SAFETY HAZARD — Cheryl Amos of Springfield and Matt Drysdale of Mountainside demonstrate how inadequate vision in fire doors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School have caused injuries to students unable to see when the doors are being opened from the other side. The Regional

Board of Education last week formally requested the State Board of Education to relax the rule permitting only 100 square inches of glass in each of the doors, which lead to all stairways at the high school.

Dayton Chorale will raise money by 'Chore Force'

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Chorale, have formed a "Chore Force" to raise funds to pay their expenses to the Festival of the Nations music competition to be held in Washington, D.C., May 31 to June 3. For the past three weeks, individuals and teams of boys and girls in the "Chore Force" have been performing such odd jobs as babysitting, lawn clean-up and serving at dinner parties in the homes of residents in Mountainside, Springfield and Westfield

According to two of the students, Steven Legawiec and Richard Dietz, who had just completed an all-day lawn cleanup in their home town of Mountainside, "Our group will tackle just about anything to raise money to get into that competition. We know we can win it, if we can only get there."

They stated that the "Chore Force" is available for such household jobs as cleaning garages and cellars, babysitting, bainting, serving and cleaning up at dinner parties, or any odd jobs they can get. All proceeds for their labors are turned over to the chorale fund. There are no scheduled fees for their services and all payments constitute a donation to the

Three cite objections by teachers

Board okay possible after talks with staff By KAREN ZAUTYK

Educational plans for the 1975-76 school year, as recommended by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, came under discussion by the Mountainside Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night, but the members failed to reach an agreement on the most significant proposal—to establish a 45period week at the Deerfield Middle School.

Under the new plan, each period would be 40 minutes long. At present, there are 40 periods per week, each 45 minutes long. Dr. Hanigan noted the additional class would be available for instrumental and vocal music, athletic event trips, clubs, enrichment programs and tutoring.

In addition, all grades would get one more English class per week; sixth graders would gain an additional math class and two more typing periods; seventh graders would get one more math class and two more free periods, and eighth graders would gain one more science class, one social studies period and two free periods.

Although the measure failed to win ap-proval—the vote was tied 3-3, with William Biunno, Ronald Wood and Dr. Irvin Krause in favor: Charles Speth, Trudy Palmer and Patricia Knodel opposed—those who east ballots did so on a conditional basis, their objections stemming mainly from teachers' complaints that such a scheduling revision was a change in working conditions and therefore subject to negotiations.

"I think this idea has enough merit not to be dropped," board president Krause said, suggesting the issue be discussed further with the faculty members and the Instructional Council. A decision on the plan is expected by the next meeting.

Other changes, which were approved, in-cluded establishment of a fourth grade transitional class at the Deerfield Elementary School and the hiring of a special education teacher for those students: transfer of Lois Radding as a fulltime art teacher to Beechwood School, and transfer of art teacher Pualani Kallstrom to Deerfield Elementary on a halftime basis, supplementing her instruction by using Middle School art teacher Judy Worsham to teach fifth graders. Dr. Hanigan also received approval to establish four regular first grade classes next term, since there are not enough kindergarten youngsters with educational problems to justify continuation of the transitional first grade.

In other action at the session, which was attended by approximately 40 persons, the board awarded several repair and service contracts. They are as follows: Lawn main tenance from July 1 to Nov. 30—Scenic Landscaping, Inc., Kenilworth, $4,950. Refuse service for 1975-76—Custom Disposal Service

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS—Leading the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team to an easy victory in the Suburban Conference championships Saturday in Millburn were Bruce Heide, left, in the shot put, and Bruce Blumenfeld in the long jump. Heide, who broke the meet record with a heave of 65-10, second best in the nation this year, also won the discus throw and the high hurdles. Other gold medalists for Dayton were Bill Bjorstad in the two-mile run and Ben Geltzeiler in the 440 yards. Rainer Malzbender tied for first in the high jump, but lost the medal in a jumpoff. Language of retirement Caprio leaving school post

August Caprio, coordinator of foreign language studies for the Union County Regional High School District, will retire from that post July 1 after nearly three decades of service, during which time he has garnered a number of awards and honors, reflecting on not only his own abilities but also the school system he has represented.

He has received no less than four "Citizen of the Year" citations, from Unico and Amico, both based in Springfield, where he resides; from the Millburn-Springfield Kiwanis Club, and from the Grand Centurions of Clark. The ast, he explained, was presented for promoting the Italian language.

He is the only high school administrator on the executive committee of the National Federation of Modern Language Teachers of America (the rest are college-faculty mem-bers), and he is former member of the executive committee of the New Jersey Foreign Language Teachers Association. which also awarded him a plaque for con

And, in addition to supervising the Regional program, he has managed to find time to serve for 16 years as a member of the Springfield Board of Education. He won reelection to his sixth term this year, and was named president of the unit for the second time.

WE INTERVIEWED Caprio, who has the ability to catalogue his achievements and still sound self-effacing, in his equally unassuming office—a tiny room tucked away in a second-floor corner of what was once a private residence on Clinton avenue, Springfield. Tryout date listed for girls' softball Tryouts and registration for the Mountainside high school girls' softball team will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 24, at the Deerfield School. Girls who have completed ninth through 12th grades this spring are eligible to try out for the team, which will compete in the Union County Girls' Softball League. The league was formed last year with six leams; Mountainside finished second to Westfield.

The registration must be accompanied with a fee of $5. The season will begin June 23 and be completed in six weeks, by July 31. Games will be played Monday through Thursday, leaving Friday for make-ups. For further information, readers may call Alice Sury, 277-6707, or Vera Herrick, 233-0580.

Deadline for releases

Careful adherence to this paper's Friday deadline is urged for material submitted for publication in the issue of May 29. Since our offices will be closed for Memorial Day, May 26, press releases cannot be accepted after Friday, May 23.

