INTERIOR DEPARTMENT REPORT CRITICIZED

Council renews Rt. 78 plea

By KAREN ZAUTYK
In its continuing battle against the New Jersey Department of Transportation's proposed "South of the Park" alignment—one of five under study for Rt. 78—the Mountainside Borough Council this week passed another resolution calling for completion of the highway along the corridor originally selected.

The action, taken at Tuesday night's monthly meeting in the Beechwood School, was prompted by a report from the U.S. Department of the Interior to the state (made public in the Echo Sept. 9) naming the "South of the Park" route as one of three "acceptable" alignments. The Ridge route and Tunnel-and-or Cut and Cover alternatives also had been cited as acceptable by the Interior Department. The new resolution, copies of which will be forwarded to DOT, the Department of the Interior, state, county and national elected representatives and neighboring communities, also claims that the alternate route studies are not warranted under the Federal Highway Act and National Environmental Impact Act since

Rt. 78 was "in a substantial state of completion" prior to their passage by Congress in 1971.

It also states "The written comments submitted by the Department of the Interior are patently defective in that they fail to deal with the severe negative impact upon human values, environmental values and enormous economic havoc which would be wrought by utilization of the 'South of Park' route."

Additionally, Mayor Thomas Ricciardi reported that he, in conjunction with the mayors of Scotch Plains and Watchung, has sent a letter to Senators Harrison Williams and Clifford Case and Representatives Millient Fenwick and Matthew Rinaldo regarding the Interior Department's statements. That letter will be printed in next week's Echo.

Councilman Bruce Geiger, reporting on a Sept. 13 meeting between DOT and Union County Park Commission engineers at the Trailside Museum, stated "I got the impression the DOT was not happy with the existing five alternatives (to the original Rt. 78 alignment), and think there may be a sixth—a depressed highway, as low as the flood level of Lake Surprise—a deep cut almost all the way through the reservation. The highway would be covered in 500-foot sections to allow for bridge paths and movement of animals."

If such a new alignment is introduced, it would require another environmental impact statement.

Geiger also said that the air pollution experts at the meeting stated the "No Build" route would result in the heaviest pollution, as traffic tried to find its way through local roads to the continuation of the highway at either side of the park.

IN OTHER ACTION at the session, the council approved a second $25,000 appropriation from the Capital Improvement Fund for the renovation of the former Echobrook School into a municipal complex. Of the first appropriation, made several months ago, $18,000 has been spent for installation of air conditioning and a new electrical service. The remaining $7,000 and the additional $25,000 will go toward office renovation (including paneling, storage closets, carpeting, ceiling remodeling, new lighting and furniture), moving expenses and preliminary work to make the school field suitable for Recreation Department sports activities.

Council also approved the hiring of two part-time carpenters—Winfield Miller and John Palys, both of Mountainside—at a rate of $10 per hour to complete the renovation work.

Recreation Commissioner William Cullen noted plans for work on the ballfield have been completed and will be presented for approval to the Mountainside Board of Education, which still holds title to the school grounds.

Police Commissioner Abe Suckno reported that final architectural plans have been drawn for a police headquarters in the former school, and these should be ready for council's review "in two to three weeks." That reconstruction work will then go out to bids.

COUNCIL ALSO awarded a contract for 1976-77 snow and ice removal from borough roads to Walter Heckel, Inc., of Mountainside, which was the only bidder. Heckel, who performed the work for the borough for the past two winters, is guaranteed a $6,000 gross amount. Five residents of Knightsbridge road ad-

Slimnastic class begins on Oct. 5

The Mountainside Recreation Department is accepting registrations for its 10-session slimmastics program, which will start next month.

Borough adults may enroll in either the 10-11 a.m. class, beginning Tuesday, Oct. 5, or the 8-9 p.m. session, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 6. Sandy Everly will be the instructor. The fee is $12.

The recreation office in Borough Hall is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., tel. 232-0015.

Mountainside 'Salute' draws more participants

The Mountainside Bicentennial "Salute to the American States," scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 2, at Deerfield and Our Lady of Lourdes Schools, is attracting an increasing number of individuals and groups.

Many young people are planning activities in the festival. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the Key Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, the History Club of Deerfield School and the Sub-Junior Department of the Woman's Club are assisting the Cultural and Heritage Committee and participating groups in various ways.

The schedule has been set for events throughout the day. The parade from Beechwood School to Deerfield School will begin at 10:30 a.m. At the conclusion of the parade, Mary LeSawyer, a lyric soprano, who has appeared as a soloist with the New York City Opera and at festivals in European cities such as Rome, Munich and Vienna and at the Brussels World's Fair, will sing the "Star Spangled Banner."

A program of entertainment is scheduled from 1 to 3. From 3 to 5 o'clock, Dick Myers will be the caller and leader of square dancing. From 5 to 7 or possibly later, the Magnetones will play for a block dance. There will be instruction in square dancing for those who have had no experience.

An added feature of the day will be the opportunity to have one's picture taken in a George or Martha Washington costume. Mrs. Henry Hayward has designed a poster on board with the costumes so that each person standing behind the poster can have a picture to look as if he or she were the first President or first "first lady." Those wishing to have this memento are, however, urged to bring their own cameras.

Bicentennial licenses

New Jersey's official Bicentennial license plates are still available at Mountainside Borough Hall. The plates, priced at $3 each, may be used on autos until March 1.

Organist presents recital on Sunday

James Little, organist and choir director of the Mountainside Community Presbyterian Church, will present an organ recital Sunday evening at 8 at the church. The program will include two "Chorale Preludes" of Bach, "Prelude and Fugue in C Major (the Great)," the "Scherzo" from the "Second Symphony" of Verne, the "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor" by Saint-Saens, "Sonata No. 1" of Paul Hindemith and the Dupre "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor."

Little, a graduate of Trenton State College, has also studied with Mrs. Phyllis Herring of New Hope, Pa., and with Donald Pearson of Vassar College. He has performed in recital in New York City, New Jersey and New England. Before coming to Mountainside, Little served churches in Lambertville, Pennington, Trenton and Bloomfield. Little is also on the music staff of the Pingry School in Hillside. The public has been invited.

GOP candidates select Connolly

Mountainside Borough Councilmen Nicholas Bradshaw and Abe Suckno, Republican candidates for reelection, have announced the appointment of John Connolly as their campaign manager.

A nine-year resident of Mountainside, Connolly has served as 1973 campaign treasurer for Union County Surrogate Mary C. Kanane, and for the last two years as Committee Chairman for Cub Scout Pack 177. Connolly is a member of the Mountainside Recreation Commission.

Assistant chief offers advice to prevent fires

In anticipation of Fire Prevention Week next month, Ronald Huter, assistant chief of the Mountainside Volunteer Department, this week issued a number of fire safety hints.

Huter, head of the local Fire Prevention Bureau, advised workers to check their places of employment: "Are the exits sufficiently and properly lighted? Is the place clean? Are there closets, corners or storage areas cluttered with debris, where a fire could easily start?"

