Board approves sale of school to borough

By KAREN ZAUTYK

The Mountainside Board of Education voted unanimously Tuesday night to sell the newer portion of the Echobrook School building on Rt. 22 to the Mountainside Borough Council for conversion into a municipal building.

Under the terms of the agreement, which will be presented for approval to the Planning Board at a meeting at 8 tonight in Borough Hall, the borough will take title to the 1936 Echobrook building and the land immediately under it, with the school board retaining title to the 1963 structure, which houses board offices, and the rest of the property.

The borough will be granted a revocable license to use the land for municipal and recreational purposes, but must provide all maintenance and utilities for both buildings. If the borough ever ceases to use the building as a Borough Hall, title will revert to the school board.

In other action at the session, held before an audience of approximately 40 persons at the Deerfield School, the board voted to accept a proposal by the Beira Bus Co., Kenilworth, to renew its present five-bus contract at the same rate, $49,950, for the 1976-77 school year, dependent on the Commissioner of Education's approval and a review of the system's transportation policy. The board rejected a leasing bid from Condit Motor Sales, Newton, since it would have provided only four vehicles at a cost of $47,885.

Since the board has only $35,000 in its present budget for student transportation, board president William Binno noted he will begin immediate negotiations with the Borough Council for the additional $15,000 needed to fund the buses.

Superintendent of schools Dr. Levin R. Hanigan's 1975-76 salary, action on which has been postponed several times, was approved Tuesday, with the board voting 4-2 to grant him a four percent raise, bringing his total annual pay to $33,592. Future increases will depend on a yearly evaluation by the board of Hanigan's work and his contribution toward the attainment of school system goals, Binno explained.

Opposed to the pay hike were Charles Speth and Trudy Palmer. She compared Hanigan's salary to those of superintendents in 34 K-Grade 8 districts with enrollment similar to Mountainside's, and noted that the average salary was $25,600. Speth cited dropping enrollment and the board's financial problems, and requested it consider a freeze on raises for Hanigan "until the situation changes."

The board voted unanimously to retain its present counsel, Raymond O'Brien, until June 30, 1977, at a fee of $300 per month. Carmine Lotta, a partner in O'Brien's Elizabeth law firm, was selected by the board to serve as its negotiator, when needed, at a rate of $50 per hour, provided he submits an itemized bill. Binno explained the board does not need Lotta's services now, but when it becomes necessary to utilize negotiator, it preferred to have one already hired "and ready to move."

Also in the personnel area, the board voted to abolish the positions of vocal music teacher at the Deerfield Middle School, one part-time piano teacher and one Spanish teacher effective June 30. It also agreed to delay hiring one first grade teacher until kindergarten registration figures, which have been unusually low, are final. If there is need for only one kindergarten, the other teacher at that grade level will move to the vacant first grade post.

The board also agreed to abolish the position of fulltime school nurse, having two parttime nurses serve the schools next term. They will be assigned to the Beechwood and Deerfield facilities from 10:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., with no nursing service being provided at either school during the remaining hour of the school day.

The Mountainside Music Association was granted permission to sponsor a music summer

American League Brewers take 2; Cardinals, Braves, Chiefs also win

By RICHARD REITER

Last week in the Mountainside American League, the Brewers won two games. They beat the Angels, 4-3, on Mickey Tomko's home run, three hits by Steven Sokohl and good batting by Colin Scholes, David Rizzo and Timmy Carter to pace the Brewer's 12-hit attack. Vincent Mannion pitched two no-hit innings for the Brewers. Good pitching by Tim Van Name, three hits by Darron Ianone and clever base running by Tommy Gilman highlighted the Angels' effort.

Led by Matthew Miller's six RBI, a diving catch in the outfield by Tommy Carter and the combined no-hit pitching of Vincent Mannion, Steve Sokohl and Mickey Tomko, the Brewers defeated the Reds, 7-0. Doug Maher and Tommy Jackson's aggressive base running also contributed to the win. Relief pitcher Bobby Adler and first baseman Kip Levinson did fine jobs for the Reds.

The Cardinals defeated the Royals, 8-3. Peter Grett went three-for-three at the plate, including a home run, for 4 RBI. Glen Stummer also hit four RBI. Grett pitched, along with help from Brian Dailey and Terry Reardon (who turned in one-hit pitching). The Royals' play was highlighted by defensive play by Elizabeth Schram and a strong throw from center-field by Richard Kolton that thwarted a home-run bid and a close tag-out at home plate by catcher Anne Bunin.

Despite the Cubs' early 11-4 lead, the Braves fought back to edge the Cubs, 12-11, in Major League play. Pitcher Mike Dalhauser kept the Cubs in check, allowing only one run over the last three innings. Fred Alholm (who had 4 RBI) and Jimmy Cleveland (who had 4 RBI) had key hits to spur a seven-run rally for the Braves. Steve Solomon drove in Ed Hafeken for the game's winning run. New reservation rules at 2 Echobrook courts

Mountainside tennis buffs, who may have experienced long waiting times at local courts, should be better able to schedule their play through a seven-week trial reservation system being inaugurated tonight for two Echobrook courts. Starting this evening, the borough

Recreation Commission will accept reservations for Saturday and Sunday court time there.

Two Echobrook courts will be available on the reserved basis between 5 and 9 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekends and holidays at a fee of $2 per hour. Courts may be reserved for one hour of singles play or two hours of doubles play.

Reservations must be made in person at the courts up to 72 hours in advance, and the court fee must be paid at that time. Players must also present their tennis badge numbers when registering; those without badges will be

Study authorized for Dayton courts

The Board of Education of the Union County Regional High School District last week authorized an engineering study on the proposed site of the Jonathan Dayton tennis court project in Springfield. The Board directed engineer Richard Jeske to submit this material and the necessary applications to the Water Policies Commission in Trenton for approval. This action was taken at an adjourned regular business meeting held at the board offices in Springfield.

The plans must be approved by the Water Policies Commission because the project site lies in a flood area. The site is in front of the Dayton school with the edge of the courts approximately 15 feet to the east of the center of the building and 25 feet in front of the driveway.

The township Planning Board has already approved this site for three tennis courts. Costs for the engineering study will not exceed $2,200.

Borough plans $300,000 for drainage work

By RAY CARY

A $300,000 bond ordinance to authorize the improvement of the storm water sewer system by the construction of drainage facilities in the Nonahagan Brook area was introduced on first reading Tuesday night by the Borough Council at a public meeting at the Beechwood School. A public hearing for final adoption is scheduled for next month.

According to Councilman Bruce Geiger, the ordinance does not include any emergency flood plans. Mayor Thomas Ricciardi said the ordinance is the culmination of four years of work on the part of Councilman Geiger.

The improvement work involves installation of channel improvements and possible widening, extending from the newly proposed bridge culvert at New Providence road, near the Children's Specialized Hospital, to be constructed and financed by the county. The other section of improvement involves installing reinforced concrete storm sewers with manhole and drain outlets, and catch basins.

Officials said that because the project is not a current expense of the borough, it is necessary to finance the project through issuance of bonds for $285,000 with a down payment of $15,000. About $60,000 is estimated to cover architect fees, accounting, engineering and inspection.

