986 enrollment close to forecast by school board

Actual September enrollment in Mounfirms the forecast of 996 as reported by Walter H. Rupp, chairman of the long range planning committee of the Board of Education. The kindergarten enrollment was 81, which com pares to the planning prediction of 74.

September, 1974, enrollment shows a decrease of 65 compared to a year ago. Since September, 1966, enrollments have dropped from 1,327 to 986 or a decrease of 341 students Falling birth rates and decreased immigration into Mountainside account for the large enrollment drop. For example, there was a net "move-out" of five children in the past year.

One trend that is carefully monitored is the change during the school year. From September, 1973, to June 1974, the total enrollment increased by only two students. This board planning effort assists in recognizing and preparing for operation, supervision and maintenance of school system

Rupp has been forecasting enrollment trends in the 16 years he has been a member of the board. He also contributed forecasts before that time as a volunteer consultant, starting

Presbyterian Church completes 2nd decade

The Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside reaches its 20th milestone today The services of organization, ordination and installation was held on Sunday, Oct. 10, 1954, in the Deerfield School, where temporary worship was conducted until permanent church buildings were erected. The year 1954 was a busy one for the new church. In February a group of eight interested local residents met to plan action. A door-todoor survey was organized, the Presbyterian affiliation selected and first services held on April 25, 1954. The Rev. Delwyn Rayson assisted in organizing the church, and he was selected as the first pastor. There were about 1.190 homes in Mountainside in 1954 compared to roughly double that number now.

The charter members appointed a nominating committee for church officers, who were elected by the congregation in October, 1954. The first elders elected were Jacob Bauer. William Crowl, John Dunn, Wilbert Herrett Pearl Hyers, Lyman Parrigin, Walter Rupp, Hugh Stuhler and Douglas Tuttle

Deacons-trustees were Harold E. Bell. Harold W. Bell, Roy Daniels, Russell Ernest, Miles Goodrich, Gilbert Howland, Harry Seaman, Daniel Sproul and Malcolm Wright Of these original members, Dunn, Rupp, Tuttle, Harold W. Bell, Daniels, Goodrich and

4.3, to continue the Camp Minisink program for fifth grade students at its meeting before 50 persons, Tuesday night at the Deerfield School. The vote, however does not guarantee that the 21s day trip will be held this

Dr. Levin B. Hanigan reported to the board that a group of teachers from the fifth grade had voted 8-3-1 to go ahead with the trip, but only on the condidion that the school board vote unanimously for the Minisink program. The program is a 212-day outing to a camp run by the YMCA and proctored by teachers. The outing includes hikes, astronomy, outdoor math, environmental and conservation lessons among its activities. The trip is held in the spring and has been offered to fifth grade students for the past four years.

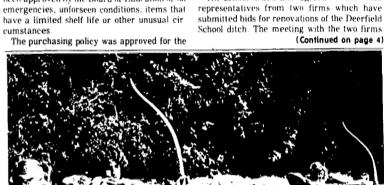

Dr. Hanigan said be regarded the experience as a valuable educational tool. Board member Pat Knodel said she did not, and added that the fifth graders could get as much if not more from the Outdoor Education Center in the Watchung Reservation. She added that the Outdoor Education Center offers 10 different studies and it was her experience, talking to fifth graders who went on the trip, that they got very little in the way of education from the trip to Camp Minisink

Dr. Irvin Krause said he felt the children should be given the opportunity to take part in the program which, he said, offers features that are, although available in the area, rarely utilized Dr. Krause included in these the study of the stars and the experience of a 24-hour-aday educational atmosphere.

Reaction from the audience was mixed. Two parents, and Mrs. Knodel, said they spoke to their children after the trip and all said they had a good time but didn't learn much. Other parents, and Dr. Krause, said they felt their children did feel the program was valuable as a learning experience.

It is now up to the teachers whether or not they want to take part in the program. Walter Rupp said the board had voted approval of the program and therefore stated it is in favor

THE COUNCIL CANDIDATES PROFILE -- Bruce Geiger

For Bruce Geiger, incumbent Republican candidate for Mountainside Borough Council election to a second three-year term on the governing body will offer an opportunity to contribute even more to the community, particularly in projects begun during his present term

Geiger serves as the Council's public works chairman and has been engaged in a study of the borough's storm and sanitary sewer systems. "Aside from small local problems with storm sewers which we will continue to work on, there are two main problems," he

"One is the Charles street-Possum pass area Here we have a study almost completed, and I think it will provide a method of curing this problem permanently. Springfield would share the costs of this project, and we hope to get county financial aid also.

