Local board backs school closing appeal

By KAREN ZAUTYK

The New Jersey School Boards Association, which will soon before a three-judge panel to challenge the New Jersey Supreme Court's order to close all public schools as of July 1, won support in its action from the Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night. The board passed a resolution consenting to join in any federal court action by the NJSBA to modify or overturn the ruling.

Board vice-president Ronald Wood, who presided over the session at the Deerfield School in the absence of president William Biunno, explained the commitment was being made with the provision the support would require no financial expenditure by the board or borough citizens.

The NJSBA has requested this and similar resolutions from all local school systems to fight the state court's action. Under the court ruling, after July 1 there can be no disbursement of funds for education, except for capital expenditures and plant maintenance and the schools cannot reopen until the N.J. Legislature approves an acceptable means of financing education under the "Thorough and Efficient" act.

In other action at the session, the board adopted a 1976-77 transportation policy, with the same mileage provisions as the current one. Full details and listing of the five bus routes will be published in a later issue. Also approved was renewal of contracts to transport local handicapped students to out-of-town schools, with the provision the costs will not increase more than five percent over the current fees. Two contracts, totalling $17,792, have been approved; two others, totalling $4,282 in 1975-76, are being negotiated.

A request by a non-resident to enroll two children as tuition students in borough schools prompted a motion from Scott Schmedel that the board adopt a policy of not accepting any such non-resident enrollments. It was approved unanimously by the members present: Peg Reilly, Charles Speth, Wood and Schmedel.

The board also introduced a first aid policy, outlining emergency care procedures to be utilized by staff members in the absence of a school nurse. In the fall, the schools will be staffed by only two part-time nurses, Janice Vreeland and Jane Hummel, whose employment was approved at Tuesday's session. Also approved was the appointment of Dr. Theodor Lorenz as school physician, at a rate of $1,500 for the year, and Dr. Irwin Greenbaum as school dentist, at an $800 yearly rate.

The board formally accepted Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hanigan's outline of "Thorough and Efficient" education goals, a policy now required by the state, and named Deerfield School guidance counselor Edward Sponek as chairman of a T&E committee to implement the goals. The committee will also be composed of six teachers, two board members, two PTA executive board members, two principals, Hanigan and two other citizens. These appointments will be made at a later date.

The board approved a $2,550 bill submitted by board attorney Raymond O'Brien for legal services in connection with the sale and licensing agreement for the Echobrook School property. Formal signing of the agreement, transferring title of the 1976 school building to the Borough Council, is expected to take place at a meeting between Biunno and Mayor Thomas Ricciardi this week.

The pre-kindergarten screening project—testing conducted each summer—was approved with a pay rate of $10 per hour for the staff member in charge of the program. Maximum expenditure was set at $300, with the

Chiefs drop first Little League game as Gagliano sparks Blue Stars, 10-3

By RICH REITER

Last week in the Mountainside Little League, the Blue Stars proved that no team is invincible. They knocked the previously undefeated Chiefs from the unbeaten ranks, 10-3. Frank Gagliano was the winning pitcher, while Kirk Yoggy collected key hits for the Stars. John Schon made fine catches in right field. Andrew Grett earned hitting honors for the Chiefs.

An exciting Major League game was played between the Braves and the Mustangs. Fine base running by Mark Dougherty broke open a seven-run fourth inning for the Braves, allowing them to take a 10-5 lead. Although both teams continued to play well, the Braves were able to stretch their lead for a 12-8 victory over the Mustangs.

The Cubs rallied behind the hitting of Scott Burge, M. J. Castello, Tom Perrotta, and Jeff Briggs for a 9-2 triumph over the Dodgers. Fine defensive work by Jeff Bradshaw and Scott Conerly held the Dodgers at bay, despite a key triple by Dodger Henry Largey. The Dodgers didn't stay down long. They came right back for a victory, topping the Twins, 14-3. Henry Largey was the winning pitcher.

In an even more powerful attack, the Orioles crushed the Mustangs by the score of 38-8. The Cardinals 11-9. Peter Grett, Brian Daley, and Terry Reardon shared the pitching chores. Glen Stummer collected two hits, while David Baron, Brian Daily, Peter Grett, Ryan Lake, James Rau, and Terry Reardon also hit.

In the American League, the Angels came up winners three times. First, they beat the Cardinals 11-9. Peter Grett, Brian Daley, and Terry Reardon shared the pitching chores. Glen Stummer collected two hits, while David Baron, Brian Daily, Peter Grett, Ryan Lake, James Rau, and Terry Reardon also hit.

Stummer also starred on the field, stretching to catch a long fly. David Gagliano played heads-up ball by catching a fly and making the throw to first base for a double play. Tommy Salimbene and Mark Garretson also fielded effectively.

The Royals were the next to fall to the Angels, 7-1. Chris Carpeney and Steve Doten hit strongly for the Angels, while Steve Burton and Mark Garretson were outstanding in the field. Ernest Verdicia pitched for the Royals, with particularly good plays by Richard Colton and Richard Brent in the field. Tom Riely was effective at bat.

The Reds, too, were overcome by the Angels, 5-3. Strong hitting of Angels Kyle Wissel and David Gagliano led the attack. Steve Burton and Pat Salimbene provided excellent fielding. Billy Briggs, John Fischer, and George Tannenbaum drove in the Reds' runs. Bobby Alder and Jeff Ahlholm were on the mound for the Reds.

In a game marked by a pitching duel, the Reds and Brewers played to a 1-1 tie. The Brewers were held to two hits by Reds pitchers Bobby Alder, Michael Wood, and Jeff Ahlholm, who also drove in Mark O'Donnell for the only Red run. Kip Levenson fielded well for the Reds.

The Brewers were down to their last out when key hits by Billy Knodel and David Rizzo knotted the score. The Brewer pitching staff of Vincent Mannion, Mickey Tomko and Steven Sokohl did not give up a hit.

The Cardinals topped the Royals, 6-1. Peter Grett and Terry Reardon shared the pitching honors for the victory, striking out 11 batters. Geoffrey Solomon hit a home run. Supporting

Coaches sought for youth football

The Mountainside Midget Football Organization is seeking men to serve as coaches or assistant coaches for the 1976 season. Further information may be obtained by calling William Adler, coaching committee chairman, at 233-8056.

The Mountainside Midget Football Booster Club held its first meeting of the year May 27 at the Mountainside Public Library, with the following slate of officers being elected:

President, Robert Ruggiero; first vice-president, Mrs. Alan Goldenberg; second vice-president, William Adler; secretary, Mrs. Edward Mayer; treasurer, Joseph O'Donnell.

Borough boys between the ages of nine and 12 are eligible to play in the league. Any interested in registering for the 1976-77 season should contact George Fischer at 233-5199.

Carter wins 'beauty contest' but uncommitteds triumph

In usual primary tradition, only a small segment—1,504—of Mountainside's 5,046 registered voters turned out to cast ballots in Tuesday's election—and those who showed up at the polls gave their support to party-backed candidates.

Nicholas Bradshaw and Abe Suckno, unopposed Republican incumbents seeking reelection to Borough Council, received 797 and 779 votes, respectively. Elias Hoffman, lone Democratic candidate for a seat on the governing body, received 226.

Mountainside's Democrats supported, as did their party-mates through the state, Jimmy Carter for president, but selected an uncommitted slate of delegates to represent them at next month's national convention. And for district delegates, they picked one uncommitted and one Carter supporter.

