Pool membership fees will be raised $5-$20; schools want bus funds

An ordinance to increase membership fees at the Mountainside Community Pool for the 1976 season was adopted Tuesday night by the Borough Council at its regular monthly meeting in the Beechwood School.

Under the new law, family memberships will be $120, with an additional $20 fee for each child over 21 residing at home; single memberships will cost $60 for persons 16 years of age and older; senior citizens' fees (for persons over 62) will be $20.

The former scale was $100 for families; $50 for singles, and $15 for seniors, and $15 for children over 21 covered by the family mem-

Board decisions on busing rapped by two candidates

The Mountainside school board must begin to make decisions on the basis of a thorough examination of all the facts and all the options," candidates Peg Reilly and Scott Schmedel said this week.

'The board also must explain to parents and taxpayers exactly what's going on, before it asks for 'input' about vague generalities," Mrs. Reilly and Schmedel told neighborhood groups at several campaign meetings. Mrs. Reilly and Schmedel are candidates for election to the Mountainside Board of Education on March 9.

As an example of what they termed the board's haphazard method of making decisions, the two candidates cited its plan to cut transportation expenses by reducing the number of school buses next year to three from five. The result would be to force many more children to find their own way to school, they

"Many parents see this plan as a threat to the safety of their children," Mrs. Reilly and Sch-medel said. "And yet the decision to cut back on busing was made by the board long before it was announced to the public.

"Even then, the discussions at recent public board meetings show that the board didn't really consider all the possible alternatives before voting the cut. At the meeting on Feb. 17, after many objections to the plan and pleas to assure the safety of the children, the board adopted the suggestion of a parent. It decided to 'exhaust all means to get the needed buses,' and, among these efforts, to appeal to the Borough Council for help.

"This is a slipshod way to make decisions that affect the education and safety of our children and the taxes we pay. The board should be able to show the town that it has considered all the options and exhausted all possible efforts before it makes any decision."

Meeting announced

The Board of Education of the Union County Regional High School District will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday at 8 p.m., at the Deerfield School, Mountainside, to transact business of the board. The public has

Explaining the increase, Recreation Commissioner William Cullen cited a continuing drop in family memberships—from 794 in 1967, the pool's first season, to a projected 550 this summer-and increased costs for utilities, equipment and chemicals. He noted the pool budget for 1976 allows for no employee pay

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, reported that William Biunno of the local Board of Education had contacted him by phone and letter requesting Council to consider providing financial assistance to the board for student transportation. The school body this year is facing financial problems because of both a loss of all state aid and new state-mandated budget restrictions, and has appropriated only enough money to provide three school buses, instead of the five in use now. If there is a transportation cutback, more children may have to walk greater distances to the schoolsa safety hazard on heavily-trafficked roads without sidewalks.

Ricciardi would not comment on the problem at this week's session, but promised a public statement on the issue "as quickly as possible." The matter will be on the agenda of the Council's next public work meeting, Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Borough Hall.

Resolutions passed at this week's session included one authorizing borough attorneys to provide legal defense for several present and former borough officials named in a civil suit

Prudent spending of tax dollar vital, Knodel declares

Pat Knodel, incumbent seeking reelection to the Mountainside Board of Education, issued the following statement this week:

'Today, more than ever, this country needs dedicated public officials. Our nation has never had such pressing problems as those we face today. With inflation running rampant and middle-class America taxed beyond belief, we need in public office people of integrity who will spend the tax dollar as prudently as they do their own money.

"During my five years on the Mountainside Board of Education I have been accused of spending school tax dollars as though they were my own money. I know this was meant as an insult but I considered it a compliment. I feel very strongly that anyone in my position, spending tax dollars, even in the name of education, must not shirk his responsibility to those who elected him. Education is a business. Some people do not like to refer to education as business but to my mind a $2,000,000 operation is business - big business. 'During my tenure on the board I have constantly tried to stretch Mountainside's tax dollars. My recommendations have sayed the taxpayers thousands of dollars in areas such as handicapped, transportation, secretarial staff, administration etc. "The economies I have encouraged are decidedly vital today, now that the Botter Decision is upon us. For the past five years I have attended meetings throughout the state concerning this matter. I have always reported

School budget: 21-pt. tax hike

Three pct. increase for 1976-1977

By RAY CARY
The Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night adopted a 1976-77 school budget of $2,041,138, an increase of three percent, to present to the voters on March 9. The increase will mean a boost in municipal taxes of 21.1 points for a Mountainside homeowner, or $105.50 for a $55,000 home.

The budget was voted on unanimously by the four board members present before a group of about 35 people. Voting were Patricia Knodel, Trudy Palmer and William Biunno and Charles speth, who voted with reservations because of the $46,000 increasé in teacher's pensions that local boards are required to pick up.

Another prime topic that caused concern among parents at last week's public meeting was the board's plan to reduce its student transportation service from five buses to three. The board decided to retain the old policy of five buses. It has discussed the matter at great length with the Borough Council for possible assistance, members said.

"I'm optimistic that either the Council will help us out or the early bids that we sent out to other bus companies will help us greatly," said

The item most referred to during the hearing was that state aid had been cut completely from the budget. Last year the district received $197,710 in direct aid. The added action by the state ordering local districts to pay 25 percent of the teachers' pension fund tab amounts to an additional $46,632 expense for the borough, or a net loss of aid totaling $244,342.

Mrs. Knodel cited the recent Botter decision and "thorough and efficient education" legislation which led to the original reduction. This legislation is an attempt to equalize spending throughout the state's school listricts.

Some of the reductions that the board adopted were a reduction in the nursing staff by half a nurse, keeping a full-time nurse on duty for both schools. The teaching staff was reduced by 3.8 teachers, in the language department and the music department.

Regional board affirms budget of $13,999,181

The Union County Regional High School Board of Education, after a public hearing Monday night in David Brearley Regional High School Kenilworth, adopted a 1976-77 $13,999,181, up $1,322,637 from the 1975-76 total.

The current expense portion, which has risen $1,160,631 stands at $12,826,577. Capital outlay is $222,078; debt service, $950,526.

Theodore White, Mountainside's representative to the board and its finance chairman, told the audience of about 50 persons that the total amount to be raised by taxation is $13.7 million, representing a $2.94 million increase.

He noted, however, that the actual board increase was approximately $1.01 million. He said $1.62 million of the tax hike is a result of a loss in state aid; another $45,000, is due to a loss in state aid for debt service, and $258,941 reflects the new state-directed board contribution to the teachers' annuity fund.

White said that on a home in Mountainside assessed at $40,000, the tax bill would be increased by $96. A similar home in Springfield would be taxed an extra $80, while in Kenilworth, the increase would be $88.

The current expense budget, which will be presented to the voters in Tuesday's election, includes a $7,805,824 appropriation for instruction; $1,169,649 for plant operation; $963,573 for fixed charges (required outlays for employee pension funds, Social Security, insurance, tuition for students in special schools. etc.); $811,327 for student transportation; $681,043 for student activities; $565,864 for maintenance of plants; $454,943 for administration purposes; $168,534 for health services; $133,858 for adult education; $39,590 for summer school; $29,872 for salaries of four attendance officers; and $2,500 for food ser-

The capital outlay portion, which is to voted on separately, covers improvements to buildings and grounds. Planned projects include completion of installation of new fire doors at Jonathan Dayton; replacement of exterior windows at Dayton; improved lighting for the Dayton and Gov. Regional school board candidates

The following queries were submitted by questionnaire to all three candidates for the single Mountainside seat on the Union County Regional High School District Board of Education:

1-In the light of state restrictions on school spending, do you believe the school system can continue to provide a quality education for its

2-Do you think there has been overspending in the school system.

the main issues facing the school board in the next few years? 4-What contributions can you make toward the resolution of those 5-What changes, if any, would you make in the school system? What do you see as its strong points?