"The other problem is the New Providence road culvert (near Children's Specialized Hospital), which is of a size insufficient to take the floodwaters. We intend to apply for county aid on this, also. Both of these are well along, and could possible be completed in three years. Then we could work back upstream from these points and cure most flooding problems in those GEIGER NOTED he also has been working with a citizens' advisory group on the sanitary sewer cost problem, resulting from a large jump in Mountainside's payments for sewage treatment by the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority. "At this point, we are going to propose an ordinance to charge nonresidential users of sewers their fair share of the costs, costs which are now being absorbed by residential property owners," he said. "This seems the logical thing to do, since the cost for treating industrial sewage is much higher than that for residential sewage."

In addition to skyrocketing sewage treatment costs, another problem facing the borough is pressure for a change in the zoning law to allow construction of multi-family dwellings.
Commenting on this, the 44-year-old candidate

"I'm convinced we should hold our existing zoning for several years. The current period of financial uncertainty has made it impractical for builders to construct industrial buildings and, therefore, has slowed down development

Basketball program to start this Tuesday

The Mountainside Recreation Commission will again sponsor open basketball for borough high school area boys. The weekly sessions will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Deerfield School gym.

There is no registration fee. The first session is scheduled Tuesday. For additional information, readers may call the recreation office at 232-0015.

Open house tomorrow

All Mountainside residents have been invited to an open house of the Volunteer Fire Department tomorrow from 6 to 9 p.m. to help mark the conclusion of Fire Prevention Week. Helium-filled balloons and badges will be given to all children visiting the fire house at Rt. 22 and Mountain avenue.

of our industrial area. When this situation eases, we will see our current zoning plan much closer to fruition. If, at that point, it appears certain pieces of property are not properly zoned, we will have to look at the plan again.

"But I feel that in Mountainside, basically we are in-the-business of providing a first-class residential community. Because this community is mostly developed, any multi-family dwellings would have to abut a single-family area. Most people are not ready to accept this type of housing's being built next door to

GEIGER SPECULATED on another problem which could arise from zoning changes. "There are some pieces of land in Mountainside that are relatively un-developed," he noted, "and could be suitable for multi-family housing. The owners of these properties stand to see great financial gains if they are rezoned for such dwellings. The pressures as to where this housing would be put could be tremendous."

Discussing the proposed conversion of the Echobrook School to a municipal facility, Geiger stated, "I am heartily in favor of this. I feel it is important that when we get that school we do the remodeling required to have a firstclass police facility. Our force now is working under severe limitations due to cramped quarters. We need high morale and welltrained men to insulate our community from the crime and dope problems prevalent in towns not so far away.

Regarding the original site for the proposed borough hall, he said, "The Barnes Tract could be kept for future community use. Remember, Mountainside does not have a park at all, even though we are surrounded by them. We can't make any capital investment in county parkland, but if in the future we find it necessary to expand our recreational facilities we have the Barnes Tract."

He continued, "When projecting forward in our capital investment plan, we can see the cost (Continued on page 4)

13 students earn commendation for merit test scores

Thirteen seniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School have been named Merit Program Commended students by the Sational Merit Scholarship Corporation

Principal Anthony J. Fiordaliso announced that the following students have received letters of commendation: Marc J. Bloom, Susan L. Budish, Michael R. DeCarlo, Kim berly I. Haas, Deborah A. K of C Council in 'pro-life' cause

The members of Springfield Council 5560. Knights of Columbus, led by Grand Knight Nicholas J. Episcopo, joined a state wide project last Sunday for the "Respect Life"

On that day, the Knights and Squires distributed "pro-life" bumper stickers and special flyers at the doors of St. James Catholic Church. They stressed the need for "greater commitment of pro-life people to promote the sanctity and value of human life." The flyers particularly condemned abortion, euthanasia and forced sterilization. They stressed the "great danger of legalized abortion which will soon reach the point where 1,600,000 unborn babies will be killed each year in our country. This means that in six months there are as many deaths by abortion as there were in all the wars of our nation's history.

Grand Knight Nicholas J. Episcopo said he hopes that many citizens will work with the Knights to support a constitutional amendment to prevent abortion-on-demand. He indicated that his council will carry on other pro-life projects during the year.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

On Saturday, Sept. 28, the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee presented an international festival as part of its bicentennia program. This event was held at Our Lady of Lourdes School auditorium on Central avenue Despite the inclement weather, the auditorium was filled throughout the entire day. The festival was intended to be a sharing, learning experience, an opportunity to show with pride various aspects of our national heritage and the contributions that the various national groups have brought to our community and our nation

Seventeen countries were represented. They displayed their art, their customs, their ar tifacts and even superstitions. They wore and displayed their authentic native dress. Those who attended were given the opportunity of sampling many different national taste treats. both food and drinks. It is rare when you have an occasion to hear so many people speaking their many languages.

In addition to this, we were entertained by singing, dancing and musical groups of Scottish, Polish, German, Ukrainian and Lituanian origin. The Mountainside Music Association represented America by presenting a very moving finale to our entertainment.

