'Lack of funds' delaying Rt. 22 interchange

By KAREN STOLL
The probability of construction of a major interchange of Rt. 78 and Rt. 22 at New Providence road in Mountainside has decreased, according to information in a letter from the New Jersey Department of Transportation to Muriel L. Jackson, chairwoman of civic projects for the Mountainside Garden Club. But the letter also raised questions on a plan that apparently would pour more traffic onto a highway that is already among the most congested in the nation.

letter, signed by Clifford A. Ellis, supervising engineer, was in reply to a query

Mrs. Jackson's questions on threats to the trees because of possible road reconstruction elicited the following response from Ellis:

"Your letter of May 17, 1974, to Commissioner (Alan) Sagner has been referred to this office for reply. I wish to assure you that the New Jersey Department of Transportation is very interested in the esthetic quality of all necessary for the department to do any work that would disturb the existing landscaping along Rt. 22 in Mountainside, then all feasible steps will be taken to restore the appearance of the area. This would include the transplanting of the dogwood trees when possible. Where this is not advantageous due to size, disease, or season, our landscape bureau will provide for new trees.

"I am sure you are aware that the state has just completed the replacement of the barrier curb on Rt. 22. The department does not have any other active design projects for this area at

Rt. 22 interchange complex at New Providence road and Mountain avenue has been placed on a hold basis due to lack of funds

"The only other project that would affect this section of Rt. 22 is a study being made that would combine Rt. 78 and Rt. 22 within the Rt. 22 corridor. This study is being made to evaluate the environmental effects of a combined roadway on adjacent properties.

"I hope that this answers your questions concerning the dogwood trees and the possible effects any future department projects may

Ellis' notation that the Rt. 22-New Providence road interchange has been shelved because of a lack of funds is apparently the first concrete reason given by the department as to why plans for the construction, which caused concern in the town when introduced two years ago, have been delayed.

When that project was unveiled at a special public hearing in September 1972, borough citizens were treated to a view of a major highway complex which would further divide the community into segments bordered by the high-speed roadways. The plans, which in-the construction of several feeder roads, also would have necessitated the state's taking the Echobrook School property and at least a dozen private properties.

Now, apparently, more than second thoughts are being given to the proposals—but hints of more problems to come lie in the third paragraph of Ellis' letter, where he discusses he possibility of a combination route between Rt. 22 and Rt. 78.

Top students at Dayton Regional win Bicentennial flag to fly in borough honors in annual high school program

Mountainside will be officially munity" Saturday at 2 p.m. by a member of the National Bicentennial Commission. The ceremony will be held at the Mountainside Library.

The Bicentennial flag-and-a-certificate commemorating the occasion will be presented to Mayor Thomas Ricciardi. The flag is flown only by those com-munities officially designated as Bicentennial communities and Mountainside is planning to fly the flag in a prominent outdoor position to signify its pride in receiving this honor. Rep. Matthew Rinaldo, State Sen. Peter. McDonough and Harrison B. Williams and Clifford Case have been invited and are expected to attend the ceremony. Members of the Cultural and Heritage Commission and the public this week were urged to attend.

It ended with nearly half the agenda still untouched, forcing the scheduling of a second— June meeting, Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the usual site, the Deerfield School cafeteria.

This week's meeting, with about 40 residents in attendance, began with the approval of an agenda revision, making the superintendent of schools' report the first order of business. followed by the audience discussion period. The action was prompted by complaints levied last month that, with Dr. Levin Hanigan's report placed late in the agenda, most parents were forced to remain until after 11 p.m. to hear discussion on educational matters.

The revision, made as an experiment, was approved over only one dissenting vote, cast by Patricia Knodel. She suggested the board consider holding three public meetings a month, with a three-hour time limit on each. No vote was taken on that question, but the fact it was one of the few subjects which did not produce much debate—could be an indication the board might decide to take that action.

A MAJOR PORTION of Hanigan's report dealt with approval of summer school classes and a salary scale for teachers in that board adjourned for a half-hour caucus session, set un the following pay schedule: a flat fee of $500 for teachers with one to three years of experience; $575 for four to six years; $650 for seven to 10 years, and $750 for more than 10

The board voted to make the postkindergarten summer school class tuition-free, as had been requested by parents. The prekindergarten sessions remain as "enrichment classes," for which payment is required.

Bulk gold, silver stolen from firm

An estimated $100,000 worth of bulk gold and silver was reported stolen over the weekend from a Mountainside jewelry manufacturing firm by burglars who managed to bypass an automatic alarm system before breaking through the cinderblock wall of a large vault.

Borough police said the theft at Schmid & Son Co., 1012 S. Springfield ave., was discovered at 7:15 a.m. Monday by the firm's owner, Carl Schmid of Nutley, who arrived at work to find empty jewelry trays scattered across the floor of the offices. Police said the building had been unoccupied since Friday evening.

The gold and silver, most of it in raw form, was removed from the vault after the thieves cut their way through a 12-inch cinderblock (Continued on page 4)

INNOVATIVE PROGRAM — Sorah M. Donelan (left), principal of Our Lady of Lourdes School, discusses plans for multi-age kindergarten with program director Carol Welsch. Mrs. Welsch, who formerly taught kindergarten at St. Teresa's School, Summit, was nominated as 'outstanding Teacher of the Year' for her work there.

Multi-age kindergarten class planned by parochial school

Our Lady of Lourdes School has announced further expansion of its pre-school education class to include a multi-age program for 3 to 6year-olds. The project will be under the direction of Carol Welsch, who comes to OLL from St. Teresa's School in Summit, where she was nominated as "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" in a national organization for her work in heading the St. Teresa's kindergarten.

