Administrators' pay scale approved by school board

By KAREN ZAUTYK

Adoption of contracts with custodians, principals and secretaries and approval of three administrators' salaries were agreed upon by the Mountainside Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting in the Deerfield School Tuesday night.

Board president William Biunno noted the actions, along with last month's approval of the Mountainside Teachers' Association pact, bring the board to agreement with all of the school system's bargaining units for the 1976-77 terms. "The board is now moving into negotiations for 1977-78," he said, noting that two bargaining sessions have already been held with the MTA.

The agreement with the custodians approved unanimously, gives each of the nine men an increase of seven percent and provides them with New Jersey health benefits. The salary range for those employees is now $6,635 to $11,935.

A 5.9 percent average pay hike was approved on a 6-1 vote, with Walter Rupp opposed, for the system's two principals and one vice-principal. The pay scales, covering nine steps, range from $13,935 to $21,565 for a vice-principal, $16,200 to $24,595 for a K-3 principal, and $17,600 to $27,210 for a 4-8 principal. Principals Herbert Brown at Deerfield and William F. Hummel at Beechwood and vice-principal Allan J. Shapiro all are at the top of the scales.

The system's six secretaries, three of whom are not in the bargaining unit, each will receive a seven percent pay increase. Their salaries will range from $6,465 to $11,530.

The three administrative salaries which were approved were for Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, who received a five percent increase, to $35,280; school board secretary John McDonough, a 6.5 percent increase, to $21,300; and Gwen McCarthy, director of special services, a six percent increase, to $20,670. The vote on each was 5-2, with Trudy Palmer and Charles Spetrer opposed.

In other action at the session, the board approved regulations covering the annual school elections, now scheduled for Feb. 8. The formal action is required under law, despite the fact the schedule may be changed if the state senate follows the assembly's lead in voting to postpone the elections because of legislative uncertainty over the amount of state aid which will be available to schools.

As it stands now, filing deadline for board candidates' nominating positions is 4 p.m. Dec. 30; drawing for ballot position will be held Jan. 3; voter registration deadline is Jan. 7; and the latest date for a candidate to withdraw his name also is Jan. 7. The board will hold a private meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the board offices to discuss the 1977-78 budget items.

A policy on the grouping of students in classes according to their individual abilities and achievements was given a second reading by the board, but formal approval is being withheld until there can be more input from parents, administrators, teachers, and... where

A fourth R -- retirement Custodian calling it a career

When Deerfield School custodian Robert Hanewald retires on Dec. 31, he will be taking a bit of the Mountainside school system's history with him—for in his 25 years of service he saw the gradual expansion from a single facility, the now unused Echobrook School on Rt. 22, to its present structures.

When he was hired, he was part of a three-man staff—with George Benninger and Francis Peterson—which has grown through the years to a total of nine. Shortly after he began his employment in 1951, the Deerfield facility opened, and he has been working there ever since.

The 61-year-old Hanewald, a native of Elizabeth, spent his own school days in Mountainside, where he has lived for 55 years. Recalling those "readin' and 'ritin' and 'rith-metic'" days at Echobrook, he noted that many of his fellow pupils rode to school on ponies, which were hitched to a rack at rear of the building. In the winter, when snowfall permitted, horse-drawn sleighs were the "school buses" seen on the borough's dirt roads. "There weren't too many cars around here then," he noted. The entire student population he estimated at approximately 120.

Rt. 22, at that time, was a two-lane thoroughfare known as Rt. 29. "Most of the homes in the borough were on the south side of the highway, with farms and woods on the north side," he remembered. "And the roads on the north side—what are now Central avenue and Summit road—did not cross over the mountain. They were extended during the Depression as part of WPA projects."

Part of one farm and some heavy woodland covered the site where the Deerfield School now stands, and it was there that he and other Mountainers went to hunt for rabbits and birds, he recalled. One of the popular early recreation areas was a picnic grove, owned by the Heckel family, located at the back of what is now Deerfield.

THE DEERFIELD COMPLEX, he noted, opened as a structure housing kindergarten to fifth grades, with additions gradually expanding it through the eighth grade.

Hanewald is looking forward to his retirement, but he probably will miss his longtime association with the local schoolchildren. "I've always gotten along well with them," he commented, "and in this kind of job, you really have to. The children always came to me for help. They'd ask me to fix their lockers, repair zippers on their jackets and

6 major projects planned at Dayton by student council

Charles Kiell, president of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Student Council, this week announced that the council is undertaking six major projects for the coming school year.

The council is sponsoring the painting of the green fire doors throughout the school in conjunction with the Creative Arts Club. The project will get under way on Saturday with Creative Arts Club students dressing up the doors in "more vibrant colors," Kiell said.

A ski trip to Hunter Mountain in New York on Jan. 15 is the second undertaking of the council. Registration is open to all students. Those interested may obtain further details from any Council member.

The third project is called Alumni Day. Dayton graduates who are attending colleges throughout the country will come to the cafeteria on Tuesday from 1:30 to 3 p.m. to relate first-hand experiences at their colleges to any junior or senior who is interested in attending those colleges.

Construction of road signs directing visitors to the Jonathan Dayton campus is the fourth project under way. The fifth project is concerned with revision of the physical education athletic records in the boys' gym, to be completed in February.

The Student Council's sixth project is concerned with research into the possible exemp-

Tickets are still available for the Mountainside Recreation Commission-sponsored trip to the Nutcracker Ballet on Sunday. Registrations for the Dec. 28 ski trip and the Dec. 29 roller skating trip are also being accepted at Borough Hall.

The Recreation Office will not be open on Dec. 24 or 31. Early registration for vacation activities is encouraged, a statement declared. For additional information, readers may call 232-0015.

Key Club holds glass collection

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its December Glass-in on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the high school's front parking lot off Mountain avenue. Local residents have been urged to bring newspapers (preferably tied in bundles) and glass sorted by color.

Anyone who purchased fruit from the Key Club or Pep Club was reminded that the pick-up time for the fruit is Saturday from noon to 3 p.m. in the front parking lot of the high school.

Dayton choruses in WPIX concert

A prime time, hour-long program of holiday music entitled "Christmas Eve Carols," will be presented on TV station WPIX by the award-winning Chorale and the Concert Choir of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, on Dec. 24 at 8 p.m.

Robert E. Shay, Channel 11 vice-president, said WPIX was so impressed with the Chorale and the Concert Choir that it decided to directly precede the station's annual traditional "Yule Log" of Christmas music "with a performance by one of the most talented and professional choruses in our coverage area."

The program was taped this past Sunday. E. Edward Shiley, director of the school's vocal music department, will be seen conducting the Chorale, and his wife, Kim Shiley, the Concert Choir. After brief introductory remarks by the Shileys, the hour of uninterrupted music features the music of Handel, Schubert and Bach, in addition to traditional carols and Christmas music.

Kathy Maynard, WPIX director of program development, is the program's producer.

In addition to the WPIX special—the first time the Dayton vocal music department choruses have been featured on TV—the school's vocal music groups also have a dozen commitments to sing in the Metropolitan area over the next two weeks.

Last summer, the Cantabile Singers, a group within the choruses, was the first American high school choir invited to sing in the International Music Festival in Poland.

In the spring of 1975, the Chorale was one of

Carnegie Hero award to Mountainside youth

Robert Zimmerman, son of Mrs. George Zimmerman of Deer Path, Mountainside, and the late Mr. Zimmerman, has been awarded a bronze medal and a $500 grant from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, Pittsburgh, for his 1974 rescue of a drowning swimmer off the coast of Long Beach Island.

A certificate accompanying the medal, noting the award is "in recognition of an outstanding act of heroism," describes the rescue as follows:

"The Bronze Medal (is) awarded to Robert

F. Zimmerman, who helped to save Benjamin J. Burgraff from drowning at Harvey Cedars, N.J., Sept. 18, 1974. While swimming in the Atlantic Ocean, Burgraff, aged 21, was heard calling for help as he floundered in the water about 450 feet from shore. Robert, aged 17, a high school student, and another youth swam to Burgraff, passing through a line of breakers to reach him. Burgraff struggled briefly, but Robert and the other youth held him between them and towed him shoreward.