At the conclusion of the concert, three band scholarships totaling $1,000, the John Philip Sousa Band Award, the Most Improved Musician Award, the Marine Commandants Award, the Band Citizenship Award and the Director's Award for the Outstanding Jazz Musician will be presented by the director of bands, Jeffrey E. Anderson.

The Bulldog Marching Band has reported on its spring season. The musicians have just returned from the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival, where they won a third place in the national marching band competition. Oklahoma placed first, and Delaware, second.

Learning to walk again Youth helped by hospital staff

Eighteen-year-old Robert Bollwage of Elizabeth had the thrill of his life last October. He walked.

Those steps between the parallel bars at Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside were "the most tremendous feeling I ever had in my life," Robert says.

Just a few months earlier, Robert's family, friends and doctors wondered if he would ever walk again. They thought he might never again be able to pick up a school book, watch a baseball game or smile at a friend. Most of all, they wondered if Robert would survive.

Robert did survive and will graduate from the Thomas A. Edison Vocational High School, Elizabeth, in June.

It was June 16, 1975, at approximately 9:20 p.m. that the car Bobby was driving careened out of control, crashing into three parked trucks.

Rushed to Alexian Brothers Hospital in Elizabeth in critical condition with severe head injuries and a broken jaw, he remained unconscious for nine days and in intensive care for a month. The prognosis did not look hopeful for him, but after 11 weeks of acute care his life was no longer in immediate danger.

On Sept. 2, Bobby was transferred to Children's Specialized Hospital.

He had only limited movement of his left leg, couldn't move his right side and his right arm was bent, said Dr. Mary Boyer, director of by Bob Delaney held the Braves in the last inning.

Gary Kane was the winning pitcher as the Chiefs defeated the Vikings, 7-1. David Crane hit effectively for the Giants. Robert Sebeck, Jeff Wilde, and Rick Vanbenschoten played well for the Vikings.
The Chiefs preserved their undefeated record by squeezing past the Dodgers, 5-4. Keith Hanigan put in four innings of strong relief work on the mound, while he, Ricky Kontra and Andrew Grett hit well. Kontra came through with a home run. Dodger Ronnie Zimmerman pitched a fine game and hit well, too.
Frank Gagliano and Kirk Yoggy combined for strong pitching and solid batting to lead the Blue Stars to victory over the Twins, 16-4. Gagliano hit a home run and was responsible for 5 RBI, while Yoggy hit in four and John Schon collected two. Jack Parent and Steve Scholes fielded well for the Blue Stars.
The Blue Stars beat the Mets, 15-3. Gagliano and Yoggy shared pitching honors; Schon, Parent and Greg Van Name led the hitting attack.
The Orioles defeated the strong-hitting Blue Stars, 8-4. Pitchers Danny Weiss and Pete Klaskin allowed only four hits, one a homer by Frank Gagliano. Klaskin and Steve Vitello hit well for the Orioles.
The Orioles beat the Giants, 14-6. Weiss and Klaskin pitched again, while batting honors were shared by Frank Noll (with four RBI), Matt Gallagher (with two RBI) and Pat Pallita (with one).
In Senior League action, almost every team won. Pitcher Billy Rose picked up his first win of the year as the Yankees beat the Indians, 4-3. Effective hitters for the Yanks were Greg Shomo (whose bases-loaded double scored two runs), Tim Harrison, and Jamie Kontra. Bob Ruff played heads-up defensive ball in right field.
In a losing effort for the Indians, Chuck Dooley struck out 10 batters. He also hit well, as did catcher Chip Kane.
The Indians joined the ranks of winners by defeating the Red Sox, 9-3. Chuck Dooley, the winning pitcher, drove in two runs.
The Red Sox lost to the Orioles, 13-3. Tom Huelbig and Dave Weinberg pitched. Adam Williams led the hitting with three RBI. Huelbig and Chuck Weslowski each had two RBI.
The Tigers' strong fielding held Yankee batters off the bases to win, 7-5. Kerry Lesslauer started and was relieved by Gregg Rusbarsky. The Tigers had three double-plays in the game.
In their second game this week, the Red Sox beat the Tigers, 13-9. Dave Cushman was the winning pitcher.

Hospital

inpatient services. He had a long and difficult road ahead of him.
But Bobby was bolstered by his own rugged determination to walk again.
Physical therapists began by helping him use what strengths he had. Occupational therapists worked with him on the functioning of his arm, fine motor function and coordination. He learned to feed himself with his left hand. Speech therapists helped Bobby strengthen weakened muscles in the mouth area.
"Sometimes," Robert said, "the therapy was difficult and painful. Sometimes," he added, "I got discouraged. But I kept on thinking of the day I'd walk out of the hospital."
His friends and family would urge him on during times of discouragement. "His friends," his mother recalled, "were fantastic."
His progress became more and more tangible each day. Then, on Dec. 23, Robert was discharged from Children's Specialized Hospital, walking with the assistance of just one crutch. His right arm was almost straight and had increased its range of motion significantly. He had limited movement in his right leg but its strength had greatly increased. He could use his right arm as an assisting hand.
Robert returns to the hospital for regular physical and occupational therapy and does prescribed exercises at home. He continues to make gains and now walks without any assistance. On his 18th birthday, March 1, he got the greatest birthday present of his life. He returned to Thomas A. Edison Vocational High School where he carries a full academic load.
With the help of tutors at Children's Specialized Hospital and at home, he had managed to keep up with his class and will graduate in June. Although doctors say he will probably never be able to operate power machinery, the New Jersey Vocational Rehabilitation Bureau is helping him plan a career. Today, Robert plays ping pong and pool, visits with his friends and is coaching a Little League team in Elizabeth.
"We're very pleased with Children's Specialized Hospital," said his father. "He received fantastic care and I'd recommend it to anyone who needs rehabilitation. It's really a specialized hospital," he said.

Mountainside girl injured in mishap

A 16-year-old Mountainside girl required treatment at Overlook Hospital last week for facial injuries suffered in an auto accident on Mountain Avenue at Tanglewood Lane.
Police said Joan Radding of Dunn Parkway was passenger in a car driven by Mark G. Borkowski, 17, of Knollwood Road, who was northbound on Mountain Avenue when the accident occurred at 7:50 a.m. May 12.
According to police, Borkowski was passing cars which had halted on the avenue when his auto collided with one operated by Lucille S. Reel, 50, of Tanglewood Lane, who was making a left turn from that street onto Mountain Avenue.
Miss Radding was taken to Overlook by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

considered guests and must pay a fee of $1 per person.
Reservations for courts will be taken from 7:30 to 9 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekends and holidays. In case of rain, reservations may be made via phone (232-0015) between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. weekdays and 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. weekends and holidays.
Tennis players have been asked to read the reservation procedure sheet that has been distributed with the tennis badges. Additional free copies are available at Borough Hall.
Recreation director Sue Winans noted, "It is difficult to summarize the details of the procedure," and she anticipates there may be some confusion in the early period of adjustment to the new rules.
"I assume that tennis players will be patient and cooperative in this venture," she commented. "The court attendants do not have the authority to bend any of the rules, and in fairness to them, I trust that tennis players will not ask them to 'make an exception.'"
"I suspect the biggest problem will be failure to present badge numbers upon registration," she noted. "I encourage players to make a list of their regular partners' badge numbers ahead of time to carry with them when registering."
Winans also requested that anyone with a complaint or problem call the recreation office at 232-0015. "We can only deal with problems that are brought to our attention," she said.

