11 Dayton students named members of U.S. honor unit

Eleven honor students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, were named as members last week of the Society of Outstanding American High School Students, according to Anthony J. Fiodaliso, principal.

The students are: Stephen Cohen, Daniel Gecker, Robin Gold, Margo Krasnoff, Cory Krueger, Janice Mikulicz, John Morris, William Palazzi, Deborah Reich, Jonathan Sieber and Hal Wasserman.

The Society of Outstanding American High School Students offers $800,000 in renewable college scholarships, one of the programs in which the society promotes academic achievement. The names of students in the society are published in the group's annual directory, which is distributed to colleges, universities and libraries across the nation.

Principals and counselors at high schools nominate a limited number of their top students for membership.

Highlanders win prize as top band

The Gov. Livingston Regional High School Highlander Bands arrived home from Herndon, Va., last week with the Mid-Atlantic Band Festival first prize for field show competition. Under the leadership of marching band director Daniel Kopcha, the Highlanders won against 10 other bands from New York, Virginia, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

They will be host for the "Highlander games" this Saturday at the Gov. Livingston High School grounds in Berkeley Heights.

The Band Parents Organization announced that the gates will open at 8 a.m. Tickets will be on sale at the gate as well as being available from band members, priced at $3 for adults and $1 for students. Additional fees will be charged for the Scottish dinner served late in the afternoon as well as tickets sold separately for the evening program to be held in the auditorium.

Pro-rata refunds for pool approved

By KAREN STOLI

Municipal salaries, including those of police, pool personnel and other borough employees, were the subject of three ordinances adopted by the Mountainside Borough Council at its monthly session Tuesday night.

Other action at the meeting, held in the Beechwood School, included adoption of an ordinance providing for pro-rata pool membership fees, and introduction of another which would amend the zoning code to permit homeowners to erect flagpoles on their property.

The 10 citizens on hand for the 90-minute session, conducted by council president Peter Simmons in the absence of Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, heard unanimous approval voted on the salary measures.

The ordinance covering the police department established the following pay scale, according to rank: Chief, $16,800; captain, $15,500; detective lieutenant, $15,250; lieutenant, $14,900; detective sergeant, $14,600; sergeant, $14,200; detective, $13,750; patrolman, ranging from $10,900 for a probationary officer to $13,300 for the fourth year of service.

Also established were an overtime pay scale, compensatory time off for work not classed as overtime, and vacation benefits: one calendar day for each month of service (for men with less than a year on the force); two weeks for one to five years' service; three weeks for five to 15 years; four weeks for more than 15 years.

THE ORDINANCE establishing annual salaries for municipal employees other than policemen listed the following posts and payments: Borough administrator, $1,100; deputy borough clerk, $9,500; borough treasurer, $400; assistant borough treasurer, $8,200; clerk stenographer, $6,340; secretary of public works, $8,400; deputy clerk, $3,180 per hour; clerk, $3.18 per hour, court clerk.

Echobrook site is approved for 2 tennis courts

The Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night approved construction of two more tennis courts on the Echobrook School grounds. The action came at a special meeting held because the board had been unable to complete its business at the regular meeting last week.

The tennis court decision came on a vote of five to one, with Grant Lennox, board president, opposed. Spokesmen for the Recreation Commission had pressed for the two new courts at Echobrook to make a total of four at that site, which will permit expansion of the supervision and instruction available there. There are two other courts on the Deerfield School property, and several board members last week had sought to place the two new ones at the Beechwood School.

Lennox stated Tuesday that in view of the limited amount of open space at Echobrook and a need for multi-purpose use, he opposed closing off any more land for tennis courts. Recreation Commissioner William Cullen had indicated earlier that so far this year 1,178 local residents have applied for tennis permits.

In other business, the board tabled action on

POPPY POWER—Laurie Soltysik, 1974 Buddy Poppy queen of Mountainside Memorial Post 10136, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presents one of the paper flowers to the Post poppy sale chairman, John Miami, to start the annual fund drive. All proceeds from the poppy sale, which started Saturday and will continue through Monday, benefit veterans' welfare projects. A spokesman for the post noted the sale is an opportunity to prove we have not forgotten those veterans and their dependents who cannot forget the scars of war. When you wear a VFW poppy, you are honoring the dead by helping the living.

John Shea named chairman of local MS Hope Chest drive

John P. Shea, director of operations at the Central Home Trust Company, has been named Mountainside-Westfield chairman of the 1974 Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest campaign. The announcement was made by John L. Palmer Jr., president of the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Funds raised during this drive—which runs through Father's Day, June 16—will be used to advance both research programs and local patient services.

"The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only group in New Jersey that wages this two-pronged battle against MS," said Shea. "Serving Mountainside and Westfield as well as the rest of Union County, the society currently assists at least 230 MS patients. "Since both the cause and the cure of this progressively crippling neurological disease are still unknown, the real hope lies in research—which, under the grants provided by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, is finally showing promise."

Ara Parseghian, head coach of Notre Dame's National Championship football team, is this year's national MS Hope Chest chairman. Because multiple sclerosis is most likely to strike young people between the ages of 20 and 40, the theme of this year's campaign is "Athletes vs. MS."

Contributors may make their contributions in person at the Central Home Trust Company, 127 Central Ave., Westfield, or at the company's Mountainside Banking Center, 213

Summit Rd., Mountainside. Contributions may also be sent directly to the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 60 S. Fullerton ave., Montclair.

Shea, who resides in Bridgewater with his wife and their three children, is a member of the Mountainside-Westfield Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. He formerly served as Middlesex County coordinator of March of Dimes fundraising.

Hergott appointed grand marshal of Westfield parade

A. Bruce Conlin Jr., general chairman, has announced that Raymond J. Hergott of Mountainside will serve as grand marshal for the Westfield Memorial Day parade on Monday.

Hergott is a past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mountainside Memorial Post 10136. He served with the Army Signal Corps in Ceylon, Singapore and the Malaya area during World War II as a master sergeant.

He has been active in Union County civic affairs for the past 21 years, including a three-year term on the Mountainside Borough Council, one year of which he served as president of the council. He is affiliated with the New Jersey Taxpayers Association and the Newark Jetport Site Association, an organization that was opposed to the location of a global jetport in Morris County.

He has been employed at the Western Electric Company for the past 33 years and is currently working at the company's Gateway II Building in Newark as an engineering group leader.

Hergott is a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Holy Name Society in Mountainside, the Parents Guild of Union Catholic Boys High School, Mountainside VFW Post 10136 and the Newark Communications Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

He and his wife, Dorothy, and their two children, Janis and Mark, have lived in Mountainside for 18 years. A married daughter, Linda McKinley, resides in Morristown.

The Memorial Day observance is co-sponsored by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars with participation of numerous local civic organizations.

In recent years the Mountainside VFW post has participated in the Westfield parade.

Careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday news deadline is urged for material intended for the May 30 issue because this office will be closed on Monday, Memorial Day. All organizational, social and other news items for the May 30 issue should be submitted by tomorrow morning, May 24.

Father Whelan to celebrate 25 years since ordination

A concelebrated Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered by the Rev. Gerard B. Whelan at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood at 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 9th, with a reception following in the church auditorium from 3 to 6.

Father Whelan was born in Elizabeth in 1922, the son of the late Patrick A. and Mary T. McCarthy Whelan. He has two sisters, Sr. Regina Patricia, a Sister of Charity stationed at Mother Seton Convent, in Clark, and Margaret V. Whelan, of Roselle and a brother, Joseph A. Whelan also of Roselle.

Father Whelan attended St. Patrick's School in Elizabeth, where he was pianist for the school orchestra. He was employed by the A & P Stores and later by the Elizabethtown Gas Company. In the evenings and weekends he followed his musical career by playing in the George Jackow and Joe Anthony Orchestras. Father Whelan also played the fife in the Father Matthew Total Abstinence Benevolent Society Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps, known as TABS.

He entered Seton Hall University in 1942, and in July of 1944 he entered the Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington.

While in the seminary he was appointed its organist, and he served as organist for the consecration of Bishop James A. McNulty at Sacred Heart Cathedral in Newark.

Father Whelan was ordained to the priesthood by Archbishop Thomas J. Walsh on June 11, 1949, at St. Patrick's Pro-Cathedral in Newark. He offered his first mass in St. Patrick's Church, Elizabeth, on June 12, 1949. The speaker at the Mass was the late Msgr. Thomas Powers.

Father Whelan's first assignment was to Christ the King Church, Hillside. He remained there until 1958 when he was assigned to St. Michael's Church in Cranford. In 1964 he was then appointed to St. Charles Borromeo Church in Newark. In all of these parishes he served as assistant pastor and was moderator of the Catholic Youth Organization. While at Christ the King Church he was appointed moderator of the Holy Name Society, chaplain of the Father Carty Council of the Knights of Columbus and chaplain of the Hillside Police Department.