Mrs. Welsch has had experience with multiage kindergartens and believes them to be superior to the regular concept of kindergarten. "It has been proven that the most important period of life is the period from birth to age six, for this is the time when intelligence is formed. At no other age has the child greater need of an intelligent help," she noted.

When asked why she preferred mixed age groups, Mrs. Welsch said a child can grow as his interests lead him from one level of complexity to another. Having children ages 3-6 together permits the younger children a graded

Dem candidates list 2 objectives

Following last week's primary contest, the Mountainside Democrats seeking terms on the Borough Council lost no time in getting their campaign underway. Minutes after the ballots were tallied, Albert D'Amanda and Frank

Gagliano issued the following statement:
"As the nominated Democratic candidates for Borough Council, we will wage a vigorous door-to-door campaign throughout Mountainside with two objectives of equal importance in mind. The first is to carry our message to the people through our platform, stating the issues as we view them-and the second is to listen to the concerns of the individual citizen.

series of models for imitation, and the older ones an opportunity to reinforce their own knowledge by helping the younger ones, she

A sensitive period for writing and reading often begins at 419 to 519 years. Although a child has had experiences that prepare him for writing and reading before this, everything may suddenly "click" at this age, she noted. On self-discipline, Mrs. Welsch states that it should be acquired gradually through absorption in meaningful work. When a child becomes vitally interested in a particular classroom activity, his behavior almost always matures, she explained. If a child misbehaves, the teacher helps him to select work which will more fully absorb his attention. As he learns to concentrate, he also learns to tune out distractions, and because he is motivated, he learns what it is to follow through. Once this begins to happen, the ability to control himself becomes something he can transfer to social situations.

Mrs. Welsch feels it is exciting to have 3 to 6year olds growing together, since this approach, with its emphasis on learning, can be particularly effective in preparing children for a changing and challenging society.

Mrs. Welsch received her B.S. degree in education from Penn State in 1963 and has done graduate work at Seton Hall University. She will receive her M.A. degree in child development from Fairleigh Dickinson University this year. She has had 10 years of teaching experience, including three years in Montessori Schools, and she includes some Piaget-Montessori concepts in her classroom approach. She is the mother of two daughters. Stephanie and Meredith.

On Thursday, June 20 at 10 a.m., Sarah M. Donelan, the principal of OLL, and Mrs. Welsch will be available at the school to meet parents and children and to answer questions on the program. Kindergarten classes will be held in the morning from 9 to 11:30; but transportation will be available. Registration will continue throughout this month,

Explaining the overall educational concepts of Our Lady of Lourdes School, Miss Donelan stated: "As a Catholic school, our main objective is to continually develop programs which will provide experiences that will strengthen each student's intellectual, social. physical and moral development. We believe character development is as important as intellectual achievement, so we stress spiritual and moral values. This is a Christian school. A child doesn't have to be Catholic to attend."

Dems set date for champagne

Albert W. D'Amanda, president of the Mountainside Democratic Club, has announced that the annual Democratic Club champagne party will be held on Saturday, Sept. 14.

D'Amanda stated, "This early announcement is made so that individuals can mark their calendar and plan their fall social schedule accordingly. Our champagne party has become a Mountainside tradition. It not only gives the citizens an opportunity to meet and talk with the local candidates on an informal, social level, but also provides a source of funds to support the local Mountainside campaign. As in the past county, state and national Democratic Party notables are invited as guests of

Red Cross cites poll on need for blood donations

Mrs. Edward W. Love, chairman of the blood program for the Mountainside-Westfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, in reporting on plans for the blood bank to be held at the Westfield Presbyterian Church on June 26 from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m., added that "today polls are being taken on many subjects. A recent public opinion poll was taken by Louis Harris Associates as a service to Red Cross.'

Mrs. Love said that the survey "indicated that of five organizations serving the American community the Red Cross was considered to provide the most important services. Of a list of activities which are performed by various public service organizations, the survey showed that 86 percent of those interviewed rated distributing and collecting blood as the third most important activity.

"The study also indicated that men have a greater interest in giving blood than do women and that younger people, under 25, are higher givers than older groups.

"The purpose of the study, taken during the period of Sept. 20 to Oct. 5, 1973, was to measure public attitudes toward the American Red Gross: The 1,611 persons interviewed represented a national cross-section of adults 18 and over. Each interview lasted about 30

A telephone call to the chapter office at 321 Elm st., Westfield, 232-7090, may be made to make an appointment for donating blood on Wednesday, June 26, Mrs. Love said.

determine handicaps in pre-schoolers that could cause learning difficulties. Hanigan, noting Mountainside was the only community in Union County to successfully complete its portion of the survey effort, said about 20 percent of the parents responding indicated they thought their youngsters might have handicaps—with the most prevalent being sight, hearing or speech difficulties.

The board granted his request to apply for a state grant to conduct a follow-up program, entailing the setting of physical examinations, with parents' approval, to determine how accurate their diagnoses are, and study of what type of learning program could be developed to aid the children

The board also voted to apply for inclusion in the state's Right to Read project, which would bring an educational team into the borough schools to evaluate the reading program.

An experimental project, the Think Program, aimed at aiding youngsters with learning difficulties, particularly in the language arts area, was ordered terminated because test results did not prove it to be as effective as had been hoped.

