Special meeting held after walk-out by two

BY KAREN ZAUTYK Dr. Irvin Krause, a member of the Moun-tainside Board of Education since 1972, was unanimously elected president of that unit at its organization meeting last Thursday night in the Deerfield School Patricia Knodel, who nominated Krause, was reelected vice Approximately 70 persons were tendance at the special session, called after the originally scheduled meeting March 18 was adjourned when newly-elected board members Ronald Wood and William Biunno walked out. Biunno had requested adjournment because of the absence of Krause, who was in the hospital. and Walter Rupp, who was out of town on business. (Rupp also was absent Thursday.) When Biunno's motion was rejected March 18, he and Wood, who said they preferred to see a full board seated for organization, left.

Thursday's session was calmer, but Krause, when commended for running a harmonious meeting, joked, "Just remember, it's only one in a rów.

In a short acceptance speech following his election, he expressed hopes for a coalition board, "run in a conciliatory manner." "I will make every effort on my part to overcome any predisposed ideas or any prejudiced ideas I have in order to allow every board member to have a voice," he said.

"The only way to get things done," he con tinued, "is to approach matters as a coalition. I am hopeful all the board members agree with me. I think they do. I think the newly-elected members indicated this desire in their campaign, and those who are continuing as members have indicated the same. I hope also, that in the appointment of committees, we will be able to effect a coalition on each, so none is overpowered in one direction. I think the board will cooperate in this."

AT KRAUSE'S REQUEST. committee assignments and the naming of representatives to state, county and local organizations were postponed until he could discuss the matters in caucus.

Krause has served on the board since 1972, when he was appointed to fill an unexpired term. He won election to a three-year term in 1973. He has taught at City University of New York, and New York University, from which he received, respectively, his master's degree and his doctorate. He also was a professor of mechanical, engineering and laboratory director at Fairleigh Dickinson University Prior to assuming his present post as vice-president of the Ginsberg Machine Co., New fork, he was engineering manager for the Singer Co., Elizabethport. Mrs. Knodel earned a bachelor's degree from Caldwell College and also majored in elementary education at Montclair State College. She was a teacher in Mountainside for three years, having taught previously in Edison and Irvington. Appointed to fill an unexpired board term in February 1971, she was elected to a three-year term in 1973. The board, which has been without a full-time attorney since Charles Jerome retired in September 1974, appointed Raymond O'Brien of the Elizabeth law firm of O'Brien, Daaleman and Liotta to fill that post. The selection was made over the objections of Biunno and Wood, who requested a postponement to enable them to review the resumes of O'Brien and 11 other lawyers interviewed by the former board. O'Brien has been serving as counsel to the poard in its negotiations with the Borough ouncil over the possibility of converting the Echobrook School to a municipal complex. The statement continued: "The Gospel Road," distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife. June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

"The film is a blend of scripture-based narrative, a supply of specially written songs and a series of indepth character portrayals with Israel itself as the mixing bowl

KITCHEN STAFF — Chef Robert Johnson, food service worker Louise Harris (center) and Edno Frohlin, head of the Children's Specialized Hospital dietary staff, are among the personnel who see to it the young patients receive wholesome and tasty meals. The staff now operates out of a less than modern kitchen, but hospital expansion plans call for a brand new facility.

What's cooking at CSH? Plans for new dietary facilities

Noses of staff members and patients at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, start to twitch in anticipation at about 10:30 a.m., when delicious odors start coming from the kitchen. All agree, meals at the hospital are

Unlike the Republic of South Vietnam which may be able to survive as a viable, if truncated, nation, the Phnom Penh Government of Cambodia cannot survive.

Consider the military situation. The Phnom Penh government still holds the capital city and a number of provincial capitals - but except for some rice growing land in the northwest part of the country it holds no significant territory. All roadways to Phoom Penh are cut, as is the essential Mekong river supply route. Any help that can come to the city must come by airlift and must run the risk of rocket and artillery fire at the Phnom Penh airport

The city is teeming with refugees. In early March there were almost 500,000 refugees in the city itself and many more coming in: In the provinces an equal number of refugees are huddled into small provincial towns under: constant seige

There is massive hunger in the country 4 12 country that was once rich-in rice and food production. Kwashiorkor, a massive protein deficiency, affects thousands of children. It is unknown how many have died or how many more will die

The situation is grim. It can only get worse if, instead of a negotiated end to the suffering, a disorganized military and political rout occurs If we cut off all assistance immediately there is little prospect that the insurgent forces, the Khmer Rouge, will bother to move in directly to take over Phnom Penh. It is expected that they will wait and starve the people-glutted city They will wait for riots and for insurrection. There will be no food and no hope.

