Huter notes Fire Prevention Week, need to eliminate hazards year-round

Mountainside Fire Chief Ran Huter this week declared that "Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5 through 12, should be a continuous effort by everyone, all year round. This would make it possible to celebrate oun accomplishments of 51 weeks in one week. Possibly we could call it Fire Prevention Success Week.

"As it is now, Fire Prevention Week gives the fire service an opportunity to remind you of the important part you play in making the program a success, 24 hours a day and 365 days a year.

"Chief Hutter, First Assistant Chief Doc Porter and Deputy Chief Ted Byk have just returned from the International Fire Chiefs'

Trophies earned by Regional band in 1st competition

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School band won its school's first band competition trophies by taking second place at the third annual Central New Jersey band competition, held Sunday at Woodbridge. It was the first event this year's band had entered.

The Dayton band was one of five groups in the 75-member category. It placed second in band front precision and third in band points, which averaged out to a second place standing for the Regional group.

"Today's victory is only the beginning, baid
Abe Suckno, president of the Band Parents' Organization. "We need the continued support of band parents, students and community to help this band and leader Jeff Anderson achieve the recognition they deserve."

"The Man from La Mancha," this year's marching band routine, was arranged by the band's director, Anderson. "The band really looks good," said Anderson. "The enthusiasm and desire for perfection have begun to pay off with trophies." The band competition trophies will be on display in the Dayton band room.

Dayton band members are looking forward to a day of community service on Sunday, Oct. 20, when a car wash and cake sale will help them raise funds for competition expenses Cars will be washed for a small donation, and assorted baked goods will be on sale, at the Amoco station, S. Springfield and Hillside avenues in Springfield, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The band was featured at the Home News festival Tuesday evening in New Brunswick and will try for another competition victory on Sunday in the Pompton Lakes invitational competition. The Band Parents' Organization will meet Wednesday, Oct. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Dayton band room; the attendance of all band members' parents was urged.

Rotary sponsors sale for Oct. 12

The Rotary Club of Mountainside will hold a garage sale on Saturday, Oct. 12, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the Echobrook School athletic field, Rt. 22.

William H. Groskinsky, chairman of the sale, said free parking will be available—at the swimming pool parking lot off Mountain avenue. In case of rain the garage sale will be held in the Echobrook School gymnasiun Groskinsky asked that persons with items suitable for sale call 233-0584 or 232-6056.

couraging information gained from the conference is that the International Fire Chiefs' Association has established its own foundation.

"It is conceivable that for the first time in history, the fire service will be independent of the influence brought to bear by the regulatory agencies, local and federal. People like the Underwriters Laboratories, National Fire Prevention Association, American Insurance Association, the National Building Code and the Boakar Code are all company-oriented by manufacturers who have a product to sell. The Boakar Code is being pushed nationally by the manufacturers and builders because it is the most lenient of all the codes to date.

The fire service is nationally against the establishment of the Boakar Code under the disguise of standardization. Many big companies are trying to influence the passage of the Boakar Code because it is less stringent than many cities now have.

"Until the IAFC has been successfully funded to operate in its full capacity, we will all have to save our own lives. Regulations controlling flammability of products, clothing, transportation, home furnishings and building materials go on unfunded and unenforced.

Special event

Mountainside Fire Chief Ron Huter will have his official car on display in Mountainside Center on Mountain avenue this Saturday morning and afternoon to mark the start of Fire Prevention Week. He will give heliumfilled balloons and badges to local youngsters.

"Our political representatives, both local and national, are more concerned with whose toes they step on than whose graves we stand

"We have three slogans with your safety and concern in mind. We need your help to make them effective. They are:

"Make Fire Prevention Your Job Too; "Make Every Day Fire Prevention Day; The Fire Service Risks Lives to Save

"To remind you of our slogans we have reflective booster stickers for you, visible in the daytime and reflective at night.

'To put it all together, it's time you started to live with fire safety in mind-your clothes, home furnishings, building material, the place you work and the places you play. Make it known that you are concerned about design and operations that are not as completely fire safe as they could be.

