Board's vote rejects student bid on exams

The Regional High School District Board of Education on Monday unanimously turned down a request by students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School to excuse all pupils from final examinations.

The student grievance action followed a board vote earlier this month to make final exams optional for seniors.

Angels subdue Yankees for American title, 10-4

By RICHARD REITER

In the playoff for the second-half Mountainside Little League American League championship, the Angels defeated the Yankees, 10-4. The Angels' hitting attack was led by home runs by Steve Doten and David Gagliano, and a double by Tim Van Name. Brian Miske, Tom Salimbene, and Pat Salimbene starred in the field.

The Yankee effort was led by Jay Mishkin's batting and effective base running by Peter Dachnowicz, Gerry Franciosa, and Kim Marone. John Buckley starred in the field.

In the Major League, a disputed home run by Patrick Esemplare fired up the Mets and carried them to their first victory over the Twins by the score of 12-9. Lenny Caprigione hit two home runs to lead the offensive effort, and he also fielded well, along with Ricky Brahm, Jim Merklinger, and Ricky Julian. Keith Grabowski headed the Twins' attack with two doubles.

Behind the combined pitching of Dan Weiss, Pete Klaskin and Frank Kroll, the Orioles downed the Cubs, 14-8. Kroll also chipped in a home run for three RBI. Glen Delaney hit a home run for the Cubs.

The Giants squeezed by the Braves by a one-run margin, 5-4. David Crane was the winning pitcher, and he hit well, along with Charlie Rodriguez. Rodriguez also fielded well, as did John Cardnel. Anthony D'Addario hit well for the Cubs, and Jim Cleveland fielded effectively.

In a strong game, the Braves edged the Twins, 13-12.

The Senior League Indians came up victorious twice last week. Against the Twins, they won 7-4. Chuck Dooley gained the triumph on the mound, and Chuck Zirked. Al Preziosi and Chip Kane hit strongly. Paul Reiter went the distance for the Twins, and Jeff Brown fielded well.

Against the Tigers, the Indians used a 16-hit attack to score a 16-11 victory. Chuck Dooley and Steve Perry hit home runs, and Rick Souders pitched well in relief. Keith Mirto and Greg Panagos hit well for the Tigers.

During July and August, at dates to be announced, the high school lot also will serve as the glass-in site.

"The Key Club would like to thank all those who helped support the glass-in while it was situated at Echo Plaza, and hopes that the new site will not deter any from helping," a club

The Mountainside Democratic Committee at its recent reorganization meeting elected the following officers for one-year terms: chairman, Albert W. D'Amanda, Hillside avenue; vice-chairwoman, Mrs. Virginia Heinze, Wyoming drive; vice-chairman, Horace R. Cardoni, Short drive; secretary, Mrs. Rose Hoileran, Wood Valley road; treasurer, Mrs. Ingrid D'Amanda, Hillside avenue.

Three district committeepersons were appointed: Mrs. Gail Shields of Deer Path, District 4; William L. Mentlik, Oak Tree court, District 6, and Robert Jaffe, Summit road, District 9.

The committee unanimously endorsed Elias Hoffman of Rolling Rock road, candidate for Mountainside Borough Council. Also endorsed were all Democratic Party candidates seeking public office at the local, state and national levels.

Citizens, Ricciardi oppose DOT alignment proposal

By KAREN ZAUTYK

The New Jersey Department of Transportation held an informal information session at the Deerfield School in Mountainside last Thursday from 3 to 9 p.m. to provide data and answer borough residents' questions on proposed alignments for Rt. 78 over the five-mile gap between Berkeley Heights and Springfield, and on DOT's recently released highway Environmental Impact Statement.

No figures were available on how many local homeowners attended the session, but when this reporter visited the program at night, there were approximately 200 persons viewing route display boards and speaking with highway department representatives.

Mrs. Robert Greeley, who is heading a citizens committee to oppose the "South of Park Line" through petition, noted her group had obtained approximately 1,200 signatures. A total of 718 had been collected at borough hall and through local organizations before last week's program, she said.

The petition, which also backs the original highway route through the heart of the Watchung Reservation, is still available for signing today and tomorrow at Borough Hall. It will be forwarded to J. F. Andrews, director of the division of economic and environmental analysis of DOT in Trenton.

At last week's information session, many of the Mountainsiders in attendance seemed to prefer the original route, particularly because of the "South of Park Line" threat. That alternative is one of 10 covered in the impact statement, copies of which are available for review at Borough Hall.

The special segment of the EIS devoted to the "South of Park Line" notes it would enter the borough just below Far View drive and follow the southern limits of the Watchung Reservation. When the highway reaches Summit road, it would follow the northern limits of the Baltusrol Golf Club, pass through the Houdaille Quarry and meet the completed portion of Rt. 78 in Springfield.

Although the EIS notes "open areas between developments are being used as much as possible to reduce acquisition of houses," it would require the taking of 65 one-family homes, ranging in value from $50,000 to over $175,000.

Construction of this alignment, the EIS states, will not cause any new air pollution violations nor make worse any existing ones, but, it would have the greatest construction noise impact of all the routes. A total of 3,650,000 cubic yards of rock would have to be excavated by blasting and more than four million cubic yards of excess material would be carted through local streets.

Following construction, "residential areas near the highway will experience considerable noise impact," the statement reads. "and 293

SIGNED, SEALED, DELIVERED—The final step in the transfer of the title of the Echobrook School from the Mountainside Board of Education to the Borough Council took place Monday morning with the sale agreement being signed by board president William Biunno (left) and Mayor Thomas Ricciardi at a ceremony on the school lawn. The 1936 portion of the school was sold to the borough for $1 for conversion to a borough hall, with the provision title will revert to the board if it ever ceases to be used as a municipal building. The board retains ownership of the 1903 section of the structure and the surrounding property, but has granted a revocable license to the council to use it for recreation and municipal purposes. The borough will pay for all utilities and maintenance of both buildings and grounds. (Photo-Graphics)

Mrs. Edward W. Love, blood chairman, expressed the need for negative blood. She said, "Not everybody knows his or her blood type, but the best way to find out is to give one unit. If it is negative, all the more important. The percentage of negative blood is small in relation to all blood types.

"Regardless of types, blood itself is always needed. Donate one unit to accommodate all needs."