Carter garnered 137 votes in the "beauty contest" portion of the ballot, so-called because the results do not govern delegate voting. Frank Church was second, but far behind, with 37. Other tallies here were: Ellen McCormack, 27; Henry Jackson, 22; George Wallace, 14; John Gonas, Frank Lomiento and Jesse Gray, one each; Ray Rollinson and Floyd Langer, none.

On the GOP side, President Gerald Ford, unopposed, garnered 690 votes from Mountainside's strong Republican community.

The GOP voters also chose the Regular Republican national convention delegate slate

DOT conducts public session today on Rt. 78

The State Department of Transportation will conduct a public information session today from 3 to 9 p.m. at the Deerfield School, Central Avenue, Mountainside, to review aspects of its recently released Environmental Impact Statement on Rt. 78, as well as the proposed alignments for the superhighway from Berkeley Heights to Springfield.

At today's program, a borough citizens' committee will have petitions for residents' signatures, requesting that DOT ensure the highway follow the original route through the Watching Reservation and expressing opposition to the "South of Park Lane" alternative, which would take a sizable chunk of the community's prime residential area.

The committee is headed by Mrs. Robert Greeley of Ridge drive, who was appointed by

MTA president opposes board decision on nurse

"The recent action taken by the Board of Education in eliminating the fulltime position of school nurse is regarded with grave concern by the Mountainside Teachers' Association," said Charles Carson, MTA president, in a statement released this week.

"Next year there will be no nurse on duty in the Mountainside schools from 8:30 to 10:15 a.m. or from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Since it is unrealistic to expect pupils to limit their accidents and illnesses to the middle of the day when part-time nurses are on duty, we are concerned about the medical attention sick or hurt children can expect. Who will look after them?" Carson asked.

"Care will have to be provided by teachers, administrators and school secretaries, none of whom have been trained to handle medical problems and all of whom have other responsibilities.

"Will staff members be liable to legal action arising from efforts to help a hurt or sick child when no medical personnel are present?"

"Prohibited by law from leaving a class unsupervised, must a teacher choose between his concern and compassion for a sick or hurt child and his classroom responsibility?"

"Who will administer the specially prescribed medications so many of our children receive daily during school hours?"

"Is it right to ask school personnel to provide health care for which they lack aptitude and training, and which at the same time takes them from the duties for which they have been hired?"

"We are aware of the budgetary problems which have led to eliminating a fulltime nurse in Mountainside schools, but can the economy measure be justified where the children's well-being is concerned?"

Council meeting set

The Mountainside Borough Council will hold its June monthly meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Beechwood School. The session, originally set for Tuesday night, has been rescheduled to permit several councilmen to attend their children's graduation ceremonies.

Prince's Farm's Jenkins, Rosenthal one-hit Bunnell, 1-0

In a spectacular pitching duel in the Springfield Minor League playoffs, Prince's Farm's Louis Jenkins and Andy Rosenthal combined to pitch a one-hit 1-0 victory over Bunnell Brothers. It was the fifth straight no-hit game in which Rosenthal had participated. Prince's Farm won on the base running by John Smith. After Smith walked, Steve Srednick hit a grounder to short and was thrown out. On the overthrow to third, Smith scored, the winning run. Getting hits for the victory were Richard Kesselhaut and Andy Rosenthal. Brothers Kenneth and Steven Deitz combined on Louis Jenkins' shot back to the box to throw out Kesselhaut attempting to score. Bunnell's Scot Klink pitched no-hit ball for three innings. With one out in the fifth, Jay Siegel lined a shot to Paul Steive at second, who caught it and doubled up Linda Bongiovanni who threw the ball to Steven Stieckler at first. For you earlybirds that get there on Sunday between noon and 2 p.m. I will be in the kitchen to add my personal touch to your hamburger or brattwurst, etc. Getting back to the Rheingold tourney, I don't know when it will start yet but I have been told that the games will be played on Wednesday, nights this summer instead of Friday nights as in the past. There will be two games each night of the tourney with the best teams in the area participating.

SOCCER SCENE

By BILL WILD
I think the people of this area really don't know what soccer talent plays at Farcher's on Sunday afternoons in those German American Soccer League Matches. I looked at the lineup of the game on TV last Sunday and came up with a few interesting facts...I am speaking of the game that the New York Cosmos lost to the Tampa Bay Rowdies, 5-1. Arnold Mausser, goalie for Tampa, is from the New York area and one of Manny Schellscheidt's boys. Aguste, the Haitian player of Tampa played for the Lancers after the World Cup matches were over. Joe Fink of Tampa, the former Cosmo, was a junior and senior player with a New York team and played against the Lancers many times. A look at the Cosmos' side of the roster and we see George Siega, who was with the German Hungarians for many years and played against the Lancers. The Cosmos' defensive star Bob Smith played with the Lancers for two years before going to the Philadelphia Atoms. So you see, Farcher's Grove has been the proving grounds for many of the players in the NASL. A soccer match between the two Farcher's Grove home teams, the Elizabeth Lancers and the Union County SC, will kick off this year's "International Sports and Dance Festival" at Farcher's Grove Saturday at 4 p.m. Soccer fans will get a look at the teams that the two clubs will use in the Rheingold Tournament this summer. The festivities start at 5 p.m. on Saturday, night and at noon on Sunday. The annual affair—sponsored by the Elizabeth SC and the Bavarian Club of Newark—will offer food, drink plus

Red Sox edge Yankees, 6-3; White Sox trip Angels, 16-13

As the time for playoffs near in Springfield Girls' American League softball, the games are closer due to better pitching, hitting and fielding. Wednesday, both games were decided by three runs. The Red Sox nipped the Yankees, 6-3, and the White Sox edged the Angels, 16-13. The Red Sox's Nancy Carpenter and Melissa Zandell each belted out a triple while Melissa Monticello and Lisa Hartman had extra base hits. The Reds had six hits in the final inning to beat the Yankees. The Red Sox's Linda Graziano teamed with catcher Marcy Inselberg in a pitching duel with Yankees pitcher Karen Wisniewski and Cheryl Pittenger. Nancy Carpenter at shortstop, Melissa Monticello, Diane Grieco at short field, Valerie LiCausi and Donna Albert at center played errorless ball. The Red Sox are coached by Laurie Powell and Ann Maguire. Diane Torres was the leading batter for the Yankees. Diane Tesse hit a double and Mary Ann Booger hit a triple but was tagged out at home plate. Ellen Baumel made two great catches at second base to aid the Yankees' defense. The White Sox came up with eight hits in the final inning to nip the improved Angels. Ellen Goldstein and Dawn Delia hit RBI doubles. Patty Harrison, Marie Prier and Patty Boffa also batted in runs. Cara Novich was the winning pitcher. The Angels' pitchers were troubled by lack of control and walked in the winning run. Eileen Penn and Ann Marie Cook sparked the team with home runs. Friday, the Angels and Indians went into extra innings before the Angels won, 17-11. Lynn Murray completed an unassisted double play and Eileen Haws had an outstanding catch at third base. Debbie Vogt played well at first. Karen Hudgins had her first major league grand slam. Barbara Marianino, Lisa Weltchek and Ann Marie Cook hit home runs for the improved Indians. Ruth Brown hit a homer. Nancy Kennedy led the batting with four hits as everyone on the team got on base at least once. Sue Carehman was the most improved defensive player. Cathy Markwith made three great plays in rightfield. Ruth Brown and Lisa Kiefer played superb defense. The Red Sox trounced the Royals, 15-2. Nancy Carpenter had two home runs, Melissa Monticello a double, Linda Graziano a triple and Linda Telsner a double to pace the Red Sox. Pecorara and Marcy Inselberg played good defense. Kathy Ehrhardt had a triple and two RBI and Paula Edelcreek and Adele Doerrier scored for the Royals.