"Don't frequent places that are not built with your safety in mind. Check the exits in any building you frequent. Crowded places of assembly are especially hazardous. Check the exits if they are not safe, get the management to clear them or get out.

"Call the local fire department; maybe they are not aware of the problem. All buildings are inspected by your local fire department twice yearly, but many things can change not only in six months but in weeks or days, such as blocking or locking exit ways, cluttering of stairwells, etc.

"Stand up and be counted. Let the management know. The more people who frequent the places of recreation and amusement with your safety in mind, the more

Members of the Regional High School District Board of Education indicated Tuesday night that they would reconsider two recently adopted policies - one limiting the number of major trips student musical groups may take and the other establishing a system of class ranking, starting with this year's freshmen

The action came after strong objections to both policies were voiced by parents and students who were among the 40 persons in the audience at the monthly board meeting at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

The policy on musical groups states that each group may go on a trip or exchange concert more than 400 miles from home only once every three years. Students and parents affiliated with the school choral music programs argued that the policy may be fair to bandsmen, who often participate for four years, but is unfair to choralists, who move up to the top groups only in their junior and senior years

BOARD MEMBERS said their intent was to reduce the strain on booster groups and the community, which must provide substantial amounts of money to pay for the trips.

PRIZED POSSESSIONS FROM POLAND — Barbara Byron (left) and Virginia Osiecki of Mountainside look over souvenirs purchased during their recent four-week visit to Poland. Among the items, most of which are handcrafts, are cut crystal, carved wooden plates, boxes and pins, leather goods, paintings, dolls, pictures made of straw and amber jewelry.

Impressions of Poland Local women study in Krakow

By KAREN STOLL

Enough souvenirs to fill a store-and enough memories to last a lifetime. That's what two Mountainside women have to show for a most unusual summer vacation.

Barbara Byron of Indian trial and Virginia Osiecki of Knollwood road recently returned from a four-week stay in Poland, a country which at present is not high up on the list for the average tourist. However, after hearing its praises sung by the borough women, one feels it

The women, both of whom are of Polish descent, were not just sightseers. They attended the Summer School of Polish Language and Culture at Jagiellonian University Krakow-a program under the sponsorship of Kosciusko Foundation. Although the major portion of each day was spent in class, learning aspects of Polish music, art, history, and its socio-political system; there also was ample time to meet the Polish people, and this is what seems to have left the most lasting impression.

"Before we left, there was an article in a New York paper headlined 'Moscow and Warsaw-Poles Apart,' and, you know, that describes exactly the feeling we got over there," Mrs. Byron said. "Whatever Russia may be doing in other Communist countries, it simply doesn' follow they can do it in Poland. The Poles are a very strong-willed people. Their determination is unbelievable. Once they set their minds to something, nothing is going to dim their hopes. "I don't think they are really happy with big brother Russia looking over their shoulder. Their attitude was best expressed by one comment made to us-that this is the first time in the history of the country that a 30-year period has gone by where there has been no attack or invasion. The people know they can go to sleep without worrying if the bombs are going to fall, or that someone is going to come in and try to destroy their culture."

AN EXAMPLE of that Polish determination in the face of disaster was given by Mrs Osiecki, who noted she was able to view films of Warsaw made after its near-razing by the Nazis: "The people rebuilt the old part of the city by hand. That section was completely destroyed, but the people got old plans and blueprints, and started from scratch, making it look the way it did before the war. They had no machines, and the films showed 'assembly lines' of people, rebuilding the structures brick

Both women noted they had no sensation of suppression of ideas, which had been noted by travelers to other nations behind the Iron Curtain. Since they speak Polish fluently, conversation was easy, and both commented on "free dialogues" experienced and outspoken opinions expressed, by both Westerner

"I don't think there was any point during my stay where I felt I was being fed propaganda, Mrs. Osiecki stated. "We had open discussions on every topic." However, they realized that freedom of speech is not exactly on the same level as in this country.