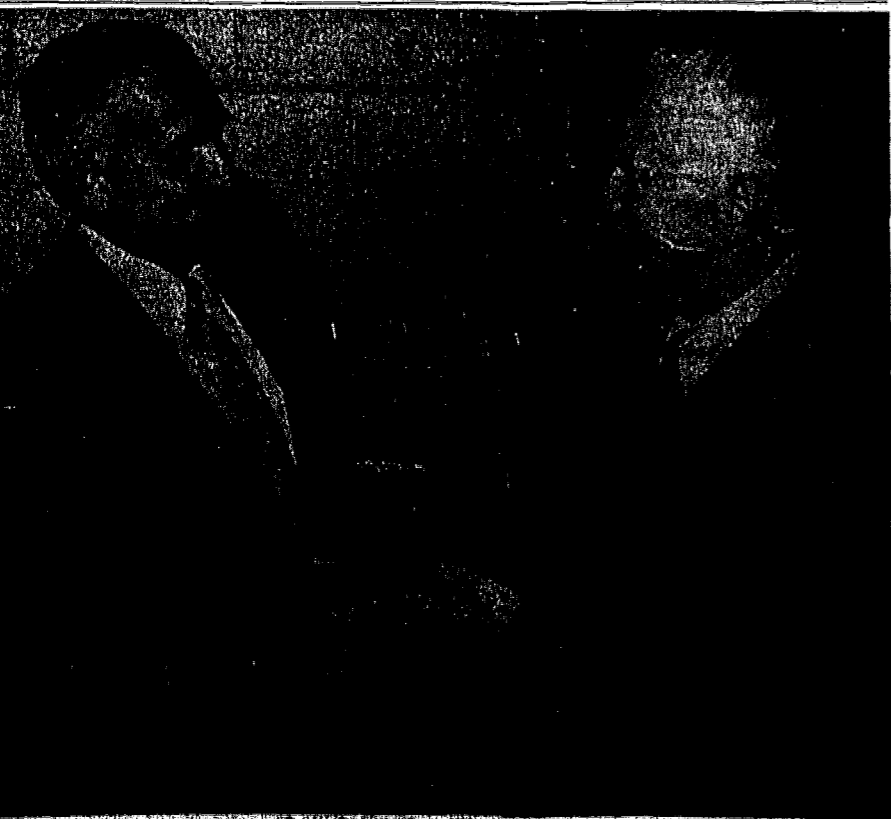

Father Whelan was appointed to Our Lady of Lourdes Parish, Mountainside, in 1967. Pursuing his musical ability, Father presented variety and Broadway show in Our Lady of Lourdes, as well as all the other parishes to which he had been assigned. Among these productions were "Girl Crazy," and "Finian's Rainbow." With the innovation of guitar music in the liturgy of the Mass he formed a guitar group at Our Lady of Lourdes and plays with the group at two guitar Masses each month.

Father Whelan is a member of Our Lady Lourdes' parish board of education, chaplain of the Mountainside Knights of Columbus and PBA chaplain for the Mountainside Police

Mountainside girl sorority member

The Ohio Wesleyan University chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national professional musical sorority, has announced that Ellen Hart of 379 Summit rd., Mountainside, is one of three freshmen pledged to join the honorary society.

Miss Hart sang an original composition during an afternoon recital featuring new members of the sorority; later in the day, she sang in the OWU Chorus during the Monnett Weekend concert.

Miss Hart has received the 1973 Mountainside Music Association Award; participated in the Gov. Livingston Regional High School Choral, Concert Choir and Madrigals; the Central Jersey Chorus, the Youth Honors Chorus and for two years the New Jersey All-State Chorus. Horse owners urged to vaccinate animals

A second warning to horse owners to have their animals vaccinated against eastern and western encephalitis before June 1 was issued this week by Dr. C. Kenneth Jewell, director, Division of Animal Health, New Jersey Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Jewell said that "the rainy weather we have experienced so far this spring, particularly in the northern counties, favors a large population of mosquitoes, which can transmit the disease to horses."

The Cardinals defeated the Peacocks, 16-10. Carolyn Weeks, the winning pitcher, hit two homeruns. Key fielding was provided by Cindy Hain and Candy Graham. The final out of the game was made by the catcher Amy Ehrlich. The Cardinals then defeated the Doves, 19-12, behind Penny Levitt's excellent pitching. Outstanding fielding was provided by Lynda Cleveland, Debbie Graham and Betsy Milcke.

The Bluejays beat the Orioles, 16-9, with Dawn Mazzarella and Sandy Crane pitching. Doubles were hit by Sandy Crane, Janice Petiya and Karen D'Amanda.

Dawn Mazzarella, holding the Owls to two runs in the first four innings, hit her stride in the fifth, striking out the first batter and assisting in the next two putouts. A grand slam by Lyndsay Weeks and power hitting by Sandy Crane combined with strong fielding by Karen D'Amanda and Karen Pomo led the Bluejays to a 19-10 victory over the Owls.

With Kathy Schon pitching, the Falcons defeated the Blackbirds, 24-10. Homeruns were hit by Kim Yogy, Kathy, Jean Cascin, Carol Wingard and Mary Borchert. The Falcons then defeated the Eagles, 19-2, with Kathy again pitching and hitting three homeruns. Jean Cascin hit two homers and a triple. Christa Lenman and Jean were outstanding in the field.

In the make-up game, the Falcons defeated the Canaries, 19-2.

The Eagles defeated the Orioles in an extra-inning game, 18-17. Jan Borkowski was the winning pitcher.

Debbie Organ was the winning pitcher when the Owls defeated the Canaries, 22-19. Debbie also hit two homeruns.

The Peacocks defeated the Roadrunners, 22-18, with Cindy Clark and Kathy Clark sharing the pitching. Pam Korley came through with excellent fielding.

The Doves defeated the Canaries, 16-15.

CHARTER COMMISSION

Union County residents hoping to cast an informed vote on county government changes may want to attend one of the following meetings at which the Union County Charter Commission will present pros and cons of four optional forms of county government and options within the forms:

May 28—Summit, council chambers; June 4—Elizabeth, freeholders' meeting room in new building behind the county courthouse. All of the commission's meetings begin at about 7 p.m.

The commission, meeting weekly, has expressed disappointment over poor attendance by citizens. Members of the League of Women Voters often constitute a majority of the audience. Won't you join us? Further information is available by calling the commission's secretary in the county courthouse.

ATTENDANCE RULES

At the May 7 meeting of the Regional Board of Education, the Rev. Elmer Talcott of Mountainside stated in the public portion of the meeting that the present attendance policy at Jonathan Dayton is "illegal." His statement was reinforced by the statement made by a Jonathan Dayton senior who cited a case handled by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) wherein it was decided that a student can not have his academic record affected as a punitive measure.

In addition, Jonathan Dayton's senior class president, Andy Mendelsohn, requested that the board at least "suspend" the new attendance policy until the question of its legality (or illegality) is determined.

At the meeting, board member Harry Newman announced that his committee is in the process of rewording the new attendance policy, but "it is unlikely that the intent of the policy will be changed."

I do not understand why this new attendance policy is remaining in effect, when there is serious question and accusation that it is clearly against the law.

SCHOOL CONCERT

I don't normally take the time to write letters praising a school program because first of all, they are usually good, and secondly because when our own children perform, we rarely admit to the program being bad. I must however, write this letter to tell you that last night was exceptionally well done. I am referring specifically to the fourth and fifth grade combined band and chorus concert at Deerfield School.

The joint efforts of the children and the teachers in charge, Doris Julian and Howard Kravitz, were shown in the excellent performance of the children. The mutual respect between the teachers and their students was, I believe, the reason for their exceptional performance.

We can be proud of our town and our school system, and last night was another reason why.

Overlook names Dr. Bernstein to education position

Appointed to the new post of director of internal medicine education at Overlook Hospital this week was Dr. Michael Bernstein of Murray Hill. A member of the Overlook medical staff since 1961, with the current rank of attending physician, Dr. Bernstein is a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine, a fellow of the American College of Physicians and a fellow of the Academy of Medicine of New Jersey.

His academic appointments include professorial rank at Bellevue Hospital-Cornell Medical School, 1961-67, and Columbia University. He is on the faculty at Rutgers Medical School, New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

Dr. Bernstein will direct Overlook's residency program in internal medicine and also the fifth "channel-bridging" program for American graduates of foreign medical schools. In addition, he will be responsible for continuing educational programming in the field of internal medicine for the 350 practicing physicians on Overlook's medical staff.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of New York University Dr. Bernstein received his M.D. degree from New York Medical College, interned at Beth Israel Hospital and took his residency in internal medicine and cardiology at Montefiore Hospital, followed by a residency in gastroenterology at Manhattan Veterans Hospital. He served also in the Air Force Medical Corps with the rank of major.

Owner chases stolen vehicle, Newark suspect is being held

Tyrone Gibson, 21, of Newark is being held in Union County Jail in default of $1,500 bail on a charge of larceny. He was also charged with atrocious assault and battery with a motor vehicle after allegedly taking a van whose owner chased him from Springfield to Union.

According to police, Nelson Schnitzer of Springfield had parked his van at the Echo Plaza in Springfield Monday at 9:30 a.m. and had gone into a cafe to eat when he saw a man get into the van and drive away.

Schnitzer said he got into his wife's car and chased his van east on Rt. 22. Hesaid while he was chasing the stolen vehicle, the driver tried to run him off the road several times by striking the van against the car's right front fender. Schnitzer said that every time his vehicle was struck, he temporarily lost control of the car.

The van was driven into Union and was found in the parking lot of Loria Brothers on Ball avenue, Union, where the driver fled on foot. Gibson was later found at the Maxon Pontiac lot, where he was arrested and brought to Union Police headquarters.

The Language of Flowers

by Mona Mason

If flowers are cut properly, they will keep much longer. The time of day you cut your flowers is of great importance. Early in the morning is best because by then your flowers have had time to absorb dew and other moisture. Another desirable time is in the late afternoon or the evening. Never cut flowers during the heat of the day, for then you catch them at the ebb of their powers.

What nicer way to express a thought or say "I love you" than with a bouquet of fresh flowers from MONA MASON PERSONAL FLOWERS, 61 Main St., Millburn 467-1666. We even continue the personal touch by using a very special wrapping...everyone loves the look of our floral package. Start to plan your summer wedding...Mona Mason will be happy to assist you, and you can be certain your floral arrangements will be exquisite.

Summer Hours: Wed. thru Sat. 10-4. Phyllis and Stanley English's 25th...many more happy years.

HELPFUL HINT: Cut sturdy blossoms that are in generally good condition will make the best bouquets.

In addition, all will now be eligible for time-and-a-half overtime compensation, instead of the $2.25 per hour rate previously.

THE ORDINANCE establishing pro-rata pool membership fees for persons who may change their residence during the season was defended by Recreation Commissioner William Cullen after a member of the audience asked why the borough "felt it had to give anything back."