That is why I supported a supplem request that was approved by the Senate, Foreign Relations Committee. In its essence this measure provides military assistance for Cambodia for three months -- or, until June 30 at which time all military assistance to the Cambodian government will be halted. The objective of the amendment is to give the Cambodian covernment the opportunity within a limited time to negotiate an agreement with their adversaries which will protect human life when the existing government is replaced. It will give the United States government time to use its good offices with the Peoples Republic of China and other countries that might prove helpful in coming to an agreement on the Cambodian situation. The measure also provides humanitarian assistance -- mainly food -- for the Cambodian' cople at least until a transitional government is formed. No hard and fast time limit has been placed on the food assistance in the legislation. I have been deeply concerned about the well being of many Cambodian nationals who in one way or another have been supporters of the existing government. For example, over 700 Khmer nationals have been doing most of the humanitarian work for the voluntary agreenes providing food and medical assistance in Cambodia. The lives of these dedicated young people have been repeatedly threatened by the insurgeot forces. We owe them a little time, if we can give it, to take steps for their safety. Repeated atrocities, in the countryside of Cambodia success, also, that it has been the intent of the other side to liquidate the middle. class of Cambodia-the shop keepers, school teachers, civil servants and so on. Buddhist ments and efficials have also been harrassed and killed by the insurgeras. There is at least a chance that a few more months of military and and subsequent regulations may lead to an agreement that could provide some protection ler them It may appear invese that as an opponent of U.S. involvement in Camboolia, through the Case Church resolution that cut off U.S. combat involvement in the area and through my man amendment to severely limit the minuter of U.S. personnel permitted in Cambodia, I take the position I do now. I deeply regret our involvement - but at the same time the fact of our involvement placess upon us a responsibility that I believe we cannot reject something to look forward to.

The kitchen-the best of its kind years ago is outmoded by today's standards, but is still used efficiently by the dietary staff, headed by Edna Frohlin, registered dietitian. In addition to full-time chef Robert Johnson, there is an assistant chef, three food service aides and two trained high school students. A cook also is on duty on weekends.

The hospital's expansion plans include a new kitchen, with modern stove, separate ovens, walk-in freezer, stainless steelservice stations to cut down' scrubbing time, and central air flow. But in the meantime, the staff is doing well with the old one.

Every patient's diet is prescribed by Dr Mary Boyer, staff physician, and Miss Frohlin works closely with the speech department in planning meals; the goal is to get the child eating a regular, textured diet to develop and strengthen the muscles for chewing and swallowing

Miss Frohlm also checks frequently with the personnel who serve the meals to determine which foods are being well-received and which are being rejected by the patients Providing daily meals for some 220 patients and staff presents some problems in today's economy. Since the amount of foods purchased is limited in comparison to many hospitals and institutions, large wholesale buying of certain items; such as bread and other baked goods. cannot be utilized. "Mr. Johnson, however, has a knack for pastry and we still get special treats such as pumpkin chilfon pie and other good things," Miss Frohlin said

Lack of a walk in freezer prevents much targe scale buying, but food used in quantities. like fruit, groceries, meats and some frozen items are bought wholesale. Attention is paid to the purchase, on a larger scale, of seasonal ommodities

Several times during the year there are special meals at the bospital During the summer, picmes are a popular event. Thanksgiving and Christmas feature turkeys usually donated by organizations and friends of the hospital

When the new hospital building has been completed and other expansion plans are a reality, there will come about new ways of doing things in the dietary department. Multipation of a modern kitchen, a walk-in walk-in freezer, a children's dining room and cafeteria for employees runs high "But one thing everyone bopes will continue in the face of inevitable changes is the warm, family feeling that has been generated by the old, friendly kitchen at Children's Specialized Hospital for the past 83 years," a spokesman said.

Letters To Editor

COUNTY MANAGER PLAN

It has come to our attention that the Board of Chosen Freeholders has requested the courts to throw out" the results of the successful charter referendum passed in November, which sanctions a county manager form of government, and that the board contends this should be done because of alleged technical errors

We recognize the complexity of the suits and countersuit. However, as lay people we would remind you that the Union County Council of TAs, Board of Managers, representing 55,000 cople from all areas of Union County (as did the general electorate) voted to support the charter revision proposals. We hope, regardless of the outcome of the litigation, that the Board of Chosen Freeholders will not seek to subvert the will of the people and will instead insure effective county manager form of government as voted in November, by the ectorate.

MRS. H. F. UNGAR, Executive Committee Union County Council of PTAs

'DOUBLE-EDGED SWORD'

Barbara Byron's letter appearing in the March 20 Mountainside Echo was the usual double-edged sword we've become accustomed to from the Board of Education's minority coalition and their supporters. They call for peace and harmony and then assault you with misinformation.

The letter claims the coalition's candidate lost by only 177 votes while, in fact, she lost every single election district in this community and the winners received 352 and 371 more votes than she. In spite of a well-oiled political" group, the coalition's candidate lost to two men supported by all segments of our ommunity

The letter really misinforms when it credits (Charles) Speth, (Pat) Knodel and (Trudy) Palmer for helping to pass the school budget. Nothing could be further from the truth. Mr.