Approved was participation in a state health project to control German measles and strep throat infections. Under the plan, the state will send questionnaires to parents to find out whether or not their children have had the inoculations. It could result in a free vaccine program for borough youngsters.

In other action, the following appointments for the 1974-75 term were approved: school doctor, Dr. Theodore Lorenc, $1,500; school dentist, Dr. Irwin Greenbaum, $850; school psychiatrist, Dr. William Ganss, $4,800 aximum. A vote on salary increases for Hanigan, board secretary John McDonough, language arts coordinator Helen Sutter and school psychologist Gwendolyn McCarthy was postponed until Wednesday's session.

The board also approved awarding of a contract for Deerfield School roof repairs to Industrial Resurfacing Co., Inc., East Paterson, which was low bidder at $24,350. provided it submits a letter from its materials' supplier vouching for the quality of its products, which differ from those listed in the specifications.

All discussion at Tuesday's session was recorded on tape, a practice the board will experiment with for two months. It had been prompted by Trudy Palmer's suggestion the recordings would provide a more complete and specific accounting of board actions than do the written minutes. The tapes are being held in McDonough's office; the board voted unanimously they may not be taken from there without prior board approval.

Heights, with construction progressing steadily from Springfield east to its terminus at Newark International Airport, has yet to see work begin Mountainside

Two weeks ago, the department announced that because of negative response to its Environmental Impact Statement on the highway's effects on the ecology of the Watchung Reservation and surrounding area, it was restudying alignment of the road. Among the listed alternatives to the cross-Reservation alignment was "utilization of portions of the Rt. 22 corridor south of the Watchung Reservation"-which is apparently the same plan Ellis is discussing.

No details of that proposal have been offered, and aside from Ellis' singling out this plan in his letter, no other indication has been given as to which is the favored rerouting. (Among the other proposals are a tunnel scheme for a portion of the parkland; a more southerly route in Berkeley Heights and Summit; a northerly alignment near Mountain avenue; and various modification of the original layout, with and without interchanges.)

In any case, the interchange complex at New Providence road reportedly is dying a quiet death because of the money pinch, but that should provide little reassurance to the Mountainside residents—if, in fact, its can cellation will mean a Rt. 78-Rt. 22 combination road that would bring even more traffic through the heart of the community.

Ditzel awarded prize for design

OXFORD, Ohio - Miami University architecture student, one an individual, the second a group, won top national honors in the recent National Student Competition on Correctional Architecture.

Graduating senior James Ditzel Jr. of Mountainside, N.J., won top honors in a field of competitors that included most major architecture schools in the country.

Ditzel won in the design part of the competition for his planning of a regional intake service center, working on the project with Cincinnati architect Woodie Garber, currently a visiting professor at Miami and the author of the "Garber Report" on the new master plan for revision of Hamilton County's correctional system. The center, a new concept in corrections planning, focuses upon the problem of pretrial detention of accused offenders.

Ditzel is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, N.J., and is the son of W. J. Ditzel, 1354 Stony Brook lane, pronunciation of English to non-native speakers will be the subject of a conference to be held Saturday and Sunday at Union College,

The conference, sponsored by the Division of Special Services and Continuing Education, is designed to introduce the "THRICE Technique for Accent Correction" to Eastern educators who work with adults for whom English is a second language, according to Mrs. Helen Aron, coordinator of ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) programs at Union College. "The new technique," she said. "is currently in use in California and has proved highly successful."

The conference will be conducted by Mrs. Patricia Regdon, originator of the THRICE technique. She is currently director of Speech Reconditioning Systems of San Jose, Calif. Some 30 educators from New York and New Jersey are expected to attend the conference. THRICE refers to the six general rules that the program encompasses - Tongue position. Hold and dip important vowels in important words, Reduce all other sounds, Intone the phrase, Contrast the stress and Elide or separate the words.

There is a minority of non-native speakers who may master the English language, but who are not understood because of their accents,

"This can handicap their economic and social mobility," she noted.

Rinaldo cites opposition to income tax proposal

this week called for defeat of the state income tax proposed by the Byrne Administration.

Saying adoption of such a tax would backfire on working men and women, the former twoterm state senator said the modest relief promised for property taxes in Union County would not compensate for the loss of personal income. "An income tax would also encourage the state to embark on a new round of spending programs in the next few years," he added.

Despite immediate promises of property tax relief to sell this program to the Democratic majority in the state legislature, Rep. Rinaldo said the public has a deep sense of foreboding that another tax will soak them-in the end Although a state income tax is a problem for the New Jersey legislature. Congressman Rinaldo said he felt compelled to join other Republicans in New Jersey in speaking out

"We've read reports that state spending would increase by another billion dollars, including a half billion dollars more for education. What worries me is that this is only the start of a new round of inflationary spen-ding at a time when New Jersey wage earners are having serious difficulty in holding the family budget together," Rep. Rinaldo said in a letter to the Young Republicans.

Congressman Rinaldo said that the people of Union County are unwilling to surrender control of education to Trenton and that many of them fear this will happen as the state starts handing out half of the money for local

"The State Education Department, which already exercises a high degree of influence over local school construction and education standards, will inevitably jump in with both feet and impose its views and decisions on teacher contracts, classroom studies, pupil assignments and local school budgets. We've already seen plenty of evidence of this as cuts in local school budgets are overruled by the state education commissioner," Congressman

He urged the GOP minority bloc in the Legislature to fight the income tax and to develop a counter strategy, including a reform of the state property tax laws to more fairly shift the burden off middle income taxpayers

Levin suggests county hearings on Jersey taxes

Democratic Congressional candidate Adam K. Levin has urged Union County's three state senators to hold immediate public hearings on Gov. Byrne's tax reform program before the legislature makes a final decision on the proposed state income tax.