Vacation time does not mean a holiday from safety, either. Huter noted that guests at hotels and motels should draw themselves a mental picture of hallways and exits—including counting the number of doors between their room and the exit—and check out the emergency lighting. "When you are traveling with children, they should be briefed on what you are doing," he said.

Huter also noted the need for vigilance in the home, citing the use of gasoline in tools and other equipment, and in some hobby models; the "easy care," by flammable, fabrics used in clothing and upholstery materials, and flammable building materials and wall coverings, which may also produce toxic fumes when burning.

"Until four years ago, when federal regulations were passed, upholstery in cars, trucks, buses and airplanes was flammable. There are controls now, but all the older models still are flammable," he explained, "and there are no controls over home furnishing materials."

He also emphasized the need for educating youngsters on fire prevention.

Fall story hours to start next week

Carol Krismann, Mountainside children's librarian, will begin the fall story hours next Thursday, Sept. 30. There will be a morning hour from 10:30 to 11 and an afternoon story hour from 1:30 to 2 each week from Sept. 30 through Dec. 9. There will not be a story hour Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25.

Story hour is open to children aged 3½ to 5. It will be held at the Free Public Library of Mountainside. Parents have been asked to come to the library to register their children. Enrollment will be limited to 25 boys and girls each session.

Rotary to reprint history of borough

The Mountainside Rotary Club has obtained permission to reprint Jean Hesketh Hershey's book, "The History of Mountainside," which was originally prepared for the 50th anniversary of Mountainside in 1945. Now out of print, it has become a collector's item.

A spokesman said, "Because there have been so many requests for the book, the club is having a limited number of copies printed for the Bicentennial celebration on Oct. 2. They will be available for $3.95 at the Deerfield School grounds after the parade."

The author, who now resides in Rhode Island, may be present to autograph copies. Those wishing to order the book may call 232-6056 or 233-0584 to have a copy reserved.

District board plans meeting on Tuesday

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education will hold a regular adjourned meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the instructional media center of the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark.

A discussion will be held regarding the Gov. Livingston state evaluation. The public has been invited to attend.

TREAT FOR CHILDREN—Writers Harry and Wende Devlin of Hillside avenue, Mountainside, have collaborated on another children's story, "Cranberry Christmas," published this month by Parents' Magazine Press. The book, featuring color illustrations by Devlin and a recipe for cranberry cookies, takes youngsters to the tiny village of Cranberryport where a kindly old gent, Mr. Whiskers, is at loggerheads with crabby Cyrus Grape over ownership of the local skating pond. The Devlins have produced a number of other children's works which have sold over five million copies. (Photo-Graphics)

Hoffman: Local government needs a different viewpoint

Eli Hoffman, Democratic candidate for Borough Council in Mountainside, this week issued the following initial campaign statement: "My campaign for election to Mountainside Borough Council is directed to those citizens who would like to see a system of checks and balances operate in our local government."

"Regardless of how able and dedicated our present mayor and councilmen are as individuals, they are all of one party. This is not a healthy situation. We are fortunate in having a fine town, but having someone on council to bring forth a different viewpoint can help make this a better community."

"I am running on my record of 20 years' participation in Mountainside affairs and in operation of a substantial small business, all of which gives me experience in making independent and prudent judgments. I know that I can make significant contribution to the quality of our municipal government if the voters give me that opportunity."

Odetta Feltman has been named campaign manager for Hoffman.

The registration chairperson for the Democratic Party in Mountainside is Arlene Nash. Registration closes on Oct. 4. Absentee applications must be received seven days prior to election. Mrs. Nash has invited anyone seeking registration information to call her at 273-2244.

DISCUSSING CAMPAIGN—Eli Hoffman, Democratic candidate for Mountainside Borough Council, and his campaign manager, Odetta Feltman, map strategy for the weeks leading to the Nov. 2 election.

LWV to show 2 local homes in 'Creative Variations' tour

Two distinctive homes in Mountainside will be featured in the Westfield Area League of Women Voters' House Tour "Creative Variations" to be held next Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The tour will include (total of seven homes in Westfield, Scotch Plains and Mountainside).

"A spokesman said, "The two Mountainside homes are a study in contrast. The first, a contemporary, was designed and landscaped by its architect-owner to take advantage of a stunning cliffside location. Throughout, there is a skillful blend of living space with natural environment. The plants which flank the foyer and surround the charming indoor pond grow directly from the soil of the outdoors."

"There is no grass on the property—all landscaping is evergreens interspersed with the natural rock of the site. A spring flows down the hillside behind the home into a pond dotted with water lilies. Inside, each room has been planned to utilize the panoramic view from New York City to Somerville. Colors, here also, carry out the natural feeling with tones of brown, gold, sand and white.

"Going from this striking-contemporary to the other Mountainside home is to step back in time. Although near a busy highway, this home retains the peace and serenity of its origins as a 19th century farmhouse. Additions through the years have increased the size of this home from its basic four rooms to the rambling house of today—but much of the original structure, including doors and windows, still exists."

"Of special interest is the triangular room added to the second floor. Each room in this home is a miniature museum. In each, the owners who are authors of two widely-known books on antiques have expertly blended American primitive and Victorian antiques, paintings by four members of this multi-talented family and items collected on their world-wide travels. The tour-goer will want to linger and enjoy in each."

Tickets for the tour may be purchased from any League member; at Jeanette's and Jane Smith's (in the luggage department) in Westfield; at the Scotch Plains Book Store in Scotch Plains; at Irma's Bag in Fanwood and at the Constant Reader in Mountainside.

The November candidates

Richard Buggelli

The word "responsive" crops up often when Richard Buggelli talks about his hopes for the future.

The Union Township Democrat uses it as he conducts one of the toughest campaigns facing any candidate this November. He's trying to replace the popular Republican incumbent, Matthew Rinaldo, as Congressman from the 12th District.

Insisting that Rinaldo's large victory margins in past elections cannot be used as a criterion for judging 1976, Buggelli called his opponent's voting record in Congress "unresponsive."

Unemployment, tax reform, the state of the economy in general—these are the things that are on people's minds, he said.

Democrats in Congress have for eight years been trying to pass bills to stimulate the economy and fight unemployment, he said. "But the Republican Administration hasn't been responsive," he added. In the attempt to hold down inflation, it created a recession, and that just "doesn't work."

In 1972, when Richard Nixon became President, the unemployment rate in Union County was 5.8 percent, Buggelli said. Now, he added, it is 9.1 percent. There is "a real need" for the type of public works programs envisioned in the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, he said, though he added he would be willing to accept some changes in that proposal. CONGRESS DESERVES "a pat on the back" for the new tax reform bill passed last week.

Buggelli said. But that measure is not completely satisfactory—"It's just a step along the way."

Additional tax reform is possible, he stated. "You have to have people in Congress who will fight for tax reform, who are responsive to the people, not to big business."

