Councilmen discuss space allocations for new borough offices at Echobrook

By KAREN ZAUTYK

Although it will be several weeks before the lease between the Mountainside Board of Education and Borough Council will be ready for signing, preliminary steps for conversion of the Echobrook School into a municipal building already are being taken, according to reports presented Tuesday night at the governing body's public meeting in the Beechwood School.

Borough attorney John Post noted he and board attorney Raymond O'Brien are still in the process of working out "various technical details" in the agreement, which would turn over the school, except for offices currently used by the board, to the borough for 20 years. Despite this delay, council was to meet last night with representatives of borough committees and departments to discuss possible space allocations when the move-in is made, Mayor Thomas Ricciardi reported.

"Although I feel the pressure of the various individual committees which are driving to get into the school," the mayor commented, "I insist we think this thing through and get all the facts before us before we decide where alterations will be made and how assignments will be made."

Questioned by one of the six citizens present at the session on the feasibility of investing taxpayers' money in what is only a lease situation, the mayor noted the investment would be "minimal" and would extend the life of the 65-year-old structure.

"I think your Borough Council has been very intelligent in working out a compromise, and in my opinion, in no way would the citizens of this town house any future school expansion at Echobrook. In 20 years, if the school population increases, I believe the citizens would want additions made here at Beechwood or at Deerfield," Ricciardi stated.

Post commented "The governing body would have preferred a conveyance of the real estate by the Board of Education to the governing body, however, the governing body does not own the property and therefore it was necessary to make some compromise." He added that the guaranteed term of the lease is felt by borough officials to be a "sufficiently lengthy period of time to justify the cost" of alterations.

Ricciardi said he has personally inspected the building and found it to be in good condition, except for one apparent leak in the northwest wall. He noted he has asked a friend who is a mechanical engineer to inspect and report on the heating and electrical systems.

Council reported that only one bid, in the amount of $52,300 ($1,300 higher than the appraised valuation of $51,000), for the former borough firehouse on Rt. 22 was submitted by a Mountainside resident, plumbing contractor Daniel Hartnett. The borough attorney was authorized to prepare papers necessary to close the title within 60 days.

Councilman William Cullen noted that money from this sale, as well as from a possible sale of the present borough hall, could represent "a good chunk of whatever would be spent on Echobrook renovations."

Regarding Rt. 78, Ricciardi noted "new information has been made available to the consultants (hired by the borough to present arguments against alignment of the superhighway through Mountainside) that hopefully will

READY TO STEP OUT—Dayton Regional Band musicians Leslie Lipton of Springfield (on podium), and Lori Young of Mountainside hang poster announcing the 'Tournament of Champions' competition to be held on Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Meisel avenue field. Bands from all over New Jersey will compete in various styles of marching, maneuvering and music.

ON STAGE—Mitchell Slater, on floor, and, from left, David Hoffman, Gwynn English and Stephen Legawiec rehearse scene for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School production of 'You Can't Take It With You,' to be presented Nov. 7 and 8.

'Can't Take It With You' scheduled Nov. 7-8 at Dayton

"You Can't Take It With You" will be presented by the all-school players of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 7 and 8, in Halsey Hall, according to drama coach Joseph Francis Trinity.

The three-act comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart has a cast of 18, including: Gwyn English (Penelope Sycamore), Patti Liberman (Essie), Dana Mayer (Rheba), David Hoffman (Paul Sycamore), Morey Epstein (Mr. DePinna), Tom Zelman (Ed), Jay Rizzo (Donald), John Halecky (Martin Vanderhol), Melissa Lover (Alice), Mark Farinella (Henderson), Gene Tulchin (Tony Kirby), Stephen Legawiec (Boris Kolenkov), Mary Alice Keenan (Gay Wellington), Mitchell Slater (Mr. Kirby), Jody Baker (Mrs. Kirby), Marcia Rubenstein (Olga) and Two Men, played by David Klingsberg and Paul Reitzer. Student director is Shari Wildman.

Trinity announced that "You Can't Take It With You" was first produced at Dayton Regional by the class of 1948. The following members of the class of 1948 appeared in the original Dayton production and have been invited to attend the 1975 presentation as guests of the cast: Mary Alice Tote, Ann Detrick, Natalie Peck, Fred Kugelman, Austin Van Pelt, William Huyler, Peter Magnier, Ray Heimbach, Elsa Torp, Joseph Heimbach, Robert Berstler, Jack Ambrose, Ginger Griffith, Wilbur Selander, Evelyn Geljack.

GOP to sponsor candidates' night

The Republican Club of Mountainside this week invited the public to meet the local candidates running for reelection at a candidates' night Wednesday at 8:30 at the Mountainside Inn.

Thomas Ricciardi, running for his third term as mayor of Mountainside; John O'Connell, running for reelection to a second term as councilman, and Donald Halbsgut, running for a first elected term as councilman will be present. GOP freeholder candidates and State Assembly candidates have also been invited.

Holiday shuts library

The Free Public Library of Mountainside will be closed Monday in observance of Veterans Day. The library will be open for regular hours on Tuesday.

Millburn teams face Jets tomorrow night

The first night football game ever scheduled at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School field on Meisel avenue, Springfield, will take place tomorrow evening between the Mountainside Jets Lightweight and Middleweight teams and the Millburn Redskins.

Kick Off is 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available from all Mountainside Booster Club members at $1 for adults; children under 12 are free. For additional information, readers may call John Kontra (232-6454), Bob Ruggiero (233-3254) or Alan Goldenberg (233-5287).

GOP candidates call on all to take active part in vote

At a gathering of Mountainside residents on Sunday evening, the Republican candidates for reelection, Mayor Thomas Ricciardi and Councilman John O'Connell and Councilman Don Halbsgut, emphasized the importance to all citizens of the borough of taking an active part in the Nov. 4 election "in order to assure the continued good government and high quality position of our community."

Councilman Halbsgut stated: "The issues of 1975 should unite us as Mountainsiders determined to keep our town from being destroyed by outside forces."

"As a new councilman, I have become deeply involved in the problem of 1-78 and its ramifications to all of us in Mountainside. The route through the heart of Mountainside would result in the loss of some 65 homes, relocation of many families with generations of roots here, devaluation of property values, loss of tax revenues and increased air and noise pollution unparalleled in Mountainside's long history."

"It is increasingly clear that we as a community, all of us, must actively join together to insure that the original route be the ultimate route selected. And it is the responsibility of your mayor and council to keep you, the citizens of Mountainside, fully informed. This responsibility, we fully accept."

A spokesman added: "Through the leadership of Mayor Ricciardi, Councilmen O'Connell and Halbsgut and the rest of the council, the borough government has indeed taken initial steps toward resolving this serious problem by gathering information through thorough investigation of State DOT plans, keeping the citizens informed via newsletters and a positive commitment to stop any routing of 1-78 through the heart of Mountainside."

"The dedication of the candidates to the community is evident in their desire to keep the electorate informed of the issues which effect Mountainside and about which each resident should take an active role in on Election Day."

Girl Scouts to observe Low's birthday tonight

All Mountainside Girl Scouts have been invited to celebrate Juliette Low's birthday tonight from 7 to 8:30 at the Mountainside Gospel Chapel.

This celebration, in honor of the founder of Girl Scouting, will include singing, a special indoor campfire and refreshments. Scouts have been asked to wear their uniforms.

Asher Mintz moves up to publisher

Milton Mintz, publisher of this newspaper and the eight other publications comprising Suburban Publishing Corp., has announced his retirement. The position of publisher will be filled by his son, Asher Mintz, who has been associate publisher for the nine newspapers since Dec. 27, 1973.

The new publisher has been associated with Suburban Publishing Corp. since December, 1958, when he was graduated from Bowling Green University, Bowling Green, Ohio, with a bachelor of science degree in journalism.

He is active in the Union Township Chamber of Commerce as a director and vice-president of the service division.

Milton Mintz has been associated with the newspapers for more than 34 years, and along with the late Sam Howard was responsible for the growth of the chain from one publication to the present nine publications covering parts of Union and Essex counties.

Rajoppi says foes prepared to spend without tax savings

Joanne Rajoppi, Democratic candidate for Springfield Township Committee, this week criticized her opponents for "proposing additional costly programs for the town while apparently refusing to offer any substantial savings to taxpayers."

"Both Mrs. Seal, the Republican candidate, and Ed Stiso, the independent candidate, have made several proposals to increase or expand programs in town," Miss Rajoppi said. "Neither, however, has offered the taxpayers a program to offset these costs. This is an intolerable position in light of our current economic crisis and a recent unemployment figure of 12.5 percent in Springfield."

"While I am interested in improving and maintaining our facilities and programs in Springfield, I believe our top priority must concern the people who pay for these services and supplies through their pocketbooks. This is the reason I am offering a program which will create a more efficient and economical method of administration within our municipal government."

According to Miss Rajoppi, her program includes a centralized and bulk purchasing program, a change in the farmland tax loophole to eliminate unfair tax advantages and land speculation, putting certain township professional contractual services out to public bid and forming a citizens' committee to investigate grants and their applicability to Springfield.

"Cooperative purchasing among various municipalities is one positive way to cut back costs," Miss Rajoppi said. "When several towns join together to bid on such items as fuel oil, road materials, traffic signs, gasoline and paint, for instance, savings can be realized. If, in fact, we combine our orders with county purchases, we could realize considerable financial savings on both the purchase price and transit costs. Dealing with county and state licensed vendors does not guarantee a lower price on every item," Miss Rajoppi added.

"but it does mean savings on the majority of items purchased."

Miss Rajoppi also said that centralized purchasing within Town Hall is another method to insure efficient administration. She said that at present each department orders its supplies when the need arises and that there is no central record of disbursement of supplies.

"Centralized purchasing and record keeping will not save us thousands of dollars in a fiscal year," she said, "but over a period of time we will save a great deal of money and duplication of ordering."

The candidate added that together with these methods of administration, the League of Women Voters recently proposed creation of the position of business administrator in a statement to the Township Committee. Miss Rajoppi said that there are at least six communities in the county that currently employ a business administrator. She said that she has investigated the feasibility of such a position in Springfield.

"There is no doubt that the position of a qualified business administrator has many merits," Miss Rajoppi said. "By coordinating and supervising town departments, preparing the budget, researching and applying for grants and initiating new programs, our town would be guaranteed a more efficient operation. In principle I favor the creation of a business administrator post. However, the merits of the position must be weighed against the costs."

Miss Rajoppi concluded: "The Township Committee must decide if the salary and operating costs for an experienced business administrator can be offset by the efficiency and savings brought to the community. If these costs can be justified by like experiences in other communities, then I will wholeheartedly support an ordinance to create the position of business administrator along with detailed stipulations of job qualifications."

FIRST SEATS—Robert Taylor, left, commander of Battle Hill Post, VFW, purchases first block of tickets for 'On Stage, America,' original Bicentennial revue to be presented by the Springfield Community Players Jan. 10, 11, 15, 17 and 18 at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, from Lainie Lewis, president of the Players. Looking on is Robert Briggs, chairman of the local Bicentennial Committee, which will share in the proceeds of the show. Block ticket information can be obtained from Mrs. Lewis at 379-9033.

Joseph Bruder dies at 66; leader of tenants, teachers

R. Joseph Bruder of 73-D Troy dr., Springfield, who died suddenly Oct. 15 at the age of 66, had been a leader in local tenant organizations since he moved here five years ago. Mr. Bruder was president of the Troy Village Tenants Association and vice-president of the Springfield Tenants Association.

A former president of the Newark Teachers Union, Mr. Bruder taught in that city for 38 years before he retired three years ago. He was chairman of the history department at Weequeah High School for 15 years.

He had also served as a director of the Newark Welfare Federation and a member of the Newark Citizens' Housing Council. Mr. Bruder also served on the Concerned Citizens' Organization which worked to alleviate conditions which led to the 1967 Newark riots.

Mr. Bruder was born in Austria and came to Newark at the age of 2. He was a graduate of Upsala College and held a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin.

He served in the Air Corps for four years during World War II, rising to the rank of captain. As a special services officer, he lectured to British troops in England on the workings of the U.S. governmental system during the 1944 presidential campaign.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Sue Berman of West Orange.

Rabbi Harold Mozeson conducted services last Friday at the Suburban Chapel of Philip Apter and Son, Maplewood. The eulogy was delivered by Dr. Robert Lowenstein, chairman of the foreign languages department at Weequeah High School. Burial was in Mt. Lebanon Cemetery, Iselin.