Borough saves $309 on cost of '76 tax bills

It's costing Mountainside $309.16 less this year to prepare the 1976 tax bills. The saving comes from switching over from Somerset Trust Co.'s computer service, where the borough spent $444.16 last year for preparation of the bills, to Union County's computer center, which computed and printed the 2,550 individual bills for a fee of $135. Once the county received the go-ahead from Tax Collector Ruth Gibadlo, that was needed was to feed information from the assessor's books and the tax rate into the computer. Staff members of the center wrote the programs, which told the computer what steps to take in preparing the bills. In all, the county's computer processed more than 60,000 tax bills for Kenilworth Union, Cranford, Mountainside, Plainfield, Westfield and Rahway. It took the computer 48 hours to print all the bills, and staff members four days to package the papered bills for shipment to the tax collectors in the seven municipalities. "We can handle the whole county with our computer," said program systems analyst Marty Statton, "but we don't start on space because of these special situations. We may have to charge more next year, for overtime, if more towns decide to use our services."

Enrollment record set at UC summer session

A record 2,174 students are enrolled in the first of Union College's two summer sessions, it was announced this week by Prof. John Wheeler, summer session director.

This year's enrollment in Summer Session I represents an increase of 245 students over last year, he said, with students divided almost equally between day and evening sessions. There are 1,118 day students and 1,056 evening students. For the third consecutive year, women outnumber men in the summer session, with 1,197 women and 977 men enrolled.

Summer Session I, which began June 1 and runs through July 9, offers nearly 100 credit courses paralleling the freshman and sophomore offerings at four-year institutions, as well as non-credit developmental courses in English, mathematics and science.

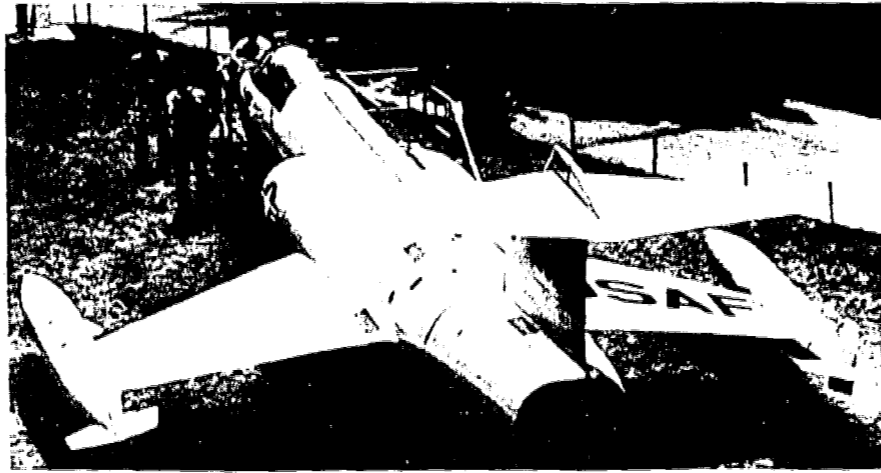

A second six-week summer session will be conducted July 12 through Aug. 19 and also will offer a full program of credit and non-credit courses.

Students from 120 colleges and universities are represented in Summer Session I.

Twenty-seven New Jersey colleges, including Princeton University, Rutgers University, Westminster Choir College, Seton Hall University, College of Saint Elizabeth and Fairleigh Dickinson University are home institutions for summer session students.

Other institutions represented are: Vassar College, Brandeis University, the University of Miami, Cornell University, New York University, the University of Maryland, Loyola University in Chicago, the University of New Mexico, the University of Rhode Island, Delaware State College, Grambling University, the University of Connecticut and Glendon College in Canada.

The majority of students enrolled in Summer Session I are Union County residents, home for the summer. Their reasons for attending summer school, Wheeler noted, range from earning additional credits to making up a low or failing grade.

MANNED 'MISSILE' — A United States Air Force Lockheed F-104 Starfighter, popularly known as "the missile with a man in it," will be on public display on the parking lot at the Union County park Commission's Ice Skating Center in Warinanco Park, Roselle, from Tuesday, June 22 through Saturday, June 26. The Starfighter is the only aircraft in the world to hold simultaneously the world records for speed, altitude and time-to-climb. It rocketed to 82,020 feet in a record time of four minutes 26 seconds in 1958, and in the same year reached a world speed record of 1,404 miles per hour and set a world altitude record of 91,249 feet. More than 1,700 advanced versions of the F-104 are in operational status. Air Force personnel will be at the exhibit to assist visitors and answer questions.

The low cost of tuition was cited by many students as the reason they are attending summer session. Personal enrichment, a means of lightening next year's course load, and inability to find a summer job were other reasons given.

Credits earned at Union College, Cranford, are accepted by most colleges and universities throughout the country, Wheeler stated.

Testing program for adult learning at Union College

Union College's GED (General Education Development) and CLEP (College Level Examination Program) test program will be conducted at the Cranford campus during the months of June, July and August. It was announced recently by Christian A. Hanns of Linden, director.

Testing hours for June are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Room 102 of the Humanities Building. During July and August, testing will be conducted on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Adults interested in earning a high school equivalency diploma or college credits by examination may come and request testing. Hanns said GED tests are offered in both English and Spanish.

The five-part GED examination includes reading, mathematics, composition and social studies. CLEP is a national program that offers adults the opportunity to earn college credits in five general subject areas and in 43 specific subjects.

"Both programs are based on the premise that many adults acquire the equivalent of a high school education or of a college course through independent study and life experiences," Hanns stated.

Since Union College's GED Test Center was opened in 1972, close to 10,000 people have earned high school equivalency diplomas. With the beginning of CLEP testing in 1973, additional thousands have availed themselves of the opportunity to earn college credits by examination.

Additional information on GED and CLEP may be obtained by contacting Hanns at Union College, 276-2600, Ext. 294.

Rinaldo booklet lists money aid for college students

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A comprehensive listing of major sources of financial aid for college students from Union County has been compiled by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo.

The free booklet, "Congressman Rinaldo's Guide to Sources of College Aid," lists scholarships, grant and low interest loans available to New Jersey students and includes advice on procedures to apply for the funds.

Copies of the booklet are being distributed through public libraries in Union County. A limited number also is available to residents of the 12th District at the Congressman's district office, 1961 Morris Ave., Union.

Rinaldo said the booklet was compiled as a result of numerous inquiries from constituents in Union County who are uncertain about qualifying for college assistance. The Union County Congressman said it reflected general dissatisfaction over the rising costs of college that is causing an increasing number of middle class students to drop out of college.

Rinaldo has introduced legislation to provide tax write-offs for tuition and living expenses at public and private colleges. Rinaldo said it was needed to permit more young people to finish their educations.