FUND DRIVE QUESTIONED

The enclosed copy of my letter to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society contains information that might be of interest to other citizens of Mountainside who have questions about organizations soliciting funds in this

It is my opinion that organizations, such as the National Multiple Scierosis Society, obtain their funds by a method which is objectionable. They enlist the services of one person who can't say "no," and from that point on, many persons who receive the kit feel pressured to donate because their reaction to the solicitation will be known throughout their neighborhood.

If more people objected to donating to organizations other than the Mountainside Community Fund, the following would probably take place: 1. People would increase their giving to the Fund, having the assurance that they wouldn't be solicited over and over again. 2 The non-member organizations would be more inclined to join the Fund If you feel that my letter would be of interest to your readers, you may publish it. The letter stated: "Re Official Passalong Kit, Multiple Scierosis Society "In response to a telephone call to our home recently, my husband offered to have the referenced kit 'passed' in our neighborhood

Upon receiving the kit from me, my nextdoor neighbor. Mrs. Eugene Lieber, informed me that during the month of February 1975 she had been asked to collect for multiple sclerosis and that she had done so and sent the total contribution, in the form of a check, to the apomioring organization, the Multiple Scienosis service Organization of N.J. Inc.

"While we have no desire to duparage the much-needed services and research projects for which your organizations are collecting, we do not feel obliged to contribute more than once a year to funds being used to control or cure the same disease.

"I have spoken with the deputy clerk, Mountainside Borough Hall, who advised me that your organization did apply for permission the solicit funds for multiple sclerosis in Mountainside, and that the town governing tody suggested that your organization contact the Mountainside Community Fund and ask to be included among those organizations which receive support from that Fund

I am returning the kit to you and respect. fully request that in the future, rather than ask individuals to collect on a house to house bagis, your organization consider joining with the Mountainside Community Fund so that you will be assured of some share of the monies given by the citizens of Mountainside

Teachers set up regional district policy committee

The Union County Regional High School Teachers Association Inc., this week announced the establishment of an Instructional Council, intended to deal with district policy matters not outlined by contract.

According to the Instructional Council chairman Dick Grandey, the body will deal with such areas as student ranking and grading, teacher evaluation and district calendar scheduling.

Grandey said, "This is an exciting venture which has been of concern to the district's teachers for years. The council will be a more effective vehicle than we have had in the past for dealing with critical educational issues."

He said the council grew out of Teachers Association members, concern for "strengthening the district's educational programs to meet the needs of students and the community in the best possible manner. It is committed to achieving excellence in every area of educational concern in the district via a program of recommendations, research, implementation and evaluation."

N.Y. cameraman faces jury action in break-in attempt

A New York City freelance writer-photographer, accused by Mountainside police of attempted break and entry at the home of the late Thomas Sanders Jr., was ordered held for the Union County Grand Jury after appearing before Judge Jacob R. Bauer at the May 7 session of Mountainside Municipal Court. Police said Bruce Hogenauer, also known as

Jack Laney, was apprehended at 11:50 a.m. April 25 after he allegedly pushed in a wooden panel in a window while attempting to take photos of the Sanders house on Sunny Slope drive. Sanders and his wife, Janice, were axed to death Jan. 14 in the home by their 15-year-old son Gregg, who then committed suicide by jumping off the water tower in the Watchung

Police said this was not the first incident involving. Hogenauer-Laney. He reportedly attended and tape-recorded memorial services held for the Sanders family in the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, At that time, police said, he arrived carrying a medieval ax, which he placed on the steps of the church and photographed. Police confiscated the weapon and ordered him off the ADIOS, MES AMIS—The mixed language forewell could be spoken by August Caprio, who is retiring as coordinator of foreign languages for the Regional High School District, as he checks books in all the tongues under his jurisdiction.

the theory behind all the language programs. he explained. "Our job should not be simply to teach students how to parse nouns and conjugate verbs, but how to understand and speak a language. The teaching methods have changed over the years. At one time we stressed the book, the grammar. And we found we had students saying, 'I can understand the language, but I can't speak it.' Now, of course, the grammar is not overlooked, but we no longer hand out the books first. They are given out tater. The emphasis now is on speaking, communicating.'

Caprio also insists the instructors be fluent in the languages they are teaching-and the more than 30 of those under his supervision have either lived or studied abroad.

THE STUDENTS themselves are becoming increasingly fluent, not only because of the Regional district's programs, but because most are getting a "head-start" in the courses: four of the district's constituent systems-Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth, and Berkeley Heights-now offer foreign languages on the seventh and eighth grade levels.

"Years ago," Caprio noted, "a student might have two or three years' language study; now most have at least four. For 1976-77, we hope to offer a fifth-year course for advanced stu-He explained that youngsters who fulfill the study requirements in their grammar or junior high schools, may, upon recommendation by their teachers, be placed in a second-year language class upon entering high

Caprio has, at their request, acted as a consultant to the four school systems which have implemented the language-coursesbeloing them select study materials which correspond to those used on the high school level, supervising programs and making recommendations regarding the hiring of teachers levels, Caprio answered, "I'm not entirely convinced there is any value in presenting a language before the seventh grade. I have seen too many elementary programs where the students can say little more than 'Bonjour, Mama.' Perhaps if the program is a good one. there is nothing wrong with introducing it to young children, but too many of those courses are not structured enough for the students to really learn anything."

··O--O--CAPRIO NOTED Spanish has always been the most popular language among Regional pupils, "both because of the proximity of panish-speaking countries and because of the fact people think it is the most practical, considering the number of Spanish-speaking people in the area."

But, he added, interest in languages has been somewhat falling off" in recent years. attribute this to two factors," he said. "First, many colleges no longer have a language requirement for entrance, and, second, some no longer require language credits for a degree. This has hurt us somewhat, so what we have been trying to do is offer courses that are more appealing, and that are not necessarily aimed at the college-bound student." He cited as an example "Getting Along in Spanish. which emphasizes basic conversation which would be of value to travellers—how to order a meal, reserve a room, etc.