It is as "a direct result" of Republican policies that the present "recessionary atmosphere" has been created, with "interest rates the highest they've ever been," the Democratic candidate said. "Big business and the bankers benefit when money is tight. But the people suffer."

The Republican Administration also must shoulder the responsibility for a "contrived" oil shortage, he charged. With petroleum by-products used so extensively, "when the price of oil increases, everything goes up," he said. To reduce the nation's dependency on foreign oil, off-shore drilling will have to be permitted in the waters off New Jersey, he said. But there must be safeguards, he added.

"Spill-proof" pipelines can be built, he said. "I have no fears about that." What is needed is quality control, under the supervision of a Congressional watchdog committee. It's up to members of Congress to undertake the job, he stated, since "they're responsive to the

Charge of assault on officer sent before grand jury

Two Mountaineers—each accused of assaulting a police officer—were among defendants appearing before Judge Malcolm N. Bohrod at Monday night's session of Springfield Municipal Court.

Forwarded to the Union County Prosecutor's Office for grand jury action was the case of Edward R. Keuler, accused of attempting to run down Ptl. William Chisholm with an auto at the intersection of Lyons Avenue and Salter Street on Aug. 28. Keuler also faces charges of committing assault and battery on Ptl. Edward Glassman and of eluding a police officer by failing to stop for his signal.

Maryellen Kennedy, also of Mountaineers, was cleared of an assault charge, but was fined $75 for tearing up a parking summons, throwing it at Ptl. Keith Strom and littering a Mountain Avenue sidewalk. The parking violation resulted in an additional $40 penalty.

In another court action, Douglas L. Blasius of Morris Avenue was found guilty of driving on that street while under the influence of alcohol and of leaving the scene of an accident. However, his penalties—a $85 fine, three-month jail term and 10-year revocation of his license on the first charge, a $50 fine on the second—were stayed pending an appeal.

Driving while her registration was suspended resulted in a $215 fine for Ruby V. Farlow of Newark, who had been apprehended on Rt. 22 Harry A. Dochelli of Carteret paid $50 for careless driving on Rt. 22.

A fine of $35 was levied against Steven C. Szymanski of Kenilworth for drawing a check for $18.90 on a closed account. Szymanski also made full restitution to the Quality Inn, Rt. 22, where the check had been presented.

Philip A. Walsh of Newark was fined $20 for committing larceny by siphoning gasoline from an auto on Forest Drive. Eric Wolke of Maplewood was found innocent of the same charge.

HOLDING COURT

Exercises can prevent unwanted tennis elbow

By ED COLLINS
An ache in the elbow means you've done something wrong. Sometimes, all it means is that you've played too much on a certain day, or within a certain period, and your arm rebels by telling you, "Stop! I've had enough!"

To prevent this from happening to you, get the right muscles in shape. (Even if you're a retired blacksmith, TE can put an end to your recreation.) Straighten your arm in front of you with the palm down. Place your non-playing hand on top of your elbow and feel the muscles working as you clench your fist. The muscle on top of the forearm near the elbow is the one to be concerned with, it's called "the backhand muscle." You have to strengthen it.

Take an object weighing about five pounds and hold it at arm's length, palm down. Without bending your elbow, lift it up and down with your wrist until it becomes too heavy. Repeat the exercise a couple of times a day, periodically checking its development.

If you already have a case of TE, then start ridding yourself of it. The first step is to place your racket in a press and put it in the closet; leave it there until your arm gets well.

When you can't feel any pain by yourself one of those elbow bands; they seem to help many people ward off further trouble.

Before going back to the courts, and the same style of play that may have caused your problem, have someone qualified look at your strokes. Don't be surprised if they determine the cause of your problem is contacting the ball too late. On the forehand you may roll over the ball on the follow through, your elbow jutting out like a chicken's wing. This hurts. The undue pressure of the late hit is absorbed by your arm. Practice slowing down all forehand shots, concentrating only on hitting them farther in front. Try to keep your elbow down and the racket pointed straight up in the sky on the follow through.

The flailing backhand is probably the major cause of tennis elbow. If you don't turn your shoulders and pull the racket back, you're headed for a late hit. Ouch! Get your shoulders pivoted and the racket drawn back before the ball clears the net. You'll have a chance to contact the ball in front—the farther in front the better.

Another commonly shared characteristic most tennis elbow sufferers share is the savdust grip. Don't squeeze the racket, especially after the hit. Relax it in your hand so the grip can breathe. Try taking your hand off the racket between shots to help save your arm.

The final suggestion may be the toughest to handle: buy a new racket. It doesn't seem to make much difference what kind, as long as it has a different grip-size and weight. The change makes you more conscious of your

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity football team will launch its 1976 season against Roselle tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Mabel Field in Springfield. The Bulldogs will visit Hillaide on Saturday, Oct. 2, and they will open Suburban Conference play against Madison at home on Oct. 9.

Booters start conference play after 3-1 defeat by Carteret

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team opened its 1976 season last Friday, falling 3-1 to a strong Carteret squad. The loss does not affect their Suburban Conference record though; their first conference game was played Tuesday against Millburn. They face Verona away today and West Orange at home on Tuesday.

In the Carteret contest, Dayton's defense lacked punch at times, allowing the three goals to be scored. The passing and dribbling skills were exceptional, but the Bulldogs were able to capitalize only once, that coming when Joe Frank scored after wing Brian Kukon's cross. An excellent game was also turned in by Dayton halfback Ed McCaine, who strengthened both the offense and defense.

Also aiding the team was the play of wing Rich Weinberg, who set up various scoring opportunities, and Alan Layton, a senior lineman.

Despite allowing three goals to be scored, goalie Sid Kaufman shut off many Carteret scoring opportunities with timely saves. Scoring for Carteret were Mike Cackowski (two goals) and Jimmy Garcia.

Garcia's goal broke a 1-1 tie early in the fourth period, and Cackowski's second goal iced the Carteret victory. While practicing later in the week, Coach Arthur Krupp stated that the team had played well.

The junior varsity squad also fell by an identical 3-1 count. Dayton scored as a Carteret fullback accidentally booted the ball through his own goal, despite a futile attempt to stop it by the Carteret goalie. This score put Dayton ahead 1-0, a lead which soon diminished and then disappeared. Playing strong games were Marc Meskin, Chris Shields, and Todd Melamed. Goalkeeper Steve Shindler made some fine saves.

Sign-ups start for DIPPER

The fifth annual Daily Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) games begin in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School boys' gym this week every Monday from 7 to 8:15, according to DIPPER Director John Swedish. This week will be devoted to registration, formation of team rosters and development of weekly schedules. Basketball, floor ball, floor hockey, bowling and volleyball are the activities for the coming season.

All students and teachers are eligible to join the games. Basketball players participating in the varsity, junior varsity or freshman squads are not eligible to play basketball, although they can participate in the open basketball events which take place after the league games are completed or on days when no league games are listed.