Castillo attending police academy

Patrolman Charles W. Castillo of Mountainside, a member of the Union County Park Police, is among 38 patrolmen and other law enforcement personnel enrolled in the 30th annual session of the Union County Basic Police Training Academy at Union College's Cranford campus, it was announced by Dr. John Wolf, director of the academy and chairman of the criminal justice department at Union College

The academy, operated jointly by the Umon County Police Chiefs Association and Union College, will continue daily through Friday, April 4

In addition to instruction in the fundamentals of police work, the academy offers recruits the opportunity to earn up to 12 college credits which may be transferred to a degree program in criminal justice, offered at Union College as well as many other two and four-year colleges and universities

Speth launched a one-man crusade against the budget flaunting his phantom omnipotence regarding school finances. Others in the minority coalition actively supported a can-didate who said she'd support the budget but then distributed material that clearly implied fiscal negativism and did nothing but hinder the budget's passage.

I submit that divisiveness and polarization in Mountainside is not caused by elections. I, like Mrs. Byron, plead for harmony on our Board. The two best incumbents, Krause and Knodel, have just been elected president and vice-president, respectively. If "all" members quit engaging in ego trips and remember that practical democracy dictates not only honest agreement but also pragmatism and compromise, then Mrs. Byron and myself can calm ourselves, knowing that the best interests of the children and the community are being handled by decent, fair-minded people. HAROLD R, BURDGE JR.

'CONSTRUCTIVE YEAR' I was delighted to see Dr. Irvin Krause elected as the president of the Mountainside Board of Education last night as I have the greatest respect for his abilities. I would like however to publicly and personally thank Bill Biunno and Ron Wood for making it possible for Dr. Krause to be present at this the most important meeting of the school year. Dr. Krause was in the hospital on Tuesday and con sequently unable to attend the meeting. Obviously he is well-respected by his fellow boardsmen since they unanimously elected him their president, so it seems that waiting the extra two days out of respect for him was an admirable move for the board to make. As evidenced by last night's meeting, the wait of the two days made no difference. It is too had that the entire board did not wish to extend Dr Krause this coutesy, We, as a community, are so privileged to have these extremely competent men serving that I hope we will all give them the respect their positions demand. This is a new year and a new slate.

It is my hope that all the board members will follow Dr. Krause's lead in an attempt to have a fruitful, constructive year for the sake of our children.

I beseech all those persons who felt this election was important enough to go out and vote to feel the year is also important enough to attend the Board meetings. You put these people on the board and it is now your responsibility to support them.

won by an overwhelming majority They vote of 352 and 371. This mandate from the voters should indeed serve as a guide to the entire board as to their future direction MRS, WILLIAM CROMARTY to restrict enrollment Because of possible reductions in appropriations from the county and the state. L'nion College will issue only conditional acceptances to applicants residing outside of t'nion County, it was announced this week by

Dr. Saul Orkin, president. In addition, Union College may be forced to restrict enrollment of new students for the fall semester who are Union County residents, Dr. Orkin said

We will make every effort to serve Union Courty residents for whom we have primary responsibility," Dr. Orkin said "In the current financial crisis, this may not be possible. The abandonment of the open door admissions policy is a real possibility " Dr. Orkin reported that applications for the fall semester are running 25 to 30 percent ahead of this year, which intensifies the enrollment pressures on the college

Union College prepared its 1975-76 budget on protection of 3,400 full-time equivalent itudents, which includes all full-time and parttime and credit and two-credit students, Dr. Orkin and The college has already exceeded 3,500 full-time equivalent students for 1974-75

"At a time when the demand in Union County for educational services is increasing, this college will prohably have to reduce the size of its student body below what it is presently." Dr (what laid "Everythe can appreciate the possible social, economic, and political ramifications such action will bring in train

Dr. Orkin said that in addition to an enrollment reduction, the anticipated county and state appropriation cutbacks will probably force the College to take one or several of the following actions: place a freeze on hiring for all new positions; pare certain programs and courses from the schedule, and increase tuition from its present $350 per academic year to the allowable maximum of $400.

"It goes without saying that all of these possibilities are disagreeable and we shall strive to avoid them," the Union College president said.

Children's play staged by college will tour schools

"Balloon Parade," a children's musical, is being produced by Kean College students for various grammar schools of the Union County-Newark area. The play, intended for preschool to third graders, tells the story of a young boy's adventures with the mad Queen of Colour and two rather unusual frogs.

The students performing in the company are enrolled in the "Childrens' Theatre on Tour" course which offers them the opportunity to work and perform as a professional company. They are coordinated and directed by Professor Jason Teran. The production will tour every week from now through May 19. All the work involved in the production of "Balloon Parade" has been done by students from playwriting to technical work to acting.

