

Schools to open Wednesday

A reorganized school assignment plan will be put into effect with the opening of Mountainside's two public schools Wednesday. About 850 pupils are enrolled in the local school district, which serves youngsters in kindergarten through eighth grade. Classes will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday with a 1 p.m. dismissal.

Under the reorganization plan, about 300 youngsters in kindergarten through third grade will attend Beechwood School. Students in grades four through eight will study at Deerfield School. Last year Beechwood served pupils from kindergarten through fifth grade,

Deerfield kindergarten through eighth grade to eight enrollment of about 550 students. "It will inaugurate the expanded Middle School concept and offer many additional facilities and programs for children in grades four and five," said Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools. "These include possibilities in shop, home economics and gym," he said. The superintendent noted that "an overlapping class grouping plan has been put into effect so children who need small group, highly individualized instruction will get it. At the other end of the spectrum, accelerated students will be offered a more challenging program."

Dr. Hanigan predicted that the reorganization will "provide more effective education for the children of Mountainside."

School bus routes

Bus routes and schedules for students attending borough public schools appear on page three of today's Echo. Bus routes and schedules for Dayton Regional High School are on page two.

Teachers begin the school year Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the Deerfield cafeteria. The Mountainside Teachers Association (MTA) will sponsor a pre-meeting coffee from 8:30 to 9 a.m. The meeting will include the introduction of three new teachers, and greetings from Mrs. Sandy Burdge, PTA president; Charles Carson, MTA president; William Buino, board president; and Dr. Hanigan.

New teachers are Mrs. Joy Delmar, Mrs. Lorraine Leber and Gregory Gallo.

Watchung link endorsed by Union Township unit

Environmental groups, which have been shouting the loudest and inundating state and federal agencies with letters opposing construction of Rt. 78 through the Watchung Reservation, received some competition last week from the Union Township Planning Board, which went on record for completion of the interstate highway as soon as possible.

The board approved a motion pointing out that the original purpose of the east-west highway, when planning started two decades ago, was to relieve congestion on Rt. 22. Calling such relief "imperative," the board urged the state Department of Transportation to give more consideration to construction of the missing link between Springfield and Berkeley Heights, an area that takes in the Watchung Reservation.

The motion was offered by Jacques Sichel, a member of Union's planning board and chairman of the township's official Environmental Commission. Sichel also criticized the preference of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for a cut-and-cover tunnel underneath the reservation. He said the tunnel would be far more expensive than the original right-of-way both in construction costs and maintenance.

"There are serious objections to a five-mile tunnel," he said. "Any accident would block it very badly."

Sichel said engineers hired by some communities to study the proposed right-of-way between Springfield and Berkeley Heights have come up with recommendations favoring the original alignment through the reservation with modifications. These, he said, would meet objections about noise levels at Gov. Livingston Regional High School and Ruppella Hospital and problems that might arise during construction in Springfield.

Sichel said that environmentalists fighting construction of Rt. 78 fail to consider the environmental impact of noise, air pollution and other problems stemming from Rt. 22 congestion. He said relief from this congestion should receive priority "over all other considerations."

Swimmers close season with champions' meet

The Mountainside Community Pool swim team completed its season last weekend with the annual house championship meets at the pool. Novice swimmers, many competing for their first time, swam last Saturday and the Meet of Champions was held Sunday.

This season the MCP team captured the Westfield Outdoor Swim League Championship, the League Relay Carnival, Best Boys Individual Team, and 3rd place in the Westfield 'Y' Relays. In holding the fund-raising Swim-A-Thon, the team raised over $2,000 for the purchase of new equipment. While accomplishing these feats, MCP swimmers set 19 team records and tied another.

Following the Meet of Champions, the team's parents hosted a party for all members of the swimming and diving teams. The annual coaches awards were presented to Lisa Fernicola and David Crane.

Sunday's competition found three new record holders. Russell Picut in the boys 8 and under breaststroke; Carol Luckenbach in the girls 11 and 12 butterfly; and Barron Jaffe tied the boys 15-17 breaststroke.

Triple gold medal award winners were: Shane Connell, Cindy Ahlholm, Ted McLaughlan, Carol Heymann, David Crane, Carol Luckenbach, Bobby Anderson, Barron Jaffe, and Jean Kaschin.

Posting double victories were: Lisa McCarthy, Lisa Fernicola, and Pam Bieszak.

Enrollment at Dayton to be 1473

Only 5 fewer pupils than total last June

Mountainside students entering or returning to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School for the 1976-77 academic year will be part of a pupil population of 1,473 at the Springfield facility, only five fewer than the number enrolled in June.

High school classes start on Wednesday, but new students will report a day earlier for an orientation program.

The overall enrollment in the Regional High School District—also including Arthur L. Johnson High School, Clark; Gov. Livingston, Berkeley Heights; and Davaid Brearley, Kenilworth—has decreased by 168 to 5,229.

The only new courses added to the Regional District's curriculum are in the foreign language department. Advanced Placement (AP) French and Spanish 5 will both be offered at Jonathan Dayton, as will German 5, Hebrew 3 and Italian 4.

In the mathematics department at Dayton, a course formerly entitled "Probability and Statistics" has been replaced by a course in statistics.

In the area of pupil personnel services, directed by Dr. Francis Kenny, a new program entitled "Project Active" will be offered at Dayton. It is a physical education program for classified students.

Along with Project Active, programs at Dayton will continue to be offered in the Title I and Title VI programs. Title I seeks to strengthen student skill development in language arts, reading and mathematics. There are two programs under Title VI—a career development course for handicapped students and a self-contained multiple handicapped class, held at David Brearley.

Parents and students of the Regional District also can expect a new guidance department publication detailing services offered by the counselors. Over the summer, counselors participated in a workshop, "Community Expectations of the Guidance Program," that included a needs assessment survey of parents, teachers and students. The publication is one of the results of the workshop.

The only new addition to any of the four buildings within the Regional District is at David Brearley where a new gymnasium will be in operation this month.

'Salute to States' to include display by Rescue Squad

Among the exhibits at the "Salute to the American States" festival on Saturday, Oct. 2, will be that planned by the Mountainside Rescue Squad.

The organization will display its latest equipment and review history of the squad and the progression of treatment. There will be two half-hour demonstrations during the day. The theme of the Rescue Squad's exhibit will be "Proud of the Past—Preparing for the Future." Leonard Marx is coordinating the squad's participation in the Bicentennial event sponsored by the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee.

Also planned for the festival are demonstrations of weaving and glass blowing, as well as ethnic displays showing the cultural and sociological growth of the country.

Other community and civic groups helping with the plans, either in exhibits or other activities at the day-long affair are the American Legion, the Boy Scouts, the Elks Club, the Girl Scouts, the Mountainside Music Association, the Mountainside Parent-Teacher Association, the Rotary Club, the Democratic and Republican organizations, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, religious groups, and many ethnic groups.

Also planned are games for children, square dancing, music, entertainment and food. In addition to the traditional hot dog, in keeping with the historical nature of the festival, there will be a side of beef slowly roasted on a spit.

Holiday deadline

Careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday noon deadline is especially important for next week's issue. The newspaper's offices will be closed Monday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Flood control, economic development, transportation, achieving economies through combined purchasing, the environment and "maximum development of human resources"—all these are items of concern too big for local communities to handle alone. Freeholder Thomas W. Long believes. They are areas on which county government should act, he said.