The entire festival, in the opinion of the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee was truly inspirational. So many of those who participated and attended voiced their opinion that such a program must be presented some time again in the future.

On behalf of the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee, I should like to thank everyone who by their inspired effort exceeded our optimistic expectations, and the many people who, despite the weather, came out and supported us with their patronage.

Know Your Government

From N.J. Taxpayers Association IIIII STATE ELECTION LAWS BALLOT BAFFLER

As the Legislature in late September con sidered several state bond issue questions for the Nov. 5 general election ballot, election officials and interested observers of state government were busily pouring over election aw, searching for statutory deadlines and balloting requirements concerning such referenda. The nature of the jungle-like network of inconsistent and obsolete laws and rules is not only confusing, but frustrating, notes the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Many county election officials have expressed displeasure with the state's policies concerning notice of public questions which does not appear to have a specific statutory deadline, and which can delay printing of sample ballots while legislative action on such questions is pending. The New Jersey Constitution requires the Secretary of State advertise the text of any Constitutional amendment at least three months before the general election. Municipal clerks, in their first election notices in August in compliance with a statutory deadline of 70 days before the election, listed the two Constitutional amendments slated for the fall -- cassino gambling, and reduction in voter residency requirements.

Non-constitutional statewide referenda, such as bond issues, are quite a different story. A 1932 statute indicates the Secretary of State shall not be obliged to publish, or even provide copies to registered voters, of any acts the Legislature directs to be submitted to the people. This old law may be inconsistent with post-1947 Constitution statutory requirements and contrary to the prevailing philosophy of open government, and is definitely inconsistent with language in current state bond legislation which directs the Secretary of State to see that the bond law is published in 10 newspapers in the state at least 15 days before the election. Such a 15-day advertising deadline should not be interpreted by legislators as a deadline for passage of bond legislation.

While there is no specific statutory deadline for non-constitutional amendment referrenda such as bond issues, it would appear that the deadline is determined by a 1953 law which states that all candidates and questions appearing on the absentee ballot must be ascertained on the 34th day (Oct. 2) before the election. That date presumably is to allow time for printing the absentee ballots which are required to be mailed to voters as soon as practicable after the 25th day before the

Since 1953, there has been a State Election Law Revision Commission with statutory responsibility for studying all statutes governing elections with the objective - a complete modernization of the law. The name and make-up of the commission was changed in 1964. Since then two reports have been issued on limited aspects of the overall election process. It appears that the commission could stand revitalization in order to complete a y-needed assignment which has dragge out for over twenty years, suggests the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Geiger, Cullen want support of local public safety groups

IBLIC SAFETY — Bill Cullen, left, and Bruce Geiger, incumbent Republican candidates for the Mountainside Borough Council, inspect progress on the new fire

MOUNTA!NSIDE(N.J.) ECHO-Thursday, October 10, 1974-3

The Republican incumbent candidates for reelection to Mountainside Borough Council Bruce Geiger and Bill Cullen, addressed a group of Mountainside residents in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Torma on Sunday evening.
Cullen stated, "Mountainside, the most

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I have a problem. I like this boy and another girl likes him, but he just ignores me. He won't even say "Hi." Once, he told me he loved me, but now he doesn't even like me. I think he tells all the girls that he loves them. My problem is that I still like him very, very much. What do you think I should do?

OUR REPLY: This boy is going through a stage where he is in love with love. Every girl he meets is the answer to all his dreams, until he gets to know them-then he discovers another dreamboat. The way he is acting right now is normal, but it definitely shows that he has got a lot of growing up to do. If you still like him, you are going to have to wait a year or two until he gets out of this stage he is in and is ready for a more meaningful relationship. Right now, there isn't much you can do

Dear Larrie:

I recently watched a man open a vending machine, take money from the machine and replace the needed merchandise. I then and there decided that I wanted to invest in a vending machine business. I saw an advertisement of a vending machine route and it claimed that I could make an enormous profit from the vending machine routes that would be set up for me. All I would have to do is buy four vending machines and the promoter does the rest. They also claim they will take back the machines and return my money if things turned sour. Would this truly be a profitable venture to invest in?

Dear Larrie

We are moving to a neighboring county in two months. Because we have not used the services of a moving company in 29 years, we want to know how we should go about making payment. Do we pay and then look over our property? What happens if after paying the movers we find that our goods have been damaged or lost?

Dear Moving:

The mover will ask for payment before unloading the goods. You should inspect the goods thoroughly, including those that are wrapped or boxed and make complete notations of damage on the documents before signing any delivery papers, receipts or inventories. The notations of indicated loss or damage such as "subject to further inspection" or "subject to concealed damage" are ineffective.

Larrie O'Farrell.