Listed below, along with biographical information, are the candidates' responses.

Dr. Marilyn Hart

1-"Yes, because school spending is not synomynous with quality education, nor does if guarantee quality education. With careful selection of programs that will maintain quality, we can continue to insure that our lollars buy the best possible education."

2-"I enter the election with no preconceived notions of overspending in the district in the past, but promise, as a taxpayer, that I will carefully evaluate the priorities in spending as they affect educational programs in the

3-"Recognizing that salaries are a major portion of the school budget each year, it is obvious, particularly in light of the proposed issues facing the school board in the next few years will be in the area of employee negotiations. It is important that the salary level be one that is just and equitable for both the teachers and the taxpayers.'

4-"As a parent and taxpayer, I hope to bring a reasonable attitude to the deliberations of the board and teachers, realizing that both taxpavers and teachers face common economic problems; these problems must be resolved for the students' welfare and for the good of the

5-"I would like to see an increased ability on the part of students to express themselves in the written word, using acceptable standards of grammar. This skill is extremely important for everyone, whether college-bound or seeking full-time employment upon graduation; for the college-bound student, a required course in the preparation of a research paper could help.'

'With reference to the strong points of our system, certainly the variety of the curriculum offerings in our high schools has earned the Regional district high respect in the state and has made our communities attractive to potential home-owners. Another strength is the experience and professional preparation of most of the staff in the district."

DR. HART, an assistant professor of educational psychology at Kean College of New Jersey, Union, has been on the staff of that institution for 10 years, having previously taught for two years in the Westfield school system. She earned a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Seton Hall University and a master's in educational psychology and a doctorate in the anthropology of education from Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

A resident of Mountainside for nearly 38 years, she is president of the Mountainside Chapter of the American Association of University Women; co-treasurer of the Jonathan Dayton Choral Parents' Society and a member of the Union County Republican Committee.

Hercommunity service record includes work as the 1971 chairman of the local March of Dimes campaign, a Brownie Scout leader, a Cub Scout den mother, manager of a girls' softball team and a substitute religion teacher at Our Lady of Lourdes School. She has been a guest speaker at the Deerfield School, Gov.

Board hopefuls will meet public

Candidates' night, sponsored by the Mountainside PTA, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Beechwood School, Appearing will be Mark Ross, Dr. Marilyn Hart and Benedicta Naas. seeking election as the borough representative to the Union County Regional High School District Board of Education, as well as Margaret Reilly. Patricia Knodel and Scott R. Schmedel, who are vying for two seats on the local school board.

Mark Ross

1-"The question is not 'Can the school system provide a quality education?' It must. The question is, 'How?' I believe that the Region must tighten its belt and place priorities in perspective. In this time of economic hardship, we cannot, and must not, ask the taxpayers for more money. Rather, we must economize within the system and place the maintenance of the quality of the education which students receive as the paramount

2-"I have said that the Region must tighten its belt to cost economize. I feel that in this time of economic crunch, though, we cannot cut back, nor should we cut back on such things as textbooks, or increase the size of the classes to an untenable point for the students and the teachers, for this results in a loss of quality in the educational system. We must cut back in the area of administration expenditures. Such things as a public relations agent (and regardless of whether you call it a public information officer or anything else, it's still a PR man), are unnecessary luxuries."

3-"The Botter Decision is the singular main issue which faces our Board of Education. The Botter Decision encompasses the issue of the state funding of education, and that issue is central to all other issues. The funding of such things as the state-mandated 'Thorough and Efficient Act' (15:16) is tied up in the issue of state funding of education. The bottom line is the monetary availability and the maintenance of a quality educational system.' 4-"As a graduate of the Union County Regional High School system, having attended both Jonathan Dayton and Gov. Livingston, my intimate knowledge of the system will enable me to better weed out the problems of the system. As a student of political science and government at Rutgers University, I am aware that a good governmental body is one which is in constant communication with its constituency, and to this I pledge myself. As a student of government, I hope I will be allowed to bring my studies to bear to enable the Regional District to run better." 5-The job of the board is primarily to administer the functioning of the Regional school district, to insure adherence to the policies which the board passes and to insure a quality education for all our students. I believe it is not the job of the board to initiate broad, sweeping reform of the educational system, but to administer an already fine system and to enable it to improve the quality of services with (Continued on page 3)

Regional Chorale will sing Sunday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Chorale, under the direction of E. Edward Shiley, will present a concert at the Community Presbyterian Church, Deer Path and Meeting House lane, Mountainside, on Sunday at 8 p.m.

The program will include "Zigeunerlider" by Johannes Brahms, a group of 11 folk songs with a gypsy flair which will be sung in their origional German, and "Motet No. Six" by Johann Sebastain Bach, a baroque piece which has its text taken from Psalm No. 117:"Praise ye the Lord all you nations." A number of smaller works will also be presented.

The Dayton Chorale has received many awards. Last year, the group received a silver medal at the Festival of Nations in Washington, D.C., where it entered competition at the college level.

This program is another in the Mountainside concert series and is open to the public. A $1 donation has been suggested.

Clerical help is sought

The Mountainside Free Public Library is seeking a part-time clerk typist for the facility. Information may be obtained from librarian Johanna Chen at 233-0115.

1-"Yes. I believe that the Regional school system will continue to provide a quality education for its students. The restrictions on school spending by the state present the Board of Education and the citizens of the Regional district with another area of concern. However, a flexible and thinking Board of Education, guided by an interested citizenry, will be able to set priorities and allocate expenditures in such a way that quality education is maintained. If soundly run school districts find it impossible to provide quality education under the new state restrictions. I am sure that there would be a strong movement throughout the state for a revision to the law."

2-"This is a very difficult question for a nonmember of the board to answer. Budgets are extremely complex, and they are the result of many hours of study and deliberation. However, I planned to be present at the annual budget hearing on Monday, Feb. 23 and to question items.

3- "The maintenance of an enriched curriculum and effective instruction for all the students of the Regional district in the face of a dropping enrollment.

4-"As an educator. I feel that my experience and knowledge of public school education would be of assistance in the resolution of these

5-"I feel that the school system would be strengthened by improved communications. Informed citizens are interested citizens. The individual board member must continuously inform his or her constituents of matters of "The Public School Education Act of 1975 (Thorough and Efficient Law) has raised many questions on the local and Regional levels, and have contacted Sen. Raymond Bateman for possible speakers on this act. On the Regional level, the appropriations formula (Chapter 212, Section 29) has been of concern.

"In addition, I feel that we should strengthen our feeling of being a Regional system, rather than our sense of individual community schools."

MRS. NAAS was a candidate for the Regional High School District Board of Education three years ago, running against the then incumbent Dr. Minor C.K. Jones, and she has been a frequent observer at board meetings,

She has a bachelor of science degree and a master of science degree from Newark State College (now Kean College). She wrote her master of science thesis on remedial reading. In addition, she has attended Teachers College, Columbia University and the University of Maine, earning 32 graduate credits beyond her master of science degree.

Currently, she is an elementary school teacher in Union and has served on various curriculum connittees in that school system. She is a member of the Diamond Circle Club of the Union Township school system. When her son attended the primary grades at the Short Hills Country Day School, she was active in olunteer work.

Mrs. Naas and her husband have been Mountainside residents since 1959. Their son, Conrad, is a freshman at Jonathan Dayton.

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will present "Kismet," a musical Arabian night, on April 2, 3, 9 and 10 with show times at 8:15 p.m. It will be presented at the Dayton auditorium on Mountain avenue in Springfield.