Long, assistant superintendent of Linden schools, is a Democratic candidate for reelection to the Union County Board of Freeholders.

A former freeholder director now completing his second three-year term on the board, he reviewed some of the areas "most receptive" to action by county government.

One of these is flood control, he said. "In past years, two inches of rain has meant serious flooding in many Union County communities. This summer, Hurricane Belle dumped two inches of rain on the county with only minor flooding in two communities and no flooding in the others," Long said.

"We plan to continue the progress that has already been made," he added. "Our goal, of course, is to eliminate flooding entirely within the county."

He pointed out that the county has formed an Economic Development Council composed of representatives of government, industry, labor and private citizens to work toward keeping industry in the county and attracting new businesses, "thus providing more jobs and cutting the unemployment rolls."

Turning to the role of public transportation, Long noted: "The wheels of industry throughout the nation would come to a halt without the rolling wheels of public transportation. So it is with Union County. I am for the upgrading and expansion—with federal and state monetary aid—of all modes of public transportation. I believe that the upgrading of the Erie-Lackawanna and Jersey Central Railroads and the installation of PATH is vital for our commuting taxpayers."

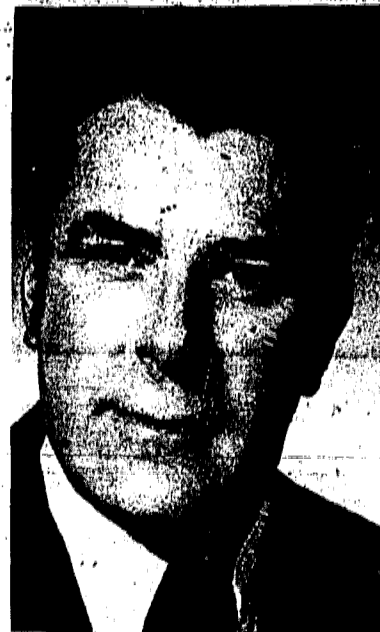

Combined purchasing is also important, he said. County government can be "an area-wide service provider in which large economies can be achieved."

In the field of environmental concerns, he recalled that "three years ago, with the backing of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, I successfully got the state government to ban the dumping of untreated chemical and bacteriological solid waste from New York City and Pennsylvania within the Garden State."

However, he said, because of a court ruling upholding a New York City appeal, "indiscriminate dumping which menaces the health of the citizens of this state is still going on."

"With the case 'stalled' in the U.S. Supreme Court," Long added, "I think it is time once again for this county to lead the way and make known in no uncertain terms to the federal government and its bureaucrats that the lives and health of our residents come first and that it is time for a redefinition within the law of what trade really is."

In developing "human resources," he said the county has already undertaken some senior citizens and youth programs. "But I feel that not enough is being done for the average taxpayer in this area," he said. "After all, he's the one who is paying the bills and is entitled to be included with his family in any efforts designed to result in better income and a higher standard of living."

Long, a graduate of State College in East Stroudsburg, Pa., holds a master's degree in education from Rutgers University and has done additional graduate work at Rutgers and Newark State (now Kean) College, Union.

Robert Morgan

Union County's government is "big enough right now and in no way should it expend its responsibilities," according to Robert Morgan, a Republican candidate for a three-year term on the Board of Freeholders in the Nov. 2 general election.

County government today, said the Roselle Park resident—where he is presently the borough's councilman-at-large—encompasses the court system, law enforcement, welfare, education, highways and bridges and the administering of elections at least twice a year.

"I don't want to see us take on additional responsibilities on the county level," said Morgan. "I want to see efficiency in government with the ample resources we already spend for county government."

As a freeholder, Morgan said he would be pledged to reducing taxes, despite spiraling costs throughout the economy. This can be accomplished by prudent and wise spending and an end to what he called "costly programs and salaries of those who are being paid far in excess of the jobs they are performing."

Continued the GOP candidate: "Our taxpayers throughout Union County are sorely pressed by a Democratic administration in Trenton and a similar administration in the county, both of which only know how to spend and spend and tax and tax. A halt to his financial fiasco can come with the election of Republican candidates on Nov. 2."

MORGAN SAID HE FELT county government should reduce its responsibilities in all fields that can be serviced and performed in a fully adequate manner at the municipal level. "It is my firm belief, one which I have adhered to in all my years of public service, that government governs best that governs least, since government must be responsive to the people in the local municipalities in order to be economical and effective," said the Republican hopeful.

"Morgan is currently in his seventh year as a member of the Roselle Park Borough Council. He served six years as councilman from the Third Ward. In 1974, he received the GOP nod as mayoralty candidate but lost in a close race to Democrat Eugene Carmody. He was again elected to the council in 1975, defeating the reelection bid of Councilman-at-Large Leonard Genova, who had been previously a Republican but ran for reelection under the Democratic banner."

During his council tenure, Morgan has served four years as fire commissioner, six years as a member of the finance committee, two years as license and transportation commissioner, and one year as chairman of the buildings and grounds committee.

He has also been council liaison to the Board of Education; Board of Health, Shade Tree Commission; Recreation Committee and the Welfare Board. He is this year's liaison to Stonelle Park's Bicentennial and 75th Anniversary Committee and the Borough's Council representative on the Morse Creek Flood Control Commission. Both appointments, the GOP officeholder points out, were given him by a Democratic mayor.

Regional adult school offers 139 courses for fall term

The Union County Regional High School District's Adult-Community Continuing Education Program begins its 24th consecutive year this month. A brochure outlining the 139 courses to be given has been mailed to area residents.

Last year, more than 6,000 persons attended classes at the district's four regional high schools—Jonathan Dayton in Springfield, David Brearley in Kenilworth, Gov. Livingston in Berkeley Heights and Arthur Johnson in Clark. According to Harry Linkin, director of the adult school, more than 82,000 persons have participated since the program was started in 1953.

In person registration will take place at the four schools on Tuesday, Sept. 14, and Wednesday, Sept. 15, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. each day.

A registration form is attached to the descriptive brochure. Mail registration must be completed by next Thursday, Sept. 9.

Classes start Wednesday at Kean; move from teacher education grows

Kean College, where classes for 12,500 students begin next Wednesday, is continuing to redirect its programs away from the teacher education area in favor of new programs in the liberal arts and professional-technical fields.

The decision to deemphasize teacher education courses in recent years is based on a declining enrollment in state elementary and secondary schools. With fewer public school students, the need for teachers has decreased. This trend has become so pronounced that EVE, the Union college's women's center, has introduced a program this year to help teachers redirect their careers to other areas.

The newest program at Kean will be a master of arts in liberal studies. The college's board of trustees has approved the program, which is waiting for final ratification by the New Jersey

Board of Higher Education.

"This will be the first master's offering outside of our professional education program," said Charles Kimmett, assistant to Kean President Nathan Weiss. He said the college wishes to move its graduate level offerings away from teacher education as it has on the undergraduate level.

Course offerings in the liberal studies graduate program for this year include an introductory seminar, a study of contemporary drama, a class in the work of Yeats, Pound and Eliot, a course on the interrelationships of the arts and another offering on the impact of science and technology on culture.

Also new this year will be additional course options within existing undergraduate departments on visual communications and interior design.