For those students who do decide to concentrate on languages, the Regional district's programs have apparently been profitable, since many, according to Caprio, have been given advanced placement when they enter

"We also encourage our students to study abroad during the summer in order to gain even more fluency," he said. "We have even tried to get them enrolled in programs abroad during the Easter recess."

Most of the courses on the continent are conducted under the auspices of the American Institute for Foreign Study, with which Caprio has been affiliated; serving for two summers as principal of the AIFS high school in France. He also spent a summer in France as one of 25 Americans chosen to participate in a supervisory course.

CAPRIO BEGAN his career in Newark, his native city, teaching Spanish and French at Barringer, Weequahic and Arts High Schools. lie also taught Spanish for one year at Kearny High School, and Italian at a Newark adult school, before joining the Regional staff as an instructor. He was named language department chairman at Dayton in 1956, and district coordinator in 1960.

His own foreign language education began as a child, when his parents insisted on speaking only Italian to him while at home. "I enjoyed communicating with other people in another language," he noted, "and language study came easy to me. I have always had a love for the culture of other peoples." Caprio speaks Italian, French, Spanish, Latin, "and some Caprio graduated from Harringer High School in 1930, earning bachelor's and master's degrees in foreign languages from Columbia College and Columbia University, respectively, He also completed courses at Seron Hall University to obtain administrative and supervisory accreditation.

SINCE MOVING to Springfield 19 years ago. Caprio has chalked up an impressive record of community service. In addition to his work on the local school board, he served as president of the Union County School Boards Association

The board also authorized Tremco Manufacturing Co., Moorestown, to inspect roofs of all the buildings and draw specifications for repairs. Industrial Resurfacing, Inc., of East Paterson, which was hired last year to repair the roofs, is to be notified they must correct defects in the work within two weeks or another contractor will be called in and the cost will be subtracted from money still owed to Industrial Resurfacing.

.The problem of motorists speeding along the roadway at the rear of the Deerfield property was discussed by Wood: a member of the Buildings and Grounds Committee. He reported two speed bumps would be installed there, at an approximate cost of $600, and a number of large boulders would be placed along the sides of the road, to prevent cars from

One audience member, who lives adjacent to the Beechwood School ball field, complained about teenagers using that facility for baseball playing after hours, endangering children and property, and requested the posting of "No-hardball playing" signs. Krause noted if such signs were erected, the board would assume the responsibility of policing the area after hours, and could be held liable if injuries did result from illegal playing. However, he did assure the resident the board would "go as far as it can" to assist him, and authorized the board attorney to study the matter further.

To attend college and as an executive committee member of the New Jersey School Boards Association. He was one of the original members of the municipal pool committee, a member of the Youth Employment Service Committee, chairman of Amico scholarship committee and chairman of a statewide unit to study adult education in New Jersey.

He also is a member and past president of the local Lions Club, member and past president of the Administrative and Supervisory Committee of the Regional district, the first faculty advisor for the Kiwanis Key Club (serving in that post for 15 years), and a member of the Columbia University Alumni Association. A member of St. James Church, he has been active in the parish, especially in the Holy Name Society:

Caprio and his wife, the former Ida Salerno of Newark, have two children-Mrs. Dolores Catullo, a teacher in the Berkeley Heights school system take formerly taught at the Deerfield School in Mountainside for nearly eight years); a son, Vincent, of San Francisco, a former Air Force captain, and two grandchildren.

Discussing his retirement, Caprio said. "1 intend to still serve on the school board and the civic committees and to be active in Amico and other organizations, but I have made no plans to move or even to get part-time employment. I might do some consulting work-people have already asked me about that. But maybe I'll just rest up and spend time with my family. Every day will be Sunday!

Stars, Mets win twice; Senior Twins take pair

Mountainside Little League teams continued their active season last weekend with the Blue Stars beating the Chiefs twice on strong pitching by Estes Hoffman, Dave Iselborn and Keven Bettyman and the hitting of John Gernt bringing 2-1 and 7-3 victories. Matt Kukon and Keith Hanigan led the Chiefs.

The Mets beat the Mustangs twice, winning the first game, 2-0, behind the pitching of Steve Jurseak and Jim Postell and the batting of Paul Jeka and Charlie Bunin, who hit triples. The Mets won the second game, 15-14, with Jim Postell the winning pitcher. The Mustangs played a strong game: Jeff Ehrlich, Robert Dooley and Andy Ehrlich were the top batters. Alan Wilde won his second game in relief as the Mountaineers beat the Giants, 13-9. Tom Fischer, Alan Wilde and Gary Kane (three RBIs) had two hits each for the winners. Donald Garretson had three hits for the Giants. The Vikings edged the Cubs 7-6, with Dave Cushman, in relief, getting his third victory

Anthony D'Adarrio had three RBI. The Senior League's Twins also won two games. They beat the Orioles, 6-2, on 11 hits. Marty Swanson pitched for the Twins with Tom Medeville and Joe Huber starring at bat and Barry Steel and Paul Reiter in the field. Paul Reiter pitched the 9-2 victory over the Yankees. The Orioles beat the Yankees, 7.5, on a no-hitter by pitcher Tom Huelbig. Pete

Mike Simmons was the winning pitcher as the Indians beat the Red Sox, 13-5, with Chuck Dooley in relief for three innings. Rick Souders and Steve Ferry were leading hitters for the Indians, Jerry Toepfer and Bob Hudak for the

The American League Brewers beat the Yankees, 8-1, behind the no-hit pitching of Mike Dalhauser and Stewart Jurczak. Home runs by Jurczak and Mike Stoffer, a triple by Dalhauser, a double and single by Norman Shroeder and a single by Glen Bass brought in all the runs for the Brewers. Pitching for the Yankees were Bobby Mike and Anne Bunin.

