PLUGGING AWAY—Dave Hetzel, Dan Smith and Bill Leber (from left) apply red, white and blue hues to Mountainside fire hydrant as part of a Bicentennial project of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club. Members have repainted 35 borough hydrants so far, with the remainder to be completed during the summer. The project was developed by, and receives financial support from, the Mountainside Bicentennial Committee. Key Clubbers also will show their patriotic spirit by participating in a Bicentennial festival in the borough in October.

Board hires two teachers during three-hour session

BY KAREN ZAUTYK

The Mountainside Board of Education, with one of its smallest agendas in recent months, managed to take over three hours to complete its business at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

All agenda items, except for three concerning personnel, had been completed by 9 p.m. one hour after the session convened, but the board then called a caucus to discuss those questions. Upon the board's return, after 11 p.m., an audience member asked to know whether those three matters had consumed the entire caucus. Board president William Biunno said members also had discussed 1976-77 MTA contract negotiations. Only six residents were in attendance at the meeting in the Deerfield School, and four remained for the entire meeting.

Following the caucus, the board approved, by a vote of 4-2, the setting of $5,200 maximum for the 1976-77 year for a Beechwood School secretarial position. Trudy Palmer and Charles Speth were opposed; Ronald Wood was absent.

Approved unanimously was the hiring of Joy Delmar as a first grade teacher at the Beechwood School and of Lorraine Leber as a fifth grade instructor at Deerfield.

Mrs. Delmar, whose salary will be $12,310, taught seven years in Syracuse, N.Y.; one year in Memphis, Tenn., and one year in Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Leber taught for six years in East Orange and two years in New Providence. Both her salary, $10,700, and Mrs. Delmar's will be adjusted when the contract with the MTA is approved.

Earlier in the evening, the board unanimously adopted its first aid policy—an instruction manual for teachers and other staff members to guide them when there are no nurses in the schools. For the new school year, the board has hired two part-time nurses, to cover both schools from 10:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. only.

Speth asked if other staff members could not be provided with formal first aid instruction. Biunno noted the board could recommend teachers and secretaries take such training, and the board might provide an in-service course with the cooperation of the either the Red Cross or the Mountainside Rescue Squad, but no staffer could be required to attend.

Approved on a vote of 4-2, with Mrs. Palmer and Speth opposed, was the payment of $75 for clerical work related to the preparation of student transportation reports and bus lists for 1976-77.

Mrs. Palmer said she believed the work could have been done by the regular clerical staff and objected to superintendent of schools Dr. Levin Hanigan's hiring of an aide without a formal board vote beforehand. Biunno said the question had been discussed at a caucus meeting, and Hanigan said he believed he had a consensus of approval for the expenditure.

The board voted the payment of an additional $130 to Alice Ortoloff for extra work required by her in the conducting of this year's pre-kindergarten screening program. Another personnel item involved teacher Mary Porter, who was transferred from the fifth grade to the post of sixth-grade math instructor.

Scott Schemdel won the board's unanimous approval of his request to invite a representative of the New Jersey School Boards Association to a special two-hour public meeting Sept. 21. Schemdel explained the session would be an in-service training presentation by the NJSBA regarding school boards' responsibilities and procedures in developing and implementing policy, with a special focus on the new "thorough and efficient" education law.

The board will hold no public meeting in August.

WHO'S GOT THE BORAXO?—Donna Keller will need some sort of special cleaner to get the plaster off her hands after crafts project at the Echobrook summer playground. The kids may get a bit messy at times, but it's all for the sake of art—and fun.

Willow Grove swimmers skim past MCP team in season start Saturday

The Mountainside Community Pool swim team fought back from a 32-point deficit early in its season-opening meet last Saturday, but saw the competition decided against it in the final event. MCP lost its debut in the Westfield Outdoor Swim League to the Willow Grove Swim Club by a score of 157-147.

Despite the overall defeat, MCP swimmers won several events. Robert Anderson captured the 100-meter freestyle for boys aged 13-14 with a 1:04.9 time. The 13-14 boys' 200 meter freestyle relay was won by Tim Harrigan, Tom Fitzgibbon, Paul Jeka and Robert Anderson in 2:03.5. Jack Crowley, Barron Jaffe, Billy Cullen and Cary Levitt won the same event for boys aged 15-17 in 1:52.1.

Lisa Fericola and Robert Anderson both recorded three first-place awards. Double event winners were Shane Connell, Russell Picut and Lisa Jackson. Single individual event winners were Scott Crabtree, Suzanne Cranie, Barron Jaffe and Cary Levitt.

Placing for Mountainside were:

Investigation continues in death of 17-year-old

Union County Park Police are continuing their investigation into the death of a 17-year-old Westfield boy whose body was found at the base of the 150-foot water tower in the Watchung Reservation in Mountainside last Thursday.

The youth, James Von Roesgen of Canterbury road, was discovered at 5:45 p.m. by two boys who were bicycling through the park. They stopped a passing motorist, who called police.

The boy was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Autopsy reports showed the cause of death was shock due to hemorrhage from multiple injuries.

According to Det. Sgt. Richard Mannix of the park police, there was no indication of foul play, but the death "is still listed suspicious. If anyone slipped from the tower, they would hit the stairway which surrounds it, and we found no such evidence." The six-foot fence atop the tower was intact, he said.

Mannix said the youth's wallet, containing $17 and other personal items, was found on the body. The boy's knapsack, containing a paint scraper, rags and links of wire, was on the observation deck on top of the tower.

VonRoesgen reportedly left the home of a Westfield friend, whose house he had been helping to paint, at 5 p.m. Thursday. According

Summer program gets under way at Regional High

The Regional High School summer school got under way on Monday after a delay of approximately two weeks caused by the impasse over state funding of public education. The N.J. Supreme Court had ordered all schools closed July 1 because the state had failed to provide equitable funding of schools in all communities. The ban was lifted following approval of the income tax by the Legislature and governor last week.

The Regional program, at Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark, had 590 students, as compared to an anticipated 600. A district spokesman said the group includes 43 youngsters from outside the Regional District, who pay tuition to attend. He noted that many come from communities such as Cranford

Bottoms Up hurler drops 4 opponents in softball play

By JOYCE PINKAVA

Carol Wood's pitching for the Bottoms Up has been the highlight of the Mountainside Women's Softball League. Against the Daily Double, Mountainside—Moms, Stingers and Echo Streakers, Carol held the batters to one-base hits.

Trailing 4-0 against the Mountainside Moms in the third inning, Bottoms Up scored seven big runs to gain the lead which they never relinquished. Laurie Weeks walked, Kathy Weeks, Harriet Gerndt, Nancy Harter, Sue Faulkner, Carol Wood and Jackie Dooley all singled to produce the go ahead runs for a 13-7 victory.