"We were there when Nixon resigned, and everyone was talking about it," she continued. 'They are very well-informed as to what goes on in America. During the course of one discussion on the president, I explained to my

This fall, some students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will spend Thursday afternoons playing with their kazoos. Arthur David, advisor to Dayton's creative arts workshop, formed the band in a move to get more students involved in extracurricular David said he chose the kazoo, which does not require as much skill as conventional musical instruments, because it does not cost much and is an excellent medium for students to be introduced to an extracurricular activity.

Even though the band is now limited to kazoos. David said he is willing to admit any student who plays any sort of instrument, including a washboard or jews harp.

Dayton's soccer coach, Arthur Krupp, for the band to play at selected home games. The kazoo band is an offshoot of Dayton's creative arts workshop which meets every Thursday afternoon. The first band practice took place during the creative arts workshop, but future practices will take place at various times during the week.

"I realize the kazoo band has generated a great deal of humor and laughter in both the students and the faculty," David noted, "but it's more than just that. Through the creative arts workshop we hope to explore other things, such as writing, painting and photography. I don't stress that the students do these things for the sake of doing them well, but merely for the sake of enjoyment."

David added that in its first year of operation, the creative arts workshop was very successful. He invited any interested students to join the workshop. "The dues are free, and any student who is not satisfied will have his or her money refunded," he said.

Democrats plan open houses for Reisdorf and D'Amanda

Mountainside Democrats, has named Pat Caplan as coordinator of open houses for Borough Council candidates Al D'Amanda and Ed Reisdorf, Mrs. Caplan plans to organize a series of open houses throughout Mountainside where citizens can avail themselves of the opportunity to meet the candidates

The first of the open houses will be held on Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Noe, 361 Greenbriar ct. The Noes, who for many years "have been concerned with the need for two-party government in Mountainside," said they "welcome the opportunity to have the townspeople meet Ed and Al.'

Any resident who would like to stop in and meet the candidates may phone Pat Caplan 232-1920, or Robert Shields, 232-4208

Shields reported that since the kickoff of the campaign there has been a "strongly favorable response to the firm stand taken by candidates D'Amanda and Reisdorf, for greater fiscal responsibility and open dialogue within the Borough Council.'

Continuing the theme D'Amanda initiated one year ago when he campaigned against the plans for a borough hall complex on the Barnes tract, both candidates continued to emphasize

Program tonight at Gov. Livingston

Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, will hold its annual "back to school night" this evening. Parents of students have been invited to attend the program which starts at 7:30 in the school auditorium

Attending parents will meet with their children's teachers and guidance counsellors as well as school administrators as they follow a mini-version of each child's actual daily school schedule.

Peter S. Festante, principal, said that he thought the program is extremely valuable because it "gives parents the opportunity to have face-to-face contact with their son's or daughter's teachers, a point from which we hope that parent-teacher communication will become improved.

D'Amanda said, "Many citizens I've spoken to this week also question the loss of ratables and burden of interest charges as a con-sequence of the continuous ownership of this tract." Reisdorf added, "This does not represent fiscal responsibility by the 'select group' which one year ago was actively planning a complex which, including land, would have cost the taxpayers of Mountainside $1,000,000.

The open houses, which will be announced in this newspaper, are planned to give residents and taxpayers an opportunity to air their feelings and pose questions informally.

D'Amanda and Reisdorf added that "if we are elected, this process of going to the people will continue to be our practice, in contract to 'select group' currently monopolizing Borough Council

More than 300 new Indian Guides, "braves and prin-cesses" organized into 20 tribes in the Westfield area last week with the aim of wiping out the generation gap—and there's still room for

The team will play at Hillside, Saturday at 1:30 in a non-conference contest. Hillside beat Rahway, 24-0, in its opener and will be looking for revenge -- Dayton won last year's game.