Park commission reveals $33.5 million expansion plan

An ambitious $33.5 million expansion of park facilities was unveiled by the Union County Park Commission last week. The six-year plan, subject to approval of a budget-conscious Board of Freeholders, includes the construction of a 5,000-seat arena for exhibitions and sports events and an aquatic center with indoor and outdoor pools.

The federal and state governments would provide about $10 million for the projects, with the county paying for the rest, probably through bonds.

The capital improvement plan is simply a proposal, said George Albanese, county manager. "I will take the entire package, review it and make my recommendations to the Board of Freeholders."

The board and the park commission are currently engaged in a court battle over the commission's future. Under the county's administrative code, adopted last year after the county's new charter went into effect, the park commission would be abolished. The commission is protesting the action and until a final decision is offered by the courts, the agency will remain semi-autonomous.

In seeking the $3 million aquatic center, the park board proposes to close its existing pool at Wheeler Park in Linden. That plan has already drawn strong protests from the Linden City Council and its recreation superintendent, Al Volpe. Last year the county closed its pool in Rahway Park. Under the park commission's capital budget plan, the aquatic center an indoor pool with spectator seating and an outdoor pool with a wave making machine would be built in 1981.

The proposed $6 million sports complex would include an indoor ice skating rink, a 5,000-seat exhibition hall (which could also be used for sports events) and administrative offices for the park commission. George Cron, superintendent and general secretary of the commission, said seven communities have expressed an interest in locating the center within their boundaries. The municipalities are Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Plainfield, Scotch Plains and Mountainside.

The capital expenditure program would begin in 1977 with the acquisition of 6.3 acres adjacent to Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield. Also scheduled for that year is the development of Lenape Park in Springfield (adding a police and public gun range) and improvements at Mattano Park in Elizabeth.

Under the proposal the commission would acquire portions of Prince's Farm in Springfield, one of the county's last remaining farms, in 1978. Other projects for that year are improvements at Ash Brook Park in Scotch Plains, Lenape Park and Warinanco Park, Elizabeth-Roselle.

For 1979 the park agency wants to purchase 35 acres along rivers in the county to alleviate flooding problems. Also scheduled for 1979 is the construction of 19 additional tennis courts at various locations.

In 1980 the park commission wants to buy 200 acres in Springfield's Baltusrol Top section which would be used to expand the Watchung Reservation and Hidden Valley Park. The parks agency is also seeking $1 million for 1982 to finish the development of Lenape Park. Additional funds are being sought to rebuild stables at Watchung Reservation which would be demolished if Rt. 78 is constructed through the park commission preserve.

SCHOOL FUNDING

Citadel observes 'Brian Ruff Day'

Brian Ruff Day is being celebrated today at the Citadel in Charleston, S.C., where the Mountainside stars on the college's football team.

Named as linebacker on the Associated Press All American football first team, Ruff is being honored at a luncheon not only for his achievement, reported a spokesman for the Charleston Trident Chamber of Commerce.

Ruff is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ruff. He was chosen as the top draft pick of the Toronto Argonauts and plans a career in professional football in Canada or the U.S.

Church to hold dance on New Year's Eve

Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church will hold its annual New Year's Eve supper dance at its parish hall at 300 Central avenue, Mountainside, on Friday Dec. 31, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

There will be a hot buffet and music by Johnny Jay Dress is optional, liquor will be available with a corkage charge of $6 per bottle. Donation is $30 per couple and singles have also been invited.

Of course, to qualify for this money the board must be able to prove that cuts were made due to the "cap" which make it impossible for the board to provide a thorough and efficient education for our students.

The cuts should have been made regardless of T and F. In the past nine years Mountainside has lost more than one-third of its student population, closed one school and reduced class size to an average 22 students. It is only reasonable to expect that now staff also must be reduced.

As to "thorough and efficient" be assured Mountainside was thorough and efficient according to the Legislature's definition long before that famous piece of legislation was ever enacted into law.

And so in order to spend money rather than give it back to the taxpayers in the form of tax relief, the board voted to apply for transportation money and for salaries to supply aides for kindergarten and first grade. It is less than honest to assume that these two items qualify.

So far as the $17,000 needed to balance the transportation account, the answer is simple. Take it out of surplus. $123,000 worth of surplus, a surplus account, incidentally, that the administration told us would be completely depleted as of June 30, 1976.

Meanwhile the citizens of Mountainside continue to swelter over a 43 point property tax increase plus a two percent income tax. No wonder taxpayers rebel and cities go bankrupt.

RESCUE SQUADS

Ten days ago my wife and I had guests from New York City for the weekend, and while at dinner at a restaurant in Westfield on Sunday evening one of the ladies was very suddenly taken seriously ill.

A call to the Westfield Rescue Squad had three men there within minutes. I want to commend them for their knowledge, their efficiency and their consideration for the patient.

Within 20 minutes, she was at Overlook Hospital with a doctor awaiting her arrival, with full knowledge as to what had happened. I am happy to say that after a week at Overlook, she is now back home in New York.

That Rescue Squad, and the Mountainside Rescue Squad, have, I am certain, no superiors in the State of New Jersey. Thank God for such dedication!

Thief takes cash and cash register

Mountainside police reported a break and entry and theft at a Rt. 22 gas station Sunday night, but they were unable to determine how much money was stolen because the burglar took the cash register with him.

Police said the day's receipts and other money were left at the Somerset Exxon station, 1054 Rt. 22 West when it closed at 6 p.m. One of the co-owners was to pick up the cash later, but when he arrived at 7:54 p.m., it and the register were gone.

Police said the thief gained entry to the station by pushing out a sheet of metal covering a window on the side of the building. He apparently tried to break open the register, since pieces of it were found in the office. A desk also had been ransacked.

Malfunction in TV set starts fire

A borough home was extensively damaged Monday morning in a fire which started from a malfunctioning television set. One fireman was injured in fighting the blaze.

Robert Butler, chief of the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department, estimated a minimum of $15,000 worth of damage to the two-story wood-frame home of Walter Dellefs at 1037 Ledgewood rd. The first floor recreation room, where the TV set was located, was completely destroyed, he said. There also was heavy heat and smoke damage to other rooms on the first floor, and smoke damage to the second floor.

Butler said Mrs. Dellefs, who called in the alarm at 10:55 a.m., was alone in the home at the time. He stated that she had unplugged the set "after she heard a noise in it," and went into the kitchen. A short time later, smoke began coming into that room. When she went to investigate, she found the recreation room ablaze.

One fireman, John Brown, suffered pulled back muscles while fighting the fire. He was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Mountainside Recreation Squad, was treated and released.

Butler said there was no way to determine the exact cause of the fire because the TV set was completely destroyed.

Firemen were called out again on Monday at 2:30 p.m. to the Bruno J. Szymanski home at 1247 Woodvalley rd. after an auto caught fire in the garage.

Butler said the fire was limited to the car, but the vehicle was so heavily damaged he could not determine the cause of the blaze.

"I really enjoyed working for the Board of Education here; they were always very nice. But I'm also going to enjoy my retirement!" he concluded.

Hanewald, who lives with his mother, Mrs. Antonia Holzhauser, on Woodland Avenue, will continue to reside in the borough and hopes to work parttime in a local delicatessen. But he also will use his leisure years for travel, with trips to Florida and Colorado heading the itinerary.

He'll also have more time for his favorite hobbies, carpentry—especially building bird houses—and stamp and coin collecting.

Before coming to work for the school system, Hanewald was employed by the P. Ballantine & Sons Brewery in Newark and by Gehring Plastics, Kenilworth.

He served 24 years as a volunteer firefighter in Mountainside and is a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association. He also is a member of the Mountainside Gospel Chapel and of the American Legion, being an Army veteran with three years' service in the Military Police.

Expenses approved by the board included $195 to George E. Scholes Co., Inc., Kenilworth, for replacement of nine heating pump wires which recently short-circuited in the Beechwood boiler room, and $180 to the Keating Roofing Co., Summit, for minor repairs to the Deerfield roof.

Among the personnel items were the approval of a contract for Margaret Crane as a kindergarten aide at Beechwood at $1,920; a contract with Doris Lueddeke as a part-time first grade aide at Beechwood at $800; and approval of Sophia Crocco as a replacement for first grade teacher Mildred Herron, who is on sick leave, at a daily rate of $51.63.