Dear Larrie:

I had an experience not too long ago that I'd like to share with you. My brother and I own a dress factory. We had always felt that wecomplied with the necessary federal safety and health laws. When we were visited by a man who said he was an inspector from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, we had no fear of being in violation of any law. But, according to this inspector, we had several violations. He said we would have to make payment of these fines to him. We felt this just couldn't be the truth and would not pay the fines. We told the inspector we wanted to check him out with his office. He then quickly departed. We did call the OSHA and were told that this so-called inspector was an imposter.

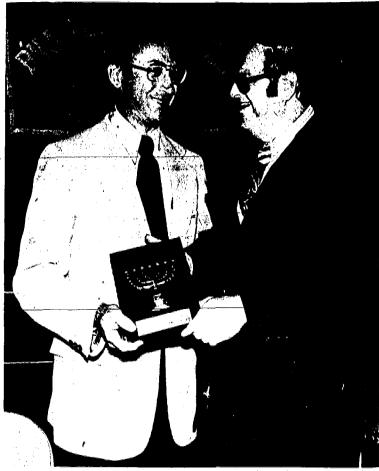

LAW ABIDING

Dear Abiding: Thank you for sharing your experience with

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration and several industry associations have expressed concern that some unscrupulous "fast buck operators" are preying on employers who want to comply with federal safety and health laws.

We have stressed to executives that, to avoid falling prey to these kinds of tactics, they check carefully the credentials of anyone presenting himself as an inspector.

It is doubtful that anyone is more aware of the impact of inflation than the housewife who must face a seemingly endless round of price increases at the supermarket. As I have noted earlier, one of the most annoying aspects of inflation is the experience of seeing prices increase literally before your eyes. This happens when goods already on the shelf are remarked with a higher price that reflects an increase for new merchandise being shipped into the store.

Because of my own experience in super markets and a large number of complaints about this practice, I took two actions in recent weeks aimed at determining the extent of the problem and what could be done about it. First, I solicited from my constituents examples of practices, such as re-marking, that are unfair to consumers.

Several hundred constituents responded with specific imstances of practices by super-markets that they regarded as anti-consumer. In fact, each day a new batch of examples arrives at my offices both in Union Township and in Washington.

The following examples, selected at random, from my mail indicate the scope and dimension of the problem faced by consumers during these inflationary times: -Miss Edna Ryncavage of Elizabeth sent me a boxtop of a cake mix that had been marked up in price four times. -Mrs. Edward H. Leider of New Providence provided an example of price tags stuck one atop the other. -Starks W. Lewis Jr., Union, told me about a can of vegetable soup that had been raised from 35 to 37 and finally to 39 cents on the same —John Manko Jr. of Roselle said he had seen several items on a shelf that had been remarked three times. -Mrs. F. W. Linge, Scotch Plains, cited a can of raspberry jam that had gone from 79 to 85 and then to 95 cents within a space of two -Mrs. G. C. Bergstrom of Kenilworth sent examples of these practices. I contacted officials of the leading supermarkets in Union County and asked them to halt the repricing practice voluntarily. Stop and Shop has agreed to a trial of repricing. "In light of the reasoned and reasonable tone of your letter, I am confident you will allow us time to do that so the final action will not only be in the best interest of the consumer, but in harmony with the laws in every area in which we operate." Richard H. Donlon, general manager of Stop and Shop, wrote in reply to my letter.

Finast responded by informing me that the chain had agreed not to reprice items on the shelf. "Your letter, voicing both our own and your constituents' concern over higher prices, properly reflects, I believe, a national at-titude," John M. Davey, divisional vicepresident of First National Stores, replied. "We at Finast are happy to respond.'

While pointing out some internal problems that discontinuation of repricing would pose, Grand Union and Food Fair said they were giving my suggestions serious consideration.

Allen I. Bildner, president of Kings Supermarkets, Inc., indicated in his response that the problem of repricing is being studied by his After reviewing the responses of the supermarket chains, I have decided to call a meeting of the store executives to discuss the question of repricing and other matters that irk consumers. I have written to the executives whom I contacted initially, asking that they meet me in my district office on Oct 23

I am hopeful that this meeting will result in persuading reluctant chains to refrain from repricing their merchandise on the shelf, as well as other practices that are harmful to consumers.

THE MEETING GOT off to a rocky start when Grant Lennox, president of the board, asked for a vote on whether the meeting should be taped. James Keating was absent when the meeting started, and the board voted 3-3 on the question. When Keating arrived, the board revoted on the question; this time it passed and the tape recorder was turned on.

Walter Rupp said he felt the quality of the tape-recorded minutes was not satisfactory, but Trudy Palmer said she listened to them and felt it was. Lennox said he didn't feel the tapes were necessary: "We lived without them for years and we can do without them.

When John McDonough, board Secretary, was asked if he felt they were of any use, he said the only time they helped was when a statement that a member of the board wished to be included in the minutes of the meeting wasn't written and handed to him.