In its first series of downs, Dayton marched to the Roselle 15 under the direction of quarterback Carmen Scoppettuolo. A 13-yard pass from Scoppettuolo to split end Joe Mirto highlighted the drive. After the Ram defense stopped the Bulldogs on downs, Roselle capitalized on a roughing-the-kicker penalty Shortly after, Ram quarterback Brett Wyatt hit George Gilliam on a beautifully-executed 54yard screen play, which took the Bulldogs totally by surprise. The extra point kick was

In the second quarter the Bulldogs held Roselle but until they were surprised by a fake punt, good for a 20-yard gain and a first down Dayton's superb goal line defense held tenaciously, until fourth down, when Wyatt passed to Jeff Holmes in the end zone. The extra point was good, giving the Rams a 13-0 halftime advantage.

Trying to come back, the Bulldogs could not sustain an attack-quarterbacks Scoppettuolo and Bryan Burke were under constant pressure all afternoon. The skills of runners Derek Nardone, Bruce Heide, Mike Flood, Ted Parker and Branden Gambee were not fully exploited; many times sufficient holes were not opened for them or their runs were called back because of penalties.

Roselle tallied again in the third quarter. The drive was high-lighted by 40 and 10-yard pass completions for first downs. The 30-yard scoring toss, from Wyatt to Holmes, was a high towering bomb; the receiver had to backtrack to get it. The point-after was good

Once again the visitors dominated the final stanza as Wyatt's younger brother. Keith, hit Bill Roberson in the end zone on a 30-yard TD pass. The kick was wide to the left. Dayton made one last effort to avert a shutout but was foiled by a fumble.

DAYTON DISPATCH

By MARC BLOOM__

Following up the previous article on the tennis court facility "crisis" at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, here are several interesting facts which relate to the story.

Lest week's article menmed that the Township of Springfield would offer land to the Board of Education for the construction of tennis courts. The township has offered the board several acres of land Municipal Pool for that purpose, but the board has refused the offer, saying that they require use of the courts daytime physical education classes as well as for team competition, and thus they require courts on the Dayton campus. With this in mind, the board has proposed to build four new tennis courts on the Dayton front lawn along Mountain avenue, close to the front of the building. There are, of course, a myriad of com-

First, if the courts are constructed on the proposed sight, they would have to be elevated, probably to the level of the building itself, which would mean an elevation of quite a few feet. This would be because of the disastrous flooding problems which has annually plagued the area. Second, these "elevated" surrounded by an 11-foot (give or take a foot) chain link fence, which many people consider to be very unsightly. Third, there would have to be facilities for spectators which would also have to be elevated to the level of, or higher than, the courts Replay of fight

The 1952 middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Rocky Graziano will be featured on "The Way It Was," Thursday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. on Channels 50 and 58. Both contenders will be on hand to relive the classic moment in American boxing history. Host is Curt Gowdy

Some members of the Springfield Township Committee last week stated that the courts would be an "eyesore" unless they were 'well shrubbed.''

This is probably true, but how do you shrub four full-size tennis courts surrounded by a chain-link fence over 10 feet high, especially when the entire complex is elevated an additional four feet or so to the level of the scr The shrubs would have to be 15 feet tall. Besides, even if the courts could

"camouflaged," wouldn't spectators thus be prevented from watching? They would need ladders.

If the Board of Education follows through with this proposal, however, don't be too surprised. Aesthetic values aren't at the top of too many lists these days.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R.-12) this week accused the Shah of Iran "of talking through his jeweled turban" by claiming that high oil prices charged by the Arabs are the result rather than a major cause of worldwide inflation. Rinaldo called the Shah's statement "plain bunk."

Rinaldo expressed his views following the two-day economic summit conference in Washington where he discussed with President Ford a list of 25 specific recommendations for combatting inflation at home and abroad. The Rinaldo recommendations were included in the official record of the conference that will be reviewed by top White House economic strategists.

The Union County Congressman said he fully agreed with President Ford's get-tough line with the Arab oil producers. Rinaldo said an oil price rollback must be the No. 1 priority in cooling down worldwide inflation.