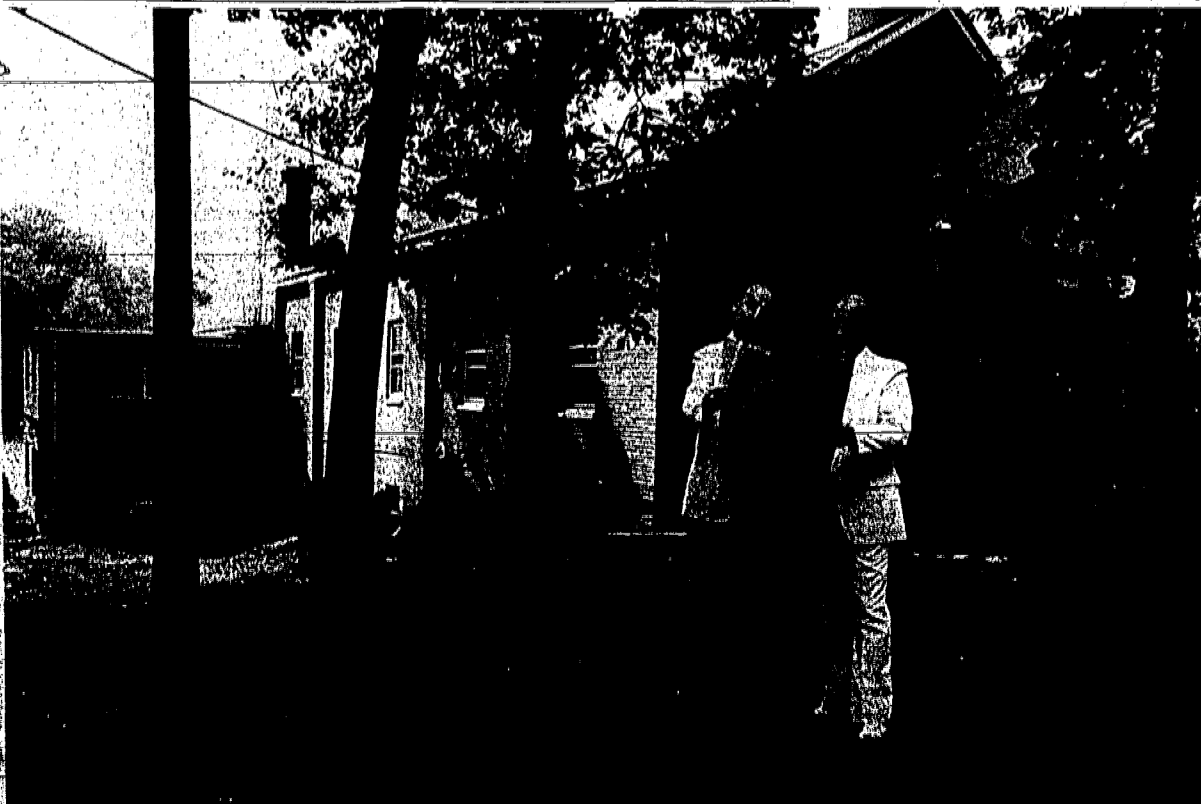

Against the Stingers, Bottoms Up scored 17 runs to win, 17-6. Ruthie Goense had three singles and scored two runs, Kathy Weeks singled twice and scored twice, Janice GaNun homered to right field, singled twice and scored twice, Harriet Gerndt singled twice, tripled to center field and scored three runs, Dorie Miles singled twice, doubled to left field and scored a run, Ronnie Geiger singled twice, homered and scored two runs, Patti Fericola doubled, singled and scored a run, Sue Faulkner walked twice, singled twice and scored two runs and Carol Wood had one single.

Dorie Miles and Janice GaNun had super nights at the bat for Bottoms Up, claiming 12 hits between them to single-handedly humble the Echo Streakers 25-4. Dorie singled five times and doubled to left field and Janice GaNun had four singles and doubled and tripled to left field. Also for Bottoms Up, Nancy Harter had two doubles and Ruthie Goense singled four times.

Bod Squad continued their winning ways by defeating the Echo Streakers. RBI hits by Candy Whitaker, Robin Sury, Sandy Dunlap, Sharon Connell and Kathy King highlighted a 16-8 victory. Sue Winans walked twice, doubled twice and scored four runs; Bod Squad's big fourth inning saw Chris Winans and Connie Morton single, five walks by the Streaker pitcher and an error, to produce six runs.

For the Streakers, Ursula Hartman walked, singled and had two doubles, Marlon LaTona tripled and Barbara Abel and Paula Cloutier each had singles.

JOB WELL DONE—Tom Burgess (right) and Rev. Elmer Talcott of Mountainside's Community Presbyterian Church look over the plans for the church's recently-completed addition.

Burgess, a borough resident for 25 years and a staff supervisor for New Jersey Bell, was honored yesterday as the company's "Good Citizen of the Month" for July.

Tourney deadline ends tomorrow for tennis entries

Tomorrow is the deadline to register for the men's and women's singles tennis tournaments sponsored by the Mountainside Commission. The tournaments will be held on July 24-25-31-Aug. 1 at the Echobrook tennis courts.

The women's division is for ages 16 and above. Men may enter either the senior division (40 and over) or the open (16 and over). The entry fee is $1 per person. Entry blanks are available at Borough Hall between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Registrations are also being accepted for the men's and women's doubles which will be held on Aug. 7-8-14-15.

Tickets for this Sunday's trip to Yankee Stadium for the Cosmos soccer game were still available at press time. The bus will leave Deerfield School at noon and return at approximately 5 p.m. The registration fee, which includes bus transportation and ticket, is $6 for people 16 and under, and $8 for adults. The Recreation Office is open from 9 to 4 weekdays at Borough Hall. For additional information, readers may call 232-0015.

He works for 'the kids' 'Good Citizen' is honored

If anyone were to ask Tom Burgess of Mountainside why he devotes so much of his time to community activities in this small town, his answer would be short and sweet: "the kids."

A Mountainside resident for 25 years, Burgess is concerned that today's children and young adults don't have the drive and discipline of kids growing up in the 1930s.

"The kids today are good and they're sharp. There is no question that there are opportunities—and challenges—that were not present during the Depression," he says.

"Their world is different from mine, and I want to motivate them to be responsible to themselves and to others."

For his continuing efforts on behalf of Mountainside's Community Presbyterian Church, the local schools, Little League and the March of Dimes, Burgess has been named New Jersey Bell's "Good Citizen of the Month" for July.

A staff supervisor in the company's network department, Burgess was honored at a luncheon yesterday in his honor at the Manor in West Orange.

"My involvement is all about values," he says. "I try to set standards and to urge kids to define what really is important to them, to decide what in life will make them happy."

Burgess says that kids today don't always

Midgets to begin sixth year of play

Plans for Midget Football are under way for the program's sixth consecutive year in Mountainside. Registrations have been open since spring, and teams are now being set up for the fall.

Any boys between the ages of 9 (by Sept. 1) and 14 (boys must not have entered ninth grade) who are interested in playing have been urged to register now, as the Jets' committees are meeting to formulate plans for the fall schedule. This year's Lightweight will be coached by George Fischer, and the Middleweights will be under the direction of Alan Goldenberg. Uniforms may be ordered, or parents can purchase used equipment at a lower cost.

The special clinic (no contact) will again be available to boys 7 (by Sept. 1) and 8 years old. A $7 deposit is required at registration. Forms are available at the Recreation Office at Borough Hall, and checks should be made payable to the Mountainside Recreation Commission. If further information is needed, readers may call George Fischer, 233-5199; Bill Alder, 233-8056, or Bob Ruggiero, 233-3254.

CONCERN FOR NEW JERSEY — Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo (R-N.J.), left, tells Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, of his concern over continuing high unemployment in New Jersey. The Union County congressman has warned the administration and Congress that the nation's economic recovery is being hindered by the persistence of unemployment in New Jersey at a level far above the national average. More federal attention must be paid, Rinaldo said, to policies and programs to improve the economy of New Jersey and other industrial states.

UNDERSTANDING MENTAL HEALTH

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director National Institute of Mental Health

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE
Today, when students have "bills of rights" and serve on school boards, and when, in many places, dress and behavior codes have been abolished, many teachers are uncertain about what they can do to enforce discipline.

Partially in response to this problem, the use of behavior modification programs in classrooms has greatly increased since the early 1960's. Sometimes these programs are supported by federal agencies such as the National Institute of Mental Health or by universities or colleges as part of a research program, but more and more projects are being developed by teachers or administrators to cope with a problem or situation unique to a specific school.

Even though the term "behavior modification" is relatively new, the methods it uses to improve classroom behavior and learning are as old as education itself. What is new is how these methods are systematically applied.

Schools have used rewards and punishment to "modify behavior" in learning situations for centuries. Now, behavioral scientists have determined that how these techniques—praise and punishment—are used is the key to effective classroom management.

Research has shown that the simple, but often overlooked, technique of praising a child can improve performance.

Bioglass bone succeeds, gives animals new parts

Successful implantations of artificial bone in test animals, using a material to which living bone can attach, was described at the 12th State-of-the-Art Symposium, "Ceramics in the 'Great Pumpkin' to be at state fair

"If the winner of our contest for the biggest pumpkin grown in the State of New Jersey doesn't get home by midnight after receiving the prize of a night on the town," said Joseph S. Ancker, general manager of the N.J. State Fair, "you can guess what can happen to the limousine and the chauffeur which are part of the first prize to be awarded."

In addition to winning a "dream night out," complete with a chauffeur-driven limousine, dinner and dancing, grower of the winning pumpkin gets to enter his pumpkin in the nationwide "Biggest Pumpkin In America" competition to be held in Memphis, Tenn.

Anyone wishing to enter pumpkin in the competition should send their name, address and phone number to Pumpkin Contest, New Jersey State Fair, P.O. Box 669, Trenton 08604.

Persons entering the contest will receive two free tickets to the fair for opening day, Friday, Sept. 10. The fair, on a site off Rt. 33 in Hamilton Township, near Trenton, will run through Sunday, Sept. 19.

Effects of acupuncture

STOCKHOLM The positive effects of acupuncture on stress or tension headaches were reported by Professor Olov Lindahl of the Orthopedic Clinic of the Linköping Regional Hospital, after a series of double-blind tests at several clinics.

Service of Man," sponsored by the American Chemical Society's Division of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry and 12 other scientific organizations.

Termed bioglass, the material has now been used to install hip joints in sheep, partial leg bone replacements in dogs, teeth and parts of the jawbone in baboons, and artificial middle ears in cats, according to its inventor, Dr. Larry L. Hench of the University of Florida. It also has been used to carry out spinal fusions in rats, he said.