Keating moved that the board secretary check the financial possibilities of getting proper tape recording equipment or a stenographic secretary. The motion passed, 4-3. Charles Speth then moved that the board secretary include in the minutes only what was said at the meeting, and that the board policy of including written statements handed in afterwards be dropped. The motion was passed unanimously.

In other business, the board approved, on another 4-3 vote, that McDonough join four organizations at the Board's cost. The organizations included were the N.J. Association of School Business Administrators, $80: the Rotary Club of Mountainside, $40 dues plus the cost of the weekly luncheon meetings; the Union County Public School Business Officials, $50, and the Association of School Busness Officials of the U.S. and Canada, $40.

The board approved a request from the PTA to hold a cake sale on Election Day, at the polls. The only stipulation was that the tables for the sale would be set up at least 100 feet from the voting area and the no campaigning would take place. The board unanimously approved a motion that a notary public license be obtained for Claire Howe of the board office at a cost of

Our current debt will be paid off before 20 years. These projects could easily be financed by bond issues that would not raise taxes significantly. We have had very good financial management."

SPEAKING OF his current campaign bid, he said, "I ask the people of Mountainside to support my reelection. I think in the second three years I'll be able to accomplish a lot more; it takes quite a while to learn all phases of the job.

"We have at this point in Mountainside a group of men on the council who work very well together. They are men of integrity and honesty and I support them and am proud to be a part of them. I hope the people support Bill Cullen and me for reelection

Mention Australia and many people visualize a land filled with kangaroos and kaola bears. But for medical scientists, it is a reminder that a substance in the blood of an Australian aborigine gave the first clue to a cause of viral hepatitis. Discovered in 1963, this substance now known as Australia (Au) antigen was not related to hepatitis until 1967. Further study showed it to be a virus-like particle associated with heprtitis B, one of two forms of this disease. One form of the Australia antigen is now strongly suspected of being the causative virus hepatitis B.

Hepatitis, meaning "inflammation of the liver" or "jaundice," occurs in two types: (infectious) hepatitis A and (serum) hepatitis B. The liver is the organ primarily affected in both forms: however, within each type, symptoms vary.

Doherty asks cut in county car use

Robert C Doherty, a Westfield attorney and Union County Republican freeholder candidate, this week said that county government should seek ways to economize and suggested a 'dramatic'' cutback on the private use of county-owned automobiles. He said considerable savings would be realized in amor tization, insurance and fuel costs

"We have nearly 200 cars assigned to various county officials and employees." Doherty said "This is nearly one car for every 10 employees," he noted. "The county Department of Administration should determine which personnel are subject to emergency calls which would require the use of the county-owned vehicles for official business outside normal business hours. The operators of all other vehicles should be denied free use of the cars to reflect the savings."

Doherty's running mates are Freeholders Matthew H. Nilsen and Rose Marie Sinnott on the Republican ticket.

Harriers win; Bjorstad beats course record

By GARY SHERMAN

The Jonathan Dayton cross-country team increased its season's record to 5-1 last week by a 22-37 victory over Madison and a 24-31 victory over New Providence. Dayton sports fans are reminded that in cross country, the team with the lower score wins. On Tuesday, the team traveled to Summit for an away meet Against Madison, the larriers ran on a 3.25 mile course, which is considered to be one of the longest in the Suburban Conference. In that race, Dayton finishers were Billy Bjorstad placing first. Charles Kiell, third, Gary Wer ner, fourth, Gary Sherman sixth, Ben Geltzeiler eighth, John Keenan ninth and Danny Smith in 10th For Madison, Mark Kitchell placed second; followed by John Ryan in fifth and Pat Luciano in seventh

The cross-country team, although defeating New Providence, had hoped to stop them in their attempt to tie the state dual meet record of 52 consecutive victories. Two days before, however. New Providence was beaten by Verona High School in the attempt to reach their 51st victory. In the New Providence meet, Dayton's Billy Bjorstad, who finished first in the race, set a home course record. The previous record had been set in the 1973 season by a visiting runner. Other Dayton finishers were Gary Werner second, Charles Kiell fourth, Gary Sherman, eighth, Ben Geltzeilerninth, Danny Smith 11th, John Keenan 15th and Bill Leber in 16th For New Providence, Ed Grant placed third, followed by John Hornak fifth, Scott Brennan sixth, John Hughes seventh and Steve Reiher in 10th.

Today the harriers are running at home against Millburn at Meisel Field at 3:30 p.m. and tomorrow they will be hosts to Kenilworth

Dayton booters win two, travel to Millburn today

By MICHAEL MESKIN

The Jonathan Dayton soccer team won two of three games last week—crunching Madison, 5losing to New Providence, 3-2, in a superbly played game and then coming from behind to nip Parsippany, 3-2. The victories brought the teams record to 3-2.