"We have found that if a family contemplates moving from the borough during the summer, they will not join our pool, and therefore we lose that revenue," Cullen stated, noting the pro-rated rule should induce these people to retain memberships at least for a short time, since they are guaranteed at least a partial refund. The same ordinance was aimed at attracting others who may move into the community during the summer, and therefore do not have a season membership. They will now be able to purchase daily guest admissions for $1 less—$3 for adults, $2 for persons under 21.

The "flagpole" ordinance, which will have a public hearing at the council's June 18 session, was explained by John O'Connell, who noted the current zoning code prohibits the construction of the poles unless a resident first appeals to the board of adjustment.

IN OTHER ACTION, council announced the awarding of a $57,239 bid, under the 1974 State Aid Maintenance Contract, to the Peters Construction Co. of Madison, and reported that at a special session May 14, a bid of $14,000 was awarded to M.J. Pepe Contractors, New Providence to reconstruct a retaining wall on New Providence road near the Children's Specialized Hospital.

In response to a question from the audience, Simmons reported that council's attorney was still studying the legal aspects of a leasing arrangement proposed to the governing body by the Board of Education for the Echobrook School. He noted education for the council "is reviewing all possible means of acquiring that property" for use as a municipal facility, so far the board has only offered the leasing arrangement.

ANNOUNCEMENTS at the meeting included one regarding Mountaineer Detective Jerry Rice, who is among seven police officers chosen from applicants in the state's 567 communities, who will attend the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy this summer. The three-month course taught at the Quantico, Va., school, is fully college accredited and, according to Police Commissioner Simmons, "is the absolute tops in police education."

A merit award was presented to another borough resident, Walter Vreeland, Mountaineer Director of Civil Defense, for his work

LWV affirms support in N.J. of equal rights amendment

Mrs. Robert Kerwin, president of the League of Women Voters of the Westfield area, announced this week that the state league will support an equal rights amendment now proposed for the New Jersey Constitution. The proposed state amendment, ACR.67 states, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged on account of sex." If agreed to by the Legislature, the amendment will be submitted to the people as a referendum. The League of Women Voters of the United States supports the concept of equal rights for all on the basis of past program study and consensus and as a general statement of its principles. According to Mrs. Kerwin, the League in every state has worked for the Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, which New Jersey has already ratified. Mrs. Kerwin added, "Five more states are needed by the deadline of March 27, 1975. The LWV will push hard for final passage."

this winter during the fuel crisis. subject of the ERA, and the League sees one of its major tasks as one of education. The amendment will remove sex as a factor in determining the legal rights of men and women. It will not interfere in private relationships. The general principle is if a law restricts, it will no longer be valid. If it protects rights, it will do so for women—and men. For example, the ERA will equalize Social Security benefits, thus permitting a man to draw on his wife's Social Security just as a wife now draws on her husband's. Widowers will be entitled, as dependents, to their wives' benefits.

"The ERA will not affect the constitutionally guaranteed right of privacy which permits the separation of sexes in such places as public toilets, military barracks, prisons, schools and mental care facilities. "ERA would remove discriminatory labor laws. It will not remove criminal laws against rape and other sexual offenses. It will stop courts from imposing longer prison sentences on a woman than a man for the same offense."

The League of Women Voters of the U.S. at its recent National Convention in San Francisco last week voted to open its membership to men. Mrs. Kerwin and Mrs. Alan Lowe, treasurer, who represented the local League, reported that most delegates felt strongly that the same benefits of study and research of public issues, observation of government, public education, voter service and lobbying were as valuable to men as to women. Other actions taken by the convention were: adoption of a national program for study and action, a resolution urging "the president of the United States to honor all requests of the Judiciary Committee of the House so that committee and the Congress can fulfill their constitutional mandate and expedite the impeachment process" and approval of a plan to undertake a public education project on the Bill of Rights and individual liberties as the contributions of the League of Women Voters to the Bi-Centennial celebration in 1976.

Leukemia fund launching drive, seeks volunteers

A group of doctors, nurses and parents in the Plainfield area recently joined together to form the Community Leukemia Fund to enable leukemia victims, and persons with allied disorders, to obtain services in one regional area. Among the Mountaineer residents participating in the project are Mr. and Mrs. Michele Parlipiano and Mrs. Michael Tonolone.

The primary objective of the Fund is to raise money for a blood separation unit, a technician to operate the machine, a nurse-clinician to assist the specialist and to maintain research data, and a counseling service for patients and their families. "Doctors who treat patients with a terminal illness realize they must cope with the needs of the entire family, as well as of the victim. The child or adult with leukemia can be controlled to a certain extent through a combination of drug and cobalt therapy. According to the Leukemia Society of America, when treatment is begun in a center or by a group specializing in leukemia, the opportunity for long-term remission is greater. Some studies have shown that one-third of patients will live more than five years following diagnosis. Previous studies strongly suggest that half of those reaching the five-year mark free of disease (stabilized) will survive indefinitely."

In addition to funds, the organization needs volunteers and publicity to make its goals a reality. Readers interested in working with the group, or in obtaining more information, may contact any of the Fund's medical advisors—Drs. Michael Kuhn, Robert Lynn and Daniel Frimmer—at 1314 Park ave., Plainfield, phone 753-9033.

Miss Seeman elected head of student group

ASHLAND, Ohio—Paula Seeman of Mountaineer, N.J., a junior at Ashland College, has been elected president of the Ashland College Student Education Association for the 1974-75 academic year. She has also been appointed regional secretary of the Northeast Region of Ohio Student Education Association. An elementary education and special education major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Seeman, 263 Ravens Wood, Mountaineer.

ASSIGNMENTS LIMITED

The committee proposed that members generally should have only one committee assignment, thus fostering expertise and minimizing schedule conflicts. Second assignments would extend only to a few minor committees whose workloads would not interfere with major legislative proceedings. In an effort to equalize the stature of the 15 recommended major committees and to overcome existing jurisdictional problems, the select committee proposed a number of jurisdictional shifts, thereby increasing some committees' responsibilities and decreasing others. Major attention was given to the intensification of Congress' oversight of laws it

Report from Washington

Early in the 93rd Congress, by a decisive, bipartisan vote of 282-91, the House approved H. Res. 132, establishing a 10-member select committee to thoroughly study the House committee system. Speaker Carl Albert and then Minority Leader Gerald Ford were instrumental in launching this initiative. The first study of committee jurisdictions and practices since 1946. The support which members gave the proposal demonstrated a common belief that committee reform is vital if the House is to fulfill its responsibilities. As Representative David Martin said, the goal was "a more efficient operation of the committees of the House which are the heart and soul of the legislative process."

Unlike customary practice, each party was to be represented equally on the committee. Its funds were to be equally available to Democrats and Republicans in support of the inquiry. This bipartisan, professional approach was strengthened in early committee decisions to minimize partisan distinctions in staffing and to designate the ranking minority member as its vice-chairman.

In a precedent-breaking recognition of the study's importance, Speaker Albert and Representative Ford were the first witnesses to appear before the committee. The panel achieved a vast amount of insight by conducting interviews and hearing testimony from members, as well as through extensive interviews with committee staffs and significant research projects. Political scientists and groups interested in Congressional organization also offered their views. A full year of study, debate, drafting and revising resulted in the introduction on March 19, 1974 of H. Res. 988, proposing changes in committee structure and jurisdiction and modifications of committee procedure. Although the proposal is not perfect, it does represent a giant step forward for proponents of reform.

But in order to strengthen any social institution, individuals must sacrifice. At the core of democracy is the premise that the process by which decisions are made is more important than either the decisions themselves or the persons who make them, both of which are temporary. As a strong proponent of Congressional reform, I was disappointed in the action of the Democratic caucus, which voted last week to bar the select committee's plan from coming to the House for debate and consideration. In the wake of solid GOP approval, the Democratic caucus instead referred the plan to an opposition-laden party committee.

This action appears to be a case of moving Congressional reform from the back burner into the deep freeze. I call on the Democratic caucus to awaken to its responsibility to respond positively to the nation's clarion call for Congressional reform. Our country today needs strong Congressional leadership—leadership that is willing to accept the challenge.

Advertisement for PSE&G. Text: "We don't like it any more than you do! Oil costs: biggest factor in your electric bill. You know about oil price increases. All you have to do is drive into a service station these days and say, 'Fill 'er up.' Oil produces the gasoline for your family car. Oil is also the fuel that PSE&G uses to generate most of the electricity you use. So oil is plenty important to us and to you. Trouble is, the price we pay for the oil we use has increased more than 500% in the last five years. From an average of $2.15 a barrel in 1969 to $13.48 a barrel in March of this year. And this despite every effort on our part to purchase oil as economically as possible. It's tough to live with 500% price increases. The cost of fuel is the single most important factor in your electric bill. And it stands to reason we couldn't stay in business very long if we had to pay 500% price increases in our most important ingredient for producing electricity. That is why a 'billing factor' is included in your monthly bills to reflect our increasing (or decreasing) costs for fuels. So, because fuel costs have been soaring, your bills have also been increasing — even though you may still be using the same amount of electricity — or less. And keep this in mind, PSE&G does not earn a penny's profit from the amount you pay for fuel price fluctuations. Why doesn't PSE&G pay the fuel cost increase? We've often been asked why doesn't PSE&G pick up the tab for the fuel increase. We can't. There just wouldn't be enough money left to run the rest of our business. Things like operation, maintenance and vital construction. And if we undermine our financial position, PSE&G simply would not be considered a good investment. We would be unable to borrow the large amounts of money we need to provide you with dependable service. Other costs are zooming. Of course, fuel isn't the only thing going up in price. An ordinary wood utility pole doubled in price in just three years. A ton of asphalt for construction increased 40% in just one year. An ordinary 12" pipe wrench went up 43%. And these are typical everyday items we use. It's understandable, then, that we must ask for rate increases. PSE&G's history has been one of holding the line to minimize the impact of inflation. But facts are facts. It's costing a lot more to keep you supplied with energy. The days of cheap, abundant energy are gone. Gone forever. For everybody. We don't like it any more than you do."

