester hours and elect a more advanced program. Even if their exam is not counted, some students have found that the course greatly increased their knowledge of the subject area because of the class' comprehensive approach. Testing will occur from May 13 to 17 and the AP report will be sent to each participating student and to Dayton in early July. Every exam receives a grade on a five-point scale: 5 (extremely well qualified), 4 (well qualified), 3 (qualified), 2 (possibly qualified) and 1 (no recommendation). The multiple choice answer sheets are scored on special equipment, and the essays are evaluated by more than 400 professors and AP teachers who spend a week every June grading answers. Each question is graded by a different person who has been specially trained to mark the answer, no matter how many questions occur in the answer book. As a result, the typical book is marked by four professors and teachers. The preparation is challenging; the exams are tough but fair. And there is only one chance to take the AP tests each year.

Maplewood holds Steve McQueen movie, 'Papillon'

"Papillon." film version of the best-seller based on the life story of Henri Charriere, the rebel sentenced to life imprisonment but who could not be contained within prison walls, continues for another week at the Maplewood Theater in Maplewood

The multi-million dollar picture, directed by Oscar-winner Franklin J. Schaffner, who coproduced the film with Robert Dorfmann, was written by Dalton Trumbo (who also appears in the movie as the commandant who addresses the convicts prior to their boarding the prison ship) and Lorenzo Semple Jr

Steve McQueen plays the title role and Dustin Hoffman portrays a fellow prisoner in the adventure drama which was filmed in Spain and throughout the island of Jamaica.

More than a year was spent in researching and supervising the building of the huge prison set, which was more than 800 feet long, making it the largest set constructed for a movie in recent times. A crew of British construction experts worked side by side with Jamaican carpenters, painters and plasterers in the preparation of the prison set. Most of the extras were from Jamaica and the 600 French prisoners were recruited from a colony of Germans who emigrated to Jamaica as farmers years ago.

The prison ship in the film is actually a cargo vessel which sails the Caribbean and which bears a resemblance to the original ship La Martiniere, which is in a French museum. More than 1,000 extras were used in the scenes lensed in Fuenterrabia, Spain. Hoffman's wife (in real life), Anne Byrne, a ballet dancer makes her screen debut as his wife who bids him farewell.

The late author (who died recently) had been a frequent visitor on the set. He had found the prison set to be identical with the real prison where he had been incarcerated 35 years ago, and he saw the Devil's Island location, which he thought perfect in its reality and watched the filming at the Colombian village location, an exact replica of the tiny village where he was sheltered during one of his escapes.

The cast contains such character actors as Victor Jory, George Coulouris, Don Gordon, Robert Deman, William Mumy, and Anthony Zerbe, and introduces 18-year-old Californiaoorn Ratna Assan, who falls in love with McQueen in the film.

HOUSE PLANTS Here are some tips for keeping plants alive longer: First, there is no such thing as a house plant-that is, one that is supposed to be grown inside a home, building or office.

When plants are grown indoors several restrictions are imposed on them. Lack of sufficient light and low humidity are probably the most severe restrictions, but temperatures can also be a problem. Second, many foliage plants prefer a relatively strong, filtered or diffused light. Places near windows or light fixtures are usually suitable but avoid direct sunlight or very dark areas of the home. Flowering plants such as mums and poinsettias, will stand more light than foliage plants and should be placed in bright areas. Watering is one of the chief causes of failure with plants in the home, especially for containers without drainage holes: Generally speaking, most plants kept indoors require a thorough soaking once a week. But, water only when necessary. Don't let plants stand in water. Avoid draft locations and don't place plants near heaters or air conditioners.

Hoffman protests U.S. funding cuts

A strong protest against federal funding cuts of more than $2 million which will cause staff reductions of more than 175 persons of the New Jersey Employment Services was issued last week by Joseph A. Hoffman, commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry, in letters to U.S. Secretary of Labor Peter Brennan and to the New Jersey congressional delegation.

In his letter to Secretary Brennan, Hoffman said, "Aside from the disemployment of these staff members, their loss will result in plementation of last year's "One-to-One" program.

David Bixel of Iselin, cochairman of the festival with Joan Sapienza of Colonia, said, We want the retarded to come and have a happy time-to really enjoy themselves-and we want, through the experience and publicity. to raise the level of public understanding about the capacities and capabilities of retarded people.

The committee and the festival are non sectarian and all groups are invited to help plan the day and participate in it. It has the support of the N.J. Association for the Mentally Retarded, as well as the approval of state and county agencies working with retarded persons.

Brother Patrick said that the 72 acres of property of St. Joseph's High School will limit attendance. But, he added, "We are most happy we can provide everything free to those to come.'

Brother Patrick said that the purpose of involving many volunteers is to help them learn from experience in working with the young and dult retarded.

"I think most people will be most surprised to find the personal happiness and joy they will feel in discovering the innocence and beauty of retarded people." He added, "We don't expect to change lifetime misunderstandings in one day, but it is a dramatic beginning for many thousands of people.'