The Reds won three games last week. They beat the Cardinals, 6-5, behind the pitching of Tom Kurz and Jeff Burrows and three-run triple by Tom Lausten in the last half of the last inning. Craig Blackwell had three RBI for the Cardinals. The Reds beat the Angels, 7-3, with Kurz on the mound and Peter Gutt receiving for two innings. Mathew Chavkin hit a home run. for the Angels.

Tommy Perrotta pitched two scoreless innings and batted in the winning run with a double as the Reds topped the Padres, 1-0. Matt Dooley pitched two innings, and was supported by strong fielding by Craig Blackwell and Terry Reardon.

School board, PTA sponsor session on Botter decision

The Board of Education and the PTA of Mountainside co-sponsored an informal session on the Botter decision and the proposed regulation of the New Jersey Administrative Code concerning "thorough and efficient education" last week in the Deerfield Middle School cafeteria.

Dr. William Brooks, the State's Deputy assistant commissioner of education, spoke before 50 people and capsulized the rules proposed by Fred G. Burke, commissioner of education. He explained the standards and guidelines to be used; the approval process of public schools and districts, including a comprehensive evaluation program, and enforcement procedures.

"It was pointed out that a staff of 100 would be needed initially to accomplish checking each school district to make certain they are indeed providing their pupils with a thorough and efficient education," a borough school board spokesman noted. "Most of these people are already on the payroll now working in the State Department. Decentralization of this staff by bringing them to the individual counties would

The regulations proposed by Commissioner Burke would impose on school boards the need to provide for a bilingual education for non-

English speaking students in compliance with the recently passed state law. Provision for the history of minority groups must be included in the curriculum: materials containing bias based upon race, sex, religion, national origin, ancestry or culture must be discontinued.

"Dr. Irvin Krause, president of the Mountainside board, in his concluding remarks stressed that these regulations can be slipped through and become law without the approval or knowledge of the ordinary citizen. The state legislature is responsible only for the funding of the program, not the implementation of same.

The Board of Education and PTA urge the citizens of Mountainside to read the recommendations of the New Jersey State Board of Education and make your feelings known to the State Board of Education, attention of Ruth Mancusso, president; Assemblywoman Betty Wilson, and Sen. Peter McDonough, The Board Education will make copies of the commissioner's recommendations available at the public library."

MessageFor May: Get blood pressure checked

The bottom number is the diastolic pressure,

And while there are no painful symptoms to indicate the presence of this deadly disease, the Union County Chapter of the American Heart Association emphasizes it can lead to heart and kidney failure and to stroke.

But according to Dr. Sidney Friedman, president of the chapter, high blood pressure, or hypertension, can be detected with a simple. quick, painless and inexpensive test and controlled, sometimes without the use of drugs.

The American Heart Association, which is co-sponsoring National High Blood Pressure Month with the American Medical Association and citizens, is urging every individual, no matter what his age or how well he feels, to have his blood pressure checked during May. Blood pressure is the pressure created by the pumping action of the heart. High blood pressure, or hypertension, is the increased pressure of the blood on the walls of the blood.

When the pressure is higher than it should be, the body begins to work under a strain. The heart must work harder to overcome the increased pressure. Other parts of the body, particularly the brain and kidneys, are burlened by extra stress. The blood vessels themselves can be affected.

BUT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE can be easily detected. Dr. Friedman explained that an inflatable cuff is wrapped around the patient's arm, air is pumped into the cuff and while the culf deflates, the pressure is read on a

There are two readings gotten from the blood pressure test: the systolic reading and the diastolic pressure. The upper number, the systolic reading, is the measurement in millimeters of mercury of the force of the column of blood as it leaves the heart and strikes the walls of the first big blood vessel, high blood pressure are not sudden. The problems arise when blood pressure remains high for long periods of time, Dr. Friedman said. "That's why it is important, now that high blood pressure can be detected, to bring it down and keep it under control. The disease can usually be controlled through a regular treatment program prescribed by the doctor.' Dr. Friedman emphasized that it is par ticularly important to be tested for high blood pressure because the individual could feel well and still have the disease.

"The frightening thing about high blood pressure is that people are apathetic about the disease," Dr. Friedman said. "They apparently can't take seriously a disease which does not make them feel sick."

"In addition," he continued, "there are those who foolishly assume that because an examination five or more years ago found their pressure normal, there's no need to have it checked again. These people are asking for trouble...heart trouble.

For those who ignore high blood pressure, the results can be devastating. High blood pressure is a major factor in 500,000 of the nearly 900,000 deaths in this country each year from stroke and heart attack.

ANYONE IS SUSCEPTIBLE to high blood pressure. You can feel and look well and still have it. It hits young and old, men and women, easy-going and up-tight people. If an individual is over 40, there is an even greater chance of having high blood pressure.

An estimated 23 million Americans have high blood pressure, but less than half of them know they have it because of the absence of noticeable symptoms. Furthermore, less than eight percent are under any kind of treatment or are adequately controlled.

In 1975 alone, heart and blood vessel diseases will kill more than one million Americans-52 percent of deaths from all causes in the U.S. Dr. Friedman reported, "The causes of hypertension are unknown, but more than 90 percent of the people who suffer from high blood pressure probably inherited a predisposition to it."

The other ten percent have high blood pressure as a manifestation of another disease. It could be caused by something wrong with the arteries going to the kidney, or a tumor of the adrenal gland or brain.

The incidence of strokes in the hypertensive person who smokes is 16 times that of the hypertensive person who doesn't smoke.