Lafayette degrees awarded

Two Mountainside residents received bachelor's degrees at Lafayette College's 141st commencement exercises Sunday in Easton, Pa.
A bachelor of arts degree in chemistry was awarded to Marian L. Simonson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Root of Wyoming drive. Two degrees—a bachelor of science in civil engineering and a bachelor of arts in economics—were presented to Willard R. Whitbred Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard R. Whitbred of Wood Valley road.
Simonson, a 1972 graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, was a dean's list student and a member of the Maroon Key Society. She was a candidate for honors in chemistry.

Whitbred, also a 1972 graduate of Gov. Livingston and a member of the Maroon Key Society, was also a member of his freshman class council, a head resident advisor and a summer orientation counselor.
Commencement speaker was U.S. Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon, a 1952 Lafayette graduate. The baccalaureate address was given by Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum of the American Jewish Committee, who was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree.

provision the superintendent can request additional funds, if needed.
Hanigan failed to win approval of a $75 fee submitted for extra clerical work in preparing the transportation policy, including bus lists and state reports related to it. He also had submitted a list of 1976-77 organization and subscription fees, to be paid by the board. After this also failed to win approval, it was tabled for further discussion.
The board did approve a refuse disposal with Somerset Carting Co., Inc., Garwood, at a fee of $1,000 for the 1976-77 school year. Somerset Carting was the lowest of five bidders.
Board secretary John McDonough noted it was the first time in at least 15 years that more than one bid had been received on this item. He said he had asked the various company representatives why there were additional bidders this year and was told, "There's a lot of competition now."

Heritage unit sets October date for 'Pageant of U.S.'

The Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee has begun preparations for what it terms the borough's major Bicentennial celebration—"A Bicentennial Pageant of These United States," scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 2.
The day's program is to begin with a morning parade, with the balance of events taking place at both Deerfield and Our Lady of Lourdes school grounds off Central avenue. Entertainment, games, exhibits, contests, square dancing and rock music will be among the attractions. Refreshments will be served.
The committee held its first pageant planning meeting last month, with representatives of various civic, religious, service and social organizations and ethnic groups in attendance. The next meeting is scheduled June 17 at 8:15 p.m. in the Deerfield School all-purpose room.
Committee chairman Matt Powers noted, "There is a need for additional help among such ethnic national groups as Czechoslovakia, Israel, France, Spain, Greece and Ireland." He urged anyone interested in participating in the festival to contact Pat Hanigan at 232-4512, Shirley Horner at 232-2894, or Jean Powers at 232-4929.
Since 1973, the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee has sponsored several pre-Bicentennial events, including a Heritage Workshop, International Festival, Youth Art Festival, Bicentennial Ball and Ballad for Americans.

Letters to Editor

HIGHWAY PATH
I don't know, it just doesn't make sense. If Rt. 78 is rerouted, it would mean nothing but destruction of homes and disruption of families, besides millions of wasted dollars.
On the other hand, if Rt. 78 is built through the Reservation, it would be a scenic route. We could see the splendor of the Reservation and the beauty of its greenery.
Now that Rt. 78 West is open we are enjoying the magnificent countryside with its rolling hills. Why, it's hard to believe you are still in New Jersey.
But, alas, when one talks about common sense, it just isn't common anymore.

Ferryboat show presented by PS

Public Service Electric and Gas Company is presenting a Bicentennial show five days a week aboard a 75-year-old ferryboat at Burlington.

The 24-minute presentation, which is being offered in a 140-seat auditorium on the "Second Sun," is entitled "New Jersey 200." Using five 35 mm still projectors, a 16 mm film projector and a laser beam, it traces the history of the state from its early days.

The "Second Sun" was formerly docked near the utility's site for a nuclear power generating station in Salem County. It was moved to the refurbished waterfront area at Burlington in connection with that community's Bicentennial program.

Visitors to the ferryboat receive a pamphlet and a map showing homes occupied by historic figures. The "Second Sun" is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, and from noon to 6 p.m. Sundays.

Standards change announced by VA

Disabled veterans who are entitled to purchase or replace adaptive equipment for their automobiles with government financial assistance should check first with the Veterans Administration to make certain the equipment has been approved, the VA said this week.

New VA standards as to the quality and safety of such equipment went into effect Jan. 1.

Under the VA program, a one-time grant of up to $3,300 is available to eligible veterans for the purchase of an automobile.

The VA will then provide financial assistance in purchasing special adaptive equipment which will allow the vehicle to be operated by paralyzed persons or amputees.

Park commission faces police chiefs' challenge

The Union County Park Commission, embroiled in an attempt to maintain its semi-autonomous status in county government, faces a legal battle initiated by the Union County Police Chiefs Association, according to Linden Police Chief Domenico Lello.

The Union County Board of Freeholders unanimously approved a plan by the chiefs' association to use the site of an old Nike missile base in the Watchung Reservation for a firearms training range.

The park commission, however, has refused to give approval and is suing the freeholders for

Pap test reducing uterine cancer toll

The Task Force to Conquer Uterine Cancer, organized by the Union County unit of the American Cancer Society four years ago, said it is well on the way to meeting its goal of pap tests for every woman 20 years of age or older in the county by the end of 1976.

"It has been widely reported that New Jersey has the highest cancer rate in the nation," said Mrs. William Backman, chairman of the unit's task force, "but the death rate for uterine cancer is significantly lower in New Jersey than in most other states. I think we can attribute this, in part, to the work of the uterine task force."

She observed that two years ago, a Gallup poll showed that almost 9 in 10 women were aware of the Pap test that can detect uterine cancer, and that 78 percent of the nation's women had taken the test. Four years earlier the Gallup survey showed that 53 percent had taken the test.

The uterine task force was organized as an educational group, although it sometimes sponsors free Pap screenings to target population groups who are in a high risk category or who do not know the importance of a Pap test.

More information on the uterine cancer task force may be obtained by calling the Union County unit at 354-7373.

Award set by C. of C. for service

The Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce will resume the annual presentation of a community Service Award this year, according to Stewart H. Stabley, of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, chairman of the Chamber's public relations committee.

The award will recognize overall outstanding community service by an individual who lives or works in Eastern Union County, which includes Kenilworth, Linden, Mountainside, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union and Winfield.

The Chamber Screening Committee will continue to accept nominees for the award until June 21. Entry blanks can be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce office at 352-0900. Nominees need not be a chamber member and anyone may make a nomination.

The person selected by the Chamber's selection committee will be honored at the chamber's annual meeting, Wednesday evening, Sept. 22, at the Holiday Inn-Jetport, Routes 1-9, Elizabeth.

Walker elected CPA president

Fredric S. Walker of Edison has been elected president of the 505-member Union County Chapter of the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants for 1976-77.