Memorials honor deceased, assist cancer research

Memorial Day is approaching, and the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society suggests the remembrance of deceased loved ones with a special living memorial—a contribution in their name to the society's program of research, education and patient services.

"Many individuals, organizations, firms and other groups practice memorial giving regularly, and these gifts support an increasingly large proportion of the American Cancer Society's program," a spokesman noted.

"Every contribution is acknowledged with a receipt to the donor and is deductible for tax purposes. A memorial card is sent to the family, with the name of the person honored, and the name or names of the donors. The amount of the gift is not indicated."

The spokesman noted there are several large corporations, including the Schering Corp. in Union County, which will match the contribution of an employee to the organization of his or her choice. The employee makes the contribution to the charitable organization through the corporation's personnel department. The firm, in turn, makes a matching donation, equalling that made by the employee, and forwards both to the charity.

Persons interested in making memorial gifts should include the following information with their contributions: name of the deceased, name and address of the person to whom the acknowledgment is to be sent.

Arrangements for memorials may be made by contacting the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society at 512 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth, phone 354-7373.

Describing the Society's program, the spokesman noted, "Research supports scientists in more than 140 of the nation's laboratories, hospitals and universities, who are seeking the cause and cure of cancer. Education alerts the public, so as to bring men and women to physicians in-time, when most cancers are curable, and helps to inform the medical profession about the latest methods of diagnosis and treatment. Service helps cancer patients by easing the pain of those who are ill, and lessening the burden on their families."

UC and UCTI to hold line on tuition for next year

Tuition for the 1974-75 academic year at Union College and Union County Technical Institute will not be increased, it was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, executive director of the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education.

Under contract with the Coordinating Agency, Union College and Union County Technical Institute are providing public higher education services in lieu of a county college. Union College, which has its main campus in Cranford and urban educational centers in Elizabeth and Plainfield, serves as the academic arm of Union County's Community College System, and Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, provides technical and occupations-oriented programs.

Tuition at both institutions is $350 for a full-time student who is a resident of Union County; $700 for other New Jersey residents, and $1,400 for out-of-state residents. The tuition for part-time students is $14 a credit hour per semester for Union County residents, $30 for other New Jersey residents.

Tuition at both institutions is $350 for a full-time student who is a resident of Union County; $700 for other New Jersey residents, and $1,400 for out-of-state residents. The tuition for part-time students is $14 a credit hour per semester for Union County residents, $30 for other New Jersey residents, and $40 for out-of-state residents.

"We are grateful to the Union County Board of Freeholders for providing sufficient financial assistance so tuition rates could remain at the current level," Dr. MacKay said. "In these days of inflation, a low tuition rate means many more of our residents can benefit from the opportunities for higher educational services at the two institutions we are utilizing."

Those services at Union College include programs in liberal arts, education, urban studies, business, public administration, biological science, environmental science, physical science, engineering, environmental engineering, and law enforcement.

Union County Technical Institute offers programs in data processing-accounting, data processing-computer programming, chemical technology, civil technology, electromechanical technology, mechanical technology, medical assisting, medical laboratory technology, practical nursing, respiratory therapy, occupational therapy assistant, physical therapy assistant, and secretarial practices.

Dental hygiene, fire science technology and secretarial science are offered as joint programs of Union College and Union County Technical Institute.

In addition, Union College conducts a cooperative program in professional nursing with the Schools of Nursing of Elizabeth General Hospital and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

Dr. MacKay pointed out that the two institutions also offer programs for economically and educationally disadvantaged students and for students who lack adequate preparation or motivation for the discipline or career area they have chosen. In addition, they offer developmental and remedial courses for those who need to improve their skills and knowledge in communications, reading, mathematics, and science, Dr. MacKay said.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

'Eager beavers' at UCTI Students see dam construction

Except for the ones that beavers build, civil technology students seldom get to see a dam under construction. They most often have to settle for textbook diagrams and lectures.

An exception to the rule is providing civil technology students at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, an opportunity to watch the progress of a dam from drawing board sketches to the finished product. That exception is the Shackamaxon Dam on the grounds of the Shackamaxon Country Club in Scotch Plains.

To provide greater spillway capacity and to prevent periodic breaching of the dike, the dam is being completely reconstructed and UCTI's civil technology students have been given front row seats to the project.

Carmin J. DeVito, president of Geo-Tech Associates, Fanwood, a consulting engineering firm, has not only given the students a guided tour of the site, he first sat down with them to brief them on the reasons for rebuilding the dam. He explained the topographic surveys, subsurface explorations and soil tests made to define the site conditions at the dam and the hydrological and hydraulic studies undertaken to determine the size and type of dam that was required.

The students will also be invited back to see the completed project.

Testimonial program honors UCTI's president-emeritus

The administration building at Union County Technical Institute and Vocational Center, Scotch Plains, will be named Baxel Hall, it was announced last week at a testimonial dinner honoring Dr. George H. Baxel, president-emeritus of the Technical Institute and Vocational Center, at the Town and Campus in Union.

Baxel, who retired in January, served as president of the Technical Institute and superintendent of the Vocational Center since their inception in 1960. Under his leadership, the technical and vocational schools have grown from two engineering technology programs to 33 full-time programs in business, engineering, health, trade, industrial and service careers.

Minerals, gems in Trailside show

The Trailside Museum Association will hold its annual mineral and gem show at the museum in the Watchung Reservation on Sunday, June 2 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Emphasis will be on local minerals but many choice mineral specimens will also be on display. Of special interest to beginning lapidaries will be a working exhibit of faceting and other gem-making techniques. Locally made jewelry will be shown. Mrs. Daisy Skidmore will show several of her pictures, created entirely of minute fragments of varicolored minerals. Admission is free.

Rotary Club will supply UCTI picks its president

The Union Rotary Club will provide refreshments at five check points when the Cerebral League Walkathon is held June 2.

Registration blanks for the CP Walkathon are available at the CP Center, 216 Holly St., Cranford, according to Marilyn Meyer, chairman of the event. "Walkers are needed to raise funds for the new Cerebral Palsy Center Building in Union," she said. More information may be obtained by calling 272-5029.

The walkers will hike from the present Cerebral Palsy Center at 216 Holly St., Cranford, to the new facility near Green Lane and Utilities road in Union.

Lon Tull of Union, president of the Rotary Club, said the organization "is delighted to help sponsor a community activity of this type." He said that G. Dexter Force, a Springfield resident and sergeant-at-arms of the Union Rotary Club, will serve as project coordinator.

The walkers will be monitored on their march by Civil Defense units from Union and Springfield. All funds collected will be donated to the CP League's building fund.

A CP League official said all local civic and community groups have been requested to supply walkers for the walkathon. Walkathon sponsor-registration blanks may be obtained from Union High School Student Council members, Student Council president Michael Bellacosa or the Cerebral Palsy Center.

in Union, the Technical Institute and Vocational Center now occupy a 43-acre campus on Raritan road, Scotch Plains, and encompass three major buildings, with a fourth under construction.

A highlight of the dinner was the presentation of a 14-inch bronze medallion bearing an engraved portrait of Baxel. The medallion, presented by Helen Huber, vice-president of the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational-Technical Schools, is framed in oak and will be mounted permanently in Baxel Hall.

State Sen. Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield served as master of ceremonies at the dinner, which was attended by some 200 friends and colleagues of Baxel. Guest speakers included Dr. Albert E. Jochen, former assistant commissioner of vocational education; Dr. Robert P. Douglass, former president of the Board of Education of the Union County Vocational-Technical Schools, and Dr. William H. West, Union County superintendent of schools.

Baxel graduated from Essex County Vocational Center and holds a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Newark College of Engineering, a master's degree in administration from New York University and a doctorate in education from Rutgers University.

Baxel served as an officer in the Naval Reserves during World War II, working in electronics and radar. He held several posts in industry before launching his 33-year career in education.

The Board of Education for the Union County Vocational-Technical Schools has appointed Dr. Harvey Charles of Scotch Plains to the dual post of president of the Union County Technical Institute and superintendent of schools for the Union County Vocational Center, both of Scotch Plains.

The appointment was made by the board at its meeting on Wednesday, May 15. Dr. Charles, who was serving as acting superintendent and acting president since March 1, will assume his new responsibilities on July 1.

Dr. Charles is a graduate of West Michigan College and received his master's degree from Ohio University and doctorate of education degree from Indiana University. He has taken post-doctoral courses at Stanford University.

Prior to joining Union County Technical Institute, Dr. Charles was vice-president of Onondaga Community College, a unit of the State University of New York. He has held administrative posts at Nassau Community College (N.Y.) and John Carroll University, Cleveland. He has taught on the secondary school and college level.

The Union County Technical Institute is serving as the technical arm of Union County's Community College System. Academic programs are provided by Union College under contract to the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education.

The Vocational-Technical Schools serves 4,000 students for the 1973-74 school year through its full and part-time programs.

NEW NOW LEADERS—Recently installed officers of the Summit Area Chapter of the National Organization for Women map plans for future activities. They are Marlene Mankler of Springfield, right, the chapter president, and Karen Stacey of Berkeley Heights, vice-president.

Gardening added to camp activities

A vegetable garden is the latest activity cooked up by the Four Seasons Outdoor Center director, Pat Schriver, for this summer's day camp program.

Clearing the site of a long-unused backyard garden of the modern farmhouse, plowing it and getting it ready to seed has been a week-long project for Schriver.

Planting lima beans, string beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, carrots, lettuce, zucchini and yellow long-necked squash, gourds, peopern and Indian corn has several goals, the director explained.

"We'll get practice in cultivating, weeding and the ability to provide for ourselves. The kids will do the harvesting themselves—and get to eat what they've helped grow."

Watering, weeding and harvesting will be only one off-the-beaten-track activities for the usual day camp program at the Four Seasons Center this year.