Many nationally-known dignitaries and acts will be at the festival to lend support to this worthy effort. The intent, according to Brother Patrick, is to stimulate other groups throughout the nation to undertake similar oneday festivals to, as he put it, "bring people together face-to-face with a reality they may have been avoiding."

Festival volunteers are needed to work with the retarded, to help at the games, the food service tents, and in various and sundry other positions. Volunteers are asked to write to 'Hand In Hand,'', 145 Plainfield ave., Metuchen, 08840, or to call 494-9453.

Williams hits plan to cut rail service

WASHINGTON,-U.S. Senator Harrison A Williams (D-NJ) has criticized a U.S. Department of Transportation proposal which ould reduce rail service in New Jersev.

Under terms of the DOT program, trackage New Jersey would be trimmed by 17 percent along the least used rail lines, which DOT says would result in a one percent 'reduction in verall service.

Williams, in a statement submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which is holding hearings on the question, said that the DOT report "is deficient in several major respects".

The report was submitted pursuant to the Railroad Reorganization Act of 1973 which is designed to restructure rail service in the Northeast and Midwest.

The senator, in his statement, said: "The DOT report indicates that under its plan 99 percent of New Jersey's rail service would be retained, but it designates 300 of the state's 1,742 miles of track as potentially exces.. This is 17 percent of New Jersey's total route mileage, and the effect of abandoning much of this trackage would be catastrophic for industries and communities which are currently served. والإيداد والانتقاد

Hadassah marks Israel anniversary with film showing

The Springfield Chapter of Hadassah will celebrate Israel Independence Day at next Thursday's meeting, April 25 at 8 p.m. with special refreshments and a salute to Israel. Mrs. Robert Weltchek and her hospitality committee will be in charge. This meeting will also be H.M.O. round up and all monies for the donor dinner to be held on May 15 at Clinton Manor should be turned in to Mrs. Edward Rosenbaum, H.M.O. chairman.

Mrs. Frank Robinson, program chairman, will present a new film "As Always. Hadassah," a you-are-there record of what happened when the Yom Kippur War "exploded" and Hadassah became a medical outpost.

She said, "We see what it means to be a helicopter connected hospital for some of Israel's most serious casualties. We get insight into the anguished results of the fighting. We are rushed into the operating room with the casualties and are present when the war winds down, during the cease-fire, and the return to normal begins. The film was made by experienced cameramen, soundmen and editors.

"Binding it all together, telling it like it is, is the nurse-narrator. Hers is the zone of quiet in the storm. She is our guide to the accumulated torment and heroism, because, as she tells us, this is her fourth war since she became a Hadassah staffer, over a quarter of a century

Mrs. Wallace Callen, president, said, "No Hadassah member can afford to miss this film and I would urge nonmembers to join us that evening to see what Hadassah is really all about. This is a different HMO film, a kind of movie within a movie. Those who have seen it say that it gives us a straight, adult, touching and loving account of the way we are."

he loves me, but at times he acts like he really doesn't care. He used to call me every day when we started going together. Now I'm lucky if he calls once a week. And he has asked me to marry him. Still, at times he acts as if he doesn't care about anyone or anything but himself. I love him very much and I'm afraid that I'm going to lose him. Please try to help

OUR REPLY: If he acts indifferent, and it is true that he really doesn't care about anyone but himself, he may not be worth catching or keeping. Some young men are immature to the stage that they "fall in love" with a different girl each and every other week. They call several times a day, send flowers, bring gifts and suddenly they spot someone else and virtually disappear into thin air. It is difficult for the girl, who was being rushed so ardently, to realize that she never had any place to go. If you love him, it is understandable that you don't want to lose him; but, if he isn't worth your love, it's better to lose him now than to become involved in a one-sided marriage that will not last.

Seymour urges Congress act on funding youth jobs

Congressional action is needed immediately on a supplemental appropriations bill if county governments are to meet their responsibilities under the recently enacted Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), Freeholder Harold J. Seymour said this week.

Having just returned from a one-day rally of the National Association of Counties' Manpower Funding Action Coalition, in Washington, D.C., Seymour urged quick action by Congress to pass a bill providing funding for county employment and summer youth programs.

"The summer youth program is a very im-portant one. Without this program, many deserving teenagers will be unable to find jobs this summer and without the money earned during the summer, many will be unable to return to school in the fall," he pointed out.

Dietz said 41 delegates to the conference will be elected from New Jersey's 15 Congressional districts in the June 4 Democratic primary. In order to encourage the participation of party members from traditionally underrepresented Democratic constituencies, Dietz said, another 11 delegates and 14 alternates will be elected at a public meeting of the State Democratic Committee at least 30 days after the primary. "Democrats in each of the 11th, 12th and 13th Congressional districts will elect three delegates to attend the conference." the Union County chairman continued. "I want to emphasize that nominating petitions, bearing 100 signatures from registered voters in a district. must be filed with the Secretary of State by 4 p.m., Thursday, April 25,"

The 12th Congressional district is comprised of 18 of Union County's 21 municipalities. Hillside is included in the 11th District and Linden and Winfield Park are part of the 13th District.