"Kismet" is described as a musical fable of ancient Baghdad. The story concerns a poet who, through the hand of fate (and his own guile), avenges wrongs done his daughter, deposes the evil Wazir of Police, finds a new love and rises to a place of eminence-in a single miraculous day

Playing the wicked Wazir on both weekends of this two cast production is Tom Zelman. Tom is a junior at Dayton and a member of the Chorale. Though this is Tom's first leading role, he is no stranger to the stage. In the past he has appeared in "You Can't Take It with You," "Carousel," "On the Town" and "Oliver." Tom has been a member of the vocal music department at Dayton for the past three

Musical direction for the show is being handled by Edward Shiley with Kim Martinelli as assistant musical director. The entire production is choreographed and directed by Charles Queenan. Red Cross opens annual fund drive; goal is $12,500

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross has opened its annual March drive for members and funds. Michael S. Sgarro of Mountainside, fund chairman and a director of the local chapter, stated:

"A supplemental fund goal of $12,500 is necessary to cover the increasing cost of maintaining essential services given to the communities of Westfield and Mountainside. It will further enable us to expand our new programs, particularly transportation for senior citizens and the handicapped.

Sgarro urged everyone to use the prepaid postage envelopes which will be delivered to all omes for their donations.

During the past year, local chapter services included meeting blood demands, health and safety education and transportation to medical facilities, with increasing attention to the needs of senior people.

Sgarro said, "This is the true meaning of Red Cross. You don't give to the Red Cross, you join. Help us help others. We need your generous support."

SCHOOL ELECTIONS

In the controversy over a "thorough and efficient" system of education in the state of New Jersey, much concern has been expressed for local control of schools.

In last year's local school board election. about 41 percent of Mountainside's registered voters elected the members of the Board. While 41 percent is an extremely high figure for a school board election. I believe real local control requires an almost 100 percent turnout and I hope many more voters will turn out on

In the Regional school board election last year, 267 voters from Mountainside voted. It is difficult to remember to cast a vote in both a district and a Regional school board election and this is to remind Mountainside citizens to vote this Tuesday, as well.

Details on the legal action will be given in a later issue of the Echo.

Another resolution, copies of which will be sent to all members of the Union Couunty delegation in the state legislature, opposes the state's proposed use of approximately $17 million in surplus revenues from state taxes levied on business personal property, which previously were distributed to municipalities.

The resolution notes communities have already lost more than $50 million in state revenues this year-funds formerly given for road maintenance, construction and general local purposes-because of the state's efforts to meet its own budget requirements. It charges that these reductions "represent a legislative breach of faith with earlier legislatures and the people ... who supported the enactment of the sales tax program and the removal of business personal property from local assessment and collection on the premise that some of the revenues would be distributed to municipalities."

Council also reported it has received a petition from several Knightsbridge road residents requesting that the parking for Children's Specialized Hospital vehicles be prohibited on that street.

The citizens charged that construction vehicles used during the building of an addition to the hospital have deposited dirt on the road; construction and hospital personnel have littered the area; loading and unloading of equipment presents a danger; improper parking decreases driver's visibility; and vibrating machinery is causing trembling of houses. The mayor noted Council will discuss the problem and make a decision in the near tuture. The police chief also has been asked to investigate and report on the situation

At Rutgers, he has served as business manager for the university newspaper, the Observer, and as national parliamentarian. vice-president of a four-state region, president, and, for four years, treasurer of his international fraternal organization.

Ross cited his "extensive background in the community and the workings of the Union County Regional District" as well as his proven leadership ability and youthful energy," among his qualifications to serve on the school board. His activities at Rutgers, he said, give him "the necessary experience to be both a good manager and a fine leader."

In addition, he noted, he has held "numerous discussions with state and national leaders, including Senators Case and Williams and Congressman Rinaldo," which have served to increase his knowledge of the entire educational picture.

'At times I was accused of filibustering. My message was not well received. Many people ignored me and labeled me negative and against education. This past six months. however, all that I have warned of has come to pass; 1976-77 will see the Botter Decision implemented and Mountainside's subsequent loss of over $200,000 in state aid.

"In addition to the loss of state aid, we are now limited as to the amount of money we can spend on education. (This is called our cap). Even if the Mountainside voters choose to spend more money, the state would not permit us to do so,

DONALD McDOUGALL

Camp testimonial Sunday to honor McDougall, wife

Donald McDougall of Mountainside, and his wife, Florence, will be given a testimonial dinner by the trustees and officers of Camp Brett-Endeavor at the Mountainside Inn Sunday in recognition of his service to the camp as treasurer.

Walter G. Perry of Westfield, Camp Brett-Endeavor president, stated that the Mountainside resident joined Camp Endeavor, then located on Johnston drive. Watchung, on Dec. 21. 1926. McDougali was elected assistant treasurer in 1929 and treasurer in 1931. As of Feb. 19, he retired from the office but remains trustee of the camp.

McDougall has watched the camp, established in 1911, grow from a small spot of activity off Johnston drive, about the present Blue Star Shopping Center, to a small spot of woodland surrounded by civilization. Recently to better serve the youngsters of Union County it sold its land to Watchung Borough and merged with Camp Brett, established in 1902. which occupies 85 acres on Stanton Mountain road, Lebanon,

Both camps were founded by the Christian Endeavor Societies of their respective counties. Hudson and Union. Endeavor initially provided newsboys from New York City with a country vacation. Camp Brett-Endeavor serves youngsters from Union and contiguous counties, Hunterdon, and Essex and Hudson as well* as some youngsters who come from Approximately 300 children, aged 8 to 11, are served each summer

McDougall was vice-president and trust officers for 47 years with the National State Bank of Elizabeth in the Westfield branch, He was secretary-treasurer for 21 years, and president in his last year, of the Middlesex-Somerset-Union County Bankers Association. He is a Westfield High School graduate in 1919 and class president during his junior and senior years, a Cornell graduate in 1923 and one of the founders of the Cornell Club of Westfield (now nion County) as well as past, local SAR. He has served in more capacities in the Westfield Presbyterian Unurch and is a trustee of the Westfield YMCA and Historical

Kean conference to examine state's literary history

Two hundred years of New Jersey literary history will be celebrated April 17 at Kean College, Union, with a conference of scholars' and interested laymen.

"The Continuing The conference, Revolutionary Tradition: Bicentennial Conference on New Jersey's Literary Heritage," will be sponsored by the Kean College Department of English and the Greater New York Regional College English Association and will feature several noted specialists on authors identified with the state.

According to Dr. Paul Schlueter of Kean College, the conference director, every effort has been made to provide as definitive a program as possible in order to make the service of lasting significance. To this end, served been minars have been planned for the conference, each on a major literary figure or group of figures from New Jersey and each chaired by a scholar who has written a dissertation, a book or critical articles on the author emphasized.

The Colonia! Period, including Thomas Psine, Phillip Freneau and John Woolman among others, will be hosted by Dr. Alyce Sends Miller of Montclair State College, A seminar on James Fenimore Cooper will be led by Dr. James Lindroth of Seton Hall University. And a seminar on Walt Whitman will be hosted by Dr. Stephen Donadio of Columbia

Additional semmars include one on Stephen ane, to be led by Dr. Bernard Weinstein of Eren College, Upton Sinclair will be the focus a seminar led by Dr. Abraham Blinderman of the State University of New York at Fariringdale. The William Carlos Williams seminar will be moderated by Dr. James Chimond of Rider College.

Each seminar will feature three or four short scholarly papers to be delivered and discussed " the conference. The keynote address will be relivered by Dr. M. L. Rosenthal of New York University, widely known for his critical riting on contemporary poets, including some f the figures to be commemorated at the ranference

A symposium on New Jersey writing today will be led by Dr. H. Bruce Franklin of Rutgers University, Newark. The symposium will be comprised of several active, productive writers technille state, most of whom have won major wards for their writing; details about the normposition of this panel will be released at a later date. Among the figures to be discussed by the panel will be such writers as Philip Roth, akki Giovanni, Allen Ginsburg, and Imamu Amiri Baraka (LeRoi Jones).