The allied health field is another area where the college has placed additional emphasis. Programs in medical technology and occupational therapy were started last year and two other programs—radiation science and physical therapy—are awaiting approval by the Board of Higher Education. The radiation science program is offered in cooperation with the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey and Union County Technical Institute. The physical therapy program may begin in the spring. Kimmett said the state board will approve one program at a state college for this year; Kean and another state college have requested permission to begin a physical therapy program, which would be the first four-year curriculum of its kind in New Jersey.

Public administration—courses for students interested in preparing for careers in government—will begin its second year as an undergraduate program. The college has developed preliminary plans for a graduate program in public administration. Criminal justice may be taken as an option in either the public administration or political science departments.

The college also plans to expand the work of its Bureau of Educational Services, which will provide expert help to school districts and other educational agencies in assessing their needs and developing in-service seminars and programs.

The college received a face-lifting this summer with the planting of 70 trees, bringing to 600 the number of trees planted on the Union campus in the past six years. Also, with money from the $2 million state bond issues approved by voters from 1968 to 1970, access roads at both the Green lane and Morris avenue entrances were widened. New lanes were constructed to channel the flow of traffic and ramps were built to assist handicapped students. The college also added 50 parking spaces.

Also new this year will be a free tuition policy for senior citizens. Persons age 62 or over may register for college level courses Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the conference room on the second floor of the administration building. Registrants will be limited to a maximum of two courses and a service fee of $5 will be charged. An additional registration fee of $2 will be charged for credit courses. Registrants should bring their Social Security number, proof of age and a check or money order made payable to Kean College of New Jersey when they register. Two separate checks—one for the service fee, the other for registration—are required for those enrolling in credit courses. More information about the program may be obtained by calling the Office of Community Services at 527-2213.

Of the 12,500 students taking courses this year, 6,500 (500 more than last year) will be full-time undergraduates, 3,750 part-time undergraduates (750 fewer than last year) and 2,250 graduate students (250 fewer than last year).

Late registration will be held from 2:30 to 5 p.m. today in the administration building.

Full-time students, who last year paid $535 for a 32-credit-hour course load, will need $704 this year. The part-time tuition will be increased to $22 per credit hour (most courses are three credits a semester) from $20. In the past, full-time students were charged a basic tuition fee, regardless of credit hours taken. This year charges to full-time students will be based on the same $22 per-credit-hour tuition as the part-time students.

The full-time teaching staff will remain at the same level as last year—366 professors, associate professors, assistant professors and instructors. The adjunct (part-time) faculty will be down to 183 teachers. In past years there have been about 200 adjunct teachers at the college.

College advises students to apply for financial aid

"If you're planning to attend college this fall as either a full-time or part-time student and anticipate a need for financial aid, you should apply for a Basic Educational Opportunity grant," Mrs. Betty Ehrhott of Mountainside, director of financial aid at Union College, said this week.

The State of New Jersey may withhold state aid to students who have not applied for federal BOG funds, she said.

The BOG application is the foundation for all financial aid packages, including scholarships, loans and work-study programs, she added.

Students are eligible for BOG grants providing they are taking six or more credits a semester. Students who may question whether or not they are eligible for BOG on the basis of income are urged to apply for funds and let the government be the judge of their eligibility, Mrs. Ehrhott said. Eligibility criteria may change from year to year, depending on changes in the economy, so that a student who is ineligible one year may qualify for funds another year.

To indicate the extent of BOG aid, Mrs. Ehrhott pointed out that at Union College, where the annual tuition is $400, the maximum BOG grant that a student may receive for an academic year is $1,038.

In addition to BOG, Union College students are eligible for a variety of financial aid programs, including private scholarships, Union College scholarships, loans, Educational Opportunity Fund grants, and work-study.

Students with demonstrated need may be eligible for a combination of financial aid programs. Each financial aid package is tailored to meet the needs of the individual student, Mrs. Ehrhott stated.

During the past academic year, she added 85 percent of all students enrolled at Union College were receiving some kind of financial aid.

BOG applications are available in Union College's Financial Aid Office in MacDonald Hall.

Any current or prospective student who has questions about his or her eligibility for financial aid may consult with Mrs. Ehrhott or Miss Elaine Gunnell, assistant director. An appointment may be arranged by calling 276-2600, ext. 225 or 280.

Back in the job market job Retraining course at UCVC

A retraining program for those left unemployed by factory shutdowns caused by foreign competition is under way at Union County Technical Institute and Vocational Center (UCTI-VC) in Scotch Plains.

Fourteen men, ranging in age from 35 to 55, are enrolled in the UCVC maintenance mechanics program funded under the Federal Training Recovery Act (TRA).

Last January, UCTI-VC graduated 23 students from New Jersey's first successful TRA program with training in bookkeeping and computerized photo typesetting.

While enrolled in the UCVC maintenance mechanics program, students learn to provide common building maintenance through study of the proper use of many types of electrical and mechanical equipment. Course work includes plumbing, masonry, woodwork, wiring, welding tools, and other kinds of equipment.

Most importantly, students get a second chance at a new career. George Lytel, maintenance mechanics instructor, thinks TRA is a great opportunity for his students. "It's a very good idea TRA puts people back in the job market. Most of these people have limited trade skills to depend on," he said.

According to Jo Duvall, acting TRA project director at UCTI-VC, the students are an asset to the school. "Part of their training so far has been the repair and rebuilding of some of the school's property," she said. "The students built a ladies lounge, bird houses, picnic tables, and helped rebuild the UCVC Electrical Shop classroom."

One of the major projects completed by TRA students during their semester at UCTI-VC was a "house" behind the Vocational Center. The house, a wooden structure, has lighting, electricity and even some plumbing. "We've had two offers from people who want to move in," joked Lytel. The building, designed by a group of UCVC commercial art students, will be used in a few programs as part of the Vocational Center's "hands-on" training.

Two hikes scheduled

Members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club will have a six-mile ramble on Saturday in the Watchung Reservation. The leader of the hike will be chosen from the participants. The group will meet at the Trailside Nature and Science Center parking lot, Mountainside, at 10 a.m.

On Sunday, there will be a ramble along the beach at Sandy Hook and swimming, weather permitting. Participants may bring lunch or buy it at the park. The group, under the leadership of Helene Black, will meet at Sandy Hook at 10 a.m.

Information about the Hiking Club may be obtained through the Union County Park Commission's recreation department.

WAR ON DRUGS CITED—Joseph F. Grall, coordinating director of the Union County Program for the Prevention of Drug Abuse and Narcotic Addiction, was cited by international association this week for his contributions to narcotic enforcement programs.

Grall gets 'award of honor' for fight against drug abuse

Joseph F. Grall, coordinating program director of the Union County Program for the Prevention of Drug Abuse and Narcotic Addiction, has been presented a "special award of honor" in recognition of his outstanding contributions to narcotic enforcement and prevention of drug abuse, especially among young people and their families.

The award was presented to Grall on Tuesday by the board of directors of the International Narcotic Law Enforcement Officers Association at its annual meeting at the Sheraton Hotel, Boston, Mass.

Grall has participated in numerous school and community programs designed to combat drug abuse and to outline its dangers. He has also been active in preparing educational material for dissemination to the general community.