school for local students at the Deerfield School, provided it pay a rental fee of $10 per day plus $1 a day for utilities. The agreement, dependent upon approval of the Commissioner of Education, may not be implemented because of the N.J. Supreme Court decision to close all public schools July 1 because of the state's unconstitutional method of school funding.
A PLAN PROPOSED by the Deerfield Student Council to beautify an inner courtyard between the elementary and Middle School buildings was approved. The project, would be funded with monies raised over the years by pupils.
The board also decided to do battle against the inchworms which have infested trees on school property and caused concern to neighboring homeowners. Approved was a $542 expenditure for tree spraying by the Davey Tree Expert Co. at Deerfield, Beechwood and Echobrook Schools.
A drainage problem at Beechwood, which causes run-off onto nearby property during excessive rains, will be surveyed by members of the board's buildings and grounds committee.
As part of the school reorganization plan, to be implemented in September, the board approved more flexible grouping of students according to abilities in the first through fifth grades. The plan, supported by Dr. Hanigan, will allow not only for classes for youngsters with learning disabilities, but also specialized instruction for those of high academic ability.
Instrumental music instruction for the next term, the board decided, will be the sole province of Charles Guinta in Grades 6, 7 and 8, with Howard Kravitz teaching vocal music at those levels and instrumental music to fourth graders. The following year, when Guinta is expected to have attained certification as a vocal music teacher, the programs would be divided equally between the two.

costs, and is included in the $300,000 package, according to Geiger.
Councilman Geiger stressed that work on the New Providence road bridge near Children's Specialized Hospital is being undertaken at the county's expense. Some residents have expressed displeasure in widening the bridge, he stated.
Geiger also said he visited with some of the residents, who would have their property affected by the work. Most of them expressed a desire to see work done to improve storm drainage in their area, he reported.

IN OTHER ACTION at the session, the Council unanimously adopted the salary or increases for police and other municipal employees. The ordinance provides for salary increases for members of the police department and other municipal employees. The policemen's salaries increased eight percent, municipal employees salaries 6.5 percent, which is a cost of living increase.
An ordinance was introduced that would increase the salaries of the supervisor and assistant supervisor of the summer playground. The increases were $40 for a period of 10 weeks. The supervisor's salary is to be increased to $1,030 for 10 weeks and the assistant is to be increased to $810.
THE MEETING WAS begun on an unusual and special note with the invocation presented by a citizen of Mountainside, Randall Derrey, who has attended all Borough Council meetings for many years, was given the honor of presenting the invocation. This was the first time that a citizen was given the honor.
The Council also approved appointment of three new volunteer firemen. They are: Dennis Joseph Clark of Summit Road, William R. Nelson of Sunny Shore Drive, and Edward G. Toepfer of Elston Drive.
The Council also unanimously approved a list of local businesses renewing liquor licenses. They were: Chron's Tavern, Inc., 1443 Mountain Ave.; Steak and Me of N.J., Inc., 1443 Rt. 22; Mountain Heights, Inc., Mountainside Inn, 1230 Rt. 22; Tower Steak House, Inc., 1048 Rt. 22; San Francisco, 1072 Rt. 22; Halfway House, Inc., 1239 Rt. 22; Klevis L. Borzinski, Echo Lodge, 1050 Rt. 22; Harry Sturcke, Echo Lakes, Rt. 22; Blivise, Inc., 1267 Rt. 22; Mountainside Drive Co., 1099 Mountain Ave.; and the Elks Lodge.
The Council also received a letter from the PATH Corp. that a new rapid transit car will be dedicated to Mountainside. The car will have a plaque signifying Mountainside's historic heritage.
Police Commissioner Abe Suckno, remarking upon the tragedy that befell the Manoff family of Springfield, advised residents to be aware of any irregularities in their neighborhood and to cooperate with police. The Council expressed its condolences to the Manoff family.
Recreation Commissioner William Cullen urged residents to sign up for the municipal pool for the summer. He said that enrollment is down from last year but that it will pick up next week when water is added and warm weather arrives.

BUYING WISELY

From Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York, Inc.
Dear Larrie:
Three weeks before my wedding my fiancé and I broke up. I immediately contacted the caterer I signed a contract with and who held a $500 deposit. I explained to the manager my situation, and refreshed his memory about the promise he had made at the signing of the contract. He has said that he would return my deposit if I cancelled two weeks before the set date, but only if he could rent the room for the same amount of people. His answer to my question was that he never verbally promises his clients such clauses in a contract. I unfortunately, hadn't thought of having him put this statement in writing. Isn't there any way you could help me in this matter?
TROUBLED

Dear Larrie:
While caterers will agree to refund a deposit if the affair is cancelled two weeks before the schedule date, provided the room can be rented by the same number of people, such a promise must be in writing in the contract. A written contract will decide whether you will get your money back in the event of a cancellation. As a general rule you can't get your money back, not even if you "broke-up" with your fiancé.
Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie:
How can an aluminum siding company accurately advertise a price for siding to be applied to an entire house without first viewing it? Well, there are several companies that do advertise such claims. How do they go about determining these advertised claims?
IN DOUBT

Dear Larrie:
Nobody can truthfully or accurately advertise a price for a completely applied aluminum siding job for houses unseen, unknown and unmeasured—as for example, when advertising is aimed at thousands of homeowners, like yourself, who read newspaper advertising. However, a basic price per square foot, installed, can be applied to any total measure.
Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie:
I'm planning to buy a new car. Should I be among the first to order next year's model when it is first announced? Or should I wait until the end of the year when the dealer is anxious to clear out his stock and may give me a better price?
A MATTER OF TIME

Dear Time:
If you normally keep a car for as long as it will run, you are better off purchasing it at the end of the model year, or even after the next model-year car is on the market. Your choice will be limited as to color and accessories, but the low price and immediate delivery should compensate you for these matters of personal taste.

Chamber of Commerce ends study of Regional administrative methods

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education has voted to accept a report on a study of District administration procedures conducted recently by the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce and has directed its District personnel to begin reviewing specific recommendations made by the businessmen for possible implementation.

The in-depth study was begun last fall, with members of the Chamber of Commerce assigned to committees on personnel and administration, data processing, business office practices and plant operations. Each committee interviewed school staff members, made onsite visits and read reference materials, comparing their own business approach to problems with methods employed by the school.

In the final 79-page report, presented at a recent board meeting by Richard Harclerode, director of the study team, the Chamber cited the cooperation of District personnel who "seemed genuinely interested and concerned that they were operating at top efficiency." The Board of Education also was thanked for its cooperation.

In the area of personnel and administration, the committee examined the coordinator system, staff absenteeism, space needs and the line-staff relationship (among central administration, the school administrators, teachers and other staff members). The committee recommended "a positive program to reduce personnel illness absence be developed" and also suggested there be "better planning, arranging and coordinating of meetings through the administrative offices."

While listing ways of relieving the subject coordinators of some of their clerical burdens, the committee noted the organizational purpose of the coordinator system is "to assure a uniform degree of subject presentation by the teachers in each of the four regional high schools." In observing the coordinators and line-staff relationships in general, the study team found an "excellent 'esprit de corps'" in each school.