St. Peter's offers special programs

St. Peter's College in Jersey City is recruiting superior high school students from the metropolitan area for a series of programs that could enable them to finish college in three

The programs which allow outstanding students to earn credit for college courses they take while attending high school include Project Advance, Summer Scholars and Ayuda Universitaria Para Americanos (AUPA).

Project Advance is a program for high school seniors from Hudson County. With the recommendation of their high school counselor or principal, students in the program will be able to enroll in one course each semester at St. Peter's while completing their final year of high school studies. Each participant in the program will be offered a partial scholarship, and tuition will be $75 per course.

Summer Scholars is offered each summer to 50 high school sophomores and juniors from the metropolitan area who attend regular college classes during St. Peter's summer session. Full scholarships are awarded to participants and sophomores who successfully complete their courses are invited to participate the following AUPA also is offered in the summer session for qualified students who speak Spanish as a first language.

PSEG rise in earnings.

Earnings available for common stock of Public Service Electric and Gas Company for the 12 months ended Jan. 31, 1976, were $131,566,000, or $2.40 an average share, compared with $116,679,000, or $2.23 an average share, corresponding period ending January 1975. The earnings improvement reflects rate ncreases that became ef fective in June and November

Contributing to the increase in earnings for the twelvemonth period was a 3.3 per cent rise in kilowatthour sales of electricity and a 15.8 per cent climb in therm sales of gas in January 1976 as com pared with January 1975. With the exception of electric industrial sales, all classes of electric and gas sales registered improvement in the month.

Physicist blows his horn --and out come pure notes

It all has to do with "bumps per second," according to Frank S. Crawford, the world's foremost Corrugahorn player, who demonstrated his art at a meeting of the Acoustical Society of America in San Francisco.

Putting a short piece of flexible brass pipe to his lips, he blew into the mouthpiece, and out of the small bell at the other end came delicate, pure notes that danced above the audience like faerie music.

Crawford is not only probably the best Corrugahorn player in the world but he is also the inventor and sole manufacturer of the Corrugahorn, a new kind of wind instrument that comes in three basic types: the bugle, the neck horn and the slide Corrugahorn.

Corrugahorns would seem to be his life, but Crawford has another identity, as professor of physics at the University of California's Berkeley campus and research scientist in astrophysics at the Lawrence Berkeley

The Corrugahorn really came about because of intellectual prodding by his freshman physics students. Three years ago he became fascinated with a child's toy called a Hummer, a thin, yard-long piece of flexible corrugated plastic that when whirled about produces a wail mournful enough to make dogs howl and strong men fall off the wagon. He took Hummers to his class. At one point, he had everyone in class whirling Hummers. "It made a grand chord," Crawford said. The students whirled their Hummers at different speeds and each speed produced its own tone.

But there was no simple explanation for the physics involved in producing the sound, and the search for an explanation took him a year of rather casual research. For instance, Crawford held the Hummer out his car window

"I found to my amazement that the frequency of the note sung was exactly proportional to the car speed. The fifth harmonic set in at about 35 miles per hour and

GREET SPRING WITH THESE SPECIALS!

1-YEAR PARTS & SERVICE

lasted until 40. The tenth harmonic set in at 70 and lasted until about 80 miles per hour.' He tried a similar tube without corrugations and found it didn't work. "I made a simple theory," Crawford told the audience:

"As the air flows down the tube it bumps into the corrugations at a certain frequency, given in bumps per second, and when this frequency matches one of the natural harmonics of the tube, it sings."

He hadn't tumbled onto the idea of a Corrugahorn yet. The air flows needed by a Hummer to sing exceeded human lung capabilities, he explained. But in experimenting with the turbulent air flows needed to make the tubes sing, he bought some smaller diameter corrugated brass tubing sold in hardware stores for gas pipes.

"One day I put a brass tube in my mouth and found I was playing bugle sounds with very little effort, and beautiful tone," Crawford said. Soon I got longer brass tubes and found I could play very nice 12-bar blues."

Writer to speak to Kean students

The Kean College Department of English and the Department of Student Activities will cosponsor the appearance on campus at 3:15 today writer John A. Williams in the Downs Hall Alumni Lounge

Williams has written novels, short fiction, non-fiction books, magazine articles, television documentaries, and newspaper articles. He has edited several anthologies and performed editorial functions on several journals and

Williams has edited two anthologies of works by well known black writers and his own writings have been included in more than 20

The fatal accident rate also was down in 1975. The figure was 0.74 per 100 million miles of travel, contrasted to 1.24 in 1974, 0.98 in 1973 and

If you have small to medium size rooms the color of your rug is the best guide. By using a color drape the same as the rug you will give the rooms an overall larger look. By using contrasting colors they tend to enclose and cut down the room to the colore and the contrasting colors they tend to enclose and cut down the room size. Of course, personal taste still is the most important factor to consider. You must like the color because you are going to have to live with lit! Antique satin is still the best fabric to consider. No material "hangs" as well and no fabric "drapes" as well. We have (in stock) many colors including moss, antique gold, red, white and royal in single width, one and one-half width, one width and triple width in 63" to 95" lengths. CALIFORNIA HERE I COME After leaving the North Rim of the Grand Canyon there are several route choices one can make, and all of them are scenic. Scenery is so big in Arizona, it doesn't matter which way you Immediately upon leaving the lodge at the North Rim, however, there is just one road to take out, and that is north through the Kaibab Forest. After about 40 miles you can then divert east or west or stay north or what-have-you. Cousin Carlotta L'Ecluse, of San Gabriel in Southern California, and I were headed for San Gabriel, so we took the west road.

That brought us into Utah, to the outskirts of Bryce Canyon and through amazing Zion National Park, two more wonders in stone; into Arizona again, then Nevada and thence to California. All this through scenery that in the east would be so outrageously stunning that it would be some national park or other. In the southwest it is just so much extra. It is rather like getting tired of lobster and steak and champagne and caviar.

While all this routing brought us through great landscape, it also brought us to the discovery of bumbleberry pie.

In a little town just out of Zion National Park

there was a quaint and colorful looking restaurant with a big sign that said: "grandmother's Bumbleberry Pie." As we rode by, Carlotta noted that whenever she and her husband and friends rode by on one of their frequent water skiing-camping trips to Lake Powell (the route we were on is frequently used by Californians to get to Lake Powell), "we have always just had breakfast or lunch and never stop, so we always wonder what is is.'

"Well!" said I, "why don't we find out??"

And I did a quick U-turn with our rented Chrysler and headed back to Grannies before she could rationalize me out of it.

We had it hot and ala mode and it was worth every un-needed calorie. It is blueberries, blackberries and boysenberries mixed, and the waitress laughingly called it "bungelberry pie." But now we know.

AT THE GRAND CANYON we had been at an elevation of over 8,000 feet with less than ten percent humidity, and now we were heading downward with a slight increase in humidity

TRUDINA HOWARD HUMBING MICHIGAN toward Las Vegas. Instead of a two-lane road winding through sensational views, we now had four to ten-lane super highways in Utah. Arizona, Nevada and California and all the grand scenery was way off in the distance.

Would you believe there was one exit whose name was "Zzyzyx Road"? The story goes that when the men were building the highway they put that name on a handmade sign for fun. But then it was taken seriously! Now the sign is quite legal. There it stands, a legitimate, regular highway sign.