No student can participate if he has a gym excuse; he must be physically fit to participate. The director said that violent play or fighting will bring automatic expulsion from DIPPER play. Registration is open every morning from 7 to 8:15 until schedules are posted.

Rampolla changes to linebacker spot

Ken Rampolla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Rampolla of Short drive, Mountaineers, a sophomore at Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., is a candidate for linebacker on the football team.

He was an offensive guard last year, but Coach Rocco Calvo, in his 22nd season, has decided to switch him because "he is one of our most aggressive players and we need help on defense."

Rampolla, 5-10 and weighing 192 pounds, is a graduate of Gov. Livingston Regional High School, where he was most valuable player and named to the All-Metro squad as a senior. He is a pre-med student. The Greyhounds, 6-2-1 last year, compete in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Borough athletes soccer candidates

Stephen W. Matysek of Apple Tree Lane and John McCarthy of Hickory Lane, both, Mountaineers, are among the 25 candidates for a berth on the Union College intercollegiate soccer team.

Union College, under its new head coach Dr. Leonard Lucenko, opened its 1976 14-match campaign yesterday against Brookdale Community College in the first of 13 Garden State Athletic Conference confrontations.

A freshman majoring in biology and environmental science, Matysek is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, where he lettered in varsity soccer for two years. McCarthy, a sophomore majoring in business, is a graduate of Dayton Regional, where he was a two-year letterman in soccer.

Letters to Editor

SCHOOL COSTS CRITICIZED. The Mountainside Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 14, approved a contract with the Mountainside Teachers Association which clearly illustrates the blatant disregard the board has for the taxpayers bearing the cost of our public school system.

In addition to a 7 percent raise, fringe benefits amounting to 3 percent bring the total cost of this settlement to 10 percent. School opened with only 838 pupils, down 77 from 915 last June.

A projected kindergarten enrollment of 80 has not materialized. Only 46 youngsters have arrived to date. Many school systems far larger than ours function quite well with far less staff, yet the citizens of Mountainside continue to pay and pay.

Another "small item" approved allows the superintendent to attend a three-day convention in October as well as another three-day convention in November.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Mountainside continue to smart over a 43 point tax increase manifested in their tax bills paid last month. And there is more to come!

Leber at Rensselaer

Mrs. Catherine Palitto, seventh grade, will instruct social studies for grades 7 and 8, and English for grades 6 and 7. Mrs. Palitto graduated from Kean College of New Jersey, Union, with a BA degree in history and a minor in English.

The religious education program for all grades will be carried out by several persons. Sister Mary Fox, CCD coordinator, will provide religious instruction for grades 1 to 3.

A highlight of Tuesday's program will be the explanation of the school's new music program, coordinated by the music teacher, Mrs. Nolene Schneider. Interested students will receive instruction on a once-a-week basis for the instruments of their choice, including: piano, flute, guitar, trombone.

Refreshments will be served following the open house. Mrs. Theodor Engert of Creek Bed road, Mountainside, has been named a member of the science department in the all-girl Upper School of Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child, Summit, by Sister Jean Marie O'Meara, headmistress.

Mrs. Engert joins Oak Knoll faculty

Piscataway man held for jury on break-entry count

A Piscataway man, charged with committing a break and entry at the Steak and Ale Restaurant, Rt. 22, on Aug. 6, was ordered held for the Union County Grand Jury after he waived preliminary hearing before Judge Jacob R. Bauer at the Sept. 15 session of Mountainside Municipal Court.

The defendant, George J. Astalos, also is charged with conspiracy to commit a break-in. His alleged accomplices, Richard and Martha Swearingin, also of Piscataway, were bound over for Grand Jury action last week.

Astalos and Richard Swearingin allegedly broke into the restaurant through a roof ventilation shaft and forced open several cash registers, closets and cabinets, but police said apparently nothing was taken. Swearingin's wife is charged with aiding and abetting the pair in the crime.

In other court action, Michael E. Maslowski of Scotch Plains was fined $215 and had his license revoked for two years after being found guilty of drunken driving on Coles avenue. Jaime Lozada of Jersey City paid a total of $70 for operating an unregistered vehicle, misuse of license plates and contempt of court.

Other motorists appearing at the session included: Stanley Lichtenstein of Summit, fined $20 for speeding 55 mph in a 45-mile zone on Rt. 22, $15 for failure to have driver's license in his possession, and $5 for contempt; Keith L. Lockley of Plainfield, $35 for lending his driver's license, Rt. 22; David S. Ring of Summit, $30 for careless driving, Summit lane.

Also: Jerry J. Rubin of Warren and John L. Troianello of New Providence, $25 each for speeding 40 mph in a 25-mile zone, W. R. Tracy drive; Leonardo Latorre of Kenilworth, $15 for operating an unregistered vehicle, Rt. 22.

Jan M. Erickson and Sharon V. Galligan, both of Cranford, were fined $15 each for being in possession of and consuming beer in a public park. Galligan paid an additional $15 for interfering with a police investigation by failing to cooperate when questioned by an officer.

Preliminary plans made for swine flu program

Preliminary plans for the Union County mass immunization program for swine flu were announced this week by Thomas Graham of the New Jersey State Department of Health. "At this time," Graham said, "we are pointing toward a date in late November or early December to begin the immunizations in Union County. However, the specific starting time will depend on the arrival of the vaccine from the manufacturer."

Graham said the county will be divided into eight shooting regions where five gun immunization teams will be operating over a two-week period.

The clinic sites have been distributed geographically, according to Graham, to give everyone an opportunity to get to a clinic near his home. The specific clinic sites will be announced at a later date.

Graham said a county steering committee has been formed to plan the actual implementation of the program in Union County. The steering committee consists of the Union County Health Officers Association, Union County Pharmaceutical Association, Visiting Nurses Association, Union County Civil Defense, the Eastern Union County and Plainfield chapters of the American Red Cross, the Union County Medical Society, the county's Division on Aging and the Central N.J. Lung Association.

It is estimated that almost 400 volunteers will be needed per day to assist at the clinics by registering people, swabbing arms, directing clinic flow and other non-medical jobs.

Each of the eight county regions will have a coordinator for volunteers whose function will be to organize the volunteer effort. Persons wishing to volunteer can do so by calling the health officer in their community. Graham said.

He said that the vaccine also will be made available to employers who will then administer it to their employees through their industrial medical departments. Each regional shooting area will have a person coordinating the industrial immunization program.

In addition, plans are being formulated with each local health department to enable mobile units to visit senior citizen buildings and other special high risk areas.

"Community response to the swine flu program in Union County has been terrific," Graham said. "The local health departments throughout the county should be commended for their dedication and professionalism in responding to this unprecedented mass immunization program."

Graham said Walter Kucher of the State Department of Health has been named coordinator for the program in Union County.

Liotta: Upgrade voting machines

"More efficient, more accurate and more economical ballot machines" were called for this week by Alfred R. Liotta, Democratic candidate for Union County clerk.