Dr. Hanigan received approval to hire a clerk to assist with paperwork involved in implementing the new "Thorough and Efficient" education rules at a rate of $2.50 an hour with a 40-hour maximum.

Zimmerman and Miller have previously been honored for their heroic act, receiving the federal government's Young American Medals for Bravery and the National Scouting Life Saving Award, presented by the Boy Scouts of America. The two were members of Boy Scout Troop 177 at the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, at the time of the rescue.

Zimmerman is now a sophomore at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., where he is majoring in elementary education. He is active with the college radio station and is an assistant scout leader with a troop in New Castle, Pa., where he started his scouting career as a young boy.

About the same time, in May, 1975, after being auditioned for the Festival of the Nations International Music Festival in Washington, D.C., the Chorale was permitted to participate in the College Division, the only high school music group among the more than 100 college entries. The Chorale tied for second place with a North Dakota college. That year, no first place award was given.

In May 1974, students from the vocal music department sang in the chorus of "La Gioconda" in the N.J. Opera Company's productions in Symphony Hall, Newark, and in Trenton.

In 1973, the Chorale went on a concert tour of Mexico.

Mountainside Jets gain 19-0 victory, crushing Chatham in football finale

The 1976 football season closed on a happy note for the Mountainside Jets Middleweights with a 19-0 victory over a well-drilled team from Chatham Borough.

Playing almost a perfect game, the Jets executed well both on offense and defense. With the exception of the first series, the Jets totally dominated the play.

Chatham won the coin toss and got the ball in play at its 25-yard line. The visitors moved the ball fast to midfield and then into the Jets territory.

As they have all year, the defense took charge. First it was M.J. Castello and Alex Caiola stringing out the play and Mike Caricato making one of his many tackles. Then it was Roby Martignetti breaking into the backfield to stop the ball carrier for a five yard loss. On the next play, Frank Gagliano and Mike Kontra fought off the blockers with the assistance of David Crane.

The defensive backfield of Jim Cleveland, Damian O'Donnell, Steve Poole, Doug Adams, Jeff Wilde, Scott Burdige and Joe Sefack stopped the opposition's passing.

Key plays on defense were also made by Fred Ahlstrom stopping an important third down play, John Merklinger who substituted in the middle of the line and John Alder.

On offense, the line proved the difference. Getting off the ball, the Jets moved four and five yards at a clip, blocking the opposition again and again. Leading the way were Joe Sefack, Alex Caiola, Frank Gagliano, M.J. Castello, John Schon, Damian O'Donnell, John Alder, Jeff Wilde and Scott Burdige. Blocking out of the backfield were John Caricato, David Crane, John Kontra and Mike Caricato.

Key offensive plays were David Crane's pass reception, stealing the ball out of the opposing player's hands, and Jeff Wilde's pulling down a key first down pass. Mike Caricato and John Caricato carried the ball over and around the opposition for numerous first downs.

The ball handling by quarterbacks Peter Ruggiero and Jim Cleveland was flawless. Combined they completed four out of four passes.

The scoring all took place in the second half. It started with a series of large gains by Mike Caricato, led by his brother John, and David Crane through gaping holes in the line created by Frank Gagliano, Joe Sefack, Alex Caiola, John Schon, M.J. Castello and Jeff Wilde. The result was Mike Caricato driving into the end zone. The extra point failed.

The second score was made by John Caricato with a key fake by quarterback Jim Cleveland. John Caricato marched into the end zone untouched with key blocks by Damian O'Donnell and John Schon. The extra point was converted on a pass from Cleveland to Jeff Wilde.

The last score was by David Crane during the closing minutes of the game. David carried out opposing players five yards to score.

A key ingredient in the success of this game was the punting of Frank Gagliano. He gave the kicking team the hang time to get downfield and aided in causing the opposition to fumble. Mark Dougherty, Ron Zimmerman and Greg Van Name were unable to play.

Overtime victory scored in soccer by Deerfield, 4-3

Mountainside's Deerfield School soccer team ended its season with a 4-3 overtime victory against Springfield. The winning goal was scored by David Cushman with less than one minute remaining in the overtime. The victory ended a successful season for the Deerfield team, with a record of 6-3-1. Two of the losses came at the hands of Berkeley Heights, which was undefeated in 25 straight games.

The team was led in scoring by John Gerndt with seven goals. Keith Hangan and Steve Vialla each scored three, and Kirk Vandy, David Cushman and John Saxton with two. Other members of the starting team were David O'Connell, Matt Kikon, Dan Weiss, Kevin Linnane and Andrew Giff.

This year's team was a very aggressive team and was undefeated after six games.

Four of the starting 11 were in the sixth or seventh grade, which indicates there will be a strong nucleus for next year. Some of the promising players for next year are Todd Stragas, Patrick Emphray, Peter Klasko, Leonard Lee, Mike Melchiorre, Tom Hagan, Russell Schott, and Doug Hartberg.

Other players who saw action this year and who contributed to the team's success were Tom Hobbs, Bob Kog, Jeff O'Sullivan, Rick Van Borselen, Bob Dowdy, Dennis Saunders, Jim Loughlin, Rick Kontra, Steve Lashin, Estes Haffner, Eric Kline, Peter Trapp, and Kevin Johnson.

Center sets holiday fete

The annual Christmas-Hanukah party for the Westfield Day Care Center will be held on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the assembly hall of the Westfield Presbyterian Church on Mountain Avenue. All parents of Day Care students and friends of the center have been invited to attend.

The director of the center is Mrs. Donald Peterson. The Westfield Day Care Center is a private, nonprofit facility which offers full day care service to children of pre-school and kindergarten age whose parents must be absent from home.

Since the center receives no federal or state funding, it depends entirely upon contributions and tuition for operating costs. It now cares for 63 children and it has room for a few more in the kindergarten class.

Save Natural Gas Save Jobs

I'm a Technician. My Job Depends on Natural Gas.
"Natural gas plays an important part in making the TV picture tubes I assemble. If gas were not available, the tubes couldn't be produced, and I'd be out of a job."
"Many industries depend on gas. These industries represent millions of jobs, and each of those jobs will be affected if the supply of gas becomes too low."
"Please use natural gas wisely. You'll help to assure an adequate supply of gas not only for the home, but for industry as well. By simply doing such things as lowering the thermostat, keeping the water heater temperature setting at normal, and turning the oven-off once food is cooked, you'll be doing your part to keep millions like me on the job. Besides, you'll be saving money as well."
"So, when you use natural gas, think about convenience, think about clean energy, but please think about using it wisely. — my job depends on it."

A NEW EXPERIENCE Bell Laboratories scientists (left to right) Hargovind Sarin, Harold Schonhorn and Charles Kurkjian demonstrate the tensile strength of a stronger-than-steel, hair-thin glass fiber using a five kilogram (about 11 pounds) weight. Fabricated at Bell Labs, the new glass fibers have withstood pullings of more than 600,000 pounds per square inch, making them stronger than stainless steel wires of the same diameter.

Glass wire that's stronger than steel Bell Labs fiber would transmit pulses of light

Bell Laboratories researchers at Murray Hill, New Providence, have demonstrated methods for making kilometer-length, hair-thin glass fibers that are stronger than stainless steel wires of the same diameter.

In tests at Bell Labs, the research and development unit of the Bell System, the new kilometer-length glass fibers have withstood pulling forces of more than 600,000 pounds per square inch before breaking. These strengths are maintained for periods of many years.

In the past, only specially prepared glass fibers in relatively free lengths of an inch or two exhibited such a high tensile strength. Even then, the fibers had to be kept in controlled environments, and when exposed to the atmosphere or to handling of any kind their strength deteriorated rapidly.

Fabrication of long lengths of stronger-than-steel glass fibers may promise as a major advance in lightwave communications research and development. In lightwave communications systems, information such as telephone calls, computer data and video signals can be transmitted as pulses of light through highly transparent glass fibers called lightguides. The high tensile strength of the new glass fibers indicates that long lengths of communications-quality lightguides could be manufactured reliably with a very low probability of breakage. This improvement could reduce the cost of producing lightguides and further improve their resistance to deterioration after prolonged use.