WHEN WE ARRIVED in Las Vegas it was late afternoon. Las Vegas is a "nothing" if you way to somewhere else. If you go there to go to Las Vegas, then it is another thing. But for just a rest stop it is pure tinsel, tarnish, hot and flat. For a Las Vegas visit, though, staying at the posh hotels, doing the night life and playing the games, then it is glamorous and bright and fun-

On this particular trip, Carlotta and I were not interested in Las Vegas and wanted only to rest overnight. Since it was halfway, and had a big selection of accomodations, we stopped there and that was all. The next morning found us on our way again through one or two more scenic passes through the mountains and then we were in the flatland of the California valley near San Bernadino.

This, to me, is uninteresting California. It is wall-to-wall shopping plazas, ranch houses, contrived gardens and super highways. It is smoggy, it is flat, it is monotonous.

Luckily Carlotta's home is further north, in San Gabriel near Pasadena at the foothills of the Sierra Madre Mountains, and that makes quite a difference. But while the mountains may make a nicer environment than the flat expanse of the valley near San Bernadino, it certainly is no more wild, wild west.

Workers urged to apply promptly for disability aid

Working people who face a long-term severe disability should apply promptly for Social Secutity benefits to avoid loss of payments they may be entitled to, according to Robert E. Willwerth, Social Security district manager in Social Security pays monthly benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. Payment begins with the sixth full month of disability, but it isn't necessary to wait that long to apply. Willwerth

"Back payments can only be made for up to 12 months, so disabled workers shouldn't delay their application, even if they're not sure they'll qualify for payments. About one of every 12 workers getting Social Security disability payments misses out on some payments because he applied too late."

Disabled workers who haven't applied for benefits should call any Social Security office as soon as possible, according to Willwerth. "Or, they can ask a friend or relative to make the call," he said.

Social Security disability benefits are paid to over 2.3 million disabled workers and over 1.7 million dependents. The average payment is $224 a month. Disabled people who have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more are eligible for Medicare health insurance

Freund criticizes defense policies

The defense policy of the Ford administration was attacked this week by Howard Freund of Roselle Park, who also called for a crash rearmament program to strengthen the nation's defense. Freund is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 12th Congressional District.

"A close study of the remarks of Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld makes absolutely no sense, if he is concerned with our national security," said Freund. "In one breath, Rumsfeld says the Soviet Union exceeds us in military strength in every field except helicopters and in the second breath, he says they are growing even stronger and are a menace to our security. His solution is to make an arms limitation agreement with the

What is needed in Washington, says Freund. "is an administration that won't doubletalk the American people on the issue of national defense. What we need is a re-examination of how our money is spent and where our com-mitments are to be placed. We cannot be the policemen of the world or the rich uncle, who pays and pays, only to be insulted. I believe we need a massive rearmament program to make us the strongest nation in the world."

Sinnott resolution asks PA terminals ban SST

Union County Freeholder Rose Marie Sinnott will introduce a resolution tonight for adoption by the County Freeholders that will demand the New York Port Authority bar the Concorde Supersonic Transport from operating from air terminals that are under the Authority's

"This action is clearly necessary if we consider the frequent re-routing of Kennedybound aircraft to Newark International Airport during emergency and congested traffic conditions," said Freeholder Sinnott. "Thus, it is likely that the Concorde Supersonic Transport will be compelled to fly over some of the most densely populated parts of Union County during the dangerous times when emergency conditions have been declared."

'Were the Supersonic Transport in question an American designed and built aircraft, I think I might not raise this objection," stated Freeholder Sinnott. "American commercial aircraft are the safest and best designed passenger airplanes in the world.'

"Accordingly, because a runway extension at Newark International Airport here in Union County is the incorrectly logical answer to an emergency landing field for a Concorde in distress and because of the experiences of more that forty years with similar European attempts to establish commercial aviation

How long since you had a straight talk about business insurance?

No doubletalk. Just a down to earth discussion of your business coverages. What's available and how much it ought to cost. After all, your insurance is just like any other part of your business. Every now and then it deserves a good and careful review.

For example, if you haven't looked at your property and liability coverages lately, there's a good chance you could be dangerously. underinsured or overprotected. We can recommend a complete program and give you a quote in just a matter of minutes. Or, if you've assumed that employee benefits and pension plans are for the corporate giantswe've got quite a surprise in store! Even companies with as few as two employees can now qualify for low-cost, high-benefit group life and health coverages. And you can use an IRA tax-sheltered retirement plan as a purely voluntary employee pension program.

Give us a call. There's no obligation. Just straight talk. We'll show you how to make your business insurance work as hard as you do.

THE HETFIELD BROTHERS

Elizabethtown Renegades

One of the most feared, hated and notorious of the Elizabethtown Loyalists was Cornelius Hetfield, Jr. (Hatfield), who along with his brothers, John Smith and Job Hetfield, led British forces in raids against their former neighbors and friends, never losing a chance to injure and destroy when the opportunity presented itself.

At the outbreak of hostilities, Cornelius Hetfield, then a patriot, was a candidate for a captain's commission in the militia. He lost the election to an old adversary, and from that day on declared his own private war against his country, city, friends and neighbors.

His, and his brothers', harassment of the people of Elizabethtown continued until the residents resolved to submit no longer to the abuses of the Hetfields. They were ordered to leave the city, and were conveyed to Staten Island where they remained until the cessation of hostilities. Shortly after this their property was confiscated and sold at public auction.

Upon reaching Staten Island the Hetfields became active partisans for the British.

On the night of February 24, 1779, Cornelius, with several other Elizabethtown Loyalists, guided the 33rd and 42nd British regiments, consisting of approximately 1000 men under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Sterling, to the Morris Avenue residence of Governor Livingston, hoping to effect

Late that evening Henry Woodruff, whose home was located near the Point, came to the dwelling where General Maxwell and his Aide-de-Camp, Major Aaron Ogden, were staying. He informed them that a picket had heard the sound of approaching boats on the Narrows, beyond the Ogden volunteered to reconnoiter the road to Crane's Ferry. Near the ferryhouse, he saw a light whereupon he slowed his horse to a walk and cautiously continued his surveillance. Suddenly a man appeared before him. Ignoring the man's order to dismount, Ogden turned his horse toward town to confirm the alarm, but not before the thrust of a bayonet had pierced his side.

Upon hearing of the British landing, the Rev Andrew Hunter, Chaplain of Maxwell's brigade, hurried to the governor's mansion to sound the warning. Reaching there he was informed that the Governor was visiting the home of friends a few miles away and out of danger.

Arriving at the mansion, Sterling was told by Mrs. Livingston and daughters, Susan and Catherine, that the Governor was not at home, whereupon the Colonel requested he be given the state papers. Susan had the presence of mind to steer him away from a box of official documents to a drawer full of worthless correspondence that was intercepted at sea. Satisfied that he had the papers he requested, Sterling then left for the center of Elizabethtown.

The British troops proceeded to Cherry Street to escape capture by the American troops entering the town from the West, and while in town set fire to the military barracks and the Presbyterian parsonage. Later that same evening they destroyed the Elizabethtown Academy on the corner of Broad Street and Caldwell Place.

History tells us that Hetfield "danced about the fire like a savage," so great was his pleasure over this needless destruction. It is also reported that a Mrs. Egbert and Mrs. Hannah White Arnett rolled out 26 barrels of flour stored in the Academy before the building was completely gutted by the fire.

On the night of January 25, 1780, a British force from Staten Island, led by the three Hetfield brothers, crossed the solidly frozen Sound at Tremley's Point, and succeeded in entering the city before the militiamen on guard could sound an alarm. Their objective was to take prisoners and to seize cattle to be used as meat for the troops.

While the invaders were accomplishing their objective, Cornelius Hetfield rode to the home of his parents on Pearl Street to inform them it was his intention to put a torch to the First Presbyterian Church where his father served as a Ruling Elder. Hetfield, ignoring his father's plea to reconsider, not only carried out his threat, but also set fire to the adjoining Court House where the town records were

Just before daybreak the enemy, along with the Hetfields, left Elizabethtown by way of DeHart's Point, taking with them 2 majors/3 captains and 47 privates as prisoners along with their horses, arms and equipment as well as several head of cattle.