"I appreciate the need for speed in complying with the court's January 1975 deadline for revising the method of funding public education in New Jersey and providing a thorough and efficient system of education for our children," Levin said in letters to State Senators Thomas Dunn of Elizabeth, Alexander Menza of Hillside and Peter McDonough of Plainfield.

"However, the income tax proposal, regardless of its merits or drawbacks, has sparked so much confusion and controversy among the residents of New Jersey, and even among the legislators in Trenton, that I think it's necessary for everyone to have an opportunity to learn about and speak out on the

The 12th District, Union County candidate said the state's financial crisis stems in large degree from the failure of Congress to allocate adequate federal funding for education. "On the average, the 50 states are now receiving only about eight percent of their education expenditures from the federal government, although New Jersey, for some curious reason, is only receiving about six percent in federal funds," Levin continued. "I would support Congressional action to increase federal funding to at least 20 percent of a state's educational needs.

Greenwood gains placement position at Union College

The appointment of Douglas T. Greenwood of Brooklyn as coordinator of academic placement at Union College, Cranford, was announced this week by Prof. Elmer Wolf, dean of the college.

Greenwood, former director of the Union County College Admissions and Information Center, will be responsible for all placement testing of students entering Union College.

The college currently tests students for placement in English, foreign language and mathematics courses. Non-native Englishspeaking students are also tested for placement in English for Speakers of Other Languages

The role of placement tests has become increasingly important, Wolf noted, as the opportunity to attend college is extended to people with a wider range of academic backgrounds than were accepted in the past.

Greenwood is a graduate of Pace College and holds a master's degree in educational psychology from New York University. He was formerly assistant director of admissions and freshman-finalcial aid at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn and has also been an admissions counselor at Pace College.

Greenwood is a member of the Middle States Association of Collegiate Registrars and Officers of Admissions, the National Association of College Admissions Counselors, the New York State Personnel and Guidance Association, and the Union County Personnel and Guidance Association.

"He has not disappointed me-or the more than 120,000 residents who voted for him in 1972. If anything, he has demonstrated that the faith I had in him was well founded."

Mrs. Dwyer, who served 16 years in the House, said "Matt Rinaldo is an outstanding young legislator with a progressive outlook.

She said Rinaldo had "clearly established his intention of being a serious legislator. He has carried on the fight I began for enactment of consumer protection and campaign reform legislation. His has been a voice of integrity during a time when the public is desperately searching for public officials in whom they can have faith and confidence."

Inter Giuliana edged the Greek Americans, 3-2, in the second half of their two-game series last Sunday at Randall's Island but the Greek booters take the series 5-4 on total goals. The Greeks won the National Challenge Cup two weeks ago and now are also the champions of the GASL.

There were 8,000 fans on hand because it was the preliminary to the Cosmo vs. Philadelphia game and the left fullback of the Greek Americans struck the linesman. The linesman was replaced but the player was allowed to stay in the game. The fans really had something to scream about but it didn't do any good.

The New York Cosmos forced the league champions, Philadelphia Atoms, into the tiebreaker of penalty shooting and came out on top of a 3 - 4 score to give them their first victory over the Philadelphia eleven, 1-0. second place in that division. TODAY IS the day of all days for soccer fans around the globe. It is the opening day of the World Cup championships in Frankfurt Germany. After the inaugural ceremonies, the national teams of Brazil and Yugoslavia will get the ball rolling in a Group II match. Brazil s the defending champion, having won the cup in Mexico in 1970. Zaire (the Congo) and Scotland are the other two teams in this group. Although Brazil does not have Pele and a few of the last World Cup players I think they will emerge as the leaders in this group.

The Spanish Network will present 25 of the World Cup matches live via satellite from Germany and shown at Madison Square Garden on giant screens in color. Today's telecast will start at 10 a.m. with the inaugural ceremonies and the game at noon. Tomorrow at 11 a.m. it will be West Germany vs. Chile in a Group I match. East Germany and Australia round out Group I, with West Germany as the team to beat.

Tickets for all these games can be bought at any of the 150 Ticketron outlets, including the ones at Bamberger's in Plainfield and at the Livingston Mall here in our area.

Two double-headers are set up for Saturday in MSG and in the Felt Forum. Both will start at 11 a.m. with Uruguay vs. Netherlands. The second game at 1 p.m. will be Italy vs. Haiti or Argentina vs. Poland, depending where you go

Tuesday it will be Brazil vs. Scotland or Yugoslavia vs. Zaire. Both of these games will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday will have Italy vs. Argentina or Poland vs. Haiti, both at 2:30 p.m.

Group III teams are Netherlands, Uruguay Sweden and Bulgaria, and Group IV is Haiti, Italy, Poland and Argentina. I expect to see the Dutch team go all the way to the top of Group III, and if Johan Cruyff stays healthy they can go to the finals. Group IV should go to Italy, but Poland will give them trouble because they are 50 and 100-yard dashes, with times of 6.9 and 13.1, respectively, and the running long jump with a leap of 13'9". Laney Schiller, running in the Junior Girls' division (for 12 and 13), won the 50 and 220-yard races, with times of 6.7 and 29.3, and finished second in the 100-yard dash.