"The accurate tallying of ballots and the efficient organization of honest elections is one of the most important duties of a county clerk," Liotta said, "and new devices, already utilized in a number of states, can be utilized in insuring the greatest possible accuracy and efficiency, and should most certainly be investigated for possible use in Union County."

Liotta said the new mechanisms are much more compact than the familiar bulky, heavy and cumbersome voting machines.

"Instead of printing numbered totals on paper ballot forms, which are sometimes blurred and have to be tallied practically by hand, these devices punch holes in cards which can be sorted and counted by computer. Their initial costs are far lower than the old machines, they are more economically transported and stored, and do not cost as much to maintain," he said.

Party to honor Halpin scheduled for Oct. 20

A cocktail party will be held in honor of Walter G. Halpin, seeking reelection as county clerk, on Wednesday, Oct. 20, at the Town and Campus, Union. It was announced this week by Michael J. Magnolia, campaign manager for the Republican candidate.

The affair, which will be held from 7 to 11 p.m., is being sponsored by the Friends of Walter G. Halpin. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Wage study is published

The Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce has published its third annual Wage-Hour Survey a comprehensive study of 47 industries in Union County, giving up-to-date wage, hour and fringe benefit data for more than 28,000 employees.

"This is the largest response we have had since we combined the survey three years ago and it indicates we are providing the data which companies need to remain competitive," said Edward J. Duggan, chairman of the Chamber's Personnel Club.

The survey is a service of the Chamber and is available only to members. They may obtain copies by calling the Chamber office at 352-0900.

CONSUMER GUIDELINES

Double Your Mileage
Some recent engineering studies predict that flywheels might be used in the future to double a car's urban gas mileage. A flywheel is a large, weighted disc that stores energy by spinning at high speeds. In regular cars, many engines waste gas when they are idle or run at low power. With flywheels, engines won't operate at low efficiencies, scientists say.

Adult center lists three sessions for student orientation

The Union County Regional High School District Adult Learning Center will begin its 1978-79 schedule with student orientation meetings on Thursday, Oct. 7, 1978. Students may attend any one of three meetings on that date: 9:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. These orientation meetings (as well as classes) will be conducted at the Adult Learning Center, located in a separate, portable classroom unit on the grounds of the David Brearley Regional High School on Monroe avenue, Kenilworth.

The learning center offers free instruction in English as a second language, adult basic education and high school equivalency preparation. Instruction is on an individualized or small group basis, and learning center teachers will also offer students guidance in employment and further education opportunities.

The learning center will again offer a flexible class hour program with students attending class when convenient. Adult basic education and high school equivalency instruction is offered on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Three levels of English as a second language will be given on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. ESL students will take a placement test during the Oct. 7 orientation program.

Mrs. Harriet Diamond, learning center director, urged all future students to attend the orientation program, but reminded everyone that registration for all programs may take place at any time during the school year.

Persons interested in further information about the course were invited to contact Rabbi Goldman at Temple Shalom in Plainfield, Rabbi Kroloff at Temple Emanu-El in Westfield or Rabbi Shapiro at Temple Sh'A'rey Shalom in Springfield.

BY GERALD ANDREWS

Your last will and testament isn't legally required, but it is something to consider. About three out of five people who die with any material things to leave have wills. The fewest number of wills are recorded by single people, especially women. About 40 percent of American business owners, as well as others who own considerable assets, haven't yet bothered with wills, according to some estimates.

Without a will, the family fortune—however small—could end up being split all sorts of ways never intended. Lawyers may be advisable, but are not legally necessary in making out a will. Two or three witnesses are, and they have to know they are signing their names to a will.

Overlook installs a revolutionary body scanner

A revolutionary new total body scanner which can detect abnormalities anywhere in the body, in soft tissue as well as bone, revealing tumors and other disorders at an early treatable stage, has been installed at a cost of $400,000 at Overlook Hospital, first such installation operative in the state.

"This is a major commitment by Overlook to bring the latest and most advanced scientific instrumentation for the study of disease, both of the brain and other parts of the body, to the Overlook area," commented the hospital's chief of radiology, Dr. Patrick Moriarty.

Overlook is actively seeking funding for this key installation, which has been termed the first revolutionary innovation in radiology since Roentgen discovered the X-ray.

Called "CAT" computerized axial tomography the equipment is much safer for the patient because it uses non-invasive techniques.

CAT eliminates the pain and potential risk to the patient associated with pneumoencephalography (injecting air through the spinal column to the brain), angiography (injecting opaque dyes into the arteries) or ventriculography (insertion of a needle directly into the brain ventricle).

"In some cases these earlier techniques may still be necessary for further data, but largely they will be eliminated," Dr. Moriarty stated.

He cited a recent case of a young man whose brain tumor was diagnosed by CAT, laying an exact blueprint of the problem area for the brain surgeon. "Before, this patient would have required all three of the above invasive procedures," he explained.

The total body scanner is valuable in a wide variety of conditions, including trauma. Brain scans reveal immediately whether an accident victim is bleeding in or outside the brain, possibly requiring emergency surgery.

The scanner will enable physicians to distinguish between strokes caused by bleeding and those caused by blood clots (although the symptoms are the same, the treatment must be different.)

In seizure disorders, a diagnostic workup can be performed by CAT, eliminating former invasive techniques.

Pre-senile atrophy of the brain can be determined even more accurately than by former pneumoencephalograms, as can chronic encephalopathy caused by chronic use of alcohol in large amounts.

Another condition called normal pressure hydrocephalus, a treatable form of organic brain syndrome, can be diagnosed by CAT.

One of the most significant medical conditions revealed by the body scanner are tumors of the pancreas, heretofore extremely difficult to diagnose.

Evaluation of liver disease and identification of metastasis in spread of cancer are other important areas where the new scanner can aid diagnosis.

"There are many areas of disease to be explored as expertise and technology develop even further," Dr. Moriarty pointed out.

There is a significant reduction in radiation to the patient with the total body scanner, which operates on much the same principle as regular X-rays but is 100 times more sensitive.

Studies on the new scanner can also be performed on an out-patient basis, saving the patient a hospital stay.

Windmill Club designed for 'independent' buyer

Finally there is a detached-home community designed especially for independent singles and couples. It is the Windmill Club on Locust Avenue off Rt. 9 in Howell Township.

The Windmill Club's one and two-bedroom homes, priced from $25,990 are perfect for everyone except the typical American family and its two-or-more children.

The Howard Siegel Companies, Monmouth County builder, has brought to New Jersey a concept that originated in the areas around San Francisco and Los Angeles and which meets the different interests of single individuals, newlyweds, young married couples and mature couples whose children have moved away.

The private homes are set amid a rolling and wooded landscape with tall stands of trees and spring-fed Windmill Pond, offering a small, secluded country club environment.

During the grand opening period, qualified buyers will find 8 1/2 percent, 30-year mortgages with down payments of as little as five percent. There are no closing costs whatsoever, which means a savings of approximately $1,300 to the buyer. This preview offer is for a limited time only, and may be cancelled without notice.