. . . that the Pearl Street home of Patriot Cornelius Hetfield, Sr., whose three sons were loyal supporters of King George, was probably the oldest house in Elizabethtown, having been built between 1660 and 1670. The property was conveyed by Abraham Lubberson to Matthias Heathfield (Hetfield) December 5, 1673. The early councils between the settlers and the Indians are said to have been held here.

and Did You Know

. . . that Harmonia Savings Bank, founded in 1851, and now celebrating its 125th Anniversary, is the oldest savings institution in the county. Princeton clinches Ivy League title; four tied for second with a game left

With the regular basketball season coming to a close next Saturday afternoon, Princeton clinched the regular season championship of the Springfield Ivy League by defeating Harvard to raise its record to 7-1. Brown, Harvard, Yale and Cornell are tied for second with 5-3 marks. Last week, Yale topped Pennsylvania, Cornell defeated Dartmouth and Brown scored over Columbia.

Princeton held off a determined Harvard team and clinched the championship with a 48-41 victory. Adam Joseph paced Princeton by playing an exceptional game; as he led all scorers with 25 points, was the top playmaker for Princeton and played aggressive defense. Tony Garguilo and John Haws were big factors in the Princeton victory. Garguilo played solid defense and scored 11 points: Haws played a tough game under the offensive boards and added 10 points. John Ard and Dale Sterns also played well in the Princeton lineup. Harvard was paced by Craig Clickenger, who was the top rebounder in the game and scored 18 points. Clickenger and Jon Siegel paced a

Ohio upset by Kansas, 21-19, but holds lead in State League

Ohio was upset by Kansas last Saturday but managed to hold its one-game lead in the Springfield State League, as California lost to last-place Texas. In other games, Oklahoma moved into a tie for second place with a victory over Utah and Florida defeated Alabama.

Kansas thwarted Ohio's last-period rally for a 21-19 victory. Mike Berliner was the architect of the Kansas upset; he directed their attack and led all scorers in the game with 12 points. Ed MacDonald rebounded well at both ends of the court and scored five points. Chris McIntyre was also a top rebounder for Kansas. Dave Kadish played a strong defensive game and his bucket in the final period provided Kansas' margin of victory.

Schoch hits 1,000 at Lebanon Valley

Jim Schoch of Springfield, senior cocaptain of the Lebanon Valley College basketball team in Annville, Pa., has become the ninth player in the college's history to score 1,000 points. Schoch last week pulled down a rebound and stuffed in a layup to join Donny Johnson, Howie Landa, Kris Linde, Dick Shover, Bill Koch, Bob Nelson, Herb Finkelstein and Floyd Becker of the exclusive club. Schoch scored 16 points in the 92-75 victory over Ursinus to raise his career total to 1,015, one point in back of Becker and 45 in back of Finkelstein.

A graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, Schoch is in his fourth season of varsity basketball. As a freshman, Jim appeared in only eight games and scored 23 points. He moved into the starting lineup as a sophomore and in 24 games totaled 313 points for a 13-point average.

During the 1974-75 season, Schoch scored 320 points in 22 games for a 14.5 average. With three games remaining in this 6-17 season. Schoch has scored 359 points for a 15.6 average. He has 414 career field goals and 187 foul

As a sophomore. Jim was in double figures 18 times with a Season high 18 against Dickinson. In his junior year, he was in doubles 16 times and had 25 against Ursinus for a season high. In the first 23 games this season, Schoch has had 10 or more 19 times, including the last 12 games! Jim has 53 double-figure games and has

Dayton trackmen place instate meet

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School indoor track team competed in the state track meet held at Princeton last Sunday. Three Dayton trackmen were successful in their competition, in the Group III category.

Bob Potomski placed third in the shotput and Brandon Gambee placed sixth. Billy Bjorstad placed sixth in the half mile. With a current record of 3-0, the team was scheduled to compete with Madison on Tuesday.

last-period Harvard rally that narrowed the top rebounder at both ends of the court. A turn-around bucket by Toland in the final minutes and a shot from underneath by Ray Rapuano provided Yale with a margin of victory. Toland also hit a free throw with three seconds to play to ice the victory. Peter Ard directed the Yale attack and was the top playmaker. Pete Prete also played well for Yale with four points and a strong floor game. Bubba Pullium and Danny Circelli scored for Don Meixner and Jack Chin were also strong for Pennsylvaniia. Don worked well under the boards and scored 10 points. Chin also scored 10 points and was very effective in the Pennsylvania backcourt. Jerry Blabolil added five points.

Cornell scored a 52-48 victory over Dartmouth. Wayne Lewis had his best game of the season for the Cornell team. Lewis, operating at the center position, scored 24 points. Six buckets by Lewis in the third period enabled Cornell to overcome an early Dartmouth lead. Wayne also controlled the rebounding at both ends of the court. Rick Marech had an excellent floor game for Cornell and also scored 12 points. Jeff Knowles also hit 12 points and helped Cornell with fine defense and strong Dartmouth was paced by the hot outside shooting of Onzillo Pullium, who led the attack with 17 points. Steve Kessler was also strong for Dartmouth: he rebounded well, played aggressive defense and finished with 11 points Roy Zitomer had another strong floor game for Dartmouth. Roy was a solid defensive player and scored 10 points. Kevin Karp, Andy Volpe and Jeff Englehardt played well in the Dartmouth lineup.

A strong second-half effort by Brown enabled him to score a 43-30 victory over Columbia. Columbia had held a 16-10 lead at half time. Brown was paced by the fine play of Billy Chesley, who was very strong off the boards and scored 12 points. Chesley was particularly effective in the final period, when he connected once from the floor and five times from the foul line. Both Mike Silver and Al Berliner shot well from the outside for Brown. Mike finished with 14 points, while Berliner scored 11 points. Doug Foreman was strong under the boards for Brown and had four points in the game.

Columbia was led by the fine defensive play of John Levine, who rebounded well and scored seven points. John Gambrino and Damon Clark were also effective for Columbia. Gambrino battled off the boards and knocked in eight points, while Clark scored nine points. Ira Tauber had a strong game for Columbia, as did Rick Dultz.

With the regular season just about at a close Mitchell Toland of Yale has all but locked up scoring race. Toland, in eight games, has scored 207 points for a 26-points-per-game average, Craig Clickenger of Harvard leads a close battle for second place with 127 points. Adam Joseph of Princeton and Tony Cicelli of Pennsylvania have 126 points apiece while Rick Marech of Cornell has 118 points.

Juniors wallop Kenilworth, defeat Westfield, 86-60

The Springfield Junior Minutemen won two basketball games last week to extend their current winning streak to nine games and their season record to 20-2.

With the bench playing half of the game and contributing 48 points toward the unprecedented total, Springfield completely overwhelmed Kenilworth, 112-28, on Wednesday night. The seventh graders put the game out of reach after the first few minutes of play, as they consistently stole the ball and broke down court for easy layups

It was a complete team effort for the Juniors as 12 boys scored, six of them in double figures. and the team had a total of 34 assists and 38

Alan Berliner led all players with 10 assists and 20 points, Jerry Blabolil, who is improving with every game, shared the lead with seven steals and dropped in 17 points. Roy Zitomer had three assists and six steals to go with his 14 points. Billy Condon, spelling Berliner at the point, had a fine all-around floor game and chipped in with 14 points.

Jackie Chin and Dave Geltman both put on a fine long range shooting display, each boy hitting for 12 points. Billy Chesley, playing his best all-around game of the season, pulled down a game-high nine rebounds, had three assists, shared the lead with seven steals and scored nine points. Donald Meixner and Courtney Bachus had four points apiece, and Robert Steir, Bubba Pullium and Peter Ard each contributed two.