Request for I.D. results in arrest

A 20-year-old Plainfield man was arrested by Springfield police Oct. 12 for possession of marijuana after he reportedly produced an envelope containing the drug when a patrolman asked him for identification.

Police said the incident occurred at 10:42 p.m. in a Rt. 22 parking lot after the man, Daniel Brack, had approached a Springfield patrol car. Brack, arrested by Pt. Keith Strom for possession of less than 25 grams of the drug, was released on $50 bail, pending an appearance in Springfield Municipal Court Oct. 27.

Stiso outlines new approach to fill municipal appointments

Former Mayor Ed (Rusty) Stiso Jr., independent candidate for reelection to the Springfield Township Committee, this week released a statement—outlining the actual procedure followed for the filling of municipal appointments and proposing an innovative approach to involve all Springfield's citizens—which he pledged to follow if reelected.

Stiso said, "Each year the Township Committee is required by law to organize itself on Jan. 1 and to appoint individuals to serve on the many municipal boards and committees."

"In reality, however, the appointments of people to the various positions take place long before the new year, for traditionally the hierarchy of the political party having the majority vote on the Township Committee meets shortly after the November election to hand out rewards in the form of municipal appointments to the party faithful."

"The Jan. 1 meeting at the Municipal Building merely makes these 'back room' appointments official. Obviously, with this system not all of Springfield's residents are considered."

"I believe that the time has come to do away with this practice. Springfield is a small, suburban municipality with many skilled and educated residents whose talents could be put to use for the betterment of the community. However, under the present system, these people will never have a chance to participate and work together for Springfield, for they are not willing to satisfy the first prerequisite for public service—party affiliation. Thus they are excluded and their abilities are lost to Springfield and its citizens."

Stiso continued, "In place of this practice, I propose that the township clerk be directed to publish a list of all open municipal positions in the Springfield Leader no later than Nov. 15, along with a notice stating that anyone interested in serving should contact the clerk's office. Thereafter, the entire Township Committee should interview all the applicants and appoint individuals strictly on the basis of ability, time and desire to serve Springfield, rather than on the basis of party loyalty."

"The attorney positions and bodies such as the Planning Board, Board of Health and Zoning Board are charged with tremendous responsibilities, and their decisions substantially influence the quality of life of all of Springfield's residents. They should be staffed by the most qualified people Springfield has available."

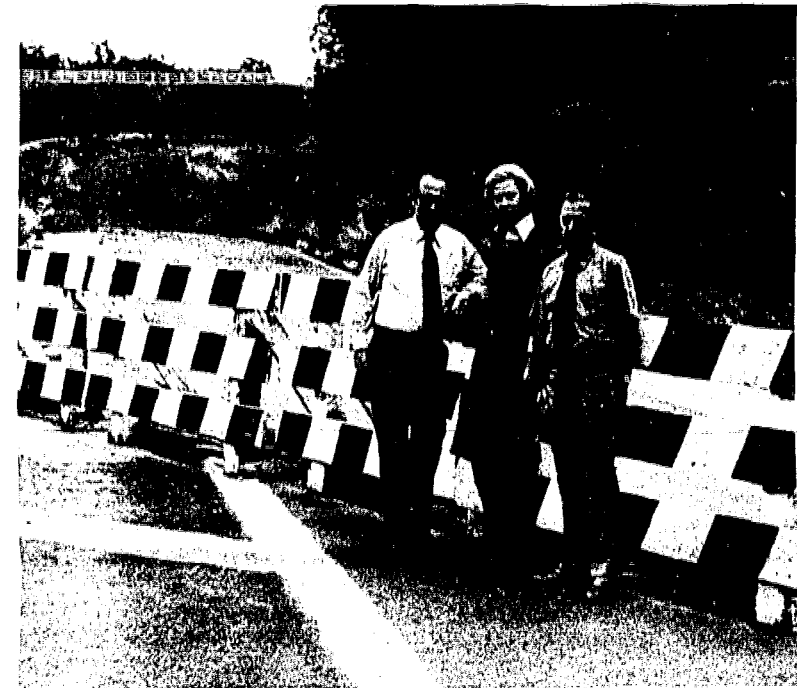

"When only the party faithful are chosen to serve, the appointments are determined not by the people but rather by the party. This is not in the best interests of the community."

Stiso concluded, "I believe that topnotch appointments are vital to the quality of life in Springfield so that who is chosen to serve should be done with the interests of all the people of Springfield in mind and not just those of the Republican or Democratic Party."

"The proposal I have outlined above achieves this, and I am asking both of my opponents to join with me in supporting and committing themselves to it."

HELP WANTED—Former Mayor Ed Stiso Jr., independent candidate for reelection to the Springfield Township Committee, this week said that all qualified local residents should have an opportunity for the various appointive positions filled by the governing body each Jan. 1.

OPPOSITION TO HIGHWAY—Joanne Rajoppi, Democratic candidate for the Springfield Township Committee, joins Mayor Nat Stokes, right, and Committeeman Bob Weltchek at proposed I-78 exit into Springfield. Miss Rajoppi supports the governing body in backing a 'no-build' alternative for the unfinished portion of the highway.

LUXURY IS BUILT IN. NOT TACKED ON.

The luxury of a Volvo 164 isn't something you just see. It's something you feel. A sense of elegance that's not gaudily apparent. But very much real.

Inside, for example, there are no brocades or wood-grain veneers. Yet, in its own way, the interior of the 164 reeks of quality. You can smell the fine leather used to face the seats. And these seats are a luxury in themselves. Numerous automotive journals have pronounced them "among the most comfortable in the world."

On the dashboard, no fancy dials or gadgets. The only instrument you may be unfamiliar with is the tachometer. Which in the 164 bears watching. The three liter, fuel-injected engine is so smooth and quiet, the tachometer is sometimes the only way to tell if you're in second or fourth gear. (No extra charge for 4-speed manual with overdrive or automatic transmission.)

Exposed structural parts of the Volvo body are made of rustproof galvanized steel.

Rustproofing isn't just sprayed on. It's drawn into the metal with a powerful magnetic charge before Volvo receives its final exterior coats. The result is an exterior finish that surpasses any mere "paint job." Even the striking metallic finishes are included in the base price of the Volvo 164.

Its overall styling, like all the world's truly elegant cars, is if anything over understated. It cannot be confused with those so-called luxury cars whose arrival loudly proclaims, "dollars, dollars, dollars!"

The Volvo 164 simply states, "sense."

RANKING SYSTEM

I wish to make a statement on the ranking system as now given in the Regional High School and how it affects students from Mountainside and perhaps other towns in the Regional system.

In Mountainside, students have the option, upon entering seventh grade, to take French or Spanish. Until recently, no Mountainside parents had been informed of the penalty imposed on the student if they chose not to take the language or if they elected to change to another language upon entering ninth grade.

Dr. Martin Siegel last year explained that youngsters who are moved into second-year foreign language as a result of work done in the seventh and eighth grades cannot receive additional course credit toward graduation for this work. No mention was made of the ranking system. There is a lack of communication to the parents and students affected on this subject. Yet the importance of ranking is given in the Regional High School Handbook, which states that the major purpose of ranking is for college acceptance.

A student who chooses not to take the seventh grade language, or one who elects to change to German, Hebrew, Italian or Latin for vocational, ethnic or assorted reasons, is automatically penalized by one point in ranking.

Let me cite one case of a student who starts with Latin I this year. It has now been learned that there is no guarantee that Latin III and Latin IV will be given two years from now. Therefore, for this student who desired to have four years of Latin, but now probably will switch to French I and II in his third and fourth year, his penalty is four points over a similar student who continues to take French or Spanish IV and V.

Mountainside is now in its third year of offering a foreign language. For this reason, I would recommend that for the students entering high school this year and the next two years, any year of language be placed in Category III. This would resolve the present inequity that now exists and give present sixth graders an opportunity to evaluate the situation and plan ahead.

AMENDMENT OPPOSED

How many disasters could be avoided if only we could look into the future and get a preview of the consequences of our actions? Would Congress have passed the Tonkin Gulf Resolution if it had been able to look through a magic window and see the consequences of that vote? Would states have ratified the income tax amendment—or the prohibition amendment—if a magic window had afforded them a look into the future?

The answer to all those questions is "probably no." There were gloomy Cassandras who predicted exactly what the consequences of those actions would be, but their forecasts were swallowed up by the overwhelming majorities who laughed at the dire predictions and enthusiastically voted aye.

Gloomy forecasters who have predicted unfortunate consequences for the Equal Rights Amendment have been generally treated with the same scorn as were the tiny minority who opposed the Tonkin Gulf Resolution and the income tax amendment. The predictions sounded too incredible to believe.

Yet, informed scholars believe that the Equal Rights Amendment will cause every bit as radical a change as the earlier historical events cited above. Dr. Jonathan H. Pincus, professor of neurology at the Yale Medical School, specifically phrased it this way to the Senate Judiciary Committee: "Is the Equal Rights Amendment to be the Tonkin Gulf Resolution of the American social structure?"

He answered his own question in the affirmative. Starting from the premise that "a solid happy family life is the foundation of mental health and happiness," Dr. Pincus stated:

"I would predict that the Equal Rights Amendment and many of the other goals of its proponents will bring social disruption, unhappiness and increasing rates of divorce and desertion. Weakening of family ties may also lead to increased rates of alcoholism, suicide, and possible sexual deviation."

12 local students UVCV enrollees

Twelve students from Mountainside are among some 811 enrolled in the Union County Vocational Center (UCVC), 1776 Haritan Rd., Scotch Plains, for the fall semester. That total represents a four percent increase over the fall 1974 enrollment of 781.

Each of the students is studying one of 15 career-oriented programs in trade, industrial, or service occupations. The two-year-long programs run from commercial and graphic arts to beauty culture, electricity shop, radio-TV repair and auto body and auto mechanics.

Students at the Vocational Center are of two kinds. There are some 500 shared-time students who spend half their day at their own high schools and half at the Vocational Center working on their career programs.

There are also over 300 post-secondary high school graduates who pay tuition to enroll in UCVC to prepare for a first or changed career.

bear some way in our favor." The mayor said it has been discovered that an abutment, deeded to the Union County Park Commission, located in Scotch Plains and bordering on Robin Hood road lies in the path of the proposed route through Mountainside.

Public Works Commissioner Bruce Geiger reported 90 percent of the work has been completed on the Coles avenue sanitary sewer line and work is continuing by the county on a storm-water line from New Providence road down the west side of Mountain avenue, which would relieve flooding in Mountainside Center.

Discussing another flood relief project, he noted the borough and consulting engineers are working out a new design for the New Providence road bridge, near Children's Specialized Hospital, after the original plan met with objections from the New Jersey Department of Water Resources.

Resolutions passed by Council included one expressing opposition to recently passed New Jersey State Senate Bill 3324 which would preclude the sending any municipally negotiated employee wage contracts to the potential veto in a local referendum. Copies of the resolution, which notes that the bill is "special interest legislation sponsored by certain labor groups" and is "contrary to the public interest," will be sent to all Union County representatives in the state legislature, to Governor Byrne and to the State League of Municipalities.

In other action at the session, Melvin E. Lemmerhirt of Saddlebrook road was appointed to replace Mary Acito on the borough Planning Board. Mrs. Acito has resigned from the post, the term of which expires Dec. 31, 1977.

Councilman John O'Connell reported he had represented the borough at a recent Union County Bicentennial Committee meeting and the borough has received a plaque, now on view at the library, for its planned programs to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday. He commended the local Bicentennial organization and its chairman, Matt Powers, "for an outstanding job in the town."

Seven sentenced on traffic counts, 1 for possession

Seven persons charged with a variety of motor vehicle violations, and one man accused of possession of marijuana, appeared before Judge Jacob R. Bauer at the Oct. 15 session of Mountainside Municipal Court.

Robert T. Conner of Kenilworth was fined $65 and placed on six months probation after pleading guilty to charges he had been in possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana when arrested by Union County Park Police Sept. 26.