The program offered by Grall's agency is available to all schools from kindergarten through college level. There are also programs geared for all organizations, including nursing, industry, etc. The Union County program also counsels and recommends treatment centers and facilities to assist the addict and his family in an effort to help toward rehabilitation.

It is a free and confidential program which has offices at 300 E. North Ave., Westfield. A 24-hour telephone answering service number is 233-0444.

The program is sponsored by the Union County Board of Freeholders.

Time-capsule idea opposed by Liotta

Alfred Liotta of Union, Democratic candidate for county clerk, has labeled incumbent Republican Walter Halpin's proposal for the installation of a "time capsule" at the Union County Administration Building as "mundane and unimaginative."

Liotta said, "it seems that every establishment in the country has been victim of the compulsion to seek some sort of pseudo-immortality by installing these silly boxes filled with unmemorable memorabilia to be opened in 2076."

"I simply see it as an unimaginative waste of the taxpayers' money that's really not worthy of consideration. Certainly everything worth saving from our age has already been encapsulated many times over all over the country during this Bicentennial year. Union County has no need to jump on this dreary bandwagon," Liotta stated.

C of C women list program schedule

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce of Eastern Union County will meet during September at the Kingston Restaurant in Union. The group has also announced plans for monthly meetings to be held for the remainder of 1976.

In October, a business meeting will be held at the Chamber office in Elizabeth. The November meeting at the Bell Lounge in Elizabeth will include a discussion by a police officer on safety for women in the home and on the streets. County Freeholder Rosemarie Sinnott will speak to the unit in December. She will discuss county affairs at a meeting in Rahway.

Officers for 1976-77 are: Mercedes Keimig, president; Mildred Lenser, first vice-president; Anne Fedunka, second vice-president; Betty Lebert, treasurer; Anne Kinnell, recording secretary; and Marilyn Freeland, corresponding secretary.

RETIREMENT LIVING—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis have chosen colonial furnishings for their mobile home at Homestead Run, an adult community on Rt. 70 in Toms River. New home designs lend themselves to a variety of interior stylings

Mobile homes now offer variety in size and style

Homestead Run, an adult mobile home community on Rt. 70 in Toms River, celebrated its fifth anniversary with the arrival of its 420th resident.

Art Walter, the community's manager, cautions, "Don't use the word 'trailer' when you talk about us... in the past 20 years, since mobile home living has mushroomed, we've come a long, long way from the old basic trailer unit. We can offer over 30 different floor plans, with all kinds of optional 'tip-outs' (extensions or bays) and styles ranging through Early American, modern, contemporary or Spanish. That multiplies out to over 100 different choices."

"At 338 Avlary way in Homestead Run, the Russell Lewis' home demonstrates the manager's words. It contains roughly 900 sq. ft. of living space, with colonial yellow horizontal siding, diamond-paned bay window and warm, colonial wood interior and furniture.

"We took a trip to Nanticoke, Pa., and visited a mobile home factory there when we were making up our minds," explained Lewis. "The people there—Standard Coach Co., which makes the Holiday line—showed us everything they could... all the things they were putting into their newest products. We really designed our unit from scratch, using the plans we liked best. And they helped us every step of the way."

The result is a graceful, cheerful home with every speck of space utilized through built-in closets and chests in the bedroom, plenty of storage in the kitchen and living room, plus a built-in bookcase, and a den, also fitted out with built-in storage. The Lewis' added a "tip-out" to widen their living room; chose central air-conditioning; built in a kitchen dishwasher and a washer and dryer in the master bath to complete the array of amenities.

"Art Walter calls this place 'The Cadillac of the Community,'" said Lewis, "but the whole job took just eight weeks from the time we ordered it and every part was an existing unit available from the Holiday people."

Lewis, who retired this month after 25 years as director of the physical plant at the Newark College of Engineering, is looking forward to seeing a little more of his three-year old home than commuting allowed previously. His wife, Nell, who works at nearby Grunert Co. in Osbornville, isn't so sure her husband will stay retired.

"I may get restless and job hunt around this locality," admitted the 56-year-old Lewis. "But no more long commuting for me!"

How did they come to pick the Toms River community of mobile homes? "We enjoyed a good sized ranch house in Brick Town before this home," replied Lewis. "We lived there for 11 years while our two girls were growing up. But when the second one married, we decided: Who needs all that house to keep up? We knew some friends already living here and we also wanted to stay near friends, family and our church. So here we are."

Lewis is an elder of the Presbyterian Church of Toms River, so if household chores, community club activities or just loafing fails, "there's always something to be done over at the church."

Do the Lewis' have any regrets about living in a smaller-size home? "Not a one. We wouldn't change it for anything. We couldn't be happier here. Even our cat, Chiang, has adapted beautifully. He likes it here a lot!"

As everyone knows, cats are very particular.

Triple celebration marks Crestwood Village lunch

A recent get-acquainted luncheon in Clubhouse IV (Independence Hall) at Crestwood Village was the scene of a triple celebration. More than 300 new residents, their guests and Crestwood officials participated in what has become a traditional event at the retirement community on Route 530, Whiting. It included a welcoming party for the new residents, their introduction to the community and to each other.

The gathering also honored 17 residents, members and assistants to the Bicentennial committee, who planned and executed the year-long Bicentennial celebration at this retirement community. Jan Kokes, Crestwood vice-president, presented each with a plaque and recounted the elaborate program, beginning with a flag-raising on New Year's Day, running through this summer.

In the third special event of the day, Mike Kokes, founder and president of Crestwood Village, paid special tribute to Mrs. Ruth Brooks—a resident who is also "among our first employees and who will be celebrating her birthday" and through her to the 400 other Village employees.

In presenting Mrs. Brooks with a bouquet of roses, Kokes took his listeners back 10 years to the beginning of the retirement community, "when there was only one employee, Mike Kokes. I was pretty busy then," he continued. "I had to do everything. During the week I built and on Sunday I made sales. First, I had to come in a little early to clean up the place.

"In 10 years we grew to some 400 people on our payroll—the nicest, most dedicated people to serve you the best way they know how. You know, it takes much more than a roof over your head to make a community—it takes those 400 people who work for you every day. And it takes four things that are free in this world: kindness, friendliness, compassion, understanding."

Turning to Mrs. Brooks, he continued: "Ruth Brooks is the very spirit of Crestwood Village: a kind, courteous, wonderful lady. I remember the day I sold her her house and also the day she started work here."

Bicentennial committee members receiving engraved plaques from Jan Kokes were Mrs. Jane Benjamin, Mrs. Charlotte Burik, Mrs. Elsie Harmon, George Kettig, Miss Elsie Midgley, Chet Moeller, Miss Jo Nardone, Miss Katherine O'Donnell, Mrs. Naomi Rice, Mrs. Beatrice Greschler and Frank Meehan.

Also committee assistants David Aikman, Mrs. Mildred Dumphy, Mrs. F. Gerstman, Don Hyatt, Mrs. R. Washburn, and R. MacLeod.

The younger Kokes described the year-long program in the birthday celebration. Following the Jan. 1 flag-raising, all of the six clubhouses in Crestwood and Pine Ridge held February Bicentennial dances and March kite-flying contests. For April, Committee person Ja Benjamin suggested a massive tree-planting program, with a call out to the residents to donate 200 trees. "As of today," Kokes reported, "I am happy to say 403 trees have been donated." That total later became 453.