"Should the industrial nations of Europe Japan and the United States be forced to pay these extortionist prices for oil, the balance of payments deficit would become unbearable in two or three years. World trade would be wiped out. The whole fabric of industrial, democratic societies could come apart. President Ford knows it. We've got to forge a determined, unified effort to prevent world bankruptcy,' Rinaldo said

Rinaldo said he told President Ford that a tax cut for the elderly and the poor had become an urgent necessity because of spiraling inflation. Rinaldo said they could not wait while long term solutions were applied to halting inflation.

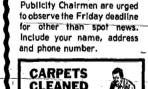

In presenting the President with his proposals, which grew out of a series of hearings before the House Banking and Currency Committee and findings in his home district, Rinaldo said that he supported the idea of a $4 billion emergency public works program for high areas of unemployment in New Jersey.

Discussing the efforts of inflation on New Jersey and Union County, Rinaldo said that the tight fiscal policies and high interest rates were contributing to inflation and causing severe unemployment and hardships

"There is so much hardship in this country and among the people I represent that it breaks your heart listening to their personal tragedies. People are in real difficult straits these days and they don't know where to turn for help,' said the Republican candidate for reelection.

Levin proposes: amend rape laws, don't 'try' victim

Democratic Congressional nominee Adam K. Levin says existing rape laws must be amended and victim-oriented programs initiated on a local level, if America is to win the war against its fastest-growing violen

"I am calling for state legislation to enable a prosecutor to charge alleged rapists with the most serious type of assault when he considers it too difficult to obtain conviction under a charge of rape," Levin said.

"Judges are now too prone to admit testimony about a victim's prior sexual conduct in rape proceedings, thereby placing the victim on trial instead of the defendant. Such evidence would be irrelevant in assault proceedings. I also propose that we specify in the penal code section on rape that a woman's sexual conduct on other occasions be barred from submission into evidence.

The 12th District, Union County, candidate said more than 40,000 rapes are reported annually, and the FBI estimates that only one in 10 is ever reported. This means almost 400,000 rapes are committed yearly in the United States, about one every 90 seconds.

"Many rape victims are now unwilling to report the crime out of shame or embarrassment, or because they fear harassment. As a result, many rapists continue to walk the streets unpunished," Levin continued. "To counter this, police departments should reorient rape investigation procedures to the needs of the victim, and sex crime units should be headed and staffed by women.

"Federal and state aid should be made available for the establishment of Rape Crisis Centers on a regional basis or in high-crime areas, which will provide self-defense courses and advice to women; help the victim obtain the medical and psychological aid she requires. and smooth the legal process so that the victim neither intimidated nor treated like a

Polish friend that in America a man is innocent until proven guilty. 'Well, things are a little different in this country,' he said. Then I told him that if I wanted to express my feelings on this or any other issue. I could write a letter to my newspaper. 'Well, we can't do that here,' he

Mrs. Osiecki noted the furor over Nixon caused concern in Poland as well as heremainly concern of the host people for their American visitors. "When he resigned, one of the guides rushed over to tell us about it." she said. "You are going to see it on TV," he said, "But don't worry, Mr. Ford is going to become president and things will be all right again. It seemed the people were very concerned that our holiday would be spoiled. They felt they must offer us sympathy. But we tried to explain the procedures of government to them, and assure them we knew there would be an orderly transition of power."

BOTH WOMEN expressed surprise at the educational level of the people they met, including their tour guides. "There were 77

We should reassure the public that the policies will be seriously reviewed in the light of this new knowledge. The board approved two trips for students at David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth. The first will be a one-day journey Oct. 11 to points of historical and cultural interest in the Boston area. Each of the 45 participants will pay $10.50, with provision made

The second trip will be a weekend outing, Oct. 11-13, at the Orange YMCA camp in Stillwater for youngsters who are educable or handicapped or have other special needs. The group will include 25 from Brearley and five from Dayton and Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark. Costs will be paid by the Brearley

Another vote approved a basketball clinic for the district's coaches, to be held next Wednesday evening at Brearley. Instructors, to be paid $50 each, will be Rose Battaglia of Bergen County Community College, John D'Andrea of Westfield High School, Ralph Bianchi of Gov. Livingston Regional, in Berkeley Heights, and Ray Yanchus of Dayton Regional.