Carol Ann Buntele of Irvington was fined $15 for being an unlicensed driver and $35 for giving false information to a police officer when questioned following an accident on Rt. 22. Her husband, William J. Buntele, paid $35 for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Other motorists and their penalties included: Otha Pearse of Plainfield, $35 for lending license plates, Rt. 22; David C. Miller of Orange, $30 for careless driving resulting in an accident on Rt. 22; Matthew B. Caffrey Jr. of Berkeley Heights, $25, passing on the shoulder of Rt. 22; Pedro Ramirez of Elizabeth, $20, unsafe passing, Rt. 22; Denise M. MAYAN ART — The Foothill Club of Mountainside will hold its next luncheon meeting on Thursday, Nov. 6, at The Tower Steak House, Rt. 22, Mountainside. The program, to be presented by world travellers Roe and Lythe DeJon, will feature Mayan jewelry and artifacts from the Yucatan in "Mystery of the Maya," an illustrated travel lecture. New members of the Foothill Club are Mrs. Manuel Castela, Mrs. John Kackel, Mrs. Robert Keller, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Bill Klueber, Mrs. Joel Lantzman, Mrs. Israel Lantzman, Mrs. Graham Miller, Mrs. Joseph Moran, Mrs. Russell Raffa, Mrs. Joseph Sefack and Mrs. Edward Sharkey.

Foreign visitors will attend dinner in Mountainside

The New Jersey Chapter of the American Host Program will entertain 50 foreign visitors on Nov. 1 and 2. The guests will represent a variety of countries, as well as professions. Some of these guests will also be university students.

That Saturday evening, the guests and their host families will have dinner at L'Affaire 22 in Mountainside. The guests' dinners will be paid for by the New Jersey Chapter. Following the dinner, all will spend an evening at the Paper Mill Playhouse to see "Annie Get Your Gun," starring Phyllis Newman and Don Stewart. Plans have been made to meet the cast after the show. Tickets for this show will be of no cost to the host families and their guests, as they will be subsidized by the New Jersey Chapter, with the support of the N.J. Bicentennial Commission.

A meeting will be held on Dec. 5 in Westfield; the slate of officers for the ensuing year will be voted upon. Anyone wishing additional information or those who would like to join the New Jersey Chapter of the American Host Program may call Joan Shropshire, 233-6574, or Phyllis DeVos, 232-2605.

Mulreany aiding United Way effort

Frank E. Mulreany of Rolling Rock road, Mountainside, is serving as a "loaned executive" in the Commerce and Industry Division of this year's United Way of Essex and West Hudson fund drive.

Mulreany, directory staff supervisor at New Jersey Bell Telephone, is a graduate of Seton Hall University. He is on loan from his company for an eight-week period, at full salary, to assist with the campaign.

This year's drive, with a goal of $5,000,000, will benefit the more than 200 services delivered by over 100 United Way agencies.

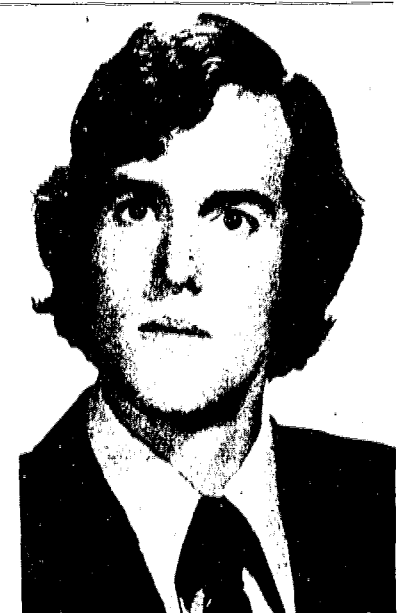

Realtor describes relocation survey

Advance information on their home towns-to-be is uppermost in the minds of families about to move to new communities, according to Realtor Nancy Reynolds, whose office represents RELO-Inter-City Relocation Service in Westfield.

Miss Reynolds cited results of a recent survey among RELO members, who refer thousands of transferred clients to fellow RELO brokers for help in finding homes in more than 8,000 destination communities.

A cross-section of RELO's membership was asked: When you explain RELO services to an outgoing client, what appears to be your most effective selling point to convince him to take advantage of our referral program?

"Our ability to provide a family on the move with prompt, accurate and comprehensive information on the destination community was the most frequent survey response," she said.

THEODORE A. WHITE

White receives degree at Lehigh

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Theodore A. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. White of Grouse Lane, Mountainside, N.J., received a BS degree in electrical engineering at Lehigh University Founder's Day exercises on Oct. 11.

A member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, White played three years of varsity soccer and was a member of the Lehigh Skydiving Club and the Bethlehem Soccer Club. He is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights, N.J.

He will be employed by the National Steel Corp. in Detroit as a manufacturing management trainee.

Coed basketball at Y in Westfield

Young local athletes will study fitness and fair play—along with basketball skills—in a new program developed by the National Basketball Association Players Association and the Westfield YMCA.

The YBA basketball program—open to boys and girls aged 8 to 18—comes to Westfield the first week in November when registration days will be held at the YMCA.

"Perhaps most thrilling for the young players will be an appearance in Westfield of a Knicks player for a lecture, clinic and some instruction," said Doug Trimmer, director of the YBA Program for the local YMCA. Boys and girls from Mountainside, will be eligible to participate.

Board members due at workshop

William J. Biunno, Walter H. Rupp, Mrs. Patricia Knodel, Dr. Irvin Krause and Mrs. Gertrude Palmer of the Mountainside Board of Education are scheduled to attend the 23rd annual workshop of the New Jersey School Boards Association at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall Hotel in Atlantic City this week.

The three-day conference, whose theme is "Independence Through Education," offers discussions on school finance, developments and prospects in the law governing public employer-employee relationships, educational control, the state assessment program, legislative attitudes toward educational issues, student rights and responsibilities and educational planning.

Among the speakers are Gov. Brendan T. Byrne, New Jersey Commissioner of Education Fred G. Burke, Julian Bond, a member of the Georgia State Legislature; Carl Stokes, NBC newscaster, and Orson Bean, author, comedian and television personality.

5 local growers win mum prizes

Five Mountainside residents were awarded trophies at the New Jersey State Chrysanthemum Society's 22nd annual show, held recently at Drew University in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lausten were presented with three citations: the "Queen of the Show" trophy for the best entry in the horticultural division; the Anna Bruckhaus memorial trophy for best disbudbed decorative, and the Edith D. Anderson memorial trophy for most artistic container-grown plant.

Godfrey Bruckhaus received the Aleita H. Scott grand sweepstakes trophy for the greatest number of blue ribbons in the horticultural division, and the Mae Johnson trophy for the best basket.

The Lewis L. Johnson trophy for the best basket in its division went to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Christoffers.

80 young booters learning skills in soccer program

The Springfield Recreational Soccer Clinic is under way for ten weeks of clinics, six Junior Recreation Soccer League games and playoffs.

The Springfield clinic strives to develop specific soccer skills and a general understanding of the game. The Saturday afternoon program has attracted approximately 80 young booters ranging from fourth to eighth grades and varying in skills and knowledge, under the direction of James Stamey and Ernie Brattstrom.

Stamey said, "conditioning is the key to any successful athletic program, so each session begins with calisthenics and running exercises to strengthen the boys' endurance and stamina. Soccer, unlike other sports, has no time outs. The games consist of four 15 minute quarters with the only rest time coming at the half, so each player must have enough endurance to maintain his skill level during the game.

"After the conditioning exercises the players move on to specific skill development. Heading, trapping, kicking, dribbling and positioning are only a few of the skills the boys must master to participate in the game. Every session ends with scrimmage so the players can try and test these skills. Each boy participating in the Springfield league plays the same amount of time and decides his own position."

The team began its season against a powerful Verona team, losing by a score of 3-0. The following boys participated in the Sunday league:

UCTI aide visits Dayton Oct. 30

Elizabeth Thomas, director of admissions at Union County Technical Institute, Scotch Plains, will visit Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield next Thursday, Oct. 30, at 10 a.m. to meet with students interested in enrollment at UCTI.

Ms. Thomas will discuss the 22 career-oriented programs available at the institute. She will answer questions about admissions requirements, placement potential and specific goals of various programs.

The programs fall in three main fields: business careers, engineering technologies and allied health. Union County Technical Institute and Union College in Cranford constitute the Comprehensive Community College System of Union County.

Quilling featured at program in Y

"The New Old Art of Quilling" is the topic of the Kaffeeklatsch program at the Summit YWCA next Wednesday. Mrs. Margaret Byrne, owner of "the One Eyed Cat Creative Crafts Shop in Summit, will demonstrate the old art of rolling paper into designs and will give audience participants an opportunity to try it themselves. She will also talk about holiday decorations and have craft ideas on display.

All interested women have been invited to attend the Kaffeeklatsch program from 9:45 to 11:15 a.m. There is babysitting available for infants 18 months and over, and rhythm and dance classes for children 3 to 5 years, at nominal fees. Further information may be obtained by calling the Summit, 273-4242.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN AND GUEST — Assemblywoman Betty Wilson discusses the issues with U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall at a gathering honoring the District 22 representative. Wilson called tax reform and sound fiscal policy the "necessary cornerstones" of a sound economy. She added that since N.J. has the highest rate of unemployment in the country, the state should create jobs in pollution control and thereby improve the environment.

Wilson, Wolf ask federal aid to ease N.J. recession effects

Assemblywoman Betty Wilson and her fellow Democratic Assembly candidate, Bill Wolf, this week called for increased use of federal matching funds to offset some of the effects of the recession in New Jersey.

"For every two dollars of federal taxes collected within New Jersey, little more than one dollar is returned through federal funding programs," Mrs. Wilson pointed out. "This current ratio represents an improvement over the previous ratio of approximately three to one but it is not enough."

Mrs. Wilson and Wolf noted that the economy in New Jersey is particularly vulnerable to the effects of federal policies. "Our high reliance on foreign energy sources, our many industries which must compete with foreign producers and our dependence on the housing industry for which federal programs are inadequate are some of the reasons New Jersey has been so hard hit by the recession," Mrs. Wilson said. "The President has vetoed legislation to create almost two million jobs," Wolf pointed out. "Such misguided policies of the Republican administration in Washington are one of the major causes of the recession."

Assemblywoman Wilson applauded the recent establishment of the New Jersey Government Markets Task Force which is designed to increase, through advice to business, the share of federal contracts awarded to New Jersey firms. "The need for this is clear," she said. "In April 1975, New Jersey ranked 46th among the states in the number of federal contracts awarded. This status must improve," Assemblywoman Wilson emphasized.

The bond issues which will appear on the ballot in November represent a means to capture federal funds for capital projects, Mrs. Wilson and Wolf added. They said the water projects, institutions, transportation and

Assembly candidates explain opinions on campaign issues

Common Cause, the nonpartisan citizens' lobby, announced this week that replies to its questionnaire on conflict of interest and other issues of the current election campaign have been received from all four candidates for the New Jersey Assembly from the 22nd Legislative District: William J. Maguire and Donald DiFrancesco, Republicans, and Betty Wilson and William A. Wolf, Democrats. This district includes Plainfield, Springfield, Chatham, Berkeley Heights, Rahway, Clark, Kenilworth, Fanwood, Scotch Plains and Mountainside.

Common Cause supports legislation, cosponsored by Ms. Wilson, which would strengthen present laws on conflict of interest including dual holding of elective office, and require state officials to disclose each source of income (but not the amount) in excess of $1,000 a year. Three of the four candidates expressed support of these measures, but Wolf opposes financial disclosure.

All four candidates support freedom of information legislation, cosponsored by Ms. Wilson, which grants individuals the right to examine information held by a governmental body.

Three of the four candidates support "clean elections" legislation which would prohibit campaign contributions from special interests such as businesses and labor unions, and limit the size of other contributions. Maguire opposes such legislation.

All four candidates support a graduated style income tax with guaranteed property tax reduction, including a voluntary checkoff provision allowing individuals to allocate a small part of their taxes to state political campaigns.

The Democratic candidates support uniform administration of all New Jersey elections by the state Election Law Enforcement Commission, and selection of "organization" candidates for primary elections by conventions of county committee members of the respective political parties. These measures are opposed by the Republican candidates.

All four candidates support the establishment of a housing bond issue which would create an estimated 100,000 jobs.

"I believe that the voter recognize the need to revitalize our state's economy through maximum state effort as well as by getting federal money," Wolf said.

Mrs. Wilson noted that "due to recent statements by Commissioner Alan Sagner that the $40 million added to the transportation bond issue will be reserved for park-and-ride facilities and other access to mass transportation," she will support all four bond issues on the ballot.