The members of the group are not all theatre majors but come from varied backgrounds. They include Joan Barren of Linden, Kathy

UCTI reports increase in students' applications

The total number of applications, ac-ceptances and confirmed students for Sep-. tember classes at the Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, is running far ahead of the total at this time last year, according to a report released this week by Dr. John Klinzing, UCTI Dean of Students.

"As of March 5," reported Dr. Klinzing, "we've had over 28 percent more applications for admission to the 20 Technical Institute programs-nearly a thousand students."

According to the report, the largest increase in applications for admission occurred in the five business-oriented programs. "Computer Science applications were up 66 percent" said Dr. Klinzing, "The overall total in the Business Division went up 56 percent."

Health programs overall were up 28 percent. according to the study. As of the date of the report, nearly three times as many respiratory therapy students applied for admission in September, 1975, than in September, 1974. "In fact," said Dr. Klinzing, "we have more paid deposits from students who have accepted a position in one of the Technical Institute classes today than the total number of admissions offers we had mailed out at this point last year.

Dr. Klinzing attributes the plications and acceptances to several factors. The first is the economic situation. "With the economy in its current situation," said Dr. Klinzing, "I think students are looking for a

UC English profs' article published

Two English professors at Union College are the authors of an article appearing in a recent edition of "College English," the official journal of the National Council of Teachers of English Prof. Timothy McCracken and Prof. Allen Ashby are the authors of "The Widow's Walk: An Alternative for English 101-- Creative Communications."

The article discusses the fact that so little of the students' experiences is reflected in their writing, leading Professors McCracken and Ashby to believe that we have divorced our language from the feelings we want to express. They suggest replacing freshman composition courses with "Creative Communications," a course which studies human communication and expression through gestures, actions, speech and writing.

The aims of Creative Communications include reuniting the senses and feeling, an emphasis upon self-definition and selfactualization, and finding creative responses to complex questions," Professors McCracken and Ashby agree.

County police chiefs hit

Lello said the proposal, which is being considered by the state legislature as Assembly bill A-2140, would make it "easier for young adults to purchase wine and beer at a time when teenage alcoholism and drunken driving are ever-increasing problems. It doesn't make much sense.

The association, said Lello, believes A-2140 'will not be doing a service for the general public; rather, it appears that it will create many new problems for the public and the police. Police departments are presently being burdened with drinking-related problems and certainly any further liberalization in this area would create greater enforcement problems. It would appear that more stringent controls in the New Jersey statutes are needed to prevent a further proliferation of alcoholic abuses by our youth.

Lelio said a resolution indicating the association's opposition to A-2140 will be sent to Union County legislators and state officials.

From N.J. Taxpayers Association

OVERSIGHT BILLS DRAW VARIED REACTION

A recent public hearing on a pair of State Senate proposals calling for the establishment of joint legislative committees to oversee the operation and progress of measures already enacted into law indicates a division of opinion regarding the effects of such proposals in improving the legislative process, notes the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

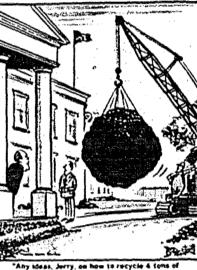

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149 would supplement Joint Rules for legislative procedure and authorize creation by concurrent action of both houses of the legislature of joint oversight committees. Each panel would consist of at least six members: two senators chosen by the Senate president, two Assembly members selected by the Assembly speaker, and at least one citizen appointed by the presiding officer of each house. Each oversight committee would study and evaluate the extent of compliance with legislative intent on the following types of laws: creation of new governmental agency or instrumentality; any alteration or structural change of any state agency or political sub-division; alteration, abolition, or creation of any legal rights, duties or responsibilities. Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 148 would implement the previous resolution to create five committees to study and evaluate the following 1974 laws: mail voter registration, urban aid, public financing of gubernatorial campaigns, repeal of the 1962 New York and New Jersey bond convenants restricting Port Authority participation in mass transit projects and the Department of Public Advocate. Supporters of the oversight concept claim the proposed review committees would help improve legislative procedures by enabling the legislature to evaluate the effectiveness of new laws, by measuring public reaction of new laws through conduct of public hearings, by increased citizen participation in the legislative process through the use of qualified citizen committee members, and by the possibility of greater legislative "follow through" on recommendations and criticism. Critics of the oversight committee proposals state that while the objectives of the two resolutions are laudable, the addition of more committees to the already overburdened legislative process may not achieve any improvement of the legislature. They argue that lawmakers are not able to devote sufficient time to present standing committee assignments for adequate consideration of a record volume of bills; over 40 special legislative commissions and committees have been created but not all are fully functioning, and some joint committees seldom meet. Suggested alternatives to the new oversight committees are assignment of the oversight responsibility to existing agencies:

1. The standing committee which reported the original legislation, assisted by the Office of Fiscal Alfairs, or

2. The Law Revision and Legislative Services Commission, a 12-member policy body of legislative leaders from each house which now approves programs for analysis.