If sensitive blood vessels have been inherited, a job where the stresses are great increases the chances of getting hypertension There is a relationship between diet and hypertension in terms of salt. If a person with a predisposition to hypertension eats lots of salt,

Figures show that blacks have about three times the incidence of hypertension as whites and it is the most common cause of death among black people. Not only is the disease inherited, but blacks, particularly inner-city blacks, eat at least twice the amount of salt as whites do. Although it has not been proven, it is believed that stressful environments also have an influence on the incidence of their hypertension. Dr. Friedman suggested.

And about seven or eight percent of women on birth control pills who never had any propensity to hypertension before will develop high blood pressure, which could lead to a stroke. Another six or seven percent who already have basic hypertension will have an aggravation of the disease.

"PARENTS SHOULD SET an example for their children by not smoking cigarettes, by cating foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol, by getting moderate daily exercise and, most important, by making sure every member of the family gets a periodic medical check-up," Dr. Friedman maintained.

"Fortunately, you can improve your chances of living a longer, healthier life by the simple test to detect the high blood pressure and then controlling it," Dr. Friedman emphasized. "If you have high blood pressure, your doctor can prescribe a diet and medication program

Open house listed by YM-YWHA's nursery program

The PTA of the YM-YWHA Nursery School on Green lane in Union will hold an open house for prospective students and their parents on Tuesday from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. and from 1:15 to 3:45 p.m. Classes will be in session and may be observed.

Also available for visitation will be the playground area, pool and gymnasium. All facilities are part of the state-certified program, which is under the direction of Fanny Wald, head teacher.

The nursery runs from early September through the end of May. Separate classes are held for both three and four-year-olds from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m., or from 1:15 to 3:45 p.m. The three-year-olds' classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday; those for four-yearolds are held five days a week.

The program provides group and individual learning experiences both in the school and on field trips. Activities include music, arts and crafts, story telling, physical education and swimming instruction.

The school has an open enrollment policy. In addition to Mrs. Wald, the staff includes Rhoda Lease, Ruth Fleischman and Evelyn Herman, teachers; Gert Ashfeld, Pat Miller and Joan Furson, teacher assistants.

Further information and registration forms may be obtained at the Eastern Union County Y on Green lane or by calling the Y at 289-8112.

To detect and control high blood pressure ask your doctor to check your pressure, or go to the nearest clinic or health center for a pressure check, or contact the Union County Chapter of the American Heart Association, which periodically conducts free high blood pressure screenings. Also, your place of business might provide such a service. This should be done even if you feel well because high blood pressure may not have any noticeable symp-

If you have high blood pressure, follow the doctor's instructions about diet including weight loss if you are overweight and changes in general health habits, such as rest and recreation. These measures will reduce the risk of stroke, heart attack, kidney and heart

Often, no medication is needed to control high blood pressure. But if the physician prescribes medications, keep taking them whether you feel well or not. High blood pressure must be controlled on an on-going basis.

Cooperate with the physician as you and he determine what methods of treatment are best for you. And return to the doctor's office when he tells you to, so he can avaluate your progress.

Chiropractic Society marks Posture Month

Correct posture is one of the keys to physical and mental accomplishment, according to the Middlesex, Somerset and Union County Chiropractic Society, calling attention to May as National Correct Posture Month

A series of events and public education campaigns. sponsored by the society in cooperation with the Chiropractic American Association, will take place during the month to em-phasize the importance of posture to health

They said, "The objective of Correct Posture Month is to direct the attention of the public to the role of posture and spinal integrity in the maintenance of health, and create an awareness of posture as something that does more than just make you look better."

The doctors of chiropractic pointed out that in addition to the appearance advantages of posture helps the individual do his job better, gives him more energy, creates greater physical efficiency and aids in maintaining good health

Posture habits are developed at an early age. As children who have diminished chest cavities and breathe improperly. "We have to bring public attention to the need for spinal examination, and corrected before they progress to more serious states," said a society official.

His studies focus on the role of harmones, especially the sex hormones, in aggression.
How do the different kinds of sex hormones influence aggression in males and females? Do the androgens, the male sex hormones, and the estrogens, the female sex hormones, affect aggression in the same manner? Dr. Barfield and two students, Marjorie Christie and Scott Kreisler, have been studying these questions.

Barfield also wants to know where in the brain the hormones actually exert their influence to bring on the occurrence of aggression and what influence the sex hormones have on the ability of an animal to bring out the aggressive response in other animals.

at N.J. Technology Institute

In his research laboratory rats, he has found that an animal residing in a cage will attack an intruder rat introduced into the cage. However, a normal animal occupying a cage will not attack an intruder that is castrated.

"There's something about the presence of the male sex hormone in an intruder that triggers the attacking response of the resident animal. Marjorie Christie has been studying this particular phenomenon," Barfield pointed out. Castrated rats, he added, had little tendency to start any fights. There's an unusual angle to the fighting behavior of the castrated animals however. If a normal rat picked a fight with a castrated one—a rare occurrence—the latter would fight back successfully.

In cases where castrated rats occupied cages and were then confronted by an intruder, there was no attack on the newcomer. Two of Dr Barfield's former students then studied the effect of implanting a pellet of a male sex hormone under the skin of the castrated resident rat.

The two-Douglas Busch (now at Wellesley College) and Kurt Wallen (now at the University of California at Berkeley(-found that the hormone restored the aggressive behavior, and observed such rats attacking any intruder rats.

Barfield is hunting for those elusive steps in the chain of events that make a resident animal occupying a territory defend it so fiercely, and, similarly, what steps inside the body of the intruder animal make it act as it does. "There is still much about animal behavior that we don't know. Various subtle influences will act as cues to set off some kind of behavior. We have strong suspicions about such clues as sounds, odors and simply the behavior of other animals," he explained.

The sounds, incidentally, are not always in the range that's audible to humans. Barfield has studies under way on sounds emitted by rats in the ultrasonic range. He has discovered, for instance, that the male rat, immediately following orgasm in intercourse, regularly emits a 22-kiloHertz ultrasonic sound.