Others will include plot study, native crafts, nature exploration, orienteering, swimming, boating, fishing, hiking, archery, canoeing, wildlife study.

Information about the camp may be obtained from the Y, 233-2700.

JAMIE L. DEWART

Jamie L. Dewart gets nurse's cap

Jamie Leigh Dewart, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James Dewart of 58 Country Club Lane, Springfield, was graduated from Muhlenberg Hospital's School of Nursing on Sunday.

Miss Dewart is among 53 nurses who received recognition for completing the 33-month professional nursing program.

The 1974 graduating class is the first to receive a diploma in nursing from the Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing plus an associate in science degree from Union College.

This is a result of the 1971 affiliation between Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing and Union College, Cranford. (Elizabeth General Hospital School of Nursing is also affiliated with Union College.) The goal of the cooperative program in professional nursing is to provide the student nurse with the practical clinical experience and nursing courses of a nationally accredited, hospital-based diploma school of nursing supported by the broader academic offerings of a liberal arts college, graduating the liberally and professionally educated nurses who can meet the demands of the future.

Chickens, hams stolen at market

Someone in Springfield discovered a way last week to beat the high cost of meat for awhile; he absconded with 60 pounds of chicken breasts and a box of boiled hams, which had been left at the rear of Loria's Meat Market at 248 Mountain ave.

Township police said the store manager reported several packages of meat had been delivered to his store at 8:15 a.m., May 14, and at 8:40 a.m. he discovered the box of chicken, worth $37.35, and the hams, valued at $33.35, were missing.

A portable television set and $527 in cash were the bounty collected by thieves who broke into a Madison terrace home May 15 or 16, police reported.

Investigating officers James Hietala, Keith Strom and Baumer reported the burglars, who ransacked several rooms in the house, had apparently gained entry through an unlocked window.

The motorists, their penalties and the streets on which they had been ticketed are as follows: Robert J. Ferrari of Roselle Park, $340, Rt. 22; Jack Ballin of Union, $315, Rt. 22; Jessie C. Taylor of Summit, $315, Morris avenue, and Joseph E. Taylor of New Providence, $265, Shunpike road.

In addition, Ferrari paid a total of $50 for failure to have registration and proof of auto insurance in his possession; Ballin paid $40 for operating an unregistered and unsafe vehicle, and Jessie Taylor paid $30 for speeding 51 mph in a 35-mile zone.

In other court action, Francis R. Glunk of Millburn was fined $115 for leaving the scene of an accident on Morris avenue. Driving an uninsured vehicle on Rt. 22 resulted in a $60 fine and six months' revocation of his driver's license for Ralph G. Saccamano Jr. of Newark, who paid an additional $20 for failure to have his car inspected.

Eight motorists were fined for speeding, including four who broke the 25 mph limit on Briar Hills circle: Wendy A. Conklin of Berkeley Heights, $40 for driving 52 mph; Constance Jupiter of Maplewood, $35 for 46 mph; Edward F. Sauerborn of Mountainide, $35 for 46 mph, and Michael D. Brain of Roselle, $30 for 41 mph.

Other speeders and their penalties were: Michael Colaneri of Cranford, $35 for 50 mph in a 25-mile zone, Shunpike road; Gary S. Scheck of Summit, $25, for 52 mph in a 35-mile zone, Mountain avenue; Maria L. Theoharis of South Orange, $35 for 58 mph in a 35-mile zone, Morris avenue; John W. Stewart of East Orange, $35 for 50 mph in a 25-mile zone, Shunpike road.

Careless driving resulted in fines of $30 and $25, respectively, for Michael Fusco of Summit and Jesus Matos of Newark. Fusco had been ticketed on Morris avenue; Matos, on Shunpike road.

Gerard J. Brennan of Orange paid a total of $55 for two offenses: misuse of license plates and operating an unregistered vehicle on Morris avenue. Driving an unregistered truck on Rt. 22 brought a $20 penalty to Reece W. Mitchell of Summit. Garden State Stores, Mountain avenue, Springfield, was fined $15 for leaving garbage cans by the curb on Remer avenue.

Frederick A. Curran of Clark and Carl Jensen of Kenilworth were found innocent of disorderly conduct charges stemming from an incident May 11 at the Quality Court Motel, Rt. 22.

ROBERT ZUCKERBERG

Receives plaque for Israel work

Robert Zuckerberg, of Springfield recently received a plaque from the Young Men's Hebrew Club of Irvington in recognition of his service to the State of Israel during the Yom Kippur War of 1973 and after that conflict.

Zuckerberg left his studies at George Washington University and spent five months working at Ein Gev, a kibbutz two miles from the Syrian border. He is now an assistant manager of the camera department at the Two Guys store in Union.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zuckerberg, he is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. While there, he competed in varsity wrestling, soccer and tennis and was named to the allstate band as a trumpeter.

LIGHTS, ACTION—Florence Gaudineer School students Robbie Diamond, Silvio Quaglio, Richard Ragosa and Richard Butman focus TV camera on professional actress in 'Jerz,' which is under consideration by state authorities for a tour as part of the New Jersey bi-centennial observances. The show was written last year by Ron Brown, a faculty member at Gaudineer, and Sid Frank of Springfield, and produced at the school. This closed-circuit version was screened this month for students at the Springfield School. Not shown is Gil Pratt, student closed-circuit TV expert, who is in the director's booth. Yuckman finishes two-year course

David A. Yuckman of 28 Fieldstone dr., Springfield, is one of 33 New Jersey union members who will receive diplomas the weekend of June 8-9 from the Union Leadership Academy at Pennsylvania State University. The graduating program will be held at University Park, Pa., for the New Jersey residents and 92 others from Pennsylvania and West Virginia who have completed a two-year, eight-course labor studies program.

The Union Leadership Academy was organized 19 years ago by Rutgers University. Penn State and West Virginia universities have since joined Rutgers in its sponsorship.

Gold coins are framed

"Throughout the world money markets today, the value of gold is soaring to unprecedented heights and owners of gold coins have a blue chip investment," said Richard S. Paul, president of Wiss Jewelers, when he visited the Wiss store this week in the Mall at Short Hills.

"These valuable gold coins can be preserved and become fashionable jewelry accessories in 14-karat gold frames, and, he added, "the coin is not damaged in any way."

Fortunately, jewelers' technology has designed gold frames which greatly enhance, embellish and protect the gold coin. It increases their value, sets off their beauty, and provides a decorative fashion accessory whose intrinsic value lasts forever.

Gold coins are one of the few blue chip investments that can be used as adornment to delight the owner and eye of the beholder.

Ever since last May, Paul explained, gold has been hitting record highs practically daily and the precious metal has been continually in the limelight.

At Wiss Jewelers, gold coins are framed in gold settings—with or without jewels—ranging from $50 to $5,000 and higher. Wiss designers will show how gold coins can be framed into fine jewelry accessories, while at the same time protecting the coin as a blue chip investment. Wiss can furnish gold coins along with the jewelry setting if customers desire.

For over 125 years, Paul said, Wiss stores have been showcases of fine diamonds, jewels, silverware and watches. The Wiss stores are located in New Jersey in Montclair, The Mall at Short Hills, Fashion Center in Paramus, Willowbrook Mall in Wayne, Woodbridge Center in Woodbridge, and Brunswick Square Mall in East Brunswick. In New York, Wiss has stores in Staten Island Mall and Nanuet Mall.

High school band will lead parade on Memorial Day

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band, under the direction of Jeff Anderson, will be the lead-off band in the Springfield Memorial Day parade. The 105-member marching band will be starting off an extensive series of appearances with this parade.

In addition to Memorial Day, a group of 21 marching band musicians will appear in a jazz concert at Lincoln Center on June 7. Dayton's entire marching band will appear at the Salute to Israel parade in New York on Sunday afternoon, June 9. The jazz ensemble concert is in conjunction with the Salute To Israel parade. The jazz group recently played in the Watching Hills Jazz Ensemble Festival.

Spring awards concert will be presented at Halsey Hall in the high school on June 8 at 8 p.m.

To prepare for the upcoming events, the marching band will rehearse Monday and Thursday evenings from 6-8 p.m. during the next month.

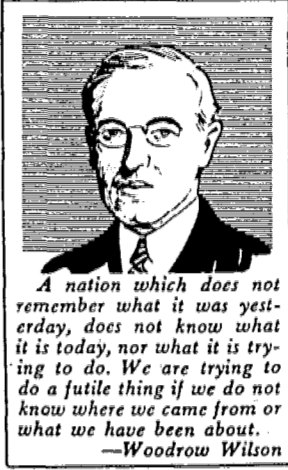

Drama group selected Upsala resident unit

The Halfpenny Playhouse will become company-in-residence at Upsala College starting in June, it was announced by Dr. Carl Fjellman, president of the East Orange college.

The Halfpenny company, which has been producing in North Arlington and Kearny for the past 10 years, will begin its new residence with a 10-week summer season of musicals and contemporary plays. It also will offer seven major productions during the fall and spring, augmenting the college's regular drama series.

Don't Know Your APR

APR

(Annual Percentage Rate)

You Don't Know What You're Really Paying For Your Loan!

The National Bank of New Jersey Has a Low, Low 9.25% Annual Percentage Rate

On New Car & Home Improvement Loans

WHAT IS APR? It's the Annual Percentage Rate. When you know the APR you know exactly how much interest you're paying on your loan. If you don't know the APR, you could be in for an unpleasant surprise.

HOW CAN I FIND OUT WHAT MY APR IS? The law requires that you be told your APR when you borrow money or apply for credit. Be sure to ask when you borrow money for anything: "What is the APR on my new car loan?" Or home improvement loan. Or furniture or appliance loan.

IS APR THE SAME WHEN YOU WANT YOUR CREDIT EXTENDED? No it isn't. On a direct loan banks in New Jersey may have an APR up to a maximum of 11.43%. For new cars, New Jersey Dealers may have an APR up to a maximum of 12.75%.

Department stores may have an APR up to a maximum of 18%.