The team noted the previous emphasis for computer utilization was placed on expansion of data processing for instructional goals, with limited application in administrative areas. At present, the administrative and planning systems are being upgraded.

The committee presented the Board of Education with a list of alternatives to improve the control, direction, planning and utilization of the District's data processing equipment. Some of the data processing areas cited by the report as needing strengthening include student record retrieval and maintenance, mailing capabilities, student and teacher schedules and inventory capabilities. Basic vocational courses in computer programming were suggested.

In the Regional District's business office, a study team examined supply management, which includes purchasing and receiving of supplies, storage, in-school supply distribution and inventory.

The committee found that purchasing is centralized in the regional board office, with the department coordinators playing a major role in the bidding, ordering and checking receipt of supplies. The study team suggested the coordinators' role in purchasing be a limited one, stating "these duties could be more effectively handled" by the business office.

The committee also felt the problems individual schools encountered in receiving and storing goods would be decreased by reducing the size of shipments. The lack of storage space was noted by the study team, and the use of blanket purchase orders was offered as a means to help alleviate this problem.

The committee found the in-school distribution system to be "adequate," but recommended the establishment of a perpetual inventory procedure to guide individual schools and central offices as to requirements during the school year.

The Chamber of Commerce also informed the school board that the Chamber would supply the business expertise during the implementation stage, as requested. "This service will assist the District in making the report a working document," a spokesman noted.

Friends to honor Maguire at fete June 13 in Clark

Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-22) will be the guest of honor at a testimonial champagne brunch sponsored by his friends at the Ramada Inn, Clark, on Sunday, June 13 at 10:45 a.m.

Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo and Assembly Minority Leader Thomas Kean will be the speakers at the fund raising event. Tickets, at $12, may be obtained by contacting George Crater, 161 Westfield ave., Clark.

Maguire, a first term Republican assemblyman, serves on the Appropriations Committee.

Maguire was recently appointed to the Fiscal Affairs and Government Operations Regional Committee of the Council of State Governments.

Serving his first term in the Assembly, Maguire is one of four New Jersey legislators appointed to the regional committee, composed of representatives from the 10 north-eastern states.

"There is, perhaps, no single area of greater importance to people or which affects their daily lives more deeply than how their government spends their tax money," Maguire said.

"Exchanging thoughts and ideas with the representatives of the other states in the northeast will be an invaluable experience, since it will give me the opportunity to study what they have done in the fiscal area and determine whether similar programs could be applied in New Jersey," he said.

McDowell is accepted

Richard Bert McDowell of Walnut avenue, Mountainside, has been accepted at Bemidji State University in Minnesota for admission for the fall quarter.

McDonough asks for 'sunset' law

State Sen. Peter J. McDonough (R-22) said this week he will introduce legislation that would require every state division, regulatory agency, board, commission and licensing authority to "re-justify its existence" at least every five years or, by statute, the group will be given one additional year to tidy up its activities before going out of existence.

"The time for this sort of 'sunset' legislation is here," the GOP senator said. "In the past 25 years, the New Jersey legislature has created twice as many regulatory agencies and other bodies supported by tax dollars than it established in the previous 75 years. Many of these restrict competition, indicate superiority over unlicensed persons and groups, or give an unfair advantage to the 'licensed' group because federal regulations governing payments for services favor payments to a licensed person."

SEAL OF THE COUNTY OF UNION

The wanton murder of Mrs. Hannah Ogden Caldwell, wife of Reverend James Caldwell of the First Presbyterian Church, Elizabethtown, by a British soldier on June 7, 1780, inspired the official seal of Union County adopted by the Board of Chosen Freeholders in 1857.

In creating the seal, the Board directed:

"On a circular shield, a miniature of the Presbyterian Parsonage of Connecticut Farms, the house to be of the Colonial frame type, executed in grayish brown with a background of nature's colors; standing in the doorway Mrs. Hannah Ogden Caldwell, the wife of the chaplain of the Third Battalion of Company 1, New Jersey Volunteers, being slain by a British soldier.

"The figure representing Mrs. Caldwell to be done in white, signifying peace and sincerity. The British soldier in red with gun leveled at Mrs. Caldwell. One window on the front of the house, containing four panes of glass, to be executed in argent.

"The roof shall be of the gable type, of the same general color of the house, with two chimneys of brick. The surrounding landscape and shrubbery to be finished in green and brown tones.

"The numerals 1857 indicating the year Union County separated from Essex County, and the sky above, executed in blue; and engraved around the border, forming a circle, the following inscription: 'Seal of the County of Union — New Jersey.'"

The facts surrounding the death of Mrs. Hannah Ogden Caldwell are as follows: Mrs. Caldwell was shot to death as she approached the doorway of the Presbyterian Church Parsonage at Connecticut Farms which is now the township of Union. History tells us that she was with her nine children and servants in the parsonage when the British troops arrived. A servant warned her that an enemy soldier was approaching the house and Mrs. Caldwell rose from a cot to see.

As she was going to the doorway, the soldier thrust his rifle through a window and fired. The rifle charge carried two iron balls and both struck Mrs. Caldwell in the chest, killing her instantly. Historians say this gallant lady ignored pleas to flee with her children when it was learned the British were returning through Connecticut Farms after their defeat at Springfield.

Moments after her death the enemy soldiers took her body from the parsonage and removed her children to safety before setting fire to the building along with other houses in the community.

Her reasons for being at Connecticut Farms were threefold: the parsonage in Elizabethtown had been destroyed by the British earlier in the conflict; secondly, she felt her presence in the Connecticut Farms Parsonage would save it from being burned, and thirdly, she was awaiting news of the battle taking place at Springfield where her husband, Rev. James Caldwell, was serving as chaplain of the Third Battalion, New Jersey Volunteers.

Controversy among the witnesses arose over her death, and word spread among the people that the British soldiers had orders to kill her on sight. It was claimed that the killer knew he was shooting at the wife of the hated "Fighting Parson," and that earlier in the day another woman who had been mistaken for Mrs. Caldwell came close to being shot. Never taken into consideration by those people who condemned the British was the fact that their soldiers were being shot at from every house along their path of retreat, and in order to clean out the snipers, it was necessary for them to rush every house along the way.

Other witnesses took a more lenient view of the incident by saying her death was one of those unfortunate accidents which can happen in warfare.

Mrs. Caldwell was originally buried at Connecticut Farms with her husband officiating at the service, but with his death the following year, her body was moved to the First Presbyterian Church cemetery in Elizabethtown to be placed next to that of her husband.

News of her death spread like wildfire throughout the countryside and Americans everywhere were more determined than ever to defy the British, and it was this courage and defiance directed at the English that symbolized the battle for freedom by the 13 colonies.

“Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new ‘Enriched Flavor’ MERIT delivered more taste.”

—American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste-testing with thousands of smokers shows ‘Enriched Flavor’ MERIT delivers more taste than higher tar brands.

The bottom line was conclusive: In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion, smokers from all across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.*

What’s really startling—and of major importance to all smokers—is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

Less tar. Yet more taste.