Based on the success of the material in animal tests, trials in human subjects have already begun in Europe and are likely to begin soon in this country, Dr. Hench said.

Bioglass is similar to window glass, but its content of certain elements principally calcium and phosphorus—resembles that of the chief mineral in living bone, hydroxyapatite.

As a result, there is chemical interaction between the implant and the bone when they are brought into contact, and the two gradually fuse together. The highly inert products of these reactions form a layer that protects the implant from further interaction with the bone and eventual weakness.

So far, the bioglass has been used principally as a thin coat on bone replacement parts made of alumina, a ceramic that is extremely strong and has recently been approved for use in human subjects, Dr. Hench said.

Perhaps the most exciting possibility for use of bioglass, Dr. Hench said, is in replacement of sections of the long bones of the arm and leg when they have to be removed because of serious damage from accident or disease.

It has proven extremely difficult to find ways of replacing such parts because of the forces they must withstand in use, Dr. Hench said. As a result, otherwise healthy limbs often must be amputated because of a short section of diseased or shattered bone.

Since early this year, his group has suc-

BICENTENNIAL SALUTE — The State of New Jersey will be honored July 20 and 30 at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Rushmore is a national ceeded in replacing sections of the fibulas (lower leg bones) of nine dogs with bioglass-coated alumina and stainless steel segments, Dr. Hench reported. After three months, the dogs are still normally active. X-rays show that the artificial segments have bonded into place almost as well as have sections of live bone, which in a different leg were removed and replaced upside down for comparison of bonding and healing rates.

In other cases: Complete hip joints as well as hip sockets alone have passed 13 months after implantation in sheep without failure or complications.

Prosthetic modules to replace the entire middle ear in cats retention of hearing at more than half normal sensitivity.

Welding together of vertebrae, called spinal fusion, has been carried out successfully in rats using alumina rods coated with bioglass.

Teeth made of bioglass have been placed in baboons with some success, and the material has also been used to bond replacement parts into the jawbones of baboons.

Jersey 'Days of Honor' State flag to fly at Rushmore

MT RUSHMORE, S.D.—The State of New Jersey flag will fly over Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in South Dakota's Black Hills July 29-30, recognizing New Jersey in the National Park Service's 1976 "Days of Honor" commemoration. Gov. Brendan T. Byrne has been invited to receive the New Jersey flag in special evening ceremonies at Rushmore July 30.

New Jersey's flag will also be displayed in a special Avenue of Flags throughout the summer at Rushmore.

The New Jersey flag which flies over the memorial will be presented to Gov. Byrne, or a representative, during our evening lighting ceremonies, July 30," says Rushmore Supt.

Harvey Wickware. "Ceremonies both days will recognize New Jersey in the 1976 Days of Honor" commemoration developed to fulfill Rushmore's role as a national Bicentennial focal point."

South Dakota Gov. Richard Kneip, on behalf of all South Dakotans, has invited all New Jersey residents traveling west to participate in their state's days at Rushmore.

The Mt. Rushmore Days of Honor program began May 21 and continues through Sept. 8, with each state and territory in the nation receiving homage at the Shrine of Democracy.

Located on a 6,000-foot-high granite mountain, the Shrine of Democracy was carved by Gutzon Borglum as a monumental summation

Author forecasts $2 trillion deficit in Social Security

The Social Security System cannot survive in its present form unless Congress takes immediate remedial action to control a forecasted deficit exceeding $2 trillion within the next thirty years, according to Robert S. Kaplan, author of "Financial Crisis in the Social Security System."

Remedies suggested by Kaplan include correcting the automatic indexing scheme, gradually increasing the retirement age, gradually phasing out secondary beneficiaries, and bringing federal employees into the system. Kaplan is professor of industrial administration at Carnegie-Mellon University. This study, published by the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, is part of a major new AEI research project on the Social Security System.

In his study, Kaplan notes that while the system is solvent today, the present trust fund of about $46 billion will be exhausted by the early 1980's unless additional revenues are raised over the next few years.

Kaplan finds that while the Social Security System is currently operating at a deficit, with contributions falling short of expenditures and administrative expenses, the major drain on the system will begin 30 years from now when the demographic composition of the United States starts to shift dramatically to a much higher percentage of elderly persons and when the full effect of the double increase of benefits due to inflation takes hold.

of the American Republic. Borglum chose four Presidents (Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt) as symbols of the growth of the United States. The portrait bust of each is 64 feet high.

Rushmore's attribute of being a memorial for the whole nation, rather than just one section, led to its national Bicentennial designation by the American Bicentennial Commission in 1971.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!

... You literally "bet your life" every time you drive too fast, try to beat a light, cut in and out of traffic, pass another car on a hill or curve! With the stakes so high and the odds so steep, does this kind of gamble make sense to you? Isn't it a lot better to drive with care...take a little longer to get where you're going...and ARRIVE ALIVE! Ironically, on summer's happiest occasions the tragic toll of highway accidents zooms to the highest totals! Traffic is congested. Driving strain increases. Millions of good, bad and indifferent drivers are on the road, speeding, cutting in, weaving, challenging traffic controls. These are the times, above all to drive with EXTRA care...keep your temper...watch the other driver and bring your family home ALIVE!

BEATLES AGAIN -- Capitol records has released a two-record set of Beatles rock 'n roll songs taken from albums spanning their career to 1970. There has been a resurgence of releases with six Beatles singles having broken the British charts recently. Paul McCartney recently completed an American tour with his group, Wings.

Pick of the 1 P.S. ROCK 'N ROLL MUSIC by The Beatles (CAPITOL SKRO-11537). The album is a two-record set that chronicles the rocking side of the Beatles with 28 classic songs taken from albums spanning their career including the new single "Got To Get Into My Life." "Hey Bulldog," and "Get Back."

There has never been another musical group like the Beatles and there probably never will be. Not only did the Beatles create some of the very best sounds ever heard within the idiom of popular music (as well as taking pop music to new limits), they were also a social phenomenon responsible for sparking new trends, fashions and lifestyles.

Bisset co-stars in 'The Deep'

Jacqueline Bisset has been signed by producer Peter Guber to co-star with Robert Shaw and Nick Nolte in "The Deep," motion picture based on Peter Benchley's new best-seller.

"The Deep" will mark a reunion for the actress and director Peter Yates who worked together in the thriller, "Bullitt."

French star set for Pacino film

HOLLYWOOD -- Producer-director Sydney Pollack has signed French actress Anny Duperey to co-star with Al Pacino and Marthe Keller in "Bobby Deerfield," a Columbia Pictures-Warner Brothers Production release.

Alvin Sargent wrote the screenplay about a Grand-Prix racing driver from the Erich Maria Remarque novel, "Haven Has No Favorites."

'President's Men' gives look at the making of a news story

By BEASMITH
One of the most important contributions "All the President's Men" is the revelation of the work that goes into the making of a newspaper story. It shows, with candor, the intricate details a reporter must conform, before even writing his story; the hundreds of telephone calls, the research (sometimes productive, off times fruitless), the lists of people he must contact (pulling names out of telephone books), the entanglement with adversaries, rivalries, editors, reporters and the public. Then, of course, there's the possibility of a law suit threatening in the background.

Another important contribution made by the film, currently seen at the Maplewood Theater, and the book by the same title, written by Washington Post investigative reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein is that of offering the American public an opportunity to see how dirty politics in the White House, all the way up the executive line to the very top if unrecognized and unrevealed, could topple the system of American government.

Every American should read the book and see the movie if only to recognize the deadly potential of a Watergate incident to prevent it from ever happening again.

Robert Redford and Dustin Hoffman portray Woodward and Bernstein, respectively, the Washington Post reporters, who relentlessly pursued the Watergate burglary investigation despite all opposition and danger, and whose stories won for the newspaper a Pulitzer Prize.

Both Redford and Hoffman throw themselves easily into their roles and are both convincing and entertaining. Both give believable, honest performances as they find themselves "onto the biggest, hottest newspaper story in the 20th century." And how they go about getting that story is intriguing to their fellow newspaper audiences and fascinating to the general public.

The supporting cast is top rate. From Jason Robards, who plays the Post's managing editor, Ben Bradlee; Jack Warden and Martin Balsam, Post editors, to Hal Holbrook, who plays "Deep Throat," the unidentified major source, with enough information to lead to the downfall of the President and all his men. Others equally convincing are Jane Alexander, Ned Beatty, Stephen Collins, John McMartin and Robert Walden.

Alan J. Pakula did an absolutely superb job of directing this important film from a script by William Goldman, a writer, exceptionally faithful to the book.

Impressive were the lifelike facsimile of the Post newsroom constructed on a Warner Brothers sound stage and many of the Capital's buildings and historic sites.