Liotta criticizes Halpin for ballot

Alfred R. Liotta of Union this week charged that Union County Clerk Walter Halpin's call for reform of the voting ballot make-up is an attempt "to transfer blame for a nightmare of confusion for which he, as one of the election officials assigned the duty of ballot preparation, is both directly and indirectly responsible."

Liotta, the Democratic candidate running against Halpin in November, said Halpin has been "in constant contact with the secretary of state and legislative leaders since the beginning of the year with reference to the preparation of the primary election ballot."

At these meetings, Liotta said, the Republican incumbent "could and should have influenced... the final form of the ballot."

Discussing "the additional confusion caused by the primary crossover law which requires that a change of party affiliation be made prior to 50 days before the primary election," Liotta said that "there were few people in a better position to know of the proposed legislation and influence its final form than the county clerk."

Oil imports necessary

Imported oil still must supply at least 50 percent of America's needs this year, despite increased conservation in the last 18 months, says Ray Whitson, acting deputy director of the Federal Energy Administration's oil import office.

Red Cross needs funds to aid Guam

The Eastern Union County Chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking funds to meet a disaster quota of nearly $24,000 to be raised for the relief of 13,000 families on Guam hit by Typhoon Pamela, according to Walter Cocker, chapter chairman.

Cocker said that disaster specialists have been flown to Guam to help volunteers and staff provide shelter, food and other emergency services. Assistance has also been extended to victims of the dam break in Idaho.

Cocker said during the past year aid exceeded $20 million and the disaster revolving fund has been reduced to $4 million for assistance through the remainder of the year.

Contributions can be mailed to the chapter at 203 W. Jersey St., Elizabeth, 07202.

The six-year-old came home from school crying. "What's the trouble?" the mother asked.

"Arthur pushed me!" sobbed the boy. "Then why don't you push him back?"

The all-day event is the party's major spring fund-raiser and includes an "early bird" breakfast, luncheon, an evening banquet with Broadway entertainment and golf.

"We expect over 200 golfers and party supporters to attend the event," GOP Chairman Barbara Claman said. "The funds will be used to support Republican candidates in the general election this fall."

Mrs. Claman urged party supporters to contact GOP headquarters for more information and to reserve tee-off times.

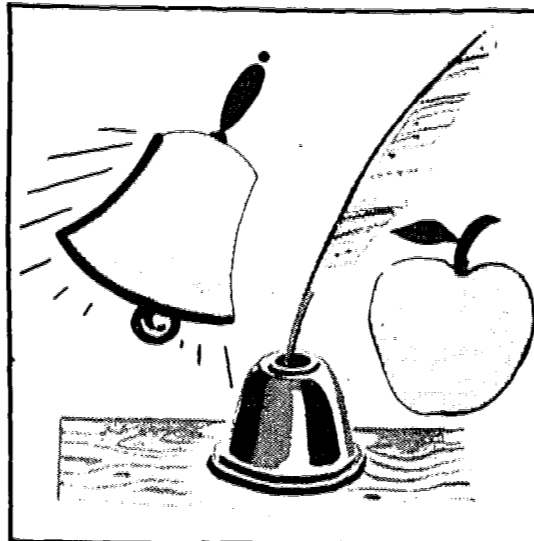

Freeholders commend Halpin primary savings

The Board of Chosen Freeholders has commended Walter G. Halpin, county clerk, May 27 for his efforts in obtaining the passage of Assembly Bill 1735, which eliminates the necessity of printing a list of all registered voters prior to the primary election, thereby saving the county substantial sums.

Halpin said, "Naturally, as a Republican, I'm very honored to be complimented by a Democratic-controlled Board of Freeholders, but this

EDUCATION IN POST-WAR ELIZABETHTOWN

During the period just prior to the Revolutionary War several schools were conducted in Elizabethtown. In addition to the Tapping Reeve Classical School (Elizabethtown Academy) other schools including a boarding school for boys was opened by Robert Cather in 1762 with special emphasis given English oratory and moral virtues. Another institute of learning was run by James Conn where a boy could gain knowledge in mathematics, accounting, navigation and drawing.

In 1775 a young ladies' school, located on New Point Road, was opened by William and Sarah Long. Its purpose was to prepare the young girls of the area for their adult years. None of these private schools, with the exception of the North End School located on the outskirts of the town, lasted very long for one reason or another.

When Francis Barber, headmaster of the Classical School, swapped his headmaster's garb for that of a major's uniform in the Third New Jersey Regiment just about marked the end of schooling in Elizabethtown for the duration.

In the year 1790, with the war over and Elizabethtown rapidly recovering from its effects, the city once again went about regaining its reputation as an educational center. The previous year the Presbyterians had rebuilt the Elizabethtown Academy on the site of the old academy that had been burned by the British during the war. The headmaster was Patrick Murdock who also taught Latin Grammar. He was followed by Colonel John Taylor who had seen service in the Army during the war. The Academy's Board of Trustees were several of the town's leaders including Governor William Livingston, Jonathan Dayton, Aaron Ogden, Matthias Williamson and Mayor John DeHart. These men took an active interest in the Academy, and it was common practice for them to attend quarterly exercises in order to watch the students display their learning.

Private schools were common in Elizabethtown at this time, and, unlike the Academy, were operated by the owners with an eye toward profits. Not all of these schools were successful, but many of the better ones continued for years. Among the men and women who conducted private schools during this period were Fanny Bryant, George Kinne, Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Rankin.

Elizabethtown, during this time in its history, had a large French population. Many of these French refugees opened schools which specialized in dancing, music and art which found favor among the young ladies. The men and boys were interested in the fencing instructions that were offered while men and women of all ages took courses in the French language.

The popularity of the French culture was at an all-time high. Most of the schools offered French courses, and occasionally hired a French teacher. James Stevenson, headmaster of the Academy, established a French department which students could avail themselves of after school hours.

Offering some competition to the French was one James Mitchell, a native of Scotland, who taught in Elizabethtown for nearly 30 years. As a special attraction, Mitchell taught the dancers of the town the "Caladonian Trip" and Aldridge's "Highland Laddie."

In 1806, the Adelpian Academy was founded in Elizabethtown. It was located at Elizabeth Avenue and Scott Place. The funds necessary for it to operate were provided by local stockholders. Dr. Matthias Williamson was the first president of the Board of Trustees, and its first headmaster was Isaac Crane. He was succeeded by Joseph Periam Jr., who had held the same position at the Elizabethtown Academy for 6 years, but who had lost the post when he was sent to debtor's prison.