Jay Fine, in Junior Boys, was another triple medal winner, capturing a pair of silver medals in the 100 and 220 sprints, and winning a gold medal running the anchor leg for Springfield's victorious boys' 440-yard relay team. Pete Keramas, Jeff Knowles and Ricky Speizer combined with Fine to post a winning time of 54.0, outdistancing the second-place team by 50 yards.

Lynn Rile (midget girls) took a first in standing long jump with a distance of 6'6", and also won a bronze medal in the baseball throw. Perri Teitelbaum won the gold medal in the bantam girls' baseball throw, throwing 103' while in the Junior Boys' competition Neil Meisel and Israel Joseph won gold medals in the triple jump and the high jump, leaping 30'9" and 4'5", respectively.

Adam Joseph was the fourth Springfield competitor to win three medals, finishing second in the Midget Boys' division 50-yard dash, high jump and 6-lb. shotput. Mike Berliner and Catherine Markwith, both bantams, each won a pair of silvers, Mike in the 50 and baseball throw and Catherine in the standing long jump and 50-yard dash. Jerry Blabolii (Midget Boys) took second in the 100, and won a second silver medal as part of the 440-yard relay team, along with Eddie Francis, Rich Petrucelli and Matthew Smith.

Other silver medal winners in the bantam vision were Elliot Wolfson in the 100 and Walter Clarke in the standing long jump. Junior silver medalists included Barbara Bongiovanni in the high jump, Mike Gwirtzman in the long jump and Billy Young in the shot

Bronze medals went to the midget girls' 440yard relay team, consisting of Stephanie Cohn, Lynn Murray, Anne Marie Cook and Judi Hockstein, and Betsy Wright in the junior girls' running long jump

This Saturday, all gold medalists will travel to Princeton's Palmer Stadium to represent Springfield in the state championship meet for the AAU Junior Olympics.

Crestmont, Legion gain in first two playoff games

The Springfield Youth Major Leagues began their annual playoffs, this past week, with American Legion and Crestmont Savings establishing themselves as the teams to beat. Legion and Crestmont won their first two games in the playoffs.

Legion took its opener against Jaynes Trucking, 11-6, and then knocked off divisional champion PBA, 10-8. Crestmont defeated Lions Club, 12-2, and turned back defeated American Division champ Scappy's, 3-1.

American Legion trailed Jaynes by one run after one half inning, but scored twice on Ken Bell's two run single in the bottom of the first. Legion scored five more runs in the second frame four of which scored on Dan Pepe's grand slam home run. Javnes battled back in their second on key hits by Louis Herkalo, Barry Sherman, Steve Lerner, and Pat Paccotos triple. Legion scored twice in both the fourth and fifth innings on hits by Russ Albert, Jon Siegal and Neal Tepper, and Dan Pepe's second homerun. Mitch Gimelstob pitched the last four frames for Legion not allowing Jaynes a single hit, Mitch also went three for three at American Legion's second victory came two nights later over the PBA, 10-8. Legion went in front early on hits by Mitch Gimelstob, Roy Zitomer, Ken Bell, and Howard Doppelt. They added two more runs in the third when after two walks Jon Siegal trippled. The PBA battled back on many walks and an error to make it a 5-3 game after three. Legion this time added runs on walks and miscues in the field to up their ead to 8-3. The PBA rallied once again to tie the score this time going to the sixth. Ken Bell put the game away for Legion with a two out two run homer to deep center thus the 10-8 final.

Mike Clarke supplied the hitting and pitching for Crestmont along with Dan Kirshner who shared the pitching and collected two hits himself as Crestmont handed Lions Club their only setback of the week, 12-2. Key hits for Crestmont were delivered by Mark Boettcher, Mitch Toland, Bob Markstein and the above mentioned pair of Clarke, and Kirshner. The Lions were led at the plate by Mike Silver, Craig Clickenger, and Jeff Snyderlasing via a 3-1 score over Scappy's. The game was scoreless over the first two frames, but in Crestmont's third Jack Rawlins led off with a deep homerun to left field. Mike Clarke followed Rawlins at bat and connected on a triple also to deep left, he scored on Bob Markstein's single to make it two-nothing. Markstein later scored on a fielders choice, that ended the scoring until the Scappy sixth Fold Melamed, and Kevin Karp both singled to account for Scappy's only tally.

Scappy's defeated Rotary Club, 12-8. Kevin Karp's three hits and four RBI were too much for Rotary to handle. Dave Vargas, Tom. Rufalo, and Jeff Vargas were the hitting stars for Rotary. Ty Parker also made some excellent plays in the outfield for Rotary.

Lions Club stayed alive and eliminated Rotary, 8-5, behind the pitching of Mike Silver and Jeff Kronert. Lions scored twice in the first on hits by Mike Silver, Jerry O'Brien, Steve Kessler, and Jeff Kronert. Ray Rappuana, Jim Craner, and Peter Prete supplied Lions with late inning hits to preserve the victory. Rotary was led at the plate by Dave Vargas, Tom Rufalo, Mike Lieb, Kevin Englehart, Jerry Blabolil, and Todd Leonard, the last three mentioned each had two hits.

Jayne's Trucking stayed alive by defeating, and eliminating, Halper Bros. by a 22-8 score. The score wasn't close but the hitting was Jayne's collected 21, while Halper had 17. Hitting stars were Barry Sherman, Pat Paccoto. Dave Kirshenbaum, Jon Levine and John Gambrino for Hayne's. Halper was led by Mark Ackerman, Mitch Feuer, Steve Geltman and Dean Pashian.