Catholic church to conduct course

The Religious Education Center-CCD, Adult Religious Education Department, Archdiocese of Newark, will sponsor a series of 10 sessions this winter entitled "New Light on the Catholic Faith."

The course will be given at the following centers: St. John's Parish, Linden, Jan. 25 to March 29; Immaculate Conception Parish, Elizabeth, Jan. 25 to March 29; St. Helen's Parish, Westfield, Jan. 26 to March 30.

The researchers who fabricated the new glass fibers knew that strength and reliability can be dramatically improved both by reducing the size of flaws that occur in the surface of the glass before and during fabrication and by protecting the surfaces of the fibers after they are made.

During the fabrication process, a rod of synthetic silica—the purest glass known is "fire-polished" with an oxyhydrogen torch to remove surface defects (scratches, bubbles, etc.). The rod is then softened by heating in a focused laser beam that provides an extremely clean environment for processing. As the rod is softened, a continuous length of hair-thin fiber is drawn away and immediately coated with an organic resin. The resin and the technique for applying it give the fiber a highly durable protective coating without causing damage to the glass surface. The laser beam technique, the resin and the application method are all Bell Labs advances.

ACTION grants available to assist local volunteers

Regional director for ACTION, announced this week that ACTION mini-grants are available to assist local organizations with volunteer programs. ACTION is the federal agency for volunteerism.

Massaro said, "Mini-grants are a great boost to local groups who depend on volunteers to deliver or extend services to their communities. In the past fiscal year, we awarded mini-grants averaging $1,000 each to groups to mobilize volunteers in nutrition and health programs, day care centers, drug rehabilitation centers, children's recreation programs, community garden projects, senior centers, park reclamation and neighborhood beautification. The results have been satisfying both to us and to the communities that put the grants to work in a constructive and unifying way."

The mini-grant program provides funds on a one-time non-renewable basis. To be eligible for a mini-grant, a group must be public or private non-profit, incorporated by the state, and have an IRS certificate of non-profit status. Application information can be obtained by writing ACTION Mini-Grants, 143 E. State St., Broad Street Bank Building, Trenton 08608. The deadline for receipt of applications is Jan. 15.

Twenty years ago, October 1966, ten young men and their teachers studied 12 to 14 hours a day in a converted one-family house in Newark. The converted living room was the study hall. Two of the three bedrooms were fitted with bunk beds, and the third bedroom was shared by the two rabbis, teachers. And so it was that the Rabbinical College of New Jersey, now known as the Rabbinical College of America, an affiliate of the worldwide Lubavitch movement, had its start in New Jersey.

Fifteen years later, in July of 1981, 40 young men and their teachers boarded a bus which was to take them to their new Yeshiva in nearby Morris Township, where amidst towering trees and green lawns, the age-old custom of studying the Torah and other Holy Books was to continue. This time though they were in surroundings befitting a college which received accreditation from the New Jersey State Department of Higher Education in 1973, and where its students were to receive in addition to their ordination into the rabbinate, a bachelor's degree in religious education.

There are now 200 full-time and 100 part-time students attending the College. They come from 20 states and ten foreign countries. Not all of the students elect to enter the rabbinate; some enter the teaching profession, and some become social workers in our urban communities. In addition, the Rabbinical College has a program named "New Direction," for young men of college age, many of them holding both undergraduate and graduate degrees, to help them develop a deeper understanding of Judaism as it relates to contemporary society.

Among the varied programs sponsored by the college throughout New Jersey communities is the one where selected students from the Rabbinical College meet with their peers from secular colleges and universities throughout the state to discuss contemporary religion. For the young, the college maintains a summer camp program on its premises. The use of the college's library of Judaica is available to all adults and students of high school and college age. The Rabbinical College of America sponsors lectures, seminars, student group weekends and many other community activities.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Varsity Club will hold its annual Alumni Night next Thursday at 8 in the boys' gym. The featured basketball game between the Dayton varsity and the alumni will begin at approximately 8:15 p.m. During half time the Varsity Club will induct four members into their Hall of Fame. Recipients this year include William Glowacki (1930s), William Dietrick (1940s), Joseph Schaffernoth (1960s) and Michael Lester (1960s). Glowacki participated in football, basketball and track while in high school. Besides earning three varsity letters in football, he was selected in his senior year to the All State football team. In addition to being captain of the Bulldogs, he won the 1939 New Jersey place kicking championship sponsored by the Newark Bears. On the basketball court, Glowacki was a three-time letter winner. In his senior year he was picked to be on the All Union County team. In 1938 and 1940 he scored the winning baskets in both Union County championship games. As a member of the track squad for one season, Glowacki displayed his talents in throwing the javelin. Directly following high school, he attended Temple University on a football scholarship and played until World War II, when he went overseas with the 15th Army Air Corps for two and one-half years. Glowacki is now a sales representative for Allied Van Lines out of Hoonton. He is residing in Parsippany with his wife and son, Randy, who recently was graduated from Seton Hall University. Dietrick participated in football and basketball while attending Jonathan Dayton. Lettering three times in football, Dietrick says his most "thrilling experience" was when the Bulldogs defeated rival Rahway for the first time during his senior year. As a basketball player, he lettered twice and was selected to the All Union County and All State teams in his senior year. Following his 1945 graduation from high school, Dietrick attended Central Connecticut State College, where he played four years of football, basketball and baseball. He won the Gladstone Award, the student athlete award, the highest award of its kind at the college. He coached high school basketball for five years: one year at Middletown, Conn., three years at Litchfield, Conn., and one year at Irvington.

Missed foul shots hurt Dayton girls in opening game

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School girls' varsity basketball team opened its season with a 58-49 loss to Johnson Regional of Clark last Friday at home. The Dayton quintet will play home games against Union Catholic tomorrow afternoon and Gov. Livingston next Thursday evening, Dec. 23. Coach Ruth Townsend said the team had played quite well despite the loss. She noted that the Dayton athletes had missed 10 foul shots, which had a vital effect on the outcome. "The first half was a seesaw contest, with neither team able to open up a lead. In the later stages, however, the Clark women were able to use their height advantage, taking most of the rebounds to preserve their lead. Sophomore Liz (Crockett) Franklin led the Dayton team with 15 points, and Sue Tacofsky had 14. Mary King, a sophomore center, rebounded well and scored nine points. Ellen Stieve, third sophomore in the starting lineup, poured through five points in her initial varsity contest. Kathy Gerndt had four points, and Sharon McGurty had two. Other members of the varsity squad are Barbara Martino, Michelle Gan, Cheryl Baron and Meryl Manders, who has been slowed by an early-season illness. Seeing action on the junior varsity level are Lynda Cleveland, Mary-Jo Scuderi, Linda Smith, Tina Segall, Debbie Weinbuch and Joanne Ruocco.

Dietrick then returned to Central Connecticut State College where he has coached basketball for the past 21 years. He is a teacher in the physical education department. During the summer months, he conducts basketball camps. His hobbies include golf and tennis. Dietrick resides in New Britain with his wife, two daughters and son. Schaffernoth participated for three years in football and basketball and four years in baseball. He lettered three times in basketball, and was selected to third team All-State in his senior year, when the team lost in the final round for the Group II state championship. On the baseball diamond, Schaffernoth earned a Gold Letter for his four years of participation. In his senior year, he was selected to first team All-State. Schaffernoth went into professional baseball with the Chicago Cubs organization, spending three years in the minor league at Paris, Ill., and three years in the major league. He was later traded to the Cleveland Indians and spent one-half year there before being sent to the minor league in Jacksonville, Fla. Schaffernoth is a supervisor for T.W.R. Painut Company in Mountaintop and lives in Berkeley Heights with his family. Lester was a member of both the basketball and track squads. In addition to lettering three times in basketball, he was selected to the All-Union County and All-State teams. During the outdoor track season, he participated in the half-mile run and the high jump events. Lester held the previous school and Watchung Conference records for his two specialty events. He recalls that he always won in his events in dual meet competition. After graduating in 1967, Lester attended Florida Southern University on a basketball scholarship. He was a four-year starter on the varsity squad and was selected the "Outstanding College Athlete of America" for his sophomore, junior and senior years at his school. In addition, he was selected to the All-Southeast Conference squad and was chosen the most valuable player. Upon graduation in 1971, Lester was drafted and served in the National Guard at a summer training camp. He also played semi-professional basketball for the Pat Pavers of Trenton of the Eastern Basketball Association (EBA) for one year. Lester spent 1974 traveling in Europe, and then returned to work on his master's and doctorate degree in psychology of sports. He lives in Springfield and is employed by the American Hospital Supply Company of New York City.