Invitations to participate have also been sent to coaches of elementary and parochial school and recreation department teams in the district's six member communities -Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights, Clark and Garwood.

A change in board policy was introduced on first reading, with final action scheduled for the next meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 6, at the Deerfield School in Mountainside. It gives each school principal, rather than the board authority to approve fund drives by student and parent organizations affiliated with the

THE POLICY declares:

"Fund-raising drives are an integral part of high school life. Student organizations, parentteacher associations and parent and booster groups may from time to time develop fundraising drives to secure funds for important school or school related activities. Fundraising drives are conducted in the school as well as in the community.

"Although the activities for which the funds being sought may be desirable, overzealous and frequent solicitation of students, parents, faculty, and local businessmen may be a source of annoyance. For this reason administrative guidelines for fund-raising drives are being established:

"1. Fund-raising drives or activities are to be approved by the principal (in school and-or in the community) for a specific period of time. He shall be responsible for maintaining a schedule of such activities.

"2. Fund-raising drives or activities within the school are to be limited by the principal. Students and faculty should be considered when fund-raising drives or activities are

"3. Fund-raising drives or activities in the community are also to be limited. Parents and merchants should be considered when fundraising drives or activities are planned people in our study groups, and we had six guides, most of whom were working for their Ph.Ds," Mrs. Byron said. "The schools are free, and even the bus drivers we met were very well educated. Many of the people speak four of or five languages.

"There is one problem though, with the rural schools. It is felt the youngsters attending those are not getting the same quality of education as those in urban schools. They attempt to equalize things, though. When those students take their exams to enter college, they are given extra points to compensate for any deficiency they might have, and to make the exam competitions a little fairer."

Despite their praises for the country, the local women explained that all is not ideal, especially as far as the economy is concerned

"The standard currency is the zloty, which has an exchange rate of about 33 zloty to $1," Mrs. Osiecky said. "One of our instructors told us he made 5,500 zloty a month at his teaching job, 1,000 of which went for rent. He had to work 18 hours a day to earn extra money, or he wouldn't be able to support his family

She explained that a housing shortage also is a big problem. "When a couple is married, they immediately register for an apartment. But because of the lack of housing, it usually takes at least five years before an apartment is available. One person we spoke to commented this housing problem might be among those issues that could prompt the younger generation to rebel against the system, if they

"The older people are still at a point where they are sacrificing to rebuild their country." she said. "They are proud of the way they rebuilt their cities after the war, but the younger people did not go through that war."

Mrs. Byron noted there were no travel restrictions placed on the Americans. "We just told them where we wanted to go, what we wanted to see, and it was arranged immediately." "The Polish people themselves "The Polish people themselves also travel, but mostly to other communist countries, especially Romania. It is more difficult for them to travel outside the Iron Curtain, and I couldn't help but wonder if that's because the government is afraid they would However, although the women noted some feelings of dissatisfaction among the younger people, they said these also seemed to have a spirit of dedication to their country. "I think it is this younger generation that is really going to make something of Poland," Mrs. Osiecki said.

"I was very impressed with the youth hostels there. There were people from all over Europe, and the youngsters would get together and freely exchange their ideas. I hope that this sort of thing is where future peace is going to

The special financing arrangement with such a low down payment in these days of tight mortgage money is directly related to U.S. Home's size and reputation

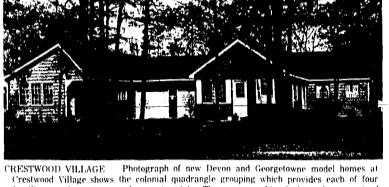

It is the largest residential development organization in the United States. More im portant, over the years U.S. Home has created hundreds of award-winning, distinctive communities designed to provide individual home buyers with optimum value

The popular acceptance of architectural concepts and well-planned living space has been the most important factor in creating and continuing the company's sources of financing, which are so vital in this industry. This is underlined by publicly-bwned U.S. Home Corporation's securing of more than $145 million in loan commitments from 24 banking institutions for the coming year, and the housing giant can obtain additional commitments of $30 million up to a total of $175 million.