See "All the President's Men." America This reviewer plans a second trip to the Maplewood Theater because it's too overwhelming to grasp it all the first time around.

'GOSPELL' cast at Celebration Playhouse includes (clockwise from lower left): Nancy Lindeman, Michael Daniels, Joe Polinski and Elaine Mulcahy. Musical, based on the Gospel according to Saint Matthew, opens July 23.

The Gospel set to rock on Celebration boards

"Godspell," one of the most popular musicals of the 1970s, will open July 23 at Celebration Playhouse, 118 South Ave., Cranford. The production will be staged Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through Aug. 28.

"Godspell" is a modern rock adaptation of the Gospel according to Saint Matthew. Michael Tebelak wrote the book at the age of 21, and the music and lyrics were set down by Stephen Schwartz, who was 23 at the time. Schwartz also wrote the music and lyrics for "Pippin."

David Christopher is director for the Celebration Playhouse staging of the musical. Carolyn Kostopoulos designed the costumes. Heading the cast will be Joe Polinski as Jesus. Other players include Kate Brown, Candy Capenegr, B. Michael Daniels, Douglas Gumm, Elaine Mulcahy, Paul Kaye, Nancy Lindeman, Trish Parfitt and John Richkus. Randy Hertzog will direct the six-piece electric band.

Tickets are available by reservation or at the door. Friday and Sunday performances are at 8:30 p.m., Saturday shows at 7 and 10 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling either 272-5704 or 351-5033.

Hot I Baltimore at Montclair

Lanford Wilson's Obie-Award winning comedy, "The Hot I Baltimore," is the midseason attraction at Summerfun Summer Theater, the professional company in residence at Montclair State College, in air-conditioned Memorial Auditorium, now through Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The play won the New York Drama Critics Best Play Award and the Outer Critics Award.

MERIT!

Letters confirm low tar MERIT as taste science breakthrough.

"Read the advertisements, got in the car, went to the nearest store and bought 'em. Lit one up—fantastic—every word in the ad was true."

—Ms. Beverly Fama
Edison, New Jersey

"I couldn't believe how good they taste and how low they are in tar and nicotine."

—Ms. Roselyn Hall
Minneapolis, Minnesota

"In all the years I have been smoking, I had never changed brands, until Merit. Your new cigarette is a real winner!"

—Mrs. Nunzio A. Barone, Jr.
Metairie, Louisiana

"I have tried all of the other low tar and nicotine cigarettes MERIT is the first one I have tried that has a full body and flavor to it."

—Benjamin C. Cannon
Jacksonville, Florida

"You've done it; made a good-tasting cigarette, low in tar and nicotine. I've switched to MERIT!"

—Mrs. Frederic Shaw
Jenkintown, Pennsylvania

"These things have so much flavor, it's very difficult to believe the nicotine and tar ratings, even though they're printed right on the package."

—Thomas R. Zentner
Cayuga, New York

"Smoking MERIT is a pleasure. This cigarette has got what we've all been looking for."

—Edward Levinson
Columbus, Ohio

"I had to write, as I feel your advertisement is right Good luck on Merit. I am convinced."

—Sam Wengrow
New Athens, Illinois

"I've finally found a menthol cigarette with good taste and low tar. I wouldn't switch now for anything."

—Beth Herbert
Boston, Massachusetts

"Man, was I surprised. This cigarette has taste. Your advertisements really mean what they say.... Thanks for doing the impossible."

—John E. Ehrenberg

Hurt seriously on skateboard, boy improves

A 13-year-old Westfield boy was reported in satisfactory condition early this week in Overlook Hospital after suffering severe head injuries in a fall off a skateboard on Ackerman avenue in Mountainside on Sunday. Two days earlier, a borough boy required hospital treatment when he was hit by a car while skateboarding on Poplar avenue.

Police said the Westfield youth, Bart Sullivan, was skateboarding on Ackerman avenue's steep hill at 12:15 p.m. Sunday, when he apparently lost control as he crossed Forest Hill way. Police said a companion told them Bart began screaming, "I'm going too fast," and then fell from the board, landing on his head. He slid across the road, striking a cement curb with his head and shoulder.

Police were called and notified both the Mountainside Rescue Squad and Overlook's Medic One unit, which brought a doctor and nurse to the scene. The Rescue Squad then transported Bart to the hospital, where he was admitted to the intensive care unit in critical condition. A hospital spokesman reported on Tuesday that his condition had improved and he had been transferred to the pediatrics floor.

On Friday, at 5:40 p.m., 11-year-old Charles Rodriguez of Poplar avenue was struck by an auto while skateboarding out of his driveway into that street. Police said the motorist, Lynn M. Hark, 25, also of Poplar avenue, was driving west when the boy came into the path of her vehicle. They said that her view of the driveway was blocked by a line of shrubs.

Charles was taken to Overlook by the Mountainside Rescue Squad for treatment of leg, and foot injuries.

In recent months both Mountainside's police commissioner, Abe Suckno, and Police Chief Edward Mullen and Dr. J. Campbell Howard, Jr., a member of the borough Board of Health have issued public warnings to parents on the hazards of children skateboarding in the streets and from driveways.

In April, at a Borough Council meeting, at which the problem was discussed, Mullen noted that at least one Essex County community, Bloomfield, had adopted an ordinance prohibiting the use of skateboards in roadways and holding parents responsible for any violations of the law.

Borough attorney John Post was directed by the governing body to research that ordinance and present his findings to council for discussion. No further report has been given on the matter.

Summer school

which have canceled their own summer schools.

The registration total includes 111 students from Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield and 77 from David Brearley Regional in Kenilworth. Some of these are taking driver education at their own schools—20 at Dayton and 14 at Brearley.

The summer school faculty comprises 31 teachers, including one driving education instructor at each of the four Regional schools.

Because of the delay in starting, the summer school will run for four weeks, instead of the originally planned six. It will end Aug. 6. Classes have been extended, from 8 a.m. to 1:43 p.m. rather than 8 to noon. There will be a 27-minute break at 10:30, with some refreshments available in the school cafeteria. The schedule also includes three Saturday sessions, on July 17, 24 and 31.

Watts performs Beethoven work

Pianist Andre Watts will be the featured soloist in Beethoven Concerto No. 5 with the Waterloo Festival Orchestra, Saturday at 8 p.m. in the classical series at the Waterloo Village Music Festival.

Gerard Schwarz, director of the Waterloo Summer Music School, will be conducting the Festival Orchestra which is made up of members of the New York Philharmonic and Metropolitan Opera Association orchestras who are members of the staff of the music school. Outstanding students from the music school will be playing together with their instructors in a unique presentation of musical talents.

Before the concert, guests are invited to dine at a buffet supper catered by the Chantier, which will be served in a tent adjacent to the music tent.

Tickets for the concert are $6.50, $7.50, and $8.50 for reserved seating and $3.50 for open lawn seating.

Reservations can be made by calling the Waterloo Music Festival Box office at 347-4700.

BOWLING LEADERS—The Northeasters mixed bowling league honors went to the Thunderbolts, with, at left, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cooper of Mountainside and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ott of Westfield. Also cited at a banquet at the Tower Steak House, Mountainside, were second place finishers Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bunin of Mountainside and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Wilde of Berkeley Heights, who formed the Up-Your-Ally team.

Judge fines local resident $205 for five traffic counts

Fines totalling $295 were levied against a Mountainside man by Judge Jacob R. Bauer at the July 7 session of Mountainside Municipal Court for five motor vehicle violations.

John Mitchell of Lawrence avenue paid $25 for driving while his license was suspended, $35 for misuse of license plates, $15 for operating an unregistered vehicle, $15 for failure to exhibit an insurance identification card, and $15 for failure to obtain a New Jersey driver's license within 60 days of moving to the state. He had been ticketed on Mountain avenue.

A $115 fine and six months revocation of his driver's license were the penalties for Larry G. Cooper of Newark, apprehended on Rt. 22 for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Other motor vehicle cases handled at the session included those of: Rudolf W. Scholz of Outlook drive, Mountainside, fined $35 for driving 63 mph in a 40-mile zone; Charles P. Rogers of Bridgewater, $15 for operating an unregistered vehicle, $5 for contempt of court; Gary C. Cuthrie of Middlesex, given a three-day jail term in lieu of paying $30 for two offenses, being an unlicensed driver and failure to exhibit vehicle registration.

Also: Walter Harris of Jersey City, $15 for operating an auto overdue for inspection, $10 for contempt; John R. Ferreira of Westfield, $15 for failing to make vehicle repairs, $10 for contempt; Joel A. Blumberg of Plainfield, $25 for passing on the right.