NIH THE SEARCH FOR HEALTH
A REPORT FROM THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

ARTHRITIS
Many people, particularly the middle-aged and elderly, suffer pain, stiffness, and disability caused by arthritis. Exactly what is this disease that is recognized as the greatest crippler in the United States today?

The term arthritis refers to inflammation and destruction of joints and their lining. Rheumatism is a more general term and refers to symptoms from tissue outside the joints, such as muscles, tendons, bones and nerves. There are about a hundred disorders under the combined heading of arthritis and rheumatism. One of the most common types is osteoarthritis.

WHAT IS IT?
Osteoarthritis is characterized mainly by degeneration of joint cartilage, which acts like the surface of a bearing in the joint. The cartilage becomes soft, wears unevenly and may wear away completely in some areas, exposing the underlying bone. Pain and stiffness are common symptoms.

Pain is usually felt during use of the joints, especially finger joints and those that bear the body's weight. Enlargement of the fingers around the last joint often occurs. The enlargements, or nodes, are permanent but they aren't disabling.

Osteoarthritis causes no severe crippling, except in some cases involving the hip joints. The disease occurs almost exclusively in middle-aged and elderly persons, and is more common among women than men.

More than half of all people between the ages of 55 and 64 show evidence of degenerative joint disease of which osteoarthritis is the most prevalent form.

WHAT CAUSES IT?
The cause of osteoarthritis is unknown, but two concepts have been formed about its development. One, the mechanical concept, holds that the disease results from a combination of aging, irritation of the joints and normal wear and tear.

The biochemical concept implicates heredity, metabolic and endocrine factors. Metabolic or endocrine abnormalities, according to this concept, weaken the joint cartilage, predisposing it to disease. Scientists believe the two concepts interact to produce the disorder.

Osteoarthritis, because it is a relatively mild disease, can usually be treated with aspirin, physical therapy, and, if necessary, weight reduction and orthopedic measures. If aspirin fails, more potent drugs can be tried, but these may have undesirable side effects unless carefully managed by a physician.

All of these drugs act to relieve the pain and disability, but no effect on the progress of the disease.

Lucas named acting director by higher education agency

RICHARD W. LUCAS

The appointment of Richard W. Lucas of Linden as acting executive director of the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education has been announced by James S. Avery, agency chairman.

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, who had served as executive director since the inception of the agency in 1969, retired in August. Lucas had been assistant executive director.

Lucas, a graduate of Rutgers College with a bachelor of arts degree in history, received a master of arts degree in student personnel from Syracuse University and is a doctoral candidate at Rutgers University, with a major in educational theory.

Prior to joining the Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, Lucas had been commuter coordinator at Rutgers College and assistant dean of students at Union College, Schenectady, N.Y.

The agency is the vehicle through which community college services are provided for residents of Union County. It is the responsibility of the agency to determine higher education needs in the county and to contract with Union College (Cranford, Elizabeth and Plainfield) and Union County Technical Institute (Scotch Plains) to meet those needs.

Lucas is a member of the American Association of University Administrators, the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, the Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisors of Students, the American Association of Higher Education, and the National Wrestling Coaches Association.

Freeholders ask federal support of elderly tax break

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has unanimously endorsed a resolution seeking tax break help for the elderly and disabled.

Freeholder Walter E. Boright, chairman of the Health and Social Services Committee, who sponsored the resolution, has asked all senior citizens and disabled persons to write, phone or telegram their U.S. Senators and respective members of the House of Representatives to support Bill H.R. 2201.

Freeholder Boright noted that this bill will benefit the many senior citizens and disabled persons within the County of Union who are on limited income, by allowing them to receive a refundable tax credit for property tax or rent paid for their principal residences up to a maximum benefit of $500 which is reduced when the beneficiary's income exceeds $9,000.

He stated, "This proposed legislation not only grants a financial break to senior citizens and disabled persons who are homeowners, but also to those who have been forced by worsening economic conditions to sell their homes and move into apartments or other rented facilities. Some senior citizens and disabled persons have never been capable of affording a home of their own and have always been relegated to renting living quarters. This legislation will also grant this financial break to those people."

For public information purposes, Freeholder Boright noted that both Senators Harrison A. Williams and Clifford P. Case may be reached at their Washington, D.C. addresses. All Union County residents except those living in Hillside, Linden and Winfield are served by Representative Matthew J. Rinaldo, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510. Hillside is served by Representative Joseph Minish, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 and Linden and Winfield are served by Representative Edward J. Patten, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Hospital auxiliary to sell Yule cards

The annual Christmas card project of the Senior Auxiliary to Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, began this week.

According to Mrs. Alfred Herberich and Mrs. J. Tatnall Lea, co-chairmen of the project to raise funds for the hospital, this marks the 12th year that the auxiliary has undertaken the holiday card sale.

The cover of this year's card is a reproduction of J.A. Brunner's watercolor, "Westfield, New Jersey in 1863." The original painting hangs in the offices of the Barrett and Crain, Inc., realtors in Mountainside.

Anyone interested in purchasing cards may contact any member of the auxiliary or the hospital, at 237-3720.

GOP county ticket to Dems: Disavow income tax plank

The three Republican candidates for Union County Board of Freeholders this week called upon their opponents to "stop talking about the plight of the taxpayers and actually do something concrete for them by disavowing that portion of the Union County Democratic Platform which calls for imposition of an income tax."

The call for "holding the line on taxes" was made by Freeholders Walter Ulrich of Rahway and Herbert Heilmann Jr. of Union and former Freeholder Rose Marie Sinnott of Summit. The election is Nov. 4.

The three GOP aspirants termed it "a disgrace in these times of rampant inflation and unemployment when most people are struggling to keep a roof over their heads, food on the table and clothes on their backs that anyone would support raising the family budget for more money to support a runaway bureaucracy in Trenton."

The 1975 Democrat Platform recently adopted by the Union County Democratic Committee calls for a graduated state income tax.

Said Ulrich, "Instead of figuring out ways to streamline state government to meet the needs of the times, and cutting down on the patronage list, the county Democrats apparently have no qualms about telling the taxpayer on one hand that times are hard and he must tighten his belt while on the other hand endorsing the levy of additional taxation to finance a burgeoning state bureaucracy exempt from the belt-tightening philosophy."

Heilmann said, "What hits me as a working man is the utter hypocrisy of our opponents who have spent an entire campaign telling the voters of this county how concerned they are about the high cost of living, something they can do very little about, while at the same time actively endorsing another way to dig deeper into that voter's pocket."

"Well, Trenton is the one thing they can do something about," he said. "It's their political party that is in control down there. And, instead of using their influence in an area where they can cut costs, they advocate instead that more of the people's money be thrown to the insatiable beast in Trenton and let it grow fatter."

Mrs. Sinnott said, "I am totally against the imposition of an income tax."

"I know the argument has been given that if an income tax is imposed that it will provide tax relief in other areas," she said. "History shows that this is the argument that has been given for the imposition of all additional taxes but it has never happened that way. An additional tax just means that the people end up paying more for the cost of government."

Mrs. Sinnott, who is a mother with school age children, added, "I also know the argument is that this additional tax will be used to provide better education. Well, we were told this when the State Lottery was instituted and although it has been a huge success financially, I have failed to see its impact on education."

Palsy walk-a-thon scheduled Nov. 2

The United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County will hold a walk-a-thon on Sunday, Nov. 2, to raise funds for its programs.

Persons desiring to participate may contact the League at 354-5800 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays. Prizes will be awarded to walkers. The League also said that the day's program will include entertainment.

Campus ministry organized at UC

The establishment of an Office of Campus Ministry at Union College and the appointment of the Rev. Richard Garcia as its coordinator were announced this week by J. Harrison Morson, dean of students.

The office is designed to provide religious guidance and activities for students seeking a particular cultural-religious atmosphere. Representatives of Jewish, Protestant, and Catholic denominations staff the office.

In his role as coordinator, Father Garcia acts as a facilitator for religiously oriented groups. He is also chaplain to the Newman Christian Community.

Serving as chaplain for the Jewish Student Organization is Rabbi Joseph Lichtman of Cranford. The Rev. David Doherty, youth minister at the Evangelical Assembly of God, Elizabeth, is advisor to the Christian Fellowship.

An advisory board for campus ministry, consisting of the dean of students, faculty advisors, student presidents of religious organizations, and the clergymen, assists the Office of Campus Ministry in meeting the spiritual needs of Union College students.

Projects planned by the Office include programs on religious freedom, the publication of a newsletter, ecumenical discussion groups, and visits by other spiritual leaders for the purpose of educational enrichment, Father Garcia explained.

Cachet is planned by Scout Council

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will issue a commemorative cachet in recognition of the nation's Bicentennial and the Council's five-year heritage program, which prepared Scouts for the Bicentennial.

The cachet — an envelope with a special handstamp or decoration on it, will be issued on Oct. 31, the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting. The cachet envelope will be hand-cancelled with a hand-carved stick stamp. Inside will be a letter describing "Our Living Heritage Program," which began in 1971. Also outlined in the letter will be some of the materials and skills which the Scouts wish to share with their communities as part of their bicentennial celebrations.

The Girl Scout commemorative cachet will be a limited edition collectors' item. Orders for the 50 cent cachet can be placed through Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, 201 Grove St. E., Westfield, 07090.

Billington elected chairman of unit

George F. Billington, president of Elizabeth General Hospital, has been elected chairman of the Joint Advisory Nursing Committee of the three-year cooperative program in professional nursing conducted by Union College, Cranford, Elizabeth General Hospital and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

He succeeds Dr. Saul Orkin of Hillsborough, president of Union College. Billington had been chairman of the committee in 1973. Dr. Theodore A. Austin, coordinator of nursing at Union College, was elected secretary of the committee.

The Joint Advisory Nursing Committee considers issues arising from the three-year cooperative program offered by Union College and the schools of nursing of the two hospitals. The program combines humanities and science courses taken at Union College with professional nursing courses and clinical experience provided by the respective hospitals.

Guided tour planned Sunday through 'Deserted Village'

The semi-annual guided tour of the one-time "Deserted Village" on Felville, in the Watchung Reservation is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 p.m.

The tour will replace the program usually presented by the Union County Park Commission at the Trailside Nature and Science Center. Interested visitors will meet at Trailside at 2 p.m. and proceed with cars to the tour area.

The leader, Charles S. Hoag, a resident of the area, will provide historical background information, dating back to glacial times, through Indian habitation and the first white settlers, on to the days in the mid-1800s when Felville became a thriving small industrial center. Later it became known as the "Deserted Village."

The tour will go through remains of the village, passing large and historic trees, and on down Cataract Hollow road to the glen and the ruins of old mills. The tour will close at a restored cemetery of the Revolutionary War era.

The Trailside Planetarium on Sunday will feature a program on the Milky Way. The program will be at 2, 3 and 4 p.m. It will be repeated on Wednesday, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m.

As the Planetarium seats only 35 persons, tickets issued at the Trailside office are on a first-come, first-served basis for the Sunday programs. Children under eight years of age will not be admitted.

On Monday through Thursday, Oct. 27 and 30, Donald W. Mayer, Trailside director, will present half-hour programs for children at Trailside. The subject will be concerned with "Air Pollution on Fruits and Vegetables."

Concert at college by brass quintet at noon on Nov. 6

The New Jersey Brass Quintet will present a concert at Union College, Cranford, on Thursday, Nov. 6, at noon, in the Campus Center Theatre. It was announced this week by Prof. Donald Julian, chairman of the fine arts department.

The quintet is a professional ensemble organized to give New Jersey residents a greater opportunity to hear brass chamber music. The group has performed in more than 200 concerts throughout the state. Each member of the quintet is a professional educator as well as an experienced performer.

The Union College concert is open to the public at no charge. Student groups are welcome.

Members of the New Jersey Brass Quintet include: Gary Anderson Clark, principal trumpet; Richard Gurrick, trumpet; Samuel Pifalian, tuba; John Trevor Taylor, French horn, and John Taylor, trombone.

Clark, who has played under the baton of such musical greats as Leopold Stokowski, Leonard Bernstein and Arthur Fiedler, is a recognized virtuoso on the piccolo trumpet. He was graduated with high honors from Manhattan School of Music and also earned honors in his graduate studies at the New England Conservatory.

Gurrick, founder of the Project Impact Brass

Quintet Concert Series, holds a master's degree from the New England Conservatory. He played principal trumpet under Gunther Schuller in an extensive European tour.