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team opened the season with a 53-51 victory over Arthur Johnson Regional of Clark. The squad will travel to Parsippany tomorrow with hopes of improving its record. Dayton made a sensational comeback after Billy Smorol, who scored 16 points, had directed Clark to a 31-26 halftime lead. With a hometown crowd cheering them on, however, the fired-up Bulldogs rallied back and finally took the lead on Kevin Walker's layup in the closing seconds of the third period. The game remained a battle throughout the final stanza, with neither team generating a spurt to pull them far ahead. In the final minute Dayton held a slim two-point advantage. Clark's Jerry Hobbie, a sophomore playing his first varsity contest, lost possession of the ball. A Dayton defender recovered the ball and passed upcourt to Steve Pepe, who sank the layup, putting the Bulldogs up by four. Smorol came right back with a bucket to put Clark within two. Dayton guards John Kronert and Brian McNany tried to stall, but McNany was fouled with 13 seconds remaining on the clock. McNany missed the first free throw, but a violation enabled him to take two more. Brian sank both to clinch the victory. A late Clark basket provided the final score of 53-51. Dayton had an extremely balanced attack, led by Kronert's 12 markers. John also directed the attack, using the stall effectively in the waning moments. Junior Kevin Walker proved he could play on the varsity level, rebounding well and scoring 11 points. He put in the points that put Dayton ahead near the end of the third period. Pepe, who hit the shot giving the Bulldogs the four-point lead, scored 10 points from his forward spot. Steve, a co-captain of the team, also sparkled on defense. Kevin Doty led a first-period outburst that gave his team an early lead that soon diminished. Doty rebounded well and scored nine points. Brian McNany, whose clutch free throws iced the game for Dayton, also scored nine points. The hustling co-captain helped run the offense from his guard position. Substitute guard Ted Parker also contributed to the attack, sinking two free throws. Ted, a senior, is a key factor coming off the bench. Willie Wilburn, a junior, got his first taste of varsity action. Although playing only a short time, Wilburn gathered valuable experience. Pete Jacques was also inserted for defensive purposes.

By MICHAEL PETRO
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School wrestling team will begin its varsity season Saturday at the Gov. Livingston Tournament. The team, coached by Richard Iacono, is stocked with eight sophomores, six junior and three senior starters. Coach Iacono says he expects the team to do well this year. "We are very young this year. But our balance will help us do well in the dual meets. In the tournaments we may have a problem due to our lack of experience. Yet we still look good." In practice meets the team has stood up extremely well and seem to be in excellent shape. The tentative starting lineup for Saturday is Dean Fashian or Don Calabrese at 101 pounds, Pat Picciatlo or Mat Apicilla at 108, Mike Calabrese at 115, Alan Layton or Kirk Kublack at 122, David Gechlik at 129, Pat Smith at 135, John Ferry or John Halpin at 141, Dan Solozzi at 148, Mark McCourt at 158, Jeff Scholes or Kenny Bell at 170, Alan Bleznick or Rich Cederquist at 188, and Alan Grossman or Alan Bleznick at heavyweight. At one point, when Dayton was trailing by four points, Solomon scored 10 points with only one Springfield bucket interrupting his pace. Steve Pepe led Dayton with 22 points, Kevin Doty scored 18 and Kevin Walker had 12. Other Dayton scorers: John Kronert 4, Brian McNany 3 and Willie Wilburn 3. Kean to help adults work for degree

Kean College has developed a special program for adults who wish to enter or re-enter college. EPIC ("Education Provides Increased Career") is designed to provide alternate methods by which adults can work toward a degree, methods which will suit their specific limitations—in time, money, mobility or educational background.

An important aspect of EPIC is the possible exemption from courses and granting of credit through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) and other forms of evaluation of life experiences. Non-traditional courses are also available to the student unable to attend weekly classes.

Candidates for EPIC will be permitted to enroll as prematriculated students, entrance examinations will not be required. They may complete 30 credits before becoming matriculated (accepted for the degree) and matriculation will be based on the earned grades only.

Special advisement and counseling geared to the specific needs of these adults is available. They may also take advantage of the vocational interest testing, and career guidance offered in the EVE office, as well as other expertise and resources available there.

Further information is available from Mrs. Mae Hecht, EVE Office, Kean College, 527-2210.

The concert will be preceded by the showing of Cohen's film, "Musical Holdouts," a tour of the Appalachians and its musicians, at 7 p.m. This film was previously shown on public television stations.

Information on other folk music activities can be obtained by writing to the society at P.O. Box 694, Maplecrest Station, Maplewood 07040.

Wage 'supplements'

At the turn of the century, most workers were paid only for the time they worked. Now, in addition to pay for working time, workers receive a variety of supplements such as retirement programs, paid vacation and holidays, according to the Labor Department's publication, "U.S. Workers and Their Jobs: The Changing Picture."

HOLIDAY HOME - This new model is typical of the homes offered at Holiday City, Berkeley Township, where nine designs are featured, starting at $25,990. The recreation-oriented community, developed by Hoysons, Inc., of Toms River, is open to people aged 55 and older.

Holiday City sales jump attributed to new models

Holiday City at Berkeley, the adult community in Berkeley Township, Ocean County, broke all its sales records as more than 125 units were purchased during a six week period in October-November.

Bill McCleery, sales manager at the community on Rt. 37 just off Exit 82A of the Garden State Parkway, said new model homes, which made their debut approximately a month and a half ago, "have captured the imagination of the public and their investment as well."

"Sales have been going like crazy," said McCleery, "and the traffic and response has to be attributed to the new models. In addition, people like the homes which back onto the lake. Many say they like the privacy. Almost all buyers mention the close proximity of the community to the ocean, which is just five miles away, and the bay, which is only two miles away."

The models which have generated the most interest and deposits are the Monterey, a two-bedroom, den, two-bath home, priced at $29,690; the Newport, a one-bedroom and den unit, at $26,690; and the Shoreview, a lakefront home with two bedrooms, two baths and den, tagged at $33,790.

Being developed by Hoysons, Inc., the recreation-oriented complex, geared to people 52 and over, has nine different models from which to select, in a variety of prices

Hoyson completed 1,550 homes in nearby Holiday City in Toms River, where more adults bought more homes in less time than at any other community in New Jersey, and where over 90 percent of the home buyers were recommended by residents. The same pattern is emerging at the Berkeley tract. Resident recommendations are prevalent among the 125 sales in recent weeks.

McCleery said the Monterey is proving "very popular" because of its size - two bedrooms with two baths. In addition, it has a paneled den, which measures 12.6 by 8.8, just off the kitchen. The den has a sliding insulated door to the back.

The second popular model is the Newport, priced at $26,690, which many single people have been purchasing. It has one bedroom, a living room, dining room, den and garage. A key selling point here is the 14-4 by 11-2 master bedroom plus the decorator-planned living room-dining room combination with a large picture window.

Luxury and spaciousness seem to sell the shoreview model which is built right on the lakefront. Along the rear of the home is a 14' by 21-6" living room and 12' by 11 foot dining room with sliding insulated glass doors.

In addition to the key selling points of each home, McCleery believes purchasers have been impressed with the outright ownership. There is no stock involved, no undivided shares of common property as in a condominium complex. At Holiday City at Berkeley, buyers get full title and deed to both home and land. Senior citizen and veteran exemptions from real estate taxes are available to qualified purchasers, and all real estate taxes are deductible from federal income tax returns.

The estimated taxes on the Newport model, for instance, are $43.97, heat, hot water and electricity run about $36 monthly, sewerage $8.75, water rate of $3.90 and club membership, $14, for a total monthly carrying charge of $106.62.