The community's location further enhances its value for the residents. New York City is little more than an hour away via either the Garden State Parkway or New Jersey Turnpike. Regularly scheduled express and local buses are available to the commuter heading to the northern metropolitan centers. A variety of shopping and entertainment is in the immediate area, and a short drive away are the beach resorts of the Jersey coast.

The Windmill Club offers such private facilities as the community tennis court, clubhouse, swimming and wading pools and jogging areas.

One Windmill Club home is the Mondrian, a two bedroom and one-half bath model. Entering the home, a sunken living room is at the left. To the right is the foyer guest closet. Nearly an entire built-in wall of bookshelves is at one side and directly ahead is the 12 foot sliding glass doors with panoramic view of either woods or of Windmill Pond. The door opens onto a concrete patio.

Adjacent to the living room is the dining area, and contiguous to that is the den. In the center is the kitchen island.

The house features wall-to-wall carpeting throughout, except for the asbestos tile in the kitchen and ceramic tile floors in the baths. In all homes, the kitchens are equipped with wood cabinets and such appliances as a continuous-cleaning electric oven, range hood and built-in dishwasher. In some homes, there also is a skylight in the kitchen roof.

At the end of the foyer is the utility area, with clothes washer and dryer and glass-lined water heater. Opposite is the linen closet. Turning down the hallway, you pass the full bath with custom vanity. Across from it is the first bedroom with its ample closet space. The large, more than 168 square feet, master bedroom has a walk-in closet and its own private lavatory with another full vanity.

Additional storage space is provided in the rear and side areas of the home's garage.

Locust Avenue is located directly across from and east of the Moon Motel on Rt. 9. The sales office is open daily (except Thursdays) from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. To see the Windmill Club at other times, readers may call 367-0505.

COLONIAL VILLAGE—New community on Henderson road, South Brunswick, between Rts. 1 and 27, features the Stratford, a four-bedroom, 2 1/2-bath Colonial model priced from $63,990. The developers are Irving Weininger and Al Katz.

Butterworth Homes opened recently on Meadow road in Edison. Three models are offered from $39,900, with mortgage financing available. Homes include two, three and four bedrooms and up to two baths. They are built on landscaped lots in a wooded setting and are convenient to schools and shopping.

Builder Joe Gulya, who has constructed both single and multiple dwelling units throughout the state over the past 25 years, said, "Butterworth Homes has been designed and built with the same craftsmanship and attention to detail as custom built homes that we have constructed costing up to $100,000. Nothing has been spared in our effort to make Butterworth Homes among the finest new residential areas."

Butterworth Homes include city sewer and water, curbs, sidewalks, paved streets, trash removal and street lighting, underground utilities, landscaping and seeding, aluminum gutters and downspouts, wood double hung windows with vinyl weather stripping, ceiling and sidewall fiber-glass insulation.

Also washer and dryer hook-ups (water and electric), forced air heat (adaptable to air conditioning), butcher block kitchen counter tops, appliances, colored bath fixtures, ceramic tile above tub, oak flooring (in all homes except the Cape Cod), wall-to-wall carpeting in all living rooms, in dining room, bedroom and hallway (Cape Cod), painted interior walls, electrical fixtures as shown in samples and custom oak kitchen cabinets with adjustable shelves.

Sales agent is Jacobson, Goldfarb & Tanzman Associates, Perth Amboy. Models are open weekends noon to 5 p.m.; weekdays 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. except Thursdays.

Butterworth Homes can be reached by taking the Garden State Parkway to Exit 130, then continuing south on Rt. 1 approximately six miles to Plainfield Avenue. Make a right on Plainfield Avenue to end (Woodbridge Avenue), turn left to first light (Meadow road); turn right on Meadow road three blocks to models on right.

Aversa building 2 new projects

Patsy Aversa, an independent land developer originally from Hudson County, has recently opened two new custom housing projects in Toms River.

Mariner Estates, which is to feature moderate priced homes, is just underway. Briarwood Estates, with only 20 homesites remaining, boasts many new residents as well as continuing construction.

All Briarwood homes, ranging in cost from $49,900 to $86,000, include within the base purchase price all wood double hung windows, double floor construction, dishwasher, cast iron bath fixtures, carpeting or hardwood floors, full basement, attached garage, a choice of three front facing sidings, macadam driveway and natural woodwork with choice of stain.

The buyer may, to an extent, customize the interior design at no additional cost in most cases, and add such options as central air conditioning, fireplace, exterior brick or stone facing, storm windows and screens.

Aversa, president of Quality Builders Inc., stressed the personal service maintained at Briarwood. "Following the selection of a model, the buyer has the opportunity of discussing minor changes to suit his individual needs and wants. We also assist in arranging financing, which is perhaps confusing especially to a first homebuyer," he said.

Models may be seen Monday through Friday from noon to 5 p.m.; weekends from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. or by appointment at Briarwood Estates, located off Bay Avenue, in Toms River.

Location is buyers' plus at Shadow Lake Village

Shadow Lake Village, the condominium community built by Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc. near Red Bank, is a unique example of putting the right designs in the right location. Situated on a former lakeside estate, the community and its surroundings form a picture of "total harmony."

"From the very outset we strived to produce a community that would complement the many aesthetic and practical advantages of the location," said Kevork S. Hovnanian, president of Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc., the sponsors. "Retaining the charm and majesty of the woodlands was given top priority. Equally as important was the creation of attractive, distinctive townhouses that matched the grandeur of the environment."

Located on Nut Swamp road in Middletown, Shadow Lake Village is just 75 minutes from New York City and only 53 minutes from Newark via the Garden State Parkway. The Atlantic Ocean is less than 10 miles away and nearby is the Navesink River, Red Bank, originally settled in the 1600s, is minutes away. Once an important commercial boating center, the city is now a transit hub, with rail and bus connections available to the metropolitan areas. It is also a major shopping and activity center, with everything from fine stores to theaters, restaurants and medical services.

"In short," noted Hovnanian, "Shadow Lake Village offers an easy-going, carefree lifestyle that has just about disappeared from more urbanized regions."

"At the same time," he continued, "it provides all of the conveniences of advantages made possible by modern technology. It's a hard combination to beat."

With a population of more than 355 families, Shadow Lake Village is already established as one of the most successful adult communities in the state. One reason is the continued emphasis on architectural variety. "Each phase of the community has had its own identity," said Hovnanian. "This has allowed us to create highly individual neighborhoods; each carefully detailed to present an image of harmony with the total impact."

The latest sections in the continued growth of Shadow Lake Village contains the Villas and Terraces of Eastport Court homes which feature imaginative facades, well-organized floor plans and an emphasis on the community's woodland environment. The concept is being made available in two distinctive living environments, Villas and Terraces.