HOLLYWOOD --- Jan-The contemporary action trucking business. 5 UNION - 964-9633 EXCLUSIVE NORTH JERSEY ENGAGEMENT STARTING FRIDAY WHAT A FILM! INSTANTLY ONE OF THE TEN BEST MOVIES OF THE YEAR. Federico Fellini is a director that I admire above all others." -Gene Shalit, NBC-TV Today Show CRISTALDIS FELLINIS

Oscar-nominated Fellini film due at Cinema in Union Federico Fellini's "Amarcord," which will open an exclusive north Jersey engagement at the Five Points Cinema, Union, has been nominated for "Best Foreign Picture of the Year."

According to Fellini, "Amarcord" is a story of "a place which could be in any region of Italy in the 1930s, under the control of the Church and fascism. It is the tale of the lazy, impenetrable, enclosed existence of the Italian provinces; of the slothfulness, the smallmindedness and the rather ridiculous aspirations buried there; the fascinated contemplation of a mythical Rex as sails by, inaccessible and useless, the American cinema with its false prototypes; the 21st of April, birth of Rome."

Fellini says that the film "concerns a town, is a history of a town."

Questioned if his film is "political," Fellini explains that "if, by 'political,' one includes the possibility of working for a society of individuals who respect themselves and others, a society where everyone is free to be and to become, according to their deepest hopes, to have their own ideas, to read what they want to whilst realizing that their own personal freedom ends where that of others begin, then, in that case, my film is political; because it denounces the absence of all this by showing a world in which it does not exist.

Magali Noel, who has appeared in several of Fellini's prize-winning films, is seen as an archetype of womanhness, a "sex pot," Fellini says

Tampering with a 1970-1974 model automobile's emissions controls increase by 50 percent the chances of failing the emissions test during annual inspection, according to statistics from a joint report released this week by the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV).

According to the report, tampering with the emission control system is similar to gambling, and it raises the odds against the car owner by 50 percent. The loser also must face the additional expense of paying a mechanic to accomplish the necessary repairs or adjustments.

The report notes that 2,137 cars, model years 1970 through 1974, were examined during a spot check for evidence of tampering as they underwent annual inspection at the Baker's Basin station near Trenton. The rejection rate for those which gave evidence of tampering was 52 percent higher than for those on which tampering was not found.

The most frequent tampering was removal of the "limiter cap," the seal which restricts changes which can be made on the carburctor idle adjustment. Of vehicles equipped with such "caps" more than half gave evidence of tampering; carbon monoxide emissions increased substantially in many of these altered vehicles.

Other types of emission control equipment was subject to less frequent tampering. The emission control systems, other than "limiter caps," were inoperative on roughly one out of

Reporting system for unemployment benefits changed

Lines at unemployment insurance offices throughout the state will decrease considerably in April through a new four-week reporting system and an interim benefit check mailing, it was announced this week by Joseph A. Hoff-man, commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry. Beginning the week of April 7, each claimant will report to his local unemployment insurance office every four weeks instead of the current two-week periods. Checks will be mailed to the claimants during their nonreporting periods. Holfman said, "These changes will not only lessen lines at the local offices, but will allow more timely and efficient service. This innovative procedure is a convenience to claimants for unemployment benefits and has proved successful in pilot projects we have been conducting since Feb. 10.

The new system has been tested for five weeks in the unemployment insurance offices in Plainfield, Somerville, Atlantic City and Butler.

"As of this week," Hoffman said, "all unemployment offices are implementing the new system. All claimants should continue to report on their usual day. Each claimant will receive individual instructions, including a new reporting day and time.

"We have made arrangements with the local postmasters, who have been most cooperative. to have benefit checks delivered to each claimant two weeks after his personal visit to the local office. The checks will arrive on the same day he would normally report in person. "With the unemployment rate continuing to rise," the commissioner added, "the claims load has become unmanageable. The new system is an emergency program which is scheduled for one year, at which time it will be reevaluated. The system will apply to all benefit programs, except interstate claims

State task force to look for jobs

Representatives of a task force created by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry will visit the state's employers for job solicitations during the coming weeks in an effort to reduce the rising unemployment in New Jersey, according to Joseph A. Hoffman, commissioner of the department.

Hoffman said, "This is one of many new steps being taken to put the state's unemployed citizens back to work as quickly as possible. The task force will recruit job opportunities for these skilled, semiskilled and unskilled workers who have demonstrated their capacity and willingness to work.

"Employers throughout the state will be urged by employment specialists of the department to thre now. We are interested in openings that are available immediately or in the near future.

ten vehicles having these other systems. Hydrocarbon emissions were significantly increased in these circumstances.