Halper's first loss of the week came at the hands of the PBA, 6-3. Rich Cederquist, and Mark D'Agostini shared the pitching for PBA, allowing two hits, to Halper's Steve Geltman and Dave Wasserman, They combined to strike out 14. Hitting stars for the PBA were Tony Sangregorio, Mark D'Agostini, Randy Baun, and Rich Cederquist. Glenn Klink's fine defensive plays helped preserve the game for

Dangers in flying kites Ben Franklin took chances

"Although flying a kite is considered a relatively innocuous sport," says Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Insurance Companies," to be truly safe the sport requires a bit more caution than you might imagine.

You're all familiar with Charles Brown's hopeless ineptitude in keeping his kite airborne," says Costa, "but the hazards are not only to the kite itself." The safety director suggests the following safety procedures when indulging in this sport: 1. Since telephone and power lines seem to have a veritable magnetic attraction for kites. fly them in a level, open area where they have plenty of room to maneuver.

2. Should the kite become entangled in power lines, leave it. The loss of the kite is not so important as avoiding a risk to your life in recovering it. 3. Ben Franklin's famous experiment notwithstanding, kites should be flown only in dry weather. A wet string can conduct electricity from power lines—and even guide a lightning bolt from the sky-to the person at the end of that string.

4. Never use string containing any metallic fibers, tinsel or wire. Such a string can act precisely as a wet string under dangerous electrical circumstances.

5. Because of electrical danger, kites should not be flown over radio or television aerials

6. Though it's fun to watch the kite take off into the air, be wary about running backwards while getting it aloft. You might run into trees. walls or heavy traffic.

"And it should go without saying," Allstate's safety director concludes, "that in kite-flying season, if you are out driving, keep an eye out for children dashing headlessly into your path while trying to get their kites aloft."

PICKS OF THE LPS ... "TWENTY SONGS OF THE CENTURY," arranged, conducted and musically designed by Michel Legrand (BELL-4200).

Michel Legrand's album is a distinctive reflection of the great music of this century and the versatility of one of the century's greatest musicians. The deluxe, two-record set, Bell's first quadraphonic release, is a collection of "super hits," including: "St. Louis Blues,"
"My Man," "Charleston," "Mack the Knife,"
"Malaguena," "Stormy Weather," "Solitude,"
"Summertime," "Begin the Beguine," "Cheek to Cheek," "My Funny Valentine," "Over the Rainbow," "How High the Moon," "Laura," "Autumn Leaves," "One Note Samba," "Moon River," "I'll Wait for You," "Yesterday" and "Bridge over Troubled Waters." ...

Maurice Chevalier insists that he discovered Legrand, Barbra Streisand adores him. Simone Signoret calls him "the kid." Nadia Boulanger, probably the world's most distinguished teacher of music, considers him her "star"

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in 1965 accorded him the unique distinction of nominating him for three different awards for his score for the "Umbrellas of Cherbourg" and then followed through in 1968, 1969, 1970 and 1971 with nominations for the best song award. "The Windmills of Your Mind" won in 1969. "Summer of '42" won in 1972. Legrand also wrote the Emmy Awardwinning score for "Brian's Song."

Michel Jean Legrand is the son of the wellknown arranger, conductor and pianist. Raymond Legrand. At the age of 11, Michel entered the Paris Conservatory and emerged (nine years later) with top honors in composition and as a solo pianist. In the interim period he did odd obs (at the age of 15) orchestrating for French radio, serving as accompanist for well-known singers and playing jazz piano in French night clubs.

At the age of 22, he arranged and conducted the alubm, "I Love Paris," which became one of the best-selling instrumental albums ever released in the United States.

Legrand's subsequent albums (nearly 50 of them) established him as one of the most gifted virtuoso orchestrators in the world. In the late 1950s Legrand turned to composing, particularly for films, and has composed, conducted and orchestrated the scores of more than-50-motion-pictures.

Pollution agency gains U.S. grant

Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo this week announced a federal grant of $79,200 to continue the Suburban Air Pollution Commission's clean air enforcement program in Union, Hillside and 12 suburban Essex communities, including Irvington.

The grant under the Clean Air Act is part of a total project cost of $132,000 to enable all of the communities to comply with clean air stan-

In addition to Union, Irvington and Hillside. the other communities covered by the Suburban Air Pollution Commission are the Oranges, Maplewood, Livingston, Belleville, Bloomfield, Caldwell, Nutley and Verona

The commission has its headquarters at 49 at 49 Mount Pleasant ave., West Orange.

Brennan named to lead workshop for teen theater

Company, has been named to head the Summer Theater Workshop for teens at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey, West Orange, it was announced this week by Mona Berman. chairman of the Children's Drama Committee at the Y.

Usually open only to junior high students, the workshop will this year accept registrations from teens in the seventh through 12th grades.

The Summer Theater Workshop offers teenagers opportunities for learning all aspects of theater arts while preparing for a production to take place at the end of the summer in the Maurice Levin Theater at the Y.

Brennan has made numerous appearances on and off Broadway, on television, in films and has directed theater companies throughout the east. He has directed the world premieres of two Tennessee Williams'-plays for the ANTA Matinee Series and is a winner of the best new musical award by Theater Arts Magazine. He also is a member of the Director's Unit of the Actors Studio

As an actor, he has toured with Henry Fonda and performed with Dustin Hoffman, Viveca Lindfor's and numerous other stars.