Don Meixner and Alan Berliner were the big offensive guns as Springfield downed Westfield, 86-60, on Saturday night.

In spite of the wide margin of victory, it was a very close game for more than a half. The lead kept changing hands from the opening tap, and Westfield led by a point, 20-19, at the end of the first quarter, Meixner, Berliner and Billy Condon, who came in off the bench, supplied most of the fire power in the second period and spurred the Juniors on to a 38-32 advantage at the end of the half. At the start of the third quarter, Westfield outscored Springfield 6-2 to close the gap to two points, but that was as close as they ever got. Berliner, Roy Zitomer and Billy Chesley continuously found the range and opened the lead to 18 points. 62-44, at the end of three quarters of play.

Meixner led the team with 22 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Berliner had eight assists and a game-high eight steals to go along with his 20 points. Zitomer led the team with nine assists and dropped in 12 points. Chesley led the team in rebounds with 11 and contributed 11 points to the attack.

Condon had a superior all-around floor game and tallied six points. Dave Geltman hit for four points. Jerry Blabolil, Robert Steir, Bubba Pullium, Danny Circelli and Courtney Bachus each had 2; and Jackie Chin threw in a foul

The Elizabeth Lancers were knocked out of first place in the Metropolitan Indoor Soccer League by the Generals last Friday night but bounced back to defeat Newark Uruguay, 6-0, on Sunday at Farcher's Grove.

Friday nights 1-0 loss was the first in the indoor tourney for the Lancers and allowed the Hudson Dalmatians to take over the lead with a 4-0-1 record and nine points. The Lancers are now at 3-1-1 and seven points, with just two goals scored against them. Elizabeth will meet the Yorkville Bombers at 9:45 this Friday in the fourth game of the night.

The 6-0 victory against Uruguay on Sunday installed the Lancers as the New Jersey champions in the U.S. Open Challenge Cup. They will go to Philadelphia on March 21 to meet the Philadelphia Ukrainians. The winner of that match will meet the winner of the Baltimore-Washington match.

Jan Swiernak led the Lancers in scoring with three goals, including a penalty shot. The Lancers scored their first three goals in eight minutes.

Help for children with heart defects Rutgers med school opens new treatment unit

An estimated eight children in every 1,000 are born with heart defects and to help these the Rutgers Medical School of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDN-J) has opened a special evaluation and treatment unit at its CMDNJ - Raritan Valley Hospital, Green Brook.

Dr. Norman J. Sissman, a pediatric cardiologist who directs the new unit, said that these relatively rare infant abnormalities have a cure rate of about 85 percent if they are carefully monitored and, at the proper time, corrected surgically.

Heart defects in children take varying forms, such as holes, scarring of valves or abnormal positions or connections of heart chambers or vessels. When surgically corrected, however, the victim can generally go on to lead a normal, unrestricted life.

Dr. Sissman, who also is professor of pediatrics at CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School, Piscataway, said different types of defects also may vary widely in severity, from those which

German Festival officials selected

Halsey T. Burke of Maplewood, who headed the committee for the two previous events, will serve as general chairman of the third annual German Heritage Festival at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel. The festival will offer a daylong program of entertainement and cultural activities on Saturday, Sept. 25.

Elected to the executive committee were Dr. Walter H. Kraft of Irvington, festival coordinator; Mrs. Linda M. Janiw of Irvington, secretary; Hans J. Ludscheidt of Clark, budget chairman; Hilda Pietz of Warren, ticket sales chairman; Dr. George C. Clarke of Flemington, public relations chairman; Albrecht Maier of Clark, cultural display chairman; and Max Boumans of Maplewood, Mrs. Anne Kirsteuer of Clifton and Horst Stabenow of Maplewood, trustees.

Glass art alumni in Kean exhibition

Seven glass artists, all graduates of the college, are featured in the current Kean College Gallery exhibition, Mondays through Fridays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. until March 5 in Vaughn-Eames Hall, Morris avenue, Union. Several of the artists will be present at a reception by the alumni association on March 7 from 3 to 5.

Professor Alec Nicolescu designed the installation and brough Ntogether Bruce Bernard. Andrew O. Dewing, Clark Guettel, William Happel Jr., J. Allan Hough, Bruce Kalas, and

Kathleen Mulcahy. They produce works that range from functional pieces, such as decanters and goblets, to occasionally heal themselves to the 10 percent or so which can't be fixed, and must be lived

Holes can be as small as a pinhead or as big as a dime, and if minor, won't interfere with the child's activities, he added.

Sometimes they can cause varying degrees of heart failure, pneumonia, bronchitis or pulmonary high blood pressure, and in these cases, the child is usually hospitalized for further treatment and tests.

Maplewood plans patriotic parade discovered in infancy - may receive regular, periodic examinations at the hospital, which is equipped with the latest in heart monitoring and testing devices. Generally, surgery is delayed until the child is old enough and strong enough to cope with an operation, but the children's cardiac unit is prepared for emergency surgery at any age. A division of pediatric cardiology, offering similar services, went into operation a number years ago at the CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School, Newark. Dr. O. Robert Levine, professor of pediatrics, is its director. The Newark and the Raritan Valley units are among a limited number of such facilities in New Jersey. Mostly, they handle referrals from other hospitals and pediatricians.

"We expect the number of calls we get will grow as hospitals and physicians from throughout the state become better acquainted with our service," Dr. Sissman said.

He noted there has been a marked reduction in the incidence of the kind of childhood heart disease attributed to rheumatic fever, which is generally caused by an untreated strep in-'More attention, now," he said, "is being turned to diagnosing and treating congental, or birth, defects at the appropriate time. Hopefully, also, research will lead to methods of preventing these from developing." He cautioned new parents not to be alarmed.

'Heart abnormalities are rare," he said. "Although some signs, like heart murmurs, suggest a defect, they can be misleading to the inexperienced.

The general rule is that if your child looks sick, consult your own doctor. He is the firstline diagnostician. This is just too complex and uncommon a problem to cause parents

The specialist said separate childhood heart units began to appear about three decades ago, but they are relatively new to most of New Jersey. Previously, most cases in the state were referred to hospitals in New York and Philadelphia.

Dr. Sissman came to CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School last June from the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, New York City, where he was associate professor of pediatrics and director of pediatrics at the Hospital for Joint Diseases and the Medical Center.

A graduate of Harvard Medical School, he served fellowships in pediatric cardiology at the Johns Hopkins Hospital and the College of France and, for many years, was director of pediatric cardiology at Stanford Medical School. He has written more than 40 scientific articles, research papers and book reviews on various aspects of his specialty.

NEED HELP! Find the RIGHT PERSON with a Want

Public Advocate lauds office on handling citizen problems

New Jersey's citizen complaint mechanism has been churning out solutions to problems involving state government at a rate which surpasses most of the world's other various ombudsman systems, Public Advocate Stanley C. Van Ness has reported. He said that the Office of Citizen Complaints handled some 8,400 complaints and inquiries during its first 18 months of operations.

Van Ness said the most recent available reports made available through the International Bar Association's Ombudsman Committee shows that the New Jersey office was receiving complaints at a rate higher than most national and state ombudsman programs including Sweden where the ombudsman concept originated 165 years ago.

Van Ness said he felt the complaint mechanism counled with the department's public interest representation in various class actions and utility rate matters is helping to restore confidence in government.

"Administrative unresponsiveness coupled with confusing and misleading information that often emanates from government undermines confidence and creates and feeling that government doesn't work for the average citizen." Van Ness said. "We feel our efforts in a growing number of cases demonstrates that with some prodding here and there, governjust for powerful special interests.'