The study was commissioned by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as part of its effort to determine compliance with the provisions of the Clean Air Act which prohibit tampering prior to the sale and delivery of a car to the buyer, and which provides for a fine of up to $10,000 for any manufacturer or dealer who knowingly removes or renders inoperative any device after sale and delivery to the car owner.

Another finding of the study is that dealer or manufacturer circumvention of the federal anti-tampering law did not appear to be a problem. It also was concluded that much of the tampering noted probably was due to misguided attempts to improve "driveability" and fuel economy, and to a lack of understanding of emission control devices by the service industry.

DMV Deputy Director Robert McMinn served as project manager, while John Elston, DEP principal environmental engineer, was project coordinator, and Bruce Comfort, DEP senior environmental specialist, acted as field survey leader. Single copies of the complete report, "A study of Emission Control Device Tampering in a New Jersey Motor Vehicle Population," may be obtained by writing Elston at the New Jersey Bureau of Air Pollution Control, Post Office Box 2807, Trenton.

EVERYTHING'S COMING UP RABBITS - Decisions, decisions, decisions. Which of these rabbits is the real Easter Bunny? This perplexing problem is faced by Sean Meade, 4, of Caldwell, who tries to guess which of Turtle Back Zoo's rabbits is the real Easter Bunny. Well, like all the other children, he'll have to wait till Easter morning to find out. Turtle Back Zoo will be open Easter from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The zoo is located at 560 Northfield ave., West Orange.

Bicentennial plans move N.J. into fourth place nationally

New Jersey has moved into fourth place among the 50 states in national recognition for grass roots Bicentennial activity at the municipal and county levels

The New Jersey Bicentennial Commission announced this week that 135 municipalities and 14 counties have officially been designated as "Bicentennial Communities" by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington. The municipalities include Roselle and Roselle Park, Linden, Mountainside and Springfield. Only Massachusetts, with 177, Louisiana, with 165, and Texas, with 156, are ahead of New

Use food stamps for seeds, plants

Food retailers and food stamp participants were reminded this week that seeds and plants for use in home gardens can be purchased with coupons. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service advised that the food raised must be used only for the personal consumption of the food stamp participant's eligible household.

The Food Stamp Program regulations were changed in August 1973 to permit recipients greater purchasing power to obtain the most economical and nutritious foods available. This freedom to purchase seeds and plants is especially necessary because of the various pressures and demands for certain foods which affect food prices and availability. Those food stamp participants who are uncertain about what kinds of plants and seeds are best suited for their area are advised to contact their county extension service agent for advice and information.

Jersey in the numbers of American Revolution Bicentennial Administration designations. The Bicentennial Commission reported that an additional 100 New Jersey communities are already in the process of applying to the American Revolution Bicentennia Administration for "Bicentennial Community Bicentennial designations.

The aim of the "Bicentennial Communities" program is to accord special public recognition to those municipalities and counties that are undertaking significant and imaginative programs which both involve and serve their ommunities. The designation entitles the community to use the official national Bicentennial symbol and to fly the Bicentennial flag.

Poor weather slows progress of Dayton nine

BY GINNY ALENSON The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team began practicing two weeks ago but poor weather conditions are aindering the progress of the team because they are unable to practice on the soggy field. Because of the bad field conditions the scrimmage against Irvington last Saturday was cancelled. Four other scrimmages were planned for this week.

Coach Ed Jasinski said he is pleased to see all the returning lettermen including pitchers Gary Presslaff, Mike Meskin, Billy Nevius and Joe Graziano. Russel Gabay, Larry Maxwell, Paul Krystow and Derek Nardone are returning to take their positions in the infield, while Billy Bohrod and Jerry Ragonese return for their outfield positions. Coach Jasinski said, "We are looking to reverse last year's 5-13 season. We have a fine nucleus of seniors and if things go well we have a shot at the Suburban Conference title."

Flood, Louis Fasulo and Lee Davidson. Sophomores include Rick Weber, George Roessner, Mike Petro, Brian McNanny, Ed McCaine, John Kronent, Sid Kaufman, Peter Jaques, Ricky Greer, Tom Graziano, Bob Gilbert, Dave Falcone, Rich Galinkin, Peter Episcopo, Sinibaldo Fabiano, Mark Engelhardi, Henry Daas, Bryant Burke and Jeff Bromberg.