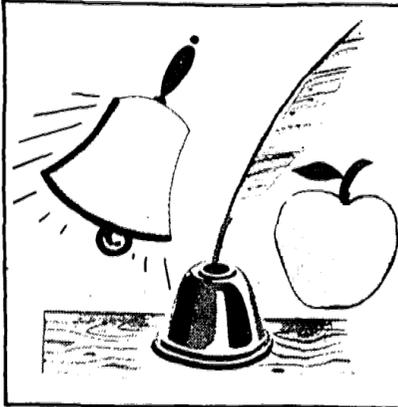

Walker formed his own firm last year. Earlier, he had been a partner in Goldstein & Walker, and had been with Wiss & Co., Goldblat & Levine, Landis and Landis and Redfield, Blonsky & Co.

the right to retain control of the park land. The park commission, at a recent meeting with members of the unit, urged the chiefs' group to consider expansion of the firing range in the Tremley section of Linden at county expense.

Lello said the range there is inadequate for training of policemen with rifles and shotguns. He said the association now sends cadets from the police academy in conjunction with Union College to Sayreville in Middlesex County, the closest community with adequate firearms training facilities.

To expand the Linden facility, Lello said,

EDUCATION IN POST-WAR ELIZABETHTOWN

During the period just prior to the Revolutionary War several schools were conducted in Elizabethtown. In addition to the Tapping Reeve Classical School (Elizabethtown Academy) other schools including a boarding school for boys was opened by Robert Cather in 1762 with special emphasis given English oratory and moral virtues. Another institute of learning was run by James Conn where a boy could gain knowledge in mathematics, accounting, navigation and drawing.

In 1775 a young ladies' school, located on New Point Road, was opened by William and Sarah Long. Its purpose was to prepare the young girls of the area for their adult years. None of these private schools, with the exception of the North End School located on the outskirts of the town, lasted very long for one reason or another.

When Francis Barber, headmaster of the Classical School, swapped his headmaster's garb for that of a major's uniform in the Third New Jersey Regiment just about marked the end of schooling in Elizabethtown for the duration.

In the year 1790, with the war over and Elizabethtown rapidly recovering from its effects, the city once again went about regaining its reputation as an educational center. The previous year the Presbyterians had rebuilt the Elizabethtown Academy on the site of the old academy that had been burned by the British during the war. The headmaster was Patrick Murdock who also taught Latin Grammar. He was followed by Colonel John Taylor who had seen service in the Army during the war. The Academy's Board of Trustees were several of the town's leaders including Governor William Livingston, Jonathan Dayton, Aaron Ogden, Matthias Williamson and Mayor John DeHart. These men took an active interest in the Academy, and it was common practice for them to attend quarterly exercises in order to watch the students display their learning.

Private schools were common in Elizabethtown at this time, and, unlike the Academy, were operated by the owners with an eye toward profits. Not all of these schools were successful, but many of the better ones continued for years. Among the men and women who conducted private schools during this period were Fanny Bryant, George Kinne, Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Rankin.

Elizabethtown, during this time in its history, had a large French population. Many of these French refugees opened schools which specialized in dancing, music and art which found favor among the young ladies. The men and boys were interested in the fencing instructions that were offered while men and women of all ages took courses in the French language.

The popularity of the French culture was at an all-time high. Most of the schools offered French courses, and occasionally hired a French teacher. James Stevenson, headmaster of the Academy, established a French department which students could avail themselves of after school hours.

Offering some competition to the French was one James Mitchell, a native of Scotland, who taught in Elizabethtown for nearly 30 years. As a special attraction, Mitchell taught the dancers of the town the "Caladonian Trip" and Aldridge's "Highland Laddie."

In 1806, the Adelphian Academy was founded in Elizabethtown. It was located at Elizabeth Avenue and Scott Place. The funds necessary for it to operate were provided by local stockholders. Dr. Matthias Williamson was the first president of the Board of Trustees, and its first headmaster was Isaac Crane. He was succeeded by Joseph Periam Jr., who had held the same position at the Elizabethtown Academy for 6 years, but who had lost the post when he was sent to debtor's prison.

The Adelphian Academy lasted for approximately 50 years. It was then converted to a public school, and in 1865 was demolished to make room for the building of a City Hall.

During this period many of the larger, more famous, homes in Elizabethtown were used as quarters by the private schools. Among these were Boxwood Hall and the Belcher House on East Jersey Street, the Old Chateau on Rahway Avenue as well as the Carteret Arms and the Union Hotel.

Elizabethtown's reputation as an educational center continued to grow through the years following the revolution and by 1815 was recognized as a city whose educational facilities were among the best in the country.

would require acquisition of eight to 10 acres of prime industrial land and the trucking in of much fill to create a safe range. The value of the land, he said, is roughly $80,000 per acre, meaning that a new range in Linden would cost easily in excess of $1 million.

"I don't think the board of freeholders is ready to spend that kind of money, when we already have the idle land available," Lello said.

Did You Know

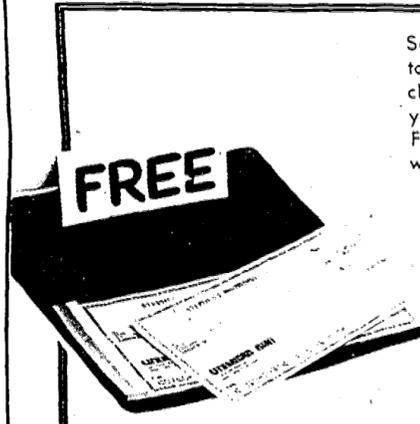

... that not all the schools in Elizabethtown in the early 1800's were private schools that catered only to the well-to-do. There was the Manual Labor School that combined manual labor with book learning. Along with attending classes each boy was required to spend 3 hours a day at some manual labor in a workshop provided by the school, and, in this way, earn most of the cost of his education. It was estimated that if would cost no more than 60 dollars a year to attend after earnings were deducted.

BUYING WISELY

From Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York, Inc.

Dear Larrie:
I entered a contest being offered by a large recording organization. There are chances to win three or four substantial prizes and hundreds of credit checks as additional prizes. I really don't expect to win any of the big prizes, but feel there may be a chance of winning a credit check. Would I really be winning a prize if I receive one of these checks? In the past when I did win something similar, I somehow felt I was the loser.

PESSIMISTIC

Dear Pessimistic:
This is definitely an old gimmick used by merchants to lure customers into their place of business. These credit checks are supposedly good for $50 or some other sum—but the usual retail price of the merchandise is often increased to offset the credit check allowance.
Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

try, would you know which one of the known processes would help me most?

CHEATED

Dear Cheated:
There is no known preparation, system of exercise or mechanical device which may be properly offered to the public to increase the size of the female breast. Estrogenic (hormone) preparations cannot be used with safety except under a physician's supervision, and then may produce satisfactory results in a minority of cases. Be very wary of gadgets and promises, for they can harm you.
Larrie O'Farrell, Better Business Bureau

Dear Larrie:
I have ambitions of becoming a famous songwriter and musician. I have written a number of songs that I'd like to have published and recorded. I don't know how to go about making these ambitions a reality. What should an amateur songwriter and musician know and do to promote his best interest?