That’s the report on a remarkable new taste process called ‘Enriched Flavor.’ A way to pack tobacco with extra flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

‘Enriched Flavor.’ It’s exclusive to MERIT. The cigarette with only 9 mg. tar, one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

MERIT MENTHOL is packed with ‘Enriched Flavor’ too. And in similar tests, 9 mg. MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar menthol brands tested.

You’ve been smoking “low tar, good taste” claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

Workshop to aid patients following larynx surgery

Residents of Union County who are interested in the recovery and rehabilitation of persons who have had their voice boxes removed because of cancer may attend a laryngectomy conference June 5 at the Tamada Inn in East Brunswick.

The workshop, which is open to laryngectomees and their families, physicians, registered nurses and speech therapists, is being conducted by the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society in cooperation with the New Jersey Association of Laryngectomy Clubs.

"In addition to the medical and psychological aspects of larynx surgery, emphasis will be placed on speech recovery and the restoration of normal family and social relationships," said George Randall of Plainfield, coordinator of the workshop.

According to Randall, the objective of the workshop is to bring together "any and everyone concerned with the rehabilitation of persons who have lost their voice boxes to cancer and are now returning to a normal, active life."

Continuing assistance to laryngectomees is provided under the Service and Rehabilitation program of the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society through its Gabbers Club.

"Our Gabbers Club provides a valuable service to the ACS and the community," Randall stated. "We speak before schools, clubs, and organizations as living proof of the dangers of cigarette smoking."

Persons interested in attending the Laryngectomy Workshop or speaking on the dangers of cigarette smoking are asked to contact the Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society, 354-7373.

Dayton nine is defeated in three straight games

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team dropped three games last week, losing 4-1 to Millburn, 3-0 to Clark and 5-4 to West Orange in an extra-inning thriller. The team record is now 5-14 and their Suburban Conference record is 3-9. The next game will be today, against Caldwell.
In the Millburn game the Bulldogs managed but four hits, Stu Ruff scored the only run, coming home via an error. Bob Rawlings, Dayton's peppy second baseman, drilled a hit and stole two bases. Joe Mirto and Pete Episcope collected the other hits.
Mike Petro took his second loss without a victory. Chris Buckley drove two runs home for the victors.
Against Clark, Dayton was shut out on only five hits by Vince Murphy. Greg Lies pitched strongly in defeat for Dayton, and also clouted a triple. Jeff Pittenger slammed a double, and Bob Rawlings, Joe Mirto and Stu Ruff had singles.
The game against West Orange was a thriller until the last out was registered. Played at Ruby Field because of Meisel's poor field conditions, the game went eight innings before the Bulldogs bowed out.

Regional took the early lead on a booming triple by Ed McCaine, good for two runs. Stu Ruff's RBI single put the Bulldogs far ahead. West Orange then rallied to take the lead until Joe Graziano, who went the distance pitching for Dayton, hit a long sacrifice fly, tying the game.
The game then continued scoreless until the eighth inning when Glenn Paladino slammed a solo homerun, giving West Orange the lead. Dayton put two men on base in their half of the eighth, but could not score the tying run. West Orange's victory marked their first in Suburban Conference play this year.
Also contributing to Dayton's attack were Bob Rawlings (sing, two runs scored), Brian McNany (two hits) and Pete Episcope (one hit, two stolen bases and a run scored). The loss was Dayton's seventh straight in Suburban Conference play.

Margaret Grimaldi, Julia Lauton and Jessica Malin added a double each to help the team. Noted for their fielding were Lynne Murray, Barbara Marianno and Rosemarie Herkalo. The Royals edged the Red Sox, 7-3. The Royals, backed by pitcher Dolores Scoppetuolo, scored five runs in the final three innings to defeat the Red Sox. Kathy Ehrhardt hit a home run, Judy Hinkley a double and Adele Derler a triple, to lead the Red Sox. Kathy Ehrhardt and Amy Lauton teamed up for a double play in the fourth. Wrestling star seeks funds for Olympic camp

A group of Springfield residents this week announced the formation of the Bill Francis AAU Scholarship Committee to help raise funds to send the local wrestling star to the 1976 Olympic Training Camp.
Francis, a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, has been chosen to try out for the American Olympic squad, but needs financial assistance to help defray not only the costs of the camp, but also travel expenses to the AAU Nationals competition and European Championships.
Committee members—Scott Donington, George Doty, Muriel Craner, Pat Zavadny and Monica Gleicher—plan to send letters to local businessmen asking assistance. Residents of Mountainside and surrounding communities, as well as Springfield, also have been urged to help. All contributions may be sent to P.O. Box 195, Springfield 07081.
Francis was chosen to attend the Olympic Training Camp by a national committee composed of Olympic coaches, the National Wrestling Committee chairman, the National Training Camp director and other coaches. His name had been submitted by a similar New Jersey committee.
Francis would attend a camp either at the University of Northern Illinois in DeKalb or at Brockport (N.Y.) State College during the last three weeks of school.

Federal refunds to state taxpayers averaged $430

Federal income tax refunds averaging $430 have already been issued to 1.3 million New Jersey taxpayers who filed their 1975 returns early in 1976. IRS District Director Elmer H. Klinsman reported this week. Refunds are usually mailed 4-6 weeks after tax returns are filed but taxpayers who waited until April and those who made errors on their returns will probably have to wait a few weeks longer. Refunds for taxpayers whose last names were changed by marriage or divorce during 1975 may be delayed until after their new names have been verified with the Social Security Administration. This sometimes takes several weeks.

JULY 4 weekend starts early with N.J. 'independence day'

New Jersey will get a two-day jump on the rest of the country on July 2 when it celebrates the Bicentennial of its own state constitution and declaration of independence. The New Jersey Bicentennial Commission has announced a number of events to take place in Trenton on Friday, July 2, to start the July 4 weekend. The events will mark the 200th anniversary of the action of the Provincial Congress of New Jersey on July 2, 1776. Asserting that King George III had broken his compact with the people of New Jersey and that it was necessary to preserve order and unity, the Provincial Congress declared independence from England and adopted the Constitution of New Jersey. To commemorate that historic milestone, the major event of July 2 will be the public unveiling of copies of a "New Jersey Declaration" that have been returned from all over the state with the signatures of thousands of New Jersey residents. The loading of a Bicentennial "time capsule" also will take place.

Purchase power shows boost for factory workers

Purchasing power of New York-northeastern New Jersey factory production workers' earnings inched up 0.1 percent between February and March, it was reported last week by Herbert Bienslock, Regional Commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. A 0.3 percent rise in gross average weekly earnings was largely offset by a 0.2 percent rise in area consumer prices. Since March 1975, the purchasing power of area factory worker take-home pay was up 3.8 percent. Bienslock noted that the over-the-year rise in purchasing power largely reflected a reduction in federal income taxes that went into effect in May 1975. Without the tax cut, purchasing power would have risen only 0.9 percent in the 12 months ending March 1976. Gross average weekly earnings of New York-northeastern New Jersey area factory workers rose 61 cents over the month to $198.79 in March, Bienslock reported. The March increase entirely reflected a 12-minute rise in the length of the average workweek to 39.6 hours as average hourly earnings dipped by one cent to $5.02. Between March 1975 and March 1976, average weekly earnings of area factory workers rose $14.96 or 8.1 percent, as average hourly earnings were up 27 cents and the length of the average work week rose 54 minutes, Bienslock reported.