The Villas, priced from $54,990 to $89,990 are clustered around a private courtyard, in the manner of an English carriage court. Each home in the section is unique, yet share important custom touches, including wood-burning fireplaces, wet bars, landscaped entries, insulated windows and doors, built-in smoke detectors and wall-to-wall carpeting. Among other standard features, they have double self-cleaning ovens, dishwashers, garbage disposal, central air conditioning and a built-in heat lamp in the master bathroom. In addition, each home has an attached garage with an electric door opener.

The dramatic designs are accented by classical atriums, and views of the golf course or pedestrian green. Each Villa home has its own identity variation in roof planes and the creation of individual exteriors through the use of natural wood.

The Terrace section features one and two-bedroom homes clustered around an entry plaza that reflects the flavor of a California veranda, highlighted by botanical landscaping. Prices range from $34,490 to $38,990.

These outstanding condominium homes are just part of the Shadow Lake Village picture. The gracious life includes a heated swimming pool and golf course exclusively for residents and their guests. These are illuminated tennis and shuffleboard courts, a fully-equipped clubhouse and a clubhouse equipped for arts and crafts, cards, sewing and other hobby activities. The clubhouse has become a major focal point for social and community activities. There's even a mini-bus, managed by the association, that operates on a regular schedule between Shadow Lake Village and local shopping areas as well as commuter service to the bus and train station.

To reach Shadow Lake Village and the new Eastport Court homes, take the New Jersey Turnpike south to Exit 11, or the Garden State Parkway to Exit 117. Then travel south on Route 35 for nine miles, following signs. Turn right on Navesink River road, then right again at the end, onto Nut Swamp road, continue to Shadow Lake Village on the left.

Apartment sale listed

Gebroe-Hammer Associates, a Clifton-based realty investment firm, has arranged the sale of a five-story apartment building at 331 Elmora Ave. in Elizabeth. The transaction involved cash above an existing first mortgage.

Stuart Falkin was the G-H sales associate who sold the property to Jacob Rudd, an investment client of Gebroe-Hammer. The property was owned by the estate of Klara Landman for more than 20 years.

Falkin noted the property, a five-story elevator building containing 47 apartments, is located in one of Elizabeth's most desirable renting areas. Rudd plans to upgrade his new acquisition with "some very substantial improvements."

The Landman estate was represented in the negotiations by attorney William Hochman of the Newark law firm of Lasser, Lasser, Sarokin & Hochman. Attorney David Rudd, also of Newark, represented the buyer. Gebroe-Hammer Associates specializes in the sale of investment real estate and also deals in major commercial properties. Its operations are conducted by a staff of real estate professionals.

Crestwood Village opens new models for inspection

Conservation of energy, health, and the natural environment are major themes in the 10 all-new designs now open for public inspection at Crestwood Village, pioneer Ocean County retirement community.

The homes will be built in a new Village V, which was approved by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection. The 10 model homes are set in a new exhibit center park with winding walkways, rest areas, gazebo and luxuriant shrubbery. Prices range from $17,490 to $42,990, including a full complement of electric kitchen and laundry appliances.

In announcing the new model line, David S. Wolff, Crestwood Village marketing director, explained, "As we commence our 11th year, we have made significant improvements in engineering, materials and design ideas. We've become very, very sensitive to the need for energy conservation. We are using all the full-thick fiberglass insulation that can be effective in floors, walls and ceilings, according to standards set up by the American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers.

Other new features in the new Village V models cited by Wolff are Armstrong cushioned vinyl floor coverings that are "soft, warm and comfortable and require little maintenance" in kitchen, bath and utility areas, and even in our porches; new double-4 exterior metal sidings for greater rigidity and low maintenance costs; fully-enclosed and heated sun porches; "and many more details designed for comfort, convenience, ease of maintenance and economy to the resident."

Wolff commented that it was no longer acceptable for a retirement community just to build houses, as in ordinary residential construction. "Management in communities like ours now must also almost exercise some of the skills of sociologist, ecologists, agronomists, environmentalists, scientific land-planners, psychologists and gerontologists. And, of course with over 10 years of management experience, we make very large initial financial investments before the first foundation is dug, the first house built. A complete infrastructure of community services and facilities are provided and grow apace, as more residents join the community. For example a fifth large clubhouse—over 13,000 square feet—will be constructed in 1977 and in our new Village V, to serve the recreational, social, educational and cultural needs of the residents who will then be moving in."

Wolff asserted that day-by-day, on-premises resident management was equally important, to assure trouble-free and efficient operations. "We have had just that kind of management since Mike Kokes founded Crestwood Village in 1965," he said. "That's why we've grown into a full-service community, with 10 different model homes to satisfy most retirees' special needs and pocket-books.

"This is why our medical facility, though only five years old, has constantly grown in size, now with five doctors and staff. We will break ground this fall for an even larger health center, with complete facilities for ambulatory care of all kinds, and be operational by summer 1977.

"This is also why our new home designs for Village V will have greenbelts between clusters of homes, walking paths off the streets, and a density of approximately 4.6 homes per acre.

"By listening carefully to the retirees, we know that although many wish to leave their large homes where they've lived many years because they are now too expensive and troublesome to maintain, they emphatically do not want to crowd into an apartment or pinched-floorplan home with inadequate storage space for their lifetime accumulation of cherished possessions.

"Our customers are quality-conscious, comfort-conscious, and convenience-conscious. Though we have decorated our 10 models fully and tastefully, visitors in the over-52 age-group are less impressed by furniture and decor than they are by the fact that we still build every home the old-fashioned way, with masonry foundations and wood flooring on heavy timber joists raised up off the ground to provide an insulating air buffer—not concrete slab floors directly on the ground, which is the common practice today in residential construction."

Site-planning, engineering, and environmental designs for the new Crestwood Village V were reviewed by the State of New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, before a Coastal Area Facility Permit to proceed was issued by the Department. When the permit was granted, the CAFRA report identified "the coastal area in general, and Ocean County, in particular, as having attracted numerous senior citizens as permanent residents in recent years. Several attributes of these planned communities appeal to senior citizens: reasonable cost housing; low and stable taxes; physical security; small-town atmosphere; cultural; recreational and shopping amenities."

The 10 new models, ranging in price from $17,490 to $42,990 are now on view seven days a week, from 9-7 p.m. on Rt. 530, Whiting. It is reached from New York and northern New Jersey via the Garden State Parkway (Toms River Exit 80), then west on N.J. Route 530; from Trenton via N.J. Routes 33, 526, 539, and 530; from Philadelphia via Ben Franklin Bridge and N.J. Routes 70 and 530. Further information can be procured by phoning 800-822-9711 in New Jersey or 800-831-8509 in New York.

NEW MODELS—The Westbury model is in the foreground of this view of the new model area at Crestwood Village. It's a two-bedroom home featuring a colonial exterior and a one-story ranch layout. Other homes are throughout the rolling park-like area. 10 new models are open at the retirement community on Rt. 530 Whiting, all during the week from 9 a.m. to sundown.