AMBITIOUS

Dear Ambitious:
Deal only with a firm with established reliability. Information can be obtained by calling your Better Business Bureau; get legal advice before signing papers, check with other clients of the concern. MOUNTAINTOP HIGH-RISE—Rentals are being accepted at Claridge House II, new 12-story, 336-unit complex located on First Mountain at Claridge drive and Rt. 23 (Pompton Avenue) in Verona. Built by the Terminal Construction Co. of Wood Ridge, the structure offers one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments, priced from $580 a month, including utilities.

Formal opening is held for Claridge House II, 336-apartment complex

"Impressive," "massive," and "elegant" were the words heard most often at the recent formal opening of Claridge House II, the modern high-rise on First Mountain in Verona. The enthusiastic response was in reaction to the king-sized apartments, the Olympic-sized swimming pool, cabana health club, and other amenities.

An initial group of tenants has already moved into the Y-shaped, 12-story, 336-unit complex at Claridge drive and Rt. 23 (Pompton Avenue). Rentals reportedly are moving briskly.

Being developed by Terminal Construction Corp. of Wood-Ridge, Claridge House II offers one-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments renting from $580 per month, including all utilities. One bedroom units have from 1,300 to 1,600 square feet; two-bedroom units feature an average of 1,800 square feet of space, and three-bedroom complexes have more than 2,400 square feet of space.

Appointments begin with the porte cochere entrance, with uniformed doorman who greets tenants and guests to the 13-acre complex. The lobby features an entire wall of cascading water and rooms for social activities, such as the Highland Lounge for parties and card games.

Bay Ridge has sellout

Bay Ridge, Scarborough's single family community located in Toms River, has been sold out.

According to the Northern New Jersey division manager, Greg DiSabatino, the community sold out because of its location in a cul-de-sac, tree-lined area with space to spare between homes, because it has five popular models in the Scarborough collection, and because its custom-type construction offers luxury, time and money saving convenience "plus an unprecedented resale value."

Three other Scarborough collections are Weatherly at Toms River, Cedars at Dover and Fox Hollow at Manchester.

apartment; separate breakfast areas; sliding glass doors opening to balconies (two in the three-bedroom complexes); room-entry foyers, individually controlled central air-conditioning; kitchens equipped with automatic dishwashers and clothes washer and dryer, double ovens with self-cleaning features, side-by-side no-defrost refrigerators with automatic ice makers, and custom cabinets. Baths have dressing room areas and vanities with cultured marble tops.

The mountaintop retreat has the Olympic-size swimming pool, health club with twin exercise rooms for men and women, saunas, and tennis courts, as well as other recreational features.

Nearby are private and public golf courses.

Apartments purchased

Gebroe Hammer Associates, a Clifton-based investment realty firm, has arranged the sale of a 34-unit apartment complex in Verona. The transaction involved cash above a mortgage of $900,000. The property had been built and owned by the seller's family for approximately 20 years.

According to Martin O'Hara, G.H.A. vice president and Norman Lutz, sales representative, the property consists of two two-story garden apartment structures at 30 Lakeview pl. and 40 Verona pl. The property was sold to an investment company of suburban Essex County.

Gebroe Hammer Associates is involved in investment and commercial real estate on a

'Empty nesters' offered alternative at Eastpointe

"Empty nester" is a term used often in the real estate industry. It seems an flattering, yet it connotes a particular type of homebuyer—the person or couple whose children have grown and who is currently living in a house that is too large.

"Empty nesters" can be in their 40s or 60s or 70s, but all usually have several things in common. They live in a too large house; they pay high maintenance costs; they have paid off all or a substantial portion of their mortgage.

What, then, are the alternatives? For one thing, an "empty nester" can remain in the oversized home. If the mortgage is all but paid off, the only major monthly expenses are taxes, maintenance and utilities.

Or, an "empty nester" can sell his home and move into a rental apartment.

While these courses of action are possible, both may also leave a good deal to be desired.

If an "empty nester" remains in that large house, he must content with its demands. He also may be relatively isolated from friends and family. And should he wish to enjoy recreational activities, such as swimming or tennis, he must join a swim or racquet club.

An "empty nester" who sells his home and rents an apartment must give up the sizable tax deductions he enjoyed as an owner. This is because renters are not allowed to deduct mortgage interest or real estate tax payments, as homeowners are.

So where does the "empty nester" belong? Many believe that a condominium is the best alternative, because it offers residents the best of both worlds—the leisurely lifestyle of a rental apartment with the tax deductions and equity appreciation of single-family home ownership.

Generally, condominiums also provide onsite recreational facilities that are normally unavailable to either private homeowners or apartment renters. In addition, if an individual sells his home and purchases a condominium, without having to obtain a mortgage because of the cash available from the sale of his former home, his only monthly expenses will be taxes, utilities and maintenance charges. The real estate taxes are a deductible item for income tax purposes.

Assuming that the condominium concept is best suited to the empty nester's lifestyle, which condominium should be chosen? He can move to an "adult" condominium or planned retirement community. Here he will enjoy the company of adults his own age, but only adults in their late 30s, or even couples in their late 30s, are allowed to live in "adult" condominium communities.

The other condominium alternative also offers maintenance services and resort facilities, but is not restricted to adults over 55 years of age.

One such condominium, Eastpointe in the Highlands, can hold a special attraction for many "empty nesters." While Eastpointe is certainly not an "adult" condominium (many homeowners are younger couples), the oceanfront high-rise does provide the kind of lifestyle many mature adults prefer. Eastpointe's sponsor is General Electric Credit Corp., a company known nationwide.

Mature homeowners at Eastpointe currently enjoy a wide range of on-premises recreational facilities, including an all-weather composition tennis court, heated swimming pool, private penthouse clubroom with bar and panoramic window walls, men's and women's health spas with exercise rooms, saunas, lockers and showers, as well as a lounge and billiards room.

Eastpointers live in one-bedroom, one-bedroom with den and two-bedroom, two-bedroom condominiums that provide such amenities as private balconies, valet parking, round-the-clock doorman, closed-circuit TV and intercoms.

The condominium homes at Eastpointe range from $35,990 to $71,500 with as little as $1,800 down. Eastpointe is currently offering 7 1/2 percent 30-year mortgages to qualified purchasers. There are no closing costs.

Eastpointe is situated on the highest point on the Atlantic seaboard and provides ocean or land views from each home.

According to the director of sales at Eastpointe, "The view is obviously a big part of Eastpointe's special appeal. People want to be able to see the water—the ocean, Sandy Hook Bay and the New York Harbor. And I'm very pleased that so many of our homes, even those on the first floor, provide sweeping oceanfront panoramas."

Located in the village of Highlands, Eastpointe is about 13 miles east of Garden State Parkway Exit 117, off Rt. 36.

Luv's home cost includes furniture and appliances

As an observer of the trends in home purchasing today, the developer of Luv Condominium in Stanhope feels that the retirees who are staying in New Jersey and selling their older and larger homes might be looking for a complete change—not only to a smaller home or condominium, but also in interior decoration.

"Many retirees have been waiting for just this moment to start anew—not only by selling their home but also by buying new furniture," a Luv spokesman said. "Finally, they have a choice. At Luv, the new home, the furniture, the appliances, are all included in one price and one down payment.

"The furniture is provided by the Velvet Shoestring store in South Orange. The furnished homes in Stanhope are available for inspection."

Luv at Stanhope is not a retirement community, however, and anyone can buy. "It is believed that many people who retire would enjoy living in a community of all age brackets that has the ingredients to make retirement life comfortable," the spokesman said.