Club membership includes use of clubhouse, pool and facilities, bus transportation for shopping, grass cutting and driveway snow removal. There is an existing 16,000 square-foot clubhouse, and a 21,000-square-foot one is under construction. Facilities include swimming pool, special rooms for hobbies, cards, dancing and theater, shuffleboard courts, picnic locations and the like.

The homes are heated by oil-fired baseboard hot water. A central oil tank feeds all homes; the tanks are metered and residents pay only for oil used. All utilities are underground.

To view the models, take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 82A (Lakehurst and Camden) and then Rt. 37 west about one mile to the entrance on the left.

'Livability' emphasized in decor of model homes

How will a home look when the buyer-family is living in it? That is the main concern of interior decor at the model homes of Fawn Lakes, the Mancini Company's 45-and-over condominium community in Manahawkin, which offers pre-retirement as well as retirement living in a location less than 10 miles from Long Beach Island.

The homes of Fawn Lakes are designed in one and two-bedroom models, with leisure-room dens, large living rooms, dining rooms, one or two baths, and eat-in kitchen with all appliances, including 16 cubic feet refrigerator. A separate utility room offers hobby space. Washer and dryer also are included in the basic home price.

Priced from $24,950 to $34,750, Fawn Lakes homes are built as single structures, duplexes and fourplexes—all designed with separate entries and with private garage or carport. Lakes, tall trees and natural shrubbery surround the homes.

In these surroundings, interior decorator Sheila Maurer was called in to make the models "livable" for the buyer profile emerging among the first 30 Fawn Lakes homebuyers. Leisure room-dens set the "feeling" and color theme of each home, showing the many uses of the space, which allows a hide-a-bed sofa, game tables, lounge chairs, game table or TV, according to the preference of the buyer.

The suggestion of lifestyle, Mrs. Maurer reports, allows visitors to picture their own furnishings in the home. She has stayed away from "overdecorating" beyond what most families want in a vacation-retirement home, using familiar colors and fabrics, standard size furniture, and room arrangements that show the comfortable sizes of the rooms.

"At Fawn Lakes, we were trying to show rather than disguise," said the interior decorator. "The rooms are well laid out for full-sized furnishings, and the construction is excellent, so we did not have to resort to over-decorating."

"Instead, we showed the rooms as they are, to their own advantage, with tables and chairs in the kitchens, dressers and highboys, as most families have in

Beekman condos feature Tudor, colonial designs

Beekman Village's recent previews to homebuyers "exceeded all expectations," as 10 units were sold reports Bob McConnell, president of McConnell & Company, Lakewood, the exclusive sales agents.

Beekman Village is a condominium project which offers two and three bedroom townhouses priced from $35,990. Located in Hillsborough Township, Beekman Village is open for inspection daily from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Windsor is a two-bedroom townhouse with Tudor or colonial front elevations, depending upon the location. A full basement is included with the option of finishing a family recreation room on this level. An eat-in kitchen with ample cabinets, guest powder room, a 21-ft by 17 ft living-dining area, including patio doors overlooking the rear patio, complete the first floor level. On the bedroom level are master bedroom, with two large closets, private lavatory and patio doors leading to a private balcony; second bedroom with two closets or two closets and an optional dressing area, and a tiled main bath off the upper foyer.

The Buckingham is a three-bedroom townhouse, also featuring Tudor or colonial front elevations. This unit features a full basement, a 15 ft. by 16 ft. eat-in kitchen with ample closets, guest powder room, and 21 ft. by 17 ft. living-dining area. This room also includes patio doors overlooking the rear patio. On the bedroom level, the 15 ft. master bedroom includes two large closets and full bath with shower. Each of the two remaining bedrooms is of twin-size capacity with an abundance of closet space. The main bath off the center hall foyer completes the level.

Both units are centrally air conditioned. Natural gas heat is also a feature. Among the other features being offered at no extra charge are wall-to-wall carpeting or oak flooring and insulated windows.

The Township of Hillsborough, made up of sections known as Neshanic, South Branch, Flagtown, Belle Mead and Blackwell's Mills, was incorporated on May 31, 1771. It is the largest municipality in Somerset County, covering an area of approximately 55 square miles. Its location is approximately midway between New York and Philadelphia. A highway network as well as bus and rail transportation are accessible. Princeton University and Rutgers University are within driving distance as is Rider College.

In the immediate area are restaurants and various entertainment facilities. A number of recreational facilities are a short distance away. "The Township of Hillsborough maintains a high standard of education in its elementary and secondary levels. Convenient shopping centers as well as large shopping malls are also easily accessible to this particular area," a spokesman said.

To reach Beekman Village from North Jersey, take Garden State Parkway to Rt. 22; west on Rt. 22 to Rt. 206-south (toward Princeton and Flemington); proceed south on Rt. 206 to New Amwell road (at Arco station); turn right and proceed for approximately 1 1/2 miles to Gemini drive. Turn left and proceed to Aquarius court. Turn right to models on Devonshire court.

Where to write Seniors' co-op

Though programs to benefit the aged were one of eight "priority spending categories" for which federal revenue-sharing was originally intended, only one-half of one percent of the money actually went for that purpose, according to a Government Accounting Office survey of 250 local governments (which distribute the federal money pretty much as they please, as there are very few strings attached to the law). Concentrated seniors would be wise to write to Congressman Robert Drinan, House Office Building, supporting his proposed bill (HR 839) which would mandate that a minimum of 10 percent of revenue-sharing funds must be spent on programs to benefit the elderly. Other reforms are also in the bill.

Greenbriar tops 2,000-mark in buyer move-ins

With over 100 people moving into Greenbriar in Brick Town during the past three months, the distinction of topping the 2,000 move-in mark at the U.S. Home adult community goes to Herman and Marjorie Schmier, formerly of New Rochelle, N.Y.

Longtime visitors to Marjorie's cousin in the community, the couple is well acquainted with the cultural and recreation activities at Greenbriar.

Herman was born in New York; Marjorie, in Boston. He is a graduate of New York University and Fordham University with a law degree. He served with the U.S. Army in World War II in the European area, completing his stint in 1945. In 1946, he became an attorney with the War Department and was assigned as one of the chief defense counsels representing the Japanese charged with war crimes in the Philippines.

On returning to New Rochelle, Herman went into private practice, and four years later he became associated with the city of New Rochelle. After 23 years he is now retiring as first assistant corporation counsel for the city. He was a member of the local draft board and former president of the New Rochelle Bar Association and has been active in many professional organizations.

Martorie studied music both here and in England, and has pursued this interest throughout her adult life. She taught music to private students, played on the radio in Boston, and has been an accompanist for many singers and other instrumentalists.

During the past five years, she served as a volunteer at the United Home for the Aged and with the Blind Choral Group at the Westchester Lighthouse. One of her hobbies is needlepoint, and their new retirement home is highlighted with her needlepoint picture creations.

In retirement, the couple hope to participate in many of the overseas tours planned for Greenbriar residents, and also intend to take advantage of Greenbriar's one-day cultural bedrooms, and living rooms arrangements that let the potential buyer see where the TV set or a favorite armchair may be placed."

Fawn Lakes is located on Rt. 72, just 2.5 miles west of the Garden State Parkway exit to Long Beach Island (Exit 63). The models and Clubhouse I frame a natural lake, one of several in the community. Homes are now available in the first section, which will comprise only 206 homes. Models and sales office are open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CHEESEQUAKE VILLAGE offers persons 52 years of age and over enough 'elbow room' to enjoy numerous activities. Among the services available are private bus transportation for shopping, trips to the race track, theaters, Radio City Music Hall and state fairs; fishing trips, ball games, participation in recreational activities, physical fitness programs and swimming in the private pool. Condominiums start at $21,490 for a one-bedroom, one-bath model. Exterior maintenance, lawn care and snow removal are included. Each condominium is air-conditioned, has a patio or balcony and modern kitchen. Cheesequake Village is located in the Cheesequake Park section of Matawan, off exit 120 of the Garden State Parkway.

Royalty Estates invites buyers to comparison shop

Bob Giovine, developer of Royalty Estates a custom-home community on Bay avenue in Toms River, has announced the sale of seven homes within a month "as a direct result of checklist comparison shopping."