9 pct. lack jobs in area --a '76 low

With 642,000 unemployed, the jobless rate for the 18 county New York-Northeastern New Jersey area remained unchanged at 9.5 percent in July, it was reported this week by Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Between June and July, a 0.5 percentage point drop in the Northeastern New Jersey area rate to 9.0 percent was offset by a 0.2 percentage point rise in the New York sector to 9.8 percent.

Bienstock noted that in July the Northeastern New Jersey jobless rate dropped to a 1976 low, falling notably below the New York sector for the first time this year.

In June, the jobless rates in both parts of the area were roughly equal, 9.5 percent in the Northeastern New Jersey portion of the area and 9.6 percent in the New York sector. Between January and May of 1976 the New Jersey average was above New York's.

The areawide jobless rate average was about one-fifth above the national average in July with both the New York and New Jersey portions of the area above the national figure.

Nationally, the unadjusted jobless rate dropped from 8.0 percent in June to 7.8 percent in July. Bienstock noted that the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate, designed to remove typical seasonal variations, rose from 7.5 to 7.8 percent, since the jobless rate drop is typically greater in July. Adjusted data are not currently available for the area.

The unemployment rate rise in the New York portion of the area reflected increases in both the New York and Long Island or Nassau-Suffolk area to 10.3 and 8.0 percent, respectively.

In North eastern New Jersey, the jobless rate decline reflected a drop from 9.6 to 8.4 percent in the Newark area and a decline from 9.6 percent to 9.2 percent in the Perth-Amboy area.

In contrast Bienstock reported an increase from 11.4 to 11.8 percent in the Jersey City area. The Jersey City area had the highest jobless rate in July among the six metropolitan area components of New York-Northeastern New Jersey.

The unemployment rate for the Paterson-Clifton-Passaic area edged up from 10.4 percent to 10.6 percent over the month.

DISC 'N DATA

Pick Of The LPs... WAR'S GREATEST HITS (United Artists Records-UA-LA648-G) The album contains a treasure trove of Gold singles for connoisseurs as well as the new hit single, "Summer." Additional numbers include: "All Day Music," "Slippin' Into Darkness," "The World Is A Ghetto," "The Cisco Kid," "Gypsy Man," "Me And Baby Brother," "Southern Part of Texas," "Why Can't We Be Friends?" and "Low Rider."

War is a band that has come up through the ranks, paying its dues as a back-up band and a club band, and converting that experience into the instinctive knowledge of how to reach people through music. Once they played to handfuls, now they command audiences of thousands of appreciative fans at venues like New York's Shea Stadium and large outdoor summer festival setups.

War is a bunch of instrumentalists in tune with the pop sound, the jazz sound, the soul sound, the Latin sound—a band that has come up with a kind of music that makes you happy to be able to listen to

A seminar on youth activities, entitled "Our Growing Generation - Now and from Now On," will be conducted by Rabbi William B. Horn, spiritual leader of the Jewish Community Center in Summit, and Harold Wisna of Linden, youth director of the regional organization.

Wisna, in charge of the Regional Department of Youth Activities for the past 20 years, has served on numerous regional and national youth committees. He is a member of the Long Range Planning Committee of the Central Department of Youth Activities as well as the Parent Education Committee of the Central United Synagogue Commission on Jewish Education. A principal in the Linden public school system he is working toward his doctoral degree in guidance and psychology at Rutgers University and Columbia University.

Another seminar on "Our Congregations: Retrospect and Prospect" will be led by Rabbi Yakov R. Hilsenrath, spiritual leader of the Highland Park Conservative Temple.

The fourth convention seminar will deal with the religious convictions and life styles of members of Conservative synagogues. It will be conducted by Rabbi Jehiel Orenstein, spiritual leader of Congregation Beth El of the Oranges and Maplewood.

The United Synagogue of America, founded in 1913, is the association of more than 820 Conservative congregations in the United States and Canada. It is a constituent member of the World Council of Synagogues. Its Northern New Jersey Region comprises 89 congregations from Ramsey to Toms River representing over 22,000 families. The president of the region is Norman Glikin of Hillside, and its executive director is Dr. Jacob Litman of Union. The chairman of the 1976 convention is S. Alexander Banks of Cranford.

Kean performance set by Pass, jazz guitarist

Kean College will present a program by jazz guitarist Joe Pass Monday at 8 p.m. in the college's Theater for Performing Arts, Union. The performance by Pass, whose style is reminiscent of the late Wes Montgomery, will be free and open to the public.

Show at museum will feature tales of Morris Canal

"Tales of the Morris Canal, a varied collection by James Lee of some 30 persons' memories of boatmen's songs and lore, canal characters, and the techniques of operating a mechanical waterway through some of the least likely terrain in the state, will be presented on tape and film at the State Museum Auditorium, West State street, Trenton, on Friday Oct. 1 at 8 p.m.

The program, sponsored by the Canal Society of New Jersey, the State Historical Commission and the State Museum, includes portions of an oral history of the canal James Lee recently completed with a grant from the historical commission.

"Famous Killer Sharks," a TV film produced by the State Public Broadcasting Authority in June, will be shown in addition to excerpts from taped interviews that are not part of the film.

The Morris Canal, built between 1825 and 1831 to link Newark to the Delaware River at Phillipsburg, was extended to Jersey City in 1836. In its peak year of operation, 1866, it carried nearly 900,000 tons of cargo—principally coal but also charcoal, iron ore, pig and scrap iron, zinc, sand, clay, lime, lumber and farm products.

A railroader by profession, Lee is the author of "The Morris Canal, A Photographic History." He lives on the canal at the site of Plane 9 West, in Stewartville, and he has been collecting and recording the canal's history for more than 30 years. The program is free to the public.

Efforts to stop pollution held boost to economy

A report concluding that it costs more to permit pollution of the state's air, land and water than it does to control it was released this week by the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

The results of a study undertaken by the private, nonprofit organization indicate that, contrary to claims by labor and industrial groups, efforts to clean up the state's natural resources have not harmed the economy and in many cases have strengthened it.

Diving into numerous federal, state and private reports and documents as part of his investigation, NJCF assistant director Darryl F. Caputo found that many jobs have been created by environmental programs and that the public overwhelmingly supports strong environmental standards.

"When the facts are analyzed," Caputo said, "it becomes obvious that industrial decline in New Jersey is the result of high taxes, expensive labor costs and high employee benefit packages and not the result of the pursuit of a quality environment."

The report, entitled "Greenbacks or Greenwards: Must We Choose?" includes the following points:

—For each billion dollars spent on water treatment plants, up to 85,000 jobs are created. The total annual cost of controlling all types of pollution amounts to $103 per person, whereas the damage resulting from air and water pollution alone costs each person $147 a year.

—Eighty-four percent of the population polled in a recent survey favored more stringent enforcement of New Jersey's anti-pollution laws.

The report is available for $2 to cover postage and handling costs from the New Jersey Conservation Foundation, 300 Mendham rd., Morristown, 07960.