Steinfield notes that the 10 big traditional models. available with this special financing, include ranches. splits and Colonials, priced from $50,490. These homes have retained their popularity with home buyers because their design is in keeping with current modes of living.

One of the contemporary models available with the five per cent down payment at Whittier Oaks is the split-level, "The Greentree." Lowell, chairman of the National Conference on Soviet Jewry, will address participants of the Simhat Torah Unity Rally for Soviet Jews on Sunday at 8 p.m. at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey Northfield avenue, West Orange.

"We are heartened by the recent reports of Soviet desire for compromise on the issue of free emigration," noted Jacqueline Levine. president of the Metropolitan New Jersey Conference on Soviet Jewry. "We applaud the efforts of Senators Jackson, Javitts and Ribicoff, whose persistence and dedication together with Secretary of State Kissinger have made a compromise form of the Jackson Amendment which would be acceptable to all parties involved, a viable alternative. While we are hopeful that such a resolution can be agreed upon and carried out in good faith by the U.S.S.R.", she continued, "we know that Soviet officials, in their cruel and systematic persecution of their Jewish minority, are capable of reversing government policy at a moment's

"We must not be lulled into a sense of com placency by these promising developments," warned Mrs. Levine, "We must remain vigilant. We must continue to support our Soviet brothers and sisters' struggle for freedom until we are sure that all those who wish to leave, are able to do so.'

Lowell has been involved in the pursuit of human rights for Jews throughout the world Prior to his current position as a national leader in the Soviet Jewry movement, he served as chairman of the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry. N.J. picks contest winner

A design submitted by a magazine art director from Pompton Lakes is the over whelming winner of a statewide contest to select the symbol of New Jersey's celebration of the nation's Bicentennial.

The winning design was created by William Galbreath, assistant art director for Forbes Magazine in New York. It received 9,175 of the total of 13,723 ballots mailed in by the people of New Jersey for the five designs that were selected as finalists. Gov. Brendan T. Byrne unveiled the winning design during ceremonies at the State Museum in Trenton, where a special exhibition also was opened to display the more than 100 entries in the contest originally submitted by New Jersey artists and designers. The Governor presented Galbreath with his prize check of $1,776. corresponding to the year the Declaration of Independence was signed

Gov. Byrne said "the fact that so many New Jerseyites took the time and effort to par ticipate in the contest demonstrated their pride in the principles on which this nation was founded and awareness of the key role New Jersey played in the american Revolution

DeKorte said the Commission felt it was appropriate that the people of New Jersey themselves make the final choice of the symbol that will mark their observance of the 200th anniversary of their country.

DeKorte also expressed gratitude to the artists and designers who participated and commented that the panel of judges must have had a difficult time reducing the number to the final five because of the high quality of the

The four other designers who made the finals were Peter Huang, a graphic designer for the Campbell Soups Design Center in Camden: Jack McLaughlin, director of graphic arts for the N.J. Public Broadcasting Authority in Trenton; Bill Wood of The Design Shop in Glen Ridge, and Charles Cowles of North Clinton Avenue, Wenonah.

The winner. Galbreath, attended the ceremony with his wife, Lois, who originally spotted the newspaper announcement of the contest and urged him to enter, and their sons. Gerald, 12, and Eric, 9.

A native of Colorado, Galbreath has been a New Jersey resident for 14 years, the last four in Pompton Lakes and the 10 years before that commercial television in New Jersey went into the "dead" files Sunday. That's when Northern New Jersey's only English-language commercial television station, WBTB-TV, Newark, went on the air.