Developer starts on second section of White Pine

"Location, price and unbeatable value" are the key words at White Pine Apartments, a luxury apartment complex on Skillman avenue, Lawrenceville, according to Dolores DeJannone, vice-president of McConnell &

Company, Lakewood rental agents. The first section is completely rented with 30 families.

The developer has begun work on the second section of this 200-apartment complex. Being offered at White Pine are one-bedroom upper and lower apartments, one-bedroom and den upper apartments and two bedroom townhouses, in a country setting with urban conveniences.

Each apartment has large rooms, ample closet space, fingertip heat and air-conditioning control, sound-conditioned construction, color-coordinated kitchens with oven, range, two-door refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher and custom crafted cabinets, some walk-in closets, modern one and a half tiled baths with vanities, terraces or balconies.

White Pine Apartments can be reached from North Jersey via Route 1 South to Route 95-295, west on Rt 95-295 to Rt. 206 South, South on Route 206 approximately one mile to Skillman avenue (just past Rider College), and right to White Pine.

PROFESSIONALLY DECORATED townhouse at Panther Valley, off Rt. 80 in Allamuchy, combines rustic brick fireplace with modern loveseats, glass and wicker table and mirrored walls in the living room, which opens onto a sun deck. The two-story home also includes two bedrooms, den and one-car garage. Townhouses in Village III of the planned community start at $62,500. To reach Panther Valley, take Rt. 80 west to the Allamuchy Rt. 517 exit. Turn left (south) and go 1/2 mile to entrance on right.

Decorator to aid buyers of Panther Valley homes

Once a decision is made to buy a new home, that's when the true work begins. Decisions such as location, housing style, purchase price, financing and community lifestyle tend to fade into the background when the buyer starts to think about interior decorating.

To help buyer choose from a multitude of interior styles, colors, and options, Panther Valley in Allamuchy has announced the opening of a home furnishings center, where Alma Diggins, a fulltime consultant, will offer advice to novices and experts.

Whether it's choosing an over-all color scheme or deciding which towel bars to install, Mrs. Diggins can offer counsel. "But," as she is quick to point out, "a decorator's responsibility is to help individuals determine what's right for them. I would be doing a disservice if I tried to impose my taste on anyone else."

Her enthusiasm as she discusses her profession is in evidence: "We begin by determining the lifestyle a family enjoys and take it from there. A family with young children obviously requires durable, easily wiped up floor tiles and heavy-duty appliances. 'Empty nesters', on the other hand, can indulge in plush carpeting and delicate fixtures. More than that, however, as an experienced designer, I can provide an objective point of view and eliminate flaws in decision-making because I can visualize the end result.

Options for the kitchen include a multi-storage pantry unit, sliding bottle racks, tray compartments, built-in lazy susans for corner spaces, and an out-of-the-way wine rack. The all wood cabinets are available in a variety of finishes. Choices also are offered in counter tops and vinyl floors.

Kislak, Inc., has announced that Jonathan Kislak and William Biggs have been named to the board of directors and that Hunter Wolcott has been named treasurer of J.I. Jonathan Kislak, 27, is a magna cum laude graduate of Harvard University. Previously, he was an economist with the Federal Home Loan Bank. He is vice-president in charge of construction loans for J.I. Kislak Mortgage Corporation.

Biggs, 39, serves as executive vice-president and chief operating officer of J.I. Kislak Mortgage Corporation, the mortgage banking division of The Kislak Organization. A native New Yorker and a graduate of the University of the City of New York, Biggs was associated with Lomas & Nettleton, mortgage bankers, and Hefler Construction Co. before joining Kislak in 1968.

Private lagoons with home site

One residential community in Point Pleasant offers a rare combination—spacious waterfront homesites on wide private lagoons with easy access to both Barnegat Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. It is Laguna Village, located just west of the Lovelandtown Bridge from Bay Head.

Laguna Village, by Trend Homes, offers large family homes priced from $70,000 and up, all located on a series of wide, navigable lagoons that are deep enough for the largest pleasure craft. Joseph Todino, Trend president, has announced the opening of the third section of the community which is designed around five lagoons and will total 106 homes when complete.

In addition to the large homesites which offer space for pool and patio between the rear of the house and the bulkheaded lagoonfront, Laguna Village homes are built with custom design, individuality and top craftsmanship throughout. Two unturned models are now ready for inspection, both offering more than 2300 square feet of living space, plus garage. Both are four bedroom homes, priced at $78,900.

Florida residents retire to Crestwood in Whiting

Many people about to retire consider pulling up roots and traveling south or west to spend their golden years. After studying recent sales statistics, Crestwood Village executives were surprised to learn that, except for an obvious preponderance of buyers from New Jersey and nearby New York, the heaviest percentage of new residents to settle at the Whiting, N.J., retirement community are from Florida and California.

Thirteen states other than New Jersey and New York contributed to Crestwood's population growth. Of these, Florida sent 28 percent, and California, 11 percent. Many Florida families were originally from this part of the country, had heeded the siren call of other climes, but returned north after sampling life there. Several were interviewed to find out why. Here are their stories:

Laura and George Fink had been living in Westfield when they purchased a condominium in Florida. They stayed a number of years, but when George became ill, Laura felt they were just too far "from our son, Robert, his family of six children and our many friends."

When they came back to the north, they looked over just about every adult community in New Jersey before they settled in Crestwood. They wanted to return to living in a single home again and were "very impressed" with Crestwood's construction and style. George is now a member of the Old Guard and Laura is with the Crestwood Women's Club, which is busy preparing for a forthcoming bazaar.

Harriet and William Shortlidge had always lived in the New Jersey area, but retired to Florida. However, noted William, "Harriet just couldn't take the awful heat in the summer and spring. Besides, we are just too far away from our four children and 11 grandchildren." During one of their return trips up north, they visited friends who lived in Crestwood and were convinced that this was for them.

They are active bridge players, bowl with the Crestwood league, have entered shuffleboard tournaments and are members of the Residents' Club. Harriet also belongs to the Women's Club. "Now that we made our home here, we might winter in Florida, but we wouldn't want to live there all year round, especially since we've made such wonderful new friends in Crestwood," they agreed.

Margaret Eggert lived 41 years in Brooklyn, where she was an executive secretary. She said she couldn't wait to retire from the city because she had experienced several frightening incidents there that threatened her life and property. She traveled south but soon discovered it was "a very lonely place for a single woman."

A cousin from Audubon told her about Crestwood and she returned to make her home here. She is now a member of the Yanks bowling team, plays on a shuffleboard team and has joined the Singles' Club. "It seems to me that the people who were the happiest residents of Florida were those who did not live there all year round," she observed. "and as for myself I am certainly sorry I didn't look into Crestwood before I moved south."

Bernice Valicenti, who spent most of her life in Short Hills, retired to Cooper City in Miami with her husband four years ago. When he died, she realized how alone she was, so far from her brothers, who live in Short Hills and Red Bank. When she decided to come north, they sent her advertising brochures on many of the adult communities in the area and she selected Crestwood because it "offered the most for the money."