He noted townhomes and condominiums have gained substantial inroads into the housing market. Their place is clearly targeted to fill specific gaps in the marketplace and to serve certain market segments to which the singlefamily home is not a practical lifestyle, he said, pointing out the significant difference is that today the new types of multi-family living have broadened the former rental apartment market.

The sharp rise in popularity of multi-unit housing is viewed by Hutt as a "significant factor in the future growth of the single-family home." U.S. Home of New Jersey is one of 22 divisions of the U.S.

Ships rely on Coast Guard for data on 2,400 icebergs

GOVERNORS ISLAND, N.Y .- More than 2,400 icebergs from Cape Freels, Newfoundland, north to Cape Dyer on the Cumberland Peninsula in Northern Canada, may present a potentially serious threat to North Atlantic shipping, if winds and sea conditions move them much farther south.

Almost 200 of the bergs, found earlier this year by planes of the U.S. Coast Guard's International Ice Patrol, are now clustered above the 48th parallel. Those that move below the 48th enter the major shipping lanes and become a hazard to safe navigation.

Starting in March-two months later than last year-the ice patrol began monitoring the movements of 82 icebergs which were off Newfoundland's east coast. "Although we started later this year, the potential number of icebergs that could drift into the shipping lanes is more than twice the normal yearly average," stated Lt. Douglas W. Crowell deputy chief of the International Ice Patrol. The normal yearly average based on figures from 1946 to 1973 is 280. "Our flights this year also took in a larger area than in the past as we attempted to get a better idea of the potential iceberg danger," he stated. The weather has been the major factor in keeping the bergs above the 48th parallel until now, since the winds needed to move them into the shipping lanes have not been present. "The number of bergs that move into the Grand Banks area varies from year to year because of this reason," stated Lt. Crowell.

Icebergs drift according to the direction of the sea currents and are often encountered far

Symposium listed on women's role in N.J. history

A historical symposium on the women of New Jersey will be held by the New Jersey State Commission on Women on Saturday, April 27, at 10 a.m. in Hickman Hall, Douglass College, New Brunswick.

The keynote address will be delivered during the morning session by Dr. Gerda Lerner, a history professor at Sarah Lawrence College, who will discuss women's place in history.

Three graduate students, who each received grants from the commission to prepare reports on the accomplishments of women of New Jersey, will review their findings. Jean Miller of Englewood Cliffs and Martha Blauvelt of Princeton will read their original articles or early New Jersey women: a commentary by Dr. Lois Banner of Rutgers University will follow. Elizabeth Steiner-Scott of Rumson will make a progress report on the first bibliography ever to be compiled on New Jersey women

In addition, Perdita Huston, coordinator of women's participation for the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, will speak on the national plans of women across the country to further the Bicentennial celebration.

Archdiocese lists 'social action line'

The Institute of Social Relations of the Archdiocese of Newark announced this week the inauguration of its "Social Action Line," a telephone hook-up that will provide taperecorded announcements of messages and events related to social concerns, works and development throughout Esex, Hudson, Union and Bergen Counties. "At a time when clergy and laymen in all walks of life are moving to implement in their parishes, neighborhoods and communities the social doctrines of Christ, rapid communication to them of social action information is more important than ever," said the Rev. John L. Paprocki, the institute's director.

Father Paprocki said socially concerned residents can utilize the "Social Action Line," by calling 482-2263 at any time-day or night-beyond the normal polar regions. An iceberg is created or "calved" when a glacier enters the sea from the polar ice cap and is pushed outward into water that is deeper than the thickness of the ice. The ends then break off and the detached masses float away as icebergs. Only one-sixth of the berg is visible above the water and may rise more than 300 feet.

As the bergs move south and below the 48th parallel, they become exposed to warmer water and air temperatures. When they reach the Gulf Stream currents, their life span is shortened to a matter of weeks or even days

How to spell N.J. medical education: NJMS, RMS, GSBS, NJDS = CMDNJ

about the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey.)

-0--0--Its name, with 40 letters, is a mouthful. As now constituted it is four years old. It serves the health of the people of New Jersey from four locations in the state. It's the College of Medicine and Deatistry of New Jersey. But the college is just an administrative umbrella. Its work is accomplished through four schools and two teaching hospitals, among other things, and each component has its own

name, to wit

NUMBER ONE — That's the title Turtle Back Zoo director Richard Ryan won recently from the American Birding Association. To become New Jersey's "Number One Bird Watcher" Ryan scored first in a competition on bird watching, in which he sighted 347 species of birds, or 88 percent of all birds that have ever been recorded in the state. In the photo above, he has a firm grip on the rare tufted duck. Ryan also placed fourth in the New York State bird watching tally by sighting 333 species, or 81 percent of all species recorded in that state.