Van Ness noted that individual complaints from citizens had led to legal actions by the department's Division of Public Interest Advocacy.

The Public Advocate suit focusing on the State Violent Crimes Compensation Board and law enforcement agencies for their failure to notify eligible victims of available aid stemmed from a citizen complaint. So did the suit which prompted the Department of Civil Service to drop its regulation requiring applicants for civil service exam to be state residents for a full year, Van Ness said.

Complaints, Van Ness noted, also have prompted several other legal actions including the suit designed to lift the ban on prescription drug advertising and the various challenges to restrictive and discriminatory practices at New Jersey beaches.

Van Ness said the department hopes to have a recording device installed sometime early in 1976 which will enable the citizen complaint toll free hot line to function around the clock. The phone number (800-792-8600) is currently operational Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Complaints also may be filed in writing to the Office of Citizen Complaints, P.O. Box 141. According to developer Kevork S. Hovnanian, home buyers who decide to purchase one of these new apartment-homes during February will have $500 deducted from the list price at the time of deposit.

Hovnanian noted the special reduction is the result of a delay in the construction of models. Buyers may select homes from floor plans and renderings. The offer will end this Sunday

Thimble Brook residents will share in all of the amenities of the recreationoriented community, and their homes will reflect advances in energy conserving techniques and materials.

"We're building homes in the Thimble Brook section to sell in the $31,990 to $40,990 price range," said Hovnanian. They'll be part of a residential environment that offers the greatest possible value in today's housing

In addition to the benefits of the condominium concept, Shadow Lake Village also offers a selection of leisure facilities ranging from a swimming pool and clubhouse course.

Homes in the Thimble Brook section will blend with the architectural styles of earlier neighborhoods. Interiors will include one or two bedrooms Aluminum windows and screens with insulated glass will eliminate the need for storm windows.

Other energy features include insulated exterior doors, fabricated from steel and pressureinjected polyurethane. Patio doors are made of insulated glass; also eliminating the need for storm doors.

Walls that separate apartment-homes will be constructed of masonry provide privacy and fire protection. Full wall and ceiling insulation will be employed to retain heat in the winter and preserve summer comfort. Each room will have its own thermostat. so residents will have control of interior environments and not have to heat areas that are not in use. A similar approach led to the selection of individual room air conditioners.

Sales manager for Fawn Lakes

A spokesman for Fawn Lakes, major adult com-munity in southern Ocean County, has announced that Frederick Duffy will head the project's sales office.

The spokesman for the Mancini Company, builder and developer of Fawn Lakes. cited Duffy's "tremendous success and leadership in the industry and especially the local market" which makes him perfect for the job."

"Fred has a unique ability to help people rather than simply sell them. And at Fawn Lakes, we want a sales force that can communicate the intrinsic value and credibility of our new community. We are confident Fred can do this and are looking for him to develop a similar type sales force,' the spokesman said.

Duffy, who will maintain his association with Sunset Harbor Realty, exclusive sales agent for the project. recently was named to the million dollar sales club and noted he is looking forward to continuing his efforts at Fawn Duffy stated, "The need for an adult community in this area has been long felt, and the tax structure in Stafford Township is extremely favorable for people who are planning nearing or retirement. In fact, Fawn Lakes is perfect for those adults who want a house at the shore, but either cannot afford a place on Long Beach Island at $24,950. or just elect not to live in so busy a place.

week that New Jersey's 1976 Official Map and Guide, prepared by the Department of Transportation with a Bicentennial theme, will be distributed to the general public this year by the Bureau of Tourism and Promotion in the Department of Labor and Industry.

Through this cooperative effort by the two departments, the map will gain a wider distribution while substantially reducing distribution costs," said Byrne

He added that it also is expected to reduce some duplication of effort.

State Transportation Commissioner Alan Sagner said that in the past the Department of Transportation has mailed copies of the maps to persons requesting them.

'We hope to cut postage costs by more than $10,000 through this plan," he said. Joseph A. Hoffman, state commissioner of Labor and Industry, explained that the maps will be distributed at exhibits, fairs and other promotional events.

He said the maps still may be obtained by mail, but this also will reflect savings by in-

"Festival '76," an eight-day celebration of special programming for public television, will be seen March 7 through 14 on New Jersey Public Television, according to Dr. Lawrence T. Frymire, executive director.

The second annual event will be marked by nightly mini-festivals for such special interests as sports, drama, films, documentaries. nostalgia, science and music. Many selections are Emmy Award-winners; most have never been telecast in this country. Producers represent Austria, France, England, Germany. and the United States

What went on behind the scenes at the 1976 Miami Superbowl, for instance, will be part of "Sports Festival" as "TVTV at the Superbowl." Exceptional features that day will also focus on tennis, racing and hockey.

Film classics like the 1938 version of Shaw's "Pygmalion" and Anouihl's "Waltz of the Toreadors" will be seen mid-week, followed by the "Hemingway Play" on "Papa," and "I Regret Nothing" on French songbird Edith

"What does Mussolini's widow recollect of the dictator's stormy reign? What is French obstetrician Frederick Lebover's startling new method of 'non-violent' child delivery? Is it fun to be a penguin ... or a pygmy? Who will join the program with the Boston Pops in Hollywood' ... Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy or Mortimer Snerd? The answers will be given on "Festival 76," a spokesman said.

Flower, Garden Show opens this weekend in Morristown

The National Guard Armory in Morristown will again bloom with color this year as the New Jersey Flower & Garden Show pays tribute to the bicentennial and celebrates its 10th anniversary Saturday through March 7. More that 20 spectacular gardens as well as exciting displays and exhibits and a farreaching educational program will highlight the show, largest of its kind in the Metropolitan area. Hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Large, medium and small gardens will feature towering trees, intricate water displays, beautiful plants and skillfully landscaped terraces and decks.

Special highlights of the show will be appearances by Dore' Worhun, of West Orange. the 1976 N.J. Flower & Garden Show Princess. and Cathy Durden of Hawaii, Miss Teenage America. Miss Worhun will arrange floral displays during several floral workshops held throughout the show. Sunday, Feb. 29, Miss Durden will demonstrate the art of Japanese flower arranging which she learned while an exchange student in Japan.

Bicentennial enthusiasts will delight in the many old fashioned gardens and educational exhibits and displays explaining the role of plants and flowers in the lives of the colonists. Exhibits and gardens will also demonstrate the artistic use of water, planting for color, transition from developed to natural areas, and the successful combining of natural and formal landscaping.

Visitors will want to take part in an extensive educational program. Horticulture experts will offer daily and evening forums on all aspects of gardening and the New Jersey State Florists' Association will again present its popular School of Design, demonstrating basic techniques of flower arranging daily on the armory bleachers.

Dr. Howard B. Furer of Teaneck, professor history at Kean College, will discuss "Immigrants and the American Revolution" at Seton Hall University, South Orange, on Thursday, March 4, at 8:15 p.m. in the Nursing Amphitheatre.

His lecture, which is open to the public free of charge, is the fourth in a series of six Bicentennial lecutres being presented by the Consortium of East Jersey at member colleges throughout the Bicentennial year as part of a program of information and interpretation on appropriate Bicentennial topics state expected to compete.

The non-profit show is sponsored by the New Jersey State Florists' Association, the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen, the New Jersey Plant and Flower Growers' Association and the Metropolitan Chapter of the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen.

Its aim is to educate the public in proper selection of flowers, plants and plant materials for landscaping and ornamental use and to advance the New Jersey horticulture industry's position of leadership.

General admission is $3 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12. Children under 12 are admitted free when accompanied by their

By isolating certain "key" flavor ingredients of tobacco in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have developed a way to pack extra flavor into tobacco without the usual increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor'.

It's extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new Enriched Flavor MERIT delivered more taste.

Rèpeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.