The Tryst model, for $37,990 fully furnished, includes a family room, powder room, storage room and laundry room on the lower level, with an open-well staircase leading to the living area of over 22 feet. The master bedroom is approximately 15 feet by 11 feet with a walk-in closet and full bath with vanity. A fully-equipped kitchen has sliding glass doors leading to an open balcony.

There are other units available from $29,990 to $46,990. Models are open seven days a week. Many homes are ready for early occupancy.

Luv at Stanhope is reached by taking Rt. 80 west to Stanhope exit, bear right on exit ramp and follow sign to Rt. 183; cross over Rt. 183 onto Dell road; continue up hill on Dell road and you'll be at Luv.

MODERN DECOR—Two vinyl loveseats with matching chair, laminated cube and parsons tables, chrome and glass desk with chrome and vinyl chair, and chrome lamp are featured in the living room of the Tryst model at Luv at Stanhope. The home, fully-furnished, is priced at $37,990.

"We've been very happy with the interest generated by this collection of homes," said developer Kevork S. Hovnanian. "Now that the models are completed, we expect to set an even greater sales pace."

Galaxy complex to be completed by July deadline

Galaxy, the new luxury apartment community on the Palisades, will be completed on schedule, according to Allan Waller, vice-president of the Tishman Construction Co.

Washington Bridge. Among the "finds" encountered in constructing Galaxy, Waller said, were deep, brick-lined, man-made caves in the face of the Palisades cliff. The caves, probably used originally as aqueducts for a brewery once located on top of the cliff, later became mushroom farms that produced substantial crops for the New York market. Along the river bank itself, there are the remains of wooden structures from which professional fishermen strung their nets for the annual shad run each spring.

Construction began two years ago, Waller noted, with July 15, 1976, as the projected date for the completion of the first of Galaxy's three residential towers—and that deadline is being met.

Galaxy is the joint venture of Beller & Partners and the Prudential Insurance Co. The architect is Gruzen & Partners.

Built at a cost of $75 million, the complex is the largest and highest apartment community in New Jersey. The Galaxy buildings include the three towers, a shopping center, health club, indoor and outdoor swimming pools, movie theater and 10-floor parking garage.

Galaxy was held to a tight day-by-day schedule throughout construction by means of computerized scheduling, Waller said. The octagonal shape of the towers presented a challenge, but costs were not appreciably higher than those for more conventional designs because the construction team took advantage of the repetitions involved in building the three towers, he explained.

The site presented a challenge as well, stated Waller. Galaxy starts at the foot of the Palisades, unlike any of its neighbors, and uses the face of the Palisades cliff for apartment units and the parking garage. Resting on this base, the towers stand high above the Hudson River, offering views from New York harbor to the George

USDA establishes standards for 'combination' products

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has announced interim standards of composition for newly-developed "combination" products—traditional cured meats such as hams, pork loins and corned beef rounds to which have been added isolated soy protein or other nonmeat protein products.

According to USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), a proposal to amend Federal Meat Inspection Regulations—to replace these interim standards—will be published shortly seeking public comment. The interim standards were effective May 28 and, unless rescinded sooner, will remain in effect until completion of that proposed rulemaking.

The interim standards will allow firms to apply for labels for these products and will provide USDA time to consider nutritional and labeling requirements of the consumer. APHIS said.

APHIS officials said that in recent years, the use in meat products of nonmeat, high protein foods (such as soy, milk and wheat products) has reached significant proportions in an effort to better utilize existing sources of protein. Technology has now developed to the point where a nonmeat high protein product, like isolated soy protein, can be combined with a traditional piece of meat—such as a fresh ham or beef round. The process produces a highly nutritious but less expensive combination meat food choice.

These new products have been marketed under labeling which APHIS officials said was not as fully informative as necessary and without nutritional parameters. APHIS was being asked to approve new labels for other firms that wanted to begin producing these products.

The interim regulations are designed to allow production of these foods and to provide appropriate descriptive labeling. This is necessary so that the consumer is readily aware that these products are different from the traditional pieces of meat, APHIS said. The interim regulations will require that they be labeled, for example, as "Combination Ham Product" or "Combination Corned Beef Product." In addition, the minimum percentage of meat content must be shown immediately following the standard name, for example, "Combination Ham Product, 65 percent Ham." The complete list of ingredients will then follow.

Other provisions of the action require that the finished product:

- Contain at least 17 percent protein;
- Contain a moisture-protein ratio of 4 or less to 1; consistent with the traditional cooked, cured product; and
- Contain a nonmeat protein food fortified, as necessary, so that the finished feed compares substantially with other specific nutritive characteristics—such as vitamins and minerals—of the traditional product.

In addition, processors manufacturing "combination meat products" must obtain advance approval of their labels, equipment and processing procedures, and develop an approved quality control system to ensure the finished product complies with the total nutrition, vitamin, and mineral content requirements prior to starting operations.

The interim standard was published in full in the May 28 Federal Register.

July 4 validation of Savings Bonds allowed purchaser

WASHINGTON — As a special Bicentennial commemoration, the Department of the Treasury will allow Series E Savings Bonds issuing agents — most commercial banks and many savings and loan associations — to provide over-the-counter purchasers with a special July 4, 1976, validation date for all Bicentennial-design Series E bonds bought during the month of July.

In announcing the special program, Francine I. Neff, national director of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division and Treasurer of the United States, said, "We are extremely pleased to be able to offer all our citizens a chance to make the purchase of Savings Bonds a truly Bicentennial event. Bonds carrying the date of our nation's 200th birthday make marvelous souvenirs — and they will grow in value with the years they are held."

Each financial institution which issues Series E Bonds over-the-counter may determine whether or not it will participate in this commemoration, and determine which bonds issued during July will be eligible for the July 4 validation date.

For record-keeping purposes, agents will be required to maintain a record of the exact date of issue for each bond specially dated. The July 4 dating applies only to the agent's validation stamp, not to the issue date of the bond which is expressed only in month and year — "July 1976" in this case. The bonds will bear interest from July 1, 1976, regardless of the validation date. There are more than 35,000 authorized Savings Bonds issuing agents nationwide. Bonds purchased through payroll savings plans are not eligible for the special dating.

Waterloo Village plans jazz picnic

The New Jersey Jazz Society and the producers of the Newport Jazz Festival will team up to bring an array of jazz giants to Waterloo Village, Sunday, June 27. The Jazz picnic will be one of the opening events of the 1976 Newport Jazz Festival.

Among the more than 30 musicians who will provide continuous music from noon to 5 p.m. will be Earl "Fatha" Hines, Teddy Wilson, Dick Wellstood, John Bunch, PeeWee Erwin, Bobby Rosengarden, Cliff Leeman, Bucky Pizzarelli and Kenny Davern. New Jersey's the Red Onions Jazz Band with Natalie Lamb and the Jersey Jazz Stompers, with vocals by Nancy Nelson, also will perform.

Red Squires, chairman of the Jazz Society's music committee, said, "Our plan is to spot several groups of musicians as well as individual soloists all around the Village."

"This way, people who stroll through the streets and look into the various Revolutionary buildings will never be out of earshot of, say, Bucky Pizzarelli's guitar or Dick Wellstood's piano."