Today the booters play at Millburn. The Millers have been looking sharp in conference play although they lost to Summit and Verona in close games. Coach Art Krupp anticipates a tight game. Tuesday Dayton plays host to a tough Verona club.

Against Madison the bulldogs struck in the middle of the first quarter as center halfback Emmet Rueda made a fabulous shot from 30 feet out that hit the top of the crossbar and bounced into the net. With Dayton's defense rather sluggish the Dodgers just missed scoring opportunities. They scored on a penalty kick but it was nullified due to a rule infraction Receiving a second chance, the kicker drove the ball just wide of the net

In the second quarter Dayton's defense tightened, while the offense continued its constant pressure. Halfback John McCarthy scored his first varsity goal on a shot into the net's right corner.

The Bulldogs continued their excellent play in the third as Rueda headed in a corner kick from Ron Frank on a beautifully executed play. Minutes later junior lineman Gary Scheich. coming off a back injury, scored his first goal; he took a chip pass from Rueda, beat the defensive player to his left and drilled the ball into the right corner.

With the game tucked away, Krupp began to substitute freely in the fourth quarter and the reserves played exceptionally well. Lineman Rainer Malzbender scored his first goal on a low drive into the left corner. Madison scored on a chip shot into the net past goalie Sid Kaufman, who had to make only four saves the Krupp was generally pleased with his team's work, though he felt it could have done better. He expects a tougher game from Madison next

In their best game of the season, the Bulldogs were edged by New Providence. Using a 4-3-3 formation-four linemen, three halfbacks and three fullbacks-they outshot the opposition,

The Pioneers struck early in the first quarter and Rueda tied the score on a direct kick from 20 feet out into the net's right corner. The score remained tied until the second half.

New Providence tallied in the third quarter and made the score 3-1 in the fourth. With 1:20 remaining, Scheich made a "pretty" move off a Rueda chip pass and scored the final goal. Krupp was not the only one pleased with his team's play-the officials and New Providence coach complimented him at the game's conclusion on the booters' fine work. Losing, 2-0, to Parsippany with six minutes

Krupp was ecstatic about the final outcome but he warned "the team must play consistently sharper if it is to compete with

With the new four-man line, the offense has been looking considerably better. The sustained offensive pressure for two or three minutes at a time has brought more scoring opportunities.

Scheich's return to the lineup has helped; he already has three goals while playing the inside left wing. Cohen has also been impressive on the left wing. Linemen Bruce Blumenfeld, Dave Quatrone, Bill Nevius, Jeff McQuaid, and Alan Layton all played in recent games.

The halfbacks, led by All-Starter Rueda, have played extremely well. Rueda, though still bothered by a hamstring muscle pull, leads the team with five goals. Mark Pezzuto, a recent starter, has done a good job, impressing Krupp. Tony Francis has shown hustle and desire. Other halfbacks playing in the last three games were Art Leak and Steve Hechtle. Frank has been doing an excellent job, adding stability to the defensive unit. Harry Irwin has also impressed with his consistent overall play. Also contributing were Rick Morris, Joe Farinella, Dana Levitt and Steve Matsek. Goalies Kaufman and Shindler have looked strong. Kaufman made a couple of fine saves in latter minutes against Parsippany; Shindler looked good against New Providence Krupp feels the team now has some degree of confidence; it realizes that it can score against any club in the conference.

penalty-filled game, the Jonathan Dayton football team evened its record at 1-1. The Bulldogs, will play host to Millburn, Saturday at 1:30 in their first conference contest. The Millers, according to Dayton's scouting reports, are "a well-balanced conservative club" whose basic problem is a lack of depth. This seems to be the reason for the Millers' in effective play during much of the fourth quarter of their initial two games. Millburn's fine quarterback, Lee Springmeyer, was injured in his team's first game and did not play in the second but he could be ready Saturday. The Millers, also 1-1, will be seeking to avenge Dayton's 7-0 victory last year.

Dayton's ensuing drive was stopped by an interception of a Carmen Scoppettuolo pass. The first half ended with the score 0-0.

Dayton finally scored in the third quarter After the Hillside defense held. Heide uncorked a 64-yard punt to the Hillside 16. The stubborn Dayton defense tightened, led by sophomore nose guard Kevin Mitchell, who sacked the Hillside quarterback for a five yard loss and then stopped a run for a yard loss. The Comets were forced to punt from their own end zone. The snap from the Hillside center went over Kowalsky's head out of the end zone for a

Greek festival Oct. 19, 20 Homemade Greek food, the catchy tunes of the bouzouki, decorations and costumed waiters, waitresses and dancers will provide the atmosphere as the community center of Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, Westfield, is transformed into a Greek square for the annual Greek Festival. This is the eighth annual festival at the church, 250 Gallows Hill rd. It will be held on Friday, Oct 18, from 10 am to 11 pm and Saturday, Oct. 19 from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m., at the Community Center

As the visitor enters, he will see ancient columns and vineyards surrounding the dining area set up as a typical Greek "taverna Outside the "taverna" will be booths where Greek pottery, heedlework, placques, jewelry and other imported items as well as specialty food items and Greek pastries can be pur chased. A new revised cook book including all the favorite Greek recipes will also be on sale, and hanging plants decorating the hall may be purchased. In the evening, costumed dancers will entertain with folk dances to the bouzouki music of the Arcadians. The authentic Greek costumes were made by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary, sponsors of the festival.