Founder and chairman of the Theater Arts Department of Oberlin College, Brennan has taught at Marymount College, the University of Delaware and Amherst College, and has been a professional in residence at the McCarter Theater (Princeton University), the State University of New York at Buffalo and Williams College. In New York, he has taught at the Hagen-Berghof Studio and Circle-in-the Square. Brennan is a recipient of a Ford fellowship and Helmont award.

The Summer Teen Theater runs for six weeks from July I through Aug. 9 and its open to Y members only. The workshop meets on Monday through Thursday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Registration is limited and those interested in participating are required to call 736-3200, ext. 14, as soon as possible the United States, headed by Commander Norman Sperber, and its Ladies Auxiliary. headed by Ann Sorenstein, will sponsor a games and salami party at the East Orange.

Both officers have urged a big turnout by members noting they have been informed by hospital officials that there will be at least 100 patients to be fed that evening. Future plans call for trips to Lyons Veterans Hospital, and the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers,

SITUATION IN HAND - Turtle Back Zoo keepers dust one of the piglets at the Children's Zoo while onlookers display mixed emotions. The zoo recently changed its policy and now allows all children up to 12 free admittance when accompanied by an adult. Williams backing scholarship plan

Washington--U.S. Senator Harrison Al Williams (D-NJ) said this week he has joined io sponsoring legislation which would estables a permanent scholarship program as a memorial to former President Harry S. Truman⁽¹⁾

This would be a living memorial that would in many ways be more meaningfulf than simply constructing another Building," Williams said. "President Trumail had deep feeling for young people, as well as profound respect for the value of education," he added. "I'm sure he would have heartily approved of the idea of a memorial scholarship fund."

Williams said the bill, which was referred for study to the Labor and Public Welfare Committee of which he ischairman, has widespread. bi-partisan support. The measure would provide for the annual awarding of four-year scholarships to 51 young people who are preparing for careers in government.

Benefits of training stressed in Guard recruitment drive

Department of Defense, Major General Wilfred C. Menard, announced this week that the New Jersey Army National Guard will be accepting applications from high school and technical school graduates for military training programs from this Saturday through June 30. 'We are looking for dedicated, young men and women who want an opportunity to join an organization where they can learn or improve their skills and earn a good part-time salary." Gen.-Menard said.

The Guard has named this two-week recruiting program "Operation Opportunity." The Guard has nearly 300 vacancies currently.

Persons who enlist may receive training in such trades as photography, newspaper writing, broadcasting, automotive mechanics, craft maintenance and mechanics, processing, switchboard operations, light and heavy construction and transportation.

While learning these skills, a new recruit will receive a starting pay of $43.48 for a Saturday-Sunday training assembly. A Guardsman attends one of these 16-hour weekend training periods each month and also participates in a two-week field training period every year. Base pay for the annual training is $163.05. Menard said he is particularly interested in enlisting females. Recruiting of women is a new dimension of the National Guard. There are 26 women currently serving in the New Jersey Army National Guard. There are openings for females from the grade of private to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

SEVEN LITTLE JOYS OF HAWAII

Island Resume

There is an obliging little airline in Honolulu that will give you a flightseeing tour of the seven main islands of the Hawaiian Island chain, that will include an island that has 22,000 varieties of orchids, another with a mini-Grand Canyon, islands with skiing slopes or swimming beaches, others with jungle lushness or lava barreness, live volcanoes or extinct volcanoes, forests or fields, wildernesses or cultivated plantations, tall waterfalls with perpetual rainbows or dry wastelands with boiling fire-filled craters, citified concrete or countryside green-and they will do it in a single day.

Hawaiian Air Tour Service, or HATS, will take you over one of the most scenic 900 milesin-a-row that this world has to offer, and if your time is limited, it will be the only way you will be able to catch a glimpse of all the big seven Hawaiian islands and get some small idea of the abundant and varied beauty to be had. It is a shame to hurry it so, of course, but it is far better than not seeing it at all.

LANAI, the first island to be reached on the HATS all-day tour, is best described as an island that is a pineapple plantation. It is, as a matter of fact, known as the "Pineapple Island," and there seems to be no doubt about it. Huge squares of the fruit, in all stages of growth, practically cover the island. Outside of a 3,370-foot mountain, most of the island is soft, rolling hills and slopes.

Where the great pineapple planations are there seem to be no trees. It is patchwork quilt beauty. Row after row of pineapple geometrics stretch as far as the eye can see; all quite precise and beautifully done. From the air, it really does look like a great patchwork quilt, fluffed up here and there by some gigantic hand, but not a stitch out of place anywhere. I don't suppose a weed or a wild flower would stand a chance here. It would be doled-ooh-

The island was once used for cattle grazing, but now is owned solely by one company for the raising of the fruit.

KAHOOLAWE, the next island to pass under our eyes, is possibly the least known, and perhaps the least beauteous. It is known, unfortunately, as the "Isle of Death," which doesn't help matters, and is used as a practice bombing range for the Air Force, which certainly doesn't help the island. But it is also mostly a barren island with poor soil, and about the only other use ever made of it was as a cattle range. Now there are not even cattle there, nor people, just emptinesses and a high spot of 1,444 feet. In its very barreness. however, there is a certain beauty, but that does not appeal to many, and "flightseeing" is the only practical way to visit it.