Red Devils upset by Rockets, 2-1, in DIPPER playoffs

The White Demons and Green Rockets provided the excitement as play began in the third annual Daily Intramural Porgram Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) playoff championship series in the boy's gym last week. The Demons charged into the playoff picture Monday by ousting the Blue Blazers. 6-4, for the fourth playoff spot. Joe Ragucci's four goals led the Demons while Dave Falcone added the other two goals. Mark Pezzut Brian Hector, Ken Cohen and Ray DeRosa scored for the Blazers

The Rockets handed the Red Devils their first defeat of the season, 2-1, with Joe Pulice and Russ Evans scoring the two goals early in the game. The fine defensive play of Tom Moore, Bob LoFredo, Tom Martino, Gary Prezzlaff, Bob Potamski and Mike Bergeski limited the Devils to one goal (by Larry Maxwell). Wednesday, the Black Hawks' Bill Bjorstad scored the only goal of the game to beat the Demons in the best-of-three series. Friday, the Demons came back to knot the series with the Hawks. Rick Weber and Dave Falcone scored to give the Demons a 2-0 victory with fine defensive work by John Kelly, Mike Sternbach, Bob Conte, Brian McNany, Bob Pine, Kevin and Mark Lamb.

Dayton athletes honored for winter sports efforts

The annual Jonathan Dayton Regional High School winter sports awards program was held in Halsey Hall last Wednesday night.

Athletic Director Michael L. Iannelli acted as master of ceremonies and introduced each coach to the audience. He opened the program by stressing the philosophy that in high school athletics "winning is not the most important thing, but striving to win is the most important thing." He urged all Dayton athletes to do their very best at whatever sport they compete and to take that same attitude with them after they leave high school to compete in college and life. Seventy-five athletes were awarded honors and letters by their coaches in the following sports:

Boy's Basketball-(Head Coach Ray Yanchus, assistants Art Krupp and Bill McNeece) Kevin Mercer, Larry Burns, William Nevius. Gary Presslaff, Ted Johnson, John Baranek. John Graessle, Robert Fleishman, Tom Wisniewski, Tom Graziano and Kevin Doty Team Record was 6-17. "Guts" award to Bill Nevius, MVP to Kevin Mercer, most improved to Ted Johnson

Girls' basketball-(Head Coach Miss Ruth Townsend) Maria Johnson, Melanie Owens Sue Tacovsky, Laura Weiner, Kim Haas and Paula Solomon, Team record was 11-8

Bowling-(Head Coach John Swedish) Lee

Elizabeth SC overpowered Blue Star, 4-2 last weekend at Farcher's Grove in a GASL Major Division match. The victory set up the Union eleven to be able to get into the playoffs for the league championship. Elizabeth has but one game to play and that is a position game. It will not be known who the opponent will be or where it will be played until a few of the teams finish out their scheduled games.

German Hungarians, who dropped their last match, 5-0, against Inter Giuliana last Sunday. There are still several teams in the running for the two playoff positions and a good goal average may take it. That is how closely the teams are stacked for second place.

If Elizabeth gets to play the German Hungarians they can also take-the Southern Division championship with a triumph. A loss in that game could even put them out of the playoffs. We will know in two weeks.

Fritz Leandre, a Haitian World Cupper and outside left of the Elizabeth Lancers, led the team to the victory with a hat trick while Russ Fleischmann added the fourth goal. Richie Emmel, who recently took over the nanagers position for the Elizabeth SC from Pete McIntyre, announced they have bought two new players, to be added to the roster next season. They are Claude Campos, who will play with the Denver Dynamos of the NASL as goalie, and his brother Carmine who will play at midfield for the New Jersey Brewers this coming season in the ASL. The Brewers will play their home games in Newark this year, The GASL has announced that th their next season on Aug. 1 and play through Thanksgiving, then stop for the winter. The 1976 season will start in April and end around Thanksgiving time. This is about the same time the ASL and the NASL have their seasons, and it looks as if the pros will have to find their players elsewhere. The GASL loses many of their players to the pros during playoff time. The combination of head coach Al Miller and assistant coach Manny Schellscheidt of Union has been reunited. This was the pair of coaches who piloted the Philadelphia Atoms to the championship of the NASL in the team's rookie year. Miller and Schellscheidt are now coaching the U.S. national team in Europe. The team will play two games in Poland and then go to Italy for two more. Schellscheidt was one of the coaches in the Union indoor soccer clinic along with John Knodel of Burnet Junior High School. Another. Unionite, George Chapla, will play in Hartford this season for the new NASL team. Schellscheidt will be coach of the Hartford elèven girls. ## Women study creativity and madness Offbeat course offered those without degrees

Fifteen women, from 30 to 60 years oldwomen who have never finished or never begun college- sit around a long table for three hours every Wednesday afternoon at Drew University, Madison,

They discuss books written by women about creativity and madness. At the end of the 14 weeks they tell how the experience has affected them.

Associate Professor of English Joan Weimer, one of their instructors, has just published an article about their reactions-and her own-in the latest issue of New Directions for Women in New Jersey, a quarterly published in Dover. Almost all of the women, among some 45 currently enrolled in the university's Continuing Education for Women (CEW) program, are homemakers who also carved out notable careers in business, politics, social service, or nursing before returning to the campus to start. or finish, a degree. Their reactions to the experience, says Dr. Weimer. "were as passionate and individual as the women themselves."