HOW CAN I FIND THE LOWEST APR? You can shop for your loan the same way you shopped for your car, or washer/dryer or color TV. But, before you sign, call the financial advisers at The National Bank of New Jersey. It's wise to compare.

A SUGGESTION: At The National Bank of New Jersey we suggest that you BUY your car, furniture or home improvement where you get the best deal... but BORROW from The National Bank of New Jersey where you get the best deal on your loan.

ONLY COMMON SENSE, ISN'T IT? It's only common sense to save dollars and APR is where you save when you borrow.

KNOW YOUR APR. IT'S THE LAW. CALL US AND COMPARE!

'Homecomings' are listed at Shadow Lake Village

Festive luncheons are the order of the day as Shadow Lake Village holds something of a "homecoming" for many of the families that visited the community in the past year. According to Kevork S. Hovnanian, president of Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc. and developer of the adult condominium community. Located on Nutswamp road in Middletown Township, Shadow Lake Village now has a population of more than 500 residents. "We've invited many former visitors to attend these special luncheons," says Hovnanian, "to show them what has been accomplished in the past year." Guests will be feted at a luncheon in the clubhouse, then taken on a limousine tour of the newest sections of Shadow Lake Village. They will also have an opportunity to inspect new models. The values of the community have been underlined by the recent fuel crisis, the spokesman notes. The atmosphere is complemented by a selection of recreation facilities and transportation is not a problem in filling leisure hours, since there is a community-operated mini-bus which travels through Shadow Lake Village and also carries residents to nearby shopping centers.

Condominium homeowners have the added advantage of deductions for real estate taxes and mortgage interest. A home at Shadow Lake Village is also an important investment, which can be expected to reflect rising values of residential properties in the region. The adult requirement for residence at Shadow Lake Village means that one member of the family must be at least 52 years old. One son or daughter over 18 may live in. Prices for homes at Shadow Lake Village range from $37,600 to $54,950, and there are some 1973 homes available for those who would like to begin enjoying Shadow Lake Village immediately. The Red Bank station of the Penn Central Railroad is just three miles from Shadow Lake Village. The train trip to Newark takes 55 minutes; another 15 minutes to New York. There is also scheduled express bus service from Red Bank to metropolitan centers. To reach Shadow Lake Village, take the New Jersey Turnpike south to Exit 11, or the Garden State Parkway to Exit 117. Then travel south on Rt. 35 for nine miles, following signs. Turn right on the Navesink River road. Turn right at the end onto Nutswamp road to Shadow Lake Village.

Midlantic Corp. cites '73 growth

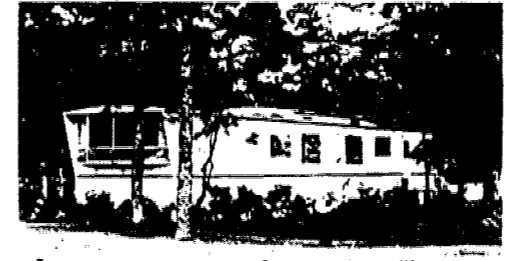

Midlantic Mortgage Corp. had a year of "unusual growth" in 1973 and climaxed it all by taking on a new company name. The name change probably attracted most attention, for the mortgage banking firm had been doing business in Newark since 1927—most of that time as Franklin Capital Corp. Principal reason for adopting the new identification, according to William F. Haas, president, was to emphasize the fact that the company is part of the billion-dollar-plus Midlantic Banks organization.

Geographic growth was one feature of the year for Midlantic Mortgage. In June, the company completed the acquisition of Eastern Mortgage Corp. of Washington, D.C., a company that had been servicing approximately $35 million in loans in an area covering primarily the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia. The acquired company added new operational coverage for Midlantic Mortgage, which had begun expanding along the Eastern Seaboard the year before with the opening of a new division in Cherry Hill. Activity over an even broader national area was increasingly apparent in Midlantic mortgage transactions during the year, including loans for projects in Nashville, Tenn.; Alexandria, Va.; Marietta, Ga.; Lafayette, La.; and Kansas City, Mo.

Total loan commitments by the company in all areas during 1973 amounted to over $170 million, and a milestone in the company's history was reached when the total of mortgage loans it services for its clients passed the $400 million mark, compared with somewhat over $300 million at the end of 1972. Another feature of the past year for Midlantic was the large number of loans of a million dollars or more that the company arranged for builders, developers and real estate investors. Equally important, though, said Haas, were the hundreds of smaller loans made during 1973. "We're proud of being able to service the clients who need millions, but we take special pleasure in giving the same friendly, professional service to builders who need only a few thousand," the company president declared. "The fact that we were able to help so many clients with so many loans of moderate size was one of the real highlights of the year for me."

The largest single commitment ever made by the mortgage banking firm was made for the Kings Grant community in Evesham Township, Burlington County. The revolving loan of $15 million was for land improvement and development in what will be one of the largest privately financed Planned Unit Developments (PUD's) in the United States, including 10,000 housing units serving 30,000 residents. Developer of Kings Grant is William Seltzer. In May, Midlantic Mortgage announced commitments of $6 million in financing for residential communities being built by Erel Corporation (AMEX) of Saddle Brook in Elkton, Md., and on Staten Island. A commitment of $5,100,000 went to Morristown Center Associates for the Big Bass Lake popular leisure home community

"The energy crisis may help put an end to the idea that heaven on earth is some place else from where we are."

The statement comes from Lou Larsen, co-developer of Big Bass Lake at Gouldsboro, Pa. Ever since he and his brother John opened this Pocono leisure home community two and a half years ago, they've been telling residents of Pennsylvania and New Jersey that one of the most attractive vacation areas in the country is practically in their own backyard—within driving time of two hours or less. A lot of people got the point: Big Bass has become one of the most popular second-home communities in the Northeast, with hundreds of property owners, many dozens of all-season homes already built and in use, and many others planned for construction this year.

"But it took the fuel shortage to drive home the advantages of this location," Lou Larsen says. "People in nearby states realize they'll probably have to cut down on long distance vacation travel this year, and that brings the Poconos right into the picture. Here, they can find a marvelous variety of recreation, entertainment and vacation fun and only have to drive 100 miles or less to get to it."

The Larsen family has been developing leisure homes for generations, and they've always stressed the point that the world's beautiful places are not necessarily far away. Lars Larsen, great grandfather of Lou and John, built vacation homes on Long Island in the late 1800s, and one of his communities was called Acres of Diamonds. The name was taken from the old parable that you can search the whole earth for riches and fail to notice that what you are looking for lies right outside your door. The Larsens point out that in the spring one of the great tourist attractions in the northeast is the brilliant display of laurel and rhododendron blossoms in the Poconos. In the summer the region's lakes and streams are a Mecca for lovers of outdoor activities like fishing, boating and swimming. Its woodlands are ideal for hiking, riding and picnicking. Its "Flaming Foliage" display of colored leaves in the fall is famous throughout the country. It has great ski resorts for winter enjoyment and private ski slopes like those at Big Bass.

Most routes to Big Bass Lake at Gouldsboro from the south and east include Interstate 80 with a turnoff onto Interstate 380 to Exit 3. From there the distance on 507 to the Big Bass Welcome Center is less than two miles.

VA offers 'release' on mortgages

The Veterans Administration this week warned veterans and servicemen who sell homes purchased with GI loans to make certain they obtain a "release from liability" if the purchaser assumes their loans.

"Otherwise," officials explained, "the seller (the veteran) could be held financially liable should the purchaser default on mortgage payments." It was noted VA granted 9,270 "releases" in the last fiscal year, about the same number as the year before.

VA will grant a "release" provided the veteran's loan is current, the purchaser agrees to assume the veteran's liabilities and the prospective purchaser is a good credit risk with sufficient income to meet GI loan mortgage payments. Officials made clear, however, that a "release from liability" does not automatically restore GI loan entitlement to the veteran utilized to purchase the home sold. Restoration can be made, it was stressed, only for what the agency describes as "compelling reasons" for disposing of the property—provided the GI loan has been paid in full.

Where purchasers agree to assume loans, officials urged veterans to apply promptly for a "release" from the VA office which guaranteed the loan.

FOR THE BIRDS

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER, professor, Union Junior College

This is the time of year when my phone rings constantly. Frequently the caller says something like, "My daughter just brought in a baby bird. What do I do?"

During May and June birds build homes and raise families. Often a precocious fledgling gets too near the edge of the nest and falls to the ground before he (or she) has learned to fly.

My first advice is to put the tiny fellow back in the nest if at all possible. The mother bird can do a much better job of raising it than any human. Sometimes, however, this isn't feasible. Then I get out my copy of "Bird Ambulance" by Arline Thomas. Perhaps there's a copy in your local library. It's easy to read and full of good advice when it comes to dealing with young or injured wildlife.

Once Mrs. Thomas wrote a piece about saving birds on an international magazine. Soon after the mailman brought a letter to her Queens home from far away Sweden. The writer wanted to know what to feed an injured swallow. Swallows, she knew, feed almost exclusively on winged insects. Hence the suggested diet was a mixture of scraped lean beef, dried flies and unflavored gelatin. The Swedish correspondent replied that the swallow completely recovered.

I've never taken a poll of the species often in need of human aid but if pressed I would guess it's the robin. Perhaps this is because robins frequently build in our dooryards. A good high protein baby food mixed with a drop of liquid vitamins is a good first approximation of the young robin's meal. Mrs. Thomas suggests a formula consisting of chopped beef, some grated hard-boiled egg, dried baby cereal plus wheat germ and liquid vitamins. Include a bit of powdered egg shell too. Then if you are ambitious you can come even closer to the tiny fellows' natural food and dig worms.

If the young birds have few or no feathers when they come to you, keep them warm. Put them in a box lined with grass and tissues and cover them with a bit of woolen cloth. This makes up for the lack of a mother's brooding, consisting of chopped beef, some grated hard-boiled egg, dried baby cereal plus wheat germ and liquid vitamins. Include a bit of powdered egg shell too. Then if you are ambitious you can come even closer to the tiny fellows' natural food and dig worms.