Pifalian has played with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and with the Metropolitan Opera. He is a graduate of Miami University.

Taylor has performed with the Boston Symphony and has recorded extensively with jazz as well as symphonic organizations. He is an honors graduate of the New England Conservatory.

Taylor has performed with the New York City Ballet and Opera Companies and has been featured soloist with many groups as a baritone horn virtuoso. He is currently playing on Broadway with "Candide." Taylor was graduated from Harvard University with honors and received his master's degree with honors from Yale University.

Dayton harriers defeat two foes, improve to 9-2

RE: CROSS COUNTRY
By AMY GELTZELER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team kept up its winning performance this week by defeating Millburn and New Providence. The harriers' record is 9-2.

Billy Bjorstad placed second in the Millburn meet to help lead the Bulldogs to their 25-30 victory. He was followed by Charles Kiel, third, Bobby Phillips, fifth; Gary Sherman, seventh; Brad Weiner, eighth; Danny Smith, 12; and Chris Clunie, 13th. Chris O'Connell of Millburn was given credit for winning the meet.

Coaches William Jones and Martin Taglienti said they were extremely pleased with the performance of the team. Jones said, "The boys made a strong effort to win the meet and they can be proud of their performance. When the team faced Millburn earlier in the season they lost by one point. Their victory in this meet is a symbol of the determination and good attitude that all of the team members possess."

The undefeated freshman harriers also ran against Millburn and won easily, 16-38. Dave Gchlik, placing first, led the freshman harriers to their victory. He was followed by Howard Doppelt who placed second; Larry Fine, third; Chris Smith, fifth; and Robert Fink, sixth. Jones commented, "The team's performance has improved tremendously. They are getting use to the rigorous three-mile course. Their strength is mounting each day."

With a 25-30 victory over New Providence, Bjorstad placed first. Kiel placed second, Weiner fourth, Clunie seventh, Greg Rusbarsky 11th, and the improving Bob Gilbert placed 12th.

On Tuesday, the team was scheduled to meet Madison. Today the team will compete with Caldwell.

Gaudineer opens soccer campaign with 2-1 triumph

The Florence Gaudineer School of Springfield opened its soccer season recently with a 2-1 victory over Carl Kumpf School of Clark. Gaudineer scored early in the first quarter on a goal by wing Todd Leonard. The winning goal came with 10 seconds remaining in the game. It was scored by David Moss, a returning letterman, on an assist by David Geltman.

Playing a good defensive game were halfbacks Andy Cukier, Mike Silver and Jerome Pulliam and fullbacks Ed Drummond, Doug Forman and Billy Ward. The goalie was Agapios Kyritsis.

The Gaudineer soccer season consists of a seven-game schedule. The tri-captains are Mike Silver, Ed Drummond and Agapios Kyritsis. For the first time in its history, the team includes four female players.

Gymnasts gain second victory with fourth loss

The Dayton Regions girls' gymnastic team gained its second victory and fourth loss in what were its best and worst meets of the season this week. Head Nancy Dougherty was pleased with Dayton's victory over Scotch Plains by a score of 62.35 to 54.45, but was distressed by an overall poor performance against top rated Bridgewater East, losing by a score of 75.75 to 47.50.

Scotch Plains, which defeated Dayton last season, was astonished by the girls' fine performance and high difficulty level Dayton girls took at least second place in every event. Dougherty said, "although we are pleased with the triumph and success of the meet, the girls did not have one of their finer days. We did however gain revenge against a team with similar capabilities."

In the floor exercises, Dayton's Moira Halpin and Carol Wingard finished first and second, respectively, with scores of 7.1 and 6.25. Both girls have been doing a great job as they have contributed much to the overall success of the season thus far.

Dougherty hopes to have their scores elevated by the end of the season so that Dayton will provide a real threat to the better teams in the state.

Barbara Salamuso, with a score of 6.05 gained a first place on the uneven parallel bars. Salamuso put in an excellent performance, and Jill Lipton, who finished second in this event, had full difficulty in her routine.

In the beam exercises, which have been the most inconsistent event for Dayton this season, Moira Halpin finished first with a score of 5.65 and Barbara Salamuso finished third. If the girls could increase the difficulty and concentration by the end of the season, Dayton will have a well rounded team, Dougherty added.

Carol Wingard, a freshman whose presence to the team has meant so much, took first place in the vaulting exercise with an outstanding performance giving her a 7.0. This is the highest achieved by any Dayton girl in this event. This event made the difference between the triumph or loss in this meet.

On Friday Dayton was host to the Group 2 northern sectional champion Bridgewater East team. The Dayton girls all had poor performances and failed to place in any event, except for Barbara Salamuso whose 5.6 took third in the uneven parallel bars.

Dayton's Scheich boots four goals in victory over West Orange, 4-1

By AMY GELTZELER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team defeated West Orange, 4-1 and Millburn, 4-2 in the past week. The team also lost to Verona, 2-1. Their current record is 4-5-1.

In the Millburn victory, Heo Young Lee led the Dayton team by scoring two goals. Alan Layton and Richard Weinberg each scored one goal in the game. Dayton scored twice in the first quarter to lead, 2-0. As the second quarter began, one of the opposing players was disqualified for committing a fault against the Dayton goalie. For the rest of the game Dayton held the advantage of having one more player on the field. With one less player, Millburn was able to score two goals in the second quarter to tie the game at 2-2 at halftime.

Dayton came back in the third quarter and scored two goals to win the game, 4-2. Dayton goalie Sid Kaufman played an exceptional game, making 14 saves. The goalie from Millburn made nine saves.

Coach Arthur Krupp said, "this game marks the best effort that the team has ever shown. The boys handled the ball impressively. Their good attitude and accurate playing was a key factor for their victory."

"Sid played an outstanding game as goalie. The line play was superb. Fullbacks Harry Irwin, Marc Waals and David Baton played their best game of the season. The entire team can be proud of their fine performance in the game."

In the Verona game, Gary Scheich scored the sole goal for Dayton. Verona was able to score in the first period. Dayton scored in the second, and Verona came back in the third to score the final goal of the game. Goalie Kaufman made 15 saves, and Verona made nine saves. Krupp expressed his disappointment that the team did not win the game. "Sid Kaufman and Steve Matysek played an excellent game. Dave Baton was hurt in the first period and unable to play for the rest of the game. Verona was able to beat Dayton to the ball constantly. The boys were not as aggressive as they should have been."

Dayton's soccer superstar Gary Scheich scored all four goals in the victory over West Orange. Scheich scored three goals in the first period, and one in the third. This marks the first time that four goals have been scored by any Dayton player in one game since 1964. Scheich actually scored a fifth goal, but the referee found a violation and called it void. Krupp commented, "West Orange did not play a good game. Five shots at the Dayton goal in the entire game. The fullbacks, although not challenged to a large degree, played a good game. Halfbacks Steve Matysek, Steve Hechtle, Jerry Toepfer and Eddie McCaine played their best game of the year. They were largely responsible for Dayton's victory."

Scheich scored eight goals last year to become the second highest scorer in the Suburban Conference. He has already outdone this exceptional performance by scoring 10 goals so far this season. Last year the leading scorer in the conference had 10 goals all season.

"Gary is scoring at a phenomenal rate of over one goal a game. He is the number one scorer in the conference so far this year."

Krupp expressed his admiration when he stated, "Without Gary, the season would not have been a successful one. He is an outstanding player. He is not only a captain, but also a leader of the team. He helps the younger players constantly and always has a winning spirit. Gary is a smart player. He practices every round, and his superiority shines out in every game."

"Gary will definitely make the first team, All Conference, this year, and he should make the All County team, too. Gary is not only an excellent player, but also an exceptional person. He deserves honor and high recognition for his performance."

Krupp also felt that Sid Kaufman, goalie for the Dayton team, deserved praise. He said, "Sid should be picked for the All Conference team. He receives recognition and praise from every opposing coach. His performance this year has been outstanding."

The junior varsity soccer team has a record of 6-2-1, and the freshman soccer team has a mark of 4-1-2. Krupp feels that "in the future Dayton will have an exceptional soccer team

They will be a powerful force in the conference in a few years. Springfield and Mountainside will become important soccer towns in the future."

The team was scheduled to play Caldwell on Tuesday. Today the team will compete with Madison.

Bulldogs, 53-0 losers, look for a lift at Millburn

BY LOUIS FASULO

The New Providence Pioneers, ranked 10th in the state in the latest polls, demolished the soggy Dayton Bulldogs Monday, 53-0. The entire Dayton team seemed outclassed by their Suburban Conference foe. Head Coach Dave Oliver appeared perturbed by the overall performance of his team. Dayton was unable to generate any offensive attack against the New Providence defense, which has yet to be scored on this season.

Led by senior quarterback Paul Joyce and junior runningback Ted Blackwell, New Providence scored 30 points in the first half of Monday's game. Blackwell ran the ball 20 times for a total of 168 yards. Joyce played a significant role as he seemed to call the right play at the right time, giving his team a wide spectrum of successful drives.

Unlike the New Providence defense, Dayton played an inconsistent and non-aggressive game. The defensive line consisted of Kevin Lamb, Jim Rice, Steve Merkelbach, Bob Potomski and Vic Vitale. The linebackers were Frank Bladis, Vince Mirabella, Don Lusardi, Kevin Mitchell and Randy Wissel, Jack Flood, who did a fine job returning punts and kickoffs, along with Carmen Apicella, Steve Pepe and Brian McNany, played in the backfield.

The entire defense had problems making the key tackles as their hands slipped right off the opponents. New Providence runner Blackwell physically carried Dayton players as he plunged for extra yards.

The Bulldogs offense, which was hindered by the weather conditions, failed to score for the second consecutive week. Dayton's quarterback Joe Graziano, who was sacked many times, completed six of eight passes for a total of 50 yards. However, he was unable to put together a successful drive, usually because of a loss of possession by fumble or penalty. These turnovers kept offsetting effort by Graziano.

The Bulldog backfield of Mike Flood and Brandon Gambee each gained 37 yards rushing. Ted Parker, Hugh Cole, Bill Bohrod and second string quarterback Bryant Burke tried to add some zest to the attack. The line was led by Bob Potomski, Bob Conte, Bob McGurdy, Greg Lies and Mark Tryon. Jim Staller and Joe Mirtio made the receptions for the Bulldogs.

Next week Dayton will face the Millers of Millburn at nearby Millburn. It is the coaches' hope that the Dayton players will redeem themselves with a fine performance. A victory at Millburn would mean a lot to the team psychologically and would put them back into conference competition.

Half-way mark in sales met by 'mini-community'

The Scarborough Corp.'s first mini-community, Bay Ridge in Dover Township, Ocean County, has fast established itself as another link in the continuing chain of Scarborough successes.

Bay Ridge, a 13-home single-family community, has sold over 50 percent of its lots in only eight weeks.

Greg DiSabatino, regional manager of Scarborough's northern division, attributes much of this success to some of the amenities featured at Bay Ridge.

"Our 13 homes are located on a cul-de-sac, which guarantees privacy and little or no through traffic," said DiSabatino. "In addition, the lots are all beautifully wooded. And since we offer five home styles, with the usual full range of famed Scarborough color combinations and varied options, no two homes are the same."

The five residential designs featured at Bay Ridge are: The Wyndham—A three-bedroom ranch with family room and eat-in kitchen. It is priced from $40,500.

The Dorset—A three-bedroom split-level offering a living room accented by a picture window. The eat-in kitchen features a full pantry. A master suite with walk-in closet and a lounge-playroom complete the Dorset, which is priced from $42,900.

The Oxford—A two-story home with three or four bedrooms, living room, dining room, and eat-in kitchen. A step-down family room, laundry room and extended garage also are included in the purchase price of $49,500.

The Clifton—A colonial home with four bedrooms, including a private master suite, family room, living and dining rooms and eat-in kitchen. The Clifton starts at $50,900.

The Ashton—A two-story early American residence with four bedrooms, including a master suite with private bath and walk-in closet. The living room is enhanced by a box-bay window and the country kitchen is fully-equipped. There is access from the sunken family room to the wooded yard. The Ashton also offers a two-car garage and full basement and is priced from $56,500.

All Bay Ridge residences include wall-to-wall carpeting, wooden kitchen cabinets, appliances, full insulation and wooded lots, with an assortment of shrubs for additional landscaping.

"We are more than pleased with the initial response to our mini-community," said DiSabatino. "If sales continue at the present pace, we predict a complete sell-out by late this month."