"The Jersey Jazz Stompers RENT THAT ROOM with a Want Ad. Only 18¢ per word (Min. $3.60). Call 686-7700.

will be on the front porch of the old canal house which sits just across from the head of the old Morris Canal. In a gazebo behind the houses, it will be possible to hear Teddy Wilson and his band."

"Other persons may want to set up their picnic arrangements by the big bandstand and lie in the sun while the Red Onions or young Warren Vache's group plays."

Waterloo's history goes back more than 200 years to a time when it was called Andover Forge. Through its foundries and down its waterways, iron ore and armaments were dispatched to Colonial troops during the Revolution.

Through the efforts of Percy Leach and Lou Gualandi, owners of the Village, all of the mills, shops and houses of the original settlement have been restored and furnished.

Waterloo has previously sponsored several series of classical music but this will be the first venture in a jazz experience.

Tickets for the picnic are available through all Ticketron Agencies and from the New Jersey Jazz Society, 51 Woodland ave., Verona, 07044. Admission prices are $6 for adults and $3 for children under 12.

Veterans require I.D. info to claim benefits overseas

The Veterans Administration has cautioned veterans to check on availability of benefits before traveling or establishing residence abroad.

For example, a veteran with service-connected disabilities, who is an American citizen, should carry with him overseas a statement of his service-connected conditions issued by the VA office maintaining his medical record. If a need for medical care should arise, the statement, together with an application for medical benefits, should be presented to the American embassy or consular office in the country of travel or residence.

In an emergency, an eligible veteran is entitled to VA-paid hospitalization if he notifies the embassy or consular office within 72 hours after hospitalization. Notification of out-patient treatment must be made within 15 days.

Only in the Philippines is care available for both veterans with service-connected disabilities and non-service connected disabilities. Treatment is provided at the Veterans Memorial Hospital in Manila. There, as in the United States, veterans with non-service connected disabilities are eligible only on a space-available basis and only if they are unable to defray expenses.

Retired servicemen are eligible for medical benefits from military hospitals and clinics. GI home loans are not available to veterans living in foreign countries—but compensation and pension checks may be mailed to all overseas addresses, except for certain "blocked" countries.

Eligible veterans, as well as eligible wives, widows and children, are permitted to pursue degrees in many VA approved foreign schools.

Architect Society opposes bill to preserve historic buildings

The New Jersey Society of Architects said this week that the proposed Municipal Preservation Act, which would permit communities to set up commissions that could mandate the preservation of buildings, was "a noble gesture," but might heavily burden some property owners.

"For this reason, and on the basis of past experience, the NJSA opposes the bill, sponsored by State Sen. Joseph W. Tumulty, D-Hudson," the society said.

The bill proposes that governing bodies may establish commissions to identify areas of historic, cultural, architectural, archeological and aesthetic value to the state. Governing bodies may then adopt preservation district ordinances that would govern all structures within the district.

Though in accord with the intent of the bill, Robert F. Grove, AIA, of Elizabeth, president of the society, observed that, "A similar program was proposed recently in Mendham where the area included a 232-year-old restaurant but also homes only a few years old, all to be treated even though only a few were historically worthwhile."

"Other structures within the district ought to have been razed years ago. We feel the concept will not work unless owners wish to and can afford to pay for repairs and for planning board, legal and architectural expenses."

Kean to reopen Haunted House

The Haunted House, a benefit project for the Union County March of Dimes, will again be featured at the Morris Avenue campus of Kean College, Union, from Oct. 8 to 31, college week.

Plans already are under way for the project, which last autumn attracted more than 10,000 people. A Trophy Room, Spider's Parlor and Gas Chamber will be among the new attractions, added to the popular Frankenstein's Lab, Dracula's Funeral and Autopsy Room.

A $1 donation will be accepted at the door, with discounts given to groups of 10 or more.

"Other projects, such as those in Cape May and Charleston, S.C., have worked, but either they were financially feasible or they had 'patrons of the arts' behind them. Still others, like Pennsylvania Station in New York, fell to the wreckers' ball because the money to save them wasn't there and the site had another financially feasible use."

Grove described the bill as "a noble gesture," but said that "unless a community is willing to pump money into it, it will not work in the long run and will place great burdens on some of the owners."

United Bavarians plan beer festival

The 17th annual Bavarian Beer Festival sponsored by the United Bavarians of Greater New York will be held Sunday, June 27, in Schutzenpark, 32nd street and Kennedy boulevard, North Bergen, from noon to 11 p.m. The United Bavarians were organized to uphold Bavarian customs and traditions, according to George Lindner, president.

Entertainment highlights for the day will include the traditional Schuhplattlers (Bavarian folk dancers) in original costume, the Glinka Russian folk dancers in a return engagement, Bavarian and American music for dancing and listening by the Knickerbockers of the Hunter Mountain Beer Festival and the Joe Hosemann band. There will be a parade featuring various flags and traditional Bavarian costumes.

Admission is $2 in advance and $2.50 at the gate, with children under 12 free.

'Lavender Hill Mob' scheduled June 26

Alec Guinness, as a prim, innocuous bank clerk, teams up with Stanley Holloway in an attempt at the perfect crime, the theft of an armored car full of gold in "The Lavender Hill Mob," Saturday, June 26, at 9 p.m. on New Jersey Public Television Channels 50 and 58.

The Guinness classic, fourth in a series of Guinness films in June and July on NJPTV, finds the pair finally melting down the gold into souvenir Eiffel Towers.

LAFF of the WEEK

Population trend will be examined

Which way is the U.S. birth rate going? Will it continue its recent downward course or will it reverse the trend? Is the desire for smaller families continuing in 1976 or not?

John C. Cullinane, director of the Bureau's Regional Office in New York City, announced this week that information to help answer these questions will be collected during the week of June 14 from a sample of households in this area. Questions on birth expectations of American women are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 70,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

Results of this monthly survey provide a continuing measure of economic conditions in the nation. The April survey indicated that of the 94.4 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 87.4 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 7.5 percent, the same as it was in March, but substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Civil Defense issues warning on the possibility of tornados

Spring and summer weather conditions often breed thunderstorms which can spawn tornados. "These weather phenomena occur with only minutes of warning time," State Civil Defense Disaster Control Director J. Morgan Van Hise warned this week.

"Preparedness and precautionary measures should be kept in mind by all New Jersey residents since no part of the state is immune from these natural dangers."

Van Hise said that "when a tornado warning is issued, open some windows in your home, but stay away from them; take shelter in the basement or under heavy furniture in the center area of the house."

"In schools, move quickly to pre-planned shelter areas or to an interior hallway on the lowest floor," Van Hise said. (School districts having no emergency plans should contact Van Hise for assistance in creating a plan.)

"In office buildings, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor or to a designated shelter area."

"In factories, move quickly to pre-planned areas."

"In shopping centers, go to a designated shelter area or at least far away from large display windows. Do not go to your parked car."

"Mobile homes," said Van Hise, "are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and should be evacuated when tornados are forecast." Damage can be minimized by tying down trailers with cables anchored in concrete footing. If there is no shelter nearby, leave the trailer for low, protected ground. Information on tie-down techniques is available from the State Civil Defense Office, Eggert Crossing road, Trenton, 08625.

"In open country," Van Hise said, "move away from the tornado's path at a right angle." If there is no time, lie flat in the nearest depression with your hands shielding your head.