The Adelpian Academy lasted for approximately 50 years. It was then converted to a public school, and in 1865 was demolished to make room for the building of a City Hall.

During this period many of the larger, more famous, homes in Elizabethtown were used as quarters by the private schools. Among these were Boxwood Hall and the Belcher House on East Jersey Street, the Old Chateau on Rahway Avenue as well as the Carteret Arms and the Union Hotel.

Elizabethtown's reputation as an educational center continued to grow through the years following the revolution and by 1815 was recognized as a city whose educational facilities were among the best in the country.

Did You Know

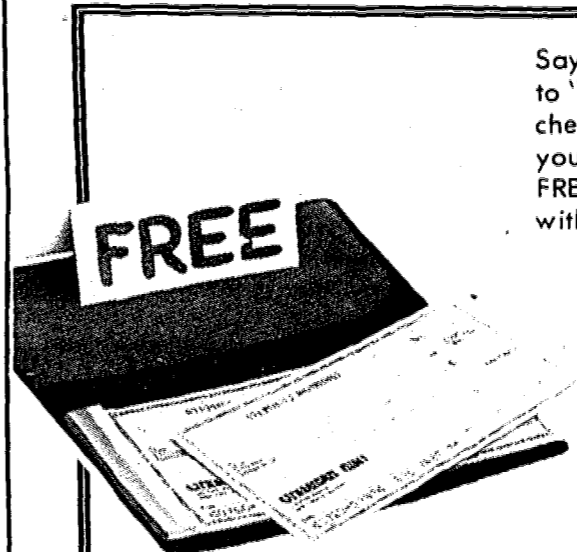

... that not all the schools in Elizabethtown in the early 1800's were private schools that catered only to the well-to-do. There was the Manual Labor School that combined manual labor with book learning. Along with attending classes each boy was required to spend 3 hours a day at some manual labor in a workshop provided by the school, and, in this way, earn most of the cost of his education. It was estimated that if would cost no more than 60 dollars a year to attend after earnings were deducted.

Firm leases office suite

Hunt & Wesson Foods, Inc., of Fullerton, Calif., has leased a 5,550 square foot office at One Walnut Avenue in Clark. The announcement was made by Charles Kramer, president of Brounell-Kramer, the Union-based realty firm that negotiated the transaction.

According to B-K representatives Bernard Siegel and Larry Leibowitz, Hunt & Wesson Foods is leasing the space on the first floor of the 71,750 square foot Briar Hill South Office Building. It will be used as a regional sales office.

The recently completed four-story office building is convenient to the Garden State Parkway. The lessor is Briar Hill Construction Co.

Hunt & Wesson Foods was represented by Peter F. Cowles. Ben Fisher represented Briar Hill.

Brounell-Kramer is one of New Jersey's leading real estate organizations, with executive offices at 1435 Morris Avenue in Union.

THE LEXINGTON—Colonial design featured at the new Sutton Hollow project in Edison is available with three or four bedrooms. A four-bedroom bi-level, the Wilshire, also is offered at the community, where prices start at $53,900.

Edison-area developer introduces Sutton Hollow

Builder John Gulya, who has created several residential communities in the Edison area recently introduced a new group of homes. The project, Sutton Hollow in Edison, offers four-bedroom homes from $53,900.

In announcing the project, Gulya said: "I have been aware for some years that many families needing suitable dwellings in a nice locality have been priced out of the market. My aim at Sutton Hollow is to enable them to come back in. I believe that Sutton Hollow meets their every requirement, not only in price, but also in location and the quality of the house."

The Lexington, a colonial, has three or four bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, a family room and two-car garage. Additional features include a foyer, 19-foot living room, dining room and kitchen with pantry, dishwasher and custom wood cabinets. The three-bedroom version has a 23'8" by 11'8" bedroom, with a closet that extends its entire width. The other two of the bedrooms in the model measure 14 feet or over.

The Wilshire, a bi-level, offers four bedrooms, family room, 1 1/2 baths and two-car garage. The den, which can double as a fourth bedroom, and the family room are on the lower level. There is a living room-dining room arrangement, with a kitchen and pantry adjoining it. The master bedroom has its own dressing room.

Both dwellings have maintenance-free siding, forced warm air heat, hard wood floors, abundant closet space and full insulation.

The site, off Pierson Avenue, is two minutes from the Menlo Park Shopping Center, five minutes from the Woodbridge Shopping hub and 30 minutes from Manhattan. Storm and sanitary sewers are in utilities are underground.

Gulya recently completed the King Arthur's Court residential community in Edison. He has been active in the residential construction field for several decades.

'Empty-nesters' prefer Galaxy's close-to-city site

The "empty-nesters" seem to be heading back into the metropolitan area, according to Robert Jacobs, director of marketing for Galaxy, the new rental apartment community on the Palisades.

The early renting pattern at Galaxy, which is located in Guttenberg, directly across from 79th Street in Manhattan, apparently indicates a trend among home-owners in New Jersey, Long Island and elsewhere to move closer to the city.

"These families, with grown-up children in college or settled elsewhere, are selling their homes in order to take advantage of the social, cultural and business amenities of the urban area," said Jacobs. "Called 'empty-nesters,' these parents often have a definite preference for the neighborhoods surrounding New York City, rather than for the city itself."

Galaxy, located 15 minutes from midtown Manhattan by bus or car, is attracting many families that want the advantages the metropolis offers, without the drawbacks that have made life in New York City "a survival test," Jacobs said.

With its indoor and outdoor swimming pools and health club, Galaxy is expected to draw an increasing number of Manhattanites to the new apartment community this summer. In addition to outdoor facilities, Galaxy will have a movie theater, shopping center, restaurant and 10-floor indoor parking garage. Belfer & Partners and the Prudential Insurance Co. are the owners of Galaxy. The architect is Gruzen & Partners; Tishman Construction Co. is the construction manager.

Mobilehome Association sets Asbury Park exhibit

The purchase of a home for under $20,000—it's an American dream coming true for the millions of people each year who buy manufactured housing.

Factory control and efficiency allows the mobilehome industry to build homes that offer an affordable lifestyle to an ever-widening circle of purchasers.

Representing the firms who sell manufactured housing throughout the state, the New Jersey Mobilehome Association has announced they will sponsor a manufactured housing show at Asbury Park from June 24 to 27.

"Mobilehomes have a reputation for featuring new, exciting looks in co-ordinated decor, kitchen efficiencies, dreamhome baths and the latest conveniences," stated Robert Muroff of Beach Haven, president of the statewide trade organization. People look forward to the display of homes in Asbury Park each year to find out what innovations the manufactured housing industry offers now.