"We know that communication among rats involves ultrasonic transmissions, and that such sounds play an important role in the behavior of attackers and defenders," he said.

If his findingsd can some day reduce the incidence of human aggression, millions of people may be spared the fear of conflict, aggression and war.

FOREST FIRE 'BOMB'

Flaming forest fires may release as much energy in two minutes as the explosion of a 20kiloton bomb. The intense heat generated by such fires has split huge boulders. All sections of the United States are subject to forest fires each year. Nine out of 10 of the blazes are started through carelessness. More than one out of four are set intentionally.

TAKE THAT, YOU RAT — A Rutgers University biologist, Dr. Ronald M. Barfield, and his students at Livingston College are studying aggressive behavior in laboratory rats in an effort to understand why people and animals act that way. The studies focus on the role of hormones, especially sex hormones, in aggression.

Hearing Tests Set For Elizabeth

A.D.V.E.R.T.I.S.E.M.E.N.T

Free electronic hearing tests will be given at Beltone Hearing Aid Service offices on Monday and Tuesday.

Factory-trained hearing aid specialists will be at the office listed below to perform the tests. Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding, is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the cuases of hearing loss will be available.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year, if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing hearing aids, or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out about the latest methods of hearing correction.

The free hearing tests will be given at Beltone, 11 Broad St., Elizabeth on Monday and Tuesday. If you can't get there on Monday or Tuesday call 353-7686 and arrange for an appointment at another time.

State's CD in test today

All 567 municipalities and 21 counties in New Jersey will test their readiness for natural disasters during an exercise to Defense-Disaster Control.

J. Morgan Van Hise, state acting CD-DC director, said the public will not be involved in the state-wide exercise.

Named "CDEX DELTA"

(Civil Defense Exercise Delta), the four-hour exercise will stress intra-state CD-DC activities pursuant to a major hurricane. Telephone, radio and teletype facilities will be activated between state, county and municipal emergency operating centers

Recently retired, but still teaching

A Brooklyn school teacher who retired recently after 50 years of service is still teaching, this time as a volunteer in a hospital classroom for ill and injured children.

The dedicated educator is 73-year-old Elizabeth Castello, who teaches three mornings a week at the PS 401 classroom at Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, She says she's never been happier. "The worst thing for a person my age is to sit still and do nothing," she observed.

Income near poverty for 6 of 10 senior citizens million people, are at least 65 years of age. If the present growth rate continues, there will be 25 million senior citizens by 1985 and 30 million as we enter the twenty-first century.

In New Jersey, the number of senior citizens has increased from 394,000 in 1950 to 700,000 in 1970, a much faster growth rate than that of the state's total population.

Economically, six of every ten older Americans have incomes near or below $3,750—the (ederally established poverty level. In addition, most have fixed incomes that do not increase as rapidly as does the cost of living. In terms of real dollars, for example, a retired couple dependent on Social Security payments had more income in 1959 than they did in 1970.

Yet, nearly two-thirds of New Jersey's older population are homeowners. One-third are tenants, and the remainder-some four percent-live in hospitals, nursing homes or other institutional facilities.

Nearly 20 percent of all seniors live in substandard housing. Many pay a higher than normal proportion of their income for rent or property taxes. Some are forced to live with relatives or friends. These elderly people are forced to remain in what many of them consider unsuitable housing arrangements because of the extreme shortage of low-income housing in New Jersey. There is simply nowhere else for them to live.

Many elderly willing to move from their large homes or apartments into smaller and therefore more suitable housing units are unable to do so because of the shortage of such

Not only does this cause hardship for the elderly, it also keeps off the market housing which would be suitable for young and growing families.

The needs of the elderly differ from those of the rest of the general populace: muscles and skin become less pliable with increased age, bones become more brittle, and hearing and sight begin to fail. The older person has difficulty in performing normal home maintenance tasks.

To the elderly, accidents in the home are a real danger. Falls, for example, are the leading cause of accidental death for those 65 and over Throw rugs, stairs and many other objects can cause serious accidents. Older people have different needs, and housing is one area where special consideration must be given. Plans should include more and wider walkways with fewer stairs, an interior and exterior designed to permit easy social contact, provision for common rooms, short distances between buildings, easy refuse collection, little maintenance, and well-lighted walkways and halls.

In addition, housing designed for the elderly should include such facilities as a central dining room, health care facilities and recreational facilities.

There is no single solution for elderly housing. Some have owned homes all their adult lives and will continue to do so. Others will prefer to sell larger homes and move into either rented or purchased smaller quarters once children have grown and moved away. Some may prefer to move into boarding homes or retirement hotels. Still others may find it necessary to live in medical care facilities such as nursing homes. Regardless of where an older adult lives, he should continually be given the choice of residing in the location he prefers at a price he can afford.

The Senior Citizens Council of Union County, Inc., and the Union County Office on Aging will co-sponsor Senior Citizens County Fair Saturday, May 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Downs Hall at Kean College, Morris avenue, Entertainment will be supplied by the Old Guard Band of Elizabeth. Box lunches will be available at a cost of 75 cents by purchasing tickets in advance from most Union County senior citizens groups.

The council is planning to coordinate bus transportation through the local groups with the purchase of 25 cent bus tickets before the deadline of

Radio spots tor seniors

How many free and low cost services are available for the more than 150,000 senior citizens in Essex County?

That's a good question. For good answers, tune in to WFME (94.7 FM) where the Office on Aging, in cooperation with the radio station, is presenting 28 public affairs programs through May

The five and 10-minute public service series will be aired Monday, through Friday at 12:10 p.m. and 6:10 p.m. The problems of housing, nutrition, health, isolation and transportation will be examined by authorities in those fields. A good many of the possible solutions will be presented by directors of health and transportation services, nutrition projects and senior citizen centers.