For more information about Bay Ridge, readers may contact the Scarborough Corp.'s northern division office at 1005 Hooper ave., Toms River 08753; Tel. 244-8771.

Hospitality weekend set at Running Hills models

A special hospitality weekend will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 25 and 26, at the Running Hills model homes near Newton.

According to Robert Kaplan, president of Janro, the builder, the event is planned to give prospective residents of the community "a chance to get to know one another, since they might be neighbors in the near future." Kaplan will attend both hospitality days and will be available to answer questions of prospective owners.

The Running Hills community consists of 63 one-acre minimum homesites just off

Rt. 94 in Fredon Township, about one mile south of Newton. Each of the lots is situated to provide a panoramic view of the surrounding countryside, which is especially breathtaking at this time of year with the trees in their full autumn splendor.

Three models are offered: a three-bedroom, two-bath ranch; a four bedroom, 1 1/2 bath bungalow, and a four or five bedroom colonial with 2 1/2 baths.

Standard features include paneled and carpeted family rooms, ceramic tile baths, eat-in kitchens, hardwood floors, and a full complement of generous-size closets. Kitchens of the Running Hills homes are fully finished with the homeowner's choice of cabinetry from the wide selection available, as well as a built-in GE electric range with self-cleaning oven, built-in dishwasher and Swanson hood.

In addition to the above options, the developer offers a host of customizing features, including eight different front elevation treatments, to give the Running Hills community a custom-built look.

Bernard Shub of Century 21 feels that "the Running Hills community offers an unbeatable value. This area is rapidly becoming a prime residential area. These well-built Running Hills houses, along with the full acre lots, should prove to be a very profitable investment for the home owners."

The Running Hills models are easy to reach, and the trip is a spectacular one for a weekend drive. Take Rt. 80 west to Rt. 206 north to Rt. 94 west (south) and make first left to Running Hills models.

THE WILLIAMSBURG — Colonial-style home at Running Hills, near Newton, includes four or five bedrooms with 2 1/2 baths. A choice of eight front elevation treatments gives the community a custom-built look.

HILLS, MEADOWS AND PONDS surround Heritage Hills adult condominium community, set in the countryside of northern Westchester County. Utilizing the cluster concept in housing, the development allows preservation of open spaces on the 1,000 acre site located approximately one hour from New York City.

3,100-home community set in Westchester hills

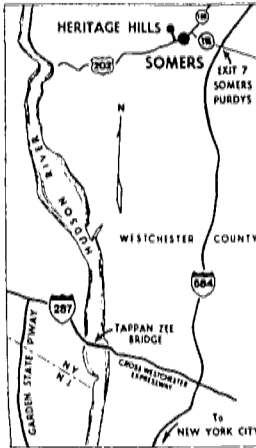

Drive straight up the Garden State Parkway, across the Tappan Zee Bridge, about 10 minutes on the Cross Westchester Expressway (Rt. 287) to Interstate 684 and about 20 minutes more on Rt. 684 north (towards Brewster) to Exit 7. And now where are you?

Well, you're about one hour from New York City in northern Westchester County in the midst of some of the most beautiful fall foliage in this part of the country. You're also five minutes, over Rts. 116 and 202, from the sleepy village of Somers (population about 10,000).

It was here in this tiny town, over 158 years ago, that the American circus was born. And it was here in Somers in the early 19th Century that Hechaliah Bailey, of Barnum and Bailey fame, imported what some historians believe to be the first elephant to tread American soil, "Old Bet," who became the main attraction in Hechaliah's "menagerie show," forerunner of the circus.

You'll know you're in the town center of Somers when you see the ancient Elephant Hotel (now the Town Hall) at the junction of Rts. 100 and 202 and sight "Old Bet" immortalized in bronze on the town green. And if you're really a circus buff, you'll be interested to know that beginning Oct. 17, the town proclaimed a month-long celebration in honor of Hechaliah Bailey and the circus heritage that the "Father of the American Circus" bequeathed to the town.

In the Town Hall there's a

EASY TO REACH — Map shows routes leading to the village of Somers, N.Y., and nearby Heritage Hills, a 3,100-home adult condominium community now under construction. miniature display of the three-ring circus; there's also a multitude of other circus memorabilia on that third floor in the town's Historical Society.

Somers has a proud heritage, rich in history and nostalgia. But it also has a bright future. Today, perhaps the most noticeable change in the town is the new condominium, Heritage Hills of Westchester, that was opened a year and a half ago just a quarter of a mile west of the Elephant Hotel. The project will be under construction for about eight years as it unfolds on 1,000 acres of woodland.

Already, the National Association of Home Builders has cited Heritage Hills for its exceptional use of land and preservation of open spaces. Over one-third of the land within the project will be left in an undisturbed natural state, accomplished primarily through use of the cluster concept of housing design and arrangement. Three basic kinds of clustering were utilized to enable the homes to be built to the land contours and to offer 18 different models to prospective residents.

Since Heritage Hills will eventually consist of 3,100 homes, significant modification and change had to be made in the existing town zoning regulations. In 1972, the planning board, zoning board and town officials completed a new designed residential development ordinance, which was passed by the town's citizens and has won an award from Westchester County as an outstanding example of town planning legislation.

In late September, Heritage Hills celebrated the move-in of its 100th family and the opening of the first phase of its $5 million dollar recreation facilities, which include a heated swimming pool, tennis and paddle courts and a fully-equipped recreation building. A nine-hole golf course is in its second season of play, while an 18-hole course and country club are planned for the western section of the condominium. Later, an arts and crafts studio, men's and women's club buildings and social meeting hall will be constructed, as will several satellite recreation areas.

Westchester County is not known for its low taxes. With this in mind, the town officials

Your Guide To Better Living SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE MART

• City • Suburbs • Farm Country • Lake • Shore

recognized the tax revenue that eventually will be poured into their town by the developer and residents of this new community neighborhood.

Heritage Hills is an adult condominium where one member of the family must be at least 40, and children must be 18 or over. Therefore, it is not increasing the burden on the local school system and, other than fire protection, demands very few services from the town for its tax dollar. Heritage Hills even has its own water system and modern million dollar sewage treatment plant. "The taxes from this community are a very positive and realistic assurance that the tax base in Somers will remain stable in future years," a Heritage Hills spokesman noted.

Residents have come from as far as Brazil and as near as Somers itself. Some have come because of the private shuttle service that takes them to the local train station each morning where they can commute to Manhattan—and return later to peace and quiet of the country. Some have come because of the maintenance-free lifestyle a condominium offers, and some have come for the recreation and social opportunities.

The prices of the homes at Heritage Hills range from $41,500 to $78,900, depending on style of home and site location.

Panther Valley

Introducing The Panther Valley Clubhouse

An important part of our lifestyle!

The focal point of our 18-hole championship golf course designed by internationally-famous course architect Robert Trent Jones is our magnificent clubhouse. This facility includes everything and more: a Pro Shop with a full line of accessories, locker rooms with Swedish saunas, billiard and card rooms, a dining room, lounge and patio deck. Not to mention the swimming, tennis and country club facilities which are also an integral part of our rare lifestyle.

Panther Valley is a living environment!

If you share our love of nature, and the time-honored values of quality, tradition, and privacy, you owe it to yourself to consider Panther Valley. The kinds of people who have been attracted to our way-of-life are people like yourself. They share an interest in helping build a community that is preserving the natural environment.

Move into an established community!

Panther Valley has all the facilities essential to a self-contained community. Private security gates guard the entrances to Panther Valley. The streets are privately maintained and patrolled by a round-the-clock security force. Knowing your home and valuables are assured maximum protection is very comforting whether you are just away on overnight business or on an extended holiday. To further preserve the beauty of Panther Valley, all the utilities are installed underground. Sewer, water and cable TV companies have been established to serve the needs of Panther Valley.

Wemrock Farm shows five townhouse designs

Wemrock Farm, the new adult residential community in Freehold Township, is now open to the public according to Gene A. Genola, the developer and builder.

The community, built around a nine-hole golf course, is designed specifically for adults. Plans call for 1,398 townhouses with leisure facilities. The first stage, including 145 townhouses, already is under construction. By the time the first residents move into their homes, the golf course will be ready for play and the swimming pool and tennis courts will be open, as will the Molly Pitcher clubhouse, a renovated farmhouse.

Genola noted, "Wemrock Farm is something I have wanted to build for a long time. I worked with the architects for four years before we began construction. We took the best details of the communities we studied and included them in Wemrock Farm. I truly believe that this community is designed better for adult living."

Genola is known for his many projects here in New Jersey as well as in many other parts of the country, including the east and west coasts of Florida. He was co-developer of Gateway Center, the award winning $50 million office and commercial project in Newark. In addition, he has built residential and commercial buildings in Asbury Park, Shrewsbury, Atlantic City and other parts of New Jersey.

Wemrock Farm will spread over 181 acres in the central New Jersey farm country. Much of the natural beauty of the land has been retained—including the Molly Pitcher clubhouse building, which is over 100 years old—and the orchards and farmland.

The townhouses themselves are bright and modern. Five distinctive homes are offered, three one-story and two two-story models. All are named for apples (Baldwin, MacIntosh, Grenadier, Jonathan and Cortland). In fact, the entrance to Wemrock Farm is flanked by a bright red 10-foot metal apple, which serves as a backdrop for the community and the area.

Wemrock Farm's townhouses run from $29,990 for the one-story Baldwin to $42,490 for the two-story Cortland. The developer also is offering a five-year guaranteed maintenance cost for new residents.

Said Genola, "With spiraling inflation and the economic uncertainties of the times, I felt that we should make a gesture toward stability. I don't want our people to pay, for instance, $65 a month in 1976 and suddenly watch that cost skyrocket in succeeding years. So I've initiated a fixed-cost maintenance program which I'm certain that it will be a big Wemrock Farm is located on Wemrock road, just off Rt. 33 in Freehold Township.

CHATHAM—One of four luxury townhouses introduced at Panther Valley in Warren County. Priced at $58,500, the Chatham features a vaulted cathedral ceiling in the living room which is further accentuated by a two-story masonry fireplace. The floor plan contains two bedrooms, 2½ baths, paneled den and a one-car garage. Highlighting the second floor is a large center hall overlooking the living room. The oversized master bedroom suite features two closets, including a walk-in, and a complete bath with double bowl vanity. Other two-bedroom with den plans and three-bedroom with family room plans are also available. Panther Valley is located on Rt. 517 one mile south of I-80.

Dover Heights plans expansion

Dover Heights, a custom housing community under development by Landmark Construction Co., is offering additional building sites from 15,000 square feet on the site of Indian Hill rd. in Toms River.

A total of eight models are available to prospective home buyers—including two-story, bi-level, ranch and chalet models, all of which may be customized by the purchaser to suit his individual needs and desires.

Landmark Construction's president, Josh Popkin, said, "Once a buyer has selected a particular home style, we sit down with him and discuss certain changes he may want."

Popkin added that all Dover Heights homes reflect contemporary design, solid construction and have many standard features the majority of home buyers want.

Among the amenities included in the base price of each home are carpeting, baths finished in colorful ceramic tile with built in cultured marble-topped vanity, insulation and insulated double glass throughout. A continuous clean range also is included.

Options such as air conditioning, central vacuum system, intercom with AM-FM radio, humidifier and appliance package.

Financing for Dover Heights homes can be arranged through the builder. Landmark Construction offers 30-year mortgages at 7½ percent. Home prices begin at $40,500.

Models are open for inspection Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and may be seen during the week by appointment.

'APPLES' OF YOUR EYE—One-and two-story townhouses at Wemrock Farm in Freehold Township are all named for apples—Baldwin, MacIntosh, Grenadier, Jonathan and Cortland. The orchards which provided the theme of the adult community, and rolling farmland have been preserved on the 181-acre site, which also will feature a golf course, swimming pool, tennis courts and clubhouse.

Prepare Yourself For The "Good Life"

Surrounded by ecological beauty, the quality custom homes of Dover Heights offer you close proximity to all of Toms River's facilities and surrounding recreational amenities. Enjoy parks, beaches, golf courses, tennis courts, fine restaurants, theaters and modern shopping centers. Excellent new elementary and junior high schools are within walking distance. Everything you need is here to experience the Good Life at Dover Heights.