She has been living in Village III for only a short time, but already has been made to feel right at home by "so many of my very lovely neighbors." Gertraude Sturm visited her sister, Lillian Yohe, who lives in Crestwood and decided to sell her home in Fort Lauderdale Lakes, Fla., and come north to settle here. She was impressed "with the beauty of Crestwood" and the kind of lifestyle her sister was enjoying. Lillian never even considered Florida when she retired because she didn't want to go far from her three children and six grand children. Lillian is a member of the Actacia Twig and the Women's Club.

Clarissa and Harold Lunn owned the Lunnon Florist Shop in Trenton. When they sold their shop, they headed for their South Palm Beach, Fla., condominium, taking her son and his wife with them. The younger Lunnons opened a florist shop, but decided that Florida was not for them and returned to Northfield, N.J. Later Clarissa and Harold discovered that their son "could go broke" if he continued to visit them so many times in Florida, so they also returned north and settled in Crestwood Village, for at least six months of the year.

"Actually," admits Clarissa, "we've made so many wonderful new friends here I hate to leave for the winter months, but the doctor advises it for Harold's health." She has become very involved with the Women's Club and created and donated a number of dried flower arrangements for the club's autumn fair. "My one consolation is that we'll be returning to our beautiful home and friends as soon as the spring thaws the winter's cold, she added.

Mystics meet all needs for living in Shore area

"If you can't find the home you've been looking for right here, at 'The Mystics' you're probably better off in an apartment."

With those words, Terry Thompson, sales manager for both Mystic Islands and Mystic Shores, summed up the general concept of these two New Jersey communities in the Tuckerton-Great Bay area.

"Why, do you realize," Thompson went on to say, "that we offer a choice of 15 homes starting at $21,499 and going up to around $50,000 for a big waterfront model. And, as for selection of styles," he added, "at the Mystics we have ranchers, cape cods, colonials, split levels, duplexes and 'quads' one, two or three bedrooms—optional garage and, on top of all this, one of the greatest locations anywhere on the East Coast."

"Right here," Thompson said, "you can buy a house on a wooded lot and park your car in the driveway, or live at the water's edge and dock your boat at the back door. That's variety!"

The concept of the Mystics Islands and Shores, Thompson explained, "also encompasses two different life-styles. At Mystic Islands we boast of 3,000 happy families enjoying year-round seashore living with boating, fishing, hiking, swimming, golf and so many other activities associated with the Jersey Shore areas. The community, itself," he added, "is not actually a resort."

Next-door neighbors to Mystic Islands is the adult retirement community of Mystic Shores "Shores" is comparatively new, having opened its doors in late summer of 1973.

"Now we're calling it the new 'Mystic Shores,'" declared Thompson. "Not because we're three years old, but because in spite of our newness, Mystic Shores is now a settled community and our people have a new feeling of belonging, of feeling at home with the desire for participation in the many activities here, especially in and around our big, new recreation building."

Thompson explained that, "technically, Mystic Shores is a retirement community, where one of the principals must be at least 52 today is when you just start to live, and from what I've seen, our people sure know how to enjoy all that's here."

CRESTWOOD RESIDENTS William and Harriet Shortlidge are New Jerseyans who retired briefly to Florida, but returned north to settle in the adult community on Rt. 530, Whiting, Ocean County. "We couldn't take the awful spring and summer heat," they confessed, "and besides, we were too far away from our family." Their story is similar to a number of Crestwood people who tried Florida living, but returned north again.

Kilfoyle Construction named remodeler of year

Kilfoyle Construction Corp. of Woodbridge has been chosen National Contractor of the Year in the category of commercial remodeling, it has been announced by the National Remodelers Association.

Accepting the award, Ralph Mucci, president of the seven-year-old company, said, "It is a great honor to receive such respect from your own industry, after years spent building a reputation providing the kind of work the public expects. The winning entry was the remodeling of the Old Ship of Zion Baptist Church in English-town.

All entries were carefully screened prior to judging. Criteria for the commercial category: specifications, creativity, quality of workmanship and presentation of job.

Mucci said the church roof was caving in and the brick exterior surface was badly deteriorating. The major renovation involved ripping out a nine-foot ceiling and the roof and reconstructing both. The area above the ceiling and beneath the roof was opened up and wood planked in pine. Above the entrance, a balcony was constructed as a choir loft. This not only added to the space and acoustics, but to the overall aesthetics of the building. The job took six full-time men five months to complete.

"The completed product was evidence of a job well done," Mucci said. "We received letters of appreciation and commendation even prior to the award, but the honor of this national recognition was beyond my expectations."

Kilfoyle is currently building Temple Ohav Shalom, the Sayreville Jewish Center. The company also has performed work for the federal government, including a project for the Environmental Protection Agency.

Kilfoyle Construction Corp. is located on Rt. 9 South, Woodbridge. Frank Bretagna Jr., 1968 past president of the Baritan Valley Home Builders Association, is a partner in the company. Mucci is on the board of directors of the National Remodelers Association of New Jersey.

Barrymor to hold prices on Section 1 through July

Barrymor Enterprises, developer of Barrymor at Cypress, a new custom-home community on Spruce street off Rt. 9 in Lakewood, has announced a projected price increase for homes in section two. However, current prices will remain in effect for homesites in section one throughout July. The Cypress community consists of four sections.

Barry Weshnak, vice-president of Barrymor Enterprises, noted storm windows and screens will be included at no additional charge for homes purchased in section one before Aug. 1. This offer represents a $400 saving to buyers, he said. According to Weshnak, the Cypress project is a carefully planned community incorporating natural landscaping and central location.

"Barrymor at Cypress is neatly secluded amidst tall trees and rolling hills, yet is within two blocks of Lakewood's Spruce Street elementary school, Paul Kimball Hospital, express and local buses on Rt. 9 and a small, beautifully designed plaza combining professional offices and selected shopping facilities, slated for construction this July," he stated.

Weshnak added that the Cypress location is ideal for commuters since Rt. 9 provides access to many major highways, including the Garden State Parkway. Also nearby are Ocean County's recreational offerings.

The Cypress project includes a large green area which returns run-off rain water to the ground naturally. "The green area contributes to the beauty of the area and assists Lakewood's man-made water run-off lines during periods of heavy rain," a spokesman said. The land will be donated by Barrymor Enterprises to Lakewood township upon completion of the Cypress project.

Home models may be seen at the Barrymor Estates sales are on East County Line road (Rt. 526) off Garden State Parkway Exit 91. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Home buying future ideal

Record high supplies of mortgage funds are forcing interest rates downward, making the months immediately ahead ideal in terms of home buying, says a leading New Jersey mortgage banker.

Murray L. Beer, president of Globe Mortgage Company, Hackensack, explains that the recent quarter point drop in the maximum interest rate, the maximum interest rate for government-backed home loans signifies the broad scope of the downward pressure on costs of long-term funds for mortgage financing.

Beer's firm, the mortgage banking subsidiary of Financial Resources Group (O.T.C.), is a major source of financing for all types of real estate transactions. He says that the oversupply of investment money also is again making income-producing properties appealing to lenders at the best rates in recent years.

"Current and yet improving conditions will give the New Jersey real estate market a much needed boost," Beer said. "Increasing activity will create demands for new construction, reducing unemployment further, and generating a more favorable economic climate."