The menu includes "souvlakia" (shish kebaba "chicken kapama" (chicken with moussaka, (baked eggplant), pastitsio, (baked macaroni), tiropetes, (cheese boureka), dolmades (stuffed grapevine

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I have a problem. I like this boy and another girl likes him, but he just ignores me. He won't even say "Hi." Once, he told me he loved me, but now he doesn't even like me. I think he tells all the girls that he loves them. My problem is that I still like him very very much. What do you think I should do?

OUR REPLY: This boy is going through a stage where he is in love with love. Every girl he meets is the answer to all his dreams, until he gets to know them-then he discovers another dreamboat. The way he is acting right now is normal, but it definitely shows that he has got a lot of growing up to do. If you still like him, you are going to have to wait a year or two until he gets out of this stage he is in and is ready for a more meaningful relationship. Right now, there isn't much you can do.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to For and About Teenagers, Community and Suburban Press Service, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

If you think $19,990 is a great price, you'll think it's even better once you see our marvelous condominium community

Our homes are the biggest surprise. Amazingly luxurious, they feature central air conditioning; patios. porches or balconies; tiled decorator bathrooms; ultra-modern kitchens. Unquestionably worth every penny. You also get paved streets, sidewalks, curbs, sewers, city water and underground electric lines.

Our recreational facilities are another nice surprise. There's a beautiful swimming pool. Shuffleboard courts. Plus a social and recreational building for arts and crafts, sewing and just shooting the breeze with your congenial neighbors . . . all in a friendly, comfortable atmosphere.

You'll have plenty of time to enjoy this good life: A sensible monthly maintenance fee covers all recreational facilities plus exterior maintenance service.

Not to go unmentioned are the great tax and equity advantages of condominium ownership . . so essential during these inflationary times. Plus the fact that our location is excellent . . . just one mile from the Garden State Parkway for a smooth ride to New York and all parts of New Jersey.

In short, at $19,990 Cheesequake Village offers you real, honest-togoodness value-a near-miracle for this day. And this age.

the results. Reservations were off sharply and transatlantic flights were going out halfempty. Many families were forced to either abandon their vacation plans or reduce them significantly to conserve money. Trips have been shorter and closer to home. "But residents of the growing number of condominium developments around the nation probably didn't notice the problem at all," suggests Mainero. "The on-site recretation facilities which characterize the best of these communities provide a vacation atmosphere every day of the year. Mainero doesn't imply residents at activity-oriented condominiums will give up their annual holiday. But he thinks they'll find little reason to fly or drive hundreds of miles to crowd around a hotel swimming with strangers They have their own private year-round leisure facilities within walking distance, so formal vacations will logically have some other focus, he Even before inflation became the major topic of concern across the nation, buyers at condominium communities such as Prel's Town 'n Country in Pomona. N.Y., as an example, stated the recreation centers were important selling points.

"Today," notes Mainero. "more people realize that these clubhouses and activity centers represent significant economic advantages as well as providing endless hours of pleasure."

Just as the mid-winter gasoline shortage resulted in changes in driving habits, so may the current economic squeeze influence housing trends. Gasoline is again available -- in abundance -- but many motorists haven't returned to the pre-crisis pattern of speed and spend, Mainero notes. Improved safety is one factor, and continuing high costs, the

Similarly, the soaring cost of more traditional housing has prompted many home seekers to consider condominiums. This particular pressure may change, but, while it continues, more people are learning of the practicality of the concept, Mainero says. Even if there should be a sharp turnaround in prices——which seems unlikely——the lesson of overall value should continue to expand the demand for condominium living, he notes. Daily access to swimming pools, tennis courts, saunas and clubhouses forms just part of the picture. Con-vocals) and Richard Rosas (bass). Assisting on various tracks on the album were John Hartford, Sneeky Pete and two friends from the old neighborhood, Anthony Baray and Steve

Mark guesses that Ernie and Richard have been playing in bands together for 10 or 11 years; John has been with the other three for the past three years, off and on. The pre-Tango band went through a succession of names that reads like a thumbnail history of rock and roll: Mark and the Escorts (saxes, suits and dance steps), the Men from S.O.U.N.D., 1984, and Mudd Brothers. Under those and assorted other names, Mark, Ernie and Richard went from school hops in East L.A. to gigs all around the