Short vacations popular, Pocono developer finds

Many Americans don't really like having a lot of time off from work in one big chunk. Long-time employees of big corporations frequently get as much as six weeks vacation a year, but commonly they avoid taking it all at once. The retiree, faced with having the rest of his life off, will often go back to his old profession on a part-time basis or accept a new job. Students or teachers, who could afford to stay idle the whole summer, will usually keep themselves busy with special studies or find some off-season employment.

These observations on human nature come from Lou Larsen, developer—with his brother John—of Big Bass Lake in the Poconos. Lou says that the hesitancy of most people to be out of harness for extended periods has played an important part in the popularity of leisure home communities like Big Bass.

These places are not designed for one-shot-a-year vacations, he noted. Rather, they are keyed to the relatively new discovery that vacations are most enjoyable when they are spaced out in small segments over the entire 12 months.

Bearing this in mind, developers like the Larsen brothers, have gone to trouble to find locations and build accommodations to make their communities suitable for recreation-oriented living at all seasons of the year.

As for location, it has to be one where something interesting is happening indoors and outdoors in every season. And along with this goes the need to provide the kind of housing that is as comfortable all year as is a home in the city or suburbs. This means all-weather homes—a far cry from the leaky summer cottages (three rooms and no bath) and the crude hunting shacks of a generation ago.

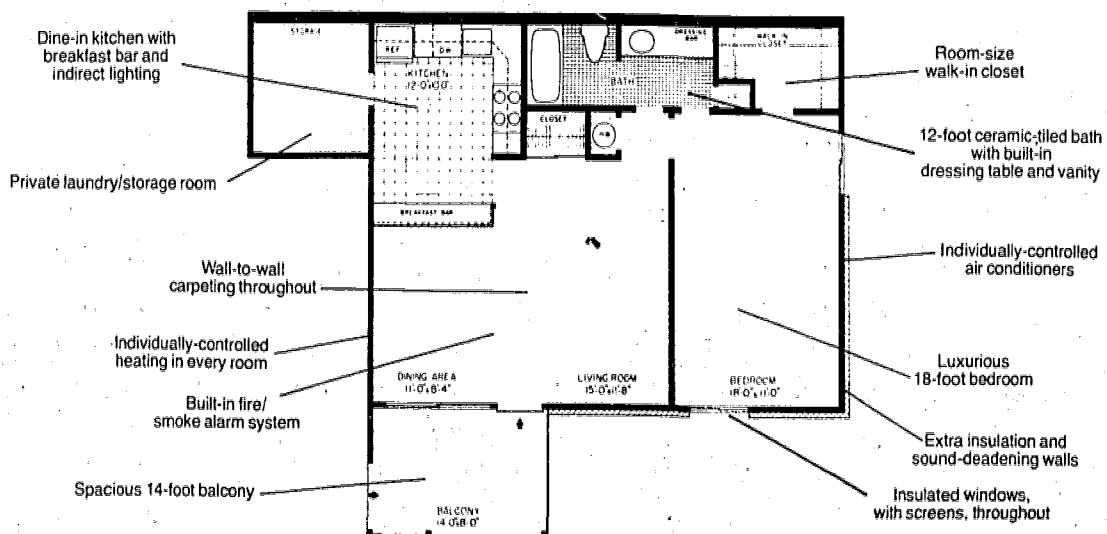

Lou Larsen noted that Big Bass Lake began its development four years ago with a lot of natural advantages, which were not accidental, but advantages he and his brother took a long time in finding.

The whole region of the Poconos had been famous as a vacation area for a hundred years, but the particular spot in the Poconos they selected had some special points in its favor. In particular, it had the lake where the bass were numerous enough and big enough to have the whole community named for them.

Routes to Big Bass at Gouldsboro, Pa., usually include Interstate 80, turning onto Interstate 380 West to Exit 2. From there it's only two miles over Rt. 507 to Big Bass Lake Welcome Center.

IN FILM DRAMA — Left, George Kennedy aids Charlton Heston in attempting to save earthquake victims trapped in the basement of a building in 'Earthquake,' which arrives tomorrow at the New Plaza Theater, Linden, the Five Points Cinema, Union, and the Castle Theater, Irvington.

All Nations to dance at high school

The All Nations Company will present ethnic dances at the opening performance of the Foundation for the Performing Arts 1975-76 season Saturday, Nov. 8, at 8 p.m. at Union High School.

The multi-ethnic troupe of international dancers present authentic classical and traditional dances of their respective countries and peoples. Some of their native dances are accompanied by traditional musical instruments and chants.

This will be the first of a series of eight concerts to be presented this season by the Foundation. Season subscriptions are available at prices ranging from $26.50 to $36.50 for the eight events.

Special discounts may be obtained for senior citizens, students and groups. Additional information may be obtained by writing to the Foundation for the Performing Arts, P.O. Box 25, Union (07083) or by calling 688-1617.

DISC 'N' DATA

Pick OF The LP's... GUTHRIE THOMAS I (CAPITOL ST-11435). Nine numbers on the LP authored by the talented Guthrie include: "Rollin' Home," "Looking For You," "Traveling Man," "Right By My Side," "Tonight," "Too Young To Sing The Blues," "Emily," "Dear Ginny, Dear Ginny," and "Ole Sawdust."

One listen to Guthrie Thomas and all of those old cliches about who he sounds like or "who is another of" will arise in conversation. The only problem is that Guthrie Thomas is not a copy... he is an original!

A long time folk singer-songwriter, Guthrie has been playing and singing his way around this country and the world. Working all of the hard-earned hangouts where every "folkie" pays his dues, Guthrie has nurtured and developed his own particular style that hinges slightly on country, but most definitely is that of a contemporary folk singer.

As Ramblin' Jack Elliot put it, "Guthrie Thomas is a young man that was only interested in learnin' more than he knew. A great songwriter and road buddy, we had a hell of a time out there. The world needs

LOKI ANTAI and her Hawaiian revue will come to the Kona Kai in Union for two shows on Saturday, at 9 and 10:30 p.m.

New policy at Castle

The Castle Theater, Irvington, has announced that it is under new management and is offering to the movie public its new policy of top-run current motion pictures.

Beginning tomorrow, it will show "Earthquake," with an all-star cast headed by Charlton Heston and Ava Gardner (the picture also open tomorrow at the Five Points Cinema, Union, and the New Plaza, Linden).

Filmed in color and directed by Mark Robson, the movie features earthquakes, floods, towering infernos among its catastrophes.

"The Scarecrow," starring Dustin Hoffman, and "The Drowning Pool," starring Paul Newman, end their run tonight at the Castle.

Berlin tunes heard in 'Annie' at Mill

Phyllis Newman, recipient of a Broadway Tony Award, has the title role in "Annie Get Your Gun," which opened last night at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn.

The Broadway stage musical, featuring Irving Berlin's songs and music, is Angelo Del Rossi's first musical production at the Paper Mill. The new executive producer succeeded the late Frank Carrington, a founder of the Paper Mill.

Co-starring with Miss Newman is Don Stewart, known to soap opera enthusiasts for his role as Mike Bauer in television's "The Guiding Light."

Featured in "Annie Get Your Gun" are such famous Berlin hits, "There's No Business Like Show Business," "You Can't Get A Man With A Gun," "Doin' What Comes Naturally," "The Girl That I Marry" and "They Say It's Wonderful."

"Annie Get Your Gun" will run until Dec. 14. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Paper Mill at 376-4343.

'Benji' arrives at Maplewood

"Benji," a dog-to-the-rescue film story, about a neighborhood stray who finds his young friends held by kidnapers and who gets involved, opened yesterday at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood.

The family picture, which was photographed in color, was directed by Joe Camp.

Say It's Wonderful. "Annie Get Your Gun" will run until Dec. 14. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Paper Mill at 376-4343.

Admissions aides appear Nov. 3, 4 at 'College Fair'

The annual fall College Fair, sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Career and Counseling Services, will be held Nov. 3 and 4 at the Woodbridge Center Mall, Woodbridge.

More than 150 colleges and universities are expected to participate in the program designed to assist high school juniors and seniors in their efforts to select an institution of higher learning, if indeed they do go on to pursue their studies. Admission officers of schools from throughout the country have the opportunity to meet and recruit at first hand students who might otherwise not be available to them because of lack of knowledge about the school or distance involved in visiting the campus.

A special section of the fair will feature business, trade and vocational schools to accommodate high school students who will not be continuing their studies on the college level.

To further help the students as they meet with these admission officers, high school guidance personnel have been invited to participate in the fair and they will be available for consultation as will the counseling staff of the B'nai B'rith agency.

The fair will be open from 12:30 to 9:30 p.m. each day.

The College Fair is being coordinated by Rabbi Mortimer J. Rubin who can be reached for further information at B'nai B'rith headquarters, 1767 Morris Ave., Union (687-7494).

Program planned by German group

The Schwaebischer Saengerbund will present its annual "Evening of Song and Fun" at Farther's Grove, Springfield Road, Union, Saturday, Nov. 1, at 8:30 p.m.

The Ladies, Men's and Mixed Chorus will present German songs in the first part of the program. The English portion will feature a show entitled "The Sheik of Araby."

For tickets ($3) readers may call 687-4443. Tickets are also available from all members. Music for dancing will be supplied by Bernie's Orchestra.

Postal rate revisions bring new stamps and stationery

The U.S. Postal Service this week announced plans to issue a number of new stamps and items of postal stationery in connection with proposed new postage rates expected to take effect on a temporary basis shortly after Christmas.

Included are three new 13-cent stamps to meet the proposed first-class rate. A 13-cent American Flag stamp will be issued in sheet and coil form Nov. 15 in Philadelphia; a Liberty Bell stamp will be issued in booklet pane format in Cleveland on Oct. 31 and in coil form Nov. 25 in Allentown, Pa., and an American Eagle and Shield stamp, in sheet form only, will be issued Dec. 1 at Juneau, Alaska.

Other new postal items will be a nine-cent Freedom to Assemble stamp for postcards; an 11-cent Freedom of the Press stamp; a 24-cent stamp depicting Boston's Old North Church; a nine-cent postcard honoring Declaration of Independence signer John Witherspoon; and a 13-cent Liberty Tree stamped envelope.

In addition, the three-cent stamp honoring writer Francis Parkman will be reissued.

The Postal Service noted most of the items will not be available in local post offices until near the time of the rate change. Collectors were advised that processing of first day cancellation requests may be delayed because of the heavy Christmas mail volume.

NEW STAMP DESIGNS—A Liberty Bell Stamp (top) and one depicting a 13-star American flag over Independence Hall will be issued in 13-cent denominations by the U.S. Postal Service to cover the planned changes in mail rates. Both are expected to be available in local post offices shortly after Christmas.

Schools offered course on motorcycle training

Motorcycle rider education courses will soon be offered to public schools by VIP Honda, 108 W. 7th st., Plainfield.

Film goes inside body

The color, texture and eerie beauty of the body's inner recesses—including the heart, blood vessels, inner ear and the womb—are captured on film in a National Geographic special, "The Incredible Machine," which will be broadcast Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. on Channels 50 and 58.

Narrated by E.G. Marshall, the program was filmed with a special photographic device which provides a microscopic view of internal organs and their processes.

The special camera work provides the viewer with a look at the course food follows down the esophagus into the stomach and the route of inhaled air down the trachea and into the lungs.

Electron microscope photographs detail taste buds, which look like giant mushrooms, and portray other organs magnified thousands of times their actual size.

Figueroa Quintet will give concert at State Museum

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts will present a concert by the Figueroa Quintet, the official quintet of Puerto Rico, tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the New Jersey State Museum's auditorium, W. State street, Trenton.

Admission to the concert will be free, with seats available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The quintet's appearance has been arranged with the cooperation of the Institute of Puerto Rican Culture and Jane Benitez, president, commissioner from Puerto Rico to the United States, and is being held in conjunction with the council's current exhibition of Latin American art at the museum.

Alvin E. Gershen, chairman of the state council, said the appearance of the quintet "offers the people of New Jersey a remarkable opportunity to hear one of Puerto Rico's foremost musical groups representing the most distinguished musical family in Puerto Rico."

The members of the Figueroa Quintet are all brothers who studied in Madrid and Paris.

Two Puerto Ricans are represented in the exhibit of 22 Latin-American artists under way at the State Museum. They are Carlos Osorio and Roberto Alberty. The exhibition, sponsored by the State Arts Council, will be on view at several locations throughout the state for the next year.