New mobilehomes are now equipped with smoke detectors, and new models designed for New Jersey have double insulation for fuel savings.

Today more than 97 percent of all homes built for under $15,000 are mobilehomes. Some 91 percent of homes under $20,000 are mobilehomes. In New Jersey, the average mobilehome has about 800 square feet, contains living room, dining room, kitchen, bath and two bedrooms and retails for about $14,000.

Homes are built to construction codes set by the State of New Jersey, as well as to federal codes.

Purchase price includes extras such as carpeting, other floor covering, drapes and curtains, storm and screen windows, wall and ceiling lighting fixtures and most major appliances. Many mobilehome communities also include foundation skirting and storage shed or patio. Aluminum awning is a popular option.

Mobilehome living is the choice of some nine million people throughout the United States. In New Jersey, there are about 90,000 mobilehome residents. All N.J. mobilehome communities built within the past 10 years feature recreation areas. Most have swimming pools and club houses.

Although all age groups live in mobilehomes, a survey by Rutgers University indicates most mobilehomes are occupied by "empty-nesters"—people over 40 who no longer have children living at home.

A sample of mobilehome living will be on display at the New Jersey Mobilehome Show in Asbury Park, sponsored by the New Jersey Mobilehome Association. Mobilehome communities throughout the state will be represented, with homes on display around the park and along sidewalks in the vicinity of Convention Hall.

Homes on view will include 12-foot and 14-foot-wide designs and modular models, which are two 12-foot-wide sections joined together to create a ranch-style home.

The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday, June 24, to Saturday, June 26, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 27. Other exhibits will represent industry suppliers, accessories, publications, and the state of New Jersey. Admission is free.

THE CROSSWICKS—This bi-level is among four models, priced from $44,990, featured at Country Village on Plainsboro road in Plainsboro (adjoining Princeton). Builders of the new 58-home subdivision are Stanley Pilshaw and Leo Goldstein.

Country Village offers convenient rural setting

Is country living still the American dream? If you were to ask Stanley Pilshaw and Leo Goldstein, builders of Country Village on Plainsboro road, Plainsboro, the answer would be a resounding "yes."

The builders agree, however, that "country living" should now include the conveniences the American family has come to expect.

It would seem Country Village meets this criteria, since almost 30 percent of the 58 available homes at the community have been sold in the past two months.

Country Village is located in rural Plainsboro, affording a true country setting, yet is only three miles from the heart of Princeton, with its shopping areas and recreational activities. And the Princeton Junction Railroad Station is only a mile away.

Offered at Country Village are four models in ranch,

Cape Cod, bi-level and colonial designs.

The ranch, called the Bradford, features three bedrooms, dual-entry family bath, living room, 19-ft. kitchen-dining room, 12½-foot laundry-storage room and garage with additional storage.

The Dexter, a Cape Cod, shows two bedrooms and full bath on first floor, plus an additional two bedrooms and bath ready for finishing on the second floor. A living room, 12½-ft. storage room with laundry, 18-ft. kitchen-dining room and attached garage complete the plan.

The Crosswicks bi-level houses three bedrooms, two additional storage rooms convertible to a den, 19½-ft. family room, living room and dining room, 16-ft. kitchen with separate breakfast area, 1½ baths and attached garage.

Country Village may be reached via Rt. 1 south to Plainsboro—Kingston exit (at Princeton Holiday Inn), then left toward Plainsboro, 1½ miles to Country Village.

Swimming, golf at Clearbrook

The pool opening Memorial Day weekend kicked off the summer fun at Clearbrook, the planned community in Monroe Township for people aged 48 and over, which has a complete program of recreational activities.

When not swimming in the pool, residents can swing on the tennis court or tee off on the private golf course. Many buyers at Clearbrook use the recreational facilities year-round; others use them on weekends or during vacations or mini-vacations.

If it rains, there's always the 25,250-square-foot clubhouse, where they can relax over a game of billiards or pool, or get involved in a hobby or craft, or simply play cards or any of a myriad of games. The clubhouse also has saunas and showers, and rooms for social events and dances.

But when the sun is shining, many residents and guests like to get out to the pool or the nine-hole, par-35 golf course, which is right in the heart of the community, and is exclusively for the use of residents at a nominal greens fee.

This July, Clearbrook will be marking its fourth birthday as the nation observes its 200th birthday. And Clearbrook residents are planning to observe both birthdays with appropriate ceremonies.

More than 1,000 people now live at the community, which is offering ranch Plaza homes in Section 6. Popular models are the Timberline, a two-bedroom, two-bath model; the Braeburne, a two-bedroom, study and two-bath home; the Everglade with one-bedroom and bath; and the Master Lodge, with two bedrooms and two baths. Homes sell from $34,500 to $45,900.

Clearbrook also has 13 more Garden Homes to sell. The Alpine and the Berkeley are completely sold out. Section 4 offers four of the Catalina models, priced at $29,190, with two bedrooms and a bath, and nine of the Delray models, priced from $29,690, which have two bedrooms and two baths.

At Clearbrook, an estimated $78 monthly includes roving security patrol; nurse on duty 24 hours a day at the medical office; 24-hour guarded gatehouse; exterior painting and maintenance; landscaping; snow removal; fire insurance—and extended coverage on building, water and sewer charges; trash collection; 10-channel cable television antenna, and shoppers' minibus.

Clearbrook is located on a 560-acre tract off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike.

Barrymor at Cypress previews second section

Barrymor Enterprises, developer of Barrymor at Cypress and three other custom home communities in Lakewood, has announced the preview opening of section two of Barrymor at Cypress, the firm's latest project.

Section one, consisting of 30 homes, is on the verge of closing out with only nine homesites remaining.

Barry Weshnak, vice-president of Barrymor Enterprises, said current prices will remain in effect through the final closing of section one. However, a price increase is projected for section two. He added that storm windows and screens, a $400 value, will be included at no additional cost on section one homes purchased before July 31.

According to Weshnak, the Cypress project represents a well-planned community in that hospital facilities, elementary school, public transportation stops, as well as a soon-to-be constructed professional and retail plaza, are all within four minutes by car.

Residents also enjoy close proximity to Ocean County's recreational and entertainment offerings. "This," he added, "in addition to rolling hills, tall trees and natural green area, creates what I consider to be the perfect family neighborhood in a beautiful suburban community."