While thunderstorms and tornados are always dangerous, accompanying lightning is the worst killer. "Stay indoors," Van Hise cautions, "and away from electrical appliances while the storm is overhead." If lightning catches you outside keep yourself lower than, and a safe distance from, the nearest high, conductive object.

Handy pocket cards listing tornado, thunderstorm and lightning precautions are available free from State Civil Defense.

A selection of the more significant documents is on exhibition in Speer Library through August.

Groceries' cost stable

Grocery prices in the New York-Northeastern New Jersey area, typically down in April, remained unchanged between March and April, it was reported this week by Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The April index primarily reflected higher prices for fresh produce, frying chicken, and canned coffee which were offset by declines for beef items.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, grocery prices rose 1.0 percent between March and April.

TV MAILBAG 'Adorable' Nolte is still a bachelor

By RICK ROBERTS Q. Can you give any information at all about Nick Nolte, who portrayed Tom in "Rich Man, Poor Man." He is just the most adorable actor I've ever seen.—S.J., Milford, Conn.

A. The "most adorable" Nolte is around 40 years old and a native of Omaha, Neb. He played quite a bit of football for junior colleges in California and Arizona. While living in Greeley, Colo., Nolte joined a little theater group. He continued acting when he later transferred to Pasadena City College. In the 10-year 1962-72 period, Nolte says he appeared in more than 150 plays and has appeared in several series on television.

Nolte is single and lives on a five-acre farm in Southern California. Q. Please give some information on Martin Inerform, as he is my favorite actor. Also, what shows did he work on before "Swiss Family Robinson?"—N.B., Cherry Hill, N.J.

A. Milner, a native of Detroit, is best known for two long-running series in which he starred, "Route 66" and "Adam-12." His parents were both involved in the entertainment industry—his father was a film distributor and his mother had been a dancer.

From Detroit, the Milner family moved to Seattle and then to Hollywood. Milner attended USC for a while where he studied theater arts. He left school to begin his acting career.

His first important film role was as one of the sons in the movie "Life With Father," which starred Irene Dunne and William Powell. After a two-year stint in the Army, where he directed several training films, Milner returned full-time to his acting career.

In 1957, his first major breaks came with roles in "Sweet Smell of Success," and "Marjorie Morningstar." Also that year, Milner was married to television actress and singer June Jones.

The Milners live in Fallbrook, Calif., near San Diego. They have four children.

Drew will present summer class on exceptional child

A course on exceptional children has been added to the July 6-Aug. 3 second session of the Summer School at Drew University, Madison.

The instructor will be Barbara Stone, associate professor of psychology, holder of a distinguished service award from the New Jersey Psychological Association and member of the Board of Directors, Educational Programs of Children Handicapped (EPOCH), Madison.

The course, meeting weekdays from 10 to noon, will review the latest research and theory relating to such categories as emotional disturbance, neurological impairment, minimal brain dysfunction, sensory and motor defects, language disorders, retardation, and giftedness.

Students will be encouraged to develop a critical perspective on normality and to consider the psycho-social functioning of the whole child within the environment. Some field work may be required.

The addition brings to seven the number of psychology courses offered by Drew this summer—including an introduction to the field, together with specialized offerings in vocational psychology and career development for women, the psychology of violence, the psychology of intimacy, independent study, and experimental psychology.

The latter two courses carry prerequisites or require permission from the instructor. The rest are open without restriction to area adults and students on vacation from other colleges and universities.

Complete information about the University's summer programming is available from Dean John McCall at Drew, 377-8000.

Federal appeal planned by school boards group

The New Jersey School Boards Association announced this week it will seek relief in federal court to overturn the state Supreme Court order closing schools after July 1.

NJSBA President William B. Rosenberg said, "The state Supreme Court order cannot stand. We must utilize every avenue open to us."

Byrnes will lead guests at benefit

Gov. and Mrs. Brendan Byrne will head a list of dignitaries who will attend the Garden State Arts Center Gala Benefit on June 22, which marks the opening of the Center's professional season.

The New York Philharmonic, with Leonard Bernstein conducting, will perform a program of American music. William Warfield will make a guest appearance to narrate Aaron Copeland's "Lincoln Portrait."

The evening's entertainment will be preceded by a buffet supper, to be served inside a decorated tent erected on the Arts Center grounds. The buffet and cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m.; the concert will follow at 8:30.

The Garden State Arts Center Cultural Fund, which provides free daytime entertainment for New Jersey school children, summer youth programs, senior citizens, disabled veterans and the blind, will be the recipient of all proceeds from the Gala.

Tickets still are available for the Gala but, early reservations have been urged because of an anticipated large turnout.

For information on the benefit, readers may write to Gala Benefit, New Jersey Highway Authority, Garden State Parkway, Woodbridge 07095; or phone 442-8660.

boards of education in New Jersey to overturn that order. The remedy chosen by the state Court is inequitable and violates the "thorough and efficient" education clause in the state constitution. The children of New Jersey will suffer immeasurable harm if the Court's injunction is put into effect."

The decision to file an appeal in federal court came after the state Supreme Court turned down the Rumson-Fair Haven Regional Board of Education and the NJSBA's request that the state Court modify its May 13 order closing schools on July 1 if legislative inaction continues.

The federal appeal will be based on violations of the due process and equal protection rights guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution. The association feels a challenge can be made in light of the fact that the children of New Jersey are faced with a "total denial" of educational opportunities.

"This denial cannot be allowed," Rosenberg said, "even if it is only a temporary injunction. The human impact of such a denial is devastating: affecting staffs, program planning and development, and most of all, the loss of summer programs designed to meet the concerns of children with special educational needs."

The request by the Rumson-Fair Haven board and the NJSBA to have the spending ban lifted was rejected by a 5-2 vote with Justices Morris Pashman and Worrall Mountain dissenting.

Drew expedition is exploring ruins of Israel port city

Drew University's summer school opened a "branch" in Israel when the Drew-led Joint Expedition to Caesarea Maritima began a sixth consecutive season of digging among the ruins of that huge Roman port city last month.

Principal academic feature of the expedition, which this summer attracted volunteers and experts from 17 of the Consortium's 22 institutional members, is a field school in Middle-Eastern archeology.

One of two such schools offered by Drew this summer, it will be headquartered in a new "dig house" designed and built for the expedition by the resort Kibbutz Sdot Yam. The just-completed single-story structure incorporates a multi-purpose room seating 100 persons, a dark room and accommodations for drafting, equipment storage and artifact registration. It will serve as an educational and operational center for the dig.

Dating from about 20 B.C., Caesarea was planned from scratch on a site about half the size of Manhattan Island. It was King Herod's capital, principal Roman port in the Eastern Mediterranean and Palestine's seat of government for 600 years.

Today, submerged in sand halfway between Haifa and Tel Aviv, it remains the focal point of an important resort and agricultural area.

The Drew team is led by Robert J. Bull, the archeological director for the university and the joint expedition; his wife Vivian, assistant professor of economics, is the expedition registrar.

Some 170 volunteers and staff members will be working at the site in two five-week sessions ending Aug. 6.

The numismatic expert on the team will be the Rev. Frank Ostertag of the United Methodist Church, Leonia. He is the developer

'Nova' asks what to do with defective babies

A segment of the science series, "Nova," will ask ethical questions regarding the future of an electronic coin cleaning machine which was field-tested at Caesarea in 1974 and is now installed in the new dig house. A similar machine in use at Drew was constructed from his design.