HAWAII, the great island, comes next. It is known simply as the "Big Island" and for good reason. It is the biggest island in the Hawaiian group, containing more than half the total land area of all the islands, and is the place of the historic Hawaiian kings. It is beautiful. There are such things as Hawaii as the

WAIKIKI BEACH CLOSE-UP hotel window, the fine, white-sanded Waikiki Beach is a tempting delight. It extends from Diamond Head at the rear of the picture, to Honolulu. An older wing of a beach hotel is at the world's largest active volcano rising to 13,680 feet; skiing-yes skiing on snow-on the slopes of even higher, but dormant, Mauna Kea; vast bamboo forests, giant fern forests, a waterfall with almost a perpetual rainbow; some of the world's biggest ranches, the famous Kona coffee plantation, sugar plantations, spectacular lava flows-and 22,000 varieties of orchids in the jungles

From our little HATS plane we even get an awesome view of the seething heart of Mauna Loa, the big living volcano. We fly directly over the yawning livid crater, so we can look straight down into it. It is boiling orange liquid and not beautiful. It made me shudder.

The western coast of Hawaii, or Kona side, is the dry side and has the great lava beds. The opposite side has gorgeous coastline and is the rainy, lush, green side. Never have you seen such an array of scenery. We land on the Kona side to see the old capital city of Kailu-Kona and adjacent area, and fly over Hilo, the current capital city of the island, on the east

MAUI, the third little joy to come into our vision, has a hard act to follow, but the island doesn't seem to know it. It is a mini-Hawaii. A batch of beauty only less than Hawaii simply

But here we go again. On Maui are waterfalls, mountains, valleys, flowers, a waterfall coast and the largest of all extinct craters: 20 miles around and almost 3,000 feet deep, into which you can ride on horseback or walk. There is the Valley of the Seven Sacred Pools, a vast jungle, still partially unexplored; the unique silversword flowers, rare wild birds, plunging waterfalls and villages at all kinds of altitudes rising from the sea to the vibrantly colored cinder cones of the crater 10,032 feet high, Haleakala, the dormant volcano. You even have Sprecklesville, famous for its sugar plantation.

Maui is called the "Valley Island" and not because of its great abundance of beautiful valleys as you might expect, but because of its curious geography. Two mountain masses lie at opposite sides of the island with a short isthmus between them, creating one particular valley, and so the name.

MOLOKAI, next on the flight plan and the island where lunch is scheduled, is almost completely unspoiled. So far, anyway. Some ranches, pineapple plantations and the famed 'Hilo Hattie' town of Kaunakakai are located on it, but otherwise it is mainly the kingdom of almost inaccessible expansive valleys, 2.000 foot waterfalls, everlasting rainbows, great oceanside cliffs and breathtaking scenery.

Molokai is known as the "li Friendly Isle" because the people are unusually friendly and remain simple, easy-going and unspoiled. It is also known by another name, one which unfortunately belies its beauty and loveliness. It is also called the "Leper Isle," and it is true. There is a leper colony on the island. It is located on an isolated peninsula at Kalaupapa Lookout, the former home of the famous Father Damien, and lies hidden from the sea by cliffs, and secluded from the rest of the island by the KAUAI, the magnificant one, comes next. But how can I say that? So many of the islands are magnificent too. But what an island! How can I go on? Where are more adjectives?

Known as the "Garden Isle" because of its folieage, Kauai is one of "the most fertile and verdant" of a group of many fertile and verdant-islands. You-can-imagine-how-glorious it must be, to get this kind of reputation, in an area full of glory already. In one of its coves, the movie "South Pacific" was filmed, and no

Whenever I speak of this island I always wonder how to pronounce it. Some say to make it rhyme with Hawaii, but the more likely version is "Cow-eye." However, 'tis most true that by any name it would be as sweet, and I will let it go at that. One could rave on forever

Suffice to say that, among its abundant endowments, it is the island with the mini-Grand Canyon and a palisade stretch of coastline that takes your breath away. We fly below their tops, they are so high. The planes fly in the canyon too. It is so beautiful you don't believe it. We land on this island for a river cruise and a walk to a fern cave.

OAHU, the last island as well as our starting island, is the island that houses Honolulu and Pearl Harbor and Diamond Head and most tourists. Called the "Capital Island" for the obvious reason, it too is beautiful. But it is in Honolulu and environs, you will miss the impact and splendor that is the Hawaiian Islands. "There is a little airline that will take you to the most scenic ..."

And the Hawaiian Islands surely are.

Only take many, many days to see them!

Med school project gives jobs to unskilled welfare mothers

Maritza R., mother of a three-year-old son, is carning $8,200 a year.

Dolores M., mother of a boy, is earning $5,500

Ms. D., Ms. R. and Ms. M. are three of 32 formerly untrained, unskilled and rarely imployed welfare clients now holding down fulltime jobs at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ).

Ms. R., highest paid of the group, is an interpreter in the patient relations section of the college's Martland Hospital, Newark, Ms. M. is a physical therapy aide at Martland. Ms. D. is a ward clerk. Others in the group hold jobs like admitting clerk, at $5,580 a year; nursing assistant, $5,580 a year, and food service worker, $5,302 a year.

Christine K., mother of eight, and Shirley G., mother of seven, were first enrolled as patient transporters. Because of their interest and concern for patient care, both were upgraded to nursing assistants, receiving a $10-a-week pay raise. In their 10-week training, both had 99 averages. They intend to pursue a career in professional nursing.

All the women were trained, on the job, in a welfare demonstration project, financed through the Emergency Employment Act of 1971. One of the standards for eligibility was qualification for aid to dependent children. While in training, the women received regular weekly salaries, plus baby-sitter allowances where necessary.

The program is now being phased out, but it has made a mark.

'It's hard to describe, but there's a feeling of exhilaration to see these women in a new and productive life style," said Alfred Tyson, who