If the young birds have few or no feathers when they come to you, keep them warm. Put them in a box lined with grass and tissues and cover them with a bit of woolen cloth. This makes up for the lack of a mother's brooding. Many books recommend a lighted electric lamp to keep birds warm if they are hurt or quite young. Use a low wattage and make sure the lighted lamp will not come in contact with the bird.

Most birds get water via their food. Only after the bird is able to feed itself should water be offered and then it is only necessary to make it available.

How often do you have to feed baby birds? Too often. They would normally be fed at least once each half hour from sunup to sundown. So you're taking on quite a responsibility when you set out to hand-raise a baby bird. If you have to go out, it requires a bird sitter to keep things under control.

Everyone in the family will become attached to feathered visitors in the house. However, let them go in the wild as soon as they are able to fly and fend for themselves. If you don't do this, the birds won't be able to hunt their own food and will perish. Also, it's against the law to keep a bird confined if it's a native citizen.

Now, the next time your offspring comes in with a baby avian visitor, you'll have some idea of what to do. Good luck.

PSEG tells public about 'imposters'

Public Service Electric and Gas Company is advising its customers that persons posing as PSE&G representatives, in order to gain access to customers' homes, are reported to be operating in various areas served by the company.

The company states that all PSE&G personnel who call at customers' residences carry identification cards. In addition, all meter readers are now wearing distinctive charcoal gray uniforms which bear the company's emblem.

Customers should examine the identification card of the representative and call the company if there is any doubt of identity.

Oscar nominees starred at Park

Barbra Streisand and Robert Redford co-star in "The Way We Were," a sprawling love story about glossy characters against the background of the 1930s campus Communism, World War 2 and Hollywood blacklisting, arrived yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park, on a double bill with "Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams," starring Joanne Woodward, Martin Balsam and Sylvia Sidney.

Miss Streisand, who was nominated for Best Actress by the Academy, portrays a radically Jewish girl, and Redford is seen as an aspiring WASP writer, both of whom suffer through an unlikely marriage.

Photographed in color, the picture was directed by Sidney Pollack.

In "Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams," Miss Woodward, who also was nominated for best actress, and Balsam are seen in a heart-felt story about lifelike people: she is an unfulfilled middle-class New York housewife, and his is a frustrated ophthalmologist.

The movie, in color, was directed by Gilbert Cates.

SUSAN WILLIS portrays Golde, the shrewish wife of Teyve, the poor dairyman and father of their five unmarried daughters in "Fiddler on the Roof" at the Meadowbrook Theater Restaurant in Cedar Grove. Kurt Kasznar stars in "the world's most acclaimed musical" which will run through June 30.

DISC 'N DATA

ALBUM OF THE WEEK. BIG BAD BO: by Bo Diddley (CHESS CH-50047). Selections include: "Bite You," "He's Got All The Whiskey," "Hit Or Miss," "You've Got A Lot Of Nerve," "Stop The Pusher," "I've Been Workin'" and "Evelee..."

Playing the guitar he designed himself, chopping out his familiar rhythm pattern (known as "the tradesman's knock" or "shave-and-a-hair-cut-two-bits") and gyrating with the energy of a man 20 years younger, Bo Diddley, "The Originator," shimmied to the microphone as 20,000 fans roared their approval in the Rock and Roll Revival at Madison Square Garden and said:

"I would like to thank...all those who survived the rock and roll crisis...for my 18 great years in show business."

Born Elias McDaniel, Dec. 30, 1928, in Macomb, Miss., he studied classical violin in grade school. In high school he joined a three-man rhythm band, switched to guitar at 17 and began recording in 1955.

For the next five years he turned out a remarkable number of hits—"Bo Diddley" (used as soundtrack music in the animated X-rated cartoon, "Fritz The Cat"), "Bring It To Jerome," "Who Do You Love," "I'm A Man," "Hush Your Mouth," "Mona," "Hey Bo Diddley," "You Can't Judge A Book By The Cover" and "Say Man."

The revival of interest in 1950s soul—as reintroduced by the Stones and the Beatles—did Bo little good. The Beatles were heavily influenced by Chuck Berry and the Stones were split between Barry and Diddley (Bo's riff was the basis for their first single, "Not Fade Away").

English and American rock and blues bands continually recorded Bo's songs, yet the generation that listened to the remakes had either never heard of or largely forgotten the originals.

It was not until the late '60s that a full-fledged wave of sentimentality and rediscovery brought on the "oldies" craze, introducing past masters of rock to a new generation.

Elmora Theater screens 'Graffiti'

"American Graffiti," humor-filled, nostalgic film about youth in the early 1960s, opened yesterday at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth, on a double-bill with "The Twelve Chairs." Richard Dreyfuss, Candy Williams, Mackenzie Phillips and Candy Clark have leading roles in "Graffiti," which was directed by George Lucas and photographed in color. Mel Brooks has one of the leads in "Chairs," which he also directed, and which was filmed in color.

'Serpico' booked by Show, Union

"Serpico," the unnerving film drama, with no punches pulled, about an honest cop who blows the whistle on New York police corruption, is the latest screen offering at the Lost Picture Show, 2495 Springfield ave., Union.

Al Pacino plays the title role of Frank Serpico. Sidney Lumet directed the movie, which was photographed in color.

'Papillon' in Rahway

Steve McQueen stars at the Old Rahway Theater, 1601 Irving st., Rahway, in "Papillon," a film drama based on Henri Charriere's tale of inhuman treatment of prisoners in the 1930s French penal colony. Dustin Hoffman also stars. The picture, in color, was directed by Franklin J. Schaffner.

Fox, Maplewood show 'Cinderella Liberty'

"Cinderella Liberty," a mature fable about a sailor on leave and a street girl with whom he falls in love, arrived at two local theaters yesterday: The Maplewood Theater in Maplewood, and the Fox Theater, Route 22, Union.

James Caan, Marsha Mason and Eli Wallach star. The picture, in color, was directed by Mark Rydell.

MEMORIAL DAY

A Time to Remember

...and a time to pay grateful tribute to the men and women, throughout our nation's history, who answered the call to arms when trouble threatened the land... who gave their time, their energy, their courage, and their very lives to protect the principles upon which this country was founded. Today we pause in reverence to recall their sacrifice and renew our own determination that it shall not be in vain...that our American way of life shall grow and flourish for us and for generations to come. It's time to remember, to count our blessings, to cherish our sacred heritage, and put it to productive use.

MEMORIAL DAY

A time of peaceful remembrance

Democracy. Freedom. The American experience and spirit is founded on these words. In times of peril our servicemen have defended this spirit with dedication and courage. Many have given their lives to preserve it. Today, young men from our community are continuing to uphold tradition. Our hearts and thoughts are with them, and with all those men before them.

Memorial Day is a time for quiet reflection. A time to honor our servicemen of past and present. And, as we rekindle the memory of what they have given to their country and to each of us, we also prayerfully work and hope for peace. Across the land there will be parades and speeches of commemoration. It's our way to proudly and reverently give thanks.

Open Heart unit schedules benefit Chinese auction

A group of men and women who have undergone open heart surgery will stage a Chinese auction and sale to raise money for the cardiac surgery fund at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center. The party will be held on Friday, June 14, at 7 p.m. at the Boy's Club, Jeanette avenue, Union.

This will be the second annual auction sponsored by the Open Heart Organization and profits of the affair will be earmarked for research and surgical equipment.

The group which meets monthly at the medical center has been studying first aid for the open heart patient under the guidance of Miss Wanda McGorman, head nurse of the critical cardiac care unit of the medical center and her staff. Miss McGorman, physicians, surgeons and nurses have been active with the organization since its inception two years ago.

Even departmental secretaries have participated in the organization's activities and have donated hours of secretarial time to the group. Last December, the organization's president, Paul Piazza of Bricktown, announced that the year's fund raisers would enable them to donate $5,000 to the medical center.

Incoming officers of the Open Heart Organization will be officially installed on June 10. They are: Frank Paduano, Balmoral avenue, Union, president; William Masnick, Belford, first vice-president; Vito Ognibene, Myrtle avenue, Irvington, second vice-president; Julia Rubenstein, Millburn, treasurer; Mike Asherman, Hillside, assistant recording secretary; Barbara Simmons, Newark, recording secretary; Rosemarie Stirling, Plainfield, corresponding secretary and Jerry Gomer, South Orange, sergeant at arms.

Trustees of the organization are: immediate past president, Piazza; M. Barry Friedman, Livingston; Marion Koser, 41st street, Irvington; Ralph Weidenbaum, Edison and Thomas DeLuca, Scotch Plains.

Exhibit focusing on state's waters

A major exhibition focusing on the importance of water in the state's development and history has opened at the Museum of the New Jersey Historical Society, 230 Broadway, Newark.

The exhibition—"Water in New Jersey History"—shows the influence of waterways, lakes and the ocean upon the state's people and its past. Paintings, prints, photographs, models, drawings, maps, costumes, manuscripts and artifacts all are used in the display.

The exhibition is being held in the Paul L. Traost Gallery of the society's headquarters, which has recently been fully remodeled. The work included the expansion and re-design of Museum galleries together with the complete renovation of administrative areas, the library and its stacks and the building's large Assembly Room.

Among more than 165 items on exhibit is a 27-inch copper model of the first Holland submarine which was built in Paterson, illustrations of the passenger steamer "Sandy Hook" and ferryboat "Elizabeth" and detailed models of two modern container ships operated out of Port Newark by the Farrell and Prudential-Grace Lines, which loaned the models.

Jersey economy parallels U.S.

The New Jersey economy continues to reflect essentially the same weaknesses as those afflicting the nation, Commissioner Joseph A. Hoffman of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry said this week in commenting on the current issue of the Department's monthly business conditions publication, "New Jersey Economic Indicators."