The May event, he continued, was an art show in the Village Square and June was marked by a huge Flag Day parade, with resident organizations decorating floats on trucks supplied by management and participation by veterans and patriotic groups. "Altogether nine floats were subscribed," said Kokes, "led by one carrying Mrs. Helen Rothbaum, who was designated Miss Betsy Ross of New Jersey by the governor for her handmade American flags. The celebration continued in July with Independence picnics at all clubhouses serenaded by strolling troubadours under the direction of Marge Sullivan."

Sharing the dais with the Kokes was Crestwood treasurer Herbert Wisnick, Manchester Township committee member Dennis Burke and resident sales manager Ted Boyer, who was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Garrett Detwiler led in the invocation.

Club house has opening

OPENS NEW CLUB—Manny Amor is a caller for the "Star Thru Squares," a Lakewood square dancing club that will perform at Maple Glen Community Clubhouse in Jackson tomorrow. "Star Thru Squares" which bills itself as the oldest and largest square dance club in the county, will highlight the official opening of the Maple Glen manufactured home community's clubhouse on Bowman Road in Jackson tomorrow. Featured will be Manny Amor, the club caller who has been with the group for the past 11 years.

Amor has appeared at the New York World's Fair, various TV engagements including the Captain Kangaroo Show.

The performance will underscore the formal opening of the Maple Glen clubhouse which is meant to be the focal point of social gatherings at the new 350 site adult community. Development features the large clubhouse which includes a large kitchen, lounge and laundromat facilities with a four-acre private lake with sandy beach, shuffleboard and other amenities, as well as the homesites themselves. It is being developed by Jackson Mobile Homes Community.

Realtor position to Mrs. Theise

Mrs. Pearl Theise of West Orange has been named a realtor associate by Sloan Realty of South Orange.

Mrs. Theise attended New York University, and trained at East Orange General Hospital. Before joining Sloan Realty, she had been vice-president of Graphic Allied Systems in New York City for 13 years. She has also been a bio-analytical laboratory director.

Builders praise features of Big Bass Lake homes

If you judge a leisure home community by what the experts think of it, Big Bass Lake at Gouldsboro, Pa., in the Poconos can claim a special distinction.

Purchasers of many of its leisure homesites are professional builders and three of them are from the same family.

Vincent Leo is head of T.V. Leo and Sons of Bloomfield specializing in commercial construction, but building apartment houses and many single-family homes.

When Leo visited Big Bass Lake in the summer of 1972 and decided he liked the community, he didn't waste any time in becoming part of it. Within a few hours he had bought a site and had given his order for a leisure home to be built on it.

Leo could have built his home himself, but he ordered it from the local Sun Construction Company, operated by Joe Larsen, brother of Big Bass developers Lou and John Larsen. He said, "I suppose I was particularly critical, but any small changes I wanted were made right away. I like the house and I like the location. What else can I tell you?"

"We get many fine testimonials from our other residents," Lou Larsen said, "but we're especially pleased that the Leos, who have expert knowledge of land and home values, have endorsed us in the most convincing way."

"The advantages of a second home where they can get away from the pressures of the town and cities is becoming greater all the time. Here they can relax and have fun—get acquainted with nature again—and still be within driving distance of approximately 100 miles from the George Washington Bridge or less from most towns and cities in northern New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania."

The Welcome Center and sales office at Big Bass Lake is open seven days a week. The route usually includes Interstate 80 with a turnoff in Pennsylvania onto Interstate 380 West to Exit 3. From there less than two miles on Rt. 507,

First job turned into a career as mortgage processing head

When Effie Zaros joined Jordan Baris Inc., almost 20 years ago, she had little knowledge of the complexities of real estate; it was her first job. Today, as head of the Irvington-based company's mortgage processing department, she has found it a very rewarding and interesting career.

"I doubt if anyone plans to turn a first job into a life-long association," says Mrs. Zaros, "but at Jordan Baris, there was a steady increase in responsibility and challenge. "And in the field," she adds, "women have always been rated on their abilities; there are no artificial barriers."

Jordan Baris notes that Mrs. Zaros is one of many staff members who have been with the company a long time. "In real estate," he comments, "success is based on performance. So it follows that Mrs. Zaros is one of those who has met the highest professional standards that have marked the 24-year growth of the company."

Baris notes that Mrs. Zaros is responsible for one of the most critical areas of the real estate business. "All the salesmanship in the world becomes meaningless if the buyer can't acquire proper financing," he says. "That's where Mrs. Zaros comes in. She's developed an enviable expertise in the rather involved procedures that take a purchaser from his decision to buy to the moment of signing papers at the formal closing."

During her years with Jordan Baris, Mrs. Zaros has acquired a broad knowledge of the many factors in placing mortgages.

"Her work involves a great deal of responsibility," continues Baris. "She must obtain detailed information about clients and coordinate this and other material with lending institutions. It is a vital function for us and also the client."

Her facility in handling the various types of mortgage loans makes it all look very, very easy. Mrs. Zaros has the ability to arrange the financing—FHA, VA or conventional—which is most appropriate for the circumstances and qualifications of each individual client.

While meeting the daily challenge of a bustling real estate brokerage firm, Mrs. Zaros has also had a successful career in a more traditional area. She and her husband, James Zaros, have two children; a son who was just graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson College and a 10-year-old daughter. The family resides in Nutley.

Firm to finance Edison building

The David Cronheim Company has arranged permanent financing of $235,000 for a 30,000-square foot warehouse on Rt. 1 and Pierson Avenue in Edison. The warehouse, formerly the distribution center for Montgomery Ward, has been acquired by Jacob Whitman and Company from a group of investors.

Set on a 4.8 tract, the masonry and steel building has a 14-foot ceiling and extra-large loading doors to accommodate all forms of containerized materials. Jacob Whitman, a building supply company, has occupied all but 5,000 feet of the structure on a lease basis.

The remaining area has been sublet to Unex Corporation, manufacturers of conveyor systems used in factories and distribution centers. The new owners intend to subdivide the space further for other small users. Charles J. Dodge, manager of the Cronheim mortgage department, arranged the financing for the 12-year-old building. Dodge reports that the attractive terms are an indication of the continuing availability of funds for worthwhile commercial and industrial properties.

LABOR DAY

Tribute to those whose labors help keep our nation great

Let's Honor The Working People

... Our Nation's Life Source!

"Good old American know-how." We're as proud of that term as we are of the people who exemplify the phrase each and every working day. The people who've joined together, rolled up their sleeves, and pitched right in to offer their share of hard work.

They've developed and perfected skills and interests in every vocation under the sun ... with the knowledge that no matter what job they have, it's an important one. For without each of them doing their part, earning their wages, and making their living, this country wouldn't be the strong and prosperous nation that it is.

We've seen how our forefathers took an untamed wilderness and turned it into a thriving land. We've seen how labor has played a vital part in the growth and development of every field. And we've seen that the only way to achieve greatness is through hard work.

Thanks to those resourceful, dedicated people and their "good old American know-how," we've made such progress. And because of them, we shall continue to grow and prosper.

Let's take this Labor Day to pay tribute to our working force. And to show our pride, respect and appreciation for a job well done.