American Legion joins cancer fight

The American Legion has announced plans to begin a program to fight cancer. Frank Ricciardi, state commander of the Legion, said the goal in New Jersey is to raise $100,000 during the next 12 months.

Edmund G. Lyons, past Legion state commander, has been appointed chairman of the drive. Lyons has named teams in each of the 21 counties to coordinate the effort.

President of the N.J. Division of the American Cancer Society, S. John Quattrone, said that "never before has an organization the size of the Legion come out in support of the cancer fight." He added that the money raised will be donated exclusively to research into the cause and cure for the disease.

Historical society lecture set today

A three-part lecture series on furniture and gardens will be presented by the Women's Branch of the New Jersey Historical Society starting at 9:30 a.m. at the Society's headquarters, 230 Broadway, Newark.

Other programs are planned for Oct. 30 and Nov. 6. Public Transportation is available by train and bus, and there is ample on-site parking. In today's program, garden authority Julia S. Berrall will speak on 18th Century gardens and Norman Jervis, period furniture consultant, on early American furniture.

The lecture, from 9:30 to noon will be followed by informal discussion and coffee. All interested persons are welcome to attend. Registration information may be obtained through the Women's Branch of the New Jersey Historical Society at the Newark headquarters.

Building occupied by medical school

The College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) marked the start of the school year with a milestone event: the occupation of the first academic building to be completed on the college's still-under-construction, $189-million, 46-acre campus in Newark.

The Health Sciences Library will serve the college's component teaching institutions and will also act as a resource for the entire state. A $7-million facility with a capacity of 150,000 volumes, the library was started in 1972 as one of six interrelated buildings on the campus complex, which is bounded by Bergen and Norfolk streets and 12th and South Orange avenues, not far from downtown Newark.

Two of the buildings — the new home of the CMDNJ-New Jersey Dental School and a community mental health center — are expected to be fully occupied within six months; another, a teaching hospital, in about three years. A basic sciences building (to house CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School, CMDNJ-Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences and the program in the allied health professions) is expected to be open next summer.

Bicentennial drama festival to feature student thespians

New Jersey high schools are being invited to participate in Bicentennial drama festival honoring the American playwright; under the sponsorship of Upsala College's drama department.

The schools are being asked to present scenes no more than 20 minutes in length, from American plays. At the end of day-long program on Dec. 12, a panel of professional playwrights, actors, directors and drama critics will give comments on the presentations.

Drama professor Robert Marcezzo said the program is being held not only to pay tribute to the American playwright, but to give high school drama groups an opportunity to see what each can do and to give them a rare chance to be appraised by professional talent.

"Most high school performances are staged before parents and friends," said Marcezzo. "This will give actors and actresses an opportunity to perform before professionals who will give them constructively frank appraisals."

MS group plans meeting Oct. 30

The Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society will sponsor a meeting for MS patients and their families entitled "MS is a Family Affair." The meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 30, at 8 p.m. at Kessler Institute, Pleasant Valley Way, West Orange.

Dr. David Flicker, neurologist, chairman of the Chapter's Medical Advisory Committee and Dr. Richard Sullivan, physiatrist, medical director of Kessler Institute, will lead the panel discussion on multiple sclerosis from the viewpoint of the effect of MS on the whole family, as well as the realistic therapeutic goals which can be achieved.

The panel will also include MS patient Frank Inersa and his wife Mary, who will discuss living with MS in the family.

Persons planning to attend are asked to telephone the MS chapter office at 783-6441.

Parents chapter to meet Monday

A chapter organizational meeting of IMPACT (Interested Motivated Parents Against Cancer Today) will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the American Cancer Society headquarters, 336 South Harrison st., East Orange.

Founded in 1972, IMPACT is an affiliate of the national Candlelighters organization. The group offers monthly public seminars, agency referral services, a blood bank and a wig bank.

Persons wishing to join IMPACT, especially parents of cancer-stricken children, have been invited to attend Monday's meeting. For further information, readers may contact Howard and Betty Buchanan of Maplewood (762-6662) or Les and Barbara Hellenack of Matawan (566-7899).

Kean prof to deliver Bicentennial lecture

Dr. Irving Luscombe, professor of history, Kean College, Union, will offer the second in a series of Bicentennial lectures sponsored by the member college of the Consortium of East Jersey.

His topic will be "Contentiousness in the American Revolution" and will be delivered at the Seton Hall University Nursing Amphitheatre, South Orange, on Thursday, Oct. 30 at 8:15 p.m.

Sonata concert listed at St. Mary's Abbey

A sonata concert featuring cellist Carol Browning and pianist Anita Gordon will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday in Old Main on the campus of St. Mary's Abbey-Delbarton. Included will be works by Eccles, Brahms and Prokofiev.

Admission to the program is $1. The abbey is located on Rt. 24, three miles west of Morristown.

Dr. Sabin to talk at award event

Dr. Albert B. Sabin, developer of the oral vaccine which has virtually eliminated polio, will speak Sunday, at the Golden Jubilee Scopus Award Ball of American Friends of the Hebrew University to be held at Short Hills Caterers in Short Hills.

This event, which is part of the world-wide 50th anniversary celebrations for the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, will honor Herbert Stolzer, president of the Johnson and Johnson Domestic Operating Company of New Brunswick, and member of the executive committee of Johnson and Johnson's board of directors. Herb Brody, vice-chairman of Supermarkets General Corp. of Woodbridge, is chairman of the evening.

Dr. Sabin, who received the American Friends' Scopus Award in 1965, is currently Distinguished Research Professor of Biomedicine at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston where he is continuing his work in virology. A member of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem Board of Governors, Dr. Sabin has served as Medical Advisor to the Hebrew University—Hadassah Medical School and helped set up its Department of Virology.

Kleinert asks voters to OK economic recovery bonds

The economic recovery bonds to be voted on Nov. 4 are a "balanced package of proposals aimed at getting this state moving again in a practical and intelligent way that will serve the interests of all," Robert W. Kleinert said this week.

Kleinert is chairman of the Committee for New Jersey's Economic Recovery Bonds. He spoke at a luncheon meeting with Gov. Brendan Byrne and leading business leaders held at the Prudential Insurance Co. headquarters to kick off a campaign to promote passage of the $922 million package of four bond issues.

The four-part program is composed of $600 million for highways and mass transit, $100 million for housing, $112 million for institutions and $10 million for water and sewers.

Kleinert noted that the bond issues developed from an extensive study completed earlier this year by the Governor's Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey.

"We have a product to sell between now and the first Tuesday in November," Kleinert said. "Fortunately, it's a good product. But time is short, and a great many New Jerseyans may not yet realize just how critical these bond issues are to the progress of our state and a turnaround in the economy."

He said that passage of the four issues "will serve the interests of everyone in this state. It is not a partisan, political or business effort or an effort designed to serve the particular interests of labor or commuters or the aged or the infirm or the environmentalists or this community or that community."

Standard Time returns this weekend—officially at 2 a.m. Sunday. It means that it is time once more to turn back the clocks by one hour.

Kean schedules exhibit of prints of 19th Century

An exhibition of 19th Century American prints will be held in the Art Gallery of Vaughn-Eames Hall, Kean College, Morris Avenue, Union, starting with a preview on Sunday, Nov. 2 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Assembled by Dr. Alan Wallach, assistant professor of fine arts, from private sources and the Rutgers University Art Collection, the exhibition will be on view until Nov. 26, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A collaborative effort of the Museum Training program and the art history studies, the exhibition is a memorial to Dr. Mary Bartlett Cowdrey, a pioneering scholar in the field of 19th Century American art.

A hundred years ago, prints of the sort that appear in this exhibition rarely were considered works of art," Dr. Wallach noted. "People thought of them as embellishments—enjoyable to look at, no doubt, but of little enduring artistic value. No one collected them. Appreciation grew at the end of the 19th Century when photo-mechanical means of reproducing illustrations made older methods of engraving and lithography obsolete."

Dr. Wallach will give a public lecture Nov. 25 in Vaughn-Eames Hall, Room 112. The next Kean College exhibition, "Art Faculty Annual 1975," will begin Dec. 7.

New center for women opens at Kean College

A new Campus Center for Women opened recently at Kean College, Union. The center provides services for on-campus women: faculty, staff and students. The establishments of such a center was among the final recommendations of a Presidential Task Force on Women which met last spring at the request of college president Nathan Weiss.

"The new Campus Center for Women can be distinguished from the EVE office," also at Kean, in that EVE primarily serves off-campus women from the community, whereas the new Center addresses the needs of on-campus women, students, faculty and staff members," a college spokesman said.

The Campus Center will operate as a counseling, advisement, information-referral center. Directorates of various campus-wide services will be developed. Directors which depict services for women (and their dependents, where needed) at the county and state levels have also been secured. Advisor on academic opportunities or inquiries on problems of "logistics" will be available also.

The center will sponsor a series of Wednesday at Noon group discussions—"Woman Talk" throughout the semester in Downs Hall. Scheduled speakers include Assemblywoman Betty Wilson and Mrs. Barbara Claman, Union County Republican Chariman, discussing Women in Politics: Are We Making an Impact? on Oct. 29; and Dr. Bonnie M. Kind of the college Psychology Department, who will give an overview of The Psychology of Women on Nov. 5.

The Campus Center for Women is located in the Student Services Building, Room 112. Mrs. Ellen M. Curcio is coordinator of the center. She may be reached at 527-2296.

Hearing Tests Set For Elizabeth

Free electronic hearing tests will be given at Belton Hearing Aid Service offices on Monday and Friday.

Factory-trained hearing aid specialists will be at the office listed below to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding, is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year, if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing hearing aids, or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out about the latest methods of hearing correction.

The free hearing tests will be given at Belton, 11 Broad St., Elizabeth on Monday and Friday. If you can't get there on Monday or Friday call 353-7686 and arrange for an appointment at another time.

Philatelists await show at Cranford

The North Jersey Federated Stamp Clubs will present their 14th annual "NOJEX" stamp show Friday through Sunday at the Coachmen Inn (at exit 136 of the Garden State Parkway).

There will be a bourse of 16 prominent stamp dealers, where stamps and philatelic accessories can be purchased. The United States Postal Service, the United Nations Postal Administration and the Royal Swedish Post Office will have branch post offices where current stamps can be purchased and special "NOJEX" postmarks applied to envelopes.

Among the national philatelic societies holding conventions and special meetings at NOJEX are The Postal History Society, New Jersey Postal History Society, British Caribbean Study Group, Cuban Philatelic Society, Croatia Study Group.

The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday; 10 to 7 on Saturday and 11 to 5 on Sunday.

'Lunchtime' production

The Lunchtime Theatre of Kean College of New Jersey will present Lanford Wilson's drama, "Home Free," on Oct. 28, 29 and 30 at 12:30 p.m. in Downs Hall on the Union campus.

The production features Elaine Mulcahy and Jim Nelis, both of whom have won state recognition for their performances in this play. Judith Sullivan is director; Jason Teran, managing director.

Groups wishing to attend the program are eligible for a 40 cent per person admission. Reservations may be made through Teran at 527-2349 or Sherri Roth, publicity assistant, at 527-2777.

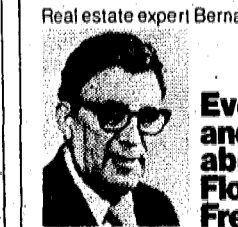

Irish party on Sunday

The Women of Irish Heritage of New Jersey will hold their third annual cocktail party Sunday at Seton Hall University, South Orange.

The group's president, Helen McFadden, expressed her hope that this year's affair would serve as an impetus for the continued growth of the organization. Mrs. McFadden noted that in the 2½ years since its inception, the Women of Irish Heritage has grown statewide to more than 200 members. The principal aim of the organization is to aid in the promotion of social cultural and philanthropic activities related to Irish heritage.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Janet Ginty at 992-8806.

"MR. BIN" says...

Tablecloths perform many important duties. They protect your fine dining room furniture and they beautify your dinnerware. Lace cloths enhance your home with sheer elegance while dining, or alone on your table. Permanent press has taken the work out of caring for these fine cloths. We have a lace cloth from 52 x 70 to 70 x 128 that goes into a washing machine... into a dryer... and then onto your table just as easy as it is to read this article. It's unbelievable but true because we have washed them in our home and they are great! We have plastic cloths with flannel backing for your everyday needs... also lace plastic that almost seems like the real thing. Rounds, ovals and squares... you name it... we have it!