Hoffman added, "The state's short-term outlook is tied so closely to that of the nation that any significant improvement during the second quarter does not seem likely."

The analysis of business conditions, prepared by Director Arthur J. O'Neal of the Department's Division of Planning and Research, discussed the adverse effect on employment of further declines in manufacturing, homebuilding, and consumer spending in March. The report predicted that unemployment might go higher before leveling off in the second half when anticipated rebounds in housing starts and consumer spending were expected to turn the economy on an upward course.

Killens talk slated today

John Oliver Killens, Black novelist, screen writer and lecturer, will discuss "The Black Writer and the Creative Art," today at 1 p.m., at the Gateway Downtown Motor Inn in Newark.

Sponsor of the event, which is free and open to the public, is the African Peoples Consortium, a joint effort of Essex County College and Seton Hall University which presents

You are what you 'think' you ate

It is said "you are what you eat" but two psychologists have found that it is probably more accurate to say you are what you "think" you ate.

Psychologists Orland P. Wooley and Susan C. Wooley of the University of Cincinnati have found that the physical hunger you feel late in the day is probably based on the number of calories you think you had for lunch, not the calories you actually ate.

The researchers also found that the more slowly you eat the meal, the less appetizing dessert is going to look.

In one test, the Wooleys gave subjects liquid lunches of equal size and appearance but one lunch contained only 450 calories while the other had 900. The subjects were not told which was which and later when asked how hungry they felt it was found that actual caloric intake had little influence.

"We have found that what a person believes about ingested food is a powerful determinant of later hunger and intake," the Wooleys reported. "If he thinks a liquid meal is high-calorie he rates his hunger ... later (in the day) lower than if he thinks the meal is low-calorie."

Interestingly, however, the Wooleys found that the appetite of fat people is not diminished by the high-calorie meal. They had large appetites regardless of how many calories they had eaten.

The research was presented at the 45th annual meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association.

Botanist proposes meatless menus

New eating habits could prevent 'food crisis'

In a time when most Americans, feeling the food price pinch, are trying to match incomes to grocery bills, a Rutgers-Newark botanist has proposed the idea that a balanced, nutritionally-sound, meatless diet can be easily and relatively inexpensively prepared to feed millions of people in the U.S.

Dr. Sydney S. Greenfield, professor of botany at the College of Arts and Sciences, contends a diet of legumes and grains, with a variety of vegetables and some fruit and milk, would provide adequate nourishment.

While he says there is nothing wrong with eating meat, he notes the cost of luxury and meat products has risen so much that many American families find it impossible to serve most cuts of meat as often as they would like.

"I think the so-called food crisis we are experiencing will be with us for a very long time," Greenfield said. "Food shortages and high prices are worldwide problems that have been developing over a long period of time. The world's capacity for producing abundant food at reasonable prices has not kept up with the rapid growth of the population and rising expectations in standards of living. There simply is not enough food to feed us all."

Greenfield suggests Americans change their eating habits, eliminating all or most meats, and substituting legumes, such as peas and beans, and grains like wheat, corn and rice as their main sources of protein.

"We must get an adequate supply of protein," he said, "but it is important that the protein we eat contain all of the amino acids essential to human nutrition. Animal proteins, such as we get from meat, eggs and milk contain these, whereas plant proteins generally lack some of the essential amino acids."

"However," he added, "we can get all of the essential amino acids by combining cereals and legumes in our diet. They complement each other."

The botany professor recommends cereals—such as corn, wheat, rice, barley and oats—and legumes—such as peas, beans, lentils, chick peas, soybeans and peanuts, be used in a variety of ways for meals that are not only nourishing but also delicious.

Greenfield doesn't suggest everyone become a vegetarian, however. "On the contrary, if you can afford them and like to eat them, use meat, eggs, fish and poultry," he stated.

"But consider that we have to feed a cow about 20 pounds of plant protein to produce one pound of beef protein, and that on the average for all classes of livestock in the U.S., it takes about eight pounds of plant protein to produce one pound of animal protein to feed man. This is very inefficient. If we are to alleviate world food shortages and keep food costs down, doesn't it make sense that we eat plant proteins directly?"

Food should be tasty and attractive, as well as nourishing, and legumes and cereals can be prepared in a great variety of ways, the botanist said.

"For example, peanut butter on whole wheat bread is a good combination. I find I like a peanut butter and cottage cheese sandwich on whole wheat bread with a glass of non-fat milk for a light meal."

A variety of interesting meals also can be made by combining macaroni or rice with peas or beans. A simple combination, Greenfield suggests, is a bowl of pea soup with whole wheat bread.

Urging the use of creative imagination in preparing tasty dishes from plant products, Greenfield noted vegetarians have been successful at this for a long time. "Fortunately, there are many new recipe books that describe wonderful meatless meals."

He stressed he is not a nutritionist, but as a botanist who teaches a course in "Economic Botany" he has to deal with plant products and their uses to man. A major part of the course deals with food, and of course, botanists are naturally concerned with the world's food population problems.

Greenfield joined the faculty of the State University in 1946. He came from Columbia University where he took both his master's degree and Ph.D., taught and did research work.

For over 28 years, Greenfield has been involved in the development of the Newark College of Arts and Sciences. He founded and developed a botany department, and played a leading role in the development of the NCAS curriculum and the program in teaching education.

During the years 1962-1968 he played a role in the planning of the Newark campus—working with architects and designing the physical layout of buildings and grounds. Greenfield also designed and supervised the landscaping on the grounds of the campus and he continues to be engaged in current landscaping improvements.

However, he is most enthusiastic about his course in "Economic Botany," which has been taken by large numbers of students. This course has enjoyed widespread acclaim in many academic communities in the U.S. and a number of foreign countries.

In addition to teaching, Greenfield has authored and co-authored many articles that have been published in scientific journals; has served on several local and national committees devoted to botanical education and research, and has conducted research in areas of plant physiology.

State street, Trenton, from 8 to 10 p.m. on Saturday, June 1. The exhibition will continue through Labor Day.

Tocks Island dam is opposed by Conservation Foundation

The North Jersey Conservation Foundation has gone on record as opposing construction of the Tocks Island Dam on the Delaware River. In a letter to Gov. Brendan T. Byrne, NJCF executive director David F. Moore strongly urged that "no action to approve another step forward for this project should be taken" until the seven conditions laid down by former Gov. Cahill in 1972 are met...

Cahill's conditions included adoption of state land-use controls in the area and control of nutrient runoff from the upper basin which causes unnaturally rapid growth of algae and reportedly would eventually turn the lake into a swamp. Moore enclosed a copy of his statement to the Delaware River Basin Commission, in which he suggested that the question of allocating the river's water supply be rethought...

The conservationist proposed reversing the Seton Hall FM station starts stereo operation. WSOU, the radio voice of Seton Hall University, has initiated stereo broadcasting at its 2,000-watt station which can be heard at 89.5 on the FM radio dial. The new stereo equipment, which began operating May 13, is enhancing the station's music programs by offering listeners with stereo receivers improved sound.

Funds to purchase the stereo equipment were raised last summer during an on-the-air fundraising "Polkabrator" conducted by Stanley Kosakowski and the staff of WSOU's "Polka Party" program.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

By Pat and Marilyn Davis
Copley News Service

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
 What can I do about my son? He refuses to answer my questions about anything he does. Last Saturday he attended a wedding. I asked what the bride wore, what was served at the reception, what they received as wedding gifts, etc. I couldn't pull one bit of information out of him. What do you think?

Mom

Dear Mom:
 Unless you're writing a book, stop the questioning.

—O—O—

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
 This is going to sound ridiculous, but I am 21 years old and still painfully shy with anyone I haven't known for years. When I was in high school, talking with others was like the Chinese water torture. I spent 90 percent of my time in the school library. Needless to say, my grades were good. At college the situation was a bit better, but dating was horrible. Those silent pauses used to kill them. Consequently, I didn't date much. Now I am working for an attorney and the job is interesting. I enjoy it and the people are nice. My shyness has lessened. Still, beginning a conversation is terribly difficult. At 21, I should be able to talk with people. Can you help?

Silent Sue

Dear Sue:
 Your problem is not unique so at least be comforted in the fact that many others share your plight. Muster all of your courage, smile and greet your coworkers with "Good morning" at the beginning of the day. No long conversation is needed. Most people would rather be talkers and let others listen. Be a good listener and you will be extremely popular in any conversation. There is nothing worse than the nonstop variety. It's the quality not the quantity. Good luck.

—O—O—

Dear Pat and Marilyn:
 Is it strange to want to go to my local college and not 3,000 miles away to father's alma mater? He went to a well-known university, and I have nothing against this school. However, I would like to be a little closer to home for the first year or two. My grades are good and I could get into the university, but right now that much competition does not interest me. My father says that for 18 years he has looked forward to the day when his son would enter this great institution of learning. He thinks that the local junior college is a copout. Just how can I convince him otherwise? My mother says that it is my decision, but she lets my dad rave on. What can I say to him to talk him out of this prejudice?

Tom

Dear Tom:
 Local junior colleges are fine institutions of learning, as is your father's alma mater. You should be allowed to choose where you will complete your education. Perhaps your father would be happier if he thought you would con-

Franklin State president: No link with N.Y. bank

Anthony D. Schobel, president of Franklin State Bank, Somerset, this week reassured depositors that the bank is a completely separate organization from the Franklin National Bank of New York, which is undergoing financial problems.

Franklin State Bank received its charter from the Department of Banking, State of New Jersey; the New York bank is federally chartered. Although the names are similar, existing banking regulations prohibit interstate banking. Franklin State Bank operates 24 branch offices in central New Jersey and currently ranks as one of the top 20 banks in the state. It also has four subsidiary corporations: Franklin Armored Corporation, Franklin Commercial Corporation, Franklin Data Information Corporation and Franklin Mortgage Company; and a newly formed division, the Franklin State Money Shop.

Franklin State Bank was recently cited as the 289th largest bank of 14,000 commercial banks in the United States.