'Accuracy' star of film

In the interest of authenticity and dramatic impact, events in the film, "All the President's Men" are keyed to actual dates during the Watergate investigations, and the movie, has props that must reflect such dates accurately.

In addition to Robert Redford and Dustin Hoffman as Washington Post reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, respectively, winners of Pulitzer Prizes for their investigative coverage, more than 200 reporters populate the newsroom, which means more than 200 desks, each with calendars. If a scene in the movie occurs, for example, Sept. 1, 1972, each calendar must show that date clearly.

Replicas of newspapers strewn around the newsroom were made of the Post, the Washington Star and the New York Times. Appropriate magazines (dated) and proper editions of telephone directories also were carefully strewn around. And the clocks on the wall reflect the hour at which events portrayed in the film, directed by Alan J. Pakula, actually occurred.

The style of clothes of that year was essential: the haircuts of men and women, the models of automobiles on the streets of Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles could not be later than 1973.

Replicas of newspapers strewn around the newsroom were made of the Post, the Washington Star and the New York Times. Appropriate magazines (dated) and proper editions of telephone directories also were carefully strewn around. And the clocks on the wall reflect the hour at which events portrayed in the film, directed by Alan J. Pakula, actually occurred.

IN 'SILENT MOVIE'—Sid Caesar, left, and Mel Brooks co-star with Dom DeLuise, Marty Feldman and Bernadette Peters in 'Silent Movie,' held for another week at both Fox Theaters (in Union) and in Woodbridge. Brooks also directed the comedy satire.

Isaac Stern benefit star

Violinist Isaac Stern will lead a group of string musicians in the first annual benefit concert for the North Hudson Hospital Development Program and the Waterloo Foundation for the Arts at Waterloo Village, Saturday, Sept. 18 at 7:30 p.m. Appearing with Stern will be violinist Pinchas Zukerman, cellist Yo Yo Ma, cellist Leonard Rose, violinist and violist Jaime Laredo and violinist Alexander Schneider.

Concert-goers are invited to come early and tour the historic colonial restoration village prior to the performance.

It was announced that the concert will benefit the $18 million hospital which is being built completely with private funds.

Award-winning play scheduled

David G. Kennedy plays the title role and serves as director. Additional may be obtained by calling 675-1881. The next production will be "Othello," scheduled Oct. 15 through Nov. 13.

Evans' schools open Sept. 18

Registration for classes, geared to all age groups, may be made at 704 Morris Turnpike, Short Hills and 215 North Ave. W., Westfield. Classes are scheduled to start Sept. 18.

DISC 'N DATA

BOB 'BICENTENNIAL' HOPE

Pick of The LPs AMERICA IS 200 YEARS OLD. AND THERE'S STILL HOPE by Bob Hope and company (Capitol ST 11534)

The album was recorded in front of a live audience in Capitol's Hollywood studios. Using an esteemed cast, the album features hilarious dialogue, sound effects, music and singing.

According to the script, Hope, after being beamed by President Ford's golf ball, is thrown two centuries into the past.

There he meets Betsy Ross (Phyllis Diller), George Washington (Carl Malden), Paul Revere (Louis Nye), John Hancock (Jim Peck), a Hessian general (Arte Johnson), Thomas Jefferson (Gordon MacRae), Benjamin Franklin (Freddie Wayne), John Adams (Byron Kane), General Cornwallis (Dudley Moore), and Crispus Attucks (Demond Wilson).

Multi-talented Fred Travalena plays President Ford and numerous other characters.

The album contains scenes in which Bob 'To The Rescue' Hope helps with Paul Revere's ride, the Boston Tea Party, sewing the first flag, writing the Declaration of Independence, Washington crossing the Delaware and Cornwallis' surrender.

After recording the album, Hope said, "It was wonderful to have such a great cast to work with. It was great to be back recording with a live audience. It made it seem like the old days of radio."

What could be more appropriate than having Bob Hope make a Bicentennial comedy album?

Benefit concert planned for widow of jazzman

The New Jersey Jazz Society will hold a benefit concert for Edna Hackett, widow of jazzman Bobby Hackett, at the Meadowbrook on Route 23 in Cedar Grove, Sunday, Sept. 19, at 1 p.m.

Red Squires, spokesman, announced that numerous musicians, who were influenced by the one-time soloist for the Glenn Miller Orchestra, will appear. They include the World's Best Jazz Band, the Bix Heiderbeck Memorial Jazz Band, the Rio Clemente Trio and the New California Ramblers. Individual musicians include Doc Cheatham, Eddie Hubble, Marian and Jimmy Richards and Bucky Pizzarelli.

Squires reported that the New Jersey Jazz Society has a special debt to Hackett. "When the society was being formed Hackett offered a recording under his own label to the society to be used as an inducement to join, and he offered his talents on several occasions at the NJJS's annual PeeWee Russell Memorial Stomps event.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Bert McSeveney, 51 Woodland Ave., Verona 07044.

Troopers gear up to patrol all roads on long weekend

Col. Clinton L. Pagano, superintendent of State Police, has ordered all available personnel assigned to traffic patrol duty during the long Labor Day weekend beginning tomorrow evening and ending Tuesday morning.

In addition to station personnel, backed by detectives and other specialists, four State Police helicopters will patrol the state's heavily-traveled traffic corridors to help ground patrols spot trouble areas and coordinate the free flow of traffic. Troopers will also fly as observers in Turnpike and Parkway helicopters.

Schedules have been arranged to provide saturation coverage by tactical patrol units, task force, radar, UASCAR and breathalyzer operators with special emphasis on the hours when most fatal accidents occur.

Marked patrol cars will be used to the fullest advantage, particularly where traffic flow is heavy. Dismounted posts will be taken at strategic locations and troopers will make personal contact with motorists and pedestrians as required to help motorists get where they are going safely.

The alcohol factor continues to be present in more than 50 percent of all fatal accidents, he noted. This means that drivers or pedestrian impairment contributes to the majority of causes, emphasizing the need to be mentally and physically alert.

Highway fatalities on a statewide basis are down 37 compared to last year's total of 692 as of Aug. 24. During the past year New Jersey had the lowest number of motor vehicle fatalities since 1964. National statistics reveal that New Jersey's death rate per 100 million miles traveled was 2.2, third lowest in the nation. This record attributed to the public's response to a number of factors, among which are included, the national 55 mph speed limit, increased statewide enforcement, better emergency medical care and improved highways.

Tuition for elderly waived at Kean

Persons age 62 or over may take courses at Kean College, Union, without paying tuition, under a new plan introduced for the 1976-77 academic year.

The college's board of trustees recently passed a resolution waiving tuition. Senior citizens must register on Tuesday between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. in the conference room on the second floor of the administration building. Registrants will be limited to a maximum of two courses. Registration fees of $5 for non-credit courses and $7 for credit courses will be charged at time of registration.

Persons registering for credit courses must pay with two checks—a $2 registration fee and a $5 service charge. Registrants should also bring their social security number, proof of age and necessary checks made out to Kean College of New Jersey. No cash will be accepted.

More information may be obtained by calling the Office of Community Services at 527-2213.

Seafood festival begins next week

Preparations are under way in Point Pleasant, Point Pleasant Beach and Bay Head for the Jersey Shore's second annual Seafood Festival Sept. 9-12.