CLUSTER HOUSING—Townhouses at Lakeridge in Burrville, Conn., are clustered into small 'villages' and designed to blend into the wooded terrain. 'Because of the preservation of dense growth, the innovative siting of the homes and the large amount of open space, a sense of privacy is maintained, giving the illusion of detached living,' a community spokesman said.

Marc Terrace broker notes buyers' referrals

The young couples buying their first homes today may be more dollar and value conscious than people were in earlier years, but the exclusive broker for the Marc Terrace community of single-family homes in Hazlet has consistently urged them to make more intensive studies of the home market before they buy.

The realtor is W.T. Blaine of Matawan. The prices on the five distinctive models begin at $45,000, the financing is highly competitive and the location is right for travel to both work and seashore recreation.

"These homes literally sell themselves," Blaine said, "but it is essential that the buyers are totally confident that they made the right decision. In the long run, many satisfied buyers mean referrals for this community as well as for others developed by the same builder."

Confidence about the home built by Howard Siegel already has produced substantial results. After the first 10 homes were sold, the next 15 were sold through referrals from the early buyers and the residents of nearby communities built by Siegel. The builder has been responsible for more than 1000 living units in the immediate area.

Most Marc Terrace buyers are young, having moved into the community right off Exit 117A of the Garden State Parkway after formerly residing in New York City, Staten Island and northern New Jersey.

Marc Terrace has a number of varieties of three- and four-bedroom homes. There are two types of two-story homes, a Colonial split-level, a spacious ranch model and a modern bi-level, on which only 10 percent on low interest rate, 30-year mortgages, need be put down. The closing costs are also low, and delivery is guaranteed within four months.

Since opening in the spring, more than three-quarters of the available Marc Terrace homes have been sold. From the Parkway, they are an express drive to northern metropolitan centers. Schools are within easy walking distance. A bus stop is nearby and the railroad station is five minutes by car. The immediate area offers the Garden State Arts Center, a number of theatres, fine restaurants and major shopping centers.

One example of the Marc Terrace homes is the split Colonial. It has a front entrance-way leading into a central foyer with powder room. To the right is the separate front facing dining room with adjoining eat-in kitchen. To the rear is the 20 by 12-foot family room with sliding glass door opening onto the patio. Off the foyer and adjoining the family room is the 13' by 18 ft. formal living room with picture window overlooking the broad rear lawn. The second level includes four full-sized bedrooms, a family bath and another bath in the master bedroom suite. This model is priced at $53,900 and comes equipped with Hotpoint kitchen appliances including dishwasher and dozens of other great quality at no extra charge.

Marc Terrace may be reached via the Garden State Parkway to Exit 117A and southward on Lane road.

One-acre sites at Liberty Bell

Ranch, bi-level and colonial two-story homes on one-acre sites are being offered from $40,000 at Liberty Bell Estate Homes in Jackson, a shore area community with low tax rate and local amenities topped by the Great Adventure amusement park.

Liberty Bell Estate Homes, built by the Joest Corp. offer an adventure in living in themselves, according to builder Mark Halpern, with each house built to order for its owner and "as many custom items as possible" included in the original purchase price.

The varied plans offer formal dining rooms, eat-in kitchens, living and family rooms, with three, four and five-bedroom options. Each house is built in about three months, following basic plans altered to the individual buyer's needs.

"Customized building allows the homebuyer freedom of choice," the Joest president explained. "Each family has individual taste and needs in a home. There is no reason for a buyer to be locked into tight design."

Liberty Bell Estate Homes are shown individually, with the "models" being those houses currently in production. For information, readers may write to the Agency, Liberty Bell Estate Homes, P.O. Box 100, Jackson Township, 08428. They will conduct interested parties on a tour of the area and the locations of the homes. Financing arrangements are offered to qualified home seekers.

EARTHBOUND

By JOSEPH TOBIN Environmental consultant, New York Botanical Garden

The ecological soundness of off-shore oil drilling has long been an area of strident disagreement between naturalists bent on preserving coastal areas and businessmen who would "develop" the resources known to be available. Oil spills in California and Louisiana have been responsible for degradation and destruction of entire communities of wildlife, while at the same time industries and public utilities point out the need for American-controlled sources of oil, lest there be a serious energy shortage in the coming decade.

wishes are inconsistent with the National security or the overriding national interest."

Leases were to be offered off the coasts of New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland during the spring of this year. Slow in coming, this move could open the way for commercial production of oil and natural gas off the east coast. This would be the first activity of this kind in our area of the country.

The House measure, then, provides for New Jersey some avenue of appeal from Washington-based agreements with oil companies. It also assists conservationists in their efforts to protect major beaches and wildlife preserves from oil spills and other environmental damage by given state authorities some veto power. In addition, the bill includes more stringent safety standards which must be met by the commercial developers in insuring against spills. These latter assurances are long overdue.

Medical academy to hold annual fete

More than 250 persons are expected to attend the awards dinner of the Academy of Medicine of New Jersey, next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Chanticleer, Millburn.

Group bids to halt highway additions

In a letter to Governor Brendan T. Byrne, Regional Plan Association this week urged prompt elimination of I-287 north of Route 23 and I-95 between Hopewell and Piscataway from official plans. The money being held by the federal government benefit to the older cities and suburbs of the state and to the state's economy, the citizen research agency said.

Sea Cadet group will be organized

The Union-Essex Chapter of the Navy League of the United States will form a Sea Cadet division at the Naval Reserve Center in Elizabeth.

The program is for youths between the ages of 14 through 17. Information is available at 351-3474.

Group bids to halt highway additions

The association has opposed the two Interstate highway segments because they would draw jobs and households out of the older cities and suburbs, diminishing opportunities for those who are unable to move out, encroaching unnecessarily on open countryside, increasing driving and weakening public transportation.

Heart Association lists officer slate to head N.J. unit

Dinner-dance to fete president of Kean

Dr. Nathan Weiss, president of Kean College of New Jersey, will be honored at a testimonial dinner-dance Friday, May 28, at the Town and Campus, Union.

The program is sponsored by the Kean College Evening Student Council and the Chi Psi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity.

Edwin Sullivan, "Police in Modern Society" taught by Lucinda San Giovanni, "Victimology" taught by Dr. Philip Kayal and "The Criminal Justice System in Modern America" taught by newly appointed adjunct professor Robert Hackett.

Reading Clinic at Kean to offer new programs

The Reading Clinic of Kean College of New Jersey in Union will offer new programs in remediation and developmental reading services for children and young adults beginning June 28.

The Laboratory School of the Reading Clinic, designed for children with severe remedial reading difficulties, will operate on a normal school day basis for four days a week for six weeks. It will provide individualized instruction in small classes. A complete diagnosis is required for admission to the Laboratory School.

Two Reading and Study Laboratories are designed to meet the needs of students entering the 8th, 9th and 10th grades (Session II, July 19-Aug. 5) and the 11th, 12th and freshman college year at any institution (June 28-July 15). Both sessions will run from 8:30 to 12:45 p.m. and provide individualized instruction.

A major contribution to the fact that old people today look and feel healthier and younger is medical knowledge of how to take care of their teeth, mouths and jaws, says Dr. Norman Cranin, writing in "The Modern Family Guide to Dental Health."