According to Giovine, all prospective buyers who visit Royalty Estates are handed a fact sheet listing the standard features included within the base cost of all Royalty-built homes. Buyers are then encouraged to compare features to feature with all competitors in relationship to price.

Giovine noted, "Many prospective buyers are unaware of what actually goes into the construction of a home. Our checklist describes those hidden features generally not asked about and also serves as a guide of what to ask about when touring other communities."

Included within the base price at Royalty Estates are city water, sewer, underground utilities, all-wood double-hung windows, six-inch ceiling insulation and four-inch wall insulation, all-wood exterior trim, dishwasher, range and hood, solid oak flooring, fire and smoke detector, half-inch sheetrock throughout, seamless baked enamel gutters and leaders, natural wood interior doors, and shrubs and trees.

Four models are available, including Cape Cod, bilvel, ranch and colonial. Prices range from $38,990 to $46,490. Qualified buyers may obtain 30-year mortgages with as little as five percent down and as low as 8 1/2 percent interest. Prospective buyers will find models with two to four bedrooms and with one to 2 1/2 baths. "One of our goals was to build homes to accommodate families of all sizes," Giovine said.

Eleven homesites, ranging in size from 9,000 to 14,500 square feet, remain; six homesites are available on cul-de-sacs.

Royalty Estates is within two miles of the newly-completed Ocean County Mall, which includes a number of large department stores and 80 smaller stores.

The community also is convenient to schools, houses of worship, recreational facilities and major commuting highways.

Townhouse Condominiums, located on Bloomfield avenue in West Caldwell, are already more than one third sold out. According to Cosden, buyers were attracted to the condominiums while they were in the construction stages because of their location; appearance, designed-for-living layout, and "extremely reasonable" price-structure. The townhouses feature two and three bedroom plans with eat-in-kitchen, dining area, 2 1/2 baths, living room, full basements, patio, garage plus additional assigned parking space, and many custom appointments. One feature of the units is the employment of an economical new heat pump for heating and air conditioning the home throughout the year.

"Extra care has been taken to insulate the home most effectively in order to assure economical temperature controls in conjunction with the heat pump," a spokesman said. Well-known throughout the North Jersey area, H. Cosden Construction Co., Inc., has built over 1,000 residential units in Bergen, Passaic, Sussex and Essex counties. Chateau Townhouse Condominium units start at $31,500, which represents "A phenomenal value for this area of New Jersey," according to Cosden. There were just 11 left as of this writing. The units are available for viewing weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

Taste-science breakthrough gives low tar MERIT the flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

By locating certain flavor-rich ingredients in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have disproven the theory that cigarette flavor depends on the amount of tar that goes with it.

They've discovered how to pack flavor—unprecedented flavor—into a cigarette that delivers one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor, natural flavor, and only MERIT has it.

Tests Verify Taste

In taste tests involving thousands of cigarette smokers like yourself, MERIT was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than current low tar leaders.

What's really startling is that these brands have up to 60% more tar than MERIT.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT. Incredible smoking satisfaction at only 9 mg. tar.

$611,000 given by ACS for N.J. research studies

Eleven grants totaling more than $611,000 have been awarded by the American Cancer Society for cancer research projects in New Jersey.

These grants, said Fried, "are part of the American Cancer Society's continuing efforts to discover possible causes of cancer and to find more effective means of combating them."

Even though progress has been made, cancer remains second only to heart disease as the major cause of death in the United States. It is estimated that approximately 375,000 Americans will die of cancer in 1977.

Toys of Christmas Past Historical Society has exhibit

The New Jersey Historical Society has begun its Christmas observances with the opening of an exhibition of 19th century and early 20th century toys.

Among the toys of yesteryear are a candle-lit magic lantern with glass slides, an 1830 toy that dwarfs today's varieties, and several locomotive and train sets that must have delighted the pre-electrical era youngster.

Then there's an 1876 Centennial bank, a little printing press complete with type and ink, and a set of rare hand-carved jackstraws.

Holiday tours of 5 churches planned by landmarks group

The Newark Preservation and Landmarks Committee will sponsor holiday church tours in Newark on Wednesday, Dec. 29, and Sunday, Jan. 2, at 12:30 p.m.

Five of the city's churches, featuring contrasting architectural styles, including 18th, 19th and 20th century houses of worship in Newark, the nation's third oldest major city, will be on display.

The churches are: Old First Presbyterian, built 1787-91 of local brownstone, in the Georgian Colonial style, and often referred to as "the church that founded Newark";

Fall agenda ends for Issues Forum with play-reading

The American Issues Forum will close its fall program with a play-reading and discussion of Herb Gardner's "A Thousand Clowns" at the Ethical Culture Society of Essex County, 516 Prospect St., Maplewood, Saturday at 8 p.m.

The Forum will begin again in January with ten programs in the winter and spring. According to Dr. Hakim, "The Forum program's format helps audiences to better understand the issues. For example, in the open discussion following the play-reading, the audience explores the play's theme. In effect, through discussion, they become part of the dramatic experience and their participation is the key to better understanding and learning."

In addition to Jack Belkin, the cast includes Eileen Lurie of West Orange and Sal Santaniello and Eric Santaniello of Vailsburg. The program is funded through a grant from the N.J. Committee for the Humanities. The Ethical Culture Society is the host. Admission is free.

Legion opposes 'evader' pardons

President-elect Jimmy Carter has been urged by New Jersey State American Legion Commander Lester Harris to reconsider his planned action to pardon Vietnam-era draft evaders.

In a telegram to Carter, Commander Harris stated, "As the elected leader of more than 76,000 American Legion members in our state, I deplore your proposal to issue a blanket pardon of Vietnam-era draft evaders. Each case of draft evasion and desertion should be judged individually according to the law."

Educational drive on right turn law

Gov. Brendan T. Byrne this week outlined a massive public education campaign to alert motorists and pedestrians to the new Right Turn on Red Law which goes into effect Sunday, Jan. 2.

The major promotional piece in the campaign is a brochure, "See Your Way Clear to the Right Turn on Red." By the end of December, the Division of Motor Vehicles will have distributed seven million of these brochures through a variety of public and private organizations, including:

students in kindergarten through 12th grade in public, private, parochial and special schools; New Jersey residents receiving driver license and registration renewals through the Division of Motor Vehicles; motorists using the New Jersey Turnpike and Garden State Parkway; residents receiving some form of public assistance, and senior citizens receiving services through the 21 County Offices on Aging or living in senior citizen housing complexes throughout the state.

The Department of Transportation has completed a survey of all 1,600 intersections on the state highway system and has determined that right turns will be prohibited at about 19 percent of the intersections. DOT expects to receive ordinances from municipalities and counties wishing to prohibit right turns at about 20 percent of the 5,000 intersections on the local highway system.

The remainder of the brochures have been delivered to police departments through the cooperation of the New Jersey Police Traffic Safety Officers Association and the New Jersey Traffic Coordinators Association; employees of private organizations, such as New Jersey Bell and Public Service Electric and Gas Co., and organizations for the blind and visually impaired.

Until Jan. 2, New Jersey will operate on the so-called "sign permissive" rule which allows right turns on red only at intersections with the posted sign: "Right Turn on Red After Stop." After Jan. 2, 1977, right turns on red after a complete stop will be allowed at all intersections in the state unless a sign is posted stating "No Turns on Red."

The Department of Transportation has completed a survey of all 1,600 intersections on the state highway system and has determined that right turns will be prohibited at about 19 percent of the intersections. DOT expects to receive ordinances from municipalities and counties wishing to prohibit right turns at about 20 percent of the 5,000 intersections on the local highway system.

Courses set on women's, Jews' roles

Seton Hall University's Department of History will introduce two new courses next semester dealing with the roles of Jews and women in American history. The courses are being offered to the public on a noncredit basis at a special rate of $50 per course as well as to matriculated students for credit at regular tuition rates.

Dr. Marilyn Kussick will teach "Women in History: Her Role in the American Experience," Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:30 to 2:45 p.m. "The American Jewish Experience" with Dr. Edward S. Shapiro as instructor, will meet every Tuesday from 5:30 to 7:40 p.m. Spring semester classes begin Jan. 10 with registration for new students scheduled for Jan. 5-8.