In 1970, one in every 10 Americans was 65 years of age or older. That's 20.1 million men and women, which is equal to the population of the 22 smallest states.

BIG DISCOUNTS FOR ALL SENIOR CITIZENS!

for the aging born in '58

New Jersey's official recognition of the fact that its elderly residents faced problems that were peculiar to the last third of life antedates the federal Older Americans Act by eight years.

In 1957, a law was enacted creating a "division of the aging", a State Council on Aging, and a State Com-mission on Aging, all three of which became operational in

The law mandated 10 responsibilities to the state agency it created, and in sum they were that it was to serve as the focal point and central clearinghouse of all matters relating to the elderly and to the field of aging. When the Older Americans Act became law in 1965, New Jersey's state agency was designated the sole unit within the state's governmental structure to administer the new federal law on the state level, and has done so since.

Time brought changes. In 1971 and 1972, because of the White House Conference on Aging of 1971, the nation's awareness of the problems of aging swung sharply upward. Sweeping alterations in the Older Americans Act were enacted into law. Significantly greater amounts of federal funds were made available.

Israeli folk group will give show in New Brunswick

ARIS SAN The 1975 Israeli Folk Festival will appear at the State Theatre, 17 Livingston ave., New Brunswick, on Sunday, May 25, at 8:30 p.m., under the sponsorship of Northern New Jersey

Council of B'nai B'rith. The headline attraction is Aris San, one of Israel's most famous musicians. Born in Greece, he became an Israeli citizen, and is equally effective with Greek music as well as Israeli. He uses an electric guitar that evokes the sound of the bouzouki and the oud, while mixing touches of Spanish guitar. The show also includes the Moshe Ariel

Dance Company, who will offer three dances— "Yemenite Wedding," "Shabbat Sholom" and Another member of the program is Ron Eliran, who became famous during the Sinai campaign of 1957 with his rendition of "Sharm El Shiek." Tickets are available at the State Theatre box office, Ticketron and through the B'nai B'rith office at 1767 Morris ave., Union. Rabbi Mortimor Rubin, director of B'nai B'rith's Community Resource Department, is coor-dinator of the show. Herbert Ross of Mountainside is president of the 14,000-member Northern New Jersey B'nai B'rith Council.

State will impose surcharge on property-liability insurance

State Insurance Commissioner James J. Sheeran announced this week that a small surcharge will be imposed, beginning July 1, on property-liability insurance premiums for both and renewed policies.

Sheeran said the surcharge, which has been authorized by the legislature, is needed to generate funds to pay claims against insolvent insurance companies, mostly those against the former Gateway Insurance Company of Philadelphia, which was primarily an auto effect this year and eight million in a full year. "Typically, a motorist whose insurance policy costs $200 a year will have to pay an additional $1.50," Sheeran said. "A homeowner with a typical homeowner's policy and a three-year premium of $200 would be required to pay an additional $1.

"A surcharge is the fair and open way to let the consumers know they are being assessed. In prior years, the funds expended by the insurance industry as a result of insolvencies were recovered by the companies through rate adjustments and the public was hardly the wiser that it was picking up the bill."

Claims against insolvent companies are now being paid by two associations of insurance companies which have the right to recover their expenditures from their policyholders.

Labor unit protests bill on wine sale

The New Jersey State Culinary Council, AFL-CIO, representing 17,000 tenders, waiters barand waitresses, this week took issue with claims by its parent organization, the New Jersey State AFL-CIO, that legislative extension of wine and beer sales to super-markets and food stores would create "thousands of new jobs and be beneficial to both labor and business."

Edward McBride, legislative representative of the council, said:

"It is totally shortsighted for anyone to believe that any concessions made to the multibillion dollar food retailers would increase employment, when their basic philosophy of 'quick-stop and self-service' is designed to reduce jobs and increase profits, not add to the employment rolls. Our industry strongly opposes Assembly Bill 2140 because of the many social and economic problems it would create. If the glant allowed to move in on the businesses-restaursmall. ants, taverns and package stores-that are now licensed to sell wine and beer in New Jersey, thousands of our members would suffer severely. There would be a massive loss of jobs which, under present economic conditions, would be catastrophic for New Jersey, which already has one of the highest unemployment levels in the nation," said McBride.

Hartz Mountain building mini-city in Meadowlands

640 condominium townhouses on a 134-acre tract just south of Rt. 3 at Meadowland Parkway in the Secaucus section of Hackensack Meadowlands.

Harmon Cove is being built n the east bank of the Hackensack River, five miles from mid-Manhattan, by Hartz Mountain Industries, Inc., the privately-owned multi-million dollar parent corporation of the pet product manufacturer. It will offer townhouses from $35,990 to $54,990; the first section contains 160 townhouses with one, two and three-bedroom Designed bу tington-Larson Associates, townhouses feature insulated glass, insulated walls, floors and ceilings.

Nathan M. Lerer, director of residential development, said models will be ready in July,

Harmon Cove, a community of scheduled for late summer. A water-oriented residential community built on fingerlike parcels or keys reaching out into the river, Harmon Cove will offer buyers recreational facilities. The condominium units will contain covered carports, balconies with insulated sliding-glass dividually-controlled gas heating and air conditioning. woodburning fireplaces, wallto-wall carpeting in choice of colors, separate storage rooms, pre-wired-television outlets and sound deadening construction between all homes, both vertically and horizontally.

Kitchens will feature wood cabinets, stainless steel double sinks, no-wax floors, built-in automatic dishwashers, color-keyed continuous-clean ovens, frost-free refrigerators, and refuse compactors. A laundry room included. Bathrooms are ceramic tiled in a choice of colors. Recreational facilities will include a hexagonal-shaped clubhouse and outdoor Olympic sized swimming wading pool for youngsters, sauna, exercise rooms, playgrounds, bicycle trails, marina, lighted tennis and paddle tennis courts and jogging paths. All of the facilities will be started simultaneously with the first group of townhouses.