The station is owned by Blonder-Tongue Broadcasting Corp. and plans eventually to move into subscription (pay) television. In the meantime, the television signal reaching most of New Jersey and parts of New York and Connecticut will be free. Isaac Blonder, owner of Blonder-Tongue and president of the station, said that for some time there has been a great demand for a television station committed to New Jersey

"We are going to be that station and we are going to serve New Jersey needs," stresses Blonder.

In addition to programming which includes comedies westerns, movies, children's shows, country-western music and rock, Channel 68 will be doing live New Jersey news. weather and sports and local community affairs program.

Blonder said that local coverage is a primary goal of Channel 68. He emphasizes when the station promotes New Jersey news, weather and sports that's what the viewer will see.

"Reporters from New York only see this side of the Lincoln Tunnel when something awful happens," he argues "We're going to talk about all of the other things which are going on, most of them good. Of course, we plan to cover problem areas too, but the important thing is that we're going to do it all, not just one side."

Williams praises Senate change in rail retirement act

WASHINGTON The Senate has passed legislation which would radically overhaul the financially troubled Radroad Retirement System, which provides a pension program for 6 million railroad workers.

The passage of the Radroad Retirement Act of 1974 represents the culmination of many trustrating years in attempting to solve piecemeal the myriad problems which have been encountered by the Railroad Retirement " said Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-NJ), a sponsor of the bill and chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee which recommended it

As a result of these revisions," he added "the financial security of the thousands of railroad retirees and future retirees will be guaranteed and the financial structure will be made secure."

The legislation, which has passed the House but must be returned there for approval of Senate amendments, was drafted in response to fears about the actuarial soundness of the system, which takes the place of Social Security for rail workers. It embodies the recommendations made in 1972 by a special commission following a two-year study

"The present railroad retirement system was established by, and operates under, the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937," Williams explained "This new act will provide all retirement and survivor benefits to employees with 10 or more years of railroad service, retiring after Dec. 31, 1974, and their spouses and survivors.'

Dear Cindy: Evidently, Mom doesn't believe in the handwriting on the wall. Seriously, it isn't a matter of right or wrong. Perhaps you should have asked permission before painting your wall but on the other hand Mom should appreciate your efforts. If you like it, I see no reason for the argument. Enjoy the flowers.

And that's just the beginning.

We're confident that you'll find everything about our new '75's-from engineering and styling to economy-easy to say yes to. And for the clincher, we're backing them up with our new Owner Care Program.

It starts with a new 12 month, unlimited mileage warranty so strong and simple it's bound to generate questions. So, right here and now, we offer some answers.

Q. Unlimited mileage sounds simple enough. But what's the catch?

A. There's no catch. The warranty covers every part we put in the car. And it's good for as many miles as you can drive in 12 full months.

> Q. What about labor? How much will that cost?

A. Nothing, If Chrysler Corporation put that part on your car, it's covered. Parts and labor. And that goes for everything except tires, which are covered separately by their manufacturer.

Q. But there are some expensive things that could just "wear out" if you drive enough miles even though they're not "defective." You know; brake linings, mufflers, > shock absorbers. Do I have to pay for them?

A. No. To a lot of people those might be considered something for you to worry about. But since we want to make your relationship with the car we make as worry-free as possible, we're ready to take on those responsibilities. So, even if they just wear out during the first 12 months of normal use, we'll replace them no matter how many miles you drive.

Q. That's a great "extra." Does it include everything that just wears out?

A. No. We expect you to take care of normal maintenance-the little things like changing filters and wiper blades (unless, of course, they're defective, then they come under the warranty).

Q. The only way you could top all that is throw in a free loaner. Uh...do you? A. Sure. If you make an appointment for warranty repairs in advance, and the job cannot be completed from morning until evening of the same working day, participating dealers will supply you with a loaner. Free.

Q. is there anything else I should know? A. Replacing certain worn out parts, our unlimited mileage warranty and our free loaner program are all just the beginning of a new Owner Care Program, designed to make owning our new cars, so worry-free, they'll be irresistable.

See your Chrysler-Plymouth or Dodge dealer. Ask him about his new cars, then ask him about 'The Clincher!'