The course on women in American history will explore some of the reasons American women still are struggling to achieve those "unalienable rights" for which the nation's founders fought more than 200 years ago, focusing on the roles women have been expected to play and their often frustrated efforts to change or broaden these roles.

The course will examine some of the shackles which have bound American women, keeping them from realizing either the freedoms or the economic rewards of American society. Special attention will be given to the background of attitudes which shaped the role of women in America, the social forces which expanded—and occasionally retarded—the freedoms permitted women, and the price some have paid.

"The American Jewish Experience" will examine the history of America's Jews from 1654 to the present with particular emphasis placed on the changes in the American Jewish community resulting from the great migrations of Jews from East Europe in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Topics to be covered in the course include the social and cultural life of the Jewish ghettos in the large American cities, the rise of Reform and Conservative Judaism, the history of American Zionism, the development of American anti-Semitism, Jews in Newark and in New Jersey, the history of Jewish philanthropy in America.

March dates set for annual flower and garden show

The 11th annual New Jersey Flower & Garden Show, with a theme of "Gardening Colors Your Life," will be held March 5-13 at the Morristown Armory.

"Color is an essential yet often neglected ingredient of the successful garden," said I.K. Christensen of Wood-Ridge, president of the show, in announcing this year's theme. "When you add color to home plantings, you add vitality, warmth and excitement. This show will illustrate how the amateur enthusiasts and even professionals can most effectively achieve this. And because the show is held in March, the home gardener can get an early jump on the season, sort out his ideas and plans before it's actually time to start digging in."

Because of the high attendance at the show last year, additional parking facilities and free shuttle bus service will be provided at the Armory during weekends.

The non-profit show has been sponsored since its inception by the state's leading horticultural organizations. The N.J. State Florists' Association, the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen, Inc., the Metropolitan Chapter of the N.J. Association of Nurserymen, Inc., and the N.J. Plant & Flower Growers Association. In addition to Christensen, other officers elected at the annual board of trustees meeting are James Corradi of Summit, vice-president, and William F. Snyder of North Brunswick, secretary-treasurer.

Board members include S. Lawrence Benzec of Hightstown, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Dale Breneman of Union, N.J. Plant and Flower Growers Association; Corradi, Metropolitan Chapter of the N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Franz Fuertges of Denville, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Fred Herrmann of Middlesex, N.J. Plant & Flower Growers Association; Lowell Kennedy of Wyckoff, Metropolitan Chapter, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Lester Pyle of Gillette, N.J. State Florists' Association; and Charles Walkiewicz of Bound Brook, N.J. State Florists' Association.

Hearing Tests Set For Elizabeth

Free electronic hearing tests will be given at Belton Hearing Aid Service offices at 11 Broad St., Elizabeth, next Monday and Wednesday.

Factory-trained hearing aid specialists will be at the office those days to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding, is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year, if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing hearing aids, or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out about the latest methods of hearing correction.

The free hearing tests will be given at Belton, 11 Broad St., Elizabeth. If you can't get there call 353-7686 and arrange for an appointment in the privacy of your own home.

Ten Crucial Days of culture in N. J. Festival to run the gamut of performing arts

The New Jersey Bicentennial Commission's Festival of the Ten Crucial Days will provide an unprecedented showcase for many of the state's major cultural institutions.

A series of performances featuring symphony, opera, ballet, theater and choral music will highlight the festival, which will begin on Christmas Day and run through Jan. 3.

Some of the performances will feature original works specially commissioned for the festival. The premiers will be held in Trenton's War Memorial Auditorium, but performances also will be scheduled for other parts of the state.

Gov. Brendan Byrne said, this week, "The festival will give New Jersey the opportunity to display the excellent cultural resources of this state, which have for too long been overlooked."

Former Gov. Robert Meyner said the festival will climax an "exciting year in New Jersey's Bicentennial celebration, which has produced an outpouring of grassroots enthusiasm and activity far beyond anything that was anticipated."

"The festival will offer probably the most significant package of New Jersey's own artistic talents in the state's history," said Alvin E. Gershen, chairman of the State Council on the Arts and a member of the Bicentennial Commission.

The festival will commemorate the 200th anniversaries of Washington's Crossing of the Delaware, the two Battles of Trenton and the Battle of Princeton—the historic events which helped turn the tide of the Revolution in favor of the Americans.

THE PERFORMING GROUPS which will participate include the New Jersey State Opera, the New Jersey Ballet, the Newark Boys' Chorus, the Greater Trenton Symphony, the George Street Playhouse of New Brunswick, the Pro Arte Chorale, the Princeton Ballet Company, the Cherry Hill Wind Symphony and the Masterwork Chorus.

In addition, there will be an American Film Festival and a continuing series of daytime cultural programs designed specially for school children. Those schedules will be announced soon.

The schedule of major evening cultural performances follows:

Sunday, Dec. 26—The Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra will give a concert at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium. They will perform the Battle of Trenton Symphony composed by James Hewitt in 1789 and McKonkey's Ferry composed by George Antheil, a Trenton-born composer.

Monday, Dec. 27—The nationally acclaimed Newark Boys Chorus at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium will give a special choral

Tax protesters to stage anti-income levy rally

The Tax Revolt Association, along with other state and local taxpayers' groups, will hold a rally for repeal of the state income tax at noon on April 16, at the Statehouse in Trenton.

Thomas Caslander, president of the Tax Revolt Association, said this week, "We had 20,000 people at the last rally in September and we expect to more than double that turnout this time. We now have Tax Revolt members in all 21 counties and more than 300 communities.

program entitled "Mother of Exiles." It will be a montage of music, poetry and movement symbolizing the hopes and aspirations of all Americans.

Tuesday, Dec. 28—The Princeton Ballet Company will present at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium a special program, "We Celebrate." It will include six diverse dance works, including the title ballet portraying uniquely American holidays.

Wednesday, Dec. 29—The George Street

Volunteers sought as tax counsellors

The Kean College Office of Community Services, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, is seeking volunteers to serve as tax counsellors for older, retired adults and Spanish-speaking people.

The IRS will hold a number of classes on the Kean College campus during late January. Trained volunteer counsellors will then be available during specified daytime hours and by appointment.

Interested persons may call the college's Office of Community Services, 527-3213, for additional details.

Cost-of-living clauses

More than six million workers were covered by cost of living escalator clauses in 1975, according to "U.S. Workers and Their Jobs: The Changing Picture," a Labor Department publication. Years of high rates of inflation have spurred union efforts to obtain cost of living escalator clauses in collective bargaining agreements, which provide for periodic automatic adjustment of wage rates based on changes in prices.

Playhouse at 8 p.m. in the New Jersey State Museum Auditorium will perform "Ballad for Americans." This is an original full-length play, with some music, that expands a shorter musical work made famous by the late Paul Robeson in the 1940s.

Thursday, Dec. 30—The Cherry Hill Wind Symphony at 8 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Inn of Trenton will present a program of American music entitled, "Musical Americana." One of the performers will be state attorney general William F. Hyland.

Saturday, Jan. 1—The Pro Arte Chorale at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium will give a concert featuring a specially commissioned original work, "Crossing," by New Jersey composer Larry Widdoes, and Mozart's C Minor Mass.

Sunday, Jan. 2—The New Jersey Opera will present a performance of Beethoven's opera "Fidelio," one of the few times that heroic work has been sung in English, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium.

Monday, Jan. 3—The New Jersey Ballet Company at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium will perform an original ballet, "Off to the Sea Once More," celebrating New Jersey's maritime heritage.

Tickets for all performances, except "Fidelio," will be $5 for orchestra seats and $2.50 for balcony seats. Students and senior citizens will receive $1 discounts. Seats for the opera will be $15 for orchestra and $7.50 for balcony seats.

The Bicentennial Commission noted that, after the Trenton performances, most of the groups will travel to other parts of the state to give repeat performances. This will include eight performances by the George Street Playhouse, six by the New Jersey Ballet, two by the Princeton Ballet and one performance by the Newark Boys' Chorus. The Masterwork Chorus also will give a special concert. The performances will be between Dec. 26 and Jan. 11, and the schedules will be announced as they are completed.