"Being a student," said one, "gave me permission to use my head, to think, to read, instead of doing the many physical things that can easily, and to some degree satisfactorily, occupy a woman's life."

Another found that she had come through the course "scarred and scratched by women who have done a great deal of painful thinking and feeling."

There were marked contrasts among the reactions. Said one student, "I'm very tired of obsessions and women writers." Said another, "The focus and direction of my life have changed," and, still another, "What an ecstatic rebirth!'

Only one of the women identified herself as a feminist at the outset, though Dr. Weimer later concluded that several were incipient feminists without knowing it. "Each had decided that she wanted to develop her own abilities, after spending much of her life encouraging the

State speeding up printing of codes

A basic change in operations aimed at speeding up production of the New Jersey Administrative Code was announced this week by Thomas F. Kistner, director of the Division of Administrative Procedure, in the Department of State.

The Administrative Code, the 30-volume. loose-leaf set of official rules of all state departments, was begun three years ago with an initial five volumes, Kistner said, and to date more than 24,000 individual volumes have been sold, 85 percent of these in full sets

"Previously, we have contracted with out-side computer composition firms for the initial production of the code," the administrative director explained, "and the change we are making is to perform our own computer composition."

"We anticipate that this will not only speed up production, but because of accelerating contract costs for such work, it should mean substantial dollar savings for the state,"

Rules and entry forms may be obtained by writing Railway Progress Institute, 601 N Fairfax st., Alexandria, Va. 22314 development of others." But they were taking this course in "Women and Literature" not as feminists, she pointed out, but because it was one of the CEW "reentry" courses, specially designed to help women acquire the skills needed for survival in subsequent college courses.

"I wasn't trying to make converts to the women's movement," their instructor ex-plained. "But I believed that the readings would heighten their awareness of themselves as women, and help them deal with the changes in their lives as they became students again." The class read women novelists, poets, psychologists, then wrote journals, quizzes, research papers, final exams. "We talked with an intensity that was exhausting and exhilarating," said Dr. Weimer, "about our own experiences with creativity and perhaps the edge of madness, and compared them with those of the writers.'

No one went mad, she reported-"though one woman loathed nearly every book and several were deeply upset by the writings of Sylvia Plath and Doris Lessing." Two of the students discovered they had real talent as writers. Several others appraised their experiences as potters, painters and musicians in a new way All found that they had learned to read critically and write clearly.

All of the groups are donating their performances for the evening in a joint effort to raise money for Symphony Hall which is

Painting by Sloan gets historic ride

When the 22-car American Freedom Train starts out on its nation-wide journey in April in celebration of the American Revolution Bicentennial, one- of the treasures of the Montelair Art Museum will be aboard. John Sloan's painting "Bonfire, Snow," from the museum's permanent collection, will hang in Car No. 9, along with priceless works of art from other museums, historical societies and private collectors.

The painting is one of only 23 works selected from important collections throughout the country, and the Montclair Art Museum is the only New Jersey museum represented. "The collection is widely known and greatly respected," Kathryn Gamble, Montelair Art Museum's director, said. "It was known that the museum had good paintings by both George Bellows and John Sloan, both of whom were sought to represent a 20th century response to the urban environment. The Sloan was considered an especially fine and appropriate example."

celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Starting at 8 p.m., the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Henry Lewis, will perform the first three movements of Tchaikovsky's "Pathetique" Symphony. The Newark Boys Chorus, conducted by Jon

Quinn, will follow with Gounod's "Sanctus,' Leonard Bernstein's "Chicester Psalm," and "III. Psalm 131," and Beethoven's "Hallelujah."

Next will be the Garden State Ballet of Newark performing George Balanchine's "Concerto Barocco." Artistic director of the Garden State Ballet is Fred Danieli.

Then, the Drinkard Ensemble, under the direction of Mrs. Ann Moss, will sing "Jesus is All The World To Me" and "Rise and shine." The New Jersey State Opera, directed by Alfredo Silipigni, will then present the "Triumphal Scene" from Verdi's "Aida" in which the New Jersey Ballet Company will perform the dance sequences. Tickets for "A Celebration of the Performing Arts" are available at Symphony Hall, 1020 Broad st., Newark 07102.

College Fair set for area students

More than 75 colleges, universities and junior colleges have responded to an invitation to participate in a College Fair on April 21 and 22 at the Livingston Shopping Mall. The fair, sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Career Counseling Service, will bring together prospective students, guidance counselors, university personnel, financial aid counselors and others knowledgeable about campus life today.

It is scheduled for the Spring Recess period and more than 150 high schools in northern New Jersey have promised cooperation in encouraging students to participate.

The fair is part of the general service program of the B'nai B'rith through its Career Counseling Agency and is open to the public at no cost.