Also, Frank Decicco of Cranford, $25 for passing on the shoulder, $5 for contempt; Richard J. Zellerman of Irvington, $15 for operating an auto overdue for inspection, $5 for contempt; David J. Carson of East Orange, $15, operating an unregistered vehicle, $5 for contempt; Robert W. Hoffman of Piscataway, $15 for operating an auto overdue for inspection, $5 for contempt.

Scholz had been ticketed on Summit road, the other drivers, on Rt. 22.

to police, VonRoegen said he was going to bicycle to a neighbor's house to help cut his lawn, but apparently he headed straight for the reservation.

He reportedly was seen cycling near New Providence road and Tracy drive at approximately 5:10 p.m. His locked bike was found in a parking lot near the tower.

VonRoegen had graduated with honors from Westfield High School last month and had been accepted as a freshman at Yale University.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles VonRoegen, a brother and a sister. Private funeral services were to be held this week. A memorial Mass will be offered at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Holy Trinity Church, Westfield.

VonRoegen's body was found near the spot where Gregg Sanders, 15, of Mountainside, apparently leaped to his death Jan. 13, 1975, after he allegedly axed his parents to death in their Sunny Slope drive home.

Following Sanders' death, a group of local residents petitioned the Mountainside Borough Council to have the stairs removed from the tower, which is owned by the Elizabeth Water Co. The borough, however, has little say in the matter because the tower is under the jurisdiction of the Union County Park Commission. The tower steps remain unlocked.

Mountaineers top S. Orange, Orange to remain undefeated in league action

By RICHARD REITER

The Mountaineers, Mountainside's Little League All-Stars made it four victories in a row with triumphs over South Orange and Orange. This makes Mountainside undefeated and puts them in first place in the Inter-Community League.

Tuesday's outing saw the Mountaineers win a thriller from South Orange in the last inning, 5-4. Gary Kane opened on the mound and started it off on the right foot with a one-two-three inning. His Mountaineer teammates then gave him some support by rallying for two runs. Kirk Yogy led off with a single and moved to second on David Crane's base hit. They each stole a base and both scored on Frank Gagliano's single.

South Orange came right back, however, to put together a rally of their own. Combining a home run with singles and a double, they hit in three runs to take the lead. Next, Mountainside came to bat one run down, and left one run up. Yogy and Crane again got on base and moved around to second and third. Yogy scored when Gagliano hit, earning another RBI. Crane, not one to be left on base long, put Mountainside ahead by stealing home.

South Orange scored one run in the fifth to tie the score. Relief pitcher Keith Hanigan then turned the chores over to Gagliano, who blanked the side and gave the Mountaineers their chance at the victory. Yogy again got on base with a lead-off single, stole second and moved to third on Crane's ground-out. The South Orange first baseman tried to throw him out at third but overthrew the base, and Yogy dashed home for the winning run.

The Mountaineers next traveled to Orange, where they put it all together to triumph 13-5 and put the team in first place in the league.

Frank Knoll collected two RBIs in the first inning by doubling in Crane and Hanigan. The two-run lead was short-lived, however, as Orange, too, scored two runs in its half of the inning. Mountainside was unable to score in the second, but Orange did, jumping to a two-run lead.

In the next inning Mountainside scored one run when Frank Knoll crossed the plate, and pitcher Jeff Wilde held the Orange team scoreless in the bottom. But Orange was ahead, 4-3, at the start of the fourth inning.

This was Jeff Wilde's inning. After pitching, he led off at bat with an over-the-fence home run to tie the game.

Then, with two outs, Mountainside put together the winning rally. Crane singled, Hanigan singled, and Gagliano singled in Crane. Knoll also collected an RBI by singling in Hanigan, and Pat Esemplare hit in Gagliano. Lenny Caprioglio was hit by a pitched ball to put another run across the plate and keep the bases loaded.

At that point the Mountaineers had gone through the entire batting order, and Wilde was up again. Since he had already hit one home run, the outfielders played deep, but no deep enough. Wilde connected again for an over-the-fence grand slam. This put Mountainside up 11-4. At the end of the game, the final score stood at 13-5.

Today is the team's next home game.

2 women injured in Rt. 22 mishap

Two persons were reported injured July 8 in a two-car collision at Rt. 22 and New Providence road in Mountainside.

Police said one driver, Louise Svenda, 64, of Garwood, became caught in traffic in the intersection as she was northbound on New Providence road at 1:40 p.m. The light changed to green for highway traffic as she was proceeding across, and her car was struck by a westbound auto which reportedly was travelling on the shoulder of Rt. 22. The other driver, William H. Davies 2nd of Williamstown, was issued a summons for passing on the shoulder.

Mrs. Svenda suffered a fractured arm. A passenger in her car, Susan Schutz, 54, received facial injuries. Both were taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

Bicyclist, 16, hurt when hit by auto

A 16-year-old Westfield girl was reported injured Sunday afternoon when she was struck by a car while bicycling on Summit lane in Mountainside. The motorist, Ronald W. Carthy, 19, of Rolling Rock road, has been charged with leaving the scene of the accident.

Borough police said the mishap occurred at 2:20 p.m. when Carthy made a right turn onto Summit lane from W.R. Tracy drive and collided with the cyclist, Margaret Coniff, who reportedly was riding in the middle of the street.

Police said Carthy apparently panicked and fled the scene but was apprehended in the Watchung Reservation by Union County Park Police. Miss Coniff reportedly complained of back pains, but police said she stated she would see her own physician.

Callahan on dean's list

Karen J. Callahan of Chapel Hill, Mountainside, has been named to the dean's list at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio, for the spring 1976 quarter. She earned a 3.5 point average to achieve the honor.

'Perfect' at Bucknell

LEWISBURG, Pa.—Catherine J. Fischer of Old Tote road, Mountainside, N.J., has been named to the dean's list for the second semester of the 1975-76 academic year at Bucknell University here. She obtained a perfect 4.0 average for the semester.

Land sale brings DiFrancesco call for probe of PUC

Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-Union, Morris) has introduced an Assembly resolution requesting the General Assembly Energy and Natural Resources Committee to conduct a study and investigation of the administration by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the laws and regulations pertinent to the sale and lease of real property by public utilities.

DiFrancesco's request is the result of the PUC's approval of a sale of property, situated in the Borough of New Providence and the Township of Berkeley Heights, by Public Service Electric and Gas Co. to a private corporation for approximately one third of its assessed value.

In addition to this enormous discrepancy," DiFrancesco said, "we have found no evidence of a public notice of the sale prior to the transaction. It is very surprising that the Public Utility Commission approved this sale for less than the assessed value without questioning."

According to the assemblyman, the public has been demanding more regulation and greater control of utility rates as of recent date. He said that the Public Utility Commission and the laws which govern it should be looked at and possibly revised.

"It is my hope," he added, "that as a result of my resolution, thorough public hearings will be held by the committee so that an extensive record could be made to assist us in developing regulations in line with the present concern of the public."

Student working on research team

Pamela Smith King of Mountainside is among 13 science and pre-medical students at Pennsylvania State University who are working on a research project this summer.

Supported by a $20,000 National Science Foundation grant, they are studying rats to see if there is a link between the steroid hormones in birth control pills and high blood pressure.

Mrs. King, a senior nutrition major, will receive academic credit for the project. Other students participating will receive stipends of $90 per week.

SOUTH MOUNTAINSIDE

The residents of Mountainside owe a tremendous vote of thanks to Dr. Abend of Knightsbridge road, for his being instrumental in obtaining the county freeholders' vote not to widen New Providence Road south of Rt. 22.

He and Mrs. Howard, West, Rabbit and Mr. Cooper worked long and tirelessly in getting petitions signed, attending local and county meetings, etc. They sacrificed many of their nights and weekends.

We of south Mountainside are citizens of action—not words!

Judge completes Nevada program

Judge John P. Walsh of the County Court of Elizabeth, a resident of Mountainside, completed a two-week graduate judicial training and education session at the National College of the State Judiciary, University of Nevada, Reno campus.

The session dealt with criminal law and sentencing and included such subjects as the adversary system in a criminal trial, confessions and the privilege against self-incrimination, search and seizure, right to counsel, contempt, trial disruption, group dynamics, effectiveness of the correctional system and alternatives to confinement.

Participants at the session heard lectures, held small discussion groups and took part in interviews with prison inmates and in reverse role-playing.

Camera, jewelry taken in break-in Mountainside detectives are investigating a break-and-entry and larceny at a Force drive home, which was burglarized on Monday afternoon.

The homeowner reported that a camera, radio and jewelry had been taken. He is preparing a full list of missing items.

Police said the thieves gained entry to the residence by breaking a basement window and then prying open an interior door. The dining room, bedroom, den and office were ransacked.

Academic achievement

Sarah L. Capawana of Mountainview drive, Mountainside, a sophomore at Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., has been named to the dean's list for the spring term.