The green area not only adds to the country setting, but also returns run-off rainwater to the ground naturally and assists Lakewood's man-made water run-off lines during periods of heavy rains. The land will be donated by Barrymor Enterprises to Lakewood township upon completion of the Cypress project.

Weshnak summarized the project, saying, "Barrymor at Cypress incorporates natural country landscaping with a central location convenient to school, medical facility, public transportation, shopping and recreation amenities."

Standard Barrymor homes now range from $35,990 to $44,990. Qualified buyers may take advantage of 30-year mortgages from 8 percent interest, with down payments from 5 percent available through the builder. Home models may be seen at the Barrymor Estates sales area located on East County Line road (Rt. 526) off Garden State Parkway Exit 91.

Fromkins offer homes to order

Les Fromkin of Samuel Fromkin and Co., Inc. Builders and Developers, the builders of Village Green at West Long Branch, said recently that Village Green will build homes made to the customer's order.

Fromkin suggests that prospective buyers bring their own plans and ideas to Village Green and 45 years of experience will be put to work on them.

Village Green, located in West Long Branch, has one of the lowest tax rates in Monmouth County and an excellent school system, Fromkin says. It is minutes away from the shore, boating, fishing, sailing, fine restaurants, colleges and entertainment.

The Village Green location is close to excellent shopping like the Monmouth County Mall in Eatontown. It is also minutes away from the Garden State Parkway Exit 105 and Route 35.

Full grown trees have been planted for each home in the Village Green development and have been placed where people request. All utilities are underground and city sewers are in and paid for.

The Fromkins are members of N.J. Builders Association, National Association of Home Builders of the U.S. and N.J. and the Shore Builders Association. In the past 15 years they have built 775 homes and apartments in Monmouth, Ocean, Morris and Essex Counties and now are building Leumas Estates in the Allanwood section of Wall Township. Buttermere Estates in the Wayside section of Tinton Falls and their newest job, Parkwood Estates in Wall Township.

Leumas Estates, on Allanwood road in Wall Township, west of Route 34, has only three homesites left. These three-fourth acre lots are wooded and built on cul-de-sac streets with all improvements in.

Buttermere Estates, on Gree Grove road south of Deal Road in Tinton Falls, opened in the winter and is almost all sold out. Some lots are on a cul-de-sac street.

The above range from $45,000 to $90,000. Mortgages are available to qualified buyers as low as 10 percent down and, in some instances, 8½ percent. Information is available at 870-2414 or 755-4209. Requests for brochures should be addressed to Samuel Fromkin Co., Inc. P.O. Box 327, Bradley Beach.

Museum theme is summer fun

The old saying "You only get what you pay for" doesn't hold true for a visit to the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton. Admission is free, but a varied program of exhibitions and daily activities during July and August is planned to provide avenues of enjoyment for any Bicentennial-year visitor.

The Museum, a division of the New Jersey Department of Education, is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. weekends and most holidays (including July 4 and 5).

Summer exhibitions in addition to the Hall of Natural Sciences on the second floor and the Sisler Collection of North American Mammals on the lower level—focus on life among the Eskimos, New Jersey medicine in the Revolutionary era, contemporary photography, and paintings of the American landscape by almost sixty 19th and 20th century artists.

This latter exhibition, organized to provide a touch of home for New Jersey's bicentennial visitors, includes scenes from border to border and represents work by such artists as Albert Bierstadt, Titian Ramsay Peale, Louis Comfort Tiffany, Thomas

Hart Benton, Andrew Wyeth and John Marin.

Guided gallery walks will be conducted through this exhibition on Tuesday and Thursday and through the Eskimo exhibition on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Museum visitors who would like to see the nearby New Jersey State House will be able to participate in guided tours starting from the Museum information desk every day.

A program of Indian stories especially for young people and another program utilizing movies and artifacts to describe the life and history of New Jersey Indians will be conducted in the lower level seminar room Monday through Friday.

In the second floor science theater, a videotape showing the recovery of a fossil turtle is scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and a natural science lecture featuring specimens from the Museum collections will be given on Tuesday and Thursday.

A planetarium program titled "A Meteor Strikes" will be presented at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday and at 2 and 4 p.m. weekends and holidays; and "The Summer Sky," a simulated look at New Jersey's celestial night life, will be shown at 4 p.m. on weekends and holidays.

Children under seven years old are not admitted to these regular planetarium programs, but a "Tots and Stars" program especially for "under-sevens" is scheduled for 10 a.m. each Friday from July 9 through Sept. 3.

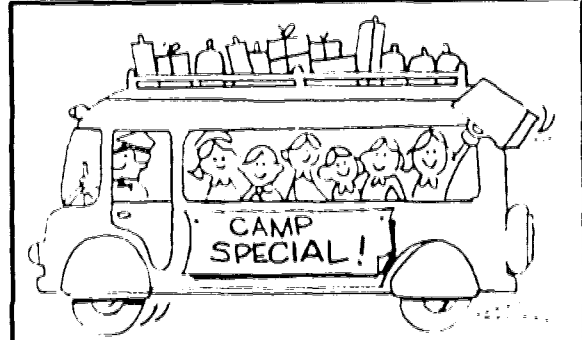

Other summer planetarium activities will include a short illustrated discussion on "Stones from the Sky" on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and Monday through Friday demonstrations of how to observe the sun safely.

A 30-minute bicentennial film tracing the roles of New Jersey and her sister states in the American Revolution will be shown in the auditorium daily except Saturday, and a five program with the handle "Noontime Musical Varieties" is scheduled for Wednesdays.

Also listed for the auditorium are daily screenings of museum-related movies, some of them selected to be of particular interest to young people.

How Arm & Hammer Baking Soda helps maintain your pool's ideal pH and helps keep your water crystal clear.

The 2 most important rules for easy pool care.
The most important rule to remember about pool care is to use a chlorinating product.

Recommended usage: Maintain a minimum chlorine level of 1.0 ppm Free Residual (Available) Chlorine. The second most important rule to remember is to maintain the proper pH. And here's where Baking Soda goes to work. Baking Soda is a natural acid neutralizer and buffering agent which helps maintain pool pH at an ideal range of 7.8 to 8.2. This helps keep eyes from burning. And Baking Soda even helps improve water clarity—keeping your pool water crystal clear.

Recommended usage: Add 1 lb of Baking Soda per 10,000 gallons of water each week during active pool season. Add a chlorinating product as needed.