While they never got involved in playing ethnic music, Mark-who has been writing songs-for-seven-or-eight-years-has begun dealing in his lyrics with themes directly related to the issue of equality. "I'm Brown" and "I'm a Human" deal with the quest for equality in a way that is is at once humanistic

But the album isn't by any means a philosophical tract—it's full of straightforward, spirited, West-coast rock that is at times reminiscent of bands like Creedence and the Burritos. Mark shrugs off specific influences on his music: "I consider myself eclectic as a writer and as a musician. I might write a country song one day, a rock and roll song the next, and then go on a crusade the day after that.'

In that sense, the album is thoroughly representative of Tango's broad range of stylistic and thematic involvements. Mark's personal and general concerns, his underplayed sense of humor and the group's musical skills are all abundantly present on Tango's first album, which certainly won't be Theater Time Clock now at Fox ''The Terminal Man, arner Brothers' cor temporary Frankenstein type film, starring George Segal and Joan Hackett, arrived yesterday at the Fox Theater, Route 22, Union.

The picture, in color, concerns a man who gets seizures that make him violent, and he is subjected to an operation in which doctors attach computers to his brain to control his malfunctions. However, something goes wrong, and he becomes more of a monster than a man. Mike Hodges directed the picture.

"Only an enlightened and ethically motivated citizenry can generate the democratic processes to effect the kind of foreign policy leadership that is so crucial. The Christian Gospel motivates us to strive for that kind of responsibility. We hope these workshops will be one of many channels in which that responsibility can be generated." The workshops are scheduled to take place in the following parishes: St. Joseph's Church, Hoboken road, East Rutherford, on Oct. 19-26. at 8:30 p.m. St. Michael's Church, Kelly street and Vauxhall road, Union, on Nov. 11-18 at 8 p.m. Our Lady of the Valley Church, Valley and McChesney streets, Orange, at 8 p.m. on Oct.

Firms, workers urged to minimize arsenic exposure

Employers and employees whose work involves or exposes them to inorganic arsenic compounds are advised to take special precautions to minimize exposure to arsenic according to Joseph A. Hoffman. Com missioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and

Industry
The U.S. Department of Labor recently announced that it has received information from two large chemical companies linking inorganic arsenic compounds to high rates of lung and lymphatic cancer in exposed workers

Last January, the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare issued a study on inorganic arsenic which recommended a ten-fold reduction for employee exposure. This recommendation, based upon previous reports of increased cancer among arsenic workers, would reduce the legal exposure limit from the present 0.5 to 0.05 milligrams of arsenic per cubic meter of air Arsenic compounds are widely used throughout industry, and arsenic is frequently present as a contaminant in many other compounds. George B. Stanton, Jr., chief of occupational health for the State Department of Labor and Industry, estimates that 115,000 employees working in 44 different occupations in 1,300

A sample of households in this area will take part in the federal government's annual survey on education to be taken next week by the Bureau of the Census

John C. Cullinane, director of the bureau's regional office in New York, said that interviewers will visit homes to obtain in-formation about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten. Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

The survey provides a continuing measure of conditions in the labor force. The August survey found the nation's employment situation little changed from July. The unemployment rate was 5.4 percent, up slightly from 5.3 percent the month before. Total em ployment was 86.2 million, practically un-changed for the past two months and up only 375,000 since January

Protection asked against 'unsound' insurance firms

New Jersey should consider a "get tough" policy to prevent "financially unsound insurance companies from doing business in the according to the New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents. The group has asked State Insurance Commissioner James J. Sheeran to appoint a study panel to consider just that.

"We are deeply concerned that the debacle of the bankrupt Gateway Insurance Co. and all the problems that it caused the insured consumer could happen again," said James A. Byrne of Wildwood, president of the 5,000 member association

The association president added that 'responsible insurance companies have nothing to fear in supplying current data that would prove their financial stability.

"We have asked the commissioner to consider a study group that would recommend legislation to minimize any similar Gateway situations," Byrne said.

Medallic Art's fift to collectors is Richard B. Dusterberg's comprehensive book. The Official Inaugural Medals of the Presidents of the United States. It's a fascinating compiliation of the medals and their history, along with facts and figures showing editions, numbers issued and a chart listing collector market valuations. You'll learn for instance, that without exception, every single Official Presidential Insugural Medal ever issued is currently selling in the collector's market for significantly more than its original issue price. As a notable example, a Franklin D. Roosevelt Brosuzer Insugural Medal, struck by Medallic Art Company in 1933, sold at a December 1973 auction sale in New York City for a starting $600. The original medal price was just $2.90. The book is FREE with orders of $150 or more. Book alone, $7.95.