Also planned as part of the complex are such amenities as shopping and cultural facilities and day care and nursery centers.

The townhouses are part of a 640-townhouse condominium complex which will be the basis for a totally planned mini-city which Hartz is building along the Hackensack River. Also scheduled to be built are a 13-story officemotel complex with 180,000 square feet of space; a 300unit, 13-story hotel and conference facility of about 225,000 square feet; and more than 100 acres of open space. Richard M. Newman, A.I.A., designed the hotel-office complex.

The Hartz firm, in an effort to preserve the natural en-vironment, has set aside 100 of the 258 residential acres for open spaces, donated to acres to the slate for a public park and is preserving 57 acres in its natural state.

In so doing. Hartz has worked with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the State Department of Environmental Protection, the Town of Secaucus and the Hackensack Meadowlands Commission. In granting Hartz Mountain permission to proceed with Harmon Cove, New Jersey

Florida-style life now available at Century club house, which is scheduled

"Florida style living" has been established in New Jersey and is believed to be the first of its type in the state.

Century Village, located just east of Jackson, in Ocean County, is a new housing development made up ex-clusively of 24-foot wide homes of many different floor plans located on 60- by 100-foot landscaped lots. Each faces broad, well-lighted streets with curbs, sidewalks and underground utilities. Offstreet parking is also provided.

"We have found that many people who are approaching retirement in the New York metropolitan area desire to live in communities comparable to those found in Florida, but want to remain in the area," said Ed Newman, president of Century Village. "We believe Century Village to be completed this spring, said Newman. ticularly for the middle class couple who wants to retire in

The Village features cot-tage-style, factory-built homes manufactured by the Bendix Corporation. Each home provides up to 1,500 square feet of living area and includes an asphalt-shingled roof, standard aluminum siding, wall-to-wall carpeting, a completely equipped kit-chen, two or three bedrooms, one or two baths and a patio

Newman added

Average cost is $17,000, or about $14 per square foot, yet the amenities provided in the compare to ventional housing costing $30,000 or more.

NJIT and Purdue head grad survey

A major professional magazine, "Chemical & Engineering News," has reported New Jersey Institute of Technology, Newark, continues as a top national leader in the production of young chemical engineering

Reporting on the number of young men and women most recently entering the profession, the national publication identified NJIT, formerly Newark College of Engineering and Purdue as the institutions producing the greatest number of bachelor of science graduates. The article appeared in April 28

Based on June 1974 graduation figures, the article pinpointed the 10 engineering schools with the largest graduating classes.

New Jersey Institute of Technology and Purdue University each graduated 88. A.D.V.E.R.T.I.S.E.M.E.N.T

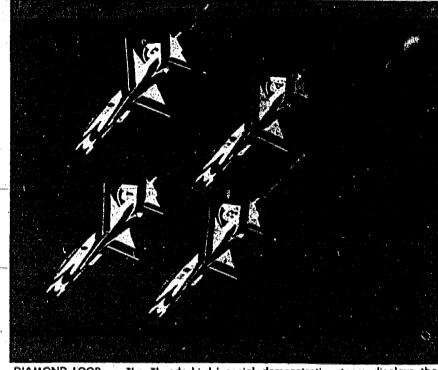

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Wilmington, Del. - A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words, has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce. and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Beltone Model, Independence Mall, 1601 Concord Pike, Suite 65, Wilmington, Del.

Memorial Day air show

DIAMOND LOOP - The Thunderbirds' aerial demonstration team displays the hairline precision U.S. Air Force pilots and T-38s are capable of in this diamond loop, which can be seen Memorial Day when McGuire AFB holds an open house.

The United States Air Force aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds, will present an air show at McGuire AFB on Memorial Day (May 26).

The Thunderbirds' visit will highlight the New Jersey Air Force facility's open house from noon to 4 p.m. that day. Base festivities, including aircraft displays and other Air Force exhibits of all types, will be climaxed by the Thunderbird air show, scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Recognized by their distinctive red, white and blue aircraft, the Thunderbirds are noted for their precision aerial maneuvers, designed to demonstrate professional airmanship.

Currently, the Thunderbirds fly the Northrop T-38 Talon, an Air Force supersonic trainer, which at one time held 12 world records, forming aircraft. In recent years, the Thunderbirds have averaged 100 air shows per year, making them the world's busiest precision flying team. To date, the Thunderbirds have appeared before over 113,000,000 spectators in all 50 states and in

Center continues dedication events

Dedication ceremonies for the new World Mission Center, which began last Saturday, will continue through this weekend.

The center is located on the grounds of the Consolata Fathers on Route 27 South, five miles south of New Brunswick. Its director, Father Aristide Bruni, said it has been established as "an all-out effort to assist the poor of our country and the world."

The final event of the nine-day celebration marking the opening will be a polka party Sunday. Those interested in additional information were asked to call 297-9191.

Course will deal with manuscripts

A three-credit internship in the care and organization of manuscripts will be introduced in the fall by Seton Hall University, South-Orange, in conjunction with the New Jersey Historical Society.

The internship is designed to equip students with basic skills in preserving, ordering and evaluating-historical documents. The course will be conducted at the society's headquarters, 230 Broadway, Newark. It will be coordinated by Dr. Joseph F. Mahoney, Seton Hall history professor and editor of "New Jersey History," society's scholarly quarterly. Instructors for the course will be Robert C

Morris, librarian of the New Jersey Historical Society, and Dr. Don Skemer, keeper of manuscripts of the society. The course is being offered to advanced undergraduate students in history and related fields and is limited to about a dozen students.

The course consists of eight hours of formal instruction, assigned readings, and 52 hours of actual work in manuscript care and handling.