If pH reaches 8.2, you can discontinue weekly use of Baking Soda and use only as necessary to maintain a pH within 7.8 to 8.2. Do not use Acid. If cloudiness occurs, run filter (keeping it clean) until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep the water clear

Your pool water is filled with fine particles too small for your filter to remove. Some of these particles make the water cloudy. Baking Soda causes the smallest particles to become attached to larger ones which are then easily filtered out of the water. The result is crystal clear water. If cloudiness occurs when you add Baking Soda, run the filter (keeping it clean) until pool water clears.

How Baking Soda helps keep eyes from burning

When eyes sting or burn and chlorine odors can be detected from the pool water, the problem is usually one of low pH. A low pH promotes the formation of irritating chlorine-nitrogen by-products. The best way to minimize the formation of these irritating by-products is to control the pH of your pool water.

"Arm & Hammer Baking Soda is a pool owner's best friend."

By maintaining your pool's pH with Baking Soda, you automatically adjust the pH of your pool water into the ideal range of 7.8 to 8.2. As a result, eye irritation is kept to a minimum.

6 Rules for Pool Maintenance

1. Test water daily.
2. Daily chlorine measurements should be taken to assure proper chemical balance. Free Residual (Available) Chlorine should be 1.0 ppm or above.
3. Maintain pH between 7.8 and 8.2. Once every week during active pool season use 1 lb of Arm & Hammer Baking Soda for every 10,000 gallons of water.
4. Check filter regularly. Clean when necessary.
5. Check water hardness monthly, particularly in hard water areas. High water hardness may cause scaling. If total water hardness (as calcium carbonate) is above 400 ppm, do not use Baking Soda until pool has been drained and refilled.
6. If heater is used. Operate filter at least 15 minutes after heater is turned off.

Test Kits

A complete Test Kit is available for $14.95. It includes everything you need to test your pool water for pH, chlorine, and hardness. The Test Kit is available at most pool supply stores or by mail order from Arm & Hammer.

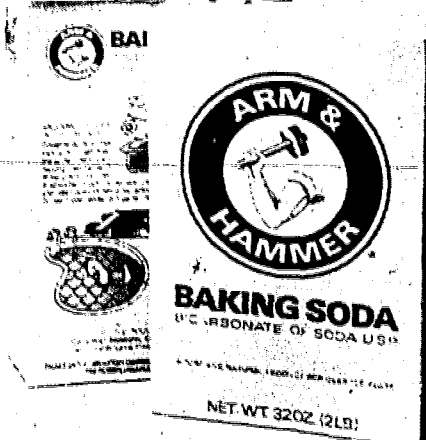

How to estimate your pool's capacity

The average swimming pool contains approximately 20,000 gallons. However, an accurate estimate of the pool's water capacity is necessary to determine the correct amount of chemicals to use for treating the pool water. The following formula can be used to approximate the total gallons of water in your pool:

Length (ft.)	Width (ft.)	Depth (ft.)

DISC 'N DATA

Pick Of The LP's...IT'S IN EVERYONE OF US: by David Pomeranz (ARISTA RECORDS AL-4053). David, a talented singer, songwriter and performer showcases ten of his own songs on his debut LP: "It's In Everyone Of Us," "Thea," "Tryin' To Get The Feeling Again," "The Hit Song Of All Time," "Flying," "Greyhound Mary," "If You Walked Away," "High Together," "Home To Alaska" and "Clarence."

David was born in New York City 24 years ago, and had been writing songs for ten years. His singing in synagogue choir gave him a first exposure to performing in front of people, and by the time he reached 7th grade, he was playing drums for a rock 'n' roll band, the first of several such groups he would play with during his earliest musical experience.

In college, David began composing his own songs and performing them solo, and after a year and a half he left the halls of academia to pursue a career in the music business. As a youngster attempting to find his way, Pomeranz made many contacts in the recording world and even spent a brief period being managed by Lesley Gore.

With his catalogue of original material growing, artists began to pick up on songs that David had written. Lou Rawls recorded his "Let It Be Now," while both Margie Joseph and Yvonne Elliman recorded versions of "If You Walk Away." Then Barry Manilow was so impressed when he heard David's "Tryin' To Get The Feeling" that he added it to his own stage repertoire the very next day. Manilow went on to record the song which became the title tune of his recent album.

IN NEW COMEDY — Diane Keaton and Elliott Gould are seen in 'I Will, I Will...For Now,' at Old Rahway Theater, Rahway, on double bill with Woody Allen's 'Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Sex...'

Post-atomic wilderness shown on two screens

"A Boy and His Dog," an R-rated film drama, derived from Harlan Ellison's award-winning novel about a post-atomic wilderness, opened yesterday at the Five Points Cinema, Union, and the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood.

Ellison, who envisioned the year 2024 as dried mud covering the planet Earth, where man is reduced to struggling for food, armanent, clothing, shelter and an occasional female if he's strong enough, has twice won the Writers Guild of America Award. He has been awarded the title, "The Most Honored Writer in the Science Fiction Field" and is the only man to win four Hugos and two Nebulas at the World Science Fiction convention.

"A Boy and His Dog," which stars Don Johnson and Blood, the dog; Susanne Benton, Alvy Moore, Jason Robards, Helene Winston and Tim McIntire, concerns a bizarre world of the future and tells of the adventures of a young man and his canine companion who delve into a world filled with violence, savage intelligence, dangerous radiation mutants and love.

L. Q. Jones directed the movie from a screenplay written by Jones.

TRISH FITT has leading role in Jules Feiffer's 'Little Murders,' now at Celebration Playhouse, 118 South Avenue, Cranford. Play will run through July 17. Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., and Saturday at 7 and 10 p.m. For reservations call 351-5033 or 272-5704.

Hare-raising commencement

A student-magician sent commencement exercises at Upsala College, East Orange, into an uproar when he produced a rabbit from beneath a dean's robe immediately after he received his diploma.

Kevin Nesbitt, a sociology-psychology major who plans to become a lawyer, said he performed his rabbit trick at the request of "most of the members" of the 270-student graduating class. He said he tried to give the rabbit to Upsala Dean Dorothy Schneider, but she was laughing so much she couldn't accept it. The graduating class gave him a standing ovation.

The 22-year-old Nesbitt, who resides in Croton-on-the-Hudson, N.Y., has been performing magic for three years. In addition to on-campus shows, he has performed at clubs and before charity groups.

Public hearings on rail plan are sought by Case

Senator Clifford P. Case this week called for public hearings to be conducted on the New Jersey rail plan, with particular emphasis on the controversial PATH extension project. Case said the hearings should be sponsored by a public interest group or groups "with no preconceived solutions as to how to best answer mass transit needs in the state."