McDonough talks on 'sunset law' bill

At a recent meeting, the Employer Legislative Committees of New Jersey heard speeches favoring a New Jersey "sunset law" from State Senator Peter McDonough (R-22), who has introduced a bill in the legislature, and Dick Zimmer, N.J. chairman of Common Cause.

The bill provides for reviews of state agencies at five-year intervals by a bipartisan committee of state senators. By justifying its activities and programs, each agency would have to persuade the Legislature to renew its mandate; otherwise it would be automatically abolished. The "sunset" idea originated with Common Cause in Colorado, which passed the first such law in April. Similar bills are pending in other states and have been introduced in the U.S. Senate.

Common Cause, the largest citizens' action organization in the country, was founded in 1970 by John Gardner, former secretary of health, education, and welfare. It has almost 300,000 members nationally and 11,000 in New Jersey.

Miss King wins honor

ASHLAND, OHIO — Kathleen King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. King of Hillside avenue, Mountainside, N.J., was named to the dean's list at Ashland College for the second semester in the 1975-76 academic year. She is a junior majoring in physical education.

Bell squeezes talk into phone pauses

Experiment begins on New York-Boston circuit

The Bell System has begun a trial of a new system that could expand the capacity of the existing nationwide long distance telephone network. The tests are being conducted by Bell Telephone Laboratories and AT&T's Long Lines Department on Bell System microwave radio facilities between New York and Boston under a license granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

The new system, developed by Bell Laboratories, is known as Time Assignment Speech Interpolation (TASI). It takes advantage of normal pauses in telephone conversations to provide an additional information-carrying capacity over an "occupied" communications channel.

TASI increases the conversation-carrying capacity of transmission media by taking advantage of the times when people are listening or pausing. The voice channels left temporarily unused during these pauses are automatically assigned to other talkers.

When there are more talkers than channels, TASI will connect active talkers by temporarily "disconnecting" people who are silent at that moment. In turn, these "disconnected" talkers will be assigned to other momentarily inactive channels when they start to speak again. A talker will be "disconnected" only when silent.

With TASI, a talker's voice activates a speech detector circuit. This circuit connects the new talker to an available channel and sends a coded signal over a signalling channel to complete the connection at the far end. When a talker pauses and his or her channel is needed, another coded signal is sent to release the connection.

An earlier version of TASI, introduced by the Bell System in 1960, effectively doubled the capacity of undersea cable systems between the U.S. and Europe. This version worked with telephone conversations that were transmitted in "analog" form—that is, using continuous electrical signals to represent the conversations.

In this earlier TASI system, individual speech processing circuits were needed for each voice channel. In the TASI system now being tested, the voice signals are converted into digital form as streams of electrical pulses. This allows a single, high-speed digital circuit to perform speech processing functions on a large number of voice channels.

The digitized speech can be sent directly to a distant location over a digital transmission system such as the T4M digital coaxial cable system, or the signal can be converted into its original analog form for transmission over conventional analog facilities.

The New York-to-Boston tests are designed to measure the performance of TASI employing digital techniques for potential service over both digital and analog transmission systems within the Bell System nationwide telephone network. The radio channels used for the tests will be TH-1 and TD-2 microwave radio relay channels normally assigned as spares for protection against failure of channels in service. These spare channels will revert to their normal function in the event of an emergency during the tests. Terminal equipment has been installed to allow transmitting digital signals over the channels.

ARBA requests record to be kept of '76 celebrations

WASHINGTON, D.C.—How did the nation commemorate its 200th anniversary? What values prevailed? Who took part in the celebration? What was its significance?

"These are the questions our children's children will ask," says the nation's Bicentennial administrator, "and it is vital that the complete record of the Bicentennial be preserved in all its color, variety and scope."

John W. Warner, administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), expressed this opinion in discussing plans for insuring a permanent record of Bicentennial activities and achievements.

As a federal agency, ARBA is working with the National Archives, the Smithsonian Institution and the Library of Congress to make certain the official record of the agency and artifacts of national significance are preserved.

Because the Bicentennial is essentially a grass roots commemoration, communities and organizations are being urged to preserve their own record of participation.

The ARBA recommends that community Bicentennial committees consult with state and local historical societies, libraries, and local museums for advice and help on the selection and retention of Bicentennial records and memorabilia.

Warner has written to state Bicentennial Commissions asking them to join in the effort to encourage local archiving, as well as preserving the state-level record.

Neither ARBA nor federal depositories can accept local archival materials, but state and territorial Bicentennial Commissions are being asked to provide a copy of their final report for inclusion in ARBA's records.

ARBA will prepare a national inventory of Bicentennial records and memorabilia indicating what records and artifacts have been preserved around the country and where they are located.

Drew grant aids library

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek, Mich., has given Drew University, Madison, a grant for the purpose of tying its library into a national computer network of library services.

The $8,000 gift will be spent over the next two years on a computer terminal and whatever training Drew librarians may need to operate it. Expected to be fully operational early in 1977, the terminal will provide access to detailed information on books held by more than 1,000 libraries across the nation, plus the latest Library of Congress cataloging for all books in English and several foreign languages.

It will also give other members of the network, which is based in Ohio, the same nearly instantaneous information about Drew's holdings.

Veterans to stage heritage festival

An American Heritage Festival will be presented at the Garden State Arts Center, Holmdel, on Saturday, October 9, under the sponsorship of the veteran's organizations of New Jersey.

George Hoffman of Highland Park, general chairman, announced the festival as a part of the 1976 Arts Center Heritage Festival series. Hoffman represents the Jewish War Veterans of New Jersey.

Hoffman said that the festival committee plans a full day of activities, including parades, dancing, an American heritage exhibit on the Arts Center Plaza and Mall and a program on the stage.

Proceeds from the festival will go to the Garden State Arts Center Cultural Fund which provides free programs for New Jersey's senior citizens, disabled veterans, the blind and school children.

Tickets range from $7.50 for box seats to $2 for lawn seats. Tickets are available through veterans' organizations. Information is available by calling the Arts Center Fund office at 442-8600, ext. 222, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

CENTER-HALL COLONIAL—A sweeping staircase, accented by a chandelier, highlights the entry foyer of the Greenwood, one of four new single-family homes at Panther Valley in Allamuchy, Warren County. Priced at $87,900, it features a 22-foot living room, formal dining room, four bedrooms, 2½ baths, paneled family room, breakfast room, laundry and two-car garage. The master bedroom suite, occupying the entire rear of the second floor, includes a 14-foot walk-in closet, dressing area with vanity, linen closet and complete bath. Other single-family homes with three bedrooms, priced from $79,500, are available at Panther Valley, located on Rt. 517, one mile south of Rt. 80.

Big Bass Lake reports home construction boom

Although the Sun Construction Co. is only one of the five approved builders at Big Bass Lake, Gouldsboro, Pa., they do about 85 percent of all building there. This is partly because the company is located on the premises, and also because of its competitive prices for homes.

Tamaron condos open in Bergen

Traffic has been brisk at Tamaron in Waldwick, Bergen County's Town house condominium complex.

According to Rudy Khron, sales manager, "There is so much to do here, yet if residents want the easy life, they have it. Everything you need, or need to get to, is in close proximity, and, for family and friends, Tamaron is within easy visiting distance."

Tamaron features two models: an all-on-one-level two-bedroom, two-bath home, and a two-story model. All have large closets, patios (some with fireplaces), dining and living rooms, wall-to-wall carpeting, central air conditioning, gas heat, and extra insulation for year-round comfort.

All wiring is underground. Artesian water and a municipal sewerage system are also featured.

Tamaron's clubhouse will be open soon, and residents may enjoy a swimming pool, tennis courts, exercise rooms, on-premises—kitchen, card rooms, and a variety of social activities.

Prices at Tamaron start at $49,900, with all-inclusive maintenance charges of approximately $55 a month.

To visit Tamaron's models, take the Garden State Parkway north to Rt. 17 Paramus exit. Go north to the first traffic light (Franklin turnpike); make a left at light and follow Franklin turnpike to the second traffic light (Wyckoff ave.). Make a left at Wyckoff ave., past the first light, about 1/2 of a mile. The models are situated on the right side at Tamaron drive. Readers may call 445-4455 for directions.

Models are open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Big Bass Lake can be reached from the Delaware Water Gap on Interstate 80 with a turnoff onto Interstate 380 West to Exit 3. From there it is only two miles on Rt. 507 to the Big Bass Lake Welcome Center. For further information readers may call the toll-free number, 800-221-8800.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION—Custom homes at Barrymor at Cypress are built among rolling hills, tall trees and a natural green area—at a central location in Lakewood. An elementary school, hospital facilities, public transportation stops and a soon-to-be built professional and retail plaza are nearby. The builder, Barrymor Enterprises, has announced a projected price increase for homes in section two of the community, but prices in section one will hold through July, ranging from $35,990 to $44,990. Models at the Barrymor sales area—located on East County Line road (Rt. 526), just off Garden State Parkway, Exit 91—are open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

N.J.-based firm spotlights latest in 'dome homes'

For the first time ever, metropolitan homebuyers can now see and tour geodesic dome homes.