The three-day festival will feature a musical talent contest Thursday evening in the band shell off Arnold avenue in Point Pleasant Beach, street fairs, clam shucking and frisbee contests, a pancake breakfast, tours of the commercial fishing fleet and Manasquan Inlet Coast Guard facility, and dancing on the boardwalk.

For further information, readers may contact the Greater Point Pleasant Chamber of Commerce, 517 Arnold ave., Point Pleasant Beach, 899-2424.

Drew gets grants for scholarships

Two foundations have announced grants totalling nearly $26,000 for scholarship aid to students entering or returning to Drew University, Madison, this fall.

The Louis Calder Foundation of New York has contributed $20,000, with the request that preference be given academically-promising students in financial need from the New York metropolitan area. Established in 1951 by a provision in the will of the late Louis Calder, chairman of the board of Perkins-Goodman Co., the foundation emphasizes support of socially-conscious health, education and welfare projects relating to New York City.

With a check for $5,750, the Hebrew Evangelization Society Inc. of Los Angeles has initiated a series of grants amounting to at least two full scholarships at Drew's Theological School annually. According to the society's president, Mrs. Arthur Michelson, the annual grants are to be continued indefinitely. Drew will have sole discretion in the choice of recipients. The Society maintains a non-sectarian, non-denominational policy in support of Christian education.

EARTHBOUND

By JOSEPH TOBIN Environmental Consultant, New York Botanical Garden

Recently I wrote a piece here about oil drilling rights which were about to be auctioned for an area 47-90 miles off the New Jersey shoreline.

There has been a great rush since the oil and gas shortage of a year ago to begin to exploit potential sources of oil off the east coast of the United States. This stepped-up activity on the part of the U.S. Department of the Interior was in direct response to pressure applied by the Nixon administration on behalf of the oil industry.

A federal judge recently enjoined the government from carrying out the sale of oil and natural gas leases off the New Jersey shore. This decision, made by Judge Jack Weinstein in a 200-page report, cited deficiencies in the Interior Department's environmental impact statement as the reason for injunction.

This injunction was promptly overturned by a federal appeals court ruling. This ruling was upheld by Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall on the morning of the scheduled auction, permitting the sale to go ahead.

The auction was held despite the protests of environmentalists that "irreparable harm" would result if the sale were held before a full hearing on environmental issues next month.

Companies were competing for drilling rights in the Baltimore Trough, some 55-100 miles east of New Jersey. Some federal experts have indicated this portion of the ocean floor may yield 400 million to 1.4 billion barrels of oil and 2.6 to 9.4 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

With the failure of the environmentalists and the various states concerned to argue successfully to stop the leasing, efforts will now shift toward stopping the actual drilling from taking place.

Gov. Brendan Byrne of New Jersey has stated on several occasions that the sovereign state of New Jersey, and no one else, has the right to decide whether pipelines will be permitted across its shoreline. He has repeatedly voiced the concern of citizens regarding the well-being of the resort industry, which can be seriously damaged by oil spills. And the intent, or the absence of it, on the part of the oil industry cannot soften such a blow, if and when it falls.

Fr. Blum to speak at diocese dinner

A Scholarship-Honor the Principals Dinner, featuring an address by the Rev. Virgil C. Blum, S.J., chairman of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights, will be sponsored by the Newark Archdiocesan Federation of Home-School Associations on Sept. 18, at Seton Hall University.

Mrs. Alice Aimette, president of the Federation, said 1,500 parent-leaders, of Home-School Associations, along with principals of Catholic schools and other invited guests, will hear Fr. Blum, who is an advocate of parental rights in education.

A former teacher of political science at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., Fr. Blum was instrumental in the founding of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to establish a scholarship fund for students attending Catholic high schools of the Archdiocese and the dinner will also honor principals of the Catholic elementary and secondary schools in the four counties of the Archdiocese.

Safety reminder aimed at drivers

The 78-hour Labor Day Weekend marks the end of summer and is the time for that one last trip before the back to school rush.

According to the New Jersey State Safety Council, Labor Day Holiday also means automobile crashes, deaths and injuries. Last year, 15 died and more than 1300 were injured on New Jersey roads.

If a similar experience is to be avoided this year, the Safety Council says motorists should drive defensively, observe posted maximum speed limits, keeping in mind that conditions may require a slower speed, and use safety belts.

To encourage the use of safety belts, the Council cited a report from the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety which states that children are least likely to be injured in an auto collision if they are sitting in the back seat and using safety belts.

The Safety Council suggests that even on short trips, children ride in the back seat protected by a safety belt or an approved child restraint system.

The Council also warned of the danger of irresponsible use of alcohol, pointing out that alcohol is a factor in more than half of all highway deaths.

Masonic Day services slated in Ocean Grove

The eighth annual statewide Masonic church service, highlight of New Jersey's Masonic Day, will take place Sunday, Sept. 12, at 10:30 a.m. in the Great Auditorium, Ocean Grove.

All Masonic bodies—including Scottish Rite, Shriner, Eastern Star Ladies, Rainbow Girls, DeMolay Boys, etc.—will worship together in the 7,000-seat auditorium. Richard S. Gullian of Matawan, grand master of the state's Masons, announced that all Masons will assemble at 10 a.m. before marching into the church in a body.

Centralization of business needed to promote public transportation use

Bringing business back to the city is the best way to encourage the development and use of public transportation, according to a study recently issued by the Regional Plan Association.

The $165,000 study—financed by the U.S. Urban Mass Transportation Administration and the Ford and Rockefeller foundations—also said that increasing the population density in neighborhoods near downtown areas is another step that would increase bus and rail transit patronage.

The Regional Plan Association's study, however, said improved transit service and lowered fares have increased ridership, but the increased cost or decreased revenue is never recouped by the increase in fares. The study added that if transit patronage were doubled, it would only mean a decrease of a few percentage points in urban automobile use.

The association, a civic group serving New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, said that limiting auto use does not necessarily increase bus and rail patronage. The 1974 gas shortage, the study observed, cut auto travel by about two percent, but only about one in 10 of those eliminated auto trips appeared on transit.

"The increasing national and local dollars invested in transit could be wasted if business and government continue to locate offices and universities on their own broad campuses, department stores in shopping centers away from the offices and small firms along the highways in between," said John P. Keith, president of the Regional Plan Association.

"If the nation determines to strengthen its cities by making their downtowns again the major places people come together, good transit service can be provided even in small urban areas and at suburban residential densities," he said.

Keith also observed that sophisticated technology may not hold the answers. "For example, present automated light guideway systems cannot outperform manned systems. Dial-a-bus seldom outperforms taxicabs where people are going to many different destinations or regular buses where they are going to only one or two. America's basic transit problem is not technology but arranging activities so people can ride together."

Old-fashioned streetcars—called light rail vehicles by today's transportation engineers—can play an integral part in increasing patronage of public transit, suggested the study. Just as important, light rail is much less costly to build than rail rapid transit (like the New York subways or PATH lines) because it can operate effectively on ground level, with its right-of-way protected from intersecting streets by signals. In downtown areas, light rail might run on auto-free pedestrian malls or short tunnels might be feasible since fumes are not a problem as with buses.

The Regional Plan Association study said streetcars could operate more economically in a city like Newark than buses. Among other advantages, streetcars can be larger than buses without cutting service frequency below what riders will tolerate. Boston is expanding its streetcar service, San Francisco is adding light rail as an adjunct to its BART rapid transit system and an entirely new system is being created for Buffalo.