"In my view," Case commented, "there should be several hearings at appropriate locations throughout the state to give citizens and communities adequate opportunity to participate in defining the objectives of a state rail plan and the specific projects needed to implement the plan."

Last month, New Jersey officials submitted a State Rail Plan, which included the controversial proposal to extend PATH service to Plainfield. The state is seeking approximately $400 million from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) to fund the rail projects which make up the State Rail Plan.

Case, who is ranking member of the Transportation Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, also pointed out that the UMTA urges adequate public discussion of projects and their alternatives, as well as of the allocation of federal funds.

"In view of the enormous expenditure of public money—some $749 million in federal, state and local money, involved in the state's rail plan," Case said, "it is imperative that citizens now be given ample opportunity to discuss how and for what they want their money spent."

St. Barnabas ends plan to build nurses' housing

The Board of Trustees of St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, announced this week that in an effort to hold down the cost of health care it has cancelled plans to construct two residences for nurses on the medical center's 62-acre site in Livingston in favor of plans for expansion to facilitate the support of patient care.

Kenneth C. Nichols, the board president, said: "It is not possible economically to move ahead on both the construction of new nurses residences and our planning for vitally-needed additional space, facilities and equipment to support patient care for the hospital's 730 beds.

"To attempt to do both would force a substantial increase in the cost of health care at St. Barnabas and we are determined not to raise the rates for patients any more than absolutely necessary."

"Faced with that choice, the trustees have decided in favor of what must be the priority for any hospital—the facilities, new equipment and technological improvements to provide the best possible health care."

Nichols said St. Barnabas will proceed in its planning for urgently needed additional space and new equipment for the Radiology and Pathology Departments and Operating Rooms.

A key element in the decision not to build the nurses' residences, Nichols reported, was the soaring cost of the project to house 180 nurses.

The trustees praised the Township of Livingston, its municipal officials and the Board of Adjustment for their cooperation during the lengthy proceedings involving the nurses' residences project.

"We are confident," Nichols declared, "that this spirit of cooperation will continue as we work together on future plans to enable St. Barnabas to provide even greater service to the community."

QUALITY FOR YOUR CAR AND BUDGET

'Almost anything' sought Public TV auction in October

A fiberglass bod in the shape of a racing car with wheels, is one unusual kickoff gift to the "Great TV Auction" on New Jersey Public Television this fall, according to Morris Mayers, chairman. The bid is among thousands of donations solicited for the auction set 23-27 on Channels 56 and 58.

"At this time of budgetary crisis for the state's public television network, we strongly urge everyone to donate to this critical fundraiser," Mayers said.

"We need almost anything from trips, turntable appliances, cars, houses, antiques and art certificates to art pieces, antiques, celebrities' mementos and unusual services," he continued. "Underwriting for an existing or underwriting for a new production are also invaluable to its success."

Firms will receive considerable television exposure and other publicity both prior to and during "The Great TV Auction." All donations are tax deductible at fair market value. In addition, donors will have the chance to help support the vital educational, informational and cultural offerings of the network and to regenerate good will in their own communities and across the state.

Donors may telephone "The Great TV Auction" office at New Jersey Public Television at 609-892-5232 or write to the office at 1573 Parkside Ave., Trenton 08639.

BICENTENNIAL BYPATHS

On June 18, 1776, in Paris France, General de Gribeauval, Director of Artillery, informed Dr. Doubouard that there were in the local arsenals between 300 and 400 cannon, whose markings could be filed off for shipment to America via Spain and Cuba. The rebels would be permitted to pay for the pieces in shipments of tobacco.

NOTICE

This 'bell' rings true Wood Liberty is exact replica

You won't have to travel to Philadelphia this year to see the Liberty Bell. There is an exact replica of this best-known symbol of American freedom now being displayed at Allied Chemical's corporate headquarters on Columbia road in Morris Township. It will be part of the July 4 parade in Morristown.

Constructed of bronze-painted wood, the bell is a full-size replica of the original, including the well-known crack.

Made under the supervision of Rocco D. Barbella, foreman in the facilities and services department, the bell is the latest display that Barbella and his team of seven men have created. The others include Christmas ornamentation for the three main buildings at the Allied Chemical site, displays for the company's annual United Way campaigns and a float in the shape of an American Eagle, which will transport the "liberty bell" during the July 4 parade in Morristown.

The idea for building the bell was prompted by the need for an appropriate Bicentennial theme for the site.

"After thinking about all the possibilities, the 'liberty bell' seemed to fit the bill," said Barbella. "We had just finished making two large paper mache bells for the Christmas display and had a pretty good idea of what bell building was all about," he added.

And so, Barbella and his crew began to research the bell's vital statistics. This included writing to Independence Hall, Philadelphia, for the dimensions of the original and a weekend trip made there by John Jandura, facilities and services foreman, who photographed the bell from every possible angle.

Armed with color slides, photos and blueprint, Barbella's crew started work on the bell four months ago by planing circles of wood later stacked to resemble the shape of a bell. The men worked in their spare time, carefully following the photos to make sure that each detail was correct.

"Sometimes we worked into the night, so we'd meet our deadline—displaying the bell at Allied Chemical for Memorial Day," Barbella recalls.

The finished bell was unveiled on schedule and displayed in a flower bed, blooming a red, white and blue floral tribute to the Bicentennial.

Although this is the first "liberty bell" that Barbella has made, his wide-ranging interests in art make the bell a logical project. In his spare time, Barbella, who attended Arts High School, Newark, pursues his hobby and paints in both oils and watercolors and makes wooden and metal sculptures.

READY FOR THE 'FOURTH' — Dressed in authentic militiaman's shirt and armed with an 18th century musket, Rocco D. Barbella of Allied Chemical's Facilities and Services Department stands at parade rest alongside the "Liberty Bell" that he and members of his department built.

Wry to quit arts council

The New Jersey State Council on the Arts has accepted with regret the resignation of Brann J. Wry, its executive director for three years. Alvin F. Gershen, chairman of the council, said Wry had submitted his resignation effective Aug. 31. "We accept the resignation with sincere regret, although we understand his desire to expand his horizons into other aspects of the field," Gershen said. "During the period of Wry's services as executive director, the State Arts Council grew substantially in the scope of its operations and programs. "We know this must give him great satisfaction and we wish him the best in his new line of pursuit."

experience, encompassing growth in the areas of programming, planning, goal formation and the improvement of the quality of arts programs and presentations.