Recently, Geodesic Structures, Inc., of Roosevelt opened its models and factory doors to the public. The company, the largest builder of dome homes in the nation is located near Hightstown, on Rt. 571 off New Jersey Turnpike Exit 8. It will offer for sale these energy-saving residential environments.

Prices for the basic vacation dome shell start at $6,500. Larger, fully-customized, two to three-bedroom versions range in cost from $40,000 to over $100,000 - totally constructed.

Visitors will see four of Geodesic Structures' 11 models of domes. Three of the models shown will be fully-furnished. The domes vary in specifications from one bedroom to four; from 485 surface square feet to 5,000 sq. ft.; from 12-spheres to 24-spheres; from center ceiling heights of 13 feet to those of more than 29 feet.

For those who already know they want a dome in their future, or those who realize this after seeing the homes, Geodesic Structures president Peter Tobia has arranged to show various available and appropriate prime lots where the domes can be built. "The company will help buyers find the best home sites to complement dome life in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York," a spokesman said.

The total parts of an average dome home are manufactured at the Roosevelt factory in a day. On-site construction takes an average of another six days. Tobia reports that the full price of a dome home costs from $20-$30 per square foot.

"The dome's openness and purity are what attract a lot of people," Tobia stated. "It's a whole new lifestyle. I know personally that it's certainly more exciting to live in the round, and it's more natural and comfortable use of space."

"The Christian Science Monitor" stated that geodesic homes are, "among the most ecologically sound buildings because they are far easier to heat and cool."

Besides being easier, climate control in a dome is considerably less expensive. Cooling and heating require less energy. The structural form, itself, enables the homes to withstand greater exterior pressures—the reason that geodesic domes are the forms of the nation's weather and defense lines in the most brutal weather conditions of the Arctic Circle. Geodesic Structures' homes also are built with outside walls that are "virtually care-free." The placement of the window panels allows for more natural light.

Included in the features of dome homes are open interior sleeping lofts, from one-to-three levels, and exterior decks.

Geodesic Structures, Inc., recently moved to its larger manufacturing facility in Roosevelt. "The community was selected because it, itself, has marked housing innovation in the nation. Roosevelt is believed to be the first planned home community in America."

Scuba classes to be held in Eastpointe swim pool

The New Jersey Marine Sciences Consortium has announced it will hold scuba diving classes at Eastpointe, an oceanfront condominium in the Highlands.

The consortium, which is composed of 18 different institutions of higher learning, with laboratories at Sandy Hook and Seaville, sponsors college-level courses in the marine sciences. In addition, it provides facilities for applied and academic research, sponsors seminars, holds meetings and coordinates a variety of other activities designed to encourage communication among scientists, as well as between scientist and the general public.

The scuba classes, to be held at Eastpointe's large, heated swimming pool, are scheduled Aug. 9 to 13 between 9 a.m. and noon.

The scuba program, under the direction of Ed Tiedemann of Underwater Advisor Inc., consists of one full week of training. For five days, each student will receive 1 1/2 hours of in-pool instruction in the mornings at Eastpointe, followed by 3 to 3 1/2 hours of lectures in the afternoons and evenings. The final two days of the course are devoted to open water dives, two with scuba gear and one without.

Joan A. Sheridan, administrative assistant of the New Jersey Marine Sciences Consortium, reported that students who successfully complete the one-week program will receive NAUI (National Association of Underwater Instructors) certification as qualified divers.

The consortium, under the directorship of Dr. Lionel A. Walford, offers a variety of marine-related courses, many that carry graduate and undergraduate college credits. Students may earn up to four credits in subjects that range from "Biology of Fishes" to "Oceanography." Non-credit courses include such subjects as "Marine Angling," "Basic and Advanced Sailing" and, of course, "Basic Scuba Diving."

According to Ms. Sheridan, "We're happy to be able to offer such a full and varied program of courses this year. And we're especially grateful to Eastpointe for graciously offering us the use of its facilities for our scuba classes. The entire sales and management teams at Eastpointe are to be commended for their civic mindedness and their contribution to marine science."

Eastpointe, the high-rise that pierces the horizon at the highest point on the entire Eastern seacoast, has been described as both a comfortable residence and a luxurious vacation resort. Located about 1 1/2 miles west of the Sandy Hook Bridge, Eastpointe overlooks Sandy Hook Bay, New York harbor and the Atlantic All of which makes it an ideal location for marine scientists, as well as non-scientists who merely love the sea

Low-interest loans at Luv To reach Luv at Stanhope, take Exit 25 off rte. 80 to rte. 183. Model homes are open seven days a week from 11 a.m. to dusk.

Martin Newman, builder of Luv Condominiums at Stanhope, is making available, on a trial basis, a limited amount of low interest loans with five percent down.

The 6 3/4 percent loans are for condominiums that can be delivered this summer. After three years, the interest rate goes to 7 1/2 percent, which, Newman notes, is still as low as can be had in New Jersey. Prime interest rates elsewhere are now 7 1/2 percent.

Prices at Luv range from $29,990 to $46,990, for a luxury townhouse. The Luv pool is open and the health club will soon be under construction. Some condos are being sold fully furnished as a special offering of the builder.

Flexibility is key to the success of senior areas

Thorough planning to meet varying needs in adult living has produced more than $10 million in sales for the Northeastern Region of Leisure Technology Corp. That sales pace was recorded since April 1 at the firm's communities in New Jersey and New York.

"Residents of our many developments share the understandable desire for a secure and orderly residential environment," says Howard H. Mandel, executive vice-president of this division of the Lakewood-based national organization. "But while some couples delight in a great deal of social activity and recreation, others may be more interested in a home that serves as a base when they're not making their travel dreams come true."

Leisure Village West and Leisure Knoll at Manchester, built on opposite sides of Route 70 just west of Lakewood, and Leisure Village and Leisure Knoll on Long Island are excellent examples of this very successful concept. The Village, which is a condominium community of spacious attached homes, puts great stress on a comprehensive maintenance package and the greatest variety of recreational and clubhouse facilities. Prices range from $25,800 to $46,750. By contrast, Leisure Knoll is a burgeoning neighborhood of detached homes with a more modest approach to recreation and maintenance. Prices range from $32,700 to $46,400.

A third approach to adult living may be found at Leisure Technology's Leisure Towne off Rt. 70 at Vincentown in Burlington County. This is also a detached home community, but with less emphasis on maintenance. Prices range from $29,900 to $42,400.

"These three communities share certain attractive characteristics," says Mandel. "Architecturally, they are very pleasing, with a variety of floor plans to meet individual needs. In each, there is special focus on recreation, from swimming pools and shuffleboard, hobby and game rooms, and even boating and fishing."

As the pioneer in the creation of leisure-oriented adult communities in the east in 1963, the planners at Leisure Technology learned very early that one type of development could not meet all the requirements of the market.

"Many families delight in the carefree ideal of an attached home where someone else worries about all of the maintenance problems. Others want the security which all communities provide, and freedom of a planned environment, but still feel more at ease in a detached home. And still others," continues Mandel, "want the detached home, but they'd rather do the maintenance themselves."

Leisure Technology met this perplexing result of research by designing communities specifically around these attitudes, instead of trying to blend the views into one very complex project.

"It has worked beautifully," says Mandel. "And regardless of which community a buyer

Grocery prices rise .4 pct. for a month of normal decline

New York-Northeastern New Jersey area grocery prices, which typically decline in May, rose by 0.4 percent over the month. It was reported this week by Herbert Biensstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. The May increase largely reflected higher prices for beef and coffee which were only partially offset by declines for fresh fruits and vegetables, eggs and poultry.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the food at home index was up 0.9 percent in May, following a 1.0 percent increase in April. The sharp increases of the two months, Biensstock noted, were in contrast with declines during the first quarter of the year. Between December 1975 and March 1976, area grocery prices dropped by an average of 1.0 percent a month. During the preceding seven months, May 1975-December 1975, area grocery prices rose an average of 0.8 percent a month.

The meats, poultry and fish index which typically declines in May rose 1.5 percent, on a seasonally adjusted basis. The index rose 4.0 percent, Biensstock noted, that the sharp May rise followed four consecutive months of decline totaling 2.2 percent seasonally adjusted.