Neighborhoods do not need high density population to get half-hour frequency bus service, the report said. Generally, an average of seven housing units to the acre—slightly above the national urban area average—is enough if the neighborhood is within a few miles of a city's size of Bridgeport, Conn. (about 160,000). Near a larger downtown, a neighborhood of that density could have more frequent service.

Buses can run for 20 hours a day, averaging every half hour, if residential densities are seven homes to the acre instead of the four typical of suburbs built in the late 1940s and early 1950s in the metropolitan area, the study observed.

The Regional Plan Association's study assumed that public subsidies would be required. The study figures a subsidy of 50 to 75 cents per passenger on local buses and 10 cents per passenger mile on express buses. Capital investment subsidy for a rail system is figured at $1,500 per daily passenger-mile.

"You can use this report to defeat proposals for improved transit where the use is not likely to justify the cost," said Keith, "or you can use it positively to try to turn the trend back toward transit-supporting conditions. Our main message is that downtowns and public transportation are a natural marriage. Downtowns need transit to keep them from being spread beyond walking scale by auto-filled streets and parking. Transit needs downtown or it cannot work."

Stamp clubs plan annual exhibition

Cenex '76, the 28th annual stamp exhibition of the Federated Stamp Clubs of Central New Jersey, will be held on Sept. 17, 18 and 19 at the Holiday Inn on Route 35 South in Hazlet. There will be 2,400 pages of stamps and covers on exhibit, competing for awards. Fifteen stamp dealers will offer a wide variety of stamps, covers, and philatelic accessories for sale.

Cenex '76 will have a Bicentennial Theme, observing the Battles of Trenton, Princeton and Monmouth. All three battles were in the Central New Jersey area. A set of three cachet covers have been prepared, one for each historic battle and each day of the exhibit. A special flag cancel will be used and a 13-cent State Flag stamp will be affixed to each cover. Purchasers can request the State Flag (or flags) stamps they want on their covers. The cost is 50 cents each or the set of three for $1.25.

Arts Center final week offers Israeli Philharmonic, Chapin

Newark's Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons take over the center stage Tuesday and Wednesday, and recording star Harry Chapin presents a solo performance next Thursday night to close out the season schedule.

The Israeli Philharmonic, although 40 years old, is young by orchestra standards. Under the direction of Zubin Mehta, it has added a style of its own to its proven ability: Mehta, the music advisor to the Israeli group for eight years, was recently made the music director for the New York Philharmonic starting with the 1978-79 season.

Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons throughout the years have sold more than 53 million records, which have earned them 17 gold records for million-selling discs (nine

Arts unit to stage 'The Pied Piper'

The Perth Amboy Cultural Arts Commission will present "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," an opera bouffe in six scenes by Vincent P. Zito, September 10 and 12 in the Perth Amboy High School Auditorium, Eagle avenue, Perth Amboy.

The basis of the opera is the classic tale of the 15th Century German town which is beset by a plague of rats until the mystical Pied Piper appears. When the Mayor and townspeople fail to pay for his services, the Pied Piper punishes them by enchanting the children and leading them off to a utopia in the mountains.

Zito originally created the work in 1972 when he was commissioned by the Villa Walsh Academy of Morristown to develop a program for their Spring Musicals, based on Robert Browning's poem on the subject. The premiere performance by the all-girl high school was an immediate success.

Miss State Fair registration open

A fur coat, a weekend at a plush resort, and other prizes will go to the winner of the Miss New Jersey State Fair Pageant. The Fair will be held on Route 33, Hamilton Township, from Friday, Sept. 10, through Sunday, Sept. 19. Joseph S. Ancke fair general manager, announced this week.

The pageant is open to New Jersey women 17 through 25 with the final judging of the pageant set for September at the fair. Applications may be obtained by writing to: Miss New Jersey State Fair Pageant, Box 669, Trenton, 08604. Last year's winner, Christine Jadelis of Kenilworth, won a physical education major at Kean College, will return to the fair year to crown 1976 winner.

A stage show, set for 1:30 p.m., will feature vocalists Peter Morrison, Arthur Spink, Dennis Clancy and Aileen Hamilton and comedian Johnny Beattie. Also performing will be the Scottish Heritage Festival Pipe Band, composed of musicians chosen from other New Jersey bands.

Additional information and tickets may be obtained by writing to the Scottish Heritage Festival, New Jersey Highway Authority, Garden State Parkway, Woodbridge 07095.

Proceeds from this and other ethnic festivals at the Center go to a cultural fund for free programs for New Jersey school children, senior citizens, summer youth groups, disabled veterans and the blind.

Seton Hall begins 121st year with 10,000 students

Seton Hall University will open its 121st academic year next Tuesday. Projections indicate a stabilized enrollment of 10,000 students in all divisions.

The South Orange campus anticipates a freshmen class of slightly more than 1,000 men and women and an additional 150 transfer students. Special registration for new evening undergraduate students will be held today in South Orange.

Lee Cooke, director of admissions, said the trends in student interest have continued, with the College of Nursing having to close applications early this year. "There is also a great interest in business administration," he said, "with more and more students pointing towards a career in commerce."

Cooke also said political science and communications majors are continuing an upward trend. "Many students feel that political science will enhance their opportunities in gaining admission to law school," he said, "and the newspaper, television and advertising fields seem to have a strong appeal for our new students. Pre-medical and pre-dental programs also continue to demonstrate consistent registrations."

The Seton Hall School of Law in Newark will also open on Tuesday for its first full academic year in its new $4.5 million facility on Raymond boulevard. Day and evening enrollment is anticipated to exceed 1,000.

'Piper' will open children's series

The Kean College-Children's Theater Series will open its third season on Saturday, Sept. 18, with 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. performances of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

The Kean College Children's Theater Series offers nine productions for children between the ages of 4-13. A season ticket is available through Sept. 3 for $5. Individual tickets at $1 each are now on sale for the Sept. 18 show. For additional information, readers may contact the Kean College Office of Community Services at 527-2213.

LOSE FAT

"MODEL-ETTS" HELPS CURB YOUR APPETITE
HELPS YOU LOSE THAT EXTRA WEIGHT
• NO CALORIE COUNTING! • NO EXERCISES!
• NO SPECIAL DIETS!

Thanks to a group of New York doctors, you can now lose pounds of ugly fat without going on any special diet, without cutting out any special foods.

HELPS REDUCE HUNGRY MOMENTS

These New York doctors discovered a food adjunct called "MODEL-ETTS." "Model-etts" does remarkable things. It helps you cut down your caloric intake by a natural automatic curbing of the appetite and of the desire for foods, resulting automatically in a reduced intake of food.

The doctors carefully checked results, and here is what they found: 1. Weight losses of 6 to 20 pounds without any ill effects whatsoever. 2. 96% of the men and women who used "Model-etts" lost weight. "Model-etts" is absolutely safe. It is a food adjunct—not a drug. So, start today to shed those unwanted pounds and inches. If your condition is glandular or organic, see your doctor. "Model-etts" may help you stay on the diet your doctor recommends. Ask him about it.

One "Model-etts" Wafer has the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 pound boiled potatoes or 4 eggs or 5 slices of white bread, yet it contains only 6 calories.