Between April and May notable per pound increases were reported for ground chuck, up 5 cents, chuck roast, up 10 cents, lamb chops, up 23 cents, and sirloin steak up 11 cents. Biensstock indicated that these increases were in part offset by declines for rump roast, down 8 cents a pound, and frying chicken, down 2 cents a pound.

The cereals and bakery products index rose 1.4 percent in May reflecting increases for cinnamon rolls and wheat bread. The other foods at home index edged up 0.1 percent over the month as sharply higher prices for canned coffee, up 10 cents a pound, and instant coffee up 10 cents for 6 ounces, were largely offset by a 7 cent per dozen decline in egg prices.

The fruits and vegetables index, typically up in May, dropped 1.4 percent, Biensstock reported. After seasonal adjustment the May drop was 2.6 percent and compared with an increase of 1.5 percent in the preceding month.

Positions offered as IRS tax aides

Positions are available at various locations throughout the state for seasonal taxpayer service representatives in the Internal Revenue Service. It was announced this week by the Newark area office of the U.S. Civil Service Commission. Taxpayer service representatives provide information to the public on agency programs that involve tax duties.

Applicants must be available for a full eight-hour day during a training period and also during the tax filing period which usually begins in late December and ends in late April. They must be available to work intermittently as determined by the volume of work; there is usually little or no work from May through November.

There is a written test. Two years of college or two years of responsible experience or a combination of both totaling two years is required. The starting salary is $3.83 an hour. Further information is available from the Newark Federal job information center, Room 137, 970 Broad St., Newark 07102, telephone 645-3673.

Survey of home sales

A recent survey showed that three-bedroom homes accounted for 56 percent of existing home sales and four bedrooms or more for 26.4 percent of sales. Two bedrooms or less accounted for only 17.6 percent of sales.

B'nai B'rith lists leadership talks for lodge officials

A series of leadership training seminars for 1976-77 officers and committee chairmen of 39 B'nai B'rith men's lodges will be conducted by Northern New Jersey Council, B'nai B'rith, during July and August at Temple Emanu-El, Westfield.

Dr. Eugene Portuguese of Verona, council president, announced the first two seminars will be held on Thursday, July 22, at 7:30 p.m. for the new lodge presidents and members of the council's board of governors.

Donald Myers of Roselle, newly elected third vice-president of B'nai B'rith District No. 3—serving New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and West Virginia will be the keynote speaker. He is a past president of the council and of Elizabeth Lodge.

Portuguese said leadership seminars for chairmen of 12 lodge committees will be held on Thursday evening July 29 at Arthur Kesselhaut of Springfield, first vice-president of the council, will be leader of that program.

Buffet dinner seminar meetings will be conducted for lodge fund raising committee chairmen on Aug. 19, and for lodge membership action chairmen on Aug. 26.

Portuguese said Northern New Jersey Council B'nai B'rith, now has more than 12,000 paid up members in its 39 lodges. It is the largest council in the four state district and the third largest in the world-wide Jewish service organization founded in 1843.

Bridgeport taxes high

Bridgeport, Conn., is the most heavily-taxed metropolitan area in the U.S. in federal taxes paid per capita, according to Tax Foundation, Inc. The average amount paid by each man, woman and child in the area is $1,841.

Alcoholism, law subject of seminar

New Jersey Supreme Court Chief Justice Richard Hughes will be the principal speaker at the first major seminar on "Alcoholism and the Criminal Justice System," since public intoxication was decriminalized in New Jersey. The seminar, to be held next Wednesday in the Hilltop Auditorium, Essex County Hospital Center in Verona, is intended for criminal justice personnel in Essex and Union counties.

The day-long seminar will feature programs on "Recognizing and Treating the Intoxicated Person," "Alcohol Addiction," "Juvenile Problems and Alcoholism" and "Decriminalization and the Criminal Justice System."

Geraldine O. Delaney, executive director of the Little Hill Foundation, Alina Lodge and Dr. Frank Smith, alcoholic program coordinator at Martland Hospital, Newark are guest speakers along with Nancy Brach, assistant executive director of the National Council on Alcoholism, North Jersey Area.

Dr. Michael Festa, chairman of the Board of Directors of Turning Point, a co-sponsor of the seminar, will speak and Heidi Abrams of the Mercer County Alcoholism Program is a scheduled speaker. John Osterstein, director of the Hillside Alcoholism Program, and Max Searles, assistant director of Turning Point, planned the program for the N.J. Association of Alcoholism Counselors, the other co-sponsor of the seminar.

National Lung Program study needs more male volunteers

The National Lung Program set up by the National Cancer Institute in 1974, needs male volunteers for research on the early detection of lung cancer. The program offers free lung examinations for volunteers who must be over 44 years old and smoke at least one pack of cigarettes daily, a group found to have the highest risk of lung cancer.

The program seeks to determine whether periodic examinations of men who still feel well can detect lung cancer early enough to improve the survival rate.

The program was designed to follow 30,000 men over a 5 to 10 year period, 10,000 each at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, New York City; Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.; and Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

All volunteers are given annual front and side chest x-rays at no cost. Because the x-ray picture is developed on-the-spot, additional pictures can be taken from different angles immediately if any abnormality is perceived. Half of the volunteers are also given a sputum test, which requires them to cough up material to be placed on slides and examined microscopically. They are also asked to mail in samples of their sputum twice a year.

In the first two years of the program at Memorial, we discovered 61 cancer cases among 6600 volunteers—twice as many cases as we expected," said Dr. Myron R. Melamed, chief of cytology, and New York director of the program.

Nearly all of these cases were discovered early enough to be treated by curative surgery. We think we can boost the survival rate to anywhere from 50 to 80 percent," he added. Currently, only eight percent of those with diagnosed lung cancer survive for five years or more.

Survey planned on employment

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area next week, John C. Cullinane, director of the bureau's regional office in New York City, announced this week.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 70,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in May the survey indicated that of the 94.6 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 87.7 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 7.3 percent, down from 7.5 percent in April and substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Dialysis treatment cheaper at home than in a hospital

Treatment costs for victims of chronic kidney disease who require periodic blood cleansing, or dialysis, are almost four times as high in the hospital as they are in the patient's own home. This, in essence, is the finding of an NIH-sponsored study of dialysis costs conducted in five major dialysis centers in the U.S. The average cost of one home dialysis treatment is approximately $43, it is reported, while the average hospital treatment session costs about $159. Over the period of a year the expenditures for dialysis maintenance treatments (three per week) would amount to just under $7,900 and to $21,700, respectively, depending on the setting in which they are given.

Reporting their study results in the journal "Kidney International," Paul A. Hoffstein and Drs. Keatha K. Krueger and Robert J. Wineman emphasized that their study was not designed to provide a statistical "average" of dialysis costs. Rather, the data are representative of the costs of a variety of dialysis modalities at several locations. As such, the data can be used to generate weekly, monthly and annual costs for any particular modality.

It was pointed out, too, that the dialysis costs reported are presented at the rates prevailing during the period of July-November 1973, when the study was conducted. Although such costs include personnel, supplies, travel, equipment and incidental expenses, they do not include physician services, radiology, and blood access surgery.

As expected, the home dialysis or self-dialysis program had decidedly the lowest cost. In such a setting, the well-trained patient essentially treats himself, although he may require some assistance from a family member. The next most economical program is "limited care," with an average cost of $106, in which the patient is treated by nurses or technicians in a special dialysis treatment center. The third place is in-hospital dialysis. Finally, the most expensive dialysis is that performed during the initial home training phase, lasting several weeks, of a patient's home treatment program, an approximate cost of $190.

Dr. Wineman is associate chief of the Artificial Kidney-Chronic Uremia Program of the National Institute of Arthritis, Metabolism, and Digestive Diseases, a component of the Public Health Service's National Institutes of Health. Dr. Krueger, who was formerly associated with the same program, now is Diabetes Program Director for the same institute. Mr. Hoffstein of the University of Texas Medical School, Houston, is president of the Nephrology Cost Group, which monitored the study, maintained uniformity and analyzed the results.

Amana
HAS ANOTHER BRIGHT IDEA THAT CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON YOUR ELECTRIC BILL.

Amana's Energy Saving (TM) Refrigerators have much more urethane foam insulation than has ever been used in home refrigerators before. Designed to keep the heat out, the cold in, and the electric bills down. Uses a little more electricity than a 100 watt light bulb per day.

Amana's ESRF-16W Free-O-Frost uses only 2.8 kilowatt hours per day. Other comparable refrigerators use up to 6.0 kilowatt hours per day... much more than the ESRF-16W.

It will save you money & it's fully featured

Amana is completely Free-O-Frost. Exclusive 3 Position Energy Saver Control. Convertible doors change from right to left hand opening any time. Magna-seal door gasket keeps cold in, heat out.

Two automatic cold controls. Set one independent of the other.
